

HOOVER BOOSTS TARIFF RATES; DESPITE 'BLOC'

President's Act Regarded as Blow to Farmers' Group; Leaders Say He is Pro- tecting Home Markets.

Washington, May 15.—President Hoover's first proclamations under the flexible tariff provisions of the present law, while boosting duties on three agricultural products, were regarded today as a severe blow to the campaign of the House "Farm Bloc" to force farm tariffs to new high levels.

In fixing new duties on flaxseed, cream and milk, at or below the rates carried in the new Hawley bill now pending in the House, Mr. Hoover was placed in the position of opposing the demands of the "Farm Bloc" for higher duties on these products and a score of others.

The president's action, which was on recommendation of the tariff commission was regarded as fresh evidence that the White House is fearful of the effect of an embargo tariff rates upon the country's growing foreign commerce.

Hold Secret Sessions.

Despite the president's action, however, spokesmen for the "Farm Bloc" continued to hammer away in secret session of Republican members of the ways and means committee for high tariffs.

The "Farm Bloc" members, under command of Rep. Dickinson of Iowa urged the committee to reconsider its action on the original plea for high duties on live cattle, caseln, long staple cotton, milk products, butter, tobacco and many other farm products.

They contended the president had not delivered a slap in the face by his tariff action, pointing out that the evidence upon which the tariff commission made its recommendations to Mr. Hoover was in some cases two or three years old. They also pointed to provisions of the Hawley bill which would increase the commission as an indication of the committee's lack of faith in it.

Protects Home Market.

The fact that Mr. Hoover has raised the tariff on flaxseed, which hits Argentina, milk and cream, which affects Canada, and window glass which strikes at France and Belgium was, they said, only an indication that he is determined to protect the domestic market against inroads of foreign commerce.

Rep. John D. Miller of Connecticut, Republican House leader, refused to admit that there was any connection between Mr. Hoover's proclamations and the tariff fight. He also defended the ways and means committee against charges

PUBLISHER OF POST SUES FOR MILLION

Edward B. McLean, of Wash- ington, Denies Article in The Philadelphia Record.

Washington, May 15.—The Washington Post carried an announcement on its front page today that its publisher, Edward B. McLean, has brought a libel suit of $1,000,000 against the Philadelphia Record.

The suit is the outgrowth of an article published by the Record on Monday in the article hereinafter given at the Belgian Embassy. It declared, among other things, that Mr. McLean was one of the guests, and that after the Post had criticized the ambassador in its columns, President Hoover had "squelched" the publisher.

Publisher's Statement.

Mr. McLean, in his declaration, says:

"The plaintiff did not attend a dinner at the Belgian Embassy referred to in the article hereinafter complained of and did not at such dinner dine 'too well,' and did not subject the Belgian ambassador to embarrassment by reason of his conduct, and was not requested to leave the dinner."

Further, the publisher declares his newspaper did not print "any outburst" against the ambassador, that he was not "squelched" by President Hoover, and was not by any action of the President's "put in his place."

The story published in the Record is described by the plaintiff as "false, defamatory, malicious, and scandalous."

STAMP'S REPORT IN Paris, May 15.—Sir Josiah Stamp's report of the reparations conference, containing the German reservations, was received by Owen D. Young, chairman of the conference, this afternoon. It will be distributed to the allied delegates to-night.

WOMAN STOWAWAY FOUND ON ZEPPELIN

Friedrichshafen, Germany, May 15.—Six equality in Germany extends even to airship stowaways. This was proved today when one of three stowaways found upon the dirigible Graf Zeppelin proved to be a woman.

She is Gerald Kupker, aged 24, a cook. Two males were found in the ship at the same time. Dr. Hugo Eckener, head of the Zeppelin Works, will prosecute all would-be stowaways.

Just before the recent Mediterranean flight of the Graf two men who were found on board the ship without permission were sentenced to three months in jail.

ZEP'S START IS PUT OFF FOR ONE DAY

France is Tardy in Giving Permission to Fly Over Her Territory—To Leave At Dawn Tomorrow.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, May 15.—The great German dirigible Graf Zeppelin will leave for Lakehurst, N. J., at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning (German time), it was announced this afternoon by Dr. Hugo Eckener, head of the Zeppelin Works and director of the trans-Atlantic flight.

Dr. Eckener expects to reach Lakehurst late Saturday evening or Sunday morning, estimating that the voyage will take from 65 to 70 hours.

The Graf probably will fly over Basle, the Loire valley, Cape Finisterre, proceeding westward over the Atlantic north of the Azores. According to this route the dirigible would strike the Virginia coast, flying thence to Washington, D. C., and New York, then to Lakehurst. This same route was followed over United States soil when the Zeppelin made its previous flight to America.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, May 15.—Only one member of the passenger list of the "Graf Zeppelin" was undisturbed today by the international red tape which prevented the ship from taking off at the scheduled time for its third trip across the Atlantic.

The unaffected one was "Miss," the female gorilla which is destined for the Chicago Zoo. "Miss," who will be the first gorilla ever taken across the Atlantic in a Zeppelin, did not seem to care particularly one way or the other, but all others concerned in the expedition spent the early hours of the day in tearing their hair and chafing under the full day's postponement of the start.

The actual reasons for the postponement are still somewhat vague. At least, there are two sides to the story.

Eckener's Explanation.

Dr. Hugo Eckener, pilot of the great dirigible, declared that the

SMITH ADDRESSES HARVARD FACULTY

Speaks Before Members of Union Club Who Support- ed Him During Campaign.

Boston, May 15.—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith was back in New York today following a speedy and unannounced visit to Boston and Cambridge where he was entertained and made an address at a private dinner at the Union Club to 45 members of the faculty of Harvard University, men who worked for his candidacy for president in the last campaign.

No prominent active member of the Democratic state or city committee knew he was here, the former governor explaining that his visit was to keep a promise to visit the Harvard men. He plans another visit to Boston later, he said.

Arrives Early

The Democratic presidential nominee arrived here early last night in company with Judge Joseph M. Proskauer, and Dr. Henry L. Moskowitz, both of New York. The party was met by Prof. and Mrs. Felix Frankfurter and proceeded for an automobile ride through Boston and Cambridge.

Gov. Smith gave a two hour address on government, in which he called the American government the best in the world.

He sounded a call to arms against the so-called power trusts' encroachment upon public property and rights. The former governor singled out the power problem as one of the gravest facing the nation today.

Rioting Students Wrecked This Office

The picture above shows the wrecked main office of Des Moines University after 150 rioting students had broken into the building in a futile search for Dr. T. T. Shields of Toronto, Canada, chairman of the board of trustees of the school, who ordered the entire faculty of the Baptist fundamentalist institution dismissed. Shields is known as a fundamentalist leader and is said to have demanded that all the professors agree not to teach anything concerning evolution.

MORE TIME FOR LEISURE MEANS BETTER BUSINESS

President's Commission Makes Report; Shorter Hours Creates New Needs and Helps Prosperity.

Washington, May 15.—Few current economic developments have made such widespread changes in national life or promise so much for the future as utilization of increasing leisure time.

In the midst of a ponderous analysis of fundamental developments over the past seven years, contained in a report of President Hoover's committee on recent economic changes, made public today, is that statement, in effect discarding the time-worn adage: "The devil finds work for idle hands to do."

Work Week Shortened.

"During the period covered by the survey the trend toward increased leisure received considerable impetus," the committee said. "The work week was shortened in the factory by better planning and modern machinery, and in the home by the increased use of time-labor saving appliances and services."

It was found that closely related to the increased rate of production and consumption of products was the consumption of leisure time. During the post-war period, through the physical and mental reconstruction of the nation, the conception of leisure as consumable began to be realized upon in business in a practical way and on a broad scale.

Creates New Needs.

"It began to be recognized not only that leisure is 'consumable' but that people cannot 'consume' leisure without consuming goods and services, and that leisure which results from an increasing man-hour productivity helps to create new needs and new and broader markets," the report said.

In other words prosperity depends not upon production and consumption of luxuries, and the use of what the report characterizes as "optional purchases," i. e., those which are not absolutely essential to life and health.

The report found that "as a people we have become steadily less concerned about the primary needs—food, clothing and shelter. American food standards have risen," the committee declared. "But we hear little of the 'high cost of living,' and the slogan of the 'full dinner pail' is obsolete. We wear less clothing, more rayon and silks, less cotton and wool."

Big Monolith to Commemo- rate Town's First School Now Almost Ready.

For a big granite monolith weighing a couple of tons, so mark the site of the first school house ever erected in the town of Manchester, an inscription tablet is being prepared at the plan of the Noble & Westbrook Manufacturing Co. in East Hartford. The marker is to stand at the Bunce school house on Olcott street and will be unveiled with considerable ceremony on June 25, according to present plans.

The provision of this historic marker has been accomplished through the efforts of a committee headed by Gustave Schreiber of West Center street. It will be the first permanent memorial of the kind to the early settlers of the town and the first completed attempt to provide for the continued interest of the population in the history of Manchester's beginnings through physical reminders. The inscription on the tablet on the big stone is to read:

Shift Scene to Windsor Locks, Two Miles Away; Despite All the Work Windsor Case is No Near- er Solution Than a Week Ago—Revolver Still Miss- ing.

Windsor, May 15.—Despite all the scurrying back and forth and the running down of this clue and that, the authorities were no nearer today to a solution of the mysterious death of Walter Treadway Huntington, handsome Harvard Junior, than they were a week ago when he was found shot to death in a lonely swamp on the outskirts of this city.

It has become a mystery within a mystery. The authorities do not yet know, they admit, whether it was a case of murder or suicide.

Search proceeded today for the .32 caliber pistol with which young Huntington killed himself, according to the theory advanced and adhered to by the chief of the investigating staff, County Detective Edward J. Hickey. The finding of the gun, he believes, will do much to clear up the case. All day yesterday, Hickey and his aides worked in a heavy drizzle, with picks, shovels and powerful electric magnetes at the scene in an effort to wrest from the turf the secret of Huntington's death.

DRAG RIVER

The detectives removed an area of the pasture near where the body was found and carried to the court house at Hartford. They admitted they were searching for evidence but were at a loss to explain why, if they believed it to be a case of suicide, they were going to such labor. Today they were to search the river at Windsor Locks, more than two miles from where Huntington was shot or shot himself.

Truffed by fifty Metropolitan newspapermen, the detectives have run down innumerable clues and rumors and questioned many persons but none of these efforts has produced anything tangible. All kinds of wild stories have been circulated and some of them published. There have been stories of "whoopie" parties indulged in by the dead youth and of mysterious girls and women who were reported to have played a part in his life during the last three months. But the name of not a single girl has been brought to light.

Last night he had another bad spell but recovered sufficiently so that he decided to go to work as usual this morning.

He worked as a stock clerk in the Hartford plant. He leaves no near relatives except his wife and two sisters. The latter, Hanna and Catherine, reside in Germany. Funeral arrangements are incomplete but Mrs. Hoffman said that the service would undoubtedly be held at the home Friday afternoon with burial in the East cemetery.

CANTONESE VICTORIOUS IN BLOODY ENCOUNTER

London, May 15.—Fifteen hundred casualties have taken place as the result of a heated battle between Cantonese Nationalists and Kwangsi troops at Shekwan, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Hong Kong today.

It was officially announced, the dispatch stated, that Cantonese troops, aided by gunboats and fifteen airplanes, launched the attack against the Kwangsi, who retreated in disorder and with great loss after several hours of fighting.

The retreating troops were hotly pursued by snipers in the airplanes.

Additional fighting took place near Samshui, the gateway to Canton, the message continued. Cantonese gunboats fired upon Kwangsi vessels attempting to land troops near Samshui, killing and wounding many and capturing several boats.

The allied Cantonese armies have captured Kwelling and Pingli with out bloodshed. Samshui remains in the possession of Canton troops.

DR. WAYMAN QUITS IOWA UNIVERSITY Had Been Suspended After Quarrel With Dr. Shields Over Fundamentalism.

Des Moines, May 15.—Declaring that irregularities existed which would prevent him from remaining as president, Dr. H. C. Wayman today stated his intention of permanently severing his connection with Des Moines University following the ending of the school year, June 4.

Dr. Wayman, suspended by Dr. T. T. Shields, chairman of the board of trustees, following a student outbreak in which an egg and rock-throwing orgy almost wrecked the administration building, continued today in command of the local situation.

Students, whose reprisals were directed against Dr. Shields and Miss Edith Reberman, secretary of the board, were following Dr. Wayman's leadership and were quietly observing class routine.

Classes Resumed Although Dr. Shields ordered deposition of the faculty and dismissal of classes, the institution resumed activities yesterday when a court order was served upon Dr. Wayman. It was a friendly order instituted by students and designed to frustrate Dr. Shields' mandate. President Wayman in the first statement he has made bearing upon the issues in controversy, today authorized a prepared document in which he set forth that as long as Miss Reberman and Dr. Shields continue on the board of trustees he could not remain as head of the university.

JANITOR GLEASON HOLDS ATTENDANCE RECORD

Misses Out Few Days in His 32 Years—Has Just Recovered from Short Illness.

There is an old saying that you can't keep a good man down and it apparently is a most appropriate one in the case of William E. Gleason of 72 School street, yesterday. Mr. Gleason resumed his duties at the School street Recreation Center where he is employed as janitor. He had been absent ten days because of illness.

Ordinarily one would say that that is nothing alarming so far as news is concerned when it is added that the ten days is the longest period Mr. Gleason has been away from his work in the 32 years he has been connected with the schools in the Ninth District, it becomes a different matter. Mr. Gleason hasn't been out of work because of illness or other reasons a total of a month in that stretch of over thirty years. To say that he has been a most faithful employee would be putting matters mildly. His recent illness was a combination of heart trouble and a cold which he contracted while at his work washing windows. Mr. Gleason is very well known about town and will always be remembered as one of the heroes of the old school fire.

"POP BOTTLE RIOT" RESULTS IN DEATH

Akron, Ohio, May 15.—The "pop bottle riot" at Dunn Field in Cleveland last Saturday, during the ball game between Cleveland and Philadelphia, resulted in one casualty today when Lee Porter, 28, died in a hospital here due to a fractured skull.

Ormsby, on the third baseline, was hit by a bottle, suffering a concussion of the brain. He is reported recovering in a Cleveland hotel and is expected to resume his duties in the near future. Porter, a spectator, was also hit by a flying bottle, it was revealed today, but was apparently, only slightly dazed at the time, and he returned here with a party of friends. He became ill Sunday and was removed to a hospital yesterday afternoon when it was revealed that he had suffered a fractured skull. He died this morning.

INTER-SCHOOL DEBATES TO CLOSE TOMORROW

Manchester to Debate East Hartford on Water Project; Inter-Class Debates End Later.

With the staging of two more inter-class debates and one more school contest, the debating season at the Manchester High school will come to a conclusion of the 1928-29 year.

Miss Helen E. Nute, teacher of ancient history and civics at the High school, who is also coach of all debating work, said today that the final inter-school debate of the season will take place tomorrow afternoon during the regular Thursday afternoon assembly program. Manchester and East Hartford will be the contending schools. The subject to be debated is as follows: "Resolved, that the federal or state government should develop and operate the water project of the country." Manchester will defend the affirmative side of the question with its opponents on the affirmative.

Miss Marion Jones and Austin Johnson will represent Manchester. They argued on the same question before the noonday session of the Kiwanis Club at the Hotel Sheridan Monday. Each will make a rebuttal speech in addition to their regular address.

East Hartford, however, will have three speakers, one for the sole purpose of giving the rebuttal. They are George Cook, Robert Bjorkman and Ralph Dixon. It is rather unusual to find a debating team consisting entirely of boys nowadays.

The decision will be given by the assembly which will be instructed to strive its utmost to avoid partiality.

The inter-class debates got under way yesterday afternoon when the Sophomores won from the Freshmen. Next week Monday the Juniors and Seniors will clash with the winner meeting the Sophomores for the school title a week from tomorrow which falls on May 23.

The subject being debated in all three contests is as follows: "Resolved: That health heroes have contributed more to the well-being and progress of mankind than statesmen." The judges yesterday were Miss Margaret A. Gist, A. N. Potter and C. A. Davis, all members of the school faculty.

The Freshmen cause was battled by Barbara Edmington, Florence Donohue, Freda Clegg and Ruth Hale while Ernano Garavans, Austin Johnson, Marjorie Waddell and Francis McVeigh argued for the Sophomores.

"WAR OF BAPTISTS" OPENS IN BUFFALO

ed," Dr. Stevens said that it was more of a "demonstration" by the students than a riot and that he did not think there was any murder in their hearts.

"You know students will be students," he said. While not commenting upon the resolution of the board condemning his opposition to their policies, Dr. Stevens said that he had "washed his hands" of the board either until new trustees are elected or until their policy changes.

He emphasized that the issue concerned neither anti-Canadianism, abolition of fraternities, nor any personal charge against Miss Reberman.

"Although Miss Reberman and Dr. Shields are Canadians that fact has little to do with the trouble except that two Canadian students sided with them," said Dr. Stevens. "Social fraternities were abolished at the university a year ago and there is no dancing allowed. As for the gossip concerning Miss Reberman and Dr. Shields, they were both exonerated by the board some time ago."

Woman Exonerated In Miss Reberman's interview with International News Service, she produced a mimeographed copy of the exonerations.

"Examination of certain witnesses revealed that the complaints and rumors referred to were the result of evil constructions put upon legitimate and inevitable circumstances or of positive and palpable falsehoods to a deliberate and malicious attempt to impair the usefulness of said officers of the board," the exonerations read, in part.

Miss Reberman was a symphony in black and white. She has a quick smile and sense of humor which apparently is helping her to enjoy the situation.

Modernistic Tendencies "There have been lots of modernistic tendencies in Des Moines University, despite what Dr. Stevens says," she said. "The rioting by the students was a detail. The state was all set for that. But there are other issues as well."

Dr. Shields was quoted: "About two years ago the Baptist Bible Union took over Des Moines University and Dr. Shields was elected acting president. Miss Reberman was elected secretary-treasurer of the board. When Dr. Shields was absent she was in control of the school."

"Her methods were such as to create friction in the faculty and student body and this friction has grown until it has reached its present combination and in the scenes of last week."

"The lady who dresses so modernly but thinks fundamentally listened and smiled."

"What difference does it make what I think," she said. "The board answered Dr. Stevens in its resolution I gave you."

Town Engineer J. Frank Bowen is ill at his home on Woodbridge street in the Green.

POWER TRUST ADVANCED LOANS TO NEWSPAPERS

Washington, May 15.—The International Paper & Power Co. owns a $1,630,000 interest in the Bryan-Thomson Newspaper Co., of Chicago, publishers of the Chicago Journal, the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune and the Greensboro (N. C.) Record.

Samuel Thomson, of Chicago, told the Federal Trade Commission today. Thomson revealed that conferences in the fall and winter of 1927, with Joseph Pearing, sales manager for the power company, resulted in the International advance loan to his organization a $1,000,000 loan in May, 1928, and $630,000 subsequently in three different loans.

Thomson admitted that the postoffice statement of the Chicago Journal did not credit the International Paper & Power company with stock ownership, although he said he had informed his competitors in Chicago of the loan.

"I did a foolish and stupid thing when I did not include the name of the International Paper & Power Co. in the postoffice statement," Thomson said.

Thomson said he had informed his competitors in Chicago of the loan.

Shirley Armstrong of West Hartford, Conn., is recovering from a severe attack of influenza.

GARDEN CLUB'S SALE OF PLANTS SATURDAY

Will Be Held in Store at 985 Main Street—Mrs. C. R. Burr in Charge.

Saturday is the date set for the annual plant sale of the Manchester Garden club, and the place, the store at 985 Main street, formerly occupied by the Park Hill Flower shop. Selling of bulbs, plants, seedlings and shrubs will begin at ten o'clock in the forenoon, Saturday, and continue through the day and evening or until the stock is closed out.

Mrs. C. R. Burr is acting chairman of the sale in the absence of Mrs. E. A. Lettney who is in New Orleans. Mrs. Lillian S. Bowers has consented to take charge of advance orders and those who desire anything special may be able to secure it by getting in touch with Mrs. Bowers.

Return postal cards bearing the name of Mrs. Lettney, the original chairman, were mailed some time ago to upwards of 75 members. Up to date very few of these, which were supposed to list the contributions, have found their way into the hands of the committee. They request this information at the earliest moment possible. Every one of the Garden club members is expected to contribute something for the sale in the form of plants, birdhouses or garden accessories. If it is desired they will be called for Friday afternoon by notifying Mrs. Burr or George E. Rix, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Members of the committee in charge of the plant sale will be in attendance at the store, 985 Main street, to receive donations Friday afternoon and arrange them for Saturday's selling. A check-up of the replies already received by Mrs. Burr indicates that there will be a supply of delphiniums, oriental poppies, snapdragons, chrysanthemums, pansies, asters, shrubs and bulbs of different varieties.

The Garden club held a plant sale on a Saturday in May last year. It was so successful that it is expected to make it an annual event. So far this sale is the only money-making project, the flower shows of the club have always been free to the public and the revenue from dues does not cover the expense of speakers at the regular meetings and hall rent. The club has made a beginning in community work by contributing shrubs for the Memorial hospital grounds, and vases for indoor use at the institution. It has taken upon itself the care of bulbs used since the organization of the club a little over two years ago.

KING'S DAUGHTERS PLAN ACTIVITIES

Ever Ready Circle of Kings Daughters met last evening at the home of Mrs. A. P. Lydall of Hudson street. The devotional period was led by Mrs. George Borst on the topic "We are Laborers Together With God." Miss Ethel M. Fish, leader of Sunnyside circle, the junior Kings Daughters, reported that the circle has a membership now of 13 and conducts its meetings in a businesslike way. A strawberry social is planned by the circle to be held at the home of Miss Fish on North Elm street some time in June.

Mrs. Gerald Risley gave a report of the annual meeting of the Kings Daughters Union in Hartford, April 20, and Miss Fish reported for the annual conference at Windsor, May 2. Mrs. C. E. Wilson gave an account of a luncheon she attended Thursday of last week in Hartford. It was given by Mrs. A. W. Meyer for leaders and 32 circles were represented. Plans were discussed for the convention to be held this fall at the Central Baptist church, Hartford, November 5 and 6. Ever Ready Circle will make nut cups for table decorations.

Mrs. Millard Park exhibited an interesting outfit of clothing for "Edith" the little girl from the Children's Aid society the circle has undertaken to clothe. It included a practical ensemble suit of brown tweed, a navy blue straw hat, a khaki play suit, a dainty yellow silk dress and other garments. The date set for the spring rummage sale is Wednesday, June 5 and the store in the Buckland building will be open to receive donations Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. E. E. Segar and Mrs. F. A. Nickerson constitute the committee in charge. In connection with the sale, newspapers will be called for. Two interesting games were directed by Miss Mabel Lanphear. Ice cream, cake, punch and home-made candy were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Wallace Jones, Mrs. G. W. Kuhnney and Miss Lanphear.

NOON STOCKS. New York, May 15.—General Electric and Packard, the runaway bullish team which performed so spectacularly at the close of Tuesday's market, were ready to plunge ahead at a break-neck pace as soon as the market was declared ready for business today. Packard's notable achievement in perfecting a new aerial engine to fly at a speed of 150 miles per hour was the subject of much speculation all over the country, and the stock was in demand as the news of the engine's success spread.

points from yesterday's low price. At 230, General Electric showed a new gain of 3 points and an advance of 15 points since Monday. Wall street heard that the heads of the company favored distributing some of the holdings of Radio Corporation stock to the stockholders, which is an old story revived for the occasion. It was also reported that a new split-up of the stock was contemplated which might or might not be true. Officials refused to confirm or deny the report. The railroad stocks made a bid for the limelight at the start, about 100 of the active rails opening 1 to 3 points higher. There was no great rush to buy and the railroad index went up on the shell.

KING GEORGE RETURNS TO WINDSOR CASTLE. Bognor, England, May 15.—King George of England left Bognor today to take up residence at Windsor Castle. The British monarch, who has been recuperating here at the seaside home of Sir Arthur Clouston, was accompanied by Queen Mary when he drove out of the seaside grounds near Bognor. King George's departure was the signal for the start of the summer season at Windsor Castle.

TOMATOES START LEAKING. Washington, May 15.—A carload of "tomatoes" started leaking in the freight yards here today, resulting in the capture of some $50,000 worth of high-grade liquor. The car was consigned from Florida to Newark, N. J., but the police decline to give the name of the consignor.

AIR MANEUVERS

Of absorbing interest to those alive to the problem of national defense—as opposed to the fuss,
 noise and extravagance of jingoism
 —will be the aerial maneuvers in Ohio beginning today and scheduled to endure for the next two weeks.

This will be by far the most ambitious study of the airplane as a wartime arm that has been conducted in this country. Here the importance of the air forces as an actual combat factor will be as thoroughly tested as they can be in time of peace. It is entirely possible that upon the result of this demonstration may depend the whole future military policy of the nation.

In the World War the flying forces were of great value for scouting and observation purposes.
 Occasionally they were of some effect in minor attacks upon ground troops. But most of the fighting they did, while sublimely courageous and sacrificial, was of no large usefulness. There were too few of them, for one thing, and for another they were always, when in the air, out of control of any central authority—a condition fatal to important military efficiency on the part of any arm of the service.

These maneuvers are undertaken
 under the presumption that difficulties in radio communication in the air have been so largely overcome that a fleet of planes can be handled and controlled as definitely as a fleet of destroyers at sea.
 The military aviators under this presumption, becomes a unit in a military machine instead of a sort of flying knight errant wandering at will and seeking honorable conflict as a free lance. If it is demonstrated in Ohio that considerable numbers of planes can be thus maneuvered tactically and depended on for co-ordinated action, it is obvious that there is impending a revolution in the science of warfare.

There are a great many Americans—not by any means necessarily enthusiasts over civil aviation, who have been convinced for some time that in the air lies the source of invulnerability for the United States. Granted that wars can be fought on the wing at all, it is perfectly patent that the nation that stays at home and operates its fighting planes close to their bases of supply and manufacture will have an immeasurable advantage over the invader. Against alien air forces, against alien land troops, against alien warships, any adequate American air navy must be supreme in protection of American soil and America's coasts—if the airplane proves to be, in combat, what it is expected will be shown by this great series of tests.

It is not surprising then, if there are many citizens of this country who regard these manuvers as of far greater significance than the building of fleets of cruisers, sub-thumping over "pacifism" and the rest of the paper-dragon sort of militarism that would amount to nothing in a pinch. And it's the pinch, and the pinch only, that this country should prepare against.

PERJURY

There are apparently less tolerant or perjured liquor spotters who frame up innocent people in Massachusetts than in Connecticut. In Hampden county superior court
 two of these dainty birds have just been sentenced to terms of 12 to 15 years in prison for bearing false witness against their neighbor.
 Now a third person is accused of having been in cahoots with these spotters, making the plants and supplying the booze which the perjured stool pigeons produced in support of their lying testimony
 that they had bought it of suspected speakeasy operators; he faces a similar bump.

 The worst that has happened to any of these gentry hereabouts was when one of them, after contributing to the conviction of a number of suspects, finally ran up against a jury which disbelieved him and in addition to being discredited was sent to jail for six months for an offense having nothing to do with false swearing.

The example supplied by the Massachusetts court is a smashing
 one. It ought to have an important effect in curbing the activities of piece-work spies who do snooping
 at so much per conviction—a wretched system which puts a premium on conspiracy and injustice.
 It might well be extended by handing the same kind of a dose to
 a few of those light-colored liars,
 of whom there are so many, who come to think that it is merely clever to lie under oath to a judge or a jury in almost every kind of court case.

The notion that a certain amount of perjury must be tolerated in the courts of this country has never yet been proven correct. We are inclined to the belief that just a few more doses like that given to these spotters in the Springfield court would make perjured testimony a hard thing to buy, in the Bay State,
 at any price let alone cheaply.

STEP BACK, PLEASE

Assumption on the part of the Hartford Times that the proposed erection of a great airplane plant in East Hartford by the Pratt & Whitney Aircraft Corporation will importantly increase the need of another bridge over the Connecticut at a point somewhere near Wyllys street is probably justifiable.
 There would be, of course, a heavy addition to traffic movements
 across the river—the transportation of materials alone constituting
 a source of much trucking activity.
 And the second bridge is badly needed in any event.

It is very doubtful, however,
 whether another bridge or half a dozen would provide any great temptation to many of the employes of the new plant to live in Hartford. There is no reason why they should live there and a dozen why they will prefer to live in East Hartford and Manchester. Hartford is unfortunately and irremediably hampered by traffic congestion; it is badly laid out for the handling of large movements of people. It would take the workers much longer to reach their homes, should they live in Hartford, than if they lived in Manchester, to say nothing of East Hartford. And all they would get for choosing the city as their residence would be less elbow room, much higher rents and the privilege of getting into traffic jams.

Let Hartford find her satisfaction in the growth of the near-by towns. In actual population she doesn't stand to gain much by the Pratt & Whitney move.

CHEATIN' GOIN' ON

There's a "lot of cheatin' goin'
 on" in the Huntington case in Windsor, unless we are very much mistaken; and a deal of kidding.
 Just what Detective Hickey, the coroner and the state's attorney are up to, we cannot imagine. But if anybody thinks that Hickey and his assistants are combing three or four acres of swampland in the hope of finding a bullet, that person must give Mr. Hickey credit for less intelligence than we do.

The observers may rest assured of one thing; which is that if the folks who have been thrashing over that swamp actually have the re-motest idea of finding the bullet that killed Huntington—which most people took for granted was still in the dead youth's head—
 their leader must have an exceedingly detailed reconstruction of the shooting in his mind. He must know to his entire satisfaction, exactly where and how the victim stood when the shot was fired and precisely the course taken by the projectile. Otherwise it would be as sensible to look for a lost penny in midocean as a leaden bullet in a swamp.

We have heard of sand being thrown in the eyes of inquisitive people but this is the first time we ever heard of its being quicksand.
 Whatever the purpose of the authorities in poking over that Windsor waste, it is highly probable that it is not the finding of the lethal bullet. That is an excellent bet.

PEEP-FROGS

Country dwellers, says an editorial writer of the New York Herald-Tribune, "whose first hint of the coming spring is the treble trill of the tiny frogs which have just shed their tails and ceased to be tadpoles, will be astonished to learn of the protest against the whole frog tribe which is now raging at Lynbrook, L. I." Continuing to chide the Lynbrookers,
 he says they "might at least appreciate the economic possibilities of the amphibian residents. Frogs legs are one of the most delicious and costly of table delicacies and if there are as many pairs of them in that Lynbrook pond as is alleged

 it ought to be a rare source of table supply."

All of which shows that the shoemaker should stick to his last and a metropolitan editor to his taxis
 and his subways. The "peep-frog" so called is no true frog at all. He never sheds any tail. A million of his kind legs wouldn't make a bite.
 He never grows up. He is a wee little like all his life. He doesn't become a bullfrog any more than a minnow grows into a whale. And if the Herald-Tribune man doesn't believe as he can ask Columnist
 Fred Latimer of the Hartford Times, who knows more about peep-frogs than Einstein does about bent light rays.

FOIBLES AND SIN

Challenged to explain his regard for goldfish as pets, the editor of the Danbury News says he likes goldfish because none ever kept him awake yawning nor scratched
 him as he stroked it, nor killed seven of a neighbor's chickens, nor growled at his mother-in-law, nor stole the Sunday roast and ate it on the living room divan, nor sat in the middle of the floor and scratched fleas all over the minister.

What of it? Nor did our cat ever flop out of the bowl and land in the only cocktail glass of cold tea in the house! That's no foible, like the scratching and the flea-that's sin.

WHY NO MEAT?

If any of my readers were to write what the BELIEVE regarding
 such an important subject as food, they could no doubt write many volumes, but very few could write even a small booklet about what they really KNOW about food.
 All of us should learn to discriminate between believing and knowing. The fact is, as some philosopher has said, "We know so many things that 'ain't' so." Take, for instance, the subject of meat—eating that meat is bad for you. Well, that meat is bad for him, but can seldom KNOW this to be true. Meat is a very valuable food but, of course, when used to excess or in wrong combination can be as harmful as starches, sugars, fats or any of the other foods of high calorie value.

In my search for truths about diet I have evolved from the vegetarian stage, through the raw food period of belief, up to my present knowledge of facts regarding a balanced diet. I know all of the vegetable and raw food arguments and to tell the truth I have used these same arguments, myself, years ago.
 Today, with a broader understanding of dietetics, I seldom use the words "never" and "always" when referring to certain foods.

My readers who are now taking up the study of food should not handicap themselves by being too set in their opinions, and prove all theories studied by practical proof through experience. Fully 98 per cent of patients in my private practise will admit at their first interview that they do not know much about food except that meat is bad for them. This opinion has been arrived at from reading vegetarian
 literature and also from statements

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Gland Functioning.) Question: Mrs. F. P. asks: "What is the function of the pituitary gland, and in what way does it affect an individual? What are the symptoms of a disturbed pituitary

gland? Can a normal or abnormal one be determined by the x-ray?"

Answer: The pituitary gland is divided into two distinct lobes, each of which seems to have different functions. The exact difference of the anterior and posterior secretions have not been definitely determined. An under-functioning of the pituitary gland may produce a very obese individual resembling a fat
 boy. An excess of the secretion may produce enlargement of the hands, feet, lower jaw and on increase in height producing giant-
 ism. It is generally admitted that the front lobe exerts most of the influence upon the bodily growth,
 and the posterior lobe upon the metabolism. The normality or abnormality of the gland could not be determined by the x-ray.

(Yellow Teeth.)
 Question: Mrs. J. U. L. writes:
 "I had white, clean-looking teeth until about a year ago, when they began turning yellow. I wash them after each meal, but within a few hours a yellow substance collects on them which I can remove with a nail file. I would appreciate your advice about this."

Answer: Yellowish teeth are the natural condition with some people.
 However, it is possible some other condition is responsible in your own case and I would advise you to consult a good dentist. It is not a safe idea to scrape your teeth because by doing so you are apt to injure them and make them subject to decay.

If it wasn't for the night clubs,
 where would the tired government
 agents spend the evening?

WASHINGTON LETTER

By ROBBEY DUTCHER.

Washington, May 15.—Senator J. Boonboom McWhorter had had what is by all odds his brightest idea since first he proposed to save the farmers by turning the boll weevils and the corn borers loose
 on each other and letting them eat
 each other up.

The senator wants to divide Congress into rival cheering sections, with cheer leaders and megaphones and regulations. When members cheer now, as they did the other day when they heard how the police had killed a young man in a rum-
 running car, the noise is only spontaneous and disorganized, with none of the best effect on the galleries which Senator McWhorter is sure could be reproduced with a little planning.

It must be admitted that Mc-Whorter's interest is not altogether unselfish. Everyone knows that he can make more noise than an ambulance driver coming home to lunch. The mere hearing of his throat is louder than the combined belting of six ordinary senators.

The Senator is silent.
 Thus the senator really a born cheer leader. His magnificent voice has been going to waste lately because the young man who formerly wrote his speeches raised his rates, leaving McWhorter with only four or five speeches to his name. The senator has delivered the one about the flag and the one about the Bolsheviks and the one about his political opponents so many times now that whenever he rises to speak two or three of his colleagues promptly pretend to faint and the Senate is adjourned in their honor.

"But don't you go supposing that I am thinking only of myself," admonishes Senator Mc-Whorter. "My program for organized cheering would be benefit everybody in both houses of Congress."
 "You know how important it is to keep on the right side of Bishop Cannon and how when Bishop Cannon says he wants anything he is sure to get it. Well, when they cheered in the House
 the other day about how that wicked run-runner was killed,

Bishop Cannon said it was one of the healthiest indications he had heard of in a long time. With Bishop Cannon on record to that effect you can just imagine the cheering and clapping and stamping that will be heard the next time any bootlegger gets shot.
 And if Bishop Cannon himself comes to the gallery on such an occasion everybody will be trying to outshout each other until we all get out of breath.

"But it ought to be organized.
 It is important enough to organize a few thousand college boys at a football game for cheering purposes it is certainly important enough to organize the U. S. Congress. I am quite convinced that the louder our applause the more zealous will become the efforts of our prohibition enforcers because goodness knows they need encouragement."
 "Of course, I would not always make cheering compulsory. When a bootlegger is sent to the morgue or the hospital it will be quite all right for his customers to remain silent. We will all understand the grief of such colleagues.

"Nor do I want to be partial about this. There are not many wets among us, but such as there are should not be deprived of their fun. Whenever anybody shoots a prohibition agent it will be their privilege to emit a few yells in the approved collegiate fashion. I hope they will be glad to do that, because it will keep them from making nasty remarks
 when the main cheering squad goes into action over a law enforcement triumph.

"Can They Any Time.
 "Neither will we necessarily wait for a shooting. There may not be enough of those at first to keep the cheering sections in condition. I suggest that we have some sort of a cheer for an important real or even a very sized raid, say just a brief 'Hah!
 Hah! Hah!' for each law enforcer participating."

Unlike most proposals by members of Congress, no particular expense is involved in Senator Mc-Whorter's plan. All that would be needed would be a small appropriation for a few megaphones.

IN NEW YORK

New York, May 15.—Harlem has come to this conglomerate island.
 Here they have gathered, rediscov-ered one another and set up a native temple in a cellar, which might just as easily have become a speakeasy
 or a cabaret wherein the whites would exchange their particular secrets.

Such is the fascination and advantage that lies within Manhattan that dropping down a couple of cold, stone stairs, it is possible to find a metropolitan approximation of the jungle.

The gathering place of the Ba-Kuba is dank and musty, as all cellars are dank and musty. It is lighted only by flickering gas jets.
 In one corner stands a native catalog.

Insofar as I know, Tony Muto—whom I happen to know—is the one white man to have gained entrance. It was he who told me about the strange rites. Tony is a newspaper man. We were once billed together in Dayton, Tenn., where some other fetishes were being argued over.

Upon a table, there stand four wooden images. Nearby are two songs, primitively carved. Squatted at a central point is an old medicine man, even as when the tribe
 has gathered around in the jungle.
 About his neck hangs a string of more than 100 years old, if mystical beads. Upon his head is a feathered adornment. Each man has a charm bag in his pocket from Louisiana. It was handed down to Mrs. Holbrook's family, is unopened, bears a French seal
 and is in a wicker container.

child. Each strips himself to reveal the cryptic brands.

A wooden image is taken from the table and placed beside the priest. Upon begins a chant, accompanied by the innumerable of bodies. It is a chant, one is told, to the moon. Suddenly, from under a Grand Rapids table, is produced a jungle drum, to be beaten only with the fingers. The rhythmic dance is on—janitors, elevator operators, wagon drivers suddenly return to the jungle without leaving the neighborhood of 136th street. It is all incredible and eerie.

One by one, each idol is propiti-ated and so the jinn, evil spirits
 or whatever you care to call them, are propitiated. Signs of belief in witchcraft begin to appear—even as the simple folk of Pennsylvania, the Africans believe in the efficacy of charms when an enemy is feared.

So through the evening go the ceremonies. A few doors away a jazz band strums and whites and blacks mingle in abandoned rhythm.
 Here the gin, rather than the jinn, is propitiated. And all about the city moves restlessly toward sleep.

FIND MEN ASLEEP IN BEACH COTTAGE

Milford, May 15.—Thomas F. Maher, of 516 North Main street, Waterbury, and Michael Fitzpatrick, of 54 Bishop street, Waterbury, were transferred from a cottage on Grand avenue, Myrtle Beach, to the police station at three a. m., today and locked up on a charge of breaking and entering in default of bail of $500 each which police require pending a court hearing next Saturday.

Neighbors telephoned the police of strange doings in a vacant cottage owned by a Hartford resident following the appearance of a pair of "tough looking" men during the afternoon yesterday. Police entered the cottage and found the men asleep in beds there. A lively fight followed their awakening and police used force to subdue the men. At the station Maher and Fitzpatrick explained they had been sent to the beach to clean up a cottage pending the arrival of its owner for the summer. They had chosen a cottage that looked good to them.

RICH GIRL POOR GIRL
BY RUTH DEWEY GROVES

THIS HAS HAPPENED
MILDRED LAWRENCE falls in love with STEPHEN ARMITAGE, who is lured away by PAMELA JUDSON when she tells him Mildred is trying to marry her brother, HAROLD, for money. Harold fears Huck Connor, who is blackmailing him over a forged check. Huck is infatuated with Pamela, and when she announces her engagement to Stephen, frames him for the theft of an auto and causes his arrest. Pamela drops Stephen, but Mildred tries to get him out of jail.

Harold had once told her he feared Huck, who had threatened to get rid of Stephen to keep him from marrying Pamela. Mildred determines to force Harold to help her, and is shocked to hear of her death—apparently accidental. She tells Stephen her suspicions, but they have no proof to offer.

Finally she goes to MR. JUDSON, who takes her to headquarters to tell her story. Judson tells Stephen and Pamela begs forgiveness. On the way from the jail to the hotel, he narrowly escapes being shot by a thug in a passing taxi. He reports to Mr. Judson and is horrified to learn that Mildred had been slightly wounded by a gangster's shot. His concern over her causes Judson to doubt his love for Pamela and he forbids his daughter to "buy her man" with his money. She reminds him that he had bought her two penniless stepmothers. Convinced that she loves Stephen, the father gives in to her pleading.

Next day Pamela takes Stephen out for a "drive" and surprises him by going to Mildred's home. He protests but she insists on his going in with her.

Now go on with the story
CHAPTER XLIV
Connie flushed angrily at Pamela's request, couched as a command.

Mildred isn't receiving company," she said shortly, but Pamela had moved on until she stood before the door to the living room. There she saw the injured girl, propped up with pillows in the big arm chair. She ignored Connie's words completely and walked on into the room.

"I'd like to roll you round the block," Connie thought resentfully. She closed the door behind Stephen and let him follow Pamela unannounced while she hurried back to her mother to tell her Pamela was there with Stephen.

hen wouldn't divine what anguish Mildred and Pamela's was giving Mildred. She knew her daughter's pride, and the thought that she had left her to fight alone to conceal her pain drove her to make the lemonade in haste. She omitted the thin slices of fruit and did not even bother to take out the seeds.

Then, tightening her lips and gathering up the painted tin tray with the everyday glasses, she made her way back to the living-room.

She hadn't had time to serve the refreshments. With a wave of her hand Pamela declined the lemonade when it was proffered to her. She did not pause in her running comments even to say no, let alone thank you.

The kick she was getting out of telling Mildred her plans for her wedding and her honeymoon—while it wasn't all that she hoped it would be—was better than anything she could get out of a glass of lemonade.

Mildred wasn't reacting the way she had hoped. There wasn't a sign of envy on her face. Suffering, yes, but Pamela couldn't be sure that it was not caused by physical pain and the experience Mildred had been through the day before.

Pamela had hoped to make her wedding and her honeymoon—while it wasn't all that she hoped it would be—was better than anything she could get out of a glass of lemonade.

But it wasn't what Stephen wanted that worried her. It was what she wanted. And she wanted Stephen.

father for securing his release from jail would help to hold him, too. But she didn't want him telling her he didn't love her; making any last minute confessions. One simply had to think of the future. It certainly wouldn't be nice to live with a sacrifice.

If Stephen found out, before their marriage, that he was making a mistake and went through with it he would inevitably consider he had sacrificed his happiness for his honor.

And with Mildred drooping pathetically right under their eyes he might find it out any minute. Pamela got up to go.

Stephen walked over to Mildred and there was something in his manner that held Pamela in suspense.

COLOR LAUNDERING
In washing one of the new white silk blouses piped or decorated with colored silk, use cold water and a good soap, rinse thoroughly and hang over a bath towel on a hanger. When thoroughly dry, dampen and roll in a towel. This careful treatment keeps the color from crocking.

YOUR CHILDREN
by Olive Roberts Barton

When strangers are around, that's the very time Junior takes to disobey me, or fly into one of his rages. It embarrasses me to punish him in public so I usually let him have his own way. Then I can't do anything about it later because he forgets when it's all over.

Does it sound familiar?
Joking aside, however, it is a serious business, and all the more serious because few mothers enjoy a scene before strangers.

First of all let me put in just a word of defense for the child who chooses this unfortunate time to get into trouble. Usually grownup company and all the attendant confusion beforehand, upsets his small world considerably.

PRETTY SALAD
Quite as palatable as it is attractive is an unseasoned vegetable salad, made with slices of cucumber, tomato and hard-boiled eggs, with pineapple flavoring.

MORE HANGERS
In warm weather, every garment should be hung up on a hanger the minute it is taken up. New closet arrangements offer hanger racks that fasten to the door, which can be opened easily to air the contents.

LABOR SAVER
One of the printed oil-cloth table cloths, used with colored paper napkins, will delight the children this summer and save Mother lots of washing.

When there is an invalid or even a semi-invalid in the home, a lap board, made to fit a chair with arms is a great convenience.

I am inclined to froth at the mouth rather readily, but rarely just ignore his faux pas, pretend it frothed such a really swell froth as never happened, and if other people were reading of the very right reverend (no capitals) Ira E. Hicks, Baptist minister of Toms River, N. J., who declared that his native health was "defiled with sin."

Oh, yes, we frothed just as good a froth at the Evangelical minister of the same town, the equally right reverend George Washington Hanner, who stalked forth in the performance of "Miss Cherryblossom" after the first kiss, and who issued a later statement to the effect that when a town's young people could so shock their elders that the elders were forced to leave an entertainment given by them, it was high time something was done about it.

INDECENT, EH?

But here, where they confronted with the fact that their supposedly decent little town's young people were not ignoring and pardoning the Creator's slip, but were actually daring to recognize the existence of sex, and didn't even apologize for it!

At Least A Quart of Milk per Day per Child
That is the correct amount, recommended by leading doctors and child specialists, for proper growth and health of every boy or girl. Every mother wants her children to lead in play, to be smart in school, and "bubbling over" with health and happiness. # Martha Hadden Wins Town Bowling Title

Beats Florence Johnson Three Straight Games to Break Deadlock for High Honors.

Mrs. Samuel (Martha) Hadden of 11 West street won the championship of the league conducted by Joe Farr at his Charter Oak alleys on Oak street which was brought to a conclusion Monday night. In addition to the women's town championship, a handsome silver loving cup donated by Proprietor Farr was at stake.

Miss Florence Johnson finished next to Mrs. Hadden and had an excellent opportunity to win the title. The pair were tied for the final three games. However, Martha took all three games thus winning the crown. Mary Strong defeated Florence Mikoleit two straight games in a special roll-off for fourth place. The scores were 108 to 87 and 83 to 89.

Here is the final league standing and the scores for the final night:

	W.	L.
Martha Hadden	25	8
Florence Johnson	22	11
Kathryn Gustafson	21	12
Mary Strong	20	13
Florence Mikoleit	20	13
Helen Gustafson	19	14
Nan Taggart	18	15
Flora Nelson	17	17

GREEN BASEBALL PRACTICE CALLED

A practice session has been called by Manager Sam Prentice for his Manchester Green team baseball candidates to be held tomorrow evening at Woodbridge Field starting promptly at 6 o'clock. Rain washed out last night's scheduled practice. Manager Prentice said last night that his team might play both Saturday and Sunday of this week in opening its season.

TERRY'S FAILURE RANKS AS BEST 1929 FAUX PAS

New York, May 15.—Fred Merkle's failure to touch second base in a crucial game with the Chicago Cubs in 1908 made the New York first baseman baseball's most famous "goat." His blunder cost the Giants the pennant. If the New York club loses the championship by one game this year, Bill Terry, present first sacker of McGraw's team, will be in a fair way of becoming the prize goat of the 1929 season. A similar oversight by Terry cost the Giants an important game with the St. Louis Cardinals here recently. Both boners were pulled in the ninth inning, which made the Limburger more powerful.

Terry's faux pas was committed in the first game of the opening series between the two clubs. Marvin Ott had just tied the score by smacking a home run with one man on.

A Fine Hit.
With the crowd yelling for another run, Terry, a tall, lanky, high wide and handsome to deep center field. Taylor Douthitt just got his hand on it after a long run, but dropped it. Meanwhile Terry, steaming around the base paths like an Erie freight with no cows on the track, just made third after bowling over little Andy High. The winning run was on third and the spectators were in an uproar. In the excitement they had not noticed that Terry had failed to touch first base. But Jim Bottomley, St. Louis first baseman, and Umpire George Magerkurth had noticed it.

Playing the role filled by Johnny Evers twenty-one years ago, Bottomley yowled frantically for the ball. He got it, tagged Terry and then dashed back and touched first base to make sure of overlooking no bets.

Terry was declared out. Jackson, the next batter, rapped out a single that would have scored him. As it was, the rally petered out and the Cards won out in the tenth inning.

Merkle's Blunder.
Merkle pulled his famous blunder in failing to touch second base after the Giants apparently had beaten the Cubs. Moose McCormick was on third base, Merkle on first and Al Bridwell at bat. It was the ninth inning and the Giants needed one run to win. When McCormick scored on Bridwell's hit, Merkle turned off the baseline and ran to the clubhouse instead of touching second. The Cubs got the ball after a battle with the crowd and touched second, forcing Merkle and erasing McCormick's run.

The crowd was in such an uproar that the game could not be continued, but the Cubs won the play-off the pennant and the world series.

If the quill are to be saved the automobile and automatic will have to be lost.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

They say that Reigh Count lost his first two races in England because he didn't have the right kind of shoes on his dogs. . . . And that when he put his dogs down one step he slipped back a half step on the grass. . . . And that's what happened to Papyrus when he was running in the mud against Zev. . . . The Babe only hit one homer during the spring exhibition series. . . . But he batted .400 in little hits. . . . Some of the metropolitan papers are now printing the odds on the baseball games. . . . Malone pitches on the Cubs. . . . Malone pitches. . . . And that's another worry on the managers about working their pitchers in order. . . . There are only three left from the St. Louis Cardinals of 1925 — Bottomley, Shetzel and Haines.

LAST YEAR'S TIME IN DERBY SLOWEST

Reigh Count Took 2:10 2-5 for Mile and a Quarter Track; Bradley Horses Favored.

By HENRY L. FARRELL

So much heavy and able literary effort has been expended for years in putting the story of the Kentucky Derby in words that there is hardly a new angle from which the reporter can approach to get a new slant on one of America's greatest sporting events or there is no new fess from which he can spin a fancy tale.

It seems, after all, that the Kentucky Derby is a horse race, the oldest and the greatest classic of the American turf, and that the race this year is to be the fifty-fifth revival of an event that used to be the greatest thing in the life of Old Kentucky.

There are figures galore dating back to 1875 but figures are boring and those who visit Churchill Downs this year are not so much interested in the winner of 1875 as they are in getting the inside on the winner of 1929. They have paid off on the winners of all the past races.

It may not be out of the way to mention that the race is over a course of a mile and a quarter and the record for the distance was made in 1914 by Old Rosebud. He went the distance in 2:03 2-5. The best time made in recent years was 2:03 4-5 by Bubbling Over in 1928 and the slowest time by Reigh Count, 2:10 2-5, last year.

The first Derby was worth $2850 and the record purse of $55,375 was paid last year. The winner this year hasn't been below that amount in the last eight years. The only filly ever to win the classic was Harry Payne Whitney's Regret. She won in 1915.

The green and white colors of the E. R. Bradley stable will attract the most attention. The Bradley colt, Blue Larkspur, is the heavy favorite and probably will go to the post as the shortest priced favorite in the history of the classic.

He was well liked in the winter books but his price was hammered to the ground by the unusual betting activities of his multi-millionaire owner and by the scratching of the greatly fancied Roguish Eye, High Strung and Twink.

Next to Blue Larkspur, the Man o' War colt, Clyde Van Dusen, may be the heaviest played colt in the race. The players like his blood lines.

Then there are Ervast, from the stable of Baron Long, the millionaire California sportsman; Karl Eitel, owned by Alderman John Coughlin of Chicago, and Neddle, owned by Edward McLean, the millionaire Washington publisher.

Alderman Coughlin, who is

Detroiters Now Loom As West's Strongest

Art Neff, who is now pitching for the Chicago Cubs, had a father who was a professional organist. His father wanted him to study organ playing, but Art said he wanted to be an engineer. And he compromised by taking piano lessons. He is, as might be expected, the best piano player in the major leagues. But, perhaps because of the paternal influence toward the more classical tunes, he never went in for jazz music.

And it was his refusal to sit down before the board and knock the edges off the ivory keys that brought upon him the reputation of being a high hat when he was pitching for the Giants.

Who Remembers the Tune? There were, at the particular time we are talking about, two less polished pitchers on the Giant ball club—Fred Toney and Phil Douglas, and they didn't waste any motions to let Neff know that they didn't think so much of him and his elevated ways.

We happened to be in the company of Toney and Douglas one evening when they were saying that Neff was no ball player and we wanted to know why.

"Why?" Douglas asked back with some attempt at surprise. "I'll tell you why. That guy says he can play the piano and he makes a lot of noise. But he don't know nothing about music. I and Fred asked him the other night to play 'In My Harlem' and he said he never heard of it. He don't know nothin' about music when he never heard that piece."

Modest? Aw, Yeh! The Yankees ball players tell another story about their "Mouthy" Durocher, who is pleased to see the freshest rookie in baseball.

When Durocher reported to the Yankee training camp this year he asked Miller Huggins what his job was.

Huggins told him to stick around while and make himself handy and that he didn't have any job until his boss looked over Larry, the $125,000 boy from the Pacific coast.

"I'll be no water boy on this club," Durocher told the boss and he went out on the third base coaching line and "jockeyed" the life out of young Larry.

Shades of the Great. Before the club broke camp, Huggins called Durocher into his room and announced to him very seriously that he was to be the shortstop of the club. And Durocher took the door off the hinges to tell the game.

"I'm playing shortstop on this ball club," he told all the veterans and the younger fellows. "And I'm going to show this league greater shortstopping than the damn league ever has seen. Let's go! Some pepper, you guys!"

known in Chicago as "Bath House John," though he had the race in the bag with Roguish Eye but the colt went bad in training and his hopes had to be transferred to Karl Eitel. He said a few days ago that Roguish Eye was a better colt but that he felt sure "Eitel" would be in the race.

Chief interest of the spectators probably will be centered on Blue Larkspur because it is reported, from reliable sources, that his owner will be enriched by half-million dollars if he wins. Also because the Bradley stable has an illustrious Derby record.

Two Bradley horses Behave Yourself and Black Servant, ran first and second in the 1921 Derby and in 1926 two Bradley horses, Bubbling Over and Bagenbaggage, finished one-two in the classic.

First Series of Intersectional Battles End Today; Athletics Now Leading League by Half a Game.

By LES CONKLIN

New York, May 15 — The first series of intersectional battles in the American League will end today. The fall of the Browns and the rise of Detroit have been the outstanding surprises of the East vs. West contests. The Browns, who led the League before the eastern teams journeyed westward, have dropped six out of eight contests with the invaders.

Detroit, practically left at the post at the start of the race, has come with a rush and now looks as the strongest western contender.

Philadelphia has won five and lost three on the trip and the Yankees copped seven out of ten, the Yanks gaining one game. The Athletics are leading the League by half a game today by virtue of their ten to eight win over the Tigers yesterday while the Yanks were idle.

Lefty Grove, rushed from the bull pen in the ninth, saved the game by fanning two men with the bases full. Each team used four twirlers.

Pat Malone, Chicago strikeout artist who had won all of his five starts, was sent against the Braves and lost a 12-inning battle, 6 to 5. The Cubs dropped back to a tie for the National League lead with the Cardinals, who were idle.

Extra Inning Contest Hits by James and Spohrer broke up the game, which was the first extra-inning contest played in Boston this season. Malone struck out seven men.

Nicking Sam Gray for 12 hits in eight innings, Washington took a 9 to 7 batting bee from the St. Louis Browns. Ad Liska, Washington's submarine ball expert from Minneapolis, was knocked out in the ninth when the Browns scored four runs.

Bob Weiland, star rookie hurler of the White Sox, threw curves at the Red Sox until they were dizzy. Boston got only five hits and Chicago won in a romp, 6 to 2.

All other games were postponed by rain.

BASEBALL EASTERN LEAGUE TUESDAY, 6 P. M., D. S. T. HARTFORD vs. PROVIDENCE BULKELEY STADIUM, HARTFORD Ladies and Boys Free.

EIGHT WINNERS IN TWO WEEKS.

During the first two weeks of racing at Jamaica this spring, Sam Hildreth, veteran trainer, sent eight winners out. His record was the best of all trainers for that period.

THINKS BRAVES ARE IMPROVED.

Joe McCarthy doesn't make fun of the Boston Braves. The Chicago Cub's manager thinks they are greatly improved over the 1928 Braves.

GAME FRIDAY

The scheduled game in the American Legion league last night was called off on account of rain. The Braves and the Cubs will meet Friday instead of Thursday night.
