

DELEGATE REPORTS ON C. C. SESSIONS

John Learned Submits Complete Written Account of National Meeting.

Aside from the report of John Learned, who attended the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D. C., last week, only routine business matters were transacted at the meeting of the Board of Control of the Chamber of Commerce last night.

The session opened on Monday morning with a council meeting, which was largely given up to balloting for the nomination of directors for the ensuing year.

The afternoon session of the council opened with the presentation of awards to winners of the inter-chamber fire waste contest for 1929.

It is of interest that one of the cities winning an award this year had a per capita loss of only 57c, while the loss for the country as a whole is about $1.80 per person.

Some of the reasons given for the fact that the conditions are less serious than were following the 1921 depressions are:

In 1921 the committee called to consider the question by Hoover, then secretary of Commerce, did not meet until nine months after the stock market crash.

In 1921 business leaders came to Washington to see what the government would do, while in 1929 business came to tell the government what it would do.

In 1921 inventories of commodities were large; in 1929 inventories were only moderate.

Construction, public and private, was entered into on a large scale in order to take up the slack in employment, and had largely succeeded.

NEW BANK HEAD

Norwalk, May 6.—(AP)—At a meeting of the board of directors today Edward Beard, 91, retired lock manufacturer was elected president of the South Norwalk Savings Bank.

Mr. Beard has been a director of the bank for 38 years and during the past nine years he has served as a vice president.

Jameson said he contributed $65,300 to Bishop James Cannon for the Anti-Smith forces of Virginia.

A letter written by Jameson Caraway, said $17,000 had been used by Cannon and the remainder by the Anti-Smith committee of Virginia.

Jameson produced a number of checks on Cannon, several of which were made payable to "cash."

Jameson said Cannon was in debt for bills and that this amount was contributed to aid the bishop.

Jameson identified Slemm as C. Cannon's former secretary to Calvin Coolidge and for many years Republican National committeeman from Virginia.

Caraway produced two checks totaling $30,000 to the Virginia Republican committee.

The chairman read a telegram from Cannon to Jameson which purported to discuss the report that should be made of campaign contributions.

JAMESON CONTRIBUTED $172,800 TO THE DRYS

OBITUARY

Mrs. Ethel L. Cooley, daughter of the late Thaddeus and Mary Carter and wife of the late Clifford W. Cooley, formerly of South Windsor, died early this morning following a brief illness of pneumonia at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. A. Holzheim of 21 Trumbull street here.

Mrs. Cooley had been a resident of South Windsor practically all her life coming to South Manchester about a month ago.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at Watkins Brothers. Rev. Truman H. Woodward, pastor of the Congregational church of East Hartford will officiate and burial will be in Wapping.

EARLY HEAT WAVE DUE TO BREAK SOON

Local Stocks

A prevailing northwest breeze this afternoon served to produce at least partial relief from the three-day heat wave which struck Manchester Sunday.

The most discouraging feature of the weather was the failure of scheduled rain storms to put in appearance last night, much to the disappointment of the hundreds of persons engaged in fighting forest fires.

Most of the workers in the mills went back this noon in shirt sleeves. A comparatively small number wore coats.

Members of both companies have been issued tickets and with only a short time remaining before the opening date of the "official" campaign will be launched to bolster up the summer camp fund.

Another treat is in store for the members of King David Lodge and all other Odd Fellows in this vicinity.

Grand Marshal Frederick L. Phelps will make an official visit to the lodge and he will be accompanied by Robert P. Watrous, District Deputy Grand Master for this district.

Miss Josephine Julia Gleason of Sigourney street, Hartford, daughter of Thomas J. Gleason of 42 Ashworth street in town was married yesterday morning to James J. Lamb of West Hartford, son of William G. Lamb of Michigan, N. D.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin, parson style with vokes and puffed sleeves of old Irish lace.

The board of directors of the American flag, South of the city, this has been requested in a proclamation by the mayor.

OUR FAMILY LIFE NEEDS ADJUSTMENT

Doctors Tell Red Cross Delegates There is Urgent Need of Improvement.

Washington, May 6.—(AP.)—A thousand delegates to the annual meeting of the American Red Cross today heard two doctors urge upon their organization the undertaking of certain readjustments in American family life...

Acute Problem Dr. Ellen Potter, director of the New Jersey Division of Institutes and Agencies, likewise urged the need of greater physical and mental health...

The rapid rise of large urban communities, Dr. Potter said, has given rise to a number of deficiencies in many modern homes...

The successful readjustment of family life, Dr. Potter said, "which shall make of parents and their growing children self-dependent, intelligent members of society, is absolutely fundamental to the integrity of democracy."

Professor Winslow, in citing the need for greater physical health, asserted that at present 5,000,000 children apply yearly for admission to American schools...

Mental Diseases Could the total of mental diseases and defects be weighed, he continued, they would be found equivalent to "all other types of physical diseases and defects taken together."

We know that the provision of mental facilities for care of mental diseases and defects, even today, is approximately equal to the total of hospital beds required for other conditions...

The cases of mental disease and defects so pronounced as to require institutional care are serious enough. Yet if we could really measure all the effects involved, the burden laid upon society in such conditions as these is far less than that created by the more widely prevalent, though less extreme, deviations from the normal...

The Yale hygiene director urged that the American Red Cross seek to terminate these conditions, not in the spirit "which fears disease and strives to evade it," but rather in "the spirit of ancient Greece which loves health and pursues it."

Others addressing the second general session of the convention were Thomas W. Goslin, superintendent of schools, Akron, Ohio, who appealed for the devising of means to let American youth share further "our social and national aspirations," and Walter Davidson, assistant general manager of the eastern area of the Red Cross, who urged the retention of the Red Cross as a "household word."

An Iowa attorney wrote that "women are like whisky." What a compliment this might have been in pre-prohibition days!

ERRORGRAMS

There are at least four mistakes in the above picture. They may pertain to grammar, history, etiquette, drawing or whatnot. See if you can find them. Then look at the scrambled word below—and unscramble it by switching the letters around. Grade yourself 20 for each of the mistakes you find, and 20 for the word if you unscramble it.

SENSE and NONSENSE

MOTHER'S DAY—MAY 11TH.

Who'll wear a rose for Mother's Day. A half-roped rose and white. Plucked in the morning while the dew. That gathered over night To kiss its petals like a gem In its pure heart appears. As pure and sweet as mother-love, As rare as mother's tears?

Who for a Mother's Day will wear A blossom pure and white Above his heart, wear it from dawn Until the shades of night Come in upon the perfumed breeze And wrap the world and him As softly as the mother-love Wrapped him in days grown dim?

A white rose just to honor her Whose rose was purer far Than any gem the world has known, Than snow-white roses are; A white rose for the mother-love That knows nor stop nor stay That up the heights or in the depths Goes with him all the way. —Judd Mortimer Lewis.

A Lesson for Shrimps Pat's left eye was badly discolored. His wife asked who did it. Pat—Mike Murphy. Wife—What do you mean to let a little shrimp like Mike Murphy black your eye? Pat—Martha, don't speak disrespectfully of the dead.

THE "DAILY GRIND" IS ABSENT FROM THE WORK ONE LIKES.

Now that smoking by ladies no longer shocks anyone, the girls will no longer enjoy it half so much.

He—If you keep looking at me like that I'm going to kiss you. She—Well, I can't hold this expression much longer.

COMMON SENSE IS THE FATHER OF THOSE TWO POPULAR CHILDREN, DOLLARS AND CENTS.

Judge—You are charged with beading up this government inspector. What have you to say? Grocer—Nothing, I am guilty. I lost my head. All morning I held my temper while the government agents inspected my scales, tasted my butter, smelled my meat, graded my kerosene. In addition, your honor, I had just answered three federal questionnaires. Then this bird came along and wanted to take moving pictures of my cheese and I pasted him in the eye.

If somebody else is doing your thinking you're doing somebody else's working.

Mrs. S.—I want to give my husband a big surprise for his birthday. Mrs. P.—Why not show him your birth certificate?

Another thing the talkie needs is sense enough to stop talking until the applause stops.

An elderly couple had stopped in front of a neighborhood movie and were looking at the billboards when the man noticed some pictures of bathing beauties on them. He shook his head and said: "My! My! that's terrible." Turning to his wife, he said: "Well, let's go in," and then led the way.

Woman Customer (to haberdashery clerk)—My husband is a conductor and I'd like to buy him one of those railroad ties I hear him talk about.

Blue, for wearing apparel, is beyond criticism, but it won't do for mutual equipment.

It is claimed that people's minds close up, but anyway they keep their mouths open.

TOUGH LUCK

Elizabeth, N. J.—When a thief recently stole some chickens from the pen of Albert V. Burns here, he hit some tough luck. All the chickens were so tough that he returned a note to Burns, with $4 attached, saying: "Please accept this money for chickens taken from your henhouse some time ago. They were far from tender. Sorry."

BAMBOO NEWSPRINT

Seattle.—Bamboo trees may supply a new source of newsprint if American paper manufacturers adopt Japanese methods of making newsprint paper. Japan has constructed three large factories for the manufacture of paper from bamboo pulp. If this wood is used, it means a more ready source of pulp, as it attains its growth in a year. Copies of newspapers printed on bamboo paper show up excellently.

ONCE UPON A TIME.

Edwin Markham, one of America's foremost living poets, herded cattle on hill-sidged ranges of central California. Markham sold his famous poem, "The Man With a Hoe," to a newspaper for $40.

THE TINYMITES

(HEAD THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE) When with their race the girls were done, we Scouty said, "Let's have some fun. We'll be real kind to all the girls 'cause they've been kind to us. With clever thoughts I think I'm blessed. Now listen to what I'll suggest, and please do not get cross at me and try to start a fuss. "Let's jump right on the track right now, and run a race. I'll show you how. The girls can climb up in the stand and have a wondrous treat." And so the girls sat down nearby. "The bunch then heard one of them cry, 'Get set and go!' And then there was a scampering of wee feet. The Tines raced around the track. It seemed that they would never get back. Of course it was, to little boys, a mighty long, long run. But, finally, they came around, all tramping on the hard, hard ground. The girls all clapped and cried, 'That was a heap of real good fun.' The balloon which brought them
