SPANISH DECREE FREES POLITICAL PRISONERS

Madrid, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A royal decree was issued today declaring a general amnesty for all accused, or convicted of rebellion or sedition against the Spanish government during the dictatorship of General Primo De Rivera, who was overthrown last week.

The decree wiped out charges against Jose Antonio Sanchez Guerra, former Liberal premier, who has been facing trial on a count of sedition growing out of the abortive Ciudad Real rebellion of 1928 and against other civilians and army officers connected with revolutionary attempts at that city and Valencia and Segovia.

The action was taken on the anniversary of the death of Maria Cristina, mother of King Alfonso, who died last year after a long illness. Several hundred persons, many of them officers in the artillery corps, are affected.

Sanchez Guerra intends to re-enter politics, probably heading a new political group.

MODEL ELECTRIC KITCHEN OPENED

Local Company Demonstrates Many Uses of Electricity in the Home.

A model electrical kitchen set up in the headquarters of the Manchester Electric Company was officially opened today.

One of the photographs shows Mrs. Marion Rowe, domestic science expert, giving a talk to the young women clerks.

The photographs do not convey the attractive color scheme of the kitchen, which is colonial yellow and apple green.

The kitchen cabinet, an indispensable adjunct of the modern kitchen is also green, with white enamel working board.

The electric range is perhaps the most important item of the kitchen's equipment. It is an up-to-date Universal No. 2593 and is as far removed from the earlier electric ranges as the tallow tip is from the incandescent light.

The Manchester Electric company handles several of the best known automatic refrigerators, vacuum cleaners and other appliances.

Near the standard, white stainless sink with chromium fittings and drainboard in the one fixture, is installed a Conover dish-washer.

While the formal opening of the kitchen is set for the days mentioned, Mrs. Rowe or the salesmen will be in attendance during the business hours.

SEEK TO ABOLISH ALL STEEL TRAPS

Boston, Feb. 6.—(AP)—Representatives of humane societies seeking abolition of the steel trap in the taking of wild animals appeared yesterday before the legislative committee on conservation.

Herbert Parker, former attorney general, made a plea for the anti-steel trap bill. He said, "this is one of the most humane measures that has ever come to my attention."

Parker reviewed the progress of legislation to foster and protect wild life in the past 40 years and of the benefits derived from it.

"Personal Devils" Dr. Francis H. Rowley, president of the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, said that "if there is such a thing as a personal devil, then he is the one who invented the steel trap."

Edward T. Buffell, of New York, presented to the committee as an expert on animal traps, submitted a dozen different varieties of traps which he said would accomplish the same purpose as the steel trap and were more humane.

No British king or queen as such has ever visited the United States.

TOBACCO GROWERS URGE RAISE IN TARIFF RATE

Hartford, Feb. 6.—(AP)—With but two dissenting votes, the New England Tobacco Growers Association at its annual session yesterday passed a resolution to strongly urge the Connecticut Senators and Representatives in Congress "to use every effort at their command to amend the bill now before Congress so as to give us the needed increase of $1 per pound in the duty on imported cigar wrapper leaf tobacco."

The resolution, which was presented by the legislative committee of which John E. Stewart, Windsor, is chairman, further stated that "our industry must have this increase so that our farmers may have an opportunity to reclaim their farms from the overburden of debts now on them."

Cooperation among themselves was strongly urged to the tobacco men by James C. Stone, Lexington, N.Y., vice chairman of the Federal Farm board, who addressed the meeting on the "Federal Farm Board and its Proposed Program."

Howard N. Brewer, Hockanum, was elected president to succeed William J. Hayes of Torrington. Other officers elected were: Treasurer, L. Warner, Sunderland, Mass.; vice president, Harold B. Waldo, Glastonbury, secretary and Harry W. Case, Torrington, treasurer (re-elected for the twenty-second time).

JAP ENVOY'S WIFE STUDYING ENGLISH

Lady Takarabe Has Found a Firm Friend in Miss Isabel MacDonald.

London, Feb. 6.—(AP)—A tiny little lady from Nippon—Lady Takarabe—has found a firm friend in the serious-minded well-poised young daughter of England's prime minister, Miss Isabel MacDonald.

This wife of one of Japan's most important delegates to the naval conference has been studying English for some time but never quite had the courage to try herself alone at English social functions.

"She is a fine girl," the diminutive Japanese lady declared, smiling happily at memory of Miss Isabel's forceful manner in taking her to an informal evening reception at the home of Ambassador Dawes.

While Lady Takarabe was explaining to the Associated Press through an interpreter her round of social duties in London, Admiral Takarabe, haughty in the room, bearing a tiny teapot full of Japanese tea which he drank eagerly, the while beaming proudly at his lady, explaining her role as wife of a naval conference delegate.

She turned to him occasionally for verification of some of her theories on language and etymology, reconciling the Japanese and English tongues. The admiral referred to his wife as plain "Mrs. Takarabe, ignoring the title of "Lady," which England has conferred upon him, making his wife "Lady Takarabe." In Japan she is not titled.

Lady Takarabe has been taking two lessons in English weekly since she has been in London and has made excellent progress. She said today that she hoped to accustom herself to fluent use of the tongue before she returned to Japan.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

WAR WITH TRIPOLI

On February 6, 1804, the war between the United States and Tripoli opened with the arrival of an American squadron in the Mediterranean.

The squadron was sent at the order of President Jefferson after the pasha of Tripoli, declared war against the United States because we had not promptly met his demands for money—a tribute he was in the habit of receiving each year to keep him from seizing American vessels.

Under the direction of Commodore Preble, the small American fleet gained a brilliant triumph over the Barbary pirates.

Up to this time the Mohammedan state of Tripoli and Tunis, Algiers and Morocco, had long made a business of piracy. Their cruisers swarmed upon the Mediterranean and the Atlantic and robbed merchant ships. Oftentimes distinguished captives were held for ransom and others were sold as slaves.

With the cessation of hostilities in the Tripoli, the pasha speedily dropped his demands and begged for peace.

SERVICE for the MOTORIST

Motor Hints

Timely Suggestions on the Care of the Car by the Automobile Club of Hartford.

SOMETHING NEW TO REMEDY.

With tires carried on the side the vogue of the day it may be appropriate to make a suggestion for an improvement in fender wells.

Most owners note the way the wells catch the dirt on the underside and not a few of them appreciate that constant scraping and cleaning of these parts will result in the metal getting rather thin at these points.

Why not drill a small hole in the bottom of each well?

OILING THE SHUTTERS.

How many car owners think to lubricate the mechanical mechanism of the shutters of the built-in radiator covering?

Failure to attend to this matter accounts for much of the trouble that is so often blamed on the thermostat. Any motorist who has ever used a hand operated winter front knows that an appreciable amount of energy is required to operate these shutters against the spring that closes them.

Vaseline is excellent for lubricating the shutters because it stays put and does not run down the slats where it isn't needed.

FOOLED BY THE FILTER.

In tinkering with the new car an owner recently made an unnecessary puzzle out of the gasoline filter. After emptying it and cleaning it out he was surprised to find that it did not refill with gasoline even though he opened the petcock just above it.

SHACKLES OIL SPRINGS. Now that some manufacturers recommend covering springs "dry"—that is, covering them without packing the covers with lubricant—it is important to avoid overlubricating the spring shackles.

The owner of one car that is equipped with an automatic chassis lubricating system decided that it would be very generous with oil.

Every day he pulled out the plunger and shot an excess of oil to the shackles, even though he did not travel far enough to warrant so much attention to these parts.

Overlubricating the shackles is a good way to keep the spring ends oiled, however, if your car requires this in order to get a comfortable ride.

HOW GAS GETS "WATERED."

Blaming the filling station people for your trouble with water in the gas may be overlooking the opportunity to avoid a repetition of the trouble. Not all the water that disturbs the tranquility of engines enters through the pump hose.

First, there is condensation. Sudden changes in temperature, especially in winter when cars shift from cold streets to warm garages, cause sweating of both the main and vacuum tanks. This forms water.

Then there has been a certain amount of water that has been settling out at the bottom of the main tank and which is apt to get into the fuel line and carburetor if the driver runs dry of gas.

Another source of water is found in careless washing of the car, water getting into the carburetor through the air passages.

KEY PROVES IT'S LOCKED.

It may be unfortunate to want for some of the newer conveniences now obtainable with the latest models but it's a genuine pity to possess a new feature and not know it.

Recently a car owner became concerned over his car in the midst of the first act of an expensive musical comedy. He was afraid that he had not locked his car and worried along until the intermission would provide a means of stepping out to check up on the matter. He had the key in his pocket but this meant nothing to him.

Of course he found the car locked because only a very absent minded person would leave a car with the engine still running.

About the only time the owner of the newest type car need worry about his property being locked is when he hasn't got the key with him.

IT WORKS BOTH WAYS. Were your brakes exceptionally good today? Did they bring the car to a stop in a way that suggested their unexpected safety? And did you boast about it to friends?

If so, look out! If your brakes are better one day than another it is reasonable to suppose that some days they are not as good as they might be.

Suppose the brakes have been unusually effective for several days. You start driving faster, knowing that you can stop quicker. You place greater confidence in the brakes and have a natural inclination to take greater chances.

Then when you need the brakes most they turn out to be not quite as effective as you anticipated.

Falling into such traps can be avoided by remembering that brakes that take a turn for the better can turn worse with equal suddenness.

Water that has been boiled will freeze at the same temperature that the same water would freeze if it were not boiled, but the ice formed by the boiled water will be firmer because of the absence of air.

WOMAN'S DAY

A sad-faced, but obviously young woman appeared in court recently in New York, summoned there by a subpoena warrant. She had not paid her rent since January, and the landlord, annoyed, wanted his due.

What of the Future? But I can't help looking beyond the present, and seeing that in a month or so, she will be exactly where she was when she entered the courtroom, and maybe she will be hauled into court soon again by the same landlord.

Manchester-Bristol Game To Be At State Armory

Transfer Made To Open Bristol's Zone Defense And House Big Crowd

Bristol Has Won Last Seven Starts from Locals Who Seek to Erase Jinx.

The Manchester-Bristol high school basketball game, the most important of the current season, will be played at the State Armory on Main street instead of at the Rec gym, it was officially announced by local school officials today.

To many this fact has been known for the past week or more but to the majority of the basketball fans in town it no doubt comes as a big surprise. The purpose of keeping the information secret until this evening so far as newspaper publicity is concerned, was to prevent Bristol from learning of the change.

Bristol's biggest asset without question is its famous five-man zone defense which on a narrow court like the one at the Rec is exceedingly difficult to penetrate. One of Manchester's main reasons for the transfer is because the Armory surface is much larger. This fact, Manchester hopes, will pry Bristol's defense apart and thus make it easier to pierce.

Whether or not this psychology will work out the way Coach Wilfred J. Clarke has visions, remains to be seen. One thing is certain and that is that Bristol will do anything that they have been doing for seven consecutive games including two state title games at New Haven.

Another big reason for the change of venue, school authorities insist, is to accommodate the large crowd of fans who wish to view the contest. Undoubtedly the largest crowd of the season will be present at Bristol alone to see seven or eight hundred persons here and present indications are that well over a thousand spectators will view the struggle.

Both Manchester and Bristol have lost but two games this season. Manchester was beaten by Bristol and Middletown, the latter defeat was one that should never have been inflicted. Bristol fell before Meriden and Torrington, once by one point and the other time by only two, which shows they are a tough nut to crack.

The two schools are officially tied for first place in the Central Connecticut Interscholastic League, each having on the same number of games, four, although Manchester has met with one more league reverse. Consequently, the locals are sadly in need of a victory over Bristol tomorrow. It's sort of now or never.

Local Sport Chatter

The Herald bowling team which dropped four points to the lowly Shell Gas contingent in the Herald League Monday night, could well stand a few good bowlers such as Jennie Schubert and Kathryn Gustafson.

Jennie not only holds the town high single of 150 for women but her score of 133 is also high at Joe Farr's Charter Oak alleys.

Bristol has been a jinx to Manchester for the past three or four seasons and has continued to raise havoc with Manchester's pennant chances this season by taking the locals into camp 32 to 22 in the Bell City. If Manchester doesn't win tomorrow, the odds of going to Yale this season aren't worth a lead nickel.

BRISTOL IS 3 UP OVER TEN YEARS

Most of Bell City Victories Over Manchester Have Been in Late Years.

Contrary to general opinion Manchester High has beaten its arch rival, Bristol High almost as many times as it has met defeat during the past ten years. Thumbing back the pages of history, we learn that Bristol had won 15 times against 10 victories for Manchester which isn't nearly as bad as one has grown to believe due to several defeats in late years. Outside of defeats at Yale state championship tournament, the teams are practically on even terms. The past scores follow.

GLASTONBURY FIVE LOSES TO WAPPING

Wapping's strong Y. M. C. A. basketball team scored an impressive and convincing victory over the Memorial Five in Glastonbury last night to the tune of 30 to 20. Recently Wapping nosed out Glastonbury by two points at Wapping and the Glastonbury supporters insisted that it wasn't their best team. Yet with full strength and on their own floor to boot, the Memorial Five was unable to do as well last night. Nicholson was the star. The summary follows:

RUNS WITHOUT SHOES TIES WORLD'S RECORD

Newark, N. J., Feb. 6.—(AP)—The flat floor of the 113th Regiment Armory here seems to have assumed some magic powers to bring out the thrills of an indoor track season that is almost entirely lacking in the exciting taste of international competition.

Sol Furth, New York University's track captain turned the best performance last night. Running without the aid of spiked shoes, he equaled a nine year old world's record of 8 1-5 seconds for the 70 yard low hurdles. The record was set by Earl Thompson in 1921. Furth beat out Monty Wells of the Boston A. A. and John Lincoln of Princeton to win.

Dr. Paul Martin, Swiss veteran of the Olympic games, also performed brilliantly in winning the 1,000 yard special event from Ray Conger, the National champion and Phil Edwards the great negro middle distance runner, who was making his last appearance in a N. Y. U. jersey. He covered the distance in 2:15 2-5.

Sir Harry Lauder Finds System to Beat Ponies

MAE YE GOT A CIGARET? GEEVE ME YER RIGHT NAME!

New Orleans, Feb. 6.—"It's nae a habit, it's a geef, this ability to new winners at the race track." Sir Harry Lauder can tell you all about it. He has a system all its own. He'll risk his shirt on it, any day.

He risked the price of a verro, verro guid cutty-sark, which is Scotch for shirt, in case you merely drink Scotch instead of speaking it, at the Fair Grounds the other day when the Sir Harry Lauder purse was run and Klingstone won it. And the bitter truth is, he lost that shirt. But, mon, if it hadna been for the clock!

"I'd ha' won ninety cents on the day," Sir Harry Lauder lamented as he totted up the day's operations. "And while ninety cents is nae sae much, still, mon, it's a wee bittiller ta' tuck in the toe o' the auld sockie."

But Sir Harry Lauder lost $5.60, and that, he'd have ye ken, is a few pence more than a golden guinea. If only he hadn't stopped to admire the Louisiana Jockey Club track, until the post-bell rang, and then couldn't place his bet on that first race!

"Ma seestem, I'll have ye know, is seemple—pairfectly seemple," explained Sir Harry. "Can I see the wee harness take a preleiminary canter, as it wair, I obsairve them wi' me ain een, and draw my conclusions. But they tell me there 's no preleiminary canter in the American system of racing. You have to watch them in the paddock, and use your judgment. If the other half of my seestem. I buy a program, will name geeve me one. I obsairve the names of the harness. I pick them by the names. If the name looks as if the harness bearing it can run, I bet on that name. Ye'd be amazed the number of times it be rae."

TAFFYS FORCED OVERTIME TWICE

Warriors Finally Beaten 33 to 22 in Bitterly Fought Struggle.

The Warriors forced the Taffys two five-minute overtime periods before bowing in defeat in the Rec Junior League last night. The score stood 33 all at the end of regulation playing time and there was no extra in the first five minutes of extra play. Neither could the Warriors tally a single point in the next five minutes although the Taffys were busy getting eleven. Opizzi and Bognini starred for the winners and Healy for the losers. The Phantoms took the Ramblers 41 to 26 in the other game. Chapman, Maloney and Bissell carried the brunt of the attack. Viot was held field goals by Vennart. Aitken featured for the losers. WAPPING FACES DIFFICULT TASK

Meets Undefeated New Britain Five in "Y" League Game Saturday.

The most important basketball contest of the season faces the strong Wapping Y. M. C. A. team Saturday night when it meets the crack New Britain "Y" quintet in the church hall at Wapping. Neither team has been defeated and both are tied for first place in the Hartford County Y. M. C. A. league.

New Britain, however, has won twice as many league games, having eight to its credit. Wapping has won six but two were ordered replayed because a central board official was not in charge. These were the Southington and Plainville games handled by Ed Connell. The referee for Saturday night's encounter has not yet been selected, but will be a Central Board man.

HARTFORD WALTHERS PRESENT PLAY HERE

"High Horse" Given at Cheney Hall Last Night Pleases Audience of 200.

About 200 people comprised the audience that witnessed the presentation of "High Horse" termed by the author G. L. Wind as a comedy of American Life in three acts, by a cast of members of the Christ Lutheran Walther League of Hartford, under the auspices of the Zion Walther League of this town, at Cheney Hall last night.

The plot depicted parents attempting to send their two children through college on an inadequate income. Both children were high hat, riding a "high horse" and did not realize the true home conditions until the remarks of her lover opened the daughter's eyes to the situation. This brought about the "They lived happily ever after" ending. The acting was well done and was much appreciated by the audience. Members of the local church furnished music between the acts and ice cream and fudge were sold in the basement following the performance.

UNUSUAL LINCOLN SERVICE PLANNED

Second Congregational Church Missionary Committee Announces Memorial Program.

On Sunday evening at 7:30 at the Second Congregational church an interesting and rather unusual service will be held, which will be called a Lincoln Memorial Service. As patriotic airs are being played on the organ by Mrs. R. K. Anderson, the minds of the audience will revert to the days when our soldier boys went marching through Georgia.

Some of those Civil War songs will be rendered as solos by W. J. Taylor and a patriotic exercise will be presented by six members of the Christian Endeavor society. The latter part of the program will consist of stereopticon pictures showing natural scenery of unusual interest among the mountainous regions of South Carolina, Georgia, Kentucky and Tennessee, and the part taken by Congregationalists in educational work for the uplift of three million of these mountain whites. Abraham Lincoln was from this section of the country and was their greatest gift to America.

The service is under the direction of the missionary committee of the church. The offering will be used for the benefit of these unfortunate mountaineers. The church school collection Sunday morning will be for the same object.

What Length Skirts?

No longer does the smart woman wear the same dress length for every occasion as in past seasons. The 1930 fashions—graceful, charming and feminine—provide a discriminating length for each occasion. Lengths measured not in the exact number of inches from the knee or floor, but that length which is appropriate to the occasion and becoming to the individual.

At a recent Spring fashion clinic in New York City, which a member of this firm attended, the four dress lengths illustrated in this advertisement were adopted for spring and summer. Hale's believe these lengths to be fashion-right and will fit new costumes accordingly.

PHONES Pinehurst "GOOD THINGS TO EAT"
"OVER PRODUCTION"
Pinehurst doesn't put much stock in all this talk about "over-production" of farm products. When there's nobody hungry, nobody half fed and still food that can't be eaten, they can talk about over production; but we never heard of that time yet. Seems to us that there's under-production of real quality food—too much poor quality stuff. You realize this when you're in the Quality Food business and find how much junk is in the market—stuff you wouldn't think of handling. There can't be too much good food in the world. People need it and want it. That's proven by the steady continuing growth of Pinehurst's business.

Have You A PLAY ROOM

In the basement—or in the attic—there's wasted space that the children could use, if a little lumber and a little labor were applied. "Where can I play" and "What is there to do" need be heard no more if you will give the kids a recreation room. Let us tell you how.
