

U. S. DEMANDS WORLD ACTION ON ARMS CUT

Gibson Challenges Naval Powers to Join in Actual Reduction of Armament in All Classes of Ships.

Washington, April 22.—A frank and wide-open challenge to the world's great naval powers to join with America in not only limitation of naval armament—but actual reduction in all classes of ships—was put forward today by the American government, speaking through its ambassador, Hugh S. Gibson, at the League of Nations' preparatory commission for disarmament, sitting in Geneva.

The burden of the American position was that the time has passed for quibbling and equivocating about reducing naval armament toward the eventual goal of disarmament. Ambassador Gibson said the time was ripe to act, and he challenged the representatives of Great Britain, France and Japan to go along with the United States for "real disarmament."

Bold Challenge
For boldness and directness, the American challenge today was comparable to that which Charles Evans Hughes, as secretary of state, threw into the astonished faces of the world's statesmen at the Washington conference in 1921, proposing the first limitation of naval armament.

The United States, Gibson said, it not disposed to quibble over methods or formulae. What is wanted is results. But upon one point in particular, the United States is insistent, and that is that the reduction or limitation to be effected shall be in all classes of fighting craft, many of which are now untouched by existing treaties.

Gibson pointed out that some fifty-odd nations have recently renounced war as an instrument of national policy by adhering to the Kellogg anti-war treaty. If they are sincere in this protestation against war, he asked, why will they not now be willing to follow the United States in a real effort to reduce the fighting sea complements of all nations in all classes or craft?

DAYLIGHT SAVING BECOMES POPULAR
Virtually Every City in the Country to Use It This Year.

New York, April 22.—Daylight savings time—daylight saving time—has been approved and approved of millions of people in the country, particularly those in which major and minor league baseball is played, will use daylight savings time this summer.

LAW CONSTITUTIONAL
Washington, April 22.—The Supreme Court today held constitutional the New York state optometry law which over-the-counter sales of spectacles by ordinary stores is forbidden.

Well, Marion, Here's a Farm for You.

When Marion Talley, grand opera star, announced that she would quit her profession and take up farming, the chamber of commerce of Parsons, Kan., decided to offer as a gift to the former Kansas City girl the farm pictured above, a 160-acre stretch of land near Parsons. The only condition imposed was that Miss Talley must live on the farm. Harry A. Bryant, president of the Parsons Commercial Bank, and owner of the farm, is pictured at the right.

Governor Roosevelt Frees Five Slayers, One A Woman

Albany, N. Y., April 21.—Prison doors were today opened by Gov. Roosevelt for five murderers, including one woman. The slayers freed by the governor include: Mrs. Madeline Feerle, convicted in the Bronx in May, 1914, of first degree murder and sentenced to die in the electric chair. Subsequently the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. Gustave Guillaume, convicted in New York county, February 1927, second degree manslaughter, and sentenced to from 3 to 7 years. Marruri Tachibana, convicted in Queens county, December, 1923, first degree manslaughter, and sentenced to from 10 to 20 years. He will be immediately deported to Japan. William Vroman, convicted in Erie county, second degree murder September, 1918, and sentenced to from 20 years to life. In all the murder cases the governor acted upon the request of the district attorney who prosecuted the cases.

LINER'S PASSENGERS ARE DRINKING LESS

On Board the S. S. Leviathan, April 22.—"When they can get it easily they don't want it." This bit of philosophy from the smoking cabin steward on the giant liner Leviathan sums up in a nutshell the situation today among the liner's passengers as regards alcoholic beverages. Although beverage stimulants are now obtainable on westbound voyages on the Leviathan, the wine steward has had only light patronage, so far. With 500 first-class passengers aboard, there never are more than 15 or 20 gathered in the smoking room, and even then only for a cocktail before dinner.

Less Drinking
As a matter of fact, there has been less drinking on the whole ship in the two days since leaving Cherbourg than would take place in one evening in a single speakeasy on shore. A dining room steward offered a psychological explanation with the remark that all the alcoholic beverages carried on the ship must be consumed by the passengers on the westbound voyage or it will be dumped overboard. "These Americans understand that all wines and liquors left over when the ship near New York must be dumped overboard," he said. "Not a single bottle will be taken into port. The ship will be bone dry on all eastbound trips."

HIT BY ENGINE, ALIVE
Boston, April 22.—Thanking his lucky stars that he was alive, J. R. Sullivan, a travelling salesman, of Dorchester, pulled himself from the wreckage of his automobile which had almost wrecked a Mariboro to Boston passenger train on the Boston & Maine railroad line at Russell's Crossing, Wayland, today. The locomotive was put out of commission and the train was brought into North Station here an hour behind schedule. Sullivan suffering cuts and bruises and a severe shaking up but able to walk, went to Massachusetts' general hospital for a thorough medical examination. The automobile was wrecked but Sullivan surprised the locomotive crew by climbing out of the wreckage.

SENT TO REFORMATORY
Norwalk, April 22.—Three Rowayton youths, arrested in an attempted hold-up of a club here on Sunday morning, were committed to Cheshire reformatory today by Judge Nehemiah Candee after they had pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons and attempted robbery. They are William Kelly and John Boski, each 22, and John Timko, 21.

HOOVER WINS FIRST BRUSH IN CONGRESS

Cracks the Whip When He Says He Is Against the Debuture Plan in Farm Relief Bill.

BULLETIN!
Washington, April 22.—In the face of President Hoover's bristling disapproval, the Senate agriculture committee today voted 7 to 5, to retain the debuture-export plan in the Senate's farm relief bill. It is regarded more or less an idle gesture, for there is little or no hope that the debuture plan will be approved by either branch of Congress. In view of Mr. Hoover's active opposition to it, nor that the President would sign a bill containing it.

Washington, April 22.—President Hoover has virtually won his first brush with Congress. Face to face with the first real test of his leadership, Mr. Hoover has cracked the whip over Congress in the farm relief fight in a manner reminiscent of Roosevelt or Wilson. Abandoning his hitherto passive attitude, he informed Congress in positive terms that he was opposed to the debuture plan, which the old McNary-Haugen plan favored as a substitute for the equalization fee, and he indicated plainly that only a veto awaits any farm bill containing it.

Sounds Death Knell
The President's opposition, expressed in a letter to the Senate agriculture committee, sounds the death knell of the debuture plan, and by the same token definitely assures the passage of a farm relief bill for which he stands sponsor. "Of that there can be no doubt. The well-disciplined House already is behind him. It is only a minority of the recalcitrant Senate with which he has to deal. And irrespective of whether the Senate agriculture committee does or does not vote to include the plan in the bill which it reports, the votes cannot be mustered to pass in either House. The committee vote may be close, either way, but it doesn't matter much."

McNary's Views
Senator McNary, U. S. chairman, who twice fathered bills which President Coolidge vetoed, expressed the general attitude of his colleagues when he said today: "I will not favor the debuture plan now that the President has expressed his opposition to it. I don't know what the committee will do. But I don't want to do anything foolish—such as passing a bill."

Body Found in Lake
Thought to be Flyer
Officials Checking Up on Story
That Burning Plane Was Seen Falling.

Erie, Pa., April 22.—Authorities here today were seeking a clue to the identity of a body of a man, believed to have been an aviator, which was washed ashore on Lake Erie about eight miles east here yesterday. "That the body may be that of an unknown aviator is based upon the report received by Coroner D. S. Hanley from E. J. Rentner of Erie, that he had seen what appeared to him to be a blazing plane, plunge into the water off Erie harbor at midnight April 21. No trace of a craft has been found.

HOOVER ASKS EDITORS TO HELP FIGHT CRIME

Stunting In Airplane Causes Death Of Six

San Diego, Cal., April 22.—A double investigation was today launched into the collision of an airplane which yesterday snuffed out the lives of six persons. The tragedy occurred 2,000 feet over San Diego when an Army pursuit plane "slipped" against a giant tri-motored Maddux air liner, causing both to crash to earth. The lone occupant of the Army plane and all five persons in the air liner were killed outright. The dead: Morris Murphy, veteran aviator, who was at the controls of the Maddux ship. Louis Pratt, assistant pilot. A. Eaujardo, a Mexican of San Diego. Amelia Eaujardo, his sister, also of San Diego. Lieut. Glen H. Keefer, Army reserve pilot, stationed temporarily at Rockwell Field, San Diego. The majority of witnesses declared that Keefer, playing a hairbreadth game with death about the great liner, had sent his fast pursuit ship into one mad stunt after another about it. Finally he misjudged his distance and looked wings with the other machine.

U. S. FACES OIL SHORTAGE SAYS HENRY L. DOHERTY

Atlantic City, N. J., April 22.—America through wasteful methods is facing a shortage of oil that might affect the country seriously in the event of a national emergency. This is the opinion of Henry L. Doherty, internationally known oil and public utilities magnate, as expressed today in an exclusive interview with International News Service. Mr. Doherty is one of the wealthiest men in the country, his riches being variously estimated from $25,000,000 to $200,000,000. Doherty is recognized in the oil industry as a "fighter"—a crusader for the conservation of the nation's oil resources. And until his recent marriage he was known as "America's Richest Bachelor."

Oil Is Vital Necessary
"Oil is a vital necessary in the event of a war," declared Doherty. "It is the biggest necessity. Every government in the civilized world realizes this and that is why they manifest the keenest interest in the development of their oil resources. The American government should assume the right to legislate on oil production. I disagree that it is strictly a state matter. It is a national matter, and one of supreme importance. I believe the conservation of our domestic oil supply is one of the burning problems before the country."

Needless Waste
"Our oil is now being wasted at a shocking rate. We, the American people, are taking more oil out of the ground and burning it up in some form or other every year than the state of Pennsylvania has produced since oil was discovered in that state in 1859." Doherty, who has been ill for two years with arthritis, will soon be back in New York, in active charge of his companies, the Cities Service Company and Henry L. Doherty & Co., of which he is the head. His public utilities companies furnish power to three hundred cities and villages in the United States and Canada. He is well known throughout the country, especially in the cities of New York, Denver, Madison, Wis., St. Paul, Minn., Columbus, Ohio, Toledo, Kansas City, Lincoln, Neb., Chicago and Los Angeles.

Started in Texas
The tornado disturbances originated in northeastern Texas and spread fanlike over Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana, later dipping into sections of Missouri, Mississippi and Kansas. Four negroes were reported killed near Dahomey, Miss., with hundreds of others injured. The tornadoes were the storm devastated the country, and were responsible for several scattered casualties. Storms and floods together are said to have taken seven lives in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana.

HEFLIN'S RESOLUTION
Washington, April 22.—The Senate would express its "public condemnation and repudiation of the attack upon Senator J. Thomas Hefflin (D) of Alabama, at Brockton, Mass., last month under a resolution introduced in the Senate this afternoon by the Alabama Senator. In the preamble Hefflin told how a mob stoned his automobile, a policeman being the only casualty. He then asserted that the action of the Brockton mob constituted an invasion of the constitutional rights of free speech and peaceful assembly. "Whereas, the Senate realizes," his resolution concluded, "that it is dangerous to our free institutions to permit interference with an assault upon the citizens' sacred constitutional right of free speech and peaceful assembly, therefore be it resolved that the Senate hereby express its condemnation and repudiation of the reprehensible and criminal conduct of those who sought to assault and do violence to Senator Hefflin and to interfere with the right of free speech and peaceful assembly on the occasion of his speech at Brockton, Mass., on the night of March 18th, 1929."

But One Segment
"In order to dispel certain illusions in the public mind on this subject," he asserted, "let me say at once that while violations of law have been increased by inclusion of crimes under the 18th Amendment and by the vast sums that have poured into the hands of the criminal classes by the patronage of illicit liquor by otherwise responsible citizens, yet this is but one segment of our problem. I have purposely cited the extent of murder, burglary, robbery, forgery, and embezzlement, for but a small percentage of these can be attributed to the 18th Amendment. In fact, of the total number of convictions for felony last year, less than 8 per cent came from that source. It is therefore but a sector of the invasion of lawlessness. Indirectly, however, the executive came back to the prohibition problem when he asserted that 'no individual has the right to determine what law shall be obeyed and what law shall not be enforced.' 'If a law is wrong,' he said, 'its rigid enforcement is the surest guaranty of its repeal. If it is right, its enforcement is the quickest.'" statement must positively stand in the light of incontrovertible facts.

EXPERT ON GAS HERE ASSAILS VAUGHAN FEARS

Submits the Facts

The following facts are very briefly submitted "Lewistite" or "The Dew of Death" as it has sometimes been called because of its possible use from airplanes, is a heavy, poisonous liquid that is dissipated in the form of a gas or vapor by the explosion of the shell.

It was the deadliest of the world war "mustard" gasses, (i.e. liquids that are poisonous and burn or decompose the skin and flesh). In fact the original mustard gas and Lewistite are very similar in their properties, though quite different chemically.

Lewistite sinks quickly into the flesh and it would not take many drops to cause death provided the liquid were not removed and no antidotes were applied.

Has Survived Gas Contact Because of the above facts stories have been circulated that a drop of Lewistite causes instant death.

Each hospital case requires the equivalent of 4 or 5 men behind the lines. A dead man requires a real liability to the enemy and what is of greater interest, he eventually recovers without being permanently maimed or disfigured.

These statements may be challenged, but the proof following cannot be: Of the United States casualties in the world war, 25 per cent were due to gas and only 2 per cent of these were fatal or permanently injured.

The British figures bear out the above. Of their mustard gas casualties, they had 1 in 40 that was fatal and only one in 200 that was permanently disabled.

It is commonly charged that gas causes tuberculosis. The facts are there was less tuberculosis among the gassed men than among other men who had not been gassed.

Wholesale Gassing Unlikely The wholesale gassing and wiping out of cities is a dream hardly likely to be attained. Gas does not rise much more than several stories from the ground.

The crime of war is not mitigated by any so-called "humaneness" of chemicals used in its prosecution; neither is the sad spectacle of science perverted to killing a very inspiring picture.

Mary Eaton Comes To Movieland As Leading Lady To The Marxes

New York.—As a very little girl, she used to stand before a mirror and imitate Paviola.

Then she took child parts in a stock company in Washington, D. C., after her parents had moved there from Norfolk, Va.

Before she was 16 she made her debut as a solo dancer in "The Royal Vagabond," but the Garry Society compelled her withdrawal because she was under the minimum age.

A year later she crashed to success, following Marilyn Miller as premiere danseuse of the Ziegfeld Follies, and she was the youngest premiere danseuse the Follies ever had.

Later she played with Eddie Cantor in the tremendously successful "Kid Boots" and in "Lucky."

Now she is leading lady to the Four Marx Brothers, being filmed at Paramount's Long Island studio.

That is the story of Mary Eaton, beautiful newcomer to the talking pictures. But with all her great talent for dancing and her experience and training, Mary wants to do dramatic roles. And, if Monta Bell has his way, she will have her chance.

Bell is production executive of the Paramount studio now, but in the old days when Mary was a kid in Washington, he was in the same city, working as a newspaper man and picking up a little side money by playing villains. Mary and Monta played together in "Salomy Jane" and other dramas of the period.

And they're both big shots now!

Mary Eaton... back in Washington, D. C., a few years ago, a yellow-haired little beauty was taking child parts in a local stock company. Now she is playing the leading lady in the movies to the Four Marx Brothers.

The MOVIE PEOPLE

Hollywood, Calif.—With music shows, vaudeville acts and stage players bringing new words to the dancers, a "grouch" has been the real mythical receptacle in which a trouper carries his or her season's savings, a "humpy" dump-talkies, Hollywood is speaking a strange slang.

A "snake" is a contortionist; "hoofers" is a rick. Nancy Carroll is used to characterize anyone who is unintelligent; "hand sitters" and "icicles" mean a cold audience that is not applauding; a "dump act" is an acrobatic turn—and so on.

Buddy Rogers, not yet "up" on all the quaint terms of backstage, was a bit upset the other day when Nancy Carroll came alone to his dressing room, knocked and asked "Are you decent?"

It only means, "Are you clothed sufficiently to receive visitors?"

Better things are being planned for Fred Mackaye of Universal. Mackaye was picked out of the mob to play opposite Mary Philbin in "The Port of Dreams." His work got him a role as leading juvenile in "Erik the Great," with Conrad Veidt and Mary Philbin.

A couple of years ago movie competition with grand opera was undreamed of. With the new talkies, that competition is becoming real. Thus, John Boles might have been an opera star, but he preferred the movies. Now the advent of Vitaphone has given him a chance to fulfill both ambitions. Boles has the lead in Warner Brothers' first Vitaphone operetta, "The Desert Song."

The world's largest "big top," covering a section of a country town more than an acre in extent, has been built at Burbank by First National Vitaphone. The town was built for the filming of "The Girl in the Glass Cage," and since it figures mostly in night scenes throughout a long sequence, a huge black tent was made to cover the set and shut out the sun. Night-filming of the scenes was found impractical because of the length of the sequence and the fact the troupe would have to work so many nights to get the work done. Heading the cast are Carroll Nye, Lucien Littlefield, Ralph Lewis, Matthew Betz, Julia Swaine Gordon and George Stone. The drama brings out an appealing love affair involving "the girl in the glass cage" in front of a theater.

Specialists who have made a study of the road problem estimate that from four to four and one-half billion reichsmarks (1 reichsmark equals $0.231) will be required during the next few years to put Germany's highways in proper condition.

—Senator Capper, Kansas.

"The process of government among us becomes a process of pillage and extortion."
—H. L. Mencken.

"It is my strong opinion that our greatest present need, in the intellectual lines, is that of thoroughly instructed, experienced and thoroughly sound teachers; and by teachers I mean all teachers, though especially those who are instructing the college youth."

..because it is

ALL-STEEL

Mechanism on top... hermetically sealed... never needs oiling, quiet, all-steel, cannot warp... electrically operated. $215 at the factory. All steel with electrically welded joints. Heavy hardware bolted into the steel. Black faced door edges, self-closing latch, gliders to protect linoleum, and many other unique features.

THE General Electric Refrigerator requires no soldering or plumbing because it has no drainpipe. It uses a minimum of current because the all-steel cabinet cannot warp and therefore never allows heat to creep in or cold to seep out.

It is individually controlled—its operation does not depend on the janitor or on any other installation in the building. It is exceptionally and remarkably quiet. It freezes ice faster (one tray in two hours, two trays in four).

No longer does "any refrigerator" satisfy the discriminating apartment-hunter. It must be a General Electric... because this remarkable all-steel refrigerator has many unique features which make it ideal for apartment use.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour, broadcast every Sunday evening, 9 to 10 Eastern Standard Time, over the N. B. C. network of forty-two stations.

FISHER ANNOUNCES

A Nation-wide System of BODY SERVICE

Fisher Body announces the organization of a new unit, the Fisher Body Service Corporation, to provide a nation-wide system of body service to all owners of General Motors cars.

How vast and far-reaching will be the service rendered by this organization is indicated by the fact that there are today over 23,000 General Motors dealer's service stations throughout the United States.

The system inaugurated by the Fisher Body Service Corporation will be the first centralized, economic and truly efficient body service the industry has yet known. Such a service system is possible of course to General Motors alone, because Fisher Body, the source of bodies for all General Motors cars, is a corporate part of General Motors, which it supplies with bodies year after year—thus being certain always of this great permanent market.

Fisher Body Service makes available to every General Motors car owner everything he may require in the way of body maintenance and rehabilitation, and will enable him to obtain complete service—service for car body as well as car chassis—from one source, his car dealer. Such service as the elimination of body annoyances, the adjusting of tie-down bolts, the periodical dressing of the roof, the lubrication of door lock bolts, door checks and hinges, the cleansing of soiled upholstery, the bumping of fenders or panels, will now be performed in your dealer's service department.

The car owner will be thus freed from the necessity of turning for his car body's maintenance to small shops whose inadequate equipment compels them to charge exorbitant prices, and from which genuine Fisher Body parts are not obtainable.

Now, through General Motors dealers, Fisher Body parts will be supplied at factory list prices wherever and whenever they are required, registering a marked saving to the car owner.

For General Motors dealers—and their mechanics who have been instructed in the care of bodies for more than a year—there have been made available the tools and equipment necessary for actual and immediate service.

Two Fisher Body service schools have been established—one in Detroit, one in Oakland, California—where thousands of General Motors men will be trained. The Fisher Body Service Corporation has also established Parts Depots at these points where complete stocks of genuine Fisher Body parts for General Motors cars are held ready for immediate shipment upon order of General Motors dealers.

Fisher Body considers the inauguration of this nation-wide Fisher Body service a vital, progressive contribution to the public, especially because of the immensely increased interest which owners are manifesting everywhere in body beauty, body comfort and body durability.

General Motors Spring Showing, April 20th to 27th. Be sure to visit a General Motors Showroom during this week.

The Meat Department was witty this morning—if brevity is, indeed, the soul of it. "Just tell 'em" says the department, "that, if they want a good thing while it is going, to get in on some of this Lamb for stewing—it's lean and tender and awful good; or some of this nice Native Veal for a stew. And you might mention that Pinehurst never had any finer Corned Beef—lean Chucks, Briskets and Ribs. They'll know what that means." So that's that.
Pinehurst urges its patrons to make use of the Early Delivery. We organized it for you and it's yours to command. The service will please you quite as much as the famous "Good Things to Eat."
