FLAPPER DEFENDED BY MISS ANDERSON

Chief of the U. S. Women's Bureau Says There is Nothing the Matter With the Modern Miss.

Washington, Feb. 16.—Prominent Europeans have been coming to America recently and expressing opinions on everything from the eminence of American leaders to flappers and gin.

Today, Miss Mary Anderson, chief of the Women's Bureau of the Labor Department, offered a roll of honor of American women who are leaders in the life of the nation.

Her honor roll of outstanding American women follows: Industry—Mrs. Raymond P. Robins of Chicago.

Law—Judge Florence Allen, member of the Ohio State Supreme Court.

Medicine—Dr. Bettie Van Hoesen of Chicago.

Literature—Willia Casner of New York.

CONTINENTAL TRAIL LEADS TO WAR CHEST

SEC. WILBUR SNUBS ADMIRAL PLUNKETT Is Chief Guest of Honor at Testimonial Dinner and Fails to Appear.

New York, Feb. 16.—The failure of Secretary of the Navy Wilbur to attend the testimonial dinner last night in honor of Rear-Admiral Charles F. Plunkett, was declared today by Colonel E. A. Simmons, president of the American Marine Association and chairman of the dinner committee.

Admiral Plunkett's retirement from service on his 64th birthday.

Admiral Plunkett's retirement brought him many expressions of appreciation for his vigorous pleas for preparedness.

Hands and Feet of Both Officers Tied—Manner in Which They Met Death Unknown as Bodies Were Badly Decomposed; Were Taking Prisoners to Reformatory When All Traces of Prisoners and Officers Were Lost.

Foster, Ind., Feb. 16.—The bodies of the two missing deputies who were kidnapped by two prisoners more than a week ago from Lafayette, Ind., were found upon a farm near here this afternoon bound hand and foot.

The bodies were discovered on the farm of Charles P. Abdill. The hands and feet of both men had been tied. The bodies were badly decomposed. The deputies, John P. Gray and Wallace McClure, were taking two prisoners, Samuel Baxter and John Burns to the State Reformatory at Pendleton in an automobile. Nothing had been heard of the four until today when Sheriff Samuel Cole was notified to rush to the farm of Abdill which is one-quarter of a mile north of the Dixie Highway.

The manner in which the two men met death is unknown pending the arrival and investigation of Corporal Van Y. Hamilton. The men were bound with heavy ropes. From the appearance of the bodies, it is believed they met death shortly after they started for the reformatory. The bodies were covered with a blanket.

A DIFFERENT WAY We find considerable to think about in that Father and Son banquet at the South Methodist church on Tuesday evening.

We have about come to the conclusion that the very conspicuous point of difference between this affair and so very many other social functions carried out under church auspices was that the Father and Son banquet had the benefit of a high degree of enterprise and energy on the part of its promoters.

When a fire company or a Chamber of Commerce or a Kiwanis or Rotary club plans a banquet a group of members take of their coats and go to work. They put vim and enthusiasm and time into it, if things don't go right somebody gets mad and curses.

It is very seldom, for some reason or other, that a church social function gets this kind of a push-over. There is too much formalism and too much letting down and too much all around tuffity, along with the deference and the politeness.

Obviously the Men's Friendly Society of the South Methodist church has acquired, or has developed from latent internal powers, a very pronounced degree of sturdy efficiency.

NO ARMADA Quite evidently there is not the slightest chance that the Wilbur Armada will ever be built.

While Wilbur's imperialistic navy scheme received the nominal support of President Coolidge, there are probably not six people in the country who have the faintest notion that the President ever had any expectation that the ships would really be built.

But the shotgun may become a dangerous thing to have about if there is a lot of willful and excitable small boys around. And Mr. Wilbur and the warlike admirals are both small, willful and excitable.

order for one within reach of their hands. Better forego the possible advantage thereof in the discussion with the neighbor.

Two courses would seem to be open to the Navy Department. Either to make a new request for either necessary ships for Navy balancing and perhaps get them, or to keep talking about an Armada and get navy ship at all.

OFFICE BUILDING One wonders what vandalek the state of Connecticut is to use in planning a state office building on the basis of the requirements of fifteen years hence.

HEBRON

An adjustment in the mail service between Hebron Center and Colchester recently made is an improvement in that the morning mail is now carried straight through from Colchester instead of lying there through the day and being taken on with the afternoon mail as formerly. Beginning with March 1, or possibly sooner, C. B. Jones, mail carrier from Hebron Center, will take the mail through to Colchester instead of leaving it at Amston as a distributing center. It is thought that this plan will work out to the advantage of all in the quicker distribution and receiving of mail matter.

Several members of the Standby Club have been spending a few days at their club house near the Marlborough line. Among those present were Joseph and John Danforth of East Orange, N. J., A. Wightman, Daniel Morrell, E. L. Zacher and son of Hartford.

The Rev. T. D. Martin was present at the meeting of the New London Archdeaconry on Tuesday, in New London.

Lincoln's Day was not observed as a holiday in the schools of the town. Most of the teachers, however, planned the day's program with some reference to the life of the ex-president.

A revision in the list of borrowers from the Hebron library, or those who have taken books or magazines from the library, for the past year, brings the number to 342. This includes 28 new names added to the list through the year 1927. As each borrower represents others usually from one to three in a family it may be seen that a very good proportion of the people of the town are availing themselves of the privileges of the library. There are less than 1000 inhabitants of the town, part of these, of course, being children too young to read and part of them being foreigners unable to read the language. The plan for distributing books through the schools is working well and helps to overcome the difficulties in the way of the children of the remote parts of the town gaining access to the reading matter. Books are carried to the schools in boxes by the supervisor or his assistant and are changed about from school to school in turn. The children are eager for the books and are guided in their reading by an approved list made out by the state board of education.

The names of Charles Garbich and Isadore Anshel, students from this town, appear on the senior four year honor roll of Windham High school. Of the 31 names on the honor list Charles Garbich is eighth in order of excellence, at 88.77 per cent, while Isadore Anshel is 20th at 83.04.

The local fire warden, A. E. WAPPING

Wapping Grange held its second regular meeting at the Center School Hall, on Tuesday evening notwithstanding the very rainy evening. There were twenty-five members present and a fine time was enjoyed by those who made the effort to get there. There was a short program including a reading by Miss Mabel L. Wetherell, "The Story of St. Valentine" and two vocal solos by Rev. Truman H. Woodward, after which games were enjoyed by all; it being St. Valentine's night. The refreshments consisted of heart-shaped cookies of different kinds and candy, with fruit punch.

East Central Pomona Grange, No. 3, held its regular meeting with East Windsor Grange on Wednesday, February 15. The morning session was opened at 10:30 o'clock when a class of candidates were initiated in the fifth degree, after which a bountiful dinner was served by members of East Windsor Grange. At two o'clock the afternoon session opened and after receiving the new annual word the meeting was placed in the hands of the Lecturer of Pomona Grange, Mrs. Carolina M. Bidwell, who furnished the program. There was the address of welcome by the Worthy Master of East Windsor Grange with response by the Worthy Overseer of Pomona Grange William E. Hill of Manchester Grange. Then followed a vocal duet by sisters of East Windsor Grange, and a paper by Mrs. Demont of Enfield Grange, and an instrumental solo by a sister from Vernon Grange, a monologue by Mrs. Beig of Manchester Grange with an encore and a paper by Charles T. Corbit of Good Will Grange.

The next regular meeting of Pomona Grange will be held with Wapping Grange on April 13, which will be an afternoon and evening meeting with dinner at night and Miss Dorothy Butler will be the speaker. Her subject will be "A Trip to Health Market." Brother Strickland of Goodwill Grange presented the Traveling Gavel to East Central Pomona Grange.

The Blue Triangle Club are planning to serve a formal dinner to their members on next Monday evening at the parsonage, February 20.

The Wednesday Afternoon Club held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold M. Newberry on Wednesday afternoon, February 15. There was a reading from the book "Melodies and Memories" an autobiography of Nellie Melba.

TRAFFIC MANAGEMENT COURSE FOR HARTFORD

Will Be Held Under Auspices of Y. M. C. A.—E. Kent Hubbard to Address Opening Meeting.

A course of lessons in traffic management will be given in Hartford, under the auspices of the Manufacturers Association of Connecticut, cooperating with Hillier Institute of the Hartford Y. M. C. A. E. Kent Hubbard, president of the association will address the first meeting, which will be held on February 23 at the Y. M. C. A. W. F. Price, traffic manager of the J. B. Williams Company, who is also a member of the Traffic Committee of the State Association and president of the New England Traffic League, will have charge of instruction. He will have co-instructors with him E. E. Hoyt, president of the Hartford Traffic Association and traffic manager of the Whitney Manufacturing Company, and A. Schloberg, chief clerk of the billing department of the Hartford division of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

The course is being established for the purpose of affording an opportunity for men and women in Hartford and vicinity now engaged in transportation work to acquire a practical understanding of the problems with which they are daily confronted and the instructors have been especially selected because of their many years experience in traffic work and their ability to offer practical help to students. Sessions of two hours each will be held Tuesday evenings throughout the course, part of the time being devoted to instruction and the balance to open discussion, in which all participate with the instructor. Roy M. Van Fleet, educational director of the Hartford Y. M. C. A., is in charge of arrangements for the Y. M. C. A.

The Manufacturers Association recently conducted an investigation in the Middle West and West which disclosed the fact that the larger proportion of the country's industries in those sections maintained departments for handling their transportation and shipping problems and that much attention is being devoted to such matters in those localities. The Association has advocated a better understanding of transportation matters by industries and business in general in this vicinity as many instances have come to its attention of competitors cutting into Connecticut business because of a lack of understanding of the proper handling of incoming and outgoing shipments. Similar courses have already been established in Waterbury and New Haven and one is to be opened in New Britain next week.

The meeting on February 23 will be an introductory one, general in nature and in addition to those who have already signed, anyone in Hartford who is interested in being fitted to attend to learn more about the nature of the instruction to be given, that they may definitely determine whether they desire to take the course. Each of the succeeding lessons will consist of practical training in rates, routing, tariffs, methods of securing proper classification and other forms of detailed information essential to traffic work.

MULLEN NOT WORRYING

Chicago, Feb. 16. "I should worry," said Promoter Jim Mullen today in comment on the suspension of Mickey Walker, middleweight champion by the National Boxing Association.

Mullen, who claims to have Walker under contract for a little defense fight here this summer, said he is going ahead with plans for the match and hopes to line up Ace Hudkins as Mickey's opponent. The Chicago promoter said none of the men listed by the N. B. A. as logical contenders for Walker's crown, would, in his opinion, give the champion a real battle. He hinted such a match would be a promotional "bust."

"If I
were you,
Son...."

I would go to Garber Brothers for my furniture... then I'd be sure I received the full measure of value for my money—

"It is a step in the right direction that counts. Take a tip from your old dad... and buy nothing but fine furniture. You and Mary may not appreciate this suggestion now, but in five or ten years from to-day you can look back and say I'm glad we took dad's advice... This furniture is as good as the day we made our choice and the years have only added grace to its beauty."

"And from a business viewpoint, let me add... that if I were you I would select my furniture at Garber Brothers, then I would know that I received full value for my money."

"At Garber Brothers you won't find so-called 'sales' and discounts to baffle. There you will find one low price on all the furniture... the very lowest. They have a 'NO SALE' policy and let me tell you that a house that operates its business on such sound basis can't help but give you the full measure of value for your money... and you and Mary can't help but be satisfied."

This is the advice given by a business man to his son about to furnish his first home. It was told to us by the son after he had found out for himself that the advice was good. We reprint it here because such advice is our best advertisement.

THE STORY THIS FAR
Mr. Mannix was with me from breakfast to ten o'clock this morning. Vance had traced a picture found in the apartment of the murdered Margaret O'Dell to Markham. He is trying to prove to Markham that he did not commit the murder, despite the fact that the picture was committed to Markham by Vance.

CHAPTER XXVIII
I'm sure it will be a success. Vance spoke with disarming friendliness. "Were you home alone all Monday evening?"

"Hardly. The idea seemed to amuse her. I went to the 'Scandals'—but I came home early. I knew Louey—Mr. Mannix—was coming."

"I trust he appreciated your sacrifice," Vance, I believe, was disappointed by this unexpected alibi of Mannix's. After a momentary pause, he changed the subject.

"Tell me; what do you know about a Mr. Charles Cleaver?" He was a friend of Miss O'dell's.

"Oh, Pop's all right." The girl was plainly relieved by this turn in the conversation. "A good scout. Even after she threw him over for Mr. Spotswood, he was faithful, as you might say—always running after her, sending her flowers and presents."

"Some men are like that. Poor old Pop! He telephoned me Monday night to call up Margy for him and try to arrange a party—May be if I'd done it, she wouldn't be dead now. . . . It's a funny world, isn't it?"

The WOMAN'S DAY

Grandmothers are responsible for nearly two billion dollars, according to a recent convention of beauty parlor operators.

What nonsense! Women have never had more money for personal adornment, and looked prettier than they do today, even if they have learned how to simplify the process. It's that very simplification that has made them lovelier than ever.

DON'T BELIEVE IT. I don't believe a word of it. True, women have to keep young as long as possible in this day when beauty is a science and when one blushes to be called ignorant.

HER BEAUTY. What they don't say at the beauty conventions! Some big city hair-dressers' association spouts that woman suffrage has made woman lose her beauty.

This And That In Feminine Lore

Mrs. Robinson of the Lily Beauty Parlor in the House & Hale building has aided many women in attaining that complexion and skin "you love to touch."

A cooking expert in giving counsel to a young girl about to be married, stressed the importance of learning to make good coffee, and to make it exactly as "He" wished it, whether strong, weak, bottled or "perked," next to learn to make a cream or sauce smooth and free from lumps.

Try folding grated new carrots into whipped cream slightly salted and made piquant with lemon juice. Serve on a bed of lettuce. Fresh carrots are now obtainable all through the winter, as well as lettuce, cabbage, peppers, celery and spinach.

The trend in dress materials is toward those which have a supple texture and are durable and practical. Two years ago when printed silks were introduced so generally, everybody welcomed them for their qualities and their adaptability to both outdoor and indoor affairs.

Despite spreading rumors that long tresses will be most favored, scores of smart women are retaining their bob, and others who have put off bobbing for one reason and another are resuming it in haste for the first time.

MICKEY WALKER BARRED BY THE NATIONAL B. A.

Middleweight Champion Suspended For Refusing to Defend His Title—Mullen Not Worrying.

New York, Feb. 16.—The action of the National Boxing Association in suspending Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, for failure to comply with an order to sign by February 16 for a defense of his title, caused considerable activity here today in the camp of Joe Dundee. The welterweight champion also was threatened with suspension by the N. B. A., but escaped the ban yesterday because he has been under contract for some time to box here as soon as his legal troubles in California are settled. Dundee is expected to sign a new contract with Wexman, manager of Dundee, practically concluded negotiations yesterday for a bout here on March 23 between the champion and Ace Hudkins, provided the latter defeats Sergeant Sammy Baker here tomorrow night. Wexman conferred with Art Hudkins, the "wildcat's" brother and manager.

BENSON SHOWS FANS HE'S NO 'HAS BEEN'

Leads Plainfield to 27-18 Victory; Herb Smith Scores As Referee.

Harry Benson was the star at Plainfield last night when Philadelphia Colored Giants were turned back by a 27 to 18 score before a packed house. Filling in at guard in the absence of George Stavitsky whose knee injury made it necessary to put "Whitey" Bernot at center, Benson showed that he is far from a "has been" leader in scoring in addition to holding his opponent to one basket. Plainfield's defense was the best of the season. At halftime, the score stood 14 to 12 in favor of Philadelphia. Coach Bennett's team, the home team pulled ahead far enough to coast out a 27 to 18 winner. Chambers pulled some spectacular shots for the losers. The game was rough in spots with Cooper being "found guilty" many times. The Giants scored but six points in the second half. Herb Smith of this town refereed the game in a highly satisfactory manner. For some time, the officiating at Plainfield hasn't been satisfactory. Repeated changes have availed nothing, but it looks as though Smith is the key to the solution.

Summary: Plainfield (27) vs Philadelphia (18) box score table with columns for B, F, T and individual player stats.

AMERICAN SKATERS LEAVE IN DISGUST

Olympic Committee Fails to Answer Their Protest of 10,000 Metre Race.

St. Moritz, Switzerland, Feb. 16.—With their protest against the refusal of the International Olympic committee to accept the mark made by Irving Jaffee in the 10,000 metre race still unanswered, the United States speed skaters left for Paris today. As the teams of Norway, Sweden, Finland, and Austria had already left, there was no possibility that the race would be run over again. However, as Gustavus T. Kirby, manager of the American skaters, declared, "as far as we are concerned, we consider Jaffee Olympic champion in the 10,000 metres race." Jaffee's time went by the board when the referee called off the vent, which took place Tuesday. A protest was filed by the Americans yesterday. It was understood today that the United States delegation would ask the Olympic committee to decide on their protest before the start of the speed skating competition at Amsterdam.

FORMER CHAMPION NOW PENNILESS

Leach Cross Thought to Be Millionaire is Looking For a Job on the Stage.

New York, Feb. 16.—Light, it is estimated, travels a second and only reason I mention this is that Leach Cross, the old lightweight and once the young millionaire, is in town today and it is a question in his mind whether light will ever see the day it can race ahead of him. A striking coincidence about the hurling records of these two years is the fact that not one of the six to go 20 or better games in 1926 was able to repeat last season. Penneck and Meadows fell just one short of the charmed number, while Kremer, out for a couple of months with a bad knee, was two games away.

WRESTLERS GET READY FOR BIG SPORT REVIVAL

Chicago.—Mid-western wrestling promoters are preparing for a revival of the mat game. They see in the world's heavyweight title contest to be staged in St. Louis, February 20 between Ed "Strangler" Lewis and Joe Stecher, both claimants of the title, an opportunity to again popularize the big toe and arm sport. Chicago promoters declare the match is "entirely on the square" and that one of the main objects of the title bout is to attract interest in the long neglected sport. The mat impresarios are planning to carefully note the public's reaction to the St. Louis contest and a revival of wrestling in Chicago and the middle-west generally is predicted.

Watkins Bros. Can Win Bowling Title

The league made in the Commercial Bowling League last night and the above is correct. Watkins Brothers were "gypped" a point giving the Contractors Company a four point lead. It should have been three points. This does not make a whole of a lot of difference as far as the final games are concerned next Tuesday. Watkins Brothers must win all three games anyway, but in case they do, it would make them champions instead of tying the Contractors. The league officials request the various teams which have postponed games to play that those be finished as soon as possible. It should be remembered that the five dollars of the forfeit fee is not returnable unless all matches are played.

Rec Five With Danielson Tonight; Ludlow Saturday

The Rec Five basketball team will travel to Danielson tonight to oppose the town team of that place. The regular squad will meet the trip including Elmo Mantell, Tommy Faulkner, Ev Strange, Roy Norris, Johnny Boyle, Jim Quish, Captain Harold Madden and Ding Farr. Danielson has a strong team headed by the flashy Billy Schofield. Connecticut Aggie luminary, Reeves is another star performer as is Armington. The game will be played under professional rules. Saturday night the Rec Five will play the strong Ludlow, Mass. team at the Rec gym and in the preliminary tussle, the Rec Five will take on the Aetna Five girls of Hartford. Dancing will follow the second night.

BIG SHOTS OF TENNIS

The United States Golf Association already has announced its ten amateur players which, in its opinion, are to have every ounce of strength available for the defense of American golf that territory taken in by the golf association may be considered to be the whole universe. With the tennis association, however, the situation is slightly different. American tennis doesn't predominate the world, and in fact the "First Ten" soon to be announced by the United States Lawn Tennis Association may not include a number of the ranking stars who in a world-ranking group would be very much in evidence. The "First ten" has not been announced by the tennis association but there is no death penalty for guessing and a number of very curious guesses have already been made.

Campus ON SPORTS Comment by BOB MATHERNE. Many college athletes participate in one sport only. Quite a number take part in two sports, and a few are skillful enough to make good in three sports, and occasionally one great star in four.

For three seasons Mahoney has been on the football squad and last year was given honorable mention as center on a number of all-star selections. In track, he has been a consistent point-winner in the weight events. He entered five boxing matches last year and won a boxing letter. Last year he took part in several lacrosse contests and won a letter. This year he has made good as a wrestler and will be the heavyweight representative of Penn State in all matches.

However, Local Boy Will Have to Keep in High Gear; Northern State Featherweight Title at Stake.

Several bouts between the big boys, a northern Connecticut amateur championship battle and some special bouts make up an unusually attractive program for the weekly amateur boxing show of the Massachusetts Athletic Association.

There will be specials on the card as follows: Ray Strong vs. Tony Juliano, both of Hartford; Eddie Rine of Springfield; Vic Morley vs. Charley Stevens, both of Hartford; Frank Columbo, Windsor Locks vs. "Zeke" Mastor of Hartford.

At San Francisco—Walcott Langford, Chicago negro middleweight, drew with Phil Krug, of New Jersey, 10. At Toledo, Ohio—California Joe Lynch and Andy Martin of New England, were put out of the ring alleged stalling tactics in 8th round.

Tonight's night to look for some more upsets in The Herald Bowling League. It is a time when in each match, there is a warm favorite, and that's just when the dope buckets usually get the swifts. With several teams in the thick of the fight, for first place as the league shoots along down the home stretch, interest is growing in leaps and bounds.

Anyone Can Enter; Hundred Point Elimination Affair to Be Conducted at School Street Rec; Send in Entries.

Continuing with its policy of promoting town championship sporting events, The Herald now plans a Pocket Billiard tournament to get under way shortly. Anyone in town is eligible to compete.

All matches will be played in the School Street Rec, a public institution. These tables are considered "neutral" to practically all of the players in town. Entries should be forwarded immediately to the sports department of The Herald in care of the writer.

Because he failed to pass an examination, Everett Olsen, captain of the Blue State ball team, was banned from play early in February.

SENSE and NONSENSE

Radio Fan at Heart A doctor's little daughter, deeply interested in radio, glanced one morning into the office where her father was testing the heart and lungs of a patient. "Getting any new stations, daddy?" she asked. "My daughter has fallen in love with the radio announcer at KKKZ." "Is it serious?" "It is. Her bill for applause telegrams this month was $49.80. One nice thing about the radio. If you don't like the program you can shut it off without offending anybody. "I got shanghai on my one tube set last night." "Can you beat it! I found five tubes of tooth paste in mine and I only got Pyorrhea." "That radio singer makes me think of a mosquito, he's so different." "As how?" "A mosquito doesn't hurt you while he's singing." If they want people to keep clean, why do they bar soap? A woman is never an old maid until she dresses like one. O, let's turn on the vacuum cleaner and get some music we can rely on, said we in our impatient way last evening, turning off the radio. Said the young housewife to her husband, "John, there's an installment due tomorrow and I can't remember whether it's the sixth on the radio, the fourth on the oil burner or the ninth on my operation." The degrees men put after their names look like the call letters of the radio sending stations. Radio: A device used chiefly for broadcasting a tune called "My Blue Heaven." "I want a job as radio announcer." "Let me hear you announce." "Thawss uz stawshung Kawgaw-lug, Saww Funniscaw, Cawlitaww-law. The Muxt nawber wulliba, bawth Sawga Hong Gaw aktesaw-waw. Ulliga waw gwahaw." "Name your own salary, my good fellow." It's no credit to a man to be honest and decent—it's his duty to be that. Where Two-bits Count I'm only a quarter, just twenty-five cents; I'm anxious to work, but am still on the fence. When I go to the Butcher I'm all of a quiver. Too small for a steak—I have to take liver. A quart of ice cream is out of my class. A box of candy I also must pass; When I try for a movie I'm left in a lurch. But say! I'm a plunger when chucked in at church. The chief crime in this country is not murder, but tonsil operations on defenseless little children.

LETTER GOLF

THIS LOOKS GOOD! SMART STYLE is all some golfers are said to be particular about. Letter Golfers, if SMART, can go to STYLE in five strokes—that's par. Perhaps you can beat it. One solution is on another page.

THE RULES

- 1—The idea of letter golf is to change one word to another and do it in par, a given number of strokes. Thus to change COW to HEN, in three strokes, COW, HOW, HEW, HEN. 2—You can change only one letter at a time. 3—You must have a complete word, of common usage, for each jump. Slang words and abbreviations don't count. 4—The order of letters cannot be changed.

"I'm glad we all grabbed this long rope. There's lots of fun in store, I hope. Where'er the balloon is taking us. I guess we'll soon be there." The balloon glanced down and said, "Sit tight, and everything will be all right. I'll take you high up in the breeze and then we'll float around." Up, up they went at rapid pace. A frown spread over Clowny's face. Said he, "I really wish that I was back, down on the ground. "Supposin' we should slip and fall. We wouldn't care for that at all. Supposin' it begins to rain. We'd sure get soaked wet." Then Scouty chimed right in and said, "Oh, shucks, you're just a scarey-head. No matter what we chance to do, you always have to fret."
