

SHAW INDIFFERENT TO WORLD OPINION

Literary Genius Has Quarrels With Almost Everyone On Various Topics.

London—(AP)—George Bernard Shaw, whose 74th birthday will be celebrated by the literary world on July 26, has never been influenced by public sentiment.

He hates war. Napoleon, Caesar and Shakespeare, in his viewpoint, have only ordinary dimensions. Shaw lost many friends because of his hostile attitude toward the World War. His feud with Henry Arthur Jones, the British milk boy who lived to earn half a million dollars as a playwright, dated from 1914. In that year Jones took exception to Shaw's views of the war. The following year the feeling against Shaw became so intense that Jones and a number of others avoided meeting Shaw at the Dramatists' Club.

"I hope you are not one of these 'several members,'" Shaw wrote him. "Though in these raving times it is hard to know. Cheerful sort of club, isn't it?"

To which Jones replied: "England's cause is a righteous one . . . and you should not be surprised that, in the agony and bloody sweat of fighting for our life, we have no patience with a man who tries to lift us up."

Shaw answered: "Good, but what is England's cause? . . . you think England, your mother, is on a sick bed . . . Germany has not a dog's chance against her, and never had from the beginning."

Kept His Temper

Throughout the feud Shaw preserved his Irish good humor and never allowed himself to become petulant, but the former friends were never reconciled, although Shaw made overtures again in 1926, twelve years later, when he wrote Jones a note recording that he was "not to be shaken off."

During the last ten years of his life, Jones attacked Shaw and H. G. Wells bitterly. He wrote one book, "Mr. Mayor of Shakespeare's Town" attacking Shaw so violently that after six copies had been printed the publishers decided to throw the type into the hell box. One copy of the book is now in the British Museum. When Jones died two years ago, Shaw wrote his daughter, Doris:

"I never had the slightest doubt that the real old friendly relations between your father and myself were there all the time beneath the top dressing of denunciatory rhetoric that amused us both."

JUNE BUILDING SHOWS INCREASE OVER MAY TOTAL

Railroad Survey Finds General Rise in Conn. Permits—Spread Among Eleven Communities.

Building permits issued by the various cities and towns in the state of Connecticut during the month of June showed a gain in value of somewhat less than one million dollars over permits issued in May, according to the monthly survey conducted among twenty-three leading communities through the office of E. L. Taylor, Industrial Commissioner of the New Haven Railroad. The increase over May was spread among eleven of the cities and towns included in the survey.

The eleven communities which showed increases in building activity as compared with the previous month were Danbury, Greenwich, Hamden, Hartford, Naugatuck, New Haven, Norwich, Torrington, Wallingford, Waterbury and Willimantic.

As compared with building permit figures of June, 1928, last month's general total was considerably less although seven of the twenty-three communities enjoyed increases. These were Derby, Hartford, Naugatuck, New Haven, Norwich, Waterbury and Willimantic.

Hartford topped the list for the month of June with permits valued at $1,712,701. New Haven was a second place with Greenwich third.

TODAY IS THE ANNIVERSARY

THACKERAY'S BIRTH

On July 18, 1811, William Makepeace Thackeray, English novelist, was born at Calcutta.

After attending lower schools, Thackeray entered Trinity College, Cambridge, in 1829, but left a year later without taking a degree.

Thackeray settled in Paris about 1834 to study art seriously. He had shown talent as a caricaturist. His pencil was at its best in the initial letters of chapters as well as in drawings made for the amusement of child friends.

In 1837, he went to London and became a regular magazine contributor, illustrating many of his own stories.

Thackeray, who had inherited a tidy sum, lost most of it in London banks, in having a good time in two newspapers.

He became editor of the Cornhill Magazine in 1850, but resigned this post three years later. Thackeray made his reputation as the "Snob Papers" in 1846, known as "The Book of Snobs."

He died on Dec. 24, 1863.

MENUS For Good Health

A Week's Supply Recommended by Dr. Frank B. McCoy

Dr. McCoy's menus suggested for the week of Sunday, July 20th:

Sunday
Breakfast: Sliced oranges for orange juice 30 minutes before breakfast of poached egg on Melba toast. Stewed raisins.
Lunch: Green peas in turnip cups. Stuffed celery, ripe olives.
Dinner: Baked chicken or Belgian hare, asparagus, salad of lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers. Apricot whip.

Monday
Breakfast: French omelet, whole-wheat muffins. Stewed prunes.
Lunch: Berries and cream, no sugar.
Dinner: Salisbury steak, baked grated carrots and turnips. Salad of shredded raw spinach. Sliced pineapple.

Tuesday
Breakfast: Cottage cheese, fresh cherries.
Lunch: Green corn, buttered beets, celery.
Dinner: Roast pork, string beans. Salad of sliced cucumber with parsley. Baked apple.

Wednesday
Breakfast: Coddle eggs, Melba toast. Stewed pears.
Lunch: Ice cream (1/2 pint portions) with a fruit.
Dinner: Baked sea bass, stuffed summer squash. Salad of whole tomatoes on lettuce. No dessert.

Thursday
Breakfast: Baked peaches (or fresh if desired) with cream.
Lunch: Buttered spinach, okra, head lettuce.
Dinner: Broiled steak, artichokes. Combination salad (recipe given July 4th). Pineapple-almond cream (small portions).

Friday
Breakfast: Grapefruit 30 minutes before breakfast of small slice of broiled ham, toasted cereal biscuit. Applesauce.
Lunch: Melon, grapes or cherries as much as desired.
Dinner: Broiled fillet of sole, baked stuffed tomatoes. Salad of vegetables molded in gelatin (cucumbers, lettuce celery). No dessert.

Saturday
Breakfast: Wholewheat - raisin muffins, peanut butter. Stewed or fresh figs.
Lunch: Cantaloupe a la mode.
Dinner: Roast veal, spinach. Avocado salad. Raspberry whip.

Green peas in turnip cup: Select and peel young tender turnips and scoop out to form shells, saving the scooped out portion (see Monday dinner menu). Boil the shells in plain water until tender but not soft enough to break. Cook in a separate pan a sufficient quantity of fresh green peas, using only enough water to keep from burning, and permitting it to evaporate entirely as the peas finish cooking. Season with hot cream (canned or fresh) and fill each turnip cup, topping with a lump of butter and a generous sprinkling of chopped parsley. Serve hot, with a garnish of pimento across each cup.

Vegetables prepared and served in small colorful portions have a distinct appeal to children, and mothers will find the extra effort required for such methods well worth while. The constant urging and forcing of children to "eat their vegetables" may be eliminated gradually by a little ingenuity in the kitchen.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

(Diabetes and Whisky)
Question—H. G. writes: "I am suffering from diabetes, and have been advised that whisky will destroy the sugar. I have no faith in whisky but would like your opinion in the matter."
Answer: I consider the whisky treatment for diabetes to be fundamentally unsound in principle, although it is used by a great many diabetic specialists. Liquor undoubtedly stimulates the flow of digestive juice with some people and this may have an effect on the secretion of pancreatic fluid which the body uses in the digestion of starchy foods, but as I have demonstrated conclusively that starches of sugars are unnecessary for the human body, it is the height of folly for any diabetic to use any drug or remedy to promote digestion of the carbohydrates when the best and the simplest plan is to live mostly on proteins, non-starchy vegetables and fruits. Of course, all vegetables contain some starch, and all fruits contain sugar but the diabetic usually can consume this small amount of starch and sugar without the need of drugs or stimulants.

(Sweating Feet)
Question—Reader asks: "What causes sweating of the feet at the least exertion, and dryness of the mouth immediately after lunch and dinner?"
Answer: Excessive sweating of the feet may be caused from tight-fitting shoes or from not washing the feet often enough. Those who are toxic are liable to sweat excessively at times. The shoes should be changed frequently and permitted to dry out thoroughly before being used again. Dryness of the mouth must come from some inflammatory condition present in your alimentary canal.

PHONES FOR VATICAN
Rome.—A telephone company has just completed arrangements for the installation of 800 telephones in the Vatican State. A solid gold instrument is to be made for the Pope, while other high officials will have phones of other precious metals.

HODGES IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF LIONS

Denver, July 15.—Earle W. Hodges of New York City, head of the Department of Public Relations for Henry L. Doherty and the Cities Service Company interests, was this afternoon elected president of the International Association of Lions Clubs, a service organization of more than 2200 clubs and 80,000 members all over the United States and Canada.

Mr. Hodges was first vice president of the Lions in 1929-30, and now succeeds Ray L. Riley, who is comptroller of the State of California.

Farm boy, printer's devil, printing office foreman, newspaper owner and publisher, state printing clerk, deputy State Auditor, Secretary of State of Arkansas, director of public utilities for his state, and finally director of public relations for the great Henry L. Doherty interests—that is Earl W. Hodges, the new president of Lions International. He is one of the best known public speakers in the country, and has visited and delivered addresses many times in every state of the Union.

QUOTATIONS

"We are entering upon a period that will be more wonderful . . . more romantic than any the world has known . . . The romance of tomorrow will not be based upon the false foundations of fancy and fairy-tales."
—Hugh Walpole, English novelist.

"Prohibition can be enforced."
—Andrew McCampbell, federal prohibition administrator in New York.

"Prohibition is not the logical solution for temperance in our form of government."
—Maurice Campbell, former federal prohibition administrator in New York.

"I would rather have all the risks which come with the free discussion of sex than the greater risks we run by a conspiracy of silence."
—Archbishop of Canterbury.

"In our study of history we usually are so intent upon understanding the roles of great military leaders and statesmen that we almost entirely overlook the fact that ### the real molders of the destinies of the race have been its explorers and discoverers.

—Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president National Geographic Society.

"Our life full of sound and fury, signifying nothing."
—Will Durant, author.

Bridge Experts To Play In International Meet

London—(AP)—Arrangements have been completed for the first international bridge contest, between the United States and England, in September.

One of the smartest West End bridge clubs will be used for the competition, and an elaborate round of entertainment between rubbers has been planned for the visiting players.

Final decision on the personnel of the British team has not yet been made.

The American team, Mrs. Ely Cybertson, Theodore Lightner, Baron Von Zedwitz, and George Reith, chairman of the Knickerbocker Whist club of New York, will be chartered at the club where the contest is played.

In 1828 the first edition of Webster's dictionary was published.

A THOUGHT

My son, if sinners entice thee, consent thou not.—Proverbs 1:10.

He that avoideth not small faults, by little and little falleth in to greater.—Thomas A. Kempis.

USELESS

MARY: Going to bed, mother? Aren't you going to sit up and wait for dad?
MOTHER: What's the use? I have such a cold I can hardly speak.—Answers.

Have You Something to Build?

No matter what it may be, how large or how small, we are in the contracting business to serve you and give you a satisfactory job. We will be glad to go over your plans with you anywhere, anytime.

Kornse Brothers
CONTRACTORS
44 Fairview St. Tel. 7139

Wise Smith & Co.

HARTFORD

OPEN ALL DAY SATURDAY From 9 to 6

Warehouse Disposal Sale Of FURNITURE

Down Go the Prices for Saturday!
Spend from $5 to $50 and Save from One-Third to One-Half on Every Purchase!

We are clearing our warehouse of furniture! We are doing it in an extraordinary manner—this you can judge by the tremendous reductions on desirable pieces and suites for the home.

$5 Will Buy

$7.95 Decorated Smoker	.....$5
$6.50 Decorated End Table	.....$5
$6.95 End Table	.....$5
$6.75 Decorated Pier Cabinet	.....$5
$9.75 Arm Chair	.....$5

$10 Will Buy

$16.75 Decorated Smoker	.....$10
$17.50 Decorated End Table	.....$10
$16.75 Magazine Rack	.....$10
$59.00 Table Bed	.....$10
$13.75 Foot Rest	.....$10

$15 Will Buy

$19.95 Telephone Set	.....$15
$18.75 Console Table	.....$15
$19.75 Gate-Leg Table	.....$15
$24.75 Bench	.....$15
$21.75 Tip Top Table	.....$15

$20 Will Buy

$34.75 Library Table	.....$20
$42.50 Buffet	.....$20
$29.75 Four-Post Bed	.....$20
$27.50 Toilet Table	.....$20
$40.00 Curley Birch Dresser	.....$20

$25 Will Buy

$39.75 Mirror	.....$25
$39.75 Phone Cabinet	.....$25
$34.75 Wing Rocker	.....$25
$49.50 Cellarette	.....$25
$34.95 Nest of Tables	.....$25

$30 Will Buy

$39.75 Wall Desk	.....$30
$49.75 Gate-Leg Table	.....$30
$48.00 Enamel Tea Wagon	.....$30
$69.00 Buffet	.....$30
$54.00 Enamel Kitchen Cabinet	.....$30

$35 Will Buy

$59.75 Sewing Cabinet	.....$35
$44.95 Mohair Wing Chair	.....$35
$59.00 China Closet	.....$35
$49.75 Chest	.....$35
$59.75 Chiffonier	.....$35

$40 Will Buy

$59.00 Library Table	.....$40
$59.00 Wing Chair	.....$40
$59.00 Toilet Table—Walnut	.....$40
$69.00 Four-Post Bed	.....$40
$59.75 Secretary Desk	.....$40

$45 Will Buy

$59.00 Spinnet Desk	.....$45
$67.50 Denim Covered Arm Chair	.....$45
$58.00 Highboy	.....$45
$59.75 Dresser	.....$45
$69.00 Dresser	.....$45

$50 Will Buy

$79.00 Chest	.....$50
$75.00 Chest	.....$50
$74.00 Toilet Table	.....$50
$75.00 Davenport Table	.....$50
$69.00 Day-Bed	.....$50

MANUFACTURERS JOIN HERRUP'S

Heartily Supporting Our Movement By Giving Special Price Concessions!

THIS 3-PIECE CURVED FRONT SUITE COVERED WITH HIGH GRADE JACQUARD

A Year Ago This Quality Suite Sold for $150

quality built throughout, of the finest materials; this suite is a value that you must see to fully appreciate. High grade Jacquard all around—spring construction throughout—reversible cushions—all features for quality and style.

$63
$1.00 Weekly

THE VALUE IN THIS SUITE IS ASTOUNDING! 4-PIECE SUITE WITH THE "HOLLYWOOD" VANITY

A Year Ago This Quality Suite Sold for $150.

Consider what a value this suite is at $69. All pieces are full size—well built and beautifully finished. The Bed—Dresser—Chest of Drawers and "Hollywood" Vanity make up this suite—a value that is rare to see.

$69
$1.00 Weekly

Complete 7-Pc. Bedroom Outfit

For a spare bedroom, this value has no equal. The metal Bed, Dresser, Chest of Drawers, Springs, Mattress and pair of Pillows gives you unequalled value at this low price.

$39.75
$1.00 WEEKLY

Colonial Hall Rugs

Size 27x90 inch rag rugs at a very low price. All well made.

Special at ..... $1

Chiffonier

A well made chiffonier in oak finish. Has spacious drawers. Special at Herrup's $5.95

3-Door Refrigerator

Built to high standards for food preserving and ice-saving. Special at Herrup's $14

HERRUP'S HARTFORD
OPEN SATURDAY ALL DAY AND EVENING

At the Corner of Main and Morgan Streets

WOOLING DETECTIVE DOES CLEVER WORK

Makes Love to Swiss Girl and Learns of Plot to Smuggle in Watches.

New York, July 18.—(AP)—How the ardent wooing of a young Swiss maiden by an American Customs agent broke up a million dollar watch smuggling ring was disclosed today by Federal officials.

ANOTHER REPORTER NAMED IN PROBE

Chicago, July 18.—(AP)—The name of another Chicago newspaperman, Ted Tod, crime reporter for the Herald and Examiner, was brought today into the investigation of the Lingle murder.

WAPPING

Mrs. Levi T. Dewey motored to Florence, Mass. last Monday and took Charles Junior Dewey to his home there after spending nearly two weeks of his vacation here.

Overnight A. P. News

New Haven—Richard Dixon, 37, of Bridgeport, suffers fractured hip and several fractured ribs in three-story fall down elevator shaft.

AMERICANS VISIT SITE OF OLD CITY

250 Professors to Trace Wanderings of the Hero of Virgil's Aeneid.

SILVER LANE and HOCKANUM News Notes

A demonstration of work done by the Daily Vacation Bible school will be held at the South Congregational church on Friday evening at 7:30.

BECKETT EXPLAINS ACTIONS IN HOUSE

British M. P. May Be Suspended for Snatching Mace From Speaker.

Queer Twists In Day's News

New York.—The latest wrinkle in hot weather dress reform for men is a combination coat, vest and shirt called a blouse.

ODD FELLOWS OFFICERS INSTALLATION TONIGHT

First Appearance Here of David W. Husband As District Deputy Grand Master.

TOLLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Geisler and son of Worcester, Mass., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Preston Meacham.

BOLTON

Miss Elizabeth White of Colquhoun, Miss Margaret McMahon of New Britain, Joseph Lacy of Hartford, Dr. and Mrs. George Emery, Mrs. Joseph Burningham, Miss Sarah Burham, George Biddle, Mrs. John Long, Mrs. Patrick McGowan, Mrs. Maurice O'Connell, Miss Betty McGowan were recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. McGuire.

HAD TO STOP

BEGGAR: I am hungry. LADY: Then why don't you work? BEGGAR: I tried that but it made me hungrier.—Lustige Kolner Zeitung, Cologne.

HUMAN BONES

Human bones continue to grow until the twenty-fifth year.

ABSOLUTELY KNOCKLESS

a new and improved HI-TEST TYDOL with Ethyl SUB-ZERO KNOCK RATING GASOLINE

TEST IT ON A HILL. TRY IT ON A CURVE. GIVE IT THE GUN IN SAND OR MUD. THROTTLE DOWN IN HIGH AT 3 MILES AN HOUR.

NOT A PING! . . . NOT A KNOCK! . . . AND HERE'S OUR CHALLENGE TO THE WORLD TRY AND MAKE IT KNOCK! Give it a 10-gallon trial. Let this SUB-ZERO Knockless Gasoline tell its own story of sensational quality in your own car.

WHEN YOU NEED MONEY

NO Endorsers or Co-Members. Mortgage of Furniture. Embarrassing Investigations. Hidden Charges. Advance Deductions or Penalties.

Phone 7281, Call or Write Ideal Financing Association, Inc. 255 Main St., Room 2, Park Station, South Manchester, Conn.

SUPER SAVINGS ON THESE SUPER BARGAINS!

Ward Day Special WARD DAY PRICE $1.00 ALARM CLOCK as reliable as it is attractive! Buy while it is so low-priced!	Aluminum Dish Pan WARD DAY PRICE $1.48 Sturdy quality pure aluminum, 14 quart size, on sale in basement.	Ward Day Savings WARD DAY PRICE 19c LISTERINE ANTI-SEPTIC for mouth wash, gargle, healing, soothing, antiseptic. Save!	For the Camper WARD DAY PRICE $2.48 Folding camp cot, reinforced with heavy khaki cover. Buy now.	Window Shades WARD DAY PRICE 79c ea. Size 36 inches by 5 and 6 ft. scalloped with built-in fringe. Formerly priced to $1.48. Your choice while they last.	Big Home Value. WARD DAY PRICE 98c OAK STOOL . . . for kitchen or bathroom. Strongly braced for sturdy service.	Save on Hose! WARD DAY PRICE 39c Men's Silk and Rayon FANCY HOSE made in the smartest patterns. Regular 50c. Sizes 9 1/2 to 11 1/2.	A Great Value 81 Inch Sheetting WARD DAY PRICE 31c Heavy bleached sheeting 81 inches wide, seamless. It is specially priced now.	Ladies' Umbrellas WARD DAY PRICE $1.95 Formerly sold up to $2.98. Made of Gloria Cloth with charming handles and cords.

Greatest of Starts Tomorrow

Tomorrow—550 Montgomery Street—more forcibly than ever before what can secure for you! Our last—this one will command even merchandise at end-of-the-season bargains in Refrigerators—Furnishings—These are but a few of the Come early for YOUR share of NOW!

Store Hours 9:00 A.M. to 9:00 P.M.

Children's Silk CREPE FROCKS

WARD DAY PRICE
$4.95

Cool and cunning styles for the little tot. . . REDUCED ALMOST HALF for Ward Day. . . They are trimmed with shimmering ribbon ruffles that make them even more adorable and more of a bargain than ever! Sizes 2 to 6.

Smart Cinderella WASH FROCKS

WARD DAY PRICE
50c

Mothers! Here's a real opportunity to buy the coolest bargains you've seen in many a day! . . . Made in the popular and becoming Cinderella style in sheer Summer materials. Buy now!

Sizes 2 to 6

Nation-Wide

Saturday Only! A Compelling

Ladies' Bathing Suits Regular $4.98 WARD DAY PRICE $3.19 All wool in season's latest styles. Buy at this great reduced price.	Ahead In Value! WARD DAY PRICE $1.00 MEN'S DRESS CAPS in plain and fancy patterns and attractive weaves. Caps you will be proud to wear anywhere! Buy now!	Household Bargain WARD DAY PRICE $2.98 6 - LB. ELECTRIC IRON with cord. Tip-back stand. Worth one-third more! Buy Now!	Ladies' Hand BAG WARD DAY PRICE 19c Formerly priced to $1.98. Manufacturers samples. Be sure and look these over.	Lovely Pastel Shades Lingerie WARD DAY PRICE 84c STEP-INS—CHEMISE—in Rayon Crepe silk! Dainty models in values up to $1.50. Specially priced.	32 Piece Dinner Sets WARD DAY PRICE $2.98 A DINNER SET that you'll be proud to own. Good quality china for every day service. Outstanding value!

Bargains on Every Hand!

$5.00 DRESSES

WARD DAY PRICE
$2.77

Hundreds of smart frocks . . . styles you can wear late into the Fall as well as all Summer long! . . . Fashionable silk crepe faconne prints, becoming and flattering . . . Large flat flower prints in cool fluttering chiffons and georgettes STYLES FOR EVERY OCCASION! . . . for street . . . for sports . . . for evening wear . . . Styles distinctly in the height of fashion . . . Tomorrow—WARD DAY—THESE DRESSES DROP TO A DRAMATICALLY LOW PRICE . . . Buy while you can get smartness at a price! . . . Be here early for best selections!

Sizes 14 to 46

Big Curtain Value! WARD DAY PRICE $1.00 Pair Scrim or Marquisette. Full size with valance. Very special values to $2.29.	Bargains In Undies! WARD DAY PRICE 98c CHARDON-LIZE—this look! Like glove silk! Easy to tub, lovely to wear! All sizes.	Home Bargain! WARD DAY PRICE 18c Yard CRETONNE—in gay colors! Think of the saving—and buy on Ward Day! 88 inches wide!
--	--	---

Wardway Gyrator

Electric Washer Special

IN THE $155 CLASS!
$69.50

Make play day out of your wash day! Toss the soiled clothes into the swirling swishing suds. See them emerge white and spotless in 5 to 7 minutes.

EXTRA CAPACITY TUB. All copper tub holds heat. It is easy to keep clean. The famous agitator conquers dirt. It's a marvel of efficiency. . . . It's a marvel of low price!

$5.00 Down . . . $1.50 Weekly

Smart HATS

for All Occasions

WARD DAY PRICE
$1.77

Here are dozens and dozens of the most attractive hats you will ever find at a price so low! Felts that you can wear all Summer and Fall . . . Straws that will be cool and smart with your Summer costumes . . . The adorable fabric hats of silks and a few extremely fashionable velvets . . . They won't be here long at this low price . . . So hurry! All head sizes!

7 Tube Screen Grid SERENADER RADIO

WARD DAY PRICE
$75.00

COMPLETE WITH TUBES
Many other Radios in 8 and 9 tube sets reduced 50%. All complete with tubes. See these sets and make your selection while they last.

$7.50 down, $2.00 weekly.

WARD DAY Every One A

Djer-Kiss Talc. Regular 29c can. Ward Day . . . . . 1

Mennen's Borated Baby Talc. Special Ward Day Price . . . . 1

Melba Lovine Cream, large jar. Ward Day Price . . . . . 2

Melba Face Powder, 50c size. Ward Day Price . . . . . 2

Wild Root Shampoo. Special Ward Day Price . . . . . 2

Three Flower Face Powder. Sifter free. Ward Day Price 7

3 PIECE LIVING

Here's a sensational Ward Day chair Suite for this low price! throughout!

Only $9.00

8-Piece Dining Room

A Saving of $30.00

WARD DAY PRICE
$69.00

What a substantial saving! . . . $99.00 value! A lovely Walnut Suite at this AMAZINGLY WARD DAY PRICE! Smartly buffet and table-slip covers on seats!

Only $1.50 Weekly

Another Special!

WARD DAY PRICE
77c

HOUSE FROCKS with style and snap! Crisp wash fabrics made according to the new modes! Come early!

Men—A Bargain!

WARD DAY PRICE
49c

BROADCLOTH SHORTS—in assorted patterns and colors! Elastic at waist. A saving! Buy now.

For the Boys

WARD DAY PRICE
69c

BOYS' SHIRTS in assorted patterns and materials. Stock up now. Buy and save.

For the Traveler!

WARD DAY PRICE
$6.59

TRAVELING BAGS in a sturdy style! Well made, lined. A big saving! Worth $10.00.

Bike Tire Bargain!

WARD DAY PRICE
$1.00

BIKE TIRES built like the best motorcycle tires. Of sturdy fabric and live durable rubber. Heavy tread. BUY!

Cooking Comfort!

WARD DAY PRICE
$1.59

CAMP OVENS Fold in small size, compact. Easily assembled.

Get This Value!

WARD DAY PRICE
67c

IRON SKILLET. An extraordinary value. Good quality. Big saving!

For Your Garden!

WARD DAY PRICE
$3.00

This special includes 50 feet of 5/8-inch red hose complete with nickel-plated brass nozzle, couplings and washers!

Regular $5.00 Values

WARD DAY PRICE
$3.98

EACH FELT BACK WARD-OLEUM. Rug size 3x9. Many patterns to choose from.

Wall Paper

WARD DAY PRICE
20% Off

Our entire stock of non-fading Wall Paper at this reduction. Buy now.

Buy This Today!

WARD DAY PRICE
$1.00

COLONIAL LAMP in the quaint design. As useful as it is attractive. Come and buy it!

Tremendous Value!

WARD DAY PRICE
65c

CEDAR OIL MOPS A real bargain at this price. Buy now.

MANY BARGAINS NOT ADVERTISED IN EVERY DEPT.

MONTGOMERY

824-828 MAIN STREET Store Open Thursday and Saturday Until

SHOP SATURDAY AT THIS BARGAIN THRIFT EVENT!

Great Sale Days
Start at 9:00 A. M.

Our Retail Stores demonstrate more bargains our vast buying power was talked about for days afterwards! Here is fresh, seasonable! Note particularly the exceptional Children's Frocks and Women's Dresses of bargains in every department. tremendous Ward-Day savings! BUY

Big Home Value
WARD DAY PRICE
29c

House broom which formerly sold at 59c on sale while they last at this low price. Basement.

A Money Saving Value
WARD DAY PRICE
92c

White duck Sailor Pants. Formerly $1.19. While they last. Main Floor.

Get This Value!
WARD DAY PRICE
27c

PEBECCO TOOTH PASTE... nationally famous... at Ward's money-saving price. 50c size

Regular 00 Value
WARD DAY PRICE
5c ea.

TABLE FLATWEAR that will give years of ordinary service. Get a supply on Ward Day!

A Great Bargain!
WARD DAY PRICE
25c

GALVANIZED PAIL of standard quality. 10-quart size. Real value. Buy now!

Window Awnings
WARD DAY PRICE
95c

Made of heavy green and orange duck in style as shown. Complete with fittings.

Boys' Knickers
WARD DAY PRICE
$1.00

You'll like this value in Boys' Wool Knickers. Get your share of this item.

Washable Prints
WARD DAY PRICE
22c yd.

In season's latest patterns and colors. A remarkable value at this price.

A Summer Bargain
WARD DAY PRICE
69c

CAMP STOOL that folds. Strong wood frame. Striped cover. A real bargain for Ward Day!

WARD DAY!

Bargain Event in 550 Stores!

Value!
Posiery
WARD DAY PRICE
1.00
KIOSK... formerly sold for $1.50 value!

Steel Coaster Wagons
WARD DAY PRICE
$3.49
Just the buy for the youngsters.

Fancy Turkish Towels
WARD DAY PRICE
15c
Large size plaid towels which formerly sold for much more. Main Floor.

This Complete Set!
WARD DAY PRICE
$1.48
CROQUET SET complete with mallets, balls, and arches. You'll seldom find a bargain like this! Get your set now—enjoy it all summer long!

Fruit of Loom
WARD DAY PRICE
39c
BOYS' WASH SUITS reduced so you may buy a large supply. Sizes 2 to 8. Gay colors.

Summer Special!
WARD DAY PRICE
59c
BOYS' SUN SUITS... so cool and healthful. Sizes 2 to 8. Attractive styles and colors.

72x90 Seamless Sheets
WARD DAY PRICE
75c
Made of good quality white sheeting. A rare value at this price. Main Floor.

WILET SPECIALS
Money-Saving Item!
Milk of Magnesia, large bottle. Ward Day Price 29c
Bay Rum Lotion, Special Ward Day Price 22c
Monette Sanitary Napkins, Special, Ward Day Price, box 21c
New Gillette Blades, Special Ward Day Price, package of 5 blades 37c
Hospital Cotton, Special Ward Day Price, 1 lb. 43c
Solid Steel Shears, Special Ward Day 32c

CLEARANCE OF Electric FANS
ELECTRIC FAN—6-inch, non-oscillating. Cord and plug. Buy NOW at $2.50
8-INCH ELECTRIC FAN—Non-oscillating. Keep cool at very low cost! Only $5.50
10-INCH ELECTRIC FAN—Oscillating. Two-speed, stop control switch. Buy at $6.25

Day Bed Special!
WARD DAY PRICE
$17.75
Here's an outstanding value in a fine Day Bed—with medallion decorated steel cane panels; finished in baked-on ungrained walnut enamel finish.
Great Value! Metal Bed WARD DAY PRICE $6.95
A nationally famous quality bed, with baked-on enamel finish. Has noiseless rolling casters. Special bargain!
Special Mattress
Extra finely made mattress, 55 lbs. in weight; four rows of stitching. Covered with good quality drill ticking.
WARD DAY PRICE $8.50

3-PIECE BED ROOM SUITE
Your choice of arm chair or button back cushions—resilient spring construction—$2.00 Weekly
3-Piece Bed Room Suite
A Regular $89.00 Value
WARD DAY PRICE
$59.00
Thrifty home-makers will want this outstanding saving! A real FURNITURE BUY! New styled bed—dresser—chiffoniere in lovely Walnut veneer. See it Ward Day—and you'll buy it!

Occasional CHAIRS
WARD DAY PRICE
$6.95
These charming chairs are colorful embossed velour backs. Seats in black, red or green velvet. Buy Ward Day. Furniture Dept. Second Floor.

9x12 Axminster Rugs
WARD DAY PRICE
$32.50
Get one of these especially reduced Axminster Rugs today. There's a variety of pleasing pattern and color combinations. You'll seldom find them marked so low!

A Paint Bargain!
WARD DAY PRICE
$2.19
per gallon
COVERALL PAINT—famous for coverage and quality! Buy now. Colors only!

Big Paint Value!
WARD DAY PRICE
$3.19
per gallon
MASTER PAINTER'S PAINT—guaranteed to satisfy! 100% pure paint. 13 colors.

Thrift For Painters
WARD DAY PRICE
67c
PAINT BRUSH made of pure black Chinese bristles set in bakelite. Brush four inches wide. Fine value!

Handy Kitchen CABINETS
FOR WARD DAY ONLY
$18.75 each
Ward-bilt to insure sturdy construction, painted in green enamel. You must inspect this item to appreciate its value. Furniture Dept., Second Floor.

Friday and Saturday Only
RIVERSIDE TIRES and TUBES
Lowest Prices in Nineteen Years!
Riversides give you savings on low cost, plus Performance in mileage and skid-proof safety. TIRES PUT ON FREE! Buy a set now—sold on EASY TERMS
NEW LOW PRICES
4 PLY BALLOONS
30x3 1/2 CL, O. S. .... $4.98
31x4 ..... $8.65
29x4.40 ..... $5.55
30x4.50 ..... $6.35
29x5.00 ..... $8.00
31x5.00 ..... $8.45
31x5.25 ..... $9.75
Other sizes proportionately low in price. All sizes tubes.

Men's Work Values
WARD DAY PRICE
$1.29
OVERALLS made of sturdy blue denim and strongly reinforced. A real work value you men must buy. All sizes.

Heavy Work Trousers
WARD DAY PRICE
$1.89
By Now

Clothing Value!
WARD DAY PRICE
$4.95
DRESS TROUSERS in a smart wool weaves and patterns! Buy several pairs while this low Ward Day price prevails!

Men's Neckwear!
WARD DAY PRICE
79c
MEN'S NECKTIES made of silk in attractive, colorful print and monotone patterns. Come early for best selection!

A Super Special
WARD DAY PRICE
$1.59
UNFINISHED CHAIR—all ready to paint. Regular $2.15 value! Strong and sturdy!

End Table Special!
WARD DAY PRICE
$1.59
END TABLE of excellent design and finish. Answers many needs. Low-priced! Regular $2.98.

See This Special
WARD DAY PRICE
89c
Lunch box with vacuum bottle. Sturdy construction. A real bargain men.

36 inch Bleached Muslin
WARD DAY PRICE
10c yd.
Fine heavy white muslin for many household uses. Domestic Dept., Main Floor.

Baby Swings
WARD DAY PRICE
92c
The little tot will enjoy this swing. Complete with spring hanger.

Exceptional Value!
WARD DAY PRICE
$1.39
MEN'S DRESS SHIRTS. Collars attached, and neckband style. Fine quality. Regular $2.19.

Velour Pillows
WARD DAY PRICE
$1.75
Velour covering front and back, smartly decorated. High in value. Second Floor.

Exceptional Saving
WARD DAY PRICE
89c pr.
Ball bearing Roller Skates complete with straps and key while they last.

WARD & Co.

1306 SOUTH MANCHESTER
Closed Wednesday at noon during the summer months.

MENT... USE THE BUDGET PLAN OF EASY PAYMENTS!

DANCING JUDITH

By CORALIE STANTON and HEATH HOSKEN
COPYRIGHT 1930 BY CHELSEA HOUSE.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Judith Grant, artist's model, loves Alan Steyne, painter, who is also loved by Chummy Morley. Judith's best friend, Chummy had loved Steyne years ago and had lost her memory when he went away; so, although Steyne loves Judith, Judith insists it is his duty to marry Chummy, who regards her as a staid dancing partner. Judith, however, rejects the offer of the rich Bruce Gideon—whom Steyne distrusts—to star her in a musical show, and appears in a show backed by Richard Wyon, who is secretly acting as Gideon's agent. She makes a sensational hit and becomes famous. Chummy sees her in Steyne's arms and breaks her engagement. Steyne begs Judith to marry him, but she insists it is his duty to marry Chummy and tells him she does not want to see him again. She meets Chummy, who tells her Steyne is about to go abroad to study.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXXII

"I don't think Alan would ever be idle, Judy," Chummy said. "He's always worked, ever since I knew him. I believe he's thinking of investing some money in an oil concern out there."

"Will he stay out there for good?" Judy asked.

"He may."

"We shall all be scattered," Judy murmured as she could not keep her utter regret out of her voice.

"Oh, Chummy, and once we were so happy!"

"We shall be happy again," her friend replied. "Judy, you ought to be happy with your wonderful life before you start to see him."

"I am, in a way," Judy answered; "but I want you to be happy, Chummy. I want you and Alan."

"Please, Judy!" interrupted the other girl sharply. "It would mean rather you didn't talk about that."

"And Judy, looking into the golden-brown eyes staring with a kind of dull anger, knew that she was in danger of losing her friend. Hard though she tried, Chummy could not feel the same toward her now as she knew. She thought, perhaps, that Judy was playing a part. She might even imagine that Judy had been on this point in order to torture them both.

So Judy had to be quiet, content almost of impotence by the friend whom she loved so dearly. She had an added feeling of foolishness because, in her confusion of mind, she had tried to run Alan down by pretending that he was a loafer, and did not honor the work she had on the brain to cope with such a situation.

That was one reason for avoiding Chummy. Judy felt sure that she would put her foot in it," as she expressed it.

But before they parted that day her feelings overcame her, and she looked at her friend wistfully.

"Chummy, Bastien has asked me to come to the dance at the Lemon Grove on Friday. Will you be there?"

"I hadn't thought of going," the elder girl said.

"Oh, but you love dancing! And I shall be gone soon, and all the boys will be there. It would seem like old times. Do come, won't you, Chummy dear?"

Her pleading face was irresistible. Chummy's beautiful low voice broke, as she answered:

"Of course I'll come, Judy dear."

On the day before the dance Bastien called at Judy's lodgings to ask her to dine with him. He was aflame with the thought she was going to be there as his guest. No longer did she seem so far away from him. He had made her the companion of his dreams ever since their last meeting in view of this eventuality.

He had occasion to go round the corner to a tobacconist's shop and then to a tailor's, where he was having some clothes repaired. It was about eight minutes later, on their way home, when he passed Judy's house again on his way back home. Just then the door opened and Gideon's bulky form came out. He was smiling to himself in a way that made Bastien see red.

Judy had been at home, then, all the time!

He followed the financier, and saw him enter his big car, which was waiting in a side street parallel with Judy's lodgings.

The next morning Bastien received a nice little note in Judy's sprawling hand. She could not dine with him, she said, as she had had another engagement, which she could not put off, but she would be waiting for him at her lodgings at nine o'clock.

That day he happened to meet an old acquaintance—Guy Towers, a theatrical critic, who had lately made rather a hit with a first play, a clever social satire. On the strength of it Towers had a little spare cash. Dumont, too, was not so impecunious as of old; so the two of them decided to lunch at Romano's.

At a table in the far corner sat Bruce Gideon with four other men, one of whom was Richard Wyon. Dumont sent many scowls in their direction, but did not say anything. It was his companion who mentioned the financier's name.

"There's Bruce Gideon—do you know him? Enormously rich chap. He's just brought out this wonderful new dancer, Judy Grant. Marvelous little person. I must say—and lucky!"

"Why lucky?" asked Dumont, controlling his voice as best he could.

"Judy Grant was lucky," continued Towers, "because she's got Gideon to take her up. That's his main business, Dicky Wyon—the funny little fellow with a face like an old woman."

"Do you mean the man who owns the Monopole?" asked Dumont carelessly.

"Well, he's supposed to own it, but it's a well-known fact that Gideon has more to do with it. He uses it as a jumping-off place for his pet girls. Of course, all of 'em aren't so clever as little Miss Grant."

"What do you mean?" asked Dumont in a very quiet voice. "Wyon brought Miss Grant on. It was purely a business proposition."

"Tell that to the marines, my boy! That's the story for the papers. Dicky Wyon is simply there to run anybody Gideon chooses. Don't suppose he's got a penny for the whole affair. He was a lawyer's clerk self with not many years ago. Every living soul in the theatrical world knows that. The little girl has evidently taken the great man's fancy."

He stopped suddenly, quailing before the look in Dumont's eyes. Towers was an inoffensive person, retelling what was to him harmless gossip.

"What's the matter?" he asked.

"Miss Grant is a very old friend of mine," said Dumont.

"Oh, sorry I spoke! No harm intended." Towers felt rather bound to justify himself. "One only knows that one hears, and everybody says that's the way the wind lies. They're always together."

Dumont gave unmistakable evidence that he did not wish the subject pursued.

They ate their meal, discussing all manner of things. Towers noticed that Dumont drank most of the bottle of wine. He was a very abstemious person himself, and did not care, but he also noticed that his companion drank three liqueur brandies to his one, and did not smoke his cigar in the leisurely manner of a man at peace with the world.

Guy Towers, the easy-going, good-natured gossip, the frequenter of club and restaurant, little knew what a storm he had aroused in his companion's breast. He had said what others said—that was all. It was common knowledge that Judy Grant was being "run" by Bruce Gideon—that she was Gideon's property, as some rather crudely put it.

When the two men had finished lunch and parted, Towers strolled down the avenue, eminently pleased with himself and with the world in general, and quite unconscious of the fact that he had disturbed the course of several lives.

Dumont, meanwhile, went into the exclusive clubs after the other. At each one he drank with several men. At one of them he came across Richard Wyon's business manager, who, as it happened, had also lunched well, and was not averse to further things managed by fate, and man cannot control them.

Dumont talked to Wyon's business manager for half an hour. When he went out into the calm of the late afternoon, it by a pale winter sun low in the western sky. His hand was on fire. The sky seemed plastered with the name of Judy Grant. She seemed to dance in front of him like a red flame. Everything was red.

Dumont walked for about an hour. At the end of it he found himself on Park Avenue. He had come there against his will. He knew where Gideon's apartment was. He had walked past it many a time with despair in his heart. He did not know what he was doing there now, except that he had come to spy.

He walked up and down, up and down, in the darkness. It was after six o'clock now, and bitterly cold. The street was not very brilliantly lighted, and wayfarers were few. Then suddenly he grew stiff, as a little form came out of the door of Gideon's building. It was unmistakably Judy, wearing her little gray coat with the black collar, and a little fur cap on her head, with a bunch of violets on one side—violets not so dark a purple as her eyes.

Dumont could not move. He had not really expected her to come out of this house—the shameful house. He was paralyzed. He saw her hail a passing taxi and jump in.

He rode back to his studio and dressed himself with great care. This was a gala night at the Lemon Grove.

Judy was ready for Bastien punctually at nine o'clock. She wore a frock of bright-green tulle, with a broad sash and little sleeves of silver lace. Her shoes and stockings were silver, and there was a wreath of silver leaves in her red-gold hair. She looked like a fairy. She was still very thin, but she had lost the dragged look of fatigue and of unnatural excitement. The rest was doing her a world of good.

She teased Bastien about being so quiet as they walked to the Lemon Grove. Judy was snug in her fur coat. A rather crude and yet elusive perfume reached the young artist's nostrils as she tripped close by his side and linked her arms in his.

"Chummy has promised to come, Bastien. Clara will be there, and all the boys. It will be like the dear old times!"

"The dear old times!" repeated Dumont mechanically.

"Bastien, your voice sounds like a funeral! Aren't you well? Buck up, old boy! You wanted me to come."

They reached the dancing hall.

It was, indeed a gala night. From the roof the lights hung in lemon-colored Chinese lanterns that cast a glow like moonlight on the dancers. The stiff lemon trees painted on the walls had been touched up, and their tubs made scarlet. The woodwork around the doors was bright, and all the beams were room an even more dazzling color scheme had been devised, as the members said, "to make you forget what you're eating and drinking."

The place was crowded. They saw everybody they knew. Chummy was with Michael Stone, Clara Jenks with Tony Leigh. Clara was very smartly dressed and prosperous at the moment; but her snub face lit up with the old adoration at the sight of Bastien, and Judy made him go and dance with her at once.

It was not until half an hour later that he found Judy again. Without a word he put his arm around her waist as the orchestra struck up, and they danced the waltz of a fox trot without speaking. Judy and Bastien could make a fox trot into a thing of beauty.

When it was over, she drew a deep breath.

"I dance better than any man in the world, Bastien!"

"They danced several more dances, always in silence. At last Judy exclaimed:

"I say, Bastien, I'm fond of dancing, but I did want a little chat!"

"Miss Grant is a very old friend of mine," he said.

"Oh, sorry I spoke! No harm intended." Towers felt rather bound to justify himself. "One only knows that one hears, and everybody says that's the way the wind lies. They're always together."

Dumont gave unmistakable evidence that he did not wish the subject pursued.

They ate their meal, discussing all manner of things. Towers noticed that Dumont drank most of the bottle of wine. He was a very abstemious person himself, and did not care, but he also noticed that his companion drank three liqueur brandies to his one, and did not smoke his cigar in the leisurely manner of a man at peace with the world.

Guy Towers, the easy-going, good-natured gossip, the frequenter of club and restaurant, little knew what a storm he had aroused in his companion's breast. He had said what others said—that was all. It was common knowledge that Judy Grant was being "run" by Bruce Gideon—that she was Gideon's property, as some rather crudely put it.

When the two men had finished lunch and parted, Towers strolled down the avenue, eminently pleased with himself and with the world in general, and quite unconscious of the fact that he had disturbed the course of several lives.

Dumont, meanwhile, went into the exclusive clubs after the other. At each one he drank with several men. At one of them he came across Richard Wyon's business manager, who, as it happened, had also lunched well, and was not averse to further things managed by fate, and man cannot control them.

Dumont talked to Wyon's business manager for half an hour. When he went out into the calm of the late afternoon, it by a pale winter sun low in the western sky. His hand was on fire. The sky seemed plastered with the name of Judy Grant. She seemed to dance in front of him like a red flame. Everything was red.

Dumont walked for about an hour. At the end of it he found himself on Park Avenue. He had come there against his will. He knew where Gideon's apartment was. He had walked past it many a time with despair in his heart. He did not know what he was doing there now, except that he had come to spy.

He walked up and down, up and down, in the darkness. It was after six o'clock now, and bitterly cold. The street was not very brilliantly lighted, and wayfarers were few. Then suddenly he grew stiff, as a little form came out of the door of Gideon's building. It was unmistakably Judy, wearing her little gray coat with the black collar, and a little fur cap on her head, with a bunch of violets on one side—violets not so dark a purple as her eyes.

Dumont could not move. He had not really expected her to come out of this house—the shameful house. He was paralyzed. He saw her hail a passing taxi and jump in.

He rode back to his studio and dressed himself with great care. This was a gala night at the Lemon Grove.

Judy was ready for Bastien punctually at nine o'clock. She wore a frock of bright-green tulle, with a broad sash and little sleeves of silver lace. Her shoes and stockings were silver, and there was a wreath of silver leaves in her red-gold hair. She looked like a fairy. She was still very thin, but she had lost the dragged look of fatigue and of unnatural excitement. The rest was doing her a world of good.

She teased Bastien about being so quiet as they walked to the Lemon Grove. Judy was snug in her fur coat. A rather crude and yet elusive perfume reached the young artist's nostrils as she tripped close by his side and linked her arms in his.

"Chummy has promised to come, Bastien. Clara will be there, and all the boys. It will be like the dear old times!"

"The dear old times!" repeated Dumont mechanically.

"Bastien, your voice sounds like a funeral! Aren't you well? Buck up, old boy! You wanted me to come."

They reached the dancing hall.

It was, indeed a gala night. From the roof the lights hung in lemon-colored Chinese lanterns that cast a glow like moonlight on the dancers. The stiff lemon trees painted on the walls had been touched up, and their tubs made scarlet. The woodwork around the doors was bright, and all the beams were room an even more dazzling color scheme had been devised, as the members said, "to make you forget what you're eating and drinking."

The place was crowded. They saw everybody they knew. Chummy was with Michael Stone, Clara Jenks with Tony Leigh. Clara was very smartly dressed and prosperous at the moment; but her snub face lit up with the old adoration at the sight of Bastien, and Judy made him go and dance with her at once.

It was not until half an hour later that he found Judy again. Without a word he put his arm around her waist as the orchestra struck up, and they danced the waltz of a fox trot without speaking. Judy and Bastien could make a fox trot into a thing of beauty.

When it was over, she drew a deep breath.

"I dance better than any man in the world, Bastien!"

"They danced several more dances, always in silence. At last Judy exclaimed:

"I say, Bastien, I'm fond of dancing, but I did want a little chat!"

"Miss Grant is a very old friend of mine," he said.

"Oh, sorry I spoke! No harm intended." Towers felt rather bound to justify himself. "One only knows that one hears, and everybody says that's the way the wind lies. They're always together."

Dumont gave unmistakable evidence that he did not wish the subject pursued.

They ate their meal, discussing all manner of things. Towers noticed that Dumont drank most of the bottle of wine. He was a very abstemious person himself, and did not care, but he also noticed that his companion drank three liqueur brandies to his one, and did not smoke his cigar in the leisurely manner of a man at peace with the world.

Guy Towers, the easy-going, good-natured gossip, the frequenter of club and restaurant, little knew what a storm he had aroused in his companion's breast. He had said what others said—that was all. It was common knowledge that Judy Grant was being "run" by Bruce Gideon—that she was Gideon's property, as some rather crudely put it.

When the two men had finished lunch and parted, Towers strolled down the avenue, eminently pleased with himself and with the world in general, and quite unconscious of the fact that he had disturbed the course of several lives.

Dumont, meanwhile, went into the exclusive clubs after the other. At each one he drank with several men. At one of them he came across Richard Wyon's business manager, who, as it happened, had also lunched well, and was not averse to further things managed by fate, and man cannot control them.

Dumont talked to Wyon's business manager for half an hour. When he went out into the calm of the late afternoon, it by a pale winter sun low in the western sky. His hand was on fire. The sky seemed plastered with the name of Judy Grant. She seemed to dance in front of him like a red flame. Everything was red.

Dumont walked for about an hour. At the end of it he found himself on Park Avenue. He had come there against his will. He knew where Gideon's apartment was. He had walked past it many a time with despair in his heart. He did not know what he was doing there now, except that he had come to spy.

He walked up and down, up and down, in the darkness. It was after six o'clock now, and bitterly cold. The street was not very brilliantly lighted, and wayfarers were few. Then suddenly he grew stiff, as a little form came out of the door of Gideon's building. It was unmistakably Judy, wearing her little gray coat with the black collar, and a little fur cap on her head, with a bunch of violets on one side—violets not so dark a purple as her eyes.

Dumont could not move. He had not really expected her to come out of this house—the shameful house. He was paralyzed. He saw her hail a passing taxi and jump in.

He rode back to his studio and dressed himself with great care. This was a gala night at the Lemon Grove.

Judy was ready for Bastien punctually at nine o'clock. She wore a frock of bright-green tulle, with a broad sash and little sleeves of silver lace. Her shoes and stockings were silver, and there was a wreath of silver leaves in her red-gold hair. She looked like a fairy. She was still very thin, but she had lost the dragged look of fatigue and of unnatural excitement. The rest was doing her a world of good.

She teased Bastien about being so quiet as they walked to the Lemon Grove. Judy was snug in her fur coat. A rather crude and yet elusive perfume reached the young artist's nostrils as she tripped close by his side and linked her arms in his.

"Chummy has promised to come, Bastien. Clara will be there, and all the boys. It will be like the dear old times!"

"The dear old times!" repeated Dumont mechanically.

"Bastien, your voice sounds like a funeral! Aren't you well? Buck up, old boy! You wanted me to come."

They reached the dancing hall.

It was, indeed a gala night. From the roof the lights hung in lemon-colored Chinese lanterns that cast a glow like moonlight on the dancers. The stiff lemon trees painted on the walls had been touched up, and their tubs made scarlet. The woodwork around the doors was bright, and all the beams were room an even more dazzling color scheme had been devised, as the members said, "to make you forget what you're eating and drinking."

The place was crowded. They saw everybody they knew. Chummy was with Michael Stone, Clara Jenks with Tony Leigh. Clara was very smartly dressed and prosperous at the moment; but her snub face lit up with the old adoration at the sight of Bastien, and Judy made him go and dance with her at once.

It was not until half an hour later that he found Judy again. Without a word he put his arm around her waist as the orchestra struck up, and they danced the waltz of a fox trot without speaking. Judy and Bastien could make a fox trot into a thing of beauty.

When it was over, she drew a deep breath.

"I dance better than any man in the world, Bastien!"

"They danced several more dances, always in silence. At last Judy exclaimed:

"I say, Bastien, I'm fond of dancing, but I did want a little chat!"

"Miss Grant is a very old friend of mine," he said.

"Oh, sorry I spoke! No harm intended." Towers felt rather bound to justify himself. "One only knows that one hears, and everybody says that's the way the wind lies. They're always together."

Dumont gave unmistakable evidence that he did not wish the subject pursued.

They ate their meal, discussing all manner of things. Towers noticed that Dumont drank most of the bottle of wine. He was a very abstemious person himself, and did not care, but he also noticed that his companion drank three liqueur brandies to his one, and did not smoke his cigar in the leisurely manner of a man at peace with the world.

Guy Towers, the easy-going, good-natured gossip, the frequenter of club and restaurant, little knew what a storm he had aroused in his companion's breast. He had said what others said—that was all. It was common knowledge that Judy Grant was being "run" by Bruce Gideon—that she was Gideon's property, as some rather crudely put it.

When the two men had finished lunch and parted, Towers strolled down the avenue, eminently pleased with himself and with the world in general, and quite unconscious of the fact that he had disturbed the course of several lives.

Dumont, meanwhile, went into the exclusive clubs after the other. At each one he drank with several men. At one of them he came across Richard Wyon's business manager, who, as it happened, had also lunched well, and was not averse to further things managed by fate, and man cannot control them.

Dumont talked to Wyon's business manager for half an hour. When he went out into the calm of the late afternoon, it by a pale winter sun low in the western sky. His hand was on fire. The sky seemed plastered with the name of Judy Grant. She seemed to dance in front of him like a red flame. Everything was red.

Dumont walked for about an hour. At the end of it he found himself on Park Avenue. He had come there against his will. He knew where Gideon's apartment was. He had walked past it many a time with despair in his heart. He did not know what he was doing there now, except that he had come to spy.

He walked up and down, up and down, in the darkness. It was after six o'clock now, and bitterly cold. The street was not very brilliantly lighted, and wayfarers were few. Then suddenly he grew stiff, as a little form came out of the door of Gideon's building. It was unmistakably Judy, wearing her little gray coat with the black collar, and a little fur cap on her head, with a bunch of violets on one side—violets not so dark a purple as her eyes.

Dumont could not move. He had not really expected her to come out of this house—the shameful house. He was paralyzed. He saw her hail a passing taxi and jump in.

He rode back to his studio and dressed himself with great care. This was a gala night at the Lemon Grove.

Judy was ready for Bastien punctually at nine o'clock. She wore a frock of bright-green tulle, with a broad sash and little sleeves of silver lace. Her shoes and stockings were silver, and there was a wreath of silver leaves in her red-gold hair. She looked like a fairy. She was still very thin, but she had lost the dragged look of fatigue and of unnatural excitement. The rest was doing her a world of good.

She teased Bastien about being so quiet as they walked to the Lemon Grove. Judy was snug in her fur coat. A rather crude and yet elusive perfume reached the young artist's nostrils as she tripped close by his side and linked her arms in his.

"Chummy has promised to come, Bastien. Clara will be there, and all the boys. It will be like the dear old times!"

"The dear old times!" repeated Dumont mechanically.

"Bastien, your voice sounds like a funeral! Aren't you well? Buck up, old boy! You wanted me to come."

They reached the dancing hall.

It was, indeed a gala night. From the roof the lights hung in lemon-colored Chinese lanterns that cast a glow like moonlight on the dancers. The stiff lemon trees painted on the walls had been touched up, and their tubs made scarlet. The woodwork around the doors was bright, and all the beams were room an even more dazzling color scheme had been devised, as the members said, "to make you forget what you're eating and drinking."

The place was crowded. They saw everybody they knew. Chummy was with Michael Stone, Clara Jenks with Tony Leigh. Clara was very smartly dressed and prosperous at the moment; but her snub face lit up with the old adoration at the sight of Bastien, and Judy made him go and dance with her at once.

It was not until half an hour later that he found Judy again. Without a word he put his arm around her waist as the orchestra struck up, and they danced the waltz of a fox trot without speaking. Judy and Bastien could make a fox trot into a thing of beauty.

When it was over, she drew a deep breath.

"I dance better than any man in the world, Bastien!"

"They danced several more dances, always in silence. At last Judy exclaimed:

"I say, Bastien, I'm fond of dancing, but I did want a little chat!"

"Miss Grant is a very old friend of mine," he said.

"Oh, sorry I spoke! No harm intended." Towers felt rather bound to justify himself. "One only knows that one hears, and everybody says that's the way the wind lies. They're always together."

Dumont gave unmistakable evidence that he did not wish the subject pursued.

They ate their meal, discussing all manner of things. Towers noticed that Dumont drank most of the bottle of wine. He was a very abstemious person himself, and did not care, but he also noticed that his companion drank three liqueur brandies to his one, and did not smoke his cigar in the leisurely manner of a man at peace with the world.

Guy Towers, the easy-going, good-natured gossip, the frequenter of club and restaurant, little knew what a storm he had aroused in his companion's breast. He had said what others said—that was all. It was common knowledge that Judy Grant was being "run" by Bruce Gideon—that she was Gideon's property, as some rather crudely put it.

When the two men had finished lunch and parted, Towers strolled down the avenue, eminently pleased with himself and with the world in general, and quite unconscious of the fact that he had disturbed the course of several lives.

Dumont, meanwhile, went into the exclusive clubs after the other. At each one he drank with several men. At one of them he came across Richard Wyon's business manager, who, as it happened, had also lunched well, and was not averse to further things managed by fate, and man cannot control them.

Dumont talked to Wyon's business manager for half an hour. When he went out into the calm of the late afternoon, it by a pale winter sun low in the western sky. His hand was on fire. The sky seemed plastered with the name of Judy Grant. She seemed to dance in front of him like a red flame. Everything was red.

Dumont walked for about an hour. At the end of it he found himself on Park Avenue. He had come there against his will. He knew where Gideon's apartment was. He had walked past it many a time with despair in his heart. He did not know what he was doing there now, except that he had come to spy.

He walked up and down, up and down, in the darkness. It was after six o'clock now, and bitterly cold. The street was not very brilliantly lighted, and wayfarers were few. Then suddenly he grew stiff, as a little form came out of the door of Gideon's building. It was unmistakably Judy, wearing her little gray coat with the black collar, and a little fur cap on her head, with a bunch of violets on one side—violets not so dark a purple as her eyes.

Dumont could not move. He had not really expected her to come out of this house—the shameful house. He was paralyzed. He saw her hail a passing taxi and jump in.

He rode back to his studio and dressed himself with great care. This was a gala night at the Lemon Grove.

Judy was ready for Bastien punctually at nine o'clock. She wore a frock of bright-green tulle, with a broad sash and little sleeves of silver lace. Her shoes and stockings were silver, and there was a wreath of silver leaves in her red-gold hair. She looked like a fairy. She was still very thin, but she had lost the dragged look of fatigue and of unnatural excitement. The rest was doing her a world of good.

She teased Bastien about being so quiet as they walked to the Lemon Grove. Judy was snug in her fur coat. A rather crude and yet elusive perfume reached the young artist's nostrils as she tripped close by his side and linked her arms in his.

"Chummy has promised to come, Bastien. Clara will be there, and all the boys. It will be like the dear old times!"

"The dear old times!" repeated Dumont mechanically.

"Bastien, your voice sounds like a funeral! Aren't you well? Buck up, old boy! You wanted me to come."

They reached the dancing hall.

It was, indeed a gala night. From the roof the lights hung in lemon-colored Chinese lanterns that cast a glow like moonlight on the dancers. The stiff lemon trees painted on the walls had been touched up, and their tubs made scarlet. The woodwork around the doors was bright, and all the beams were room an even more dazzling color scheme had been devised, as the members said, "to make you forget what you're eating and drinking."

The place was crowded. They saw everybody they knew. Chummy was with Michael Stone, Clara Jenks with Tony Leigh. Clara was very smartly dressed and prosperous at the moment; but her snub face lit up with the old adoration at the sight of Bastien, and Judy made him go and dance with her at once.

It was not until half an hour later that he found Judy again. Without a word he put his arm around her waist as the orchestra struck up, and they danced the waltz of a fox trot without speaking. Judy and Bastien could make a fox trot into a thing of beauty.

When it was over, she drew a deep breath.

"I dance better than any man in the world, Bastien!"

"They danced several more dances, always in silence. At last Judy exclaimed:

"I say, Bastien, I'm fond of dancing, but I did want a little chat!"

"Miss Grant is a very old friend of mine," he said.

"Oh, sorry I spoke! No harm intended." Towers felt rather bound to justify himself. "One only knows that one hears, and everybody says that's the way the wind lies. They're always together."

Dumont gave unmistakable evidence that he did not wish the subject pursued.

They ate their meal, discussing all manner of things. Towers noticed that Dumont drank most of the bottle of wine. He was a very abstemious person himself, and did not care, but he also noticed that his companion drank three liqueur brandies to his one, and did not smoke his cigar in the leisurely manner of a man at peace with the world.

U. S. Gold Star Mothers Win Hearts In Europe

The American Gold Star mothers have aroused widespread admiration while on their pilgrimage to their sons' graves in France. Each group, while in Paris, pays homage at the Tomb of France's Unknown Soldier. Here you see a typical group of Gold Star mothers placing wreaths on the tomb.

By MINNOTT SAUNDERS.

Paris.—"Don't quote me, but the Gold Star mothers are the finest visitors that have come to France from America since the boys came themselves."

This from a hard-boiled Yankee workman in an American military cemetery, but I did want a little chat! I was with Michael Stone, Clara Jenks with Tony Leigh. Clara was very smartly dressed and prosperous at the moment; but her snub face lit up with the old adoration at the sight of Bastien, and Judy made him go and dance with her at once.

It was not until half an hour later that he found Judy again. Without a word he put his arm around her waist as the orchestra struck up, and they danced the waltz of a fox trot without speaking. Judy and Bastien could make a fox trot into a thing of beauty.

When it was over, she drew a deep breath.

"I dance better than any man in the world, Bastien!"

"They danced several more dances, always in silence. At last Judy exclaimed:

"I say, Bastien, I'm fond of dancing, but I did want a little chat!"

"Miss Grant is a very old friend of mine," he said.

"Oh, sorry I spoke! No harm intended." Towers felt rather bound to justify himself. "One only knows that one hears, and everybody says that's the way the wind lies. They're always together."

Dumont gave unmistakable evidence that he did not wish the subject pursued.

They ate their meal, discussing all manner of things. Towers noticed that Dumont drank most of the bottle of wine. He was a very abstemious person himself, and did not care, but he also noticed that his companion drank three liqueur brandies to his one, and did not smoke his cigar in the leisurely manner of a man at peace with the world.

Guy Towers, the easy-going, good-natured gossip, the frequenter of club and restaurant, little knew what a storm he had aroused in his companion's breast. He had said what others said—that was all. It was common knowledge that Judy Grant was being "run" by Bruce Gideon—that she was Gideon's property, as some rather crudely put it.

When the two men had finished lunch and parted, Towers strolled down the avenue, eminently pleased with himself and with the world in general, and quite unconscious of the fact that he had disturbed the course of several lives.

Dumont, meanwhile, went into the exclusive clubs after the other. At each one he drank with several men. At one of them he came across Richard Wyon's business manager, who, as it happened, had also lunched well, and was not averse to further things managed by fate, and man cannot control them.

Dumont talked to Wyon's business manager for half an hour. When he went out into the calm of the late afternoon, it by a pale winter sun low in the western sky. His hand was on fire. The sky seemed plastered with the name of Judy Grant. She seemed to dance in front of him like a red flame. Everything was red.

Dumont walked for about an hour. At the end of it he found himself on Park Avenue. He had come there against his will. He knew where Gideon's apartment was. He had walked past it many a time with despair in his heart. He did not know what he was doing there now, except that he had come to spy.

He walked up and down, up and down, in the darkness. It was after six o'clock now, and bitterly cold. The street was not very brilliantly lighted, and wayfarers were few. Then suddenly he grew stiff, as a little form came out of the door of Gideon's building. It was unmistakably Judy, wearing her little gray coat with the black collar, and a little fur cap on her head, with a bunch of violets on one side—violets not so dark a purple as her eyes.

Dumont could not move. He had not really expected her to come out of this house—the shameful house. He was paralyzed. He saw her hail a passing taxi and jump in.

He rode back to his studio and dressed himself with great care. This was a gala night at the Lemon Grove.

Judy was ready for Bastien punctually at nine o'clock. She wore a frock of bright-green tulle, with a broad sash and little sleeves of silver lace. Her shoes and stockings were silver, and there was a wreath of silver leaves in her red-gold hair. She looked like a fairy. She was still very thin, but she had lost the dragged look of fatigue and of unnatural excitement. The rest was doing her a world of good.

She teased Bastien about being so quiet as they walked to the Lemon Grove. Judy was snug in her fur coat. A rather crude and yet elusive perfume reached the young artist's nostrils as she tripped close by his side and linked her arms in his.

"Chummy has promised to come, Bastien. Clara will be there, and all the boys. It will be like the dear old times!"

"The dear old times!" repeated Dumont mechanically.

"Bastien, your voice sounds like a funeral! Aren't you well? Buck up, old boy! You wanted me to come."

They reached the dancing hall.

It was, indeed a gala night. From the roof the lights hung in lemon-colored Chinese lanterns that cast a glow like moonlight on the dancers. The stiff lemon trees painted on the walls had been touched up, and their tubs made scarlet. The woodwork around the doors was bright, and all the beams were room an even more dazzling color scheme had been devised, as the members said, "to make you forget what you're eating and drinking."

The place was crowded. They saw everybody they knew. Chummy was with Michael Stone, Clara Jenks with Tony Leigh. Clara was very smartly dressed and prosperous at the moment; but her snub face lit up with the old adoration at the sight of Bastien, and Judy made him go and dance with her at once.

It was not until half an hour later that he found Judy again. Without a word he put his arm around her waist as the orchestra struck up, and they danced the waltz of a fox trot without speaking. Judy and Bastien could make a fox trot into a thing of beauty.

When it was over, she drew a deep breath.

"I dance better than any man in the world, Bastien!"

"They danced several more dances, always in silence. At last Judy exclaimed:

"I say, Bastien, I'm fond of dancing, but I did want a little chat!"

"Miss Grant is a very old friend of mine," he said.

"Oh, sorry I spoke! No harm intended." Towers felt rather bound to justify himself. "One only knows that one hears, and everybody says that's the way the wind lies. They're always together."

Dumont gave unmistakable evidence that he did not wish the subject pursued.

They ate their meal, discussing all manner of things. Towers noticed that Dumont drank most of the bottle of wine. He was a very abstemious person himself, and did not care, but he also noticed that his companion drank three liqueur brandies to his one, and did not smoke his cigar in the leisurely manner of a man at peace with the world.

Guy Towers, the easy-going, good-natured gossip, the frequenter of club and restaurant, little knew what a storm he had aroused in his companion's breast. He had said what others said—that was all. It was common knowledge that Judy Grant was being "run" by Bruce Gideon—that she was Gideon's property, as some rather crudely put it.

When the two men had finished lunch and parted, Towers strolled down the avenue, eminently pleased with himself and with the world in general, and quite unconscious of the fact that he had disturbed the course of several lives.

Dumont, meanwhile, went into the exclusive clubs after the other. At each one he drank with several men. At one of them he came across Richard Wyon's business manager, who, as it happened, had also lunched well, and was not averse to further things managed by fate, and man cannot control them.

Dumont talked to Wyon's business manager for half an hour. When he went out into the calm of the late afternoon, it by a pale winter sun low in the western sky. His hand was on fire. The sky seemed plastered with the name of Judy Grant. She seemed to dance in front of him like a red flame. Everything was red.

Dumont walked for about an hour. At the end of it he found himself on Park Avenue. He had come there against his will. He knew where Gideon's apartment was. He had walked past it many a time with despair in his heart. He did not know what he was doing there now, except that he had come to spy.

He walked up and down, up and down, in the darkness. It was after six o'clock now, and bitterly cold. The street was not very brilliantly lighted, and wayfarers were few. Then suddenly he grew stiff, as a little form came out of the door of Gideon's building. It was unmistakably Judy, wearing her little gray coat with the black collar, and a little fur cap on her head, with a bunch of violets on one side—violets not so dark a purple as her eyes.

Dumont could not move. He had not really expected her to come out of this house—the shameful house. He was paralyzed. He saw her hail a passing taxi and jump in.

He rode back to his studio and dressed himself with great care. This was a gala night at the Lemon Grove.

Judy was ready for Bastien punctually at nine o'clock. She wore a frock of bright-green tulle, with a broad sash and little sleeves of silver lace. Her shoes and stockings were silver, and there was a wreath of silver leaves in her red-gold hair. She looked like a fairy. She was still very thin, but she had lost the dragged look of fatigue and of unnatural excitement. The rest was doing her a world of good.

She teased Bastien about being so quiet as they walked to the Lemon Grove. Judy was snug in her fur coat. A rather crude and yet elusive perfume reached the young artist's nostrils as she tripped close by his side and linked her arms in his.

"Chummy has promised to come, Bastien. Clara will be there, and all the boys. It will be like the dear old times!"

"The dear old times!" repeated Dumont mechanically.

"Bastien, your voice sounds like a funeral! Aren't you well? Buck up, old boy! You wanted me to come."

They reached the dancing hall.

It was, indeed a gala night. From the roof the lights hung in lemon-colored Chinese lanterns that cast a glow like moonlight on the dancers. The stiff lemon trees painted on the walls had been touched up, and their tubs made scarlet. The woodwork around the doors was bright, and all the beams were room an even more dazzling color scheme had been devised, as the members said, "to make you forget what you're eating and drinking."

The place was crowded. They saw everybody they knew. Chummy was with Michael Stone, Clara Jenks with Tony Leigh. Clara was very

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Friday, July 18.

"Arkansaw Traveler," which had... describes as a how-down square dance...

Wave lengths in meters on left of station title...

Leading DX Stations.

- (DST) (ST) 272.5-WPZ, ATLANTIC CITY-1400. 2:00 7:00-WABC NIT Wit drama.

Secondary Eastern Stations.

- 502.5-WEEI, BOSTON-750. 6:30 8:30-Action club; ensemble.

WTIC PROGRAMS

Travelers Broadcasting Service Hartford, Conn.

50,000 W., 1080 E. C., 282.5 M.

- 8-Jessica Dragonette and the Cavaliers; Leo O'Rourke tenor; Frank Santa and Milton Retterberg, piano duo; John Seagle, baritone; orchestra direction Rosario Bourdon.

- 422.5-WOR, NEWARK-710. 7:00 8:00-Dance music; tenor.

Secondary Western Stations.

- 11.35-Vincent Lopez and his St. Regis orchestra.

WTIC PROGRAMS

Travelers Broadcasting Service Hartford, Conn.

50,000 W., 1080 E. C., 282.5 M.

- 8-Jessica Dragonette and the Cavaliers; Leo O'Rourke tenor; Frank Santa and Milton Retterberg, piano duo; John Seagle, baritone; orchestra direction Rosario Bourdon.

Leading DX Stations.

- (DST) (ST) 462.5-WBS, ATLANTA-740. 9:00 10:00-WVZ programs (4 hrs.).

Secondary DX Stations.

- 202.5-WORD, SAVANNAH-1480. 9:00 9:30-Concert; agricultural talk.

Condition Of State Roads

Road conditions and detours in the state of Connecticut made necessary by highway construction, repairs and closing announced by the Conn. Highway Department...

GOLD MASKED MARVELS AT SANDY BEACH BALL

Patrons of Sandy Beach ballroom at Crystal Lake are awaiting with unusual interest the big feature event at this popular resort...

DRIVE ON HALT

St. Paul, July 18.—(AP)—A car that stalled on a steep grade...

LOVES HIS DAD

GUEST: I suppose the baby is fond of you? FATHER: Fond of me! Why, he sleeps all day when I'm not at home...

W.T. GRANT'S Men's Work Clothes at welcome savings! Chambray Shirts Work Pants Men's Overalls Men's Fancy Socks HEADACHES BAYER

ANNOUNCE A NEW FRIGIDAIRE MODEL

A new electric refrigerator, prices within the means of hundreds of thousands of average income families was presented today by Paul Hillery, frigidaire dealer in South Manchester.

Fro-Joy ICE CREAM Special for This Week BANANA ICE CREAM AND ORANGE PINEAPPLE ICE CREAM

MISSIONARIES IN DANGER

Peiping, China, July 18.—(AP)—John J. Muccio, acting United States consul at Foochow, notified the Legation here today that he was leaving by launch for Yen-Ping-Fu...

RADIO SERVICE

on all makes. New Sets and Standard Accessories. WM. E. KRAH 669 Tolland Turnpike PHONE 3733

Cut Prices Developing and Printing

Dull or glossy finish. Up to 116 Film 4c a picture. 10c for developing. 116 Film to postal card size

MISSIONARIES IN DANGER

Peiping, China, July 18.—(AP)—John J. Muccio, acting United States consul at Foochow, notified the Legation here today that he was leaving by launch for Yen-Ping-Fu...

RADIO SERVICE

on all makes. New Sets and Standard Accessories. WM. E. KRAH 669 Tolland Turnpike PHONE 3733

Cut Prices Developing and Printing

Dull or glossy finish. Up to 116 Film 4c a picture. 10c for developing. 116 Film to postal card size

MISSIONARIES IN DANGER

Peiping, China, July 18.—(AP)—John J. Muccio, acting United States consul at Foochow, notified the Legation here today that he was leaving by launch for Yen-Ping-Fu...

RADIO SERVICE

on all makes. New Sets and Standard Accessories. WM. E. KRAH 669 Tolland Turnpike PHONE 3733

Cut Prices Developing and Printing

Dull or glossy finish. Up to 116 Film 4c a picture. 10c for developing. 116 Film to postal card size

MISSIONARIES IN DANGER

Peiping, China, July 18.—(AP)—John J. Muccio, acting United States consul at Foochow, notified the Legation here today that he was leaving by launch for Yen-Ping-Fu...

RADIO SERVICE

on all makes. New Sets and Standard Accessories. WM. E. KRAH 669 Tolland Turnpike PHONE 3733

Cut Prices Developing and Printing

Dull or glossy finish. Up to 116 Film 4c a picture. 10c for developing. 116 Film to postal card size

MISSIONARIES IN DANGER

Peiping, China, July 18.—(AP)—John J. Muccio, acting United States consul at Foochow, notified the Legation here today that he was leaving by launch for Yen-Ping-Fu...

RADIO SERVICE

on all makes. New Sets and Standard Accessories. WM. E. KRAH 669 Tolland Turnpike PHONE 3733

Cut Prices Developing and Printing

Dull or glossy finish. Up to 116 Film 4c a picture. 10c for developing. 116 Film to postal card size

The most logical choice in radio today! THE NEW GENERAL MOTORS RADIO with Tone Selector. Mastery of Tone—With the remarkable new Tone Selector. Beautiful Period Cabinets of Lasting Value—Handsome adaptations of authentic period furniture styles. Cabinets which you may consider as permanent possessions. A Product of General Motors—Assurance of outstanding value, dependability, permanence and fair-dealing. Advanced Design—A screen-grid chassis incorporating the very latest developments. Precision Manufacture—benefiting by General Motors' vast experience in precision methods. All-Round Excellence in Performance—Remarkable tone, hair-line selectivity, and pure, unwarped volume comprise unexcelled performance. Dependable Factory-Controlled Service—Service is on a national basis—expert, well-equipped, quickly-available service everywhere. A Valuable Warranty—With your General Motors Radio you receive a pledge of completely satisfactory performance. See and hear what is being offered in the new General Motors Radio. Come in today for a complete demonstration. PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS RADIO CORPORATION ROBINSON AUTO CO. 415 MAIN STREET, SOUTH MANCHESTER

Gamblers Bet 3 to 1 On Singer Before He Knocked Out Mandell

World's Lightweight Title Bout Lasts Only Minute and 46 Seconds; Champion Floored Four Times.

By ALAN J. GOULD
A. P. Sports Editor.

New York, July 18.—(AP)—The crown of the lightweights today adorns the thick black thatch of dynamic 21-year-old Al Singer, whose sensational one round knock-out of Sammy Mandell in Yankee Stadium last night brought back the 135-pound championship to New York for the first time since Benny Leonard retired.

The boy from the Bronx and protege of Leonard crushed Mandell, one-time sheik of Rockford, Ill., and champion for the past four years, in exactly one minute and 46 seconds.

Al Singer

Singer, with a ripping, slashing rush that swept the slim, dark Italian before him, floored Mandell four times for successive counts of two, seven, four and ten. The champion, after absorbing a terrific battering, with blood dripping from his mouth and nose, a glassy stare in his eyes, toppled over at the finish and took the final count flat on his back.

Mandell did not land a solid punch nor more than two or three light left jabs. He was punched into a state of helplessness before he had time to make even a gesture and before the crowd of some 25,000 fans had time to catch their collective breath.

It was the short-st lightweight title fight in history and one of the quickest knockouts in any championship fight since Terry McGovern swarmed over Pedlar Palmer to win in something like a half-minute some 20 years ago.

Singer's spectacular victory came as a shock even to the experts who had established the New York youth as a favorite though it may not have been surprising to the gentlemen with the "wise money" who were reported just before the fight to be wagering 3 to 1 on the challenger.

Bon Ami Plays Home Tomorrow

The Bon Ami baseball team will meet the Hartford town team tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock at Hickey's Grove. Jack Godek will pitch for Manchester and Jack Curtin for the visitors.

Included in the lineup of the visitors will be Morander and Popovich, two star players on the West Hartford High school team which prevented Manchester from annexing the league title during the past season. Also Braun of the old Alpin National of Connecticut. Aggies, Metcalf and several other good ball players.

Local Sport Chatter

Jack Cheney, longest driver at the Manchester Country Club and one of the best in the state, took a trip up to "Gill" Wright's driving practice field at Manchester Green last night to see if he could hit one over the fence but found it impossible. The fence is said to be 300 yards from the tee and the hay field prevents any roll to speak of. Jack got off some very long drives but 300 yards of carry is too much for any golfer.

No doubt a good many Manchester boxing enthusiasts missed the Singer-Mandell affair in New York last night by waiting until the designated hour of 10 o'clock before turning on their radio. The bout went on about 15 minutes, early and was over almost before it started making one think that the Battalino-Fernandez scrap by way of comparison might not have been such a fizzle after all.

The boxing racket has reached such a stage today that no matter what the outcome of a bout is, there are always many fans who are ready to cry "fake" or "in the bag." No doubt some of the fights are nothing but, yet this doesn't mean that all the fights today are fake but entirely another thing to prove the statement.

Several New York boxing writers were reluctant to accept the Fernandez alibi—that he went below par trying to make the weight—but there was no hesitancy shown in believing Sammy Mandell when he comes out with the same old line. It apparently makes a difference whose ox is gored. It is possible that each man was weakened and that the winner in each instance deserved his laurels.

Arthur L. Hultman and Thomas W. Stowe are due to make a third attempt to settle their quarter-final match in the Chamber of Commerce golf tournament late this afternoon. Two previous attempts have ended in a tie. If this happens again, it has been suggested that both players be tossed into the reservoir right back of the 18th green when they finish.

Billy Hills, local contractor, is contemplating the erection of a miniature 18-hole golf course at West Center and Lyness streets, he said yesterday. He will know his plans definitely in a two or two.

N. H., PROVIDENCE QUIT THE LEAGUE

New Haven, July 18.—(AP)—A sharp drop in attendance at the home games of the New Haven Profs after they had lost leadership of the league to Allentown today was blamed for the action of club officials in withdrawing from the Eastern League yesterday.

New Haven was nosed out at the close of the first half of the league's split season two weeks ago when Providence won the crucial game. Thereafter, the home town fans were conspicuous by their absence from Savin Rock Ball Park.

A part payment of salaries due for June was not forthcoming until the Profs, a hard-hitting club, went into a distinct batting slump.

Claude B. Davidson, former president of the New England League, held a ten-day option on the team, but declined to exercise it, it was said, when he became fully aware of the financial losses and the attitude of the fans. He investigated the possibilities of night baseball and for a time it seemed certain New Haven would follow Buffalo and other eastern teams in playing by artificial light.

New Haven has been represented in organized baseball for many years, having had a team in the old Connecticut circuit.

Allentown, Pa., July 18.—(AP)—At a meeting of the Eastern League adjourning early this morning an announcement was made of the withdrawal of the Providence and New Haven clubs from the circuit, effective at the close of Saturday's schedule.

PONIES IN LEAD

The Acmas defeated the Ponies yesterday morning at the West Side playgrounds 10 to 7 in the juvenile league. The besties:—Elot Salomonson and Pongrats.

Ponies—Suhle and Einar Salomonson.

Umpire, George Adams.

The League Standing	Won	Lost
Ponies	3	1
Hudsons	0	2
Acmas	3	2

Glastonbury Playing At West Side Tonight

WESTERN TRIP HURTS SENATORS

Washington Left Home In First Place But Now Trail 3 1-2 Games.

BY HUGH S. FULLEBERTON, JR.

The current western trip of the eastern clubs of the American League is proving rather painful to the Washington Senators but profitable to the rest. The Senators started a losing streak when they dropped them clear out of first place and into a somewhat precarious second.

The Senators left home as league leaders and now are 3½ games behind first place and only four ahead of the third place New York Yankees. They split a series with Detroit and so far have dropped two out of three to Cleveland while their rivals have been sweeping through in a steady stream of victories. Washington dropped another close encounter yesterday, losing down four to three before the Indians as Eddie Morgan's batting gave the home team the edge in a mound duel between Willis Hudlin and Sam Jones. Morgan drove in three runs with a home run and a single.

The champions and leaders, the Philadelphia Athletics, made it seven straight out another victory over the Chicago White Sox, 12 to 8. The Yankees hammered the St. Louis Browns for 21 hits and a 16 to 7 victory, making it four straight wins for the Yankees. Coach Bill Brennan is improving their position, the Yankees showed St. Louis into last place as Boston beat the Detroit Tigers 12 to 2.

Chicago and Brooklyn in the National League again tore each other for 12 innings before the Cubs finally gained a 6 to 3 win that reduced Brooklyn's lead from three to two games.

New York and St. Louis, staging their own crucial series with third place at stake, played a second day baseball, committing nine errors between them. The Giants won out, 12 to 9, although they were out hit 20 to 15.

The first three clubs of the second division drew a bit closer together in their private race as Pittsburgh gained a 6 to 2 decision on over the Boston Braves and the Cincinnati Reds played havoc with Philadelphia pitching for a 14 to 9 victory.

Omaha, Neb. Primo Carne, Italy, knocked out Bear Cat Wright, Omaha, 4.

Webb, Red Sox—Collected three singles, double and home run against Tigers.

Cuyler and English, Cubs—Their hits in the 13th broke up battle with Robins.

Combs and Lazzeri, Yanks—Split eight hits between them and accounted for eight runs against Browns.

Eudin, Indians—Held Senators to seven hits and beat them 4 to 3.

Comorosky, Pirates—Aided in Braves' defeat with single, double and triple.

New York—Al Singer, New York knocked out Sammy Mandell, world lightweight champion, (1.) (Championship). Justo Suarez, Argentine, outpointed Joe Glick, Brooklyn, 10. Midget Wolgan, Philadelphia outpointed Ernie Peters, Chicago, 8.

CUBS BEAT GIANTS

The Cubs beat the Giants yesterday in the Junior League at the West Side by a score of 3 to 1 in a well played game. Both teams made four hits each.

The league standing follows:

Club	Won	Lost
Cubs	3	0
Giants	0	2
Braves	0	2
Robins	0	2

Look! Look! Look!

Here they are—10 of the best looking used cars in Manchester. Come in. Look them over. Make us an offer. Your choice from

$125 to $850

60 days written guarantee goes with every car. Most of these cars are equipped with new tires.

OPEN SUNDAYS AND EVENINGS

HEIL MOTOR CO.

"See Heil For a Square Deal"

193 Center Street, Tel. 7239, South Manchester

More Than Just Practice

Experienced golfers and beginners alike agree—it's great for Pleasure, Practice, Health, driving at Wright's driving tee.

PLEASURE, PRACTICE, HEALTH

JUST BEYOND THE GREEN

Balls and Clubs Furnished

WILSON BROTHERS
Haberdaehy

INTERNATIONAL

CUSTOM MADE CLOTHES

Our Custom-made Clothes Though Modest in Price are SUPREMELY DISTINCTIVE.

See Our Windows for Sample On THE NEW FALL SUITINGS.

Step In and Ask About Our Suit Club.

NOTE—For the convenience of our customers we have obtained a laundry agency. Any laundry left at our store up to Wednesday night will be ready Saturday.

KELLER'S
"FOR THE BEST SELLERS"
Depot Square

LEGION PLAYING AT SOUTHTONINGTON

The boys' baseball team which represents the Dilworth-Cornell Post of the American Legion will journey to Southington Saturday afternoon to engage the youngsters of that town in a game of ball. The game will be played at 2:15 p. m. and will be a doubleheader. The following are requested to report at the West Side Recreation Center not later than 1:15 p. m. on Saturday. The players are:—O'Leary, Squitton, Grella, Kelly, Fraser, Berger, Smith, Sandy, Cotton, Day, Mahoney, Stet, Rautenburg, Sullivan, Manning, Brimley and Mascot Brimley.

Look At This Boy's

Sales manager's Studebaker President 8—1930 Roadster... Just like new... Fully equipped, rumble seat... Offered to you for only

$1,600

We'll lay you a bet that it's the fastest car in the city.

1929 Studebaker Commander 8 Sedan

Only 2800 miles. Sold with a new car guarantee. Cost $1,980.

Price Today $1,500

1930 Studebaker Dictator 8 Sedan

Only 2,400 miles on this brand new car. You can save $255.

Price today $1,250

1928 Studebaker Regal Commander Sedan

All new 6 ply cord tires, motor in perfect condition. A real buy today at $975

1928 Studebaker Commander Sedan

Four new tires, motor reconditioned. Yours for only $795

1926 Buick Master Six Sedan

All new tires, motor in perfect condition, slip covers on all seats. Car has had best of care. Special at $425

1927 Studebaker Dictator Sedan

First class condition. Price today only $550

1926 Studebaker Big Six Sedan

All new tires, motor in first class condition. Upholstery like new $550

1926 Studebaker Commander 6 Victoria

Motor thoroughly overhauled, all good tires. Fine car for a professional man or salesman $650

1928 Chevrolet Coach

First class condition. Price today $295

1927 Studebaker Dictator Victoria

4 passenger. An ideal small car. Economical to operate $550

1927 Chevrolet Cabriolet

with rumble seat, first class condition. Small and economical $275

1928 Essex Coach

All good rubber and motor in good condition $295

These are the Greatest Values We Have Ever Offered.

We cordially invite you to come in and see these cars, ride in them, drive them and take them home at these prices.

These cars cannot be duplicated for economical transportation and dependability. Now is the time to enjoy the pleasure of a good used car.

Your old car taken in trade. A liberal allowance. 12 months to pay the balance.

We are from

THE COLONIAL AUTO CO.

59 Farmington Avenue, Hartford, Conn.
Studebaker Distributors Since 1914

All Cars On Sale

—AT—

THE CONKEY AUTO CO.

20 East Center Street At the Center

WISE FOLKS

Florsheim Shoe SALE

It's the wise bird who finds these words sufficient to bring him flying for new regular-style Florsheims at these unusually low prices!

$8.85
A Few Styles 1930

STRAW HATS ½ Price	CHENEY TIES 77¢ For a Few Days
------------------------------	---

Two Piece Summer Suits Reduced to $14

Jantzen Swimming Suits are the best we can buy. Try one.

GLENNEY'S

BUSSES TO ROCKVILLE TO START NEXT MONTH

Middle or Latter Part of August Chosen As Time For New Service.

This service will replace the trolley cars on the Rockville line about the middle or latter part of next month, according to a statement made today by N. J. Scott, superintendent of the Connecticut Company at Hartford.

Mr. Scott said that the definite date had not yet been fixed. The route for the busses will be over the main highway leading to Rockville differing from the trolley route only in the elimination of Dobsonville from its run.

The trolley line forks to the right after crossing the bridge at Telocottville but the bus route will go to the left following the road that leads direct to Rockville rather than to the right which also leads to Rockville taking in Vernon Center on its way.

Work upon the new state highway from Oakland to Union street in Rockville has not been started as yet although the cement and trap rock are being carted to the scene. This new road is scheduled to be completed this fall but this will have no bearing upon the starting of the bus service, Mr. Scott stated.

NEW VETERAN RUBE

Washington, July 18.—(AP)—Disabled World War veterans who are employed under the civil service today were permitted in an executive order issued by President Hoover to take unlimited leave without pay to obtain medical treatment.

Under present regulations government employees are allowed one month sick leave and are subject to discharge for further absence. The order today also permits them to take treatment for their war injuries without penalty in efficiency rating.

PRESTES COMING HOME

Paris, July 18.—(AP)—Dr. Julio Prestes, president-elect of Brazil, left here today for Cherbourg after a three weeks stay in France and England. He will sail at 6 p. m. aboard the Royal Mail liner Arlanza, which is due in Rio Janeiro August 2.

NOON STOCKS

New York, July 18.—(AP)—Professional operations for the advance in a handful of pool favorites kept the stock market pointed upward during most of the early hours of trading today, although several pivotal shares were inclined to waver.

As the market had crept higher seven out of the past nine sessions, many traders felt that a reaction was due and took profits. U. S. Steel, American Can and American Telephone sold off a point or so at times, but were quickly supported.

The rails were strong groups. Wabash, Delaware and Hudson, Frisco, Atchafalaya and Chesapeake and Ohio gained about 2 to 3 points.

Auto. Strip shot up over 7 points to a new high at 72, in what appeared to be a run in of shorts, and case gained as much. Proctor and Gamble was also a strong spot, adjoining about 4. International Telephone, Radio and Electric Auto Lite sold up about 2.

Call money again renewed at 2 per cent.

LOCAL PEOPLE SAILING TOMORROW TO IRELAND

Mrs. Jane Grimley who has been making her home with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Little of 68 Laurel street, will sail tomorrow on the S. S. Samaria of the Anchor line for an extended visit with her daughter in Scotland, and her old home in Portadown, Ireland. Mr. and Mrs. Little accompanied her to New York today.

Her fellow passengers will be her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Richardson of Cooper street, who have been spending a few days in New York before sailing. They do not at present contemplate returning to this country.

Friends and relatives of Mrs. Grimley gave her a "bon voyage" party Wednesday evening and presented her with a number of useful gifts including a gold piece.

SMOKE CAUSES WRECK

Saint John, N. B., July 18.—(AP)—While her husband lighted a cigarette Mrs. W. D. Aitkens of East Braintree, Mass., attempted to guide their automobile on the Red Head road.

The car went over a thirty-foot bank. The woman is not expected to recover. Her husband is suffering from a broken nose and other injuries. Two companions also were hurt.

MUCH ACTIVITY NOW AT KIWANIS CAMP

Kiddies Get Into Routine and Have Enjoyable Time—Getting Lot of Berries.

Kiwanis Camp is now a scene of great activity. The camp has been in operation now since Monday morning and with the fine weather which has prevailed during the past 3 days the boys are putting on a fine coat of tan and showing an increase in weight as well, due to the excellence of the cooking under Mrs. Elizabeth McIntosh.

Every morning after the camp is polished up spick and span the boys are divided into groups under the leadership of their Tribe leaders and pass the morning in various kinds of camp craft including first aid and knot tying and woodcraft. Many of the youngsters who are between 7 and 10 years have been very proficient in the art of berrying and as the raspberries are now ripe they help to fill in the menu with several quarts of the delicious fruit.

During the afternoon the boys divide their time in games of capture the flag, hare and hound, hikes, etc. which is followed by swimming and showering.

Yesterday the boys went for a hike to Gilead and back taking the most of the morning to study nature and to examine cows, hens etc. through the fences as they passed by.

Wednesday evening the Tribes hiked to the "Point" a hill about a half a mile from camp where they cooked their own supper, consisting of "hike chowder" which is made of potatoes, corn, tomatoes and fried bacon, a real feed topped off by watermelon.

Last night the majority of the boys went for an over night hike to the "Point" where they pitched their blankets under the oak trees. A fine moss bank made up the mattress for the night and soon every thing was ready for the night.

About 12 o'clock a sudden yell roused the air and Alex Rogowski was yelling, "Helge! Helge! There's something under my pillow and it's talking to me. I think it's a snake!" Helge grasped his flash light and with trembling hand approached the pillow of Alex. Lifting the pillow he spotted the flash light underneath and there were a few dead leaves which had cracked under the pillow.

The boys all have been in fine physical health so far and look forward everyday for the mail man and "company" as visitors are called for when company comes generally there is extra fruit or chocolate bars or watermelons to be divided.

MAY HAVE TO LAY OFF 3,000 NAVAL WORKERS

Washington, July 18.—(AP)—President Hoover has been advised that unless Congress in the winter appropriates funds for the modernization of three battleships, 3,000 men will have to be cut off Navy Yard payrolls at Philadelphia, Norfolk. The ships are the Idaho, Mississippi and New Mexico.

In a monthly report on employment conditions at the nine Continental Navy Yards, the President was told that there now are 3,407 men working at Philadelphia and a total of 1,193 employed in an airplane factory, and 3,374 in the Norfolk yard.

The Norfolk forces now are modernizing the battleship Arizona, and at Philadelphia the Pennsylvania is being modernized.

The Navy said 1,757 men were employed at Portsmouth; N. H.; during June, 1,823 at Boston, 3,001 at Brooklyn, 502 at Charleston, S. C., 3,983 at Mare Island, Calif., and 4,327 at Washington. Total employees were 26,335, about 30 less than on May 31.

STRIKE IN IRELAND

Beifast, Northern Ireland, July 18.—(AP)—The Irish Free State today faced the possibility of a general railroad strike in sympathy with drivers of the Irish Omnibus Company who have been out for the last two months.

The postoffice has been warned not to send outgoing mails by way of Dublin and Kingstown but to use the northern route.

MRS. HOOVER RETURNS

Washington, July 18.—(AP)—The return of Allan Hoover, youngest son of the President, to the White House to spend the week-end today brought Mrs. Hoover back from the presidential camp in Virginia.

Mrs. Hoover went to the lodge yesterday after visiting the mountain school established near there by the President and herself. She had intended to remain over the week-end.

ECONOMY GROCERY
Attractive VALUES in FINE FOODS can be found Here DAILY

There's no need to wait for week-end specials at Economy Stores. Every day is "special" day at every Economy store. Continually on the look-out for opportunities to pass on savings to its public, Economy presents extraordinary values day in and day out.

- WEEK-END SPECIALS
LAND O' LAKES SWEET CREAM
- BUTTER 1 lb. Roll 39c
  - SUGAR FINE GRANULATED 10 lbs. 49c
  - POTATOES FANCY SELECTED 15 lb. Peck 37c
  - LARD PURE, SANITARY 1 lb. pkg. 13c

- FRUITS and VEGETABLES For the Week-End
- PLUMS Large Basket 49c
  - FINEST ARIZONA Cantaloupes, large size ..... 3 for 29c
  - FANCY NATIVE Carrots or Beets, 3 large bunches ..... 10c

- Nourishing hot weather food—easy to prepare*
CAMPBELL'S Pork & Beans ... 3 Tins 23c
- The granulated soap—soaks clothes whiter*
RINSO 2 LARGE pkgs. 37c, 2 Small pkgs. 15c
- Makes delicious sandwiches in a jiffy*
FINAST Sandwich Spread ... 8 oz. jar 19c
- Grown and packed in the Valley of Heart's Delight*
ASPARAGUS TIPS, Picnic Size, 2 Tins 35c
- All nationally-advertised, well-known brands—a real bargain*
All 5c Candies and Chewing Gum, 6 for 19c
- Sweet juicy fruit packed at the point of perfection*
FANCY GRAPEFRUIT ... 2 No. 2 tins 39c
- Tender, tasty grass—as fine as Nature produces*
R-C Natural Asparagus ... 2 No. 2 tins 49c
- Nuggets of health from Oregon's fertile uplands*
FANCY FRESH PRUNES, 3 No. 2 1/2 tins 50c
- Just the thing to serve with cold meat cuts*
RICHMOND RELISH ... Pint jar 19c
- Makes ham sandwiches and hot dogs taste much better*
FINAST Mustard ... 17 oz. jar 13c
- A cool, nutritious breakfast for the hot days*
COMET Brown Rice Flakes ... 2 Pkgs. 21c
- SKAT Hand Soap ..... 8 for 25c
  - SHRIMP, fancy ..... No. 1 tin 19c
  - SALMON, fancy Columbia Halves tin 29c
  - ZAREX ..... Mint Kettle 25c
  - WILLIAMS' Root Beer Extract 3/4 oz. bot. 18c
  - SEALPAK Pork & Beans ... No. 3 tin 21c
  - TRIPLE AAA Catsup ..... 16 oz. bottle 23c
  - PASTENE Olive Oil ..... 8 oz. bottle 19c
  - FINAST Wine Jelly ..... 8 oz. jar 19c

PRIZE BREAD 20-oz. Loaf
7c

Connecticut's Greatest Food Value

Kybo Coffee
The improved Economy Coffee, Selected, blended and Roasted by Experts.
Try this delicious Improved Coffee to-day. Found the ..... 33c

At Our MEAT MARKETS

- 829 Main St., Corner Purnell Place
- Lamb lb. 35c
LEGS—young genuine spring—your choice of weight, whole or half.
  - LAMB FORES ..... lb. 22c
Boned as desired.
  - FOWL, any weight, lb. ... 33c
  - Corned Beef
Specially corned—not fat or salty
  - LEAN ENDS ..... lb. 25c
  - MIDDLE RIBS ..... lb. 21c
  - BRISKETS ..... lb. 32c
  - Chuck Roast
lb. 33c
Contains no bone—splendid pot roast.
  - FACE RUMP ..... lb. 36c
Same quality, same price as last week on this popular oven roast.
  - Rib Roll lb. 48c
No Bone—No Waste—Oven Roast with the finest flavor and quality.
  - Smoked Shoulders
lb. 21c
Short Shank—very lean

A world-beating combination!
1 Stop car service

Use our one-stop car service. You save time by having everything done at once—you save worry by having your car always in first-class condition—and you save money by preventing damage due to neglect, by getting all services on one bill, and by having these services performed by fast-working experts.

SAVE on these Services
Vulcanizing
Batteries
Greasing
Gas
Oil

CENTER AUTO SUPPLY CO.
155 Center Street Phone 5293

ECONOMY DIVISION OF FIRST NATIONAL STORES

The Best Places to Shop MARKET PAGE The Best Stores Advertis

PIEHURST
Pinehurst
GOOD THINGS TO EAT

C & S Dated Coffee
Special, lb. 43c

SILVER LANE PICKLES
Quart Glass Jars
DILLS ..... 20c qt.
SWEET MIXED ..... 37c

We will have some very nice yellow corn at 40c dozen, 6 ears 25c. Summer Squash will be 3 for 25c. Nice Green Beans, Celery, Lettuce, Tomatoes, New Cabbage and Green Peppers.

NATIVE BEETS 3 bunches for 11c
SWEET PLUMS 2 dozen 25c

The Meat Department will feature fancy Native Fresh BROILERS—also some tender Milk fed Fowl for Fricassee and Roasting Chickens.

Shoulders of Lamb properly boned and rolled lb. 28c

Green Apples for pies or sauce 3 lbs. 25c

Any Flavor 3 for 25c

Ham is always in demand during the warm weather. We will have Daisy hams, smoked shoulders and fancy Sinclair hams. Small shank halves of Sinclair hams are an economical cut or shanks of Sinclair slicing hams. These slicing ham shanks run in price from $1.25 to $1.75 each.

SUGAR 10 lbs. 52c, 5 lb. boxes 32c
CONFECTIONERY SUGAR 3 lbs. 25c

FULL STRENGTH CIDER VINEGAR 50c gallon
Try some of our Pinehurst freshly ground beef for Meat Loaf or Meat Balls (especially nice if you mix 1-2 lb. of Sausage Meat with it for seasoning.)

PINEHURST FRESHLY GROUND BEEF 28c lb., 2 lbs. 55c

Veal Ground 44c lb. Boneless Veal Roasts

SCATTER FLIER'S ASHES
Los Angeles, July 18.—(AP)—The ashes of Maurice Graham, veteran pilot, will be scattered tonight over the air mail route to Salt Lake City by the pilot of the plane that followed his on the night run. Graham's body was brought home last night, after lying for six months in the Kanarra mountains of western Utah where he was lost January 10 in a blizzard. The funeral plane was piloted from Cedar City, Utah, to Graham's home port by Jimmy James and Fred Kelly, Western Air Express fliers. Kelly, who like Graham, had flown a night mail plane over the deserts and mountains between here and Salt Lake City since the company was organized in 1926, was chosen to carry the ashes back to the wilderness.

REDUCE PRESS RATES
Shanghai, July 18.—(AP)—The Danish Great Northern Telegraph Company and the British Eastern Extension, the Australasia-China Telegraph Company today announced a 33 per cent reduction in press rates, effective August 1. The reduction will reduce the Shanghai to London rate from one gold franc, 25 centimes (about 35 cents) to 33 centimes (about 16 2-3 cents) per word. Commercial Pacific cables, operating trans-Pacific lines, indicated a reduction in the Shanghai to San Francisco full press rate from 1.45 francs to 1.25, would be made soon. This company also indicated the Shanghai to New York rate would be cut from 1.70 francs gold to 1.50 and that their deferred press rate across the Pacific would be reduced in greater proportion. The historic Dead Sea of Palestine is so full of salt that no fish can live in it. Various projects are on foot to garner its mineral wealth, which is said to be very rich.

The Puritan Market
"THE HOME OF FOOD VALUES"
Corner Main and Eldridge Streets.

SUGAR lb. 5c 10-lb. limit.
BUTTER Sunlight, Cloverbloom 36c lb. Brookfield

HAMS Puritan, Handy and Honey Brand, 27 1/2c lb. 8-10 lbs. Average
EGGS Strictly Fresh 26c dozen

Genuine Spring Lamb Legs of Lamb, all sizes.
Fresh Pork Roast Pork, rib end 20c lb.

Rib Lamb 33c lb.
Chops, Lamb Stew ..... 15c lb.
Pure Lard .. 12c lb.
Bacon Sq'rs 16c lb.

Heavy Steer Beef Steaks Roasting Chickens 4-5 lb. average, lb. 37c
Sirloin .. 35c lb. Short ..
Fowl, 4-5 lbs. 30c lb. Pot Roasts 19c

Smoked Shoulders 4 to 6 lbs. 16c lb.

Full Line of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables.
POTATOES ..... 39c peck

The Puritan Market
Corner Main and Eldridge Streets.

A Fine Spread for Grandmother's Bread

RAJAH SANDWICH SPREAD
A MOST delicious meatless spread made from mixed pickles, fresh eggs, pure salad oil, vinegar, arrow-root, salt and sugar. A distinctive change from the usual sandwich fillings.
A & P's price is, of course, very low. 19c

DEL MAIZ CORN
Strictly fancy quality yellow corn of deliciously individual flavor that tempers the appetite.
A very special low price. 2 No. 2 Cans 25c

GORTON'S READY-TO-FRY CODFISH CAKES
Tastily seasoned—just make into cakes or small balls and fry in smoking hot fat.
A very special low price. 2 Cans 25c

KELLOGG'S KRUMBLER
Whole wheat—shredded and toasted. Deliciously flavored with malt, sugar and salt. A special treat with berries.
A NEW LOW PRICE. A & P's regular prices always mean savings. Pkg. 11c

CHIPSO
Use Chipso Plates for clothes and Chipso Gummies for dishes. You need them both.
A NEW LOW PRICE. Another of A & P's low regular prices. Pkg. 20c

SUGAR TOP BARS, N. B. C. 1-lb. 25c
A Real Treat

Special Offer
4 cakes SWEETHEART SOAP 1 pkg BLUE STEAK STEEL WOOL BOTH FOR 25c

Fancy New Potatoes, 15 lbs. .... 37c
Silverbrook New Grass Butter, 2 lbs. .... 71c

We carry a complete line of Fresh Fruits and Vegetables.
Cantaloupes, medium, 3 for ..... 25c
Cantaloupes, large, 2 for 19c
Wax and Green Beans, 5 lbs. .... 29c
New Apples, 4 lbs. .... 29c
Georgia Peaches, 2 lbs. .. 23c
Native White Corn 39c dozen

The Herald Hears —

That a South End family that evidently has a grudge against golf players delights in autoing along the Country Club course on South Main street and sending their youngster out to pick up balls off the fairways after the drive. The boy scoots out on the course grabs the ball, runs back to his father's car and they drive away. The father has been recognized, so it is said, and it will go hard with him via the fistcut route if it happens again, so it is said.
That letter carrier Charles H. Rogers has a hard time making purchases in local stores just this week he attempted to buy a watch fob and after innumerable futile calls about town had to go to Rockville to get one. Last winter letter carrier Rogers had the same hard luck in purchasing a pair of ear muffs. wonder if men's winter underwear can be bought in Manchester.

That a couple of spicy divorce cases featuring Manchester couples are due in September.

That there is a bit of agitation for a municipal golf course in Manchester. Private courses come high and the working man is taking up golf this season more than ever before.

That, speaking of golf, representatives of the Tom Thumb golf course concern are dickering for a main street site as a location for one of the miniature courses.

"Health and Vigor"
Body-building Pleasure Is Yours, and to Be Found in Every Can of Ballantine's Genuine THREE RINGS Malt Syrup

Be Convinced, Purchase a Trial Can at Your Neighborhood Store

For Sale Everywhere
SOLE DISTRIBUTORS
STANDARD PAPER CO.
40-42 Market St., Hartford, Conn.

SMITH'S GROCERY
Tel. 5114 North School St. Tel. 5114

SPECIALS

Roast Beef ... 33c-38c lb.
Lamb for Stew ... 18c lb.
Boneless Roast of Veal ..... 39c lb.
Rib Corned Beef ... 15c lb.
Fresh Killed Native Fowl ..... 39c lb.

Legs of Lamb ..... 37c lb.
Shank Ends of Ham ..... 20c-25c lb.
Roast of Pork ..... 29c lb.
Eckhart's Frankfurts 35c lb.
Our Best Bacon (Sliced) ..... 39c lb.

Sugar, 10 lbs. .... 52c
3 Cans Armour Beans ..... 25c
2 lbs. Lard ..... 25c
Corn Flakes, pkg. #1 ..... 8c

Pep, 2 pkgs. .... 25c
Duke's Salad Dressing, pt. Jar ..... 39c

Vegetables

2 Large Cabbages ..... 15c
2 lbs. Tomatoes ..... 25c
2 Summer Squash ..... 15c

3 lbs. Apples ..... 25c
Lemons ..... 39c dozen
White Turnips ..... 3c lb.

CANNED FRUIT SALE
An exceptional opportunity to stock your shelves at extraordinary savings

PEARS, A&P Fancy Bartlett, No. 2 1/2 Can ..... 27c
PINEAPPLE, Del Monte, A&P or Libby's, Sliced, No. 2 Can ..... 23c
PINEAPPLE, Del Monte, A&P or Libby's, Crushed, No. 2 1/2 Can ..... 25c
PINEAPPLE, Del Monte or A&P, Crushed, No. 2 1/2 Can ..... 25c

PEACHES, Del Monte, No. 2 1/2 Can ..... 24c
PEACHES, Del Monte, Yellow Cling, No. 2 1/2 Can ..... 24c
CHERRIES, Del Monte, No. 2 1/2 Can ..... 33c
PEACHES, Iona Halves, No. 2 1/2 Can ..... 6 for $1.00

MEATS

Fancy Steer Rib Roasts, lb. .... 27c-33c
Cut from Selected Steers.
Boneless Oven Roasts, lb. 35c
Quality Roasts. Cut any weight.
LARGE FRESH PLUMP YOUNG FOWL, lb. .... 32c
4-4 1/2 lbs. average.
Lamb Legs, lb. .... 35c
Genuine Spring. Any weight.
Fresh or Corned Plate Beef, lb. .... 12 1/2c

Fresh Rib End Roast Pork, lb. .... 25c
Shoulder or Chuck Steak, lb. .... 29c
Sunnyfield Smoked Shoulders, lb. .... 25c
Lean, Short Shank. Cured especially for A & P.
Fresh Made Frankfurts, lb. .... 25c

THE GREAT ATLANTIC & PACIFIC

The Best Places to Shop

MARKET PAGE

The Best Stores Advertise

BRIAND FEDERATION IS NOT NECESSARY

Britain Says the Same Work Is Now Done By the League of Nations.

London, July 18.—(AP)—The British government, replying to France's invitation to collaborate in a European federation of nations, declared that because the project proposed "to set up new and independent international institutions" the British government were not convinced it was "either necessary or desirable."

The probable new bodies, the reply set forth, "would in no way derive their authority from the covenant of the League of Nations or from Part Thirteen of the Treaty of Versailles" and would in no way organically be connected with the League of Nations.

Work Already Begun.

"Since the organs of the league already have begun work on virtually the entire problem of practical action when the memorandum put forward," the reply continued "it is difficult to see how these new European institutions could operate without creating confusion and perhaps also a rivalry which, however, little it might be intended or desired by the European governments, could hardly fail to diminish both the efficiency and the authority of the organs of the League."

The British reply was stated to be of preliminary and tentative character.

The note ends with an expression of belief that the purpose of the French government can be secured effectively within the framework of the League of Nations, and the hope that the French government will think it desirable that the memorandum be placed on the agenda of the next Assembly of the League.

ANDREW RAPS DRYS

Amesbury, Mass., July 18.—(AP)—Impartial investigation of prohibition by President Hoover's law enforcement commission, in the opinion of Representative A. Flatt Andrew, has been thwarted and handicapped by prohibition advocates.

The Gloucester Congressman, a Republican, attacked prohibition severely before a Rotary Club meeting here last night. Previously he has not taken part in the dry law controversy.

Pointing to President Hoover's original advocacy of an "organized, searching inquiry," Congressman Andrew said:

"Not a single representative of any of the organizations commonly spoken of as dry expressed anything but hostility to the proposal and some of them replied in terms of harsh and bitter condemnation."

14 MILLS CLOSED

Bombay, July 18.—(AP)—Due to accumulation of stock and depression in trade fourteen more cotton mills will close down. August 1, throwing 40,000 workers out of jobs. The Currimbhoy group has decided to work a reduced number of looms.

PORTUGAL FRUSTRATES A PRO-ROYALIST PLOT

Lisbon, July 18.—(AP)—The Portuguese dictatorship was victorious today over the second attempt to overthrow it within a fortnight. Leaders of the projected coup d'état were all arrested and in jail. All danger was said to have been removed.

A government communique said: "At ten minutes past seven Thursday evening the government learned that enemies of the dictatorship were planning a coup d'état to overthrow it. Under its duty to preserve public order, which is essential to the work of national reconstruction, it has taken the necessary steps, arresting a number of soldiers and civilians involved in the plot."

The police are in possession of evidence of the guilt of those arrested. The government assures the public that the movement was started by a small minority, all garrisons remained faithful.

Apart from Colonel Joao Almeida, who was arrested a fortnight ago in a pro-Royalist plot, all those taken into custody have been of minor rank. The projected coup, it was said, was the planning of the Democratic group which ruled Portugal until 1926.

SECURITY PROBLEMS SUBJECTS AT PARLEY

London, July 18.—(AP)—The royal gallery in the House of Lords was packed today when Interparliamentary Union reassembled for its fifth sitting to consider security problems and the Kellogg pact.

Twenty speakers were scheduled for today's session including Viscount Inouye and Congressman Morton D. Hull of Chicago.

The Chagoan in his report pointed out that without undertaking to redefine neutrality or prove any plan for its modification it "seemed reasonable to assume that it would be examined widely in the direction of a cooperative effort for the discouragement of war."

"If there is a war anywhere" he said "it affects all nations. It follows that all nations have a common concern in its prevention. A suggestion that a conference be held for consideration and adjustment of security problems seems to point the way to interesting and desirable developments. Community of interest should lead to community of action."

HOLLYWOOD MARKET

381 East Center St. Corner Parker Dial 4233

EXTRA FANCY FOWLS $1.00 each

Fresh Roasted Coffee 28c lb.
Pork Chops 29c lb.
Rib Roast Beef 32c lb.
Shoulder Steak ground 35c lb.
Boneless Lamb Roasts 35c lb.
Round Steak 39c lb.
Rump Corned Beef 29c lb.
EXTRA SPECIAL
Ginger Snaps, 2 lbs. for 25c
Pretzels 19c lb.
Large Lettuce, 2 for 15c
Alaska Salmon, 3 for 50c
$1.00 Brooms 68c

GET WASTE OUT OF YOUR SYSTEM

Banish Constipation at the Start with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Look out when you wake up tired and stay tired. Beware of headaches, unpleasant breath. These are usually the first symptoms of constipation.

The trouble is that your intestinal system is clogged. You have eaten too many bulkless foods. But you can clean your system safely. If you start at once to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a cereal that you eat naturally. It sweeps the intestines clean of poisonous wastes. Far better than habit-forming pills and drugs.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Just eat two tablespoons daily—recurring cases with every meal. You'll like its crispness and flavor. Your system will benefit by its rich store of iron and healthful elements as well as by its roughage.

Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits and honey added. Use it in cooking. Recipes are on the package for muffins and griddle cakes. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Improved in Texture and Taste

KITCHEN QUESTIONNAIRE

HOW CAN I MAKE MILK KEEP LONGER FROM SOURING?

Add a pinch of Worcester Salt to the fresh milk. This delays souring and also makes the milk more digestible.

Are you interested in new and improved methods of cooking? Send today for your free copy of the Worcester Salt Cook Book. Address: Worcester Salt Co., 71 Murray St., New York City.

Free Parking
In rear of store.
Entrances at Oak and Maple Streets.

The J.W. Hale Company

SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN.

Shop At The Cool Self-Serve Grocery and Health Market For These Week-End Savings. Store Open Until 9 p. m.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

Fresh Picked Native
Golden Bantam CORN
45c doz.
Clean, healthy stock. Large ears—tender kernels.

Native Head
LETTUCE head 5c

Fancy "Red Star" New POTATOES
15 lb. peck 36c

Fresh, Crisp Native
CELERY bunch 19c

Native
BEETS and CARROTS
3 bunches 10c

Fresh Picked Native Telephone
PEAS 3 quarts 23c

Native Large, Solid Heads
CABBAGE
2 for 15c

California Sun-dried
LEMONS dozen 38c

Arizona Jumbo
CANTALOUPE
3 for 29c
(Good eating)

Ham and More Ham!
Armour's "Star" Fixed Flavor
HAM
29c pound
The ideal summer meat. Special demonstration tomorrow of this delicious sugar cured ham. Butts and shank ends proportionately higher in price.

Handy's Sugar Cured
SHOULDER HAM pound 21c
Short, shank and lean.

Fresh Farm Style Roll
CREAMERY BUTTER pound 37c

Bath's All-Cooked Ready to Eat
PREPARED CHICKEN pound 59c
Why pay $1 for a chicken dinner. Can be eaten hot or cold.

Finest American
Granulated Sugar
10 pounds 49c
Packed in sanitary cloth bags.

Confectioner's, Powdered and Brown
SUGAR, 3 pkgs. 21c

BAKERY GOODS
All our bakery goods are made especially for us at the modern equipped Newton Robertson Bakery in Hartford.
Hale's Famous
MILK BREAD, 20 oz. loaf 7c
There is not a better loaf at any price.

Old Fashioned DOUGHNUTS-CRULLERS,
dozen 22c
Jelly Doughnuts and twisted, plain and sugar crullers.

Special Week-End Sale! Sunshine Baked Fresh, Crisp
CRACKERS Cream, Lunch, Graham, 2 lb. box 29c

Miscellaneous Week-End Specials
Famous Ohio Safety Matches, 3 pkgs. 25c (36 boxes)
Post's Toasties or Corn Flakes, 3 pkgs. 21c
Royal Baking Powder, can 42c
Royal Quick Setting Gelatin Dessert, 3 pkgs. 25c
Santa Clara Valley Prunes, 2 lbs. 25c (Large 20 and 40 sizes)
Hale's Wax Lunch Rolls, 2 rolls 19c (100 Sheets—12x18 1/2 inches)
Curtis' Fancy White Tuna Fish, can 29c

Hale's Tested Strictly Fresh
EGGS
43c dozen
There's not one chance in a million of getting an undesirable egg—every egg tested as to size and quality. Large eggs—guaranteed strictly fresh.

Frankfurters 29c lb.
A. Bologna

Liverwurst 32c lb.
Pol. Bologna

COOL DRINKS
Nationally advertised drinks can be found in the Self-Serve—reasonably priced.

Gra-Rock
Ginger Ale-White Birch, 2 for 19c dozen $1.00, (case of 24) $1.95
(Pale or golden)
Contents only at this price.

Use the old reliable— BALLANTINE'S MALT SYRUP

Strength
Purity Flavor
P. BALLANTINE & SONS
NEWARK, NEW JERSEY
Makers of Malt Syrup since 1909

HEALTH MARKET WEEK-END SAVINGS

Fresh Milk Fed
FOWL (4 to 6 pounds) lb 35c

Tender Roasting
CHICKEN (4 to 6 pounds) lb 45c

Prime Rib
ROAST BEEF lb 34c

Tender, Small
LEGS OF LAMB lb 35c

Tender-Lean
POT ROAST lb 27c

Lean, Fresh
PORK SHOULDERS lb 20c

Fresh, Lean for Boiling
BEEF RIBS lb 12c

Tender
SHOULDER STEAK lb 29c

READ HALE'S ANNIVERSARY ADVERTISEMENT ON BACK PAGE

SENSE and NONSENSE

Guests at Brotherhood Dinner
Albert Bore, 340 Harrison Street, who is a member of the Brotherhood had this to say: I'm tired of hearing about the fellow with store teeth rarely bites off more than he can chew.

George—Whar do yo' all live, sweetie?
Two days later the buyer said to the seller.
George—Ah always laks t' know how fer Ah kin go wid a girl.

Mother—No, dear, yo' mustn't eat any mo' candy today. Don't yo' know it an' bad for yo' complexion?
Daughter—Well, Ah knows it makes mah compleexshun awful sticky, but it washes off.

Fraser—Brethe, don't yo' all know its wrong to shoot craps?
Member (sadly)—Yes, pahson, an' believe me, sh's paying for mah sins.

A negro sold another negro a mule. Two days later the buyer said to the seller.
Buyer—Nigger, you cheated me. Dat mule fell off inter de ditch; Walked right slap bank into a house and knocked down a fence; dat mule an blind.

Seller—Naw, nigger, dat mule ain't blind her jes don't give a damn.

Old Uncle Sph Says: De Way Ob De Transgressors Ah Hard But It Am Always Crowded.

Rastus was sporting proudly a new shirt, when a friend asked:
Friend—How many yards does it take for a shirt like that?
Rastus—I got three shirts like this out of one yard last night.

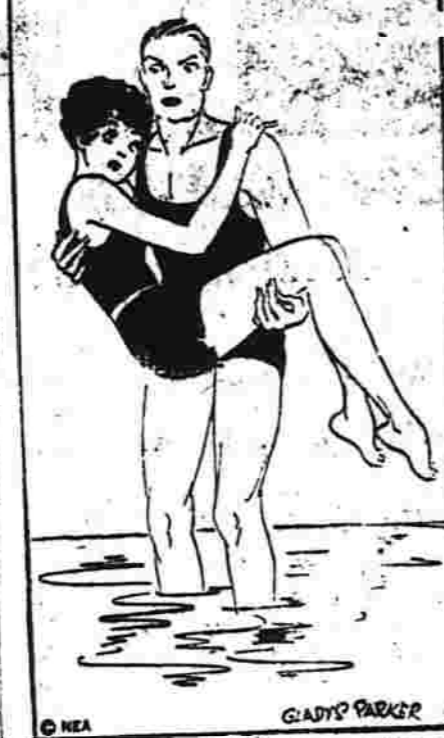

Englishman—Moses, is my bawth warm?
Negro Valet—Deed, suh, the wahmest Ah evah was in.

Uncle Clo Says: Don't expect De Roses Ob Pleasure Without De Thorns Ob Pain.

Even the truest wife cannot help from being suspicious when her husband has two or more lodge nights each week.

Uncle William Says: Mos' Always Yo' Hab T' Go Outten Yo' Way T'

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Some girls fall in love with life guards even though they're nothing but pick-up acquaintances.

Find Trouble. Who Eber Saw A Fone Pole In De Middle Ob De Road?

Sam—What is yo' all doin now, Rastus?
Rastus—Is a cafeteria, blacksmith.

Sam—What do you do?
Rastus—I shoe lies.

Sue—This love business gives me a pain in the neck.
Bill—Maybe you are too athletic about it.

She—Do you love me?
He—No! I'm just getting in practice for a hot date tonight.

Any woman can get along with her husband when they're both riding in the same patrol wagon.

Flapper—My uncle in Venice is sending me a gondola. How am I going to play it?
Big Boy—You don't play a gondola, you throw it over your shoulder like a shawl.

TO PICNICKERS: "LESS MESS."
A congressman says this nation can not exist half wet and half dry. Now what the dickens has it been doing the last ten years?

He (after the 10th kiss)—Darling, I love, I adore you, you are too beautiful!
She—I don't mind you kissing me, but I wish you wouldn't get sentimental.

Only a few people have the will-power to stop talking when we have said enough.

IF IT'S DIET—
"I've eaten beef all my life, and now I'm as strong as an ox!" said he.
That's "funny," replied she. "I've eaten fat all my life and I can't swim a stroke."—Tit-Bits.

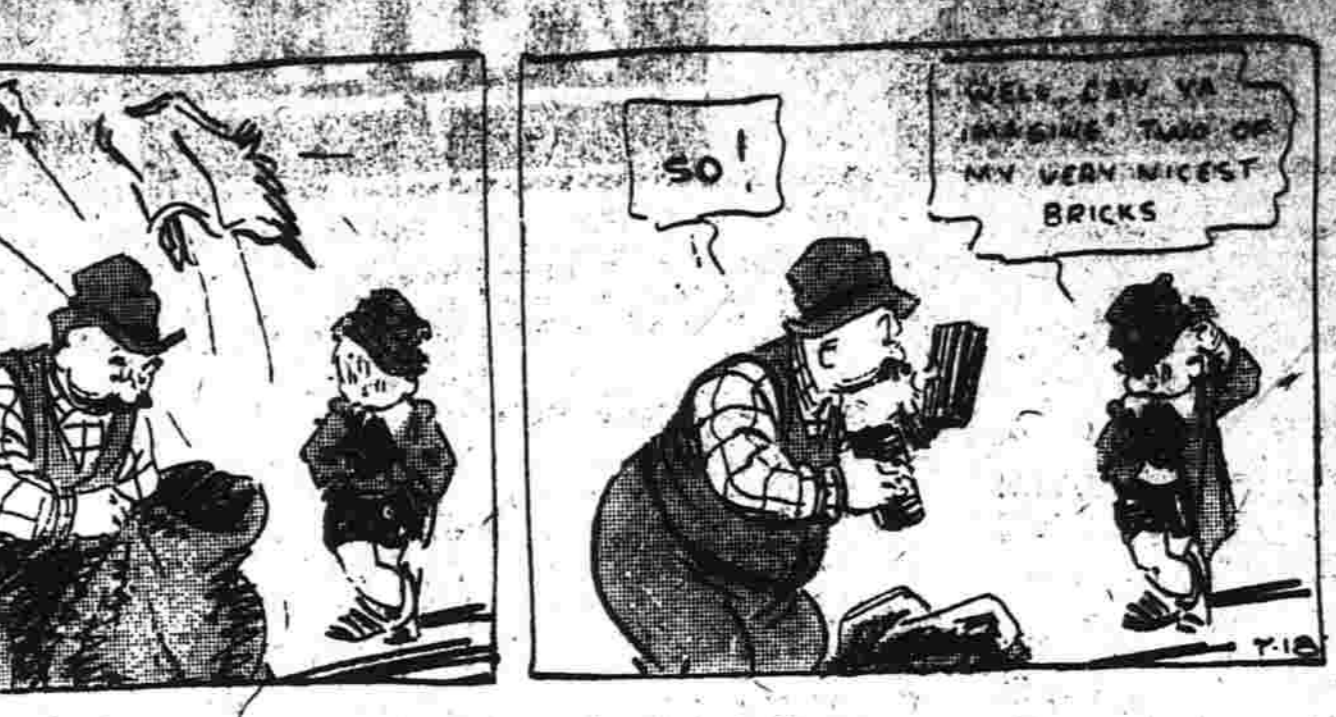

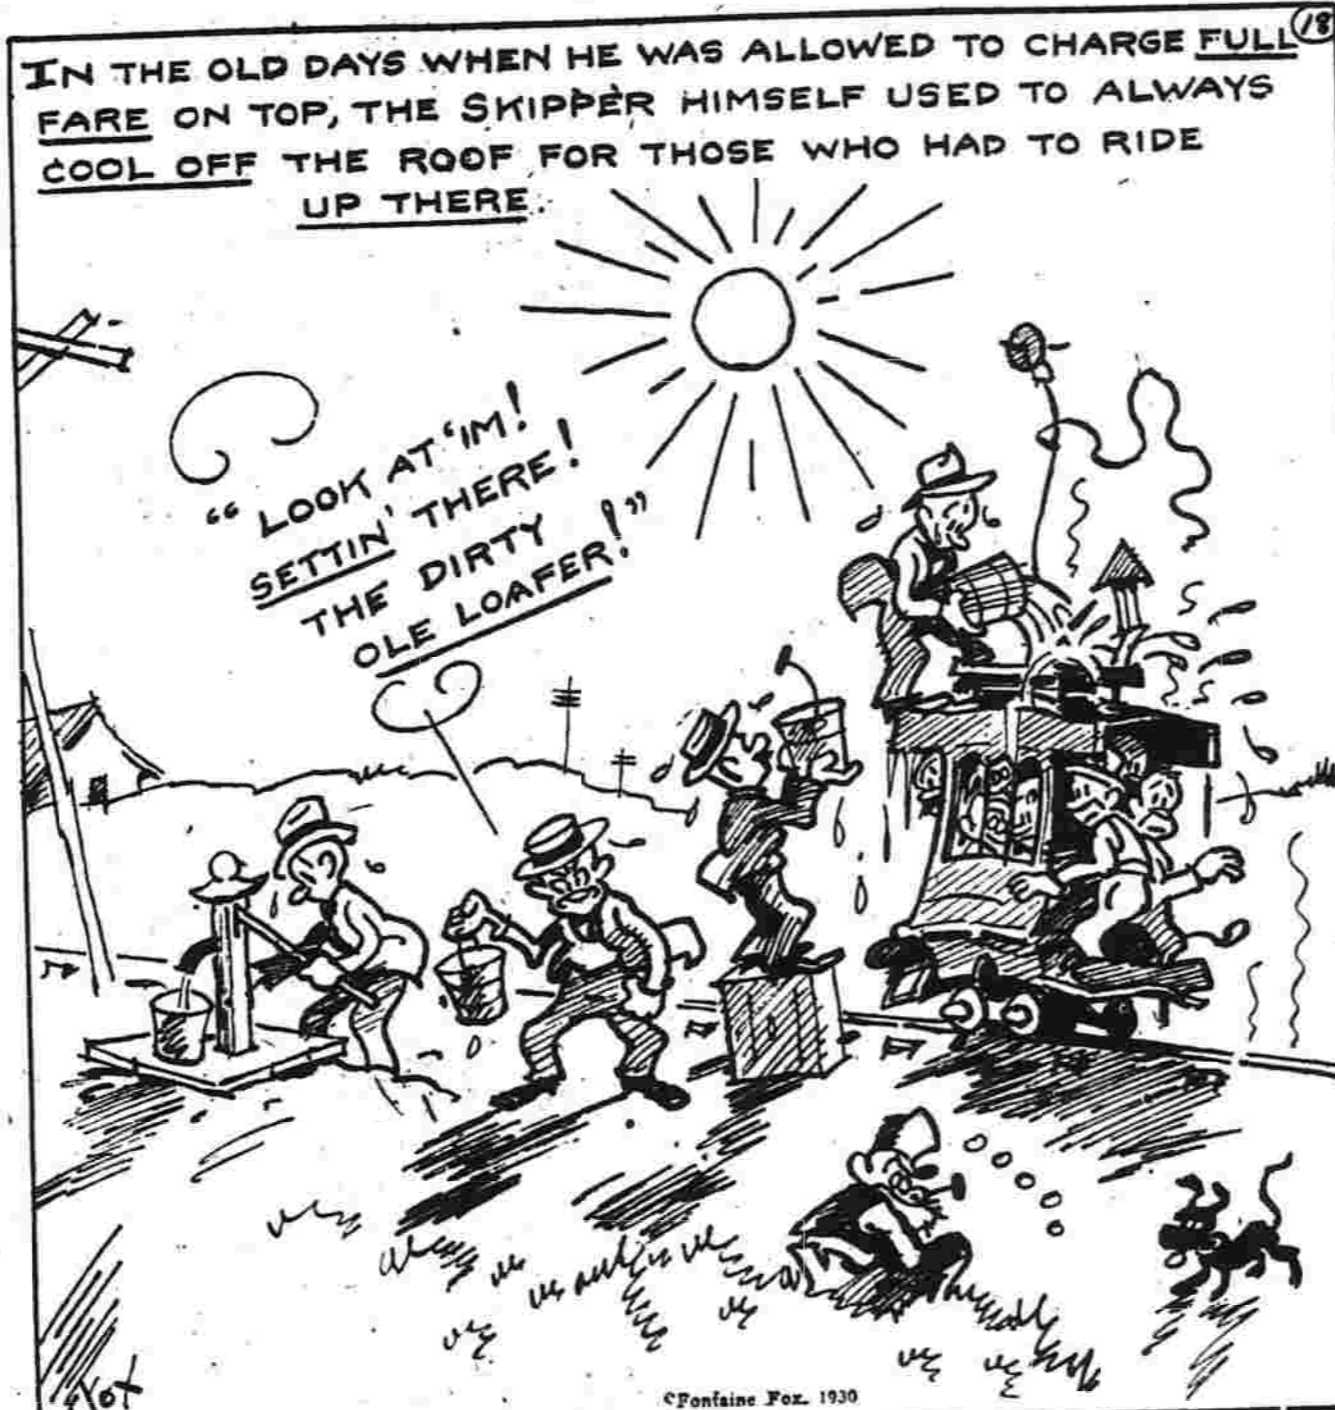

EASY TO GIVE
She (in tears): You've broken the promise you gave me.
He: Don't cry, sweetheart, I'll give you another! — Nebelspalter, Zurich.

POSSIBLY A HINT
HE: There was something I wanted to say to you, but I forget what it was.
SHE: Was it "good-night"? — The Humorist.

SKIPPY

The Toonerville Trolley That Meets All the Trains By Fontaine Fox

OUR BOARDING HOUSE By Gene Ahern

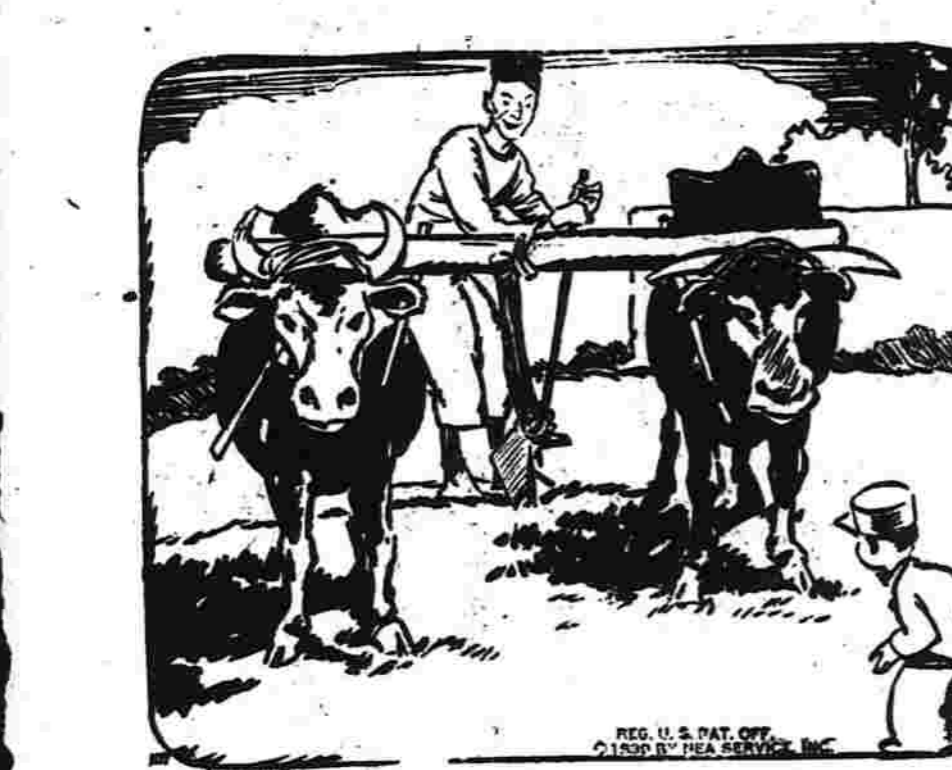

ONCE UPON A TIME

Winston Churchill, British statesman, joined the Amalgamated Union of Building Trades Workers so that he could buy bricks at his home in Kent. He also is an accomplished cook, and paints landscapes for relaxation.

THE TINYMITES STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)
"Oh, my," cried Clowny, "seems to me that gypsy woman ought to be real glad to tell our fortunes. They can do it, I have heard. I'm sure that if we pay her well she'll come right back and gladly tell us everything we want to know. Now, does that sound absurd?"

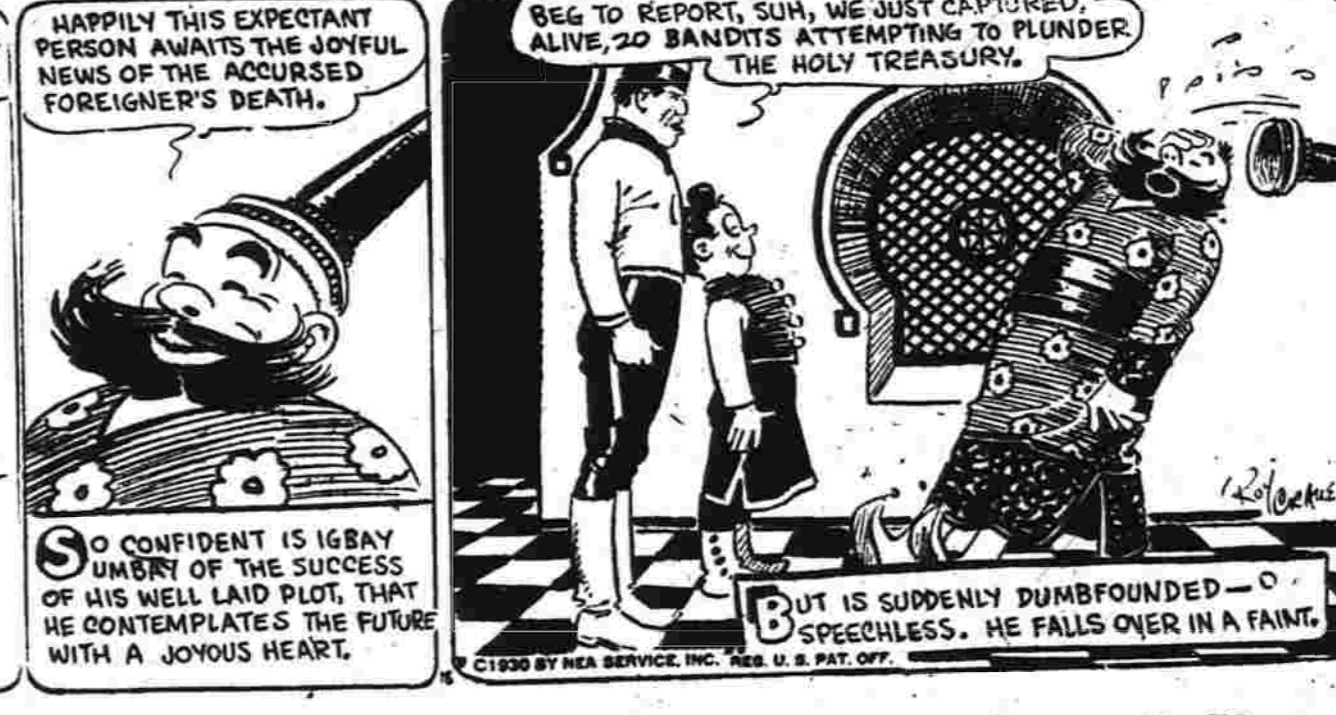

WASHINGTON TUBBS II

Igbay Gets a Jolt By Crane

By Blosser

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

The Stranger Again! By Small

SALESMAN SAM

And It Can't Be Done

