

ODD FELLOW SONS DINED BY FATHERS

First Annual Banquet Also Occasion for Honor for Secretary Hutchison.

King David lodge of Odd Fellows instituted what the members hope will be a series of annual affairs when the first Father and Sons banquet was held Saturday night under the auspices of the lodge.

of the older members of King David lodge had done and urged some of the younger men present to join to gain the benefits of the fraternity.

William S. Hutchison

Mr. Hutchison, always an honored Odd Fellow here, but now highly revered because of his quarter of a century faithfulness to the order, was completely surprised at the presentation of this token Saturday night.

Grand Secretary Hutchison, visibly touched by the gift and the affection it represented, told of his earlier membership in King David lodge. He was brought up in the belief that fraternal orders especially those of the secret nature were not right.

About 150 attended the banquet in Odd Fellows hall. A roast turkey dinner with Osano catering was served at 8:30 the ladies of the Rebekahs acting as waitresses.

The outstanding number on the entertainment program was the character portrayals and jokes told by Peter Murray, of a Hartford entertainment bureau.

Following the entertainment program Toastmaster Taylor called upon District Deputy David Hasbano who in turn introduced Grand Master Edwin S. Pickett.

Alfred Miller gave an amusing reading that he had learned from his father. It was in German dialect. In calling upon Past Master Hathaway Toastmaster Taylor said that a surprise had been promised all the Odd Fellows.

Lady Roberts Lodge will meet at the home of Mrs. Giles Vickerman, 62 Pearl street, tomorrow evening. The committee in charge is Mrs. Thomas and Miss Vickerman.

The members of Company G and the Howitzer Company, C.N.G., will report at the State Armory tomorrow morning at 8:30 for the Armistice Day parade.

A meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the A.O.U.F. will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the St. James school hall.

Plans are being drawn for alterations to the Batch & Brown block at North Main street and Depot Square by which the front of the drug store of Edward J. Murphy will be extended to a line with the rest of the building and larger display windows provided.

This is "Education Week" in the schools but in Manchester the program seems to be based on the idea that so is every other week of the school year and the period is being celebrated by going on with the regular job.

The terminal of the bus line at Woodbridge street has been paved with a riprap of heavy stone on which coatings of macadam and screenings have been rolled.

Superintendent of Schools A. F. Howe today is in Eastern Massachusetts attending the convention of the New England School principals and superintendents.

Death Takes Him While Autoing VICE PRESIDENT ADMITS HE KNEW OF DRY AGENT

Heard That Bootlegger Was Working in Senate Building and Wanted to Catch Him.

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Vice President Curtis said today that his part in the stationing of an undercover prohibition agent in the Senate office building several months ago was a minor one, but he thought "the right thing was done."

Mr. Curtis said he did not sign an order to place the agent in the building. "I had no authority to sign that order," he added, "but I did say that if he was selling liquor in the Senate office building something should be done to stop it and I haven't changed my mind. I did not know when the agent was placed in the building nor when he left."

APPOINT RECEPTIONS FOR COSDEN OIL CO.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Judge John P. Nields, of the Federal Court here, today appointed former Federal Judge Hugh M. Morris, of Wilmington, and George H. McKelvey, of Fort Worth, Texas, receivers for the Cosden Oil Company.

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The Cosden Oil Company, for which receivers were appointed in Wilmington, today is a complete unit in the oil industry, operating in the mid-continent district.

The $5,000,000 corporation was organized by Joshua S. Cosden, long a prominent figure in the oil business, and its formation represents Mr. Cosden's return to activity in the industry after his loss of control of the old Cosden company, now the Mid-Continental Petroleum Corporation, in 1920-21.

The Ever Ready Circle, King's Daughters, will meet Tuesday evening at 7:45 at the residence of H. S. Kesney, 27 Adams street. The Ways and Means committee will report on all the return of all dime bags and the sale of Christmas cards.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Rowland home, 790 Main street, corner of Locust street. Burial will be in the East cemetery. Rev. Watson Woodruff, of the Congregational church, will officiate.

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Munroe & Cie., the oldest American banking house in Paris, has temporarily suspended payments, it was learned in Wall street today.

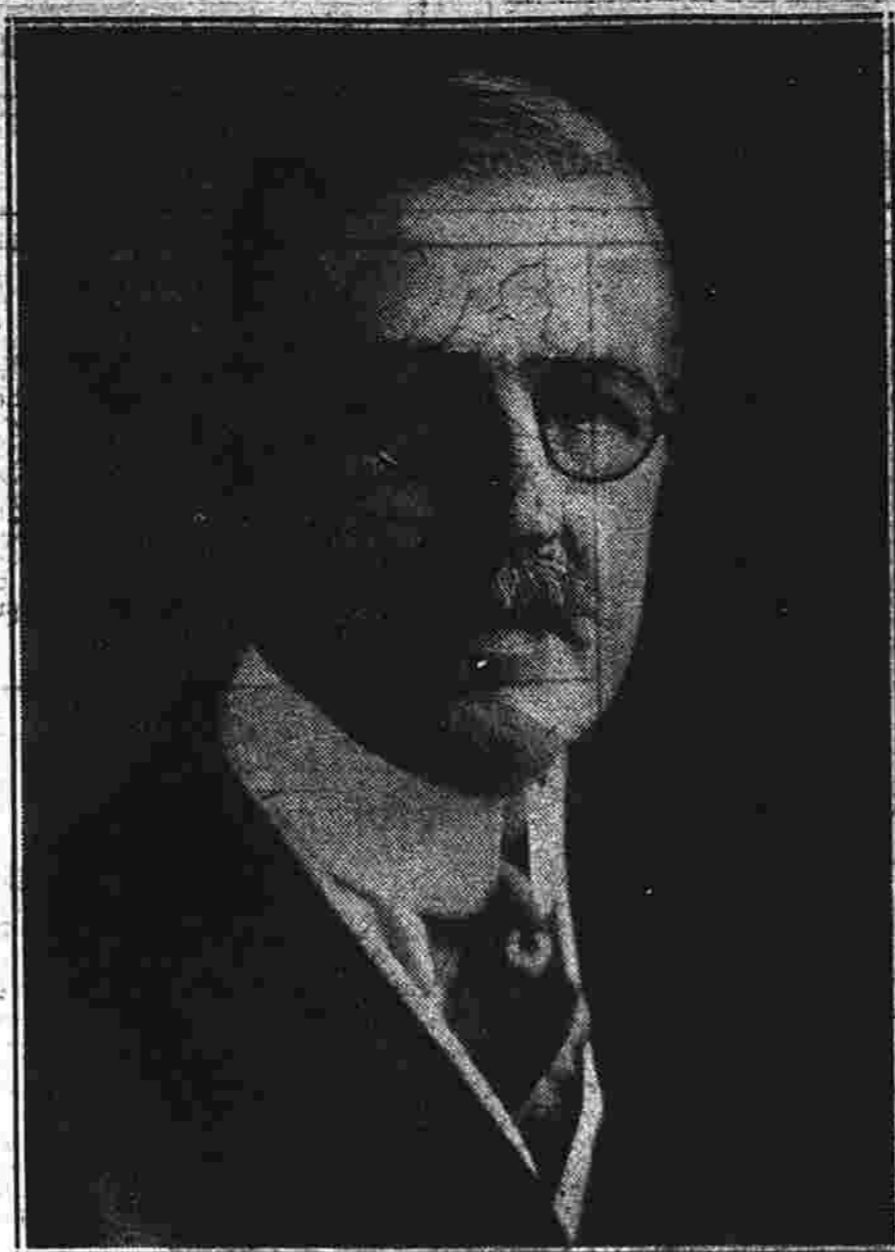

A very severe earthquake lasting three and one-half hours Sunday afternoon was shown on Georgetown University seismological observatory records when they were taken today from the instruments. It was estimated to have been centered about 7,000 miles from Washington but the direction was undetermined.

The shocks began at 2:27:40 p. m., with the first, reflective wave at 2:30:34 p. m. and maximum intensity was recorded at 2:30 p. m. If centered on land, the disturbance was thought by observers to have been destructive.

New Haven, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Police today were investigating the robbery of the home of Ralph K. Safford, president of the Reliable Mfg. Co., sometime Saturday night in which jewelry and silverware valued at $5500, was stolen.

OUT OF LUCK

Have you ever been clean out of luck?
Have you ever done your level best, put all you had into the game of life—hard work, clean living, duty to your kin and your fellow man—and then had the whole works blow up under you?

NEW SENATORSHIP?

One subject that might naturally have been expected to arise immediately after the announcement of the result of the 1930 federal census in this state has been, so far as we know, altogether neglected. Even the Hartford newspapers, peculiarly interested as they would naturally appear to be, have paid little if any attention to the matter. We refer to the business of reapportionment of representation in the Connecticut State Senate.

ent thirty-five districts in the state. In order, then, to correct the discrepancy as between Hartford and New Haven it would not be necessary to engage in a general rebuilding of or tinkering with all the other districts in the state, or any considerable number of them. All the re- adjustment needed could be made within the city of Hartford itself, by the simple process of cutting its present three districts into four.

DEMOCRATS' PLEDGE

The declaration of good intentions signed by seven leading Democrats of the country and promulgated the other day is, on the whole, a respectable and praiseworthy document. It is calculated to reassure the country since it constitutes a pledge that partisanship will not be permitted to interfere with patriotism on the part of the Democratic party in Congress.

ARMISTICE DAY

Twelve years ago tomorrow there came to an end the direct conflict that has darkened the history of the world. That conflict ended when it did and the way it did because of the intervention of the United States. In the American calendar there is only one date of equal significance—July Fourth. The efforts of the American Legion and other patriotic organizations to erect Armistice day into a higher place in the minds of the people are deserving of the fullest support.

understand how vital it is for America to guide her own soul and her own strength in the direction of peace; how vital it is that this nation cast aside all prejudices, preconceptions and traditions wherever they interfere with the doing of her part in making permanent the condition of no more war, so precariously established twelve years ago tomorrow.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 10.—In spite of a thousand-and-one caustic and sarcastic remarks made about her each day, "Miss Liberty" remains one of the most popular of Manhattan's attractions.
This year she will have been visited by some 400,000 persons. Which gives her an average of 1000 callers a day, or better. When the tourist season is at its peak, the statue which greets all newcomers as they swing into New York harbor, often entertains as many as 10,000 a day.

BUSINESS IMPROVING

Paris, Nov. 10.—(AP)— French business, reassured somewhat by a public pronouncement Sunday of Premier Lardieu that there was no sign for fear, today with approval by President Doumergue of Parliamentary projects calculated to protect the interests of bank depositors and the public credit generally.

Washington Letter

Washington.—Repeated assertions that our own depression is only part of a worldwide depression continue to be amply supported by reports from foreign representatives of the Department of Commerce and other government agencies. Virtually without exception, our best customers among the nations are suffering. England, Canada, Germany, Cuba and Latin America all find business very dull or worse. Naturally American exports are un- likely to increase to any great extent until the countries begin to get back on their economic feet.

Two Countries Improve

Anyone who can find any consolation in the individual troubles of other nations might well look over the latest news from Argentina and Cuba. Latin-American capitals. The only countries from which even slight improvement is reported are Ecuador and Haiti.
Business in the Argentine continues quiet. The record depreciation of the peso exchange discouraged imports and Argentine exports dropped 37 per cent in value during the first nine months of the year. Farmers are still suffering from the adverse effects of last year's unfavorable crop.

ARMY COTS, BLANKETS FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)— Secretary Hurley announced today that all available army cots and blankets would be placed at the disposal of unemployed to relieve acute distress this winter.
In the absence of legal authority to issue the army equipment, the war secretary said he would assume full responsibility. The secretary's decision was contained in a telegram to Governor Emmerson of Illinois.

HEALTH DIET ADVICE
Dr. Frank McCoy
"THE 'COLD' DAYS ARE COMING"
A cold in the head is the most acute disease known to civilized man. You would find it more difficult to find an adult who had never had a cold than it was for Diogenes to find an honest man.
THE "COLD" DAYS ARE COMING
The slimes may ache and the whole head feels hot and heavy. There may be a slight fever and chilly sensations. The nostrils may become stopped up until it is difficult to breathe. The discharge of mucus from the nose becomes thicker. The lymph glands along the jaws are often swollen and tender. The ears may seem full, the tongue coated, the breath foul, the voice thickened. The patient may have an annoying cough, especially in those prone to bronchitis.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Gaiter Operation
Question: W. A. writes: "I had an inward gaiter about ten months ago and had two operations which were successful but left my eyes very bulgy. Will you kindly tell me if my eyes will ever become normal, or what can be done to make them as they were before?"
Answer: If the operations were really successful your eyes should gradually become less bulgy. The same diet treatment which you could have taken to cure your gaiter will also be partially effective now. If you will send me a large self-addressed stamped envelope in care of this newspaper, I will forward instructions for you to follow.
Line Water
Question: J. H. B. asks: "Is lime water wholesome to drink?"
Answer: The organic lime that is present in water is of no value to us as food. We must obtain our mineral elements from food. Distilled water, which is free from mineral elements in, if anything, more wholesome than mineral-carrying waters.
Sore Lips
Question: K. L. writes: "Have some lips, cracked, and skin peeling off. Have tried many remedies but still getting worse. Please tell me the cause of this and what I could do."
Answer: Your trouble may be caused simply from over-acidity of the stomach, or it may be due to some infection in the mouth around the teeth. First, consult a good dentist and get his opinion. If there is no mouth infection, then take a fast for a few days and afterwards live on a careful diet to correct over-acidity of the stomach.

NEWS BULLETINS PICTURE FIRST ARMISTICE DAY

CONVICT IS KILLED IN PRISON BREAK

Peace Story Made History 12 Years Ago

EDITOR'S NOTE
This Armistice day story is written by Kirke Simpson, Associated Press staff writer whose series of stories on "The Unknown Soldier" in November, 1921, won a Pulitzer prize as the outstanding reportorial work of the year.

By Kirke Simpson.
Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Armistice day, 1930!

Twelve years ago tomorrow official word came tapping over thousands of miles of waiting wires that the World War was ended—the armistice signed.

Three hours later, at 11 o'clock a. m., Paris time—6 o'clock for a vast army of sleepy war workers in Washington—the last gun roared on the western front. The carnage had ended; the post-war chaos begun.

One moment, as that fateful message came in over wires held idle for hours to receive it, the nation was girded for war.

Virtually in the next instant all was changed—as if a control lever in some titanic engine had been set over. The nation was in reverse from its war effort.

Nowhere is the American story of that 24 hours of the first Armistice day told more graphically, more succinctly than in the minute-by-minute report that went from Washington over Associated Press wires that day.

It takes more than 100 pages of closely-written newspaper to tell it—pages not drawing, untraced for years, amid files of the Washington office.

There must be nearly 20,000 words of that day's "story" out of Washington—a book in itself. Yet it could only mention briefly happenings of utmost importance to the whole nation.

Recreate from the files the scene of that November night in the Associated Press bureau at Washington: Midnight of November 10 has come and gone, and still wires are speeding the story of that day to morning papers of the far west.

The last regular news story of November 10 out of Washington was "cleared" at 1:15 a. m., November 11. It was a battle communique from General Pershing's headquarters in France:

"A series of local operations by the first and second armies resulted in considerable gains today," it said. "In the Woivre, despite stubborn resistance... the towns of Marcheville and St. Hilaire were taken and Bois Dommarin cleared of the enemy."

Ten half hour's pause with Washington silent.

At 2:45 a. m. comes this message: "FLASH: ARMISTICE SIGNED."

At 2:52 this follows: "Washington, Nov. 11.—The World War ends this morning at 11 o'clock, Paris time. This announcement was made by the state department at 2:50 o'clock this morning."

Then in brief "bulletins" follows a summary of expected terms of the armistice, as yet unknown. They were strikingly close on later comparison with actual stipulations of Marshal Foch.

For almost 24 hours thereafter,

One Escapes But Two Others Are Recaptured After They Slug Jailer.

Chandler, Okla., Nov. 10.—(AP)—A break by four prisoners from the Lincoln county jail ended today in the fatal shooting of James Haggood, alleged robber, by Sheriff Ted Meers. Two of the other fleeing prisoners were recaptured.

Fred Moore, sentenced to a two-year reformatory sentence for burglary, escaped. Herman Cheverant, alleged robber of the Union National bank here and banks at Sparks and Prague, Okla., and Bill Daniels, under sentence with Moore, were recaptured shortly after the break.

Killed in Gun Fight
Haggood was slain at the edge of town in a gun fight with Sheriff Meers, who had pursued the inmate prisoner in his motor car. Haggood was on foot and opened fire first with a revolver, the sheriff said. The sheriff was not wounded.

Moore stopped a motorist and at the point of a gun presumably taken from the sheriff's office, commanded the motor car.

The four escaped by slugging Bill Bealer, assistant jailer, with a baseball bat, and slugging the breakfast. The jailer was not seriously hurt.

FORESAW TRAGEDY

London, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Lord Thompson, air minister who was killed in the crash of the R-101, recognized the possibility that the dirigible might never return from the voyage to India which ended in the tragedy near Beauvais, France, Oct. 5.

In a file filed today he left all he owned to his brother, Colonel Roger Gordon Thompson, in the event of his death during the flight of the R-101 to India and return.

The document hastily scribbled was dated Oct. 3, less than 48 hours before the dirigible crashed. The estate was estimated at about 1757 pounds sterling (about $3,838).

RAILROADS BANKRUPT

Nanking, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Sun Fo, minister of railways, reported to the Nationalist government today that China's railways were on the verge of bankruptcy as a result of tremendous losses in revenues and property damage suffered during the latest civil war.

Mysterious Missive For First Tenor Arrouses Curiosity Of Jenseport Chorus.

Seth Parker, genial old maestro and leader of the Jenseport Singing school, sets heads to bobbing and tongues to wagging during this evening's sketch of life Way Down East, slated for 8 o'clock tonight from Station WTIC of Hartford, Conn. Parker, of Worcester, and WLBZ of Bangor. All the hubbub is the result of Seth's discovering a letter in the Jenseport post office addressed to Leith Pettigall, first tenor of the old-fashioned singing school and champion of the movement for the "modernization of Jenseport." The fact that the post mark bears the name of Brockton, Massachusetts, adds to the mystery because so far as his neighbors are aware, Leith has no connections in the Bay State city.

BANDIT KILLED

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A battle between three hold-up men and a newsdealer in a Harlem store today ended in the death of one robber and the wounding of the shopkeeper.

When a trio invaded the tiny store of William Eisenberg in upper Seventh avenue, Eisenberg gave battle. He shot down one of the robbers and strapped with another. In the melee a bullet went through his own thigh.

Two of the gunmen escaped with $20. The third, an unidentified negro, died in a hospital.

FIND DIAMOND COLLAR

Lima, Peru, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A diamond collar purchased from one of the most famous jewelers in Paris for $150,000 has been found in a safe deposit box held by former president Augusto B. Leguia. The Court of Sanchosha disclosed today that the discovery was made in connection with the trial of the president's son, Juan Leguia, who was imprisoned with his father under charges of irregularities in the administration of Peru's mining laws. The Leguia administration had the collar, it was said, in the possession of an Italian bank as a guarantee for credit in the country.

GEN. KING TO WED

Milwaukee, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Charles H. King, 57, veteran of five wars, today revealed his hopes for an early marriage to Miss Lucille Rhodes, his former secretary. The latter declined to be interviewed.

The general described Miss Rhodes in glowing terms, testifying to her self-sacrifice in aiding her family and others, but said there is no definite engagement—you'll have to speak to the lady about that—I have my eye on her for an early marriage," he has the full consent of his family, he said jokingly.

General King met Miss Rhodes 40 years ago, when she, a stenographer, was sent to his headquarters to transcribe his orders and reports. He was unable to do his own clerical work because an arm had been shattered by a bullet in a campaign against the Apache Indians.

Majors Win; Cubs Scoreless Again; Series Is On

CUBS AND GREYS IN 0-0 DEADLOCK BUT ALMOST SCORE

Both Teams Lose Ball On Downs Less Than Yard From Touchdown Before Large Crowd.

The Cubs proved again yesterday that they lack that final punch which constitutes the dividing line between a good and a mediocre football team. Although confronted with several dandy scoring chances, the team was unable to tally and had to be satisfied with their fourth scoreless deadlock of the current season. Their opponents, the Thompsonville Greys, also had the game within an arm's reach but for the admittedly powerful Cub defense unsmilingly.

Yesterday's battle at Mt. Nebo was the seventh of the season for the Cubs who have been held scoreless in every game but one to compare a record of two defeats, one victory and four scoreless ties. The New London Ockfords and the Middletown South Ends were the lone teams to either score upon, or defeat, the Cubs, each turning a forward pass into victory. Windsor Locks was defeated 27-0.

Both Majors and Cubs were very even-tempered, all told, although the visitors had the upper edge until the final period when the Cubs came within a couple of feet of pushing over a touchdown. In the first period the Thompsonville outfit failed to reach the 15 yard mark, and in the second period the Cubs received the major share of the "fines" being penalized 110 yards against 55 for Thompsonville.

Both teams and some of the fans objected to what they termed strict officiating in defense of the officials it can be said that if the violations were not made the penalties would not have to be imposed. It is more than possible that if the officials had been more lenient the game might easily have developed into a rough-house. It wasn't any too clean anyway.

The first downs stood 11 to 9 in favor of the Greys but this margin would have been much larger had it not been for a spectacular closing rally by the Cubs that was almost turned into a touchdown. A fifteen yard penalty incurred by Sargeant of the Cubs cut short an impressive march by the Cubs in the fourth quarter. A little later in the same period, the Cubs lost the ball on downs less than a yard from the final stripe. Twice during the game the Greys made start the ball down less than a yard from a touchdown.

Good Defensively. From a defensive standpoint, the game was very interesting to watch. The Greys had a set of very speedy backs and made many substantial gains through and around the Cubs' line until they came to the last ten yards. Luke and Olschafski were responsible for most of the Thompsonville yardage while the Cubs gained chiefly through the air in the fourth period. Sully Squatrito played a great game at end in the absence of Flannigan. In fact he was able to make the Cub support line forget the fiery Providence boy. Al Pentore was also a tower of strength on the defense. He blocked one kick and recovered deep in Thompsonville territory to give the Cubs one of their many scoring chances.

Bagleson's punting was a big help to the Cubs. One of his boots carried close to 80 yards. Both teams were forced back to their own yard line on one occasion but each kicked out safely. Bagleson also showed fine judgment in his backfield defense against forwards, timing the ball perfectly for a couple of interceptions and two or three blocks. Billy Skoneski played his usual big game at end. Morrison at center was a big help to the Greys.

The crowd which watched yesterday's game was much larger than had been expected. Many figures that Thompsonville was nothing short of a setup for the Cubs but the Greys brought a first class club here.

Cubs' lineup: Skoneski, Squatrito, lb; Spence, Cornrow, lf; Merrer, lg; Pentore, Vescop, c; Lesner, rg; Perotti, rt; Piefka, Gustafson, re; Schwartz, St. John, qb; Farr, Sargeant, Borowski, lb; Bagleson, Williams, rh; Waterman, Bagleson, lb.

Greys' lineup: Thompson, le; Patrevitt, Rook, lt; Framingham, lg; Morrison, c; Travers, rg; Glista, rt; Petraski, re; Lamont, Luke, Rander, qb; King, Dudak, lb; Olschafski, rh; Zeminick, fs.

CLINTON TROJANS PROVE NO MATCH FOR LOCAL ELEVEN

Majors Win 18 to 0 and Only Toy With Bay State Opponents; Score On Forwards.

Successful experimentation in the intricate art of forward passing brought the Majors football eleven an easy victory over the Trojans of Clinton, Mass., at Hickey's Grove yesterday afternoon. The game was dull and uninteresting throughout, except for the brief moments when spectacular passes brought two touchdowns and paved the way for another, to make the final score 18 to 0.

All three touchdowns were made in the second period. Just before the close of the first quarter Ris Cassi and Tasker had completed the Majors' first down and another had put the ball on the 28-yard line. Then Melike shot a long pass to Crockett who stepped outside at the three-yard line. Tasker went over on the next play. Soon after the kick-off, the try for point having failed, Sacharek intercepted a Trojan pass on the 33-yard line. Mantell, who replaced Melike, sent a forward down to Matthews, the colored flash, who was entirely alone in the left corner of the field and he practically strolled across for the second score. Conroy's kick failed to rise.

Matthews Again. A short while later Mantell heaved the ball into Matthews' arms, nearly 40 yards and Matthews went down at the 20 yard line. The game was marred by the imposing of a large number of penalties. Officials McGrath, Massey and Wright detected violation after violation until the total yardage imposed for rule infractions almost reached 175 yards. The Cubs received the major share of the "fines" being penalized 110 yards against 55 for Thompsonville.

Both teams and some of the fans objected to what they termed strict officiating in defense of the officials it can be said that if the violations were not made the penalties would not have to be imposed. EAST IS ROUTED BY WEST, SOUTH

Notre Dame, Georgia, Ohio State, Michigan Triumph Over Formidable Eastern Rivals While Army Tops Illinois and Fordham Beats Detroit; Harvard, N. Y. U. Lose Hard Fought Struggles; Brill Scores Three Touchdowns To Win $3,000 From His Father As Rockne's Team Runs Wild; So. California Wins 74-0;

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR. Big Ten, Illinois alone was unable to complete the rout against Army, but even there the down-rodder in the Yankee Stadium by holding the Cadets even for the first half before fading under a final 10 to 0 count. Fordham's unbeaten army, alone bolded Army in the inter-sectional duels, the sturdy Rams of the "Iron Major" Cavanaugh invading the Mid-West to whip Detroit 18 to 7.

A crowd of 80,000 sat in the deepest humiliation Pennsylvania has suffered in almost 10 years as the Greek-chariot of Notre Dame, the Harvard and Holy Cross; Cornell and Dartmouth; Syracuse and Colgate; Brown and Columbia; Lehigh and Rutgers; N. Y. U. and Georgetown; Amherst and Williams, and a host of lesser battles. The first clash between the east coast and west tops the inter-sectional program for next Saturday. Fordham's undefeated and untied Rams tackle St. Mary's of California, the so-called Notre Dame of the Pacific coast which has lost only one game in three seasons.

A perfect pass from the hand of Harry Newman, the new Benny Friedman of the Big Ten, gave Michigan its victory over Harvard late in the fourth quarter after it seemed that Barry Wood had clinched the engagement for the Crimson with a late touchdown. Newman flied the leather 27 yards to Roy Hudson and the fullback ran 18 yards to score the touchdown.

Navy never had a chance against Ohio State's push at Baltimore as the mid-westerners punched over a touchdown in every quarter, but there was some consolation for New York University. When "Cattfish" Smith flied the point that gave George a 7-6 lead, the Violets came back with a 60-yard surge that ended with less than a minute to play on the Bulldogs' 15 yard line, where a pass was intercepted. "Big game" Hugert, former Bristol, Conn., high school star, made N. Y. U.'s score on a forward.

Steeler Does Trick. Ray Stecker, a burly youth from Hamilton, Pa. finally brought victory to Army after Illinois had battled gamely through a scoreless half. Stecker led a touchdown march in the third quarter and intercepted a pass to run 45 yards for the second score in the final period. Fordham also pulled out a 18 yard victory in the late stages, overcoming a seven point handicap with two touchdowns in the fourth quarter.

While the spotlight centered on the inter-sectional clashes, there were close and bitter battles among the strictly eastern forces and surprises as well. Syracuse staged a scoreless duel with Penn State. Georgetown nosed out Boston College 20 to 19 in a thrilling set and Pittsburgh just managed to beat Carnegie Tech by the margin of an extra point, 7 to 6. Lehigh proved an upset by holding Princeton 13 to 0. The swamping of Columbia 54 to 0 by Colgate after the Lions had beaten Cornell furnished a surprise because of the size of the score. Lafayette won out in a give and take struggle with Rutgers, 31 to 26. Richmond battled out a 20-14 win over Villanova.

Notre Dame and Southern California were hailed as two of the greatest scoring machines in the history of football as a result of a pair of remarkable touchdown explosions at Philadelphia and Los Angeles. Pennsylvania and California, both rated among the strong teams of the country, were all but blown out of the park at the hands of this mighty pair. Notre Dame used its regulars less than half of the game and yet dynamited the Quakers 60 to 20 and Southern California obliterated its northern rival, 74 to 0.

After losing to Washington State's veteran team in a single point, Coach Howard Jones' Southern Californians now have crushed both Stanford and the Golden Bears and are looking ahead to a battle royal with Knute Rockne's mighty men at Los Angeles on December 6.

Headed by Notre Dame, the eight major teams, which had not been so much as tied came through, most of them, in a fashion worthy of champions.

Eight Unbeaten. In this all encompassing group besides the Irish, are Northwestern, Washington State, Oregon and Utah in the Far West, Fordham in the East and Alabama in the South. Only a step behind, with nothing worse than a draw to mar their records, came Georgia, Army, Dartmouth and Michigan. The small college group boasts such sturdy teams as Western Maryland's unbeaten and untied array.

Local Sport Chatter

"Punk" Clemson and "King" Mocharty caused many a laugh at the local football games yesterday when they appeared in blackface and in an old dilapidated Ford to advertise the Ames 'n' Andy picture at the State.

Manager Hugh Campbell of the State theater said last night that Warner Brothers would again donate a silver loving trophy to the winner of the town football series. Company G will hold a basketball practice at the Armory at 8 o'clock tonight.

The games will not count in the town series this year. This will be a decided advantage to the Majors as the Cubs' best hope appears to be a scoreless tie. Last year a victory and a tie game settled the issue. Now a team must win two games to get the title.

Unless the Cubs show a decidedly different brand of offensive football, their only hope seems to lie in battling the Majors a couple of tie games, losing one perhaps and then have winter set in blocking further play, thus keeping the title at the south end of the town.

Providence is going to be represented very strongly in the series. The Cubs have, Thacker, Flannigan, Underwood and Fogarty while the Majors have Feole, Tatro, Broyn, Guilford, Lacharek and Matthews. The latter, however, will be ineligible.

And, by the way, the loss of Matthews to the Majors is a break for the Cubs, for that they sure can stare forward pass. The Cubs on the whole haven't particularly strong against attack from the air and the Majors may seek that means of gaining Sunday in case they find that the Cubs line is really a Rock of Gibraltar after all.

Instead of being in the infirmary so to speak, recuperating for the town series, it now develops that Ernie Moske, ace of the Majors line splitters, has been down in Middletown for the past two Sundays playing with Walter Harrison's South Ends. The South Ends took the Tufts of Middletown 8 to 6 yesterday in the first of an elimination series to decide the city title. The South Ends now meet the Sons of Italy.

Moske didn't score for the South Ends and only played about a quarter of the game. Leo Fisher was also with the South Ends. Two more Major players, Brown and Guilford, of Providence, look part in the game. They played with the Tufts, Guilford intercepted a pass and galloped about 90 yards for the Tufts' lone score. Harrison and Minnicci, also from Manchester, played with the South Ends.

So you see, after all, Manchester isn't alone in the world when it comes to having its town championship decided by out-of-town players this year. It's a shame, to be sure, but it can't be helped now.

Bristol Maple Ends Play Here Tomorrow

Cubs To Entertain Visitors In Armistice Day Sport Feature; Kelley May Use Second String Players As Much As Possible.

The Cubs, Manchester's "scoreless wonders of 1930," make their final pre-series appearance at Mt. Nebo tomorrow afternoon when they tackle the strong Bristol Maple Ends in an Armistice Day sport feature. The game will start at 7 o'clock.

The Maple Ends come here with the record of having held the Majors to a 6 to 0 score in the first night football game at the Hurley Stadium in East Hartford not so long ago. If the Maple Ends can defeat the Cubs; it will convince many that the Majors are almost certain to win back the town football title.

However, it would be no surprise to see Coach Tom Kelley save as many of his players as possible for the opening game with the Majors next Sunday. Undoubtedly the Cubs will depend as much as possible on second string men, but at the same time, the champions are not anxious to be defeated and the regulars will probably get into action in case of necessity.

Alexander is one of the main guns in the Maple End machine. He plays in the backfield. They also have a very tall end who has caused an end of trouble for many teams with his forward pass snaring. The Cubs will have to play first class football to keep from being scored upon. Possibly the Cubs will make a score themselves. They have been coming nearer and nearer to the goal line each week and may crash through tomorrow although the champs admit they would much rather win until next Sunday to start scoring.

From GHdiron to Bozang Areas. John (Monk) Campbell, Alabama's spinning quarterback, may go out for the Crimson Tide boxing team after he stores his football togs away for the season. Monk has two brothers fighting professionally who have yet to meet defeat.

The recently organized Commercial Bowling League will have its second night of operation this evening at Murphy's and Farr's alleys. Eight teams will compete. The league began last Monday and there is much interest between the rival teams which appear to be evenly balanced.

Tonight at Murphy's, the Holy Five will meet the Pirates and the Young Timers will clash with Oakes Service Station. Down at Farr's Charter Oak alleys, the Elm Auld will battle the Centers and the English Americans will take on the Manchester Construction combination.

A meeting of the team captains will be held at the Charter Oak alleys after the matches to arrange further details such as the prizes and eligibility lists. All teams must submit their lists to Manager Farr this evening so they can be published in the Herald tomorrow.

Savaldi Denies He Is Married, Seeking Divorce

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Just what effect the reported and denied divorce suit of Joe Savaldi, fullback, would have if any on the Notre Dame University football team was subject of speculation here today.

Savaldi star position for the team was denied after the team's victory over the University of Pennsylvania Saturday that he had been married or had instituted a divorce suit here.

Asked regarding statements of City Judge A. W. Houshaker that he had filed a suit for divorce, Friday, for Savaldi and had withdrawn it Saturday, Savaldi said: "The whole thing is news to me."

Houshaker said he as a justice of the peace, had officiated April 9, 1929, at the marriage of Savaldi and a girl from South Bend to Savaldi. Houshaker refused to comment Saturday night as to the reason for the divorce suit's withdrawal.

Miss Koehler, by telephone, corroborated Houshaker's statement. She said she had continued to reside with her father and Savaldi had returned to Notre Dame after the marriage.

HABITANTS GIVE TOWN ITS SPIRIT

Rev. Watson Woodruff Makes Inspiring Address Before Kiwanis Club.

Manchester Kiwanians this noon at their weekly meeting at the Hotel Sheridan listened to a talk by Rev. Watson Woodruff, pastor of Center Congregational church. His subject was "The Spirit of the Town." He said the spirit of any town or city was demonstrated by the people who inhabited it. He carried his hearers back to the people of Jerusalem and their loyalty to it. He spoke of the faith of Athens, a wonderful pledge which demonstrated the loyalty of its inhabitants to that famous Grecian city.

Returning to the present age, he thought the signs at the entrance of different cities plainly proclaimed to the people the ideal in them. He said he didn't approve of all the signs that have been raised in recent years, that rapid growth doesn't always designate great success. People of other countries think of us as boasters, very often.

City Rivalry
Referring to the rivalry between cities, Mr. Woodruff said when he was a young fellow he lived in St. Louis. Many of the people there harbored ill feeling toward Chicago, for the reason that the St. Louis residents obtained their drinking water from the Mississippi river after it had been purified. For years Chicago had threatened to contaminate the waters of the Mississippi by emptying its sewage there. He told an amusing story of the sister cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul—a party came to St. Paul to live because it was so frequently mentioned in the Bible and Minneapolis had never been mentioned.

When we think of New Orleans we think of its Mardi Gras; Portland, Oregon and some of the other cities of the Pacific Coast for their rose carnivals, coming nearer home, Brockton, is noted for its great annual fair. The citizens in this Massachusetts town put their best efforts forth to make the Brockton fair a great success. They must do the same thing in New Orleans to make the Mardi Gras successful.

In Boston
Mr. Woodruff told of attending last summer a concert by the Boston Symphony orchestra on the banks of the Charles River. He said nobody ever knows who pays the orchestra for these concerts which are attended night after night by 20,000 people. That is the spirit of the city, he said. Above the music he said he didn't want to be boastful but he believed the spirit of Manchester was demonstrated by its churches, its schools and its hospitals. In his profession as a minister he has had occasion to visit many hospitals but never saw a better one than the one in Manchester, erected in memory of the boys that gave their lives in the World War. The speaker said he hoped to see the spirit of Manchester still further demonstrated by an extension of its park system to provide tennis courts and outdoor recreation for its citizens.

Mr. Woodruff's talk was greeted with a hearty round of applause. President Stephen Hale reviewed the programs for the rest of the year. Next Monday the annual election of officers will take place. Thanksgiving and Christmas programs are already planned.

ILLUSTRATED LECTURE ON HOLY LAND PLEASES

Rev. George S. Brookes, pastor of the Union Congregational church at Rockville, gave an illustrated lecture on his recent trip to the Holy Land before a large audience at Second Street Methodist church last evening. The meeting was under the auspices of the church missionary committee. Mrs. R. K. Anderson played the organ for the hymn sing, which was immensely enjoyed by the congregation. Mr. Brookes was accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mrs. M. C. A. director, and William Braithwaite of Pearl street. During the offertory the young men played a duet accompanied by Mrs. Anderson.

Mr. Brookes was one of a party of 40 ministers and professors who with their wives sailed toward the end of May for a tour of the Mediterranean and the places of interest on its shores, thence to Beirut, Damascus, Jerusalem, the Sea of Galilee, the Dead Sea, Jordan River, the Mount of Olives and many other places mentioned in the Bible. Mr. Brookes had taken some 500 pictures of which he had slides made, but there was only time to show 60 or 70. They were for the most part colored and gave all present an idea of the Holy Land of the present day. An interesting picture of Beirut showed in the foreground a sign of one of the General Motors family. Mr. Brookes mentioned that in this city one was amazed at the widespread use of the English language in stores and hotels. The reason for it was the training in English given at the American college in Beirut. He showed a number of slides taken on the River Nile, of the Pyramids, sphinxes and other marvels.

Mr. Brookes mentioned the party and journeyed to his old home in England, which he had not seen in 18 years. He had the pleasure of preaching in the little church there and in one of the principal churches of Glasgow, Scotland. He returned to Rockville in September.

Now that a bumper grape crop has been produced, expect that grower to boast that things this year have been vine and dandy.

DO-X COMPLETES TRIP TO CALSHOT, ENGLAND

ter as smoothly as any lighter craft. She came into sight off Calshot accompanied by a swarm of escorting planes. Big crowds had gathered here to greet her.

Dr. Dornier stepped ashore to be welcomed by air ministry officials, and representatives of the German Embassy. He shook hands warmly with Colonel William Forbes-Semple, one of England's best known pilots, who will entertain him while the DO-X remains at Calshot.

REPORTER'S STORY OF TRIP

Correspondent for the Associated Press who made the flight aboard the DO-X from Amsterdam to Calshot today on the second leg of the airplane's flight to the United States.

Calshot, Eng., Nov. 10.—(AP)—The DO-X, "fifty ton flying hotel" made in Germany, completed its first real sea water flight today, arriving at Calshot from Amsterdam. She arrived in perfect weather, gliding to Calshot from a skyful of welcoming airplanes.

The passengers, who included three women, were an international company—eight Germans, six Hollanders, three Americans, two Italians, one English woman and one Jugo-Slav.

The crew was German, Swiss and American while the DO-X itself was international—built by Germans in Switzerland and driven by American motors using American gasoline.

On the departure from Amsterdam on the ship's second lap of her projected flight to the United States, Dr. Claude Dornier, designer and builder of the huge flying ship, stood in the companionway and welcomed the guests as they arrived; a Dutch naval launch came alongside with a band playing patriotic airs.

Below appeared in panorama the canals of Holland while on the other side was the wide expanse of the Zuider Zee.

At 11:14 a. m. the pilot stopped the engines and the DO-X glided smoothly back to the water. Someone had noticed that an oil cooler fastener was coming loose. The DO-X being a seagoing ship, it was a simple matter to descend and correct it.

The repairs completed, the ship took off again and rose from the water in 35 seconds. She circled over Shellingwood and then headed north for Calshot.

OPEN FORUM

WANTED: SIGNATURE.
The Herald is in receipt of a letter written in pencil on both sides of the paper, which in lieu of signature or signatures carried the line: "The majority of the pupils of Manchester High School." Regardless of the fact that it says that we "ply" into the private affairs of the Senior class of Manchester High School we will print this letter if its author will obtain the signatures of the "majority" suggested, or even append his or her own name and address to it. We should almost have thought that a High School senior would know that newspapers do not print anonymous communications and that such a signature as that on his letter is no valid signature at all.

VETERANS ATTEND CHURCH SERVICES

Legion and Spanish War Veterans and Auxiliaries Hear Rev. R. A. Colpitts.

Members of Dilworth-Cornell Post, American Legion, and its auxiliary, and of the United Spanish War Veterans and their auxiliary, attended Armistice services at the South Methodist Episcopal church yesterday. Rev. R. A. Colpitts, himself a veteran of the last war, gave the address. A synopsis of Colpitts' inspiring sermon follows:

Theme: "A Challenge To Unfinished Tasks."
Text: "He would not have them perfected apart from us." Hebrews 11:4.

About 1900 years ago a gifted author sketched what may fittingly be called a Hebrew Hall of Fame. He catalogued a long list of men and women who in peace and war had flung away their lives for a common good. He then added a postscript declaring that despite their sacrifices they still left to those who came after certain unfinished tasks.

The crew was German, Swiss and American while the DO-X itself was international—built by Germans in Switzerland and driven by American motors using American gasoline.

WAGES $7.50 A MONTH FATHER OF QUADRUPLETS

Cairo, Egypt, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A native Arab woman of Cairo has given birth to quadruplets, three girls and a boy. The father is employed as a janitor at a salary equivalent to $7.50 a month.

ing many of these peoples and a little larger social imagination on our part would reveal that in any scheme of Brotherhood, others can bring quite as noble contributions of idealism and tradition and culture as can be brought by ourselves.

To this realization of world brotherhood the press, the pulpit, the teachers of the public schools, are making tremendous contributions. There is however a shameful jingoism which seems to measure its success by the size of the offense it can give to other races. Not long ago the Chicago editor pointed out that the Spanish-American War, the shameful slap in the face given to Japan, and the almost war with Mexico, were all chargeable to one single chain of journals which labors day and night to prevent Americans from having pacific understandings with other peoples.

There is a third unfinished task inherited by the present day that divides the nation. It is the devotion. Not priest, nor rabbi, nor preacher, but a prominent American educator at a recent conference which for three days had been discussing conduct, charges with bile, and a certain sophisticated "Smart Set," were dropping out of the language and the life of today. Did he speak too strongly? During this thirtieth year New Englanders have been thinking much of the Pilgrims. With a certain portion of the Pilgrims to poke fun at the Pilgrims seems to be regarded as a worthy indoor pastime. Doubtless they did have some weaknesses. "The best of men are but men at their best." But who ever knew that those iron ancestors, knows well that they did not bleach all color from the words right and wrong. They knew some things were right eternally right, and had courage to say so. They knew some things were wrong eternally wrong and had courage to say so.

Occasionally, when some outstanding display of human selfishness and injustice turn my soul sick; when I come face to face with some ugly manifestation of prejudice and intolerance; when I take down such a volume as Coningsby Davison; or recital of the heroic deeds of devotion done in Flanders' Fields. It gives me new courage. For it helps to the belief that while some may be wicked, there are still thousands of Americans, both soldier and civilian, do appreciate their heritage and they are dedicating themselves with an equally noble peace devotion to finishing the tasks which they do not want before so nobly advanced.

What is the explanation of this too frequently found indifference? Partly, perhaps, it comes from too many dangerous fallacies. The first of these is that in America, at least, progress is avoidable—that political moral, and social progress must obtain no matter through what heritages of course every page of Ancient History proves the danger of any people holding such a vain and egotistical philosophy. A second fallacy held by not a few, is that we are God's chosen people in this age; that we have a warrant deed to this land and the future, and nothing can dispossess us. So reasoned another nation long centuries ago despite the noble protests of their wise men and prophets. But at last the dispossessed came, furious, bloody, and complete. God gives deeds to legacies only so long as the legatee uses the legacy justly, nobly and righteously. If when we become annual, selfish; if and when we become indifferent to our rich heritage; if and when we prove unfit followers of those who marched ahead some other and worthier people will have our place. A fit and worthy nation can be built only on dirt and worthy citizens.

And now a very hasty view of some of the unfinished tasks that are ours. For the first of these let us consider the one that is perhaps nearest to the heart of these organs. There are of course, individuals and influences in our American life opposing bitterly every step of progress in this direction. Not you for you know war. You know its sufferings. You know its waste. You know its insanity. You know its inability to settle the delicate and difficult international problems. Twenty-six hundred years ago, a young Hebrew, standing though he was in the midst of war's wreckage and waste dared write of a day when the centuries when words should be beaten into ploughshares. That high hope for humanity will not drop because it is God's hope for humanity. It is yet an unfinished task. But the glory of it's full accomplishment may be ours in a second unfinished task and one closely geared to a warless world is that realizing human brotherhood. Some one has well said that the past century made the world a neighborhood. It is the task of this century to make it a Brotherhood. Too often when we speak of strange peoples of other lands, our slippery tongues say words which hurt and offend. A little more information concerning many of these peoples and a little larger social imagination on our part would reveal that in any scheme of Brotherhood, others can bring quite as noble contributions of idealism and tradition and culture as can be brought by ourselves.

To this realization of world brotherhood the press, the pulpit, the teachers of the public schools, are making tremendous contributions. PROBE E. HAMPTON FIRE

East Hampton, Nov. 10.—(AP)—State Police Commissioner Robert T. Hurley today opened a fire marshal's hearing into the causes of the explosion and fire which damaged the North store block here early in the morning of October 29.

Discovery of partly burned newspapers and a candle at that time led police to believe that the fire was of incendiary origin.

It started with an explosion in a rear room of a restaurant that had been vacant for a month. Three men were seen to leave the restaurant and depart in an automobile shortly before the blaze started.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Dow, Jones & Co. reports that steel plant operations in the Youngstown district have declined two per cent this week to 50 per cent of capacity.

Houdaille Hersey Corp. has concluded negotiations for acquisition of Muskegon Motor Specialties Co. and its subsidiary, the Jackson Motor Shaft Co. Under the proposed plan, Muskegon stockholders will receive one share of Houdaille B stock for each share of Muskegon common.

Consolidated retail stores report October sales of $2,711,257, decrease of 8.15 per cent from $2,255,251 for October last year. Sales for the first ten months totaled $17,154,010 an increase of 1.83 per cent over $17,826,631 for the like period of 1929. The company has in operation 30 units, compared with 29 last year.

The average price of crude petroleum at ten producing fields was lower last week at $1.245 a barrel, compared with $1.275 in the preceding week. Paint & Drug Reporter says. The average for the corresponding period last year was $1.652. Gasoline at refineries was unchanged last week at 6.01 cents a gallon at four principal centers.

J. C. Penney, chairman of the J. C. Penney Co. said that 1930 sales will equal or exceed 1929 sales of $209,690,417, despite reduced retail prices.

REDS ARE WORKING TO INCREASE IDLE

Father Walsh Says 13 Million American Negroes Are Enrolled in Party.

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A charge that Communists in Russia led aid to members of their party in this country to increase unemployment activities in Europe last summer and found considerable unrest due to what he described as Soviet dumping.

The educator read from a report of the World Congress held at Moscow stating that unemployment was a growing object of Communist in America and that it had been sponsored in a special campaign.

The campaign, the report said, was planned in the anthracite and bituminous strikes in Pennsylvania and attacks against the American Federation of Labor.

He translated a report of the Soviet congress saying the revolution in Russia had been in progress for 13,000,000 negroes, but said the Communists had not succeeded in advancing their cause in this respect, or among the farmers.

In that connection, the report said the Soviets had not been able "to do anything with the Pullman car porter."

NEW TYPE AIRPLANE

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—A new type airplane, capable of carrying 600 pounds of mail, "tucked in each wing," has been inspected by the Post Office Department and now awaits its approval.

Earl E. Wadsworth, superintendent of air mails, said today there was "no conceivable reason" why wing space should be wasted. He added it was "quite probable" that before many months the planes flying the transcontinental mail routes will be equipped with these wing compartments leaving the fuselages free for passengers.

CHURCHES NEEDED TO PREVENT WAR

Dr. Atkinson Says If Religion Cannot Keep the Peace There Is No Help Possible.

Washington, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Seeing "more gloom and cynicism in regard to the possibility of peace" now than at any time since 1918, Dr. Henry Atkinson of New York told the World Alliance for International Friendship through the Churches that religious principles should provide a partial panacea for the world's upset.

Dr. Atkinson, general secretary of the alliance, at the opening of the organization's good will conference, attributed a portion of the "fear of the spread of Communism" to "deplorable economic conditions which exist in almost every country."

"The Assembly of the League of Nations just closed," he said, "lacked the atmosphere of hope and buoyancy that has marked the others, and instead everyone felt the deep fog which seemed to envelop every committee and all the efforts of the leaders to find a way out of the difficulties. x x x

"At the League the delegates paid verbal homage to the Briand-Kellogg pact and then proceeded to act upon the old principle that has guided the world since the beginning of time. In a warless world, peacemaking is the only method of maximum armaments, the next was method of defense, and are trying to provide the means for regulating the mind of man so that the fury of the next outbreak may be in some measure restrained; but always in the background there is the grim figure of the god of war and the shadow of his mailed fist falls across every conference table."

Dr. Atkinson added that "if the combined religious, moral, and spiritual resources of mankind co-ordinated and brought to bear upon these problems can do no help, then there is no help possible."

Delegates to the conference, which Catholics, Protestants and Jews attended, also heard addresses by the Rev. William P. Merrill of New York, president of the alliance, and the Rev. Joseph Fort Newberry of the Memorial church of St. Paul at Overbrook, Pa.

The conference, which will end Wednesday, will be addressed tomorrow by President Hoover.

PART OF VELVET MILL IS BURNED

Small Building Between Main Velvet Mill Groups Destroyed By Fire Today.

At 3:00 p. m. this afternoon an alarm was rung in from Box 52 South Manchester where a fire in a small wooden building between the two main velvet mills of Cheney Brothers plant. Considerable trouble was had in getting down the iron gateway to fight the fire near the Pine street end of the mill. The building is thought to be a stretch and dampen velvet. It was a total loss. Hose Companies No. 1, 3 and 4 responded.

The framework of the adjacent mills was scorched and windows were cracked. It is thought the fire was started from burning leaves.

LATEST STOCKS

New York, Nov. 10.—(AP)—The virtually uninterrupted bear movement in stocks rolled into its third month today, having already broken most enduring records among the list had a brief rallying spell for a time in the morning. But fresh weakness of the utility and rail shares soon turned the entire list emphatically downward, driving prominent issues to the lowest prices in two years or longer.

Union Pacific dropped 8 points, and Atchison, North American, American Tobacco B, Macy, Public Service, of N. J., Liggett and Myers B, Delaware and Hudson, and Kansas City Southern were among issues declining 3 to more than 5 points. Such issues as U. S. Steel, American Telephone, General Electric, Radio, and American Can declined 1 to 2 points to new lows. Standard Oil of N. J. dropped 2 points to 49, going below the price of 50 at which a bid for 1,000,000 shares checked the decline a year ago.

Several commission houses had predicted a "stagnated" technical rally today, but during the morning was disappointedly short-lived. The day's business and corporate news failed to shed any new light on the situation. The appointment of a receiver for Coaden Oil, a small unit in the industry, had been foreshadowed by the active act of the stock, but possibly it served further to aggravate the unsettlement in the market.

The statement of the Royal Dutch Co., board at the extraordinary shareholders meeting in Amsterdam to the effect that present conditions in the industry permit a profit margin for only the largest producing companies served to emphasize the troublesome conditions in this industry. The board estimated clearly that it considered the withdrawal of export prices by the Export Petroleum Association of the United States last week as promising price wars. Oil trade circles, however, hoped that remedial measures might be placed in effect as a result of the meeting in Chicago of the American Petroleum Institute.

Reports from the steel industry were if anything a little more favorable. Ingot production in the Cleveland area was placed this week at 50 percent of capacity, against 52 last week, but some large automobile manufacturers are shortly going into production on new models, and this may tend to check the slackening of operations in some steel plants.

The United States Steel Corp's monthly unfilled tonnage report, showing a gain of about 57,000 tons, was favorably regarded, although it failed to check the decline in the stock. It is reported that the circles that advance specifications are so indefinite as to the dates when deliveries will be requested that unfilled orders have to some extent lost their barometrical importance. The fact that the decline was checked, however, was encouraging, and perhaps indicated that prices are dragging bottom.

The conversations which are understood to be under way in New York looking toward curtailment of copper production, to stabilize prices, were veiled in secrecy, but reports in trade circles had it that substantial progress was being made toward reaching an agreement. It was expected that definite results will not be forth-coming for some weeks.

The stiffening in the tone of the call money market noted last week seemed to be passing. The rate held at 4 percent at the loan desk, but concessions in the outside market were again reported.

ONLY 16 HOURS OF TESTS BEFORE R-101 STARTED

London, Nov. 10.—(AP)—Squadron Leader R. S. Booth, commander of the Dirigible R-100, said today that if the Imperial conference had not been in session officers of the Dirigible R-101 would have insisted upon additional flight trials before the dirigible left on the voyage which ended in the crash near Beauvais, France.

He made his statement as a witness in the inquiry into the loss of the R-101.

Squadron Leader Booth said he thought the R-101 officers, in deciding to make the flight, were "biased in their judgment" by the knowledge that the Imperial conference was in progress and that it was the psychological moment to carry Lord Thomson, the late air minister, to India and back.

"If the conference had not been on," he said, "I feel confident they would have insisted on more trials." The R-101 had only 16 hours of trials after the alterations which preceded the start for India, he said. The R-100, he recalled, developed defects after 45 hours on one of her trial flights. They were seriously endangered the ship if such defects, he said, as would have seriously endangered the ship if they had occurred in the middle of the Atlantic.

TAKES STEPS TO STOP WESTERN OIL MERGER

Tulsa, Okla., Nov. 10.—(AP)—Legal action seeking to prevent completion of the consolidation of the Independent Oil and Gas Company and the Phillips Petroleum Company will be taken this week by minority stockholders of the Independent company, attorneys for two groups of protesting stockholders said today.

Counsel for W. L. Kistler, Tulsa oil man, representing 13,000 shares of independent stock said he would file 15 reasons for halting the merger, chief among which would be objections to the payment of $1,000,000 to Bancamerica-Briar Brothers, New York City, for brokerage services in connection with the consolidation and the fact that the merger calls for 76 shares of Phillips stock for 100 shares of independent stock.

Meeting Trouble and Grief Half Way

Disease and Disaster Checked and Loss of Life Cut Down by Red Cross Preparedness; Radio and Airplane Are Great Help in Emergency

NEVER trouble trouble, till trouble troubles you," is the wise but lazy maxim of Uncle Mose. This old philosopher takes it for granted that by giving trouble a wide berth, mankind can escape many of the ills which lie in his pathway. But mankind has a whole host of natural enemies. Disease, disaster, and even his own ebullient spirits, which result in a heavy toll of accidental deaths—are but a few troubles which trip him up when he least expects them. Indifferent sanitary conditions breed disease, which is only too frequently lying in wait just around the corner to spring into activity in the form of an epidemic which may sweep thousands of lives away. Accidents on the highway and in city streets took a toll of 81,000 lives in the United States last year, and caused a million injuries. On an average of 8,000 persons drown each year at beaches, pools, in rivers and other spots unprotected by life savers. Cataclysms of nature—tornadoes, hurricanes, cyclones, fires, explosions—cost thousands of lives each year.

These all represent hazards to mankind, and are troubles which must be met half-way, in order to minimize the damage, and save lives. It is almost fifty years ago that the battle against preventable death and disease was begun in this country in a systematized and organized way, and under a charter from Congress.

The charter was to the American Red Cross, and while the society—like its progenitors in the Old World—came into being primarily to succor the wounded in time of war, to neutralize doctors and nurses and hospitals, yet it was commissioned, too, for a broad merciful task, in these words: "To continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other national calamities, and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same."

LOOKING FOR TROUBLE

In the crisp, brief sentences for which he has become noted, former President Calvin Coolidge, addressing a Red Cross convention while he was President, said: "The Red Cross is the only organization I have known that does any good by looking for trouble."

FIRST AID FOR DOLLY. THIS YOUNG MISS LEARNS HER LESSONS EARLY.

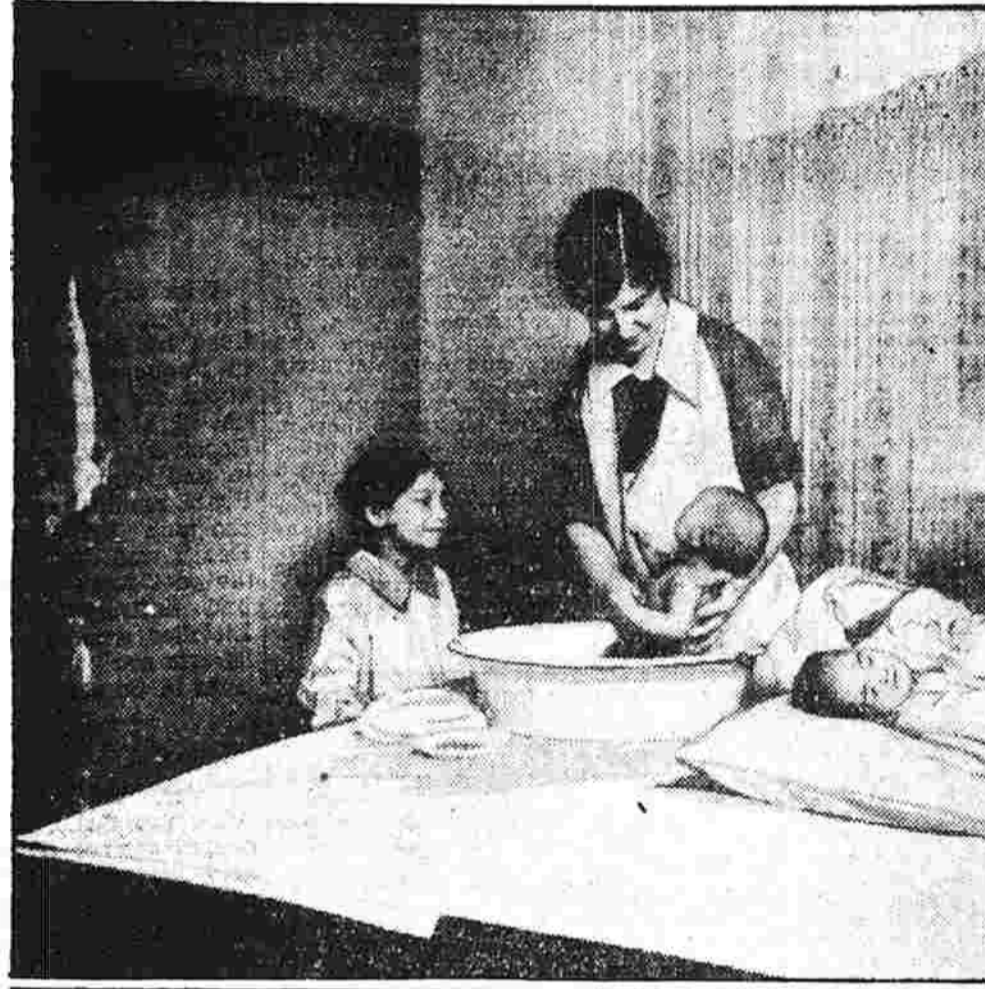

WHAT WIND CAN DO. HOUSES AND STORES, SCATTERED LIKE A BOX OF MATCHES IN A TEXAS TOWN, BY A TORNADO.

59 Nations Form Red Cross of the World

Today fifty-nine nations have Red Cross societies. The number cannot be greatly increased because nearly all civilized countries now have come into the great fellowship. But the membership can increase without limit. And it is increasing steadily. Of adult members there are now in the world more than 11,000,000, while more than 12,000,000 children are enrolled in the Junior Red Cross.

Who can set bounds to what may be accomplished by this mighty host, united for the single purpose of relieving and preventing human suffering?

BABY GETS A RIGHT START. RED CROSS TEACHES MOTHER AND SISTER HOW HE SHOULD BE HANDLED.

Another picture of the society was given at the last convention by U. S. Senator from Kansas, Arthur Capper, when he said: "The plain truth is that the Twentieth Century's most efficient trouble-shooter is the American Red Cross. There is always something for the Red Cross to do. In calm or in storm, in peace or in war, it justifies itself daily and hourly. It ministers continually to the aches and pains of a continent. It meets disaster or the call of need with the speed and efficiency of a city fire department. It reaches the spot first, knows what to do first and what to do last, and does it with the least lost motion and with a minimum of expense."

Aside from its health work in disasters, begun almost half a century ago, the first effort the Red Cross directed toward health preservation was in the early yellow fever epidemics of the Southern States. Clara Barton assembled doctors and nurses and built temporary hospitals and helped bury the dead during the yellow fever scourges.

Medical science has happily eradicated this menace to our lives. Smallpox has come under control. Public health authorities have done much to eliminate typhoid. Vaccines have lessened the dangers of childhood's diseases.

Yet these menaces, while greatly lessened in intensity and frequency of occurrence, still plague us—and the Red Cross nurse and health services are prepared at all times to answer their challenge against the safety of the American home. Only recently three grave epidemics of meningitis, of septic sore throat and of typhoid fever, which affected whole communities, were successfully combated by the Red Cross, in cooperation with the public health authorities.

Almost twenty years ago the Red Cross entered the safety field with its lessons in life saving and first aid.

Its public health work has been the forerunner in hundreds of communities of the nursing service and

Greatest Annual Call of Roll Counts 4,130,000

In the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day—from November 11 until November 27—the great roll is called in the United States. This is the annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross. Every one of the 3,500 Chapters of the society strives to enroll all adults in their communities, for membership and service to the Red Cross.

The organization last year enrolled 4,130,966 adult members and 6,930,849 Junior Red Cross members.

clines which today so ably serve in maintaining the public health.

Four services of the American Red Cross, under direction of experts who are medical men, or nurses, or safety engineers, carry on this work. They are the Public Health Nursing Service; the First Aid and Life Saving Service; the Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick Service and the Nutrition Service.

Their work for safeguarding your health and life and for aiding in preservation of your home, through protecting your child from epidemics, and your breadwinner from accident, is divided into four sections—preservation of health through skilled nursing care; prevention of loss of life in accidents; prevention of illness, through cleanliness in the home and knowledge of methods of home care of the sick, and raising the standard of health and physical efficiency through proper nutrition.

This campaign against disease and death is nation-wide—it is conducted through a majority of the 16,200 Red Cross Chapters and Branches in the United States.

Community health and safety problems differ—so that the program is fitted to the problems of each section.

The battle for life may be against pellagra in one region, malaria in another—it may be in helping to control a smallpox, typhoid or diphtheria outbreak; or it may be in mobilizing thousands of nurses to fight a terrible epidemic, such as the influenza, following the World War. But whatever the call, there stands ready the living symbol of the Red Cross Health Service—the trained nurse.

The Red Cross is the largest employer of public health nurses engaged in rural work. More than 700 nurses carry on this work in the society's health program. They work largely through school nursing in the middle western and far western states; and in the cities and towns of the eastern states, the Red Cross nursing program is that of the visiting nurse.

This work among children is intended to prevent and remove handicaps which might materially affect their ability to earn a livelihood in mature years. It also serves the community in that it checks the incipient epidemic and thereby prevents possible loss of life through the spread of children's diseases.

In addition to this health work, the Red Cross sponsors the Junior Red Cross in the schools. More than 6,878,000 school children are enrolled in the Junior Red Cross, which has for its motto "I Serve." Educators praise the value of this children's league, because one of its missions is the exchange of school correspondence, souvenirs and albums between Junior Red Cross groups of children in forty-one nations.

Through its home hygiene and care of the sick classes, the Red Cross reaches thousands of women and girls, teaching them the value of cleanliness in the home; care of infants and children, and simple methods of bandaging and nursing the invalid. These courses are taught through the schools and also through industries and clubs and classes of adults.

Radio Network

A further step toward linking all of the agencies of the government and science in a protective plan to save lives and property in the event of disaster has been worked out by the Red Cross.

Amateur radio operators, young men and a few young women, who own equipment, usually located in their homes, have been joined into a nation-wide network to report catastrophes in their communities to the Red Cross, in the event that all other means of communication have been destroyed.

The cooperation and organization of the amateur radio fans has been obtained by the Red Cross through the United States Army and the United States Navy. Holding certificates of appointment for two years as Army amateur operators are 711 men, and a few girls scattered nationwide. Organized in the Naval Reserves are 2,300 young men, the majority experienced in radio and owning equipment. These 3,000 radio amateurs will furnish one or more operators in each community, who will receive appointment from Red Cross Chapters as official radio operators for the chapter.

Several times in the recent past, airplanes and the radio have played a striking role in aiding the Red Cross to bring relief to disaster stricken communities.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

First Moonshiner—Ah makes mah hicker so strong dat when yo drinks it, yo kin done smell de corn-field whar dat corn was grown.

Judge—Well, here you are again, Rastus. Rastus—Yassah, boss, I'se back afore yo' again, but dis time ah has a cause.

Some business men remind us of an old colored man who bought of seedy specimen of horseflesh for two dollars.

Sam, impeached for jury service at a murder trial, had seemed a little too anxious to serve.

Rastus—Looks heah, Niggah; Ah done told yo' All not t' shoot mah rooster, ain't I?

Conductor (after stumbling over obstacle in the aisle)—Madam, you must not leave your valise in the aisle.

Mose was applying for a divorce. Judge—Mose, are sure this man made love to your wife?

Stickler Solution. A grid of numbers 2, 9, 4, 7, 5, 3, 6, 1, 8. Text: THIS illustrates how the numbered birds can be arranged so that the total of each line, whether horizontal, vertical or diagonal, will be the same—15.

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS:

When dressed in the height of lounging fashion, a girl has to watch her step.

shoe, but when dat woman sees, 'Mose, draw up yo' chair an' take a few lessons, 'Ah kaint stand dat woman no longer.

Old Uncle Eph says. Misery sho' loves company an' always manages t' hab sum around.

Judge—Your wife complains that you never worked. How about it, Rastus?

Parson (shouting)—Look whut de Lawd's done dun fo' you' all, brethren! Give Him a portion of all yo' has. Give Him a tenth. A tenth ob all yo' hasse belongs to de Lawd.

Marriage—It's not the original cost but the alimony.

Those Who Don't Believe in a Real Hell Will Please Tell Us What This Generation Is Raising.

ONCE UPON A TIME.

At 20, William S. Knudsen worked in a Copenhagen shop assembling bicycles. He quit and immigrated to the United States, with only $30 in capital besides his ticket. Now he's president of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

The well was quite a sight to see. The top was round it could be seen and underneath 'twas hollow. "Let's peek in," one Tiny said. "If it looks nice to me, I think that I'd enjoy a cooling drink."

You Just Know it's good!
HAWKS AND US.
 That fellow Hawk, who flew from Havana to New York yesterday in eight hours, forty-four minutes, is just about our idea of a special order delivery man for a food shop like Pinehurst. He sure is the original hurry-up boy!
 To be sure Pinehurst delivery can't very well use airplanes and you have to run your special delivery Austins with due regard to public safety—but the way Brother Hawks makes every second count recommends him as the right kind of a chap for some other store that might be thinking of starting a delivery system like ours.
 Of course Pinehurst doesn't need Hawks—even if he were out of a job. Any time you want to see something happen "toot-sweet" just phone this shop for some item you've forgotten—and then hold your watch on us. Speed? Hawks hasn't so much on us.

The Merchants' Division of the C. of C. voted to close members' stores from 10:00 to 12:30 TOMORROW MORNING, ARMISTICE DAY. The delivery section, and in fact every one in the store, will have to "step fast" to get all the dinner orders out before 10:00 a. m. You can help us by telephoning your order just as early as possible (from 6:30 on), if you want it for noon dinner. If you do not need your order for noon, just tell us when you phone that it will be all right on an early afternoon delivery.

Pinehurst Coffee 39c lb.	College Inn Soups 2 for 25c	5 oz. Plain Olives 10c	8-oz. Pears or Fruit Salad 2 for 25c

The Meat Department will have some especially nice Veal Chops, cut from tender native Veal; Boneless Veal for Stewing, also other cuts of stewing Veal, Lean Lamb Stew and Soup Bones.

CORNED BEEF—all of Pinehurst Quality—Our new tanks are now being used, and we can give you most anything you want in lean or mixed Corned Beef.
Asparagus Tips—All green or natural color—priced reasonably—23c, 36c, 39c, 45c and 49c can. The large No. 2 1-2 can of cut all green Asparagus that we are selling at 39c this week is going to be a "big seller."
Sauer Kraut—Fresh Spare Ribs—Eckhardt's Frankfurts.
