

NATION BACKS HOOVER'S PLAN TO THE LIMIT

From All Sections of Country Come Assurances of Support; Stabilizing Program Certain of Success.

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—President Hoover today reviewed the accomplishments of his campaign for stable business conditions and expanded industrial activities and found much that was encouraging.

From all sections of the country and from virtually all phases of commercial enterprise, have come almost unanimous assurances of hearty support and co-operation in the chief executive's endeavor to prevent the recent decline in security prices from adversely affecting the general structure of the nation's business.

Administration Plans.

The administration itself has announced plans for a $160,000,000 reduction in taxes, an increase of $175,000,000 in appropriations for Federal building and a budget of ocean mail carrying contracts which is expected to fill the country's yards with new construction in less than half a year.

From industrial leaders, the heads of great railroads and telephone and telegraph companies, and the governors of many states, Mr. Hoover has received estimates of construction expenditures for 1930, of both a public and governmental nature, well in excess of similar disbursements in the present year.

The chief executive brought his series of conferences with representative groups to a close late yesterday with a meeting of officials of the leading farm organizations, and simultaneously announcement was made of replies from the governors of nearly half of the states in the union in response to Mr. Hoover's request that they give program their full support. At the same time, plans for awarding ocean mail contracts totaling approximately ten million were announced.

TWO MEN KILLED IN FLEEING FIRE

Are Trampled to Death When 200 Men in Panic Try to Get Out.

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The bodies of two men were recovered today from the ruins of a subway construction shack at Long Island City where 200 men stampeded last night when fire swept the structure. Twenty-two men were injured.

The men, engaged in digging a tunnel under Newtown creek to connect the new Eighth avenue subway line with Brooklyn, were changing their clothing in the locker room when the fire broke out. They were trying to get to work on the midnight shift, when the fire was discovered.

Panic started rapidly through the lower floor of the building and the men made a rush for the two stairways leading down from the second floor where the locker room was located.

The stairways were so low, however, that the men had to stoop to run down them and the first men fell and rolled to the bottom. Others stumbled over them and soon the stairways were choked. Finding the exit blocked, others leaped from the windows and many suffered broken bones and sprains in the fifteen-foot drop. Eventually the tangled mass of men on the stairways was unraveled and the remaining men made their way to safety.

The dead: Frank O'Gansky, 63 years old, a compressed air worker. "Charlie," last name unknown. He is believed to have lived in Newark, N. J., and yesterday was his first day's work on the job.

The injured were residents of Brooklyn and Manhattan.

Investigations were under way today to learn the cause of the fire.

EIELSON STILL LOST

Nome, Alaska, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Frank Dorbandt, Alaska pilot, today awaited the arrival of planes from Fairbanks to accompany him on an aerial search for Carl Ben Eielson, noted Arctic flyer who had been missing for several days.

Dorbandt received word yesterday that two planes left Fairbanks for Nome, but they were held storm-bound at Ruby, the half way point last night.

Eielson was last seen flying in the vicinity of the ice bound ship Nanuk, near North Cape, Siberia, from which he and Dorbandt were removing passengers and fur cargo by airplane.

INFANT WEDDINGS RUSHED IN INDIA

Natives Forestalling Law Prohibiting This Arrange 2,000 Such Marriages in Surat.

London, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The Daily Express in a dispatch from Bombay today said infant brides were being rushed to the altar by the hundreds in some parts of India to forestall the law prohibiting child marriage which becomes effective in April.

Several child marriages have been solemnized in Bombay the last few days while in Surat it was estimated 2,000 such marriages have occurred recently.

Brides and bridegrooms of between five and twelve years have been a common sight. Even marriages between babies have been arranged.

FELTOVIC TO HANG, HIGH COURT RULES

Bridgeport Slayer to Die on Dec. 10—Killed Man During Robbery Attempt.

Bridgeport, Nov. 26.—(AP)—John (Spirits) Feltovic, 19, of Bridgeport, must hang for murder in the first degree. This was ruled by the Supreme Court of Errors of Connecticut at an executive session in Hartford Monday.

Feltovic is sentenced to hang on December 10 and was sentenced to death on May 28 by Judge Isaac Wolfe of the Superior Court, who has since retired from the bench. The date of execution was originally set for July 15 but a reprieve was granted by Governor John H. Trumbull until the December date pending the appeal to the higher court.

The Next Move.
Public Defender Robert G. DeForest of this city, who defended Feltovic with attorney Leo Davis of Norwalk and Samuel A. Friedman of this city, could not be reached at noon today for questioning as to whether a final plea of commutation to life sentence will be made to Governor Trumbull.

On the night of March 23 Feltovic shot and killed Lester Jacobs, 39, of 3133 Main street, in an unsuccessful attempt of an Atlantic and Pacific grocery at Noble and Berkshire avenues.

Chief Justice George W. Wheeler, who returned the opinion of non error, which was concurred in by the other members of the court, classes the killing of Jacobs as a ruthless murder.

Justice Wheeler in his opinion holds that the charge given by Judge Wolfe to the jury in trial of the case was too favorable to Feltovic.

Judge Wolfe in his concluding instructions to the jury charged that if the jury found that Feltovic killed Jacobs in the indictment was a premeditated and deliberate crime willfully and deliberately, then the verdict should be guilty of murder in the first degree.

In reference to this the chief justice writes: "If the jury found that the killing of Jacobs by the accused was unlawful and committed in an attempt to perpetrate a robbery our law did not require them to go further and find that the murder was willful and deliberate."

The court then passes to the alleged abandonment by Feltovic of his intent to rob after he met with resistance from Jacobs.

Meant to Rob
In reference to this Justice Wheeler writes: "It is to be noted at no time prior to the homicide did the accused indicate by spoken word he had abandoned his felonious attempt, nor indicate this by his conduct."

"It is true," continues the judge, "that he was backing away from Jacobs and going towards the front door but from the moment of his entrance into the store he held his revolver in his hand and from the moment that he advanced up to Jacobs demanding the money until the fatal shot he kept his revolver pointed at Jacobs."

Justice Wheeler further holds that an abandonment of the intent to rob must necessarily be followed by an abandonment of the use of the revolver.

In reference to the alleged claim that Feltovic fired the fatal shot under stress of the excitement, the court holds that "the accused cannot escape the penalty of his attempt to commit a crime by repentance after that crime has been committed."

Ruthless Murder

Concluding the opinion states: "Only one conclusion could have been reasonably reached by the jury and that was that the killing of Jacobs was a ruthless murder and under our law, murder in the first degree. Although the only point presented upon the appeal was that of abandonment of the gravity of the charge against the accused has led us to search the record through to see if harmful error was raised up on the appeal or in the record. We find none. The verdict of the jury was inescapable."

CIVIL WAR IN CHINA TO END, SAY GENERALS

Armies to Combine to Fight Common Enemy in Man- churia Where Chinese Are Being Beaten.

Advices from Hankow reporting a lull in the Chinese newest civil war fronts in Honan and Hupeh, provinces added weight today to Nanking despatches indicating that factional leaders were negotiating to combine their forces to resist Russian troops invading Manchuria.

A Hankow despatch said that while authorities had not issued any statement on the subject, it was generally believed the Nationalist government had reached an agreement with the rebellious Kuomintang of "people's army" because the fighting had subsided on all fronts and the Kuomintang forces were withdrawing westward in both Honan and Hupeh.

Enemies to Continue

Closely following this came a despatch from Nanking stating that apparently authentic reports said negotiations were proceeding among outstanding military leaders of various factions throughout China seeking to end the present international struggles and looking toward a combination of forces to resist "Soviet attacks."

At the same time Japanese sources in Shanghai reported that Foreign Minister C. T. Wang of the Nationalist government had telegraphed Moscow officials asking negotiations between China and Russia concerning the Manchurian railway controversy be reopened.

Despatches on the Manchurian situation indicated that invading Russian forces were in control of territory east of the Kinkang Mountains. Soviet tanks and artillery aided in the capture of Khalil late Sunday in an engagement causing losses estimated at 12,000. The Chinese were reported to be retreating without resistance, even falling to halt at Bachatu, 150 miles from Khalil.

APPEALS TO LEAGUE

Nanking, China, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The Council of the Chinese government today addressed an appeal both to the League of Nations and to individual signatories of the Kellogg peace pact to take steps to halt and punish the Russian "invasion" of Chinese territory. The invaders were termed a deliberate violation of the anti-war pact.

The various appeals were in identical language and were sent under Monday's date. They declared that while the Chinese government has done its utmost to resist the Soviet Union has without a declaration of war invaded China, occupied Chinese cities, and "massacred innocent Chinese citizens in cold blood."

FOUR YEAR OLD BOY KILLS HIS MOTHER

Finds Father's Shotgun, Aims It and Pulls Trigger; Father First Suspected.

Balavia, N. Y., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Before he died of a gunshot wound yesterday at her home in East Elba, Mrs. Elmer Schultz told a neighbor that her four-year-old son, Elmer, Jr., fired the fatal bullet.

Mr. Schultz, held since yesterday pending an investigation by District Attorney Bradford J. Burroughs was released today. Their daughter, Eleanor, 7, corroborated her mother's story.

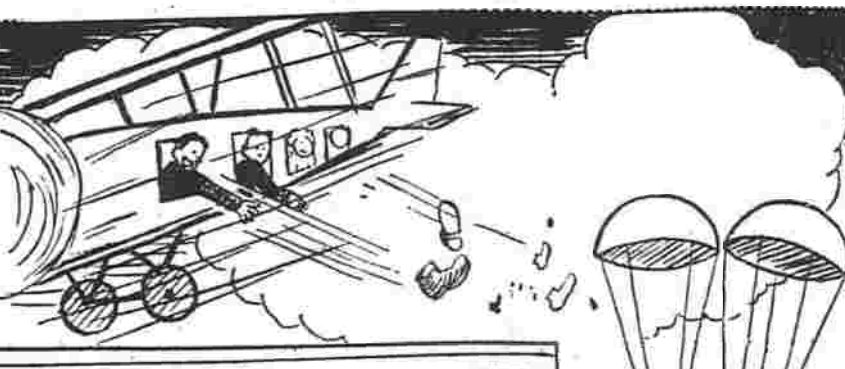

The little girl, who was helping her mother make mince meat in preparation for Thanksgiving in the kitchen of their home, said her brother came into the room and picked up their father's shotgun from the corner.

"Bang! Mama," she quoted the child as saying, and she looked at him horrified, he pointed the gun at his mother and pulled the trigger.

Mrs. Schultz, who was standing near the stove was struck in the side. She fell to the floor, and Eleanor ran out to the garage to summon her father, and then called a neighbor Mrs. Barber. Mrs. Barber said she rushed to the Schultz home, and while Mrs. Schultz was still conscious she told her that "brother," as she called the little boy, had shot her.

Mr. Schultz brought his wife to a hospital here but, as a blood transfusion was being arranged in an effort to save her life, she died.

HONEYMOON PARACHUTE JUMP

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Two thousand feet over Roosevelt Field, in an 18-passenger, tri-motored bombing plane, Miss Marguerite Klinger of New York and Donald Babcock, chief of a crew of flying field mechanics, were married yesterday. As soon as the ceremony was completed the bride and groom made parachute jumps, the best man following them. The bride's wedding costume consisted of a khaki colored canvas flying suit, extra heavy furl-lined boots and a leather helmet.

LONE BANDIT HOLDS UP WHOLE TRAIN IN WEST

Wrecks It by Pulling Spikes from Rails But No One is Hurt — Takes Anything Offered Him and Flees.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Approximately forty passengers of the Union Pacific Portland limited, were robbed three miles east of here last night by a youthful bandit who wrecked the train by pulling spikes from the rails and then, single-handed, made a thorough going trip through the train, taking cash and jewelry from passengers. Six of the train's eight cars were derailed and five toppled against an embankment but no one was injured seriously.

Railroad officials said the robber took amounts ranging from 35 cents to $150 from passengers. An estimate of the total amount he received was impossible. Many passengers continued their journeys on westbound trains after being brought here by a special train. The limited was bound from Chicago to Portland, Oregon.

Held Big Revolver.

Unlike the notorious Bill Carlisle, last of the west's widely known train bandits, who once terrorized passengers of a Union Pacific train with a toy glass pistol, the robber last night flourished a heavy revolver and speeded his work by jabbing it viciously into the ribs of slow moving victims.

Passengers said he was about 22 years old and had a "very thin face, light brown eyes and a deep and very rough voice." He wore overalls.

It was held likely that the robbery was committed for spite, as the bandit was quoted by several passengers as saying "I've got a wife and two kids at home and the railroad won't give me work."

Passengers agreed that the man appeared anxious to get away as he hurried his work, took whatever was offered him and made no threats in order to obtain more. Several passengers reported he took only a part of their money.

Sheriff O. S. Rumsy of Laramie county and a squad of deputies left for the scene of the robbery and wreck immediately upon receiving the alarm and began an intensive search of the surrounding country.

STATE BANKERS TO BE QUIZZED ON N. Y. CRASH

Officers of at Least Five Connecticut Banks Were Affiliated in Some 'Cap- acity With Gunder Group.

Hartford, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Several Connecticut banks, whose officers are connected with one or more of the thirteen affiliated corporations headed by Howard H. Gunder, were drawn into the Federal investigation of this group today by Emanuel G. Kleid, assistant United States attorney of New York.

An examination of the records of the defunct Bankers Capital Corporation of New York has disclosed that some of these Connecticut banks purchased this company's stock which found its way back to the corporation, Mr. Kleid said. In order to get an explanation of such transactions, Mr. Kleid said a subpoena will be issued today or tomorrow summoning the bankers before the Federal Grand Jury.

Five State Banks.

Officers in at least five Connecticut banks are affiliated in some capacity with the Gunder group, according to a prospectus of these corporations. They are connected with banks in Unionville, East Hampton, New Haven, South Norwalk and Danbury. George B. Allen, chairman of the board of the Unionville Bank and Trust Company is a director of the Eastern Bankers Corporation of which Everett J. Sturges, former bank commissioner of Connecticut is president. Mr. Allen was also a salesman connected with the Hartford office of the defunct Bankers Capital Corporation of Connecticut. Clark W. Burnham, president of the Eastern Bankers Corporation and Trust Company, is a director of the Eastern Bankers Corporation. Nehemia Candee, director of the People's Trust Company of South Norwalk is a director of the Eastern Bankers and a trustee of the Bankers Financial Trust, G. NEW JURY CHOSEN FOR M'MANUS TRIAL

Twelfth Man Picked—Evi- dence Is Read for Him; Witnesses Tomorrow.

Criminal Courts Building, New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The "new" jury to try George McManus for the murder of Arnold Rothstein was completed today with the selection of the tenth talesman examined as the twelfth juror.

The twelfth juror is Edmund A. Showell, a heavy set, ruddy faced salesman, who once had business dealings with Rothstein.

The evidence already given comprising that of five of the gambler associates of Rothstein and McManus, chiefly concerning a stud poker game at which Rothstein lost $219,000 and McManus testified the game was held two months prior to the shooting, November 4, of last year, of Rothstein in a mid-town hotel. Their testimony and that of Miss Marguerite Hubbell of Montreal, who heard an explosion in the Park Central hotel the night the state alleges Rothstein was wounded there, and Dr. Charles Norris, chief medical examiner, were the other two witnesses last week.

The reading of the transcript will be completed today and new witnesses called tomorrow morning.

Before declaring a mistrial this morning, Judge Nott cleared Juror No. 9, Norris Smith, from any alleged disqualification in connection with his alleged discussion of the case with certain reporters in a Greenwich Village speak-easy.

Judge Nott said that both state and defense counsel had accepted Juror Smith's explanation of the incident and decided that he had not impaired his qualifications as a juror. The judge also warned reporters present from attempting to speak with jurors, either in the court room or the corridors of the Criminal Courts building. Any violation of this order, he said, would lead to the barring of the offending newspaper reporters from the courtroom.

STATE CO-OPERATES WITH PRESIDENT IN BUILDING PROGRAM

Governor Trumbull Tells President State Will Spend 15 Millions During the Coming Year for High- ways and Other Public Works.

Hartford, Nov. 26.—(AP)—A program which calls for the expenditure of $15,000,000 by the state of Connecticut during the coming year, for highways and other public works, was called to the attention of President Hoover by Governor Trumbull in his reply to the President's appeal for public expenditures to stimulate business. Assurance of Connecticut's cooperation was wired to the White House by Governor Trumbull late this afternoon.

Buildings Planned

Buildings planned for the various state institutions will involve a cost of $4,461,000, the governor stated; those now under construction involve some $880,000. In December, contracts are to be awarded for construction totalling about $450,000; in February of next year, about $2,250,000; March and April, $1,350,000; June $550,000. President Hoover was also advised that during the year, and particularly in early spring, the $9,000,000 which the state has available for highway construction, will be expended along with an additional half million for surveying.

Building Plans

Mayor Batterson today issued the following statement in response to the appeal of President Hoover to the state, county and city executives for construction on public works to help along employment and foster business stability.

"For a period of months the question of public welfare in Hartford has been studied. The mayor's unemployment committee and the mayor have followed the general recommendations of President Hoover, whose recommendations largely follow the suggestions emphasized through the Hoover survey of unemployment. That Hartford is a pioneer in accepting as sound the Hoover idea, is manifested. In fact we are now engaged in public construction works exceeding $2,000,000 in cost.

Building Plans

"We are thinking in terms of public welfare assistance in regard to unemployment and are trying to formulate an intelligent program for the construction of public works to absorb part at least of the labor surplus. With the building of both dikes, the grading of Brainard Field the construction of a 42 inch water main and the increasing of the annual paving program, plus construction of the Federal building, construction of the new state office building and the continuation of carrying through the mayor's sewage pollution commission's recommendations, Hartford can be said to be 100 percent in accord with President Hoover's program.

AIDS HOOVER'S PLAN

Torrington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Construction of a new $70,000 trunk line sewer will be started as quickly as possible, Mayor Ernest E. Novoy stated today following President Hoover's appeal that public construction programs be pushed in an effort to offset any possible interruption of national prosperity as a result of the Wall street slump. Provision for this work was made in the budget recently approved. Several other road and sewer construction projects already are under way here.

FARMERS CONTINUE PARLEY

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Farm leaders, who yesterday conferred with President Hoover as part of his program for industrial stabilization, today continued the discussion of farm problems with government officials in a conference with members of the Federal Farm Board.

The policy of the board in making advances on commodities whose prices were depressed by the break in stock prices was given hearty approval by the farm leaders.

The general opinion was expressed that agriculture has the brightest outlook for this year of any since the World War. There has been, it was said, a general upswing in commodity prices with but very few exceptions, and with lower interest rates resulting from easier money the future outlook was viewed with satisfaction.

SAYS HE TOOK PART IN WALL ST. BLAST

Copenhagen, Denmark, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Police are investigating the story of a man arrested here who is alleged to have made a confession of having a part in the famous Wall street explosion of 1920.

The man, whose name was given as Axel Jensen is stated to have told police he was engaged by another man to carry boxes into Wall street where they exploded taking a heavy toll of life. He told the police his remuneration was $400.

Jensen did not make it clear whether he knew the boxes contained explosives, but said he later fled to Texas with one of the conspirators, whom he afterwards shot there. He then joined a circus, quitting it to come to Denmark in 1925.

The local police assert that Jensen is not mentally sound but think he may be romancing and they are investigating his story.

JEWELRY IS TINTED BY ELECTRIC PROCESS

New York.—(AP)—Tungsten, familiar in electric light filaments, now furnishes beads of rare colors in a development of the jewelry industry.

The process resembles dipping the drab metal in a rainbow and withdrawing it coated with permanent color.

This is illustrated in a glass tank set up at the Museum of the Peaceful Arts here. Immersed in liquid in the tank, a piece of the metal becomes encircled with a ring of glowing color when an electric current is turned on...

The film is semi-transparent, so that light reflects both from its surface and from the metal underneath, and the reflected light waves overlap and break up into colors.

The color depends on thickness of the oxide coat. The electricity can be snapped off at any desired color, which remains permanent, unless washed with a caustic solution.

Tantalum, and columbium, a still rarer metal, are said to take exquisite color effects. Tantalum is used for making necklaces, bracelets and other jewelry.

Dr. Emmet said the combined hotel and church building was in line with the policy of the church as a servant of the community.

The Rev. Henry A. Stimson, pastor-emeritus and uncle of the secretary of state, officiated.

AMERICAN FINANCIERS AID IN BRAZIL LOAN

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Negotiations have been completed, it was announced today, for granting a short term credit of 2,000,000 rounds (about $10,000,000) to the state of Sao Paulo, Brazil, by a London banking syndicate, in which several American banking houses will participate.

The credit is secured by treasury bills of the state of Sao Paulo and, it was announced, the bankers have satisfied themselves that the government has already taken steps to permit an increase in the daily entries into the Port of Santos of coffee available for export totaling between 30,000 and 40,000 bags, and that the government is now working out a plan to deal with the present situation "with a view to facilitating the gradual liquidation of the large accumulation of coffee stocks in the interior."

The London syndicate is composed of J. Henry Schroder & Co., Baring Brothers & Co. Ltd., and N. M. Rothschild & Sons. The American banking group assisting in the dotation of the loan consists of Speyer & Co., J. Henry Schroder Banking Corp., Bancamerica-Blair Corp., Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., E. H. Doctor on Another Ship Tells Captain What to Do by Injured Sailor.

Chester, Pa., Nov. 26.—(AP)—A Norwegian sailor was brought to a hospital here today and was reported to be recovering after an emergency operation at sea by his captain under radioed instructions from a physician aboard another ship many miles away.

The sailor, Kal Kabuna, a member of the crew of the Norwegian freighter Teta, was injured internally last week during a storm 500 miles off the Delaware Capes. He was hurled about the deck when heavy waves swept the ship and Captain Thordalson sent a radio message for aid as there was no doctor aboard the Teta.

The physician of another vessel advised an immediate operation and instructed Captain Thordalson what to do. Kabuna was taken off when his ship reached the quarantine station at Marcus Hook today and, in the opinion of hospital physicians here, will recover.

North Ender Regrets Three Visits to Danbury Fair Now in Much Trouble.

Tony Kuczynski, of 89 Union street is one of the victims of the Smigalas, "bonesetters of Danbury," both of whom are now in jail awaiting trial before the next term of the Superior Court, of Fairfield County, for illegal practice of medicine and are also being sued for the loss of an arm by one of their patients.

John and Kolman Smigalas, father and son gained fame as bone setters, although John had been a hatter and Kolman a waiter, until comparatively recently. The belief that the pair had an uncanny gift of healing attracted many patients to Danbury, where they paid big prices for the Smigalas' services.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSEMBLY IS IN FORM OF REVUE

Regular as to Costumes, Music and Amplitude of Girls, This Entertainment.

The assembly program at the High School this afternoon initiated a bit of a diversion in the nature of a musical revue. Gertrude Gerard and Virginia Lowell and a chorus of fifteen girls, jauntily attired in sailor costume, appeared in the opening number to the strains of "What a Day."

Next came Winston Bendall in a trumpet solo, with "Big City Blues" as his number; Gertrude Gerard received a deserved round of plaudits for a solo clog dance.

Maurice MacKeever appeared with an interesting rendition of Eddie Cantor's "Horns on Automobiles."

At this juncture a chorus attired in true costumes faultlessly executed a difficult routine with "Ain't Misbehavin'" as the orchestral selection. A special jazz orchestra entertained with "Tip-Toc Through the Tulips" and "Evangeline."

In order appeared Carle Cubberley in a songalogue entitled "My Pat"; Susan Allen and Virginia Lowell, harmonizing "Sleepy Valley" and "Am I Blue"; and Winston Bendall and Maurice MacKeever under the caption of the "Rah, Rah, Boys from Bolton" with a mixture of song and clog.

In the final appeared the entire company, to the music of "Painting the Clouds With Sunshine," appropriately costumed. The personnel of the chorus was: Hazel Rogers, Susan Allen, Virginia Lowell, Peggy Quinn, Eleanor Robertson, Harriet Cheney, Barbara Badmington, Dorothy Hultman, Beatrice Perrett, Marion Rippen, Lucy Waddell, Virginia Strangh, Margery Bahrndt, Betty McGill, Bessie Quinn, and Lucile Murphy.

Miss Gertrude Gerard effectively coached the choruses. Ariand Jenkins of the faculty was the director.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM IN EIGHTH'S SCHOOLS

Thanksgiving exercises held both morning and afternoon in schools of the Eighth District began this morning in the Hester street third grades with a play in three acts, entitled, "A Story of Thanksgiving."

The first act is laid in England as the Pilgrims are about to leave their native land for Holland in an effort to worship God in their own way without molestation. The second act is laid in Holland followed by their historic arrival on the bleak shores of Cape Cod, and their meeting with the Indians.

Nine Indians made up the entertainment for the first Thanksgiving dinner in their tribal dancing.

During the first and second acts members of the cast outlined the desires of the little religious body of Pilgrims and between the second and third acts a dance by eight girls with a background of Holland, a little Dutch boy and girl, telling of the dangers of the long western trip to America is picturesque.

AT "GREEN" SCHOOL

An assembly was held in the Manchester Green school this morning, Thanksgiving songs being sung by various groups, and the entire school body. Grade 1, sang a group of four songs, "Thanksgiving Day," "The Owl," "The Street Car" and "Thanksgiving Day," followed by the singing of "The Battle Cry of Freedom" by the school. Grade 3 entertained with a group of songs, "Tag," "Marching," "Thanksgiving Day" and "Thanksgiving Pie." An appropriate play, "Our Pilgrim Fathers" was presented by grades 3 and 4 closing with the singing of the "Thanksgiving Song" by the school.

No South American people ever invented an alphabet, and although the Peruvians had a well-developed language and were able to use it in composing plays and songs and poems, they had no means of writing them down.

VERSATILE SOLOIST GUEST OF G CLEFS

Harold Branch, Radio Singer, on Program Next Tuesday Night.

Harold Branch, National Broadcasting Company artist, who will appear on the second annual concert program of the G Clef Club on Tuesday evening, December 3 at High School Auditorium, sharing it with Emil Heimberger's six-piece ensemble and the chorus, comes to Manchester with a reputation as one of the most versatile singers in radio, having made a success on both classical and popular programs.

Harold Branch

It is said of Branch that he can sing with the National Grand Opera Company one night and win the unseemly audience immediately after in ensemble or solo work of lighter vein. "I like every kind of music and want to do the popular as well as more serious scores since there is a public which enjoys both," explains Mr. Branch.

Perhaps the secret of his versatility goes back to his boyhood when he sang as boy soprano in a church in Canon City, Colorado and "filled in" every sort of musical role. His whole musical education was given him by his father, who was an instructor of voice. Previously the family had lived in Ash-tabula, Ohio, where Harold Branch was born, and after two years in the West, his parents moved to Cleveland.

For ten years the promising young singer studied and appeared both as soloist and with vocal ensembles in Cleveland. He was made a member of a municipal club quartet, appearing regularly at the Cleveland Auditorium. In 1924 he made his radio debut in Cleveland and since then has broadcast regularly. He came to the NBC in 1928.

HIGH COURT RULING UPHELDS JUDGE ELLS

Bridgeport, Nov. 26—(AP)—Thomas Delmonte, 23, of Waterbury, now serving a four year and nine months to five years sentence escapes on an additional penalty of 30 years as a habitual criminal through a decision of the Supreme Court. Errors returned in Hartford, Monday.

Delmonte and four others were arrested in Bridgeport on October 1, 1928, when search of their car revealed three loaded guns. All were convicted in the Criminal Superior Court in December 1928.

The State attempted to have Delmonte held as a habitual criminal upon a claim that he had been twice before convicted. Judge Arthur F. Ellis ruled against the State, holding that one of the convictions was to a Federal penitentiary and therefore not embraced under the statute of this state relating to habitual criminals.

The State's Attorney William H. Conley appealed, claiming errors in Judge Ellis' decision on that question. Supreme Court Justice John W. Banks returned the opinion of no error on Monday.

ENOUGH COAL FOR YEARS

Washington, Nov. 26—(AP)—Reserves of anthracite coal underground were said today by the Bureau of Mines to be ample for many years in the future.

At the end of 1922 unmined reserves were estimated at 16,000,000,000 tons, of which 9,000,000,000 tons could be recovered by methods now in use, and since in 1928 production totaled only 67,000,000 tons the bureau sees no change of serious depletion of stocks for a long time.

The bureau's statement was issued today after limited circulation of the Federal fuel distributor in answer to inquiries from householders using large-sized anthracite who were unable to obtain sufficient quantities due to the strike conditions.

McCLUSKEY SHOWS BRAIN AS WELL AS LEG POWER

Helps Debating Team Win on Same Day That He Broke a Running Record.

Proving that he is not only a good athlete but a brilliant student as well, Joseph P. McCluskey of 40 Foster street captured high honors in an intercollegiate debate between Fordham and New York University only a few hours after he outspurred a field of eighty contestants to win the thirteenth annual inter-collegiate three-mile freshman race at Van Cortlandt Park in New York yesterday in addition to setting a new course record.

Immediately after the race, McCluskey, former Herald newsboy, hustled off to his room and brushed up a bit on the facts he had prepared for the debate. McCluskey spoke as "lead-off" on the Fordham negative team and his arguments were instrumental in influencing the judges to vote for Fordham. The subject of the debate involved control of the water power in New York state.

McCluskey was a prominent member of the debating team while at Manchester High.

POISON IN BOOZE CAUSE OF DEATHS

That is Police Theory in Case of Detective Chief and Woman Found in Cottage

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Bottles which had contained liquor were clues today in attempts to solve the mysterious deaths of James J. Casey, superintendent of police detectives here and Mrs. Dora Bingham, department store saleslady, whose bodies were found at Casey's camp at North Brookfield yesterday.

Supt. Casey's unclotted body and the partly clad form of Mrs. Bingham were found on the floor of a bedroom of the camp by two of Casey's lieutenants who had been ordered to investigate Casey's failure to return home on Sunday.

Police believed that the liquor consumed would not have caused death, even if it had been of the ordinary "poisoned variety" occasionally sold by bootleggers. They advanced the theory that poison might have been deliberately placed in the liquor.

CANNED MUSIC IS BIG PROBLEM FOR SPANISH PLAYERS

Madrid.—(AP)—Madrid's musicians and orchestras are faced with the crisis of losing their jobs in movie houses and legitimate theaters because of the invasion of foreign competition, said Humberto Gabrielli, secretary of the Association of Orchestra Professors of this city.

Foreign "talkies," foreign jazz and foreign actors have caused the crisis, he explained. "We do not want to see the same thing happen in Spain as has occurred in the United States after the introduction of sound pictures, but Americans are already sending their mechanical music devices to Madrid with the announcement that they are prepared to produce and market Spanish sound and voice films," Gabrielli said.

Mechanical music can be adapted to the use of legitimate theaters and the invasion of American jazz bands, particularly negroes, aggravates the crisis. Along with many others who have studied the situation, he favors nationalization of the sound film industry in Spain with adequate protection by labor restrictions for Spanish musicians.

Three of Madrid's largest moving picture houses have installed devices for sound pictures and have discharged their orchestras and several others are preparing to follow suit. A number of years ago the opera house was closed in Madrid which automatically released an orchestra of 80 musicians employing various forms of mechanical devices to provide music for their patrons.

Many French and German shows invade Spain each season, performing at low prices, and this is hurting the Spanish stage also, Senor Gabrielli said.

Of all the earth quakes on record, the most disastrous occurred in 1556, in China, when 830,000 people were killed.

According to a U. S. government report, more than one million lead pencils are used every year in this country.

SHERIDAN INSTALLED LEGION COMMANDER

County Commander Elmer Dickenson of Glastonbury Installing Officer.

In the presence of a good sized crowd of members, Walter F. Sheridan was installed as commander of the Dilworth-Cornell, Post No. 102, American Legion last night at the State Armory.

The other officers installed were Charles Hollister, second vice-commander, Marcel Donze, chaplain, Victor Bronkie, adjutant and The Manchester Trust Company, treasurer. Refreshments were served.

Guests present included William F. O'Neil, county membership committee chairman from Hartford and former member Glen Lewis of Torrington.

E. Henry Weil drew the attendance prize but wasn't present so it will go into the "kitty" toward next week. Membership, house and other committees for the ensuing year were named.

WOMEN OF GERMANY SEEK A THIRD PARTY

Berlin.—(AP)—Women's hands will build up a third German empire unless perchance the plans of Germany's national women's committee for fighting the Versailles treaty should "gang agley."

The committee's recent call to a meeting on "the tribute plan of Paris and the responsibility of German womanhood" so packed the former Prussian House of Lords with nationalist women that an overflow meeting had to be hastily arranged in a neighboring hall.

Frau Bada Philipp, presiding officer of the "ring of nationalist women," told the meeting that "now in this time of official terrorism, we German women must hold together."

"In spite of all terror and all opposition, nationalist Germans will build up a third empire of the Germans," prophesied Frau Katherine Hertwig, member of the Prussian diet, adding that "the voice of the German people must be heard" on the Dawes and Young plans.

President von Hindenburg's recent public condemnation of the German nationalist's efforts to hear the people's voice through an anti-Young plan referendum was summarily dismissed by other speakers as "surely a misunderstanding."

MOTORISTS WARNED AGAINST MONOXIDE

Washington.—(AP)—With the coming of cold weather, when doors and windows are likely to be closed, the American Automobile association warns motorists against carbon monoxide gas.

The most simple way to avoid its effects is not to remain in a closed garage with the car running. A window or the door should be opened. Enough of the poisonous gas is expelled from the exhaust of an automobile to cause death within a few minutes in a small closed garage, the association says.

Deaths from the gas, it was said, have nearly doubled since 1923, when census bureau figures show 2,378 persons died from it.

Treatment of persons overcome by the gas is recommended as follows: "The victim should be removed to fresh air as soon as possible. If breathing has stopped or is weak and intermittent, artificial respiration should be given persistently until breathing has been resumed or the heart stopped."

"Pure oxygen, or a mixture of 5 per cent carbon dioxide in oxygen, should be administered."

HOSPITAL NOTES

The Manchester Memorial hospital today reported the admission of Mrs. Robert Salter of 92 Hemlock street and Nils Anderson of 341 Washington street, Hartford. The latter had chest and hip bruises from an automobile accident last night.

HOWELL PLANS SECOND ATTACK IN DRY TOURNEY

Washington.—(AP)—Most of the recent spectacular tilts on the liquor question in the national capital have come on the heels of an inadvertent remark by one of the mildest men in the Senate.

Robert B. Howell, Annapolis-trained Nebraskan, digressed from a speech on the tariff long enough to sandwich in a few jibes at pro-charges he could not back up. Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa described "Wall street booze parties" to senators and to a grand jury.

High moguls of finance were asked to fall of their part in sinners' revels. Howell has more to say on the subject, and it is understood he is preparing to launch a new attack.

"Bone dry," he has repeatedly declared that prohibition is at the heart of prosperity in this country. Only once has he missed voting for the dry cause since he has been a senator, and that was because he arrived in the chamber too late.

The tardiness was not his fault. He had been exercising in the gymnasium at the Senate office building when the bell calling for the vote rang. Hastily donning his clothes he dashed as he ran from his office to the chamber, but missed out by seconds.

FLOOD STUDY SPURS SEARCH FOR QUAKE

St. Louis.—(AP)—St. Louis university this fall began search for the cause of frequent earth tremors in the area that once was visited by the worst earthquake ever recorded on the North American continent.

This search, strangely enough, is not so much concerned with earthquakes as with flood control. If the location and the causes of the tremors can be ascertained accurately, the Rev. Father James B. Macelwane, S. J., head of the university geophysics department, says the findings are likely to influence the placing of earthworks for Mississippi flood control.

The studies are made in the "New Madrid" district, comprising a territory 150 miles long and 50 wide from southern Illinois well down into Tennessee in the river valley.

In 1811 and 1812 there were disastrous quakes which opened huge fissures near New Madrid, Mo., and to which the formation of the Reelfoot lakes in Tennessee are attributed.

About 2,000 lesser quakes followed. The tremors now occurring

One hundred and twenty-seven fence posts are in place on Hubbard Hill and a total of 256 to Buckingham have been set from the foot of Church Hill to the church and a large gang of men was busy Monday building a highway fence near the Buckingham parsonage.

PHONE CO. PLANS BIG IMPROVEMENT

To Spend Over Seven Millions During Next Five Years—The Program.

Hartford, Nov. 26.—A tentative program for the expenditures of about $7,600,000 for aerial and underground toll cables during the next five years to keep pace with the public demand for toll telephone facilities...

Representatives of all the employees of the Plant, Commercial and Traffic groups of the telephone organization attended the session today with business meetings during the morning. Mr. Judd's talk followed luncheon.

In his talk, Mr. Judd called attention to the fact that in 1914 the first conversation took place from New York to San Francisco. He then stated that at the present time the public of the United States, Canada and Mexico may telephone to 22 foreign countries...

Mr. Judd referred to the day not so long ago when all inter-city calls were handled by the Toll Operator. Then he told of the minor change which permitted the telephone user to place with his local operator such calls as were made to five and ten cent toll points.

Observations of toll line service which are continuously made by the telephone company, Mr. Judd stated, show that 97 per cent of all toll telephone conversations are conducted satisfactorily to the user.

The ease with which inter-city calls are now made has resulted in a heavy increase in this class of telephone traffic, the speaker said, and contributing factors have been the personal warmth which operators put into their work, improvement in telephone instruments and transmission over long distance.

The speaker referred to the big contract that is being carried out by the Long Lines Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company along the Post road in this state, as an indication of the expected growth in the use of toll telephone service.

The Board members attending the meeting here today represent employees in Hartford, New Britain, Bristol, Manchester, Torrington, Winsted and other exchanges in this district.

STOCK MARKET CRASH DID NOT HURT TRADE

Chicago, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Edward N. Hurley, wartime chairman of the shipping board and prominent Chicago manufacturer, today said the 1929 business outlook is distinctly encouraging.

Mr. Hurley, in an address before the Illinois Manufacturers' Cost Association, pointed out that the recent deflation in stock market values actually represents a positive gain because it "insures to industry more and cheaper capital, relieving it of the pressure to earn extravagant profits."

"There is nothing wrong with American business," Mr. Hurley added. "We have everything today that we had on September first of this year in the way of wealth, brains and earned income. Nothing has disappeared except some delusions as to the amount of profits which American industries might earn in years to come."

THIRD FLOOD IN WALES

Cardiff, Wales, Nov. 26.—(AP)—For the third time within a fortnight the Rhonda valley and other low lying valleys in South Wales were flooded Monday owing to many hours of rain accompanied by a terrific gale and swollen streams.

Sudden cottages of the poor which had been cleared partly and left by former inundations again were swamped but in many abandoned dwellings the slimy floodwaters merely flowed over earlier deposits under which clothes and chattels of the stricken villagers lie buried.

People in the worst affected areas have been plunged into the depths of wretchedness. Hundreds are dependent on charity for food and shelter.

Seals have special radiator membranes that warm the ice-cold air before it reaches their lungs.

MCCORMACK TO OPEN RADIO TONE WEEK

Victor Radio to Be Promoted in Unusual Broadcast Starting Thursday Night.

With the broadcasting of a program of songs by John McCormack, world-famous tenor, and a splendid group of orchestral numbers played by the New Victor Salon Orchestra under the direction of Nathaniel Shilkret, the Victor Talking Machine Division, Radio-Victor Corporation of America, on Thanksgiving night, November 28, will inaugurate a nation-wide Victor Radio Tone Week.

One of the unusual features of the week will be the introduction of "The Victor," a new march composition by Nathaniel Shilkret, which in the future will introduce the McCormack program on Thanksgiving night, the later will be played on a specially recorded dealer throughout Victor Tone Week.

In commenting on Tone Week and its purpose, Henry Smith of Watkins Brothers, who are showing the new Victor Radio instruments, said: "Everything you hear over your radio—music, voice, everything—has tone. Unless your radio can reproduce every sound, every tone the ear can detect, it is not giving you what you are entitled to receive. It is tonally deficient and is falling short of the present-day standards of reproduction."

Reproduction doesn't mean approximation or suggestion. It means actually to produce originality. Radio is no longer a toy. It has gone beyond the point of being a machine. Today it is, in every sense, a musical instrument. Victor knows that any radio set that falls short of tonal perfection is not entitled to your serious consideration. That's why it has adopted for its slogan, "There can be no compromise with purity of tone."

COVENTRY

The Choral Society will meet Tuesday evening. Everyone is urged to be present.

On Friday evening the Annual Thank Offering will be held in the Chapel. The adult class will serve an oyster supper from 5.30 to 7.30 p. m. During the supper and the rest of the evening, there will be a food sale at one booth, with candy, hot dogs, coffee, ice cream and pie at some of the other booths.

On Saturday the 4-H Coventry Sunshine Scissor club will meet at 1.30 at the home of their leader Mrs. John E. Kingsbury. Miss Elizabeth Grover assistant club leader will be present to arrange the next year's program.

Next Sunday, Dec. 1, the every member canvass will be conducted. Lester Hill is in charge.

Miss Eunice Koehler has returned to Hartford after spending a week's vacation at her home. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burham have returned from Bridgeport where they spent a few days.

At Coventry Grange, No. 75, P. of H., a most enjoyable evening spent Thursday evening. A debate, "Resolved, that the elaborate Sunday dinner be abolished," was the main feature of the evening. The affirmatives won. It being Past Master's Night, the Past Masters filled the chairs. All but three past masters were present. Upon the resignation of Bro. Earl Koehler, former Assistant Steward, brother Arnold McKinney was elected to office upon installation.

Word has been received in town of the marriage of Merton Wright to Miss Ellen Knight of Willimantic.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Maskiell and family were Sunday guests at Autumn View Farm.

About thirty dollars was cleared on the boiled dinner served Wednesday evening. Both the supper and achievement program were extra well attended.

FASHIONABLE CLUB RAIDED.

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The New York Herald-Tribune says it has just been learned that the Block Hall Club, an exclusive luncheon club in the financial district, was raided on Nov. 6, by city police who seized five quarts of liquor.

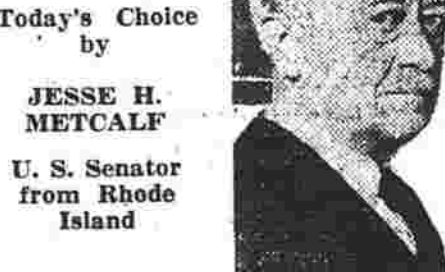

The raid was made by two patrolmen on plain clothes duty, but according to the doorman their attire was so resplendent he admitted them without question as guests. Two men, described as the manager and an assistant, were arrested.

The club, housed in a seventy-story building, was opened in 1928 and was said to have cost $500,000. Many prominent men of banking houses in the section are among its 300 members.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

First Street Railway

Ninety-seven years ago today, on Nov. 26, 1832, the first street railway in America opened in New York City.

The road was known as the New York and Harlem Railroad, on which a horse car, much like an old English stage coach in construction, ran from Prince street on the Bowery to Yorkville and Harlem.

The first railway followed for some distance the route now occupied by the Fourth Avenue Railway, which still operates under the original charter granted in 1831.

It was operated as a horse car line until 1837, when it was temporarily changed to a steam car line. In 1845 the operation of horse cars was resumed and it remained the only horse car line in New York until 1852.

In 1856, street railways were first built in Boston, Mass., and Philadelphia, Pa., had its first line in 1857.

Today, virtually all street railways are operated by electricity.

TO HONOR CLEMENCEAU

Paris, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Measures to keep the name of Georges Clemenceau fresh in the minds of Frenchmen are the order of official bodies now.

The Paris City Council at its next meeting will be asked to authorize giving his name to an important capital thoroughfare, an example widely to be followed in hundreds of cities and townships of France.

A memorial tablet will be fixed to the front of the house on the Rue Franklin and there is a scheme afoot to convert the apartment into a Clemenceau museum, although it was expected out of respect for the deceased statesman, this will not be done for several days at least.

SENTENCES FRIEND. Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Dr. William V. Whitmore, former chancellor of the University of Arizona, awaited transportation to McNeil Island prison today, sentenced to a 15-month term there by a friend of a quarter of a century.

Federal Judge William W. Sawtelle wept yesterday as he pronounced the words that sent his long time friend to the prison and decreed that he should pay a fine of $500. Dr. Whitmore was convicted last week of conspiracy to violate the Federal narcotic laws.

Judge Sawtelle denied a plea for suspended sentence.

"SHUFFLIN" SAM GREEN IN ROCKVILLE TOMORROW

At the Princess Hall Ballroom, Rockville, tomorrow night, the Lucky Six will promote their second dance of the winter social season when they present "Shufflin" Sam Green and his Plantation Blackbirds.

This band is rated as one of the best colored jazz bands offering their entertainment to the dance public. With the possible exception of Duke Ellington's Cotton Pickers now headlining at one of the leading theaters in New York, this band is rated with the best to be obtained.

A product of Harlem, "Shufflin" Sam Green and His Plantation Blackbirds, are coming to this community to present the blues as you've never heard before. The members of this band are talented musicians and exceptionally fine singers and their harmony numbers will prove a novelty to those who will avail themselves of this rare opportunity.

To add to this transposed bit of New York life, the singer of radio and recording fame, the rendition of the Blues by this singer will prove a sensation and make a lasting impression.

As an added attraction a turkey will be awarded to the individual holding the lucky number which will be given out at the door. The Lucky Six have also made arrangements with the management to extend dancing to 1 o'clock so that the dance lovers will enjoy the full benefits of this unusual presentation.

LADY HEATH LOSES SUIT.

London, Nov. 26.—(AP)—A judgment was entered today against Lady Heath in the Chancery Division Court for £239 and costs ($1,195) in a case in which Christa Russel sued Sir James and Lady Heath for that sum alleged to be due on wearing apparel bought by Lady Heath.

After hearing formal evidence of service of writ on Lady Heath, the aviator, in America, the judge gave the decision in favor of the clothing shop.

Sir James Heath recently advertised in London papers he would not be responsible for further debts contracted by his wife.

PRESERVING THE MUSK-OX

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The Thelon game sanctuary east of Great Slave lake in the northwest territories, which contains the last known herd of musk-ox on the Canadian mainland, has been closed. No person, either Indian or white man, will be permitted to enter this 15,000-mile preserve unless by special arrangement.

The musk-ox is exceedingly rare and action has been taken by order-in-council to conserve the herd of approximately 250 known to have their habitat in this area.

PICCION MARRIAGE ANNULLED IN ROME

Rome, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The marriage of General Pere Ruggero Piccion, former head of the Italian Air Service, to Lioranda Batchelder of New Orleans, which occurred in New York in 1920, was annulled by the Rome Court of Appeals today.

The court held that the marriage agreement was not spontaneous and that an element of constraint entered into it at the time. General Piccion is air attaché at the Italian Embassy at Paris at Present.

General Piccio married Miss Batchelder when she was but 18 years old, a student at the Spence school, New York, and he was 35. Their matrimonial life was most unharmonious.

According to published accounts once when she left Italy with their child he sent five hydroairplanes and a motorboat belonging to the Italian Air Service after them to bring them back to Italy and the jurisdiction of Italian courts. Rumors of their impending divorce were frequent.

He was credited with bringing down 32 enemy airplanes during the war.

Is Your City One of the 650?

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States sponsors a most effective and well organized activity in the prevention and control of fire.

Six hundred and fifty cities are engaged in a nation-wide contest in the reduction of fire waste.

This work involves modern and scientific fire-fighting apparatus and methods, salvage work, regular inspections, arson investigations, modernized building codes and ordinances, and actuarial facts.

The unusual facilities and information which the Stock Fire Insurance companies provide, have been extensively used in this work and are constantly available, without charge, to any organization, individual or community.

Chambers of Commerce and similar bodies realize that the prevention of destruction by fire of an existing industrial plant is just as important as the winning of a new enterprise for the community.

When men are put out of work by fire they leave the city or become a community problem such as arises in any locality lacking employment opportunity.

Similar programs on the part of other municipalities and property owners will result in safeguarding life and property in an ever-increasing degree, with consequent effect upon the cost of fire insurance.

OUR SOLDIERS LIKE MOVING PICTURES Army Presented Over 17,000 Complete Programs At Posts During Year.

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Motion pictures are proving a popular source of diversion in the Army and the War Department is expanding its facilities for giving the soldiers this sort of entertainment.

Making his annual report to the department, Adjutant General C. H. Bridges said today that during the last fiscal year 14,942 complete programs were shown at the Army post theaters with 3,830,548 spectators. In addition 35,000 passengers on Army passpports were similarly entertained.

Two new theaters were constructed during the year, one at Fort Meyer, Virginia, and the other at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, each containing full stage equipment, comfortable opera chairs, tables and lounges. The Fort Meyer theater has a seating capacity of 428 and that at Fort Benjamin Harrison can accommodate 610.

Major General Bridges' report, also described some of the difficulties that his office has in keeping abreast of its work.

Much Mail. The year's 3,107,300 pieces of mail received, distributed, answered when a reply was required, or otherwise properly disposed of. The greatest quantity of mail received on a single day was 23,375.

The work of the office is so organized that telegrams and important communications are handled on a 24-hour basis and no letter requiring a reply goes unanswered longer than three days.

At the close of the fiscal year, 139,142 individuals were actively engaged in the military service, the aggregate strength of the reserve corps was 112,757 and during the year 34,514 took the course of the citizens military training camps.

NASH HEAD REPORTS BUSINESS AS GOOD

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 26.—The country is fundamentally sound and business in all lines will continue, for not everyone is governed nor affected by the stock market. This comfortable assurance of "business as usual" was issued by C. H. Bliss, sales manager of the Nash Motors Company today following receipt of final reports on Nash shipments to November 1 and the strong national demand which at the close of October left 3,300 unfilled orders on hand for the popular cars of the new 1930 Nash.

Nash backs up with facts and figures the statements of banking officials, statesmen and international business leaders who have pitted common sense and economic facts against the hysteria resulting from the deflation of stock market values.

Complete sales reports show that Nash completed total shipments of 20,116 new Twin-Ignition Eights, Twin-Ignition Sixes and Single Sixes of the '400' Series for 1929 on October 31, and that despite every effort on the part of the production department to build sufficient cars to fill the demand, the shipments lacked thirty-three hundred cars of the orders on hand.

Further reports from key cities, where new car registrations form a criterion for national automobile business, show that Nash deliveries in several of the cities studied exceeded the deliveries at the same points during the corresponding period last year by margins of from 3 to 71 percent. Also, for the week ending November 9 the reports show that Nash deliveries in three out of the ten cities exceeded those of the corresponding week last year.

"With the country on a fundamentally sound business basis," Mr. Bliss continued, "it may be necessary to devote more intelligent supervision to business and it may be necessary to turn more hours into productive hours. The strong organizations will be in position to do this quickly. The weaker ones will realize the necessity of greater strength as their salvation. There is no better time than the present for each organization to get its house in order. Nash policies, predicated upon honesty and fairness and recognized as such by all those in the industry, place the Nash organization in an enviable position to obtain business on a profitable basis. This record of shipments and registrations is evidence of the public's approving attitude toward the new Nash line of automobiles."

LLOYD'S PICTURE ENDS TONIGHT; "EATS" FREE

"Welcome Danger" Closes; Special Program—Free Turkeys and Good Things Tomorrow.

"Welcome Danger" with Harold Lloyd in his first talking picture has been entertaining large crowds at the State for the last two days and will be seen for the last time today.

Departing a little from the usual policy, "Woman Trap" with Evelyn Brent, Hal Skelly and Chester Morris, will be shown Wednesday only. If you like real, true to life melodrama such as might be taking place right around you at the present time, you will more than enjoy "Woman Trap." It is an adaptation of the famous story "Brothers in Law" with the widened scope of the motion picture it takes on more life and vividness. You will like it because it is human. In the Civil War, brother fought against brother fighting against brother. One in the ranks of the guardians of the law and the other in some "racket." It is a sensational daring picture with a theme that moves audiences in perfect rhythm to its action. The theme touches your heart. The action moves so swiftly you gasp for your breath, fearful of breathing lest you lose a single movement.

The three principals deliver performances that take with rank with anything any of them have hitherto delivered. An all-talking comedy, and two selected vitaphone acts complete the Wednesday program. As an extra added attraction for Wednesday night, the management will give away a large number of fancy turkeys, and also baskets filled with all the good things for the Thanksgiving feast, each of which will contain a duck or a chicken. Plan to be there and you may take home a complete Thanksgiving dinner free.

There will be a special program for Thanksgiving day only. Dorothy Mackall, and a supporting cast of stars, will be seen in the all talking pictures "Had To Get."

AT RAINBOW INN. George Bokis of the Rainbow Inn and Night Club at Bolton is offering an especially attractive Thanksgiving program as an introduction to the dining public. A splendid menu that will be served from 12:30 to midnight. Reservations for private parties may be phoned or arranged for in person. Not in years has there been featured such an excellent program at the Rainbow. Music will be an added feature. Despite numerous dances throughout Tolland County last Saturday approximately 500 persons attended at the Inn. On Thanksgiving Eve Moe Landerman and his orchestra of Hartford will provide a feature program.

FIVE LOCAL CASES IN SUPERIOR COURT

Babe Murder Case and Criminal Negligence Most Important of Group.

Five cases, first heard in Manchester police court, then appealed or bound over, will be included in the 123 cases to be tried at the opening of the December Superior Court term in Hartford next Tuesday, December 3.

Most serious of the cases is that of Mrs. Ida M. Weir, alleged by local police to have attempted the murder of her new-born babe on September 3. She was arrested September 31 and Judge Raymond A. Johnson found probable cause and Mrs. Weir was bound over to the superior court under bond of $500.

Also of a serious nature is the case of Lowell K. Thompson, age 17, who was the driver of the Chevrolet sedan that struck and killed Frederick Scranton on the night of October 25. He was bound over on a charge of criminal negligence.

Alexander Kwiatkowsky of Edward street, also appealed, after being arrested on a charge of keeping liquor with intent to sell on November 9 will be up for a hearing on violation of the liquor law.

The two remaining cases are both for the violation of the Motor Vehicle law, involving J. Rhey Braithwaite and William J. Eagleston. Braithwaite was found guilty in the town court of reckless driving on September 24, the charge being the outcome of an accident in which a child was slightly injured. Eagleston was arrested for speeding on November 2, was found guilty, but took an appeal.

WILL JUST MOG ALONG

Governor Trumbull is reported to be "studying conditions in the state" and preparing to formulate a program of co-operation with the federal government in promoting public work. It is also said to be the feeling of state officials that Connecticut is in an especially fortunate situation in this connection, since it has already made large appropriations for important constructions—but of course, since the Legislature is not in session, it can make no further commitments at this time.

All of which is another way of saying that, so far as Connecticut is concerned, we shall do with a large showing of enthusiasm just what we were going to do anyhow, and nothing else.

Fortunately that is all that there seems any present need of doing. This state is precisely like the nation. It faces no special emergency. We are not called on to take extraordinary measures because no extraordinary situation exists. And we do wish that newspapers and public people would quit treating the Hoover construction program as though it were something gotten up on the spur of the moment to stave off something or other.

We haven't the slightest doubt that President Hoover, like plenty of other people, has foreseen for several years a gradual let-down in certain over-stimulated lines of business. He has probably realized that the automobile industry, for one, could not go on forever producing cars at the rate of recent years and selling them for anything but stage money. The President has realized that for some time there has been in some directions an artificial quality in our over-accentuated prosperity. And he very wisely has undertaken to train the mind of the country in a scientific method of absorbing such unemployed labor as may develop from a slowing down.

So far as Connecticut goes there is neither a crisis nor the threat of one. Almost all our industries are stable. So are almost all the industries of America. We shall only have a few lame ducks to look after at worst.

NOT ALL ALIKE

General Pershing is quoted as being but mildly impressed by the nowadays often suggested "United States of Europe" so far as anything beyond trade agreements is involved. To him are attributed these words: "There is no analogy between the United States of America and the suggested United States of Europe. One is formed of states with common tradition, identical language and similar economic interests"; Europe, on the other hand, composed of states each possessing an intense national spirit, each proud of its history and seeking its own pathway into the future."

We have always had the greatest respect for General Pershing's opinions. He is as much natural statesman as natural soldier and by experience is profoundly educated in the matter of European points of view. But it strikes us that he has either been incorrectly quoted or else he has momentarily overlooked some circumstances in the history of his own country.

We wonder, for example, whether the traditions of Louisiana and Vermont are much more alike than those of Rumania and Belgium; whether there is, after all, such a marked unity of economic interests between the state of Pennsylvania and the state of Idaho—Mr. Grundy and Mr. Borah at least see a wide difference. How closely, after all, does the culture of New England approach that of Arizona?

What bond of fellowship existed between the Massachusetts Roundheads and the Cavaliers of Virginia? How many residents of Hancock, N. H., would find themselves at ease of manner, thought and language with the American citizens who live on Toulouse or Conti street in New Orleans and whose ancestors have lived there for a century and a half?

We wonder, for that matter, whether the French strain in General Pershing himself has always experienced complete oneness with the Teutonic tinge in the atmosphere of Milwaukee. Whether Broadway and the Blue Smoky Mountains, and the denizens thereof, are just one big family—or whether they are a little less alike than Turk and Russian.

The United States is made up of almost as many elements—not merely individual but sectional—and these elements almost as different from each other, as is Europe. There is a very general disposition on the part of many of us to assume too much in this matter of a "common history, common civilization and common language." The common language is about all there is to it—and that isn't nearly as common to the whole country as we like to believe. There were many American soldiers, descendants of many generations of Americans, who had to learn enough English, when they went to the big war, to understand their officers' commands—French speaking Acadians from Louisiana, Spanish speaking natives of New Mexico, German dialect speaking Americans from back counties in Pennsylvania.

The United States of America was formed, indeed, out of racially and culturally differentiated communities almost if not quite as far apart of most of the European states are today. There was, in the beginning, much foreboding over the difficulties in the way of merging these various unaccustomed factors into a nation. Yet it was done. The merging of unaccustomed factors into a United States of Europe might prove a task more difficult only in slight degree.

Hartford seems to have suffered something of a shock in the receipt of information that the population of the city, as based on school enumeration figures, is between 5,000 and 6,000 less than was indicated by estimates based on the city directory canvass. The population as shown by the school census is figured out to be 170,775 persons.

For our part we cannot see why any city of the size and importance of Hartford should be distressed or delighted, as the case may be, by a showing of a few thousand less or more in its population according to one estimate than in the population according to some other estimate. We don't see, for that matter, what great difference it makes whether a city's growth is a small percentage less or more than its people have guessed it to be, or more or less than that of some other city.

As far as Manchester is concerned, we would rather see this town gain a thousand people in ten years and those thousand people of the right sort, than see it gain twenty thousand, the majority of whom were the wrong sort. We should think that Hartford might well be interested, a little anyhow, in the matter of selectivity in population. Yet all we hear talked about is numbers.

Mere numerical growth in a city doesn't always mean so much—not, that is, so much that is good. We happen to be able to remember when Detroit, with about one-fifth of its present population, was one of the most delightful cities in America—a splendid community of splendid people, its streets immaculate, its lighting system the envy of the country, its homes spacious and beautiful, next to no poverty, next to no crime, its social life wholesome, active, intellectual—an ideal town possessing everything that a city needed for the enrichment of a materially prosperous existence.

And now look at the darned thing!

BEHIND A CURTAIN

As was anticipated at the time of the outbreak of Sino-Russian hostilities, the war that is being fought along the Manchurian-Siberian border is going on, so to speak, behind a curtain which hides all view of it from the eyes of the world. It is literally impossible to make even an intelligent guess at the situation.

Next to nothing of value is estimated the probable outcome issues from the theatre of war. Lately we have heard much of obvious Chinese reverses, of heavy casualties, of apparent success of the Soviet forces in operations that would seem to foretell the seizure of the Chinese Eastern Railroad, original source of the trouble, by the Russians. There are rumors of a contemplated separate peace on the part of Manchuria.

But there is utterly lacking any dependable information by which to weigh the significance of these reports. Are the Russian Reds conducting a really substantial campaign? Are their communications capable of extension? Are they in shape to consolidate their gains? Have they reserves? Can they supply an army reaching into enemy country in midwinter with two thousands miles of steppes behind it? Or, on the other hand: Have the Chinese any real military organization beyond a handful of crack brigades? Is there any unity among them? Are they indeed still mere private armies under individualistic war lords? Are they supplied with modern equipment and munitions on any large scale? Can they fight a real war?

Nobody has answered any of these questions satisfactorily. No body knows the truth about this war—and hardly anybody wants to tell what truth they do know.

SHIFT IN ATTITUDES

When a bricklayer got the floor at the Socialist party's post-election convention in New York on Sunday and told the gathering that "the trouble with you is too much of this so-called intelligentsia," Norman Thomas mildly suggested that a little intelligence here and there did no hurt. That there is intelligence in the Socialist party in New York is evidenced by the fact that it is just about ready to yield up its hitherto sacred name if such a course proves necessary in order to attract progressive and liberal voters. That there is less of it among the labor unions is indicated by the bricklayer in question who said: "You can go on alone. We will not go with you. You are ready to marry the first progressive movement that comes along."

Here, out of the mouth of union labor, come the very words with which the Socialists used to attack the unions. Intelligent socialism in New York evidently is envisioning good government, integrity in office, great public works honestly performed and paid for with tax money—the while union labor seems to be away back in the Marxian days from which it has taken the Socialists a generation to emerge, dreaming the child's dream of a co-operative commonwealth.

UNDULANT FEVER

Until recently, undulant fever has been a rather rare disease in the United States, but much more frequently found in Spain, Portugal, and France. This disease is known by a variety of names, such as Mediterranean fever, Bruce's septemia, Neapolitan fever, Cyprus fever, and septic aemia melitensis and goat fever.

This disease is characterized by attacks of fever which may be weeks or months in duration, often remittent. The belief has been held that it is usually spread by goat's milk which is infected by the micrococcus melitensis. However, recent investigations made by Government chemists at Washington have disclosed the fact that these bacteria are to be found in cow's milk and that perhaps this is the greatest source of infection. It is claimed there are over 50,000 cases of undulant fever in the United States at the present time, and that most of these cases originated in the use of unpasteurized cow's milk from cows affected with contagious abortion. This micrococcus enters the body through the intestines and usually occurs in the spleen becomes enlarged and softened, the lymphoid cells increase, and there is congestion in the liver, kidneys and other abdominal organs.

After the infection from the milk the first symptoms usually occur after an incubation period of four to ten days, when the temperature rises slowly, accompanied by pain in the back and limbs and some headache. There is soreness and tenderness in the region of the stomach. The temperature may rise to 103 or 105 degrees, and continue at this for several weeks, after which the recovery apparently takes place, but return attacks frequently occur. The lungs are usually congested and mucus may be expelled from the bronchial tubes.

The patient is usually unable to sleep, and is very irritable and weak for this reason. The gums bleed readily and the sweat glands of the skin are usually interfered with after the third week of the disease. The hips, shoulders, ankles and knee joints may be painfully swollen, resembling arthritis, but they seldom show reddening of the skin over them.

Whenever there is a prolonged fever in which the joints are involved, undulant fever should be considered. The safest diagnosis must rest upon a bacteriological examination.

The outlook for recovery is very good in most cases, especially if the proper care is taken of the patient. The best of nursing is required in undulant fever cases much the same as typhoid. The best diet seems to be only to use some one of the acid fruits during the height of the fever. Oranges, grapefruit, grapes, etc., may be used, but bowels must also be kept thoroughly cleansed with the use of enemas at least twice and sometimes three times daily. Cold shower baths should also be used during the height of the fever. After each shower bath a brisk rubdown is advisable. The pain of the joints can be relieved through the use of hot fomentations.

If these instructions are followed, the course of the disease can usually be greatly shortened.

(Sense of Smell Lost)

Question:—A. J. writes: "Six months ago I lost my sense of smell, and almost immediately my sense of taste. Of all I have eaten since then I have never tasted a single mouthful. Every meal is a dreadful ordeal. Can you help me? I am 70 years old."

Answer:—I am sure your sense of smell and taste will be restored if your loss did not take place following an operation or treatment in your nose. If your loss of the use of your olfactory is caused from catarrh, you could surely get good results from following a fast and dieting regime. If you see this answer, signed to correct catarrhal please write, giving your full name and address so I can send you some special articles on this subject.

(Hydrogen in Foods)

Question:—D. T. asks: "Will you please tell me the foods that have hydrogen in them? My mother was told not to eat foods containing hydrogen."

Answer:—I do not know of any foods that do not contain hydrogen, as this is one of the elements always present in foods. I am sure your mother must have been mistaken about the advice given her.

(Turning Blue)

Question:—H. G. writes: "Please tell me why my flesh turns blue upon the slightest bruise. The blue spots appear even when I am not conscious of having been touched by anything."

Answer:—You should have a careful examination made, as the tendency to turn blue is often a very serious condition denoting a weakness of the walls of the blood vessels. You surely need a diet rich in vitamins and organic salts, such as are found in the non-starchy vegetables, especially those used uncooked.

New York, Nov. 26.—One of the best chorine yarns to drift our way in quite a spell comes from Gene Buck, who produces musical shows now and then.

When the girl first appeared for rehearsal, she was the typical out-of-town pretty maid, cheaply dressed and going to sandwich counters for lunch. Within a short time after the opening of the show, it became apparent that she had struck the fancy of some rich agent, since she appeared in expensive raiment and haubles began to drip from her wrists.

"Where are you getting all the trick scenery?" the chorine was asked.

"Oh, I've got some money," she said evasively.

"Yeah—where from?"

"Oh, a friend gave me a check for several thousand dollars."

"What friend? Who was he?"

There was a moment of what appeared to be quick thinking and then the chorine came back with—"Really, I don't know. The check was signed Anonymous."

It so happens that this particular Bowery figure, who does about with three or four ragged coats superimposed one upon the other and wearing a girdle of old pots and pans, is a Heidelberg student. DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service

Washington.—The British government's decision to delay work on its great naval base at Singapore is regarded here as further evidence of Premier MacDonald's good will in advance of the London conference and it is also supposed to have been made in recognition of the fact that the more naval reduction is achieved the less important will be the world's naval bases.

The big naval powers have put their front yards in each other's back, so that a look at the map makes it appear as if the United States and Britain were shaking their fists under the nose of Japan.

Three main purposes are served by naval bases:

1. Strategic position for defense or attack.
2. Fuel stations.
3. Sites for drydocks and other repair facilities.

Some bases comprise all three of these features and others only one or two of them. The British base at Singapore was designed to include a $20,000,000 drydock suitable for battleships. Some of the British bases in the Pacific have drydocks, but major repair work on her large, fast men-of-war have had to be done at Malta in the Mediterranean.

Called Off Before

A British Labor government called off the Singapore work once before, when MacDonald was premier in 1924. But the Conservatives who had originally begun it, resumed it when they returned to power in 1925. One of the arguments for the latest suspension is that in case the London conference decides to abolish capital ships there will be no need of completing the Singapore job.

England has 26 naval bases, the United States seven and Japan six, according to a list compiled by the Foreign Policy Association. British bases are scattered through her empire over the world. Ours are confined to the Pacific and the Caribbean. Japan's are in Japanese and Chinese waters.

The British preponderance of bases is designed primarily to protect British trade routes. The Singapore base commands the main trade routes to the Far East and Australia and has been regarded as so shocked at the first reading of Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" that he tossed it into the fire.

ONCE TAFT'S PASTOR

NOW IN LAW'S TOILS

Los Angeles, Nov. 26.—Dr. Bradford Leavitt, widely known Unitarian clergyman who once was chaplain to the United States Senate, was in a psychopathic ward of a city hospital today for observation after pleading guilty to a statutory charge.

During the administration of President Taft, Dr. Leavitt was pastor of a Unitarian church in Washington which was attended by the President.

Six months ago Mr. Leavitt confided to members of his congregation that he needed a rest and intended to go to Europe in an attempt to regain his health.

Pending further observation, physicians ascribed his trouble to a nervous breakdown.

MAKEUP SAVES ACTOR.

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Putty, used by Lawrence Tibbett, Metropolitan opera baritone, to build up his nose for the part of Sheriff Rance in "The Girl of the Golden West," saved him from serious injury last night when a ladder fell during the opera, and struck him on the nose.

Undaunted by the mishap, which came in the second act, Tibbett continued to sing his role. After the close of the act he was treated by a house physician and returned for the third act. The injury was described as a superficial one, mainly because much of the force was broken by the putty.

The steady growth of the American Legion numerically and enthusiastically has so manifested itself in the State of Connecticut that the Hartford County Association has found it necessary to re-align the usual committees which serve for one year and has made a considerable number of changes.

At Windsor Locks on Sunday, November 24 with two hundred and thirty members present representing twenty-one out of twenty-two posts of the county, a report with recommendations presented by Past Departmental Commander Kenneth L. Cramer was accepted. It was voted that the following committees and sub-committees be appointed for the year 1930:

The Windsor Locks meeting terminated with enthusiasm as the Legion meeting followed the exercises dedicating the memorial tree by the citizens of Windsor Locks. The dedication exercises consisted of opening prayer by Rev. Father Cassidy, talks by Hon. James E. Breslin of Hartford, Departmental Commander Alexander of Meriden, taps by the bugler and benediction by Rev. Father Casey. During the services a minute of silence was sustained as a tribute to Georges Clemenceau.

During the Legion meeting reports were made by the commanders of various posts which were augmented by fiery and inspiring pleas by Departmental Commander Alexander and Chairman William F. O'Neill of the newly appointed membership committee. Commander Alexander also presented citation certificates to the posts of New Britain, Windsor and Hartford Women's Post.

After the meeting had adjourned, Rev. Father Cassidy, who is the newly elected Commander of Farmington Post, informed Commander Dickinson of the Association that he will donate a prize to the Post who has the greatest ratio of paid-up members present at the next County meeting which will be held at the Legion Home, West Hartford, Conn., on Saturday evening, December 28th, 1929, at 7:30.

FLOODS DEVASTATE SPAIN

Lisbon, Portugal, Nov. 26.—(AP) Widespread devastation has been caused in northeastern Portugal by floods and has spread misery and unemployment to an alarming extent. One farmer lost his life when he jumped into a flooded river to save a child. His body was swept away.

The rapid evacuation of the flooded districts saved thousands of lives at Ponte de Baroa. Bridges, roads, mills and factories were destroyed or damaged and traffic was held up. The Valdevez river exceeded its record level.

The plight of hundreds of families who fled in night clothes is serious, since thousands of tons of supplies were carried away in the floods. Many who were trapped in their homes were rescued with great difficulty by means of planks and ropes.

BIG CONTRACT AWARDED

Washington, Nov. 26.—(AP)—The Keystone Aircraft Corporation of Bristol, Pa., was today awarded contracts amounting to $1,067,829 for the construction of 15 patrol flying boats for the Navy.

Coal mining in England exacts a toll of more than five lives every day, it is estimated.

Uncle Sam's Planting Pointers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the first of a series written by scientists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture on gardening. One of these articles will appear each week, and will be authoritative advice on gardening problems written by men who have spent years in solving such problems.

STARTING SHRUBS FROM CUTTINGS

By GUY E. YERKES, Bureau of Plant Industry, U. S. Department of Agriculture

Many favorite deciduous shrubs can be propagated by taking cuttings of twigs that grew this season and preparing them for planting in the garden next spring.

Among the familiar shrubs that are often propagated are the many varieties of deutzia, honeysuckle, mockorange, privet, spirea, tamarix and some varieties of barberry, dogwood and rose. Also some kinds of trees grow readily from cuttings, the poplars and willows for example.

In late fall or early winter, select well-matured wood of the current season's growth. Cut it into lengths of 6 or 8 inches, preferably with the lower cut through a leaf bud and the upper cut about an inch above a bud. Tie the cuttings into small bundles, taking care to lay them all one way to facilitate planting them right end up.

Place the cuttings in a box of slightly moistened sand and store them where they will not freeze, but will remain cool all winter. In most localities they can be kept in good condition by burying them in a well-drained place in the open ground and protecting them from an excess of water.

The first change in the condition of the cuttings is the formation of a mass of tissue on the lower ends, known as callus. This is a common preliminary to rooting, but some kinds of shrubs will root any apparent callus tissue.

Plant the cuttings in early spring before growth starts from the buds. Use any fertile garden soil to grow cuttings, but sandy loam is preferable. Good drainage of the location is necessary, but the soil must be kept moist in the spring until the roots are well started.

Place the cuttings in a vertical or slightly inclined position with only the top bud above ground, spacing them 4 to 6 inches apart. Firm the soil well around them, particularly at the lower ends. A ridge of loose soil drawn over the row to the top ends an inch or two may be an advantage to prevent drying of wood.

In the summer, cultivate the cuttings frequently and keep all weeds down to encourage robust growth. Some kinds may, if conditions are favorable, get large enough the first season to fit them for permanent planting, but the slower growing sorts may do better if grown a second season before transplanting.

OPENING STOCKS

New York, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Renewal of selling pressure imparted a reactionary tone to prices at the opening of today's Stock Market.

American Telephone, American Smelting, Lambert, Bethlehem Steel, Union Carbide, Columbia Gas and Westinghouse Electric showed initial declines of 1 to 2 1/2 points.

U. S. Steel Common and National Cash Register opened fractionally higher.

Early trading continued at a quiet pace. With few large blocks changing hands, prices of some of the recent favorites such as General Electric, Air Reduction and J. I. Case, slipped off rather rapidly, but there was no unusual pressure of offerings.

One of the features of the early trading was the sale of a block of 215,000 Kreuger & Toll stock purchase "rights" at 75 cents each. These "rights" expire next Monday.

Wall street was pleased at the sharp reduction in loans shown in the weekly condition statement of the Federal Reserve system. This was accepted as further proof that the market was thoroughly deflated, and that stocks had passed from weak to strong hands in the recent break.

Professional operators continued to take profits in anticipation of the protracted Stock Market holiday this week, and new investment buying was rather cautious in character. Recent strength of the Bond Market seemed to indicate that senior obligations were attracting a major proportion of investment funds.

Air Reduction quickly fell nearly 7 points, J. I. Case 4 1-2, General Electric 4 and May Department Stores, Inter-National Match preferred and National Biscuit yielded 2 points or more. Losses of a point or more were quite common, the list including Kennecott, Simmons, General Asphalt, United Aircraft, Canadian Pacific and Atlantic, Gulf & West Indies.

Foreign exchanges opened steady, with sterling cables quoted a shade lower at 4.87 7-8.

THREE BURNED TO DEATH

Phillipsburg, N. J., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Three of the children of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Verenna were suffocated or burned to death today in the same manner in which their sister met death six months ago.

The dead were Clara, 13 years old, Charles, 8, and Mary, 6.

In the last ten years the cost to produce an acre of corn has been reduced from 20 man hours to 4 1/2 man hours.

STUDENTS EXPELLED FOR FOOTBALL RIOTS

Detroit, Nov. 26.—(AP)—It was learned today that "several" students of the University of Detroit have been expelled as the result of disorders in East Lansing a week ago last Saturday, after the annual football game between Michigan State college and the University of Detroit.

The Rev. John P. McNichols, president, declined to give the exact number expelled or their names, saying "the boys are disgraced enough now by being dismissed and I think that is punishment enough."

Meanwhile reports from East Lansing quoted Joseph F. Cox, dean of the agriculture department of State college and chairman of the Michigan State Athletic Council, as saying the liquor question remained the chief problem for the athletic boards of the two schools to consider in discussing whether athletic relations will be continued.

"We do not want this college as a state institution to serve as the background for such a serious violation of the prohibition laws as was in evidence during and after the Detroit game," Dean Cox said.

Coach Charles E. Dorais of the University of Detroit had attributed the disorders to drinking on the part of followers of the Detroit team.

KELLOGG RECEIVES HONORARY DEGREE

Oxford, Eng., Nov. 26.—(AP)—Frank B. Kellogg former secretary of state who is now in England, was honored by the convocation of the University of Oxford today. An honorary degree of Doctor of Civil Law, which originally it had been intended to confer upon him last June was conferred this afternoon.

Dr. A. B. Poynton presented Mr. Kellogg as one who had formerly been American ambassador to Great Britain and spoke of the warm congratulations which had been prepared for him at the contemplated June ceremonies.

Dr. Poynton said the last six months had deepened the sense of the significance of the pact for outlawing war. Mr. Kellogg was the first to broadcast the message that war must be outlawed and his message did not lack wings.

The speaker said the difficulty of obtaining sisterly affection among the nations was great, but that if only they did the right thing first, must have success. The causes of war as well as of armaments must be cut away. Among those who would apply delight to this problem was the illustrious American who besides his forensic skill and experience of men and affairs, had the happy gift of catching the ear of the nations.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MRS. EMMA HOGARTH, said to keep money hoarded in her room on the second floor of Mrs. Rhoades' boarding house, is strangled to death between 11:45 and 12:15 Saturday night, June 23. BONNIE DUNDEE, "cub" detective assisting LIEUTENANT STRAWN. Suspicious falls on EMIL SEVIER, former boarder, whom Mrs. Hogarth accused of trying to rob her and who has disappeared.

CORA BARKER, thought to have had an affair with Sevier, is arrested as a material witness against him when she confesses she was in the murder room shortly after 12. Other boarders under suspicion are: HENRY DOWD, NORMA PAIGE, latest interest to the Hogarth board. The accused old woman's wrath by becoming engaged to WALTER STYLES, financially insecure business man, who had quarreled with Mrs. Hogarth; BERT MAGNUS, amateur scenario writer, who is heard typing in his room until 12:15, and DAINY SHEPHERD, the only boarder who moves from the house.

Bonnie learns from papers discovered in the lining of the victim's trunk that the SALLY GRAVES, who writes her once a month, is her daughter and that the "D." mentioned in her diary is DAN GRIFFIN, son-in-law embittered, of whose "turning up" she lived in dread. Dundee recalls the mysterious circumstances of Sally Graves' murder in New York a month previous and concludes Griffin killed both women. He examines the house register to find registrants since Sally's murder. Magnus and Dowd are the newcomers. Dowd's name is "printed" in suspicious children characters. A wire retelling Dowd's information about himself directs suspicion to him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXVIII
The securing of the passkey from Mrs. Rhoades was an act of courtesy rather than of necessity, for Bonnie Dundee had borrowed Strawn's very complete collection of skeleton keys before the detective chief had departed for Belton, Mo., on the trail of Dan Griffin.

In asking for Dundee Dundee had said to Strawn: "I want to make another search for that money—and for other things, as well."

"I think you'd made up your mind that the old lady had no hidden hoard," Strawn had reminded him.

"And so I had—before I knew about Dan Griffin's theft from the bank," Dundee had replied. "The fact that the mother was murdered after the daughter proves that either of the women had the stolen money, it was the old lady; isn't it fairly probable that Griffin had entrusted his stolen money to his wife, that she and her mother became panicky and fled with the money just before the theft became known to the bank? Griffin, according to the Belton chief of police, risked arrest to return to his house with the police on the trail. He would scarcely have done that for any other reason than to get his stolen money."

"But he found that his wife, and mother-in-law had flown, in the nick of time. If he found that his money was gone, too, can't you see him searching for them for five years, with hatred and revenge in his heart? Yes, it most decidedly seems to me that what Dan Griffin was after was that $10,000. If Mrs. Hogarth did have the money it must have been a sore burden to her. She could not return it to the boarders without laying herself and her daughter open to arrest, and she could not use a penny of it, with a clear conscience—and I firmly believe in Mrs. Hogarth's own honesty. By the way she may have insisted in willing to give a favorite fellow-boarder. Her daughter probably felt the same way about the money as did old Mrs. Hogarth—regarded it with fear and loathing. That would certainly account for the fact that Mrs. Hogarth never made a will in her daughter's favor."

And now Bonnie Dundee was going to make a serious effort to find that money—discuss "hidden hoards." He realized, fully as well as the skeptical Strawn, that the chance were about 50 to one against its being concealed in this house, but in the profession he had chosen not even such a long chance as that could be overlooked. And as Dundee had told himself a short time before, Henry Dowd had certainly invited his earnest consideration.

The room was singularly bare of evidences of Dowd's occupancy. With the exception of a cheap black comb and a pair of cheap new military brushes on the chiffonier, and two magazines devoted to adventure stories which lay on a small bedside table, there was nothing in sight to indicate that the room was rented.

Mindful of his promise to Mrs. Rhoades to leave everything as he found it, Dundee turned rapidly through the meager piles of garments on the chiffonier. On shirts, soft collars and underwear, all rather badly worn, he found the laundry mark, "H. D." and when he used one of his skeleton keys to unlock the closet he found the same initials on an imitation leather suitcase, which was empty. But his suspicion that Henry Dowd—or whatever his real name was—had something to conceal was confirmed by the fact that clothes labels had been ripped from the topcoat and the coat to Dowd's "other suit," which were neatly disposed on hangers in the closet.

Dundee entered the closet and pressed upon the wide board to which Cora Barker had called Lieutenant Strawn's attention. It yielded easily, with only a faint whining of the nails at the top. Yes, it made a wide enough hole to permit a slim man's entry into Mrs. Hogarth's closet.

Emil Sevier had contrived that illegal entry into Mrs. Hogarth's room, but he had kindly left it available to the next tenant of his room! Was it not entirely possible that Henry Dowd, whether or not he was Dan Griffin, had discovered that ready-made passage and had made use of it on the night of June 23?

Henry Dowd had no alibi for the time of the murder, beyond his own statement that he was in bed in his own room. And, with that loose board between the two closets, he could have committed the murder, without having once stepped out of his own door or window.

"But of actual evidence against him I have none," Dundee reminded himself ruefully. "Unless Dan Griffin's description happens to fit it, does, then we can add motive to opportunity—" He broke off to listen, then hastily scrambled out of the closet, having replaced the loose board, and ran from the room, closing the self-locking door softly behind him.

"Coming, Tilda!" he shouted up the stairs, and took them two at a time. "Thanks awfully," he said a minute later, as he closed his door upon the girl.

"Sergeant Turner again, Dundee," came a voice over the wire from headquarters. "An answer has come to your wire to the Riverside chief of police. . . . Ready? . . . Herbert S. Magnus, son of Benjamin H. Magnus, prominent fruit-grower, lived in Riverside until February, 1924. Profession, bookkeeper. Age 34. Weight about 170, height 5 feet 9 inches. Dark-brown hair, gray eyes, red mustache. Wears glasses. Family in regular correspondence with him. Father, questioned, has read newspaper account of Hogarth murder and is worried lest son involved. If so, wants to go to him." . . . Get all that, Dundee?

"Every word," Dundee assured the man who was now technically in charge of the case. "Please wire the Riverside chief of police our thanks and tell him Magnus is not in the least involved, and that there is no necessity of his father's making the trip, that our inquiry was merely routine. Anything new on Sevier, Sergeant?"

"Half a dozen false leads," Sergeant Turner replied. "You know how it is when you see news papers and the public on a man's trail. Any number of helpful citizens think they have seen him, all the way from here to Chicago, and from here to Cleveland."

"Has the motorist who turned his lights on the left running man in the alley come forward yet?"

"Not a peep out of him. Looks to me like them lights musta been a signal," the sergeant growled, then added, "though I guess my opinion ain't asked for." It required five precious minutes for Dundee to soothe and cajole the disgruntled sergeant into something approaching good humor, but he counted the time well spent. New to the detective force himself, he would not afford to antagonize the humblest man on the homicide squad, and much less so a man of Sergeant Turner's rank and real value.

"Back on the second floor and ready to resume his impatient search for snooping in his fellow-boarders' rooms, Dundee was about to pass by Bert Magnus' door when a sudden thought made him pause. He had become so enamored of his hunch that the Hogarth murder had been a direct act of Bert Magnus, and that Dan Griffin had been a direct act of Bert Magnus, and that Dan Griffin had found what he was looking for in his wife's apartment and had had no reason to journey to Hamilton to kill and rob his mother-in-law? Certainly this possibility existed, and was strong enough so that every inmate of the Rhodes House on the night of Saturday, June 23, was still open to suspicion, since greed is the commonest of all murder motives."

"Even so, Bert Magnus has an alibi," Dundee argued with himself against his distaste for searching the room of a man he both liked and pitied. "Four people heard him typing in his room at the very time Mrs. Hogarth was being murdered and robbed. But there still remains two very faint possibilities: first, that he had an accomplice typing in his room while he himself slipped out of his window and did the job; second, that, knowing he had an iron-clad alibi for himself, he could take a chance on acting as an accomplice for someone else, in the capacity of receiver of stolen goods. Which is tommyrot and I know it, but—here goes!" And he used Mrs. Rhoades' passkey to unlock Bert's door.

a pair of soiled brown leather gloves, but Dundee's commonsense was not so submerged in suspicion that he could fail to realize that an overcoat pocket was the most natural place in the world for a pair of winter gloves.

After satisfying himself that the closet afforded no hiding place for a large sum of money, Dundee turned to the desk. Its numerous drawers and pigeonholes were practically empty, but the young detective conscientiously accounted for every inch of space before he abandoned his search for the stolen money. Scattered upon the desk top were pages of the manuscript, "More To Be Pitted," the scenario for which the glib amateur himself was more to be pitied than censured; a stack of cheap yellow copy paper, and three letters. The turn of Dundee's mind was that Bert's correspondents were his father, his sister and his Philadelphia landlady, Mrs. Christine Starrett. A romance there, possibly?

Memoranda and notes on the scenario also afforded several specimens of Bert's rather cramped handwriting—the awkward script of a man who had been forced to change from right hand to left. Out of curiosity, Dundee compared the left-handed writing with the only available sample of Bert's right-handed script—the signature on the flyleaf of the textbook on scenario-writing which he had briefly examined on his visit to Magnus' room the day before. The two samples matched as well as could be expected.

The young detective was about to leave the room, glad to be finished with that part of his ugly duty, when his eyes caught sight of a small army trunk pushed far back beneath the desk, against the wall. He stooped, dragged it forward, and opened it, for it was not locked. At what he saw he uttered a sharp exclamation of surprise—and then he grinned broadly.

YOUR CHILDREN

by Olive Roberts Barton
© 1929 by NEA Service, Inc.

Fall usually means more or less contagious disease among children. Let us hope that this season may see fewer cases than last, just as last autumn's record was under that of the year before, diphtheria and scarlet fever especially. I believe the time is not far distant when there will be practically none of either, just as typhoid fever has become almost obsolete.

Occasionally, of course, we still have scarlet fever or diphtheria epidemics but we now call twenty-five cases in an average city an epidemic when there are not so many years ago it took several hundred cases to earn the name.

But there will be sporadic cases, and I think it is just as well to explain to a mother who has had no experience, a few of the things to look out for. If the doctor should come in some day in answer to a hurried summons, look a small patient over, and announce that he has neither one of these diseases.

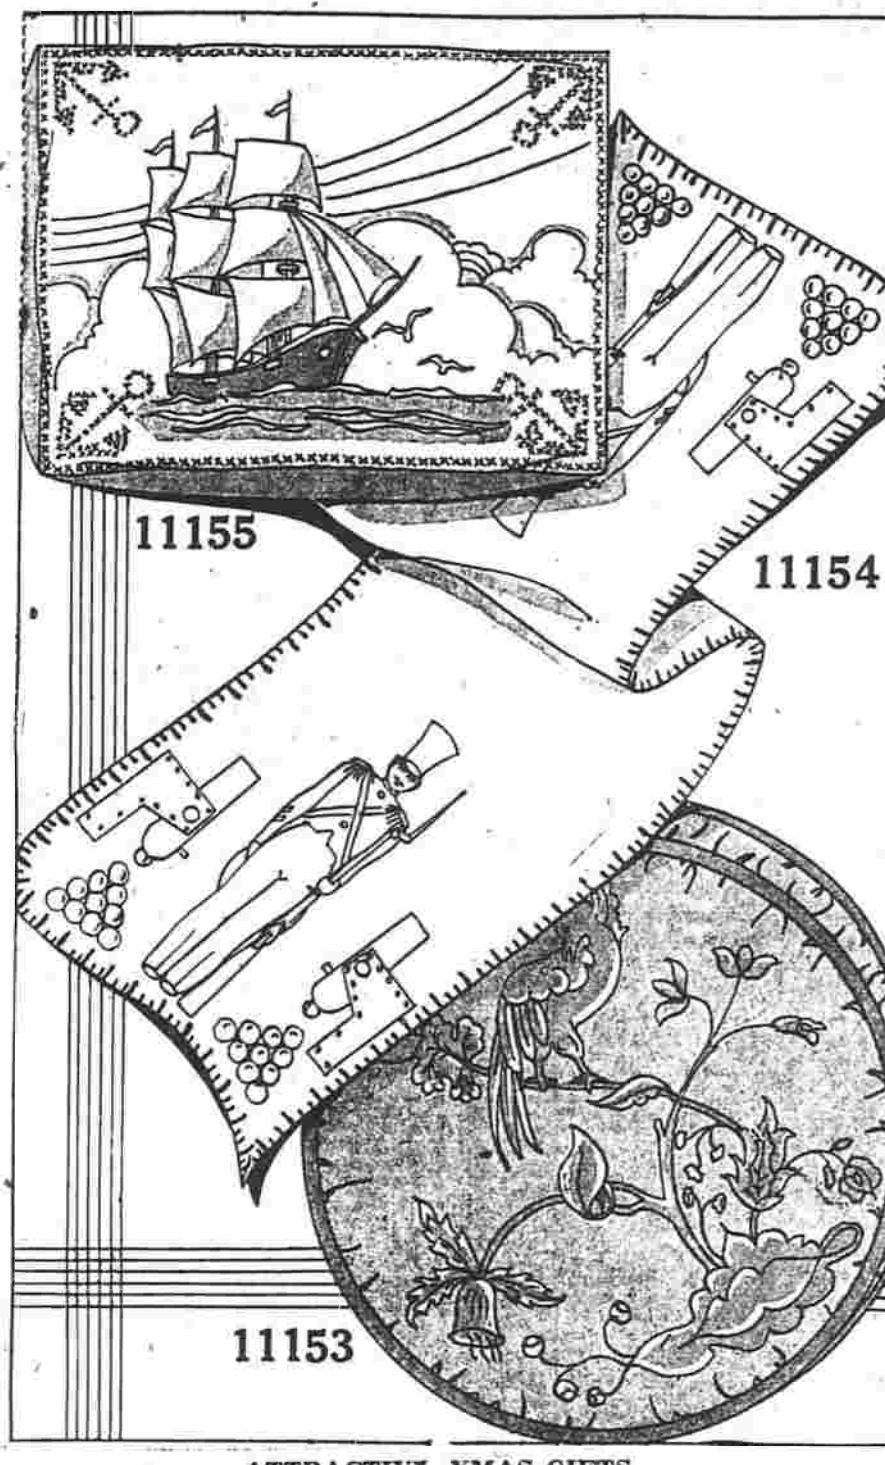

Restrain Your Fears
In the first place, don't get panicky when you see a child with a rash that has new needs have a shock now. Twenty years ago, yes! Thirty years ago, absolutely! Now—no!

To digress a bit—I wonder if present-day mothers with small children can conceive what these things meant to the women of bygone generations! They were called "fatal" diseases then and not without reason. I'm here to state in emphatic terms that every such mother should thank heaven every day that she does live now.

Let me warn about these convalescent cases. No matter how well a child seems, try to obey the doctor's orders to the letter. It is important to use care after recovery as it is to adhere to directions during the run of the disease. Diet during scarlet fever and after it is vital. Kidneys are weakened and when the doctor says "butter-milk or stewed-fruit juice" and no albuminous food, it means just that. He'll tell you when to increase the diet.

The WOMAN'S DAY

There's nothing funny, about divorces or domestic difficulties, if they happen to involve one personally, but often one can view those of others with detached amusement.

There's no telling what will bring two people together, or what will draw them apart—or what will please a woman, or what will make her angry.

In the late Victorian literature, and in Ibsen plays, women were shiekling to be understood, as alas, they were only too well later, and this generation has said much about debunking sex, and learning about life from studying the birds and flowers and animals.

Now comes a product of this generation bearing a new grievance. The eminent biologist, who has been treated as a biological specimen, and wants a divorce from her scientific mate.

He, she says, is obsessed with the subject of biology, so much so that he has turned his home into a laboratory, with birds and animals running over the place, and that she herself is nothing more to him than a biological specimen. So sick is she of this state of affairs, that freedom is her only salvation.

Then there is also the amusing case of the Hæckensack man, Horace Bush, who ordered his bride two months out of the house when he caught her smoking. In court he said he was willing to support two homes, one for his wife to smoke in and the other for himself, but he would not live in the same house with a woman who smoked.

KEEPING SCHOOLS OPEN IN "FLU" EPIDEMIC HELPS CHECK DISEASES

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

At the time of the great epidemic of influenza there was much dispute among sanitary authorities as to whether or not the schools should be closed as a means of preventing the spread of disease.

Nowadays it is realized that it is advisable to keep the school open because in this way it is possible to keep a check on the movements of the children to find out which ones are sick and which are well, to institute daily examination in all classes where cases occur, to exclude all those suspected of having the disease or to be closely associated with cases of the disease, and in many other ways to exercise positive action rather than negative.

It has also been shown that it is unnecessary to fumigate the rooms or to destroy all of the books and papers used by the children, since this does not seem to have any important effect in checking epidemic infectious diseases.

The actual records are interesting. In 22 schools in Pennsylvania which depended only on fumigation to stamp out contagious diseases, there was a total of 171 cases within a month before and 300 within a month following closure and fumigation.

In 14 schools there were attempts to check scarlet fever outbreaks by formaldehyde fumigation of school rooms. Within a month before its use they had 91 cases of scarlet fever and during the month following fumigation 123 cases. The same type of figures are available for cases of German measles and of ordinary measles.

Therefore the advice should be repeated again: in times of epidemic do not close the schools and lose control of the children; open better check the schools, open examine the children daily and carefully record the development of cases so as to prevent contact and continued spread of infection.

Midday Finds Finest Perfumes At Packard's

Every American girl delights in her favorite brand of perfume, toilet powder, rouge, soaps and the like. She chooses them with great care and deliberation in order that they be best suited to her individual needs.

Today she has the pick of some of the finest toilet waters, perfumes and soaps made at very moderate prices.

There are three brands that enjoy a national popularity and they are, Houbigant, Cheryam and Coty. Houbigant and Coty produce an excellent line of perfumes, face powders and compacts and recently Houbigant has produced three types of compacts, the single, double and triple.

Cheryam brings you a choice line of soap and the very popular "April Showers" Talcum and Perfume Extract. These come in individual containers and in sets.

Packard's Pharmacy at the Center has devoted a large amount of space to these lines of toilet goods and it is safe to say that any girl will find just what she wants there. They also have a very fine assortment of perfume atomizers in the newest designs—and beautifully shaded glass.—Adv.

If I referred to Oscar of the Waldorf as a "chef" the other day, I stand corrected. He is not, and wants to make it very clear that he never had been a chef. His connection with the old hostelry found the world over never gave him any other title than "Oscar of the Waldorf." Later in the week we will print one of his Sunday menus. Tomorrow, if there is room on the home page, we will have an illustrated article by Theophile chef of the Sherry-Netherlands hotel in New York who will describe just how to carve the Thanksgiving turkey.

McCluskey, Fordham Flash, Runs Here Thursday

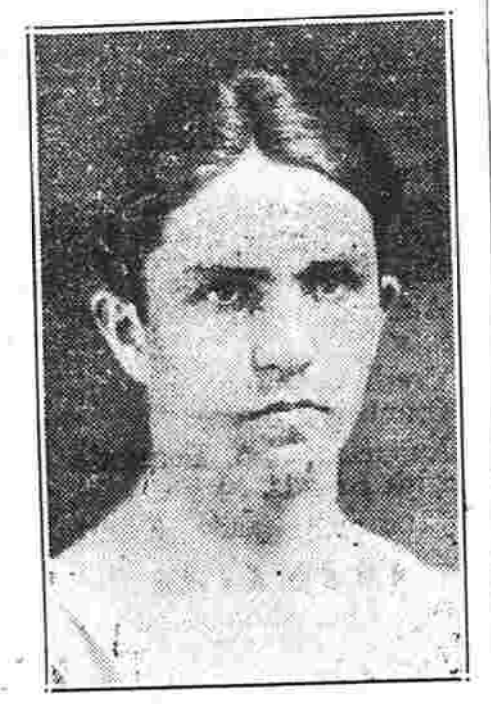

Former M. H. S. Athlete Topped Field Of 80 Men To Win Race Yesterday

Also Set New Course Record and Beat Nearest Rival by Twenty Yards; Keeps in Splendid Physical Condition; Is Also Brilliant Scholar.

—And Lil' Joe Did Lead 'Em

BY TOM STOWE.

Manchester will feel proud of little Joe McCluskey's brilliant long distance runner.

Joe McCluskey.

ate three mile Freshman cross-country run yesterday at Van Cortland park in New York City under the colors of Fordham University was the biggest achievement of the Manchester youth's colorful career.

Not only did "Little Joe" win the race, but he also established a new course record by 24 seconds and beat out his nearest rival at least fifteen yards. McCluskey's official time for the three miles was 14 minutes and 47 seconds.

There was great happiness at the McCluskey home on Foster street yesterday when The Herald informed the family of "Little Joe's" latest accomplishment. Pa, Ma and Brother Johnny were thrilled by the news.

One of the secrets in Joe's success on the cinder tracks has been due to his clean living. I have never known a Manchester athlete who took better care of himself from a physical standpoint. The two chief factors are proper diet and sleep.

Frankie Frisch used to be known as the "Fordham Flash" but if "Little Joe" keeps up his great work, he will steal the baseball player's moniker. McCluskey first began flashing over the mile course for Manchester High school where he built the foundation to what promises to be a brilliant career. He is a product of Charles L. Wigren, track coach at the local high school.

Joe's efforts were rewarded with the captaincy in his senior year at high school and he went on to win the state record for the mile run in schoolboy circles setting a mark which will probably stand for a long time. Last June Joe received his diplomas and in September enrolled at Fordham where he is under the care of Coach Jake Webber.

Young McCluskey doesn't confine all of his attentions to the athletic field. He is as brilliant a scholar as a runner and maybe more so. After winning the race yesterday, Joe hustled off to his room to study for a debate in which he was to participate against N. Y. U. last night at Fordham and spoke first on the negative team.

Tomorrow night Joe will arrive home for the Thanksgiving holiday week-end and a hearty welcome and warm reception awaits him at the Foster street home. Thanksgiving Day morning McCluskey will participate in the third annual five-mile cross-country run under the auspices of the Recreation Centers here. Although Joe is admittedly better at shorter distances, Joe is expected to give a good account of himself.

New York newspaper were strong in their praise of McCluskey's feat in winning the race yesterday after. Here is what the Herald-Tribune had to say about his victory: "The individual winner was a 'dark horse,' Joseph J. McCluskey of Fordham, a hard-running youth whom Coach Jake Webber has had in hiding all season. The 18-year-old Fordhamite has never won an important race before and, incidentally, never ran under a year ago. McCluskey was easily the class of the freshman field, and, advancing down the homestretch with easy, effortless style, led home by twenty-five yards George Barker of N. Y. U."

TAFFY FIVE BEATS RAMBLERS 38 TO 24

The Taffy All-Stars beat the Ramblers at basketball 38 to 24 in the Rec Saturday afternoon. The game was close at half-time—18-12 in favor of the winners.

The Taffy five showed a reversal of form in the second half and was never in danger of being headed. Sturgeon and Campbell were in the limelight for the Taffy's scoring one point less than the Rambler team. Jolly stood out for the losers making six field goals. The Taffy's are favorites to cop the Junior Rec League.

monopolized as never before by local talent. Fordham, with the darkest "dark horse" roaming the Van Cortland hills, produced its first cross-country champion in another runaway, where Joseph J. McCluskey, bursting into the lead in the hill was never headed the rest of the way. He was clocked in the great time of 14 minutes 47 seconds to win by fifteen yards from George H. Barker, of N. Y. U. Barker, it was who led the winning N. Y. U. team, victorious here for the first time, as the Von Elling yearlings, with five in the first twenty-four, scored 52 points to beat Cornell with 104 and Syracuse with 110. The freshman race, too, had its largest field with eight of eighty-two starters finishing the three-mile run.

McCluskey Also Lowers Time. "This was an ideal day for cross-country, with fast footing beneath, blue skies overhead and cold and crisp enough to make every one in both races move ahead full speed. McCluskey, never heard of before in any kind of competition and winning his first race yesterday with a polished, finished performance, was timed in 14:47, 24 seconds better than the record of last year when Dan Dean, Bill McKniff and Roland Ritchie, of Penn., finished in a dead heat."

Charter Oaks Establish New Team Bowling Mark

Roll 1819 Total and Tie Team Single of 631; Axel Anderson High; Night Hawks Regain Lead.

The Night Hawks swung back into first place in the Herald Bowling League last night by winning three out of a possible four points from the Majors at Bronke's alleys. All three games were close and exciting. The Majors entered the battle leading the league by one point but the Night Hawks came out with the same margin.

The highlight of the evening proved to be the sensational bowling of the Charter Oaks on their own alleys at Joe Farr's. Averaging better than 605 a game, the Charter Oaks established a new team record of 1,819 which is 24 pins better than the 1,795 the Majors hit some weeks ago. The Charter Oaks also tied the Majors' team single record of 631 in their final effort.

Axel Anderson led the Charter Oaks with 392 and Willie Robinson hit above 370. The Herald five was the unfortunate victim of the timber annihilation but they hit scores that would have ordinarily taken two or three points. Ellington was high for the losers. Conran led the Majors with 342 to retain his individual average leadership. Salsila's 348 was high for the Night Hawks.

Notre Dame Plays Army In Week's Best Contest

Rockne's Team Heavy Favorite; Several Important Turkey Day Games Set for Thursday.

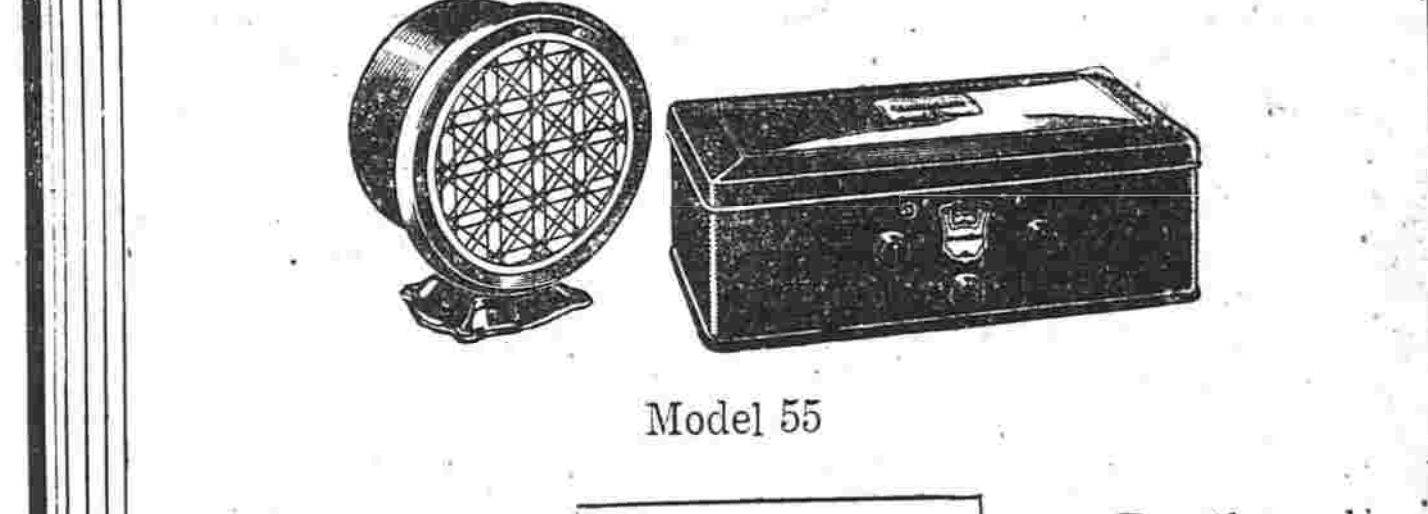

New York, Nov. 25.—(AP)—A number of fine old eastern football rivalries will be renewed this week, most of them on Thanksgiving Day but one of the most important—Army and Notre Dame, on Saturday. Before the Cadets and the Ramblers from South Bend, Indiana, put on their spectacular struggle at the Yankee Stadium, such ancient feuds as Cornell-Penn., Pitt-Penn State, Washington and Jefferson-West N. Y. U. each have been beaten twice by strong opponents but the Pittsburghers look a trifle stronger. Dartmouth even without Al Marsters figures to pack more punch than the Navy which has experienced a disappointing season. Any edge that may exist between Boston College and Holy Cross on the one hand and Temple and Villanova on the other hand, lies in the eye of the beholder.

A college lad lost his pants, but won a flag rush. The customary thing is to win nothing, but lost your shirt.

FRANCE STUDYING REPLY TO ITALY

Paris, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Premier Tardieu met with his ministerial colleagues today including Foreign Minister Briand and Naval Minister Leygues in an attempt to find some solution for the question of Italy's demand for absolute parity with France at the forthcoming London naval conference. It is declared in political circles that Tardieu and Briand earnestly seek to contribute to the success of the London conference but believe that French public opinion will make it difficult for them to subscribe in a formal treaty to sea parity with Italy. One of the possibilities that has been suggested is a non-aggression pact between France and Italy for the Mediterranean as a solution of the problem.

The premier and his chief assistants in discussing the problem decided that parity between France and Italy would be tantamount to French naval inferiority, because France must protect coasts on three seas in addition to her African and still more distant colonial possessions. Nevertheless France hopes to reach an agreement with Italy by taking Italy's actual needs into consideration and by recognizing that in point of fact Italy is bottled up in the Mediterranean. France is expected to reply to Italy in this manner within a week.

MAKE FINAL PLANS FOR INDOOR CIRCUS

North Methodist folks who are members of the general and sub-committees arranging for the indoor circus next week Thursday and Friday evenings, held an enthusiastic meeting in the church vestry last night and plan for a still further meeting at the same place on Tuesday of next week, to make final arrangements. The committee in charge of ticket distribution announced that hundreds had been disposed of already. It was also given out that Rev. J. E. Duxbury, a former pastor, and a number of his present parishioners from Putnam are planning to attend the circus, weather being favorable. Others of the church people are inviting friends and relatives from other places for the event. Mrs. F. A. Sweet has consented to take charge of the gift booth and solicits contributions of fancy and useful articles from friends and former attendants of the church here and out of town. The ladies have decided to serve an old fashioned New England boiled dinner on the first night of the circus, featuring corned beef and all the vegetables that go with such a meal, with relishes, home made squash and mince pies. Miss Beatrice Lydall heads the committee in charge of the menu each evening and the decorations of the mess hall. The parade of animals will take place on the first evening only, but each night the clowns will perform, and in addition to the various side shows there will be a one-ring program. The young folks will be anxious to have their fortunes told by Madame Squires who is exceptionally clever in this respect.

GIRLS' A. A. CARD PARTY A SUCCESS

The first card party attempted by the girls of Cheney Brothers' A. A. last night at Cheney Hall was a big success. They will be con- sidered each Monday evening. In setback first prize went to Edna Anderson and Isabelle McCann, second to Elsie Jamieson and Katherine Gustafson, consolation to Ruth Helwig and Alice Paradis. Dolly Sullivan was first in whist. Mrs. Bertha Gess second and Rosemary Pallier took the consolation. Mrs. Eva Werner took first prize, Mrs. Edythe Rowsell second and Clara Lindberg, consolation, in bridge.

ENDURANCE ATTEMPT FAILS

Metropolitan Airport, St. Louis, Nov. 26.—(AP)—Bobbie Trout, Los Angeles and Eleanor Smith, New York girl flyers, seeking to establish a new refueling endurance flight record landed their biplane here at 2:55 a. m. today when their gas supply gave out. The flyers visibly were disappointed because they were unable to stay in the air throughout the night, but were optimistic that their next effort would be more successful. "Everything was going smoothly," Miss Smith said, "and we had experienced no trouble or inconvenience. The motor performed perfectly, and only our inability to refuel forced us to land." The plane was refueled at 5:20 p. m. yesterday and it was believed that the 240 gallons of gasoline transferred to that time would last through the night. The supply ran low early this morning, however, and a call for more fuel was made shortly after 2 a. m.

An accident that occurred on Prospect street shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon brought Joseph Ambrose of Columbus street before the local court on the charge of evading responsibility. The car Ambrose was driving struck one driven by Thomas J. Woods. According to Woods, Ambrose failed to stop when ordered to, after he had righted his car. Woods followed him and overtook him at Hartford Road and Pine street and Ambrose refused to show him his license. Ambrose contended that Woods was the cause of the accident and he did not think it was necessary for him to stop in order to show his license to him. Judge Raymond A. Johnson found Ambrose guilty. He imposed a minimum fine of $50 and costs and re- mitted $25 of the fine.

C. OF C. CONGRATULATES

McCLUSKEY ON RACE

Among the first to congratulate Joseph McCluskey, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McCluskey of Foster street, who won the freshman race, under the colors of Fordham University, in the intercollegiate cross country race at Van Cortlandt Park, New York, yesterday, was the Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

The following telegram of congratulation was forwarded to McCluskey this morning by Secretary E. J. McCabe of the Chamber. "We congratulate you on freshman honors. Manchester rejoices with you and we are proud of your record."

In winning the event McCluskey lowered the record for the course by 24 seconds. He will appear in Manchester in the annual five mile cross country run on Thanksgiving Day morning.

The stock was placed on a $5 annual basis with the disbursement of a quarterly payment of $1.25, Oct. 4, last, as advanced from the $4 rate in effect from the second quarter of 1928, when dividends were resumed after omission since 1913.

LETTER TO MERCHANTS

TELLS OF XMAS PLAN

Chamber Asks Co-operation in Lighting Program; Will Seek Contributions.

A letter was sent out today to each person on the prospect list made up by the special holiday lighting committee of the Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce. This letter is signed by Arthur Hultman, chairman, Russell Hathaway, L. N. Heebner, L. J. Richman, Earl Seaman, William Rubino, and George H. Williams, and is a plea for generous contributions to finance the special Christmas lighting.

The letter follows: "If you knew a generous contribution would make Manchester a better town to live in on account of having a real Christmas atmosphere even a greater holiday atmosphere than we have ever experienced before, you would want your friends to tell you how to best make that gift to accomplish the desired results."

"That is what your friends on this holiday Lighting Committee would like to do for you. The Manchester business sections are going to be lighted with approximately 5500 feet of colored lights in spans across the streets at each pair of poles, and the poles are going to be wound with rope evergreen intermingled with a string of colored Christmas Tree lights. It will start December 7 and last until after New Year's."

"This is the greatest display Manchester has ever had and it will create a wonderful holiday spirit which you and your friends and everyone will enjoy. Isn't this what we should do, realizing that Hartford, Rockville, Willimantic, Meriden, and other cities are lighting up? We must not allow our town to drag on behind."

"To do this we need the backing of those with the interest for their community and your friends on the committee feel that you would like to join in the support of this program."

"You will be given an opportunity to share in this within the next few days and we thought you would be glad to learn something of our program, which we have attempted to tell you in this letter."

"We hope it has been of interest and trust we may have your kindly support in this undertaking."

CHARGE ONE WAS DRUNK IN CRASH AT WAPPING

Two Drivers Held as Reckless, One as Intoxicated—Hartford Man in Hospital.

Two men are under arrest, one charged with reckless driving and the other charged with reckless driving and operating under the influence of liquor, as a result of a head-on collision in Wapping, just west of the Four Corners about 5 o'clock last evening.

The men are Neils H. Anderson, recently of Derby, but for the past few days living at 141 Washington avenue, Hartford, who was driving a Ford car, and Elliott Brown of Rockville. Both are to appear before the South Windsor town court in East Windsor Hill this evening. Brown faces the drunk driving charge.

According to Deputy Sheriff C. V. Benjamin of South Windsor, who investigated, both cars were badly damaged. They were going in opposite directions on a straight away with unobstructed view.

In the car with Brown, were Charles Backofen, Jr., and Edward Dunn, both of Rockville. Dunn had left for home before the deputy sheriff arrived, but is said to have been badly cut about the face. Anderson was alone.

Dr. LeVerne Holmes of Manchester was called by telephone. Dunn had been picked up by a car that drove toward Manchester. Dr. Holmes gave first aid to Anderson and then had him removed to Manchester Memorial hospital where he proved to be not seriously injured.

Walter Billings, Wapping store keeper, gave use of his house for the care of the men until the doctor and the deputy sheriff arrived.

ERRORGRAMS

There's Scrambled in FIBRE

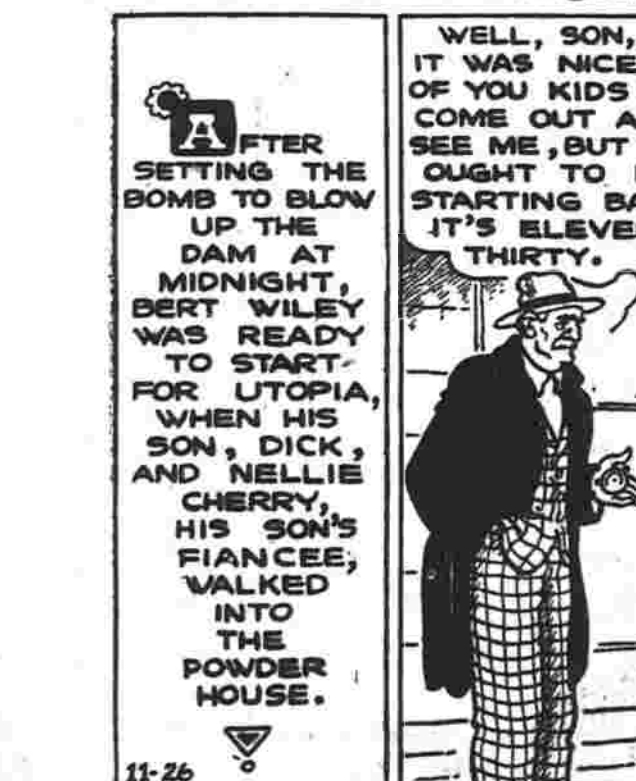

When it's a lawyer's, it seldom is.

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it, by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it.

CORRECTIONS

(1) The lower hinge is missing on the door. (2) Affidavit is spelled incorrectly. (3) The latch on the door is below the handle, instead of above. (4) The telephone receiver is a mouth-piece, should be facing in the same direction. (5) The scrambled word is BRIEF.

SENSE and NONSENSE

A THANKSGIVING LESSON.

Timothy Hubble was sure his trouble had no equal any where; Oh, there was never one who had ever Such a heavy load to bear. Forever groaning, and sadly moaning That his purse was mighty slim; Forever grumbling, and even mumbling That the Lord mistreated him: A neighbor chided him and then decided him. Saying: "You're not thankful, friend. For each good blessing you're now possessing— Would He other blessings send?" Your hard thoughts smother, and try, my brother. Giving thanks as you should do: He'll bless you double, and all your trouble May vanish like morning dew." I hope Tim Hubble with all his trouble Took these words into his heart; If he's been giving sincere "Thanksgiving," Sure the Lord has done His part. The only record anybody should try to make on public highways, is a record for safe and sane driving.

A hick town is a place where the car parked in front of the fire hydrant belongs to the banker's wife.

It seems that one of the employees of Henry Ford dreamed that he first saw the hick casket being borne by six of Henry's oldest and most faithful employees. As the casket came by, Henry raised up, looked around, and offered the following suggestion: "If you would put rollers under this casket, you could lay off five men."

A Manchester woman driver ran into an embankment and bent a fender. It worried her. She went to a garage and asked the mechanic: "Can you fix this fender so my husband won't know it was bent?" The mechanic looked at the bent fender and then at her, and said: "No, lady, I can't. But I'll tell you what I can do. I can fix it up so that in a few days you can ask your husband how he bent it."

Abie: "Vot is the idea of raising the price of gasoline all the time?" Garage Man: "What do you care? You haven't a car."

Abie: "No, but I got a cigar lighter."

THE TINYMATES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tinymates sat on their sled and one wee coal lump promptly said, "This coal car track goes far below. It's long and very steep. But don't get scared. You'll be all right and no good ever comes from fright. A big surprise is at the end. It's big and dark and deep. "Now all of you hang on real tight. I'm going to push with all my might and start your sleds going. Then you're on your merry way. We're glad that you all stopped in here and brought the coal lumps heaps of cheer. We much enjoyed your visit. Please come back again some day. "You bet we will," one Tiny said. "And, gee, the next time we won't dread to slide into your wondrous cave. We know it's safe and sound. Before we met you we all thought that in some trap we would be caught. It seemed so funny sailing right inside the solid ground." The other Tinies then all cried, "Let's go! We're ready for our ride. We'll hang on tight as you suggest and simply trust to luck. But, if some trick you pull on us, we'll come right back and start a fuss." One coal lump answered, "Ha, ha, ha! Your big sled won't get stuck." And then the coal lumps pushed the sled and on their way the Tinies sped. They scooted down a long, long hill. The sled stayed on the track. "Oh, my," cried Clowdy. "See us go! I think I'd rather travel slow. Say, if I had my choice, I'd turn around and go right back. "Oh, look ahead!" another cried. "Into a ship we're going to slide. I'm sure it is a coal boat and we'll travel out at sea." Then Clowdy shouted, "Gee, that's great. I'm thrilled and I can hardly wait. When we are on the ocean, oh how happy I will be." (The ship captain gets mad at the Tinies in the next story.)

SLIPPERY ROAD CAUSE OF TRUCK ACCIDENT

Skids on St. James Street and Hits Tree; Wheel Pulled Off.

The slippery condition of St. James street, just off Main street, caused by the freezing of recent rains, resulted in the Ford truck of the Manchester Fruit and Produce Company, driven by Ignazio Attona, of 78 School street, to skid into a tree on the right hand side of the road at 9:30 o'clock this morning.

The truck was going east and the front bumper was stripped off, taking with it the right front wheel. The axle was sprung lightly. The driver was not injured though the machine was thrown sideways, blocking the street. John Andisio of 43 Oak street, is the owner of the truck.

Patrolman John McGinn investigated and called the town highway department to sand the slippery sections of the road which was done before the truck was removed for repair.
