OLD BRIDGE FALLS; 35 TO 50 DROWNED

Hundreds Pack Structure to See German President Pass When It Collapses; American Among Victims.

Soblenz, Germany, July 23.—(AP)—President von Hindenburg's triumphal progress to the liberated Rhineland was tragically cut short by the collapse of a rickety pontoon bridge over the Moselle river last night in which between 35 and 50 persons lost their lives.

The President today decided to give up the remainder of his tour which had been in honor of the liberation of the Rhineland from Allied occupation and to return to Berlin after attending mourning services in Coblenz.

Among the victims of the tragedy which took place in the midst of last night's joyous celebrations was a six-year-old American boy, Raymond Lawler, of Akron, O. He was with his aged grandfather, who was visiting here. The boy's parents are Willy and Catherine Lawler. His grandfather, whose name was given as Conrad, lived on the Moselle side of Coblenz where the disaster took place.

Mourning bells tolled in Coblenz today in contrast with yesterday's peals. Germany's aged president who learned of the disaster from his secretary while in his sleeping car at the Coblenz station was with difficulty persuaded not to proceed at once to the scene of the disaster. He kept awake until the early hours of the morning in his anxiety for further details.

At eleven o'clock this morning the council attended a special town council meeting at which Oberbürgermeister Russell imparted the news that 35 persons, of both sexes had drowned and that higher casualties were feared.

The council room was decorated with black creps. The blinds were drawn and the lights darkened.

In his brief speech of condolence, President von Hindenburg stressed his special relationship to Coblenz in his capacity of freeman of the city.

President's Sympathy
"After expressing his deepest sympathy with the victims and relatives, who he said would receive all possible assistance, the President continued, in a voice trembling with emotion, "may God comfort the widows and orphans."

All present arose and stood for a moment.

SPAIN INCREASES TARIFF SCHEDULES

Officials Say It Is No Reprisal Against U. S.; Other Nations Hit Also.

Madrid, July 23.—(AP)—The government today published a new tariff schedule which increases the duties on numerous American imports principally automobiles, sewing machines, bicycles, motorcycles, pneumatic tires, razor blades, silk and hams.

The increase was announced as a move to stabilize Spanish currency and not in any way a reprisal against the increases in the American tariff.

France, Germany and England were hit more than the United States in some of the other increases.

Government officials and business interests said that the new tariff was not in reprisal against the United States but was a revision of an expert commission. The new rates, it was declared, are intended first to improve the peseta exchange by reducing imports and thus reducing the amount of pesetas spent abroad and secondly to protect Spanish infant industries.

Other items which have increased duties are hams, champagne, still and motion picture films unexposed, sulphur, paint, raw and artificial silk. Safety razor blades have the biggest increase, the new duty being six times the old.

Auto Duties
The automobile duty is doubled on an average and there are numerous classifications according to weight. The lightest cars are more than doubled in duty while the heavier cars are about doubled. Tires and casings are from about 33 1-3 to 50 per cent increased while motor cycles are almost doubled.

Lake George, N. Y., July 23.—(AP)—Warren county authorities today continued their quest of the death of Eleanor Goodspeed, 24, New Haven, Conn., girl, whose body was found suspended from the cord of her bathrobe in the woods near here last night.

Two men employed of a camp where she was employed were detained for questioning by police and county authorities, but both groups said they believed the men had no knowledge of value to their investigation.

GLENN CURTISS IS DEAD; WAS AVIATION PIONEER

Man Who Made First Flying Boat Succumb Following Operation — Was Known All Over The World.

Buffalo, July 23.—(AP)—Glenn H. Curtiss, widely known aviation pioneer died this morning in the general hospital here.

Mr. Curtiss was brought to the hospital several days ago from his home at Hammondsport, N. Y., to undergo an operation for appendicitis. The operation was said to have been successful and he had been reported recovering rapidly.

Few Details
Hospital authorities declined to furnish details concerning the aviator's death, but said that a statement probably would be issued later in the day.

Mr. Curtiss came here with her husband and has been almost constantly at his bedside. As his condition began to improve she spent here nights at a downtown hotel. He was hastily summoned when the aviator became unconscious this morning but arrived after his death.

Hospital authorities stated death was due to pulmonary embolism, caused by a blood clot on one of the main arteries leading out of the heart.

WAS FLYING PIONEER
New York, July 23.—(AP)—Glenn H. Curtiss nurtured the young science of aviation in the middle years of its development when fainter hearts had grown discouraged.

His native town of Hammondsport, in upstate New York, where he was born on May 21, 1878, is now called by its Chamber of Commerce "The Cradle of Aviation" because of what Curtiss and his associates did there.

At the age of 16 he started a bicycle shop, as did those other pioneers of American aviation—the Wright brothers—and from that went into bicycle racing. He sought some means to make them go faster but there were no engines that would meet the demand so Curtiss decided to make one.

First Motorcycle
With a tomato can for a carburetor, he built his first motor bicycle in 1901. He continued to experi-

Discover Headquarters Of Early N. E. Indians

Franklin, N. H., July 23.—(AP)—Three months of field study of old Indian camp sites, fishing stations and stone relics in the valley of the Merrimack river have led to the discovery of the main village of the early New England Indians was located here.

The search was begun at Newburyport, Mass., in April by Prof. Warren K. Moorehead, Andover, Mass., and a party of 12. Seventy Indian villages and fishing stations and about 600 stone relics were found during the march up the valley.

HUSTON KEEPS SILENT ABOUT FUTURE PLANS

G. O. P. Leaders Go Into New Conference Concerning Chief's Standing—Promised Statement.

Washington, July 23.—(AP)—Once more Claudius Huston has Republican Party leaders concerned as to whether he will resign as chairman of the Republican national committee.

He promised to make a statement on his status as chairman after the Senate adjourned. Many expected him to quit but he was not in Washington today and Republican chiefs are awaiting the promised word.

The confidence that Huston would quit in response to requests from some of the Republicans who are up for re-election this year had faded noticeably and party leaders were going into new conferences.

Calls On President
Walter Hope, assistant secretary of the treasury, and one of those who kept President Hoover informed on the Huston situation during the meeting of the Republican national committee two weeks ago called at the White House today.

With him were James Francis Burke, counsel for the committee, and James R. Nutt, treasurer. No indications was given as to what was discussed.

Later Senator Allen of Kansas, who called at the White House yesterday, returned for another conference.

Huston's testimony before the Senate lobby committee that he collected $36,100 from the Union Carbide Company for the Tennessee River Improvement Association and deposited the money in his brokerage account before turning it over to the association started demands for his resignation. The improvement association was interested in Muscle Shoals legislation.

DEATH ACCIDENTAL IN SOUND TRAGEDY

Coroner Says Fire Came So Quickly That Men Could Do Nothing To Save Ship.

Bridgeport, July 23.—(AP)—Lambert L. Hancock, pilot of the ill-fated freight steamer "Thames," operating between New York, New York and Bridgeport, who was drowned with other members of the crew off Greenwich April 24 came to his death by accident and not through any criminal act on the part of anyone, according to a finding today by Coroner John J. Phelan.

The coroner states that Pilot Hancock endeavored to escape from the boat in properly equipped life boat, but was drowned by the upsetting of the boat.

Continuing the coroner says: "Certain criticism was heard in regard to Engineer Tibbets in his failure to remain at his post until he could hear and respond to Captain Sherman's stop signal. That such failure to stop the vessel's speed caused the lifeboats when launched to be pulled forward and cause their upsetting, the same resulting in drowning of the deceased and other members of the crew, and that such failure further prevented the engineer and others from assisting in the saving of the ship."

Act Justified
"In view, however, of the weight of testimony, showing the negligence with which the fire and suffocating smoke broke from unknown places and sources in the steamer and the short time elapsing from this discovery to the launching of the lifeboats (alleged to be five minutes) I am of the opinion that in all the circumstances Engineer Tibbets was reasonably justified in leaving his post to verify the report of Chief Stewards and that in the presence of impending death from suffocation he was warranted in leaving the engine room when his response to the slow bell of Captain Sherman was completed and before the stop bell could be anticipated by him. I am further of the opinion that Tibbets was justified in escaping from the engine room to the lifeboat under the then existing conditions rather than be sacrificed."

TREASURY BALANCE
Washington, July 23.—(AP)—Treasury receipts for July 21 were $7,230,407.91. Expenditures $12,269,022.43. Balance $91,545,902.57.

QUAKES IN ITALY KILL 251; WORST DISASTER IN YEARS

Youths Look Up 'Law' On Tree Sitting Act

Waterbury, July 23.—(AP)—Tony Apicella, youthful tree sitter, who has ordered down by police last night at 9 o'clock from a tree on Mayor Frank Hayes' property, was resting in bed this morning while his two managers of the same age, Lucien Nole and George Dunphy went to City Hall to inquire about the "law" on tree sitting.

Corporation Counsel Charles O'Connor laughed and told them the boy's father could give the law on it more emphatically than he could. Crowds collected around the tree last night and the police advised the mayor special officers were needed to regulate traffic.

"The city is too poor to furnish policemen for tree sitters so tell the kid to get down off his perch and go home before his father comes from work" advised Mayor Hayes. A second tree sitter "hopped off" at 10:10 this morning.

KILL RADIO ANNOUNCER AFTER MAYOR'S RECALL

Tragedy in Wake of Bitter Campaign in Detroit; Man Murdered As He Sits in the Lobby of His Hotel.

Detroit, July 23.—(AP)—Two and a half hours after he had announced the recall of Mayor Charles Bowles by the voters of Detroit Gerald E. (Jerry) Buckley, political commentator of Radio Station WMBC, was assassinated by three gunmen as he sat in the lobby of a downtown hotel at 1:50 a. m. today.

The slaying was the climax of three weeks of gangster killings which have paralleled the intensive and bitter campaign over the proposed recall of the mayor. Charges which included inefficiency and toleration of lawlessness.

Four hours after the slaying the entire law enforcement machinery of the state was set in motion. Governor Fred W. Green took a hand, ordering Colonel John S. Hersey, adjutant of the National Guard to meet him in Detroit. By 9 a. m. the governor, Colonel Hersey and ranking officers of the state police were on the ground assisting local police in an investigation of the crime. The governor and Colonel Hersey came to Detroit by airplane.

Mayor's Enemy
Mayor Bowles for whose recall 120,853 Detroiters voted yesterday had been assailed in political summaries given over the radio station by Buckley. The announcer also had unparaphrased attacked the city's gangster elements who have carried out ten spectacular slayings in the past three weeks.

Coming as it did on the heels of the mayor's defeat, the slaying was seen by some as an outgrowth of enmities caused by the campaign. Police Commissioner Thomas C. Wilcox, however, saw no connection between the two and indicated that he attributed the slaying to Buckley's radio attacks on gangsters and gamblers.

Caused by Recall
Paul Buckley, brother of the slain man and former assistant prosecutor of Wayne county said the recall battle was the sole reason for the shooting. W. Wright Gedge, secretary of the Michigan Broadcasting Company, which operates Station WMBC said Buckley had told him of receiving threats for the last two weeks because of the part he was taking in the recall campaign.

Disgraced
Buckley made another speech in favor of the Mayor's recall Monday night on the eve of the election. Buckley was shot in the Lesalle hotel at Woodward avenue and Adelaide street, near the heart of the city. From a window in this hotel July 3 Buckley witnessed the shooting of two gangsters as they sat in a car parked at the Adelaide street entrance. This double killing ushered in the three weeks of gang warfare.

Mayor Bowles characterized Buckley's slaying as "a terrible thing." He welcomed the assistance of the state police.

IN NAPLES ALONE 50 DIE OF FRIGHT

Wires Down In Many Cities and Towns Makes Communication Difficult—Number of Injured in the Hundreds—Property Damage Cannot Be Estimated At Present—Three Violent Shocks Rock All of Southern Section of Country—Believe Many Buried In the Ruins—Worst Since Messina Disaster In 1908.

Rome, July 23.—(AP)—The number of deaths in a terror-striking earthquake which ravaged Southern Italy early this morning had reached 251 this afternoon with more than twice that number injured.

These figures were based upon the reports of provincial prefects flowing into the ministry of the interior of which Premier Mussolini is the head. The reports stated that thousands of houses had been either demolished or were wrecked to the point where they will have to be torn down.

The towns most seriously affected by the earthquake as reported authoritatively were as follows: Meffi 160 dead, Rionero 20 dead, 50 injured; Rapallo 20 dead, 30 injured; San Sossio Baronia, 14 dead, 100 injured; Barile 11 dead, 40 injured.

In addition to these casualties there were scattered deaths in various surrounding towns.

San Sossio Baronia was destroyed by the quake. The mayor of Villanova Del Battista and his family were killed.

Many of the priceless architectural glories of Italy such as the Cathedral of Salerno were seriously damaged by the quake.

Workmen today were busy shoring up a wing of the big Excelsior hotel in Naples where a fissure developed.

Naples, July 23.—(AP)—The terror earthquake on sharp and frightful that the number of deaths from the disaster in Naples alone was estimated at fifty; struck southern Italy today in three shocks that caused the most widespread devastation in Italy since the great Messina quake of 1908.

Because of the shattering of communications and the difficulty of reaching victims imprisoned in the debris, an accurate account of the dead and injured still was unavailable, but the number of known deaths steadily approached 200 while the number of injured reached several hundred with at least a hundred in a serious condition.

Three violent shocks were felt shortly after 1 o'clock this morning and a lesser shock added to the horror at 5:35 a. m.

The Hamlet of Meffi in Apulia was the hardest hit, unconfirmed reports said that there were 100 deaths there alone.

Everywhere in the stricken region, firemen, soldiers, militiamen and civilian volunteers dug into the ruins in frenzied efforts to rescue the trapped. Damaged walls and roofs were bolstered up.

Naples, Italy, July 23.—(AP)—At least 100 persons were killed, with the likelihood that further victims will be found, in three sharp shocks which shook southern Italy early today.

Several hundred persons were injured and relief measures were started immediately by the government. Premier Mussolini immediately ordered the Italian Red Cross to the scene of the disaster.

Other rescue trains left for the stricken area from Foggia and helped remove the injured to a hospital at Potenza.

Expect More Victims
Although the known dead was placed at 100, there was a probability that the list would be increased as ruined buildings were explored. The Stefani News Agency said, however, that the total number of victims would be found less than 200.

It was reported that the number of deaths from sheer fright in Naples alone were estimated at more than fifty.

As the work of rescue went on it was believed the number of dead would be well over 100 and that at least another 100 more would be found seriously injured.

Violent Shocks
The violence of the three shocks—Grade given on the Mercalli scale—was indicated by the calculations of seismographers that if it had scaled the whole city of Naples would have been destroyed.

Up to two o'clock this afternoon, the United States consulate had no report of any American victims in Naples or any of the nearby towns on the famous bay. At Sorrento, which is a popular stopping place of American tourists, two natives were killed by a cave-in. Five deaths were reported in the nearby countryside.

The state population will be given by the register as 1,002,166. Forty-one out of 168 towns lost in population during the ten years period.

WEALTHY "BUFF" NOW A FIREMAN

New York, July 23.—(AP)—Edward J. Kenny, millionaire "Buff" today is a full-fledged member of the fire department with the title of deputy fire commissioner in charge of Brooklyn.

In the lexicon of the fire house a "Buff" is a private citizen with a penchant for chasing to fires.

Kenny, whose brother William F. told a Senate committee he would "give his shirt to see Al Smith elected President," has declared his intention to give up his brokerage business and devote his entire time and attention to making the Brooklyn Fire Department more efficient. For this he will receive $7,000 a year.

"I am as happy as a boy over my appointment," he said.

Son of a battalion chief, Kenny has been going to fires for years. He has an alarm gong installed in his home and when a four alarm rings in either from Brooklyn or Manhattan he has donned rubber coat and boots and dashed to the blaze in his car.

28 PETS ENTERED IN CONTEST TODAY

Judges Have Difficult Time Selecting Winners in Four Different Groups.

Dogs and cats of almost every breed, rabbits, canary birds, goldfish, turtles and one giant bull frog were presented before three judges in the annual Pet Show program at the West Side playgrounds at 2:30 this afternoon.

The three, Mrs. Gladys Wilkinson, Richard Martin and T. W. Snow, finally made the following selections:

- 1. Most unusual pet—Walter Ford's pound-and-a-half bulldog that he and another boy caught in his back yard.

2. Most attractive pet—Four months old Pomeranian puppy led by Rosalie Chetelat of 42 Maple Street.

3. Pet with the longest ears—Brown rabbit owned by Russell Clifford of 13 Short Street.

4. Largest group of pets—The between Edward Scott of 87 Garden street who had three canaries and Elmer Thrall of 99 Walnut street who had three pretty little white rabbits.

The baseball bleachers on the west side of the playgrounds were filled with women and children eager to witness the interesting event. The usual scuffle between dogs and cats was missing, probably due to two things, first the weather and second, because most of the cats or kittens were carried in the arms of children.

The competition was so keen that the procession had to pass before the judges several times before it was possible for them to reach a decision on the most attractive pet. The list of boys and girls who took part, their addresses and the kind of a pet they brought follows:

- Edward Scott, 87 Garden street, three canaries; Clifford Saul, 30 Foster street, dog; Walter Ford, 14 Short street, dog; William Adams, 91 Bridge street, dog; Hazel Johnson, 50 Birch street, Angora cat; Eileen Blanchard, 11 North Fairfield street, cat; Bessie Holton, 12 Short street, Mexican turtle; Reginald Grimason, 10 North Fairfield street, gold fish; Rosalie Chetelat, 42 Maple street, Pomeranian dog; DeLore Lappen, 54 Fairfield street, cat; Dorothy Coward, 14 Garden street, bobtail cat; Thomas Blanchard, 11 North Fairfield street, 18 years old dog; Robert Kurz, 51 Foster street, alreale dog; Constance Owens, 246 West Center and Alden Cawles, same address, pair of cats; Elmer Thrall, 99 Walnut street, three white rabbits; Walter Bentley, 98 Walnut street, cat; Billy Runde, 118 Walnut street, two brown rabbits; George Droghi, 47 Summer street, two rabbits; Russell Clifford, 13 Short street, rabbit; Spies, Bank street, white dog; Laura Mason, West Haven, dog; Eddie Prentice, 143 Cooper Hill, bulldog, one collie dog; Mildred Johnson, 24 Newman street, one tan kitten; Elizabeth Theek, 59 Wetherell street, one Spitz dog; Robert Tripp, 71 Sumner street, white dog; Ben Terrier; Barbara MacIntyre, 23 Lygnes street, one kitten.

ABOUT TOWN

Because of objections that have been made to the playing of the automatic pianos or radios, padlocks are being applied to many. The padlock is placed on the slot that carries the coins into the machine. In some of the places the playing of these different devices is stopped by the owners and some at the request of the police, but this is not done until midnight as most of the money paying devices are located in the business sections where no great disturbance is noticed until after midnight.

VICTIM OF DUMPCART AUTO CRASH CONFINED

Frank Rieg, Manchester Green farmer, is still confined to bed at his home on Middle Turnpike East, as a result of the accident Saturday morning when an automobile ramed into the rear end of a dumpcart on which he was riding.

The case of Charles Walker of Danvers, Mass., driver of the Ford coupe, which struck the dumpcart, was continued in court yesterday for two weeks to await the outcome of Rieg's injury. When the auto struck the wagon, Rieg was catapulted off the seat onto the backs of the horses. He managed to climb back along the seat but was again thrown off as the horses dashed over a stone wall into an open lot.

FIND CAR IN RIVER, OWNER IS MISSING

Revere, Mass., July 23.—(AP)—The automobile which crashed through an iron railing and plunged into the pines river at midnight last night was raised from the surface early today and found to be registered to A. C. Rowe, a South Lancaster mushroom grower. No bodies were found in the car but Rowe was missing from his home.

A heavy tidal current flows under the bridge and police dragged the glass had been broken. The doors remained closed. The bridge, on the main artery to the north shore, was closed after the crash and 50 Lynn and metropolitan police aided the searchers.

The car crashed through the railing and was seen by several motorists disappearing in the water, 14 feet deep at low tide. Rowe's wife called police early today, saying her husband had not returned home and asking if an accident had been reported. PROTEST MARRIAGE OF AGED PRINCESS

Paris, July 23.—(AP)—Whether the Princess Amedee de Broglie, aged 73, can marry Don Luis de Bourbon, 42-year-old son of the Infante, was the subject of the tribunal of the Seine this Friday.

Don Luis who is a cousin of the Spanish monarch and once was reported engaged to Mrs. W. E. Corey of Pittsburgh, was reported to have gone to his villa at San Remo.

The Duke de Brissac, nephew of Princess Amedee, has formally filed objections to the match on account of the age of the prospective bride. He also has alleged to the court that the princess has squandered huge sums in the past few years. He has asked that a judicial council be named to administer her property.

A Paris newspaper several weeks ago reported that Don Luis and the princess had been married on the Italian Riviera but this was denied. The Infanta Eulalia at the time said her son and the princess were not married and that she did not think they would be.

RENEW RADIO LICENSES

Washington, July 23.—(AP)—The Radio Commission today reissued the licenses of 31 broadcasting stations for the regular 90 day period but announced before they were renewed again—public hearings would be held in each case.

Eben S. Fisher, assistant counsel for the commission, said the stations had been cited for various reasons. Among these were frequent deviations, using excess power, operating without licenses, operating without licensed operators, failure to announce the use of phonograph records, failure to announce call letters and location of transmitter each 15 minutes and some for operating not in the public interest, but for private gain.

JEWISH-ARAB PACT

Jerusalem, July 23.—(AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency today reported the signing of a peace pact between the Arabs of the village of Betsafat and the Jews of the village of Hayim, a suburb of Jerusalem. The peace agreement followed a statement from the Arabs of Betsafat which is not far from Mekor Hayim to the Palestine government, requesting that an attack on the Jews of Mekor Hayim during last summer's disturbances.

As a sign of forgiveness the Jews of Mekor Hayim petitioned the government to quash the legal proceedings against two Arabs from Betsafat who are charged with the murder of Mekor Hayim Jew.

Advance Guards Thrusts and Cometers of Interest to Local Soldiers

Major Samuel A. Butler, commander of the 2nd battalion, talked to the non-coms of Co. G, Sunday morning during the non-com school period. The major outlined the duties of a non-com and his remarks were well to the point. He told the men what is expected of them during camp, and expressed the hope that every company in his battalion would receive a very satisfactory rating. The men enjoyed Major Butler's talk very much and are determined to carry out his suggestions and put Co. G in the U. S. class.

It is hoped that all privates of the company will enroll and take the course and get his name on the eligible list from which future appointments will be made.

Blankets, mess gear, shelter tents etc. were issued to men in some instances that had never received them before. LITTLE TOO HOT TODAY FOR THIS FISH STORY

Boston, July 23.—(AP)—And now there's the one about the fisherman who had to spank the fish to make it go away from his line.

Jerry Gardner, member of the crew of the Gloucester fishing schooner Louise B. Marshall, which arrived at Fish Pier today, was hauling trawls in a dory yesterday in the south channel. According to Jerry, a sixty foot whale, one of the school sighted off the fishing grounds, approached the dory and playfully began to splash water on him with its tail. This Jerry took good naturedly enough, but the fishermen decided to give some real sport, so it took a dive and came up under the boat. Jerry barely escaped drowning, and the trawls became tangled. The fisherman seized an oar and belabored the swimming mammal so soundly that it swam off, chastened.

DEMOCRATIC POLITICS

Waterbury, July 23.—(AP)—Democratic politics in the Fifth Congressional district are beginning to stir. The examination of the possible rivalry for the party nomination for Congress, Martin Gormley of Naugatuck has begun his canvass of Litchfield county for delegates as the New Haven county end may be inclined to support Edward Macgregor of this city who made the campaign against the late Congressman Glynn two years ago.

USED TO BEING OVERCOME

Bridgeport, July 23.—(AP)—It's booming an old story to Harry Nelson, 19, and a rather unpleasant one. The youth was overcome by ammonia fumes escaping from the refrigeration system in the cellar of a local market last night and found him in a semi-conscious condition. The experience was not a new one, for on two other occasions he was overcome by fumes in the same cellar.

LIONS PURCHASE CAMP IN BOLTON Site On Second Pond To Be Devoted To Use of Juvenile Organizations Here.

Arrangements were completed last night whereby the Lions Club of Manchester becomes the owner of the property of the Bolton Nitch Fish and Game club on the second pond in Bolton. The camp which will bear the name "Lions Recreation Camp" has been bought by the local service organization as a vacation or outing spot for youthful groups such as the Boy and Girl Scouts, Pioneers, newsboys groups and so on.

The site of the camp adjoins the Lakeside tract owned by Robert J. Smith and P. J. O'Leary. It has a frontage of 385 feet on the lake front and runs back 285 feet on one side and 425 feet on the other. It covers about three and three-quarter acres. A camp house 30 by 20 feet is on the property. This house has a veranda also measuring 30 by 20. The grounds are ideally suited to camping and the water in front is fine for bathing.

The Bolton Nitch Fish and Game club last night voted to sell the property to the Lions and informed Albert Knofia, chairman of the purchase committee this morning. George H. Williams has been working with Mr. Knofia on the purchase.

No charge will be made organizations for the use of the camp. Those desiring to make use of the site should get in touch with the board of governors of the Lions club.

SO. GLASTONBURY MAN ON "DRY" COMMISSION

Washington, July 23.—(AP)—A group of men prominent in scientific, professional and trade organizations was named today by Commissioner Doran to act as an advisory committee to co-operate with the Bureau of Industrial Alcohol of the Treasury.

Commissioner Doran said the action was taken because of desire of the bureau to promote a better understanding with organizations concerned with the use of alcohol and liquors for industrial and medicinal purposes.

The committee includes Everett E. Hulbert, South Glastonbury, Conn., and Frank M. Noonan, Boston.

BECKETT CENSURED

London, July 23.—(AP)—By a vote of 90 to 28, the Parliamentary Labor Party today expressed strong disapproval of the action of John Beckett, Labor member of the House of Commons, in seizing the speaker's mace on July 17.

The Labor members described Beckett's act as bringing discredit upon the Parliamentary Labor Party and as constituting a gross affront to Parliament.

The matter will be reported to the national executive committee of the Labor Party, and Beckett will be called upon to apologize to the House of Commons.

New Haven, July 23.—(AP)—New Haven police are basing their hunt for 18 year old Josephine Maricconi, who disappeared from her home yesterday on pictures. MILLIONAIRE HOBBO DIES IN VIRGINIA two-bit Hobbes flop house, where-ever hoboes meet, the name of Dr. James Edgus How has passed currency for 30 years.

He was called the millionaire hobo because in pursuit of his ideal of the brotherhood of man he devoted his fortune to attempting to better the condition of itinerant workers and lived their life to learn their problems and needs.

The rigid self denial which led him to give away his inheritance began when he was a student at the Meadville (Penna.) Theological school, where he sold his dress suit and gave the proceeds to help the needy. It was the habit of his whole life.

He was the son of the late James F. How, vice president and general manager of the Wabash railroad and a grandson of James Buchanan.

He attended Harvard where he was a member of the class of 1889 and later went to Oxford. His degree as a Doctor of Medicine, was obtained at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York City, an adjunct of Columbia University.

REPORTER'S MURDER STARTS LABEL SUIT

Chicago, July 23.—(AP)—A $250,000 libel suit has embroiled two Chicago newspapers in the web that was being spun daily with an unending skein of new investigations, charges and insinuations sprung from the assassination six weeks ago of Alfred Lingie, Tribune reporter.

Robert M. Lee, Lingie's "boss" for ten years as city editor of the Tribune, asked redress of the Illinois Publishing and Printing Company for libel alleged to have been printed in the Herald and Examiner yesterday.

The article in question, reprinted from an editorial in an afternoon paper of the previous day, suggested that Lee, because of his close association with Lingie for a decade, be called before the Grand Jury to furnish whatever evidence he might have of the dead reporter's activities.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, July 23.—(AP)—Having in effect publicly committed themselves to advancing prices, the bull forces applied strong arm methods to the Stock Market today.

An impressive list of important stocks was bid up 4 points or more, and timid shorts hurried to cover at costly levels. There was no inclination on the part of the general public, however, to rush into the market. Commission houses reported only a moderate pickup in business.

A widely advertised statement by M. J. Meahan and Co., saying that it regarded present levels as offering excellent opportunities to prudent investors, was generally regarded in Wall street as a public avowal of the bull cause by the so-called "Meehan group" of market operators, who are regarded in brokerage circles as important engineers in the present market.

While speculative sentiment generally has become rather bullish over the more distant future, there is a feeling that the success of the present movement will depend largely upon the extent of the seasonal upturn in business activity as fall approaches, and the amount of public participation which can be attracted.

Commission houses find no such inclination on the part of the public to rush into the market as there has been during recent years, for too many optimistic forecasts and bull campaigns have failed.

A current survey points out that the stocks of several leading companies of a decade ago would now show sharp losses if held since that time.

The days business news still reflected little but seasonal trends. The weekly steel trade reviews were more optimistic, but the Age still placed steel mill operations as unchanged at 56 per cent of capacity, against 95 a year ago, and 73 two years ago. Freight car loadings as reported for the latest week showed further seasonal declines, and continued at the lowest level in recent years. The weekly petroleum statistics, however, distinctly were favorable, showing further substantial reductions in refiners stocks and crude production. Earnings statements coming to hand continue to show a few decidedly encouraging exceptions to the downward tendency.

The bull movement attracted considerable profit taking, and prices wavered considerably at times. For a time during the morning and again in the afternoon, recessions of a point or so from the higher were common. Strenuous operations for the advance in such pool favorites as standard of N. J., and Radio Keith appeared to meet some opposition for advances of only a point or less were achieved. General Motors was pushed up substantially more than a point, a fair move for that stock.

Shares making extreme gains of about 4 included U. S. Steel, American Telephone, American Can, Anadlum and Dupont, Radio, General Electric, and Electric Auto Lite gained 2 points. High fliers were Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical, Columbian Carbon and Peoples Gas, up 8 to 10.

Credit eased. Call loans were renewed at 2 per cent, and funds were available in the outside market as low as 1 per cent. Shorter term time money also showed an easier tendency. Further exports of gold were without influence.

MANY U. S. CANDIDATES Bridgeport, July 23.—(AP)—Past masters in the art of office campaigning will be in their glory at the American Legion convention which begins tomorrow because there are 90 many candidates crisscrossing up for various posts. For state commander it looks as if each county would have a candidate, and for treasurer already there is a sizeable list.

POLICE HERE SPOIL ILLEGAL ROMANCE

Willimantic Pair Found Loving Well But Unwisely; Arrested and Fined.

The romance that exists between Edward Dubois, 23, of 709 Main street, and Mrs. Lena (Vale) Auger, also 23, of 88 Ivers street, Willimantic, was interrupted last night by Manchester police and the affair was aired before Judge Raymond A. Johnson in police court here this morning with the result that each was fined $50 and costs.

Widower and Widow, Grass Dubois is unmarried, having died two years ago. As for Mrs. Auger, her husband's whereabouts are not known. They separated some time ago. Dubois and Mrs. Auger grew acquainted through relatives. Mrs. Auger accepted Dubois' invitation to come to his apartment in the Johnson block and help make life less lonely for him.

Asked Policeman Mrs. Auger, however, made the mistake of stopping Patrolman David Calligan on the street and asking for the direction to 709 Main street where Dubois lived. Later complaints reached police headquarters of merry parties in the Dubois apartment. Calligan told Sergeant John McGlinn about the matter and together they went to the room, but found that the "birds had flown" some ten minutes before their arrival.

Summer Attire Last night Sergeant McGlinn and Calligan took another trip to the Johnson block and this time located the pair. After listening for about ten minutes at the two doors leading into the room, Sergeant McGlinn rapped on one door. This was repeated four or five times before there was a response. Then Dubois came to the door wearing only his E. V. D's. Mrs. Auger was in bed clad in a nightdress.

French No Protection At first Dubois maintained that they were married but soon realized the futility of such an alibi. He and Mrs. Auger engaged in a lively conversation but this soon abated when they realized that Patrolman Calligan also was familiar with the French language.

Admits Guilt The couple went to police headquarters where after a further questioning, they were booked on charges of fornication. In court this morning, Dubois pleaded guilty but after presentation of the state's evidence, he had nothing to say in his own behalf. Mrs. Auger took the stand when called by Prosecuting Attorney Charles McHathaway and admitted that they were both guilty as charged. Judge Johnson then imposed a fine of $50 and costs on each.

Mother Pays Mrs. Auger's mother and her young brother were present in court and the mother not only paid the fine of her daughter but also the $50.52 for her daughter's lover as well. This made a total of $119.04. While she was paying the daughter's fine, Mrs. Auger and Dubois sat side by side in the prisoners' pen engaging smilingly in conversation.

Other Case Another young man was in court charged with breach of the peace. His "crime," however, consisted of nothing more serious than hugging a girl friend in the Court Bar. The young man, a local fellow, was reprimanded by Judge Johnson who suspended judgment. The girl did not have to appear in court.

Auto Violations Bernard Sigurd, of 390 Chapel street, New Haven, paid ten dollars and costs for operating an automobile without proper registration. It was the old story of a man buying another car and planning to get a proper registration the next day. Motorcycle Policeman Raymond Griffin made the arrest. He also arrested Joseph Hahn, of 81 Parker street for driving with improper brakes. Hahn, it seems, was also on the way to a garage to fix the brakes. The court, however, imposed a fine of $25 and costs. Hahn, who is but 17 years old, had not even seen fit to take out accident insurance.

LOW PRICES FEATURE CLEARANCE SALE

The price of women's wearing apparel has been gradually reduced during the past few months. A new low price level has been reached by The Smart Shop for their Summer Clearance Sale. This store's fine stock of summer dresses in the preferred styles, shades and materials has been offered to the shoppers of Manchester at prices far below the amount it would cost the average person to buy the material alone. A keener appreciation of these values may be had by turning to their adv. in today's Herald.

FINED FOR BAD DRIVING

Joseph A. Farr of Manchester was fined $25 and costs yesterday in Middletown police court, after being convicted of a charge of reckless driving growing out of an automobile accident recently on the Middletown road south of Middletown where Farr, Thomas Boland and Joseph Durkin of Manchester were injured when the car over-turned. Boland is still in the Memorial hospital here recovering from the in-few moments in silent tribute to the dead as the president ceased speaking. Von Hindenburg then left for Berlin.

Oberbürgermeister Russell announced that the city would defray all expenses incurred in the burial of the victims.

At police headquarters it was stated that watches found on victims had stopped at 11:15 last night. The pathetic fate of the little American boy, Raymond Lawlor, of Akron, O., excites universal sympathy.

Condemnation is great at both Treves and Aix-la-Chapelle, where elaborate preparations had been made for the festive reception of the President. Scores of excursion trains had to be cancelled by telegraph. These included several from the Saar region.

It was impossible, however, to give notice of the tragedy at Coblenz to thousands traveling in automobiles that were converging upon these two historic cities. Many of them it is believed, will arrive at their destination in ignorance of the catastrophe that plunged the whole Rhineland into grief.

EARLY BULLETINS Coblenz, Germany, July 28.—(AP)—Thirty-four bodies of the between 100 and 150 persons who were swept into a backwater of the Moselle river by the collapse of a rickety pontoon bridge last night had been recovered by 9 o'clock this morning.

Exactly how many perished probably will not be known until relatives report those missing from the spot where they were swept into the water. There was no way of determining just how many went down on the flimsy little crossing.

It was heavily crowded, however, by those who had been watching fireworks from the historic fortress of Ehrenbreitstein to celebrate the evacuation of the Rhineland by French troops, and reliable estimates place the number which fell up to 150.

Of the thirty-four recovered, seventeen were men, eleven women and six children. Ten were rescued and taken to a hospital.

Among the victims were Sisters of Mercy who were in charge of a group of school girls.

Small Bridge The bridge, which was only 75 feet long and rested on just two pontoons, was not designed to carry heavy traffic. It spanned the narrow estuary leading from the Moselle from "Deutsches Eck," or German Corner, at the junction of the Rhine and Moselle.

When the great crowd which had gathered near Ploessaffen to watch the illumination of the old fortress and another at "Deutsches Eck" had started homeward, the short length of the frail bridge quickly became massed with people.

Bridge Collapses The illumination of Ehrenbreitstein was just dying and all those crossing crowded to the side facing the display that they might see the final glow. With this lopsided load the structure suddenly dropped into the water.

UNION HEAD IS FINED FOR COURT CONTEMPT

Springfield, Ill., July 28.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers of America, was fined $500 and all remaining defendants in the recent miners' contempt of court case were found guilty today by Circuit Judge Charles Briggie after considering the findings of Master-in-Chamber Trutter. Lewis announced he would appeal. He contended during the hearing that the Illinois group had abandoned shelter of the injunction by setting up a dual organization. Judge Briggie ruled that Lewis never had asked for a modification of the original injunction.

Those found guilty with Lewis include Frank Heffery, provisional president, Joseph F. Goetz, provisional vice-president, John T. Jones, secretary-treasurer and the 12 provisional district board members.

Colpitts will officiate and Collins Driggs, cousin of the bride, will be the organist.

The "On to Boston" group of the local American Legion Post will hold a meeting Friday night at 8 o'clock in the State armory.

The girl employees of the finish-stock control department of Cheney Brothers spent the last week-end on an outing at the Evers breeze cottage at Coventry lake. Among the features was a dog roast Saturday evening. On the way home Sunday evening some of the girls witnessed an automobile accident and they were summoned as witnesses in Coventry court.

MAYOR OF DETROIT OUSTED FROM POST

with the support of the Anti-Saloon League and other similar organizations.

He appointed Harold H. Emmons, prominent attorney and business man, police commissioner. The mayor returned from attending the Kentucky Derby last May to find that his police commissioner had authorized sweeping series of raids on race handicappers, against which a newspaper campaign had been waged for weeks. He discharged Emmons.

That precipitated the recall movement with charges that he had "tolerated lawlessness" and "Ard Emmons for enforcing the law," heading the list of accusations.

WAR LORDS OF CHINA TOY WITH BOMBING PLANES

By MORRIS J. HARRIS
Shanghai—(AP)—China's war lords have found a new toy in the bombing airplane.
Although 15 years late in adopting this weapon, they are having a lot of fun with it.
Three or four years ago armored cars were all the rage. Generals who owned one took great delight in roaring through the streets of the towns they captured, running over anything or anybody who did not get out of their way.
Before the armored car age, the railroads were the chief things of the military. Special trains, some of them camouflaged after a fashion and all luxuriously fitted out, crowded regular passenger and freight traffic off the tracks.
Now the craze has shifted to airplanes. Magazine writers who spend a week or two in a few coast cities and then go home to record their impressions, say that China is becoming air-minded. But those who have been here longer say that this is true only of the general. Chinese have no use for the contraptions which shower destruction upon them.
Bombing raids have been made on walled towns and cities in Honan, Shantung and Kwangtung provinces where much of the fighting in this year's civil war took place. Hundreds of homes were demolished and many non-combatants killed and wounded. Both the Nanking forces and the northern rebel under Governor Yen Hsi-Shan and Marshal Feng Yu-Hsiang staged raids.
The appearance of the airplane in Chinese warfare has been sudden. A year ago Nanking had only a few observation planes in its service and not a rebel general in the whole country had a bomber. Purchases of the bombers followed development of commercial aviation last summer.
One reason for the use of planes can be found in the experiences of the Chinese in the dispute with Russia last fall. Soviet machines in Manchuria routed Marshal Chang Hsueh-Liang's best troops without the aid of infantry or artillery.

Ruth Owen Mixes Melodies, Politics With Loved (But Wheezy) Concertina

Washington—(AP)—Back to London where she got her gay repertoire of music hall ballads, Ruth Owen, of Florida, amateur entertainer extraordinary, goes this month.
Her mission is most dignified and very official—first woman delegate to represent the United States at the inter-parliamentary union.
But there will be intervals and interludes, and other musical pauses in the serious business of statesmanship. For wherever Ruth Owen goes, spontaneous songs and impromptu instrumental melodies are on tap for informal occasions.
Adept at playing "by ear," she can improvise on piano, organ, harmonica. But her favorite music-maker is her faithful concertina, veteran of many campaigns, and, if the truth must be told, a bit worn and wheezy now.
She bought it in Jamaica, where her late husband, Major Reginald Owen, British army, was engaged in engineering work after their marriage in 1910.
It went with her to London where she and Mrs. Herbert Hoover held the joint position of secretary and treasurer of the economic committee of the American women's war relief fund.
That was when she began specializing in haunting, romantic London ballads. These stood her in good stead when she went to Egypt in 1915, as army nurse, and became one of a group giving entertainments to soldiers wounded in the Palestine campaign.
Now, in the official society of Washington, they are still in ever-increasing demand. Mrs. Owen undoubtedly will bring back important data regarding the inter-political relations of nations. But she also will have tucked away from some small corner of her brain a few brand new London music hall ballads.

Ruth Owen, shown with her 20-year-old concertina, hopes to learn a few new ballads while in London at the inter-parliamentary union.

Gold Star Mothers' Visit Leads France to Give Its Dead Better Care

GRAVES OF WAR DEAD NO LONGER SUFFER BY CONTRAST WITH U. S. CEMETERIES.

Paris—Coinciding with the sacred pilgrimage of American Gold Star Mothers, French military cemeteries are taking on a new and refreshing appearance. They give evidence of more presentable and better reflect French homage for the dead.
The state of French military cemeteries has long been criticized here, although Congress has voted for their improvement. They could not compare with the fine appearance of the American cemeteries. While French mothers and wives have complained, visiting American mothers have found great comfort in the care given the graves of their sons.
Magnot Brings Improvement
Active steps to improve the French cemeteries were taken shortly after Andre Magnot took office as Minister of War. Himself a wounded veteran, he had always sought to produce results.
At the same time it is quite possible that the American pilgrimage to the beautiful shrines cared for by the Graves Registration Service further inspired the French authorities and veterans' association to bring about improvements in the French cemeteries.
They no longer suffer so by contrast with the American cemeteries. Walks and lawns have been refreshed, crosses repaired and strengthened, and in this season roses are seen on every grave. The French retain the white wooden crosses, which in American cemeteries have been replaced by marble markings.
Since the American mothers began to arrive, L'Oeuvre, liberal Paris daily, has reopened its attack on the "scandalous conditions" of the French military cemeteries and has remarked that the visitors from the United States may well be proud of the graves they were visiting.
The newspaper charged that "vampires of the front" have long been profiteering of concessions for exhuming the bodies of French soldiers from makeshift battlefield graveyards to the national cemeteries.
Careless and inadequate reburial for the sake of economy in order to increase profits has been laid at the door of the contractors. The wooden crosses were of cheap composition, rapidly giving way to disintegration, the inscriptions of which are almost illegible after a few months' service. Contracts for trees, shrubs and flowers have not been fulfilled, the newspaper charges.
Many Mistakes Are Cited
This is not the first time that the scandal has been brought before the public. In the original investigation three contractors were indicted and accused of the grossest carelessness in the transfer of nearly a million bodies to the permanent resting place. It was charged that all sorts of errors were made by faulty identification due to carelessness and undue haste. Demands continue that the bad work already done be corrected as far as possible and that the French cemeteries shall be second to none.
Most visiting American mothers, on the other hand, have nothing but praise for the cemeteries and the appearance of the graves they come to see. Their reactions usually is one of surprised gratification.
ALWAYS A WINNER
Fido Kempton never played on a losing football team from 1911 until 1919. He spent his intercollegiate days at Yale.

OPENING STOCKS

New York, July 23—(AP)—The impact of a new bull drive sent share prices up briskly at the opening of the Stock Market today.
Standard of New Jersey and General Motors each mounted 3-4 of a point with initial transactions of 5,000 shares. U. S. Steel, Westinghouse Electric and American Gas advanced about 1-2 each. Gains of around 2 points were recorded by American Can, American Tobacco B, and Columbia Carbon. Case mounted nearly 3. Sears Roebuck, however, sagged 3-4.
The swift upturn in the first few minutes of trading invited considerable profit taking, and by the end of the first half hour, several active shares sagged a little from their top levels. Bullish operations, however, went forward vigorously.
The overnight news was mixed. The weekly petroleum statistics were highly favorable, showing another sharp drop in gasoline stocks, and a reduction of more than 30,000 barrels in daily average crude production to a new low for the year. Car loadings figures for the week ending July 12, however, showed a further seasonal decline, and the latest report of building contracts let was a little disappointing.
Radio Common was traded in large volume, but moved forward only fractionally. Wholesale operations in this stock were attributed to its former sponsors. Standard of N. J. was also an active feature, having become a decided pool favorite of late, but failed to make much headway.
Westinghouse sold up nearly 3 before beginning to falter, and American Tobacco B and American Water Works got up 3-4 each. Yarnold and Worthington Pump rose nearly 2. American Telephone mounted 1-2 among the volatile issues. Auburn rose, 6 and Peoples Gas 9.
Foreign exchanges opened steady, with sterling cables at 48.86.

BUDGET BUREAU STARTS WORK FOR FISCAL YEAR

Washington, July 23—(AP)—Preparation of the government's 1933 budget was started today by the Budget Bureau which began having department heads on the money they will need during that fiscal year.
Only a week ago President Hoover urged all Cabinet officers to make a close scrutiny of estimated expenditures for the present fiscal year and reduce them wherever possible. He pointed to mounting expenditures together with the increased decreases in revenue due to the business depression.
The hearings began today will be continued until the budget is completed. This probably will be late in October. None of the estimates submitted by the various departments will be made public until President Hoover submits his budget to Congress next December.
Indications were that the 1932 budget would amount to $4,000,000,000 or more. The budget for the present fiscal year is only $3,000,000,000 under that mark. For the last few years the cost of government operation has been increasing about $12,000,000 a month.

HUNT PHANTOM RIDER

Wheatland, Wyo., July 23—(AP)—Death threats signed "The Phantom Rider" received by several Fletcher Park ranchers has added to the uneasiness spread by the recent appearance of a masked horseman who rides the rugged Laramie peaks on a snow white horse.
Five men and a woman are reported to have received the letters which were placed in the hands of officers seeking the "Phantom Rider" who recently rode into the yard of Charles Adams 20, and shot the rancher through the shoulder.
Authorities searched the hills following the attack but were unable to apprehend the mysterious horseman who previously visited several Fletcher Park ranches and ordered their owners to leave the country at once.
Authorities believe the horseman is connected with recent cases of cattle rustling.

NEW HARKNESS GIFT

London, July 23—(AP)—Edward Harkness of New York, long noted for his philanthropic activities, is reported to have offered 2,000,000 pounds sterling (about $10,000,000) to endow social and educational work in Great Britain.
The London Daily Herald, organ of the Liberal government, made the announcement today and said the gift was to be administered by a board of widely known men.
Edward Harkness has made many gifts to educational institutions in the United States. Among his largest contributions were $3,000,000 to Harvard in 1928, $2,000,000 to Columbia University in 1929, and several millions to Yale University. He also has given much to smaller institutions.

BIG GOLD SHIPMENT

New York, July 23—(AP)—Two gold shipments, of $6,000,000 each, both consigned to France, were announced today, bringing the total of the present exportation to $22,000,000.
Today's shipments, both to be sent on the liner Europa sailing tonight, are being forwarded by Lazard Freres, international banking house, and the Guaranty Trust Company of New York.
The present movement, the first important gold export that has left the United States since last January, goes under way a week ago today, with the forwarding of $4,000,000 to France by Lazard Freres. An additional $4,000,000 also was sent to France by an unidentified consignor. This week $2,000,000 in gold went forward to Canada.

DERBY RACER HURT

Cincinnati, July 23—(AP)—R. A. Hosler, Detroit, was injured today as his plane, demolished when he crashed while attempting to take off on the Cincinnati-Little Rock leg of the All American Air Derby.
Airport men said Hosler placed five gallons of extra gasoline in his cockpit and that this weight evidently threw his plane off balance. He was taken to General hospital.
Hosler was definitely eliminated from the race. He held ninth position in total elapsed flying time in the Derby.

DEMOCRAT'S PLATFORM

Des Moines, July 23—(AP)—Iowa Democrats will enter the fall campaign with a platform advocating state regulation of the sale of liquor, declaring for a referendum of the 18th Amendment and opposing a state income tax.
They adopted these planks at their state convention yesterday in a platform which assumed the new tariff bill, urged repeal of the primary election system and condemned the Republican's efforts at farm relief.

SEEK HOLD-UP MEN

Hartford, July 23—(AP)—The police hunt for the four men who bore active parts in the holdup and fracas Sunday morning at the gambling joint in the rear of 64 Union Place proceeded unabated today, with the disclosure that the Hartford gambling fraternity has been practically all driven to cover temporarily. There were not more than two gamblers around town last night," said an investigator.
All four men particularly sought after, the bandit leader and three house employees, have been definitely identified as professional gamblers most of them with police records. Warrants were issued yesterday by Prosecutor McCormick for them.

LOSERS IN POPULATION

Hartford, July 23—(AP)—The town of Harwinton in Litchfield county has suffered a loss in population of 1,076 in the last ten years, according to the census records just in. In 1928 the town had a population of 2,092 and at the present time the figure is 941. The population loss, which is the largest numerical and percentage loss in the state, is what may be called a "bookkeeping" loss. The decline is accounted for by the fact that in 1922 the Harwinton Corner section was taken from Harwinton by an act of legislation and annexed to Torrington. This area was one of the most thickly settled parts of Harwinton and it is estimated that it added from 200 to 300 people to Torrington.

COW'S STOMACH 'WINDOW' HELPS STUDY OF DIET

State College, Pa.—(AP)—The mantle of Pennstate Jesse, the famous cow which lived four years at Pennsylvania state college with a "window" in her stomach, has fallen on another.
Again selecting a Holstein, scientist christened her Pennstate Jesse II with a painless operation in the college veterinary hospital.
A local anesthetic was used and beyond snatching her head several times the heifer gave no signs of being aware that anything out of the ordinary was taking place.
The opening to her largest stomach is kept closed with a special rubber plug which can be removed when scientists wish to study the bacterial action in Jesse's dinner.
The studies interrupted by the death of the original Pennstate Jesse now may be resumed. They open speculative features which may initiate an entirely new sphere of investigation in dietetics.
It has been found that the bacterial content in a cow's stomach changes as new elements are introduced to her food, new bacteria appearing and developing as the new rations were continued, and disappearing when the elements are withdrawn.
The fact that an organism was found in the stomach of Jesse I which manufactured vitamin B when there was none in the ration, leads to the belief that special bacteria may be derived from other organisms in the stomach, or are developed from existing forms when they are required.

PROTESTS WILL FOR

Saugus, Mass., July 23—(AP)—Saugus Mayor Colley wants to know if a five weeks' meeting board will be held.
Colley said two packages of cigarettes for the monkey in Saugus, Mass., three months ago and sold him to a roadside stand proprietor for $10 on his return here. The monkey escaped and the vendor refused to pay. Soon it was found by Horace Blinn, who "took" $15 board bill.
Blinn says the monkey has begun to ape humans, taking up trees sitting, and he's had to spend his time watching.

VICTIM OF FOUL PLAY

Glens Falls, N. Y., July 23—(AP)—Possibility that Eleanor Goodspeed, 24, of New Haven, Conn., was a victim of foul play was being investigated today by police.
Her body, clad in pajamas and a bathrobe, was found yesterday hanging to a tree in the woods near Lake Luzerne.
Miss Goodspeed was spending the summer at the lake. The cord of her bathrobe was used in the hanging.
An autopsy was to be made to determine the actual cause of death.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 23, 1930.

HOOVER'S FIRST CHANCE

Until December, we are to have no more of Congress. There are persons who actually believe that this fact will in itself bring about an improvement in business. That is a rather ridiculous notion. If the business does improve with the coming of autumn the improvement will be the result of conditions altogether removed from mere sessions of the national legislature. However, it is entirely possible that in the Congressional vacation there may lie the germs of better times to come.

It is perfectly obvious that not from Congress itself is to be expected any initiative looking to economic improvement. In neither branch of that body is there the necessary genius of leadership; in neither branch is there any important group of sufficient vision of devotion to follow such leadership if it existed. If measures are to be advanced looking to a permanent establishment of industrial and agricultural stability and to the restoration of business on the plane which to most Americans now seems normal, they must emanate not from the Senate or the House but from President Hoover and his cabinet. The best that can be expected of Congress is that it may adopt such suggestions if they are presented to it.

Yet with a Congress performing as erratically and withal as aimlessly as during the last year, it would be patently impossible for a President to give to the country's economic situation the concentrated attention that might result in the evolving of a solution. Imagine Mr. Hoover successfully undertaking to think out the answer to the business depression with Congress doing all those circus stunts over the tariff and then over the London treaty!

However, it is not only Congress which will now be on vacation. The President will have, during the next few months, the first opportunity he has had since the stock market debacle last October to apply his profound economic mind exclusively to the state of the nation. He may discover no magic panacea, but it is highly probable that before the opening of the December session Mr. Hoover will have some suggestions to make, looking to the stabilization of the country's business, which will be of the utmost value. So far he has had no chance whatever to bring into action his genius for the meeting of huge problems of ways and means. The absence of Congress will provide him with the needed opportunity. And we have a hunch that he will rise to the occasion.

TEETH FOR THE LAW

Under the motor vehicle laws of Connecticut the commissioner of motor vehicles has well nigh unlimited power over the licenses of automobile operators. His right of revocation or suspension is almost without qualification, for he is empowered to deny the right of any individual to drive an automobile for any reason that seems sufficient to himself.

Ordinarily we are firmly opposed to the granting of such autocratic authority to any official. In this one instance, however, the wisdom of the law can hardly be questioned. It provides the state with a means of control over motorists which is capable of employment as no other method could be employed.

The present motor vehicle commissioner, Robbins B. Stoekel, has never used his great powers for the revocation or denial of licenses to anything like the extent possible under the law. His administration of his authority in this direction has been liberal rather than tyrannical. His determination to now extend the operation of his revocation and suspensory powers, however, seems likely to cause trouble to a lot of people—but they are of a class that has coming to it a great deal more trouble than it has had in the past.

Heretofore, when a driver has been arrested for an offense likely to involve the suspension of his license it has usually been possible for him to avoid the loss of his driving privilege if he could but patch up the case with the prosecuting authorities or obtain, by whatever device, an acquittal in court. Now, however, Mr. Stoekel has authorized the police officials booking such a case to demand the offender's license as a direct representative of the motor vehicle commissioner. In other words, in a certain class of cases, the job of unseating a bad driver is up to the police instead of up to the courts—and the fact that the motorist has gotten into trouble at all is the determining factor.

This does not mean that every person arrested for any kind of a motor vehicle violation can have his license taken away by any police sergeant or other desk officer. But persons charged with drunken driving, with evading responsibility or with reckless driving when there is any evidence of even slight drinking, will automatically be deprived of the right to drive until the commissioner of motor vehicles shall have assured himself that the license should be restored. And this need not necessarily follow upon an acquittal in court or upon a failure to prosecute.

It would appear that any person who gets arrested for any of the three reasons above noted, is going to be out of luck, so far as his driving license is concerned, at least for a few days. Unless we are very much mistaken, after it has become thoroughly understood that an arrest for reckless driving when there is even an odor of liquor on the breath is no joke, there is likely to be a very different attitude on the part of a certain class of motorists. And if Mr. Stoekel will be firm in refusing to restore licenses in the frequent instances of unjustified acquittals, he may succeed in ridding the roads of many undesirable drivers who are now laughing at the police.

We have criticized the commissioner so often for his stubborn adherence to the present speed law in the face of its complete failure that we are well pleased to be able to heartily commend his course in this other matter. If he would show as much good sense in the matter of definite speed limits we should be glad to give him cheers instead of jeers.

GARDEN TRUCK PROBLEM

If it is true that New England's urban communities are consuming such a large proportion of vegetables and fruits brought in from distant points that the market for native farm products is seriously impaired, the situation simply does not make sense. Possibly more searching investigation into the subject will cast some doubt on the taken-for-granted ability of New England's farms and market gardens to supply the ever increasing demand of the towns and cities for fresh vegetable foods. Certainly there has been in the last few years an enormous increase in the use of such produce, due to the growth of new dietary ideas.

That there can be any real preference on the part of the people for produce hauled many hundreds of miles across the country, as opposed to the native-grown commodity newly gathered from New England farms, is altogether incredible. It is no easier to imagine dealers finding it to their pecuniary advantage to give preference to imported articles.

If, however, there is any real ground for complaints that the home-grown garden truck and fruits are being crowded out of the New England markets by stuff coming from long distances away, it would seem to be high time that something was done about it. The New England states ought to be rapidly increasing the extent of their self-feeding instead of diminishing it, and if there is a tendency in the wrong direction it is a matter that calls for the attention of many persons not immediately connected with either food selling or farming, but whose interests are tied up with the economic welfare of New England.

Here is a situation that quite possibly may demand the development of co-operative marketing on a very real and important scale. And we should say that the subject is one that should excite the very lively interest of New England bankers and capitalists quite as much as anyone else.

HOT WEATHER CLOTHES

While the recent torrid period was substantially as severe as any recorded by weather bureaus throughout the country, the number of fatalities did not comparably approach those which marked very similar visitations thirty or forty years ago.

It is not at all improbable that the better resistance to extreme heat displayed by the people of American towns and cities nowadays is due very largely indeed to the difference in the way they clothe themselves.

Those whose memories run that far back will recall the indefinable customs of dress which tyrannized over all classes of people at the end of the last century—men compelled to wear stiff starched collars and forbidden by the edict of manners even to go without their vests; women swathed in a multiplicity of suffocating garments and rigidly corseted; though the temperature may have soared toward the hundred mark. It is no wonder that many of them died—rather it is a wonder that so many survived.

Better diet, better opportunities for finding relief from the city steppets may have something to do with the vastly diminished death rate from "sunstroke"—but the probabilities are that dress reform is entitled to nine-tenths of the credit.

IN NEW YORK

Southampton, N. Y., July 23—Week-end... And just one hundred and forty-five minutes from Broadway a leather-skinned fisherman sits in the sand mending his nets.

With the dexterity of a woman at her knitting he weaves in and out, making patterns of squares and triangles with the heavy cord. Two tow-headed youngsters scamper beside him, frolicking in some beach game.

"Sharks raise the dickens with your nets around here," he complains. "Chase the fish into the nets and then eat their way out. Always got to be fixing 'em."

Along the beach saunter hand-some young women with bathing suits rolled away from their backs so that the sun can give them a stylish tan. Along the beach saunter young debutantes with their millionaire swains a mile or so down the beach, the shore curves in a gentle arc that melts into a rainbow of hues that dance in the heat waves. These are the hundreds of gay parasols and beach costumes in the little space given over to the Beach Club, one of society's very exclusive summer spots.

Just one hundred and forty-five minutes from Broadway and the veteran fisherman grows friendly as he works.

"Those are my kids... got five more," he tells you. "Seven of 'em quite a family. Sometimes it looks like you couldn't feed 'em all. But I can't work as hard as I used to. Take a couple of winters ago, we got about 20 miles up from here for cod when the snow was on the ground. The cod runs good in winter. But we didn't get no prices for it. Ran around five cents the pound until come along Christmas time. Then up she goes and we get around 12 and 15. We fished hard that Christmas, 'cause we hadn't been getting anything much for our work. Yes, sir, we fished hard. Worked 18 hours a day some days. But I can't do that any more. Getting old."

"Brought in $100 that week and a thousand another week. So I paid off for the winter house I got down Amerganaset way. Now I got two houses... and I own 'em both."

"Well, I earned 'em. I started with a row boat when I was 14 years old, and I've fished ever since. "See that little boat about two miles off shore out there? Well, my oldest lad is running that. He can do the hard work now, the 18-hour run. I started him off at the same age I begun. An' he's over 21 now. They're line fishing for sea bass off an old wreck out there. We got a buoy marking the wreck. Trouble is, sea bass is too cheap now. Blue fish and weakfish is better now. Get good prices for them in New York."

"Funny, I sends my fish into New York for years, but only got down there once or twice and that was because I had a scrap over money they didn't send me. Always

WASHINGTON LETTER

By ROBERT DUTCHER, WEA Service Writer

Washington—The members of the National Costumers' Association came here saying that times were hard and business very bad in the fancy dress and costume line. They went down to get their photographs taken with President Hoover just as if they hadn't said anything of the sort.

Some of the costumers re-good. Why they said the last president was even willing enough to set an example to the country by exhibiting himself in a cowboy suit. "But they didn't express themselves like that to Mr. Hoover."

"We are face to face with realities which cannot be lightly brushed aside," explained Major S. H. Harrelson of Kansas City, Mo., the founder and president emeritus of the association and a famous specialist in Indian and cowboy suits.

People Aren't Dressing Up
 "It's getting so that people are almost willing to paint their own B V D's and call it a costume. One of the best ways to combat hard times is to get yourself into a gorgeous costume and imagine that you are wealthy, powerful and romantic, but people don't seem to get the point. Psychology is a very important part of the costume business."

The National Costumers' Association is made up of manufacturers, sellers and renters of costumes, catering to professional and amateur alike. As well as to people who want to go to balls and parties in other than ordinary pants and dresses. Its object is to make the country more costume conscious. Its standards of admission are high. Anybody who rents dress suits and dinner coats cannot get in unless he also has some fancy outfits hanging up in his shop.

Major Harrelson deplored the passing of the good old-fashioned masquerade ball, but expressed a belief that a country which had lived and thrived on masquerade balls for 75 years would not abandon them more than temporarily. Unfortunately, however, many city ordinances have been set up which forbid the wearing of masks. Band-dits became too fond of draping up and masking as a means of aiding their nefarious work.

The backbone of the industry today is the high schools of the nation with their dramatic efforts of which call for imported costumes. It would be just too bad if the industry could not depend on these and other amateurs because the stock companies have been disappearing rapidly since the talking movies came along.

The movies have been a great help, just the same, because the constant changes in costume styles for balls and parties have been in very large part inspired by what the heroes and heroines of the screen were wearing.

After "The Four Horsemen" was made into a movie there was an immense demand for gaucho or caballero costumes of the type worn by Rudolph Valentino and the industry was never quite able to catch up with it. Today, years after the departure of the immortal Rudy, there is still a constant call for his costumes. Raymond Novarro and his Spaniards also created a staple item for the costumers.

Scotch costumes will be the next popular fad, according to Major Harrelson. People admire them and they are going to be pushed. The only thing that will hold back the rapid advance of the Scotch costume are handicaps peculiar to the costumes themselves. They are very expensive when you go and buy 17 yards or so for a kilt, and the genuine ones cost from $10 to $15.

Also, there is a popular delusion that no Scotchman is fully dressed unless he carries a bag-pipe, and nobody wants to go dancing around with a girl and a pipe in his arms at the same time.

thought I'd get away some day and take a look at that town. People around here all come from there, but somehow, I stays too busy to ever get time. Got seven kids and two houses, and times are gettin' harder. Folks tell me they're tough in the city. Men bein' laid off all around. You know, you give a man a bunch of kids and lay him off work and he thinks of those kids and gets desperate. It ain't good! A man'll do anything when his kids is hungry."

"Now I got a new little feller down at my house. Just four months old. And you should see him when I gets home every night. Smiles... say, he just about jumps out of the crib, he's that glad to see me."

"The folks that got up and down this beach has got millions, lad... they've all got millions. But I wouldn't take a million and then some for that little feller I got home there."

CHARLOTTE CUSHMAN

Charlotte Saunders, celebrated American actress, was born in Boston, July 23, 1816.

She was one of five children left poor by their mother by the early death of their father, a West India merchant.

However, she had a fine contralto voice and, in 1835, she made her appearance as an opera singer in the "Marriage of Figaro."

Shortly afterward, her voice failed, but she undertook a dramatic part, "Lady Macbeth," and was so successful that it became one of her greatest roles.

After successes in New York and London, she went to Rome, where she had a home for some years. She was honored in Europe's most cultivated society.

She became known, in her later years, as a reader, with singular interpretative powers.

She died in Boston, Feb. 13, 1876.

In 1880 her grave in Mount Auburn was marked by an obelisk which in form is a copy of Cleopatra's Needle as it stands in Heliopolis.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS SELF

New York, July 23—(AP)—Major Michael A. Kelly, wartime commander of the Third Battalion of the 165th Infantry, accidentally shot himself fatally while cleaning his service pistol yesterday. He was 50 years old.

During the war his recklessness under fire gained him the name of "Dynamite Mike." He was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross and the Croix De Guerra. After leaving the service he was active in Irish-American movements supporting Eamon de Valera.

NEW ZEALAND'S TARIFF

Wellington, New Zealand, July 23—(AP)—The government has framed an amended tariff on imports which will give further preference to British Empire products by increasing the duties on goods from other countries.

The state will gain about $4,000,000 additional in revenue but the main purpose is said to be to increase Empire preference.

For further this the government is given power to increase still more the duties on foreign products.

The principal articles assessed higher are motor cars and gasoline, tobacco and cigarettes, and certain types of clothing and hosiery.

THE CURE OF PILES

In the cure of piles or any form of rectal trouble, the first thing to do is to adopt the enema habit. The rectum should be thoroughly cleansed at least once or twice a day with a warm enema. This may be taken while sitting on the toilet and permitting the water to run in and out so that all the membranes in the lower bowel are thoroughly washed. This keeps the rectal membranes free from a clean of bacterial and food irritations and at the same time is soothing to the nervous system.

It also is advisable at the beginning of the treatment to use a liquid diet so that there will be less bulky material in the rectum. Orange, grapefruit or grape juice fast seems to be especially beneficial. Following the enema, the patient should use some exercises while lying on the back with the hips elevated so that the internal organs will be carried by gravity away from the rectal region.

Following the exercises, a good local treatment is to apply ice to the piles. A good way is to break off a small piece of ice, whittle it into a cone-like shape, and carefully insert the small end into the rectum holding it there with a thick towel. This should be done with the hips elevated so that the piles are drawn internally.

The ice cone then should be carefully forced farther in until it melts. This treatment should be repeated four or five minutes while the ice is melting. The cold of the ice causes the blood vessels to contract and the circulation is improved after each treatment. This will stop the progress of the hemorrhoids and materially reduce the swelling, finally through the contraction, will develop the muscles inside the walls of the veins.

After the ice treatment, it is a good plan to place a small piece of cocoa-butter into the rectum. Permit this to remain in all night. This will assist in soothing the inflamed surfaces.

Following the fasting regime the diet must be of a kind to procure regulation of the dietary. One especially good rule is against the use of milk with a meat meal. My experience with patients has taught me that milk with other protein foods makes such a meal difficult to digest. As it takes about six hours to digest an ordinary meal, it is always well to wait this long between meals.

(Age and Arteriosclerosis)

Question—Y. M. asks: "Is there an age limit for arteriosclerosis? Is it possible for a person 25 years old to be free from that ailment?"

Answer: Arteriosclerosis, or hardening of the arteries, may occur at any age, but is more frequently found with those after forty. This ailment can be at least partly corrected through various hygienic measures with a special attention to correct diet.

HINES TAKES OATH

Washington, July 23—(AP)—Brigadier General Frank P. Hines took the oath of office today as administrator of Veterans Affairs. He immediately designated Edward W. Morgan as acting commissioner of pensions, Colonel George H. Brown as director of the Veterans Bureau, and General George H. Wood as president of the board of managers of the National Soldiers Home.

Agencies dealing with veterans affairs were consolidated by Congress at the recommendation of President Hoover.

The three officials designated today continue at the head of agencies which were co-ordinated under the new arrangement.

Under it, Hines will have charge of expenditures for veterans of approximately $500,000,000 a year.

NEW YORK CITIZEN SLAIN IN CANADA

Port Credit, Ont., July 23.—(AP)—Alternate theories of robbery or a gang killing were being pursued by police today in efforts to solve the slaying of Philip G. Rumbold, 37, Tonawanda, N. Y., contractor.

His body was found in his automobile near the village yesterday. The skull had been crushed with a hammer, and a rope was twisted tightly about the neck. A sum of $800 was missing from his wallet.

Police Theory One theory was that Rumbold, driving along the road alone at night, had fallen into an ambush set by gangsters and had been slain before the mistake in identity was discovered.

He left Tonawanda Monday for a fishing trip at Barrie, Ont. A Canadian customs permit to remain in the country 60 days.

Police said they believed he had been slain elsewhere and the car driven to the spot where the body was found by a laborer. He had been dead about two hours.

PERSON HERE TODAY
GRANT, artist's model, ALAN STYNE, who is also known by CHUMMY MORLEY, her best friend. Chummy had loved her 15 years ago, and lost her when she went away; so, though he loves Judith, Judith insists it is his duty to marry Chummy, who regards her merely as a girl who has been dancing and becomes a star in a musical show backed by RICHARD WYON; later, however, she learns Wyon is merely a front for BRUCE GIDEON, a man who is infatuated with her. She vows to save money and then she asks the people who will help her. Chummy learns Judith and Stynes are in love and his engagement on the eve of her marriage. Judith visits Gideon's home and is asked by MADAME DE TOROS, his sister, if she intends to marry him.

CHAPTER XXXV

Madame De Toros walked in and Judy looked at the door. The girl noticed the little nervous, jerk movements of her small, dark head, that were due to the weight of her great, pearl-tipped diamond crown.

"It's so heavy," she said, while she waited.

"I'd rather die than wear a thing like that," the girl replied, adding generously: "But you look awfully smart in it. You remind me of a queen I saw in Rome. She came to the theater. She was awfully nice to me."

Madame de Toros watched the girl narrowly, but found it difficult to analyze Judy's attitude toward Gideon. She was very amiable, in a careless way, laughing often like a merry child. She actually touched her champagne, but at a great many sweets. Gideon, on the contrary, drank a great deal more than usual.

"No, thanks—couldn't eat another crumb," Judy replied. "I must go going."

"Ob, wait a few minutes, do!" He gave her a cigaret, lit it, and put a light to a spirit lamp on which was a Turkish coffee-pot—an elaborate thing that Judy always admired, made of copper, with gold coils let in at the lip, and a band of turquoise all round the rim.

"You sister asked me why you broke off your engagement," she said, for something to say.

"What does it matter?" he asked. "I like my coffee properly made, thanks," she laughed. "I won't have any. It keeps me awake, anyhow."

She laughed on a high, hysterical note.

"What's the matter?" she cried, her voice shrill pitched, her skin turning to gooseflesh all over her bare arms. "Where is your sister? Where is she?"

"The door is locked!" Judy said. "Unlock it!" Gideon did not speak.

"Where's your sister?" she cried furiously. "A nice thing of her to go away like that and leave me alone!"

"Why should my sister suppose that you did not want to stay, Judy?" the man asked. "She knows that you and I are good friends."

"That's not a joke, Judy! You've been playing the fool with me. It's got to stop. Why did you go about with me everywhere? Why did you make me get rid of Luna Colt? Why did you drive me mad, so that I could think of nothing but you by night and day? What did you mean by it?"

"Nothing! Nothing!" "That won't do, Judy. You've got to mean something. Come back into the room here, and don't look at me like a little wild cat."

"Unlock the door and let me go, please!" she said, making her voice wheedling, like a child.

She said suddenly. The words rattled in her throat.

"Please unlock the door!" "No, Judy. You wanted it this way. You've led me on; you've dangled me on a string for months. Now—now it's my turn!"

"What's the matter?" she cried, her voice shrill pitched, her skin turning to gooseflesh all over her bare arms. "Where is your sister? Where is she?"

"The door is locked!" Judy said. "Unlock it!" Gideon did not speak.

"Where's your sister?" she cried furiously. "A nice thing of her to go away like that and leave me alone!"

"Why should my sister suppose that you did not want to stay, Judy?" the man asked. "She knows that you and I are good friends."

YOUR CHILDREN

When she travels over a city in an airplane the first thing that strikes him is the vast area of roof space. Untenanted, unused, a city on a city, enjoying the sun and winds of heaven, the peace and quiet of a region apart. No traffic, no turmoil, waiting patiently it seems for that new day when it shall be translated into a tranquil haven for man's use.

What this garden variety thought of first thing was the wonderful opportunity that these roofs offered for children's playgrounds.

Builders of apartment houses put in ten-by-twenty courts for the children, if they don't do anything about it.

Quite suddenly and simply, without meaning to, she raised her hand and made the sign of the cross. She had never done such a thing before.

It was almost like a miracle. Gideon started back as if some one had struck him a blow. He seemed to reel.

And then her high spirit and her latest insane excitement made her call out in soft mockery: "Thank you, Mr. Punch! Good night!"

She caught a flying taxi, and when she reached her hotel, she found that she had been crying bitterly without knowing it.

For formal evening wear, the latest gloves are an off-white in a soft delicate green tone. They blend nicely with all colors and are decidedly exotic looking.

than they would breathe on the city street.

With safety, space and a flat surface we can leave the rest to imagination. Why not lawns and trees? Or at least lawns. Children who never get a taste of the country might possess a very attractive if synthetic landscape.

There could be sand-piles, saws, sliding boards, portable sawing tanks, spaces for roller skates and tricycles. Everything perhaps but a space for ball games—naturally over the fence is out, boys when the field is a hundred feet in the air.

The children would be away from the dangers of the streets, they would not be cooped up in their apartment houses, they could spread and run and develop as children should, getting the sun they need and much cleaner air

HEALTH

W. H. HUDSON, AUTHOR, REACHED AGE OF 81 DESPITE AILING HEART

BY DR. MORRIS FISHERLIN Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

The name of W. H. Hudson is known wherever books are read and literary art is appreciated. Few people realize, however, that the author of such books as "Green Mansions," "Far Away and Long Ago," and "Purple Land" was for more than sixty years, a sufferer from heart disease and that the work he accomplished was done under conditions which might well have wrecked the life of a lesser man.

A recent biography of Hudson by Morley Roberts has been analyzed by Dr. William F. Coates of Boston. The family of Hudson, whom everybody conceives of as English, was instead American. Daniel Hudson, the father of the author, was born in Marblehead, Massachusetts, and his mother, Katherine Kimble, was of Maine. Hudson was born in South

American parents that are related in his story, "Far Away and Long Ago."

When the boy was 15 years of age he developed rheumatic fever and very promptly involvement of the heart with disease of the mitral valve. When he was 29 years of age he went to England, and because of the condition of his heart, he could not undertake any heavy work and was necessarily compelled to a literary life.

In 1916 the heart condition became very severe and Mr. Hudson was seen by Sir James Mackenzie, one of the most noted of British physicians and a special investigator of diseases of the heart. Hudson lived to be over 81 years old, and for 66 years was constantly controlled in his life and in his health by the heart disease of which he finally died.

The life of the man is an inspiration to all afflicted with heart disease. He limited his efforts to the capacity of his tissues and no one can deny the fact that his contribution to life and letters was sufficient to inspire all of those who may be similarly afflicted.

It is a good and lasting job. The surface should be smooth, without ripples or ridges, specks or flaws.

There are walks in Havana which measure only four inches from property lines to curbing.

FAMILY'S NEEDS FIX SIZE OF CABINETS.

By William H. Baldwin.

In kitchen cabinets the requirements are pretty much the same in all homes except as to size, which, obviously, is regulated by the needs of the family. They are divided into two broad divisions, wooden and steel.

Color being desirable in many instances, it is well to remember that paint can, and sometimes may, cover a multitude of construction blemishes. Examine the joints. See that they fit closely. If you can slip in a knife blade at any place where two pieces come together, it is a poor job. If the piece is of wood, look for "checking," splitting. An apparently insignificant crack may be the forerunner of a decided break later. Pull out the drawers, lift lids and

Gracious Type With Long Moulded

Lines and Low Placed Skirt Flare

By ANNETTE

Chic femininity is noted in the neckline and the cuffs of the long sleeves of an adorably smart crepe silk.

It is the new nasturtium brown shade. The trim is embroidered coru batiste.

The diagonal seaming of the circular skirt flounce gives a lengthened line to the figure.

Style No. 832 may be copied exactly. It comes in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50, 52, 54, 56, 58, 60, 62, 64, 66, 68, 70, 72, 74, 76, 78, 80, 82, 84, 86, 88, 90, 92, 94, 96, 98, 100.

The medium size requires 4-1 1/2 yards of 38-inch material with 3-4 yard of 50-inch contrasting.

Black crepe silk enlivened with white is exceptionally fashionable. It will prove an economical choice for it can be worn all through the fall.

Chiffon, printed chiffon cotton voile, printed batiste and linen are suitable smart fabrics for resort.

Baseball Fans Want Town Series To Start

Green Plays Home Game Tonight With Rocky Hill Club; Boyce or Woodbridge To Pitch.

Interest in the town baseball squabble between the Bon Ami, Manchester Green and the West Sides is taking on added interest as the season progresses. There seems a strong possibility that a league may be formed in which each team meets the other three times. However, nothing definite has been done along this line as yet although the matter has been unofficially discussed.

There will be a game in town tonight in which the Green will entertain the Bloomose Club of Rocky Hill at Woodbridge Field. Earlier in the season, the Green defeated this team in Rocky Hill and hopes to make it two straight this evening. Either Eddie Boyce or Ray Woodbridge will appear on the ball for Manchester. The game starts at 6:15.

But to get back to the town series talk again, judging from what one hears along the street, the chief rivalry is between the Green and the West Sides. The champion Bon Ami club appears not to have aroused the ire of either of the other two logical contenders. There are two or three other baseball teams in town, Highland Park and the Community Club, for instance, but according to the officials of the Green, Bon Ami and West Sides, these clubs will be ignored, not being considered of equal caliber.

There is talk, too, of the Bon Ami requesting that the West Sides and Green meet in a series, the winner to play them for the title, but there is little likelihood that this scheme will be carried out. About the only solution to the mixup is an abbreviated league in which each of the three teams meets the other three times. The team winning the most games would then be declared the champion and if a tie existed, it would be easy enough to stage a play-off series.

There is no question but what a series of the proposed nature would attract considerable more interest than the games being staged at present. All three teams offhand seem pretty evenly balanced and some mighty interesting games ought to result.

It would not be bad dope for the three teams to get together some time in the near future and at least discuss the situation officially and see if some action can't be taken on the matter.

NOON STOCKS
New York, July 23.—(AP)—Speculation for the rise grew increasingly vigorous in today's Stock Market, and several important stocks were bid up 2 to 6 points during the early hours of the session. Considerable profit taking had to be absorbed on the way up, however, and the list frequently wavered in its advance.

Such issues as U. S. Steel, American Can, American Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, Public Service of N. J., Byers, Coca Cola and New York Central all sold up about 3 points. Dupont, Eastman Kodak, and American Tobacco B mounted more than 4, and Diamond Match 5. Peoples Gas, always a wide mover, gained 10. Powerful bullish activity in Radio, General Motors and Standard of N. J., met some opposition, and achieved gains of only about a point.

Call money renewed unchanged at 2 per cent.

EVEN MONEY POSTED ON THE DAVIS CUP
Auteuil, France, July 23.—(AP)—France is no better than an even money choice to retain the Davis Cup in 1936 for the first time since Rene Lacoste, Henry Cochet, Jean Borotra and Jacques Brugnon journeyed to the United States in 1927 and won it for France in 1928, with Lacoste and Cochet playing singles. Bets were then freely made at two to one on the Frenchmen. The absence of the machine-like Lacoste in 1929 brought the odds down but France still remained a favorite at seven to five and six to five.

In resorts frequented by Americans, French bookmakers, making their rounds for the collection of bets on the horse races, today generously posted the information: "Davis Cup tennis even money, take your pick."

Exports from Arkansas in 1928 were valued at $32,170,807, compared with $24,744,473 in 1928.

HAMER LEADING DERBY AVIATORS

Cincinnati, July 23.—(AP)—With the competitive field reduced to an even dozen fliers, twelve pilots took off at one minute intervals here this morning on the Cincinnati-Little Rock leg of the 5,000 mile All-American Air Derby which will be worth $15,000 to the winner.

Herman Hamer, Chicago, who led the entries in elapsed time, was the first to take off. He left promptly at 9 o'clock Eastern Standard time, for Little Rock, 925 miles from here.

Lee Gehlbach, Little Rock, second in total elapsed time, left immediately after Hamer and hoped to receive his home city's welcome before Hamer's arrival. Gehlbach led in actual flying time on the first day but was surpassed yesterday by Hamer.

The Derby started Monday at Detroit. The route carried by Hamer to Buffalo and Cincinnati. Hamer had an advantage of 13 minutes, 49 seconds over Gehlbach as the planes left here for the overnight stop at Little Rock.

Remaining planes took off in the following order: Lowell R. Bayles, Springfield, Mass., S. T. Stanton, Wichita; Robert T. Quinby, Moline, Ill.; J. R. Wedel, New Orleans; Charles W. Meyers, Cleveland; William A. Sahill, Cleveland; Joe Meahan, Iron-City, Hanky, Okla.; Engwood, Calif., and Larry Brown, Los Angeles.

DROUGHT THREATENING THE SOUTH AND EAST
Washington, July 23.—(AP)—Lower temperatures have not lifted the shadow of drought from the region east of the Rockies.

The Agriculture Department reported today that the weather in the south and east of the United States was such that a general rain was badly needed in sections east of the Rocky Mountains.

The report stated that weather had caused serious damage to spring wheat in many sections. Rice in Arkansas and Louisiana was suffering from lack of moisture.

The drought was prevalent over the corn belt with widespread damage. Some of the crops was reported beyond redemption.

Cotton ordinarily holds its own well in heat and drought but deterioration from shedding in the northern two thirds of Texas was reported and the plants on the Oklahoma uplands were said to be poor because of dry weather. Damage also has been caused in the central states of the cotton belt from lack of moisture, top blooms being questioned in many sections. In the eastern section rains have relieved the situation.

London, July 23.—(AP)—Arthur Henderson, secretary of state for foreign affairs, today told the House of Commons that the demonstration in Cairo last Monday did not result in any injuries to foreigners except in the cases of one European street car conductor and one Hungarian.

"The situation in Cairo is well in hand," the secretary continued. "No English troops were employed either there or at Port Said or Suez, where disorders also occurred."

The disorders were nowhere serious, and there was no participation in them by respectable elements of the population. The workers everywhere kept out of the demonstrations and remained steadily at their employment."

NEW YORK, July 23.—(AP)—Irate mothers and old man Jupe Fluvius last night took a stand in New York's multi-night endurance contests and today the city is enduring without a longevity try in sight.

Mrs. William Mayhew of New street called to little Jimmy, aged 23, at 10 o'clock and in the face of threats Jimmy descended from the lofty, leafy perch he had held in front of his house for 22 hours. His companion, Harold Ross, 42, soon followed. Long Island Sound hardened to the thunder and winds at 6 o'clock and suddenly became turbulent, sending Roman Germano, 15, and Joseph Hanford, 18, scurrying to the shore after the had paddled out in a row boat for 12 continuous hours. Joe Germano, 15, and Philip Capurro, 15, argued over which one would ride in the rain last night, and the debate ended in a break in their 14 successive hours of bicycle peddling.

FIRST COMMERCIAL HOP
Portland, Ore., July 23.—(AP)—Carrying messages to President Hoover, Governor Roosevelt of New York state, and Mayor Walker of New York City, and a load of merchandise, Major Gilbert H. Eckerson took here last night on the first projected commercial one-stop flight across the continent.

Major Eckerson hoped to reach Minneapolis early today and to be in New York about 6 o'clock tonight. He took off at 9:20 p. m. (AP) (S. C. T.)

TELLS MAYOR BATTERSON TALK WAS APPRECIATED

L. Lester Hohenthal, Scribe of Sons of Temperance, Expresses Unit's Regrets, Too

Louis Lester Hohenthal of Manchester, son of the late Emil L. G. Hohenthal, Sr., famous internationally as a temperance worker, has written a letter to Mayor Walter E. Batterson stating that he has been instructed by the National Division, Sons of Temperance which convened in Hartford last week, as scribe of the organization, to express the unit's sincere appreciation for the word of welcome Mayor Batterson gave the organization and also to express regret at the unfavorable publicity that was the outgrowth of the affair.

Mayor Batterson, it will be recalled, said in welcoming the Sons of Temperance to Hartford that he was in favor of temperance education but not of prohibition. Some of the members of the organization took exception to Mayor Batterson's remarks. H. E. Wood of Newport, R. I., former official of the order, declared Batterson's talk, "complete piffle."

William F. Frankin of Sutterville, Pa., stated that the name of the organization should be changed to Sons of Prohibition, temperance, he said, being the cry of the "wets." He said Batterson's talk was in direct contradiction to the principles of the organization.

Mr. Hohenthal in his communication to Mayor Batterson yesterday, however, said that the statements of Messrs. Wood and Frankin were purely individual opinions and did not in any way represent the organization's opinion as a unit. The Manchester man went on to say: "By unanimous vote of the National Division, Sons of Temperance, I have been instructed to extend to you our appreciation of your welcome given our members on the morning of July 19. It is indeed unfortunate that so much unfavorable publicity has attached itself to this incident. While, of course, it must be acknowledged that we stand for total abstinence for the individual, and many of our members are in favor of constitutional prohibition, it was not our desire in any way to embarrass you."

ORDERED TO USE BRAINS
Washington, July 23.—(AP)—Amos W. W. Woodcock, prohibition director, today instructed prohibition agents to use "brains" instead of force in dry law work.

At the same time he announced suspension of two agents for searching the automobile of E. G. Duncan, Maryland road commissioner, engine. The officers, Charles R. McCarthey and John T. Weigel, were laid off three days without pay.

They also were charged by Woodcock with firing on his car July 16. Woodcock said investigation failed to show this to be true.

ATLAS' EARNINGS
Wilmington, Del., July 23.—(AP)—The report of the Atlas Powder Company for the six month period ended June 30, 1935, today shows sales of $5,864,190, compared with $11,183,827 in the corresponding period of 1929.

Net income for the period, amounted to $725,022, and earnings on the no par value common stock amounted to $1.94 a share. Earnings on common stock for the second quarter of 1930 amounted to 81 cents a share.

KILLED BY PROPELLER
Quincy, Mass., July 23.—(AP)—Thomas F. O'Connell, 22, Cambridge, was dead today, a victim of a whirling seaplane propeller. He was graduated from Boston College in June.

O'Connell was struck on the head while helping to push a plane on pontoons off the beach yesterday at Squantum. He died at the city hospital here last night.

He had enlisted in the Naval Air Reserve as a seaman, second class, and had started training on July 12. He was unmarried.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, July 23.—(AP)—Construction contracts awarded in the 37 states east of the Rocky Mountains during the week from July 18 through July 18 amounted to $87,402,400, F. W. Dodge Corp. reports. The figure brought the July total to that date to $215,309,800 and the daily average at $34,854,000 per business day as compared with a daily rate of $25,098,700 for July last year. New construction undertaken in this territory since the first of the year totaled $2,833,322,900, as compared with $3,417,507,500 for the corresponding period ended July 19, 1929.

Productive activity is swinging upward in American plants engaged in the manufacture of electrical equipment, apparatus and supplies. Electrical World says: A survey of operations in June, the publication reports, revealed a 1.4 per cent gain over May, an advance which is approximately 1.2 per cent greater than the normal seasonal increase.

The total stock of all kinds of cotton on hand in this country as of June 30 was 5,067,000 bales, compared with 3,008,000 on the corresponding date last year, 3,205,000 two years ago, 4,576,000 in the big crop season of three years ago and 4,341,000 four years ago, the New York Cotton Exchange Service reports. Exports during the 11 months from August 1 to June 30 totaled 6,502,000 bales, against 7,801,000 in the corresponding eleven months last season. Domestic consumption during the same period totaled 5,735,000 bales, against 6,544,000 bales in the like period last season.

The United States Steel Corp. has obtained an option to purchase the Oil Well Supply Co. The option expires August 25.

C. W. Churchill, general sales manager of the Buick Motor Co., said today that advance orders for the new Buick eight to be announced late this week total more than $10,000,000. He said the advance sale to consumers this year "is one of the greatest ever recorded by our organization."

THE RAILROADS contested the order in the courts, and the Supreme Court set aside the reduction. The commissioner was declared to have misused the power granted it by law and the resolution.

California fruit interests then renewed the case, asserting, without regard to the resolution, the transcontinental rates were unreasonably high.

The order of the commission today permits this contention to be considered without regard to the Hoch-Smith resolution.

TO AID FARMERS
Jerusalem, July 23.—(AP)—The government, with the approval of the colonial secretary, is taking a number of measures designed to be of benefit to the agricultural interests of Palestine.

One measure is an increase of approximately 50 per cent in the import on wheat, flour and semolina. Another measure is the regulation of these imports under a system of licenses controlled by a standing committee on commerce and industry. Un-refined olive oil cannot be imported until further notice while an import duty has been reimposed on sesame seed.

Sir John Hope Simpson, who has been here since May on behalf of the British government investigating colonization, immigration and the general development of the country has completed his studies and has left for England.

SHOWERS PREVENT BAND CONCERT HERE

Third In Series Suspended When Rain Falls—Proposed Program Put Off Week.

Due to showers last evening the third concert by the Salvation Army band, of the series of six concerts to be held during July and August in Center Park was postponed. Last night's concert will be automatically set ahead one week to next Tuesday night.

The concert by the local band have been very well received and there is a possibility of extending them beyond the original number contracted. Last week's concert brought out one of the largest crowds ever to attend a concert at Center Park.

SURVEY FREIGHT RATES
Washington, July 23.—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today again took under consideration the question of railroad freight rates on shipments of deciduous fruits to the eastern half of the United States.

Nearly two years ago the commission ordered rates on such fruits moving across the continent cut from $1.72 to $1.60 a hundred pounds, basing its action largely on the Hoch-Smith Congressional resolution which directs that the lowest possible rates be given agricultural products affected by depressions.

The railroads contested the order in the courts, and the Supreme Court set aside the reduction. The commissioner was declared to have misused the power granted it by law and the resolution.

California fruit interests then renewed the case, asserting, without regard to the resolution, the transcontinental rates were unreasonably high.

The order of the commission today permits this contention to be considered without regard to the Hoch-Smith resolution.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE) The sheep kept jumping in the air and it gave Clowzy quite a scare. He kept on yelling at the bunch to help him alight. They tried, but didn't dare go near. The sheep's kicks filled them all with fear. The sheep shouted, 'Hang on, lad, and you will be alright.' 'Oh, no I won't,' scared Clowzy said. 'I'm going to land upon my head. I can't hang on much longer. Both my arms are all tired out. I never should have started this. The ride was bound to go amiss. The poor sheep doesn't know, itself, what this is all about.' And then the ride was quickly stopped. The sheep stopped short and Clowzy flopped. It was a lucky spill though, and he landed on his feet. 'Oh, my, oh, my! Am I all right,' cried Clowzy. OAK TREES DISEASE MAY MAKE MIRACLE

Nature Students Have Opportunity to Learn Reaction of Tree to Leaf Fungus.

The leaf fungus that has been attacking the oak trees in town has rarely in at least one miracle of nature, with the prospect of inducing another next spring. Throughout Manchester a large number of the best oak trees have been affected by a leaf disease, induced, according to an official report from the State Forestry department, by excessive spring moisture and rains. It is a well-known fact that the buds of next year's oak leaves have formed one year in advance, lying at the base of this year's leaf stem, dormant until the following spring when they unfold, the next season's leaf.

Due to the prevailing disease that has in some instances destroyed the foliage of the local oaks, these dormant buds have opened out into foliage, one year in advance of the natural laws. What the result will be next spring when no buds are to be found awaiting the call of nature, is open to conjecture. It may be that Mother Nature will be defeated in her battle with the enemy—the leaf-fungus. Then again she may produce a double set of buds next spring as if nothing had happened. It will be good material for those interested in that sort of study.
