

BUSINESS PROSPECTS GOOD FOR NEXT YEAR

Head of National Advertisers
Says Business Does Not Slump During a Presidential Year.

New York, Nov. 1.—American manufacturers "are looking to 1928 with confidence" and are planning to increase their advertising expenditures over 1927, S. E. Conybeare, president of the Association of National Advertisers, said in an interview today. He is here attending the eighth annual convention of the association.

"We think 1928 will be a good business year in spite of the presidential campaign," said Conybeare. "The idea that business slumps during a presidential year is a fallacy."

"Our organization is representative of all the great manufacturers of the country. Our member companies do an annual gross business of more than $5,000,000,000 and, naturally, we keep in close touch with the business situation."

Line on the Future.
"I think we get a pretty accurate line on the future—as good as anyone. You see, advertising investments (expenditures) are mapped out several months in advance. We recently asked our membership in a questionnaire what they planned to do next year."

"Thirty per cent. replied that they will make substantial increases in their investment in newspaper, magazine and outdoor advertising space and other advertising companies will raise their appropriation as high as 25 per cent. Only four per cent. reported that their advertising expenditures would be smaller than in 1927. Ninety-three per cent. of our companies will keep their appropriations at the 1927 level or increase them."

Advertising Pays
The manufacturers of the country "know that advertising pays," Mr. Conybeare declared. It is no longer an experiment.

Never before in history have business men been able to get in quick touch with the consumer as today, he asserted.

"It's an absorbing business, this present day advertising to the public," he said. "The manufacture of a new product or a big factor in maintaining business on a high level. Advertising today is news, and the people are watching for this news, and responding as never before. It certainly keeps the manufacturer on his toes and it is fatal to be old-fashioned or non-progressive."

Businessmen are beginning to meet their sales and advertising costs on the basis of local trading areas, Mr. Conybeare declared. They are doing this so they can determine what is profitable and thus "take the guesswork out of advertising." It means, according to Conybeare, "better control of selling and more economy." He also said that the businessmen are interested in the plans of the United States Commerce Department to offer the manufacturers data on trading areas so that the businessmen can plan their advertising campaigns on known market facts.

Advertising is News.

Advertising today is news, and the people are watching for this news, and responding as never before. Count De Lesseps and His Mechanic Have Been Missing For Two Weeks.

Quebec, Que., Nov. 1.—Hope that Count De Lesseps, pioneer aviator and his Russian mechanic would ever be found alive was abandoned today at the end of a two weeks' search conducted throughout the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Their demoralized plane was found floating in the river by a farmer at the outset of the search, the cockpit of the machine contained bits of apparel and the fliers' personal possessions. No trace of the men has since been discovered. They had been engaged in aerial map-making. Both were equipped with lifebelts, it was said.

Count De Lesseps, an expert pilot and one of Canada's first aviation enthusiasts, was the son of the De Lesseps of Panama and Suez Canal fame.

CONSOLIDATION TO GIVE WAY TO H. S. PURCHASE

Special Town Meeting Will Only Consider Taking Over High School; Merger
To Go to Committee.

Although November 21 has been set as a tentative date for the special town meeting when Manchester will vote on the purchase of the present High school building from Cheney Brothers it is possible that the meeting will be set back a week or two later. Howitt Cheney, chairman of the committee on the purchase of the High school and district consolidation, was in conference with the Board of Selectmen at last night's special meeting and the need of longer time to prepare figures for the voters was emphasized.

For Purchase Vote Alone
It was brought out during the conference that the special town meeting will be held solely for the purpose of acquiring, or not acquiring as the voters see fit, the High school building. The question of school consolidation which has been generally expected to bob up at this special meeting will be put to a special committee named to perfect school consolidation or else refer it to the Charter revision committee.

The town can vote at the special meeting to pay for the High school by a bond issue without going to the General Assembly for legislation. The present town indebtedness is $700,000 and the vote to purchase the High school will name a sum not to exceed $210,000 for the purchase. This brings the bonded indebtedness within the necessary five per cent. It is proposed to complete a total of $550,000.

Retire Debt in 20 Years
Mr. Cheney suggested to the board that, if the meeting votes to purchase the High school building the date of sale be made as of July 14 since that was the date when the Nineteenth district ended. He also suggested that the bonded indebtedness made necessary by this purchase be retired in 20 years.

The purchase of the High school can be effected at the Cheney price of $253,500 and the sound value is $336,230.60. The price of $204,601.49 which Cheney Brothers ask of the town includes the High school building the land it sits on and the land north to Forest street. It does not include the house in which Superintendent F. A. Verplanck lives nor the Army and Navy club building. These buildings would have to be moved from their present locations.

Must Lease Other Building
The present High school building was erected in 1903. It is in perfect condition, and Mr. Cheney said last night he did not know of a plastering job anywhere that could compare with that in the High school. The Board of Selectmen feel that it is to the interests of the town to purchase the High school building and will so recommend to the special town meeting. However, the purchase of the High school building alone will not settle the town's difficulties. It will then be necessary to lease or rent the Franklin school building which is now being used as a junior high school.

S. M. WATER CO. NOT FOR SALE, SAYS CHENEY

Rumor Persists That Rights
Will Be Offered to District or Town.

A persistent rumor in Manchester, more especially in the south end, that the directors of the South Manchester Water Company were about to offer the holdings and rights of the concern to the Ninth district or the town was killed today by Frank Cheney Jr., president of the water company. Mr. Cheney told The Herald that there was absolutely nothing to the story.

Since Cheney Brothers offered their school buildings to the Ninth district and the town the rumor has persisted that the firm which in reality owns the South Manchester Water Company and the Manchester Electric Company would next offer both these concerns for sale. Cheney Brothers own the Hollow reservoir and use the water from there for use in their mills. The new Buckingham reservoir and the Porter reservoir are used for supplying drinking water at the south end of the town.

SUNDAY P. M. SHOW HEARING IS CALLED

Selectmen Name Tuesday
Nov. 8 As Date For Discussion of Question.

The people of Manchester will be given an opportunity to express their opinions on the proposed exhibition here of motion pictures on Sunday afternoons at a public hearing before the Board of Selectmen. The date of the hearing will be Tuesday evening, November 8 at eight o'clock, one week from tonight.

Rogers Asks Hearing
Willard B. Rogers who has entered the Sunday afternoon movie discussion of his own will, and not representing any theater interests appeared before the Board of Selectmen again last night and urged them to give the townspeople an opportunity to tell what they thought of the proposed plan. Mr. Rogers maintained that Sunday afternoon movies were not harmful saying that the younger people were better off attending a movie show than being present at professional football and baseball games where vulgar and obscene language were disgusting to many on-lookers.

Mr. Rogers cited the fact that many of Manchester's clergymen had expressed themselves as not being particularly opposed to shows on Sunday afternoons since there was scarcely any difference between the afternoon movies and a showing on Sunday evening. Mr. Rogers also insisted that motion picture entertainment was a form of recreation that was wholesome and that the people who could not afford to drive motor cars Sunday had a right to enjoy such entertainment as movies. Mr. Rogers also maintained that he could quote the Bible in defense of Sunday afternoon movies. He admitted he would have to brush up somewhat on biblical literature.

Ministers Want Hearing
Rev. Watson Woodruff representing the Manchester ministers asked George H. Waddell to inform the Selectmen that the local churchmen desired a hearing on the subject.

MRS. KNAPP MEETS
NEW YORK'S SCRIBES

Submits to Interview—Says
She Can Explain How Census Money Was Spent.

New York, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, today submitted to a question and answer interview before a group of reporters in her suite in the Commodore hotel and declared "there is an explanation" for every move she made in spending the $1,200,000 census fund. She denied all charges made against her of maladministration of the state census fund.

"I deny all the charges, specifically and generally," she declared with spirit.
Her handling of the census, she asserted, was "the greatest job ever undertaken by a woman and was done as efficiently as any task ever attempted by a woman."
Women in politics would not suffer as a result of the charges made against her, she said. On the contrary, when all the facts are known, she insisted, the investigation will "react to the glory of women in Politics."

MELLON'S TAX PLAN ATTACKED ON ALL SIDES

Both Republican and Democratic Members of Congress Begin to "Shoot Holes" in New Program.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Both Republican and Democratic members of Congress began to "shoot holes" in the new Mellon plan of tax reduction today, with indications that the treasury secretary's proposals will be materially modified in the new bill.

Much opposition was voiced to the secretary's demand that not more than $225,000,000 be lopped off the nation's tax bill in order to avoid a deficit. Democratic leaders flatly refused to accept the treasury's estimate of the future surplus as accurate.

Secretary Mellon's advice to Congress to retain the automobile and "nuisance" taxes, his proposed repeal of the inheritance tax and his limitation of a reduction in the corporate tax to 1-12 per cent were criticized. A wide-spread demand for repeal of the automobile and excise taxes was disclosed in today's discussion.

Important Differences
With the treasury's plan revealed to the press, these important differences stood out today:

1. Representative Garner, Democrat of Texas, leader of the minority tax forces in the House, announced adherence to his plan for a $400,000,000 tax cut. He declared that the new surplus would exceed that of the treasury's estimate by more than $100,000,000, and that the treasury had underestimated the surplus a total of $879,000,000 in five years.

2. The treasury insists upon applying the tax cut to incomes of the present year, whereas Democratic leaders would make the reduction effective on incomes of 1928.

3. Insistent demands were made by both Republicans and Democrats for the repeal of war taxes and placing the country on a peacetime basis of taxation.

4. Divided opinion was expressed over the Mellon proposal to cut surtaxes on individual incomes of $17,000 to $70,000, while his proposal to tax corporations earnings less than $25,000 a year on the lower partnership basis was generally accepted.

5. Representative Garner announced that he would urge discussion of a new plan to tax undivided surpluses held by big corporations controlled by a single family or a few people.

6. Senator Jones, Democrat of New York, proposed to establish a graduating system of corporation income tax similar to the individual income tax system, a proposal opposed by the treasury.

Republican leaders were plainly disappointed at the treasury's limitation on tax reduction, and Senator Smoot, Republican of Utah, chairman of the Senate finance committee, indicated a belief that the final cut will be over $300,000,000.

296 LIVES WERE LOST
WHEN "MAFALDA" SANK

Official Statement Finally Given
Out Concerning Last Week's Tragedy.

Rome, Nov. 1.—An official statement today by the Navigazione Generale Italiana, owners of the ill-fated steamer Princess Mafalda, said two hundred and ninety-six persons had lost their lives when the vessel sank last week off the coast of Bahia, Brazil.

Together with the statement was an indignant denial of reports circulated here that first and second class passengers had been given preference over those in the third class during the rescue work. The company termed the reports "Communist," and declared that the death list comprised forty per cent of the cabin passengers as against only 25 per cent of those in the steerage. Ten per cent of the crew lost their lives the statement said.

Quarrel in Court
Hartford, Conn., Nov. 1.—The marital troubles of Eva L. Corbett, of Worcester, Mass., and Morris Corbett, of New Britain, were the subject of an acrimonious debate before Judge Newell S. Jennings in Superior Court here today.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols, upon close examination, showed they had been shot to death before the house was set afire.
Nichols was a wealthy land owner in this section. Three other children at boarding school, survive.

HALT SINCLAIR TRIAL; HINT AT JURY FIXING

Asks Sets of Harness
In Exchange for Women

Tangier, Morocco, Nov. 1.—The French government official designated to negotiate with the Rif tribesmen for the release of two Frenchmen and two women recently kidnapped is enroute today for Kabza, where the $80,000 ransom demanded by the tribesmen is to be paid. Among the other demands by the Moors was one for several elaborate sets of harness, finished in Moroccan style, for the chief's horses.

Additional conditions were that the French liberate ten Rif prisoners; that the French, within the next four years, redeem any captured money that might be included in the ransom; that no military reprisals be made and that the sheik of the tribe receive gift of ten dress gowns with elaborately trimmed robes for state and festival occasions.

The prisoners are Yves Steer and Jean Mallet, nephews of the French governor-general of Morocco; Baroness Steinhel and Mme. Marie Prokoff. They were seized near the Atlas mountains while on a hunting trip ten days ago.

PLAN TO PENALIZE
WEALTHY FAMILIES
Fords, Rockefellers and Duponts to be Taxed Heavily,
Democrats Declare.

Washington, Nov. 1.—A new policy of corporate taxation, designed to penalize the accumulation of huge undistributed surpluses, such as is held by Henry and Edsel Ford will be considered by the House Ways and Means committee in framing the new tax laws, it was disclosed today.

The proposed plan calls for a twenty per cent greater tax on undistributed profits than on those paid to stockholders. Rep. Garner, Democrat of Texas said during the hearing of the committee today that this policy has been recommended by an advisory committee composed of lawyers and economists.

Garner indicated that the Democratic members of the House committee would embrace this idea in their tax reduction policies, proposing a cut on distributed corporate profits from 14 1/2 to 10 per cent, and to twelve per cent on undistributed profits. The joint congressional tax committee already has for it a lengthy report of its experts declaring that millions of dollars in taxes are being lost by the refusal of great family-owned corporations to distribute all of their profits. The proposed new policies, it was said, would directly affect such fortunes as the Rockefellers and Duponts.

Full Report.
The full report of the advisory committee is expected to be made public soon. The committee is composed of A. A. Ballantine, George O. May, George E. Holmes, all of New York; Dr. Thomas S. Adams, of Yale; Dr. Thomas W. Page, Institute of Economics, Washington; and Charles A. Hamel, formerly chairman of the United States Board of Tax Appeals.

James A. Emery, general counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers, told the committee today that the principal tax reduction should be applied to corporations to eliminate the present inequality and to reach the greatest number of people through the 20,000,000 stockholders.

BUCHAREST DENIES
REPORTS OF REVOLT

Direct Message Received From Rumania by a London Newspaper.

London, Nov. 1.—Rumors of a revolution in Rumania are "entirely devoid of foundation" according to a direct message from Bucharest published today in the Daily Mail.

The dispatch, dated Monday, added:
There have been no arrests of any leaders of an opposition party and Colonel Teodorescu, former chief of staff of the Rumanian army air forces, was arrested today in connection with the purchase of some airplanes.

The court martial trial of Manoliescu was completed today.
Earlier dispatches reaching London and Berlin had ascribed the arrest of Colonel Bodorescu to his participation in a movement to overthrow Prince Carol, the throne now occupied by his six-year-old son, King Michael.

ITALY IN MOURNING
Rome, Nov. 1.—King Victor Emmanuel today ordered the Italian court to observe three weeks of mourning for the death of Princess Vera, of Montenegro. The mourning, however, will be raised temporarily during the nuptial ceremonies at Naples of the Prince of Fugate and Princess Anne, of France.

Federal Judge Adjoins
Hearing Until Tomorrow
After Hearing Charges of
Irregularity at a Secret
Session—Decision Comes
As Surprise and Ugly Rumors Float About Capital;
Grand Jury to Hear
Charges.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Four sensational affidavits were presented to the court in the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial today by United States District Attorney Peyton Gordon, any one of which was deemed sufficient to bring about a mistrial.

Juror's Remarks
Juror No. Eleven, E. J. Kidwell, a leather worker, is sworn to in two affidavits, asserted in a soft drink establishment that if he did not "come out" of this case with an automobile as long as a block, he would be surprised.

He is quoted further as saying that while he did not hope to gain by a conviction he did wish to gain by an acquittal verdict.

A third affidavit, sworn to by Assistant District Attorney Neil Burkinshaw, asserted that the Burns Detective Agency of New York had from fourteen to fifteen operatives in Washington looking into every possible activity of each juror, their financial status, etc.

Seized Reports
This affidavit was supplemented by detailed reports made by the raid on the temporary headquarters here of the detective agency at Wardman Park hotel.

The reports covered day by day and hour by hour surveys of the whereabouts of the juror, a juror, who made the fourth affidavit, accompanied by two deputy marshals and a headquarters detective, made the raid on the Burns headquarters. The affidavit stated they found the manager and three operatives.

The two affidavits concerning Kidwell were made by J. Ray Akers, who heard the conversation and by Don Key King, reporter for the Washington Herald, who met Akers by appointment and received from the latter the information upon which the Herald based its story this morning.

Washington, Nov. 1.—With a Federal Grand Jury investigating charges on jury tampering, Federal Judge Frederick L. Siddons this afternoon adjourned the Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial until tomorrow morning to render a decision as to the continuance of the trial.

The charges were presented to the judge at a secret session this morning, attended by opposing attorneys and the two defendants, Harry F. Sinclair and Albert B. Fall.

The court's action in adjourning until tomorrow came as a surprise, for it had been predicted that the afternoon session would see a mistrial declared because of the avalanche of ugly rumors that rolled about the court during the forenoon session.

It is understood the postponement of the decision until tomorrow was to afford the Federal Grand Jury, sitting in a nearby court, time to sit the charges of jury tampering, and perhaps to return indictments.

JURY TAMPERING
Washington, Nov. 1.—The Fall-Sinclair oil conspiracy trial neared an immature death today following a secret hearing on alleged charges of jury tampering.

Federal Judge Frederick L. Siddons heard the charges in his chambers kept in his court, and Harry F. Sinclair, the oil magnate. After an hour's session, Siddons recessed the trial until 1:30 this afternoon without making any official announcement regarding the evidence.

The charges were so serious that United States Attorney Peyton Gordon immediately went before a Federal Grand Jury which happened to be in session. It was reported Gordon was asking for indictments in connection with the charges.

This action strengthened reports that the jury had been tampered with.

Demand Mistrial
It was reported that the government's special counsel would demand a mistrial this afternoon.

The alleged charges were supported by affidavits, which Judge Siddons kept in his possession. He declared no one could see them until action was taken in open court. Both defendants were visibly affected by the sensational turn given the oil trial. Neither would comment on the alleged charges.

WINDSHIELD WIPERS

Because of slovenly drawing of the windshield-wiper law a truck driver was fined five dollars and cost in West Hartford town court for failure to have a wiper on his windshield when, as a matter of fact, there was no windshield on the truck. It evidently never occurred to the draughter of the law, to the committee that reported it or to anybody else in the Legislature that there was no law requiring trucks to have windshields and no good reason for such a law, or that it was entirely possible that trucks or any other vehicles might be used lacking such provision for the comfort of the driver. So this only motor vehicle exempted from the operation of the law, by provision of the law itself, is the motorcycle.

Of course the purpose of the law is manifest—to prevent a wet windshield from so obscuring the vision of the driver as to menace his own and other people's safety. That purpose being rendered utterly superfluous where no windshield exists, it would seem as if any rational interpretation of the statute would avoid such action as that of the West Hartford court.

It would be interesting to note what would happen if a police officer of that town should undertake to prosecute the driver of a United States army truck for violation of this law. A glass windshield on an army truck is about the last imaginable thing, for in time of war the lot of a truck driver is plenty hazardous without the accompaniment of flying glass splinters. Yet the Connecticut law would require that such truck, when driven over our highways, be provided with a windshield wiper in good working condition.

The law is, without doubt, a good one in intention. But if we are to have our laws administered with this indiscriminating literalness it would be a good scheme to have it redrawn at the next session.

HARDEN

One of the bravest men in the world left it when Maximilian Harden died. Sublime indeed is the courage of the individual who dares to stand alone and point out to an infatuated nation—and that nation his own—that its whole policy is predicated on a colossal blunder and that it is bringing desolation upon a world that otherwise would be winning its way upward.

That is what Maximilian Harden did. Long before the World War and during it he was the one audible voice in Germany that dared to raise itself against the criminal ambitions of kaiser and junker, though his were not quite the only eyes that saw the truth. There were Germans who in the secrecy of their bed chambers nodded their heads sorrowfully over the things that Harden wrote, even from the beginning of the horror and while it was brewing—enough of them so that the kaiser did not quite dare to permanently still the tongue that of all others in the world lashed him most effectually. Though not openly idolized like the Russian peasant count, Harden was in a sense the German Tolstoi.

And this thing has never been set off to Maximilian Harden's credit, but it should be—he did more than any other force or thing, save the amazing clan of the American soldiers in the last days of the war, to bring about the collapse of Germany's resistance. In 1918 the seeds that he had sown in the earlier years of the World War in the utter denial of the justice of Germany's cause bore their fruit.

It took the sufferings, the losses, the consciousness of world excretion during those long and bitter years, to bring the seeds of germination but the final disillusionment, the belated turning against kaiserism and the whole stupendous structure of propaganda that it had built up, would probably never have come to the German people had it not been for the scalding truths which this dauntless editor had belabored his fellow countrymen many months before, and which at last the German people saw revealed at their peril worth.

USED CARS

Sixty-eight dollars invested in one share of General Motors in 1914 would now, provided the owner of that original one share had kept his stock dividends intact, represent a value of almost exactly six thousand dollars, with dividends of about $300 a year.

This illustration of the profits in the automobile business, taken in conjunction with the ability of Henry Ford to spend somewhere from one hundred million dollars in the issue of a new type of car, would seem to point that the spread between the production and the price paid by its purchaser must be very much greater than the average person realizes.

It would seem indeed that the profit on any automobile, to the manufacturer, must be of sufficient magnitude to justify what otherwise would appear to be a reckless extravagance in the adoption of a certain measure for the forcing of the automobile market, namely, the wholesale disposal in far countries of the used cars that now clutter up the automobile market and are forever standing in the way of new car sales.

Nobody knows where the saturation point for new cars is—whether it will be reached in five years or ten. But undeniably there must be such a point somewhere, after which only replacement sales will be possible.

In view of this, is it not surprising that the great automobile manufacturing interests have not taken broad-scale steps for the development of a great international commerce in used cars? It would seem to be impossible that the market for new cars and the market for used cars can continue to exist, side by side, in this country indefinitely—not on any such scale as in recent years. Therefore it would seem to be a vital thing to get the used cars out of the way.

There is the whole world to sell them in. In China, in India, in the backward countries of the five continents, there are millions and millions of unmotorized peoples. Under a great, wisely organized system of distribution they could absorb untold thousands of used automobiles. But only if such a trade were organized by the vast interests involved with the automobile industry; nobody else has the necessary capital to provide for the selling, the servicing, the supply of parts. And the machines would have to be sold at very, very low prices.

It is at this point that the wide spread between cost and selling price of the new car figures. For the total loss on each trade-in car, the difference between the allowance and the salvage price, must in the long run be charged to the new automobile. If the new car's profits can stand the ultimate loss on the trade-in—if the trade-in is disposed of far from the new car market—then the continuation of the automobile industry on its present scale of production would seem to be assured for many years. But if there is no way except to junk the used cars, when they are but a third or a quarter worn out, then it would not seem as if the game could continue to be played as at present.

UNIVERSITY HEADS

Yale men now turning away gray will be struck by the contrast between these days, when the Yale Daily News is conducting a campaign to bring about some small measure of acquaintance between the student body and the president of the University, and the days of Prexy Dwight, when the home of the head of the institution was the scene of constant visitation by students and when the splendid old educator was the confident and sincere friend of every troubled, harassed or puzzled boy in college.

Those were the days when Yale was animated by a spirit so profound that its graduates went out into the world bound by a peculiar tie of brotherhood—a tie that lasted.

Perhaps it is not altogether the student body that is to blame, in Yale or in other colleges, for certain lapses in earnestness, in loyalty, just possibly in standards of honor, that have set some of the old heads to wondering. University presidents who, as the News protests, are visible to the student body on perhaps three annual occasions and never seen at other times cannot well inspire either the emotions or the purposes that were instilled by the Dwights.

THEATRE EXPANSION

It begins to look as though there might be something substantial to the declaration of the Keith-Albee circuit that it is planning to invade the New England territory heretofore yielded by that interest to Sylvester Poli. The announcement came so quickly after that of the sale of the Poli theatres to a Boston interest that one wondered how an enterprise of such magnitude could have been given any serious consideration in the few hours that elapsed between the Poli and the Keith declarations.

The not unnatural inference drawn by many was that the Keith-Albee people were trying to bluff the Boston crowd into a continuation of the booking arrangements maintained between them and Poli for so many years.

Now, however, it is stated that the Keith-Albee interest is not to undertake alone the huge project of building theatres in Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport, Meriden, Springfield, Worcester and several other New England cities, but is to enter into a New England alliance with the Stanley Company of America, which is a big-scale outfit controlling vaudeville and picture houses in Pennsylvania as well as First National Pictures, and that two other big picture concerns are also interested in the enterprise.

Apparently the entertainment promoters of the country believe that there is no limit to the possibilities of profitable expansion. Perhaps they are right. And at any event the superfluous theatres can always be turned into garages.

A New Yorker in Paris

Paris.—Scattered notes from an afternoon's ramble about Paris. . . . The Ritz bar in the late afternoon and early evening. . . . With its parade of assorted titles: Barons, dukes or what have you. . . . Several with Sam Bernar's mustaches and one or two with ornate decorations. . . . All with an eye on those American heiresses who dangle diamonds as they go. . . . In the good old days, before heil-esses learned to mix their owls with a few of the Paris brand cocktails, a few of the Paris brand made them a bit more susceptible to the charms, if any, of the titled wooers. . . . Today, after a several years course in mixology, it's all quite different. . . .

The wall-flowers from Park Avenue, Main street and way points, continental and pretending to expect someone at any minute. . . . In spite of all their glittering adornment "papa" has deserted them for one rather frowsily dressed French girl with eyes that all the money in the Main street banks cannot duplicate. . . . American "butter" and eagers, who somehow escaped a cleaning on Broadway, in tow of one of those languid, mascara-eyed Parisiennes of the Casino. . . . Of course she has steered him to the Rue de la Paix and, of course, she has led him to one of those windows where the baubels burn brightly. . . . She is still living in the Stone Age. . . .

Three new arrivals trying to figure out a menu. . . . And a poor unfortunate trying to get a telephone number. . . . He can't, of course. . . . When I get back to New York I'm going to suggest a fund for immortalizing the American phone girls and I'm going to issue a public apology to all those who once tried my patience. . . . A group of Americans commiserating on the subject of French coffee. . . . And wondering if they will ever get used to it. . . . "Johnny" who came from Rochester, N. Y., and, after he had somehow or other escaped death in the Chateau sector, worked his way to the ownership of one of the most popular taverns in Paris. . . . Subway sign in the Palais-Royal arcade: "Divorces on credit." . . .

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington.—If you like that sort of thing, you can move to Washington and easily rub elbows with the great.

Just the other day, for instance, a crowded street car nosed down Connecticut avenue bearing such figures as Senator Borah, former Senator Atlee Pomerene, and your correspondent. . . . Pomerene, doubtless with his mind on his prosecution of Fall and Sinclair in the latest oil trial, clung to the rail on the rear platform. Borah had grabbed a brass seat handle amidships. . . . Borah is the most prominent of local strap-hangers, although he prefers seat-handles as more stable. . . . He walks from his home on Wyoming avenue over the car line on Connecticut and sometimes a bit further before boarding the car. . . . Sometimes a friend of the senator's stops and takes him into his automobile—the senator is very democratic about it. . . . If not, he boards a car marked Lincoln Park and rides down through the heart of the city and east until it stops at the Senate office building. He never requires a transfer because he doesn't have to change.

Lowman on a Bus.—If one takes a bus down Sixteenth street in the morning he is likely some time to find himself seated alongside the Hon. Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury and titular boss of all prohibition enforcement. That is, if Mr. Lowman has been lucky enough to get a seat. If he went to the treasury a little earlier he would be completely out of luck, for the bus is always crowded during the rush hour before it reaches Belmont street, where Lowman swings aboard.

Some of the best elbow-rubbing is to be had on the sidewalks, however. If you time yourself, you can brush Vice President Dawes of a morning on Sixteenth street, hiking toward the capital pending the moment his motor car will come along and pick him up. Or, if you wait on the Connecticut avenue bridge, you're likely to have to make way for former President Taft himself. If you greet him he will nod to you and if you doff your hat he'll probably smile. . . . In fact, almost anyone here will speak to a person if he's spoken to. Usually he hasn't the slightest idea whether he has met you or not, but he doesn't want to slight anyone—especially if he's a politician.

Coolidge Guarded.—It's pretty hard to rub elbows with President Coolidge, of course, for if you try that a secret service man is likely to be the first to shake hands with the president on special occasions three or four times a stand in line on New Year's Day for the annual handshaking, obtain a pass to one of the moody handshaking sessions at the White House and get tickets for a White House reception or two. . . . Incidentally, it's a more satisfying though rarer pleasure to shake hands with Mrs. Coolidge. She grasps one's hand as if she meant it. Most of Washington's secret service men have any capacity for being human. Mrs. Coolidge had 99 per cent. of it.

When Mrs. Jim Haley decided to open up the Tallyho Tavern, a tea room, Mrs. Coolidge announced that she would be the first guest and she was. Mrs. Haley is the attendant wife of the tall and handsome secret service man who was personal escort and guard to the First Lady for several years.

Mrs. Coolidge Calls.—Recently, Mrs. Haley and Mrs. Ralph Pendexter renovated and "atmosphered" an old place in the rear of a huge locust tree brought from Palestine a hundred and more years ago and replanted on Seventh street about a block north of the State, War and Navy building. Mrs. Haley and Mrs. Pendexter opened up with an eye to the "best trade." Sure enough, the best of it came on the morning of the opening day, in the person of Mrs. Coolidge with a beautiful blue bowl filled with rose buds. . . . "She caught me in a filthy dress," Mrs. Haley told a girl friend. "I was terribly embarrassed." But not for long. Mrs. Coolidge stayed half an hour. Mrs. Haley valued her friendship too highly to ballyhoo the fact, but the word got around and business has been very good indeed.

THE GREAT WAR TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

By United Press
Nov. 1, 1917

Sir Eric Geddes, as British First Lord of Admiralty, declares that between 40 and 50 per cent of the German submarines operating in the North Sea, and the Atlantic and Arctic seas have been sunk. He says that the enemy has lost as many submarines during the last three months as during the whole of 1916.

Berlin statement says that Austro-German army has crossed the Tagliamento River and has taken 60,000 prisoners. Italy admits that the German victory has been a severe blow but declares that its armies are not crushed.

The marriage of William J. Woods to Mrs. Rose Schneider Jones took place at the home of the bride Sunday afternoon at 2:30. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. D. Martin, pastor of St. Peter's church. The bridal party stood on the piazza facing a bower of autumn foliage. The bride was dressed in mauve lace and carried white chrysanthemums. She walked on the arm of her son, Clarence Jones. Her daughter, Miss Lillian, was flower girl. She was dressed in white lace and carried a basket of white chrysanthemums. Joseph Ruschmann and Mrs. Emma Conrad of Colchester, an aunt of the bride, were also members of the bridal party. After the ceremony a reception followed, about forty guests being present. Refreshments of bridal cake, ice cream, etc., were served. Many useful and beautiful gifts of silver ware, household furnishings, etc., were displayed. The newly married couple will make their home at the residence of the bride.

The U. S. Army plane which was stalled on Godfrey hill for a day or two finally made a getaway Saturday afternoon. A truck was sent from Hartford thinking it might be necessary to carry the airplane to the city, but the disorders in the machinery were finally overcome and they were able to fly instead of being carted. The field where the landing was made and from which they made their flight, was a good one for the purpose, the flyers said, except that small stones made some difficulty.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ward and two children, also Mrs. Ward's sister, Miss Eunice Porter, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Porter.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hills and daughter Mable of East Hampton, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark.

Mrs. Daisy Humphreys of Hartford spent the week-end at her place here.

Mr. and Mrs. George Seagrist and daughter of Willimantic were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Seagrist's father, Joseph Ruschmann. Hermann Ruschmann, of Willimantic, was also a guest at his father's home. The party also was present at the Wood-Jones wedding.

The services at St. Peter's church will be omitted next Sunday as necessary repairs on the furnace will not permit the church being opened at that time. It is hoped that by the following Sunday, November 6, the work will be completed.

The Amston road is now open to traffic through to Colchester except for a short detour over the brook near Edward Raymond's place. A new concrete bridge is under construction.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Horton and their son John were Sunday guests in Hartford of Mrs. Horton's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Linde.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton B. Jones and family have moved to their former home on the green. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holbrook have moved into the Clark place on Godfrey hill.

SUNDAY P. M. SHOW

HEARING IS CALLED

the question of Sunday afternoon movies. He did not say whether the pastors would oppose the opening of the theaters on the Sabbath afternoon, but simply wanted the selectmen to know that they desired a hearing on the question.

In executive session the selectmen lost no time in voting for a hearing. They felt that the sentiment of the townspeople could best be learned through a hearing and one was ordered. Selectman Wells A. Strickland made the motion that the hearing be called for Tuesday night, November 8, at eight o'clock and it was seconded by W. W. Robertson.

Legal voters and those owning property in Manchester will have a right to speak at the hearing. It will be held in the public hearing room in the Municipal building. There are seats for about 85 in the room and it is expected that who desire to make known their opinions on the question.

VETERAN SCHOOL DOCTORS RESIGN

Dr. Tinker and Sloane Give Up Old Duties; Drs. Friend and Burr Appointed.

Dr. William R. Tinker, medical examiner, and Dr. Thomas G. Sloan have resigned as Ninth School District physicians. Superintendent F. A. Verplanck today announced. In their places Dr. Amos E. Friend, nose, eye, ear and throat specialist and Dr. N. A. Burr, former president of the Manchester Medical Association have been employed. They start their new duties tomorrow morning.

Dr. Tinker and Dr. Sloan have held the position for 25 and 15 years respectively and Mr. Verplanck said their work had been highly satisfactory and that it was with regret their resignations have been received.

Sour Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia"
Better than Soda

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the souring waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Instant upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent and fifty cent bottles, any drugstore. "Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Trade Mark of The Charles H. Phillips Chemical Co. and its predecessor Charles H. Phillips since 1876—Advt.

POLICE COURT

John Vallas of 44 Summer street, Norwich, who is connected with the Commercial Garage in that city, paid a fine of $10 and costs in the Manchester police court this morning for driving an automobile with the wrong markers. He had a Dodge touring car with markers that belonged on his Cleveland.

Sergeant John Crockett found the car in the rear of the Tinker block. It had been there off and on for several days. On making a search he found in the car a large number of whiskey bottles. In court this morning Vallas attempted to explain the reason for driving a Dodge car with the wrong markers but didn't make a very satisfactory job of it.

"You'll have to shoot me to keep me out of the United States," calmly announced Jack Bizikovits, 25-year-old Roumanian, to immigration officers at Jacksonville, Fla., as they prepared to deport him for the second time. Then he ran a stick into his leg so he could stay awhile—in a hospital.

Booth's Blindness

Booth Tarkington, novelist-creator of "Penrod," has lost the sight of his right eye and is undergoing treatment to preserve the other. He recently became known. He is pictured here at his home in Kennebunkport, Me., with the spun monacle used to ease the strain on his left eye.

30,000 See Arizona Temple Dedicated

A crowd estimated at 30,000 people witnessed the ceremony of dedication of the Arizona Temple at Mesa, Ariz., by President Heber J. Grant of the Church of Christ of Latter-Day Saints. Following the exercises the magnificent structure was closed to the public and will be used only for religious rituals. The picture shows part of the crowd.

These Brothers Are In-Laws, Too

Here's a tri-par, like marital union for you! It wasn't long after Berenice Abbott (top, left) was married to Lawrence Frank (top, right), that her sister, Gladys (center, left) married his brother, George (center, right). Now it is announced that Gladys and Berenice's sister Helen (below) will be married to Lawrence's and George's brother Thomas, just as soon as Thomas has finished his schooling. They all live in Bellham, Wash.

THE BULL TURNS—AND A MATADOR DIES!

Death coming a-hoof to Felix Merino, one of Spain's most celebrated matadors, is pictured in this extraordinary photo from the Madrid arena. It depicts the instant the infuriated animal caught the momentarily unwary toreador on his horns and tossed him into the air. Merino was then fatally trampled and killed.

FIRE? NO, DIRT!

Calm yourself, patriotic Mr. American! The Capitol was not ablaze when this photo was made; it was merely receiving its semi-annual bath at the hands and hose of Washington firemen.

What made you go to Mr. Benson's house later?
I got to thinking about it more and more, until I couldn't stand it any longer. I began to see red, and at last I took my Colt and went out, determined to kill him.

THIS HAS HAPPENED
Vance eliminated Miss St. Clair as a suspect and prevents Markham from arresting Leacock because of his statements.

CHAPTER XLIII
VANCE, as heretofore, was careful to reveal nothing; but in the case of the determination carried his point; and Markham requested Heath to keep his own council until the next day.

Leacock

(Wednesday, June 19; 3:30 p. m.)

Leacock walked into the room with a hopeless indifference of bearing. His shoulders drooped; his arms hung listlessly. His eyes were haggard like those of a man who had not slept for days.

TIGERS' GAME WITH OHIO STATE MEANS MUCH TO "OLD NASSAU"

So Far Princeton Has Had Rather Easy Teams to Buck Against; Saturday's Contest Different Story.

By MALCOLM ROY
Staff Correspondent

New York, Nov. 1.—Serious business is ahead for the Princeton Tiger. Under the old order of things the Princetonians would be entertaining Harvard at the Palmer Stadium this week-end and the Tiger will tackle the enigmatic Ohio State team at Old Nassau. Ohio State presents the one big question mark in the Princeton season so far.

On past records Princeton appears to be headed logically and inevitably toward a game with Yale, which promises to be an epic not only in the long history between these two but also in the history of football for this particular season. Just as the Army and Navy drew apart last year and in game after game gave indubitable evidence that their big final battle would be the climatic game of the season, so Yale and Princeton have gone their separate ways this year, demonstrating that they are just about the best of the lot if not the very best, and that when they meet the result will be a close one.

Ohio a Hard Team

This is where Ohio State steps into Princeton's side and going back a week ago, in which the Tigers gave a superb exhibition of versatile offensive strength and of powerful defensive strategy, Princeton had been facing a team with no real high-class opposition this season. Ohio State has everything to gain and nothing to lose against Princeton, has been through a series of rough and tumble battles with Michigan, Northwestern and Chicago, and, although considerably scarred and torn, has its fighting spirit intact and a determination to redeem itself in the eyes of the football world at the expense of the Tiger.

After it has been defeated by Michigan by the overwhelming margin of three touchdowns, following its setback at the hands of Northwestern, Ohio State appeared to be headed down a going fast. But the team found itself against Chicago and handed the Midway eleven its first defeat in a conference game this season, having thus re-established itself. Ohio State is primed for Princeton.

Yale Had Harder Games

The Tigers have had no such opposition through the run of the season as that through which Yale has battled its way to the top and it needs the Ohio State fight. The iron is admitted in this Princeton team but it needs the fire of another hard battle to bring it out and temper it for the sort of game it must play against the Big Game.

Whereas Yale tackled Georgia, Brown, Army and Dartmouth on successive Saturdays, all first quality teams with the exception of the helpless Brunonian, Princeton has been easing away at the expense of Lehigh, Washington and Lee and William and Mary, with only the Cornell game standing out as a real test. Just how much of a test that was is open to some question, too, following the nothing-nothing battle which Columbia and Cornell fought on Saturday. Certainly Princeton's defense against Cornell was not as good as Columbia's and not as good as it will have to be against Yale.

The best offense, it seems, is a good defense. Witness Yale's recent regeneration based almost wholly at the beginning of a superb defense to which its now excellent attack was gradually added. Pittsburgh seems to have as powerful offense as it has a defense. While it has yielded only seven points to its opponents, it has scored a total of 223. Georgetown, too, has great strength both going and coming, with a total of 265 points.

NKW BELGIAN BOXER

New York, Nov. 1.—Cyclone Jack Humbeck, Belgian heavyweight champion, today was definitely signed to take a hand in the American heavyweight elimination program. Cable negotiations have been completed calling for a ten-round match between Humbeck and Arthur De Kuh, Italian, on November 21. Humbeck will arrive in this country November 13. Matchmaker Andy Nelderretter closed the match between Humbeck's manager, Tommy Burns.

Dissecting Grid Rules by O'Brien

FAIR CATCH SIGNAL
(By E. J. O'Brien)

Many times a foul for interference with an opportunity to make a fair catch is called and people will shout their disapproval, stating that the man has never made a signal indicating that he was to make a fair catch.

As a matter of fact, he doesn't have to signal.

A man has an opportunity to make a fair catch as long as it is possible for him to reach a ball, kicked by an opponent, before it touches the ground.

Whether he signals for a fair catch or not, all opponents who are off-side must keep out of his way, and interference of any kind, or anything which would interfere with his reaching the ball, whether by accident or design, is construed to be interference with this man's opportunity to make a fair catch.

Southworth Goes to Brooklyn Club

Cyril Southworth, popular trainer of the now defunct Hartford Soccer Club of the American League, leaves today for New Bedford and will report in a few days to the Brooklyn club where he will work as sports agent.

Southworth has been boarding at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Knight on 11 Hemlock street. Friday night he was given a farewell party at the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Frances D. Comiskey at 10 Hemlock street. Many of Southworth's friends were present.

The majority of the members of the Hartford club were sold either to the New York Nationals or the New Bedford club. Jimmy Martyn, Harry Cowan, Happy Abdullah and Bob Hutchinson went to the Nats and Andy Bala, Nick Stewart and Tom Blair to New Bedford. Bob Perry, Stanley Brooks, John McGrain are on the free transfer list. Jimmy McGonigle and Willie Ballantyne were sent to Boston. Jimmy Dewhurst may go to New York to manage a club there.

PHONEY KNOCKOUT
Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 1.—Tom Savers, of Detroit, who was scheduled to trade blows with George Godfrey, negro heavyweight fighter, at the arena here last night, ceased activities sixty seconds after the beginning of the first round.

The doctored warrior from the west exchanged a few light taps with his negro opponent, and suddenly slid gracefully forward on his face. He lay there while the referee counted him out. He then sprang lightly to his feet and stepped jauntily to his corner.

His action threw the crowd into an uproar. Spectators stood on their chairs, booing and hissing. Others threw their hats, cushions and programs into the ring. Police had their hands full quieting the crowd.

Immediately after Savers was counted out, Chairman Welner, of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission, jumped through the ropes and announced the Detroit battler's portion of the purse would be forfeited.

N. Y. U. PRACTISE
New York, Nov. 1.—With a new formation drill angle occasioned by the injuries to Al Lassman, lineman, New York University, was scheduled for fast scrimmage today, and varsity signal work as Coach Meehan prepares his re-organized squad for the Carnegie Tech battle Saturday. Lassman suffered a broken leg. Ed Hill, fullback, was back in uniform today after a layoff brought about by an injured foot.

ANNOUNCE MATCHES FOR OPENING NIGHT

Herald Bowling League Gets Under Way Thursday Night; Masons and Kaceys Meet; Army-Navy Quits.

Play starts Thursday night in the newly organized town championship Herald Bowling League at three different alley establishments, namely, Murphy's, Conran's and the Kacey.

The schedule for the first round was drawn up last night and will be announced shortly. However, following are the matches scheduled for Thursday night:

Cubs and West Side Rec on alleys 2 and 3 at Murphy's.

Cloverleaves and Highland Park on alleys 3 and 4 at Murphy's.

The St. Bridget's church team of the north end is scheduled to meet the Army and Navy club on alleys 8 and 9 at Murphy's but the latter team has withdrawn and unless a substitute can be secured, the St. Bridget's will not play until the second week.

The Beethoven Glee Club meets the Bon Ami club on alleys 1 and 2 at Conran's.

The Knights of Columbus meet the Masons at Conran's on alleys 3 and 4.

The Knights of Pythias meet the Center church at the Kacey alleys on Blissett street.

One of the features of the opening night's matches should be the Knights of Columbus-Masons match. Both have strong teams and are confident of winning. The match between the Cubs and the West Side Rec ought to be a hum-dinger for both have some of the best bowlers in town in their lineup. The Cloverleaves should take Highland Park, but that remains to be seen. Next week will find the Cubs and the Cloverleaves clashing and this ought to be a match well worth watching.

The lineup of all teams will be announced in tomorrow's Herald.

WALKER vs. BRITTON

Five years ago today, Jack Britton famous welterweight champion of the world, lost his coveted title for the third and last time when Mickey Walker of Elizabeth, N. J., gained a decision over him at the end of 15 fast and furious rounds at New York City.

Britton first gained recognition as the welterweight title holder in 1915 by virtue of a victory over Mike Glover of Boston. In the same year he lost it to Ted "Kid" Lewis, welterweight champion of England, but in 1918 he defeated Lewis and regained the honor. Then in 1917, Lewis beat Britton for the title and two years later, Britton definitely settled the question of superiority by knocking the Englishman out in nine rounds at Dayton, O., annexing the championship.

VERN EILERS

He's the "milkman of Aurora," this Vern Eilers, star guard of the Oregon State eleven. Eilers is the only "ag" student on the football team, and contends that the milk business is as good a conditioner for football as the ice-toting business. He is recognized as one of the best guards in his section.

IS EXCELLENT BATSMAN

Harry Ricoada, who will try out with the Dodgers next spring, batted better than .350 in the American Association this year.

THREE TIMES FOR WILCE

Dr. John W. Wilce, in his 15 years at Ohio State, has given the Buckeyes three football championships.

Local Sport Chatter

The Trade School football team will play its final game of the season Friday afternoon at the West Side Playgrounds against Windsor Locks High. The kick-off will be at 3 o'clock.

The first C. B. A. A. setback sitting of the fall and winter season will be held tonight at the School street Rec at 7:30. Turkeys will be awarded for first prizes.

It is expected that an announcement regarding the staging of amateur boxing bouts at Cheney hall this winter will be made shortly. At present officials are discussing a suitable successor to John L. Jenney, the popular promoter of athletic activities who is now otherwise engaged at Cheney Brothers.

Manager Vendrillo has engaged the following officials for Sunday's game with the Wallingford Eagles: Tom Kelley, S. M. H. S., referee, Johnny McGrath, E. H. S., umpire, Ed Bailey, S. M. H. S., headlinesman.

It is reported that the Knights of Columbus may put a basketball team on the floor this season. There is talk of organizing a team composed of Elmo Mantell, Ding Farr, Billy Burke, Everett Strange, Herb Angell and others.

COLUMBIA'S PROGRAM

New York, Nov. 1.—Intensive skill practice and a full week of scrimmage was on the Columbia program today as Coach Crowley set forth to develop a stronger reserve for the John Hopkins game Saturday and the Pennsylvania game at Philadelphia two weeks off. Crowley said his reserve material was lacking punch.

WALLINGFORD EAGLES BOOKED BY CUBS TO PLAY AT STADIUM

Fans to Get Long Sought Chance to Compare Respective Ability of Aspirants For 1927 Town Football Championship.

Next Sunday will afford Manchester football enthusiasts their first opportunity of comparing the Cloverleaves and the Cubs who are to play for the town championship on November 26.

This is made possible because the Cubs have booked the Wallingford Eagles to play at the McKee street stadium.

This is the most welcome news that has been given out this season for every single fan wants a chance to draw a comparison between the two teams before the title game. The only way of doing this is to have the Cubs play a team that the Cloverleaves have played or vice versa.

The Wallingford Eagles have played the Cloverleaves twice, scored both times, tying the first game 6 to 6 and winning the second 13 to 9. They have a real classy team and will prove a tough nut for the first game with the Cloverleaves, the Eagles gained more yardage than the home team but were somewhat lucky to score on a long forward pass in the closing period. On the other hand, the Cloverleaves team got a break and scored but missed the extra point.

Last Sunday, it was a different question. The Eagles started off with a bang and had rolled up a two touchdown lead before the Cloverleaves realized that it was advisable to settle down and play football. When they did, they played the visitors to a standstill making twelve first downs against one and tallying nine points while their opponents were going scoreless. Had the Cloverleaves played the same brand of football throughout the game that they did in the second half, the ultimate result might have been different.

The Eagles have splendid teamwork. Smooth working interference on their slants off tackle and skirts around the ends is one of their specialties. They also have a fine aerial attack, one that ought to cause the Cubs plenty of trouble. Coach Harold Volhardt will bring a squad of 23 gridsters to town and the Cubs will know they have been in a football game before the final whistle toots.

Coach Dwyer will drive his charges through practice sessions four times this week before the game, tonight, Thursday and Friday nights and Sunday morning. All of the Cub players came out of Sunday's mere workout with Plainville without any injuries and will be at full strength for the Wallingford game.

BILLIARD TOURNAMENT

New York, Nov. 1.—Ralph Greenleaf and Willie Hoppe went into the second day's play of their respective billiard matches today with substantial leads. Greenleaf defeated James Maturio in the first two blocks of their handicap pocket billiard match, the score standing 3-0 to 97 at the beginning of today's play. Greenleaf's high run of the first day's play was 46 against Maturio's 31. Hoppe entered today's play with a lead of 120 to 103 over Otto Reissel in their three cushion match. Hoppe was playing his old time daring form.
