ITALY REPLIES TO FRANCE ON UNITED EUROPE

Willing To Take Part In Discussion But Says Special Principles Must Be Observed As A Basis.

Rome, July 7.—(AP)—The reply of the Italian government to the memorandum of the French Foreign Minister, M. Briand, on an organization of a "United States of Europe" today was handed to the French charges d'affaires here. It declares Italy is willing to participate in discussions.

The memorandum of reply expresses the view of Italy that special principles must be observed as a basis for the discussions leading to formation of such a union.

The Italian principles are: First, a system of co-operation founded on the idea of a union and not on that of unity and wherein will be respected the absolute sovereignty and political independence of all states.

On this principle Italy wishes to give further interpretation that the rights of all minor states will be guaranteed and that the last line of demarcation between victor and conquered peoples will be eliminated.

RACE PREJUDICE IN U. S. SCORED

New York Clergyman Says Negroes Are Shut-Out of Many Churches.

Bournemouth, England, July 7.—(AP)—Race prejudice in America held the attention of the International Congregational Council this morning. The topic for discussion was "Church and World Paganism" with Dr. George L. Cady of New York as principal speaker.

There is no room for race prejudice and Jesus Christ in the same church, he held, yet Christians were at present attempting to make room for both. In America, he said, the negro was shut out from a large number of Christian churches of the north and from many more of those in the south.

England's foremost public man, had been reported ill with heart disease on January 4 of this year. 14 DIE IN STATE OVER THE HOLIDAY

Three Drowned, Two Killed In Auto Crashes—Lightning Kills a Boy.

(By Associated Press.) Death stalked in holiday merriment took a toll of 14 lives in Connecticut in the three-day week-end ushered in by the crackling of fireworks on the Fourth of July.

Three persons were drowned Saturday and Sunday as warm summer weather attracted thousands to beaches and a fourth suffered fatal injuries while diving. An auto accident accounted for two more deaths, a boy was killed by lightning, a man by a trolley and a child died of heat. Five deaths, in addition, were reported in the Fourth of July automobile accidents and a train fatality.

BLAIR BALLOON WINS CONTEST; LANDED TODAY

Goodyear Zeppelin Travels 850 Miles to Greensburg, Ky.—All Other Balloons in Race Are Down.

Houston, Tex., July 7.—(AP)—The balloon Goodyear Zeppelin, piloted by R. J. Blair, landed at Greensburg, Ky., "yesterday evening," said a telegram received today.

Blair unquestionably covered the most distance, approximately 850 miles, said Captain Fred S. Wilbur, secretary of the committee which sponsored the race.

Blair was the last to report, the other fourteen, which left here late Friday, previously having reported themselves down in widely separated sections.

Wilbur calculated that the Detroit Times, 700 miles, was second place winner the Cleveland Van Service, 685 miles, third, and the Navy entry of Lieut. T. G. W. Settle, 640 miles, fourth.

WORK COMMENCES ON BOULDER DAM

165 Million Dollar Project Started in the Southwestern States.

Washington, July 7.—(AP)—Announcing the commencement today of construction of the $165,000,000 Boulder Canyon dam project, Secretary Wilbur characterized the work as signaling "our national conquest over the great American desert."

The interior secretary said Walker R. Young, the engineer in charge, was waiting on the ground for telegraphic instructions when President Hoover signed the definitive bill, containing an item of $10,660,000 for this work.

"With dollars, men and engineering brains," Secretary Wilbur said, "we will build a great national resource. We will make new geography, and start a new era in the southwestern part of the United States."

Already Under Way Dr. Elwood Mead, commissioner of reclamation, received a telegram from Young today, saying the first construction was under way.

HOLIDAYS' DEATH TOLL THROUGHOUT U. S. 404

Fireworks Killed But 27; Famous Athlete Drowned in Maine

Chicago, July 7.—(AP)—This year's celebration of the Fourth of July was a triple-jointed affair—Friday, Saturday and Sunday; and the nation paid with 226 additional lives for the extra fun.

The three-day holiday altogether cost 404 lives. Fireworks and toy pistols killed 27, a small percentage of the total, yet regarded as large in view of the restrictions against fireworks in most parts of America.

Not a Warm Fourth The Fourth of July itself was a day of moderate temperatures in most sections of the country, a circumstance having considerable to do with holding down the number of deaths from drowning and prostration. The week-end, however, saw a mounting mercury with a consequent increase in the lure of bathing beaches—and a consequent increase in deaths by drowning and prostration.

TREASURY BALANCE Washington, July 7.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for July 2 were $6,805,496.95; expenditures, $15,872,911.11; balance, $306,528,491.60.

Washington, July 7.—(AP)—The British Embassy took up indignantly today the question of the refusal of Customs agents to permit the unloading of British ships carrying cargoes manufactured by convict labor.

HOUSTON SAYS HE'LL REMAIN PARTY CHIEF

Has Hour and Half Conference With President—To Preside At Thursday's Capital Meeting.

Washington, July 7.—(AP)—Claudius Houston has no intention of resigning as party chairman at the conference of Republican leaders here on Thursday.

He conferred with President Hoover for an hour and a half last night. Asked about their meeting today, Mr. Houston declined to comment.

Apparently President Hoover, and the Republican-observers have been caused some discomfort by publicity given reported plans for Houston's abandonment of his post and speculation over a successor.

Senator Pass, of Ohio, who has been discussed at White House conferences as a successor to Houston, returned from a week-end visit with the president at his Virginia camp last night and issued a statement denying the party chairmanship had been discussed.

NEW ENGLAND HIT BY SEVERE STORMS

Score of Buildings Struck By Bolts—Highways Flooded—Traffic Blocked.

Boston, July 7.—(AP)—Severe electrical storms, accompanied by rain, heavy wind and hail, did extensive property damage in eastern and southern New England last night.

A score of buildings were struck by lightning in eastern Massachusetts. Five fires were reported. Seventeen cows and a pair of horses were suffocated in a barn fire at Concord.

SENATORS GATHER AT EXTRA SESSION TO ACT ON TREATY

N. Y. Magistrate Indicted by Jury

George F. Ewald and Four Others Charged With Stock Sale Fraud.

New York, July 7.—(AP)—Magistrate George F. Ewald and four others were indicted by the Federal Grand Jury today for mail fraud and conspiracy in connection with the sale of stock of the Cotter Butte Mines, Inc., Montana.

The other defendants are Harry C. Cotter, president of the company; Frank E. Mitterschner, Francis H. Schirp and Frank H. Biss. Judge's Statement In a statement published this morning, W. C. R. D. Magistrate Ewald, who sits in traffic court, said that he "went into the Cotter Butte Mines proposition like a blindfolded man."

McCook Property Again in Courts State Tuberculosis Commission Has Started Another Action Against Estate.

STATE TUBERCULOSIS COMMISSION HAS STARTED ANOTHER ACTION AGAINST ESTATE.

Hartford, July 7.—(AP)—Blocked by the Supreme Court in its effort to take a portion of the McCook property at Crescent Beach under authority of a special act adopted for that purpose, the State Tuberculosis Commission has started another action, this time involving the general condemnation statute, it was learned today.

At a meeting on June 23, the commission, composed of Dr. Stephen J. Maher of New Haven, chairman; Charles H. Allen of Rockville and Arthur Reed Kimball of Waterbury, voted to proceed against the property under the determination of acquiring a strip of 383 feet of shore front of land owned by the heirs of Eliza S. McCook. The commission maintains this strip is necessary for the construction of an adequate new building for tubercular children at Seaside. The commission, Dr. Maher admitted today, has asked the attorney general to proceed under the general law and, it is understood, that office has already taken the preliminary steps preparatory to bringing the case into court again.

U. S. Prevents Unloading Of Convict Made Cargoes

Washington, July 7.—(AP)—The British Embassy took up indignantly today the question of the refusal of Customs agents to permit the unloading of British ships carrying cargoes manufactured by convict labor.

In Message, President Says: "If We Fail Now the World Will Again Be Plunged Backward From Its Present Program Toward Peace"—Nine More Than a Quorum Present With Almost All Opponents of Treaty in Seats—The Message in Full.

Washington, July 7.—(AP)—Meeting especially to judge the London naval treaty, the Senate heard it advocated today in a message from President Hoover.

"This is especially necessary" he wrote, "because of misinformation and misrepresentation which has been widespread by those who in reality are opposed to all limitation and reduction in naval arms."

Among those who heard were Senators who have denounced the treaty as unfair to the United States. All of the known past opponents except Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, were present. Should they decide to break a quorum at any time it would mean the treaty would be rejected.

U. S. Prevents Unloading Of Convict Made Cargoes

Washington, July 7.—(AP)—The British Embassy took up indignantly today the question of the refusal of Customs agents to permit the unloading of British ships carrying cargoes manufactured by convict labor.

As is customary, permission was obtained from the State Department to consult with the Treasury. The difficulties are based on contentions that the United States should give two months notice before the provision in the Hawley-Smoot tariff law barring goods made wholly or in part by convict labor from this country goes into effect.

appropriation and passed, went over 37 to 23, in the last hours of the Congress. That threat to borrow from individuals the $200,000 needed to complete the appropriation set some of the Senators hunting for their thinking caps. That the President would carry out his threat no one had doubt. And it wouldn't look just right, some of the militant Senators decided.

Result: The Johnson House bill for Veterans' pensions went through. That was not just what should have been done but it was another spanking for the Senate.

Result: That other House matter.
 The government of the District of Columbia had been running along since last July without funds. Just one of those things an all wise Senate had permitted in its effort to compel legislation to suit its whims or the necessities of various campaigns.

And now the Senate faces an extra session. It will be as long or as short as the opponents of the President wish to make it. Watch the Presidential attitude. The naval pact will go through unless certain signs evident in and about the White House fall. And while you are about it, watch for a change in the chairmanship of the Republican National Committee.
 From now on there is a new Hoover in the White House.

They will outgrow whatever disappointment there is in this. Future generations will regard the custom as something to be laughed over.

With the bursting of fire crackers and other explosives in the public streets the "night before" and all day Friday it is plainly evident that the only way to prevent this is to prohibit the sale of them.
 It is impossible to prevent children who have just been permitted to purchase a stock of noise makers from exploding them on their way home. But if they cannot buy them it is going to be almost to explosive them. And if they do not explode them there will be less mourning for the crippled and dead in countless homes in the country.
 It is best because it is a sane move.

Health and Diet Advice
 By DR. FRANK MCCOY

SUMMER SQUASH
 The summer squash is a member of the gourd family, along with the cucumbers and melons. It is the same as the vegetable marrow of Europe and Canada, and is almost exactly like the edible gourds used in Spain and India.

As one cook has said, "Summer squash is mostly water—but what water!" For this reason it makes a good cleansing, cooling summer vegetable. It is a very delicious addition to the everyday diet. Summer squash may be secured in most parts of the country during the season and should be used as much as possible when available.

Several varieties are used: some are scalloped, some flat, some round, some crooknecked, some yellow, some white. The taste is very agreeable, being mild and bland. The squash of this group belongs to the non-starchy vegetable class and may be combined well with either a starch meal or a protein meal.

One particular kind of little summer squash called Italian squash or zucchini, is green with stripes. Instead it is yellowish to white. It is used a great deal in Italy. These squashes may not be obtained in every market, but they are finely flavored when used young and are tender and of delicate taste.

Summer squash are classed with the alkaline foods, offering potash, lime and soda.

Squash has a number of qualities to commend it to the cook. It does not cost much, does not take long to prepare, and does not take long to cook. Since it cooks very quickly it does not warm up the kitchen on a summer day. It needs no preparing as the skin mashes up easily when cooked. The seeds are left in it. It should be washed, sliced, and cooked in very little water, just enough to cover it so that too much of the flavor does not cook out into the water. If carefully watched it is often possible to cook squash by cutting it up and adding no water at all, using a little butter instead.

Squash cooked in this way will be sweeter and will lack that watery flavor which clings to a squash which has gone to a watery grave in the pan before it reaches the table. Most summer squash is cooked in too much water which renders it tasteless and unpalatable.

As summer squash is a nonstarchy vegetable it may be combined with almost any other kind of food, and it, therefore, lends itself easily to many mixtures with other vegetables.

In tomorrow's article I will give you some recipes which are suggestions of a number of different ways for using summer squash during the season. After reading these recipes I will be glad to have any of my readers send their favorite ways of preparing summer squash so that in future articles I may pass the recipes on to my readers.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
 (Anemia)

Question:—J. V. D. writes: "A member of my family is suffering from anemia. She complains that her limbs from the knees down feel just like wood. Is this a usual symptom? What will relieve this condition?"

Answer: You did not say whether the trouble is primary or secondary anemia, but the symptoms you describe are more like those of primary or pernicious anemia. This is too serious a condition to be prescribed for in this column, but I will be glad to send special information on the subject of primary anemia if you will send me your full name and address on a large stamped envelope.

Buttermilk.

Question:—T. writes: "Should buttermilk be taken with meals, or should it be taken as a meal in itself?"

Answer: Buttermilk should not be taken with the ordinary meal, but should be used by itself or in combination with any one of these fruits: figs, dates, raisins or prunes.

(Germs and Gout)

Question:—W. R. writes: "Was told I have a gout, but my neck is not large—you cannot see any evidence of it. I am afraid that it may become large, however, and would like to know how I could kill the germ before it takes effect?"

Answer: The exophthalmic gout does not show much except to make the eyes protrude. You may suffer from hyperthyroidism, the diagnosis of which must be accomplished mostly by studying symptoms, as the gland does not appear to change in shape in most cases. All forms of gout are caused from the effect of bodily toxins, and the cure depends upon the elimination of these poisons.

The refusal of the former president to turn out his daily article already made plans for a little

SUBSTITUTES

The other day on the Hudson in the Poughkeepsie regatta a substitute rowed himself into the charn-ed circle of momentary fame. He helped confound the experts, who had said that the Cornell crew had little or no chance, by stroking that aggregation to a flashing victory.
 It was his first race. Experts, who are remarkable second guessers, agree that he demonstrated unusual ability. He certainly had the skill and stamina that the coach had come to believe the regular did not have. A substitute in this world of ours has got to be good. Without the steady practice at the job which the regular has he must be prepared to step in and fill the gap and come pretty near completely filling it—or else he isn't a substitute.

Every professional sports aggregation has its quota of substitutes.
 One of the strange things about the business world is that its managers do not carry extra hands. Were it to be suggested, the cry of "overhead" would be raised. Professional sport, made possible by big and little business, finds substitutes absolutely necessary. They are as much a part of the "overhead" as the care of the grounds or buildings. Nine men are required to play baseball. A business employing a like number tries to get along during vacations and in times of illness with eight or seven or six.
 Errors often lose ball games.
 Errors due to overwork by a skeleton force on many occasions have been damaging to business. This lack of substitutes sometimes is more disastrous than a little more "overhead" would be.

Of late years there has been infected into the business and professional world a new element—substitutes who are "on their own." They carry their own "overhead."
 In their special fields they are open to call. It is much as if National League teams for instance, carried no long string of substitutes, depending upon substitutes available to any and all of the teams. In the larger cities it is always possible to engage a butler, maid, chef, or housekeeper for temporary work. Accommodators have been available in the business of housekeeping for many years. So the mercantile and professional fields have come to feel the need of them.
 Like the substitutes in sports they must have had training and keep in condition to fill the bill. Not all of them enjoy the rare privilege of the young man who stroked the Cornell crew to a victory that upset the experts but they all have their place in the modern scheme of things and some of them have many such places to fill for a growing clientele.

A NEW HOOVER

President Hoover has changed.
 He tried on the Senate his customary methods of dealing with men. It was then that he discovered he was dealing with a type of humans different than is to be found elsewhere in the wide world.
 And Mr. Hoover should know, for he is a widely traveled man, accustomed to dealing with all manner of humanity. He has suggested and advised and requested, each time giving cogent reasons for his remarks. The Senate sat back and laughed and talked. They decided he was a mollycoddle.

Patently, too patently for most of us, the President stuck to his attitude of trying to reason with men who would not be reasoned with. Important legislation was being held up. Reluctantly he decided to attack instead of passively wait.

Result: That little matter of a $200,000 appropriation for the Law Enforcement Commission, which had been held up for a long time

MORE "TIME OUT"

Waterbury is struggling with another phase of modern education.
 The school authorities have voted to allow "time out" of school hours for religious education. It's just another complication that is disrupting the scheme of things educational. There is "time out" for cooking, for folk dancing, for sewing, for this and that and that.
 Our educational system has become so modern that there is no time left to teach anything that by any chance will be useful to the tremendous majority whose education, except by bitter experience in later years, ends with the grade schools.

Religion should be taught. No question about that. But there are times and places for such instruction. And those times and those places are not in the public school hours. Protests to superintendents, principals and teachers about this of proper instruction in the funda-mentals are met with the answer:
 "We have so much else to teach there is no more time for them."

Primarily the whole system is at fault, in that it is predicated on training all children for a college course. It caters to the small minority. The cost has mounted beyond all reason, due in great measure to the side issues and the frills that, to those who graduate from grade schools to the shops, are absolutely worthless. But Waterbury appears to be in a most unhappy state. With "time out" for religion in its varied forms in addition to all the other misdirected energies of the modern school system there remains small hope for common sense in education there.
 It is to be hoped that the school committee will be made to see the mistake it has made.

SQUARING THE FACTS

There can be nothing but approval for the announcement of the movie magnates that they intend to square advertising with the actual facts. Heretofore they have rather followed Mr. Barnum's plan in their advertising. The pictures in the theater have not stood up to the pictures in the lobby in some instances. Exaggeration has been a prominent factor, especially with reference to humor and comedy.
 Freely confessing that we are no judge of the pictorial efforts of the touted stars of Hollywood we still believe that most of the writers of humorous scenarios haven't had an idea since Lew Dockstader sprung the wig with hair that stood on end at the pull of a concealed string.

Not so long ago in a strange city having an hour to idle away and attracted by the advertising we entered our steps into a flamboyant lobby and settled ourself in the gloom to get a laugh. It was then we discovered that the trick neck-tie reminded us of Lew Dockstader, and his hair raising wig, and the comedian's brogue was that of the Louis Mann-Clara Lippman period of the stage. If the reputed fabulous prices paid writers of scenarios and directors of productions are actual facts someone is getting stung, besides the dear public. But if they pull down the advertising to agree with the screen that will help some.

NEXT YEAR

The Fourth is over with the usual string of accidents, even though there is general agreement that the explosive disturbances to nerves were by no means as numerous as in years past. With any sort of enforcement of the new by-laws, next year should see a normal, sensible holiday on the Fourth. So far as Manchester is concerned and many other towns and cities the small boys will be obliged to buy their own stock of explosives.

New Players Feature Victories of Leaders

Manush, Crowder, Harris and Shires Strengthen Senators and Boone Stars for Robins.

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.

A large part of the first half of the major league baseball season has been spent in strenuous efforts to strengthen the clubs for the latter part of the year and the success of their efforts is quite evident in the current standings of the clubs.

Washington's big deals with the St. Louis Browns and Chicago White Sox turned out to be important factors in making the American League campaign a duel between the Senators and the Athletics.

The result is that the Senators and the Athletics today are tied for the league lead although the deadlock may not last long in the quick shifts of the standing brought about by the fact that Philadelphia has played more games.

Washington now has won 19 out of 16 games, showing the Yanks 5-2 games into third place by sweeping the series. And by pitching all of yesterday's game Bum Bradley made it 14 out of 16 pitches who have finished the games they started.

The Athletics kept their place in the sun by winning their third close decision in a row from the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 3.

The fourth place Cleveland Indians, showed signs of improvement as they opened against their western rivals at home. Clint Brown pitched a good game for them and they shut out the St. Louis Browns, 7 to 0. Waite Hoyt also pitched well and led Detroit to a 5 to 2 victory over the Chicago White Sox.

The Brooklyn Robins who chose to add strength to their team by obtaining De Boone from the Pacific Coast League, found good reason to be pleased with their new acquisition. Boone made his debut yesterday and played the principal role as the Robins regained first place in the National League by beating the Boston Braves, 10 to 4.

He hit a homer and single and made a great catch of a fly, diving into the bleachers to grab the ball. Cincinnati helped bring about this latest disturbance in the standing, which put Brooklyn ahead although tied with the Chicago Cubs in games. The Reds took both games of a doubleheader from Chicago by scores of 5 to 4 and 8 to 7, breaking a losing streak of five games. Brooklyn's second game, which might have sent the Robins down again, was rained out in the third inning.

The third place struggle between the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals remained unchanged as both teams won a doubleheader. The Giants trounced Philadelphia 10 to 8 and 6 to 2, standing off a ninth inning rally which brought the Phillies five runs at the end of the first game.

The Nut Cracker

We just asked O'Goofy for his opinion of giving the customers food checks so that if the bout ended in a foul, the patrons would get to see the fight again free.

O'Goofy says a boxing commission is a group of men appointed for the purpose of reinstating suspended boxers.

Schmalz was suspended for his refusal to box Phil Scott. It proved to be quite a nice ad for him.

Boxing doesn't feed a Landis as much as it needs a couple of fighters.

The referee used to be known as the "third man in the ring." These days, as soon as a foul is struck, there are 27 men in the ring—all managers.

Battalino and Mandell Training at Same Place

Bat Battalino and Sammy Mandell, two champions making ready to put on their crowns at stake, are now training in the same spot.

The lightweight champion more than a week ago set up his camp at Orangeburg, N. Y., at the big boxing area conducted by the noted trainer, Gus Wilson, and Saturday, Battalino left Hartford for Orangeburg where he will put in his last week of training for the world's featherweight championship battle with Ignacio Fernandez which is set for the night of July 14 at the Hurley Stadium in East Hartford.

The decision to have Battalino do his intensive training away from Hartford was arrived at hurriedly Friday. It was thought that the champion would be benefited by a change of scenery, by getting away from the familiar haunts where he has trained for every bout and it was felt that the bracing air and warming sunshine of the country about Orangeburg would be ideal for him.

Then, too, the Wilson camp is headquarters for many boxers and Bat will be able to get a variety of sparring partners which was not the case in Hartford.

It is expected that the champion will return to Hartford next Sunday, make that a day of rest and then be ready Monday to go to the scales and a few hours later to the battleground.

Battalino will be sporting two titles when he gets into the ring at the Hurley Stadium next Monday night; he has been a world's champion several months, but a father only a few days. Now he can write "daddy" beside his name and he says he is prouder of that than of the crown he wrested from Andre Routis last September.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE.) The silk worm men worked hard and long. Said Clorpy, "See some water. Gee, must be strong to climb around those great big trees for silk worms all the day. Of course I've climbed in big trees, too, but all we ever used to do was scamper out on one long branch, just as a part of play." "Of course, they're strong," the Travel Man replied, "and I am sure you can do everything that they do if you keep yourself in trim. It's exercise that does the trick and keeps a person feeling slick. Now, see that great big fellow? I was once strong, just like him." Soon Scouty said, "Well, come, let's go. We've seen enough of this fine show. I'd like another ride upon our caravan. It's fun." "All right," replied the Travel Man. WEEK-END ACCIDENTS
HERE ARE BUT MINOR

Only Two of Them Are Reported and the Damage in Both Was Small.

Only two accidents were reported to the police during the week-end and both were of a minor nature. On Saturday evening at 6:30, Edward Lynch, Jr., was driving west on East Center street. A car driven by James Keough of No. 8 Adams street, Charlestown, Mass., was going east and started to cut across onto the north side of East Center street, turning to his left. As he did so he struck the side of the car driven by Mr. Lynch, which in turn was thrown off its course and a third car was struck.

All were going at a slow rate of speed and an examination showed that there was little damage done. The car against which the Lynch car was pushed was owned by R. O. Peterson of 45 North Elm street. The accident, which took place just east of the small grass plot at the Center was assumed by Keough as being his fault and agreed to settle all damages.

The other accident was reported by Officer Michael Fitzgerald. "A car owned by George Heim of 81 Spencer street was coming north on South Main street as a car driven by Reinhard Lamprucht of Hartford road came from the west heading towards Hartford road. Mr. Heim attempted to stop and as it was raining at the time, it skidded, his car hitting the rear of the Ford, damaging the fender. Heim was less fortunate as he broke a wheel and also sprung an axle and had to get help to get home while Lamprucht was able to drive home without trouble.
