

NOTED DANCER KILLED IN ODD AUTO ACCIDENT

Isadora Duncan's Shawl Twists Around Wheel, Drags Her Out of Car and Breaks Her Neck.

Paris, Sept. 15.—The dancing feet that thrilled two continents and the exotic temperament which led them into strange and often tragic paths, are stilled today, for Isadora Duncan is dead. She was killed in an automobile accident as unusual in every way as the life she led.

The world-famous dancer lost her life last night when the fringe of her Spanish shawl caught in the mechanism of one of the front wheels of a motor car in which she was riding along the shore at Nice. She was dragged from the car as the scarf wound about the revolving axle. Her neck was broken as her head hit the running board, and her body was dragged for twenty-five yards before the chauffeur could stop the car.

Was Trying Out Car
The tragedy occurred on the Promenade des Anglais. Miss Duncan was riding in a car she intended to purchase if the demonstration proved satisfactory. Her death was witnessed by Miss Mary Desca, a newspaper writer and friend of the dancer, who had been aiding Miss Duncan in preparing her memoirs.

The death of Isadora Duncan brought to a close a career rich in triumphs and great loves, but marked by bitter tragedies. Hailed as the greatest contemporary exponent of the art of terpsichore, she lived a life as bizarre as it was romantic. Her two children were killed several years ago when an automobile in which they were riding plunged from a bridge into the Seine river. Her last marriage ended in tragedy when her husband, Serge Fessanoff, a youthful Russian poet, committed suicide.

Isadora was last seen in Paris during the Sacco-Vanzetti demonstrations, when, attired in a Grecian robe and sandals, she stood on the steps of the Hotel de Ville, urged Radicalism to follow her in a display of sentiment against the execution of the two men.

Miss Duncan's brother, Raymond, is leaving Paris for Nice tonight to bring his sister's body home. It will be taken immediately to Pere La Chaise cemetery, and there cremated.

"There will be no religious service," Duncan said, "because we belong to no church, and as yet there is no service for those of superior intelligence."

The ashes of the famous dancer will be placed in a vault in Pere La Chaise beside those of Isadora's mother and her two children and their nurse. Duncan is a tragic family," Duncan said in discussing his sister's death. "My father was lost in a shipwreck off the Spanish coast. Isadora's children and Isadora herself were killed in stupid accidents. Ours is a family that has seen more than its share of tragedy."

"Perhaps she did foolish things sometimes, but she gave an entirely new movement to the art of the dance."

HOLDING BODY
Nice, France, Sept. 15.—The French police today refused to surrender the body of Isadora Duncan, noted dancer who was killed in an automobile accident here last night, to the representative of her brother, Raymond, who was enroute here from Paris to take charge of funeral arrangements.

The police stated that the dancer was a Russian subject, as was proven, they said, by the finding of a Soviet passport among her belongings. They refused to allow anyone to touch the body, pending the arrival of the Russian consul from Marseilles. A coroner's jury, which investigated the tragedy returned a verdict of "accidental death."

DRIVER FAST ASLEEP CAR DROPS 30 FEET

Breaks Telephone Pole and Lands on R. R. Tracks—No One Hurt.

Holyoke, Mass., Sept. 15.—Three Stamford, Conn., tracks today were thanking their lucky stars that they were alive for their touring car went off the Holyoke-Northampton highway at Smith's Ferry, ran down a thirty-foot embankment, broke off a telephone pole and landed on the tracks of the Boston and Maine railroad a few minutes before a passenger train came into sight.

Peter Cygan, 20, who was driving said he had fallen asleep. With him was Frank Palmer, 18, owner of the car, Albert Lelco, 26, Palmer and Lelco were also asleep. The trio were enroute from Montreal to Kings school and had ridden all through the night.

WEST'S HEAT WAVE COMING THIS WAY

25 Deaths Reported In Chicago—Expect Weather to Reach Us on Saturday.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Chicago's record September heat wave, with its mounting toll of deaths and prostrations, still held the city in its feverish grip today.

Relief may come tomorrow, but it will be gradual, according to Prof. Henry J. Cox, government meteorologist. Maximum temperature today is expected to equal that of yesterday and the day before, he said.

Twenty-five deaths have been reported here as a result of the heat during the past three days. Fifteen died yesterday. Hospitals are filled with prostration victims.

The mercury touched 95 here yesterday and Tuesday, marking the hottest September 18th and 14th in the history of the local weather bureau.

The blanket of heat is moving eastward, according to Prof. Cox and should reach the Atlantic Seaboard by the end of the week.

Because of the intense heat, 612 Chicago schools were ordered closed until the wave subsides. More than 25,000 students, released from school, are spending their "holidays" at the beach.

But while the metropolitan population suffers, farmers over the corn-belt are singing the praises of the heat wave. The State Agriculture Department at Springfield estimated that each day of heat is adding 3,000,000 bushels to the Illinois corn crop.

WINSTED YOUTH'S TRIAL TO START ON MONDAY

Coroner Finds That Billadella Strangled 10 Year Old Rose Bords.

Winsted, Sept. 15.—Coroner Samuel A. Herman today issued his findings in the case of Rose Bords, aged 10, for whose death Jack Billadella, of Winsted, has been indicted by a Grand Jury and is now in jail at Litchfield. The coroner's finding declares that Billadella, a young boy, strangled the girl.

Billadella is to be put to plea in the Superior Court at Litchfield before Judge Leonard J. Nickerson next Monday. Judge Nickerson has named Frank E. Munn, of Winsted, to assist the public defender in the trial, which probably will be held during the present month.

The girl's body was found near Highland Lake in July. Billadella is accused of having lured her to a factory where he was a watchman and choking her to death, burying her body in a coal pile to remove it later to the spot where it was found.

CAPITAL, LABOR MUST MERGE TO FIGHT RADICALS

Dr. Mitten Says Communism Is Enemy of Every Form Of Established Government.

Babson Park, Mass., Sept. 15.—An actual merger between capital and labor as a means of preventing the spread of Communism in America was advocated today by Dr. A. A. Mitten, vice-president of Mitten Management, of Philadelphia, in an address before the Babson national annual business conference.

Cites the Farmer
"Communism is the lurking enemy of every form of established government," Dr. Mitten declared. He added that while Communism may be a bigger menace in other countries at present, this country has no right to feel that it will be forever free from the danger of such doctrine.

He cited the disturbed mind of the farmer as creating a dangerous outlook and said the cure can only come when the men and management of the railroads are harnessed into such a partnership for the economic operation of the transportation facilities upon which the farmer must depend.

"We must not sit idly by and feel that America is secure because of the apparent prosperity of the present time," he said. "The most dissatisfied group in America today is the farming class. The farmer believes that the middleman gets too big a share, and the producer and the consumer pay the price."

Blames Railroads
"Prominent among the middlemen whom the farmer criticizes are the transportation agencies. Before the farmer can be satisfied that he is being fairly treated, he must be convinced that the men and management of the railroads are harnessed into such a partnership that the effort of every individual is directed to the most economic operation of the business."

"Any form of civilization which gives to any particular class, whether to concentrated capital or block, more than it is entitled to on the basis of what it produces, is bound to supply a fruitful field for Communist doctrines. The way to avoid it is to have no class."

Dr. Mitten cited conditions affecting the operation of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company of which he is chairman of the executive committee. He said, "has 12,000 employees who own more than one-third of its common stock and 40,000 car-riders who own practically all of its preferred stock. Mitten Bank and Mitten Securities corporation together add upwards of 50,000 to this number. All these people, by investing their money with us, have put the stamp of their approval on the industry's monopoly that we believe in. With their families they number close to one-fourth of the entire population of Philadelphia."

"The strength of America as a nation," he concluded, "lies in the political unity of her states and of her people. America must be just as strongly united industrially as she is politically. This can be done only by establishing democracy along the lines we have developed in Philadelphia."

PLANE GOING BACK

Old Orchard Beach, Maine, Sept. 15.—C. E. "Duke" Schiller and Phil Wood, co-pilots of the plane which crashed today on the beach, were preparing to return on their trip back to Windsor, Ont. They came here from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, where they abandoned their plans for a trans-oceanic hop.

A crowd had gathered on the beach and Whittemore, who had joined the spectators, suddenly dropped dead from excitement.

Meanwhile, at Haymarket Square relief hospital death hovered over Warren E. Goring, of Somerville, while George "Butt" McGrath and Thomas F. Conway, both Charlestown youths, were under arrest. Goring was shot down near Sullivan Square as he attempted to question the two men about the theft of a car owned by a friend, McGrath and Conway were captured in the home of the latter's sweetheart in Charlestown. In McGrath's pocket was a note to a girl admitting that he fired the shot and absolving Conway.

TAG JAYWALKERS

Boston, Sept. 15.—Boston jaywalkers were tagged today as part of a state-wide highway safety campaign.

Boy Scouts in uniform were stationed at all busy corners and jaywalkers were tagged, the tags asking them to appear at a jaywalkers' rally on the common.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Sept. 15.—Treasury balance September 13: $80,904,431.97.

American Communists Not Aided By Russia

Moscow, Sept. 15.—Joseph Stalin, who succeeded Lenin as "the strong man of the Soviets," in a six hour interview with a group of American labor men today, denied that the Communists in America take orders or receive financial aid from Moscow. He declared that the Communist Internationale gives no financial assistance to the American Communists, unless it is specifically requested.

Atheism is not a necessity for membership in the Communist Party, he said, adding: "I cannot imagine a good Communist being religious. A 'monkey trial' such as that held in Tennessee when evolution was attacked, is impossible in the Soviet Union."

"Science, which is antagonistic to religion, is supreme in Soviet Russia. The government aims complete freedom of religion, but the Communist party continues its propaganda against the church which is denounced as reactionary. We have oppressed the priests because they championed capitalism."

The Soviets are able and willing to cooperate with capitalistic nations commercially and diplomatically through commissions. Also the Soviets are strong for world-wide peace. But the Soviets will not relinquish their foreign trade."

AMERICA FEARS A TARIFF WAR

To Call Halt on "Snooping" Expeditions Sent to Europe and South America.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Worried by the prospect of a European-American tariff war and by the increase of anti-American sentiment abroad, administration officials have decided to call a halt on the "snooping" activities of tariff commission and treasury investigators in South America and Europe, it was learned today.

The first step was taken by the tariff commission when it was decided not to send a board to Argentina for the purpose of inquiring into the cost of producing fax seed and corn. This will be followed by withdrawal of similar boards and agents now in Europe. It is expected that Congress will be asked to revise the tariff laws in order to legitimize this procedure.

Present Law
The present tariff law requires the tariff commission to ascertain the cost of producing goods intended for shipment here, the differences in wages, the differences in wholesale selling prices here and abroad, advantages given to foreign producers by foreign governments, and any other advantages or disadvantages possessed by foreigners competing with American producers. The President is empowered to bar from the country any articles upon which the required information is refused.

FRANCE'S REPLY

Paris, Sept. 15.—The American Embassy here announced today that the reply of the French government to the American request for a reduction in French tariff rates on American products, does not completely meet the situation, and necessitates further instructions and negotiations.

The French reply suggested that negotiations be initiated for drawing up a new French-American treaty and envisaged a partial reduction of the new tariff rates as applied to American products.

The French reply was said to indicate that the French government felt it would be unable to give American goods "imported into France preferential treatment over goods imported from countries not having commercial treaties with France, unless the United States government were willing to reciprocate to some degree on duties levied against French products entering the United States."

BOXER KILLED

Los Angeles, Sept. 15.—Harold Williams, 17 year old, mature boxer of Huntington Park, died at the general hospital here today from injuries received last night when he was knocked out in the first round of a scheduled three round bout with Jimmy Blake, Los Angeles lightweight.

Blake was not held by police pending an inquest.

SEVEN VETERANS SEEK G. A. R. LEADERSHIP

New York Delegates Back E. L. Hawk, of California and Nevada.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Sept. 15.—Election of officers among them a successor to Commander-in-Chief Frank A. Walsh of Milwaukee, overshadowed all else on the program today of the National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. Considerable interest was also attached to the selection of an encampment city for 1928.

There are seven candidates in the field for election as commander-in-chief. The New York Department, which musters 46 votes, yesterday, in caucus, unanimously endorsed Elbridge L. Hawk, past commander of the Department of California and Nevada. Hawk also is said to have considerable backing among the western and mid-western delegates. Samuel P. Town, of Philadelphia, and Frank O. Cole, of Jersey City, are the leading candidates of the east. The other four aspirants are John L. Clem, of Washington, John Reese, of Broken Bow, Neb., Patrick Cooney, of Kansas, and C. R. Jewell, of Denver.

Undaunted by a broiling sun, more than 1,500 of the veterans marched in parade through the downtown district yesterday to the cheers of 500,000 persons.

SCHLEE AND BROCK GIVE UP ATTEMPT

Abandon Trip Around World Because of Severe Storms Over Pacific Ocean.

Tokio, Sept. 15.—The plans of Edward F. Schlee and William S. Brock, of Detroit, to lower the present record of 28 and one-half days for a trip around the world have been abandoned as a result of the fliers' decision, announced early today, not to attempt to fly across the Pacific ocean from Tokyo to San Francisco, with stops at Midway Island and Honolulu.

Brock and Schlee, who flew 12,275 miles, from Harbor Grace, Newfoundland to this city in nineteen days, announced they had decided to heed the urgings of friends and relatives, and the advice of aerial experts all over the world, not to attempt the long trans-Pacific flight, which has been characterized by Japanese and other airmen as "suicidal."

Continued Storms
The flight was abandoned because of continued storms over the Pacific and the fact that the expected supply of gasoline had not arrived at Midway Island.

The fliers had nine and one-half days left to cover the remaining ten thousand miles of their course. They will return to the United States by steamer at the earliest opportunity.

Brock and Schlee landed at Kamsungwara Field here yesterday afternoon from Omura, after a trying flight through storms and the edges of the typhoon, which wrought great damage in certain sections of Japan.

Irish Free State Voters At Polls Today

CAPT. DINGLE'S SISTER DROWNED AT NANTUCKET

Stamford, Sept. 15.—Capt. Aylward E. Dingle, local writer and noted author of sea tales, today notified friends here that his sister was washed overboard from the schooner yacht Gauntlet off Nantucket on September 6 and drowned. Captain Dingle and his sister, Mrs. Mary Manning, had been on the boat for years, cruising in the summer and tying up here in the winter. Twice they participated in the New London-Bermuda races.

According to the message from Captain Dingle the Gauntlet was put into Nantucket for repairs that were needed because of damage by gales. While the ship was in dock his sister was steering. Some undetermined object crippled the steering gear, rendering the boat unmanageable. Before the captain could go to her aid Mrs. Manning had been washed overboard.

Dublin, Sept. 15.—The voters of the Irish Free State went to the polls today after one of the quietest election campaigns in the history of Ireland.

Despite Warnings, Florida Aviatix Makes Ready For Ocean Hop—Arrives In New York From Wheeling, W. Va., In Four Hour Flight—Plans to Start on Sunday.

New York, Sept. 15.—Miss Ruth Elder, the attractive 23-year-old Florida flyer, will not be denied the facilities of Roosevelt Field, although efforts may be made to dissuade her from attempting a non-stop flight to Paris, J. J. Lannin, owner of the field, declared today.

"Personally I am opposed to a hazardous flight in a plane not thoroughly equipped with every safety device," said Lannin.

"However, I will extend to Miss Elder and her navigator, Captain George Haldeeman, the same courtesies offered to other flyers.

"The hangars and the runway are available to them if they are determined to fly."

And Miss Elder is determined to fly, she said. She hopes to be able to hop off by Sunday. The plane, "The American Girl," is equipped with but one motor, it is not constructed for a landing at sea and has no radio. It's a high class plane, nevertheless, she asserts.

"GOING TO DO IT"

New York, Sept. 15.—"I've been dreaming of making a flight across the Atlantic ever since I learned to fly and I'm going to do it."

Miss Ruth Elder, pretty 23-year-old Florida flyer, here to attempt a 3,610 mile non-stop flight from New York to Paris, tossed her aburn locks with determination in making this assertion today as she and her co-pilot, Capt. George Haldeeman, went ahead with their plans for a take off from Roosevelt Field as soon as weather conditions permit by Sunday if possible.

"Oh, we'll make it all right," said Miss Elder, as she discussed the perilous flight which has already cost ten lives in the last few months.

Determined to Go
She was a trifle disconcerted over efforts to prevent her making the attempt, but she declared she is determined to go, regardless.

Her plane, "The American Girl," is equipped only with a single motor, but she cannot see why that should be a handicap. Lindbergh's "Spirit of St. Louis," which blazed the way to Paris, was only a single-motored plane.

"The American Girl" carries 5,600 pounds loaded, weighs about 600 gallons of gas and has a cruising radius of 4,500 miles. She expects to speed to Paris at the rate of about 100 miles an hour.

Flew From Wheeling
She and Captain Haldeeman flew to Roosevelt Field last evening from Wheeling, W. Va., a 420-mile jump, in four hours 41 minutes.

Other women flyers, meanwhile, were preparing for perilous flights, too. Miss Frances W. Grayson, of Forest Hills, N. Y., was making test with her Sikorski amphibian plane for a contemplated trans-Atlantic flight. Her plane was said to comply with the safety demands of the government for ocean flying.

Also, Frauella Thea Rasche, German aviatix, has received her new Flamingo monoplane from Germany. She expects to test it out tomorrow.

Rockville CLINE'S SENTENCE DAZES ROCKVILLE Some Criticism Heard For Bringing Case In—Leases Building.

(Special to The Herald). Rockville, Sept. 15.—The sudden ending of the Cline murder trial yesterday is still a matter of discussion in this place. The chief question being "who won?" On this many are taking sides and while Mr. Noone, the state's attorney, did not succeed in getting a verdict of first degree, the fact that a conviction was secured is claimed by many as being a victory for him. There are others who feel that former Attorney-General King, in securing a minimum penalty on the charge of manslaughter against a charge that meant hanging, is also the victor. There is a general feeling that the investigation on the part of the state police was a failure. The story told to the grand jury when the indictment was brought in indicated that there were connecting links enough to warrant the trial bill being returned. Evidently these did not develop.

Leased Building T. F. O'Connell of Hartford, the owner of the building at the corner of Union and Market street, has completed remodeling of the lower section of the two-story building occupied by Cramer's store and will remodel the upper part, which has been used as a dwelling. He has given a lease to Mr. Cramer for the entire building. He is to build and remodel the one-story section into two stores. He has two chain stores negotiating for one of them. The requirements asked for is 18 by 50 feet and this he can give and the lease will probably be executed just as soon as the bill is returned. The contract for the work having been let this morning.

COVENTRY PLAYERS IN SHOW AT GREEN To Present "The White Shawl" At Assembly Hall Tomorrow Night. A comedy entitled "The White Shawl" will be presented tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the assembly hall of the Manchester Green school by the Ready Helpers society of North Coventry. The play is in two acts and musical numbers will be provided before the performance and between the acts. The script is by the pen of C. L. Dalrymple. Scenes in the first act show the consequences of Arthur's little joke, the Doctor's wooing and Aunt Betsy's mistake; Elizabeth's strategy; the midnight assignation; the white shawl makes trouble; the tell-tale ring, the wrong Elizabeth.

The second act deals with Aunt Betsy's disapproval, Arthur and George are caught in their own trap, the doctor's dilemma, Aunt Betsy is mated at last and everybody is happy. The cast of characters is as follows: Dr. Adolph Katz, with a fad; Arthur Clayton, engaged to Catherine; Austin Blair; George Ryan, engaged to Elizabeth; Henry Mitchell; Elizabeth and Catherine Steele, sisters; Laura Kingsbury, Margaret Hamilton; Betsy Briggs, their aunt from the country; Mrs. C. Irving Loomis. The organization has several times before presented plays in Manchester and a thoroughly enjoyable entertainment is anticipated. The performance tomorrow night is under the auspices of the Manchester Green Community club.

MIDDLETOWN LOSES TROLLEY Middletown, Sept. 15.—Radical changes in transportation in this district were forecast today when Mayor Frederick J. Bielefeld was notified that the Connecticut Company intends to discontinue its Elizabeth between Middletown and Meriden and substitute busses. The Public Utilities Commission is to hear the Connecticut Company's petition for such a change at the state capital on Friday September 23. The busses would be operated between the Meriden railroad station and Main and Court streets here, over the state highway. Many points now served by the trolley will lose service. Abolition of the Middletown-Portland trolley line is expected here to follow the change in the Meriden line. The surname Smith is the most prevalent in the United States, there being 1,304,300 persons by that name. In all cities except Chicago, Minneapolis and Chicago, where they are second to the Johnsons, the Smith predominate.

MAIN ST. SKUNK GIVES 30 BATTLE

Stones Thrown From Distance Bring Polecat to End on Oak Street.

Skunks have given Manchester quite a lot of trouble and excitement during the past few weeks and the latest incident occurred early this morning when about 30 men chased one all over the lower part of Main street and finally killed it on Oak street near the Circle theater.

George England and Richard Edgar were the principals in the battle between the animal and the men. Both had been in Murphy's restaurant when the skunk was spotted.

It was strolling nonchalantly along Main street, but its walk was interrupted when somebody saw it. Edgar and England gave chase, encouraged by the crowd of some 30 people.

They chased the animal across Main street, into the doorway of the store formerly occupied by George W. Smith, out of that doorway to the street and along the main thoroughfare.

Into the revolving doors at Hale's it went, but it was soon chased out of there. The men were afraid to throw stones at it because it was in front of the plate glass windows of the store.

They were afraid to come close to the animal because of its effective means of self-defense. They stood at a distance and threw stones, when the animal was away from the windows.

Finally it was chased out of the revolving doors. It went down Oak street, the crowd after it, England and Edgar in the front rank. There are no plate glass windows from Hale's to the Circle theater and it was in this area that the animal was killed.

The men stood off from the skunk and threw stones. It was crippled in a short time and after that it was an easy matter to dispatch it. Somebody brought the dead body into the Herald branch office on Bissell street this morning, but he was told to take it to the board of health or somewhere else.

Hale's employees held their noses all morning, for the smell of the skunk, like a popular brand of chewing gum, lasted.

OVER 500 TO STUDY AT TRADE SCHOOL

Capacity of New Building Nearly Reached This Year, Says Director.

When the evening school classes convene next month, it is expected that more than 500 persons will be receiving instruction at the Manchester State Trade school. According to information given out today by Director A. A. Warren, there are at present 459 school children enrolled there for full or part-time study. This is an increase of more than fifty over last year's figures. About 100 men and women are expected to take evening study when that course begins.

Director Warren said today that the school is accommodating almost as many students as possible. Many out of town applications were received but he filled because of lack of equipment and suitable room. One hundred and sixteen boys are now taking all-day study as compared to 95 last year. There are 65 students taking co-operative High school-Trade school courses which means that they spend half a day in each school. A year ago there were 54 co-operative students.

The following reveals how the students are distributed: carpentry department, 45, 11 of which are co-operative students; drafting, 23, 7 co-operatives; electric, 42, 15 co-operatives; machine, 32, 6 co-operatives; textile, 24, 5 co-operatives. Last year the enrollment in the various departments was: carpentry, 34. Drafting, 22, electric 44, machine 26, and textile 23, which makes a total of 129 against 131 this year, a gain of 32. There are 21 more all-day students and 11 more taking co-operative courses.

There are 91 high school pupils taking training at the Trade school as compared with 85 last year. There are 50 sophomores, 29 juniors and 12 seniors. The freshmen do not take this course. The upper-classes take it on a basis of either four or eight periods a week.

Director Warren gave the number of seventh and eighth grade pupils taking pre-vocational work at the Trade school, which is divided into three departments: drafting, textile and electrical work. The eighth graders make their choice of one subject and continue at it throughout the school year.

There are seventeen instructors on the Trade school faculty. They are Director Alexander A. Warren, Howard Fisher, electrical; Stanley R. Rice, electrical; Ralph Kingsley, mathematics; William Roscoe, carpentry; William Hanna, machine; Paul Volquardsen, machine; Robert Taylor, drafting; Thomas Orchard, drafting; William Stenger, mathematics; Harry Kitchin, textile; John Echmalian, textile; Mrs. Paul Volquardsen, textile; Miss Florence Lamberg, textile; Miss Nettie Johnson, and Mrs. Lena Johnson.

Directed by Edward Laemmle, "Held by the Law" is crammed with suspense with drama and by unexpected twists and turns of the plot which holds the audience breathless until the final denouement.

Minute efforts of his friends and relatives to discover proof of his innocence while the condemned man waits his end in the death cell works the plot to fever heat and the climax, when it comes, is as unexpected as it is dramatic.

The large cast does exceptional work throughout. Marguerite de la Motte and Johnnie Walker play the leading roles, Ralph Lewis is splendid in the net of circumstantial evidence, Robert Ober, E. H. Ratcliffe, Fred Kelsey, Maud Wayne and others play prominent supporting roles. On Friday and Saturday the State will feature Adolphe Menjou, the magnificent, in "Service for Ladies" and "Down the Stretch," a racing picture of the first war. The two together will make a program that is well balanced in the extreme.

There will be 21 hares. The race will be held on the eighth of the freshmen and the eight freshmen will drop yellow and black. Miss Marguerite Oates will go with the sophomore and Miss Florence Hopkins with the freshmen.

The place where the race cannot be announced, of course, cannot be announced. In all probability it will be about three miles distant from the high school stretching through all kinds of territory which will be made all the more difficult to follow by stunt obstacles. The principal idea is to see who will be the first to finish in each class.

Annual Class Race to Be Held Friday Afternoon, October 7. Although the names as yet are unavailable, it was announced today that tentative arrangements had been made for the annual Hare and Hound race, in which 400 high school girls will participate. It will be held on Friday afternoon, October 7.

There will be 21 hares. The race will be held on the eighth of the freshmen and the eight freshmen will drop yellow and black. Miss Marguerite Oates will go with the sophomore and Miss Florence Hopkins with the freshmen.

TWO FEATURES BILLED FOR STATE ON FRIDAY Furniture Given Away Tonight—Menjou on Tomorrow's Program.

Tonight is furniture night at the State theater and a splendid room will be at a premium. The feature scheduled for this evening is "Held by the Law," starring Johnnie Walker, one of the most popular juveniles on the screen, and Ralph Lewis, character actor who is known to every movie fan in the country.

ABOUT TOWN Edson M. Bailey, instructor of commercial law and business training at the high school here, is quite ill at his home on Wadsworth street with pleurisy. His sister has come from Vermont to be with him. Mr. Bailey is faculty manager of all athletics at the high school. Mrs. Dorothy Harlow of Rockville is substituting for him.

Vice-principal Ralph H. Proctor of the local high school is ill at his home. He has not begun his duties this term. Mrs. Francis F. Kelley, formerly Miss Barbara Gould of Plymouth, N. H., is substituting for him.

Tonight will be the final opportunity to obtain tickets for the annual outing of the Army and Navy club which will be held Sunday at Harry McCormick's cottage at Life Saving merit badge. This took up quite a bit of time as much practice must be had to do the requirements correctly. A race was held in which artificial respiration is used but no winners were picked as all the patrols did it pretty well.

Ernest Berggren received his registration card and Tenderfoot pin and is ready on his way to Second Class. Keep it up Ernie. Our troop committee turned out in full force for the meeting and Mr. Kjellson gave a talk on the use of our cabin at Glastonbury. This cabin was built by the troop committee who have spent many Saturday afternoons working on it so that the troop would have a permanent camp of its own. We have one of the finest troop committees in the Hartford Council if not in the state and without their untold cooperation the cabin would never have been built. Boost the cabin by using it right. It's yours!

A lusty cheer was given for the troop committee and then the meeting closed with the Scout Oath and Laws.

Hike Notes A hike was held last Saturday with 17 scouts present. Patrol 3, although they may not take any medals in marching, proved that they are right there when it comes to an overnight hike. Seven scouts were present from this patrol. If the patrol leader would try to see each boy in his patrol individually and make an effort to have him come it would help a lot to make the patrol 100 per cent strong on a hike.

Troop 5 had the honor of a visit from Ray Mercer and Tom Corder of Troop 6 during the campfire Saturday night. We hope they will pay us another visit very soon. A bridge and a lean-to were built by Herbert Brandt and Leonard Johnson and the lean-to proved its worth when it rained as not a drop came through to drown its occupants. The rest of the troop was very much disappointed as they had no chance to practice artificial respiration. Many of the boys had to sleep on the floor but everyone cheered up considerably when the scoutmaster told them that the floor was made of "soft" pine. After lying on the floor for a short while someone asked if the floor had been eating raisins as he could feel the iron in it. After an uneventful night camp was broken (although no damage was done) and the boys arrived home in time for Sunday school after a wonderful time in the great open spaces.

The Y. K. Club will hold its first fall meeting at the home of Miss Beatrice Shaw of 25 North Elm street this evening at 7:30.

Mrs. Paul Volquardsen, an instructor at the State Trade school, who has been ill at her home, expects to resume her duties next Monday.

9TH SCHOOLS ENGINEER RESIGNS HIS POST Ralph Avery, engineer of the Ninth District schools for the past five years, has resigned and his resignation has gone into effect. Supt. F. A. Verplanck of the Ninth District schools said today that his successor has not yet been appointed. Mr. Avery came to Manchester and took charge of the schools when the need for a supervising engineer was felt. He has been in that position ever since coming to this town and has been living in Manchester with his family. He has no immediate plans, it was learned today.

A hike will be held this Saturday staying overnight. All those planning to go bring blankets and food for one night. Let's have everyone in the troop on this hike. The outing was postponed until a week from Saturday on account of the funeral this Saturday.

THE HINTERLAND

It is one of the quaint customs of New Yorkers, especially those born somewhere in an Iowa cornfield, to refer to all the country west of Albany as "the hinterland."

Now a press bulletin of the United States Chamber of Commerce announces that the meeting of its more than 1,200 councilors, committee men and directors, to be held in West Baden, Ind., Oct. 15 to 18, "will be the first meeting of the kind called by the national organization and the first conference on questions of nation economic policy to be held in the environment of the Middle West."

The bulletin adds that "the meeting place has been deliberately chosen with a view to affording business interests of that region the widest possible opportunity to present their views on current economic and legislative problems."

The people of "that region" should appreciate this noble opportunity. It is to be hoped that will let those people from the eastern edge of this rather broad country know that the dome of the West Baden hotel is an hour's motor drive from the nation's center of population and three hours from the nation's center of industrial production.

When the rest of the country wants to find out really what is going on, "the hinterland is the place to learn it." As Thomas H. Price, editor of Commerce and Finance, says in a business review.

"Business in the United States has reached a condition in which its general tendency rather than its details must be studied by those who would arrive at reasonable conclusions. But because the impulses by which business is directed originate elsewhere and are tardily reflected in New York, the general tendency is not so easily or so promptly discernible here as in what New Yorkers mistakenly call the hinterland, where nine-tenths of our consumers and a still larger proportion of our producers live." And "for these reasons" he stated that he would spend the next few weeks in the Central States, where, he concluded, "I hope to learn of basic conditions at first hand."

The hinterland has potentialities for education!

MAJESTY OF EMPIRE UPHELD

British courts can always be relied upon to do the proper thing. They tolerate no invasion of the rights of the subject. They protect every man.

Not long ago a camper by the side of a main road near Lyme Regis, finding that an egg he had cooked for breakfast, was of a very ancient vintage, hurried it away from him in disgust. But at that unhappy and tragic moment a motorcyclist happened to be coming along this same road.

His mind was on higher things. He was communing with nature, exemplified at its best and highest in this lovely Dorset scenery. And just as if he were acting in one of the prehistoric Chaplin films, the unfortunate lover of sylvan scenes received the discarded egg full in his face.

The impact, combined with the undoubted unpleasant smell of the half-cooked hen fruit, almost caused the man to lose control of his rapidly-speeding motorcycle. The camper was duly hailed before the magistrates and fined five bucks for throwing rubbish.

Thus was justice done and the majesty of the British empire duly upheld.

SIGNALS

There are a great many otherwise capable, alert and efficient people in this world who, if they did their regular job with the same lackadaisical lack of spirit and the same degree of slovenliness with which they signal their intention to turn a corner while driving a motor car, would be worth about ten cents a week payable in counterfeited money.

Any number of minor traffic accidents would be avoided if drivers would act as though their left arms were their own, things of flesh and blood and nerves and muscles, instead of as if each arm was a half-ton of pig iron, to move which more than an inch was a herculean effort.

When you planning a left turn, stick your arm out. Stick it out as if you were alive and sober, and its boss. And point your forefinger in the direction you intend to take. Nobody can mistake that. Nobody will mistake it. But if you fling a listless hand out of your car window just as you begin your turn, letting it droop in the general direction of China—what good is a signal like that? What does it mean to you when the fellow ahead does it? What does it mean behind when you do it? Nothing, of course.

And when you're going to make a right turn, why not play fair with the following driver? Give him a chance to know what you're doing. Put your hand out—away out—and revolve the pointed finger in a real motion that he can't mistake. Then he won't guess that you're going to turn left and bump you.

People too weak to hold their hand out at arms length should be in bed, not driving automobiles.

PROVIDED

It is probably useless and possibly unfair to call to the attention of the rapidly multiplying aspirants for university education the circumstance of Charles G. Black. Mr. Black is President of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. He has just recently been elected to this pretty good job at the head of a two hundred million dollar business—pretty good, that is, for a non-collegian.

Mr. Black was born in 1868. In 1882 he went to work for the Standard Oil Company. He wasn't president, naturally, at the ripe age of fourteen. He wasn't even a minor executive—which is the least that most boys expect to be in the year of their graduation, nowadays. He put wire handles into tin cans. He got one more season's schooling, after that, but in 1883 he was back at the wire handle job. After that he went to school no more. Six years later he became secretary to the superintendent of the refinery at Bayonne. That fall he was made assistant superintendent. He was then twenty-one, pretty young for a college graduate.

Since then Mr. Black has done quite well, thank you. He gives a great many good jobs to young men because they are college graduates and have learned about chemistry and things. Which is excellent for the young men. By and by, maybe, one of them will be President, after Mr. Black is done with the job.

The idea of all this is that it is all right and desirable to go to college if you can, but that there may still be a chance for a fair sort of job even if you can't.

Provided you are the goods.

UNITED AVE STAND

Another combination of automobile firms, and again we see the evolution of the giant automobile industry into one of a few controlling combinations.

This time it is Auburn taking over Duesenberg, Lycoming Motors and the Limousine Body Company—all well recognized in the automotive field, but now a united and more powerful factor in the competition that is yet to come.

There are "threats" of other combinations in this industry, all of them tending toward participation in the battle for supremacy. Ford and General Motors are expected to start, if already they haven't begun. At present, however, we have Ford, General Motors, Durant and now the Auburn group ready for the fray.

Other dominating companies, like Packard, Dodge, Studebaker, Hudson, Willys-Knight and Reo, cannot be ignored even as individuals, but if the "threats" from Wall Street ring true, we may expect some of these to combine in the fight for existence.

From the participants' standpoint, this isn't relished. From the motorist's viewpoint, there's no doubt but that such competition will be beneficial.

"DIRT" IN NEWS

Dr. William Lyon Phelps of Yale University has said that when historians tell the story of our age they must of necessity refer to it as an era of "dirt." He cites "dirt" in politics, "dirt" even in religious controversy, "dirt" on the stage and finally "dirt" in the newspapers. By "dirt" in the newspapers Dr. Phelps refers particularly to the details, sordid details, many newspapers print regarding divorce and murder trials.

Newspapers long ago ceased to be philanthropic enterprises. They are organs of business. Many papers found their existence threatened by the flaming tabloids and the desire of the bulk of readers in certain sections for that type of reading matter. Many newspapers followed suit. But we say "many" newspapers, not all. If Dr. Phelps were to revise his statement today regarding the newspapers he would find that the vast majority of them are clean, so clean that any man can read them aloud before his family unabashed. The great number of newspapers are judged too often by a few.

Why have the Migh's lived—why have they died?

Is it ever thus with idle wreck to strew

Fields such as thine, remorseless Waterloo?

Hopeless the lesson! Vainly hath ever cried

Stern Fate to man—"So perish human pride!"

Still must the Many combat for the Few:

Still must the noblest blood fair earth bedew:

Tyrants, slaves, freemen, mouldering side by side!

On such a day the World was lost, and won

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, Sept. 15.—The Impression has been growing more and more definite among the political cognoscenti that President Coolidge didn't make his "don't choose" announcement because he was tired of his job and didn't want a third term.

The president's failure to elaborate on his brief statement is as good an indication of his feeling as any.

Those who hastened to state most solemnly that the president was too high-minded to make such an announcement and still have an eye on a third term were almost unanimously men and newspapers who were most anxious to have Coolidge out of the picture.

The president didn't morally bind himself to anything whatever except to a refusal to announce his candidacy or to promote his candidacy from behind the scenes.

It has been said that Mr. Coolidge was tired of his job, but never convincing. The impression here is that he is very happy in it. The theory is more and more often advanced that Mr. Coolidge having listened to the assurances of his "yes men" months, strongly suspected that the people would urge his retention in office.

But the people seem to have been inarticulate or indifferent. Most of the party politicians and certainly all who automatically became presidential possibilities turned somewhat of a back.

There were a few, including some of these same politicians, who hastened to suggest that the party must or might "draft" Mr. Coolidge—as if material in the party were so poor that the third term tradition should be broken.

But as the "draft" clamor, if it can be called a clamor, began to subside, it became more and more apparent that the shouters were those who sought a smoke screen until some vehicle which might be converted into a hand-wagon. The likelihood that Mr. Coolidge will be drafted becomes daily smaller.

When one talks Republican politics now he talks of Hoover, Dawes and Lowden, and hardly ever of Coolidge. That much is certain, though Mr. Coolidge's sentiments, as he made his announcement are still open to question.

If it be true that the president still hopes for re-nomination the fact definitely explains why he need not be expected to support another man's candidacy. Incidentally he can't openly support his own aspirations, either for any over tact would leave him, politically speaking, sunk without a trace.

Reports that Coolidge would endorse Secretary Hoover continue to go unconfirmed. The president split with Hoover when he supported Secretary Kellogg during a cabinet row and his present feelings toward Hoover are not clear. Your correspondent does not predict that the growing impression that Mr. Coolidge won't support anyone will prove correct.

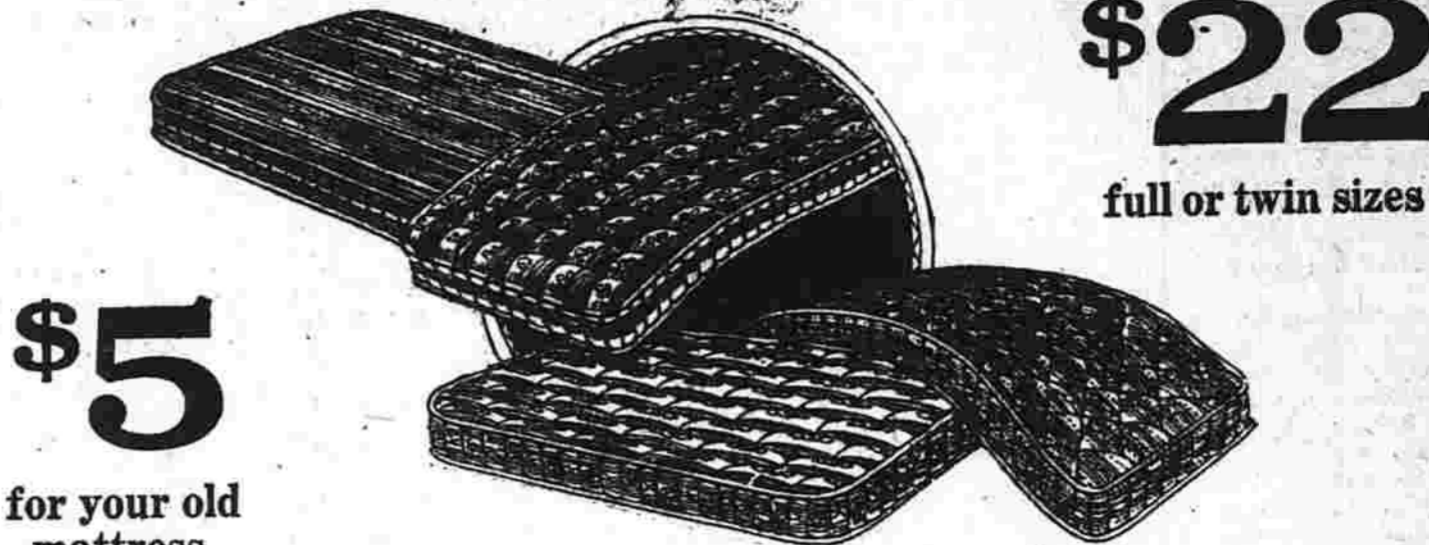

It seems quite likely that Mr. Coolidge will support, if anyone, the man whom Secretary Mellon supports. And it is equally likely that the man whom Secretary Mellon decides to support will be the next Republican candidate.

Special Purchase of 25 Luxurious Stearns and Foster MATTRESSES

$5 for your old mattress

$22 full or twin sizes

THOUSANDS of people are trudging through life carrying the burden of an uncomfortable mattress. For an old mattress, that is hard or lumpy, prevents you from obtaining the kind of sleep that "knits up the ravelled sleeve of care."

Are you sure that you, too, are not paying the penalty of a poor mattress? Test the buoyancy of your present mattress and then come in and see the difference in these new Stearns & Foster mattresses.

They are made of pure cotton—in huge layers—one on top of the other. This construction guarantees a smooth, lumpy-free mattress for years and years.

The rapidly rising cotton markets make it impossible to guarantee the present low prices of cotton mattresses. They will not be lower and in all probability will be higher. Since we made this special purchase the manufacturer has announced a 10% advance in price—but this shipment of 25 mattresses is offered to you at the low price.

$5 will be allowed for your old mattress in exchange for one of these luxurious pieces of quality bedding.

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc.

EXCLUSIVE REPRESENTATIVES FOR CRAWFORD AND CHAMBERS RANGES.

Oh, That's All Right—He's Used to It.

New York, Sept. 15.—Whereas the mayors and domos of other cities are wont to take to themselves residences becoming their positions, Jimmy Walker, of New York, has steadfastly refused to leave the humble neighborhood in which he was reared.

The mayor of this big town lives on a rambling little street that corkscrews off of Greenwich Village. There is no way of identifying it from any of the row of remodeled plain red-brick fronts that centered the Irish quarters in a day when the early Irish settlers of Manhattan ruled this particular roost.

This was the scene of Jimmy Walker's struggles when he was a poor kid writing song lyrics for a Broadway publishing firm.

Only an extra street light marks the mayor's home. Otherwise there is a scattering of venerable street lamps and, just cat-a-corner from the place, is a big lot, converted into a playground and overrun by Italian youngsters from the tenement belt that has taken over the buildings in which once dwelt the Irish aristocracy.

There is perhaps no person in Manhattan who reflects New York more thoroughly than this "midnight mayor." At first glance he might be mistaken for a prosperous hoofer. Sartorially he combines Broadway and the city hall. Some one once suggested that Jimmy Walker and the Prince of Wales would make one of the greatest vaudeville teams ever created. But while the mayor's apparel has flash and somewhat reflects the Georges

M. Cohan spirit, it is never in bad taste.

Perhaps the most New York habit of Jimmy Walker is that of arriving late at banquets, theaters and other festivities.

For few "regular New Yorkers" reach a theater for the opening curtain. Many a house that is sold to the doors will appear half empty until the first act is well under way.

Perhaps the greatest charm of the "midnight mayor" is his lack of pretension or ostentation. I remember seeing him one night during the intermission of a big movie opening standing chatting in the lobby with arms about the shoulders of two pretty maids, the attitude being struck with the utmost casualness. It would occur to no true New Yorker to find such a posture unbecoming. It is the casual gesture of camaraderie and good fellowship.

The midnight oil is his tonic. He knows every phase of his town. Not a night club but has seen him trip-plug about its floor at one time or another. The august and over-dignified chief of many a tiny hamlet would be flabbergasted at the goyle in which he enters into the various diversions Broadway has to offer.

He carries the city's vast problems on his shoulders only in working hours. Thereafter he becomes as great a playboy as any Broadwayite. He carries this nonchalance and gaiety with him wherever he goes. Berlin, they say, was most perplexed when he visited there, in a sense he symbolizes the city he serves—and the city attaches to him an affection that is almost sentimental.

Seventy Candidates Answer Schoolboy Grid Call

U. S. STILL HAS A CHANCE AT TENNIS TITLE

UNUSUALLY BIG NUMBER REPORT

FOR HIGH, TRADE SCHOOL TEAMS

Hennessey Beats Cochet and Hope Springs Up Among Americans; Worried Over Tilden.

First, let us consider the High school inasmuch as football is a sort of innovation at the Trade school. Coach Tommy Kelley who piloted S. M. H. S. to an even break in an eight-game schedule last season, is back on the job again with a determination to give the school its best team since the sport was revived a few years back.

Seven letter-men and five "subs" remain from last year's squad. Heading them is captain-elect, George "Doc" Keeney, star full-back on the 1926 eleven. The other letter-men are Walter "Butch" Kittle, Terrance Shannon and Luddie Hansen.

The New Candidates

Also William Davis, Donald Healy, Charles Schoen, Herbert Crockett, Benjamin Radding, John Johnston, Merle Tomlinson, Frank Miller, Francis Burr, Louis Cheney, Eddie Markley, Frank Scariato, Frank Schiebanfus, Sherwood Truman, Richard McCormick, Walter Klein, Tony Saimonds, Arthur Davis, Pete Chranowsky, Hugh Moriarty and Walter Aitken.

Yesterday's initial training period of nearly two hours was devoted to line charging and callisthenics. Twelve seek backfield positions and fourteen are out for end. This leaves a shortage of suitable line material and it is quite possible some candidates for the backs may be switched to the line.

Backfield Probabilities
Coach Kelley's tentative plans are to use Hansen at quarter, Keeney at full and Treat, Schoen, Billy Dowd, Gill or Happeny as halfbacks. Ernie Dowd is also out for quarter. The first string ends appear to be Al Lupien and Louis Farr with Dickie Kerr and the other Lupien out for the same posts. Line material is scarce but Cheney, Spencer, Kittle and John Johnson and Shannon may fill the gaps satisfactorily.

As yet no game has been aranged for September 24, according to Manager Nino Boggini, but the team will open its nine-game schedule October 1, playing West Hartford High in that city in a Central Connecticut Interscholastic League game. The rest of the schedule remains the same as last year except that New Haven Commercial has been substituted for Warren Harding High of Bridgeport.

The complete schedule for the 1927 season as arranged by Faculty Manager Edson M. Bailey follows:

- Oct. 1—West Hartford, there.
- Oct. 8—Bristol, here.
- Oct. 15—New London, there.
- Oct. 22—East Hartford, there.
- Oct. 29—Meriden, here.
- Nov. 5—Middletown, there.
- Nov. 12, (a. m.)—New Haven, there.
- Nov. 19—Williamantic, here.
- Nov. 24—Alumni, here.

Trade School Prospects
At the State Trade school, football was attempted last year for the first time in the school's history and the team won one of its four games. The team, which was organized late in the season, was coached by Jimmy Mistretta, who is now at Notre Dame. This year the coaching duties have been divided between Ralph Kingsley, basketball coach and Harry Kitching, former star linesman.

Twenty-five candidates reported at the first practice and among them were eight veterans from last year's eleven, namely Alexander Manchuck, William Kopinsky, George Rowe, Eddie Bancroft, William Zisser, George Sabitz, Dexter Dahman and Luddy Dahms. Rowe and Dahman live in Manchester. A captain will not be named until the team is definitely selected.

Backfield Talent
Coaches Kingsley and Kitching are banking heavily on such backfield talent as Arson, Gastian, Welton and Manchuck. The latter plays quarter. Others of which good work is expected are Edgar, Connelly, Shea and Walter Robinson, the latter a colored boy. All are backfield candidates.

It is impossible to prognosticate as to the success of the 1927 Trade school edition. Last year the team's most worthy achievement was in scoring against the undefeated Kingswood school of West Hartford. Only one other team was able to do this stunt. Although the schedule has not been completed by Faculty Manager Stanley

Naming Best 3-Year-Old Hard Task For '27 Season

By JIMMY POWERS

New York, Sept. 15.—Who is the best three-year-old of the season? Horsemen everywhere will argue many a bleak fall and winter afternoon trying to answer that question.

The historic Travers Stakes at Saratoga, supposed to settle the thing definitely, failed. On the contrary, the surprising victory of Brown Bud complicated matters horribly.

Brown Bud! just a good runner as runners go, dashed to the front under the gaping mouths of assembled judges and fans to beat Rice. It is believed that the same teams which constituted the 1926 schedule will again be included. There will also be a few additions. The teams which will be equipped with new uniforms this season, will probably open its schedule about October 15.

The coaches of both schoolboy teams stress the point that the players showing the best football will be given first call; that there will be no favoritism shown to anyone.

Some tried and true first-raters. Bostonian won the Freakness with his stable-mate, Whiskery, behind him. This order was reversed at the Kentucky Derby.

Then Chance Shot won the Withers and the Belmont Stakes impressively, only to be beaten by the lightly regarded Kentucky 2d in the Dwyer Stakes at Aqueduct. A week later Kentucky 2d was beaten by Dolan at Empire City.

Then came Saratoga—the track that has been notoriously trappy for highly rated three-year-olds. Chance Shot was easily beaten on his first appearance. Whiskery tried to give weight to Montferrat and failed and Bostonian was no more successful in his start.

Then—the historic Travers Stakes. Even admitting the three-year-olds of 1927 are far below the quality of those of last season, it does not lessen the shock of the victory of Brown Bud. The arguments will wax furiously. Who is the best three-year-old? And the answer, hidden among muffled cries of "fake," is—who cares now?

C. B. A. A. TO RUN INDOOR BOXING DURING WINTER

Ray Bidwell to Take Over Jack Jenney's Duties as Promoter; Start Next Month.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 15.—All is not lost for America in the national lawn tennis championships, for with the surprising victory of John Hennessey of Indianapolis over Henri Cochet, the little hornet of the French team, almost anything can happen now.

Certainly Cochet, next to La Coste, was the outstanding foreign star in the championship and with his defeat the American forces go into the quarter finals today with considerably more confidence than they have mustered at any time since the tournament began.

"Big Bill" Tilden, "Little Bill" Johnston, Francis T. Hunter and Hennessey comprise the last wall of the American defenses and it is just the fortune of war that will bring Hunter and Hennessey together against each other today while Tilden battles against Jean Borotra and Johnston plays the winner of the final set of the Jacques Brugnon-Arnold Jones encounter, which had to be called last night when the score was 2 sets all.

There is some trepidation as to how big Bill will fare. He has not played real tennis all week and merely hippodromed against Elmer Griffin yesterday. Bill may have been trying against the Californian. It was, the American outlook is dark for the immediate future and especially for the Tilden-Borotra encounter.

Tilden has been favoring his knee since he wrenched it again on Monday but he has now reached a point where he can not favor it longer or hide anything in reserve. To beat Borotra he will have to beat one of the speediest and shiftest of the Frenchmen. Borotra is rightly dubbed the Bounding Basque and he forces his opponent to play the same sort of game. He is up at the net in deep court and behind the baseline, jumping around like a cricket.

Furthermore where there is some question as to whether or not Tilden can last five sets there is no doubt as to Borotra's ability to do so, for in his last two matches he has come from behind at 2-0 in sets to win 3-2. If he can carry Tilden along he has every prospect of duplicating Cochet's feat of a year ago when he upset Tilden.

La Coste is favored to beat Manuel Alonzo without much trouble. The Spanish player had a hard five set match yesterday and he will be none too fresh against the French defending champion. La Coste has played to date like a well oiled machine. His Davis cup matches last week left him pretty well fagged out but he had the easiest kind of opposition on the first two days and a good workout yesterday in his third round match with Takekichi Harada of Japanese Davis Cup team fame.

Hennessey, the hero of the day by his defeat of Cochet, has a chance to win greater fame by passing Francis T. Hunter, whom he faces today. Hennessey went through an ordeal of fire yesterday and came through in such heroic fashion that no height seems beyond his reach.

Manchester lovers of amateur boxing will be interested to know that Cheney Brothers Athletic association will again run indoor tournaments at Cheney Hall during the so-called winter season. This decision was reached at a recent meeting of the board of directors who voted unanimously to continue the sport which proved so popular last season.

Although definite plans have not been completed, it is expected the indoor shows will be started about the middle of October. They will be held on Wednesday evenings.

Last year the association sponsored an even dozen tournaments under the supervision of the Amateur Athletic Union. To say they were a success, would be putting it mildly. Financially, it was an even break but now, that the "pioneering" stage is over, the directors feel that the sport should thrive during the forthcoming season.

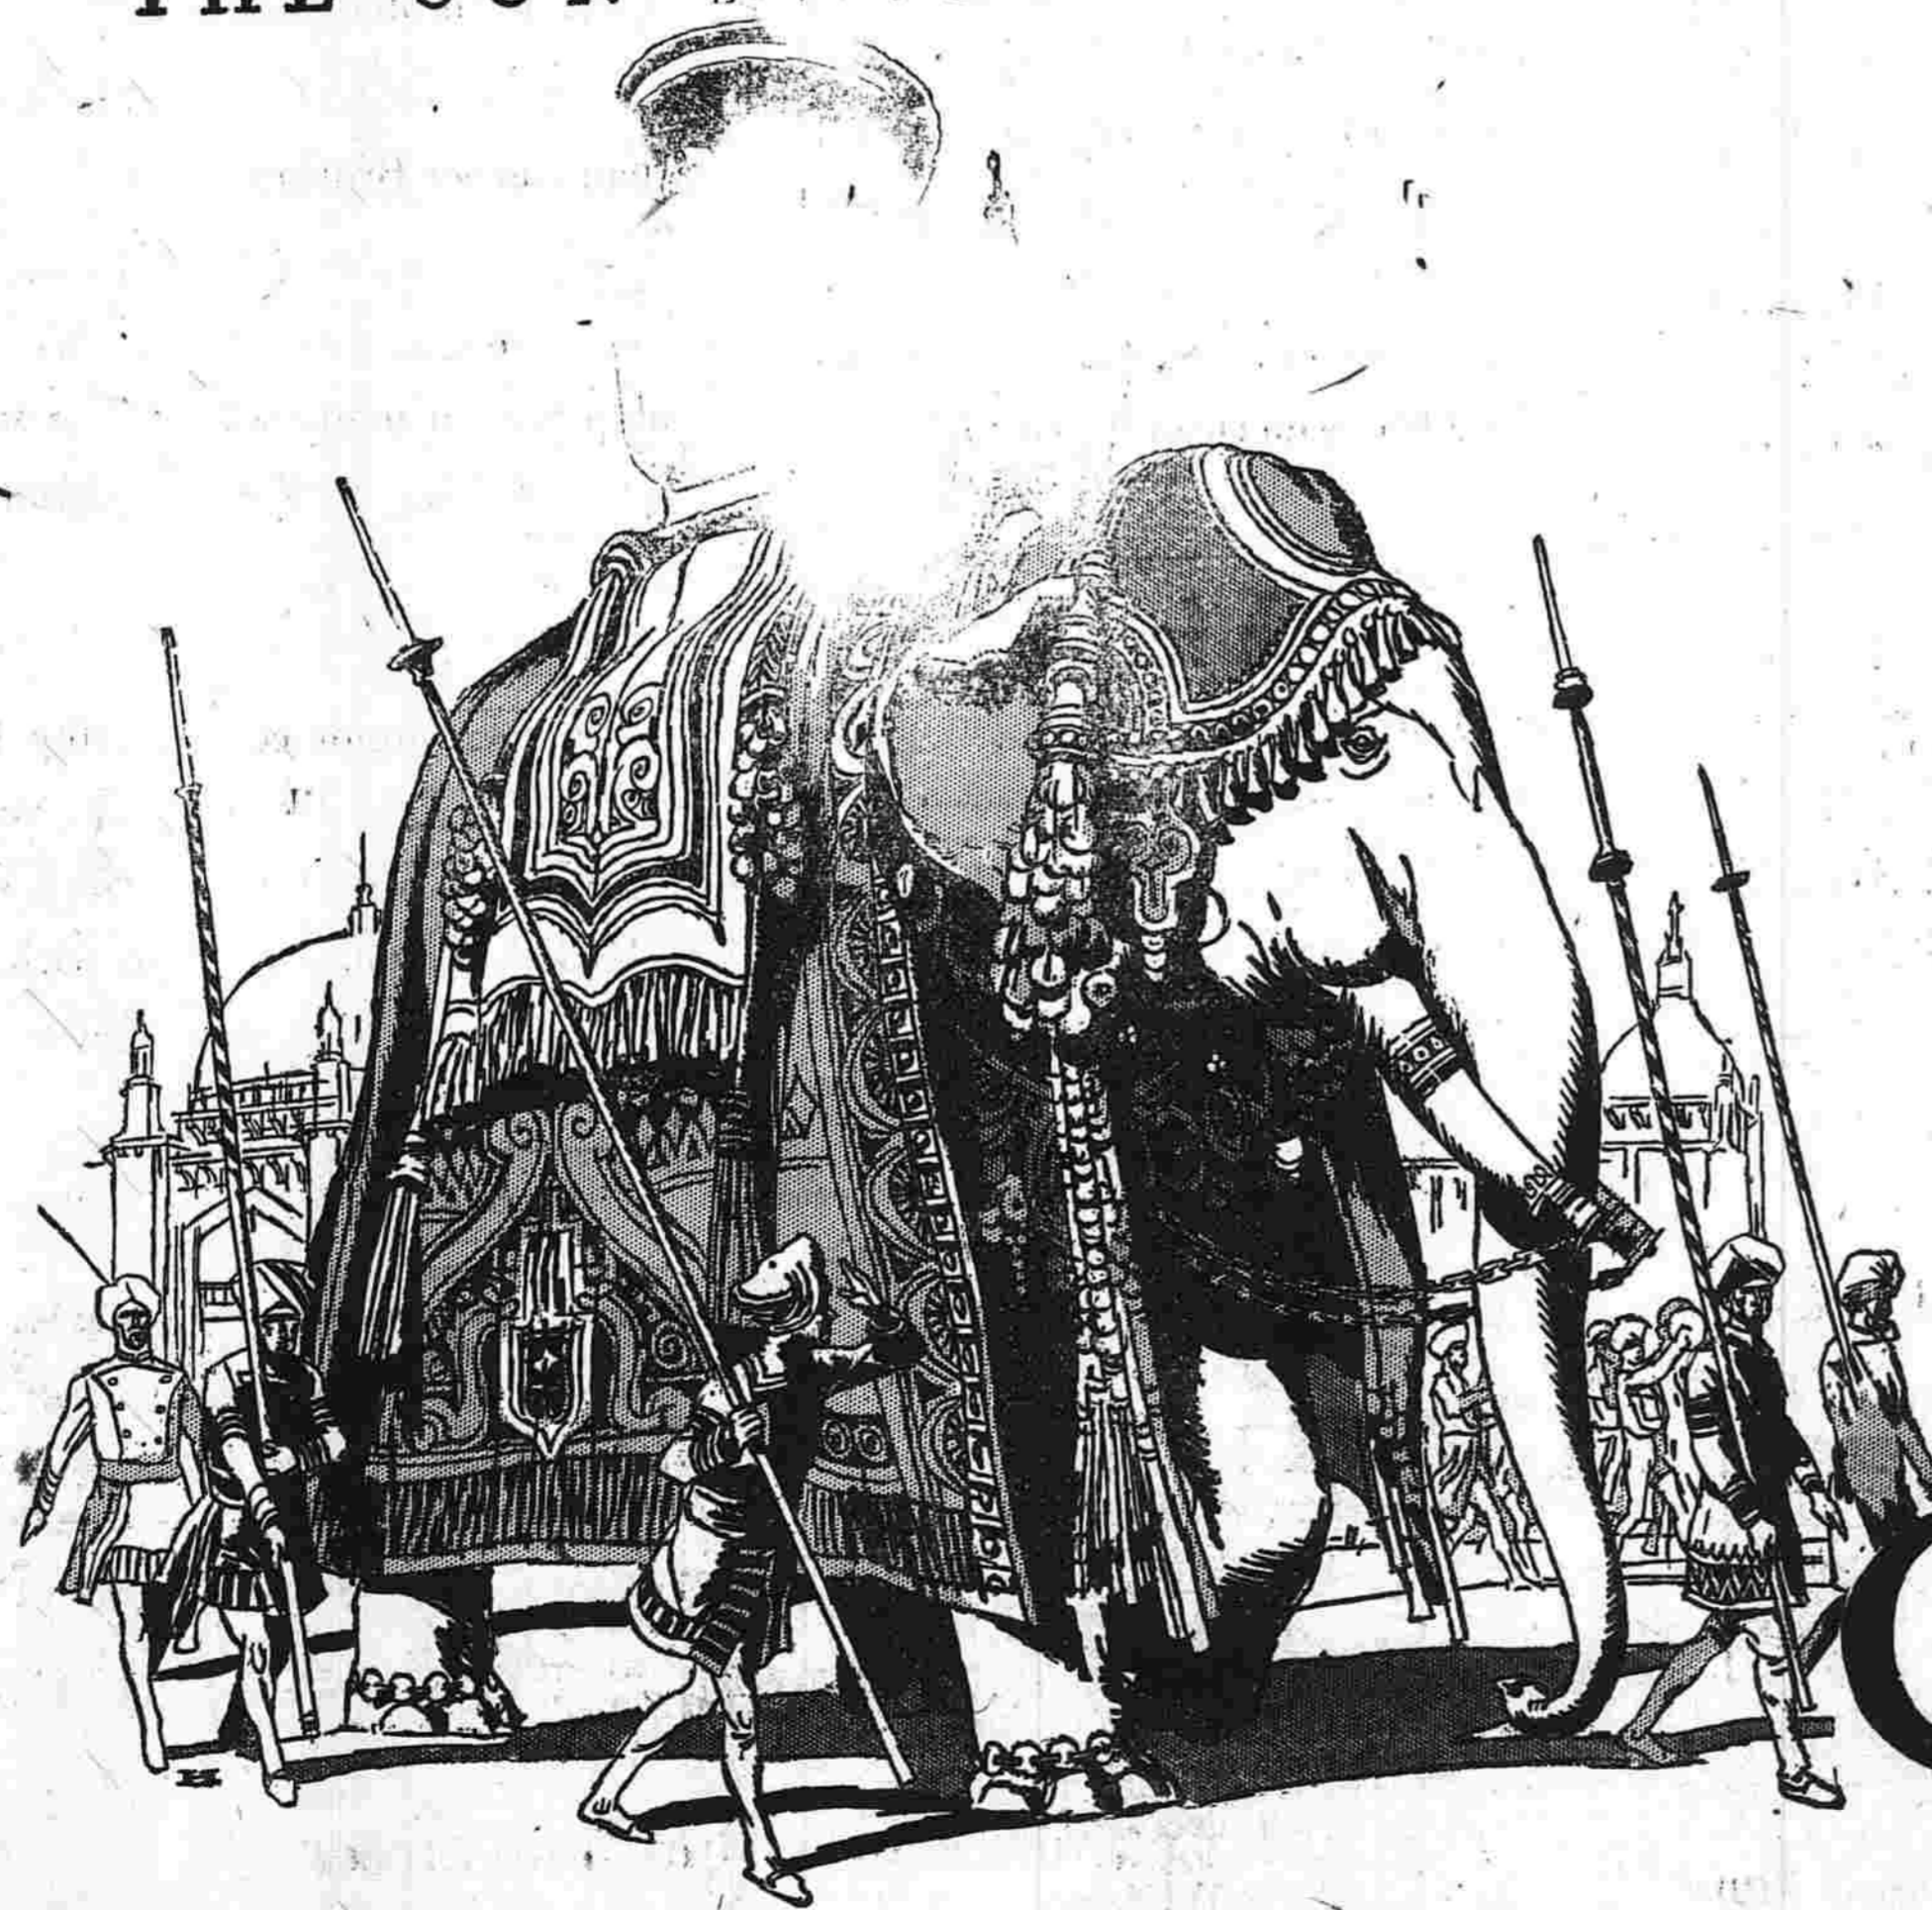

With a good reputation to work on along this line, gained from its splendid work last season, Raymond Bidwell, who has taken over the duties of John L. Jenney as secretary and treasurer of the association, hopes to continue the good work. He will be assisted wherever possible by Mr. Jenney, whose absence will no doubt be sadly missed. Mr. Bidwell, however, is expected to step into the shoes for a high perfect fit.

"Did you know that Jade Hall won't let girls dance together any more?" Mildred and I have been dancing up there on our noon hours for a long time—good music, good food, good crowd, and cheap enough so we can afford it.

"Ye Gods, the boys make all sorts of wisecracks about a girl's appetite and what it costs to show a girl a good time! Talk about independent woman! We may draw a salary, but we have it just as hard trying to be really independent as did blushing grandmas waiting in their best panama for their best beau to give her a buggy ride!"

A day or so ago I was lunching in a Chinese restaurant which does permit girls to dance together.

WAPPING

The Republican caucus was held at the town hall, in South Windsor last Monday evening. The following were nominated: Assessor, Harry Stoughton; Board of Relief, Harry W. Chaffin; first Selectman, C. Leslie King; second Selectman, E. D. Burnham; Tax Collector, Harold M. Newberry; Town Clerk, Harold M. Newberry; Treasurer, Robert A. Boardman; Auditor, P. E. Bossen; Grand Jurors, Morgan J. Bradley, Charles Jorgensen and Ralph E. Collins; Constables, C. Vinton Benjamin, Frank J. Ident and William R. Burnham; Registrar of Voters, John S. Clapp; Library Director, Jessie W. Hayden.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Stiles and their daughter, Lois of Pleasant Valley and Ralph E. Collins, left last Tuesday morning by automobile for Niagara Falls, Mrs. George A. Collins accompanied them as far as Little Falls, N. Y., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Reginald Cone and family.

Harry Barnes, son of Mrs. Eleanor Johnson of this place, who was taken to the Memorial hospital Tuesday, September 14, and returned to his home last Monday.

The little nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burton of Long Hill who has been treated at the hospital for infantile paralysis has returned to his home. After a few more treatments it is believed that he will be able to walk all right.

The scope of the steam shovel, which is working on the state road here, smashed quite a dent into the side of one of the busses here on Tuesday.

Wapping Grange held its regular meeting Tuesday evening, at being Neighbors' Night, with an attendance of 115. There were 39 from East Hartford, 11 from East Hartford, 2 from Malabasset, 2 from Wethersfield, 2 from Middleboro and 1 from Coventry Grange. The program was as follows: A vocal duet, Sisters Nichol and Smith of East Hartford; Frank Grange, 15 from Manchester; Trio by Sisters Smith, Gabriel, and Hathaway on piano, violin and banjo of East Hartford Grange.

A very interesting talk about "Fur" by Brother William Cowles of Manchester Grange, another farce by members of East Windsor Grange, "Setting the Clock Ahead." At the close of the program Wapping Grange served the social during the young people enjoyed an hour or so of dancing.

DEDICATE MEMORIAL TO GENERAL MEADE

Harrisburg, Pa.—Unveiling and dedication of the memorial to General George Gordon Meade has been fixed by the Meade Memorial Commission to October 19 at 2:30 o'clock. A program for the dedication is now being worked out.

The memorial is located in Washington near the Grant Memorial and is in one of the most conspicuous locations in the national capital.

The movement for a memorial in Washington to General Meade started in 1911 with an appropriation by the legislature of $20,000 for the work. Since that time those backing the plan have met with a succession of obstacles and delays. The fact that the spot in Washington near the Grant Memorial had authorized the work is blamed for delay in the early days of the movement.

Originally planned to cost but $30,000, successive legislatures have added to the original appropriation until $432,000 has been set aside as the sum which Pennsylvania will spend in honoring the Commander of the Army of the Potomac during the battle at Gettysburg.

DEATHS ACCIDENTAL

Bridgeport, Sept. 15.—Two accidental death findings were handed down here today by Coroner John J. Phelan.

The death of Miss Frances S. Mitchell, of Norwalk, who was run down and fatally hurt by a Connecticut company bus on September 9, was due to the fact that the spot in Saugatuck where the accident occurred was poorly lighted. No blame is attached to the bus driver.

Randolph Wright, of Bridgeport, who was killed while riding in a car driven by Carl Scherdel also was due to the fact that the spot in Saugatuck where the accident occurred was poorly lighted. Scherdel failed to recognize a car struck in the highway and his car struck

LETTER GOLF

THE RULES

1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in part, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

2—You can change only one letter at a time.

3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

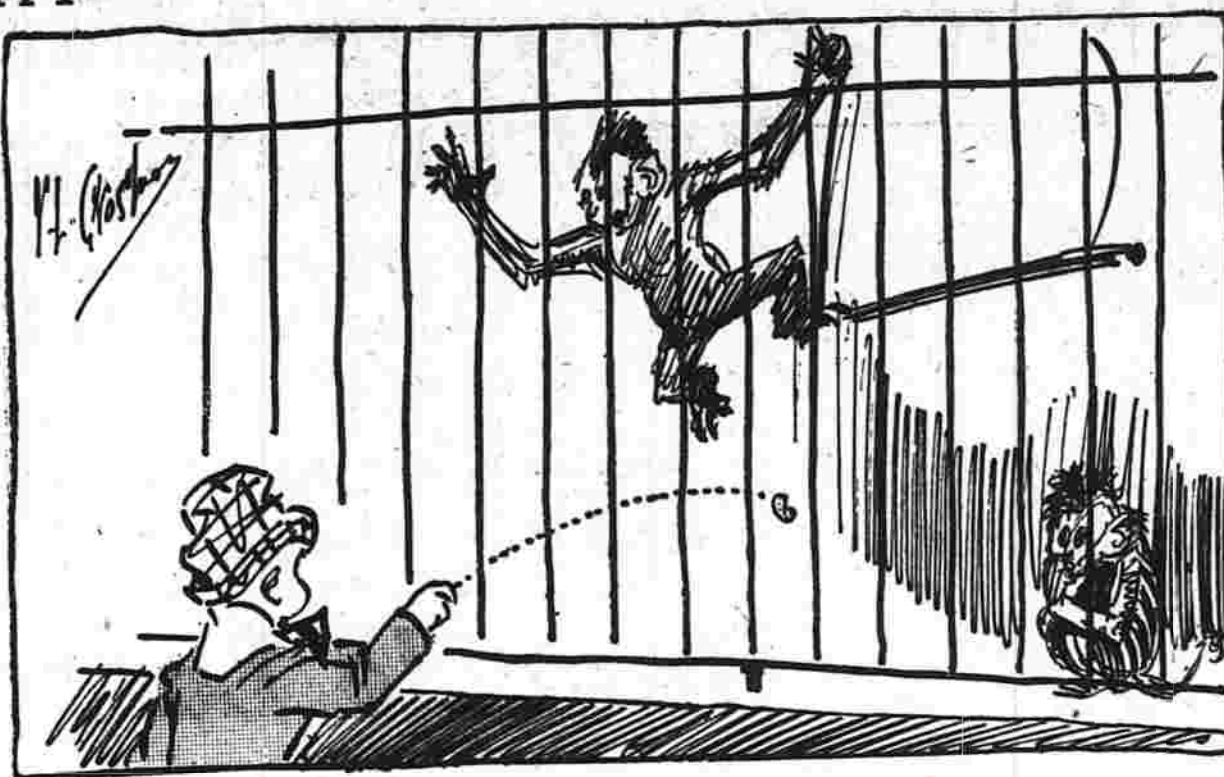

The solution is printed on another page.
