HOUSE BEGINS TO SPEED UP TAX CUT BILL

(Continued from Page One.) without setting a time for expiration of debate, but it was agreed Ram-sey should have opportunity to present his views from the floor.

In The Senate. While the House settled down to discussion, the Senate finance committee which must consider the question after the House disposes of it, went into session and began preparations to expedite work on the measure. Chairman Smoot of the finance group said he would seek to put the resolution before the Senate tomorrow or early next week, if House action were completed by that time. Unanimous approval of the finance committee for the resolution forecast but a Democratic movement to extend the reduction over two or more years, rather than confining it entirely to next year was started in the committee. Senator George, Democrat, Georgia, advanced the proposal. He indicated he might even seek to make it a permanent reduction. Smoot of the committee immediately opposed this suggestion. Under Sec. Mills of the Treasury was summoned to appear before the committee at another session later today when the George proposal would be considered.

OUR FOREIGN TRADE IS ON THE INCREASE

Steel Corporation Head Tells Business Leaders Conditions Are Favorable.

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel Corporation and chairman of the National Foreign Trade Council, today told business leaders of the nation at an open conference that the country's foreign trade showed satisfactory progress. He said there should be no material decline in this trade and that there was every reason to believe it will continue to increase in 1930.

There has been a gain in both exports and imports in the first ten months of the year, he said, adding that: "The gain in exports over the corresponding period of last year is more than $275,000,000 or about 6.4 per cent. That in imports is $325,000,000 or just under 9 per cent. The prospect is for a substantial excess of exports over imports for the year."

Steady Growth—The outstanding feature is the steady growth in the sale abroad of finished manufactures. In fact the three great groups of finished manufactures, semi-finished manufactures and manufactured foods have supplied 74.4 per cent of all our exports for this year. "The point to be borne in mind in considering prospects for the future is that in precisely that part of our foreign trade which is directly responsive to merchandising skill and enterprise that the greatest and steadiest growth has occurred."

Running Smoothly—"Nothing has occurred to interrupt the steady functioning of the great foreign trade organization our producers and traders have brought into being. In all its parts, production, transportation, finance and communication, it is running smoothly."

"I shall not indulge in statistics. The reports of the Department of Commerce are available, showing in minute detail the progress made. But it should be noted that in the export of electrical machinery and equipment, there is a gain for the year of something like 40 per cent. In chemicals the increase is between 12 and 15 per cent. In agricultural implements it is about 53 per cent, and in industrial machinery about the same. In iron and steel the gain is about 11 per cent. "Agriculturists should take note of the fact that manufacturers of processed foods have furnished 9.2 per cent of our total exports this year as against only 5.3 per cent for crude foodstuffs. They should note also that in the three combined items of canned fruits, milk and vegetables, our exports this year gained over 41,000,000 pounds. "There is no real basis for friction between us and those in similar enterprises in other countries. There is no serious menace to our trade from the increased industrial and commercial activities of other peoples. Increased business on their part tends to increase their purchasing."

ROD AND GUN MEMBERS TO DINE ON VENISON

Annual Meeting of Club to Be Held at Osano Cottage Saturday Night.

The Manchester Rod and Gun Club will hold its annual meeting Saturday night at Osano's cottage, Bolton, with a roast venison supper. The venison to be furnished by Edward C. Elliott, Jr., a recent lucky Manchester hunter in Hampshire county, Massachusetts. The regular business meeting will be followed by election of officers and discussion of club prospects for the coming year. A recent addition of 500 acres to the Rod and Gun club's game preserve in the town of Coventry is reported. The club controls considerable acreage for this purpose in the town of Bolton.

RAIL HEAD RAPS MERGER SCHEMES

general plan for a so-called terminal gateway road here in New England would be, it seems to me, a mistake," he continued.

No Restrictions—"Its facilities are freely open and without restrictions to our competitors on the west side of the Hudson," he declared. "It is already a gateway line—between Boston and the west. Would it not be a mistake to take this road with its record of service and with its fine tradition and its high morale and thrust it into a common pot or merger with the other New England railroads?" he asked.

An account of the "partnership" of the New York Central line with the Boston and Albany since the lease of the latter on July 1, 1900 was given by Mr. Crowley, who called attention to the fact that, whereas the investment in the latter line was then only $29,000,000, it had increased until today it was in excess of $97,000,000, evidence, he said, of constant improvement in equipment was keeping pace with the needs of the road and the public.

DEMOLAYS DO WELL WITH ALL-MALE CAST

Production of "Square Crooks" at Cheney Hall Pleases Slightly Skeptical Audience

To introduce innovations in any line of endeavor is usually accompanied by some risk and becomes hazardous when the line is amateur dramatics. John Mather, chapter, of DeMolay, leader of one in its presentation of "Square Crooks" at Cheney Hall last night under the direction of Louis Smith and with an all-male cast playing male and female roles.

A good many empty seats indicated that the introduction to Manchester of its first all-male cast was something of a wet blanket, but judging by the enthusiastic applause and spontaneous laughter of the 300 persons present the blanket dried out before the middle of the first act.

The play was well done throughout, in parts excellently, especially in the bang-up climax when the dreaded killer "Mike Ross" meets his due in the form of a 32 slug. The action in all three acts centered about a stolen necklace and the attempts of innocent parties, who by reason of a chance friendship had obtained the pearls, to get rid of them, with ensuing complications in the form of the police department.

Called a comedy-mystery play, there wasn't so much of mystery but the sparkling dialogue provided plenty of comedy.

The fact that the curtain parted on the dot and that no time was lost between acts added to the appreciation of the audience. The work of Albert Tuttle as "Jane Brown", a refined, red haired girl who never seemed to know just what all the secret goings-on meant, stood out sharply. Tuttle, who is remembered for his leading part in "The Poor Nut", used a voice suited admirably to the part and carried himself with all the dignity and reserve of a well-bred young lady.

Running close to Tuttle in characterization were James Wilson, as "Eddy Ellison", and Wesley Warnock as "Larry Scott", in love with Jane Brown, and Ray Warren as "Miss O'Rourke", owner of a boarding house as respectable as its respectable mistress.

Wilson was the only one who did not "act" at all, remaining his natural self. His stage presence is remarkably good and his ability to please any audience more so. His alertness more than once saved the day when another player was feeling around for a forgotten line.

Wesley Warnock contributed a fine piece of work his experience as a vaudeville entertainer standing him in good stead. Of the two Warrens, Ray and Roy, the latter played "Ellison's" wife "Kay" very well indeed but "the" contralto speaking voice was just a bit too much contralto to be convincing. Ray's feminine part ran a close second to that of Tuttle's. He had just the right amount of blarney and masculinity for a rooming house owner.

In the minor roles the work of Charles Morgan as "Welch" the detective; Carl Cubberly as "Sorrow", the negro maid of all work, and Louis Smith as "Mike Ross", the killer, was of a quality to attract special attention. George Potterton as "Tim Hogan", the kindly and rotund limb of the law; Willard Robb as "Clancy"; and William Gahrman as "Mrs. Philip Carston" did well in their "bits."

AUXILIARY OF U. S. W. V. ELECTS ITS OFFICERS

Four prizes for honors will be in relief work. The auxiliary members the Spanish War Veterans at Norton Home, Norwich hospital and Middletown hospital with a generous Christmas donation.

State Briefs

LODGE HALL BURNS.

Wallington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Fire of undetermined cause swept through the home of Owencio Tribe of Redmen here, early today with a loss estimated at $10,000. Illuminating gas fumes emanating from the cellar added fuel to the flames and seriously handicapped the firemen, preventing them from entering the building. Working from outside the firemen confined the blaze to the south part of the structure.

LIBERTY HALL BURNS.

Jewett City, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Fire damaged the business block of Charles Arabak known as Liberty Hall, to the extent of about $7,000 this morning. The origin was not determined.

HELD FOR HIGH COURT

Bristol, Dec. 5.—(AP)—George Diehl and his wife Peggy who were charged with passing worthless checks on local tradesmen on November 7 last year, were held for Superior Court today after entering pleas of guilty. The prosecuting attorney said they would be taken before the higher court at its present session instead of being held until the March term, as New Britain wants them on like charges.

DIES FROM BURNS.

New London, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Archie Evans, McClung, 21, of Phoenix City, Ala., seaman in the Coast Guard, died this morning in the Lawrence and Memorial Associated hospitals, as the result of burns suffered last night when the costume he was wearing in giving an impromptu Hula Hula dance at the entertainment of his shipmates at the Coast Guard Academy burned and turned McClung into a human torch.

SERGEANT'S HOME BURNS.

Meriden, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The home of Police Sergeant Herman T. Schuerer at 93 Crown street was practically destroyed by a fire which broke out about 12:40 o'clock this morning in the cellar. Building Inspector and Fire Marshal Robert W. Barrow today offered the theory that the fire originated from exploding coal gas in the furnace. The sergeant sustained the loss at about $8,000 which is partially covered by insurance.

TO RESCUE CAPTAIN.

New London, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The Coast Guard destroyer Shaw from here was making all possible speed today in affecting the transfer of the captain of the fishing schooner F. J. Mander to shore as a result of the captain having his right hand cut off in the fishing gear late yesterday off of Nantucket. It was expected at Coast Guard headquarters here that the Shaw would intercept the fishing boat today and rush the injured captain to a hospital at Vineyard Haven. Brief radio dispatches concerning the incident did not reveal the captain's name.

PHANTOM STABBER.

Bridgeport, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The second trial of Anthony Gigliotti, 18, Danbury "Phantom Stabber," will be started before Judge J. H. Booth and a jury in Superior Court next Wednesday. The youth will be charged with aggravated assault. Gigliotti was tried in the September term of court before Judge Baldwin. The jury hearing testimony in the case was unable to reach a verdict and was dismissed without thanks.

GROWERS CHOOSE OFFICERS.

Hartford, Dec. 5.—(AP)—The annual election of officers of the Connecticut Vegetable Growers Association was held this morning. J. E. Lewis of Southington the vice president, was elected president to succeed George W. Crafts, of Westport. John Christensen of Windford was elected vice president. William Valentine of Pomfret was re-elected secretary, and Charles R. Risley of East Hartford, treasurer. County vice presidents were all re-elected.

JAIL SENTENCE ADDED.

New Haven, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Fifteen days in jail were added to a fine of $100 imposed by Judge Willard in City Court today because William Merman used his younger brother as a barkeeper in a smoke shop which he kept. When the vice squad went to the store on the night of November 29 they found the lad serving liquor. They arrested Merman when he came in on a violation of the law charge. Judge Whittaker said he considered that Merman had hurt the morals of his younger brother by having him serve liquor. An appeal was taken.

BUSINESS MEN GATHER TO PLAN FOR ACTION

(Continued from Page 1) have about the usual share of tinzel and electric lights and little crepe." Among his suggestions of means of improving the distributive system was to convince many small retailers that they should devote themselves to other lines of activities. To support this contention he called attention to statistics showing that in one city an average of thirty grocery stores fall each month and thirty-two new ones are opened and that in another 551 restaurants went out of business in a year and almost exactly the same number of new ones were started.

U. S. AS LEADER IN FLYING SOON

President Submits Annual Report on Aviation Activities to the Congress.

Washington, Dec. 5.—(AP)—A forecast that it is only a question of time until the United States will lead the world in air passenger traffic was made today in the annual report of the national advisory committee for aeronautics, submitted to Congress by President Hoover. "America in producing the requisite technical knowledge," the report said, "to improve the safety and efficiency of aircraft also to bring this about without direct cash subsidies, and the further reason that the nation's great area will make an important factor of the time to be saved by air travel." The country was shown to be leading in several phases of aviation abreast of other nations in some respects, but lagging definitely behind in many developments.

Leads in Lighting.—America leads the world, the committee reported, in the use of aircraft for commercial purposes, in the extent and lighting of airways, in weather report service, in the development of radio communication and directional finding facilities, in air mail transportation, in crop dusting and forest patrol from the air, and in the development of cooling for air-cooled engines and engine starters. However, the country was called lagging in the development of large air transports, water-cooled engines, seaplane floats, and the use of associated seaplanes. "America holds the world's altitude record, but is far behind in maximum speed," the committee reported. The committee has recently recommended a program for the development of liquid-cooled engines, which are deemed essential for the attainment of maximum speed.

REV. SIMON GUZIK IS GLAD HE ISN'T HERE

Writes That South Lawrence Children Are Better Behaved Than Manchester Kids.

A letter was received by a Manchester tailor today from Rev. Simon Guzik, pastor of the local Polish National Catholic Church but recently transferred to South Lawrence, Mass., in which Father Guzik expresses himself as much pleased with his new parish and "thanks heaven" for the day he left Manchester. He also sends an order for a coat and vest to match a pair of trousers which he purchased when in town, making an special plea that the tailor have them sent to him by December 24 so that he may wear the complete outfit on Christmas Day. Rev. Guzik says in his letter that he is receiving $100 a month salary and a home with steam heat besides. As for his parish the "children are very well behaved," a condition which he says he did not find true during his six month stay in Boston. For which, in conclusion, he thanks heaven for his transfer.

ments under that pact and not by unfriendliness toward the Soviet as charged by the Moscow government. Such was Secretary Stimson's reply to the sharp rebuff with which the Soviet Union greeted the memorandum which the Washington government sent to Moscow and Nanking calling attention to treaty obligations and the program to be followed by the United States in the world against a war in the Orient.

Quotes Precedents.—Beyond asserting that the anti-war treaty had profoundly modified the attitude of the world toward peace Mr. Stimson pointed to diplomatic precedents which he construed as authorizing the American memorandums. As far back as the Hague convention of 1899 said the nations of the world agreed that taker in City Court today because William Merman used his younger brother as a barkeeper in a smoke shop which he kept. When the vice squad went to the store on the night of November 29 they found the lad serving liquor. They arrested Merman when he came in on a violation of the law charge. Judge Whittaker said he considered that Merman had hurt the morals of his younger brother by having him serve liquor. An appeal was taken.

GIVES HIMSELF UP

New York, Dec. 5.—(AP)—A youth who said he was Eugene Budd, 21, of Baldwin street, Lynn, Mass., walked into the police station today and told the police he understood he was wanted in connection with a holdup last Friday in Lynn. He explained that a friend had told him last night that the Lynn police were looking for him, but he said he knew no details of the supposed robbery and denied any implication. The police telegraphed Lynn authorities for information.

NON-LIQUID STORAGE BATTERY ANNOUNCED

The Seiberling "Camel," an amazing new non-liquid storage battery that requires re-watering only once in 90 days, is announced as the latest achievement of the Seiberling Rubber Company by the Porterfield Tire Works, local distributors of Seiberling tires and batteries. "Known as the 'Camel' because of its ability to go for so long without a drink," Mr. Porterfield declared, "the new Seiberling battery is tested, proven product. It's the automotive storage battery that car owners have long been waiting for. "For over 12 months, before placing the 'Camel' on the market, Seiberling put this revolutionary new battery through every battery gauntlet known to man. Batteries were run for 20,000 miles without re-watering. Re-charged, re-watered, they were found to operate perfectly at every temperature, summer and winter. Seiberling engineers have pronounced the 'Camel' supreme — unrivaled; the finest storage battery that can be made. "The 'Camel' is the only successful non-liquid automotive storage battery. It requires water only once in three months, and can go without re-watering even a bit longer. It is protected by semi-solid electrolyte against shedding. Its plates are practically invulnerable to burning. No acid spray can form or corrode terminals, ruin upholstery or clothing.

KEMP'S SHOWING FINE FURNITURE FOR GIFTS

One of the most beautiful and distinctive showings of furniture gifts, can now be seen at Kemp's store, where the main floor of the store has been tastefully decorated and the furniture pieces carefully arranged. Alterations have been made in the store, thereby making more room for the display of furniture novelties, sofas floor and bridge lamps. A very fine list of novelty furniture pieces are shown, making the selection of Christmas gifts a pleasure instead of a hardship. Beautiful Colonial chairs, tables, Chippendale mirrors, John Hancock chairs, low, Winthrop desks, butterfly tables, zine racks, and other pieces are among the splendid display. Maple mahogany and cherry finished pieces are represented among the showing, and the upholstered chairs and rockers are covered with a variety of coverings. One of the most beautiful showings of furniture, Kemp's have found that the people of Manchester are interested in the unusual things, and have been coming in to browse around, in this new and interesting department. Furniture novelties make useful gifts, and Kemp's are looking forward to many sales in this department.

NO CHANGE IN ESCAPES

New Britain, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Building Inspector Arthur N. Rutherford, who has become an authority on women's footwear today decided that any change in fire escapes on theaters is undesirable. His finding is the result of a resolution adopted by the Common Council calling for an investigation by his office to determine whether fire escapes are dangerous in view of the modern style which favors narrow heels.

LINDY JOINS SEARCHERS

Cleveland, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh arrived here at 8:30 a. m. and shortly afterwards joined 14 other fliers taking off to search northwestern Pennsylvania and northeastern Ohio for Pilot Thomas P. Nelson of the air mail service, who met an unknown fate early Monday while flying the mail from Bellefonte, Pa., to Cleveland.

HOOVER'S BUDGET IN SIMPLE TERMS

72 Cents of Every Dollar to Be Spent Goes to Pay for Warfare.

Washington, Dec. 5—(AP)—President Hoover today gave the public his Federal "Budget at a glance" for those who have not the time to wade through the staggering compilation of figures which accompanied his budget message to Congress.

The statement of today showed that approximately 72 cents of every dollar to be spent by the Federal government during the next fiscal year must go to pay for past wars and preparedness for any that may occur in the future.

Only eight cents of every dollar will be spent to keep the actual machinery of the government functioning; thirteen cents will be devoted to the social aids and subsidies, and the remaining seven cents to maintaining the government's financial stability.

Of the $3,830,445,281 which Congress has been asked to appropriate for the fiscal year beginning next July 1, the sum of $2,733,213,283 must be provided for payment of principal and interest on the public debt incurred to prosecute war, outlays for pensions, hospitalization and other expenses incurred on behalf of veterans of former wars and for national defense—the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and National Guard.

Other Activities

All of the government's extensive activities, whether it be the public health, Indian affairs, aid to labor and agriculture, the far-flung public buildings program will consume only thirteen per cent of the Federal outlay. The total recommended for all these activities is only somewhat in excess of half a billion dollars.

The statement of "Government" expenditures at a glance was prepared for President Hoover so that the country could receive an intimate glimpse of where the taxpayers' money goes. The statement, naturally, is confined to Federal expenditures and does not take into consideration outlays by states and municipalities.

The total recommended to be spent next year is somewhat under that for the present fiscal year, not counting any appropriations that may be made to carry on the work of the Federal Farm Board. The proportion of expenditures, however, is approximately the same for the various groups.

Comparatively Small Sums

In comparison with the total sum recommended, the comparatively insignificant outlay of $300,507,560 is for the legislative and judicial branches, fiscal administration and control of banking, foreign relations, administrations of territories and dependencies, civil pensions, to assume the huge post office deficit and for kindred activities.

In contrast to the nearly two and three-quarters billion dollars for past and possible wars, only approximately $14,500,000 may be spent for education; $51,750,000 for agriculture (exclusive of the new farm relief fund); $16,500,000 for aids to labor; $15,000,000 for aids to industry and trade and $57,300,000 for building up the merchant marine. The sum of $246,000,000 for public buildings throughout the country is the largest single item outside of those for outlays pertaining to national defense, the public debt and veterans expenses.

BULLITT SEEKS DIVORCE

Philadelphia, Dec. 5—(AP)—William C. Bullitt, widely known newspaperman, diplomat and author, has filed an action for divorce in this city from his wife, Mrs. Anne Moen Louise Bryant Reed Bullitt, charging her with "personal indignities."

Aspects of the divorce case have been concealed, even the whereabouts of both. The Bullitts were married in 1923 and have one daughter, Anne Moen Bullitt. Mrs. Bullitt is the widow of John Reed, radical agitator, leader of the Communist Party in America and one-time war correspondent, who died in Moscow, Russia, in October 1920, after his pronounced views on Communism had led to his arrest on several occasions.

Bullitt, who at present is managing editor of a large motion picture corporation, in 1915 at the age of 24, became an assistant in the United States Department of State, and two years later was an attaché of the American commission to negotiate peace.

During 1918-19 Bullitt was on a special mission to Soviet Russia to investigate conditions for the government. In September, 1919, while testifying before the Senate foreign relations committee he said that Secretary of State Lansing believed the peace treaty "bad."

EIELSON STILL LOST

Nome, Alaska, Dec. 5—(AP)—Dense fog which covered a large part of the Bering Straits area today still held to the ground planes waiting to join the search for Carl Ben Eielson and Earl Borland, pilot and mechanic of a plane missing since Nov. 9.

Pilots Frank Dorbandt and Joe Crosson took off from Teller yesterday on an attempted flight to the Siberian coast, where Eielson is believed to have been forced down, but were compelled to turn back.

ASKS FOR DISMISSAL

Kansas City, Kans., Dec. 5—(AP)—William A. Smith, attorney general of Kansas, today filed a motion for dismissal of a suit instituted here yesterday in which a temporary receiver was asked for the Federal Reserve Life Insurance Company.

FATHER OF PEARSONS DEAD IN WORCESTER

Helge and G. Albert Get Word of Father's Passing Last Night—Ill One Week.

John E. Pearson, age 60, of Worcester, Mass., father of Helge and G. Albert Pearson of this town, died suddenly at 8 o'clock last night after a week's illness and a few hours after the latter had returned to Manchester from his bedside on the assurance of the attending physician that his father was resting comfortably. Two other sons and two daughters survive.

Both sons left town last night for their home town to assist in the funeral arrangements and as they are music teachers all pupils will be forced to cancel scheduled lessons pending their return.

GALES IN ENGLAND

London, Dec. 5—(AP)—A terrific gale swept the British Isles during the night. The wind at times reached a velocity of ninety miles an hour. There was some material damage but thus far no loss of life has been reported.

The gale swept across Ireland in full force, felled trees and small buildings in Wales, Cornwall and Devonshire, and then hit the London district. Reports on the eastern and southern coasts reported a heavy sea running and torrential rains. At Hull, walls of buildings were blown in and trawlers returned to port in battered condition. The boisterous conditions in the channel caused shipping to tie up.

NEW MEDICAL THEORY

Philadelphia, Dec. 5—(AP)—A theory that the heart is not alone in the work of pumping blood through the system, but is assisted by myriads of tiny muscles around the veins and arteries, was presented by Dr. Thomas C. Ely to members of the Philadelphia Clinical Association, at its monthly meeting last night.

If the theory is true, according to other members of the association, a great step will have been taken in the treatment of such diseases as pneumonia, tuberculosis and ailments of the heart.

CUT ELECTRIC POWER

Tacoma, Wash., Dec. 5—(AP)—Tacoma users of electric power for industrial purposes began operation today under an order issued by the Municipal Light and Power department which requires that industrial use of power be curtailed 25 per cent during daylight hours.

The order, was made necessary by the acute shortage of water in municipal reservoirs. It will stand until rain ends the longest dry spell in the history of the local weather bureau, from which the entire Pacific coast has suffered.

WOULD BUILD BRIDGE

Washington, Dec. 5—(AP)—Authority to build a bridge across Flanders Bay, Maine, from the mainland at Sorento to Soward Island, would be given to George H. Glover, of Palm Beach, Fla., under a bill introduced today by Representative Nelson, Republican, Maine. The proposed bridge would connect property owned by Glover.

BROOKLYN THEATER FIRE

On Dec. 5, 1876, fire destroyed the Conway theater in Brooklyn, N. Y., with a loss of 295 lives.

Today also is the 11th anniversary of the first awards of Congressional Medals of Honor to American soldiers participating in the World War.

On Dec. 5, 1799, the state of Georgia adopted its famous motto, "Wisdom, Justice, Moderation."

And 37 years ago today, on Dec. 5, 1892, a resolution was presented to Congress to keep the World's Fair at Chicago open on Sundays.

Today is also the anniversary of the birth of Martin Van Buren, 8th president of the United States, who was born on Dec. 5, 1782, at Kinderhook, N. Y.

HE COUGHED FOR TWO YEARS SWORE OFF

After coughing for two years almost continuously a man of considerable means got thin and tired and worn out, made his will, and was ready to quit the big game of life.

A friend spoke to him about Broncholine Emulsion and now life to him is very sweet indeed.

That's the kind of cough that is put out of business with amazing speed when the cougher is wise to Broncholine Emulsion.

Tough old coughs—persistent coughs—coughs that hang on and rob people of their sleep—those are the kind of coughs Broncholine likes to tackle.

Many times such coughs linger after the Grippe or a heavy cold, and if you have one or know of anyone who has one keep Broncholine Emulsion in mind.

It isn't just a cheap sweet cough syrup—it's the best cough remedy—and the best is never cheap.

SMALL AUTO FIRE CALLS OUT THREE COMPANIES

Car Costing $38 Catches Fire; Answering Alarm Costs as Much as Car Is Worth.

Three companies, No. 2, 3, 4, responded to an alarm rung in from Box 47 at the Center at 11:30 o'clock last night and found the fire confined to a Chevrolet coupe, driven by Frank Fagan of 107 Larabee street, Burnside. The flames blazed merrily about the engine but were soon extinguished with a hand chemical.

Fagan was coming up Main street from north and when opposite the Church of the Nazarene had noticed the flames creeping through the hood. A cross circuit of the ignition was given as the cause. Damage to the car was slight and it was towed to a garage.

It was reported that Fagan had paid but $38 for the car. It probably cost the fire department here that much to go to the scene of the blaze.

SURVIVORS RESCUED

Pago Pago, Dec. 4—(AP)—The Steamer "Tromper" reported by radio today that all survivors of the British freighter Norwich City had been rescued. The steamer was wrecked on a reef at Gardner Island in the Phoenix group last Saturday. The survivors, 24 in number were taken off the island itself, which they had managed to reach after the Norwich City struck the reef. Eleven others of the crew drowned.

THURSDAY, DEC. 5, 1929

GET A CLEAR START

We are in receipt of a copy of a letter which is being addressed to historical and patriotic societies and to other organizations within the state, likely to be especially interested in the observance of the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Connecticut as a colony, by Dr. George C. F. Williams of 990 Prospect avenue, Hartford, chairman of the Governor's Tercentenary Commission. The letter asks for suggestions, "frank, free and numerous," designed to contribute to the success of the commemorative exercises in which the state is to officially participate. The Herald is asked to give added publicity to the desire of the commission for suggestions from organizations or individuals.

We are very glad indeed to do this and to applaud the wisdom of the commission in taking counsel with the people of the state concerning the nature of the ceremonies and the manner of conducting them. The tercentenary celebration or celebrations—for it is inevitable that the observance will be in serial form—are bound to be of the highest possible historical significance and it will be an indifferent citizen indeed who will not be deeply concerned to have the occasion made completely worthy of the epochal event it is to commemorate.

We have, however, a suggestion of our own to make. It is that the commission will be very much more likely to receive numerous and valuable responses to its bid for suggestions, if it will start the ball rolling by letting the people of the state know how far the general plan and scope of the celebration have already been developed. A summary of the whole scheme of the tercentenary as it exists in the minds of the commission, even though it be as yet but a rough sketch, would supply, a starting point from which the imagination of the citizen might go on toward perhaps just the sort of suggestions Dr. Williams is hoping to get.

Without some such starting point, we fear, the ordinary citizen or society will hesitate to proceed for fear of being all at sea and possibly appearing ridiculous. We can think of no cause for which the newspapers of the state would be likely to contribute of their space more willingly than to that of the tercentenary celebration. It seems to us that the commission has so far been rather ungenerally modest in seeking publicity. We believe we express the feeling of almost every editor in the state when we say that that body need feel no hesitation in calling on the press of Connecticut for any reasonable amount of space through which to familiarize the people of the commonwealth with the various stages of the plans' progress.

The Herald, at least, invites the commission to go back and begin at the beginning and then keep up the good work.

THE VARE CASE

It is not without considerable apprehension that thinking people view the possibility and even probability that the United States Senate will vote to deny a seat in that body to William S. Vare of Pennsylvania, to which he was elected three years ago. Connecticut people, and the people of many other states, do not, to be sure, relish the idea of Mr. Vare occupying the Pennsylvania senatorship. He is not the stamp of politician any New England state has ever sent to the upper house of Congress, or would be likely to send. But he is the type that Pennsylvania has sent before and is likely to send at any time—and what is infinitely more to the point, he was elected and there is simply no evidence that his success was due to fraud or corruption. He spent a tremendous amount of money in the primaries and the election. But it is customary in Pennsylvania to spend enormous sums in primaries and elections, and Vare's offense was only in degree different from that of substantially every candidate for public office in that state.

The contest resolves itself into the question whether or not we are tending toward a situation where the Senate may, in measure, make of itself, a self-perpetuating body—by a process of elimination choosing its own membership and defying the states to send senatorial delegations which do not meet the approval of those already members. No such condition was contemplated by the Constitution. No such condition would be tolerable.

Vare should have been seated long ago. He should be seated now. Even if he never did make a first class senator it could scarcely be said that he would be the only senator who was not of the first class. A body which includes in its membership Tom Healin and Cole Blease cannot very consistently become so choosy as to blackball William Vare.

WIND

"We shall have regular mail routes over the ocean in three years and regular passenger routes in eight years." "We shall be transporting as many people through the air in 25 years as are now transported over the roads." Next year or the year after or at most the year after that planes carrying a hundred passengers will be as common a sight as a motorbus is today.

Sometimes we wonder who is paying the bills of the star-eyed optimists who swarm over the country making such predictions as these to Rotary clubs, Chambers of Commerce and meetings of women's clubs. And how much it is of costing. And precisely what is the purpose of the everlasting ballyhoo and propaganda to "make the nation minded."

It took no such boosting to build the railroads and bring about the most tremendous revolution in transport that the world has ever seen or is ever likely to see. The railroads carried their own conviction and were built and their patronage developed as if by magic. It required no systematized propaganda to put over the steamship. The automobile made its way without a nickel of salaried publicity. If the airplane is as great a gift to mankind as any of these things, if it has half the economic and social value attributed to it by its professional cheerer, it may be depended on to win its own way into the organism of our civilization—absolutely without dependence on windy prophecies.

As a matter of fact the ballyhoo men know no more than a rat what the future of the airplane, as is, is likely to be. Their guesses are as good as other folk's and no better. And it is our private belief that the organizations which permit themselves to be blathered at by these boosters would do quite as well to turn on the radio and listen in on a few Hans Andersen tales.

TOO MANY AT LARGE

Some time ago this newspaper suggested there was a perhaps undue tendency to criticize the authorities of corrective institutions in this state for the discharge or parole of inmates who afterward figured in criminal cases or otherwise showed themselves unfit to be at large. We took the position then that the determination of the mental or moral condition of a person who has been treated for insanity or a youthful delinquent who has been for a period under restraint is far from being an exact science and that it is about as easy to err on the side of too great severity as on the side of leniency.

It so happens that within the few weeks that have elapsed since we made that comment there have been several instances within the state of offenses committed by persons who have been under restraint and then liberated. The most recent of these is that of the East Lyme young man who rolled a boulder onto the tracks of the New Haven road in that town. He had been an inmate of Chehire Reformatory, then transferred to the State Hospital for the Insane at Middletown and finally released from that institution. It would appear that in this case at least a serious mistake had been made. It may be well to hesitate before fastening a measure of blame on anybody in particular; but it is certainly obvious that there ought to be a tightening up in the policy of dealing with mental defectives who have at any time manifested criminal tendencies.

In one or another of the states institutions there should continue to be room for the identified dangerous characters, even if it has to be at the expense of excluding mentally ill persons who need treatment more than they do restraint.

BOOZE KENS

Now that there has been a speak-easy murder in Hartford we may look for quite drastic reforms in the operation of booze kens in the large cities of Connecticut. It is even to be expected that some of the more nervous of the proprietors of these places may, temporarily at least, call in their sidewalk barkers and halt the open solicitation of business from the passer-by. It will probably, however, take more than a mere murder and the unsympathetic attention attracted to their business on the part of the mentally blind to induce the rummies to invest in something like effective disguises for their establishments. That would be too, too much to ask of the poor, struggling bootleggers in view of the terrific competition and the necessity of making one's fortune before the machine gun men come around.

Meantime it is gratifying to note that Hartford, through this murder, has discovered that intoxicants are being sold in the city. Such a circumstance as eleven convictions in its police court in one week for drunken driving, of course, was not already illuminating. It is always quite possible that the drunken driver in Hartford may have acquired his load in Farmington.

NO IMAGINATION

A Norwalk five-and-ten cent store girl made a football bet with a man. The loser was to jump from a bridge into the Norwalk river. The girl lost. At lunch time Monday she donned a bathing suit, plus a coat, walked to the bridge and plunged in. She then swam ashore, put on the coat again, walked to the store—and got fired.

In our opinion the manager of that store is a person of no imagination. If there is another five-and-ten in town its manager will probably hire the diving girl as quickly as he can get her, the business or his store will show a sudden and marked increase—and the firing manager likely enough will get fired himself.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 5.—The kaleidoscope of the week in New York—Peggy Joyce is finally going to "tell all." . . . The title of her tome will be, I understand, "Men, Marrying and Me."

And half the city is being blamed for the authorship of "Ex-husband." First it was said to be an answer of the husband of "Ex-Wife." . . . Then it was blamed on a member of an eminently high hat publishing house who has since threatened suit against the publishers. . . . But since readers have found out what's in the book, the blame has been split four ways among alleged collaborators.

William Gillette, after all these years of absence from the stage, will take his famous "Sherlock Holmes" around the nation and then allow the curtain to ring down on his career. There are, of course, thousands of the younger generation who will thus get their first peep at an old favorite which left me, for one, clinging to the gallery railing. . . . In private life he is a winner and his own particular favorite woman writer, has been officially "brought out" as a judge of the Literary Guild. . . . And at the swanky Central Park Casino—of all places. . . . Particularly for a quiet southern plantation dweller.

Incidentally, E. H. Sothern stepped out of peaceful obscurity the other day to make an address before an actors' association. And looking upon the mannered and eloquent ways of yesteryear's performers caused more than one of us to ponder the players of today.

The entertainment world runs in peculiar cycles. Not so many years ago, Joe Weber, of Weber and Fields, gave a young man named Gus Edwards his first chance upon the stage. And now Edwards, quite a factotum out in Hollywood, will direct Weber in his first movie. Not so long ago, I prognosticated in a Sunday magazine article that the talking pictures would—among other things—cause a war between the canned chorines of Hollywood and the beauties of Broadway. And lo—the chorus girls of a forthcoming review titled, "Fifty Million Frenchmen," have been replaced by imported sirens from the cinema capital.

The first bilingual talkie, by the way, will soon be started on Long Island with Chevalier and Claudette Colbert, making both French and English versions. . . . The tentative title is "The Long Road." And the great Caruso's little boy, Enrico, has been spotted selling wares in a smart men's shop. The O. Henry Award and Edward O'Brien having picked "the best short stories of the year," my own vote goes to Glenway Wescott's "A Gentle Lady," which seems to me to belong among the very fine tales written in our time.

Charles Schwab's money, I'm told, is backing a new musical show because the father of one of the young authors happened to be a close

HEALTH-DIET ADVICE Dr. Frank McCoy "The Fast Way to Health" QUESTIONS IN REGARD TO HEALTH & DIET ANSWERED BY DR. FRANK MCCOY WHO CAN BE REACHED BY MAIL ENCLOSE STAMPED ADDRESSED ENVELOPE FOR REPLY

HOW THE BONES EFFECT HEALTH

The principal form of the body corresponds closely to the size, shape and position of the bones. The person with long bones will be tall, one with short bones will be short. Often the principal difference in height is because of the length of the leg bones. Most people, when sitting, are approximately the same height, but in standing there is a great difference.

Deformities of the body are usually due to the deformities of the bones. For example, when the bones of the spine have not formed properly, or have become diseased, then hunchbacks, round shoulders and swaybacks may result. When the bones of the legs have not formed properly, one may be bowlegged, knocked-kneed, one leg shorter than the other, club-footed, etc.

Whenever two bones come together, especially in joints where there is a slight but not free movement, it is difficult to determine whether or not these displacements have occurred unless one is very skilled in searching for them. If you will have someone press his fingers up and down your spine you will probably find one or more spots that are much more tender than the other spots, and the chances are that some such displacements have taken place at these points. A doctor who is skilled in making this kind of a diagnosis can usually determine just where these sensitive spots are just from an examination without asking any questions of the patient. This is because the tissues in the immediate area of the displacement become thickened or swollen and there is less movement because of muscular tension. Even x-ray pictures of the bones are very carefully taken at the spot where, sometimes fall to disclose these exceedingly fine dislocations which, even though they are but slight, may produce quite a serious discomfort.

Many cases of neuritis in the arm, for example, which were caused by slight displacements in the vertebrae at the lower part of the neck, even without the patient being aware of any trouble in the area where the displacement occurs. It is very easy, however, to trace the tender nerve up to the spot where the pressure occurs, and often the neuritis disappears completely after friend of Schwab "in the days when."

The "hoax of the week" was perpetrated at a dinner which Ray Long, the editor for Edgar Wallace the prolific mystery and spinner. . . . Shortly after the guests had arrived two prominent gentlemen of the writing world fought a bloody fight, during which the lights were turned off—as customary in the best detective thrillers—and when they came on the floor of the combatants "lay dead" upon the floor. Therewith was posed the problem of who killed the guest. Persian cats are now accepted by some of the New York dry-cleaners. A New York music store is just installing a department exclusively for personal phonograph records.

Orders received yesterday by naval authorities here from Washington did not specify the charges or set a date for trial.

JAP COUNTESS DIES

Tokyo, Dec. 5.—(AP)—Countess Kabayama, wife of Count Aisuke Kabayama, one of the ranking advisers to the Japanese naval delegation to the forthcoming London disarmament conference, died today at the family villa near Tokyo after a long illness. Count Kabayama is with the Japanese delegation aboard the liner Siberia, Maru, bound for Seattle.

two or three treatments which restore the bones to their normal position. Many troubles of the legs and even of the feet can be traced to slight displacements of the lower vertebrae or to the pelvic bones and these troubles also often disappear in the same way. Anatomists have argued among themselves as to whether the injurious effect upon the nerves is caused by the pressure of the bones or ligaments, or whether it is a simple spreading of the inflammation of the joint to the nerve, but the fact remains that these troubles will often clear up in a remarkably short time if the position of the joint is corrected. Upon this fact is based the phenomenal success of osteopathy, chiropractic, and Swedish manipulations in many troubles. One should not make the mistake, however, of assuming that every trouble can be traced to this cause. Success in the healing art must depend upon a good all round knowledge of the thousands of different factors which may enter into the production of disease.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Thyroid Gland) Question:—Mrs. R. H. J. asks: "Where is the thyroid gland located. Does massaging help glands in any way?" Answer:—The thyroid gland is located just at the base of the neck in front and can usually be felt by the finger when the finger is placed in the little hollow at the base of the neck and the patient swallows. The thyroid moves up and down during swallowing and can be felt passing under the finger. Most of the ductless glands cannot be reached by massage, but where the thyroid gland is very large it can sometimes be partially drained and made smaller by manipulatory treatments.

(Nerve and Bone Food) Question:—F. M. B. asks: "What foods are best calculated to promote the growth and maintenance of nerve tissue and filament? Also foods best calculated to make bone marrow? I mean, those best calculated to contribute to the growth and maintenance of these elements of the anatomy." Answer:—The cooked and raw non-starchy vegetables are the ones which contain the most nerve and bone building elements. It is not necessary to use any particular one of these but simply a good combination of a variety of such food.

(Grafting Hair) Question:—H. G. asks: "Will you kindly tell me if there is a method of grafting hair from one part of the body to other parts, such as the eyebrows and eyelashes, with the electric needle process?" Answer:—Although it is possible to graft hair from one part of the body to another, I do not know of any institution where it is being done.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

Washington, Dec. 5.—Crime continues to be far more prevalent in this city than in the country. Although more crimes may go unreported in urban communities, 78 per cent of prisoners in state and federal penitentiaries are there for offenses committed in towns of more than 2500 inhabitants, despite the fact that residents of smaller communities represent about half the population.

In a study called "The Prisoner's Antecedents," based on data for 19,000 prisoners committed in the first six months of 1923, the Census Bureau also finds that the relative virtue of the rural women is even greater than that of the rural man. The urban ratio for imprisoned females is seven times as large as the rural ratio; the ratio for the males only three times as large.

In only one group of offenses it was found, did the ratio for commitments of rural citizens exceed that for city dwellers—liquor law violations. The rural ratio was 2.3 as compared with the urban 2.2, though it is suggested that rural bootleggers are more readily caught and convicted than urban violators.

Practically 80 per cent of the prisoners studied were able to read and write. But more than two-thirds had received only an elementary school education, only 14.4 a high school training and but 3.8 per cent the advantages of college or university. The Census Bureau notes "a decidedly lower education status for the prisoners than for the population as a whole." The ratio of commitments per 100,000 of adult population was 43 per cent for the illiterate as against 27 per cent for those able to read and write. Relatively lower percentages of illiterates are reported among women convicted of assault, homicide, liquor law violations and rape. But only 1 per cent of the embezzlers were illiterate and less than 3 per cent of those convicted of fraud and forgery.

Of the men sentenced 54 per cent were single, 40 per cent married, 3.2 per cent widowed and 2.8 per cent divorced. Among women prisoners, with noticeable differences, percentages were: Single 34, married 53, widowed 7, divorced 6. But the divorced population furnished a disproportionately large number of prisoners, possibly because divorce is apt to follow crime and conviction. The ratio for divorced males was three times that for single males and six times the ratios for married men and widowers. Divorced women, in proportion to their numbers, went to prison six times as often as single women and eight times as often as married women. Married men living with their children seem least apt to go to prison. Of male prisoners only 6.3 per cent had previously been living with their children, out of 40 per cent reported married. Less than 20 per cent of the men convicted had previously earned $40 or more a week. And about 27 per cent of the women sentenced had been earning less than $10 a week and 53 per cent less than $20 a week. About 39 per cent of the women and 31 per cent of the men were unemployed when their crimes were committed, but the compilers of the survey did not determine in how many cases the unemployment was voluntary. The highest percentage of unemployment among those convicted for any one offense was found at 46 per cent among the burglary group. Only 20 per cent of the men convicted were ex-servicemen.

HEBRON

A gathering of the members of the Broome family met at the home of Paul Broome for the Thanksgiving holidays and week end. Among those present were his daughters, Miss Hazel Broome of Hartford, Miss Estelle, a teacher in South Lancaster, Miss Mabel who lives with her father, also Mr. and Mrs. Paul Broome and son, of South Lancaster, Mass. and Mrs. John Broome of Middletown, and their daughter of New York City. The last mentioned spent only Thanksgiving day with the family.

Miss Ruth Allen, teacher of the Hopevale private school returned from her home in Rehoboth, Mass. where she spent the Thanksgiving recess, her school reopening on Monday.

Miss Eleanor Coates spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coates over the holidays and week end. She returned to South Lancaster, Mass., on Monday, accompanying her brother Donald who motored with her to her school. She is a student at Atlantic Union College.

The meeting of the Christian Endeavor held at Hebron Center on Sunday was led by the Missionary Committee, represented by W. C. Robinson. The topic discussed was "Why is Christianity a Missionary Religion?" The usual consecration meeting roll call was made. Two interesting letters were read from missionaries both of whom were formerly residents here in this vicinity. One was from Mrs. Howard Champe, telling of the work of her self and her husband in the mission field at Guadalajara, Mexico, and the other was from Mrs. Duane Wain, the wife of a former pastor of the Columbia Congregational church, giving interesting details of their work in Africa. Reference was made to other mission workers formerly from this place, among whom are the Rev. John Solomon Porter, a missionary in Austria, and the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Preston, formerly of Gilead, of the mission fields in the far west. Miss Marcia Zabriskie played the piano for the musical accompaniment.

Mr. and Mrs. Frances Slater and son of Norwich were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ames W. Sisson.

The Sunday school classes of the Misses Helen and Gladys Hough of the Congregational church, Hebron Center, recently sent a "sunshine box" to Miss Eunice Porter who is under treatment at the tuberculosis sanitarium at "Uncas-on-Thames" Norwich. The box contained gifts from the different members of the classes to be opened one each day until the box is emptied.

Announcement was made on Sunday last that the confirmation class which is being organized by Allan L. Carr, who is in charge of St. Peter's church, will meet twice a week on Wednesday. The first session will begin at 4 p. m., and the second at 7:30 p. m. Both will be held in the church. The sessions are planned to allow of the attendance those attending school or of adults who would find the later session more convenient. All interested are invited to communicate with Mr. Carr.

A letter was read at the Congregational church Sunday school on Sunday, from the Rev. H. G. C. Fallock, a missionary at Shanghai, China, asking the Sunday school to help in making it possible to give the 400 pupils under the charge of the mission a Christmas celebration. The matter is under consideration and will be voted on in time to respond to the call.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gray called to see Enoch Crandall who is under treatment at the sanitarium at Brewster's Neck, Norwich, on Sunday.

Goodwin Bourne of New Rochelle spent the week end and Thanksgiving day as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hills at their home on the Marlborough road.

Paul Coates reported seeing a flock of wild geese passing over on Monday. They were flying from Goldman's Pond, on the Marlborough Road. Mr. Coates said that he counted over eighty geese in the flock, and said that it was the largest flock he had ever seen flying. He thought that the snow storm, which was raging at the time, seemed to have deflected the flock from its course.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gray were visitors on Sunday at the State hospital at Brewster's Neck, Norwich, to see Enoch Crandall, who is under treatment there for an infected foot and other troubles. The patient was as comfortable as could be expected.

Fitch N. Jones telegraphed from Mexico, N. Y., a place near Lake Ontario, that he is, to all intents and purposes, snowed in. He is on a buying trip in that vicinity but as the snow is eighteen inches deep on the level, to say nothing of drifts, he is finding it out of the question to visit farms for the purchase of stock. Automobileing is for the present suspended. Another storm is reported on the way. The storm just passed is reported as being the worst in years, with blizzard characteristics. Mr. Jones made his trip by train fearing that there might be snows which would make motoring impossible. He usually makes his trips by auto.

About eight inches of snow fell in Monday's snow storm, on the level. The roads were cleared early Tuesday morning by the state snow plow. Many automobiles were reported as stalled on the main roads on Monday. Randall Tennant saw a good many which had been temporarily left stuck in the snow along the Willimantic road when he returned from work Monday evening.

The meeting of the vestry of St. Peter's Episcopal church which had been called for Monday evening at the rectory, had to be postponed on account of the snow storm. A meeting will be called at a later date.

Mrs. F. N. Jones entertained at her home over the week end, her mother, Mrs. Esther M. Cobb, who has been spending the winter so far in Colchester, also her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Perkins, of East Hartford.

TO WED MOHAMMEDAN

Paris, Dec. 5.—(AP.)—Both the French civil code and the rites of the Koran will be used Saturday at Aix-Les-Bains when Aga Khan, wealthy Indian Mohammedan sportsman, and Andree Carron, Paris shopgirl are married.

The religious ceremony will be performed at a later date. Mrs. F. N. Jones entertained at her home over the week end, her mother, Mrs. Esther M. Cobb, who has been spending the winter so far in Colchester, also her aunt, Mrs. Margaret Perkins, of East Hartford.

Banker, McEver, Holm Rate All-South Team

Tough Job Selecting Best Players from 241 Men on 23 Teams in That Section of Country.

BY WILLIAM BRAUCHER.

You can get into almost any kind of a brawl down South about the relative merits of possible choices for linemen on the All-Southern Conference team.

This backfield consists of Bobby Dodd, the University of Tennessee quarterback; Billy Banker, the white-haired Tulane halfback; Tony Holm, the Crimson Tide's plunging fullback, and Gene McEver, the Tennessee Trampler.

The writer has consulted coaches and sports writers in Atlanta, Knoxville, New Orleans, Memphis and other cities where the football talent thrives. When you have to be wrong, it is well to be as slightly wrong as possible.

Hug and "Castish" Smith are both fast. Hug being a 10-second man. They travel at great speed in covering punts and both are fine pass receivers and deadly tacklers.

The choices for the first team at the tackle position, Drury and Singleton, are men who weigh more than 190 but who are very speedy for their size.

As Brown of Vanderbilt, Trayer of Tennessee and Adkins of North Carolina playing guard roles this year.

Singleton is a 225-pound Jewish boy and can play at either guard or tackle. His speed is uncanny.

ALL-SOUTH STARS

FIRST TEAM Hug, Tennessee... End... Singleton, Alabama... Guard... Banker, Tulane... Quarterback...

SECOND TEAM Dalrymple, Tulane... End... Abernathy, Vanderbilt... Tackle... Steele, Florida... Tackle...

American-Born Champions. Back in 1914, before the World War, the boxing champion of every division then known could brag about his birth on American soil.

The title lineup in 1929 looks like this: Heavyweight, vacant (last held by Gene Tunney); light heavyweight, vacant (last held by Tommy Loughran); middleweight, Mickey Walker; welterweight, Jackie Fields; junior welterweight, Mushy Callahan; lightweight, Sammy Mandell; featherweight, Red Morgan; bantamweight, Bat Battalino; flyweight, Al Brown; flyweight, Corporal Izzy Schwartz.

In the heavyweight division Jack Sharkey apparently is in the class of the mob from which Tunney retired. Sharkey was born in New York.

Before the War. Jack Johnson, that grinning negro boxing artist, topped the list of champions as heavyweight titleholder back in 1914. In the other classes, Jack Dillon ruled the light heavyweight ranks; Kid McCoy was king of the middleweights; Kid Graves topped the welters; Willie Ritchie was champion of the lightweights; Johnny Kilbane governed the featherweights, and Kid Williams was bantam champion.

Junior welterweight, junior light-weight and flyweight divisions were not known at that time. They came in later years.

Lineup Changed. Division championships constantly were changing, just as they are today. Often it was a foreigner who wrought the change.

Routis Last to Go. How Andre Routis, game little French 125-pounder, ever won the featherweight championship from Tony Canzoneri always will be a mystery, but he accomplished just that in 1928.

GALES RETURNING. Paris, Dec. 4.-(AP)—General Plutarco Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, left here today with his party for Cherbourg where he will take the liner Bremen for New York.

HARD HITTING BY PITCHER. Charlie Ruffing of the Boston Red Sox made four hits in four times at bat, one of them a home run, in a game during the 1929 season.

THESE IS PLENTY OF SPACE FOR EVERYBODY IN THE ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT. A Davidson College player, 102 yards and failed to make a touchdown. He can put himself down for an individual record as the only guy in 1929 who could do that.

Munson played every minute in every game Brown played this year. He must be a very old man by now.

FREAK SPORT HAPPENINGS

SPORT SLANTS - Alan J. Gould

It has been a brace of decades since Harvard and Yale have been able to take the spotlight with such individual backfield stars as Barry Wood and Albie Booth.

On the bleak background of Cambridge these two sophomores began a rivalry that seems destined to focus the attention of the entire football world, if it develops during the next two years as promisingly as it began.

There is considerable debate over the coaching situation at both Harvard and Yale for 1930. Arnold Horween, the Chicago business man, has rounded out four years as head coach at Cambridge, during which time he has changed the Crimson from a strictly defensive to a versatile offensive outfit.

PECK LERIAN DEAD FROM AUTO CRASH

DEMPSEY-TUNNEY MAY MEET AGAIN!

New York, Dec. 5.-(AP)—Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney may meet without combat in the ring at Madison Square Garden tomorrow night if the plans of the promoters of Christmas Fund boxing show go through.

Chicago, Dec. 5.-(AP)—Add to Jack Dempsey's list of activities that of physical director for airplane pilots.

Local Sport Chatter

The Cubs football team will hold a financial meeting at the Rec at 7:30 tomorrow night. Uniforms will be turned in at this time with the exception of the jacket hood which they will be allowed to keep.

If the active interest which George Hunt is taking in the formation of a junior basketball league at the Rec can be taken as a criterion, the organization should be a big success.

It wouldn't be a bad idea if someone got busy and formed a church basketball league. Interest in such a circuit would no doubt run high.

The Rec Five basketball team will play in Branford Saturday night. The High school opens its season here tomorrow night with East Hartford.

Due to pressure of business, Dick Dillon, Connecticut's premier basketball official who hails from Hartford, has decided not to handle any games this season.

The Cubs were presented with the much coveted silver loving cup offered the team winning the town football title at the State Theater last night.

Charlie Sweet, mayor of the north end, was on hand to present several silk American flags to the officials of the Cubs and the team itself. Most of the Cub team was on the stage.

The gold footballs which William Savitt of Hartford is giving the members of the Herald's All-Manchester team will probably be presented at the banquet of the Cubs, the date for which has not yet been announced.

Incidentally, a general comment seems to be the effect of the selections for the All-American team were very satisfactory both at the north and the south ends of the town. Naturally there were some ardent supporters of both teams who would have liked to see two or three more of the players from their favorite team included, but that is only to be expected.

Tom Kelley, coach of the Cubs, said the selections were excellent; that he hadn't a single fault to find. Jerry Fay, former coach of the north end team, was also highly satisfied. "A fairer choice could not have been made," he remarked.

Say what you will, picking such a team is a mighty tough job and the writer spent many long hours of deliberation during the past few weeks before arriving at his final selections. The comment on some of the players, was, it is true, a bit frank and outspoken, but was far from intended as a knock. It was just a case of speaking the truth as one says matters without regard to personal friendship.

Diegel, Hagen, Espinosa Also Keep in Running for Pro Golf Title at Hillcrest

By PAUL B. ZIMMERMAN

Los Angeles, Dec. 5.-(AP)—Three veterans of the links, on whose brows at one time rested the professional golfer's association crown, today carried their campaign for another title to the third round of match play over the Hillcrest course in the annual tourney, best on repeating.

Heading the list of yesterday's eight survivors and outstanding among the former champions who won their way through the second 36-hole round, are Leo Diegel, Agua Caliente professional and defending titleholder, Walter Hagen, five times victor in the event, and Gene Sarazen, New York, who boasts a brace of P. G. A. triumphs.

Of the five others who stroked their way through the second round of match play, only one, Al Espinosa, of Chicago, ever reached the final bracket.

The reign of this trio of elite pros is destined to be brief for before this day is done either the former open champion from the metropolitan district or "Larrington Leo," wearer of the crown will have been left behind.

Although Cornell got only an even break in its four major games, winning from Princeton and Columbia and losing to Dartmouth and Pennsylvania, this represented a distinct advance over recent seasons.

Plans for the annual east-west game in San Francisco are moving apace. Dowler, Yabok and Cox of Colgate have accepted invitations to join their coach, Andy Kerr on the eastern eleven which Kerr will tutor.

Colgate's schedule for 1930 steers clear of the western conference but adds a couple of tough ones in Lafayette and Penn State. The Maroon still will play Columbia, Syracuse and Brown in its main objectives.

Matched with Watrous Espinosa because of his runner-up position last season is favored to come through today's match. Farrell clashes with Wood in the other duel.

Star bout (state lightweight title); Bobby Mays, New London, vs Mickey Flahive, Hartford, 15 rounds.

Football Briefs

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.-(AP)—Cornell's famous "committee of 17" has been deflected from Gilmour Dohie by a successful football season and the veteran coach stands secure once more in his job on the banks of Lake Cayuga, where he is under contract until after the season of 1933.

SERVICE for the MOTORIST

How the Motorist can take care

BY ISRAEL KLEIN

Science Editor, NEA Service. By this time motorists have begun preparing their automobiles for winter driving.

Most of the work in preparing the motor car for the winter concerns the cooling system, but there is also the necessity of replacing the oil and grease in use until now with lighter lubricant.

Cold weather calls for thinner lubricant in crankcase, transmission and differential.

The fact that thin oil is used should not be taken to mean that the oil will be less effective as a lubricant than the heavier oil used in summer.

warm weather was that it thinned out quickly under the heat.

Heavy oil in the crankcase would freeze almost solid more quickly than thin oil.

Another important part of the car to watch for good winter motoring is the differential in the rear.

Greasing of all the joints of the car is another essential in preparation for cold weather.

Several complaints have reached The Herald in regard to the menace to themselves and passing motorists, when children are allowed to coast on Summit street hill. Several narrow escapes have already occurred there. The hill at the present time is in such a dangerous condition that a driver is taking a great risk in driving over it. Summit street is not the only hilly highway which the children use for coasting, and parents should caution them of the danger they are incurring in so doing.

The Reinartz twins, Martha Louise and Louise Martha, were given a surprise party last evening in honor of their eighteenth birthday. The affair was given by about 15 girls of the Cheney Athletic association. The home was prettily decorated in red and green paper streamers and a buffet luncheon was served. Singing and dancing passed the time until 12:30. The twins received many useful and dainty gifts.

HIGHER COURT GIVES THOMPSON A FINE

Driver of Accident Car Is Convicted of Reckless Driving; Must Pay $100.

Lowell K. Thompson, 17 years old Manchester youth, was convicted of reckless driving in Hartford superior court by Judge Allyn L. Brown yesterday afternoon. A fine of $100 and costs was imposed. Thompson is the young man who was the driver and sole occupant of a Chevrolet sedan which struck and fatally injured 15 years old Frederick Scranton of 18 Williams street while the latter was riding home from work on his bicycle on the evening of October 25 last.

The Scranton boy was taken to the Memorial hospital but died shortly afterward. He was one of a family of nine children. Thompson, who lives at 18 Starkweather street, was bound over to the high court when his case came before Judge Raymond A. Johnson in the Manchester Police Court.

HOUSEWIVES, BEWARE OF BANKRUPT OFFERS!
Silver Toned Salesman Working in This Section and Police Want Him.
Maddam the Housewife is advised that, should a glib and friendly stranger appear at her door, offer to sell her far below regular price and on the installment plan a washing machine or a radio from the stock of a concern "gone bankrupt," it would be well to call the dog, put the bald headed end of a broom to work or at least slam the door and notify the police by phone. For there is every chance that such a salesman would turn out to be an individual wanted in other parts of the state. He hypnotizes the customer with his "bankrupt" price offers, collects a deposit against the future delivery of the bargain—and fades away. He has been doing quite a snug little business at his neat if not gaudy swindle.

Hit the Nail on the Head

It's getting up courage to drive the first nail that's the hard part about building. You can trump up dozens of reasons for postponing the job—but did you ever know anybody to be sorry he built?

Most building materials are low priced now. Not every thing is as cheap as lumber but by the time the other things have dropped probably lumber will rise. So all in all this is a good time for building. Hit the nail on the head!
