Italian Steamship Co. Still Insists Only 68 Died When Liner Sank—Many Pas- sengers Are Injured.

Rio Janeiro, Oct. 28.—Dazed and horror-stricken by the frightful experience they have passed through, 912 survivors of the sunken Italian liner Principessa Mafalda have arrived in the ports of Bahia and Rio Janeiro.

The number of missing is still unknown, but 346 persons have not been landed, although the offices of the Navigazione Generale Italiana still claim that the death list will be far below this figure.

The Dutch steamer Alhena with 531 passengers and a seaman of the Principessa Mafalda came into port early this morning and began discharging her cargo of excited and harrowed survivors, and the French steamer Formosa followed shortly with 353 others.

Both sides carried many injured survivors. Ambulances and physicians met them. The survivors were removed to hospitals, and hotels and given food and drink, for they had been nearly two days huddled and jammed aboard the wrecked rescue steamer with insufficient food.

Journalists were forbidden to interview arriving survivors, but alongside the ships it was still possible to hear the moans and cries of injured and nerve-exhausted survivors. Some of the survivors were anxious to describe the terrible scenes they had witnessed. They told of a sea of floating humanity, some people fighting for their lives as they were tossed about by the waves, whereas others had given up the battle and their bodies, thrown hither and thither, impeded the efforts of those still alive.

One report that came from the survivors was that the first engineer had committed suicide as soon as he learned that the Mafalda was sinking.

Reports of sharks attacking the victims of the disaster, first reported in International News Service dispatches from Bahia, were repeated today by some of the passengers of the ship aboard the arriving rescue boats.

RESUE SHIPS ARRIVE Rio De Janeiro, Oct. 28.—With two rescue ships already in the harbor here discharging their loads of terror-stricken survivors of the Principessa Mafalda disaster and one more vessel expected, hourly some solution of the so-far tangled

STATE CLERGYMEN AT LINES FUNERAL

Bishop of Newark Diocese Buried In New Haven After Impressive Rituals.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—Old St. Paul's church, "Mother of Bishops," today saw one of her clergy members who had been called to be a bishop, carried away for burial after services within her walls. Right Reverend Edwin S. Lines, Bishop of Newark, N. J., since 1903, rector of St. Paul's for twenty-four years, Yale graduate and native of Connecticut, lay in state during the funeral services among a congregation that filled the structure to overflowing.

Three bishops conducted the funeral services. They were Right Reverend Chauncey B. Brewster, who today started his thirty-first year as bishop of Connecticut; Right Reverend J. DeWolfe Perry, who was called from the rectory of St. Paul's to be bishop of Rhode Island; and Right Reverend Wilson S. Stearns, coadjutor bishop of Newark who has succeeded Bishop Lines.

Bearers for Bishop Lines were leading citizens of New Haven. They included Arthur T. Hadley, President Emeritus of Yale University; Prof. George L. Fox, Prof. Theodore Woolsey, Dr. Edward H. Jenkins, Col. Norris G. Osborn, Prof. Hudson B. Hastings, Prof. E. S. Dana, Henry F. English, Lewis S. Welch, W. O. Pardee, and John W. Hutt.

Bishop Lines was buried in Evergreen Cemetery here. At the church services and at the grave were practically all of the clergy of Connecticut's Episcopal church, and many distinguished clergy and laymen from Bishop Lines' diocese.

Bodies Of Two Women Are Found In Trunks

New Orleans, Oct. 28.—The mutilated bodies of two headless women, both mothers of children and married to two brothers, were discovered this afternoon in an old house at 715 Ursuline street. They were Mrs. Henry Moity, wife of a sign painter, of New Iberia, La., and Mrs. Joseph Moity, wife of a former New Orleans street car conductor and formerly of Detroit.

Within two hours after the police first entered the house, Joseph Moity was arrested, Superintendent of Police Thomas J. Healy announced. Moity was taken to headquarters for questioning. He said he had spent the night at the home of his wife, Mrs. Alice Lecanu, who corroborated his story. She said that before dawn her brother Henry brought his three little children to her and asked her to keep them the

MRS. GRAYSON OFF TO SEE NEW PILOT

Report Says That Chamberlin May Handle Controls On "The Dawn."

Old Orchard Beach, Me., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson, whose airplane "The Dawn" is ready for a fourth attempt to fly to Copenhagen, Denmark, left by automobile for Boston today to consult with Clarence D. Chamberlin, holder of the New York to Germany long distance flight record. The interview will take place tonight at a Boston hotel.

Although the consensus of opinion here was that Mrs. Grayson seeks to persuade Chamberlin to guide "The Dawn" overseas from here either tomorrow or Sunday, the commander herself was non-committal. Pilot Wilmer L. Stultz, who has been in disagreement with Mrs. Grayson, has said he wanted to leave the expedition as soon as possible, but it was learned that he and Navigator Brice Goldsborough were told by Mrs. Grayson that they will talk with Chamberlin over prospects of success for another try.

Hop From Florida
A hop from Florida, over the so-called southern route to Europe, had also been under discussion. A couple of letters, an answer to a question as to whether Chamberlin was to be asked to pilot "The Dawn." Mrs. Grayson said that whether over the Northern Atlantic looked dubious for another trans-oceanic flight.

Being leaving for Boston, Mrs. Grayson admitted that she was going to keep an engagement with Mr. Chamberlin. "Are you going to ask him to replace Pilot Stultz?" she was asked. Her reply was: "I value Mr. Chamberlin's judgment very highly."

Asked if weather reports indicated good trans-oceanic flying weather, Mrs. Grayson replied: "It looks dubious for further flights this year." Pilot Stultz was advised of her plans for the interview with Mr. Chamberlin. "Mr. Stultz is a good pilot, I like him, but there are other things that enter the story," remarked Mrs. Grayson.

Opinion was divided here as to whether Chamberlin was to be asked to take "The Dawn" overseas, whether he was to be consulted regarding the prospects for success of another attempt to span the Atlantic or whether another pilot was to be recommended by Chamberlin.

HOLD YALE STUDENT FOR WOMAN'S DEATH

Killed in Motor Crash After Football Game on Milford's "Death Pike."

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—Gerald H. Howell, 22, Yale freshman, son of B. Hunting Howell, former champion oarsman of England, now a New York sugar broker, today was held under $1,000 bond charged with being criminally responsible for the death of Miss Frances B. Thomas, 20, of Martinsburg, W. Va.

Miss Thomas was killed following the Yale-Army football game last Saturday in a motor crash at Milford, near here. The accident occurred on the notorious Milford "Death Pike" that has claimed twenty-five lives since January.

At the coroner's inquest last night, witnesses testified that Howell and his party, comprising Miss Thomas and two other couples, had visited a West Haven roadhouse after the game. Two other Yale freshmen, Fred F. Payne, of Indianapolis, and Edward Payson Smith, Jr., were questioned by the coroner.

Winford Smith, 18, and Betty Soule, both of Bridgeport, members of the party, are recovering from injuries received in the crash.

TWO MAYORS HOLD OFFICE SAME TIME

Both Making Appointments In Indianapolis; Political Mixup Is Stirring Up the Whole State.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 28.—Judge Joseph M. Miller of Marion county Superior Court today issued a temporary order restraining Ira M. Holmes, who was bequeathed the majority of Indianapolis by John L. Duvall, from attempting to occupy the office.

A hearing on the order was scheduled for Saturday. The order makes Claude E. Negley, elected mayor by City Council, mayor at least for today.

However, Holmes was undismayed in his pursuit of the seat. Arriving at the mayor's office at four a. m., with Mrs. Holmes and Wayne Emmelman, whom Holmes appointed city controller, Holmes held down the mayor's seat.

Shortly afterwards Negley and Frank Cones, the Negley city controller, arrived and went into Duvall's private office. But Mrs. Holmes continued to occupy the official chair.

As a result of the mixed-up political situation, two city government were being formed today and were to attempt to function.

Holmes stated he would appoint Wayne Emmelman, secretary of the Marion county Republican committee, as city controller and that a complete shake-up would take place later.

Other Mayor
Negley, who was sworn in as mayor by Miss Margaret Inman, deputy city clerk, last night, today announced appointment of Frank Cones, president of the board of public works, as city controller.

For the first time in Indianapolis history a woman was mayor yesterday, though only for the scratch of a pen for when Duvall resigned his wife became mayor. She immediately appointed Holmes, then tendered her resignation.

The change which gave Indianapolis two city governments came after a night replete with dramatic surprises. Friends of Negley, unaware that the mayor had resigned, spent the night seeking a Superior Court justice, for a writ to oust Duvall. A court squabble loyal to Duvall guarded the offices in the City Hall from early yesterday afternoon against encroachment by Negley supporters and continued on the job in support of Holmes.

Holmes, a prominent criminal attorney of Indianapolis, headed the demonstrators who gathered during the ex-Klan Dragon's trial at Noblesville for the murder of Miss Madge Oberholtzer.

TO USE WAR PLANES IN STRIKE ZONES

Machine Guns and Bombs on Board to Prevent Trouble in Colorado.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 28.—Three National Guard aeroplanes were ordered today to the strike zone of the coal miners in Southern Colorado by Governor William H. Adams.

Machine guns, bombs and reserve ammunition will be placed on board and will be used to prevent riots. Reserve supplies of gasoline will be carried on to the planes so that no landings will be necessary. Air headquarters will be established at Pueblo.

Impending industrial paralysis was predicted today. An announcement made by the Colorado Fuel & Iron company stated that one-third of their plant at Pueblo would have to be shut down for lack of coal, throwing out of work 2,000 men. It was also stated if the strike continued for any great length of time the entire plant would run out of coal.

Levine a whole flock of currency to fly her from Paris to New York. He refused and now, Mabel announced, she's going to outfit her own aerial expedition and hop the Atlantic next spring.

NATIONAL DEFENSE STIRS UP TROUBLE

Critics From All Over Nation Sending Letters to Their Congressmen.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The administration has become embroiled in a row over the condition of national defense that threatens to make the oncoming session of Congress full of fireworks, with "Cooley Economy" the target for heavy cannonading.

A swarm of inquiring letters descending today upon government officials from all parts of the country, criticism from within the Army and Navy and demands by members of Congress for facts, indicated a greater interest in the question of preparedness than at any time since the World War.

Magruder Case
The case of Rear-Admiral Thomas P. Magruder, who was summarily deposed from his Philadelphia command for criticism of the Navy and who was promptly denied a hearing by President Coolidge, promised to become a greater proportion when he comes here on November fifth "for discipline."

Administration circles were seething with discussion of the criticisms of the state of the national defense by Assistant Secretary of the Navy T. D. Robinson and Assistant Secretary of War Hanford Macdier. Nor was criticism of Army housing conditions by Major-General Summerall, recalled from a Pacific coast speaking tour, forgotten.

Conditions were freely made by members of Congress that preparedness would become a major issue, taking its place in the coming session with tax reduction and farm and blood relief.

President Coolidge, by his quick refusal to override the Navy Department in the Magruder case, indicated that he would enforce the policy restraining public protests by Army and Navy officers. While he let it be known that the budget would carry increases for the Army and Navy, preparedness was a disappointment from their viewpoint.

WRECK ON NEW HAVEN BLOCKS NIGHT TRAVEL

Nine Cars Pile Up on Tracks At Lyme—Trains Are De- toured.

New Haven, Oct. 28.—Tracks of the New Haven railroad at Lyme were blocked through the night by the derailment of nine cars of the Cannonball Freight, a train carrying foodstuffs from Boston to New York. No one was injured, but property damage will be heavy.

The accident occurred between the Lyme signal station and Lyme passenger station. Five cars went down a bank and one swung itself across the east-bound track while three cars, straddled the west-bound track. The accident occurred at 10:30 p. m., one track was opened at 5:40 a. m., and the other at 9:30 a. m.

While the wrecking crews were at work trains were detoured via Willimantic, Middletown and New Haven. No reason has been found for the accident.

U. S. COURT UPHOLDS EVERHART REFUSAL TO GIVE TESTIMONY

KNAPP TRIAL UNEXPECTEDLY COMES TO END

Moreland Act Prosecutor Announces There Will Be No Further Hearings Un- less Defendant Testifies.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 28.—With unexpected suddenness, the Moreland investigation of charges that Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, wasted $200,000 of the $1,200,000 1925 census fund, came to an end at 12:40 o'clock this afternoon.

Randall J. Leboeuf, Moreland commissioner appointed by Gov. Smith to sift the charges made against Mrs. Knapp by the cities census committee, announced that public hearings had come to an end unless Mrs. Knapp desired to take the witness stand in her own defense in accord with the invitation which he extended to her yesterday.

Mrs. Knapp's Answer
Word reached the capital just before the investigation was completed, that Mrs. Knapp had announced at Syracuse she could not testify on Monday, but that she would take the stand next Wednesday, providing she could be represented by counsel.

Leboeuf made it plain he had not received an official word from Mrs. Knapp, and he refused to say whether he would re-open the investigation next week.

Will Have No Lawyer
Leboeuf sent a letter to Mrs. Knapp yesterday inviting her to take the stand next week Monday morning at the capitol, providing she waived immunity. Nothing was said in the letter about her being represented by counsel, but previously Leboeuf had plainly indicated Mrs. Knapp could not have the advice of counsel once she took the stand.

The sudden ending of the public hearings today came as a distinct surprise at the capitol. It had been expected, however, the inquiry would be concluded by tomorrow afternoon if Mrs. Knapp finally decided not to testify.

Leboeuf's Statement
In announcing the completion of the public hearings, Leboeuf read the following statement: "This concludes the public hearings in my investigation of the department of state enumeration testimony that was given by Mrs. E. S. Knapp desiring to avail herself of the opportunity which is afforded her of giving such testimony as she can relating to the state enumeration. I have had no reply to my letter to Mrs. Knapp which was mailed Wednesday, October 26.

"I will now devote myself to the study of the records before me and to the preparation of my report to the governor."

$150,000 IN WHISKEY SEIZED IN NEW HAVEN

Federal Agents, Working on Tip, Nab Truckload on Short Beach Road.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—Scotch whiskey said to be worth $150,000 was seized in a motor truck on the Short Beach road during the night by federal enforcement agents, presumably after a tip from agents in Boston and coastguard vessels have been patrolling Long Beach Sound ever since seeking the craft supposed to have landed the liquor.

The liquor, in federal storage here, is contained in jugs bearing labels of the Isla Distillery, Perth, Scotland, and tags addressed to the S. E. Newfoundland, South Henry Dock, Liverpool.

Federal Agents Henry L. O'Malley and Thomas A. Kenetic, according to official statement, issued here today, drove to a spot on the East Haven river at Short Beach known as "Smugglers Cove" and there hid as "Smugglers Cove" motorboat passing along the river. A few minutes later a truck passed them. When the driver refused to halt the agents pursued and came upon the truck abandoned beside the road.

The truck bore the legend: Doody Brothers Trucking, Memorial street, New Haven. Members of the firm deny knowing of the liquor cargo. The driver has not been found.

Son-in-Law of Ex-Secretary Fall Will Not Tell Where He Got $230,500 In Lib- erty Bonds—Would In- criminate Him, He Says; Refuses to Answer All Questions While on Stand.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The constitutional rights of an individual not to testify in court if such testimony would incriminate him today saved M. T. Everhart, son-in-law of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall from telling the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial jury where he got $230,500 in Liberty Bonds which he deposited to his father-in-law's credit in 1922.

Justice Frank B. Rowland so ruled today after Everhart had refused to testify as to the origin of the bonds.

The prosecution charged that these bonds came from a now defunct concern, controlled by Harry F. Sinclair, New York oil magnate, and were a bribe to Fall for giving Sinclair a secretly executed lease on the Teapot-Dome naval oil reserve.

Owen J. Roberts, federal prosecutor, had demanded that Everhart be compelled to answer his question, declaring that even should the witness answer incriminate him the statute of limitations would save him from prosecution.

Might Be Co-Conspirator
Siddons, however, said there was a possibility that Everhart would be a co-conspirator, and the statute of limitations would not apply to that charge. Roberts had contended the worst that could be developed against Everhart would be to find him an accessory after the fact.

Charles A. Douglas, Everhart's attorney, in successfully arguing that his client should not be compelled to answer, based his entire argument on the assumption Fall and Sinclair were guilty as charged.

"Why," he exclaimed, "if you compel this man to answer, you may well be forming the chains of the penitentiary around him."

Balked in his attempt to force an answer to the specific question, "from whom did you get those bonds?" Roberts promptly put Everhart back on the stand and pumped some more leading questions into him, so that the jury would be impressed that a relative of one of the defendants was afraid he would lay himself open to prosecution if he testified.

Everhart first declined to identify Fall's handwriting in stock books, but the court forced him to. He next refused to state for whom he is trustee for 33 shares of stock in the Fall-controlled Tres Ritos Cattle & Land Co. They are held in the name of his wife.

"On what basis do you decline to answer Roberts?" "On the ground it might tend to incriminate me," replied the witness.

Everhart was mumbling his answers and the judge rebuked him, telling him to "speak up."

Roberts then asked if he had a bill for some freight in Sinclair's New York office in May, 1922. This was when he got the bonds.

"I decline to answer," Roberts was satisfied and Everhart left the stand.

J. F. Benton, vice-president of the First National bank of El Paso, Texas, was called. He produced Fall's 1922 bank account in that institution.

MELLON NEEDS HELP ON INCOME TAX JOB

Secretary of Treasury Says
Rules For Collection Should Be Revised.

Washington, Oct. 28.—A complete revision of government procedure in collecting federal income tax laws was recommended to Congress today by Secretary of Treasury Mellon.

In an exhaustive report submitted to Representative Green, Republican of Iowa, chairman of the joint Congressional committee on the internal revenue taxation, Mellon asked authorization for additional personnel at higher salaries, and suggested other methods by which an unprecedented congestion of tax litigation may be eliminated.

Mellon's report, followed by Under Secretary Ogden L. Mills, A. W. Grogg, ex-solicitor of internal revenue, O. R. Nash, deputy internal revenue commissioner, and F. C. Alford, special assistant.

Rockville BOND ISSUES CAUSE ROCKVILLE WORRY If Sewer Work Is to Be Done Emergency Issue Will Have to Be Sought.

(Special to The Herald) Rockville, Oct. 23.—The realization by the residents of Rockville that there must be a bond issue to take care of the new sewer system that must be built and that the issue will run in the vicinity of $100,000, if not more, is giving them considerable food for thought. The annual town report issued at the October meeting showed that the appropriations recommended by the selectmen, which were all voted, call for an expenditure of $248,850 and that the income that is expected will require $152,580 be raised in taxes. The assessors have about completed their work. There will be over $100,000 less on the Belding-Hemling plant than was the case last year, as the new owners did not put in the list, nor were they called to do so until after next year as they did not own the property on October 1. With $153,580 more in taxes it will mean that for the town of Vernon, there will have to be laid a tax of 15 mills, which is two mills higher than was paid last year, yet all taken into consideration there is nobody but the voters to meet payments due on bonds which were to be paid off on sinking funds. The money was not in the sinking fund when the bonds came due, making the renewal of the bonds necessary. It so happens that all seem to come to a halt at this time. The state no longer allows towns or cities to issue bonds to be paid for by sinking funds, but provides that they must be for a period of years and be paid in serial bonds, the interest on which is now being paid together with the retirement of a certain amount of the bonds for the year. The budget shows that instead of paying the $30,000 borrowed from the Travelers Insurance Company as a one year note that only $5,000 is being paid this year and a new note of $25,000 is being created. In the statement of liabilities there is shown a bond issue of $118,000 for the Maple street school issue, which is a serial bond and must be paid in part each year retiring a given amount of bonds and interest. There is another refunding bond of $105,000 that is due in 1930 which is also a serial bond. The Memorial Hall bond issue is $125,000 is due in 1934 and the $30,000 note for remodeling the school. In addition to this the city has a new issue of $40,000 which is a refunding of a bond issue of $54,000 of thirty years ago, and on which only $14,000 has been paid. They all added together total $418,000. Under the present law, it is pointed out, only 5 per cent of the total amount is to be considered in the issuing of bonds, regardless of the fact that there may be a city within a town or that the town is divided in school districts. If the admitted amount for the new sewer system is to be undertaken and carried through a serial bond, which will hardly be sold at a premium, Rockville will have used up its entire borrowing capacity as far as bonds are concerned but for such a condition as the installation of a sewer system the legislature may allow an emergency issue for the sewer bonds, while the bond issue on the Memorial building amounts to $125,000 the valuation in the list of assets is given as $129,500. Frolics Close Tonight The Elks Frolic which was held in the Elks Memorial Hall last night did not draw out the crowd that was expected, but the production proved to be a finished one in every respect, few realizing that it was all planned and carried into execution by local people in a period of ten days. It will be repeated again tonight for the last time. Cameron Not To Run John P. Cameron, for years mayor of this city, definitely announced yesterday to the chairman of the Republican Town Committee, Lebeus E. Bissell, that he will not run for the office as mayor. The following names are among the several possibilities for next mayor: Parley B. Leonard, A. E. Walte, Lebeus E. Bissell, Col. Chas. H. Allen, Sherwood C. Cummings, Geo. P. Wendheiser and J. Stanley McCray. Notes Miss Aurelia Crossley of Hartford is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Kingston of Ellington avenue. NATION'S BUSINESSMEN ADDRESSED BY CHENEY

Local Man Tells Convention Schools Do Not Equip Children For Life. Addressing the National Association of Manufacturers yesterday at the closing session of its annual convention in Chattanooga, Tenn., Howell Cheney of Cheney-Brothers, criticized the schools of the country as falling properly to equip children for life. On behalf of the nation's manufacturers, he said, he invited educational departments of the States into the factories with the idea of co-operating in the drawing up of curricula that would benefit the children, the State and industry. Mr. Cheney spoke of the tremendous growth of educational investments and facilities in America, which he called "the largest organized political effort and single purpose, next to war, that the world has ever witnessed." As a result of a special study for the association, Mr. Cheney, a member of the governing body of Yale University, drew the conclusion that in some instances as high as 40 per cent of the children who remained in school until the age of 14 were not able to meet the minimum educational requirements and were passed on to industry by educational authorities who certified them as having completed the sixth grade. Cooperation Is Proposed. After describing the work of the Committee on Junior Education and Employment, of which he is Chairman, Mr. Cheney said: "With more sentiment that compensates, people are urging the exclusion of children from industry, employers, perhaps with more selfishness than with thought of children, are urging the admission of children to industry. Why can't we come together on a program that compromises neither but comprehends them both? "Admitting and welcoming the State as in a sense the guardian and supervisor of the children, can we say that here are the resources of education in industry? Here is an educational power that is at your command without an investment of an additional cent. "Why can't you come into factories, work with us on the construction of curricula, define the conditions of a progressive training which entitles employers to use the labor of children and carry this mass forward with a creative ideal of accomplishment in place of the ideas of idleness that you are instilling today?"

Hallowe'en Season Brings Many Socials and Parties

DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY HALLOWEEN BALL AT RAINBOW MONDAY

The biggest of all Hallowe'en affairs in this section will probably be the big masquerade at Frank Pinney's Rainbow Dance Palace in Bolton Monday night. This dance will be held on Hallowe'en night and is planned as an extra feature on Pinney's regular weekly dance program. Novelties, streamers, noise-makers and carnival decorations will help up the party and in addition Mr. Pinney is going to give four prizes for prettiest and most comical costumes. There will be a prize for the best dressed girl, one for the best dressed gent, a prize for the most comical man and one for the most comical girl. The Rainbow's orchestra will play for the dancing and Mr. Pinney promises to have a few old-fashioned numbers during the evening. Judges have not yet been chosen, but contestants may rest assured of the best of treatment at the Rainbow. Mr. Pinney is also reserving tables at his Inn adjacent to the dance palace for Hallowe'en night diners. The cover charge in the Rainbow Inn will allow the diners to dance in the hall free.

ITALIAN LADIES BALL TOMORROW NIGHT

Tomorrow evening at the Sub-Alpine hall on Eldridge street the Italian Ladies' Aid society will give its fifth annual masquerade dance. The large committee in charge has been making elaborate preparations for this event, one of the leading social functions of the season among the Italian residents of Manchester and surrounding towns. JUMPS 30 FOOT GAP ON HIS MOTORCYCLE

That's Stunt Charlie Hutchinson Pulls in Rialto Saturday Double Feature Bill; "Clinging Vine" Tonight.

Tonight will be the last chance to see Leatrice Joy in "The Clinging Vine," a sweet alluring comedy with a pack of thrills at the Rialto. What kind of a woman do men like and a lover? That is the burning question which should interest all women whether they are looking for romance or a meal ticket. It will be revealed in "The Clinging Vine."

Tomorrow will be double feature day. The attractions are Buddy Roosevelt in "The Bandit Buster" and Charles Hutchinson in "The Trunk Mystery," a cyclone story with a whirlwind finish. In addition there will be the third and fourth chapters of "Fighting for Fame" and a comedy in "The Trunk Mystery," does a thrilling jump over a thirty-foot gap while riding a motorcycle at full speed. After going over the gap, which is on a mountain side, he jumps from a great height into a speeding automobile, which the villains are escaping with.

A kidnapping sponsored by the heroine and carried out by the hero is one of the unique situations in "The Bandit Buster." And what makes the situation more unusual is the fact that it is the heroine's own father who is the victim of the plot. Sunday and Monday's attraction at the Rialto will be "Nobody's Children."

COMEDY WAS UNKNOWN IN THE OLDEN DAYS

But "Ben Hur" Has Plenty of It, Due to Initiative of Director.

Our modern day comic actors and musicians would be a bore to the Romans of the first century of this era. For the Romans were a peculiar lot whose only pastime was centered mainly in exotic dancing girls, orgies of a wild nature, and listening to the jester accusing them of all sorts of scandal in which they had never indulged. Because of this historical data, Director Fred Niblo was for some time at a loss as to how to inject a reasonable amount of humor in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer "Ben-Hur" production which comes to the State theater on Sunday.

Since the Romans were bored with comic actors and musicians, and enjoyed only frenzied dancing of Eastern girls and sly quirks from a jester, Director Niblo has used these expedients to fabricate a number of mirthful situations in the picturization of General Lew Wallace's famous novel and stage play. Also, genuine Roman banquets, accurate and fascinating in every detail, a thrilling chariot race, thousands of people arrayed in the garbs of Pharisees, High Priests, Sadducees, Roman soldiers, slaves, Greek philosophers, and scores of other nationalities prevalent during that period, have been blended into what is considered the most gigantic motion picture in the history of cinema making.

Ramon Novarro plays the title role and is supported by a cast which includes May McAvoy, Carmel Myers, Francis X. Bushman, Kathleen Key, Nigel de Bruille, Frank Currier, Claire McDowell, Mitchell Lewis and Leo White.

Some comment has been made on the double rainbow of Friday morning, October 21. Joseph Barrasso of Gilead reports having seen this unusual spectacle. But in this vicinity the double rainbow seen the afternoon of the same day was the most gorgeous sight of the kind ever seen. No reports from other towns seem to mention this afternoon rainbow. Possibly it was not visible except in this locality.

November first will be the last day for handing in the tax lists. The town clerk's assistant has been kept busy receiving the lists for the past week or more.

HENRY NETTLETON

Many hundreds of Manchester people are grieving sincerely because it was not given to Henry A. Nettleton to win the courageous fight he made for life. The pity of his passing seems the deeper for that it had been believed his battle was all but won.

Here was a man of the type that constitutes the real backbone of a true civilization. Not a seeker after renown, not a plunger of feathers nor a striver after personal advantage, not a climber in any sense; but one with an avid desire to share in the work of the world, to join shoulders with his fellows in the manifold tasks that keep the machinery of our social system running, to do his bit as a worker and as a citizen to just the utmost of his ability and his strength.

Loyal to every obligation, true as steel to his friends, he was more-over endowed with a peculiar amiability and native friendliness that won friendship everywhere. Modest almost to the point of diffidence, he yet came to be widely known and profoundly admired.

In his death the Connecticut company loses not only a conspicuously valuable servant but an official unusually equipped to fend off the criticism of a never very friendly public; and Manchester a son whom it loved.

CURTIS

So far as is observable, the announcement of Senator Curtis of Kansas that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for President next year has not stirred up any great degree of excitement in the party. Quite a number of leading Republican newspapers have refrained from making any editorial comment whatever on the announcement.

Yet this Curtis ambition is not without its points. In the first place the Kansas leader of the party in the United States Senate is the first ponderable person in the party to come out squarely and say that he wants the job and will get it if he can. Among the plain people, who have a weakness for plain talking, this four-square method of proceeding is extremely well liked. They are not too much impressed by the sincerity of statesmen who stick their hands in the breasts of their buttoned up frock coats and blushing admit that they might perhaps be induced to consent to run if their party called them with sufficient emphasis. So that the very frankness of Senator Curtis' declaration gives him an edge on the situation—an edge held for a minute or two by Mr. Lowden, but sacrificed when he promptly reneged on his own declaration of candidacy some months ago.

Then there is another point. Nothing is more certain than that the Eastern Republicans will never stand for the candidacy of Senator Norris of Nebraska which is being assiduously promoted by the middle-class Mr. Borah. Nor are they likely to subscribe to that of either Lowden or Dawes, both of whom have been looked over with much chin rubbing by the insurgent Westerners. And yet it is conceivable that before the convention arrives it may be found to be absolutely necessary to put a geographical Westerner at the head of the ticket. In such a contingency the Eastern wing of the party might find himself rejoicing that there was at least one genuine Westerner of size who still possessed the merit of economic sanity and broad American rather than sectional ideas. And there is no denying that Senator Curtis fits the case in both directions. He is the only Westerner in sight who is a conservative Republican of the type that would be acceptable to the East.

Of course it isn't likely that it will become necessary to pick a Westerner at all, for Herbert Hoover's California residence is sheerly nominal and he wears neither head of wheat nor ear of corn in his hatband; while Ohio, home of Nick Longworth, is really of the East. But if the G. O. P. should find itself in a strategic position where it had to pick a candidate from between the Mississippi and the Rockies, what, after all, is the matter with Curtis?

TO BE EXPECTED

Rear Admiral Magruder is being represented as "disappointed" because President Coolidge refused his request, forwarded through the prescribed official channels; that he revoke Secretary Wilbur's order detaching him from command of the navy yard at Philadelphia and that the President grant him a personal hearing. Magruder is, undoubtedly, no such thing. He is an experienced and wise old man. He assuredly knows that no President would be likely to grant his appeals unless he was prepared to incontinently bounce his secretary of the navy. And President Coolidge has already put up with so much embarrassment at the hands of Secretary Wilbur as to make it quite apparent that he has resolved to keep that singularly inept official in his job till the bitter end.

Mr. Coolidge, in his own unemotional, taciturn way, possesses a peculiar quality of loyalty to his cabinet officers. He has suffered for it, more than any other President. He has been placed in positions of extreme unpleasantness by Daugherty, by Kellogg and by Wilbur. He resisted an enormous amount of pressure with relation to the first of these, risked the wrecking of his administration rather than obey the obvious urge to throw the heavily shaded attorney-general to the wolves.

He has withstood storms of angry criticism because of Kellogg's head-over-heels commitments to policies which afterward have been well enough shown not to have been Coolidge policies. And in the case of Wilbur there must have been several occasions on which the President felt like kicking him. Yet with grim determination the President has stood behind the members of his official family, evidently on the theory that if an administration is to function as a whole it must be regarded, from within, as a unit.

Admiral Magruder must very well know that there is not the slightest reason to believe that were Calvin Coolidge secretary of the navy instead of President of the United States, the former would have received any such raw deal for his honest and perfectly legal criticism of navy waste as he is now receiving. His course in appealing to the President is, as a matter of fact, the indicated routine which anybody in his position might naturally follow.

There never was a chance of any interference on the part of the President unless he were to lose all patience with Wilbur and give him the air. And the President is the most patient and long-suffering of men where his cabinet is concerned.

POPULAR GOVERNMENT

The New York World takes a panicky view of the crowning of Big Bill Thompson and includes an editorial most pessimistic concerning the Chicago electorate by saying:

"The kind of mentality now being exhibited in Chicago is a dangerous symptom of the condition of popular government. For here, brutal and unashamed, we have a demagogue rising to power by appealing to the very lowest prejudices of the people. We have the educational system of a great community treated with utter contempt. We have an indecent disregard for honest scholarship. We have greed and ambition masquerading as patriotism. How long can popular government endure on a foundation of this kind?"

Our reply to this question would be: Not long. But we have still some faith. We don't believe that it will try to endure very long on such foundation—for that isn't the foundation at all; it is merely an excrescence germinated in the taint of evil that the world has always known and fostered by civic laziness and inattention. Chicago has produced some fairly horrible examples of "popular" government before this, and has thereafter redeemed itself. Big Bill and his kind of government will last only until the people of Chicago wake up.

Our money goes on popular government because it is our conviction that there are more decent people than scurrilous, dishonest or idiotic people—that in a showdown the majority will win. And it is the foundation.

ONE GOD

Of course New York is a hard old bird of a town. And it has so many, many people that a good many thousands of them are bound to be as mean and as low and as contemptible as human beings can possibly be. But just the same we should like to have somebody tell us whether, anywhere else in this land, a lot of Protestants and Jews have ever joined enthusiastically in the job of raising a $250,000 andownment fund for a Catholic church.

When you find George Gordon Battle—annoyingly significant, those given names of his, reminiscent of the London "no-popery" riots of 1780—and Otto Kahn and Gene Tunney and a lot more men of three faiths contributing to and rooting for an endowment for the church of the famous Chaplain Duffy, then you find something that, somehow or other, seems to us to be singularly gratifying and beautiful.

When people who worship one God can do so without hating each other for doing it in various ways, then there is still something to hang on to. Even if the example does arise in what we are so often told is a terribly Godless city.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, Oct. 28.—President Coolidge came back from the west in what was for him a perfect riot of color, but it didn't last long.

At the first post-vacation press conference, as has been noted, Mr. Coolidge blossomed out in a darling, light gray suit which gave him the most collegiate appearance in the entire assembly.

Since then, however, the president has always appeared before us in the same old black suit which he wore before he went away. Or if it isn't the same suit, it's exactly the same color. Information is not available as to whether the president sold the pearl gray suit, stored it or gave it to a rummage sale.

These press conferences often deal mostly with trivial matters. The other day, the president—as the White House spokesman is sometimes called—dwelt at great length on the rather dumb suggestion of someone in Chicago that District of Columbia residents be permitted to vote in Maryland. The president talked and talked about the various complications of such a plan, reviewing it from all imaginable angles, until the correspondents began to get sick. There was some question whether they were sneaking with the president, for it was hard to tell whether he was attempting humor or not.

A correspondent spoke up and pointed out that what the people of D. C. wanted was to vote within the district so as to have something to say about their local government. What did the president think about that?

Whereupon the Voice replied that no such question had been submitted in writing and that when it was, he would consider it. Coming from the president, this was a rebuke to the correspondent. The custom is for correspondents to submit their questions to the president prior to the conference, for him to answer, comment upon or ignore. But hardly a press conference passes without one or more correspondents asking for illumination on a point which isn't clear to them and it is most unusual for the president to ignore such a verbal query or to haul out the asker.

At any rate, the people of the District of Columbia know now what the president thinks of an altogether impracticable suggestion, but are left to guess how the president feels on what is to them, the serious issue of self-government.

It is, of course, embarrassing when the president expands upon a trivial subject to the point where it becomes funny, for he does not smile and the correspondents often cannot tell whether he expects to be taken seriously or otherwise. The boys feel like laughing, but fear that to obey the impulse might be a serious faux pas.

There was an incident, two or three years ago at the first White House press conference held following the arrival of Callaux and his French debt mission. The president fingered a written question and studied it for two minutes—something important, everyone thought, for the president usually wades in with hardly a pause. Finally he began to talk in a rambling way as if something of enormous interest was about to come. The correspondents were on tiptoes, expecting an important pronouncement on the debt negotiations. It developed that someone had asked how the president felt about constructing a bathing beach for Washington, on the Potomac river or in the tidal basin.

For ten minutes, someone estimated, the president discussed the issue, pointing to its merits and demerits and leaving no pebble unturned. He finally concluded that it was cheaper to take the people of Washington to the ocean than to bring the ocean to Washington. The beach discussion took up most of the conference time. As for the French debt conference, the debt commission was handling that and the president did not care to comment.

A great many presidential press conferences, somehow, are like that. Some correspondents suspect there is a method in the president's tactics.

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc. EXCLUSIVE REPRESENTATIVES FOR CRAWFORD AND CHAMBERS RANGES.

Their very district has been invaded and those who claim the glamorous distinction, if any, of "Apache" are youngsters of the gang type who might find it difficult to survive in Hell's Kitchen and who would be put to rout in Chicago.

Time was when the brutal and primitive ways of the Apache and his girls of the half-world were matters of fearsome fiction. Some there are who will tell you that they never did exist in the sense that they have lived in the American movies or the vaudeville dance.

A few steps away are other lanes where the Apache hid out—such as the Aubrey-le-Boucher, around which has been written some of the most blood curdling tales. Other hide-outs dalt through the outskirts of Montmartre.

But the Apache, or such of him as is left, has turned his hand to petty and cheap crime, they tell me. He still depends upon his woman for the half-world for a living and when times are a bit bad he has connections with spies in big hotels.

As for this "woman" and "woman" they are among the lowest classes in the Paris underworld, which is a large and elaborate industry with branches in almost any neighborhood, with competition from those graces who wander the sidewalks of the de l'Opera, the Madeleine, the des Italiens, or up man and professional burglar. In fact, he does not, himself, often participate in a robbery. He has his agents attend to that and he arranges through his connections for the sale of stolen goods. Until that there are no more thefts until times get hard again. In other words he resorts to robbery only under pressure of great necessity.

LOCAL SET-BACK PLAYERS COMPETE

Hilliard Team Again Heads Factory List—Ten Teams At Community Club.

The second week of the Community-Industrial Setback Tournament was held last evening at the Manchester Community club.

Each team made a determined effort to better its position of last week. The E. E. Hilliard Co., Conn. Sumatra Co., and the Gammons, Holman Co., still retain their standing in the league in the order named. Newbury and McConnell of the Hilliard Co. team repeated their performance of last week by turning in the highest individual scores. Each received a sterling silver cigarette humidor.

The Business Men made a determined spurt from eighth to fourth place, while Company No. 1, Firemen, improved their position by one going from six to five. Talcott Brothers dropped one and the Improvement club maintained their number seven position.

Glastonbury Knitting Mills gained a notch and Carlyle Johnson company received the greatest reversal in dropping from fourth place, but the race is too young to make any predictions what the final results will be over the next seven weeks to go. Bon Ami still hold the cellar position but as has been mentioned, you never can tell.

The Standing.

After the playing, members of the Carlyle Johnson team served coffee and sandwiches to the other teams. The captains of each team retiring to count the scoring of each team for the evening and upon their return announced the following:

"ROUGH RIDERS" SETS A MARK TO SHOOT AT

Establishes Standard in Moving Pictures—At State Today and Tomorrow.

Human and rollicking in places, grimly affecting in others, blending finely all the essences of love, struggle, bravery, humor, pathos and death "The Rough Riders" started at the State Theater today. It will remain here over Saturday.

"The Rough Riders" can truly be said to set a standard. It is one of the few films which deserve the adjective, great, and which add immeasurably to the progress of the motion picture.

To attempt to follow the drama in a brief review is useless. It is too swift, too breath-taking, too replete with moments of subtlety and too flooding in its emotional character.

One can say that Paramount has made a story that breathes the idealism of Theodore Roosevelt, one of the greatest of Americans; that the story recounts his nature and his exploits in the Cuban regime of hate, war and fever, with an amazing spirit of faithfulness; that a love theme with Mary Astor, Charles Farrell and Charles Emmett Mack, winds like a glowing thread throughout the drama; and that the difficult sequences of the blowing up of the Maine, the gathering of the Rough Riders, their fierce courage in the hall of Spanish lead, and the dominant figure of T. R. alive every moment, contribute to art and express history.

The sterling performances of Noah Beery as Sheriff Hell's Bells, George Bancroft as Happy Joe, Frank Hopper as Roosevelt, Fred Kohler as the top-sergeant and Col. Fred Lindsay as Leonard Wood, are worthy of mention. Mary Astor is ideal as the sweet old-fashioned girl of yesterday whose heart trembles in the balance of a love sought by Charles Farrell and Charles Emmett Mack. Farrell and Mack distinguish themselves by their superb acting.

THIS HAS HAPPENED Vance eliminates Miss St. Clair as a suspect and he intervenes with Markham against arresting Leacock when some of Pfyff's statements strengthen the case against the captain. It is brought out that Pfyff had forged Alvin Benson's name to a check for Markham with Paula Banning.

NOW BEGIN THE STORY CHAPTER XXXIX SHE assumed an attitude of smiling indifference. "I'm afraid you've made another mistake," she spoke lightly. "Mr. Benson and I were not even friends. Indeed, I scarcely knew him."

There was an overtone of emphasis in her denial—a slight eagerness which, in indicating a conscientious desire to be believed, robbed her remark of the complete casualness she had intended. "Even a business relationship may have its personal side," Vance reminded her, "especially when the intermediary is an intimate of both parties to the transaction."

"She looked at him quickly; then turned her eyes away. "I really don't know what you're talking about," she affirmed; and her face for a moment lost its contours of innocence, and became calculating.

"You're surely not implying that I had any business dealings with Mr. Benson?" "Not directly," replied Vance. "But certainly Mr. Pfyff had business dealings with him; and one of them, I rather imagined, involved you considerably."

"Involved me?" She laughed scornfully, but it was a strained laugh. "It was a somewhat unfortunate transaction," Vance went on—"unfortunate in that Mr. Pfyff was necessitated to deal with Mr. Benson; and doubly unfortunate, you know, in that he should have had to drag you into it."

His manner was easy and assured, and the woman sensed that no display of scorn or contempt, however well simulated, would make an impression upon him. Therefore, she adopted an attitude of tolerantly incredulous amusement.

"And where did you learn about all this?" she asked playfully. "Alas! I didn't learn about it,"

Those first women, who bore child after child, did the washing, the cooking, the sewing, the knitting and sometimes even worked in the fields, had little time to ponder their value or to consider themselves creatures to be placed on a pedestal.

Smarter and Heavier Meriden Team Trims S.M.H.S.

CAPTAIN IWANICKI AND SCULLY HEROES AS LOCALS LOSE 19-6

Farr Scores Manchester's Touchdown on 75-Yard Run; First Downs Even But Meriden Is Superior Team.

Coach Frank Barnikow dumped a carload of red-jerseyed huskies onto the McKee street gridiron yesterday and they had a merry little feast all their own at the expense of our schoolboys. Meriden High went home with a most convincing 19 to 6 victory thus practically assuring itself of first place in the Central Connecticut Interscholastic League.

Iwanicki the Spark. Meriden's whole team was built about its gallant leader, Captain Charlie Iwanicki, playing fullback. Iwanicki was a power of strength both on the offense and defense. He bore the brunt of Meriden's attack, gaining constantly. On the defense he was a team himself and seemed to have the knack of telling just where the Manchester plays were going.

Meriden worked together in almost perfect unison but Billy Scully the lanky quarterback, also starred. His punting was the best seen on a local field this season. Ab Lupien, Manchester's plucky holder, is considered mighty good, but yesterday Scully gave him a few lessons. No less than twice, Scully purposely kicked offside of Manchester's ten yard line. His boots averaged close to fifty yards.

Meriden scored in the first period. After Scully had kicked offside on Manchester's three yard line, Captain Keeney fumbled on the first play, Meriden recovering. Four successive line thrusts availed less than two yards and Meriden snared the ball. Lupien kicked out the one-yard line. Lupien kicked out, but shortly afterward, Meriden started another rush that carried them over the final stripe with Iwanicki carrying the ball. A forward pass Scully threw to Meriden's play-kick play completely fooled the home team.

During the first half, Manchester's line was not charging in and did not seem to function properly with its backfield. Meriden made seven first downs in the first half on line plunging against none for Manchester. Our boys bagged three forward passes in succession just before halftime, but the rally was in vain.

Cheap Touchdown

In the second half, Manchester played much better making six first downs against two for Meriden. Its aerial attack was working fine. Ever so, Meriden played smarter football. After making a first down Manchester elected to try a forward. Gill passed to Hansen who had the ball in his hands only to drop it when an opposing player crashed into him. It did not look as though Hansen had caught the ball, but Umpire Johnny McGrath, coach of East Hartford High school, ruled he had. Iwanicki scooped up the ball and dashed fifty yards unopposed, except for Captain Keeney, to make the score 13 to 0. The try for point failed. Nearly everyone thought that the ball would be brought back and the play ruled an incomplete forward pass. This did not excuse the Manchester team from not tackling Iwanicki, however. It was poor football on their part and wide awake by Iwanicki.

This play seemed to take the starch out of Manchester. Not once did Manchester get inside Meriden's thirty yard line except in the fourth quarter when Ernie Dowd heaved a neat forward pass to Louie Farr on his own 19-yard line, the latter sprinting 75 yards for a touchdown. It is the second time this season that Farr has snared a pass out of the air and dashed that distance to score. This time, he had to shake off two tacklers. It was a brilliant piece of work. Lupien's drop-kick went wide for the extra point.

Iwanicki Again

Soon afterward, Meriden got into suitable scoring position after an exchange of kicks and again marched over. Manchester's final strike. Once more it was Iwanicki who carried the ball. He tried for the extra point, too, but was stopped a foot short of the line when he snared a pass. While the work of Iwanicki and Scully stood out for Meriden, Hansen, Heaney, L. Cheney and Lupien did best for Manchester.

Manchester: Farr, Scarlato, le; Kittle, Radding, It; R. Cheney, Welles, Ig; Mercer, C; Johnston, rg; Healey, Mepner, rt; Lupien, re; Hansen, E. Dowd, qb; E. Dowd, Treat, rb; Gill, Johnson, lb; Keeney, th.

Meriden: Cello, le; King, It; J. Sternberg, Ig; H. Sternberg, C; Vincent, Petrikt, rg; Robinson, rt; Stevens, Hyatt, Ruffeth, re; Scully, qb; Sackett, rb; Spratke, lb; Iwanicki, th.

Touchdowns: Iwanicki 3, Farr.

Point after touchdown, Cello. First downs: Manchester 9, Meriden 9. Forward passes completed: Manchester 7 out of 18, Meriden 4 out of 2. Penalties: Manchester 15 yards; Meriden 35 yards. Referee: Bert Keane, Hartford Courant; umpire: Johnny McGrath, East Hartford; headlinesman, Charlie Holm of Hartford.

TOMORROW'S GAMES IN NEW ENGLAND

Football Warriors On the March Turned This Part Of the Country.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 23.—Across the hills and fertile valleys of New England, gorgeous with the splendor of autumn foliage, moved determined bands of football warriors today, gathering for the clashes of tomorrow.

Down the valley of the Connecticut rode New Havenward the tribe of "Wah-Hoo-Pah," scapils of Harvard dangling at their belts, ready with the tomahawks for Mr. Caldwell and the other sons of Eli Yale. "We've got an even chance against Yale," opined the chief of the Dartmouth wigwam, Jess Hawley. Victory has been so easy this season that Hawley has been striving this week against over-confidence before what appears to be "a battle of the century" in football.

Carry Big Band

From out of the middle west aboard a special train came to Boston a determined aggregation of thirty-three players from Hoosier land. Accompanying the outfit was the college world's most colorful band of ninety-eight pieces. A workout in Harvard stadium was planned for the late afternoon. Harvard was rated here as a favorite but Coach Pat Page of Indiana was relieved to have some fast football strategy up his sleeve ready to spring tomorrow. Six years ago Harvard defeated Indiana here nineteen to nothing. There was considerable uncertainty over the Harvard line-up for tomorrow.

Boston to Fordham

Boston College today moved on to New York to give battle to Fordham. The team was accompanied by 1,500 local fans. Major Frank Cavanaugh, former coach of Boston College, is now at the helm of Fordham. Bud Dover, valuable Eagles player who has been in the hospital, left with the team for New York.

Temple's scoring machine, which met a setback against Dartmouth, came up to Providence, R. I., today from Philadelphia to try and scrape a little rust off the Brown "Iron Men" and incidentally make up for their defeat at the hands of Dartmouth.

Holy Cross was ready for Rutgers at Worcester, Williams for Union, Springfield for New Hampshire State, Bates for Bowdoin, Maine for Colby, Tufts for Boston University, Amherst for Massachusetts Aggies, Middlebury for Hamilton, Providence for St. Xavier and Vermont for Norwich Cadets.

B. C. IN NEW YORK

New York, Oct. 23.—The Boston College football squad, which left the hub early this morning, will arrive in town this afternoon, and will immediately proceed to Rye, where they will tune up for tomorrow's game with Fordham. Coach Leo Daley will send his men through a signal drill rehearsing the plays for the contest.

YALE USING HOBEN

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 23.—Johnny Hoben, who started at quarterback for Yale against Georgia and West Point, will be calling signals for the Elis here tomorrow against Dartmouth. Billhardt, the man who was being groomed for the field general's post, hurt his hand, and while he will be ready for use tomorrow, Coach Jones will start Hoben.

PREDICTIONS ON WHO WILL WIN IN TOMORROW'S COLLEGE GAMES

What We Think In Sports

By THOMAS W. STOWE

In watching these high school games, one cannot help but wonder why the teams seldom kick earlier than the fourth down. Take Manchester for example. Yesterday there were several occasions when a long boot down the field on the first and second down would have caught Meriden completely asleep, the latter's backfield, even the safety man, being up close to the line. Teams cannot get breaks in their own territory. That is why it is often advisable to kick at opportune moments into the opposing team's unguarded territory, a la college style. Twice yesterday, Meriden kicked offside at a point inside Manchester's ten yard line. Manchester, of course, is somewhat handicapped. Ab Lupien down the line. He plays an end position and therefore has to be pulled back from the line to make such plays. This has been a dead giveaway to the opposing teams. It makes no difference on the fourth down because then a kick is expected, but it would on an earlier down.

We earnestly hope that if someone is kind enough to present our high school with an athletic field, that the town will show its appreciation in no small way. In the past, it has been the habit of fans here to take everything for granted. We had as fine a stadium as there is in the state over on McKee street but it wasn't properly supported and now is about to be dismantled. In New London recently, a prominent figure in that town, Frederick W. Mercer, presented Bulkeley High with an athletic field that cost in the neighborhood of $30,000. Was it appreciated? Most assuredly. Close to three thousand persons turned out to witness the dedication ceremonies and watch the initial game between Bulkeley and Manchester. Three bands were present and prominent town officials. It was a most inspiring and auspicious event and New London clearly showed its appreciation to Mr. Mercer. So, if it does come that someone here turns out to be a good Samaritan, let's all do our bit to show our heartfelt gratitude.

Just where such a field may be located, is entirely problematical. It is rumored that the field in question may be The Meadows located at the trolley terminus, Main and Charter Oak streets. This tract of land is owned by Miss Mary Cheney and Frank Cheney, Jr. It has been standing idle for several years. Amateur football games and high school practices have been held there. While the surface of the field would need considerable attention, there is no question but what the field is very centrally located. Situated as it is, at the trolley terminus, it would undoubtedly attract many more persons than the McKee street stadium which is admittedly too far away from the center of the town. The latter field is ideal in every other respect but there are many who do not have automobiles who would not walk that far to see an ordinary football or baseball game. For the balance of the season, Manchester will continue to use the McKee street stadium. Edward J. Hoan having kindly consented to loan the use of the field to the high school under Principal C. P. Quimby's care for the balance of the football season. The fence will not be torn down as first planned, until the completion of the season on November 24.

Keeping Tabs On Fistsiana

LAST NIGHT'S FIGHTS

At Boston—Joey Knapp, New York, outpointed Bobby Brown, Lowell, Mass. ten rounds; Jimmy Finley, Louisville, outpointed Joe Harnett, Halifax, ten rounds; Willie Harmon, New York, outpointed Clyde Hull, Fort Worth, Texas, ten rounds.

At Chicago—George La Marre, Chicago middleweight, was awarded the decision over "Knockout" White, New Orleans negro, ten rounds; Jimmy Maloney, Chicago light heavyweight, outpointed Larry Johnson of California, eight rounds.

POWER BOAT RACES

New York, Oct. 23.—Recommendation that only boats with hull displacement of 2,000 pounds be eligible to compete and the advancement of the date of competition, were the outstanding developments today at the annual meeting of the American Power Boat Association in its discussion of the Gold Cup race, emblematic of speed boat supremacy of the world. Frequent accidents at the Connecticut races last summer when only two entries out of eleven were able to complete the three heats, thirty miles each, resulted in the decision to require heavier hulls. Other than deciding that the date of the races should be advanced, no definite time was fixed.

Dartmouth Has Edge on Yale—Navy Picked to Beat Pennsy; Harvard Favorite Over Indiana.

By MALCOLM ROY, Staff Correspondent

New York, Oct. 23.—Top-notch games bedeck tomorrow's football card despite the fact that for many teams the day will be one of comparative rest between the drive for the critical October battles and the campaign for the all-important November climatic events.

Never in the long history of Dartmouth-Yale football games has the Green seen an eleven to New Haven with brighter prospects of victory than the one which will be met this year's eleven with its great backfield stars—Myles Lane and Bob MacPhail—primed to do battle with Bruce Caldwell, the scoring ace of the Blue eleven. Playing diametrically opposed types of football, Dartmouth will rely on its powerful attack as against Yale's splendid defense. If anything, the Green appears to hold a slight advantage.

Pennsy-Navy Game

Pennsylvania faces the powerful Navy team with everything to gain and nothing much to lose. Victory over the Middies will once more restore the Quakers to some measure of football prestige which they can hardly sink them deeper. Navy, however, must win to maintain its place, not materially weakened by the defeat sustained at the hands of Notre Dame. Pennsylvania probably will have Paul Seill, Martin G. Miller, Siffer andutz back on the field of battle and will need them at their best to stop this Navy machine which has again thrown the gears into high and is crashing forward bent on a championship rating.

Harvard tackles Indiana in its second intersectional battle of the campaign. Pat Page, old time Chicago star has developed a good team at Indiana but the best it has done since the conference in two years has been to tie the Minnesota on a day when the Gophers were admittedly over-confident and unless Harvard football has sunk to lower depths than seems possible, the Crimson of Cambridge should rout the Columbia blue and Columbia will renew their ancient rivalry at Ithaca with the odds slightly favoring the Cornell eleven which gave evidence of great potential strength against Princeton last week. Columbia has a well-ordered, alert team.

Colgate-N. Y. U.

The Colgate-New York University game at New York is the first real test of Chick Meehan's New York University eleven and will be a hard-fought, in-and-out up-state game. It will more than have justified its ranking among the best in the East. Army and the unbeaten Bucknell eleven should develop some wonderful football in their game at West Point where the odds favoring the West Pointers because of the somewhat tougher road they have traveled since the season began. Penn State with its rugged defense and sparkling offense should overwhelm the disappointing Lafayette team at State College.

Princeton Should Win

Princeton should have a mild week-end entertaining William & Mary at Princeton but Brown may expect squalls and maybe worse in its engagement with Temple University at Providence. Major Frank Cavanaugh's Fordham outfit hopes for a break in its run of hard luck in the Boston College game which also seems to have had anything but easy sleight this season. Both Washington & Jefferson and Pittsburgh, two of the East's unbeaten eleven have easy games on hand with Thiel and Allegheny, respectively and the same is true of Georgetown, leading contender for honors as the best of the Catholic eleven in the East, which meets Waynesburg at Washington. Other Eastern games of moment are Amherst-Massachusetts Aggies at Amherst; Williams-Union at Williams; Wesleyan-Trinity at Middletown; and Tufts-Boston University at Medford.

In Middle West Battle lines are closely drawn in the Notre-Dame-Georgia Tech clash with sentiment alone making the Fighting Irish a favorite. Georgia Tech is the golden tornado of old and is expected to crowd Notre Dame to the limit. Michigan the only undefeated, untied and undefeated on eleven, the length and breadth of the land will essay to keep its slate clean in the annual clash with Illinois at Urbana. The Illinois by their victory over Northwestern last week showed that Zupke has another of his courageous teams and Michigan will need more than a forward pass to hurdle Zupke's eleven as it strode over Ohio State last week.

SPORTSMATTER

FRANK GETTY, UNITED PRESS SPORTS EDITOR

TWO TIME TUNNEY.

Tex Rickard, the old "I Cash Cauliflower" man, is not particularly enthused over Gene Tunney's proposal to defend the heavyweight championship in two outdoor fights during 1928.

The promoter is of the opinion that once a year is quite often enough for heavyweight championship fights. "It takes six months to get ready for one of them affairs," said Tex the other day.

If Rickard really intends to build a suitable outdoor arena in the vicinity of New York City, it is obvious that Gene Tunney will do no fighting before September. The arena couldn't be finished before that time.

Gene sent word to me last month that he would like two outdoor bouts in defense of his title. He suggested July 4 and the latter part of September.

Yes, anxious reader, he counts upon winning the first one—and says it won't be a long count, either. But Tex Rickard will not permit Tunney to fight elsewhere than in the largest available arena, so it's quite likely that the champion will spend a Safe and Sane Fourth.

It would be entirely against all the promoter's business principles to risk holding a heavyweight championship fight in a ball park or other limited area in July, while going ahead and preparing a bigger and better arena for a second title fight a couple of months later.

For one thing, Gene Tunney might sit in the rain a second or two too long this time, in which case his conqueror most certainly would take it on the lam for the nearest vaudeville agency—and where would the SECOND of the summer's two championship fights be then?

No, Rickard is right. Once a year is at least often enough to watch Gene Tunney defend his championship.

It is interesting to learn that Tunney considers Tom Heeny, the rugged New Zealander, best of the heavyweight contenders next to Dempsey.

Tom is a stout fellow. We will see him in action against Jack Sharkey a fortnight hence, and then we will know more about his championship qualifications.

For one reason, if for no other, we would like to see Heeny win his way through the elimination tournament and face Tunney in a battle for the heavyweight championship.

The reason is Charley Harvey, Heeny's manager, chief second, booster and pal. Charley is one of the few lovable characters in the fight racket, a man who makes association with some of the inner workings of the business a little less unpleasant.

It would be great if Charley could come into some of the big money. He deserves it.

Dissecting Grid Rules by O'Brien

MEN IN MOTION By E. J. O'Brien

The rule states that no player of the side which has the ball shall be in motion at the moment that the ball is put in play, except that one man may be in motion, either directly or obliquely towards his own end line.

It puts a restriction on men in the line being in motion, so much so that if one of the line players is in motion, he must be five yards back of the ball at the moment the ball is put in play, and also one of the backfield men must take his place in the line of scrimmage.

It means that the rules have been so constructed that now in all shift or huddle plays, the players must come to an absolute stop and remain stationary in their new positions sufficiently long enough to prevent any doubt in the minds of the officials that the players have come to a full stop.

Remember, any man in motion at the moment the ball is put in play must be at least five yards back of the spot from which the ball is snapped and furthermore must be going towards his own goal line at that instant.

FOUR TEAMS TIED

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Four teams, all tied for first place, were today leading the pack of six day bike racers at the Coliseum.

MAKES FIRST TOUCHDOWN

After playing football eight years, Bob Reitsch, Illinois captain, made his first touchdown in a practice game against the freshmen this year.

honors appear to slightly favor California because of its defeat of St. Mary's recently.

In the south, Tulane and the undefeated Georgia eleven come together at New Orleans, with Georgia having the edge.

DARKNESS HELPS SIMSBURY BEAT TRADE IN LAST MINUTE

Visitors Uncork Brilliant Fifty-Yard Drive to Score; Ball Carriers Aided By Semi-Darkness Caused by Late Arrival.

After holding Simsbury High school scoreless until the last two minutes of play, Manchester Trade weakened and allowed the visiting gridsters to sweep the ends and spit the line with dazzling runs that brought the leather from midfield across the goal line for the lone score of the game yesterday afternoon at the West Side playgrounds. The try for extra point was blocked.

Owing to the fact that the visitors were an hour and a half late in arriving, the last part of the game was played in semi-darkness. This, naturally, was a decided advantage to the team having the ball in its possession. It is not offered as an alibi, but no doubt Manchester would have held the visitors from scoring had the game been played under proper conditions.

Manchester had three chances to score from around the twenty yard line but lacked the necessary punch. The Simsbury team had two chances and caught in on one of them. It deserved to on the other occasion but halftime intervened with the ball one foot from the goal line in Simsbury's possession.

THE GREAT WAR TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

250 ALABAMAS KEEP OLD TRIBE ALIVE IN TEXAS

Peaceful Indian Village Preserve Ancient Life In Sacred Ground.

Fort Worth, Texas—A tribe of Indians, the Alabamas, residing in "The Big Thicket" of East Texas, on the boundary of Polk and Tyler counties, today preserve tribal customs and their own individualities as they were hundreds of years ago. A part of Texas they are; but older than the state itself, their history is vague and uncertain, gathered from scattered fragments of early exploration history.

The Alabamas, the name means ("Here we rest") are thought to have originally lived in the country that now is the state of Alabama, but the first mention of them, in chronicles of De Soto's expedition about the middle of the sixteenth century, tells of finding the peaceful tribe, living in log houses and cultivating fields of corn, located in what is now the state of Mississippi.

The French, unexcelled in the art of winning Indian friendship and trust, built Fort Toulouse near the Alabama's town. In 1736 Toulouse was abandoned and the French, not wanting to hurt their redskin friends, slipped away in the night. Followed the French.

The Indians, when they discovered their loss, burned their huts, destroyed their crops and set off down the river to overtake the French. They met at a place near where Mobile now stands and clearing the land, again established themselves. But the English kept pushing the French south. The Indians followed the people who had befriended them, to settle in a village about 100 miles north of New Orleans. Then the United States acquired the Louisiana Purchase. The nomads again burned their homes and moved. But the French were gone. Finally the wandering tribe, dwindled in numbers by hardship, moved over into Texas, setting in what is Tyler county now.

Eventually, however, white men overtook them again. There seemed no place to go. White men bought the land that had been their home, and the Alabamas moved one winter into "The Big Thicket," without provisions and without shelter against the cold. In the spring they cleared a circular spot within the forest covered area, and planted their corn and played their games. Unmolested for a time, the tribe prospered. The village population increased.

Were Given Land
General Sam Houston found the lonely tribe here, and befriended them. Finally, in 1854, he gave them deed to two sections of land, and impressed upon them that this was theirs for all time. He cautioned them against selling the land, and against allowing white men to build on it. The title to this original grant remains the property of the tribe, which now numbers about 250 strong.

Until about 50 years ago, the Alabamas preserved the religion of their ancestors, believing in the good and evil spirits, putting Abba Mango, the "Chief in the Sky," above all. But missionaries visited the tribe in 1881, finally converting them to Christianity. The first marriage in the tribe sanctioned by Christian rites was performed in 1896.

But the white man's religion is about all the Alabamas have deviated from the customs of their fathers. Unmolested by white men, unafraid of further taming of the frontier, happily cultivating their fields of corn, living as Alabamas have always lived, the tribe reigns supreme on its two sections of land, in sanctuary at last.

NOBODY IS LOSING ON 'WE'RE ALL GAMBLERS'

Meighan in Circle Picture Gives Good Characterization In Difficult Role. You can't lose on Thomas Meighan's picture, "We're All Gamblers," which is playing at the Circle theater today and tomorrow. It isn't a gamble, although the picture may be a story of gambling. It is a sure fire hit, one that Meighan himself is proud of. It's a great story. It shows the star as a youngster at the start—a waif on a New York East River dock who is picked up by a policeman and taken in by a kindly woman as her son. By the time he reaches manhood he is a contender for the heavyweight championship, a celebrity who stirs the interest of an aristocratic woman. An automobile injury prevents him from winning the title and he eventually becomes the proprietor of a night club. The early scenes of the fight, an auto accident and East Side life are tense and exciting. The night club scenes are a celebration later brings about a thrilling climax. Supporting Mr. Meighan is a brunette beauty from Vienna, Marietta Miller. She has appeared in only one American picture before this, but her future is assured. Her dear old lady, Gertrude Claire, the Grandmother in "The Goose Hangs High" adds charm to the film. The screen play by Hope Loring is based on Sidney Howard's stage play "Lucky Sam McCarver."

LETTER GOLF

From COAL to FIRE is only five steps, but it seems a lot farther than that if you are trying to start a fire in the early morning and happen to be walking around in your bare feet. Maybe you can beat par, though, on this one. A par solution is printed on another page.

COAL

A 5x5 grid for a word search puzzle. The word 'COAL' is in the top row, and 'FIRE' is in the bottom row.

FIRE

THE RULES

- 1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW TO HEN in three strokes COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.
2—You can change only one letter at a time.
3—You must have a complete word of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.
4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

"Hey, help me, help me!" Clowny cried. "This goat is almost by my side. I can't run on much longer cause my breath is coming fast. Throw sticks at him or make him stop. Supposing I would go kerplop?" The Tynites stood dumb-founded as the goat went running past. "I wish we had a rope," said one. "For then we'd have some real good fun. We'd lass Mister Goat, I'll bet, and tie him to a tree." But rope was nowhere to be found. Then Scouty jumped up with a bound. Said he, "We must do something for poor Clowny. Follow me." By this time Clowny grew tired out, so tired he couldn't even shout. The goat was coming nearer, and seemed mad as he could be. Poor Clowny's heart just thumped and thumped. Then, of a sudden, up he jumped, and much to Mister Goat's surprise, he landed in a tree. "Hurrah!" Woe Clowny yelled, and got away!
