

HUSTON MENTIONED IN SENATE PROBE

Witness Brings In His Name Again at Hearing—Says Worthington Gave Him His Information.

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—The name of Claudius H. Huston, chairman of the Republican National committee, was again brought into the Senate lobby committee's investigation of Muscle Shoals today after Chester Gray, representative of the American Farm Bureau Federation, was questioned about a letter he wrote in which he said that Huston was "OK and is doing all he dares to do in his position."

Told By Worthington

Gray explained he had received the information from J. W. Worthington, chairman of the executive committee of the Tennessee River Improvement Association, which advocated acceptance of the bid of the American Cyanamid Company for Muscle Shoals.

Caraway's Charge

At the beginning of the committee's investigation, Chairman Caraway made the assertion that Worthington was feigning illness in an effort to escape questioning by the committee. Friends of Worthington denied this.

Huston, a former president of the Tennessee association, has been questioned at length by the committee. He testified he had $36,100 from the Union Carbide for the Tennessee River Improvement Association and had deposited it temporarily in his personal brokerage account.

Other witnesses testified there had been a shortage in the account when the money was deposited and a part of the funds was used as margin for stock purchases.

State Official Says Garrett Sold Milk at Exorbitant Prices to Give Protection.

Boston, April 1.—(AP)—Assistant Attorney General Roger Clapp, appearing before the Massachusetts Supreme Court on the question of legality of the Oliver B. Garrett investigation, said that the milk from Garrett's farm was sold at exorbitant prices to houses where vice was practiced.

The investigation of Garrett, former head of the Boston police liquor squad, is being conducted by Attorney General Joseph E. Warner, and was ordered by a legislative resolve.

The issue before the Supreme Court is Warner's request that Alfred H. Brissenden, brother-in-law of Mrs. Garrett and former owner of the Pine Grove dairy farm in Hingham, be compelled to answer questions. This Brissenden has declined to do, claiming to be within his constitutional rights.

HOOVER MUST ANSWER SAME CENSUS QUIZ

Chief Census Taker is Puz- zled Over Whether the White House is Owned or Rented by the President.

Washington, April 1.—(AP)—As "head" of the First Family of the Land, President Hoover expects to answer the questions of the census taker tomorrow.

Asked at his press conference today whether he or Mrs. Hoover would provide the information, the Chief Executive replied: "As head of the family I expect to give that information."

Puzzling Question

It is the third question: "Is your house owned or rented?" Moran has not decided how he will record that since the White House is neither owned nor rented by the Hoovers.

The first two questions which Supervisor Moran will ask President Hoover will be: "What is your name? What is your relation to the family?" Other personal questions are: "What is your race?" "What was your age at the last birthday?" "Are you single or married?" "What was your age at your first marriage?" "Have you been in school in the past year?" "Are you able to read and write?"

BYRD EXPEDITION STARTS FOR HOME

But Admiral Himself and Four Companions Will Not Depart Until Later.

Dunedin, N. Z., April 1.—(AP)—In the stormy darkness of the lower Bay of Islands, the Antarctic expedition of Byrd tonight said farewell to 23 members of his Antarctic expedition who are bound for home on the party's vessel, the Eleanor Bolling.

Rain-laden clouds were scudding across the sea when the Eleanor Bolling made her departure for New York via Panama. In the fading sunlight the ship steamed down the harbor and when night fell with the vessel still five miles from the open sea, Byrd made his final calls to all parts of the craft to bid the voyagers au revoir. As he left the ship on a private yacht, the admiral led in cheers for the safe return of the departing members of his party.

THEY LEARNED TO FLY IN ONE DAY

New York, April 1.—Forecasting a day when feminine pilots will be turned out in wholesale lots, three young women have learned to fly—alone in their planes—after less than seven hours' instruction.

This daring trio—a stenographer, a housewife and a college student—made aviation history at famous Roosevelt Field, Long Island, by the unprecedented feat of learning to pilot airplanes between sunrise and sunset.

Most air pupils, including men, need twelve to twenty hours of flying before they are allowed to make a solo hop. But Dorothy Galbraith, a ringer for the District of Columbia, instructor, and Esther Wagner, 24, a Hempstead, Long Island, stenographer, all without previous experience, took off expertly, circled the field in five minute flights, and made perfect three point landings.

CAPTAIN YANCEY STARTS ON A HOP TO BERMUDA

With Two Companions, Not- ed Flyer Undertakes Dan- gerous Trip—Expects to Be in the Air Eight Hours.

North Beach, N. Y., April 1.—(AP)—Captain Lewis A. Yancey and two companions took off at 9:39 a. m., today on an attempt to make a non-stop flight to Bermuda.

The plane rose from the water of Long Island Sound on the sixth attempt of the fliers to get the heavily loaded ship into the air. In attempting to lift the ship Yancey and his companions used more than one hour's supply of gasoline. Observers estimated that at the time of the take-off there remained in the ship's tanks about nine and one-half hours' supply of fuel. The fliers will attempt to make the 759 mile over-water flight in eight hours.

SENSE and NONSENSE

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

April. Fickle we've been told you are; Rainy oft and cold you are; Sunshine alternating with a shower now and then.

Yet why rave about it? Why get up and shout it? If we don't approve of it pray what are we to do?

Long before my coming April's bees were humming (Further south in latitude of course, but this must rhyme!) After I've quit living, Loving and forgiving, You will keep arriving at—our mighty near—your time.

Where We Stand. Your own family is one place where you can get the low-down on yourself. When our eldest son asked us one evening what subject to choose for a theme, we said off-hand: "Oh, write about anything—write about your father for instance."

My father is good—sometimes. He is always good when he sleeps. But he hardly ever sleeps.

It doesn't make any difference whether the world is 6,000 or 6,000,000 years old. In either event it is old enough to know better.

When a fellow staggers, he may be pipped, tipsy, drunk, paluted, tight, intoxicated, tanked, passed

The girl who takes a long time to make up her mind is usually short of material.

Harry—Did you tell her when you proposed that you weren't worthy of her? That always makes a good impression.

Henry—Well, I was going to. But she told me so first.

Sis—Say, what's the matter with your shoes? Clara—I think the patent on them has expired!

Sick Sailor—Nurse, I love you; I don't want to get well. Nurse—Don't worry, you won't. The doctor saw you kiss me this morning and he loves me too.

Maybe the reason evangelists are playing out is that when sinners are saved they stay saved.

A boy must have money to burn to show girls a hot time.
