SPECIAL ATTRACTION AT STATE TOMORROW

Panetta Brothers, Musicians, Headliners — "Beware of Widows" Is Feature Picture.

The Panetta Brothers, musical wizards, are the special attraction at the State theater tomorrow night with the picture "Beware of Widows," starring Laura LaPlante. This is the regular Thursday night program and the Panetta Brothers will furnish the principal part of it. Bryant Washburn, distinguished leading man of the stage and screen is the young doctor fiance of the dimpled blonde who makes the mistake of serving one of his attractive female patients not wisely but too well. The result is that the indignant bride-to-be denounces him as a polygamist and goes back to her mother.

When she sees in the society columns the announcement of the doctor's forthcoming marriage to the charming widow whose wiles were responsible for the shattered wedding, the girl realizes that she can't live without him and determines, on the eve of the doctor's marriage to her detested rival, to save him for herself.

The audacious ruse by which she manages to get aboard the houseboat where the wedding is to take place, and the means she employs in breaking down the morale of a fast and furious farce in which the following feature cast supports Laura La Plante: Bryant Washburn, Paulette Duval, Walter Hiers, Tully Marshall, Catherine Carver, Heinie Conklin and Otto Hoffman. The last showing of "The City Gone Wild," the crook play starring Thomas Meighan, comes tonight. This is one of the best plays of the underworld ever to be produced and Meighan makes a better cast than it was written for. Others in the cast are Louise Brooks, Fred Kohler, Marietta Miller and Gunboat Smith.

WAPPING

The Wapping "Y" boys will oppose the fast team of the South church, New Britain this next Saturday evening on the parish house court for their second game of the Y. M. C. A. League. The team lineup is as follows: Robert Sharp, center, W. Smith, left forward, W. Rose, right forward, G. Smith, right back, H. Bamford, left back, R. Spencer, right forward, H. Collins, right back, P. Welles, center.

Mrs. Walter S. Billings will open a gift shop, Thursday evening at her home here.

The funeral of Mrs. Frank Rogers was largely attended from her late home, Rev. Truman H. Woodward officiating. The bearers were: Fred Nevers, Alex. Coie, George Pero, Al Lenox, Mr. Kennedy, and Walter Billings. The burial was in Rockville cemetery.

Mrs. John A. Collins attended a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Alden Welles of Hartford yesterday.

The town hall of South Windsor was broken into by thieves last Sunday evening and a small sum of money taken. The same evening, Earl Metcalf lost seventeen chickens which were taken from his hen-house and others were reported as having lost chickens the same evening.

HEBRON

Edward A. Smith has finished taking the school enumeration of children between the ages of four and sixteen. He reports that there are 234 names on the list this year. This is one less than the list for last year.

The elevation of the road to Amston as it passes St. Peter's church has resulted in upsetting the drainage of the church. After the last rain storm the church cellar was six inches or more in water.

The removal of the post office was accomplished on Sunday. Quite a number of years ago the post office had its location in the same store to which it has been moved now. At present the Post house and store stand vacant. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Porte and family who occupied the store property on the Post place have moved to their new quarters.

Miss Eunice Porter motored out from Hartford with a friend Sunday afternoon and spent the evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Porter.

The heavy storm of sleet Sunday afternoon and evening interfered with the Christian Endeavor service in the evening. The meeting was finally called off.

Carlos J. Waldo, his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Phelps, and their daughter, Miss Lois Phelps, all of Bristol, were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Waldo.

Seventy signers have already been secured in the town as desiring to have electricity put into their homes. It was at first stated that it would be necessary to obtain 100 signers in order to be sure of getting electricity carried through Amston, Hebron and Gilead. It is now said that the electric light proposition will be carried through without a doubt.

Poles are set as far as to Amston Center and a little beyond, and holes for pole setting have been dug as far as to Greenberg's Corner. Edmund Horton, who is one of the committee for furthering the project, says that some of the wires are expected to be strung some time this week. The weather may make some difference as to the length of time it will take for the completion of the undertaking.

Two hundred years ago, New York City had less than 6000 persons. One-half of them were negroes.

LICENSES SUSPENDED

The weekly list of operators whose licenses to drive automobiles in Connecticut have been suspended for one year for driving while under the influence of liquor was given out today at the state motor vehicle department as a part of the effort to reduce this highway menace. There are twenty-two names on the list. One case was appealed. The department statement advised people to notify the department or the police in case they should see any of the suspended drivers operating motor vehicles.

EUROPE STILL BUILDS UP STRONG ARMAMENTS

Nine Years After "War to End War" She Still Raises Land, Sea, and Air Forces.

EDITORS NOTE: This is the third in a series of six articles by Milton E. Brown, foreign correspondent for the Herald and NEA Service, discussing the situation in Europe today.

By Milton E. Brown
NEA Service Writer
London, Dec. 7.—A great race in armaments preceded the World War. Today, with that war nine years back in history, another race in armaments is on.

Air Fleets Preparing
All of Europe is arming. Hammers clang and forges glow in the shipyards where cruisers and submarines are taking form. Munitions factories have found prosperity returning. The bark of the drill sergeant is heard in army cantonments from the Volga river to the English channel, and spangled generals study maps in every capital of Europe.

In the sky is the whirl of thousands of motors as air fleets take wing. Laboratories hide chemists, working over test tubes that contain samples of new explosives and new gases for the next war.

Everywhere, with the exception of the Scandinavian countries, perhaps, there is preparation for fighting.

France has the greatest, most powerful army on earth. She also has the world's finest fighting air force. She refused to participate in the Geneva naval disarmament conference last summer because she intends to build all the cruisers and submarines she pleases.

Italy has an army second only to the French. Her air fleet is growing. Her submarine fleet is formidable. Italy eyes France with an unconcealed suspicion that France openly returns.

England's army, as before the war, is a skeleton. But she keeps her fleet, the biggest on earth. She refused to abide by America's proposed limitation suggestions at the Geneva naval conference, insisting that she must have plenty of cruisers to protect her commerce.

England's publicists cry that war with America or France is the only alternative. At this writing that could give her a real fight—is "unthinkable" but the arming process goes on unabated.

Germany's army is hamstrung. But she is working. There are indications that she is building an army within the 100,000 limit; but the number of officers is out of all proportion to its size. A framework that could be filled in quickly is being built up, with all the traditional German efficiency and thoroughness.

In the navy, officers constitute nearly 50 per cent of the total force.

Germany has no military air force, to be sure; but she has the best commercial aviation service in the world, and a commercial plane, with its trained pilot, can become a first-class fighting plane over night. The government-subsidized Lufthansa, or air trust, has created an amazingly efficient air fleet that would be an extremely valuable weapon in case of need.

Munitions Factories
In addition, there are disquieting rumors, never substantiated, of German munitions factories in Rumania that are turning out munitions and guns in vast quantities, to be delivered when called for.

Russia, of course, is heavily armed. The Bolsheviks have acquired a sizable fleet of German-built airplanes, and are beginning to learn how to use it. Poland lies between Russia and Germany, has a huge army, trained by crack French officers, and its staff has worked out detailed plans for campaigns against either neighbor.

Yugoslavia is building an army and planning for the day when it will be as big as Italy's. Czechoslovakia is building a large army; Rumania has one out of all proportion to Rumania's relative size. Even Spain, formerly considered a third-rate military power, is getting together a very respectable army and is assembling a fleet of several hundred airplanes. Spain now makes her own planes, no longer has to buy them from England and France.

Peace Prospects
That is the way you hear today. In every capital you hear talk about the "need for security" and the "danger of foreign aggression." In most capitals there is some confusion as to the exact identity of the enemy that is to be feared. In some, however, there is an ominous sort of certainty that the next enemy is known very well.

What all of this, may forecast is highly uncertain, it hardly seems, however, that it forecasts a long peace.

STREET CAR MEN MEET TOMORROW IN CAPITAL CITY

Connecticut Men Will Address New England Railway Club on General and Technical Subjects.

Following its new policy of sectionalizing meetings, all of which were formerly held in Boston, the New England Street Railway Club will gather for its December meeting at the Hotel Bond in Hartford, Thursday, December 8. President J. K. Pufferford of the Connecticut company will deliver an address of welcome to members from many cities in New England. The club's new method of congregating in different cities of New England every other month is expected to enhance the scope and the value of these meetings.

The meeting of December 8 will be divided into two parts: Lectures and discussion in the afternoon and a dinner in the evening. The afternoon gathering will be called to order by Robert B. Stearns, president of the club and general manager of the Eastern Massachusetts Railway company of Boston. At that meeting Charles Rufus Harte, engineer of the Connecticut company, will address the club, taking the Connecticut company as his subject; and George Wood, power engineer of the Connecticut company, will speak about the Bridgeport Mercury Arc Rectifier Substation. Open discussion to follow each of these addresses is arranged for on the program.

Dinner is scheduled for 6:30 in the evening, and President Stearns will again preside. The Honorable Norman C. Stevens, mayor of Hartford, President J. K. Pufferford of the Connecticut company, and Richard T. Higgins, Chairman of the Public Utilities Commission of Connecticut, will speak on the significance of the Connecticut meeting and the work of the New England Street Railway Club. Entertainment will be furnished by the Connecticut Employees' Band and by the Colonial Quartet of Hartford. In accordance with the new policy of the New England Street Railway Club, the February meeting of the organization will be held at Providence, Rhode Island.

THAW IN HOLLYWOOD

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 7.—Accompanied by two beautiful girls, Anita Rivers, New York, and Susan Hughes, of Lexington, Ky., Miss Rivers' mother, and Harold A. Fosbury, film director, Harry K. Thaw today prepared to acquaint himself with the motion picture colony.

While here Thaw said he would arrange for the release of three pictures filmed by a company in which he is interested, also that he would have titles written for them in Hollywood.

Thaw said that Miss Rivers and Miss Hughes appeared in two of the pictures. "Both of these girls," he said, "are excellent actresses."

That Thaw is still free-handed with his money was shown by the $15 tip he gave the negro porter who carried his coat for him as he alighted from his train yesterday.

GILEAD

Rev. J. W. Deeter delivered a very interesting sermon Sunday on "Mystery."

The Christian Endeavor service Sunday evening was conducted by members of the Andover Society. There was a good attendance, regardless of the storm.

Monday morning traveling was difficult on account of the sleet and snow, which fell during the previous night. The bus was unable to make the early trip. The snow plow made its appearance in the afternoon and cleared the road.

Merton Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Porter entertained at their home over the week-end the Misses Hazel and Agnes Jones of Hartford and West Hartford. They also entertained at dinner Sunday Mrs. Della Porter and Mr. and Mrs. Rearr Porter of Hebron.

The Young Women's Club will give a entertainment at the hall Friday evening for the benefit of the hall association.

Myron and Earl Post of East Hartford visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Post Sunday.

Robert Porter spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Gibson Preston in Brooklyn, N. Y. Mrs. Porter and the boys returned with him after spending some weeks with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Hartford were Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Glover Rockwell's.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hibbard accompanied by Miss Ellen Welch and Walter Le Clair of Manchester were Sunday visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Clayton A. Hills and Mrs. Elizabeth Hill's.

Andrew Hooker has returned to his home after spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. John Colver in Williamant.

The Hooker children have returned to school after being absent for several weeks on account of whooping-cough.

Miss Ruth Ellis spent the week-end with Miss Marcia Zabriske in Hampton.

BOOTLEGGERS' CHEMISTS KNOW THEIR BUSINESS

Washington, Dec. 7.—Resourceful bootleggers rival the most expert chemists in compounding illicit mixtures containing alcohol, the Justice Department revealed today.

One popular "medicinal" product contained fluid extract of ginger, orange peel and vanilla. The alcoholic content necessary to hold the ginger in solution was about 55 per cent, but when the other two ingredients were put in, the alcoholic percentage dropped to 65. The ginger immediately solidified, and could easily be strained off, thus eliminating the ingredient that made the product non-potable and leaving a drink with a powerful "kick." It proved a favorite in Oklahoma and Texas, where jobbers sold millions of dollars worth until the justice agents learned the secret, and procured indictments against dealers in these states, Missouri, Louisiana, Virginia, and New York City.

BIG NAVY SUPPORTERS FIGHTING FOR FUNDS

Congressmen Want $970,000 to Elevate Guns on Our Battleships.

Washington, Dec. 7.—The Congressional "Big Navy" bloc today opened a fight for funds to elevate the big 14 and 16-inch guns on American battleships to meet the range of British and Japanese men-of-war.

Stubborn opposition was expected, with opponents declaring that the step would violate the spirit of the Washington naval limitation treaty and bring international complications, and another group declaring that money spent on battleships in a flying age is wasted.

The legislative battle was scheduled to break during consideration of the first deficiency bill, made the major business of the House today and tomorrow.

Despite the fact that Congress last year authorized modernization of the battleships Nevada and Oklahoma, including gun elevation, the House appropriation committee omitted the $970,000 necessary to elevate guns. Instead, it referred the question to Congress. The total modernization program will cost $13,150,000.

Congress authorized elevation of guns on all battleships in 1923 but repealed its action in 1924. The British government, it was said, registered formal protests that the elevation program would violate the freshly signed arms treaty.

WARRANTEE DEEDS

MANY SEATS SOLD FOR "MINICK" PERFORMANCE

Town Players' First Effort of Season Promised Good House By "Advance."

The advance sale of tickets for "Minick," the three act play which the Town Players will give in the Circle theater tonight, has been excellent, it was said by members of the Educational club today. The play is being given under the auspices of that club and the proceeds will be used for the purchase of milk for the open air schools in the Eighth and Ninth districts.

The final dress rehearsal was held in the theater last night and was witnessed by a committee from the Educational club.

"Minick" was written by George Kaufman and Edna Ferber and was first presented in New York, where it had a long run. It has since been given by many Little Theater groups such as the Town Players. It contrasts youth with old age and the failure of the two to mix.

"Minick," the old man, is played by Albert Addy and the two leading characters, "Minick's" son and his daughter-in-law, are played by Franklin Richmond and Miss Eugenia Walsh.

Tickets will be on sale at the box office of the theater tonight and the sale will be in charge of members of the Educational club. Girls of the Town Players will act as ushers.

Louis Smith is directing the play and the production management was assumed by Miss Ruth Calhoun. Assisting in the details of production are Mrs. Charles Felber, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. F. T. Blish, Mrs. James A. Irvine and Miss Ella Washburn, the latter three of the Educational club.

Mr. Smith will be assisted behind the scenes tonight by D. Crombie Donaldson, Ralph Oatman and Elmer Johnson. The music between the acts will be furnished by Mack's Imperial orchestra, composed of Manchester young men.

Temperature has a marked effect upon the sensitiveness of explosives.

The MOVIE PEOPLE

Hollywood, Calif.—Wandering about make-believe village: Norma Shearer and her recently acquired husband, Irving Thalberg. Thalberg has long been known as the boy wonder of the movies... and probably will be called that for some time to come despite the fact that he is growing older the same as everyone else out here.

There goes Margaret Livingston with her sister... she's just back from New York... where all movie folk go when they want to play... Sue Carol driving toward home in her big car... Sue didn't know the first thing about pictures when she came out here about nine months ago... but she "guts plonk of ice" now... the young brunet scarcely finishes one picture before producers are seeking her for another one...

Ben Lyon and his mother going into the new Roosevelt hotel... she just arrived from New Orleans for her first visit to the town where her son has become famous... Sonia Karlov, a newly imported actress, "bawling out" a cop for giving her a tag... she's extremely temperamental... George Beale going into the Montmartre with Dolores Del Rio... no, it won't start a scandal... that's one advantage of being a newspaper writer in this hamlet... you can go any place with anybody and people don't talk...

Joan Crawford looking very happy... Franklyn Pangborn buying a paper... wonder if he expects to find a story about himself... Norma Talmadge and Gilbert Rowland... Gilbert was "just another actor" until Norma took him under her wing as her leading man... now he's in great demand... but Norma isn't letting him get far away. Tom Mix and his horse, Tony... Tom often rides his "pal" into Hollywood just for the exercise... and perhaps the advertisement...

Reginald Denny and his daughter heading toward an aviation field... airplanes figured largely in Denny's divorce... but he still sticks to them... his daughter is quite a flyer, too... Dick Barthelmess going into Henry's with Jack Mulhall... Clara Bow with her hair flying as usual... wonder if she ever combs it... but combed or not, the red-headed queen still has plenty of that something Elinor Glyn calls "it."

It looks like Jetta Goudal is through at the De Mille studio for good. The French actress walked off her sets innumerable times in fits of temperament—but she did it once too often. De Mille told her she was through. And he must have meant it because Jacqueline Logan has just been given the featured role in "Midnight Madness," which was intended for Jetta.

There was a time when New York was the center of the motion picture industry. Then Hollywood began to grow. And now Manhattan doesn't figure at all. But not being satisfied with holding the movie spotlight, Hollywood also is trying to grab the foremost position as a theatrical center. Two years ago there wasn't a legitimate house in the movie village. Now there are five such theaters that are stealing all the patronage from the downtown Los Angeles theaters and are making a big deal for plays before they are shown on Broadway.

Thirty-five states protect the skunk because of its fur value and because it is an insect and rodent destroyer.

CORRECTION

In the article in yesterday's Herald giving figures on the proposed purchase of the High school building a typographical error was made which made one statement misleading. In paragraph two, column two, page three the paragraph should read as follows: In making these comparisons it is supposed that Cheney Brothers hereafter will assume 88 per cent of the amount of any indebtedness assumed by the town, and 48 per

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

The best part of every party is parting.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Christmas was created originally for the adult swappers have all but robbed them of the day.

The only reason some of us don't settle down and take a wife is because we don't know whose wife to take.

Won't be anything after a while for a fellow to fly over to Honolulu for a few minutes to get his ukulele strings fixed.

Husband and wife should not find fault with each other. Leave it for the relatives of each to pick you to pieces.

Modern man may not feel like a bone head, but the fashionable hair cut makes him look like one.

"Prisoner at the bar, you are charged with having abized your wife and thrown her bodily into the creek," sternly said the judge.

"How do you plead?" "Guilty, yore honor," returned Bill Spradlin of Pea Ridge, "and you damn well know I—"

"Well, I just wanted to tell you that when a lady comes to whur I am fishing at and throws my can of bait into deep water I'll throw her in after it, and don't you forget it."

"Can I kiss you?" "Tis said that nothing is impossible to those who try."

"Mother, what is that lump in Uncle Tom's neck?" "Why, that's his Adam's apple, dear."

"Oh, now I know why he was spraying his throat the other day."

They say Charlie Chaplin is going to use corn starch pies in pictures from now on, account of the high cost of divorce.

You can't kick and run at the same time.

She was only a ditch-digger's daughter, but she took her pick.

Some humans, like polecats, must raise a stink every so often.

Then there is the story of the Scotchman who got lost and went crazy when he began thinking that perhaps there might be a reward for his discovery.

It won't do us any harm Breathe there a man with soul so dead, Who never to himself has said:— "Just one more round, then we'll all go home!"

If, as the religious questionnaire revealed, this country is 81 per cent Christian, what we can't understand is why the sidewalks are not cleaned off more generally when it snows.

This hoof and mouth disease is a new name for golf; hoof it all day and mouth about it all night.

A business man who has been bothered a good deal by loafers, posted this notice: "If you haven't anything to do, please don't do it here."

LETTER GOLF

From GAS to OIL takes five strokes, according to the par solution printed on another page. But you may be able to cut it down.

Grid for letter golf with letters G, A, S, O, I, L.

THE RULES

1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW TO HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

2—You can change only one letter at a time.

3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

Barbara: I can't decide what to get for my husband's Christmas present.

Glady: Can't you think of anything you need?

"Get out of my weigh," said the catfish as a crab fell on his scales.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE) The Tines now looked quite forlorn. They had eaten too much corn. Their friend the giant stood nearby and watched them at their lunch. As Cloway climbed down off a stalk, he said, "Why I can hardly walk." The giant laughed and said, "I guess you are a tired out bunch. "The best thing you can do right now is get a bit of sleep somehow. A nap right after eating, chases laziness away. A bed of grass is right near by." And then they heard wee Cloway sigh, "Say, if I ever reach that bed, that's where I'll surely stay." And so the Tines went to sleep. The giant said, "Good water I'll keep." And there he sat for several hours until the bunch awoke. "And now that you're alert once more," the giant said, "I trust that you won't think it is a joke." He led them to a monstrous vine, where grow a watermelon fine. "From that I'm going to

by Gilbert Patten

Not far from the scene of the surprising encounter, Price Hargon and Cub Maddox, strolling on the campus, had met Hargon's sister, Jane, and Betty Darling. "Oh, look!" cried Betty. "What are those fellows trying to do to Jack?" "The crazy fool!" exclaimed Hargon. "He's got into a scrap with seniors!" "Well, you're a freshman," said Betty. "Go help him!"

Hargon and Maddox exchanged glances. "Come on, Cub!" said Price. "We've got to get into it." But, as they were running toward the spot, he said something else to Maddox.

Giving his attention to the seven seniors who had attempted to take the cane from him, Jack neither saw nor heard his approaching classmates. They crashed into him.

As Lockwill struck the ground, Maddox came down upon him. Hargon managed to stay on his feet. Cannon was given the opportunity to spring forward, seize the cane, and snatch it away from Jack. "We came to help you," said Cub as Jack sat up. "Yes, just the same way your friend helped me in the football game!" Lockwill cried. "You're three of a kind!" (To Be Continued)

ABOUT TOWN
Delta Chapter, R. A. M., will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting in Masonic Temple this evening.

I. B. Nelson of Branford street who has been confined at the Memorial hospital for the past few weeks, is soon to undergo an operation.

A number of Center church people attended the funeral of Miss Marjory Abell at Pratt's undertaking hall, Farmington avenue, Hartford yesterday. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes.

Rev. Charles K. Tracy of the Elmwood Congregational church will be one of the speakers at the W. C. T. U. institute at the Rockville Methodist church tomorrow. Sessions will be held both mornings and afternoon.

The Sewing Society of the Swedish Lutheran church will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.

Mary C. Keeney Tent, Daughters of Union War Veterans will have a Christmas party Friday evening of this week at the home of the president, Mrs. Paul Carter of Parker street. Members are urged to make their plans to attend and to bring a 10 cent article for the grab-bag. There will also be a short entertainment, refreshments and a social get-together. The committee includes Mrs. Ora Ames, Mrs. Muriel Davis, Mrs. Etta Loveland, Mrs. Anna Kellum and Mrs. Carter.

The Boys' Club of Highland Park will give a public setback party at the Community clubhouse there tomorrow evening. The usual number of prizes will be awarded the winners and refreshments served.

ROBITUARY
The name of Mrs. Harriet Norton was omitted from the list of hostesses for the December meeting of Oxford Parish Chapter D. A. R. in the account given in yesterday's Herald. Mrs. Norton was unable to attend the meeting. She was injured by a fall at her home a few weeks ago and although much improved has not been out yet.

DANIEL GIONI
Daniel Gioni, 40, of Brewer street, Glastonbury, died at Memorial hospital at 2:45 this morning after a two week's illness with acute kidney trouble.

Mr. Gioni is survived by his wife, who is employed as a waitress in the City Restaurant at the south end here, four daughters, Olga, Jennie, Alva, Olive, a brother, John in Providence and a sister in Europe.

Funeral services will be held at Quish's funeral rooms, but the date has not yet been set.
