

Ex-Premier Of Great Britain Dies In London

Earl of Asquith, Famous Liberal and War Minister, Passes Away After Long Illness—His Career.

London, Feb. 15.—The Earl of Oxford and Asquith, Great Britain's former premier, died at his country estate, the Wharf, Sutt in Courtney, at 6:50 a. m. today.

Although his physicians had abandoned all hope of saving him yesterday morning Lord Asquith clung tenaciously to life throughout the day and last night.

Lady Asquith, known more familiarly as Margot Asquith, and members of the family were at the bedside when she died.

Herbert Henry Asquith, who

came into the title of Earl of Oxford and Asquith in 1925 in recognition of his long public service, was the first "war premier" of England. He held that post when the war broke out and did not relinquish it until the conflict had been under way two years.

Asquith came of sturdy Yorkshire stock, although his parents were not rich. He was born in Yorkshire, on September 12, 1852. Shortly after his birth his father died and his education was left to the mother. When he attained school age he was placed in the City of London school and later attended Balliol college, Oxford, where he easily carried off many coveted scholarships. He was especially keen in history, rhetoric and debate, an indication of his trend for a political life.

Studied Law
Coming to London he studied law and began to practice in 1876. One year after his admission to the bar he married Miss Helen F. Melland, of Manchester, who died in 1891, after bearing him four children.

After a short time spent as contributor to the "Economist," Asquith came to the front very quickly as a member of the bar.

Edward Stewart Gladstone saw in Asquith a "coming young man" and brought him into Parliament. In 1892 Asquith was honored with the post of Chancellor of the Exchequer, although he was barely 40 years of age. It was while serving as home secretary that he contracted his second marriage. He was married to Emma Alice Margaret (Margot) Tennant in 1894. It was a strange match between the Puritanical, learned Yorkshireman and the butterfly of Bohemian society. And it altered Asquith's career completely.

Changed His Life
From a student he became a "diner out." From a Free Church man he became an Episcopalian. He is accused of having cast off his middle class friends to cast his lot with the aristocracy. Mrs. Asquith was ambitious for both her husband and herself.

Many Englishmen professed belief that Asquith's marriage to the brilliant Margot "ruined" his career. Equally as many believed that the match had "made" him.

Asquith from the first had aligned himself with the Liberal Party and soon became its undisputed leader, a political honor he maintained until dethroned by the Welsh fire-brand David Lloyd George.

Despite the intrigues within the party Asquith's intellectual attainments and his advocacy of certain reforms, made him an almost certain choice for the portfolio of Chancellor of the Exchequer when Campbell Bannerman formed his government in 1905. He obtained this post and held it until 1908 when he became Prime Minister.

Lots of Trouble
Troubles engulfed premier Asquith from the outset. The Irish controversy was coming to a head and the Lloyd George budgets were threatening a "social revolution."

CLERK IN BANK KIN OF MELLON

Commutes Each Day to His 32 Room, Half Million Dollar Mansion in Long Island.

New York, Feb. 15.—It was with a distinct shock that employees of a Wall street banking house learned today that Dave Bruce, one of their fellow-workers—a tall, quiet, likable chap—commutes each day from a 32-room mansion on a Long Island estate worth half a million dollars.

To them Dave simply has been "one of the fellows"—a regular fellow at that. Democratic unassuming, eager to learn, willing to do his bit. It has just leaked out, however, that Dave is the son-in-law of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury and one of the wealthiest men in America.

He is the son of Senator and Mrs. Bruce of Maryland and the husband of the former Miss Mellon, only daughter of Andrew W. Mellon. Their wedding in Washington on May 29, 1926, was a brilliant social event attended by President and Mrs. Coolidge, the cabinet and all official Washington.

8 MILLION AWARD IN DUKE LAWSUIT

Largest Ever Returned to Single Individual But Haskell Wants It Tripled.

Newark, N. J., Feb. 15.—George D. Haskell, who was awarded $8,000,000 by a jury last night in his $45,000,000 suit against the estate of James B. Duke, now wants the award tripled. Homer F. Cummings, attorney for Haskell, announced today he would ask United States Judge William N. Runyon tomorrow to have the award increased to $24,000,000.

Haskell will seek the additional award under the section of the Sherman Act which allows triple damages to a man injured by a conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Haskell is the head of the Bausch Machine & Tool Company. After discovering bauxite and aluminum deposits in Canada, he arranged to start operations with waterpower controlled by James B. Duke along the Saguenay river in Quebec. When he had arranged a partnership with the tobacco man, Haskell charged, Duke went over to the Aluminum Company of America and Haskell was left in the lurch. Duke and the Aluminum company developed the project.

Duke's Profits
It was alleged that Duke received $25,000,000 worth of stock in the aluminum company.

The trial lasted 37 days. More than 50 witnesses were called.

The $8,000,000 verdict is said to be the largest ever returned in favor of a single individual in a damage suit. Counsel for the defendant plan to take an appeal from the verdict.

If the appeal is unsuccessful, the fortune of the multi-millionaire's 13-year-old daughter, Doris, who here the world's richest heiress, will be reduced. She and her mother, Mrs. Manaline H. Duke, were willed about $100,000,000 by the tobacco king.

PROSPECTORS RUSH TO NEW GOLD FIELD

Samples Taken From 18 Inch Veins Assayed at Over $1,000 a Ton.

Tonopah, Nev. Feb. 15.—Nevada's newest gold strike at Wahmille, 17 miles from the "Silent Land" canyon, has attracted a rush of goldseekers. It was reported here today by Dave Aspland, railroad agent who visited the vicinity.

Samples taken across 18-inch veins by Aspland assayed more than $1,000 a ton, he stated.

The goldseekers have established a tent colony at Wahmille and have appointed a district recorder. The new strike was discovered by Mark Lester, a prospector.

Five Day Working Week Labor Federation Plan

Washington, Feb. 15.—Shorter hours and a five-day week were proposed today by the American Federation of Labor as a solution of the increasing unemployment problem.

"Unemployment today is more pronounced than it has been in many years," said Frank Morrison, secretary of the federation. "We hope that the peak has been reached and we doubt it."

A shorter working day and a five-day week, in industries where it could be applied, would help materially. A slowing down of production would also aid.

He attributed the unemployment principally to mass production and the increased use of machines. Federation officials are investigating to find remedies for the problem.

Conservative estimates at the labor department place the number of unemployed at approximately 3,600,000. The New York Labor Bureau recently fixed the figure at 4,000,000.

Government economic experts, while declaring that some of the unemployment is seasonal and will be absorbed with the opening up of industry in the spring, point out that the country is now experiencing a general, but not dangerous business recession. The average wage level is lowering.

Hoover's Hat In The Ring Starts Fight In 3 States

Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania to Furnish Fire-works at Primaries—G. O. P. Factions Busy.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The political honeymoon which a good many Republican organizations have been enjoying under the benign influence of Coolidge in the district appeared today to be waning fast.

Herbert Hoover's entry into Ohio with his presidential candidacy has split the close-knit Republican organization of that state into two snarling factions. The fur is already beginning to fly, and this probably will be followed by the spilling of real gore at the April primary when the Hoover and Willis factions come to grips.

In New York, a semblance of Republican harmony is being maintained only by the use of the Coolidge name. Charles D. Hillis, the titular Republican spokesman of the state, is still holding aloft the Coolidge banner and calling for his renomination.

In Pennsylvania every indication that the Republican organization of Pennsylvania is in for a slam-bang fight of far-reaching and important proportions.

Rep. John M. Morin, who has represented a Pittsburgh district for sixteen years and who has risen to the chairmanship of the military affairs committee, returned to the capital this morning determined, it is said, to oppose Hoover for renomination to Congress.

CAMPBELL NERVOUS OVER LAW'S DELAYS

Hammer Slayer Chafes In Philadelphia Cell Awaiting N. Y.'s Action In Case.

New York, Feb. 15.—A first degree murder indictment is expected by the authorities to be returned here today charging Cecil Clyde Campbell, soldier of fortune, with beating to death his third wife, Mary Lyle McLean.

Campbell chafes in his cell in the Philadelphia jail today begging for a speedy trial while three moves are under way here to get it to him.

As soon as the indictment is handed up by the Grand Jury extradition papers will be drawn up to bring the slayer back to Pennsylvania. The papers will be rushed to Albany and Harrisburg for executive signatures and then to Philadelphia. The third move is being conducted by local police for the district attorney's office.

Tribe Of Fire Worshipers Found In Russian Wilds

Moscow, Feb. 15.—The remnant of a strange tribe of fire worshippers whose childless women hang cradles with dolls in the temples and pray for motherhood, has just been discovered by Soviet scientists in the Caucasus mountains about 100 miles from Tiflis.

In a report submitted today to the academy of sciences, the investigators identified the tribe as descendants of the ancient race of Pers, whose influence extended throughout Middle Asia.

The existing temples of red tile date from the Eleventh and Twelfth Centuries and are in a remarkable state of preservation. More than 100 candles and a hearth are kept burning night and day in each edifice.

Say They Want Scientist to Prove to World That Hickman Is Mad—Another Trial Today.

Los Angeles, Calif., Feb. 15.—A microscopic examination of the brain of William Edward Hickman will be demanded if the kidnaper-killer of Marion Parker is made to pay for his crime on the gallows.

"I am sure a white spot will be found," Walsh predicted in announcing that he would demand an autopsy of Hickman's brain to determine his mental condition, if he is hanged.

Walsh, who has plunged into a fight to save Hickman from the gallows declared he would insist that the kidnaper-killer's brain be dug out of his skull for examination by the foremost scientists in the country in the event the death sentence imposed yesterday is carried out.

MILLION IN BONDS IN NEW YORK BANK

Continental Slush Fund Traced to Harry M. Blackmer Who Is in Europe.

Washington, Feb. 15.—The shroud of mystery, that has enveloped the Continental Trading Company's $3,080,000 Liberty Bond "slush fund" for six years, was slowly being dispelled today by the Senate's oil inquiry, following revelation that $1,000,000 of the fund had been traced to the New York Trust Company account of Harry M. Blackmer, missing oil magnate.

It was Blackmer, along with Harry F. Sinclair and James E. O'Neil, who created the Continental and negotiated the mysterious oil deal that netted the company a $3,080,000 profit without investing a dime.

Government agents, working under the public lands committee, have located records in the New York Trust Company, showing Blackmer deposited a million dollars of the Continental bonds. The investigators also found a series of orders from Blackmer, distributing the bonds. These orders are now being traced to learn who got the bonds finally and what became of them.

In this connection, the records of the Republican national committee show that Blackmer made a $5,000 contribution to the fund used in the 1924 campaign.

The entry, dated September 16, 1924, reads "H. M. Blackmer, First National Bank Building, Denver, Colo., $5,000, receipt number 5093." This gift will be investigated to learn whether Blackmer was being paid from American courts, made the gift in cash or by turning over some of the Continental bonds.

The discovery of Blackmer's huge account in the New York Trust Company, accounted for $2,169,000 of the Continental bonds. Up to date, the Senate committee has shown that O'Neil got $800,000 of the bonds, that Sinclair paid $233,000 of them to former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall, that Blackmer gave $75,000 of them to the Republican national committee and that Henry Smith Oiler, Canadian president of the company, got $61,800 as a "commission."

COOLIDGE WINNER IN BIG NAVY FIGHT

House Naval Committee Gives Him Power to Alter His Program at Will.

Washington, Feb. 15.—President Coolidge has scored a partial victory in the "Big Navy" fight through a tentative decision of the House naval affairs committee to give him power to suspend any ship-building program in the event of a disarmament conference, it was disclosed today.

The committee had previously refused to grant this power and demanded the inclusion of time limits in any program adopted.

Committee members, in making known the committee plan to reverse itself, said that Mr. Coolidge is insistent upon both demands.

That the committee may also yield in the time limit controversy was indicated by a statement of Rep. Britton, Republican of Illinois, that he was satisfied to accede to the White House proposal. As ranking Republican on the committee he led the fight for a definite time limit on the ground that it was the only way to avoid creation of a "paper navy."

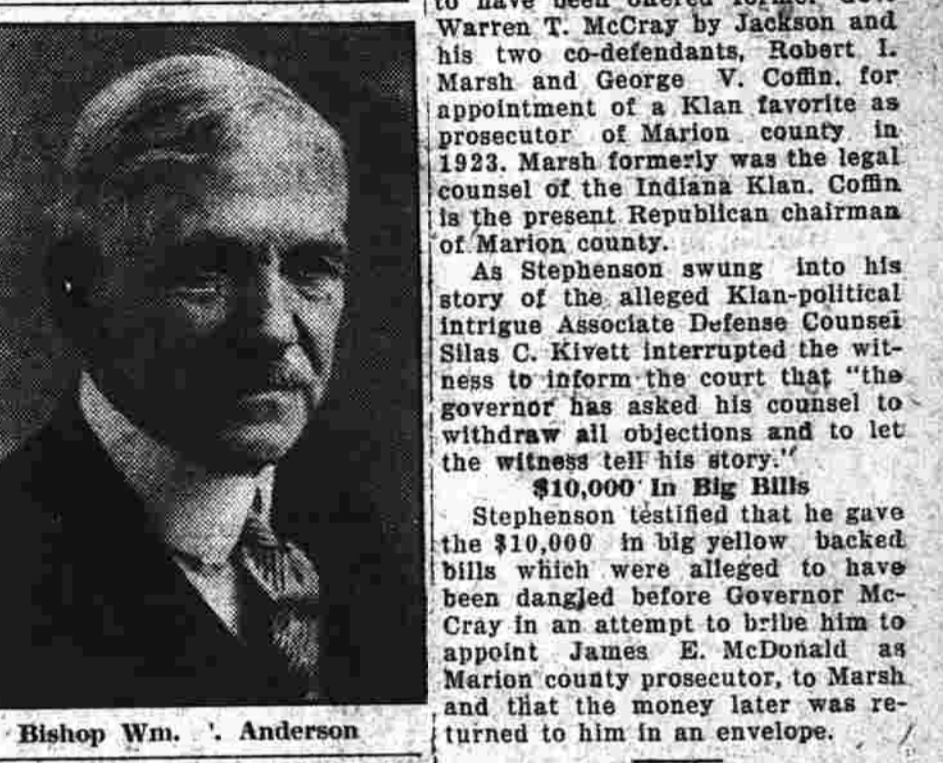

President Coolidge, according to committee members who have talked with him, believes that the 1921 renewal of the Washington naval arms limitation conference may bring forth results, and that it is highly important for the president to have power to stop American ship-building.

With this decision, the "Big Navy" fight confronting Congress apparently has resolved itself into a blanket acceptance of the Wilbur $740,000,000 program without time limit or the adoption of a modified program which would be certain of completion.

400 FATHERS, SONS ON DINNER CRUISE South Methodist Club Affair Proves to Be Huge Success—Bishop Here.

The U. S. S. Friendship docked at the South Methodist church last evening at 11 o'clock after carrying 400 Manchester fathers and sons on a five hour cruise through the harbor of good fellowship. Bishop William F. Anderson, admiral for the "cruise," charted the course of right living for the youngsters in his address of the evening and George E. Keith acted ing as skipper saw to it that the ship kept to the deep waters of good fun.

Few, if any local social affairs, or men's banquets at least, have ever equaled this Father and Son dinner of last night in any way. The size of the gathering was within five of what the committee had planned for. The sociability displayed has never been eclipsed here. The dinner and service were tip-top and the address of Bishop Anderson and the entertainment program were in classes by themselves.

At six o'clock a reception was tendered Bishop Anderson. The guests were introduced to the bishop by A. L. Crowell, Rev. Cooper and George O. Nichols. A half hour of sociability was enjoyed in the chapel and music room of the church until Skipper Keith gave orders to line up for the march to the ship's dining room.

Then the guests got their first glimpse of the great amount of work that had been done in preparation for the big dinner. The entire banquet hall of the church had been transformed to give the appearance of a deck of an ocean liner. Remains were hanging everywhere. The front of the hall a ship's deck had been built. The wheel was placed in the center of

After collapsing three times in the witness stand, Miss Mills was finally removed and the government unexpectedly closed its case, relying on the evidence that it has introduced in two days for a conviction against Buckley.

Miss Mills told the court of the first visits of Buckley to the Mills home and of his intense jealousy of any other attentions shown to Grace Mills, the dead girl.

400 FATHERS, SONS ON DINNER CRUISE

Those at the head table wore the typical French sailor cap. At each plate was a handsome souvenir program bearing the photographs of Bishop Anderson, Rev. Joseph Cooper and the entertainers. Each son was presented with a handsome red leather card and identification case.

The Dinner A large group of ladies of the church under Miss Myrtle Fryer and Miss Helen Keith served the dinner. The menu card listed the items as "Fruit of the Tree and Vine—Our Boys"—Friendship Nuts, Queen Olives, Sweet Pickles, "Chicken Soup a la Methodist"—Chicken a la Kings, prepared by Queens fit for Kings, Mashed Spuds, Green Peas, Carrots, "Manchester Salad," City Rolls, "Iceship Luscious," Petal Pours and "Fishes a la Mocha." The "iceship Luscious" was ice cream formed like a battleship carrying

Rev. Joseph Cooper out the ocean cruise idea. During the dinner Bill Waddell's Orchestra rendered popular selections. When the ship was resting at anchor George O. Nichols, president of the Men's Friendship club, under whose auspices the affair was held, gave the address of welcome.

Honor Rev. Cooper A storm was depicted with the aid of Piper the Drummer's drum, a piece of tin and a flexible electric light switch. The storm finally blew the lights out and Rev. Myron E. Genter, district superintendent, was forced to speak in the dark. It was fortunate that he did, because when the lights finally came on Rev. Genter had unveiled a painting of Rev. Joseph Cooper which he presented to the pastor of the local church as a gift from his admirers. The district superintendent lauded Rev. Cooper as a leader of men and one who was following his conscience in seeking other fields to work in after having served six years here. The painting was by a Hartford artist and Rev. Cooper will sit for the artist so that he can retouch it and make a better likeness of the subject. Rev. Cooper responded in his usual brilliant manner, thanking his friends for their kind thoughts.

George E. Keith then introduced Bishop Anderson who was scheduled on the program to have a "Chat with the Boys." Bishop Anderson told the youngsters a few conundrums and suggested that they form a Swiss yodeling club. The bishop demonstrated that he could yodel pretty well himself.

Bishop Anderson talk to the boys stressed the idea that the greatest joy in life is that of having a good honest task to do and working hard at it. He characterized God as being the great worker and urged the youngsters to find something to do with a purpose. He said that he himself had kept young by keeping in touch with young people. He has seven children and 11 grand children he told his audience. He condemned the desire to reach the stage when there would be nothing to do. He said he would rather have five years at a chance at doing something than have 25 years of nothing to do.

The bishop told a parable of the barnyard in which he cited what the cow, hen and horse did for mankind as opposed to what the hog did for man. The hog, he said, didn't give anything until he died and even then it had to be taken from him. In telling this fable Bishop Anderson remarked that this country has become a milk drinking nation since the milk has gone sour and this country now consumes five billion pounds of liquid milk a year.

Face the Fight! Bishop Anderson concluded his address telling about an American soldier during the late war who was hopelessly injured. Just before the soldier passed away he remarked "Well nurse, this is what I came here for." The bishop believed this remark indicative of the Christian character. "Sbun not the struggle, face it!" were his closing words.

Following the address of the bishop John Rigazio, accordionist, Ernest K. Schlegel, magician, and George Gillette, humorist, entertained for over an hour. Their efforts were well received by both young and old. The party closed with the singing of "Homeward Bound."

Following are the telegrams which were read during the ship's "Cruise": To Winston Bendall: Tell your father to bring in the milk and put the morning paper on the kitchen table when he comes home from the party. Mrs. Fred Bendall. Message from the chef: Boys don't overeat. Remember this is an open voyage and you can't always eat your cake and keep it, too. From Boston. Some time ago, Bishop Anderson gave a little coloring to a group of boys up one of the Boston streets. For the sake of conversation, the Bishop said: "Well sonny, I suppose you are a good Methodist?" whereupon the little fellow looked up and innocently replied: "Heavens no Man. I's a nigger. That's bad enough."

John said: "Take the bet." Fred said: "Go ahead." John started. "Now I lay me down to sleep whereupon Fred handed him the dollar saying: "You win."

Rockville

32nd Annual Firemen's Fair

Plans have been completed and everything is in readiness for the 32nd annual fair of the Rockville Fire Department. No stone has been left unturned in an effort to make this one of the biggest fairs the department has ever had. The fair will open Thursday evening, and continue until midnight Saturday. This year the entertainment program will be on a higher scale than previous years and is furnished by the Springfield, Entertainment Bureau. The opening night will feature Jack Griffin, the musical Hobo; Casey and Howard, dancers; and Honore Savaria, pianist and singer. Friday's program is equally interesting featuring the Philharmonic quartet who make their initial appearance in Rockville. John Cyrclewicz, a Rockville juvenile, will surprise his audience with his marimba playing and is considered by all who have heard and seen his act to be a "boy wonder." Saturday evening will bring to a close the big event with a gala entertainment with a program including snappy numbers by Pernetts Brothers, accordion players; the Cardinals, dancers; and again Honore Savario, pianist and singer.

Following each night's entertainment dancing will be enjoyed and Ernest Rock and his orchestra will furnish the music, with special numbers, on the opening night, and Buckminster's orchestra will play on Friday and Saturday. Both modern and old-fashioned dance numbers are on the program and it is expected that the Town Hall will be filled to capacity all three nights.

HOOVER IN OHIO

It would be a decided mistake, it seems to us, for Connecticut Republicans to get the impression that Herbert Hoover is entering the Ohio primaries with any notion of capturing a majority of the delegates from that state to the national convention. If they did entertain that idea they would be almost certain to fall into the error, after the Buckeye state primaries, of believing that Hoover had suffered a serious defeat and that his candidacy had been discredited thereby. There is no New England state in which there is any understanding of politics as the game is played in the three states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. What we don't know about machine methods, as they have been evolved in the nearer mid-west, is a lot. We have nothing in these parts comparable to them—for which let us be duly thankful. Politics in Ohio consists of intrigue. The churches are mixed up in it to an extent that would amaze Connecticut folk. Klanism is mixed up in it. The rum trade is mixed up in it. The service corporations are in it up to their necks. The Anti-Saloon League fills an important roll. Contractors are active in it, and sometimes the courts are not clear of it. And between these curiously assorted forces the log rolling and combination forming that go on are amazing.

Of this intrigue and "practical politics" the orthodox Senator Willis occupies a place at the vortex. Outside of Cleveland and Cincinnati the present alignment known as the Willis machine controls pretty much the whole state of Ohio. Willis has been in hope of making his control of the state delegation unanimous. But his grip on the Cleveland and Cincinnati primaries is not at all absolute and there are possibilities for Mr. Hoover in that situation. He might pick up a dozen delegates, and a dozen delegates at a crucial point might easily enough mean the difference between winning the nomination or losing it. So it is, in all probability, to get just about these dozen delegates that he is making his Ohio fight—not at all in any hope of breaking the power of the Willis machine. If Mr. Hoover doesn't get any delegates at all in Ohio he will have taken a beating that may do no good to his prestige. If he gets ten he will have achieved a substantial victory. If he gets twenty, which is regarded by insiders out there as unlikely, he will have given Willis a beautiful drubbing and put all other candidates to flight before the national convention opens.

NEEDLESS DANGER

Now that Manchester people have discovered, much to their surprise, that parking restrictions are neither ruinous to their happiness nor destructive of their sense of duty as freemen, perhaps the time is not so far off when there could be accomplished, without starting a small revolution, the remedying of a situation which sooner or later is bound to result in a terrible tragedy if it is permitted to continue. Due generally to the fact that Main street, from the Center to Depot Square, is called on to carry practically all the north-and-south traffic of the town, and particularly to the Connecticut Company's neglect of its truckage over that stretch, the thoroughfare is one in which no avoidable complication, contributing to the dangers of the situation, should be permitted to exist. Every parked car along that stretch of street is a complication. Main street is just narrow enough so that an automobile, trying to pass between a parked car and a moving trolley, is practically certain to be pinched, with disaster as the result. And it is just wide enough so that strangers frequently overestimate the amount of room they have and try just that stunt. It is probable that there isn't a week goes by in which fifty accidents are not averted solely through the alertness of the motormen, often by sudden jamming on of brakes as upsets the equilibrium of every passenger in their cars. Someday, it seems inevitable, there is going to be a deadly crash. And after that it is equally inevitable that the edict will go forth, "No parking." Perhaps it would be quite as well not to wait till two or three persons are killed. Most of the cars parked along Main street between the indicated points are left standing in front of private residences that have driveways beside them, where the automobile might be parked, in much greater safety to themselves and to the driving public. And in any event there are plenty of side streets.

The danger of the situation is of course immensely increased by the abominable condition of the pavement close to the rails of the Connecticut company. This not only makes impossible the adroit handling of automobiles in an emergency, but constitutes an independent danger, for any driver who guides his car as he would over ordinarily well set trolley tracks is liable at any time to lose a tire or a wheel, trapped in the gaps between rail and pavement.

But any remedy of this latter danger, at the hands of the Connecticut company, is as likely as a visit from the Martians. And in the meantime the suspension of parking would help to reduce the perils of this mile or more of road.

HITTING THE FENCES

There is a marked tendency of late for legislatures to try to undo some of the evil that has grown up through the spawning and re-spawning of court technicalities in the administration of the criminal laws. The Baumes law provision for mandatory life sentences for fourth time offenders is one case in which the legislative branch has imposed an unescapable obligation upon the judiciary, and it is universally admitted that the arrangement has worked well in bringing about a large decrease in crime in New York state. A proposed federal statute bringing the activities of fences under federal jurisdiction when stolen goods are transported from one state to another is another promising measure. And now New York plans the adoption of two amendments to the Baumes series, both of which are aimed at receivers of loot. One of these would make admissible the evidence of the thief against the fence; the other would hold the purchaser of stolen goods to accountability for a diligent inquiry into the right of the vendor to offer such goods for sale.

These laws aimed at the fences are blows at the vitals of the business of theft. It is practically impossible to eliminate robbery of the "big fellow"—the receiver who finances crime and in many cases directs it—is permitted to remain practically immune. He can always get new tools to do his bidding if the old ones are killed off or jailed.

But laws passed by one state are not going to be of much benefit to other states, in this relation. In fact, it is easy enough to imagine a contrary result. If New York, for instance, makes it unhealthy for a fence to do business in that state, he will be quick to remove the scene of his operations to Connecticut or New Jersey if these states prove to be lacking in laws of similar potency.

For some reason never made very clear, the state prosecutors of Connecticut opposed the passage of the "Baumes" habitual criminal act in this state at the last session of the Legislature and the matter was passed up. So far, it must be admitted criminalism has not obviously increased in this commonwealth for lack of a Baumes law. But if New York makes a really successful legislative drive against the fences, and if our own laws against receivers of stolen goods are found to be less effective, there will very surely be need of attention to the matter unless this state is to become a refuge for fences, preying through their subordinate gangs on the wealth not only of New York but of this state.

Such measures as New York is taking to lessen crime do not return the criminals. They merely make them very much more careful or drive them out to operate elsewhere. Connecticut cannot afford to be that elsewhere for New York's crooks.

NEW "SPOKESMAN"

It is a great pity that President Coolidge places such a high value on reticence. It is dignified, no doubt, for the President of the United States to be extremely guarded in his speech. It makes for confusion and misunderstanding when his opinions are made public by other and not always disinterested persons. Representative Britten of Illinois, ranking member of the House Naval Committee, after a conference with Mr. Coolidge, comes out with an announcement that the President wants the big navy bill passed substantially without the

THE EYES OF THE BRAVE BY BRUCE CATTON

WHEN Commander Richard E. Byrd sets out on his airplane jaunt to the south pole next fall, he will be running into dangers as great as a man can find in this carefully regulated age. Yet he is having no trouble recruiting companions. On the contrary, more than 200 men have written him asking for places in his expedition. There is no doubt that, if he wanted to, he could raise a force of 10,000 almost overnight. Much of this is probably due to the nature of his projected trip. There is a fascination about polar exploration, a fascination that must date back to childhood days, when we read thrilling tales of hardy voyagers who were locked in the ice for months on end, and who struggled ashore over treacherous ice floes and made their way to civilization after incredible hardships.

But more potent than that, probably, is the glamor that has invested Byrd himself. In the middle ages, great heroes—all great heroes were warriors in those days—swiftly gathered around them numbers of ambitious fighting men. There was a sort of common agreement that a man could get the most out of life by attaching himself to some famous fighter, sharing dangers with him and, as it were, imbibing with him the same sharp zest that life gives to the adventurous. It seems as if the same sort of motive were active now. For they are glamorous men, these Byrds and Lindberghs and Chamberlains. It would seem that they have found some secret that the rest of us have not discovered. They must have clearer eyes than life, for not peace and soft contentment, but danger and hardship and the peril of sudden death.

Length of days does not seem to interest them greatly. They prefer to concentrate their lives into brief episodes; by risking greatly and daring greatly, they know that they will live intensely and fully. The highest gifts of life, for them, do not flourish in crowded cities or in peaceful, sunlit valleys; rather they are to be found in the darkness, in the cold, over the ocean or down under the world in the land of eternal ice.

And who can say that these men are wrong? Perhaps the 200 young men who asked Byrd for permission to accompany him to the south pole were wiser than we think. To face the ultimate realities of danger and hunger and death; to face them voluntarily, with a smile, for no prize but the consciousness that one's manhood is being tested; this, perhaps, is as good a way to use life as can be found.

WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER Washington, Feb. 15.—Senator J. McWhorter today summoned the newspaper correspondents to his office and announced his candidacy for the presidency. He is a fellow patriot of Big Bill Thompson, not quite so noisy but otherwise of almost the same identical strain—political pander who wouldn't, in all probability, care a hoot if he did get the country into a war so long as he obtained some notoriety. We submit that it would be infinitely preferable to have the President do his own talking rather than have it done, on so vital a matter as this huge navy plan, by anybody like this Chicago contractor-politician of the Bill Thompson school.

PRESTON PICKED TO HANDLE NEWSMEN AT CONVENTION CITY

Houston.—James D. Preston, superintendent of the senate press gallery in Washington for the past 51 years, is expected here shortly to take charge of preparing arrangements for press correspondents at the democratic National Convention in June. Nearly 1,000 newspaper men are expected here to "cover" the convention. Special correspondents from London, Berlin, Paris and other foreign countries will be here to tell their nations of the proceedings. Leased wires will flash the news to all corners of the globe, as telephone and telegraph companies install their finest equipment for handling the news of the convention.

During Preston's active participation in political meetings has come the telegraph, telephone, radio and talking moving pictures. Every convention something new and different has been developed. Mr. Preston said, commenting on the fact that talking moving pictures will graphically carry the doings of the convention to all parts of the country. Mr. Preston is acquainted with one or more newspapermen in practically every city in the United States in any size. He probably knows more reporters than any man in public life.

FACTS ABOUT CONNECTICUT Compiled by the CONNECTICUT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

(66) Connecticut's Corset Industry. Eighteen factories in Connecticut produce one-fourth of the corsets manufactured in the United States. The largest corset manufacturing center in the world is Bridgeport, to which city in 1876 two brothers, specialists in women's diseases, brought their corset manufacturing experiment from New York state.

The latest available data on the industry place Connecticut second only to New York in the value of product. Connecticut was worth $18,937,559 and New York's $25,505,993 during 1922. New Jersey ranked third and Illinois fourth. Massachusetts had a product in this industry valued at $4,493,518. The total value for the country was $77,124,840.

During 1920, Connecticut produced 56% of the country's total. The cash value of Connecticut's output totaled $6,845,964. The total for the United States was $14,878,116.

There are fewer persons employed in corset factories today than during 1900, when there were 5,755 wage earners. During 1922 there was an average of 4,047. Wages during 1920 totaled $1,795,198 and during 1922, $3,305,771. From 1900 to 1922 the value of corsets made by Connecticut manufacturers increased 175%, whereas the increase during that period for all states was 418%.

THE LAST COMMAND PLAYS STATE TODAY

Emil Jannings Starring Vehicle Here Today and Tomorrow With "Racing Romeo."

Not only is the State presenting Emil Jannings, the incomparable actor, in "The Last Command" today and tomorrow, but another picture has been added to the program, "The Racing Romeo," starring Red Grange.

In his newest picture Jannings is doing something he has never before attempted and he has made quite a success of it. He is pictured as a grand duke of the imperial government of Russia, one of the most powerful men in the uniform of the Czar.

His word has become law and his men follow his commands implicitly—until the red flag of the revolution flies over his head. Jannings as the masterful duke who fights single handed against his own men is a masterful character.

He is an actor from first to last and in the picture he is the principal figure, holding the reins of his sheer acting power. His acting is flawless and a product of only a man like Jannings. He has added more laurels to his crown through this picture.

"The Racing Romeo" shows Red Grange, famous football star, as the pilot of a racing plane, out for a record and a girl. In spite of the machinations of a number of villains, he wins both.

The program at the State on Friday and Saturday includes "Little Mickey Grogan," with Frankie Darro, Jackie Coogan, and the rest of the leading role. The second feature on the bill is "The Silver Slave," with Irene Rich in the name part.

POPULAR CIGARETTE'S SALES JUMP 300 P. C.

One Brand Alone Has Doubled and Redoubled in Production During Five Years.

From seven billion smoked in 1922 to twenty-eight billion smoked in 1927—sales doubled and redoubled all within five years. These are the startling figures announced by the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Company for their ever-popular Chesterfield Cigarette.

This amazing growth, representing a gain of 300 per cent, signifies not only the universal preference for the cigarette as the smokers' choice, but the acceptance of this one particular brand as the popular favorite.

It is conservatively estimated that Chesterfield has acquired at least a million new users in a little over a year—certainly convincing proof that finer quality and better taste is substantially recognized by the cigarette smoker, public.

This genuine testimonial for good tobacco and good blending is based largely on Chesterfield's particularly pleasing flavor and taste. As it is stated in the advertisements, Chesterfield's are "mild and yet they satisfy." In other words, the flavor has been so skillfully balanced as to eliminate any suggestion of harshness or bits, and yet leave enough richness and body to let a smoker know he's smoking.

Nor is Chesterfield's rapid growth limited to the boundaries of the United States. Sales reports have revealed that this brand is world-wide in its acceptance, as shown by the fact that in practically all the principal cities of the world it is found to be among the leading sellers.

In fact, Chesterfield's world-wide recognition has given rise to another new advertising slogan which truthfully asserts that "the sun never sets on Chesterfield's popularity"—with the added distinction that "Such popularity must be deserved" because of a taste and quality which won smokers the world over and will continue to win them because it is what they want.

In current advertising, Liggett & Myers is making strong use of their oft-repeated "platform," in which they declare over their signature that it is their honest belief "that the tobacco used in Chesterfield's Cigarettes are of the finer quality and hence of much better taste than in any other cigarette at the price."

NOISY (?) FORDS

Editor, The Herald:— I am severely concerned regarding the statement made by Attorney Frederick R. Manning in his defense of one Alonzo Foreman in the Manchester Police Court on the morning of Feb. 13, 1928.

The statement I refer to is the one in which our eloquent Mr. Manning draws his intelligent comparison between the noise made by a carpenter driving three penny nails and that made by Ford automobiles.

Why Mr. Manning was forced to indulge in such a vague and unreasonable comparison is far beyond my powers of reasoning. I am frank to admit that Ford cars are not the quietest work of mechanism designed by engineers in years past and I am just as frank to say that I have had the pleasure of acquainting myself with the fact that other types of automobiles are no quieter and no smoother in operation than is the Ford.

In confidence if such could be gained from Mr. Manning I feel sure that he himself has become acquainted with this particular fact.

Perhaps after driving his own particular brand of car Mr. Manning has had this proven to him. The old make of Ford was noisy we all admit but despite this noise they were the source of much enjoyment to a large number of people who unfortunately are not financially able to own cars of higher price as is our good friend Mr. Manning.

It would be wise for Mr. Manning to remember that a great many of our legal advisors are now or recently have been owners and operators of the "Noisy Ford."

I am glad Mr. Manning lives "in the country" for I am sure that if his residence were in a prominent section of the town, he would find himself suffering a severe nervous derangement during the coming seasons when we fill the huge number of orders we now have on hand. With kind thanks to Mr. Manning for his sincere assistance in announcing or perhaps denouncing the Ford car. DENNIS P. COLEMAN.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW AT THE CIRCLE THURSDAY

Three Acts and Double Feature Bill at Oak Street Theater.

Pat O'Malley and Art Acord divide honors in the bill scheduled for the Circle theater tomorrow and Friday. Three acts of semi-professional vaudeville will be seen tomorrow. One picture is a Blue Streak Western and the other is a story of the East Side of New York.

"Spurs and Saddles" is the title of the Western and "The Bowery Cinderella" is the O'Malley starring vehicle.

Mr. O'Malley plays the part of Larry Dugan, a young newspaper man very much in love. His vis-à-vis is Nora Denahy, played by Gladys Huette, a young girl from the Bowery who is trying to get along by working as a model in a Fifth Avenue shop for the swells. Her pretty face and figure bring a millionaire's admiration to her, and howaday's New York girls don't stop merely with admiration. This one, played by Ernest Hillard, tried to go further—and that is what makes the story.

Though Art Acord, Blue streak western star, is extremely popular in the United States and abroad, his stronghold as far as box offices are concerned is in South America. There he reigns supreme, it is said.

Acord's latest picture, "Spurs and Saddles," will probably make many South American hearts flutter, though it will be more than a year before the Latins have an opportunity to see this drama. Exhibition dates for the picture are so far booked ahead that it will take the entire twelve months to finish up its showing in this country. Others in the cast of "Spurs and Saddles" are Fay Wray, Wampas Baby star, J. Gordon Russell, C. E. Anderson, Ben Dyer, Mone Montague, George Marion and Les Bates. Cliff Smith directed.

TOUGH ON BERNARD.

"There's the girl Bernard broke off his engagement with." "Oh, really? She looks sad; do you think she's taking it to heart?" "I don't know; but she's taking it to court."—Birmingham Post.

VAUDEVILLE PLEASURES

CROWD AT RIALTO To Be Repeated Again Tonight—King's Daughters Benefit Tomorrow.

That Manchester theater-goers are more than satisfied with Manager "Bill" Campbell's vaudeville presentations could be easily proven at the Rialto theater last evening, judging from the large crowd and the enthusiastic manner in which the stage show was accepted. This splendid program will be offered at the Rialto again tonight for the final time.

"Tex" Hartwell proved himself to be one of the cleverest entertainers seen here in a long time. "Tex" is a professional lariat twirler and former member of the famous 401 Rando Show.

The two Rando Shows, the famous pair of athletic young gentlemen and a pretty girl with an unusual pleasing voice, drew large rounds of applause with their singing and dancing act.

Charley Johnston, exponent of the "Rialto-acordian" offered a rapid-fire routine of melodies and came very near to the point of "stopping the show." Charley plays his numbers "acordian" to Whiteman and Lopez.

The film feature is "Alias the Deacon," adapted from the famous Broadway stage success of the same name. It is a Universal-Jewel special production and features

A THOUGHT

Fools make a mock at sin.— Prov. 14:9.

Men are so necessarily fools that it would be being a fool in a higher strain of folly, not to be a fool.—Pascal.

What Doctors Think of the Laxative Habit

What do YOU do when the bowels need a little assistance? If you clear-up the condition with some laxative made with CASCARETS, there is nothing better for the system—for the blood.

But if you don't KNOW the laxative you have learned to depend on is of harmless cascara, here's some truly valuable advice: The bark of a tree called cascara is the most marvelous conditioner mankind has yet found. It stimulates the bowel's muscular action, but does NOT weaken. A violent laxative forms the laxative HABIT. You always need more on the morrow. With cascara, you don't. Its gentle influence carries on some times for days. With less and less need of any aid, as time goes on.

So, the very next time you feel sluggish, take only a candy cascade. Delightful to the taste, sweet and acceptable to any stomach, and just as efficient as the powerful purgative that fairly paralyze the peristaltic walls of one's intestines. The only habit you'll get from cascara is the one of going weeks and months without ANY help of the kind. And when you do invoke their aid again, the same small dose suffices. Any doctor can tell you about cascara; and any druggist has the candy cascara.—Adv.

TOAST Some of its many uses

Webster defines toast as bread dried and browned by a fire. Doesn't toast mean more than just that so you? Words cannot encompass the variety of toast with its appeal to the sight, golden brown and glistening with yellow butter, or its appeal to the senses of taste and of odor in its fragrant aroma of heat-changed starch. Its nutlike, sweet flavor enhanced by the shining coat of luscious country butter.

- TOAST I—Served dry or with butter for breakfast. Eaten with omelets or eggs in various forms. Eaten with jelly, marmalade, honey or fruit. II—Served dry as a foundation for creamed dishes. Creamed chipped beef Creamed chicken Creamed eggs Poached fish Creamed fish, such as codfish, tuna, salmon, crabmeat, lobster, halibut, oysters. Lobster a la Newburgh Chicken a la King Veal a la Reine Welsh Rabbit Rinkum Tiddy, English monkey or other cheese rarebits. III—Served as the basis of the popular "salad" sandwiches or club sandwiches. IV—Foundation for appetizers or canapés. Bread, with the crusts removed, cut into rounds, triangles or other fancy shapes and toasted or breaded with highly seasoned pastes or covered with spiced fish, meat and vegetable bits. V—At tea time. Toast spread with butter and sprinkled with sugar and cinnamon which is allowed to melt under the flame. Toasted Raisin bread Toasted muffins Toasted currant buns VI—Decoration and foundation. Toast points, triangular pieces of toast on which such foods as oysters in blankets, veal birds, sweetbread dishes, mushrooms, chicken livers, filets, steaks, and chops are placed for serving. VII—Bedtime Milk toast or cream toast for those who suffer from nervousness or insomnia. VIII—French Toast Bread dipped in a mixture of beaten egg salt and milk, then sauteed in fat. Not a true toast but classified with toast. Served for breakfast, luncheon or dinner. With bacon for a main course. With jelly, syrup or honey for dessert course. IX—Zwieback Slices of sweetened rolls or bread slowly dried and browned in the oven.

HARDY DIED POOR London, Feb. 5.—Despite the tremendous sale of his books throughout the world, the late Thomas Hardy died a comparatively poor man, in the opinion of Dorset people who knew him intimately. When his will is made public, it is believed, it will show that the late novelist was in moderate circumstances. Hardy lived very simply and probably never spent more than $5,000 a year, a large part of which went for the upkeep of his home. The novelist was not a "business man" and many of his foreign copyrights were not properly guarded, which accounts for the smallness of his income in comparison with the popularity of his novels.

By this rule of procedure do men reveal in a crisis their chivalric ideal of protection. In less conspicuous ways the same ideal is expressed in their every day conduct. In taking life insurance, for instance. Over seventy billions in force testifies to the American husband and father's feeling of responsibility for the protection and well being of dependents.

 New Haven, Conn.—Sixty years of conferring the doctor of philosophy degree has caused Yale University to figure up and discover that 1,374 individuals have been given that degree here, including thirty-two college presidents, of whom sixteen are still in active service.
 Harvard leads the list of outside colleges having Ph. D. degrees from Yale with 47, while Columbia has 40. Yale naturally has 516 of her own graduates holding that degree from the institution here.

Old Folks Say Doctor Caldwell was Right

The basis of treating sickness has not changed since Dr. Caldwell left Medical College in 1875, nor since he placed on the market the laxative prescription he had used in his practice, known to druggists and the public since 1892, as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.
 Then, the treatment of constipation, indigestion, headaches, mental depression, indigestion, sour stomach and other indispositions that result from constipation was entirely by means of simple vegetable laxatives, herbs and roots. These are still the basis of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which is a combination of senna and other mild laxative herbs, with pepsin.
 The simpler the remedy for constipation, the safer for the child and for you, and the better for the general health of all. And as you can get results in a mild and safe way by using Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, why take chances with strong drugs?
 A bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will last a family several months, and all can use it. It is good for the baby because pleasant to the taste, gentle in action, and free from narcotics. In the proper dose, given in the directions, it is equally effective at all ages. Elderly people will find it especially ideal. All drug stores have the generous bottles.

 We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.—Adv.

CANARY MURDER CASE

By S. S. VAN DINE AUTHOR OF THE BENSON MURDER CASE

CHARACTERS PHIL VANCE Attorney at Law, District Attorney of New York County...

THE STORY THUS FAR Because Skeel's prints were found in the "Canary's" apartment...

CHAPTER XXVII AS he walked across town Vance explained. "That first morning, when we were inspecting the Canary's rooms..."

"There was no other photograph about the place, and this one bore the usual sentimental inscription, 'Ever thine, and signed 'Aly's.'"

The Belafeld was a small, expensive apartment-house in East Thirty-third, which, to judge from the guests to be seen in the Americanized Queen Anne lobby, catered to the well-off sporting set.

Vance sent his card up to Miss La Fosse, and received the message that she would see him in a few minutes. The few minutes, however, developed into three-quarters of an hour, and it was nearly noon when a resplendent bell-boy came to escort us to the lady's apartment.

Nature had endowed Miss La Fosse with many of its arts, and these that nature had omitted, Miss La Fosse herself had supplied. She was slender and blonde. Her large blue eyes were heavily lashed, but though she looked at one with a wide-eyed stare, she was unable to disguise their sophistication. Her toilet had been made with elaborate care; and as I looked at her, I could not help thinking what an excellent model she would have been for Cheret's pastel posters.

"So you are Mr. Vance," she cooed. "I've often seen your name in Town Topics." Vance gave a shudder. "And this is Mr. Van Dine," he said sweetly, "a mere attorney, who, thus far, has been denied the pages of that fashionable weekly."

"Who are they thinking of arresting?" She asked the question with scarcely a movement of her features.

invitation an impressive ceremonial. "I really don't know why I should have received you. But I suppose you called on business. Perhaps you wish me to appear at a society bazaar, or something of the kind. But I'm so busy, Mr. Vance. You simply can't imagine how occupied I am with my work."

Home Page Editorial Pity the Poorly Formed Woman

By Olive Roberts Barton

Many who have read the tragic fate of the latest victim of plastic surgery, a girl who lost both of her legs in the process of having them straightened, are saying that she might have known better and turn thumbs down on sympathy.

As a matter of fact she is deserving of our deepest pity. There is probably nothing so serious as the case of a woman as physical imperfection. Usually such a complex is out of all proportion to the cause, but it is none the less a source of much misery and has its beginning in the sensitive soul of childhood, when parents perhaps too audibly lament a slight deformity.

These are the commonest, but not always, the contributory causes of over-sensitiveness in adults. One outstanding and probably the cruellest reason for unnecessary suffering is the over-emphasis we make today of physical beauty in women. It is so unfair and so unkind to the less fortunate.

Women in general are more sensitive to bad contour than to imperfect features. They are more sensitive of being too fat or too thin, too tall or too short, too thick-waisted, too square-shouldered, too spiky-kneed, or heavily-calved, than they are of facial blemishes.

This is the best argument I know for individuality of style in dressing. Why does fat Mrs. Jones have to wear the trig houses and short, snappy skirts of slender Miss Jones? The present standard is set for the slender woman and for a certain span of years well under the forty limit.

MARYE and MOM Their Letters

Sorry I haven't had time to answer your darling old scolding letter before this. But Norman has been just too "low" to be neglected. We've had some real heart-to-heart talks but he insists he never will forgive me for marrying Alan.

Of course I know your objections to my going out with him appear sensible, to you but they hand me a laugh, mother sweet. We youngsters, as you call us, just can't see why we should be held responsible for mere possibilities.

One of the Car Shovers is performing just outside the office window. He has managed to push a properly parked car right in front of a fire plug, and he himself is all nicely ensconced in the good parking space which the plug, a pink ticket on the seat, and another car serene in the place he found with such difficulty earlier in the day.

Car Shovers are a despicable breed of humanity who flourish everywhere. Their activities are not confined to pushing cars. Car Shovers are the people who refuse to take their turn at the end of a long line before the theater or railway station ticket window.

Car Shovers are the people who won't wait their turn in the store but insist that they are ahead of someone who has been waiting fully twice as long as they have. Car Shovers are the people who pick your grapes and apples and pears and flowers and get out a lawsuit if they miss one squash.

One of the most beautiful pieces of property I have ever seen has been utterly ruined by Car Shovers. Some vacant lots skirt a river valley with wooded slopes leading down to the river.

Massey's Arnold's College Athletes Score Hit Here

COMMUNITY CLUB WINS 27 TO 24 BUT GIRLS ARE DEFEATED 34-27

Packed House Roundly Applauds Triple Feature Program At Harding School Gym—Best Program of Kind in Years—Interesting Battle Between Rival Centers in Each Game—Billy Cook Stars For New Haven on Court and Gym.

ARNOLD'S COLLEGE BEAT YALE AGGREGATION 37-27

The Arnold's College basketball team which was defeated by the Community Club here last night 27 to 24, defeated Yale University the night before by a score of 37 to 27. However, the game did not count on the official schedule of either team.

The fact that the Community Club can perform a feat like it did last night has given rise to the hopes of North End fans that their team will win the town championship from the Rec Five later in the season.

Olson and "Tommy" Taylor. They did all the scoring. The latter deserves much credit for winning the game. Rushed into the fray by Coach Massey at the start of the fourth quarter when New Haven's chances appeared hope to rise, "Tommy" injected lots of pep in her team and scored seven points herself.

Mary Drew Outstanding

The outstanding player on the visiting team was Mary Drew, former playground instructor at the West Side Recreation Center. She displayed some of the best basketball ball that has been seen here in a long time. Her boyish style of play reminded one of Dorothy Crane when she attracted New England wide fame with the old Rec Girls team years ago. Mary has the knack of dribbling and pivoting around an opponent down to perfection.

All this praise despite the fact that Meriam Welles, Mary's opponent, outscored her and was the outstanding performer for the Community Girls. Meriam never played a better game of basketball than she did last night. At least this writer has never seen her so better. She was in there fighting every minute and seldom caught a pass standing on the floor. Her accuracy for the hoop is shown by the fact that she caged seven field goals and three fouls. Miss Drew spoke highly about the ability of Miss Welles after the game. Ethel Richmond chipped in three buckets while Viola Shearer's defense play was splendid despite the fact that she was banished on personal fouls.

In the final game of the evening, the visitors also got away with a rush. The score stood 10 to 0 before Herb Kerr broke the ice with a sensational long shot. At this stage of the game, it appeared that the Community Club was in for a steady and formed a defense that New Haven found most difficult to pierce. Halftime score was 13 to 12 for the visitors. Al Sloman, who has never been put out of a State League game on personal fouls, met this fate in the early part of the game and McCarthy replaced him.

Gallagher went in for McLaughlin in the second half and this seemed to help the Community Club baskets and soon others chipped in baskets to help him with the result

Both Great Battles

The defeat which the Community Girls suffered from a pick of the State League was to the tune of 34 to 27. The Community Club quintet managed to eke out a 27 point victory over Arnold's College in the final tilt of the evening. Both were hair-raising contests and had the crowd in an uproar. Herb Angell refereed both games. The basketball and gymnastic program lasted more than three hours leaving only about a half an hour for dancing. After the conclusion of the festivities, the forty members of the visiting party who made the trip in a large bus, were taken to the "White House" where lunch was served.

The main reason for the defeat of the Community Girls was because the visitors got a nine-point lead almost before the ball was thrown up at center. Even with this handicap, the locals succeeded in pulling the score up to 14 to 9 at the quarter. In the next period, there was but little scoring. Arnold's made but a single point and halftime found the score 14 to 13.

Rally Proves Futile

In the third quarter, Manchester outscored its opponents 10 to 5 and it was apparent that their efforts were to be rewarded by victory. The score at the start of the final stanza stood 23 to 20 for the Community lassies. But in the final period, the visitors "stepped on the gas" as the Community Girls searched in vain for the accelerator. The result was that our girls were out-pointed 14 to 4.

Four players stood out in the exhibition given by the Collegians, Mary Drew, Jennie Kasper, Edith

Contractors Practically Sure of Commercial Title

Manchester Construction Company virtually clinched first place honors in the Commercial Bowling League last night by trimming the High School Faculty three straight games. All of which means that Watkins Brothers will have to win all three games from the contractors next week to tie for first place, a feat that while not impossible is far from improbable.

Watkins Brothers had no difficulty in winning all three games from the Trade school and the contractors found the High school easy picking in the first two games. The last game, however, was decided by six pins. The other two matches in the league were postponed. Following are the scores:

Al Dowd Matched With Joe Champ

Heavy boys, who have great vogue just now in amateur circles, have a prominent part in the card for the weekly amateur boxing show to be held by the Massachusetts A. C. at Foot Guard hall Thursday night. This show will be the last for two weeks as the Foot Guard cat and dog show will be occupying the hall next week.

Matchmaker Ed Hurley reports a record list of entries and the prospects of the best milling of the indoor season. When the heavyboys collide, there always says a "collide" and the intention is that there will be Thursday night with this bulky, hard-hitting amateurs entered:

Louis Cramel, Joe Trues, Hotyoke; Ray Soren, Hartford; Mike Raefelle, Springfield; Ed Wimpfheimer, Bill Bruno, Barney Fox, Windsor Locks; "Weaver" Squires, Nelson Sharpe, Paul Groskirts, Hartford.

Waterbury, too, is sending a five-man team of heavies and light heavies, including Paddy Jones and Lucien Lariviere, who now has grown to the light heavyweight poundage.

In addition there will be some special bouts. Chief among them the long-awaited clash between those great little fellows, Eddie Redd of Hartford and Art Chappelaine of Springfield.

In the Northern Connecticut tourney, there will be the finals for the featherweight title, Al Dowd of Rockville meeting Joe Champ of Hartford. In all, there will be ten to a dozen bouts.

Vic Morley of Hartford and Charley Stevens, also of Hartford, who fought a slashing battle at New Britain Friday night, are on the card.

AMATEUR BASEBALL TOURNAMENT PLANNED

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Plans for a national amateur baseball tournament fostered by the American Legion to stimulate greater interest in America's favorite pastime, were being perfected today in the office of Commissioner Kenaw W. Landis.

The proposed tourney will have the backing of both major leagues. This was promised yesterday at a meeting of the advisory council in the office of the commissioner. Organized baseball, it was agreed, would back the proposition to the extent of $50,000.

Among those meeting with Commissioner Landis were President E. S. Barnard of the American League, President John Heydler of the National League, and Don Sowers of Indianapolis, who represented the American Legion.

The plan in brief is this: The country will be divided into ten regions, six in the east, four in the west. Each state will be divided and local tourneys will be staged to select the state champions. These state champions will then clash in regional competition.

The six eastern districts will fight out the question of supremacy in their territory as will the four western districts. Finally the two surviving teams, one from the east and the other from the west, will come together in a give game "World Series" for the championship of the country.

All boys of school age, who have never played professional baseball, will be eligible to compete.

HUDKINS THE FAVORITE.

New York, Feb. 15.—Although Ace Hudkins was an eight to five favorite today to defeat Sammy Baker in their bout here Friday night, the odds probably will shift toward Baker because of doubt as to whether the Nebraska wildcat will be at his best at the stipulated weight of 147 pounds. The pair are in the featherweight limit because the supposed reward to the winner will be a bout here next month with Joe Dundee, of Baltimore, the champion.

CASE OF DR. FELTZER

Delayed action of the German athletic authorities in granting permission to Herr Doctor Otto Feltzer to exhibit his world's champion half-mile legs in this country put the officials of the Amateur Athletic Union in the well-known middle.

To refuse permission for the celebrated German medic to run in the United States would not be good diplomacy for the nation acting as his host and some of the good burghers in Berlin might believe that the good Americans were afraid their doctor might show them up.

To grant permission for the speedy German to run in the three meets which his native bosses limited him to would get the A. A. U. in a fine jam with about a dozen influential clubs all claiming first rights and consideration for his services.

It would be the same mess that was the result of the tours of Paavo Nurmi, Edwin Wide and Charles Hoff, only worse.

Because when those distinguished athletes were swelling the gate receipts for the favored clubs, the less favored clubs could be properly snubbed and put in their places.

At the present time, however, no club can be snubbed properly because every club is expected to kick in its share to support the Olympic expedition and it has happened in the past that the larger the fund at the disposal of the committee the more wires and the families of some of the members could be taken along.

There are other good reasons, however, for the American officials to be concerned about the diplomatic results of any races in the Amsterdam Olympic 800-meters runs in this country.

They have been pointed out by Gustavus T. Kirby, one of the big college men on the committee, who knows his track limber. Some of the clubs promoting indoor meets watch the box office closer than the arena. It will be recalled that Lloyd Hahn, in the first big indoor meet of the season, made a new indoor record for the half-mile, but it was not allowed.

It developed that no guard rail had been constructed on the inside of the track, which the regulations prescribe. It was easier and cheaper to paint the inner boundary line and the "huge" saving kept a deserving runner from a very fine record.

Supposing, Kirby pointed out, that such carelessness should be used in building a track for one of the meets in which Feltzer might be a competitor, that he fell through a defective board or in a hole in the track, which would be a dangerous and would be ruined for the Olympic games.

Regardless of the fact that Germans are good sportsmen you would have to listen to some stories that he was trapped dilly-darely and imposed upon as that dangerous river might be taken care of. You have to think of these things.

Regardless of the claim that "track enthusiasts" are demanding that the best doctor run in competitive company in this country, the promoters want him chiefly for the gate receipts.

In this connection and other connections, it is to be hoped that the truth may come out some time about the experiences of Paavo Nurmi and Charles Hoff.

When the lofty officials of the amateur ruling body were trying to take Charley Paddock for a buggy ride, he up and told them a few things and they haven't bothered Paddock since.

Pacific Coast Fighting Lawyer Seeks Heavyweight Championship

San Francisco.—The Pacific Coast is now backing Armand Emanuel, San Francisco's fighting lawyer, to win the heavyweight championship of the world.

Emanuel, heavyweight champion of the Pacific Coast, is declared by the older inhabitants to be the cleverest and best candidate for the title since James J. Corbett. Before he joined the professional ranks, Emanuel, like Corbett, held the club championship. He also was national heavyweight champion.

For several years now Armand Emanuel has been left-handing opponents to death. He won so easily that on a number of occasions the charge setup has been made. It was opined that any time Armand, the fast and clever, met a heavyweight who could catch up to him, it would be all over with the Pacific Coast's best heavyweight hope.

Has Lightning Left?

The Pacific Coast has developed many fine hitters, and Armand, until quite recently, had looked like anything but a slugger. His lightning left hand was enough for him to win handsily, but the exhibition were none too thrilling bittens from the standpoint of most of the fellows who pay real money to see the performances.

But Emanuel now satisfies Coast critics to the extent that they're willing to back him in the contention to win the East. Critics came to this conclusion after seeing him perform in a bout in Los Angeles in which he proved two important things: He can take; he can hit.

It was in a fight with a young and strong fellow named Vijo De-man that Emanuel proved that he belongs. This Vijo person took a great liberty with our Armand, not only accomplishing something that very few have accomplished, hitting Emanuel, but he deposited him on the floor, something that had never been done. It looked pretty bad for the Pacific Coast pride. But only for a few seconds. Emanuel got up before anything like 14 seconds had passed, stepped into Vijo and knocked him out. It was a home run. Vijo was dead to the world.

An Eastern Excursion.

Emanuel is now about to go East for his second adventure among the "bigger and better" artists. He appeared in a preliminary at Act II—Dempsey-Tunney at Chicago handily defeating a heavyweight named George La Rocca.

Rocco isn't a champ, but then he isn't a palooka either. Emanuel showed in that fight that he has a pretty fair sort of right hand.

Of course Armand is gunning for Gene Tunney's championship, but for the next two years it will probably not be more than a still hunt. But it should happen that in two years from now the San Francisco lawyer meets Gentleman Gene for the championship. It will mark the meeting of the great intellectual principals. Gene may use a lot of big words, but Armand will know everything that he is talking about.

Armand is probably the best boxer in the country today. Emanuel weighs 178 pounds, Dempsey was a 160 pounder. It was at that poundage he brought the ruts tumbling about Jess Willard's head.

Beat Bristol Is Cry Of High School Fans

But In Order to Do This, Locals Must Prevent Hugret From Forming Pivot Play; Play in Middletown Following Night.

The most important basketball game of the season to date in Manchester will take place Friday night at the School Street Rec between Bristol High and Manchester High. The only other game will be Saturday night at the Rec between the Rec Five and Ludlow, Mass. Dancing will follow both games.

Although the local schoolboy team has not had particularly successful season, fans will be willing to let by-gones be by-gones if only Manchester can trim Bristol. Early in the season, the Clarke-coached combine received a severe beating in Bristol.

No one here has got over the sting of that defeat and everyone will be pulling hard for Manchester to even the count. The game does not need any newspaper publicity to make it a drawing card. It is a foregone conclusion that the S. R. O. signs will be hung out early in the evening, so come soon after supper, or take the consequences.

There is no denying that Bristol had a far superior team when the two schools clashed in Bristol. But, on the other hand, Manchester was quite a bit off form. The advantage of playing on a narrower playing surface and before a home town crowd should give the local boys far more confidence and should inject more pep into their play than has been seen so far this season.

Fans may rest assured that the officials and have been well taken care of. Dick Dillon, Connecticut's premier basketball referee, has been secured for the occasion and he will rule with an iron hand from start to finish.

Manchester's best chance of victory is to perfect a defense which would not allow "Sugar" Hugret to form the pivot play. It is expected that Coach Clarke will develop his changes in this art during the practice sessions this week.

Saturday night the High School team will play off a postponed game with Middletown High in that city.

EARL OF ASQUITH DEAD IN LONDON (Continued from page 1) In 1914 it fell to the lot of Asquith to decide whether Britain should enter the war. Having taken the step, he never hesitated, but the burden was too much. His war tenure was not a success. He was felt to be too old for the post and preferred to let his Cabinet argue issues instead of taking decisive decisions. Consequently it was an easy matter for Lloyd George, then minister of munitions, to force first a coalition government in 1915 and then overthrow his old chief in 1916 when he himself became "war minister." During his long public life Asquith was a member of the House of Commons from East Fife. He was elected first in 1886 and was returned with regularity until 1918.

DAUGHTERS OF VETERANS GIVE MISS DART PARTY Valentine Social At Home of Mrs. Etta Loveland Proves To Be Shower For Local Girl

Mary C. Keeney Tent, Daughters of Veterans held an enjoyable Valentine party last evening at the home of Mrs. Etta Loveland of Elro street. The party turned out to be a surprise miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Beatrice Dart, also a recognition of the services of the retiring president of the tent, Mrs. Ethel Carter, who received from the members a beautiful string of pearl beads.

A number from Lisbeth Turner Tent of Hartford were present and they furnished the comedy number of the program, a mock marriage. Their grotesque costumes created peals of merriment. Gifts for the shower were cleverly worked into the bride and bridesmaid's bouquets, which were a cabbage and a cauliflower with showers of all manner of kitchen utensils in blue and white enamel. One of the attendants wore for a bonnet an enameled colander with strings fastened to the handles tied under her chin. A pair of rubber gloves worn by another was included in the collection of useful gifts showered on the prospective bride.

The members of Mary C. Keeney Tent who were present combined in the gift of a beautiful set of rose-colored sherbet glasses. They were wrapped up to resemble a huge bouquet and the shower was shared on the back of which the members had written their favorite recipes. Games were played and a delicious lunch served.

Miss Dart is to become the bride this spring of Meredith Downs of Hartford.

MORTGAGE LOANS PARTLY TAXABLE

If In Excess of Listed Value Of Property Lender Must Pay on Difference.

A number of changes in the methods of collecting personal and property taxes and changes in the divisions which are exempted from payment of taxes are dealt with in a pamphlet issued by William H. Blodgett, tax commissioner of Connecticut. Most of the changes are those made at the last session of the legislature.

Money loaned on mortgages is exempt from taxation only to the amount of assessed valuation of the property on which it is loaned. In the event, however, that the mortgage is larger than the assessed valuation of the property, the amount in excess shall be taxed to the lender.

In the new legislation concerning liens and the methods to which tax collectors may resort to bring in delinquent taxes there are a number of changes. Some of these as they appear on the statute books are somewhat involved and appear to be laws on which the interpretation of a lawyer should be had.

Affidavits showing unusual financial condition may be presented to tax collectors as an excuse for failure to pay taxes and these affidavits, subject to their approval by the board of selectmen, may secure for the delinquent a respite.

If such respite is granted the lien on the property in question shall be continued. Action on this matter, however, must be taken within 60 days from the date of levy and the collector shall cause the continuance to be recorded. Such a lien shall be subject to foreclosure proceedings but if foreclosure action shall not have been taken within 15 years, the town clerk shall make a notation on the margin of the lien "discharged by operation of law."

Personal taxes in towns of less than 10,000 population shall be due and payable on November 15 but the tax in Manchester becomes due henceforth on April 1. In every other town with the exception of New Haven, this tax is due on February 1.

The tax collector is authorized to add one dollar to every personal tax which is not paid within 60 days after the date on which it becomes due and the total of three dollars shall be collected in the same manner as the ordinary tax. This law makes the property and

THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE: (212) Herring Sketches by Bessey; Synopsis by Braucher

Herring packing is one of the great industries on the east coast of England. The enormous number of barrels used may be estimated from this view taken at Yarmouth during the herring season. Many girls are employed in the herring industry. They follow the herrings down the coast of England and work a week or two at a number of ports.

Huge quantities of herrings are pickled. The picture shows girls sorting and preparing herrings for pickling.

Here the herrings are being washed before being sent to London and other great cities. Girls do the packing, too. 2-9

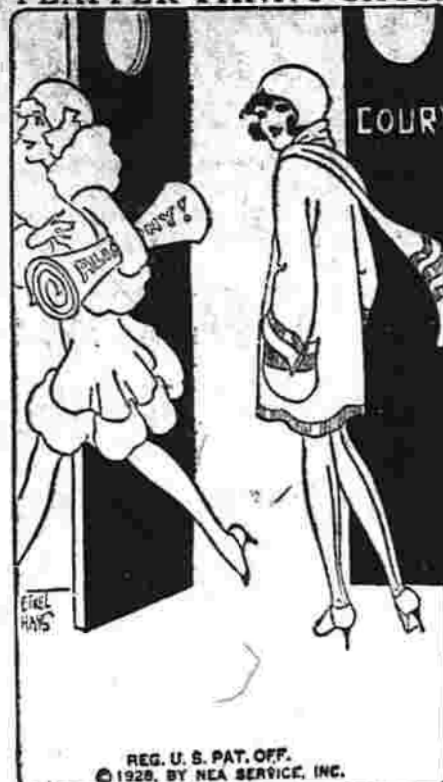

These men are examining a catch of sprats. Sprats are caught in drift nets. The nets have pieces of cork along the top to keep them afloat. One end of the net is fastened to the boat and the fish are caught in the net's meshes. Sprats are placed in boxes and shipped.

LETTER GOLF

THIS ONE IS SAD

Parting is such sweet sorrow—especially at midnight—and incidentally, Letter Golf fans, par on TIME TO PART is four jumps, although Johnnie may be able to do it in less if father calls down from upstairs. One solution is printed on another page:

Grid for Letter Golf puzzle with words TIME and PART.

THE RULES

1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN.

2—You can change only one letter at a time.

3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count.

4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

BIG ATTENDANCE SURE AT CHAMBER BANQUET

Reservations Already For More Than Attended Dinner of Two Years Ago.

The Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held next Monday evening in Cheney hall is already an assured success so far as attendance is concerned. The committee announces that the reservations to date already exceed the total attendance at the 1926 dinner. The reservations made yesterday were the most numerous ever made in a single day.

The committee is exercising unusual care with the details to assure the party running smoothly. One thing in particular that General Chairman Harlowe Willis emphasizes is the fact that the dinner will start at 6:30 sharp. Those who are there then will be seated and the service will begin. So guests are urged to be in attendance at 6:30.

A number of inquiries as to dress have been made at the Chamber of Commerce and the committee announces again that the dress will be informal. There will be of course, be some dinner coats, but business dress will be entirely in order. Several members have also been in doubt as to the propriety of bringing non-member friends and the committee announces once more that non-member guests are welcome.

An unusual number of complete table groups have already been made up and in every respect greater interest and more cooperation is being shown in this year's banquet than in many years.

"HAUNTED HOUSE" DATE TO MOVE INTO MARCH

The date of the presentation of "The Haunted House," the second three-act play of the Town Players, has been changed from February 28 and the play will probably be given during the second week in March.

A change in the date was made necessary because of the fact that the spring vacation of the Ninth District schools comes in the last week of February and two of the three girls in the play are teachers in the schools.

The play is to be given in the Circle theatre on Oak street under the auspices of the Girl Scout Council, under whose auspices "Seven Chances" was given last year. Members of the council have been working for some weeks soliciting advertising for the program.

Louis Smith, who was the director of "Mintick" and the "Seven Chances," is again in the role of director of the play. Miss Ruth Calhoun, director of the Town Players, is heading the production. Rehearsals are being held on Monday and Friday evenings and the third act has been started.

NO DESIRE TO MEET PRESIDENT OF YALE

"Prexy" Angell Says Students Do Not Show Up at His Conferences.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 15.—Yale students who have been pleading for a closer "intimacy of contact between undergraduates and the president" were today faced with a statement from President James Rowland Angell which pointed out how such efforts in the past had been met with utter neglect. "In earlier times there was a senior reception which was finally given up because the only members who came were the eight or ten men invited to serve as ushers," President Angell pointed out. He also said that teas for freshmen "were abandoned in their turn because only a fraction of the class accepted the invitation."

President Angell also declared that he had planned conferences with students "for several years" but that attendance "was so disappointing I abandoned the plan." Yale News had referred to teas for seniors in Woodbridge hall and President Angell today replied "it is probably that reference to these events must be credited to some muse other than that of history." The Yale president expressed the hope that the time would come when he could teach a class in the university, for "I find greater pleasure in teaching than anything I have ever done." Since becoming president, Mr. Angell has never seen a "period when I could command the time to undertake the teaching of a class."

Abandoned Cash!

IT is surprising how many people let perfectly good money slip through their fingers... For example: Any one who has a Second Liberty Bond in his or her possession.

This issue was called for redemption by the Government November 15th, and ceased to bear interest after that date.

At the end of the year more than 87-million dollars worth of these bonds had not been turned in by their owners.

Every day some bonds of governments, railroads, public utilities and other corporations are similarly called for redemption, and stop producing income. Often, valuable conversion rights are offered. Unless you act promptly you are out of pocket.

Instead of managing their investments single handed, many men and women feel more comfortable to place the matter in the watchful care of experts—who are keenly alive to the importance of collecting income promptly.

We are organized and equipped to handle that work for our customers.

Those using this service report that the peace of mind they enjoy—to say nothing of the actual savings—is worth many times the modest fee we ask.

Why not look into this?
