

WETHERSFIELD PRISON PROBE STARTS TODAY

Governor's Committee Be- gins Investigation of Chap- lain's Charges That Con- victs Are Treated Badly.

Wethersfield, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—An inquiry into the management of the Connecticut State prison requested by the directors, was begun today by a committee appointed by Governor John H. Trumbull.

The limitations of the inquiry will be those set by the committee itself. Specifically the first phase which was taken up today was to determine the basis of charges that inmates of the prison, who for disciplinary reasons had been placed in solitary cells, had been inhumanely treated. The charges were made in a recent newspaper article by Rev. Dr. William Smith, a former chaplain of the prison.

Dr. Smith in his personal account of his experiences at the prison, using numbers to denote certain inmates, said that placing men in solitary (which he called the "black hole") was "heartless brutality."

He said of two inmates they were "down in the black hole" several days. These inmates, Dr. Smith identified as those sentenced for life for a murder committed in Florida, returned here and given an additional sentence for breaking jail. These men were Roland Malone, who also had a life sentence here for his part in slaying a state officer and Watson Mouthrop, who was serving time for robbery.

Shackled to Bars

Dr. Smith in the article said: "Why should these unfortunate wretches then suffer an additional penalty at state prison? The Judge's sentence should suffice. Well as No. 11395 you go down into the black hole for being in possession of a hacksaw blade. There you stand with outer clothing removed, your hands shackled to the bars above your head. One day seems like an eternity."

With publication of Dr. Smith's article Colonel Osborn, president of the prison board, asked Governor Trumbull to have the institution investigated.

The governor named Homer S.

10 FIREMEN HURT IN $250,000 BLAZE

Big Fire in New Haven Ware- house—Autoist Discovers Fire and Turns In Alarm.

New Haven, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—Ten firemen were hurt, 15 others required medical attention and property of estimated value of about $250,000 was destroyed last night in a fire which swept through the Smedley Company's warehouse in lower Chapel street. It was the stiffest fight the city firemen had had for many months.

The fire, however, in spite of its great intensity, was held within the heavy walls of the building which had been put up for a storehouse. Much of the property in storage was the furniture and household effects of individuals, and furniture and other things of local concern.

Smedley Company today set their loss at $100,000 on the building and $40,000 on contents. Thomas C. Hood Company, wholesale grocers, who used a section of the building for storage had a loss of $25,000 and the Ideal Shirt Manufacturing Company which had a plant in the place, had a $15,000 loss. Two other tenants suffered from smoke. All tenants had insurance coverage.

The cause of the fire had not been determined today. Kenneth Garrett, chauffeur for Thomas C. Hood, driving by the building, saw reflection of a fire from the storehouse and as a precautionary measure he had an alarm sent while he called his employer. Firemen found the fire in the center of the L-shaped structure and its spread was rapid. High tension wires near the building broke making a brilliant display of electricity.

None of the firemen were seriously hurt.

NOT TO CONTINUE INCOME TAX CUT

So Says Chairman Snell of House Rules Committee; Must Pay Bills First.

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—The prediction that the one per cent tax reduction would not be continued was made today by Chairman Snell, of the House rules committee.

"We are liable to have an increase in taxes if we are to meet all of the present demands on the Treasury," Snell said.

The prediction came in the course of a discussion on the short session outlook, in which the rules chairman said every effort would be made to expedite passage of the appropriation bills to prevent a special session of the newly elected Congress.

Can Clear Up Calendar

Snell said "if Congress gets down to business, we should be able to clear up all controversial matters regardless of whether they are sponsored by Senator Norris of Nebraska or anyone else."

The controversial proposals include the Norris resolutions for government operation of Muscle Shoals and affecting short sessions of Congress, immigration restriction and the Wagner unemployment proposals.

Containing no trouble should be expected on restriction of immigration, Snell said there was no need to apply the quota law to Canada. Yesterday Senator Reed of Pennsylvania advocated further immigration restriction to alleviate unemployment.

JOHNSON HEARS PLEA

Hartford, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—The petition of Joseph Aurora, of New Haven, for the return of his public service operator's license was heard today by Assistant Attorney General Raymond A. Johnson.

J. Herbert Case Heads Billion Dollar Bank

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—J. Herbert Case, chairman of board of directors of the New York Federal Reserve Bank, is scheduled to head the new billion dollar bank to be formed through merger of the Manufacturers Trust Co., the Public National Bank and Trust Co., the Bank of the United States, and the International Trust Co., it was learned today.

A formal statement regarding the plan is expected later today. The merger, which has been reported as under negotiation for several weeks, is subject to the approval of the directors and stockholders of the four institutions. The plan of merger is understood to have taken definite form over the week-end.

Mr. Case became chairman of the Federal Reserve bank last spring, succeeding Gates W. McCarrah, who resigned to become president of the Bank of International Settlements. Mr. Case is expected to resign from the Federal Reserve to head the new institution.

Members of the board of directors of the new bank, which would rank fourth in size among the New York banks, is expected to include George W. Davison, president of the Central Hanover Bank and Trust Co., Walter E. Frew, chairman of the board of the Corn Exchange Bank Trust Co., Mortimer N. Buckner, chairman of the board of the New York Trust Co.

Mr. Case would become chairman of the board of directors of the new bank, and E. Chester Gersten, president of the Public National Bank and Trust Company, would assume the same executive position in the new institution. Nathan S. Johns and Henry C. von Elm, now chairman and president respectively of Manufacturers Trust, would remain in important positions.

Deposits of $700,000,000 and resources of nearly $1,000,000,000 would give the bank ranking as the fourth largest in New York. The Chase National is the largest; National City, second, and Guaranty Trust, third.

It is planned to apply for membership in the New York Clearing House Association.

Mr. Case has devoted his entire

STORMS SWEEP EUROPE; NINE KILLED, MANY HURT

France, Belgium, Germany and Australia Lashed By Gales—Torrential Rain- storms Overflow Rivers.

By Associated Press

Furious gales accompanied by torrential rainstorms lashed the Continent today, taking at least nine lives, inflicting serious injury upon hundreds, and wreaking havoc in France, Belgium, Germany and Austria.

Belgium appeared to be the heaviest sufferer, for her low countryside was inundated when swollen rivers topped the dikes and overran the fields.

A wind of hurricane force swept Vienna. Three were killed, twenty-two seriously injured and many others slightly hurt.

Floods in France

The French rivers were flooded, and France was under water from Havre to Paris. Navigation was impossible and such vessels in the Seine as could not find shelter were damaged or sunk. One girl was reported drowned.

Germany was hard hit. In the south the Rhine and Moselle overran their banks driving thousands from their homes to higher country. At Friedrichshafen, home of the Graf Zeppelin, and throughout the

BIG DOG FIGHTS 3 HOLD-UP MEN

Three Women Killed In Pis- tol Duel In Dark Road- house—3 Men Wounded.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—A Great Dane pitted his courage and strength in a fight against eight Chicago robbers, and, although defeated, the wounds he inflicted, police believed may lead to the capture of the men who shot to death three women, two of them entertainers in a roadhouse.

The dog, fighting furiously, slashed right and left at the eight invaders, but guns and pistols blazing in the darkness, as the lights of the resort in suburban Summit, went out, won. Besides the three women slain, three men were injured, all apparently hit by the gunmen's bullets.

Despite the fact the holdups escaped their loot was only $200.

Helps Master

As one of the holdup men began pushing Henry Goetz, owner of the resort, the Great Dane leaped to the aid of his master, sinking its teeth in the man's leg, and the gunman in sudden fright began to fire. The next instant the place was in darkness. Panic reigned as shots flew in all directions. Apparently, one of the invaders, in attempting to turn on more lights had touched the wrong switch.

When the lights were turned on again they revealed Miss Mary Grining, 22, formerly of Champaign, Ill., Miss Alice Ward, of Milwaukee, dead with bullets in their backs, and Miss Mary Ganey, owner of a beauty parlor fatally wounded. John Gates, a waiter; Jack O'Berne, and Lieutenant James Micus, a

DUCE'S SUCCESSOR TO BE NAMED SOON

Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—Reports reaching Italian political circles here are that Premier Mussolini is momentarily expected to nominate Count Costanzo Ciano, minister of communications, as vice premier, thus indicating his successor in the event he should pass from the political scene.

Simultaneously, it is said, Count Ciano will assume the portfolios of war and navy, thus combining under himself more power than any other minister except Mussolini.

Count Ciano is the father of Count Galeazzo Ciano, now Italian consul general at Shanghai, who married the premier's daughter, Edda.

It is recalled that Mussolini on the occasion of the last attempt made against his life told the Chamber of Deputies that all such attempts to subvert the regime would be useless since he had already arranged for succession in his office in case an attempt against him should succeed.

TREASURY BALANCE

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—Treasury receipts for November 21 were $6,987,194.70; expenditures $9,845,142.73; balance, $100,802,547.87.

RED DELEGATE QUITS PARLEY; STARTS HOME

Rumor Says Unrest In Rus- sia Calls Him Back—DO-X Pictured As Terrible War Weapon By Delegate.

Geneva, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—A picture of the DO-X, huge 12-motored German seaplane, armored and equipped as a bombing plane and a formidable weapon of war was drawn for the preparatory disarmament commission of the League of Nations today by Rene Massigli, French representative.

The allusions to the DO-X were made before a gathering already startled by one sensation, the abrupt departure of Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, for Milan, Italy, from where after conferring with the Russian ambassador at Rome, he will proceed to Moscow, abandoning his work with the disarmament commission.

Wild Reports

His departure aroused speculation as to a possible connection with reported subversive disturbances in Russia, but members of the Soviet delegation remaining here declared that the disturbances did not exist and that M. Litvinoff had left because he had done all that was possible in the commission and was disgusted with its record in drafting a disarmament treaty.

M. Massigli's introduction of the DO-X into the proceedings came in the course of development of his contention that a highly developed civil aviation arm constitutes a powerful aggressive war menace.

He cited a recent interview with a member of the DO-X crew, who said that the giant plane could become a formidable weapon of war, capable of dropping bombs on London, Paris, Rome or other capitals.

Urges Publicity

The entire argument was in support of insertion in the draft treaty of an article calling for full publicity regarding the disarmament of planes and dirigibles registered annually in each country.

Ambassador Gibson, speaking for the United States, announced that his government preferred to regulate this problem out of the bounds of the disarmament convention, but that if the majority of the commission preferred to deal with it at this time he would agree.

Count von Bernstorff, German representative on the disarmament commission, deprecated the idea

HIGH COURT DODGES RULING ON JURIES

Refuses To Pass On the Rights of Petty Offenders To a Trial By Jury.

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—The Supreme Court today refused to pass upon the constitutional right of petty offenders to a trial by jury, a question much discussed in connection with prohibition enforcement legislation.

The court sustained a ruling of the District Court today refusing to pass upon the constitutional right of petty offenders to a trial by jury, a question much discussed in connection with prohibition enforcement legislation.

The carriers said they did not understand that the comments of the examiner and commission necessarily precluded subsequent consideration of port differentials, and for that reason deemed it unnecessary to reply to that portion of the Philadelphia petition.

On the question of mileage, the respondent said for many years rates in Philadelphia had been constructed on the basis of the actual distance to a key point, plus a mileage factor which "has always been considered to represent a fair average of the mileage of transportation service yet to be performed after the traffic reached the key point."

Italians to Manufacture Poison Gas for Next War

Lugano, Switzerland, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—Copies of recent date received here of the Italian financial newspaper Agencia Economica contain a story which would indicate that certain Italian interests contemplate the manufacture of poison gas in the event of another war.

The story is that of a refinancing operation for a group of Italian chemical plants. After pointing out that the Acna Chemicals Corporation, or Azienda Chimica Nazionale, as it is named is to be included in the operation, the newspaper explains the omission by saying that since foreign money is involved it

Youngest Army Chief Takes Office

Douglas MacArthur, the nation's youngest major general, here is shown, right, as he took the oath as Chief of Staff of the United States Army. Fifty years old, and called "the D'Artagnan of the Army," General MacArthur is famed for his war service, and the seven silver star citations for bravery which adorn his dress tunic are said to outnumber those of any other officer. In the above picture the oath is being administered by Maj. Gen. Edward A. Kreger, Judge Advocate General of the Army.

R. R. FREIGHT RATES UP FOR DISCUSSION

Roads Opposed To Reopen Key Rates In the East; File Brief With I. C. C.

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—Members of the Trunk Lines, New England and Central Freight Associations said in a brief filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission today that the petition of Philadelphia to reconsider the eastern class rate report lacked persuasion.

Philadelphia, and the joint executive transportation committee representing trade bodies in that city, recently sought further consideration of the rates as recommended by the commission which has postponed the effective date from time to time. Philadelphia attacked particularly:

- (1)—Key rates;
- (2)—Abolition of port differentials;
- (3)—Constructive mileage at Philadelphia;
- (4)—Extension of scales, and
- (5)—Rail and water routes via Philadelphia.

Roads' Opposition

The roads opposed to reopening the key rates, "freely concede the desirability of some arrangement, such as the commission has formulated, and are of the opinion that a key rate system, if worked out on a basis equitable to all communities and interests affected thereby, can be served a useful purpose."

"However," the reply continued, "since the so-called key rates form no part of the original carrier proposals, these respondents prefer at this time to interpose no objection to suitable review of any considerations which any community or interests may have in connection therewith."

The carriers said they did not understand that the comments of the examiner and commission necessarily precluded subsequent consideration of port differentials, and for that reason deemed it unnecessary to reply to that portion of the Philadelphia petition.

On the question of mileage, the respondent said for many years rates in Philadelphia had been constructed on the basis of the actual distance to a key point, plus a mileage factor which "has always been considered to represent a fair average of the mileage of transportation service yet to be performed after the traffic reached the key point."

6 SUDDEN DEATHS OVER THE WEEKEND

Three Killed By Autos, One Suicide and Two Specta- tors Die At Games.

By Associated Press.

Focal point for hundreds of automobiles which converged on the state for the classic Yale-Harvard football game, Connecticut reported three auto accidents over the weekend in addition to a suicide and the sudden deaths of two spectators at football games.

The victims of the automobile accidents were Andrew Norve, of Bridgeport; Mrs. Frances Bednarz, 38, of Hartford; and Charles Crocker, 58, caretaker of the G. Harrison Mifflin estate at Thompsonville.

Barnabus B. Hadfield, 49, of White Plains, N. Y., was fatally stricken with a heart attack while witnessing the Yale-Harvard football game at the Yale Bowl. In Derby, James C. Loneragan, of Woodbridge, also was fatally stricken with a heart attack while watching a football game between the Ansonia and Derby High schools.

Hangs Himself

Despondent over ill health, Edward Smith, 52, New Haven, hanged himself in the basement of his home.

Norve was killed in his home city by an automobile driven by Henry T. Dray, of New Britain. An auto driven by Daniel B. Warner, of Hartford, was responsible for the death of Crocker, while Mr. Bednarz, mother of four children, was struck and fatally injured in Hartford by a machine operated by Daniel Sasso, of New Haven.

SEE SENATE CONTEST

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—The prospect of a Senate contest over confirmation of Edgar B. Crossard, of Utah, as a tariff commissioner was discussed today by Senators Watson and Smoot, and Mr. Crossard.

Some Democrats and western Republican Independents have indicated they will oppose confirmation. However, republican leaders believe Crossard will be confirmed, along with other members of the commission.

The only other contest likely over the commission appointments concerns Henry F. Fletcher, of Pennsylvania, the Republican chairman. Senator Borah has indicated he might challenge the latter.

OVERCOME BY GAS

Torrington, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—Three laborers employed in blasting for a trench for a telephone cable in the business section of the city were overcome by gas at 10:45 this morning when a gas main was broken. The three were rushed to the Charlotte Hungerford hospital.

SEN. BINGHAM ASKS DRY ACT SHOWDOWN

DISMEMBERED BODY OF MAN IS FOUND

Legs Found In Doorway of Vacant Store—Torso Found In Trunk In River.

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—The dismembered parts of a man's body were found today in two widely separated parts of the city.

The legs, amputated at the thighs and wrapped in white sheets, were found first, in an old suitcase in the doorway of a vacant store on the lower east side. A few hours later, coal barge workers found the torso of a man in an old trunk floating in the Hudson river at the foot of West 58th street.

Chief Medical Examiner Norris declared they were parts of the same body.

Except for a brass check from a laborer's hotel and a laundry mark on a shirt, found with the legs, there was no clue to the identity of the man.

Doctor's Work

The legs had been removed from the torso with a hacksaw and a skill comparable to that of a surgeon, Dr. Norris said. The possibility that the limbs might have been discarded by a medical student was disproved, police said, by the fact they were partly clothed.

The medical examiner said the man had been dead a very short time.

The trunk in which the torso was found, with the arms folded across the muscular chest, was a wooden one lined with white and blue checkered oil cloth.

In the old suitcase containing the legs police found a cheap brown topcoat, a heather colored sweater, a white shirt bearing the laundry mark 216 and a cheap ball bat. A street cleaner discovered the suitcase.

Will Sponsor Bill To Manu- facture Four Per Cent Beer—Also Wants Doc- tors Allowed To Prescribe Malt Liquors—Says Bills Will Help Temperance and Aid Employment.

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—A showdown in Congress at this session on prohibition modification measures was demanded today by Senator Bingham, Republican, Connecticut.

He will sponsor a bill to permit manufacture of four per cent beer. "In view of the interest manifested in the country in prohibition," said Bingham, "the leaders ought to give us a chance to vote on this legislation at least."

The Senator will introduce legislation to allow physicians to prescribe malt as well as spirituous liquor.

"I believe these bills would promote temperance," he explained. "I believe they would promote the use and sale of grain and I believe they would aid employment. To say that one half of one per cent of alcohol is intoxicating is ridiculous.

"In the days when the saloons flourished on so many busy corners of our large cities, the temptation to encourage temperance was very great. The saloon was used as a convenient center for highly undesirable and frequently criminal activities.

Holds Crime Unchecked

"It was hoped that by getting rid of the saloon these criminal activities could be more easily suppressed. Unfortunately, crime and the spirit which makes criminals does not depend upon an opportunity to meet in legalized saloons. Almost every one realizes that we have in our big cities just about as much crime today as we did in the days of the saloon.

"Nevertheless, the saloon did promote temperance. Had the abandonment of the saloon meant government regulation of sale and home consumption, it is doubtful whether the enormous growth of the bootlegging industry and its consequent demoralization of thousands of people who are employed in it would have taken place.

"No one wants to see the saloon re-established. No one is in favor of temperance. Most of us believe in prohibition, not in total abstinence. What most of us would like to do is to promote temperance in all things and temperance in none."

WATCHMAN IS HELD AS BOMB PLOTTER

200 Sticks of Dynamite Fixed To Explode In Newspaper Building—Found In Time.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—Traced by the number on a battery in a 200-stick-dynamite bomb delivered Saturday at the Spokane, Wash., Chronicle building, Henry A. Ise, night watchman of a San Francisco bank, was arrested here today.

The bomb, in the opinion of officers, was intended to wreck the Chronicle building. It was contained in an old trunk and was addressed and delivered to the Associated Press office in the newspaper's building.

Two years ago Ise was acquitted of planting a bomb in the Spokane-Spokesman-Review building. Both newspapers are published by W. H. Cowles, one of the directors of the Associated Press.

Admitting, police said, he "knew all about" the previous bombing, Ise denied direct knowledge of last Saturday's attempt. He blamed both attempts on two political gangs which he said had been fighting in Spokane for years. Investigators said he hinted at plots so large that two United States Senators could not start an investigation.

Will Not Explain

He refused to mention any names or explain records which police say indicate that the battery used in the bomb belongs to him.

"I've been all through this before," he said. "I'll say nothing."

His arrest came less than 36 hours after the huge bomb, which experts said was capable of wrecking both the Chronicle and the Spokesman-Review buildings, had been discovered by Cleveland Williams, Spokane correspondent of the Associated Press.

Timed To Explode

Williams became suspicious when he was unable to place the sender and the trunk began to leak. A locksmith opened the trunk revealing the infernal machine, which Williams immediately disconnected. It was timed to explode at 4 p. m.

PATRIOTS WARNED AGAINST SOVIETS

Russian Competition Is Seri- ous Menace To Our Wage Earners, Rep. Fish Says.

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP.)—American patriotic societies were warned today by Chairman Fish, of the House communist committee, and Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, that this country must be on guard against activities of Soviet Russia in the economic field.

The advisory board of the American Condition of Patriotic Societies, representing fifty-seven organizations, heard from Fish that the economic competition of Russia is "a more immediate menace to the well being and prosperity of American wage earners than all the Communist propaganda that comes out of Russia."

In his address, Woll said forced labor was producing practically all Russian export goods. He predicted Congress soon would bar such imports.

Saying there was no danger that Russia will capture this country's world markets, the labor leader added the Soviet is not so much a world menace as it is a world nuisance, "a disease that calls for quarantine."

Professor Thomas S. McWilliams, of Cleveland, testified the Greek Orthodox church, once powerful in Russia, "is now a pale ghost of its true self."

"It is ridiculous," he said, "hundreds of churches have been converted by the Communists into men's clubs, and granaries, and are used for other purposes."

He said the "Red Army" numbered 735,000, and "is the finest trained army in Europe and is being increased so rapidly as revenue permits. The soldiers are the best fed, clothed and treated of all Communists."

The committee then adjourned until Tuesday.

Cummings, former Democratic National committee member and James T. Moran, chairman of the directors of the Southern New England Telephone Company and Judge Walter H. Clark, of the Hartford probate court as the committee.

Approved Prison Meanwhile, welfare organizations had become interested in the State Department. Public Welfare had reported approving of the prison administration.

Then Miss Genevieve Cowles, an artist who painted a scriptural scene on one of the walls of the prison chapel, offered herself as witness as to various aspects of prison life particularly as to treatment of certain prisoners. Her information, she stated, was obtained while painting in the prison.

The prison troubles have been many since Charles S. ... Washington, D. C., ... although their inception was before his coming and came to a head when Lalone, Moulthrop and Leo Landry escaped last February. All three were caught in Jacksonville.

A deputy warden, G. M. Patterson, and several guards were later discharged because of the escapes and other incidents in the prison which indicated breach of discipline and within the past two weeks other guards have been discharged. The means through which the prisoners escaped have not been definitely determined and the discharge of guards was a prerogative of the warden, some details of the troubles which brought them about have not been made public.

The initial sitting of the committee began at noon and Chairman Cummings outlined the purpose of the inquiry. He said that in a few days the committee expected to announce appointment of an expert to aid the committee. He said the common interest of all required that the truth be known.

Mr. Cummings said the inquiry was undertaken with an open mind without prejudice. The first witness was Rev. Dr. Edwin Knox Mitchell, president of the Hartford Federation of Churches who said he was gratified to learn that an expert is to be employed. He presented Rev. Everett Fletcher Parker, as his co-representative of the Hartford churches and said both were present at invitation of Mr. Cummings.

A statement was offered explanatory to the attitude of the Federation. "We have no accusations against the prison management or against the statement many pages in length which after she had begun to read it, was seen to be a general discussion of the penal system at large and her views on it. She read at some length and had pointed out what she regarded as the "horror" with which persons regard state prison sentences and how factory labor in prison causes a man to lose his self respect.

Colonel Osborn inquired if Miss Cowles had any specific charges against the prison management. She said she was opposed to the punishment known as "silence" against the solitary cell, and believed that more attention should be given to rebuilding a man mentally and physically.

Mr. Cummings said Mrs. Cowles would be given ample time to talk all she desires to and if she preferred she could discuss the penal system as given in her paper.

Miss Cowles turned the document over to Raymond W. Smith, the stenographer and the committee recessed until afternoon.

PILSUDSKI VICTORIOUS

Warsaw, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Marshal Pilsudski, whose party won a majority in the Lower House of the Polish Diet last week, today emerged from the Senat elections with a safe two-thirds majority of 76 seats. All the opposition parties, except the National Democrats who gained three seats, lost heavily. Pilsudski's supporters, who held only 46 seats before the election, took seventeen from the Centro-Radicals, six from the Ukrainians, two from the German Minority and four from the Christian Democrats.

The Senat line-up now gives the government 76 seats, Centro-Radicals, 14; National Democrats, 12; Ukrainians, 4; Germans, 3; and Christian Democrats, 2.

DIAMOND SALESMAN KILLED IN HOTEL

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 24.—(AP)—A reward of $2,500 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who murdered and robbed Nathan A. Sachs, New York diamond merchant, in his room in Hotel Charles here late Saturday, was offered today by the Jewelers Security Alliance of the United States.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Nathan A. Sachs, Brooklyn diamond salesman shot to death in a Springfield hotel Saturday, carried diamonds worth him valued in the neighborhood of $75,000, according to O. J. Bousquet, Worcester jeweler, on whom the salesman called Thursday. Mr. Bousquet told police that during Sachs' visit he noticed the man appeared extremely nervous and that two suspicious characters were in the store while Sachs made his call.

Supreme Court Declines to Review Negro Case

Supreme Court Declines to Review Negro Case

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The Supreme Court today declined to review the protest of Arkansas negroes against exclusion from the Democratic primaries of that state. It dismissed for want of jurisdiction the appeal of J. M. Robinson and others, challenging the validity of a rule of the Arkansas state Democratic state committee barring the negroes from the primary.

The action of the committee previously had been upheld by the Supreme Court of the state, which found it was not in violation of the 14th and 15th Amendments to the Federal Constitution.

Those attacking the committee's ruling contended party primary is a public election, subject to regulation by state laws and insisted that Arkansas by failing to enact laws preventing the exclusion of negroes from the primaries was abridging the privileges and immunities of its citizens.

A Texas statute barring negroes from the Democratic primaries recently was declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court.

Robbers Escape While the panic rent its height, Lieut. Micus added to the distraction by firing at the invaders. They used two motor cars to escape, when the lieutenant, nearly overcome by his wounds, lost their trail.

The holdup which occurred early today just as Miss Ward prepared to sing a request number for the guests was the major crime of a series that Chicago and vicinity suffered over the week-end. Guyon's Paradise, a dance hall on the west side, was bombed, but the damage was slight. Police blamed local trouble for this.

Among the other crimes was the holdup of an oil filling station in which police shot and killed one of the robbers.

Policeman H. J. Dillon was shot and killed by a negro who in turn was killed by Dillon's fellow officers.

Rep. Snell Advocates Government Ownership

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Charles Snell of the House rules committee said today that his country is going to experiment with government operation of power projects, I know no better place at which to try it than Muscle Shoals.

The New Yorker, a power in House ranks because of his rules chairmanship, has opposed government operation. He explained this morning, however, that he felt a majority of the country favored Federal operation of the giant Alabama project and said if this were true, Congress should act accordingly.

Pastor Threatened

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 24.—(AP)—One man was under arrest and others were sought by police today after Dr. Wallace Bassett, pastor of Cliff Baptist Temple, received a threatening letter signed "Hungry Men."

The letter warned that unless deacons of the church raised $2,500 at last night's services and turned it over to the senders of the letter, the church and Dr. Bassett's home would be bombed.

Poses as Rich Man

New Haven, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Ernest Nelson, 45, who posed here as Harry Payne Whitney in 1925, cashing worthless checks, was sent to jail for two months today for giving bad checks. He had just ended two years in West Chester county jail. His 1925 exploit netted him good clothes and haberdashery.

that civil craft might be transformed into fighting ships for military purposes. Germany, he said, strongly favors the fullest publicity on commercial airships, but he quoted a French air service official as asserting that converted civil craft stand a feeble chance in combat with planes built for military service.

Viscount Cecil of Chelwood also emphasized what he regarded as the great war potentialities of civil airships, and he offered an amendment to the draft treaty which would require additionally an annual statement of expenditures by governments and local authorities of commercial flying machines. N. Sato, speaking for Japan, said that his government favored publicity on civil craft.

career to banking. A native of Elizabeth, New Jersey, he obtained his first banking job at 16 as clerk in the City National Bank of Plainfield, N. J., which he organized and was at various times connected with the Plainfield Trust Company, as vice-president, with Peoples Bank and Trust Company of New York which he joined in 1910. Two years later he became vice-president of the parent institution, the Farmers Loan and Trust Company.

Upon the entrance of the United States into the World War in 1917, Mr. Case was made deputy governor of the New York Federal Reserve Bank. In that capacity he had a large part in the administration of the enormous war financing operations of the government. He was promoted from deputy governor to chairman when Mr. McGarrath resigned last May to head the World Bank at Basle, Switzerland.

Lake Constance region, hurricanes worked tremendous damage. The storm extended even to Spain, and at Coruna the German steamer plane DO-X was unable to continue a flight to Lisbon.

The English channel and waters along the coast of Europe were a constant menace to shipping. The Greek steamer, Triton, out of Rotterdam for Cardiff, was believed to have run aground near Portland, England.

The Louise Leonhardt, from Hamburg for the United States, was feared lost with all hands in the Elbe estuary off Cuxhaven. There were thirty in the crew.

Thousands were made homeless in France, Belgium, and Germany. Property damage was enormous. Emergency flood measures appeared to be useless, and the rains continued pouring down today.

Paris was worried. High walls run the length of the city as a protection against floods, but the water was rising steadily toward the top of these embankments. The Marne canal was a tangled mass of barges from which produce could not be unloaded.

In the Seine dozens of tug boats were caught between bridges because they could not pass under with the water at its present levels.

located station on each carrier serving Philadelphia, the actual mileage to this station being taken as reflecting the haul with a group. The commission is thoroughly entitled to hold that full and adequate consideration has been given the matter quite aside from the obvious propriety of the finding itself.

The carriers agreed with the Philadelphia petitioners that the scales prescribed by the commission should be extended in order that shippers may be able to determine the formula prescribed by the commission in the construction of rates to and from New England and trunk line territory.

The petition of the Philadelphia interests, the carriers' brief asserted, supported the latter's position that neither the tentative report of the examiner nor the opinion of the commission included any recommendation on rail-water rates, especially as they affect rail-ocean rates.

The entire question, the carriers argued, should be left for subsequent action.

Kill Burglar at Work

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Brooklyn police were told this morning that a burglar was at work in a Franklin avenue grocery store. Three patrolmen went to the place, and saw through the window a negro tinkering with a safe behind the counter. They shouted at him. He threw something through the glass. All three policemen fired, killing the burglar.

Thousand a Game IS Series Average

Most of It Goes To Imported Players, However — Yesterday's Crowd 3,500.

The town football championship series between the Cubs and the Majors is netting the two clubs an average of more than a thousand dollars a game, it was learned today from Postmaster Ernest F. Brown, who has charge of the financial affairs. Unfortunately, however, the biggest slice of the receipts in years is going out of town to pay the expenses of imported players.

Both the Cubs and the Majors were "in the red" it is understood when the titular series began a week ago Sunday and after all of the expenses are paid, the profit for the Manchester individuals who are battling their hearts out for victory, will not be as large as the $1,000 per game would seem to indicate.

The figures for the two games played reveal that 1,982 persons paid $92 to see the Majors win the first encounter 7 to 0 in the final minute of play and that 2,278 contributed $1,139 to see the contestants go scoreless yesterday in one of the most stubbornly contested grid games Manchester has seen in many years. This is a total of 4,260 persons paying $2,131 or an average of 2,130 paying $1,065.50 per game.

Just how many more games will be necessary to decide the championship is problematical. One club must win two games to capture the title and judging from the first two games, this may not be accomplished before winter sets in.

Hickey's Grove was the Mecca for an estimated crowd of 3,500 yesterday. The day was ideal for football and the crowd poured into the natural amphitheater as early as noon. Every inch of available parking space was occupied and automobiles dotted Oakland street as far as one could see from the entrance to the field. Others were parked in private property and on side streets.

It required a little over a half an hour to completely empty the field after the game so dense was the traffic.

The traffic situation was very well handled by several policemen under the personal supervision of Chief of Police Samuel G. Gordon. His staff of assistants kept the field well cleared at all times, experiencing no difficulty except for occasional moving of spectators into the end zones. The sloping east side of the field was one mass of people because of its excellent point of vantage.

Prior to the game, north end supporters marched to the game behind the Rockville Boys' Band. The procession formed at Ape's crossing and terminated at the Majors' bench after going around the field once. The parade was repeated during the halftime intermission. The crowd was very orderly both during and after the game, even though unusually enthusiastic at times. A terrific din went up from the grove when the Cubs made their great bid for a touchdown from the two yard line and failed through superb defensive work by the Majors. It was the high spot of a bitter and evenly played battle.

Measles Epidemic

Hartford, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Measles in Connecticut have reached what might be considered an epidemic today, a total of 91 cases having been reported to the State Department of Health for the week ending today. This was 24 more new cases than were reported last week. Of the total all but two cases were in Hartford and New Haven counties.

Latest Stocks

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—After having been difficult in maintaining its foothold during the early hours of trading, the Stock Market managed rather feebly to resume its climb today.

Losses of 1 to 5 points recorded during the morning were partially regained by early afternoon. Traders showed little interest in either side of the market, however, and prices moved rather uncertainly. Trading was again sluggish.

Allied Chemical lost 5 points, then regained about half its loss. Such shares as S. Steel, Westinghouse Electric, Air Reduction, and American Can, recovered most of early losses running from 1 to nearly 2 points. The rails were distinctly heavy during the morning, and showed little recuperative power.

New York Central, Missouri Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio, and Lackawanna declined 2 to 3 points. The morning decline included practically all groups save the coppers, which were virtually neglected.

The market appeared to be awaiting some impelling development. Bulls were somewhat disappointed in the fresh selling pressure encountered at the high levels of the recovery last week, but the belief that there were substantial investment buying orders under the market, and that efforts on the downside would be met with strong opposition, restrained the bears.

The most conspicuous development in the day's corporate news, the reduction of the Sinclair quarterly dividend from 50 to 25 cents, had been expected and had practically no effect on the market. It merely accentuated the unsettled conditions in the oil industry, already well understood. A report that maximum production allowable under the pro-ration plan in Texas would be cut from 750,000 barrels daily to 500,200 barrels this week provided the encouragement.

Wall street is now awaiting with keen interest the developments in retail trade after the Thanksgiving Day holiday, when the first signs of the holiday trade usually appear. The statement made late last week by Silas Strawn, chairman of Montgomery Ward, that a change in the trend of buying had already been noted provided the hope that sufficient purchasing might develop to much further.

Most of the weekly analyses of the financial advisory services expressed restrained optimism. The Harvard Economic Society stated that the present low level of certain basic industries—such as foods—indicates that curtailment cannot go much further. There was a tendency in the advices, however, to urge caution.

The news that the plan of forming another $1,000,000 bank in Wall street through combination of four of the smaller institutions, had been completed, and that Chairman Case of the Federal Reserve bank was slated to head the new institution, was regarded as a favorable development. Credit conditions showed little change, with call money beginning in the outside market at 1 per cent.

Shares with Employers

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Charles E. Miller, automobile tire manufacturer, has announced he will share his business enterprises with his faithful employees. The Charles Miller Corporation has been organized and deeds to the corporation have been executed by Miller conveying the various properties to the employees.

Miller rode from Marion to Anderson thirty-five years ago on a bicycle and opened a small repair shop here. He invented a tire vulcanizer that was patented and later became the manufacture of automobile tires. He amassed a fortune.

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—As preliminary computed, the Standard Statistics index of industrial production for October stands at 92.7, a decline of 4.5 per cent from September, 28 per cent from October, 1929, and is the lowest level established since June, 1924. With the exception of coal and cotton goods which after correction for seasonal variation showed slight gains last month, indexes of all other lines included in the composite moved sharply lower.

The average price of crude petroleum at ten producing fields was unchanged last week from the previous week at $1.245 a barrel, according to Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter. The average for the corresponding period last year was $1.652 a barrel. Gasoline at the refineries also was unchanged last week from the previous week at 5.62 cents a gallon at four principal refining centers.

STEAMER FLOATED

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The coal-laden steamer Harry Bower, grounded off Montauk Point, Long Island on November 17, on Bar way from Norfolk, Va., to New Bedford, Mass., was floated late last night with the assistance of a salvage steamer and was taken in tow for New York harbor.

The Bower, whose crew of 33 was taken off by Coast Guardsmen but returned to the craft near, was discharged her cargo here and got into drydock. Outer plates on the bow of the Bower's 500 tons of coal was taken off by tenders before the ship's vessel's bottom were stove in by the rock on which she grounded. Some could be floated.

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS TO BE PROTECTED

White House Conference Makes Public Its Findings On Needs of the Kiddies.

Washington, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The rights of American childhood have been expressed in the report of the White House conference, to all the young as follows:

- 1—Every prospective mother should have suitable information, medical supervision during the prenatal period, competent care at delivery, and the child should have post-natal medical supervision for herself and child.
- 2—Every child should receive periodical health examinations before and during the school period, including adolescence, by the family physician, or the school or other public physician, and such examination by specialists and such hospital care as its special needs may require.
- 3—Every child should have regular dental examination and care.
- 4—Every child should have instruction in the schools in health and in safety from accidents, and every teacher should be trained in health programs.
- 5—Every child should be protected from communicable diseases to which he might be exposed at home, in school or at play, and protected from impure milk and food.
- 6—Every child should have proper sleeping rooms, diet, hours of sleep and play, and parents should receive expert information as to the needs of children of various ages as to these questions.
- 7—Every child should attend a school which has proper seating, lighting, ventilation and sanitation. For younger children, kindergartens and nursery schools should be provided to supplement home care.
- 8—The school should be so organized as to develop and develop the special abilities of each child, and should assist in vocational guidance, for children, like men, succeeded by the use of their strongest qualities and special interests.
- 9—Every child should have some form of religious, moral and character training.
- 10—Every child has a right to a place to play with adequate facilities therefore.
- 11—With the expanding domain of the community's responsibilities for children, there should be proper provision for and supervision of recreation and entertainment.
- 12—Every child should be protected against labor that stunts growth, either physical or mental, that limits education, that deprives children of the right of comradeship, of joy and play.
- 13—Every child who is blind, deaf, crippled or otherwise physically handicapped should be given expert study and corrective treatment where there is the possibility of relief, and appropriate development or training. Children with subnormal or abnormal mental conditions should receive adequate study, protection, training and care.
- 14—Every waif and orphan in need must be supported.
- 15—Every child is entitled to the feeling that he has a home. The extension of the services in the community should be supplemented and not supplant parents.

Special Care
 16—Children who habitually fail to meet normal standards of human behavior should be provided special care under the guidance of the school, the community health or welfare center or other agency for continued supervision or, if necessary, control.

17—Where the child does not have these services, due to inadequate income of the family, then such services must be provided to him by the community.

18—The rural child should have as satisfactory schooling, health protection and welfare facilities as the city child.

19—In order that these minimum protections of the health and welfare of children may be everywhere available, there should be a district, county or community organization for health education and welfare, with full time officials, coordinating with a statewide program which will be responsible to a nation-wide service of general information, statistics and scientific research. This should include:

- (A)—Trained full time public health officials with public health nurses, sanitary inspection and laboratory workers.
- (B)—Available hospital beds.
- (C)—Full time public welfare services for the relief and aid of children in special need from poverty or misfortune, for the protection of children from abuse, neglect, exploitation or moral hazard.
- (D)—The development of voluntary organization of children for purposes of instruction. When possible, existing agencies should be coordinated.

U. S. BROADCASTS LEAD IN AMOUNT OF JAZZ

Washington.—(AP)—Jazz music is more prominent on the radio programs of this country than in Europe.

Research by government experts disclosed that European radio programs carry only 7 per cent dance and jazz music as compared with 33.9 per cent for the United States. Music was found to occupy 58.51 per cent of European programs and 52.96 per cent of United States programs.

Europe devoted 18.99 per cent of its radio time to formal education, including 4 per cent to lectures. While the United States gave only 1.08 per cent of its time to formal education, this country used 19.12 per cent to informal education which had no counterpart in Europe.

ROCKVILLE

Annual City Meeting Tuesday

The annual city meeting will be held in Town Hall, Memorial building, on Tuesday evening of this week at 8 o'clock. The citizens will be called upon to act on several matters of public interest. Appropriations will be made and are practically the same as last year. The Public Works committee plan to make two improvements and the sum of $7,000 is asked for new work on Brooklyn and West streets.

The Lighting Committee asks for an appropriation of $12,338, somewhat larger than the amount last year, due to the improved lighting on Union street. It is expected small lights will also be placed on other streets.

Under a new state code each city must provide an inspector of restaurants and soda fountains. The appropriation asked for this work is $200. Several inspections were made by Dr. J. R. Morin the past year.

The matter of taking out compensation insurance for the city employees, which would include members of the police and fire departments and those employed by the Public Works department, will be an interesting matter to be brought before the meeting. A claim of $750 for compensation to K. Knebel of Brooklyn street will be brought up at this time.

Amounts asked by the city departments are as follows:

- Sidewalks, curbs and gutters, $5,000.
- Public Works department, $43,700.
- Police department, $11,082.50.
- Lights, $12,338.
- Fire department, $9,350.
- Health and Sewer, $12,200.
- Salaries, $4,800.
- Miscellaneous, $19,915.
- Grand total, $117,885.50.

At School

Every child should attend a school which has proper seating, lighting, ventilation and sanitation. For younger children, kindergartens and nursery schools should be provided to supplement home care.

The school should be so organized as to develop and develop the special abilities of each child, and should assist in vocational guidance, for children, like men, succeeded by the use of their strongest qualities and special interests.

Every child should have some form of religious, moral and character training.

Every child has a right to a place to play with adequate facilities therefore.

With the expanding domain of the community's responsibilities for children, there should be proper provision for and supervision of recreation and entertainment.

Every child should be protected against labor that stunts growth, either physical or mental, that limits education, that deprives children of the right of comradeship, of joy and play.

Every child who is blind, deaf, crippled or otherwise physically handicapped should be given expert study and corrective treatment where there is the possibility of relief, and appropriate development or training. Children with subnormal or abnormal mental conditions should receive adequate study, protection, training and care.

Every waif and orphan in need must be supported.

Every child is entitled to the feeling that he has a home. The extension of the services in the community should be supplemented and not supplant parents.

Speak to Men's Corner

Herbert O. Clough, superintendent of the public schools in this city, was the speaker at the meeting of the Men's Corner of the Methodist church on Sunday morning at 9:30. He had as his subject "The Meaning of Thanksgiving." The message was very inspiring and interesting. There were many members and friends at the meeting.

Others Saw Meteor
 It was reported last week that on Wednesday about dusk two children from Dobsonville had seen a large ball of fire descend from the sky to the woods near Talcottville. It has been learned since that time that people in the vicinity of Broad Brook, Ellington and this city saw this strange sight at the same time.

Damon Temple Meeting
 Damon Temple, Pythian Sisters, will meet in Foresters Hall tonight at 8 o'clock. After the meeting there will be a members' whist and social hour. All members should make a special effort to be present.

Tambo and Tambo

HEBRON

The sixth anniversary of the Young Women's Club was celebrated Thursday evening with a banquet given at the supper room of the Congregational church, Hebron Center. Twenty-eight members were present, including the president, Mrs. Robert E. Foote, and five former presidents, Mrs. Edmund Horton, Mrs. Clifford Perry, Mrs. Edward A. Smith, Mrs. John W. Deeter, and Mrs. Claude W. Jones.

Mrs. Kneeland Jones of Bolton, a former Hebron resident, was toastmistress, and the president and former presidents and others responded to the toasts. The table was decorated with blue and gold and was lighted with candles. Flowers were presented to Mrs. Foote, the president, and cakes with lighted candles were cut by the five former presidents. The menu consisted of cold meats, salads, cake, coffee, jellies, etc. The committee on arrangements for the banquet were Mrs. Irene Wright, Mrs. Karl Linker, and Mrs. F. Elliot. Plans for the coming year were discussed.

Tax Collector Edward A. Smith has completed the school enumeration which takes in those children between the ages of 4 and 16. The results are encouraging, showing that there were 253 children of above ages at the present time enumerated, as compared with 240 in 1929, and 234 in 1928. Thus in spite of the fact that the last census showed a drop of forty in the population of the town, there is an increase of 19 children of school age within the last two years. The school enumeration of 1922 gives only 208 children of school age. This makes within the past eight years an increase of 45 children, according to enumeration reports.

The Rev. John W. Deeter with his Bible class at the home of one of the members on the green Thursday evening.

Hundreds of Republicans and Democrats together celebrated the result at the polls when Leon G. Rathbone, Republican, and Claude W. Jones, Democrat, were elected as representatives from Hebron to the general assembly. The celebration took the form of a popular dance, at which an orchestra from Wallumantic with prompter, played for round and square dancing. It was held at the Hebron Center Town Hall, Friday evening. At about 11:30 all joined in a grand march, after which several speakers were heard. There included former Representative Ames L. Sisson of Hopeville, who can always be depended upon to put the audience in roars of laughter. Representative elect William C. Jones of Middletown was present and spoke humorously and to the point. Representative elect Walter N. Jewett of Hampton had motored over for the occasion and spoke briefly giving some good pointers on the good roads situation as it applied to our communities. All were roundly applauded. Ice cream and several kinds of cake were then served to all free, and the dance went on. Suddenly the electric lights went out and left the merry makers reminded of the "dark night of the soul." The music was stopped and performance had to end. As this was about midnight all were satisfied and went home contentedly. The Representatives elect, Claude W. Jones, Democrat, and Leon G. Rathbone, Republican, were heartily congratulated on the success of their election.

A heavy string of traffic came through Hebron Center on Saturday going to and from the Yale Bowl for the Yale-Harvard football game. The state police route was so planned as to pass through the open country, avoiding cities as far as possible.

A meeting of St. Peter's Parish Aid society was held at the rectory Thursday afternoon. Work was continued on the vestments for the choir, and plans were made for work on altar hangings. Mr. Allen L. Carr was present and talked over some of the parish needs with those present.

John Binnington, son of the Rev. Percy Binnington, rector of Christ church, South-Farm, Middletown, was the guest of Allen L. Carr at St. Peter's Rectory for several days, returning home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Everett G. Lord and her sister, Mrs. Anne C. Gilbert, attended an exhibit of antiques at the Bond Hotel, Hartford, on Friday.

The Rev. and Mrs. Howard C. Champe have returned from their trip to Mt. Vernon where Mr. Champe gave his moving picture

Funeral of Mrs. Saunders

The funeral of Mrs. John Saunders of Oak street was held from her late home on Saturday afternoon at 2:30, with Rev. George S. Brooks, pastor of Union church, officiating. A delegation from Rosalie Lodge, of which the deceased was a member, attended. Burial was in Grove Hill cemetery. The bearers were Mark Hanna, Daniel Minor, Martin Clifford and Charles Francis. There were many beautiful floral tributes.

Passion Play Talk
 Miss Tamona Suesman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Suesman of Ann street, addressed the C. E. Society of the Union Congregational church at its regular meeting held at the church at 8 o'clock on Sunday evening. Miss Suesman who returned from a trip abroad this summer spoke on the Passion Play. The meeting was open to the public and there were many people in attendance.

Took Advantage of Sale
 Many people from Rockville took advantage of the two-day sale held at the Dunhill clothing store at South Manchester on Friday and Saturday, receiving a breakfast set with a purchase of $25 or over.

Thank Offering Service
 A special thank offering service was held at the Methodist church on Sunday morning at 10:30, when gifts were brought by the members of the church for the needy of the community. The gifts were mainly fruit and vegetables. The pastor, Rev. M. E. Osborne, preached on "Sacrifice of Thanksgiving."

Notes
 A sale of articles made by the blind will be held at the Ellington Library Tuesday from 2 to 5 p. m.

A meeting of all interested in joining the All-Rockville basketball team has been called for this evening at the home of Edward Hemmann of 59 Ward street.

Harold Schiebe of Orchard street is taking the place of Bartholemew Mullins, substitute carrier at the local post office, and is taking the place of Mullins. The regular carrier, William C. Pfunder, is laid up with a fractured leg and Mr. Mullins, the substitute, is very ill at his home in Stafford.

Kiowa Council, Degree of Pochontas, will meet in Red Men's hall on Friday night. Plans for this evening are to have a regular meeting and to hold the first meeting night in December.

Poincare's Plan Is Cutting French Debt

Paris.—(AP)—France is reducing her national debt about one-third of a billion dollars yearly under the plan laid down by Raymond Poincare, "savior of the franc," who, when premier in 1926, insisted that certain taxes and the profits on matches and tobacco be devoted to debt reduction.

The 1930 report of the "Autonomous Fund of Amortization" shows that it has accomplished even more than Poincare predicted. It has removed the menace of the National Defense bonds of which often eight billion francs' worth matured in a single month, emptying the public treasury. Now those bonds run for two years and not more than a billion francs mature in any one month.

Besides reducing the principal, the "fund" has lowered interest about 2 per cent. Yet France still pays in interest not quite half of her $2,000,000,000 budget.

FAHEY AS SPEAKER
 Boston, Nov. 24.—(AP)—John H. Fahey, publisher of the Worcester Post and former president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will address the Jefferson society tonight at a dinner in honor of Governor-elect Joseph B. Ely and Senator-elect Marcus A. Coolidge. His subject will be "The Duty of the Democratic Party in the Economic Situation Confronting the Country Today."

WAPPING

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Sharp have sold their house to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frink of Wapping. They will make some repairs before moving into it.

Mrs. Alice Grant Smith has closed her house and has gone to Hartford for the winter.

Everett Cowles, age 62, of East Hartford, was instantly killed Saturday evening, when he was struck by an automobile while walking along Ellington Road. The auto was driven by Horace B. La Berte of Worcester, Mass. Mr. La Berte is being held to appear in town court on a charge of criminal negligence. Sergeant William Cooney and Patrolman John Clancy investigated the accident. Mr. Cowles was widely known in East Hartford, where he was born and lived most of his life. For the past few years he had been engaged in a farm hand on various tobacco plantations. He leaves three brothers, William Cowles of Suffield, Charles and Louis Cowles of East Hartford and a sister Mrs. F. E. Fuller of East Hartford. He was a son of the late Henry L. and Margaret Cowles. The funeral was held Tuesday at the Whitney Funeral Home, and the burial was in Center cemetery.

Mrs. Robert A. Boardman of East Windsor Hill is at the Charter Oak hospital of Hartford, suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Main of South Windsor left last Wednesday for Washington, D. C., where they will visit their daughter.

The Wednesday afternoon Club met at the home of Mrs. Erastus D. Burnham of Pleasant Valley road this week.

Mrs. Olive A. Jones of South Windsor, left Monday for Daytona, Florida, where she expects to spend the winter. Mrs. Walter G. Newberry, formerly of this town, but now living with her daughter, Mrs. James G. Harvey in East Hartford accompanied her.

PARIS PUTS QUIETUS ON JAZZ BANDS FROM AMERICAN CAMPUSES

Paris (AP)—The French capital will not open its arms to American college jazz bands next summer as it has been doing.

The talkies are forcing the Musicians' Union to tighten up on restrictions applying to foreigners. Three hundred native players were put out of jobs recently in one day. Simultaneously, police began to demand working permits from foreign orchestras in night clubs and other restaurants, and several were forced to leave the country.

French musicians say that the college jazz bands that arrive in the summer, having "played" their way across on cheap liners. They are assured return passage by the steamship companies for the entertainment they give paying passengers. In East between crossings they invade Paris and in order to make expenses, offer their services at low prices.

DEADLOCK OVER MUSCLE SHOALS FACES CONGRESS

Washington. (AP)—That old war horse of legislation, Muscle Shoals, is being groomed to run another heat, perhaps its last, in Congress. Immediate solution of the problem, which has vexed Congress for 12 years and has been of governmental concern since John C. Calhoun urged a survey of the region 106 years ago, will be sought at the opening of this winter's session December 1.

Proponents of government operation, and advocates of the leasing of the $35,000,000 power and generate plant to private interests are at loggerheads over disposition of the project.

If the deadlock is not broken at the short session, attempts may be made to force a special session of the new Congress next spring.

The Senate has supported the Norris resolution for government operation of the plant, while the House has backed the Reece bill providing for private operation.

After years of controversy during which millions of words were spoken and written on the subject, the issue was deadlocked in conference committee last summer.

Senator McNary, assistant Republican leader, says he will call Senate and House conferees together as soon as Congress convenes in an attempt to break the deadlock.

With unemployment legislation and appropriation bills to be disposed of in a short session, fast work will be necessary if the Muscle Shoals dispute is to be settled.

ASSASSINATION ATTEMPT

Dublin, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Deep mystery today surrounded what apparently was an attempt Sunday to assassinate Gen. Richard Mulcahy, minister of local government and public health. General Mulcahy was not injured by shots fired at him as he was entering the home of Prof. Hayes, speaker of the Dail, but one of his guards was wounded. The incident has greatly agitated Dublin. Police refused any information whatsoever regarding the affair.

BURNED TO DEATH

Weymouth, Mass., Nov. 24.—(AP)—William Statalesky, of 286 Lincoln street, North Abington, was burned to death here early today when his automobile got out of control and struck a tree. Flames enveloped the machine and Statalesky was burned before passing motorists could free him from the wreckage.

U. S. BROADCASTS LEAD IN AMOUNT OF JAZZ

Washington.—(AP)—Jazz music is more prominent on the radio programs of this country than in Europe.

Research by government experts disclosed that European radio programs carry only 7 per cent dance and jazz music as compared with 33.9 per cent for the United States. Music was found to occupy 58.51 per cent of European programs and 52.96 per cent of United States programs.

Europe devoted 18.99 per cent of its radio time to formal education, including 4 per cent to lectures. While the United States gave only 1.08 per cent of its time to formal education, this country used 19.12 per cent to informal education which had no counterpart in Europe.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24.

CONSOLIDATION

Whether or not the average citizen, or even the average tax payer, will be able to get clearly through his head the sets of figures that have been employed to elucidate the "equalization" method to be followed in case Manchester's school districts are consolidated, it is difficult to guess. There are many people to whom figures mean nothing but a headache. Only a few are endowed with the "accountant" mind.

But there are qualities as general as the gift of mathematics is rare—common sense and faith in the good intentions of one's fellow man. And it seems to us that both of these qualities must contribute to a wide acceptance of the consolidation project.

Aside from the isolated instance of Hartford there is hardly a city of any importance in the United States which still adheres to the district system of schools. There are very few large towns which still stick to it. Throughout the country as a whole the district school system for major communities is regarded as being as out-dated as the velocipede. For many years cities and towns have been abandoning it and we never heard of one which, having adopted consolidation, returned to the district system. Ordinary common sense would seem to indicate that all these communities can't be wrong and the handful of exceptions, like Hartford and Manchester, right.

Common sense also tells Mr. Average Citizen that the more complicated any governmental system is the more liable it is to waste, error and futility; the greater the division of responsibility the less sure we must be of satisfactory results. Manchester's school system is more complicated than Congress; its functions and processes are more difficult to understand. That seems to be a rather ridiculous situation.

Common sense might very well tell Mr. Average Citizen, too, that if you split up any organization into eight or ten parts the eight or ten units cannot be operated as cheaply as one.

Obviously the weight of argument, as a general proposition, must be in favor of consolidated as against district schools in any large community. Otherwise it would never have been so almost universally adopted and so persistently adhered to.

If common sense lends itself to the project of consolidation, then why is it that Manchester has so long failed to adopt consolidation? Certainly not because the people lack common sense for they have as much of that quality as anybody. We suspect it is because they lack in some small measure that other important quality—faith in the good intentions of the advocates of unified schools.

If there is any ground whatever for such lack of faith we confess to being not intelligent enough to discover it. Perhaps some of the people who set themselves against consolidation, wagging their heads wisely over dark plots that somebody is trying to put over on their districts, are better informed than this newspaper as to the motives and impulses of the consolidation advocates—but we doubt it.

The Herald believes that consolidation of the school districts is not only advisable but imperatively needed; that it will be for the advantage of the community as a whole and of every part of it; that it will operate for better education and better management; that it will be more economical than the present system; that the control of the schools will be more fully in the hands of the people. That, in fact, it is the only right system. And that it is being advocated by sensible, candid, responsible men and women, on its merits.

We don't believe there would be the least difficulty in bringing consolidation to pass if the people of all the districts would rid themselves of prejudices that are based on ancient superstitions as empty as a belief in witches.

The essential thing in discussing this project is to junk the antique suspicions and antipathies inherited from grandfathers and great grandfathers and give one another credit for being on the level. Once the whole town gets into that frame of mind there need be no great difficulty about fixing up the details to everybody's satisfaction.

NEW RELIEF BODY

That there is room in Manchester for just such a relief organization as that now being formed under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce is beyond doubt.

Our understanding is that the precise manner of this group's functioning has not yet been determined, but there will be plenty of work for it to do, unless our guess is all wrong. Perhaps the new body will decide at the outset that it will not act in any circumstance as a fund raising or dispensing mechanism but rather as a clearing house through which already organized groups may co-ordinate their efforts and avoid duplication and lost motion.

It is possible, too, that it may find it expedient and useful to set up new bodies or agencies for the performance of departments of relief work that do not fall within the scope of those already in existence. Manchester has never been called on to erect the machinery for extensive charitable work. Its municipal charities department and the welfare groups associated with its religious bodies have always functioned admirably in the past; their capacity being fully equal to the relatively very small amount of acute poverty that has come within the community's experience.

Profundly it is to be hoped that the town will not have to face much more than a normal amount of destitution during the coming winter. In fact there are signs that justify that hope. But we cannot be exactly sure that unusual effort will not be necessary; and it is well to be properly organized to meet any contingency.

The new body being formed by President Hohenthal of the Chamber should be of the greatest usefulness in the circumstances.

PRISON PROBE

We have never been in sympathy with the investigation into the conduct of the State Prison at Wethersfield which began today. There has never been any adequate reason for it and we cannot see the justification for Governor Trumbull's appointment of a special commission to listen to the opinions of a select group of cranks. It is very much to be doubted that the commission will hear anything but opinion.

One man, a dismissed chaplain at the prison, gave out a newspaper statement charging brutality in the treatment of prisoners. The article in itself showed that he held special views as to what constituted brutality. But the Prison Board rather foolishly demanded an investigation and the governor—it seems to us without due consideration—acquiesced.

As a result of all this we shall have a two weeks' session of a group of citizens, who conceivably might find better use for their time, devoted to listening to the airing of all shades of views on the management of prisons. And there is no subject in the world concerning which more folly can be uttered in a fortnight—or is likely to be.

There are some people who see in the daily growing volume, and daily increasing gravity of crimes of violence an actual threat to the stability of our civilization. Such people are likely to have slight patience with the vagaries of crook coddlers at this particular time; and it is our notion that the present is not an auspicious occasion for giving criminals the impression that any considerable part of the "sucker" population is on their side.

HARTFORD'S CHEST

The full extent of the irony in the Hartford community chest situation did not develop until it was announced that after raising the original sum of $618,000 it would be absolutely necessary to go on with the campaign and gather in $89,000 more in order that the needy might not suffer.

In other words, the chest which was being filled partly by extortion of unwilling contributions from many hundreds of non-resident employees of Hartford corporations and firms was to be devoted so largely to the maintenance of social conveniences, recreational institutions and other establishments of a supplementary nature that it made no real provision for those measures of relief which the whole country now regards as fundamental.

It is explained that the chest quotas were established as long ago as last September, when, apparently, the management of the game of get-and-divide had heard nothing about an impending hard winter or about jobs being hard to get.

Whether the out-of-town people who hold jobs in Hartford will be tapped over again for this new addition to the chest we have no idea. But the circumstance that after six hundred thousand dollars has been sweated out of the people for the community's "welfare work" it is suddenly discovered that some money is really needed for charity is a commentary on the community chest system that is plentifully revealing.

That this town has never fallen for that whitened sepulchre of an institution is something for Manchester people to be devoutly thankful for.

IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 24.—Notes from a convenient cuf:

The warmest bit of chitter-chatter of the moment concerns a certain character in Mary Borden's new novel, "A Woman With Green Eyes." The character is so plainly drawn that there is no mistaking it.

For years she kept "open house" in Paris, dwelling there with another American woman who later married into European royalty. Her hospitality, not so many years back, was almost a legend. She has for years been identified with artistic and literary matters.

And the portrait drawn of her has crept from tea-table conversation into the society columns where one of the frankest refers to it as "vicious libel"—or something of that sort.

The Mary Borden, who thus finds her book creating wide-spread whistling, is a former Chicagoan who became identified with war-time work, married the British General Spears and became a figure in fashionable London and Paris life. Her husband was elected to Parliament as a conservative member from Carlisle, and she was one of its leading campaign figures.

That personal record of General Pershing that has caused no end of bidding is said to have finally brought $250,000, for book rights, serial rights and all the rest—which is something of a record. . . . And Helen Kane, after all that court action, is seen about these nights with her young husband, who seemed to have been left miles behind. . . . Boop-de-o-doop!

DAILY WASHINGTON LETTER

By RODNEY DUTCHES

Washington, Nov. 24.—The not very large town of Washington in Iowa is known in Washington, D. C., as the mother of railroad experts.

There were five "Washington boys" who grew up and became associated with the railroad industry and its problems, recalls Senator Smith Wildman Brookhart of Iowa, and although each one pursued a different task, each became one of the foremost leaders in his own field.

They are all dead or retired now with the exception of Brookhart, who is the Senate's most vigorous advocate of government ownership and operation of the roads.

There was Warren S. Stone, the grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, who originally came from Washington, Iowa.

And William Sproule, who became president of the Southern Pacific. And Clifford Thorne, who became one of the world's greatest experts on railroad economics.

And Glenn Plumb, author of the famous "Plumb plan" for railroad control.

And Brookhart, who was not born in or near Washington, but came from Missouri and made his home there.

Three railroads run through Washington, Iowa, although it is a city of less than 5,000 population. Perhaps that had something to do with the coincidental production of this remarkable quintet.

All Met at Capital

Back in 1917, Brookhart recalls, they all met at a joint congressional hearing here and realized for the first time just what Washington had done for the railroad business.

Brookhart had been fighting the railroads for 15 years and he was on here to make statements for government ownership before the Newlands committee, which was studying railroad reorganization. Sproule, the railroad magnate; Stone, the labor leader; Thorne the economist, and Plumb, the railroad lawyer with the plan backed by the railroad labor unions, were all there representing their various viewpoints. Washington had come to Washington. Sproule, who had retired as presi-

HEALTH DIET ADVICE
By Dr. Frank McCoy
"The Best Way to Health"

QUESTIONS IN REGARD TO HEALTH DIET ADVICE SHOULD BE SENT TO THE AUTHOR, DR. FRANK MCCOY, 100 N. WASHINGTON ST., CHICAGO, ILL. ENCLOSE STAMPED ADDRESS ENVELOPE FOR REPLY

POTATOES—GOOD WINTER FOOD

In making a list of wholesome starchy foods, I always place the potato at the head of the list. Potatoes have the advantage over most other forms of starch in not producing an acid condition in the body.

The potato yields both heat and energy, and is helpful in protecting the body against the winter cold. They contain all of the known vitamins, but potatoes should not be boiled over fifteen minutes or some of the vitamin C is destroyed. Baking does not destroy this vitamin as readily.

For some reason many people believe that the potato is fattening, and almost all stout people avoid potatoes as they would poison, when the truth of the matter is that one slice of bread contains as many calories as two average sized helpings of potatoes. Those who are underweight will find that the potato is much easier to assimilate than many other forms of starch.

If potatoes are used in proper combination with other foods, a larger amount may be eaten without injury than is the case with any other kind of starch.

The modern diet is largely acid forming, resulting in acidosis. The addition of the potato to the bill of fare helps to prevent this trouble. The important alkaline-forming elements of the potato are potassium and magnesium.

Potatoes should always be used with other raw and cooked non-starchy vegetables. The potato belongs to the night-shade family and really has not been used as a food plant for very long, yet, in that time it has become very popular. An average of over three bushels a year are eaten by every man, woman and child in North America.

In spite of its dirty appearance and lack of attractive color, when uncooked, the potato holds the championship of the world among vegetables. It wins on several merits. It is an inexpensive food, keeps well, is easily prepared, easily grown, and has a flavor that blends well with other common foods and when cooked is so digestible and nourishing that it may be used by anyone in good health, including young children.

The best way to prepare potatoes is to wash them well with a vegetable brush and boil in plain water until they become soft. Potatoes cooked with the skins on have a better flavor and retain more of the mineral elements than if cooked in any other way. Baking potatoes is the next best method of preparation, although some of the mineral elements are close to the skin and baked potatoes should therefore be eaten with the skins.

In preparing mashed potatoes it is well to boil the potatoes with their skins on, then peel them and mash with a little cream or milk.

Potatoes may be used for thickening soups made of non-starchy vegetables. Scalloped potatoes make a hearty dish for a wintry day, and are made by paring, slicing and laying potatoes in a deep dish in layers covered with milk and a little butter. The milk and potatoes blend together while cooking.

Avoid potatoes which have turned green, or out of all of the green parts before cooking the rest for the green contains a bitter substance which is slightly poisonous.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
(Weak Stomach)

Question: E. M. asks: "Will you please tell me what to do for a weak stomach? After eating my breakfast I become so very nauseated that many times I lose my food. When washing my teeth the toothpaste makes me sick. I have perfect health, and work in an office."

Answer: Your trouble is more than likely due to some reflux cause, such as a faulty position of the stomach, uterus or kidneys. Undue pressure upon these organs is a frequent cause of nausea. A good diagnosis of your cause by a physician who uses the x-ray would doubtless determine which of these causes is responsible.

(CORN OIL)

Question: W. J. L. asks: "May oil of corn be used as a part of a health menu? Someone told me that it is not very wholesome, but I have been using it for a long time and it seems to agree with me."

Answer: Corn oil is usually pressed from the germs of the grains of corn. It has a pleasing taste and a golden yellow color and does not become rancid readily. It is quite wholesome and may be used in salad dressings, for preparing French fried potatoes, or in other methods of cooking. Experiments have proven that it contains some gamma rays and anti-sterility vitamins.

(Increasing Height)

Question: X. Y. Z. asks: "What is the most helpful exercise for a man who wishes to increase his height two or three inches?"

Answer: Any kind of exercise where the spine is twisted and bent in different directions has a tendency to increase the growth of the muscles, bones and cartilages of the spine. At the same time, osteopathic or chiropractic treatments also help to stimulate and increase the blood supply to these parts.

Count Sala was at one time connected with the French embassy in Washington. Mrs. Beyer is the daughter of the late Julius Keyser, who founded the firm which her husband headed. Both are 58 years old.

PARIS GETS NEW PORT DWARFING BOURGET FIELD

Le Bourget, France. (AP.)—Paris is to have a new super-airport and Le Bourget is said.

This famous landing field, illustrated by the spectacular arrival of Lindbergh in the dead of night after his epochal flight from New York, the taking off of Count de Casta's return compliment, Paris to Chartres field, and countless other flights, has been found inadequate.

Created in 1920, ten years later it proves to be too small. The life of an airfield, a mere ten years, is pointed out by the "triumphs" made by aviation since the war.

The new Paris airfield, estimated to cost $24,000,000, is to be located to the west of Paris, along the banks of the Seine.

Archduke Otto and the Hapsburg Curse

The Strange, Romantic Story Behind The Boy Who May Try To Gain Hungary's Throne

CONCLUDING — "Archduke Otto and the Hapsburg Curse."

DEATH IN EXILE WAS PRICE OTTO'S FATHER PAID FOR DOUBLE GAMBLE TO REGAIN LOST KINGDOM FOR HAPSBURGS.

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the sixth and last in a series of stories on Archduke Otto, who, reaching the age of 18 on Nov. 20, is now eligible under the ancient laws of the Hapsburgs for the throne of Hungary which his father lost in the World War.

BY MILTON BRONNER

London, Nov. 24.—If young Archduke Otto plans to regain Hungary's ancient throne for the Hapsburg line, he must remember that his father staked his all on two such gambles—and lost.

Death in exile was the price that ex-Emperor Karl paid in the game that he played under the evil shadow of the Hapsburg curse. Moreover, he saw the once proud Austro-Hungarian empire cut to pieces as an aftermath of the World War, Austria made a republic and Hungary a kingdom with Admiral Horthy as regent.

Becomes Heir To Throne
Made heir to the crown by the assassination of Archduke Franz Ferdinand, Karl ascended to the throne when the dottering old Emperor Franz Joseph died during the war. The date was November 21, 1916.

Both Karl and his wife, Empress Zita, hated the war. They saw in the conflict not glory, but horror and suffering. That made the German kaiser furious. When revolution broke out as double nearer, Karl and his family fled to Switzerland. There they lived quietly while the peace treaties were formulated and one once great empire cut into tiny pieces by the allies.

In 1912, Karl, at Zita's insistence, made his first attempt to return to Hungary and take his crown. With a Spanish passport, he went secretly to Vienna on Good Friday and spent the night with a friend. The next day he passed into Hungary.

That night they reached the palace of the Bishop of Steinamanger. A message was sent to him that two strangers requested lodgings. Rather annoyed he came down to see them. Then one told him: "This is His Apostolic Majesty, the King of Hungary."

The bishop drew the little man aside. "Are you really the king?" he inquired incredulously. Karl assured him he was and was made welcome for the night. Easter Sunday a conference was held. Count Teleki, who was then Premier of Hungary, tried to persuade the king to go back to Switzerland. When he refused, Teleki then said it was best for him to go on to Budapest, where he could see for himself the external and internal dangers that threatened the land if the king remained.

Karl accordingly drove to the royal palace then inhabited by Regent Horthy.

Karl was received in Horthy's study—which had once been his study. This followed one of the most dramatic scenes in history.

Karl summoned the admiral to obey his oath of allegiance to himself and turn over the power to him. Horthy pointed out the dangers of civil war and the further danger that the Czechs and the Yugoslavs would invade the country to prevent a restoration of the monarchy.

Horthy told Karl his first allegiance was not to his uncrowned king, but to the Hungarian people, who had had so many trials. He would not see the country ravaged by war again.

Horthy Refuses To Yield
Karl returned to Steinamanger, and on Easter Monday he wired Horthy:

"In consideration of changed conditions, I summon you unconditionally to surrender to my orders. I am sure my dear faithful admiral of the decision I can expect from you."

"To which Horthy replied: 'I cannot oppose my king, but pushed into a conflict of conscience I shall be obliged to resign. That is why I ask for withdrawal of the order. The king should leave the country before people and Parliament begin to demonstrate. I am afraid they will demand your arrest, which I will not carry out.'"

In the meantime, Karl learned that the allied powers and the Little Entente were getting busy. The game was up. He returned to Switzerland.

His second attempt was in October, 1921. He received messages from Hungarian army officers favorable to him that if he wanted his throne back he must act between Oct. 16 and 22.

Enters by Airplane
On Oct. 20, accordingly, Karl and Zita left Villa Prangins in an auto ostensibly to go away to celebrate their wedding anniversary. In reality they met an airplane, which flew them into Hungarian territory, landing them at Sopron.

Colonel Lehar, his friend, had cut all telegraph and telephone wires in the district. He had under him Hungarian troops loyal to Karl, but he had not been able to procure the necessary troop trains.

For this reason they did not get under way until Oct. 22. This gave student volunteers was sent out to intercept the train. The train was fired on and halted.

A short skirmish between the rival troops took place. Karl found himself almost surrounded by superior forces.

Captured and Exiled
He fled, but his train was captured. He was made a prisoner and a few days later was transferred aboard a British gunboat on the river Danube. Neither he nor his wife knew where they were being taken.

At Constantinople, they were transferred to a British man-of-war. Then they were taken on a British ship to Funchal in the Isle of Madeira.

He had little money and lived in a miserable house with nothing but absolute necessities. Early in 1922 he fell ill and died, but not before he called his son, the eldest son, Archduke Otto, to his bedside and muttered to him his last dying wishes.

What these were has never been revealed, but this stands out clearly: Unceasingly ever since, day in, day out, the indomitable Zita has trained Otto to be a king, to think of himself as a king, to prepare to make himself a king. Now he has reached the age when he can be king. History will tell the rest.

As Giant Airplane Landed in England

The D-1929, massive German flying boat, here is shown on its first visit to British waters, off Calshot, England, en route on what was planned to be a flight to New York. It was from this harbor, near Southampton, that the Prince of Wales inspected the craft and during a half-hour flight, personally handled the controls. After a four-day visit, the Dornier plane, which has a wing-spread of 157 feet, proceeded to Bordeaux, France, with Spain, Portugal, the Azores, Bermuda and New York still on its itinerary. Before setting out for New York, it was said that eight new motors of 900 horsepower each would be installed in place of the twelve with which it is now equipped.

SEARLES CALLED A REAL BAD MAN

Shoots Two Officers Before He Is Captured—Held For Higher Court.

Greenwich, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Carleton Searles of West Haven who shot and wounded two Greenwich officers on Saturday, was described as a bad man by Prosecutor White in Borough Court today and a bond of $25,000 was set as the accused was held for the Superior Court.

Mr. White said asked for heavy bail because Searles was wanted in so many communities for burglary, holdups, robberies and for shooting an officer at Danbury. The charge here was that of assault with intent to kill officers with a dangerous weapon.

Healey, traffic officer, as a witness, said he was standing post in Greenwich avenue watching for a car reported stolen. He saw the car, and ordered the driver to pull over to the curb. The driver said "all right, all right" and did so. Healey said that as he came to the car he reached for his gun as a precautionary move and one man, whom he said was Searles, drew a gun and fired almost point-blank. "A bullet hit him in the hand. The car was driven off and Searles fired twice at the officer."

Three Shots Fired
Searles asked Healey if he had not made a mistake, that he, Searles had fired only twice and those two shots from the car. Healey said no, three shots were fired in all.

Sergeant James Cullen told of the shooting. John McQuinn, a special officer who was in the Greenwich Trust Company getting a payroll said he heard the shots, and rushed out, took his machine and gave chase to a fleeing car. He was outdistanced. Then he returned to police headquarters, picked up John Teufel and Michael Dally and drove to the East Port Chester district. There they found the car abandoned. After searching they found two men, one of them appeared to be in the act of shooting himself. The officers rushed in and Searles turned and fired at them, a bullet hitting Teufel in the thigh. The other man ran but the officers caught Searles. This concluded the evidence and the prisoner was bound over.

One bullet from Searles' gun fired while the car was in motion went through a window of a trust company.

John Scott Harrison, who was born at Vincennes, Ind., in 1804, was the son of William Henry Harrison, ninth president of the United States, and father of Benjamin Harrison, 23rd president of the country.

TO BROADCAST TRIAL OF ALLEGED PLOTTERS

Moscow, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Eight men accused of plotting with "capitalist" powers to overthrow the Soviet government are to be tried in the House of Columns tomorrow. Hundreds of resolutions demanding the death sentence have been forwarded to the court from various sections of the republic.

The proceedings are to be broadcast, accommodations have been provided in the courtroom for staffs of foreign correspondents and thousands of one-day tickets have been issued to workers.

Peter Ivanov, a factory hand from Leningrad, will sit with three Supreme Court judges at this trial, but he will not vote unless one of the others is absent. The proceeding is regarded in neutral circles as a demonstration by which the Soviet government hopes to solidify the Russian people in the face of impending foreign intervention.

TAKES COLLEGE HEAD'S CAR
New Haven, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Joseph Whitney, a Wesleyan student who borrowed the car of President James L. McConaughy Saturday, with intent, as his story was, of going to New Jersey to see his girl who was ill, paid two fines in court today, one of $25 for reckless driving and $40 for operating without a license. He was involved in a traffic mixup here which led to his jailing.

After arrest which came just after Mr. McConaughy had missed his car, he called President Ely as to a bond. President McConaughy came here Sunday night and talked with student. The headquarters men for a time did not know they were entertaining a college president.

The charge of taking the car was not pressed against Whitney. He is a sophomore and belongs in Montclair, N. J.

FEEL MEAN?

Don't be helpless when you suddenly get a headache. Reach in your pocket for immediate relief. If you haven't any Bayer Aspirin with you, get some at the first drugstore you come to. Take a tablet or two and be rid of the pain. Take promptly. Nothing is gained by waiting to see if the pain will leave of its own accord. It may grow worse! Why postpone relief? There are many times when Bayer Aspirin will "save the day." It will always ease a throbbing head. Quiet a grumbling tooth. Relieve nagging pains of neuralgia or neuritis. Check a sudden cold. Even rheumatism has lost its terrors for those who have learned to depend on these tablets. Gargle with Bayer Aspirin at the first suspicion of sore throat, and reduce the infection. Look for Bayer on the box—and the word Genuine in red. Genuine Bayer Aspirin does not depress the heart.

Army's Huge Bombing Planes Show Their Stuff

These photographs, taken by the photographic section of the 8th observation squadron, army air corps, during maneuvers at Fort Sill, Okla., give a striking illustration of the power of Uncle Sam's mighty bombers. At the top is a giant army plane, 15,000 feet up, getting ready to drop a 2,000-pound bomb, indicated by the arrow. At the left, is a closeup of one of the enormous bombs, with Major Willis Hale (left) of the staff of the chief of the air corps, and Lieutenant Charles H. Howard, commanding the bombing unit, standing beside it. At the right the soldiers are shown preparing to load a bomb on a plane. These bombs blasted holes in the ground 30 feet wide and 12 feet deep.

TUTTLE GAVE $5,000 TO NEW YORK'S G. O. P.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 24.—(AP)—A statement filed with the secretary of state today by William Ziegler, Jr., treasurer, showed that the New York Republican state committee received $343,320 and spent $275,923 in connection with the recent gubernatorial campaign. The statement said that bills amounting to $66,897 were in process of adjustment and that there was an outstanding obligation of $170,000, in the form of a loan from the Harriman National bank.

Charles H. Tuttle, defeated Republican candidate for governor, was listed for a contribution of $5,000. Mr. Ziegler, the largest single contributor, gave $15,000. John D. Rockefeller and John D. Rockefeller, Jr., gave $7,500 each.

Mrs. Ruth Pratt, the only woman in the New York Congressional delegation, gave $7,000; Charles D. Hillis, National committeeman, $2,500; and Ogden L. Mills, $2,500.

Other contributors included: Herbert N. Sitau, $2,500; Nicholas Fitzsimy Butler, $300; S. R. Guggenheim, $2,000; Simon Guggenheim, $2,000; Ernest L. Woodward, $5,000; George F. Baker, Jr., $1,500; Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, $2,500; J. M. Morehead, $2,500; Myron C. Taylor, $2,500; William Nelson Cromwell, $5,000; Mrs. Henry P. Davison, $5,000; F. Trubee Davison, assistant secretary of war, $8,500; Cornelius Vanderbilt, $750; George D. Widener, $2,000 and Alanson E. Houghton, $1,000.

MORE ROBBERIES

New Haven, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The police are doing arithmetic—adding up the number of petty breaks and robberies—over the week-end. They added one more to the column today when a millinery store—the Outlet—in Chapel street reported robbery had got in during the night, drilled a safe and taken $150 in cash leaving checks and pennies.

OLD COUPLE KILLED

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—An elderly tailor and his wife, Benjamin and Rachel Beliner, were crossing a Brooklyn street last night when an automobile struck them, killing them instantly. The car stopped and Max Bernhard, a passenger got out. Then the driver sped away. Police were looking for him today, and said Bernhard had told them: the motorist's name.

TURKEYS CHEAPER FOR THANKSGIVING

Quality Best In Years—Busy Sport Program Here For the Holiday.

Manchester is making ready for its annual meal of turkey as Thanksgiving approaches and today comes the optimistic report that the cost of holiday dinners will be the cheapest in years.

Walter Gorman of the Pinehurst grocery is the authority for the statement that the price of turkey will be the lowest in years.

"Prices to the consumer will be five to ten cents a pound cheaper than in 1929 and the retail range will likely be from 39 to 48 cents a pound," Mr. Gorman told the Herald.

"The drought and hot weather of this summer and fall have produced one of the finest turkey crops from a quality standpoint in years.

Manchester sport lovers will have ample opportunity to work up an appetite for their turkey.

All of the churches will make proper observance of the holiday either with services on Thanksgiving Day or the following Sunday.

DEDICATE RARE ART IN VESPERS

Reredos Screen, Made Up of Wood Carvings, Unveiled At So. M. E. Church.

A rare work of art, one of the type rarely seen except in churches of great antiquity, was unveiled in the South Methodist church at a special vesper service at 4:30 yesterday afternoon.

The twelve panels, carved in oak, the work of Dr. Julian S. Wadsworth of Chateau Thierry, France,

The carved group represents the Twelve Disciples grouped about the Oberammergau carving of the "Last Supper."

Symbolic Carvings Each figure is carved in a paneled niche and is surrounded by a Gothic arch with intricate carved work.

The dedicatory service which consisted principally of selections by the full vested choir and an organ.

The organ recital by Carl McKinley which followed the unveiling was as follows: "In Elysium" Gluck;

UNIONS TO ADVOCATE DRY LAW AMENDMENT

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Formation of a National labor legislative committee for the amendment of the Volstead Act with legalization of 2.75 per cent beer as its immediate object, has been undertaken by several union leaders.

John Sullivan, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, said the movement was started a few weeks ago at a meeting in Washington of union heads called together by Joseph Obergeel of Cincinnati, secretary-treasurer of the Brewery Workers Union.

An organization meeting has been called for Washington on Dec. 2 and 3, after which the matter will be presented to William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, for his approval.

The American Federation, Mr. Sullivan said, has gone on record five times in favor of 2.75 per cent beer but the matter never has been pushed further because of lack of organization.

YOUTHS IN TINY PLANE START ON LONG TRIP

Caldwell, N. J., Nov. 24.—(AP)—Two youths in a two-cylinder monoplane, Edward Wingerter of Newark and Joseph L. Jones of River-side, Conn., set out at 9:10 a. m. today on a flight to South America.

They planned to follow the Atlantic seaboard, hop over to Havana and then jump from Cuba to a field in British Guiana.

They expect to stop at almost every airport along the way, for their little ship carries only eight gallons of gasoline and has a cruising speed of but 65 miles an hour.

Wingerter is 25 and Jones is 19. Both are married and their wives and mothers saw them off this morning. Jones' mother is sponsoring the flight. The fliers plan to spend tonight at Baltimore.

FIREMEN'S DANCE AT MASONIC TEMPLE

Annual Affair Transferred This Year From Cheney Hall—Jack Morey's Orchestra To Play.

Hose Company No. 1 of the South Manchester Fire Department will hold its thirty-first annual Thanksgiving Eve dance at the Masonic Temple Wednesday evening. Originally these dances of the Hose and Ladder company had a double purpose. They were in the nature of family reunions and get-togethers for a genuine old-fashioned good time, and at the same time a means of obtaining funds for the purchase and maintenance of equipment.

These objects still hold good. This is the first year the dance will not be held in Cheney hall.

This year No. 1 company will have Jack Morey's 9-piece orchestra to furnish the music. This is the band that played at the last Masonic ball and made such a hit with the dancers. Practically every member of the company is working for the success of the affair on one committee or another.

Refreshments will be provided by the senior class of the High school. The profits will be added to the Washington trip fund.

Murder At Bridge

by ANNE AUSTIN, author of "THE BLACK PIGEON," "THE AVENGING PARROT" and "MURDER BACKSTAIRS" ©1930 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PENNY CRAIN, society girl, now the district attorney's secretary because her father's failure, telephones to "BONNIE" DUNDEE, special investigator, that JUANITA SELLM, Broadway dancer brought to Hamilton by LOIS DUNLAP to organize the Little Theater, has been murdered at a bridge given in her own home.

At the house, where CAPTAIN STRAWN is in charge, Dundee sees the dead woman bowed over her dressing table, shot through the heart. Among the guests, DEXTER SPRAGUE, typically Broadway and alien to the group, with RALPH HAMMOND, once Penny's property but annexed by Nita, is missing.

Dundee learns that as they were playing the last hand, TRACEY MILES, one of the first men to arrive, came in, at about 5:27. Nita immediately sprang up, being funny, and left. Miles went into the dining room, followed by Lois Dunlap. KAREN MARSHALL, the judge's young bride, found the body when she ran in at the end of the hand to tell Nita the score and her scream brought the whole party to the bedroom. No one was seen in the room or in the foyer outside the room. Dundee asks Penny to tell the story of the afternoon.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Nothing happened out of the ordinary—no, wait! Nita received a letter by messenger—"

CHAPTER V

"Just a minute, before you begin, Miss Crain," Dundee requested. "I'd like to make notes on your story," and he drew from a coat pocket a shorthand book, hastily fished from Penny's tidy desk. "Yes," he answered the girl's frank stare of amazement, "I can write shorthand—of a sort, and pretty fast at that, though no other human being, I am afraid, could read it. I am at your service, if you folks," he addressed the uneasy, silent group of men and women in dead Nita's living room, "I shall ask you not to interrupt Miss Crain unless you are very sure that her memory is at fault."

Penelope Crain was about to begin for the second time, when again, Dundee interrupted. "An other half second, please."

On the first sheet of the new shorthand book Dundee scribbled: "Suggest you fail to locate Ralph Hammond immediately. Very much in love with Mrs. Sellm. Invited to cocktail party; did not show up," and tearing the sheet from the notebook, passed it to Captain Strawn, who read it, frowning, and then nodded.

"Doc Price has done all he can here," Strawn whispered huskily. "Wants to know if you'd like to speak to him here, he takes the body to the morgue."

"Certainly," Dundee answered as he grinned apologetically to the girl who was waiting, white-faced but patiently, to tell the story of the afternoon.

Quickly suppressed shudders and low exclamations of horror followed him and the chief of the homicide squad from the room.

"Well, Bonnie boy, we meet again, for the usual reason," said Dr. Price greeted the district attorney's new "special investigator."

"Another shocking affair—this. . . . A nice clean wound, one of the neatest jobs I ever saw. Shot entered the back and penetrated the heart. . . . Very nicely calculated. If the bullet had struck a quarter of an inch higher, it would have been deflected by the—"

Dundee tried to listen patiently, but he had heard all that was necessary for his purposes in regard to the actual wound itself; besides, this cold-blooded analysis of the path of the bullet which had ended the life of a beautiful woman was acutely distasteful to the young detective. But a word in his own reflections caught him up short.

"The path of the bullet, doctor?" he broke in. "He you made any calculations as to the place and distance at which the shot was fired?"

"Roughly speaking—yes," the coroner answered. "The gun was fired at a distance, probably, of 10 or 15 feet from the body, but I don't think so," he amended meticulously. "As for the path of the bullet, I have fixed it, judging from the position of the body, which I am assured has not been touched before my arrival, along a straight line drawn from the woman's wound, with the body upright, of course, to—here!"

Dundee and Strawn followed the brisk little white-haired old doctor across the bedroom to the window opening upon the drive—the one nearest the door leading out upon the porch.

"I've marked the end of the line here," Dr. Price went on, pointing to a faint pencil mark made upon the frame of the window—the pale-green strip of woodwork nearer the chaise longue, which was set between the two windows.

"I told you she was shot from the window!" Strawn reminded Dundee triumphantly. "You see, Doc, it's my theory that the murderer climbed up to the sill of this window, which was open as it is now, crouched in it and shot her while she sat there powdering her face."

"Dundee did not trouble to remind Strawn of his previously expressed objection to this theory, for Dr. Price was pointing out:

"Not necessarily, Captain, not necessarily. I merely say that this pencil mark indicates the end of the line showing the path of the bullet. Certainly the was not shot through the frame of the window, but she might have been shot by anyone standing just in front of it, or anywhere along the line, up to, say, within 10 feet of the woman."

"Now, if that's all, Captain, I'll be getting this corpse into the morgue for an autopsy. And I'll send you both a copy of my findings."

"Just a minute, Dr. Price," Dundee detained him. "How old would you say Mrs. Sellm was?"

The little doctor pursed his wrinkled lips and considered for a moment, eyeing the body stretched upon the chaise longue speculatively.

"We'll, between 30 and 34 years old," he answered finally. "Of course you understand that that estimate is unofficial."

Dundee stared down at the upturned face of the dead woman with startled incredulity. Between 30 and 34 years old! That tiny, lovely—but she was not quite so lovely in death, in spite of the serenity it had brought to those once-vivacious features. Peering more closely, he could see—without those luminous, wide eyes to center his attention—numerous fine lines in the waxen face, the slackness of a little pouch of soft flesh beneath the round chin, an occasional white hair upon the shoulder-length dark curls. . . .

Dundee sighed. How easy it was for a beautiful woman to deceive men with a pair of wide, velvety black eyes! But he'd bet the women had not been quite so thoroughly taken in by her cuddly childishness, her odd mixture of demureness and youthful impudence!

Back in the living room, whose occupants stopped whispering and grew taut with suspense, Dundee seated himself at a little red-wooden table, his notebook spread, while Strawn settled himself heavily in the nearest overstuffed armchair.

"Now, Miss Crain, I am quite ready, if you will forgive me for having kept you waiting."

In a very quiet voice—slightly husky, as always—Penny, from her seat on a nearby sofa, along with Janet Raymond, Carolyn Drake and Flora Miles waiting for us, Nita soon left us to see about the arrangement of the table, and while she was away the rest of the girls arrived.

"Except—a woman's voice broke in.

"I was going to say all eight" of us were ready for lunch except Polly Beale. She hadn't come."

"Why don't you tell him how funny Nita acted?" Janet Raymond prompted, a strong suggestion of malice in her voice.

Penny flushed, but she accepted the prompting. "I think any of us might have been a little—amused," she said steadily, as if striving to be utterly truthful. "Nita told us—she turned to Dundee, whose pencil was flying—"that Polly had been no excuse at all in fact, she quoted Polly exactly, 'Sorry, Nita, Can't make it for lunch.' 'I'll show up at your place at 2:30 for bridge.'"

"Nita couldn't bear the hint of being slighted," Janet Raymond explained, with a malicious gleam in her pale blue eyes. "If it hadn't been for Lois and Hugo—Judge Marshall, I mean Nita—Sellm would never have been included in any of our affairs—and she knew it! The Dundees can do anything they please, because they're—"

"Please, Janet!" Louis Dunlap cut in, her usually placid voice becoming quite sharp. "You must know by this time that I make friends wherever I please, and that I like—yes, I was extremely fond of poor little—Nita."

In fact, I am forced to believe that, of all the women she met in this town, I was her only real friend."

There was a flush of anger on her lovely plain face as her eyes challenged first one and then another of the "Forsyte girls." One or two looked a little ashamed, but there was not a single voice to contradict Lois Dunlap's flat assertion.

"Will you please go on, Miss Crain?" Dundee urged, but he had missed nothing of the little play.

"I wish you would call me Penny so I'd feel more like a person than a witness," Penny retorted thornily. "Where was I? . . . Oh, yes! Nita cooled right off when Lois reminded her that Polly was always abrupt like that—and here Penny paused to grin apologetically at the girl with the masculine-looking haircut—"and then we all went into the private dining room, where Nita had provided a perfectly gorgeous lunch, with a heavenly centerpiece of green-striped yellow orchids—Well, I don't suppose you're interested in what we ate and things like that—" she hesitated.

"Was there anything unusual in the conversation—anything like a quarrel?" Dundee prompted, but "green-striped yellow orchids" was underlined heavily in his shorthand notes.

"Nothing happened out of the ordinary at all—No, wait! Nita received a letter by messenger—or rather a note, when we were about half through luncheon—"

There was a low, strangled-in-the-throat cry from some one—M had uttered it, Dundee could not be sure, since his eyes had been on his notebook. But what had really interrupted Penny Crain was a crash.

SPINOZA'S BIRTH

On November 24, 1632, Benedict Spinoza, a famous Dutch-Jewish philosopher, was born at Amsterdam, the son of a Portuguese merchant who had fled there to escape religious persecution.

Though a delicate child, Spinoza studied diligently under rabbis. He was later alienated from the orthodox beliefs of his religion and because of his heresies, was excommunicated from the synagogue.

After spending some time in exile in abstruse and difficult studies he brought out an abridgement of the philosophical works of Descartes. He was soon offered the chair of philosophy at Heidelberg and a pension if he would dedicate his work to Louis XIV. These he refused on the ground that they would endanger his independence and integrity of thought. He preferred, instead, to live in poverty.

The nub of Spinoza's philosophy is this: Existence consists of the material world and thought. Each of these realms is independent of the other. Thought does not influence matter, and matter does not influence thought. Nevertheless, the movements of one are parallel or analogous to the movements of the other, and the movements of each depend on an all pervading essence, which is equivalent to God.

HEALTH

(This is one of a series of articles by Dr. Fishbein on nutrition of the child.)

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine

The articles that have been published on the requirements of the infant's diet have covered in detail many points which are here summarized. The summary follows essentially the views of Dr. W. McKim Marriott as expressed in his book on "Infant Nutrition."

During the first year of life, the normal baby should eat enough food to give him an average of 50 to 55 calories for every pound of its weight each day. During the very first part of the infant's life, possibly for three months, it will need somewhat more caloric value than this amount, and during the last six months of the first year somewhat less.

In the case of the normal infant fed by its mother, all of the nutrition necessary to provide the proper amount of calories will be received if it gets three ounces of milk for each pound of its body weight each day.

In the case of the infant that is fed by the bottle, about two-thirds of the total number of calories required is provided by milk, and the remaining one-third is to be given in the form of added sugars, such as those which have been previously mentioned. During early infancy the best sugars are dextrin and maltose types, but cane sugar may also be used.

After the sixth month, some of the necessary carbohydrates can be given in the form of starch, such as occurs in vegetables, and this starch is converted in the body to sugars.

The amount of protein that the normal baby needs it will get if it receives two and one-half ounces of milk from the breast for each pound of its weight per day. A small excess in the amount of protein will not do the infant any harm.

should receive an amount of protein equivalent to what they ought to weigh rather than what they actually weigh.

The fats that the infant receives are best provided through the milk that is given to meet its requirement for energy. The milk from Jersey and Guernsey cows contains a higher percentage of fat than that from cows in general.

For this reason, such milk should be used with proper modification. It is also inadvisable to feed the infant the top milk or cream in the preparation of the usual formula. It is best perhaps to mix thoroughly the milk as received from the dairy before preparing the formula.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

Just as the end of a rose stem sways gracefully to heighten the beauty of the bloom, so a woman's wrist is responsible for half the eloquence of her hand.

If your wrists are stiff, unresponsive, awkward, your hands will lose that rhythmic, fluid character that makes them hauntingly beautiful.

You can cultivate flexibility. The hands of a musician or an artist always fascinate. Their very usefulness has charm. But more than that, they are themselves eloquent. Every muscle is exercised, the fingers and palm respond easily and quickly to aid and abet the works he speaks or the meanings that his eyes betray. The wrists have their own responsibility in his work and they too have that ready sense of movement.

Wrists Need Exercise

Golf, driving a car, riding a horse or even such mundane things as sewing a fine seam, polishing beautiful crystal, or even massaging the face—all these exercises the wrists and palm respond easily and quickly to aid and abet the works he speaks or the meanings that his eyes betray. The wrists have their own responsibility in his work and they too have that ready sense of movement.

Parents Protest Night Work

Are they strengthening physically by regularly scheduled walks or outdoor exercise, or are they even more languid and pale than they were a year before last? Are they picking up outside reading, or is their supply of information and facts about the world as meagre now as it was then?

Parents complain of night work that does not allow for any extra concentration. Incidentally I shall commit myself to this extent. I don't approve of it either in the first five grades, and rather imagine the time will come when all night work will be adjusted to grade, age and condition. Perhaps as far as grade school goes it will vanish altogether. Hope so.

But even with night work, many children still dawdle much time away. Think it over. Doesn't your child have hours of spare time every week? Organized time, time without meaning and without gain to himself.

Should Supervise Reading

Every boy and girl who hasn't too far to walk to school should have a regular schedule of outdoor walks or exercise after school hours when the weather permits. His home reading needs a certain amount of supervision, for after all, most of his general information is picked up out of school. An outside interest, such as a fall for his school work, is good for winter evenings and Saturdays. It should be something he loves to do—drawing, special instruction in carpenter work or mechanics, perhaps music or shorthand, or indoor gardening—something that he has an affinity for and does not consider irksome.

There should be half an hour daily given over to small home responsibilities, and more on Saturdays. It isn't so much what he does as that he learns system and time saving. A cluttered habit of living leads to cluttered thinking and working, and time thrift is one big thing of the vertebral in the backbone of character.

YOUR CHILDREN

by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON © 1930 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

What does Jimmy do with his free time? Does he read a while, dawdle around the radio a while, fool with this, that, and the other thing until the evening is done and his lessons aren't? Then plead as an excuse that he hasn't had a minute and he never has time for anything?

We all are time-wasters, but children are particularly so. A little of it is all right, but habitual time-wasting out of school is bad discipline, causes slovenly habits of thinking and makes system an alien. Look at your boy or your girl. Are they advancing in outside things as they are with their lessons, or are they just where they were two years ago?

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By SISTER MARY

The clever use of the "leftovers" from Thanksgiving turkey prolongs the pleasure of the holiday and justifies the expense of the meal. Even if the initial cost of the turkey is rather high, the number of really delicious meals possible from one bird brings down the average cost.

Good sized pieces of the turkey of course can be served cold, neatly arranged on a platter and garnished with cranberry jelly. But the "pickings" on the bones require some manipulation if the meals are kept interesting and inviting.

There is one precaution to keep in mind in making left-over dishes. Whenever turkey or any fowl that has been thoroughly cooked is reheated, care must be taken not to overcook the meat. Long cooking will make it stringy and tasteless. Any part of the made dish that requires actual cooking must be done before the meat is added.

Turkey au gratin uses tiny bits of meat to advantage and will be very good with baked potatoes for Saturday luncheon.

Turkey au Gratin

Two tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1 cup celery cut in small pieces, 1/2 cup diced celery, 1/4 cup coarse buttered crumbs.

Melt butter, stir in flour and cook and stir over fire until bubbly. Add celery and cook, covered, over a low fire for five minutes. Slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Bring to the boiling point and let boil five minutes, stirring to prevent sticking and burning. Add turkey, salt and pepper, and turn into a buttered baking dish. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven until crumbs are brown.

Turkey a la King makes an excellent supper party dish. It can be made at the table in a chafing dish or made in the kitchen and kept hot over water.

Turkey a la King

Three tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 cup cream, 1/2 cups diced turkey, 1 potato, 1/2 can broken mushroom caps, 1 egg yolk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 6 squares hot toast.

Melt butter, stir in flour and, when bubbling, slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Stir in cream and season with salt and pepper. Bring to the boiling point and add mushrooms which have been sauted in butter for five minutes. Add shredded pimento and turkey. Bring again to boiling point but do not let boil. Stir in egg yolk well beaten and serve at once. Keep hot over hot water after adding yolk of egg.

Instead of serving on toast, water, popovers, timbale shells or paty shells can be used. Water and popovers are delightfully informal.

A salad made of shredded turkey, pineapple, celery and blanched and

MAKE IT YOURSELF

A useful gift that a child can make Mother or any lady on the Christmas list is a clothes pin apron. This apron fastens around the waist has two pleated pockets to hold the clothes pins which reach without having to stoop down to get them when hanging clothes out to dry.

It takes less than a yard to make a clothes pin apron. Use some staunch checked or flowered material. Make the apron 18 inches deep, with the pockets 10 inches deep. Each pocket should have a box pleat laid down the middle of it, stitched in at the top and bottom. This can bulge to hold more pins than a flat one would.

Gather the apron onto a belt and have the ends or a couple of buttons and button holes. The latter is better because there is considerable strain on the string when you dive into the pockets for pins.

DIFFERENT FLAVOR

Chopped almonds, very slightly salted, sprinkled over a mocha icing on a cake, give a delicious and slightly different flavor.

HAT FRESHENERS

You can freshen any hat by renewing its ribbon banding or stitching a new feather fancy in the place of the old one.

HAT LININGS

Replacing worn or soiled hat linings with ones that are pristine new is a good trick to renew the self-respect of your stand-by hats.

Great Goal Defense By Majors Staves Off Defeat

Stop Cubs From Making Two Yards In Four Lunges And Game Goes Scoreless

North and South Engage In Bitterly Fought Football Struggle, Each Having Chances To Score But Lacking Final Punch; Majors Make Seven More First Downs But Game Is Very Even All Told With Neither Having Any Real Advantage; Game Very Interesting; Cubs Show Surprisingly Improved Offense—Except At Goal.

BY THOMAS W. STOWE
Herald Sports Editor

A marvelous goal line stand by the Majors prevented the Cubs from scoring what appeared to be a certain touchdown and possible victory yesterday in the second game of the town football championship series played before about 3,500 persons at Hickey's Grove. It was a bitterly fought and very even struggle that ended without score, thus at least delaying the north end's fondest ambition, that of regaining the long lost gridiron title. Both teams threatened to score on several occasions but lacked the final punch.

There was little choice between either team but the Cubs surprised nearly everyone it seemed by displaying the best offense they have shown this season, yet they were totally unable to make any headway when afforded the best scoring chance any team could ever ask for. This came in the second period after a forward, Farr to Eagleson, a first down and a five yard penalty for a Major offense, gave the Cubs the ball two yards short of a touchdown, two down and the goal to go.

A Gorgeous Defense

Five times Cub backs plunged into the center of the Major line and five times they were thrown back with a total gain of only a yard and two thirds—a foot short of a touchdown. The extra crack came when both teams were offside on second play and while the down did not count, neither could the ball carrier gain an inch. It was a glorious and unexpected defensive work on the part of the Majors, one that will long be remembered. Standing out above everyone in the momentous excitement was the super-human work of "Whitely" Mullin who had the guard who went in at guard when the Cubs threatened and figured conspicuously in three of the ferocious line thrusts. This exhibition on the part of the Majors was every bit as good if not better than anything the ugly tumbled Cub line has contributed this season and the south enders have also done yeoman service.

A Tough Predicament

But outside of this one great chance to score, the highlights of the game were the unexpected offensive power of the south end team. The Cubs looked fully fifty per cent better with Ding Farr at quarterback and had the ball in Major territory about half of the time. Some of the best selection of plays when the Cubs had the ball on the Majors' two yard line arguing that almost anything except a straight buck at center would have resulted in a touchdown. However, second guessing is on a bit and being out there scoring touchdowns in a championship battle, decidedly another. Yet, five slams at the center of the Major line did seem a bit too many, especially when the first few did not do the trick. But under the circumstances, the proper thing to do is praise the gallant Major defensive in preference to criticizing the Cub play of attack.

The Majors had high hopes of clinching the title yesterday. With one game in the bag, there were heavy favorites to win even more impressively in the second clash. Very few bets were placed on the Cubs, south enders having the given up. But today the situation is changed. Cub supporters have new hopes, even visions in some instances of another title. They argue that yesterday's game proved the first slams at center would have resulted in a touchdown in a last minute Major victory on what they term a fluke. The third meeting of the two teams will be next Sunday at Hickey's Grove, the Majors having already won the toss of coin.

Neither Had Edge

Taken as a whole, one team deserves just about as much credit as the other for their performance yesterday. Both had scoring chances but were unequal to the occasion. It would be unfair to try to give either team the edge. Whatever edge the Cubs earned by getting the ball was offset by the fact that they were unable to score. The Majors made almost twice as many first downs but were helpless once they got inside the Cubs' twenty yard line.

The Majors advanced inside the Cubs' 30 yard line on five occasions and the closest they got to a touchdown was the six yard line. They were halted respectively at the 21, 15, 6, 28 and 18. In every instance a Major forward pass on the fourth down failed. Once Ted McCarthy almost caught a heave over Eagleson's head in the end zone but close doesn't count, as the Cubs are fully aware after their goal line capers in the second quarter. Three the Major passes fell short of the potential receiver and on the other occasion, Farr made a timely interception.

Farr Tries Dropkick

The Cubs were inside the Majors' thirty yard line only twice, once being the time when they almost

Local Sport Chatter

It begins to look as if the Cubs and Majors are much more evenly matched than everyone had been led to believe. The Majors were warm favorites to win both games that have been played but as a matter of fact are quite fortunate indeed to have one victory to their credit judging from what happened yesterday.

Had the first game ended the same as yesterday's—a scoreless tie—instead of going to the Majors with 45 seconds to play, it is quite possible that the series might not have been completed this year. Even now it may not. One team must win two games and it begins to look as though neither team could beat the other. Old Man Winter may yet be the winner.

The paid admissions at yesterday's Cub-Major game were 2,373, which is 236 more persons than at the first game. The gate was $1,139 or $147 more than taken in at Mt. Nebo. The day, however, was ideal while a week ago rain threatened all week-end. The average make for the two games is a little over a thousand dollars. Not such a bad pot of gold, eh?

There is much speculation as to how the third game between the Cubs and Majors will wind up. After what happened yesterday, one guess seems about as good as another. One thing seems very apparent, and that is that the Majors did not intentionally refrain from winning yesterday so that the series might extend another week. They tried their level best to win and there was keen disappointment in all quarters at the north end last night that the title was still in the hands of the Cubs.

The next biggest sporting event of the week comes Thursday morning when the Recreation Center stages its annual five mile cross country run. Joe McCluskey, famous Manchester runner now making a name for himself in the athletic world at Fordham, will be here for another fling at the crown he has never won. The race starts at 11:30 in the morning.

That isn't the only sporting event set for Turkey Day. The High school plays its Alumni football at 9:45 in the morning at the West Side and the Rac Five opens its home basketball season that night against the Hartford Y. M. H. A. at the Rac after going to Middletown the night before. The Majors are not playing Thanksgiving afternoon as had been reported.

The Majors were penalized 50 yards yesterday against 30 for the Cubs.

The Majors gained much more ground than the Cubs yesterday but they found the defense of the champions as tough to crack as ever since they got within striking distance.

Captain Brunig Moske made considerable yardage for the Majors the first half and then sat out the rest of the entire second half. It is hard to see some of these imported stars are rated above such a line splitter as Moske.

The Cubs' backfield was greatly improved with Farr at quarter in place of Schwartz who has been released. Al Williams was also used in the starting lineup and this, too, was a big help. Williams and Waterman accounted for practically all the Cub gains through the line while Eagleson took several passes from Farr for much yardage. Farr carried the ball only twice during the game—which clearly shows his modesty as a quarterback.

Two more entries for the Rec's cross country run were received today. They are Francis Breen and Morris Lemkin of Hartford, R. F. I. students. Breen ran here twice before. There are 25 now entered in the run.

were ruled offside giving the Cubs an extra chance.

Waterman ploughed his way through a wall of concrete to within a half yard of the goal line. Farr tried to dive over the center of the line but without avail. Then on the final attempt, Waterman was hurled back a foot short of a touchdown. A deafening roar went up from the Major crowd. It was impossible to see who made the tackle as the entangled human mass that piled up at center on each play but it seems safe to say that about everyone on the Major line lent a helping hand. Mullin figured in every play but one, the officials said. Gifford only kicked out near midfield and the half ended shortly after.

Unable to score with such a formidable backfield combination as Miekie, Moske, Gifford and Tatrow, Coach George Noonan sent in two of the fastest running halfbacks in the state at the start of the second half in Peole and Fisher, the former from Providence and the latter from Bridgeport. Fisher shot around the Cub ends for several substantial gains but was also thrown back. He lost a number of times. Near the Cub goal they were totally unable to make any headway and late in the game Noonan trotted out a pair of fresh backs, in Daddario of Burnside and Brown of Providence. Once the Majors got within six yards of a touchdown but Miekie's pass to Fisher went for a touchback. Again they reached the 18 yard line and once more took to the air, Farr intercepting his pass. The Majors forwards failed badly throughout the game. On the other hand the Cubs completed several Farr to Eagleson plays for much yardage. St. John almost snared a long pass from Farr close to the Major goal just before the game ended.

THEY'LL RUN HERE TURKEY DAY

STORRS ATHLETES HERE ON THURSDAY

Captain White, Who Placed Second In Rec Run Last Year, To Bring C. A. C. Team.

The Connecticut State College cross-country team which races here Thanksgiving day morning in the Rec's five mile run is composed of six veterans with three years of varied experience, and one second year man.

Captain "Charlie" White of New Haven is the outstanding runner of the team, having finished first or tied for first in four meets this fall. He placed well up in the New England Intercollegiate Championship a few weeks ago. Last year White was second in the race here.

"Charlie" Ditzrich of Waterbury, who captained the team two years ago, is the running mate of White, having finished deadlocked with him last year.

"Jim" Bottomley of Milford who captured last year's winning team "Cliff" Barnes of Waterbury, "Jim" Elliott of Pomfret, "Len" Hubbard of Gullford and "Johnny" Rathbun of Saybrook, make up the remainder of the team.

Most of these men ran here last year and managed to carry off eight of the cups given, including the team trophy.

White finished only a few feet in back of the winner with a substantial lead on McCluskey, the third place man.

The Connecticut Harriers have had a successful season, running seven races. They defeated Wesleyan, Tufts, Rhode Island and St. Stephens, and placed fifth in the Intercollegiate, and last only to Matne and Springfield colleges.

These men have been running together for three years during which time they have lost only three meets of twenty-one.

BASKETBALL RULES TO BE DISCUSSED

The Central Connecticut District Board of Approved Basketball Officials will hold their Annual Interpretation Meeting and discussion of new rules in the Hartford Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening, December 4 at 8:15.

All coaches, players, and fans are cordially invited to be present. The State Board Delegate to the Annual Interpretation Meeting held by the National Officials Committee in New York on November 28 will be present and will have all the latest "dope" on the new rules and their bearing on the National Indoor Sport.

The Board regrets that their Interpretation Meeting comes so late this season, but they felt that they should postpone same until the New York meeting had been held. It is their hope that all officials, coaches, and others interested in the game will be on hand at this time.

TEAMWORK WINS FOR EAGLES, 6-0

Triumph Over South End All-Stars Who Have Many High School Players In Lineup.

The Eagles, town junior champs, scored another victory yesterday in the preliminary to the Cub-Major game by beating the All-Stars, 6-0. The team was composed of present and past High school players who played a good game and though outweighing and being more experienced, did not have the teamwork of the Eagles.

The Eagles started early, after kicking the All-Stars' 10 yard line. Here D. Mitchell picked up three yards through the line and Slaga on two smashes was over. An attempted placement for the extra point by Balon was blocked.

The All-Stars' only threat was Ernie Dowd who did break away two or three times for long runs. Chase in football, but Ek, old boy, has a running mate down in Georgia in the person of Tassapoulas, the Bulldogs' sterling center.

Rockne has a young man named Kassis of Assyrian descent in his front line, playing beside Tom Yarr, of Irish and Indian extraction. In the same state, the lineup of the University of Indiana presents such early Pilgrim monickers as Saluski and Opliskir.

Slaga and Balon were the chief ground gainers for the Eagles. Slaga crashed through the line and Balon skirted the ends, while Krepetis, Olocevage and J. Mitchell stood out on the defense, smearing play after play. But the Eagles as a team were the most impressive as before the game it looked as though they would get their first beating of the season on their home grounds.

The lineups:

HOOKS AND SLIDES

WHAT TRIPES ARE THESE? Some strange names pop out at you from the football lineups these days. It begins to appear that the melting pot is receiving quite a lot of college education.

Reading the lineup in the recent Dartmouth game was like reading by such names as these in the list of substitutions:

"Rothstein for C. Martinez-Zorrilla; Young for J. Martinez-Zorrilla; Skokos for Handelman," and so on. It appears there is not only no Martinez-Zorrilla playing for dear old Cornell, but there are two of them, and they play side by side, at right tackle and right end.

Wondering how long this had been going on, I glanced through some of the other lineups and summaries. Do the same thing yourself some day. You'll be amazed.

Major Cavanaugh, who coaches Fordham, once said the Poles were the greatest football players in the world, because they are hard to hurt and are insensitive to fatigue.

Wondering how he can be so sure about that, with so many stars of every nationality under the sun dying for dear old Ogleweash.

MEDITERRANEAN TOUCH

The leading scorer, a Colgate half-back, comes from an old family named Mescalunille. Those who saw St. Mary's best Fordham must have been impressed by the superiority of non-Nordics at the grid pastime as they watched Angel Brovelli and his running mate, Toscani, running around here and there in mud and rain. Of the same southern tribe is Carideo of Notre Dame and his erstwhile teammate, Savoldi. And at Cornell, also, is Bart Viviano.

Western Maryland has a quarterback named Ekaitis. Under him the team has not tasted of defeat this season. Ekaitis is a rare name in football, but Ek, old boy, has a running mate down in Georgia in the person of Tassapoulas, the Bulldogs' sterling center.

Rockne has a young man named Kassis of Assyrian descent in his front line, playing beside Tom Yarr, of Irish and Indian extraction. In the same state, the lineup of the University of Indiana presents such early Pilgrim monickers as Saluski and Opliskir.

Slaga and Balon were the chief ground gainers for the Eagles. Slaga crashed through the line and Balon skirted the ends, while Krepetis, Olocevage and J. Mitchell stood out on the defense, smearing play after play. But the Eagles as a team were the most impressive as before the game it looked as though they would get their first beating of the season on their home grounds.

The lineups:

Referee, Phaneuf; umpire, Mikilite; head linesman, Copeland.

WOOD PITCHING, HUGELEY CATCHER, HARVARD WINS 13-0

Hickner's Tribe Bottles Booth Very Effectively and Triumphs On Three Clever Forward Passes, Wood To Hugeley; Notre Dame Beats Northwestern 14-0 In Final Period.

A fighting red-jerseyed Harvard troupe led by its gallant captain, Ben Tickner, muzzled a supposedly vicious Yale bulldog in New Haven, Saturday to win the annual football classic by a score of 13 to 0 in one of the major upsets of the season thus completing a most unsatisfactory season with a blaze of glory.

The football game had a distinct baseball aspect in that one could truthfully report that Harvard's great battery was Barry Wood, pitcher, and Art Hugeley, catcher. And what a battery it was! The whole Yale team felt a victim on strikes on three separate occasions and these three forward passes spelled victory as a final tribute to Harvard's retiring coach Horween.

Harvard's first touchdown came in the first quarter on two Wood-to-Hugeley passes down the center of the field. Yale was completely baffled by the Harvard passing combination and after Wood had dropped kicked the point that made the score 7 to 0, Harvard fought all the harder with the result that another touchdown was bagged in the second half when Wood and Hugeley responded to Harvard demands for an encore. This time they didn't waste the effort of two plays, scoring the touchdown on one. It came after an untimely tumble by Charlie Heim, Yale quarter.

Yale never seriously threatened to cross Harvard's goal line although they completed a number of forward passes in the final quarter to give them a substantial edge in first downs. Yet on the whole Harvard outplayed Yale by a good margin through the individual efforts of Wood, Hugeley and Tickner, the latter smearing one Yale play after another thus making himself one of the foremost candidates for center on the All-America teams.

Now that the excitement has died down, it is very apparent that Harvard can justly send a vote of thanks to Princeton for it was the ferocious Yeggers who softened the Bulldogs for the Crimson. Yet in a similar manner, Harvard took some starch out of both Army and Dartmouth before they went down to successive Saturdays.

One of the outstanding highlights of Harvard's unexpected victory was the bottling of the famous Albie Booth, Yale quarterback for the third year in succession. Harvard has had Booth's number, so it seems from the day he played with the Yale Freshmen against the Harvard Frosh. "Little Albie" has one more football chance against Harvard, for he is a junior. Maybe next November the shoe will be on the other foot. Then, again, maybe not. Harvard has now won for three years in succession.

Summary of Events
A summary of the latest developments in the country's major groups or conferences follows:
East—The Army and Dartmouth have the best records, each with only one tie on otherwise perfect slates. Both have serious tests this Saturday Army against Notre Dame at Chicago and Dartmouth against Stanford at Palo Alto. Colgate and Fordham also must be reckoned with in the east as both have been beaten only by intercollegiate opponents. Harvard's victory over Yale Saturday brought the Crimson's disappointing season to a highly successful conclusion.

Big Ten—Michigan's 16 to 0 victory over Chicago enabled the Wolverines to finish in a tie with Northwestern for the conference championship.
Pacific Coast—Stanford rolled a 41 to 0 count on California in the only big game last Saturday the championship already having been won by Washington State.

Rock Mountain—Utah, which clinched the title a week ago battles the Utah Aggies Thanksgiving.
Southern—Alabama and Tulane, the sole remaining championship contenders close their season Thanksgiving Day respectively against Georgia and Louisiana State.

New York, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The National list of unbeaten and untied football teams had been cut to nine today. Three elevens fell by the wayside over the week end, Rose Poly losing to Indiana State Normal Friday night and Northwestern to Notre Dame Saturday while Western Maryland was held to a tie by Albright.

Although topped by four smaller colleges, the real leaders are Alabama, Washington State and Notre Dame with Utah only a step behind.

That Manchester just missed becoming a college town in the good old days... it so happened that Upsala College, now situated in New Jersey, was looking for a location and the town offered the site which is now Center Park but the school board turned it down.

That one of the local boarding houses was troubled with the repeated disappearance of electric light bulbs from the hallway... and that the scheme was nipped in the bud, so to speak, by placing red mazzas there instead, and now roomers don't dare spirit them away!

TO REDISTRIBUTE STATE

New Haven, Nov. 24.—(AP)—The incoming General Assembly may take up the matter of redistributing the state to provide another representative in Congress under the reapportionment made possible by the 1930 census. Two ways of meeting this problem may be offered at the outset, one as provided for in a bill in the 1921 session drawn by Arthur E. Bowers, of Manchester, now deceased, who was in the Senate, which divided the state into six districts and the present suggestion of Congressman John Q. Tilson, of having a congressman at large. In the latter instance it would be unnecessary to alter the present districts.

CROSS' NEW BOOK

Hartford, Nov. 24.—(AP)—Wilbur L. Cross, governor-elect of Connecticut and Dean emeritus of the Yale graduate school, has written another book on English literature which has just been published by the MacMillan company of New York as supplement to his famous book "The Development of the English Novel" which was written in 1899 and is used as a text book in many colleges.

The new work by Dr. Cross is entitled "Four Contemporary Novelists." It contains biographical and critical essays on Joseph Conrad, Arnold Bennett, John Galsworthy and Herbert George Wells.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Early one summer morning, a Southern gentleman was taking a ride in the first aeroplane to be seen in those parts.

Amos—Andy, Ah kain't drive de taxi no mo' doday 'cause mah feets do hurt.

Mistress—You say, Esmarelda, that your husband beats you constantly?

Colored Cook (to lady of the house)—Missus, come Monday mawnin' Ah's fixin' to leave dis here job.

Colored Cook—Jassum. Ah gits what Ah set fo'.

Sambo—Wharf' yo' got dat speckled suit, nigguh?

Doctor—Was it a large object? Colored Girl—To' rable large.

Colored Girl (her patience given out)—Ef yo' mus' be inquisitive, Ah wuz jes' natchally kicked in de face by a gentleman friend.

Clerk (at marriage license bureau)—Where's your bride-elect?

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

The girl who buys her spring hat in December gets a head start on the rest of us.

Attorney (who had advertised for a chauffeur, questioning Negro applicant)—How about you, George, are you married?

Foreman (of cotton plantation)—Look here, Uncle Henry, why do you always talk to yourself?

Old Negro—Ah does it fo' two reasons, boss. First, Ah lats 't talk to a smart man; an' next, Ah laks to hear a smart man talk.

Dinah—Has yo' made all de arrangements fo' yo' marriage, Mandy?

Colored Girl (her patience given out)—Ef yo' mus' be inquisitive, Ah wuz jes' natchally kicked in de face by a gentleman friend.

It is said that the broadcasting company which engaged Bernard Shaw, dramatist, for his radio talk, expected him to give a play by play description.

Maybe by opening a soup kitchen for the unemployed in Chicago Al Capone figures to get himself out of a stew.

A writer says that a woman should buy a dog that suits her disposition. The next step probably will be to revise that famous phrase to read: "wine, women and song."

Now that Moscow and New York have been linked by radio, it will require a sharp ear to distinguish between static and, say, a revolution.
