ALIANO IS GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Alleged Proprietor of Chain Of Hartford Speakeasies Gets from 10 to 15 Years In Superior Court Today.

Hartford, June 12.—(AP)—Sebastiano N. Aliano, alleged proprietor of a chain of speakeasies today was found guilty of manslaughter in Superior Court in the slaying on Dec. 4 of Alphonse Minnitti. He went on trial Tuesday on a charge of first degree murder. Aliano was sentenced to ten to fifteen years.

Arguments by opposing counsel were dispensed with in arriving at the conviction. When court re-opened at 2 o'clock after the noon recess, Judge John Richard Booth, presiding, stated that inasmuch as the slaying was clear in the mind of himself and his associates, Judges Carl Foster and Frederick M. Peasley, he felt that arguments would not be necessary.

The judges then retired, returning but a short while afterward to pronounce judgment. Arguments on sentence were then made by State Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn, and Thomas J. Spellacy, defense counsel, and the judges again retired to consider the sentence. They were out only about 15 minutes.

ALIANO ON STAND

Hartford, June 12.—(AP)—Sebastiano N. Aliano, on trial here for the murder of Alphonse Minnitti, rival speakeasy proprietor, on December 4, 1929, resumed the stand on the third day of the trial this morning, and was subjected to renewed cross-examination by State Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn.

The state sought to break down Aliano's defense that he was a mortal shot in a struggle for the possession of Aliano's gun as the climax of altercations that began when Minnitti threatened to kill his business rival if he did not give up his nearby speakeasy and leave the city. Aliano said Minnitti bought a share in a front street speakeasy which the accused had sold to another person. The defendant testified that Minnitti was known in Brooklyn, N. Y., as "man who earns his living by killing."

THE DEFENSE

Aliano is being defended by Thomas J. Spellacy of this city and Abraham S. Fisch of New York. Judge John Richards Booth is presiding, assisted by Judge Carl Foster and Judge F. M. Peasley.

Aliano said he put his gun in his pocket because he thought Minnitti might waylay him around the corner of his home. He saw Minnitti in front of the door of Aliano's speakeasy at 385 Front street, and he went to the door. Mr. Alcorn wanted to know why Aliano did not retreat and shut the door since he was afraid that Minnitti would kill him. The witness said as he opened the door he could see Minnitti's bare hands and admitted the murdered man at the time had no weapon. At the time Aliano's employee was in the store. He had testified previously that he did not sell liquor in that store. Minnitti's speakeasy was at 418 Front street.

RIZZO SUBPOENAED.

Hartford, June 12.—(AP)—Angelo Rizzo, of 70 Morgan street, who admitted on the stand as a witness in the trial of Sebastiano N. Aliano in criminal Superior Court yesterday that he was a partner with Aliano in the operation of a string of speakeasies here, was subpoenaed today to appear next Tuesday before the special Grand Jury investigating the liquor traffic in Hartford county.

Rizzo's sensational testimony was given in the presence of Foreman Ralph W. Wood and other members of the Grand Jury who have attended the trial since its opening on Tuesday in the hope of obtaining information pertaining to the operations of local bootleggers. The subpoenaing of Rizzo is the first action taken by the Grand Jury as a result of disclosures made at the Aliano trial. He will be asked to enlarge upon his evidence of bootlegging and speakeasy activities in this city, it is understood.

TEMPERANCE PARLEY

New York, June 12.—(AP)—A national convention will be held at St. Louis this fall, under the auspices of the National Temperance League of America, to consider repeal or "other lawful disposition" of the Eighteenth Amendment, General John J. Bradley announced today.

The convention also will memorialize Congress to submit the question of prohibition to popular vote. General Bradley is chairman of the League's board of directors and a retired Army officer.

KING CAROL SAYS HELEN IS QUEEN

Tells Brother That When Father Died the Title Au- tomatically Went to Wife.

Bucharest, Rumania, June 12.—(AP)—King Carol today was reported to have declared the Princess Helen, his former wife, to be "already Queen of Rumania."

The King told his brother Nicholas, and his sister, Princess Elizabeth, that when his father, King Ferdinand died he, Carol, automatically became King and Helen became Queen.

Since then the divorce was pronounced. But with the parliamentary annulment on Sunday of all intervening events since King Ferdinand's death and his own re-installation as King, Helen automatically became Queen.

Helen Satisfied

King Carol begged Nicholas to give this message to Helen, which he did when the mother of Crown Prince Michael came to bring their child this forenoon to play.

Helen was reported as having declared herself satisfied.

DR. G. A. WORKS RESIGNS; HEADS STATE COLLEGE

Had Only Served a Year at Storrs; Goes Back to Chicago; Give Reasons for Quitting Post.

Storrs, June 12.—(AP)—Dr. George Allan Works today announced his resignation as president of the Connecticut Agricultural College to become effective at the close of the college year.

Dr. Works resignation came less than a year after he had been made head of the college. He will return to the University of Chicago as a professor.

The reason for Dr. Works' action was outlined in a statement given out by him.

Dr. Works in September will become professor of education at the Chicago University, the institution from which he came last September to assume the presidency at Storrs.

"With deep regret and only after careful consideration have I decided to resign the presidency of the Connecticut Agricultural College. The primary considerations that have led me to make this decision are the possibilities that I see in the position that I have been offered at the University of Chicago."

LAW SCHOOL GETS TWELVE MILLIONS

New York Lawyer Leaves Estate to University of Michigan; Details of Will.

New York, June 12.—(AP)—W. W. Cook, late New York attorney, left the residue of his estate, estimated by some at $12,000,000 to the law school of the University of Michigan in his will filed today.

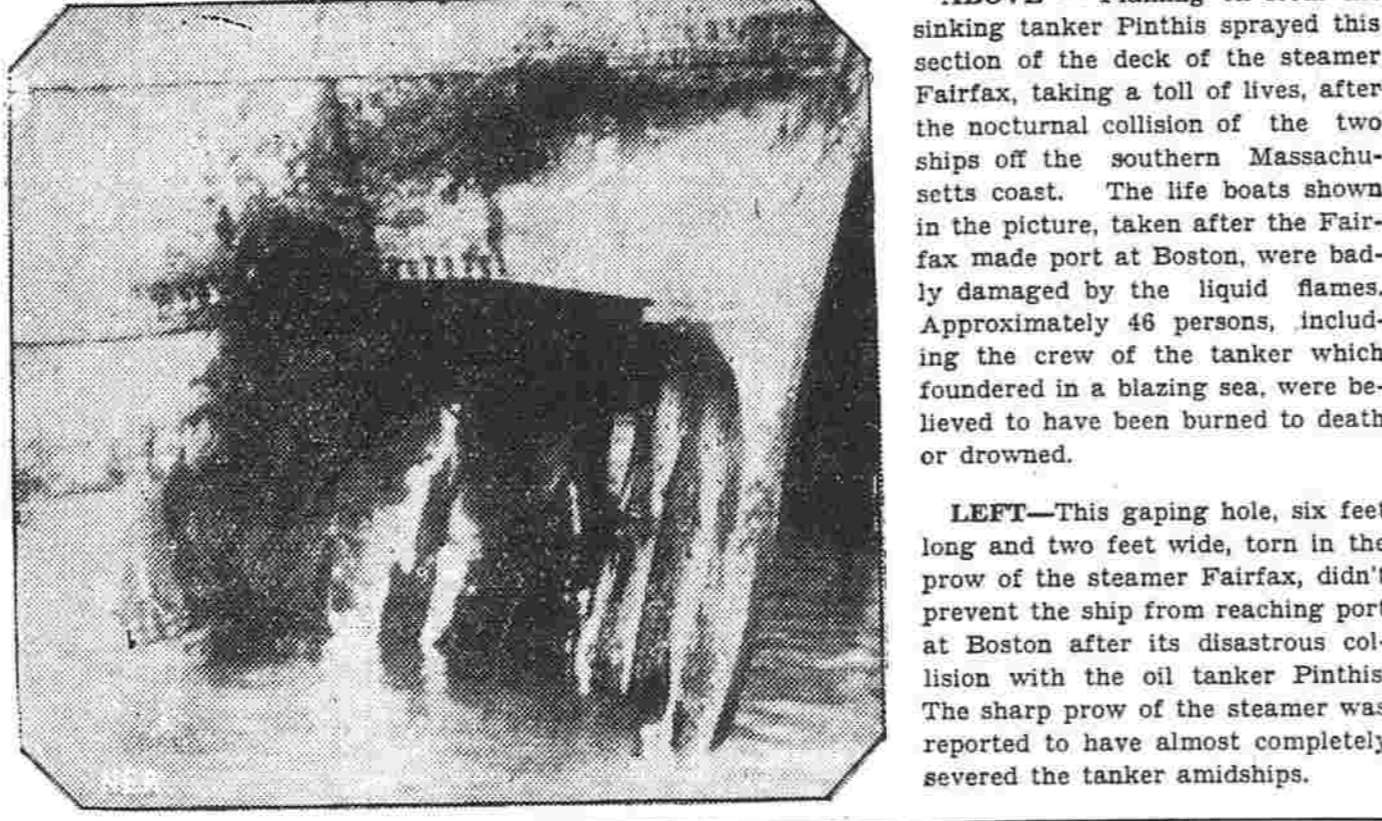

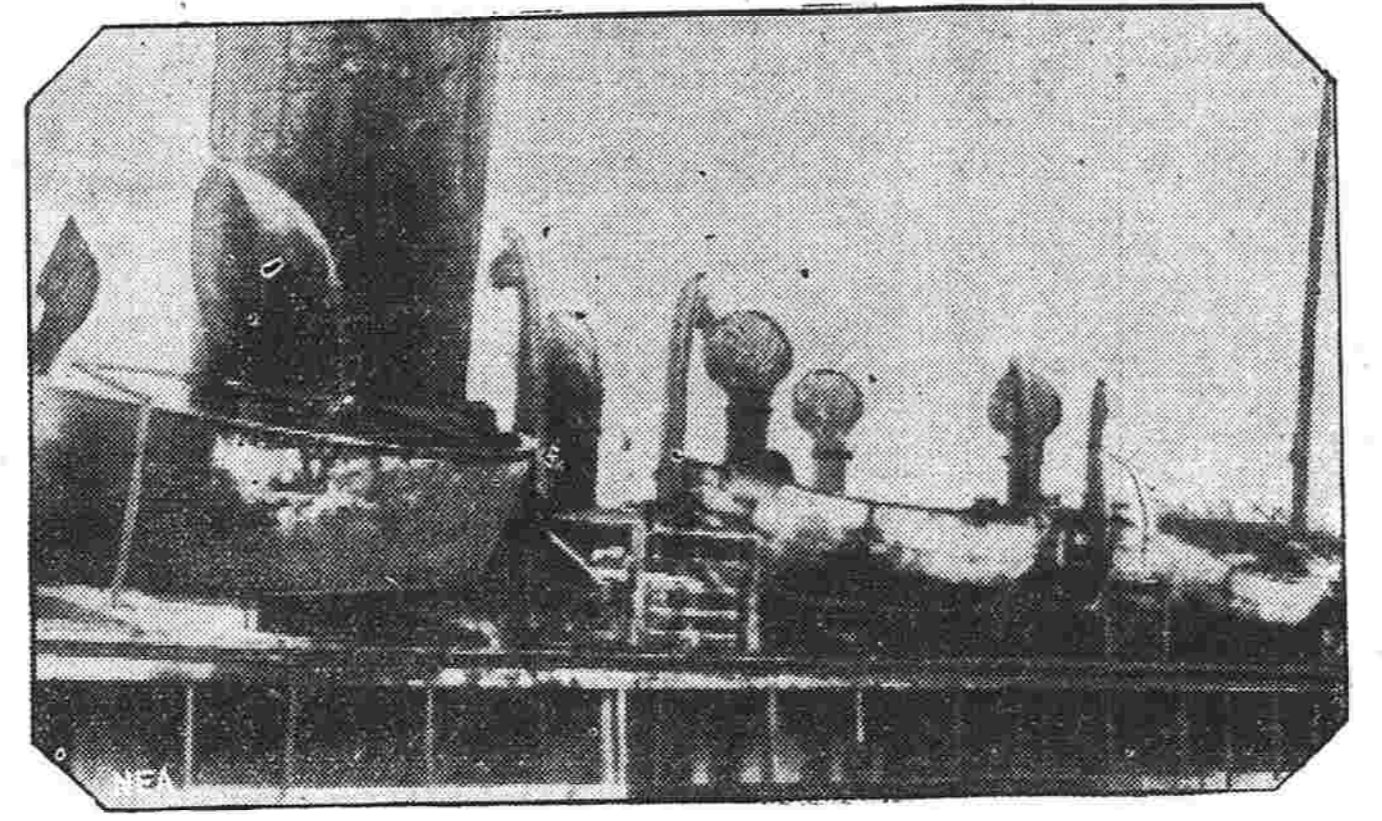

The law school, of which Mr. Cook was a graduate, will receive all of the estate left after the bestowal of $707,500 in specific cash bequests, provided for in the testament. The executor, John T. Creighton, declined to estimate the amount of the residue.

Among the uses to which the will provides the Ann Arbor law school may apply the money are:

To build a legal research building and additional classrooms and dormitories for students.

AFTER 46 PERISHED IN CRASH BETWEEN PASSENGER VESSEL AND OIL TANKER

PROBERS SEEK AUTHORITY IN CANNON'S CASE

Moves to Be Made in Senate To Compel Bishop to An- swer Questions Asked by the Lobby Committee.

Washington, June 12.—(AP)—Moves to report Bishop Cannon to the Senate for possible contempt proceedings and to ask for specific authority to investigate political activities were initiated today at the lobby committee session.

A vote was deferred until later this afternoon when a special meeting of the 65-year-old churchman on the stand, Senator Blaine, Republican of Wisconsin, called upon the committee to cite him to the Senate because of his refusal to answer questions on his 1928 campaign against the Alfred E. Smith presidential candidacy.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, proposed as a substitute that the committee seek direct authorization to go into political work.

"Wherever there has been lobbying in connection with political activities there is no question about the authority of the committee," Caraway said.

The chairman said the committee heretofore had conducted its affairs, largely by a unanimous consent but "from now on the decisions will be announced as a majority."

Robinson, upon leaving the hearing, said he wanted to be re-elected as voting against Blaine's motion.

Walsh remarked he believed the committee had no right to go into "purely political activities" but he thought Cannon's activities were not "purely political."

SENATORS DEMAND SEA PACT PAPERS

By Vote of 10 to 7 They Call for Documents Denied Them by Hoover.

Washington, June 12.—(AP)—The Senate foreign relations committee today adopted a resolution asserting its right to the London naval pact papers denied it by President Hoover. The vote was ten to seven with three members not voting.

A copy of the resolution was transmitted to the President and to Secretary Stimson.

The committee then adjourned its consideration of the London naval treaty until tomorrow.

Chairman Borah and four other Republicans of the committee supported the resolution, which was presented by Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama.

REED WILL VOTE FOR TARIFF BILL

Senator Grundy's Vote Still Unannounced; Vote Comes Up Tomorrow.

Washington, June 12.—(AP)—Senator Reed of Pennsylvania this afternoon announced that he would vote tomorrow in favor of the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill.

Apparently this leaves the Senate line-up on the bill at 48 for and 47 against the measure, with the vote of Senator Grundy still in doubt, as it has been for some time. If Grundy should vote against the bill a tie would result, compelling Vice-President Curtis to cast the deciding vote.

It is not, however, generally believed that Senator Grundy will vote against the bill in the circumstance of his vote creating a tie. The junior Senator from Pennsylvania has expressed disapproval of the measure owing to some of the increases it gives to agricultural products, but it has not been believed that he would actually vote against it except in case the measure was sure to be carried in any event.

SELLING ORDERS FLOOD EXCHANGE

Most Important Stocks Lose from $2 to $5 a Share During Early Trading.

New York, June 12.—(AP)—Another flood of selling engulfed the Stock Market today, but supporting orders appeared around midday, and pivotal shares made moderate recovery. Trading was in large volume, the ticker falling more than 20 minutes in arrears.

Most important stocks lost $2 to $5 a share, while several of the high priced issues tumbled about $8 to $14. A wide assortment of prominent issues reached new low levels for the year, including American Telephone, Sears Roebuck, New York Central, Baltimore and Ohio, Chesapeake and Ohio, Chrysler, International Telephone, and Lambert. Bethlehem Steel sagged $1.75 to a new minimum, then rebounded more than $2.

BIG GERMAN LOAN IS OVERSUBSCRIBED

Great Interest in U. S. Over Young Plan; 98 Millions in Bonds Quickly Bought.

New York, June 12.—(AP)—Offering of the American issue of $98,250,000 of the $300,000,000 German government 5 1-2 percent loan has been oversubscribed and the books closed, it was announced at noon today by the syndicate headed by J. P. Morgan & Co.

Pending issuance of the bonds trading in interim receipts was opened on the New York Stock Exchange today and a heavy turnover resulted with the price as high as

Salem Celebrating Today Its 300th Anniversary

Salem, Mass., June 12.—Symbols of "Arbella" will take part in several other tercentenary celebrations of the cities and towns during the summer.

The "day of June 12, 1630" began in the park at 2 p. m. this afternoon. Industries of the early colonialists, the salt maker, the shoe maker, and fishermen, are to be re-enacted. An alarm will be sounded when Indians threaten the village.

A woman who wears to brightly colored attire will be brought before the governor, judged and placed in the stocks. Another, who chases her husband out of the house with a ducking stool, will be placed in a ducking stool and ducked three times.

The "day" will close with the departure of the notables who arrive on the "Arbella" to visit the villagers.

Continuing the celebration, a tercentenary banquet was planned in the evening, followed by a fireworks display later.

Children's Day at the First Congregational church, Hebron Center, in union with the Gilead Congregational church brought out large numbers, the church being filled to capacity. The pageant, "The Happy Road," which was in charge of Mrs. John W. Deeter, Miss Anne Clarke, and Miss Helen Hough, was well rendered. About fifty children and adults took part in it. Mrs. Edward A. Smith took the part of story teller, Edward A. Smith took the role of "The Old Man," Albert W. Hilding was leader of the students, Miss Thelma Cummings, leader of the maidens, Andrew Ives was leader of the robbers, Richard Ives was leader of the soldiers. The child was represented by Kenneth Johnson. Musical accompaniments were played by Mrs. Della Porter Hills. Five children were baptized, Janice Porter, Muriel Standish, and Fletcher William Ward, children of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie F. Ward; Gertrude Louise and Mary Josephine Keefe, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Keefe, and Mary Estelle Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gray. The names of these children were added to the cradle roll and four others were also added, Howard Hills, son of Myron Hills, John and Douglas Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Raymond, and Lillian May Griffing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Griffing. The church was tastefully decorated with young trees and flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop and children and Mrs. Leslie F. Ward and children visited Mrs. Laughlin and Mrs. Brown in West Hartford Sunday afternoon.

It had been announced that a pageant, "The Burden Bearer," would take place at St. Peter's church next Sunday morning, but it has been found necessary to postpone this until a later date, as many other social activities are taking place within the next two weeks, and some of the leaders will be absent. The postponement will probably be until mid summer or early fall.

A large attendance greeted Bishop Acheson who confirmed a class of ten on Sunday, at 11 a. m., at St. Peter's church. This is the largest class to be confirmed since the time when the Rev. Jared Ellsworth was rector of the church. The candidates were Mrs. Frederick A. Rathbun, Miss Grace Rathbun, the Misses Marion and Barbara Tennant, Katie Kulynych, Enoch Crandall, Howard, Leonard and David Porter, and Frank Kulynych. The altar was beautifully decorated with white flowers, and blossoms of the flowering tulip tree formed part of the floral decorations. The choir was assisted by Mrs. A. T. Van Cleve of Colchester, who sang an offertory solo. "Aurora, Me." Many from Colchester were present, and there were some from Andover, Middletown, Hartford, and other nearby places. The bishop spoke in an informal but very impressive manner to the members of the confirmation class, and celebrated the Holy Communion. He was assisted by the reader, Allan L. Carr, in the rendering of the service. The announcement was made by the bishop that Benjamin H. Bissell, who is completing his studies for the ministry at Cambridge, Mass., will be ordained at Christ Church Cathedral, Hartford, June 19, by Bishop Brewster.

Bishop Acheson will be unable to act as he is taking a trip abroad and will not be here at that date. Otherwise it would have been his wish to have the ordination take place in the church here. There will be several other candidates to be ordained in Hartford at the same time.

A list of honor roll pupils of Windham High school from Hebron and Gilead includes Jack Ellenberg, Anna and John Mosny, Stella Johnson, Edward Foote, Wendell Deeter, Evelyn Hutchinson, Harry Sherman and Thelma Cummings. These are all excused from examinations on account of their high standing.

The Rev. T. D. Martin accompanied Senator Warren Lewis W. Phelps of Andover to the archdeaconry meeting held on Tuesday at the Seabury Memorial in Groton, representing St. Peter's church. The reader in charge, Allan L. Carr, was away for the day, and unable to attend.

Ex-Charity Commissioner Burton C. Morey and Mrs. Morey, also Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Raymond and family, all of New Britain, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Hbbe.

Fitch N. Jones and Charles Miner went to Albany, N. Y. the first of the week, on a cattle buying trip. They expect to be gone several days, and will probably go to Ohio before returning.

Prohibition workers, representing the "Flying Squadron" of Temperance workers, visited this town early in the week, to confer with the local W. C. T. U. for a union rally to be held in Colchester at the Center Congregational church on Sunday, June 29, at 3 p. m. The speaker will be Colonel Alfred L. Moody, of the 150th Field Artillery, U. S. A., a veteran of the World War who saw service in France. Everybody is invited and admission will be free. The subjects will be

Mr. and Mrs. James Morrell and son John were guests of Mrs. Morrell's aunt, Mrs. Paul Jones for a part of the week-end. Both families enjoyed a picnic lunch at the Mile Paper Mill bridge over Fawn Brook. Miss Ellen Jones was home from her school at Middlefield for the week-end and made one of the party. Miss Jones has signed her contract to return to Middlefield as a teacher next year.

The Christian Endeavor service at Hebron Center was omitted Sunday evening, as there was a union picture on Mexico being the particular attraction. Quite a number from the center attended.

The rain storm beginning Sunday evening and lasting through Monday has done a great deal of good to crops and vegetation in general. The brooks were getting very low and in some cases were almost dried up. Springs were also low and wells were beginning to suffer somewhat.

Harold Cummings, son of Mrs. Mary E. Cummings, has been awarded a prize of $3.00 offered by the local organization of the D.A.R., for the best essay on the temperance question. His essay was entitled "Why a Flyer and Driver Should Keep Free from Alcohol."

Pupils of the upper grades were competitors. Matilda Rackmilo-witz won first honors and received a prize of $1.00 for her essay on the evils of intemperance entitled "Safety First."

Mrs. T. D. Martin, Miss C. E. Kellogg, and Miss Clarissa L. Pendleton acted as judges. Matilda is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rackmilo-witz. Her essay was submitted from the primary grades and was illustrated. Mr. and Mrs. Leavitt and daughter, Miss Dorothy, of New Britain, Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Helen White.

HEROIC MOTORMAN Lynbrook, L. I., June 11.—(AP.)—When a motor truck, hauling a derrick on a trailer, stalled this morning on a crossing of the Long Island railroad, Watchman Christopher Stockey dashed toward the oncoming train to New York waving his red flag.

The motorman of the train, John Udell, could not stop, but he jammed on his brakes, cut off the motors, and ran back through the first car warning passengers.

The train hit the truck and wrecked it, two cars were derailed, and service on the Montauk division of the Long Island road was interrupted for almost five hours.

But thanks to the watchman and the motorman, nobody was injured.

CHICAGO'S POPULATION Chicago, June 11.—(AP)—Chicago, second city of the nation, opened a city-wide celebration of "census Day" today with a preliminary announcement of a population of approximately 3,353,500, a gain of 650,000 or 24 percent.

These figures, made public by Joseph E. Vesely, chairman of the census advisory committee, were not expected to be changed materially by the official enumeration.

COLUMBIA Mrs. Wm. Helm and son of East Hartford are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lyman.

The Young Married Women's Club held a hot dog roast at Camp Unity at the lake on Thursday afternoon.

Several from Columbia attended the concert of the chorus of the Willimantic Normal School on Thursday evening. Miss Gladys Rice of Columbia, who is a senior at the Normal School sang in the chorus.

Clayton Hunt, Jr., was the leader of the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening.

Miss Hattie Strickland, Miss Edith Maxwell and Miss Evg Saunders called on friends in Columbia, on their way home to Manchester from Giants Neck where they had spent the week-end.

The Price farm has just been sold to Joseph Tashlik, and Mrs. Price and son Samuel and daughter Beatrice will go to New York in the near future to join Mr. Price who is engaged in business there.

Mr. Zemutald has sold his farm on Chestnut Hill to Jake Tashlik, brother of the man who has bought the Price farm. Mr. Zemutald's plans are rather uncertain at the present time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Collins and son and Miss Lura Collins of East Hartford spent Sunday with their sisters, the Misses Eva and Myrtle Collins. Miss Myrtle Collins accompanied her sister Lura to East Hartford Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stevens, Mrs. Whiton, Mrs. Jencks and Mrs. Lewis Stevens of Stafford Springs were callers Sunday on Mrs. Mary Williams.

Mrs. Arthur Williams and Mrs. Fred Stark of Lebanon were Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Porter.

School sessions at Windham High School closed Monday, and final examinations take up the rest of the week. Next week is devoted to the various activities of the graduating Senior class, to which two Columbia pupils belong, Samuel Price and Clayton Hunt, Jr.

SIMMONS' DEFEAT This newspaper wishes to go on record as not knowing the exact reason for the defeat of Senator Simmons in the North Carolina primaries.

Perhaps the figures of the election returns may shed some light on the question. Hoover got, in round figures, 62,000 more votes than Smith.

Now the total Smith vote was 287,000. These, together with the 60,000 bolters, show the normal voting strength of the Democratic party in 1928 to have been 347,000.

What would seem to be demonstrated by the figures is that the Simmons revolt showed up the Senator's bossship to be, as bossships so often turn out, a myth.

So that, in one way of figuring it, Simmons wasn't licked in his contest for renomination for the reason that he bolted his party's ticket but because he failed to take a sufficiently large part of his party along with him.

The moral of that would be that when, in politics, you risk your reputation as a leader on a test of the proportion of the party that will follow you, and when you find that your followers constitute only a very small minority of the whole, discretion dictates that you do not soon again put yourself in the position of a target for the majority.

It was the height of folly for Simmons to seek renomination at the hands of a party which had repudiated his leadership so emphatically two years ago.

Aside from that we don't know why Simmons was licked.

REDS AND NEGROES We have it on the authority of J. Edgar Hoover, director of investigation of the Department of Justice, that the Third Internationale, headquartered at Moscow, is maintaining a special committee to incite revolutionary activities among the Negroes of the United States.

On the whole it would be difficult to imagine any element in this country among which the preachments of communism would stand a better theoretical chance of being well received than in the Negro group. The Negro really has a grievance. The door of opportunity is closed against him as it is closed against no other part of the American people.

Yet this is not actually a new thing, this reported activity of the Russian Communist agents among American Negroes; there is every reason to believe that it has been going on for years. And apparently it has gotten nowhere.

This is probably because the Negro—the American Negro at least—has no liking for intrigue. He has neither taste for nor patience with plots and dark secrets.

There is, to be sure, no reason for permitting mischief making agents of the Third Internationale to experiment with propaganda among the Negroes; some day they might possibly think up something that would appeal to him—though that is unlikely.

HOW ADMIRALS FIGURE

If it be treason to lend aid and comfort to the enemy, then what is it when a high naval officer, a subordinate to the commander-in-chief of the United States Navy, publishes a document nicely calculated to encourage a nation which he regards as a potential enemy to attempt to destroy it?

Admiral Fiske is the individual. He has written to the New York Times a letter which, if his processes of reasoning are correct, conclusively proves that Great Britain can beat us to death if she wishes to. What other thing could he possibly do that would more seriously imperil our safety—what could anybody do?

Because of an effort now being made to depreciate the effect of decreasing the fighting power of "only three cruisers," it may be well to point out here a fact well known in strategy, that if two forces begin a battle with a relative inequality, even if it be very small, the progress of a battle will always go to the stronger, and make the inequality increase as time goes on.

Since the rest of Admiral Fiske's long letter is devoted to proving that the United States has been consistently outsmarted by Britain and Japan in the naval conferences and so is in an inferior position to the former, the logical conclusion from his kind of argument is that this country is at the mercy of the former any time she takes the notion to drive us off the seas.

One thing Fiske does not tell us: If naval strength is so entirely a matter of mathematics why do we keep admirals on the payroll? Especially admirals who are licked before they begin to fight?

CARAWAY MYSTERY

Who put Senator Caraway's thumb-nailed hands under the thumb-screws? And how? And why?

More interesting than the question, "What shall the lobby committee do about Bishop Cannon?" is the one, "What influence or pressure or individual or consideration caused Caraway first to loudly shout, in Arkansas, that the Bishop was all right and didn't have to pay any attention to the orders of any lobby committee whatsoever, and later, in Washington, to almost tearfully take it all back, abjectly apologize to his fellow committeemen and declare that if the committee has made many mistakes its chairman (Caraway) had made most of all.

It is not only surprising, it is, so far, inexplicable. It would be very easy to explain if it could be assumed that when Senator Caraway was out there in Arkansas among the old home folks, he got lit up a little and made his pro-Cannon declaration under the influence of some of that Okark forty-rod which is the same yesterday, today and forever, prohibition or no prohibition, and which leaves its victims shuddering under a particularly vicious brand of remorse. But Caraway is dry—very dry. So the explanation must be sought elsewhere.

And there isn't even a clue.

ROGERS' CANDIDACY

Some state newspaper affect to see, behind the suggestion that Lieutenant Governor Rogers is too dry for availability as a candidate for governor, some sly and secret purpose; that Mr. Rogers' dryness is not the real reason for the talk of drafting Governor Trumbull for another term. As we see it, these newspapers are not very complimentary to the lieutenant-governor. His availability as a gubernatorial candidate, on any other basis than his attitude on prohibition, is unquestionable; and surely it is no discredit to him, if, on that one score alone, his nomination becomes a matter of questionable policy.

TWO LOVES

"Those who love their appetites more than the Constitution."—Mid-dletown Press' description of those who flout the Eighteenth amendment. And if the shoe had been on the other foot and the rummies had succeeded in having adopted an amendment prohibiting the sale of any drinkable but whiskey, would the editor of the Press have loved the Constitution more than his appetite for tea?

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

Washington—It makes a good story to say that Miss Grace Abbott is being considered for secretary of labor to succeed James John Davis, but everyone who knows anything around here realizes that President Hoover is about as likely to appoint the lady as he is to send a diamond-studded loving cup to the Senate at the close of the present session of Congress.

One good and sufficient reason why the numerous endorsements of Miss Abbott for the job will be ignored is that it would be rather bold thing to appoint a woman to the cabinet. Not rash, of course, but just a trifle bold. Mr. Hoover's reputation for cautious, conservative statesmanship is well known.

In the first place, a secretary of labor must be something of a stuffed shirt, with a gift for making long-winded speeches about nothing in particular.

A secretary of labor ought to be able to dig up a union card out of his old papers, but he must have piled up enough money and property to realize that this is the best of all possible worlds and that changes are always dangerous.

Now the sad fact is that not even Miss Abbott's warmest friends can argue that she could live up to such standards. They are forced to admit that she is earnest, capable and active. Instead of ignoring or covering up labor problems it would be just like Miss Abbott to try to do something about them.

She has a union card—federal employees' union—but she has it because she believes in labor unions and not because she needed a card to get and hold a job. Her service with the Children's Bureau dates back to 1916 and she was beginning to administer the Child Labor act when it was strangled. President Harding appointed her chief of the bureau when Julia Lathrop left and everyone who is interested in the bureau says she has done an admirable job there.

Most of the tenors heard upon the air are graduates of small town church choirs. Many of them still appear in churches on Sunday and double at the broadcasting stations during week nights. One reason for their success is the experience in all sorts of part singing required by the choir loft. Incidentally, the radio has proved a considerable boon to most of them, since choristers in smaller churches are not the most highly paid persons in the world.

The Revellers Quartet, one of the best that the air provides, has recorded more than 2000 phonograph records. They were the first to turn the "Rhapsody in Blue" in song.

The daddy of Patricia Collinge, well known actress, is none other than Channon Collinge, choral director for Columbia circuit.

And Monsieur Gilbert Swan, the columnist, is—if I'm any judge—one of the most trembling-legged broadcasters the air has ever known.

Not to betray any more studio secrets than necessary—but there's nothing more amusing to me than looking on and listening as the "wild west noises" are produced during the NBC Frontier Days number. Having spent some years out

Where the west begins and ends, I had always been informed that that particular part of the world was noted for its "great silence." However, the whoopee of Frontier Days is something else again, whether the scene be Cheyenne, Sheridan, Bozeman, Calgary, Pendleton or Cody. At any rate, that imitation of horse's hoofs beating upon the turf is made by a young man who inconspicuously slips a couple of pieces of rubber together. A cardboard box, containing some rattling marbles or stones, is converted into the tumbling of mountain boulders. One of the "cowboys" turned out to be a gent in a tuxedo. John White, the "poor lonesome cowboy" what never done wrong," is perched upon a stool such as has been identified with struggling bookkeepers.

Which reminds me that the most extraordinary versatile noise machine I have ever beheld has moved into the Columbia studios. The inventor was a one-time trap drummer in a little movie house. Having had to use every form of traps in the market, he improved on them for the broadcasting studios. At a glance, the contrivance looks like a large radio set, or a portable cupboard. Yet it can invent rain and thunder; it can whistle like a locomotive or honk like an auto outside the house; it can trill like a bird and gallop like a horse; shriek like a siren and make two dozen other assorted noises.

Health and Diet Advice By DR. FRANK MCCOY DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA. Dysentery and diarrhea are both caused by some irritation of the intestinal tract. These diseases are most likely to occur during the summer in the cooler climates and at any time of the year in the torrid zone. Bacillary dysentery principally involves the large bowels. The disease is severe, coming on suddenly, and may occur either singly or in epidemic form. It is caused by a specific organism which can be recognized by microscopic examination of the stools.

Inflammation of the stomach may also cause this disease. Hypertrophic thyroidism may disturb the sympathetic nervous system and produce diarrhea. An under-secretion of the pancreatic juice may also bring about this condition. When stools show a highly acid reaction from fermentation, the adoption of a lean meat diet and non-starchy vegetables, often brings about speedy relief. Fasting is very valuable in this disease, as it allows the intestines to rest.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS (Left Handed). Question.—Mrs. H. F. G. asks: "What advice would you give regarding a left handed child? Should they be forced to use the right hand or not?" Answer.—It is a good plan to teach the child to use his right hand equally as well as the left, providing he is not of a highly nervous temperament, in which they may develop further nervous trouble such as stammering or stuttering. Such troubles are often thought to be caused by certain brain changes which take place when a naturally left handed child is forced to become right handed. (Milk of Magnesia). Question.—Mrs. R. K. asks: "Constant indigestion a cause of the loss? Will milk of magnesia at every meal correct this condition?" Answer.—Milk of magnesia temporarily counteracts over-acidity of the stomach. The real cure only comes from dietetic treatment or if the proper food combination are used. Bad mixtures of food produce indigestion which may kill a thin person from gaining weight.

LAWYER PATRICK AGAIN IN NEWS

Man Who Faced Electric Chair Now Wants to Practice Law as Formerly.

Albany, N. Y., June 12.—(AP.)—Having won two major battles—the first to escape the electric chair, the second for freedom from prison—Albert T. Patrick is now engaged in a third—for the right to practice in the Federal courts. He now is in Albany studying the records of his case.

From 1900 to 1912 Patrick's name was as familiar in the headlines as is Babe Ruth's today. Patrick, former New York City lawyer, was accused of causing the death, by chloroform, of William Marsh Rice, 82-year-old New York City millionaire, who was found dead September 23, 1900. The indictment charged Patrick with having instigated Rice's valet, Charles R. Jones, to administer the chloroform.

March 31, 1902, Patrick was convicted of murder, first degree. Five days later, while confined in the toms, he married Mrs. Addie M. Francis of New York City. May 5, he was sentenced to death after the Court of Appeals sustained the verdict of the General Sessions jury.

Sentence Commuted

Patrick saw the electric chair coming close but succeeded in keeping it at a little distance by successive appeals to various courts, finally taking his case to the United States Supreme Court, December 20, 1906. While that court was considering the case, Governor Frank W. Higgins, commuted the death sentence.

The Patrick began his fight for freedom. For six years he bombarded governors with applications for a pardon and Nov. 27, 1912, received one from Governor John A. Dix. Patrick went west, and so far as his fame as the central figure in the celebrated Rice murder case is concerned, dropped into obscurity. Recently he decided to seek the right to practice again in the Federal courts and came to Albany to study the records.

Patrick yesterday said he believed Rice died of natural causes, having eaten nine bananas the night before he was found dead.

MORE CONTESTANTS IN POPULARITY CONTEST

Miss Inez Rossi of Birch Street Well in Front as Three More Enter.

Three new contestants entered the race for popularity honors during the first half of the second week of the contest for the title of Manchester's Most Popular Girl, conducted by the State theater and sponsored by Warner Brothers and the Merchant's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, bringing the total entries to thirteen, to date.

The past two days has brought about several changes in the standing with Miss Inez Rossi of Birch street forging well to the front with a total of 435 votes, sending Miss Pearl Robinson of Summit street into second place with 236 votes. One of the new entries, Miss Estelle Jackson of 83 Pleasant street, got off to a fine start by capturing third position by virtue of 110 votes. The other two new entries are quite a ways down the list but their entrance into the contest should stir their friends to activity on their behalf. Miss Laura West of 258 East Middle Turnpike has 20 votes and Miss Mary Angelo of Pine street has ten.

Miss Sophie Rykoski of 201 Hilliard street has dropped to fourth place with 56 votes, a position which Miss Fanny Hewitt of 199 West Center street, threatens to occupy very shortly as she now has 50 votes. The other contestants remain in the same position as when listed Monday.

Five girls are now tied for fifth place with 20 votes each: Gertrude Powers, 74 Garden street; Katharine Georgetti, 174 1-2 Birch street; Mary Vince, 147 Birch street; Fanny Arvanetakis, 11 Chestnut street; and Miss West.

The voting continues to grow heavier but it is evident that many are holding out, possibly awaiting the growth of the entry list. At girls, 18 years of age or over who desire to enter the contest, the winning of which gives the lucky girl a vacation trip to Atlantic City or its equivalent, with all expenses paid, and a complete wardrobe and equipment, donated by Manchester merchants, has simply to write her name on a ballot and deposit it in the ballot box at the State theater.

Votes will be given with each admission ticket to the State, with each one dollar purchase from cooperating merchants, and through the columns of the Herald.

Check the list of entries and place your votes on your favorite or enter the name of the girl who in your estimation should bear the crown of Manchester's Most Popular Girl. Vote now to eliminate congestion during the final week of the contest, which closes June 30.

KOREANS START TROUBLE

Tokio, June 12.—(AP.)—Twenty-two alleged Korean terrorists were arrested today following a fierce fight with the Japanese consular police near Lungchingtsun, in the Chientao district of Kirin province of Manchuria, the Japanese consul for the district reported.

One of the Koreans was killed and two were wounded.

Today's arrests brought the total growing out of the recent disorders in the Chientao district to 40. Two Koreans were killed and one arrested two days ago at Lungchingtsun. Police declared Kin, one of those killed, was the ringleader of a group of Koreans allegedly plotting the bombing and burning of Japanese consulates and factories throughout the area.

NEW DEPARTURE BAND AT CAPITOL PARK

Capitol Park, Hartford's miniature Coney Island on Watersfield Avenue is enjoying immense popularity these days due mainly to the unusual variety of amusements and attractions being featured. Every night a special feature is given, such as Gift Nights, Amateur Boxing, Amateur Vaudeville, special fraternal nights, novelty nights and many others too numerous to mention. Perhaps the most popular feature this season is the elimination of the usual ten cent gate admission on all week nights except Thursdays (Amateur boxing nights). The mammoth swimming pool is enjoying one of the best seasons since the original opening with the newest and most up-to-date swimming and sanitation equipment installed. This season the pool is under the management of Professor Wilson, who comes to Hartford after having charge for a number of years of Madison Square Garden Pool in New York City.

The feature attraction this Sunday afternoon and night is the engagement of the famous New Departure Band of Bristol, widely known throughout New England and considered the foremost concert band in this part of the country.

SIX SAVED FROM PLANE

Athens, Greece, June 12.—(AP.)—Six Americans were saved in Mytilene Harbor, Tuesday, from death in a burning seaplane. Four of them were priests. The other two were Ernest Lindley, newspaperman and his wife Betty Lindley, a swimming champion.

When the flames were discovered Lindley and his wife dived from the plane which was taking off and swam ashore. The priests and others were disembarked and taken ashore in boats.

HOLD UP SPEAKEASY

New York, June 12.—(AP.)—Four men held up a speakeasy in West 44th street early today and escaped after obtaining several hundred dollars from a dozen patrons and $300 from the cash register.

Investigating the holdup, police seized eight half barrels of beer and several cases of alleged liquor and arrested the bartender on charges of violating the prohibition law.

CHEMIST'S DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL

Fair Haven, N. J., June 12.—(AP.)—Poison, apparently taken by accident today was declared officially to have caused the death of Donald Shields Andrews, wealthy chemical engineer, who in 1915 when a student at Yale eloped with a princess.

His partner in the sensational elopement, Mrs. Alma V. Hayne, also known as the Princess Vetsera of Austria, took her life by drinking poison at the second Victory ball in London in 1919.

Andrews was found dead Tuesday in the $200,000 laboratory he built on the banks of the Shrewsbury river and in which he recently spent much time endeavoring to make precious stones synthetically.

He had gone to the laboratory at 4 a. m. with John Ross, a friend and associate, and his body was discovered by the latter upon his return to the laboratory after a brief absence.

Poison In Glass

Chief of Police Herdon said that a drinking glass partly filled with water was on the floor beside the body. A container of poison was on the table and in the waste basket was another drinking glass that Dr. Harvey W. Hartman, Monmouth county physician, said contained possibly traces of poison.

Dr. Hartman issued a certificate of accidental death after an autopsy had been performed which disclosed traces of poison. Prosecutor Jonas Tumen said that although the investigation was still open he was convinced death was accidental. He said Andrews had no business or domestic troubles, but recently had been under the care of a physician for a nervous trouble.

Friend of Hanna

He was the son of a Matthew Andrews of Cleveland, a business associate of Marcus A. Hanna. At the time of his elopement with Mrs. Hayne, he was said to have eluded private detectives employed by his family to prevent the marriage. He and Mrs. Hayne, however, were married in Mamaroneck, N. Y., April 24, 1915.

She said she was the natural daughter of Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria and the Baroness Marie Vetsera who were found dead together in a hunting lodge in 1889. Prior to her marriage with Andrews

$400,000 BLAZE

Winnipeg, Man., June 12.—(AP.)—A fire today destroyed the Veterinary workshop, and another swept a lumber yard and spread to the plant of the Prairie City Oil Company.

A drenching rain, which followed a night of high wind helped firemen bring the blaze under control. The fires, believed to have been deliberately set, caused damage estimated at $400,000.

CHINESE GENERAL MAKES ODD OFFER

Says He Will Surrender and Help Former Enemy for Three Millions.

Nanking, China, June 12.—(AP.)—Official military reports from Hankow state that because of a lack of ammunition and food, a representative of Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang, Northern general, has approached President Chiang Kai-Shek offering to surrender and expressing willingness to attack the rebellious troops of the Shansi government.

Feng was said to have demanded in return that the Nationalist government pay $3,000,000 for the reorganization of the Kuominchun or People's Army, of which he is leader.

er. Feng's plan was said to divide the army into fifteen divisions and to reserve the provinces of Chihli, Shansi and Honan as their garrison areas.

Chiang Kai-Shek was stated to have refused the offer, demanding that Feng first attack Shansi as a demonstration of his sincerity.

In the midst of the vigorous drive which Yen Hsi-Shan, governor of Shansi, has been making on Chiang Kai-Shek, chief of the Nanking Nationalist government, reports that Feng Yu-Hsiang was planning to turn against Yen, his erstwhile partner in the revolt against Chiang, suggests the possibility of a new lineup in the already complicated Chinese situation.

Played Lone Hand

Feng repeatedly had played a lone hand in the numerous developments in China during the past ten years, now siding with one group and again with the other, each time using his peasants' army as his chief weapon. Feng co-operated with the Nationalist government several years ago, but then quarreled with Chiang Kai-Shek and went over to Yen Hsi-Shan. Together they organized a powerful movement in the north against Chiang which has placed the Nanking government in a serious position.

Of late, however, Feng has not been co-operating very closely with Yen and today's reports from Nanking would indicate that he was again contemplating switching sides.

WORRIED, KILLS HIMSELF

Scranton, Pa., June 12.—(AP.)—Financial reverses and worry over the charge of conspiracy against him in the campaign against slot machines here, caused Nathan Green, prominent business man, to end his life early today by leaping into a dam under the Spruce street bridge, according to authorities.

Green, who was 53, was under indictment with Sheriff Homer Davis, of Lackawanna county, on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the operation of slot machines. Green was alleged to have made payments of protection money.

Lou Chaney, Hollywood's "man of 1000 faces," was a guide for tourists seeking the summit of Pike's Peak. He also served as a timekeeper in Colorado mines and as a paper hanger.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.) "Say, I believe that I could take a very fancy dive and make you all clap hands and cheer me," shouted Clowny, with a grin. "Come on, let's put on bathing suits. I wish they had a chute-the-shoots." The Travel Man said, "Go ahead, you can go right in." "Get on your suits and I'll stay here. The water looks real nice and clear. We'll shortly see which one of you can do a fancy dive." So, to the bath house they all ran. Said Clowny, "I'm the one who can do heaps of fancy diving, just as sure as I'm alive." Upon the platform they soon stood, all set to do the best they could. Wee Scouty was the first to dive and he looked very fine. Then, off went Clowny, in a hop. His dive turned out to be a flop. Another splash and, Carpy dove, 'cause he was next in line. Brave Coppy was the last one here. He sailed out neatly in the air and took the finest dive of all. The whole bunch cried, "You win!" The Travel Man then said, "Swim 'round a while and then we all are bound for some nice restaurant where we will promptly walk right in." They swam a half an hour and then all hopped into their clothes again. A restaurant was found nearby and quite a meal was served. An orchestra began to roar and people danced around the floor. The Tinies loudly clapped. 'Twas what the orchestra deserved. Then Clowny met a little girl and took her for a dancing whirl. They looked real cute upon the floor and got along just great. Said Clowny, when that dance was through, "She'd like to dance with all of you." Of course this pleased the Tinymites and they could hardly wait. (The Tinymites see a huge bonfire in the next story.)
