THE MOTOR TOLL-WAY

The project of a great four-lane motorway between New York and New Haven, to be later extended to Boston, announced yesterday, is reported to be backed by the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad. It is likely to receive, partly for that reason and partly because events move rapidly in these days, more respectful consideration than was accorded last year by the Connecticut Legislature to another toll highway proposition. Then the idea of a privately owned speedway was scoffed at. The present enterprise is said to have not only the practical endorsement of Governor Roosevelt of New York, but the friendly interest of Governor Trumbull in our own state.

It must be admitted that there are points about the new project better calculated to create sympathy than the rather sketchy scheme that was presented last year—particularly the apparently frank and fair provision for recapture of the privileges to be granted by the states; a provision without which, by the way, it is practically impossible for any concessionaire of a highway to get anywhere, nowadays, in the state of New York. Another attractive feature is the plan to tie up the motorway, at least to a very large extent, with the present right of way of the New Haven road.

It is improbable that, if this project is really pushed, we shall hear much more of the ridiculous objection that was made last year to the toll-way idea—that we wanted to private rivalry with the state highway system. If there were a nickel a year of direct return to the state from the use of the highways, it would be a different matter; but every cent of return that does come is indirect and would hardly be affected by the diversion of fast traffic to toll-ways; whereas on the other hand there would be an important relief of congestion, a tremendous reduction in the amount of speeding on the state roads and an impressive diminishment in the extent of trunk line wear and tear.

In the earliest days of New England's development an important contribution to the opening up of the country was made by the old turnpike companies. They made money, to be sure, and they were roundly abused; but they built roads when there was no public money for their building. They did the trick. If this speedway franchise is a glorified return to the turnpike company days, what of it? So long as it served its purposes it could continue; if at any time it became to the interest of the state to take over the monopoly, the recapture provision would take care of that.

Provided, of course, that the interests of Connecticut are closely safeguarded, and particularly that the right of condemnation be accurately and justly defined and limited, we are, heartily, for this sort of project.

curiosity as to whether the dismissal of James S. Peck, the farm superintendent, will be permitted to stand, with or without explanation.

We do not know Mr. Peck. We know nothing about him—except that it was he who brought to public notice conditions at the school which the governor's commission condemned and which, it appears, are to be reformed.

On the face of it, this would seem to have been a very great service to the state, and a courageous one. Dismissed by the very persons who are now retiring with small credit, Mr. Peck has never had the benefit of an opportunity to reply to accusations, because none were made. Apparently he paid the price for showing that his employers were incompetent and unfit to manage the institution.

It would be ridiculous for anyone not in possession of all the circumstances to demand that this man be given back his job. But if he doesn't get it back not only he but the people of Connecticut have a very real right to demand that the reason for his dismissal be made public.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer

Washington, April 8.—Senator J. Boies Howland observes that the astronomers are trying to find a name for the newly discovered planet and asserts that there ought not to be any trouble. A planet, he says, as this one was, will be thankful for anything else it gets, in the senator's opinion.

McWhorter became interested in the new planet when someone told him that it probably would try to sell goods in the United States and that he ought to find out just what its export were so he could be sure to get a duty on them in the new tariff bill. Although he discovered that the planet had no known export trade, he has since maintained an academic interest because, as he foresightfully explains, there's no telling when we will have to send an expedition of marines there to protect American life and property.

Planet as an Issue

"After considerable research and several consultations with the experts at the Naval Observatory," says Senator McWhorter, "I have come to the conclusion that the main difficulty about naming this planet is the fact that there are so many possible names that might be applied and only one planet."

"Facing such a situation," Congress, in its wisdom, should undoubtedly act. There are nearly 500 members running for re-election this year and most of them wish they had an issue which they could discuss both bravely and intelligently. I do not think there is one voter in a thousand who cares whether this planet is called Parity, Gogmagog, Unedda Rest, Hoopoe, Claudius Huxton or Dewdrop Inn. What a marvelous issue for campaign speeches! I know a dozen senators who were going to campaign solely against the World Court but who have been deterred by the fact that there is some interest covering this matter among their constituents and have had to give up the idea entirely. We might call this planet "Eureka" because so many of us have now found our burning issue.

"But let's be as patriotic about this thing as we can. It has always been a matter of great pain to me that the planets have foreign names and mostly Italian names, too. I myself probably will put in a bill to name this planet 'New America,' which is an especially good idea for colonization purposes. After the new tariff act becomes a law there will be a whole lot of unemployed people who won't be able to afford to live in our glorious country any more and there will have to be some place for them to go. Some other candidate for re-election probably can get considerable support by proposing to name it after Lindbergh's baby—as good as we find out what the name is going to be."

Parley Tricks

The senator expressed utmost satisfaction with the progress of the London naval conference. "Each day it looks more and more like we were going to have the biggest and best navy in our history," he commented. "The strategy of our representatives at London has been of the highest in all world diplomacy. It appears that they realized at the outset that the only way to establish unquestioned American naval superiority was to set the building figures so high that neither England or any other nation would ever have the money to build up to them. Our talk about reduction fooled all the other nations and they opposed it just to be contrary. We need a bigger army, too. Let's have a conference to reduce the world's military forces."

"I see where Mr. Kellogg, the ex-secretary of state, says that 'something will come out of the London conference.' I suppose he means the delegates!"

IN NEW YORK

New York, April 8.—Sooner or later, Main Street converges with Broadway.

Broadway once sneered at Chinese Chowmenities. But now they're thicker than taxicab traffic.

Broadway once sneered at the ten, twenty, thirty melodramas, but lived to see them taking the crowds over to Hoboken; lived to see the producers scratching their heads, and wondering what old thriller they might dig out of the ruins.

And now the old burnt cork minstrel boys who used to march up the main street at noon are going to parade under the million acres of the Gay White Way. The blaring band, the tall silk toppers, the satin coats and all the rest will be in view of the base Broadway crowd. In a word—the minstrels are coming back.

A certain Thomas Kilpatrick threatens to bring them back before spring turns the corner. And they'll be on display just off Long-acre Square.

These old-timers who enjoy recalling vague names and addresses can hark back to the days of Haverley's minstrels. Out of this aggregation came H. Henry and his famous "silver comet." H. Henry lived to head his own minstrel concern. So did Lew Dockstader, another disciple of Haverley; so did George Primrose, the greatest soft shoe dancer of the Haverley days, and who, in the Haverley days, was a member of the team of Primrose and West.

At any rate Kilpatrick insists that he will make his show a modern duplicate of the old Haverley turn-out. I hope so. I may be able to get a job again carrying a banner—one of the first thrills of this particular lifetime.

Which reminds me—as the incoming and outgoing trains from Grand Central approach the Bronx, they pass an old barracks which still bears a faded sign reading "Gus Hill's Minstrels." To be sure, there's been no minstrels there in at least a quarter of a century. But the sign has never been taken down, and it's one of the few remaining links between the past and the present. Which also reminds me that Broadway hasn't had a minstrel-show in 22 years or more.

And speaking of Main street also reminds me that one of the many "grift" gents from the carnivals who wind up sooner or later on

Boudoir Chairs

A few of the new Spring designs just in!

SHORT, crisp ruffles... button seats... maple legs... tufted backs... tapette and damask coverings... these are a few of the new features of this Spring's boudoir chairs. A number of shipments just received are now unpacked, making one of the finest collections of bedroom chairs we have ever shown. There's sure to be one here to exactly fill your needs! Only a few of the designs are shown below.

(Left) There are colors to harmonize with practically any bedroom scheme in this group of chairs. The legs are finished mahogany over birch. Black, green, gray and orchid are the backgrounds of the figured chintzes.

You can choose from a variety of seven coverings in this popular priced boudoir chair. Glazed and unglazed chintzes in smart designs are available with the following backgrounds: green, gray, rose and a black and cream check.

$13

(Right) A short little ruffie which stands out clearly is a feature of this low priced chair. Embroidered and glazed chintzes with the following backgrounds: rose, blue, green or black and cream checked.

$10.95

The CAPE COD $35

(Left) Although the Cape Cod wing chair is used in Colonial living rooms, it is also suited to quaint Colonial bedrooms. This one has a chintz covering in a patchwork design, with rose, green, orchid and blue colorings.

$28.80

Chair above

$42.75

(Above) This fine chair is equally suited to a large living room, for it is of ample size. The covering is a black, figured tapette, upholstered in all hair and cotton with down seat.

$20.25

(Right) Another type of barrel-tufted chair is here shown, having a straight back instead of the curved shapes shown to the left. There is a choice of figured chintzes having green or gray backgrounds.

Barrel Chairs

Here are two interpretations of the barrel motif as used in boudoir chairs. The upper one has a smooth back and comes in a choice of rose or gray background chintzes, with loose kapok cushion piped in a contrasting color.

The lower chair has the barrel tufted type of back and comes in green, piped with rose, or orchid tufted with blue.

BABY'S LAYETTE

In some states the movies are not allowed to show pictures of a young mother-to-be sewing on baby clothes, but whether the movies show them or not, the clothes have to be made. Over a million couples a year are married in the United States, and you can figure for yourself that quite a little sewing must be done before the stork appears.

The baby's clothing should be light in weight and fairly loose, and it should be made of non-irritating and non-starchy material. The first rule is to make the baby's clothes simple. The baby should not be kept too warm, and he should be allowed the freedom of kicking his legs and wriggling his arms. Dresses that are yards in length and are uncomfortable warm or constricting are no longer popular with physicians. The fewer clothes a baby has to wear, the healthier it will be and the sunnier its disposition.

The undergarments should always be made of silk or cotton, and not of wool. If the climate is cold a woolen wrapper or woolen blanket may be thrown over. The garments should be designed so that they can be tied with tapes so that the baby's tender flesh will not be pressed hard by buttons, snaps or safety pins. If the clothing opens down the front he can be dressed with much less handling, as too much handling has a tendency to upset his digestion.

During the warm days it is wise to keep the baby as cool as possible. Remember that babies get warm quicker than you do because their bodily heat is higher. If it is too warm to wear a sweater, yourself, it is certainly too warm to put on the baby. During the warm weather all he needs to wear is a cotton shirt and a diaper, and his feet should be bare during the warmer part of the day. A clean blanket may be placed on the floor on which the baby can play with no unnecessary clothes to hamper him.

In buying clothes, it is well to choose them a little larger, as the baby soon outgrows the first size. Do not choose fancy dresses trimmed with lace. All the seams should be flat so they will not bunch up into ridges. I am going to give you a list of some things to get before baby is born. It is well to get the necessities, such as plenty of diapers, first, and such things as silk bonnets and silk coats last.

Four undershirts of silk or cotton, size 2; three abdominal bands; four dozen diapers (one dozen 16x36 in., two dozen 22x44 in., and one dozen 27x54 in.). Told the diaper square and never triangular shape. Four blankets, four sheets, one wicker clothes basket or crib. Table felt can be folded to make a mattress. Rubber sheeting or oil cloth go over rubber sheeting. Two knitted woolen sweaters or jackets, four pairs of socks, two pairs of woolen booties, three flannel nightgowns or petticoats (one-hot days these should be worn), two wrappers or kimonos, four dresses, one box of baby talcum powder, one box of boric acid, two dozen assorted safety pins, one package of absorbent cotton, one bar of pure white soap, one wide-mouthed nursing bottle for giving water to drink.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Erethema)
Question:—Mrs. C. J. G. asks: "Will you kindly advise the meaning of the medical term 'erethema multiforme'? Is it a cause known and can it be cured?"

Answer: Erethema simply means an inflammation of the skin. The multiform is accompanied with papules and tubercles which last for several days, usually accompanied by headache and pains. The usual cause is a gouty or rheumatic tendency. The use of a cleansing diet regime, using a fast for the first two weeks, should prove helpful.

(Meat Broth)
Question:—Mrs. H. J. asks: "Is there any food value in meat broth?"

Answer: There is not much food value in meat broth. Most of the protein remains in the meat, and the acids are the broth.

(Sleepy)
Question:—J. D. S. asks: "What would you advise for a person who couldn't seem to get enough sleep. She is only 18 years old, and apparently in good health, although a little overweight."

Answer:—The young lady is undoubtedly eating too much and not exercising enough. Have her walk three or four miles a day, and reduce the amount of food she is using to about half, eliminating all starches and sugars for some time.

MISSING 17 YEARS FOUND MURDERED

Police Hint at Insurance Plot
In Death of Man Found Slain.

Bentonville, Ark., April 3.—(AP)—The body of William Robert Pearman, 47 year old auto mechanic of Columbia, Mo., lay in a morgue near here today while a Grand Jury pondered the strange story of a land colonization plan which the state charges resulted in his murder in an insurance plot.

Miss Pearl Powell of Columbia, Mo., identified the body yesterday as that of Pearman, her friend of two years ago, she said, posed among strangers as another man to further the colonization plan which he believed would make him rich.

Dr. A. J. Bass, retired dentist and wealthy land-dealer of Columbia, was held in jail on a first degree murder charge. Officers alleged he killed Pearman, who had taken out $200,000 in life insurance, assigned to Dr. Bass, in the name of William Foita of Martinsburg, Mo.

Officers say Pearman had been identified as the man who under the name of Foita took out the insurance and assigned it to Bass as collateral in a 3,100 acre land purchase near Texarkana, Ark., which was to have been laid out in plots and sold in a farm colonization scheme.

Foita, his family said, has been missing 17 years. Miss Powell, a former waitress, told officers Pearman, who is married and the father of two children, had assumed Foita's name and under it, negotiated the land deal and posed as a wealthy land dealer after quitting his job last fall.

Were Partners.
She said Pearman had confided in her details of the "land deal." She was quoted by officers as saying Pearman told her Dr. Bass and he were "in partners," that they and two other men were going to make a huge sum out of a pending deal; that Pearman left Columbia March 24 for Kansas City on the deal, and later when he was supposed to have returned and did not, she became fearful lest he was the victim of the slaying at Gravette she read about. She came here voluntarily.

Pearman's widow and children were expected here today to view the body, and if possible, add to the story which Miss Powell told.

Dr. Bass had originally identified the body as that of Foita. The body, with three bullet wounds in the head, apparently had been thrown from an automobile.

Dr. Bass retained counsel and refuses to discuss the case.

LACK OF LARGE STADIUM
NOW WORRIES S. M. U.

Dallas, April 3.—(AP)—Cancellation of plans for a large state fair stadium here has placed Southern Methodist university in an unusual position.

Some time ago the state fair of Texas proposed to erect a structure that would seat 80,000 persons, and the Mustangs on the strength of it booked important grid games for the coming season, notably one with the University of Indiana.

Now plans for the oval have been dropped, and the Indiana-S. M. U. game will have to be played in the old fair park stadium which seats some 16,000.

The Texas Aggie-Tulane game, which also had been arranged with the understanding it would be played in the proposed new arena, will also have to be played in the old stadium.

AGAINST DRY LAW.

Jamestown, N. D., April 3.—(AP)—Democratic Party candidates for office in North Dakota today were pledged to a platform containing a section urging repeal of the 18th Amendment and the Volstead Enforcement Act. The platform was adopted at the Democratic state convention here.

ROCKVILLE

There were four cases listed for Superior Court on Wednesday, but only two came before the court and they were quickly disposed of by Judge William Jennings, who was on the bench.

Judgment for the defendant was given in the civil case of Ernest A. Gleason, against the Monarch Realty Corporation. The case had to do with the exchange of land in Willington for land in Springfield.

The case of Horace C. Porter against the Connecticut Motor Transportation Company was started, and an agreement was reached. S. B. Harvey represented the plaintiff and Hull, McGuire and Hull the defendants.

Two other cases on the docket Joseph Wavron et al vs. V. L. Suzio Construction Co., and Scoville Wellington & Co. vs. George J. Kirby, were settled out of court.

Friendly Class Social

The Friendly Class of Union Congregational Church held its regular monthly business meeting and social in the church social rooms last evening, with about fifty members present.

The meeting opened at 8 o'clock, Miss Edith Smith presiding. Reports of various committees were heard and the following chairmen were appointed to take charge of the support to be given the Ladies Auxiliary of the Spanish War Veterans on June 27; general chairman, Mrs. Emily Liebe; chairman of kitchen committee, Mrs. Emma Mae; chairman of dining room committee, Mrs. William Murphy.

The plant sale, which will be held previous to Mother's Day, will be in charge of Mrs. Eliza Davis and Miss Margaret Schmoegro, with several assistants.

Miss Minnie Tennstedt was appointed secretary of the class to succeed Mrs. William Pray who resigned at the last meeting.

Following the business session the following program was presented: "They're Far Far Away," Miss Elizabeth Drummond, accompanist, Mrs. George Wainwright.

Reading—"How Uncle Podger Hung the Picture," Miss Constance Brooks.

Vocal Solo—"Take Everything But You," Miss Gertrude White, accompanist, Mrs. George Wainwright.

Piano Duet—Mrs. William Tyler and Mrs. George Wainwright.

Vocal Solo—"Whispering Hope," Miss Doris Hartenstein, accompanist Miss Mabel Conrady.

Delicious refreshments were served by the committee consisting of Mrs. George S. Brooks, Mrs. Bernard Woodley, Mrs. Mary Gregus, Mr. and Mrs. Noland Wherley, Mrs. William Tyler, Miss Ella Noble and Herbert Cockayne.

The annual banquet will be held on Wednesday evening, May 7, when a regular business routine will be omitted.

Lions Heard George Gross

The Rockville Lions Club held its regular meeting at the Rockville House on Tuesday evening, with Professor Philip N. Howe as the presiding officer. Supper was served at 6:15, with the usual number of members in attendance.

Alfred Rosenberg, chairman of the publicity committee, gave out stickers to the members, which are to be used on envelopes for outgoing mail.

It was also announced that ofdoers would be nominated at the next regular meeting, which will be held on Wednesday evening, March 16, and the following nominating committee was appointed: Luther White, David Sykes and James R. Quinn.

George Gross of New Haven, who is secretary in charge of physical activities of the Connecticut state Y. M. C. A., addressed the members on "Marching Orders." Mr. Gross has traveled widely in Poland, Central Europe, Hawaii and America, and is one of the greatest speakers of the day. His address was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present.

Supreme President Coming

The Supreme President of Emblem Clubs, Mrs. John Gordon, will make her official visitation to Emblem Club, No. 5, of this city on Wednesday afternoon, April 9th.

Installation of officers will take place as follows: at 5 o'clock on the same afternoon: President, Mrs. Thomas Garvan; Vice President, Mrs. Thomas J. Danaher; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Raymond Hunt; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Carl S. Prutting; Treasurer, Mrs. James Foley; Inside Guard, Mrs. Myer Goldfield; Outside Guard, Mrs. Annie Willeke; Trustees, Mrs. Forrest V. Adams, Mrs. J. Arthur Drayton, Mrs. Robert J. Brown.

Installation of officers will be followed by a banquet at the Rockville House at 7:30. Supreme Officers and President of Emblem Clubs are to be invited guests. Mrs. George H. Williams of South Manchester will act as Mistress of Ceremonies, and there will be a delightful entertainment program. Dancing at the Elk's Home will follow, with members of the Elks as guests.

The committee in charge of the installation consists of Mrs. Frederick DeHope, Mrs. Peter Fagan, Mrs. Edward W. Burns, Jr., Mrs. George Taylor, Mrs. Robert J. Brown, Mrs. George Graziadio, Mrs. J. Arthur Drayton, Miss Charles

ON SMUGGLING CHARGES

Mexicali, Lower California, April 3.—(AP)—Instead of enjoying "easy money" promised for participation in an alien smuggling scheme, Loren Mendell, endurance flier, today was a prisoner in the Mexicali jail, his luxurious cabin plane confiscated, awaiting the slow action of Mexican legal machinery which will turn him over to United States authorities for prosecution.

Mendell was arrested yesterday by Mexican customs officials and United States border patrolmen, when he set his plane down near Black Butte, 27 miles south of Mexicali. With the officials were two Japanese whom the officers said, had confessed they were in Black Butte awaiting an airplane to take them to the United States.

The flier admitted his mission, and said he was driven to "take a chance" because of the need of money to support his family in Los Angeles. It was his first trip, he said.

Mendell is charged with illegal entry into Mexico.

The ship, a six-place cabin bi-plane, was the one presented to Mendell and Pete Reinhart by an airplane manufacturer, following their 236-hour endurance flight in Los Angeles last summer.

HUBLARD TO REBUILD CAMPBELL'S STATION

Will Construct Building at Main Street and Middle Turnpike; Fire Gutted Old Station.

According to Herbert J. Bradley, architect, Joseph Hubbard, the well known local concrete contractor, was the lowest bidder on the plans for Campbell's Super-Service Station, to be erected at Main and East Middle Turnpike. Mr. Hubbard has completed many jobs of this type and is very capable. The plans call for a building 60x70 feet. The building will be of concrete construction, with reinforced concrete floor slab and footings. Steel beams and girders will be used to support the second story. The first floor will consist of a large office in the front of the building, a boiler room, rest room and a wash stand. A large up-to-date, complete battery, brake, tire and ignition service will occupy another portion of the building.

Mr. Campbell will have ample room to store and service all types and makes of cars including heavy duty trucks. Cars will enter from the building from the Main street entrance, be serviced and drive out of the building on the Middle Turnpike side. The building will have maximum window area, this enabling Mr. Campbell to give his service under the most favorable conditions. A door will lead from the building to the oil pits that are located adjoining the proposed building, this enabling heavy trucks to pass from the main building to the pits and give the prompt service that the name Campbell's Service station implies. The oil and grease pits will be completely closed in so that greasing and oiling of cars may be done under the most favorable conditions, regardless of what the weather outside is. The roof over the first floor will be of concrete with a ramp leading up to it so that cars can pass from the street to the second floor very easily.

Mr. Campbell does not contemplate adding the second story now, but everything has been planned to take care of future needs. Mr. Bradley will supervise the erection of the steel and the pouring of the concrete.

MALDEN CEMETERY REOPENS

Malden, Mass., April 3.—(AP)—Holy Cross cemetery was open to the public today for the first time since being closed last November after hundreds of thousands of persons had journeyed to the grave of Rev. Patrick J. Power. They made the pilgrimage on the reports of miraculous cures and the cemetery was closed on order of William Cardinal O'Connell of the Catholic church. Under rules announced by Superintendent Edward J. O'Connell the yard will be open from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. State policemen will be stationed at the new grave of Father Power.

The annual meeting of the Girl Scout Council will be held Monday, April 14. Members will please note change of date.

Troop 1. Our last meeting was opened with the horseshoe formation. Edna Fradin passed table-setting, health and thrift. Lillian Klinckhammer passed tenderfoot and received her pin. The meeting adjourned with the good night circle singing taps. March 21, Jane Grant of Troop 7 visited our troop and showed us how to hammer bracelets. Scribe, Esther Pickles.

Troop 2. Twenty-three girls attended the meeting of March 31. The meeting started with instruction. The following tests were passed: cooking, Frances Lazutkas; bedmaking, Martha Mannice, Francis Packard; compass, Helen Macri, Gertrude Smith; first aid, Virginia Ryan; tenderfoot test, Frances Lazutkas, Maude Hassett. Patrol corners were held. At the campfire, each patrol acted out a law. The meeting ended by singing the Promise Song. The troop has a new member, Marion Mahoney, making the total number of members 24. Ruth Crough, scribe.

Troop 4. The meeting of Troop 4 was held Friday evening at the Lincoln school with 15 present. Four new girls entered the troop. They are Mary Bolinsky, Dorothy Lauf, Eileen Vennard and Arvis Palmer. Marjorie Mitchell passed second class signalling. The scouts brought sewing. A hike was planned for April 5th. The meeting closed with the good night song. Priscilla Pillsbury, scribe.

Troop 5. Several girls passed the health test. Dorothy Peterson and Marion Warner passed signalling. A question and answer game was played and Charades. Patrol 1 acted "Manchester"; Patrol 2, "William Tell"; Patrol 3, "Mad March Hare"; Patrol 4, the first Girl Scout law. The meeting closed with taps. Eleanor Patten, scribe.

Troop 7. The meeting of March 31 opened with a signalling game followed by patrol corners. Eunice Skinner passed table setting, cooking and flag; Anna Chaponis table setting; Marion Price fire prevention. At the next meeting Miss Jensen is to give examination for the needlewoman's badge. We had a fine day for our hike to Bolton Notch last Saturday. The meeting closed with a table setting game followed by the repeating of the promise. We had as visitors Mrs. Brownell and Mrs. Snow. Suzanne Batson, scribe.

Troop 8. Evelyn Gettywich and Jane Tedford received their pins at the opening of Tuesday's meeting. The following girls passed table setting: Gladys Cross, Marie Kristoff, Betty Durkee, Jane Tedford, Laura Heritage, Elizabeth Cross; cooking: Marie Kristoff; nature stories: Marie King Barbara Calhoun, Alberta Wilkie, woodcraft, Arline Birge; two knots, Marie King; one knot, Alberta Wilkie and Barbara Calhoun. A new game was played. The rally song was sung at the good-night circle. Lois Agard, scribe.

WOMEN TO SPONSOR SPALDING RECITAL

Famous Violinist to Be Heard In Bushnell Memorial Hall Wednesday April 23.

The Hartford County League of Women Voters, through the local leagues throughout the county, has organized to sponsor a performance by Albert Spalding, internationally famous violinist in the auditorium of the Bushnell Memorial Hall, Hartford, Wednesday evening, April 23. The concert promises to be one of the outstanding events of a season which has been remarkable for its musical offerings.

The recently dedicated Bushnell Memorial, where Mr. Spalding will appear, was the gift of Mrs. Appleton Hillyer, daughter of the famous Horace Bushnell, and is a tremendous structure, with a seating capacity of more than 3,000. Built with every facility that almost unlimited resources could obtain, the hall has superb acoustics and is in every way a fitting place for the presentation of so great an artist as Spalding.

Today one of the most popular of the great violinists, Albert Spalding plays every season an average of 60 concerts in Europe, and from 60 to 80 in this country. In New York alone, he has appeared more than 70 times, and it is said that his fees total nearly $100,000 a year.

LOCKE'S CONDITION. Paris, April 3.—(AP)—William J. Locke, British jockey, was said at the clinic where he was operated on Monday, to be doing as well as possible and to have had a relatively good night. He is critically ill.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All druggists. 15c, 30c and 60c. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.

DOELLNER'S PUPIL HAS UNUSUAL TALENT

Miss Lorraine Martineau Gives Enjoyable Program at Watkins Music Room.

A program of violin music given by Lorraine Martineau, a pupil of Robert Doellner, was greatly enjoyed at Watkins Brothers' music room last evening.

Miss Martineau who is but 15 years of age is exceptionally talented and her playing showed sincerity and careful preparation. The Mozart Concerto was given with delicacy and charm while the brilliant 'Spanish Dance' and the stately 'Bach Gavotte' were played with excellent spirit. The haunting phrases and embellishments of the 'Indian Maiden Dreaming of Birds' captivated the audience.

Burdette Hawley at the piano provided finished and always sympathetic accompaniments which added greatly to the enjoyment of the program. Following is the program played by Miss Martineau: Concerto in A major.....Mozart Allegro Adagio

Finale-Minuet Gavotte in E major.....Bach Minuet (E flat).....Beethoven Canzonetta.....d'Ambrosio Impromptu and Scherzo.....Burligh Indian Maiden Dreaming of Birds.....Kurtz Humming Bird.....Drdia Spanish Dance.....Rehfeld La Capriciosa.....Ries

Judging from the plight of Spanish matadors of late, it would seem that bulls are using their heads more now.

JAPS PROTEST PACT

Tokyo, April 3.—(AP)—Under the auspices of the famous 'Black Dragon Society' and other Nationalistic organizations and open air demonstration against the Japanese Cabinet's acceptance of the London naval formula was held in Shiba Park today.

Although today was a national holiday, being the anniversary of the death of Japan's legendary first emperor, Jimmu Tenno, and fine spring weather prevailed, the attendance of about two thousand was relatively small.

The meeting passed resolutions vigorously criticizing the government's decision which the speakers excoriated as a humiliating surrender of means of national defense in the face of American demands.

Retired admirals and generals comprised the majority of the speakers.

STORMS DELAY EUROPE

FIRES DURING MARCH BREAK ALARM RECORD

Chief Foy Reports 33 of Them in His District; Three Blazes Yesterday.

The varied and unseasonable weather of March served to establish a high mark for fires for that month, surpassed only once in recent years in the recollection of Chief Albert Foy of the South Manchester Fire Department, the chief said today. In all there were 33 fires last month, eight of which were box alarms and 25 still alarms. Some years ago, a record of 34 fires was set in April, which, indications are, may be broken this month.

Yesterday the department was called out on three fires, the first at the Fouracres boarding house at noon, when a gas stove became ignited and Hose and Ladder Co., No. 3 answered the alarm. At 5:30 o'clock last evening No. 2 extinguished a fire in the woods off Edgerton and Hemlock streets, and at seven o'clock a box alarm brought out Companies 2, 3, and 4, to a tenement at the corner of Foster and Eissell streets, where a window shade in the bathroom burned furiously for a moment, started presumably by a cigarette. The blaze was put out with little damage.

In view of the fact that April is regarded as the worst month for fires, the townspeople are again reminded to call 4321 when sending in a still alarm, as this emergency number, acting nearly on the same principle as the bell alarm, notifies all four hose houses of the fire. This system is invaluable in that, should one company be out, another will immediately answer the call. Play safe and remember the number 4321.

Of the 33 March fires, the majority were grass and wood fires. None were of a serious nature but those that might have been were innumerable. The most serious blaze, in all probability was at the Army and Navy Club last week, when considerable damage was done to the kitchen. Last year, the South Manchester Department had 19 calls in March or 24 less than this year.

Counting the three fires of yesterday, which was the 92nd day of the year, 74 fires have been taken care of by the department — and the year is yet young.

HOSPITAL NOTES

Mrs. Mary Kebart was discharged from the Memorial hospital at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Patients admitted were Louis Stratton of Andover, Elmer Phelps of East Middle Turnpike, Dorothy Walton of 28 Strong street, William Elliott, of 39 Chestnut street and Mrs. Mary Meunier of Burnside.

TOO ILL TO ATTEND DAUGHTER'S FUNERAL

Mrs. Mary Kebart Breaks Down When She Learns of Death—Returns to Hospital

Mrs. Mary Kebart of 113 Union street, who is recovering from an attempted suicide at the Memorial hospital, was informed of the death of her daughter, Annie, 18, by her son, Charles, yesterday afternoon and at 4 o'clock, was removed to her home in William P. Quish's ambulance. The effects of seeing her daughter caused a nervous breakdown and she was unable to attend the funeral this morning but went to the home of her brother-in-law twice to see Annie. Shortly after the funeral, during which Mrs. Kebart remained at home consoled by a neighbor, the mother was taken back to the hospital in the ambulance.

The attending physician had advised against Mrs. Kebart leaving the hospital and she had to sign a paper assuming responsibility before being allowed to leave. The funeral was held from the home of Komstanty Yokalis on Toland Turnpike at 8:30 and at St. Bridget's church at 9 o'clock. The church was crowded this morning attesting to the high esteem in which the young girl was held by her many admirers. There was an unusually large number of floral tributes. Rev. C. T. McCann officiated.

Mrs. Margaret Shea sang three numbers, "Salutaris," at the offertory. "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" as the waiting hymn, and "Beautiful Land on High" as the body was borne from the church. Burial was in St. Bridget's cemetery.

BLACK

The All Black Ensemble Will Lead The 1930 Easter Parade

Black Galyak Trimmed Dress Coat $59.50

(As sketched) Directoire revers of supple black galyak, ever so slightly flared, stamps this black broadcloth coat decidedly as 1930. Full silk crepe lined.

Black Crepe Bolero Frock $16.75

(As sketched) A youthful bolero frock of heavy black silk crepe with a gracefully flared skirt. A soft eggshell crepe bow softens the neckline. The short sleeves are finished with two chic bows.

Black Visca Hat $5.95

(Sketched) A very chic hat of all black visca in the popular off-the-face style with extended side trim.

Choose a pair of washable suede pull-on gloves in "eggshell" with the all black costume. Pair $2.25 Gotham Gold Stripe "sable", a neutral shade, goes well with the black ensemble. Choose it in sheer chiffon. Pair, $1.95

The black calf pouche bag is very smart this season and it is shown in a variety of styles. $4.95
