SANDINO SAYS HE WILL KILL ALL AMERICANS

Leaves Letter After Raid; Calls Us Pirates and Threatens to Kill All U. S. Citizens He Finds.

Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, May 18.—Following close upon news of a battle between United States marines and guerrillas north of Metagapla in which one marine was killed, Harry Amplett, manager of the American-owned La Lus and Los Angeles mine, announced the receipt of a letter from the rebels threatening death to all United States citizens residing in Nicaragua. The letter was signed "Sandino," the leader of the revolutionary army.

Amplett, who is on his way to New York, made a trip to the Pis river district where he found that the rebels after their raid, had returned to the mine colony and destroyed all the machinery. Amplett also found a letter from the outlaw chief which said, in part: "I have the honor to inform you that on this day your mining property was reduced to ashes. This is in accordance with my command and it represents a tangible protest against the warlike invasion your government has made in our territory without more right than that of brute force."

Calls Us Pirates

"In case the government of the United States does not order the withdrawal of the pirates from our territory there will be no guarantee in this country for the North Americans residing in Nicaragua. At the beginning I believed that the people of North America were not in agreement with the abuse committed against Nicaragua by the government of Calvin Coolidge, but I am now convinced that the people of North America applaud the in-

Head-stated at the time that he wished the Montana Senator had withdrawn earlier, "before he muddied the water" by injecting a third candidacy in the California battle. That statement indicated the Missouri's wish for a clear-cut test with the New York governor, and gets it today.

HOOVER MGR. TELLS OF W. VA., CAMPAIGN

Says It Has Cost $7,500 So Far—Explains How It's Spent.

Washington, May 18.—Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover's presidential campaign in West Virginia has cost $7,500, Harry C. Woodard of Spencer, state manager, told the Senate presidential funds committee today.

Hoover is contesting for West Virginia delegates with Senator Guy D. Goff, favorite son candidate. The state committee's expenditures have totaled $7,589.24, of which the national organization advanced $6,000.

Woodard declared the committee was spending $3,500 a week on a newspaper advertising campaign to answer attacks upon Hoover. This expenditure will run the committee into debt, he added.

Woodard explained that he kept two Hoover funds, one he contributed personally while the other was raised by contributions from his friends.

His personal expenditures for Hoover totaled $3,831.24, while the expenditures from the other fund totaled $3,758. Woodard said he received $6,000 from Claudius H. Huston, the Hoover national treasurer.

Woodard said his personal expenditures were made before the Hoover organization sent in the $6,000. He added that he was ready to spend $5,000 out of his own pocket to help the Hoover cause.

It developed that Woodard did not know what limit was placed on campaign expenditures under West Virginia's laws.

"You haven't felt you were approaching the limit?" Woodard replied.

He revealed that the advertising campaign in West Virginia for Hoover was going $500 a day.

Woodard said he had once considered announcing in favor of Vice President Dawes, but he came out for Hoover last December.

MISSIONARY SAFE

Washington, May 18.—Rev. L. C. Osborn, American missionary, captured by Nationalist forces in the province of Chihli on April 25, is safe in Kailengfu, according to a message today from Minister MacMurray at Peking. He has been released by the Chinese soldiers.

PRIMARIES IN OREGON TODAY A SMITH TEST

Few Catholics There So Politicians Wonder if Senator Reed Can Win the Political Race.

Washington, May 18.—The rival presidential candidacies of Governor Al Smith and Senator James A. Reed clash head-on in Oregon today, and leaders of both parties in Washington are watching the outcome with an intensity of interest wholly out of proportion to the small number of delegates involved.

Oregon is a dry state. It is also one of those states wherein the Klan rose to a position of powerful influence. And it was in Oregon that the Legislature enacted the famous parochial school law, which directed that all children be sent to public schools as distinguished from secretarian and religious schools.

Religious Issue

Therefore, the party leaders here reason that if there is any state where Gov. Smith's being a Catholic might militate against him politically it will be in Oregon. Less than ten per cent of the state is Catholic, and that the religious issue has burned brightly in the state was exemplified by the rise of the Klan and the enactment of the school law.

Gov. Smith has never been in the State. Senator Reed has campaigned in it, and is said to have a considerable personal following there. Some of the Democratic leaders here anticipate a close battle.

First Real Fight

Incidentally, the Oregon primary furnishes the first clear-cut test of Smith against Reed. In California, there was a three-cornered fight between Smith, Reed and Senator Walsh of Montana. Smith polled more votes than Reed and Walsh combined in California, and Walsh was so decisively defeated that he subsequently withdrew from the race.

Reed, stated at the time that he wished the Montana Senator had withdrawn earlier, "before he muddied the water" by injecting a third candidacy in the California battle. That statement indicated the Missouri's wish for a clear-cut test with the New York governor, and gets it today.

Republican leaders are no less interested in the outcome than Democratic leaders. The Republican "best minds" already consider that Smith is their opponent in November, irrespective of whether Smith or Reed snarles Oregon's ten delegates today. And they are anxious to have some light thrown on the religious angle of the general situation. They figure Oregon is a good place to furnish it.

The two Republican delegates to be chosen will go to Hoover without opposition, for no other candidate filed and under the state law the delegation goes to Hoover automatically.

MANDELL-MCLARNIN BOUT IS OFF AGAIN

Rain Today Forces Fight Postponement Until Tomorrow Night.

New York, May 18.—Tex Rickard, promoter, announced shortly before noon today that the Mandell-McLarnin fight for the lightweight championship, scheduled for tonight, is postponed until tomorrow night because of rainy weather.

This was the second postponement. The battle was originally set for last night. Rickard was afraid it would rain last night and postponed the fight. But it didn't rain.

Instead it poured heavily this morning, and even though it cleared up toward noon the Polo Grounds was soaking wet and it was deemed advisable to wait another day.

"BIG BILL" HAYWOOD IS DEAD IN MOSCOW

Former Leader of the I. W. W. Had Been Long Ill With Heart Trouble.

London, May 18.—William D. ("Big Bill") Haywood, former Chicago leader of the Industrial Workers of the World, is dead at Moscow, according to word received here this afternoon. A Moscow dispatch to International News Service a fortnight ago said that Haywood was in the Kremlin hospital in critical condition from diabetes and heart weakness. The dispatch added that the former American Communist was believed to be dying. Haywood was 66 years old.

FEAR FILIBUSTER WILL DEFEAT BILL

Naval Ship Building Caught In Jam and May Be De-feated.

Washington, May 18.—The $274,000,000 naval ship building bill, designed to put the American Navy into first-class fighting condition, is threatened with defeat through a Senate filibuster.

Despite the big majority given the bill in the House and a unanimous report of the Senate naval affairs committee, the bill was securely "land-locked" on the calendar today.

Backers of the Measure, who declare that its failure will result in the United States dropping still further behind Great Britain and Japan in the naval standings, were bending every effort to bring it to a vote. Objections by Senator Borah (R) of Idaho and LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin have twice prevented consideration.

Caught In Jam

"The bill is caught in a legislative jam, but I have hopes that we will be able to pass it this session," said Senator Hale (R) of Maine, chairman of the Senate naval affairs committee. "Its enactment is highly necessary for the efficiency of the Navy."

A plea for the measure also was issued by Rep. French (R) of Idaho, chairman of the sub-committee handling naval appropriations and who has frequently been classed as a "Little Navy" man.

Delay in passage of the bill for fifteen cruisers and one air-craft carrier, has already precluded making of appropriations this session to begin work, he indicated.

Failure of Congress to provide for an orderly rebuilding of the Navy will result in a reactor for huge appropriations later on, and will in the end cost the government heavily, French said.

OLD TRIANGLE COSTS ANOTHER LIFE TODAY

Two Men Fight Over Woman and One of Them Is Killed.

Washington, May 18.—The eternal triangle cost another life today.

Charles Fitzhugh Payne, 50, an auditor for the federal trade commission, is dead, and Wilbur Kellogg, 34, a lawyer, is held in jail on the charge of causing his death.

The two men fought with their fists yesterday afternoon in an apartment house in which Kellogg's estranged wife lived. Payne lived in the same apartment house. Kellogg accused the auditor of being "a home wrecker." The scuffle started in an upper hallway. They fought down the stairs into the ground floor lobby before Kellogg finally knocked the elder man down.

Payne, unconscious, was carried into Mrs. Kellogg's apartment and died a few minutes later.

The Kelloggs separated about two months ago, having two children. Payne was unmarried.

WIFE NUMBER 3 GETS 2's FORTUNE

Queer Jumble Up of Wives Follows Claim for $25,000 for Lusitania Tragedy.

Boston, Mass., May 18.—A queer jumble that gives to wife No. 3, the right to $23,900, payable by the German government because of the death of wife No. 2, was unearched today when Mrs. Arthur Luck, through counsel, asked appointment of herself as executrix of her husband's estate.

The second wife of Luck and their children were killed when a German submarine torpedoed the liner Lusitania. A claim against the German government remained in litigation for years. Luck himself died. His third wife was in destitute circumstances when finally the mixed claims commission made an award of nearly $25,000.

There is also a son by Luck's first wife who may share in the money if he can be located.

Mrs. Dorothy Christine Luck of London is the woman who seeks the legal right to the estate. Her petition was filed by Attorney E. L. Adams of New York City.

BREMEN CREW LEAVES FOR HUB ON TRAIN

Their Plane Damaged As It Lands in Detroit—Boston Tomorrow.

Detroit, May 18.—The Bremen fliers will leave Detroit at 4:26 p. m., today by train for Boston.

Compelled to abandon their air tour of American cities because of motor trouble in the Junkers plane F-13, the heroes of the first east-west trans-Atlantic flight nevertheless put a smiling face on their predicament.

A crowded day of sightseeing, which began at 11 o'clock yesterday, was ended just 13 hours later when Baron Ehrenfried Guter Von Huenefeldt, Major James Fitzmaurice and Capt. Hermann Koehl returned to the Hotel Statler suite at midnight from the Olympia arena, where they had witnessed the final bout of a prize fight card, after sitting through the banquet of Detroit aviation supporters which climaxed their triumphal tour of the city.

NOBLE RETURNS TO SPITZBERGEN

Weather Fine But Ship Both-ered by Fogs—Found No New Land.

King's Bay, Spitzbergen, May 18.—The Italian North Polar exploration balloon Italia, commanded by General Umberto Nobile, landed safely at ten o'clock a. m. (local time) after a successful flight to Nicholas II Land (Lenin Land). General Nobile and fellow members of his expedition are understood to have made valuable scientific studies, but they found no new land. They flew over regions that were hitherto unexplored.

The Italia was sighted at 9 o'clock over the mountains to the northeast of King's Bay flying at an altitude of about 7,000 meters.

Weather Fine

The weather was fine and the landing was accomplished without any difficulty. The dirigible had hopped off on Wednesday afternoon at 1:20 o'clock. General Nobile and his intrepid companions sailed over desolate ice fields where an accident to the Italia might have meant death for all.

On their return to Spitzbergen they flew over Nova Zembla. At times fog was encountered and the balloon was compelled to rise so high in the air that the intense cold of the greater altitude caused ice to form upon the envelope.

EARLY BULLETINS

London, May 18.—After an epic dash over uncharted Arctic wastes, the dirigible Italia was believed to be nearing its base at King's Bay, Spitzbergen, early today.

Wireless messages from Gen. Umberto Nobile, commander of the ship, stated that the dirigible was nearing Northeast Land on the Spitzbergen archipelago at midnight, according to Central News dispatch from King's Bay.

This indicated that the Italia was maintaining a speed of close to fifty miles an hour. At noon yesterday, Nobile radioed that he was off Nova Zembla. Nova Zembla is about 600 miles from Northeast Land.

If the dirigible maintains that speed it should reach its base by 8 o'clock this morning. Northeast Land is about 400 miles from King's Bay.

In his messages yesterday, General Nobile indicated that weather conditions were fine. These favorable conditions will continue until at least noon today, according to the meteorological station at Tromsø.

Everything is in readiness at King's Bay for the return of the dirigible. A heavy snow is falling in the vicinity of the base but the is not expected to hamper the crew of the Citta De Milano in getting the dirigible into its hangar.

BOMBS DEMOLISH HOME OF SACCO EXECUTIONER

Modern Youth Skeptic College Head Asserts

Andover, Mass., May 18.—Skepticism of the modern youth was praised today by President John Grier Hibben of Princeton University. Speaking at the celebration of the 150th anniversary of Phillips Andover Academy, he said: "In my opinion the most outstanding feature of the youth of today is one which affords the brightest hope for the future. "It may be described as their attitude of general skepticism, that is skepticism in this sense, that the young man of today refuses to accept truth already formulated and presented arbitrarily as an authoritative dictum. He demands a reason for the basis of his convictions.

Robert Elliot, His Wife, Two Children and a Guest, Escape Injury as Walls Cave In—Town In Panic at Sound of Explosions; Radicals Are Blamed For Out-rage.

New York, May 18.—While Robert Elliot, Sacco-Vanzetti executioner, whose home was almost completely destroyed by bombs this morning, remained secluded in what was left of his dwelling, police today were running down all available clues to the near tragedy. The driver of a milk wagon, who saw four men in a red touring car two blocks from the Elliot home in Richmond Hill, Queens, about 20 minutes before the explosion, was taken to police headquarters in the hope that he might be able to identify pictures in the Rogues Gallery.

Another clue in possession of the police is a pocket-knife found on the lawn of the Elliot home. A check-up showed that it did not belong to any member of the Elliot household.

Pieces of iron and a battered wheel which may have been a part of a timing device indicated that the bombs were timed with a clock.

Police Protection

At the same time authorities were compiling a list of all officials in Queens who have taken part in the prosecution of murderers during the past two years, so that arrangements could be made for police protection to prevent further bombings.

William Shree, superintendent of a Sheffield farms milk depot near the Elliot home, told police today each other shortly after two a. m., today practically demolished the Richmond Hill home of Robert Elliot, official executioner for New York, Massachusetts and Pennsylvania, who pulled a few seconds of sense Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti to eternity. Elliot, his wife and two children and a guest miraculously escaped injury.

Police had only one vague clue to aid their investigation. A red automobile was seen speeding from the scene shortly after the explosion.

The force of the concussion was felt throughout the neighborhood of the Elliot home, which is situated in the Richmond Hill section of Queens. Windows were broken, doors caved in and pictures thrown from walls. Hundreds fled to the streets in scanty attire. Many were panic-stricken by the fear of an earthquake.

One of the bombs was placed on the front porch of the two-story stucco residence. The second was placed on the rear porch. The bomb in front of the house exploded first. The other followed a few seconds later.

Wall Caves In

At the first concussion, the front wall of the house crumbled. The second bomb did less damage, only wrecking the rear porch.

Elliot, his wife, Delle, their daughter, Gertrude, 17, their son, Robert Jr., 27, and a cousin, Thomas Lang, 25, were in bed at the time. They were thrown to the floor and covered with debris but none was injured.

When Sacco and Vanzetti were condemned to die on August 23, 1927, in the Massachusetts state prison at Charlestown, Elliot was selected as executioner.

Before and after the execution, Elliot received anonymous letters threatening him with dire punishment for officiating. For many months after the execution he and his family were closely guarded by the police. Elliot was the executioner at the electrocution in Sing Sing prison of Henry Judd Gray and Ruth Snyder, convicted of the murder of the woman's husband, Albert Snyder.

Elliot told the police after the bombing today that he was certain the bombs were placed in his home by fanatical sympathizers of the two Italian radicals, who were found guilty of murder after one of the longest and most widely discussed trials on record.

Although they have issued no official statement, it is believed the police are inclined to agree with Elliot that the bombing was planned as a reprisal.

'HOME MADE' HOME WRECKED BY FIRE

Early Morning Blaze Burns Out Interior of Autumn St. Bit-by-Bit House.

The two-story stucco house at 93 Autumn street just south of Porter street owned by Paul Krupin, was badly wrecked by fire shortly after 7 o'clock this morning. An alarm was turned in from Box 73 at Lancaster and Wellington Roads, Hollywood, at 7:15.

The house was of bit-by-bit construction which made it possible for the flames to gain headway rapidly. No. 2 company and No. 3 company responded with their pump and No. 4 with hook and ladder and chemical tank. The blaze by that time was beyond stopping by chemicals and two pump lines of hose were laid from Porter and Autumn streets, where an ample water supply was obtained.

The flames had raced through the house and into the attic. It was necessary to cut holes through the roof and in the sides of the house to get at the fire.

The blaze was subdued after a hard fight, but not until the house and most of its contents were ruined. After the firemen had taken up their hose and started for home the fire, which was largely in the walls, broke out again and they were kept busy for several hours.

Mr. Krupin first built a little house standing on light piling that gave it a bird nest appearance. He added to this from time to time until he finally had a square stucco house whose exterior gave little evidence of its peculiar internal architecture.

Mr. Krupin is a widower with two children and is employed in the Case Brothers mill at Highland Park.

Chief Foy was unable to determine the cause of the fire.

The loss, as the house is practically destroyed, was about $4,000.

BOY'S PRANK CAUSES A RAILROAD WRECK

Puts Spike on Track and Derails Engine—Engine Crew Injured.

Camden, N. J., May 18.—Two more boys believed implicated in the wreck of an Atlantic City express of the Reading railroad at Mt. Ephraim crossing here will be arrested today as material witnesses, police said.

Edward Hope, 7, is now in the House of Detention as a material witness. The youth charged directly with wrecking the train is Vincent Burkett, 10.

Vincent, police say, sobbed out that he had placed an iron spike on a rail, hoping to see the locomotive's wheels flatten the piece of metal.

The engine jumped the tracks, plowed along the roadbed for 100 feet then overturned, scalding the fireman and injuring the engineer. Three hundred passengers were severely shaken.

Officials of the road estimated the cost of the accident would amount to $250,000.

VETERANS DAUGHTERS HOLD OPEN MEETING

Past Department President Is Guest and Makes the Principal Address.

Mary C. Keeney Tent, Daughters of Union War Veterans gave an open night program at the State Armory last night. Many guests attended, including members of the Sons of Veterans and Spanish War Veterans. The Joyce rooms were decorated with American flags, branches of apple blossoms and lilacs.

The principal speaker for the daughters was Mrs. Augusta Haney, past department president, who told of the growth of the order throughout the state. Recently a tent was instituted at Meriden with 108 charter members, and another at Gloucester.

Robert Alcorn, past department commander of the Sons of Union War Veterans also gave an outline of the work of that organization. He said there were many men who would welcome the opportunity to enroll who were not eligible, and urged all who were to do so.

A pleasing part of the program was the presentation to Mrs. Grace Ames of a string of pearls in appreciation of her faithful attendance for years, and her efficient work in the local and state branch.

Mrs. Ames is the present secretary of the Sons of Union War Veterans. She has just retired from the office of assistant guide of the state department. Past President Mrs. Ethel Carter made the presentation speech in behalf of the tent.

It is expected the open meeting will result in an increase in the membership rolls of the tent.

SANDINO SAYS HE WILL KILL ALL AMERICANS

tervention of the Coolidge government in my country.

"It is for this reason that all North Americans who fall into our hands will have reached their end."

Let Coolidge Pay "The losses you may have suffered from destruction of your mine you may collect from the United States government, and from Calvin Coolidge who is responsible for the horrible and disastrous situation that prevails in Nicaragua today."

"If you are an honorable man you will be able to understand that the above mentioned is an accomplished fact. The pretext that Coolidge brings forward for his intervention in Nicaragua is that of protecting lives and interests of the North American and other foreigners residing in this country, which is a tremendous hypocrisy."

"We Nicaraguans are respectable men and never in our history have occurred such happenings as are taking place at this time. They are the fruit of the policies of your countrymen in our own country."

"The most honorable resolution that your country could adopt in this conflict with Nicaragua is to retire your armed force from our territory thus permitting us Nicaraguans to elect our national government. This will be the only method of pacification in our country. It depends upon government to conserve the good or bad friendship between our own government and you."

The letter was signed "Sandino" and sealed at the top of which is the picture of a marine with a drawn sword.

NOTED OPERA CONDUCTOR WEDS FAMOUS ACTRESS

Nice, France, May 18.—"Until my husband is well I shall remain mute concerning our love," said Mme. Theresia Brivauda yesterday when asked by International News Service to throw some light upon her romance with Luguen Muratore, famous operatic conductor.

Although Muratore and Marie Theresia Brivauda were married on April 5th the news did not become public until yesterday. There is some doubt about the proper spelling of the bride's family name. It is spelled Brivaud as well as Brivauda. She is a beautiful young brunette and was formerly an actress.

Muratore is suffering from kidney ailment. He is confined to his bed but his bride is constantly at his side.

"Lucien loved me and we were quietly married," was all the bride would say today.

Three doctors are in attendance upon the famous operatic star. They said that his illness had been aggravated by gall stones.

Muratore was formerly the husband of Lina Cavalieri, whose fame as an opera singer was overshadowed by her renown as a beauty.

"There are certain functions which the public school can serve but poorly or not at all; and the recent development of secondary schools on private foundation, both in number and resources, to serve these urgent needs is one of the outstanding educational movements of our time," said President Angell.

"As private schools become financially more secure, they can also become educationally more independent, developing such curricula and methods as they believe to be educationally superior, with less regard to the pressure exercised by parents or by colleges to do particular things in a particular stereotyped manner."

A historic sketch of the world famous preparatory school was delivered by Arthur Stanley Pease, president of Amherst college.

NORTH END FIREMEN IN ANNUAL BANQUET

Members and Invited Guests Enjoy Italian Dinner Prepared by Osano.

The firemen of Hose Co., No. 2, of the Manchester Fire department, and a few invited guests, enjoyed the annual banquet at the department headquarters at Main and Hilliard streets last evening. The dinner was put on by Osano, the well known caterer. Among the guests were Chief Albert Poy of the south end and Chief Edward Coleman of the north end, William McGuire, representing the directors of the Eighth School and Utilities district, Albert East, foreman of Hos' Co. No. 1 of the north end and several of the honorary members of Hose Co. No. 2.

Both fire chiefs spoke of the gathering and told of some of their experiences as firemen. Chief Poy called attention to the ever increasing trouble that was caused by everybody running to the fire as soon as the alarm was sounded. He thought it would be well for those not particularly interested in the fire to hold back for a time in order that the firemen would not be held up in the jam of traffic. It was true he said that the great majority of the calls today were through the still alarm.

This was as it should be especially so because most of the fires were not of a serious character. It was the rule today, Chief Poy said, to follow the speed of the fire trucks going to the fire. He believed that 25 miles an hour was fast enough to travel through the thickly settled portions of the town.

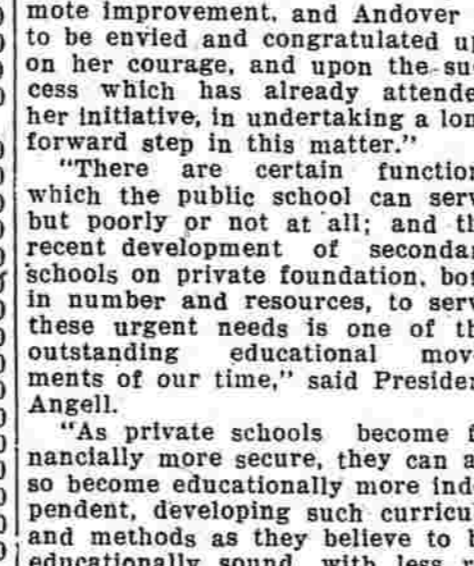

Following the dinner the firemen of Hose Co. No. 2 held their monthly business meeting.

How She Hints? Linds on Car Care

By ISRAEL KLEIN
The interest and boast of motorists lies most prominently in the mileage obtained for each gallon of gasoline. But it isn't the motor alone that has to account for economic fuel consumption. The manner of driving has almost as important a part to play.
On a long trip the man who keeps to a steady pace of about 30 or 35 miles an hour will be certain of the most efficient fuel consumption—provided, of course, his engine is up to snuff mechanically. Motors are designed for most economical use at this speed, and when they go slower or faster there is waste in unburned fuel or in extra power to overcome wind resistance.
Ability to gauge distances, to slow down in high long enough to allow for pickup, also in high, when a signal is about to change from red to green, to avoid shifting gears, to use the brakes advisedly, to maintain a steady flow of fuel are important considerations in the effort to raise a car's mileage to the maximum.
All this depends on the driver. On the part of the motor, the carburetor has to be adjusted properly for summer driving, the spark plugs have to be clean and the points properly set, the timing has to be exact, the valves should seat perfectly, the pistons should be tight and permit no leak, the battery must be well charged, the cooling system must be in good condition, although the engine must be at efficient heat, and the brakes mustn't drag.

Every moving part of the car must be well lubricated to permit easy action, and the oil gauge should show a steady flow of oil in the crankcase.
Under such ideal conditions the compression of the engine will be at its most efficient point in all cylinders and will therefore make the best possible use of all the fuel provided. Compression is lost mostly through leaky pistons, valves or spark plugs. Therefore all these must be tight and in the best condition.
Even then mileage might be reduced if there is lack of cooperation from the driver. The greater the speed of the car the greater the wind resistance and the more the engine has to work to resist that extra force. Therefore, the speed of 30 to 35 miles an hour is recommended as most economical. The driver can help the motor additionally by coasting when going

YEW AND YEOMANRY

In the early wars the yeoman drew a long bow made of the tough wood of his native yew. The bows of Robin Hood and his merry band were fashioned of yew and the wood has long been prized above all others for archery.

There are two species of yew in the United States, the western yew which ranges from Alaska to southern California and east to Montana, and the Florida yew which grows only along the east bank of the Apalachicola river in the northwestern corner of the state.

The western yew is a small tree, seldom exceeding a diameter of 12 inches or a height of 40 feet. It occurs scatteringly in the forest and the best trees for bow material are found only in deep, dark gulches.

The Alaska Indian cuts his spear shafts, bows and paddles from it. The Florida yew furnishes a small amount of wood for archery use.

The yew lasts indefinitely in soil and exposed to the weather. Its grain is often as beautiful as mahogany. The roots sometimes show wavy areas which when polished vie in beauty with the ancient and precious citron wood.

In the folk lore of the English cottagers the yew was saddest of all trees except the cypress. Branches of yew were gathered to deck the house where a body lay awaiting burial. The heads of mourners were bound with chaplets of yew. Yews were planted in churchyards.

The yew is long-lived. It was regarded in some places as the emblem of immortality. The name yew is believed to come from the same root as "ewig", the German word meaning "everlasting."

The eastern yew of the United States, commonly but incorrectly called ground hemlock, never assumes tree form, but is a sprawling shrub.

FOREST FIRE RAGING

Willimantic, Conn., May 18.—A forest fire that raged all night long destroyed one hundred cords of stacked wood and many acres of standing timber in sweeping through three hundred acres of land on Beaver Hill, Windham Center. Volunteers worked yesterday afternoon and supposedly put out the blaze. When the fire broke out anew in the night, one hundred volunteers including two crews from the agricultural college at Storrs went into action, led by the district deputy fire warden. The flames ran into Chaplin and North Windham before the firemen won their fight. The loss will run into many thousands of dollars.

ADVERTISE IN THE HERALD—IT PAYS

VAUDEVILLE, TWO FEATURES TOMORROW

State Offers Splendid Week-End Program: "Rose Marie" Tonight—"Legion of Condemned" Sunday.

For tomorrow's continuous show, which runs from 2:15 until 10:30, the State theater is presenting another of its splendid programs, which consists of five selected acts of Metropolitan Vaudeville and two carefully chosen film features.

Tom Mix, Manchester's most popular western star, again proves that there is no limit to human endurance in his latest thriller, "Hello Cheyenne!" one of the two features booked at the State tomorrow. Mix has a role of a different sort. He appears as a telephone lineman. With the aid of Tony, his famous horse, Mix registers some nerve-racking thrills that are guaranteed to send shivers of delight up and down the back of the most thrill-proof audience. The picture was filmed against the rugged splendor of the wilds of Arizona.

The second film feature for tomorrow Shirley Mason, another of Manchester's favorites, in her newest starring vehicle, "So This Is Love." Laughter, thrills and romance are woven into this sparkling story of a little miss who sets out to show the citizens of her home town a thing or two in regards to getting a man. So you see that makes three shows in one bill. Vaudeville and two features.

"Rose Marie" will have its final showings at the State tonight. The incidental singing, which proved popular with last night's audiences, will also be rendered again during the showing of the picture. "Rose Marie" starring the beautiful and captivating Joan Crawford. "The Legion of the Condemned," is scheduled to make landing at the State on Sunday night and will continue for a special three day engagement.

A THOUGHT

Consider the hills of the field, how they grow; they toll not, neither do they spin.—Matt. 6:28.

COVENTRY

The American Farmer offered prizes to the towns in the state scoring highest in activity pertaining to agriculture, Modern Home, 4-H club work, farm equipment and improvements in the town. In other words progressiveness was what they were trying to find. Our Home Demonstration agent met with a few families from different parts of the town and filled in a very rigid score card. The results were the obtaining of third prize for North Coventry, a beautiful silver cup. This cup has been engraved with the name North Coventry Grange. While the Grange had nothing to do with earning the cup it was given to it on account of the Grange being an agricultural society. The following committee was appointed by the Grange to see that a chance would be given to the public to see what have been won and how and try to stimulate more interest in the town toward greater advancement. Where this town falls down is in failing to support its Farm Bureau.

Coventry Sunshine Scissors club will meet Saturday at 1:30, standard time at the home of its leader, Mrs. J. E. Kingsbury.

COOLIDGE ON ART

One must admire the courage of President Coolidge in attempting an address on the fine arts in the presence of a gathering of persons almost all of them educated paragonically to art; for about the last quality with which the President's most ardent admirer would endow him would be the artistic temperament. And when Mr. Coolidge comes forth, as he did in Washington on Wednesday, with a perfectly good speech on the fine arts and their relations to the American people, one must join admiration for his adaptability with appreciation of his valor.

We have read many worse speeches delivered before art associations than that of America's President, in spite of the fact that making such an address would seem to be about as much a part of his job as playing match tennis with Helen Wills.

Of course she stressed the "practical" side of art, which the average citizen will perfectly well understand even if the ultra-artist finds the term incomprehensible. When he told the people that city and town zoning is art he said something that might have caused academicians would have thought of saying—and which is as true as gospel.

We are not at all sure but President Coolidge may turn out to be a champion art booster, after all, precisely because of the intensely practical thought he brings to the subject.

CONGRESS AT WORK

In these closing days of the first session of the Seventieth Congress big legislation is going forward with a rush. No sooner is the flood control bill out of the way than on one day and within a few minutes of each other and without a whisper of debate, the conference report on the McNary-Haugen bill and that on the Jones Merchant Marine bill were adopted by the Senate in concurrence with similar action taken earlier by the House of Representatives.

A somewhat mysterious filibuster conducted for several hours by radical Senators is credited with forcing a vote on the farm-relief bill by developing a threat to block the passage of the shipping measure unless administration forces agreed to let the former go to its passage.

A Presidential veto for the McNary-Haugen bill is, of course, confidently expected, since there is retained the provision for an optional equalization fee which Mr. Coolidge believes to be unconstitutional. It is, however, possible that the President, having had the buck toss passed to him in the matter of farm-relief legislation, may elect this time to do a little buck passing himself and permit the bill to become a law. He could easily do this, if he wished, on the ground that if the equalization fee is actually unconstitutional the Supreme Court can assume the responsibility for so declaring it.

If, on the other hand, the President vetoes the bill, those who have any lingering doubt of his determination not to be a candidate can put away those doubts for good and all; because a veto of this darling measure of the grangers, at this time, would very seriously endanger his election if he should again be the nominee.

The shipping bill has been so greatly and so many times changed that it would require close examination of the text to discover what it really provides for. It does, however, authorize the loaning of money up to $250,000,000 at a low rate of interest to private ship owners, to three-fourths of the value of ships and equipment. Subventions for mail carrying are also provided for.

It is under this bill that the promoters of the four-day line from New London to Europe hope to obtain government backing for their enterprise.

Another important measure on its way is the Muscle Shoals bill which has gone to the Senate with the basic principle of government corporation ownership firmly ingrained. As passed, the bill provides for government operation of the power plant and the employment of revenues from the sale of power in the manufacture of fixed nitrogen and fertilizers. In spite of the power of the lobbies that have been working against any sort of government operation, and of the Southern interests which hoped to grab the power of the Tennessee river for themselves, it is expected that the Senate will accept the House substitute bill.

It remains to be seen whether this long agitated problem can be disposed of before adjournment. If it is, the record of the first session of the Seventieth Congress, despite the enormous amount of electioneering that has been done on the floors, will not have been by any means barren of great achievement.

PACIFIST MAGRUDER

"We need a Navy to protect our commerce and to keep the enemy from our shores but we do not need a Navy that can lick all creation. If the British think they need a navy of a certain size, let them have it, or any other nation. We are isolated from Europe and the Orient and we have other elements or sea power—wealth, productive capacity, population—which outweigh armaments."

If that be treason, or in any event, it is herewith respectfully referred to the super-patriotic organizations who blacklist as a traitor everybody opposed to the super-navy idea. The speaker was Rear Admiral Thomas Pickett Magruder, and the occasion was the dinner at the State Chamber of Commerce at Hartford last night.

Admiral Magruder's theories are such as the Massachusetts ladies condemn as disloyal pacifism. We doubt very much whether he would be permitted to speak before any of several 150 per cent patriotic organizations. Yet Magruder has never actually crawled under the bed to get away from a fight.

As a matter of fact the admiral's record happens to be rather unusually fine, even when compared with that of certain red-faced old "sea dogs" who are always rarin' to go into mortal conflict with the wide world yet whose complexions are the reflex of the mahogany desks at which they have spent most of their lives. Magruder was an ensign on the famous old frigates Chesapeake at the fatal time when she laid her bones away on Ronador reef, and he was wrecked for a second time on the coast of France during the World war. He was promoted to a lieutenant and advanced five numbers for gallantry in action at Cienfuegos during the Spanish war, received recognition for valor again in 1890, and during the World war he was one of the bosses of those busy little ships which hunted submarines all over the Atlantic, with the lives of their officers and crews depending on luck, courage, skill and the grace of God to keep their cargoes of TNT from going off.

Yet somehow Admiral Magruder sticks to the peculiar view that it is not necessary for this country to stamp around like the Bulgarian colonel in the Chocolate Soldier, scaring all creation into a tremble in order to be safe from conquest. We could wish that a larger proportion of the numerous American rear-admirals were more like Magruder in time of peace. We are not sure but there may be reason to wish that more of them were like him in time of war.

SPOILED SYMBOLISM

Connecticut Democrats are going to the Houston convention in two parties, one by rail and one by sea. This could be converted into a pretty bit of symbolism, the dry Democrats sticking to the land and the wet ones following the ocean route; only, unfortunately for the picture, there are no dry Democrats. Those who chug over the dusty rails will be just as dripping Al Smith as those who sail south over the "Big Drink."

HOLY-ROLLERISM

Apparently the placid serenity of Oxford university has been considerably disturbed by Buchmanism and apparently, too, the authorities of that ancient institution do not know exactly how to deal with the problem. Dr. Buchman introduced his peculiar sort of so-called evangelistic "Christianity" into Princeton, but was levitated therefrom on the figurative toe of Presy Jack Hibben's boot. Oxford, having less experience with such freakishness than American colleges and communities, has gone into a sort of shocked daze over Buchman and only its magazine, Isis, seems to have a clear idea that a good way to cut the Buchman knot would be to follow President Hibben's example.

Dr. Buchman promotes a kind of so-called religious emotionalism which expresses itself at house parties where the specialty is pub-

FACTS ABOUT CONNECTICUT
Compiled by the CONNECTICUT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

(126) Municipal Expenses $100,000,000.

More than $100,000,000 is expended yearly in Connecticut by counties, cities, boroughs, towns and fire districts. Twenty years ago the expenditures of counties, cities, boroughs and towns totaled $22,126,602.

The amount spent by the 21 cities during 1924, the last year for which comparative data is obtainable, was $58,955,223, more than the total expenditures of all other municipalities. During 1908 expenditures of the eighteen cities then incorporated totaled $12,068,892. Expenses of 22 boroughs during 1924 totaled $2,010,243 as against $981,951 for 25 boroughs during 1908. Expenses of the towns increased from $8,496,838 in 1908 to $30,124,021 in 1924, while the expenditures of counties grew from $578,884 in 1908 to $1,742,362 in 1924. Expenditures of fire districts during 1924 totaled $679,297.

Of the $93,511,158 in expenditures of all municipalities during 1924, $29,798,131 was used to reduce debts and $1,411,226 was paid into sinking funds. Educational costs totaled $22,307,865. In 1908 this item amounted to $4,064,017.

Ten million dollars was spent on roads and bridges by all municipalities during 1924 and $2,738,500 in 1908. Salaries and other administrative expenses totaled $3,500,000 in the former year and $1,321,000 in the latter. Charities in 1924 required $2,339,451; sanitation and health, $2,314,760; taxes, $2,577,146; police and fire departments, $7,077,000; interest, $4,368,311.

Monday—Conn. Per Capita Debt Below Average.

The confession of all one's secret sins—which makes, no doubt, editing and exciting stuff, but which Oxford doesn't really believe to be very good for one, don't you know. Meantime Dr. Buchman seems to be doing very nicely, thank you, as a putter-over of Holy-Rollerism in intellectual circles.

New York, May 18.—The old-fashioned sleek and slick-talking swindler has all but disappeared from the New York scene. His type has become too well impressed upon the public mind by exaggerations of the movies. The get-rich-quick idea has undergone a change, thanks to the stock market. Anyone with enough money to put up margin can get in on the game, and at least they have the satisfaction of knowing where their money went—if it goes. And some have been phenomenally fortunate.

Education by banks and by sound investment companies have taught the public not to cast pearls before swindlers. In the old days, when life duplicated the melodramas, the "slicker" went in for flashy clothes, a fast line of chat and dummy telephones in his office over which to receive messages that were certain to impress the "snicker."

Carefully watching the New York police records, I have found but a few instances in the past couple of years wherein the old swindling methods were applied by "New York slickers." As a matter of fact the fattest spoils have been collected by very western-looking gentlemen who descended upon New York from Texas, Oklahoma and the oil states and left plenty of worthless stock certificates lying about. Thus has the tide turned—Manhattan becomes the victim and the "wise guy" is a fellow with a 10-gallon hat and an honest, sunburned countenance. These seemingly trustworthy gents from the great open spaces have beat the big town at its own game. The established offices and hired as their salesmen the sleek and slick-talking fellows who are presumed to be the heads of their shifty craft.

The public, I am told, has become aware of the fact that it is gambling when it makes such a purchase. The humble widow is far less likely to be taken in by the snappy line than she is by a ten-room sheik who dances well and walks off with her jewels.

The sleek, slick-tongued salesman, so I am told, operates in the smaller cities, rather than New York. If, and when, he is found here his victims are more likely to be individuals than groups. Furthermore, he has found legitimate avenues in which to operate. The promoter has a definite place in the present scheme of things, and the legitimate operator has learned how to be quite as skilled a chatter-merchant as the fake.

Lonesome visitors, particularly when they happen to be buyers or tradesmen, invariably cry for female company when they hit Manhattan. For many years the various sales industries retained "entertaining models." But this market fluctuates. The latest Broadway racket is to rent out "dancing partners" for lonesome males.

Every public dance hall retains "hostesses" or "entertainers" who make their living by getting a percentage of the dance charge, plus tips. These are now supplied as "companions" to the strangers who wish "company" on their night club tours. One need merely go to the telephone and stipulate whether he prefers blondes or brunets. Naturally, the "companion" expects to be well rewarded for the loss of her beauty sleep.

These girls seldom drink or allow and familiarity. Only their company is for sale, and they look upon their evening's engagement from a purely business standpoint. Any attempt to "get fresh" results in a walk-out, and a down payment is generally demanded to protect them.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

Washington, May 18.—One of the most remarkable things about politics is that, in all its essentials it continues to be the same old game. The fundamentals never change. From the very outset, patronage has been the driving incentive for politicians; power, control and material benefit the motive force of the political backers; sectional and class divisions the battle lines of struggle, and ambition and vanity nearly always the inspiration of candidates for office.

Strangely enough, the machinery of politics has been almost equally immutable. There have been minor alterations in the last hundred years as political men have adapted to changed conditions, but the old methods and the old implements are almost exactly the same.

For proof of that, your correspondent has just "interviewed" the late Senator Thomas H. Benton of Missouri. Benton was one of the big boys of his time. He led Andrew Jackson's administrative forces in the Senate and fought off Henry Clay, Daniel Webster and John Calhoun, among others.

The interview was obtained from the huge volumes in which Benton, about 1860, published a ponderous account of his life and times.

"Political conventions quickly degenerated and became obnoxious," says Benton. "Persons attended as delegates who had no constituency. Delegates attended upon equivocal appointments. Double sets of delegates sometimes came from the state, and either were admitted or repulsed, as suited the views of the majority. Proxies were invented. Many delegates attended with the sole view of establishing a claim to office, and voted accordingly.

"The two-thirds rule was invented to enable the minority to control the majority; and the whole proceeding became anomalous and irritating, and subversive of the will of the people, leaving them no more control over the nomination than the subjects of kings have over the birth of the child which is born to rule over them.

"This is the mode of making presidents, practiced by both parties now. It is the virtual election. And thus the election has passed—not only from the people to whom the practice under the constitution gave it—and has gone to an irresponsible, irresponsible body, unknown to law or constitution, unknown to the early ages of your government, and of which a large proportion of its members and a much larger proportion of interlopers attending it, have no other view than in attending or in promoting the nomination of a particular man, than to get one elected who will enable them to eat out of the public crib—who will give them a key to the public crib.

"The evil is destructive to the rights and sovereignty of the people, and to the purity of elections."

In different language, the complaints against the convention today are those of Benton. For a hundred years, deadlocks and dark horses have beaten the most popular convention candidates. In both parts, politicians are now conspiring to do it once more. If they don't succeed, they'll try it again in 1932.

Benton proposed a remedy quite obvious, but one that never can be achieved except by a popular upheaval against all politicians: A direct election for president and a second election immediately afterward between the two highest candidates if no one has a majority on the first trial.

It would take a constitutional amendment, Benton pointed out, requiring support from two-thirds of Congress and three-fourths of the states.

Next we shall interview John C. Calhoun, the great southern leader, on the same subject.

From Fort Arthur, Ont., comes a dispatch telling of a rain of fine mud that spattered people, houses and streets. Do they have Democrats and Republicans in Canada, too?

Meriden, Bristol Outfits Week-End Opposition

TWILIGHT GAME THIS EVENING; HIGH SCHOOL PLAYS SATURDAY; NEW DEPARTURES HERE SUNDAY

Rus Fisher to Pitch Over North Tonight; Both Local Teams Head State Leagues; Pennants Warm Possibilities.

Steady rain this morning threatened to cause postponements of the local baseball games this afternoon and evening. Decisions were not made until the sports page went to press. News will be published on another page in this issue as to whether or not the twilight game over north will be played.

Starting with a twilight encounter this evening, Manchester baseball fans will find themselves confronted with a program that calls for a home game each day over the week-end.

Tonight, at 6 o'clock, over at the Community Club playgrounds, the Meriden Endees in a state league contest, Rus Fisher and George Kelley, will be the battery for Manchester.

Tomorrow afternoon, Manchester's crack high school outfit will meet Bristol at the West Side playgrounds. Bristol is the only team Manchester has yet to face in the central-state league. All the rest have been defeated.

East Hartford, West Hartford, Meriden and Middletown have all bowed in defeat before the onslaught of the local sluggers. Bristol is not expected to prove a very tough nut to crack—that is, unless the Kelleyites get over-confident.

All in all, it sure looks as though the local school was at last on the road to a pennant. West Hartford and possibly Meriden, are believed to be the only schoolboy teams in the circuit capable of giving the Manchesterians rugged opposition in the last half of the schedule. Manchester meets both of them away from home.

Tomorrow afternoon, the Community Club will also swing into action down in New Britain where it will meet the Falcons in a league contest. Tommy Sipples may pitch for Manchester.

Sunday afternoon, at Hickey's Grove, the north end organization will swap base knocks with the Bristol New Departures in a return game. Last Sunday, Coach Jerry Fay's charges were routed by the Bell City team on its own field 6 to 4 in ten innings. The old veteran Eddie Goodridge who loves nothing better than to come to Manchester and have the fans razz him, will be at first for the visitors. Scott will be in his familiar post at left and Reilly, another favorite, will be behind the bat.

This afternoon, up on Mt. Nebo, the Trade School is battling with Rockville High. Jimmy Adams was scheduled to take the mound for the home team.

MURPHY'S GIRLS AGAIN WIN TWO

Take Southington Into Camp On Own Alleys; Jennie Lucas Hits Best.

Another upward step in the league standings was taken by the Manchester entry in the girls' state duckpin league last night when Murphy's Girls won two out of three games in Southington.

This is the same margin by which the local team beat Southington here Tuesday night and thus gives Manchester four of the six games. There will be no matches for Murphy's Girls next week and only two more teams are on the local schedule. They are Torrington and Wallingford.

Jennie Lucas had the high three string last night. She hit over a hundred every time. Helen Bodreau and Miss Cook were tied for the high single with 108. Manchester hit an even 500 in the first game, won the second by ten and then dropped the third. The scores:

Manchester (2)	79	82
Sherman	87	79
Ge	105	86
Beck	108	82
Jackmore	93	80
Lucas	107	100

MANDELL McLARNIN READY FOR FIGHT

Weather Permitting, It Will Be Held Tonight—Expect Crowd of 60,000.

New York, May 18 — Weather permitting, Sammy Mandell, the master boxer, will collide with Jimmy McLarnin, the deadly hitter, in a scheduled 15-round battle at the Polo Grounds tonight for the lightweight championship of the world. The fight was to have been staged last night but Tex Rickard, the promoter, did not want to gamble on dubious-looking weather and postponed it.

Rickard expects no less than 60,000 people to cram the ball park, bringing to the box office coffers some $300,000. On paper the fight looks as the most sensational lightweight display that has graced the lightweights since the days of Benny Leonard. It is what the boys in the fight game call a "natural."

This morning the odds were 7 to 5 that Champion Mandell would retain his title against his dangerous, hard-hitting challenger. There is so much McLarnin money in evidence that by ringtime the betting is likely to be at even money, take your pick. There has been more wholesale wagering on this battle than on any important ring encounter of recent years. Some estimates are that half a million dollars already have been laid on the line.

Both principals seem to be sincerely confident of victory. They have been pronounced physically fit by the state boxing commission's examining doctor. They have officially weighed in, Mandell scaling at 135 and McLarnin at 134½.

HARTFORD GAME

The count, in brief, is one of those incipient calamities known as a prohibitive favorite. He apparently is to go to the post with a vast majority of the homeless dollars in Kentucky riding on his withers, and it's just too bad that a secret from the only party involved who can do anything about it.

As it is, Reigh Count will line up at the barrier with some eighteen odd horses, without the slightest suspicion that he is a great horse and the others are merely steeds, as we say at the livery stable. He conceivably might even finish last and feel no sense of social depression. He has learned by experience that the oats are just as good at the end of a losing as they are the days when he wins.

It is from ignorance such as this that the one to two shot comes cantering, contentedly back to the judges' stand after finishing shortly before the start of the next race. A Crying Need

Therefore, and in all gravity, I declare that the crying need of the race track, excepting jockeys without forearms—is a horse that can be made to know that he is racing for the honor of dear old John Bananas and his two dollar ticket.

The minor exceptions are Strolling Player, the $61,000 importation, and Sun Beau, both of which ran forwardly, particularly in the closing stages of the race. Strolling Player seems to lack track smartness which is something that can and must be used in a big Derby field. Sun Beau did get up from 13th to second and might be a better horse for the experience.

However, if we are going into details with these also rans, we might as well record the fact that Typhoon was hastening somewhat in the stretch, having advanced from fifteenth to seventh in the process. The point is that none of these mentioned looked like a horse that could race in the same heat with the Reigh Count that did 2:05 2-5, pulled up for the Derby distance, only four days ago.

D'AMICO-GALLUP POOL MATCH OFF

The much-discussed pocket billiards match between Jud Gallup, present town champion, and Frank D'Amico, who recently hurried a challenge at him, has been called off by mutual consent of both players.

The match was supposed to be a three-hundred point affair played in three blocks this week but owing to the lateness of the pool season and the lack of interest over the match, it was decided to call it quits. If D'Amico is still in town in the fall, there is a possibility that the two players will meet in The Herald's second annual town championship elimination tournament.

Terrible early season weather cost the major league magnates so much money this year that they have come to the conclusion that something should be done about it. The comfort of the fans and players always has suffered in the frigid days of late April, but it didn't make the magnates suffer until the weather became so consistently bad that the games couldn't be played.

THIS HAS HAPPENED NATHANIEL DANN, struggling artist, is engaged to VIRGINIA BREWSTER, whose father is a Wall Street financier. After losing his fortune in speculation, BREWSTER dies suddenly and leaves his daughter penniless.

"She's a bohemian, you know," he said lamely. "Is that why she told me I had the wrong number?" "I don't know why she did that, Virginia; I couldn't reach the phone in time to stop her. But, look here, sweetheart, you don't mean that I should think you worried on that account?"

"Niel, it's you. I've found out that that girl, Chiri, was in your studio yesterday morning." he talked with Andrew Barrows later that it was working like a charm. Until he was told that the work was to be done in San Francisco. He was too disappointed to speak at once.

"Wait until your pride is wounded and see if you will." "All the time, the faintest of my fingers here last anything or anyone that can make me doubt you until you yourself tell me you don't love me."

How Much Water Should Baby Get? A Famous Authority's Rule By Ruth Brittain

Baby specialists agree nowadays, that during the first six months, babies must have three ounces of fluid per pound of body weight daily. An eight pound baby, for instance, needs twenty-four ounces of fluid. Later on the rule is two ounces of fluid per pound of body weight. The amount of fluid absorbed by a breast fed baby is best determined by weighing him before and after feeding for the whole day; and it is easily calculated for the bottle fed one. Then make up any deficiency with water.

ASCENSION DAY
OBSERVED HERE

Knights Templar Attend Services at Center Congregational Church.

It is the annual custom of Washington Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar, to observe Ascension Day by attending church services in a body. This year they accepted an invitation from Rev. Watson Woodruff to visit the Center Congregational church and thus this year's observance of the day brought them to Manchester.

The visiting Templars, headed by Grand Commander George Webb and staff of officers arrived in town soon after six o'clock last evening on special trolley cars from Hartford. They were joined at the Masonic Temple by the local members and formed for a parade. Led by a platoon of police and the 169th Infantry Band, the 250 uniformed Knights marched down Main street to the trolley terminus and counted back to the Masonic Temple, where a fine chicken supper awaited them. This was prepared by Chef Urbano Osano under the direction of Walter Waddell and served by Group 3 of the ladies of the Center Church.

It was 8:30 before the line again formed for the march to the church. The quartet, consisting of Mrs. Viola Dunham, soprano; Miss Emma Trebbe, contralto; Harvey Lidsted, tenor and Jarle Johnson, bass, under the direction of Miss C. Louise Dickerman, organist, rendered a full musical service, which was much enjoyed.

Rev. Mr. Woodruff's address from the topic "Jesus the Christ" was followed with closest attention by his audience as he sketched the early life of our Saviour and emphasized the points in which he differed from any other man who ever lived; "The Perfect Man."

LOCAL GARDEN CLUB
SALE TOMORROW

Garden club members and the general public are reminded of the plant, seedling and garden accessories sale which the Manchester Garden club is holding tomorrow afternoon at the House and Hale annex on Main street. The sale proper will begin at 2:30 p. m. Members of the committee in charge will be at the salesrooms from 10 a. m. through the day to receive contributions. Gardeners are requested to drive in on Oak street at the rear of the store to deliver their plants. It is desired that everything be labeled as far as possible as to color, variety, minimum price or any other information and wrapped to expedite handling over the counters.

This is the first financial venture of the club and the proceeds of the sale will be used in promotion of the work, and a portion for the big June flower show which is to be held Thursday and Friday, June 14 and 15 at Center church parish hall. The show will be free to all and it is expected will be the most ambitious both in interest in the number and extent of exhibits of any yet held by the club.

It is impossible at this time to list the perennial roots and seedlings which will be offered for sale as only a few of the club members have notified the committee what to expect. However, there will be rambler and other roses, phlox, delphiniums, pyrethrum, Siberian and German iris, snapdragons, lychuis, bulbs, garden accessories, wren and other bird houses.

EXPECT FINAL VOTE ON TAX SLASH BILL

Washington, May 18.—The administration's efforts to rush a final vote on the new $228,000,000 tax reduction bill had slowed down to a walk in the Senate today as senators from both parties ignored the measure to debate political subjects. The proximity of the national conventions and the decision of administration leaders to adjourn

Congress on May 26 took interest off the tax bill and centered it on matters that may affect the political destiny of both parties. There were indications a final vote on the bill might not be reached until next week, although administration leaders expressed the hope daily of reaching a vote before nightfall. In three days debate this week, two minor items were added to the measure and an amendment proposed to repeal the federal inheritance tax. Deemed to defeat, the mere introduction of this amendment tended to slow down action on the bill. The insurgent group, which supported the administration throughout the tax fight, were vigorously opposed to the repeal and helped delay the final vote so that in event the amendment were adopted, they would be able to filibuster the whole tax bill to death. Opponents of the Boulder Dam bill and other senators, opposing other pending legislation, joined in the dilatory tactics in order to prolong the tax debate and block action on the measures they opposed. Such tactics were expected to continue throughout the week. The reductions authorized will apply on incomes, earned during 1928, but payable after March 15 next year.

RIOTS AT ELECTION

Berlin, May 18.—The first serious violence in the national political campaign broke out in many places during the past 24 hours. Heinrich Tiedemann, a member of the organization known as the "Red and gold," was shot and killed and several others seriously wounded in clashes with Communists at Heildorn. Another Republican was killed and one was injured in fighting with Fascists at Hamburg. There were numerous minor clashes in Berlin and other cities.

On their way to the ovens the loaves go through this machine which places each loaf in a separate pan. Then the dough goes on a belt to the ovens.

GAS BUGGIES-NOW. I WONDER IF I HAVE COLDRIP'S EXPLANATION OF THEIR DELAY IN STARTING THE NEW BIG DEAL, STRAIGHT IN MY MIND. I KNOW AMY IS WAITING TO PUT ME THROUGH THE THIRD DEGREE AGAIN.

NO, THEY HAVEN'T STARTED YET... THAT IS A WAY, THEY HAVEN'T, THEN AGAIN, IN A WAY, THEY HAVE. THERE ARE CERTAIN PARTIES THEY HAVE TO SEE FIRST, TO GET THINGS LINED UP...

WELL, I DON'T KNOW EXACTLY. ALEC WAS OUT, AND COLDRIP ISN'T AT LIBERTY TO DISCLOSE THEIR IDENTITY, BUT I HAVE A HUNCH THEY'RE SOME BIG MOGULS IN WALL STREET.

I SAW ALEC OUT RIDING IN A CAR WITH THEM TODAY. HE WAS SO BUSY GAZING INTO THEIR EYES, HE NEARLY RAN ME DOWN. THE IMPORTANT PARTIES ARE NONE OTHER THAN PEROXIDE BLOND!

EH... WHAT, ALEC!

Mixed dough is sent to this machine. At every revolution of the cylinder in the center, dough for six loaves of bread is cut and divided.

These crusty brown loaves have been through the ovens and are ready to eat. This machine wraps each loaf in waxed paper and fastens the cover securely. You can see the uncovered loaves moving leftward on the lower belt, and the covered loaves moving to the right above. Now the bread is ready for distribution.
