CHRISTMAS "WAR CRY" PUT ON SALE HERE

Beautifully Printed Annual Edition Arrives — Adjutant Receives Over 2,000 Copies.

With Christmas less than a month away, Adjutant Joseph Heward of the local Salvation Army citadel announces receipt of 2,000 copies of the Christmas War Cry, containing 18 beautifully illustrated pages of articles and stories and three reproductions of famous scenes in the life of Christ. This issue will go on sale immediately and may be obtained at the citadel as long as the supply lasts.

The frontispiece is a drawing of a youngster loaded down with Christmas cheer from the Salvation Army. The three pictures are of "The Legend of the Christmas Rose," the incident where the Master says, "Suffer little children to come unto me," and the scene where He pleads, "Come unto me all ye that labor, and I will give you rest."

JUNIOR RED CROSS CONTRIBUTES $2.30

Youngsters Save Pennies For Fund — All 12 Members Wearing Buttons.

They call themselves the Juvenile Red Cross Club. The Club has a membership of twelve, all girls, ranging in age from four to 13 years. For the second year now they have been holding bi-weekly meetings at the home of Laura Andisio of Cottage street. To each meeting the members brought pennies they had obtained during the week, the money being turned over to a general fund. A few days ago one of their number appeared at the Red Cross headquarters at the Chamber of Commerce. She had with her $2.30 which she gravely announced "for the Red Cross," and asked for 12 buttons "so's everyone could have one."

Incidentally it was discovered that all twelve members are officers of the club. Laura Andisio is president;

Hazel Johnson, secretary; Vera Johnson, vice-president; Helen Leary, vice-secretary; and the following trustees, Norma Andisio, Eda Andisio, Alice Ryan, Betty Gaskell, Annie Washlewicz, Florence Danocsee, Olga Brozowski, and Minnie Brozowski.

The Herald Hears —

That one newspaper article dealing with the cross-country run here yesterday said that the start and finish of the race would be at 11 o'clock and that a new record might be set. . . pretty conclusive, we'd say, under those circumstances.

That 14 of the 16 young men who ran in the cross-country run here yesterday started bare-handed and finished the same, but that Joe McCuskey wore white gloves and finished anything but empty-handed.

The frame work was so well along on the Polish National church yesterday as to allow for the display of their flags, the United States flag and two Polish flags.

THANKSGIVING UNLUCKY FOR THIS LIQUOR BOAT

New London, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The week which brought Thanksgiving Day, is unlucky for the schooner Storm Petrel of New York in the opinion of Marine men here who are familiar with her experiences in 1928, and 1930, and the superstitious are agreed that it might be a very good idea for the craft's schedule to be so arranged she may be in port during the several days immediately preceding the holiday.

Tuesday night, the vessel was tossed and buffeted in the storm angrier waters of Long Island Sound and thrown on a Hen and Chickens Reef near Cornfield Point, Old Saybrook from which precarious position she was rescued by Coast Guard patrol boats. The schooner was damaged considerably.

Just before Thanksgiving Day last year, she was caught in a similar storm and damaged. She went to East Port Chester to nurse her wounds and there was the object of a Customs investigation as she had cleared from Nova Scotia. Her cargo, however, was found to be lathes.

A checkup following the arrival of the schooner, in tow of patrol boat Marion, showed four men and two women, one being the wife of the captain.

On Nov. 28, 1829, Anton Rubinstein, famous Russian pianist and composer, was born near Dubossary, Russia, of Jewish parentage. His mother commenced his musical education when he was four, but in two years he had exhausted her knowledge. At 11 he was sent to the Paris conservatory where he soon attracted the attention of Liszt and Chopin.

After giving concerts and teaching in Berlin and Vienna, Rubinstein returned to Russia in 1848 and settled in St. Petersburg. Here he came under the patronage of the Grand Duchess Helen, and for the following eight years studied and wrote assiduously. He founded a conservatory and organized a musical society. In a world concert tour undertaken when he was 58, he was hailed as one of the greatest pianists of all time.

Though Rubinstein's burning ambition was to be recognized as a great composer, his works are not consistently great. Since the beginning of the twentieth century his name has practically disappeared from the concert programs.

Seattle Leads Way For Big Chain Of City-Owned Power Plants In Far West

The diagram at the right shows Seattle's giant new hydro-electric project on the Skagit river the Gorge and Diablo dams having already been completed. At the left is the Gorge powerhouse, having a capacity of 75,000 horsepower now and 320,000 ultimately. Below is Superintendent J. D. Ross. The map shows the location of the big project.

Seattle—Seattle, pioneer in publicly-owned power in the northwest, soon will boast of a project rivaling great Boulder Dam in magnitude and mass-production of hydro-electric energy.

It is the Skagit river project, to cost ultimately $75,000,000 and to be finished in less than 15 years.

Financed from revenue bonds being retired from profits of Seattle's 28-year-old public power and light system this gigantic system will produce, when complete, a total of 1,120,000 horsepower. This is almost equal to Boulder Dam's ultimate capacity of 1,200,000; it is greater than Niagara's American output; nearly twice the power of Muscle Shoals project.

Skagit river, some 100 miles north of Seattle, will be harnessed by three great dams, Gorge, Diablo and Ruby. The first two are now complete. According to J. D. Ross, superintendent of Seattle's City Light and Power, this project will cost but $66.65 per horsepower, cheapest unit cost of any large development in America.

Since 1905 Seattle has been making and selling its own electricity. On rates said to be cheaper than any city's in the country, Seattle has created a $50,000,000 system, serves 95,000 customers, makes an annual net profit of $1,500,000. Its wires are tied in with Tacoma's city-owned plant, first publicly owned "super-power system" in America.

When the Skagit is completed Ross expects to see all the publicly-owned plants of the Pacific coast tied together in a big network for exchange of surplus and mutual aid. "It will only be a matter of time until the power of the Colorado and that of the Columbia and Skagit flow into the same reservoir," said Ross.

"The farm granges of both Oregon and Washington are campaigning for measures on the November ballot that will permit smaller cities and towns to combine for purchase or development of power. Portland has a public-ownership movement and has a filing on the Columbia. San Francisco has its Hetch Hetchy system. Los Angeles its big power project. When Boulder Dam begins pouring its power into the southwest you will see a tie-up of all these projects. It will be the first great publicly-owned super-power of American history."

Plans also are under way for harnessing the Columbia river. These plans center on the Columbia Basin project, a great reclamation scheme to be put before Congress in 1931. This will reclaim 1,800,000 acres of land and develop more than 1,000,000 horse-power of electricity.

An exhaustive report on the entire upper Columbia will be placed before Congress in July 1931 by Major John S. Butler, U. S. army district engineer.

Prairie Oil and Gas Co. has notified all companies in the greater Seminole area to whose property it is connected that it wishes to be relieved from further buying of crude oil. The company now is purchasing approximately 12,000 barrels daily.

The new Sinclair pipe line from the Chickoma City pool to serve the company's Coffeyville refinery has been completed and will be put in operation after a test. The line consists of approximately 160 miles of 12-inch pipe and 16 miles of 8-inch pipe.

The Weston Electrical Instrument Co. has notified the New York Stock Exchange that it has called for redemption on Jan. 1 at $37.50 per share, plus a dividend of 50 cents, 126,000 shares of its Class "A" stock.

J. A. MacDermott, president of United States Dairy Products Corp., estimates that gross sales of the corporation for 1930 will approximate $28,000,000, a new high record. Gross sales last year totaled $24,713,016. He said the increase results largely from acquisition of new properties since the beginning of this year.

WARD BAKING CORP. TO CHANGE DIRECTORS

New York, Nov. 28.—(AP)—The committee of stockholders of the Ward Baking Corp., which is seeking proxies to call a special meeting to elect a new management headed by George K. Morrow, chairman of the Gold Dust Corp., claims to have received authorizations from more than 51 per cent of the stockholders to effect the change.

The committee is composed of Charles Hayden, of Hayden, Stone and Co., Thomas H. McInerney, president of National Dairy Products Corp., and Edgar Palmer, chairman of the New Jersey Zinc Co.

A letter sent out by the committee Oct. 14, asking for proxies stated that the meeting would be asked to elect a new board of directors consisting of the committee members: Morrow, Randolph W. Catlin, president of the Gold Dust Corp.; Wilbur L. Cummings, L. D. Haldiman, executor of the estate of W. B. Ward; R. W. Jameson, vice-president of United Cigar Stores Co., and Frederick K. Morrow, president of United Cigar Stores Co.

Letters to stockholders said an investigation into the company's "affairs by some of its largest stockholders has convinced them that prompt action is necessary by all stockholders to save the business of the company from further serious impairment."

Directors of the company urged stockholders to disregard attempts of the Morrow group to obtain proxies to overthrow the present management.

HONOR DR. THOMSON

New York, Nov. 28.—(AP)—Dr. Eilihu Thomson, whose inventions have resulted in more than 700 patents in the electrical field, will be made an honorary member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers on Dec. 2.

Dr. Thomson is director of the Thomson Laboratory of the General Electric Company at Lynn, Mass.

The opening of that school of journalism in the Maryland penitentiary should give the boys, of course, an escape from their routine.

POLICE COURT

But two cases were presented in the Manchester police court for dissection this morning. Samuel Bolles, of Cottage street, charged with non-support, was found guilty and a jail sentence of 30 days was imposed.

The execution of the jail sentence was suspended on condition that he pay his wife $12 a week for her support and that of her child. A bond of $300 was required as a guarantee that the payment would be made. Mrs. Bolles who was the principal witness told a rather sordid story about her husband and his attentions to another girl. It was brought out that he had offered his wife the sum of $5,000 if she would give him a divorce. Bolles apparently has money left to him in trust in a Hartford bank. It is understood that the couple who have been married eight years have been separated repeatedly.

John Rossi of 138 Birch street was fined $125 and costs for driving while under the influence of liquor. His car sideswiped a car owned and driven by Selectman Albert Jackson on Union street about 10:45 last night.

In 1928 there were 7,681 national banks in the United States.

Newsboy Discards Papers To Rise As Star Jockey

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Now and then there comes along a lad who seems to be born with the instinct to handle high-spirited thoroughbreds.
Such a lad is Eugene James, 16, who up to a year ago was carrying a route for the Louisville Times. Already the old time turf fans are going back 20 years to talk about J. Lee, whose name in "tomorrow's entries" at Churchill Downs was sufficient to make them back any horse he rode.
James is getting plenty of "backing." Already during the short fall meet here, he has ridden 20 winners—almost two a day, and on one of the closing days he brought five mounts ahead.
The ex-carrier boy is under contract to Roscoe Goose, who was a rider in Lee's day. James has behind him an A-1 record as a newspaper carrier and was graduated from grammar school with the highest honors in his class.

Young James is the ideal jockey as to weight. He can only be described by the term "skinny." He hardly looks big enough for a grammar school graduate.
Learning to be a jockey has not been easy for Eugene. Besides the rigorous training he had to undergo before he was given a mount in an actual race this summer, he experienced some of the dangers a jockey has to face.
Once in a bad spill he was hurt and for a time it was feared he might not ride again.
Slight internal injuries and the loss of a few teeth, however, could not keep him out of the saddle.

EUGENE JAMES

Eugene is the son of George James, a railroad shop employe here and is just over 16 years of age.

CITY CLUB MEMBERS SEE BOXING BOUTS

EARTHQUAKE RECORDED
Washington, Nov. 28.—(AP)—An earthquake about 2,200 miles from Washington was recorded today at Georgetown University seismograph observatory. The disturbance lasted from 2:39:40 a. m. to 4 a. m. with the maximum movement at 2:53. While the direction could not be determined definitely the observatory believe the 'quake might have been in South America.

Members of the Manchester City club enjoyed four exhibition boxing bouts Wednesday night at their club rooms on Oak street. The fighters are being trained by Frankie Busch who refereed the three round exhibitions. Those who took part were Tommie Conran and Raymond Chartier; Tommie O'Neil and Tony Urbanetti; Sam Prentice, Jr. and Billy Forde; and Peter Supina vs. Tony Ambuckiewicz. It is planned to have bouts at the club regularly during the winter season.

TO REDUCE CRIME NEWS

Too many such stories have been printed recently, the decree stated and the result has been a considerable increase in suicides and law-breaking.

SENSE AND NONSENSE

Don't Find Fault
 Pray don't find fault with the man who limps
 Or stumbles along the road;
 Unless you have worn the shoes he wears
 Or struggled beneath his load.
 There may be tacks in his shoes that hurt,
 The hidden away from view,
 Or the burdens he bears placed on your back
 Might cause you to stumble, too.

Don't sneer at the man who is down today
 Unless you have felt the blow
 That caused his fall, or felt the same
 That only the fallen know.
 You may be strong, but still the blows
 That were his, if dealt to you
 In the self-same way at the self-same time,
 Might cause you to stagger, too.

Don't be too harsh with the man who sins,
 Unless you are sure, yes, doubly sure
 That you have not sins of your own.
 For you know, perhaps, if the tempter's voice
 Should whisper as soft to you
 As it did to him when he went astray
 'Twould cause you to falter, too.

Broadcasting
 Oh, my friends, it would be better
 If to those we love we gave
 Tender words while they are with us,
 Than to say them o'er a grave;

FLAPPER FANNY SAYS

Even the lightest-headed girl may have quite a weigh about her.

Loving words will cost us little
 As along thru life we go,
 Let us then make others happy—
 If you love folks, tell them so.

Walter—The secret of a happy marriage is to pick a mate with the same likes and dislikes.
 Arthur—That's the trouble—we both like each other.

Oh, the radio might be worse. We haven't heard "Valencia" played for something like six months now.

"Is that the fire station? May I speak to the captain? Oh, really? Good evening—or rather morning. Reginald Rentfree of Balmoral Mansions, Nasturtium Road speaking. Sorry to trouble you at this unholly hour but the fact is, we've a rotten fire here and we'd like you to put it out if you aren't too terribly busy."

Doctor—Sit down, sonny, you have shown good manners long enough.
 Small Boy—It ain't good manners, doctor, it's a boil.

Stickler Solution

In each case, whether the soldiers are lined up in threes, fours, fives or sixes, they always are two short of an even division. All that is needed, therefore, is to find the least common multiple of 3, 4, 5 and 6 and deduct 2. The least common multiple is 60 and 60 minus 2 is 58, or the number of soldiers in the box.

Doctor—Sit down, sonny, you have shown good manners long enough.
 Small Boy—It ain't good manners, doctor, it's a boil.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The oxen tugged and tugged some more but moved but very little for the road was simply terrible. The coach man sure was stumped. Said Clowdy, "When we were inside your coach and on our merry ride, I felt that something had gone wrong, the way the old coach bumped."

"It's too bad that our trip is marred, but let's keep pulling good and hard. If we all pull together, we may have a little luck. I'll count to three and then we all will try. Be careful, do not fall. At least this won't do any harm, as long as we are stuck."

Then, "One, two, three," he loudly cried. The Tinymites tugged and tugged and sighed. So did the kind coach driver. Shortly Copsy yelled, "Hurray! The coach is moving slowly out. We've turned the trick without a doubt! And, sure enough they pulled it free and traveled on their way.

The turn of things made all feel glad and little Carpy shortly had a hunch to sing a merry song. The others joined right in. "We're riding in a lovely coach and some nice town we'll soon approach. Whatever we start out to do, it seems we always win."

The Travel Man broke in and said, "That lovely town is just ahead. Yes, sir, there's old Gibraltar and we'll shortly stop to eat. In just a little bit they stopped and to the ground the Tinymites hopped. "Oh, see, I like this place," said one. "It's going to be a treat."

Another cried, "Oh, look out there at what is towering in the air. The big Rock of Gibraltar seems to almost reach the sky. I've read of it in lots of books, and gee, how wonderful it looks. I'd hate to have to climb up to the top. It's much too high."

(The Tinymites ride on a queer boat in the next story).

DEPOT SQUARE

TABLOID IN HERALD PROMOTES STORES IN DEPOT SQUARE AREA

Merchants Plan Big Holiday Campaign to Win Patronage—Valuable Prizes to Be Given Customers.

This tabloid newspaper, which will be issued every Friday night until Christmas as part of the regular edition of The Herald, is proof of the value which the North End merchants place on co-operative advertising. And as a further proof of their whole-hearted endorsement of co-operative advertising, the merchants announce a Profit Sharing Plan with a list of six valuable prizes to be drawn Christmas Eve.

The Plan
The plan is as follows: Starting tomorrow morning one chance will be given with each purchase of twenty-five cents at the stores of co-operating merchants, who will be known by a large placard displayed in their windows. The prizes will be displayed in a prominent window on Depot Square.

The Prizes
The value of the prizes totals $212.00. The first prize will be a fully complete Bosch radio, valued at $137, second prize will be a cedar chest, valued at $25, third prize will be cash of $20, fourth prize a wagon valued at $10, fifth prize will be cash of $10, and sixth prize will be a doll carriage valued at $10.

Read the Advs.
Here is a chance to obtain something for nothing, which in these times, borders on a miracle. Peruse these advs carefully, in them you will find astounding bargains in merchandise. It takes but a glance at these pages to prove that prices are lower now than ever before. By buying now you save money.

22 Days Left
Only twenty-two shopping days remain until Christmas. And the closer the holiday gets, the higher prices will go in accordance with the demand. Naturally the same thing to do is to buy now. At the same time you obtain chances to win any of these six valuable prizes which the north end merchants are offering in exchange for your patronage. If the prizes are something you can find no use for yourself, remember that everyone would make a suitable gift for someone.

Solves Problem
The success of the North End Dollar Day, held recently, has convinced the merchants in that section of Manchester, that co-operative advertising is logical, that it brings results. And so this tabloid newspaper comes to you. Regard it as but a slip of paper and it is absolutely valueless to you. But think of it as the solution of your shopping problem, as the open sesame as to where and what you should buy, and its value cannot be over estimated. Within these pages can be found a gold mine of values, and not even the most foolish would overlook a gold mine.

Fine Gifts
The prizes offered contain universal appeal. Who has not longed to possess a radio, that magical instrument that has the power to transport one into a fairyland of joy and delight? And this Bosch radio is one of the finest to be had on the market. What more sensible gift could be given a newly wed, a bride, or a bride to be, than a Cedar Chest? Such an article would find welcome in any home, for its uses are manifold.

Kiddies' Prizes
The third and fifth prizes are cash, which recommend themselves. To win either means an additional sum to spend this Christmas, or to save. The fourth prize of a wagon and the last prize of a doll carriage find their appeal among the youngsters. A wagon to give a boy many hours of coasting and to make that errand to the store a pleasure. And what little girl hasn't yearned for a doll carriage for her "baby," no matter how ragged and forlorn that baby may be.

Buy Now
It's up to each and everyone interested in bargains to take advantage of this Profit Sharing Plan. Now, that the paper is in your hands, turn the pages to the advertisements here-in. And if by any chance you happen to have a newspaper of a year or so ago, compare prices. The contrast will be startling. It will cause you to follow the advice offered here: Don't buy, bye and bye, buy now.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT ON SQUARE STRONG

Loyalty To Section Stands Out — Devoted Boosters In North End—Back Up Fellow Citizens Ardently.

That section of Manchester that centers about Depot Square and familiarly known as the North End presents one of the best examples of community spirit Manchester as a whole affords. The town, divided geographically as it is into several communities, has many splendid examples of this community or district loyalty, but few that equal the "never say die" spirit around Depot Square.

In All Phases

This loyalty extends not only into social and sporting activities, but into economic and commercial phases of life. North end youngsters will fight to the limit for the glory of their community in baseball or football. North end citizens will constantly talk and think the upbuilding of their district. North end business men are ever alert to prevent the best possible reasons to patrons why they should shop on Depot Square.

In Sports

It is only natural that this almost excessive community spirit should be in evidence largely through sports. Especially in football does the North End resident prove his loyalty. This year is a shining example of this community patriotism since the Depot Square merchants and residents of the Eighth district are squarely behind the Majors football team which is striving for a town championship for the first time in three years. They hire a band, they hold a parade, they form a cheering squad and they turn out in droves to support their team.

Even in Politics

This same spirit is evident in the political affairs of the town. When the rest of the town was talking districts consolidation the Depot Square faction was watching to see that the interests of the north end were fully protected. When the town goes to the polls to vote the north end turns out loyally to support any candidates it may have on the ticket.

The Cause

Many have tried to learn the cause of this spirit of unity that pervades the section which has so often been referred to as "God's country across the tracks." However, it seems that the loyalty displayed is simply a question of growth. The Square area is just large enough to be able to support a good strong organization behind any movement and it has not yet grown to the size when such spirit, devotion or organization are too cumbersome. Most everybody knows the other fellow in the north end and that alone means much in maintaining this spirit.

There is no such place as North Manchester. This was legal, however, at one time, the northenders petitioning for a change, forcing the Green section to tack on the "Green" to distinguish between the two sections.

SAND STORM IN FRANCE

Paris, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—A sand storm, quite common in the Sahara but hitherto unheard of in France, struck Paris today.

The northern part of the city was especially affected and pedestrians, automobiles and roof tops were powdered with sand. A rain which began immediately afterward added to the discomfort.

Meteorological experts said the sand had been carried all the way across the Mediterranean by a southwesterly wind.

FIDACS LAY WREATHS

London, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—In commemoration of the founding of Fidac, the international organization of World War veterans, wreaths were placed on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Westminster Abbey today by Admiral Earl Jellicoe and Ambassador Charles G. Dawes representing respectively the British and American Legions.

Wanted: A Name

Just think of it, we haven't a name for this tabloid edition of The North End Merchant's Division of The Chamber of Commerce. We thought that a pretty serious situation until we recalled that all of us were born into this serious old world in just the same situation—no name. Couldn't be helped in many cases—you know "Pa and Ma" didn't know whether to select a girl's name or a boy's name so they just put off the naming until we were in evidence and then came the contest. "Ma" wanted it named after her side of the house, "Pa" was pretty sure it was his family that made life more worth while in this vale of joy or tears and so the compromise of oft times opening up the family bible and selecting the name that came across the vision first.

We're no better off that "Pa or Ma" and perhaps not so well situated, you see a great many of the North End Merchants division are supporting this insert special edition which will appear as a weekly supplement to The Herald on each Friday night during the coming winter season and so we thought the best way out of the dilemma was to allow our customers and readers to select a name for our creation.

It's simple to do this, just select a name you think would be appropriate for such a supplement as this, it must be short and descriptive, place the name on an ordinary card or sheet of stationery, mail the same to "The North End Merchants' Contest" in care of The Manchester Chamber of Commerce, South Manchester, Conn. All names to be considered must be postmarked or in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce as of Thursday, December 4, 1930, not later than 12, noon, of that day.

A committee of three disinterested persons will select the best name for this insert supplement and the winner will receive for his or her efforts a prize of a $2.50 gold piece.

A chance to win a prize of $2.50 in gold and if you will pursue the advertising pages of this edition each week you will find real values offered for even as low an amount as the prize offer.

This edition is an innovation as far as group advertising is concerned in Manchester and we hope you will find it both instructive and entertaining, it being the plan of the committee in charge of its issuance to incorporate items of current activities in many endeavors with its advertising pages.

Remember Thursday, December fourth at noon is the last day to submit your title.

Signed:
Edward J. Murphy.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Manchester night has been as big a city as Schenectady, N. Y., if the Mather Electric Company had not been moved from Manchester.

The first electric motor built in Manchester by Professor Anthony now reposes in the Cornell University laboratory. It was built in the plant now occupied by the Orford Soap company.

Who remembers the Manchester Wheel Club? Rooms on the third floor of the Balch and Brown building attracted some of the north end's best known men every Saturday night for setback and pool games.

Depot Square has been the scene of many a heart-rending occasion. From the railroad station there many Manchester soldiers left for war. One of the most memorable of these scenes was when Company G left for the border in 1915 as the Salvation Army band played "God Be With You 'Til We Meet Again."

It's not so many years ago when the busy, thriving Depot Square area was the scene of baseball and football games right where the two parklets are now located.

POLISH YOUR CAR

Newark, N. J., Nov. 28.—(AP.)—Have your car polished while its parked and help the unemployed. The latest scheme to give men work was devised today by August Yates, jobless chauffeur. He organized squads of six men, each armed with rags and polish, to go forth to brighten dingy autos. The job costs $1. Each of the six men collects fifteen cents and ten cents goes for polish and rags.

Yates estimated each man could make $18 a week.

NICKEL WEDDING

Council Bluffs, Iowa, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—For two years Donald Heflin, 23, and Lela Gaskill, 22, saved their nickels against the day when they would be married. The day arrived and they were married on nickels. They counted out 50 nickels to pay for their marriage license at the city clerk's office and they counted another batch of nickels to pay the Rev. A. C. Bonham for performing the ceremony. Lela, a waitress, saved her nickels from tips. Donald's were just change. He is a railroad locomotive hostler. Both are still

DEPOT SQUARE ALMOST MISSED HAVING DEPOT!

Railroad Officials Planned To Put Station At Parker Village.— North Enders Gave Land For Building.

As South Manchester narrowly missed the opportunity of owning a college many years ago, when the application for an institution to have been located in the neighborhood of Center Park was turned down, so in like manner did Manchester narrowly miss becoming a town, as towns are known today.

Business Elsewhere

It all happened in the early days before the coming of the railroad at a time when the Green, Parker and Union Villages were flourishing. At that time the business of the town was done along the stage line from Hartford to Bolton which split the heart of the Green. The old mills at Parker's Village and at Union Village on the shore of Union Pond were the centers of industrial life. Manchester, as an industrial community, had not as yet reached the point where it could dictate in any sense the future improvements of the community.

Visioned Center

There were men in those days, as there are today, who were dreamers and who after looking into the future saw the possibilities of a town at the head of Main street where Depot Square is now located. At the time North Main street was but a crooked lane, skirting the low lands along the Hockanum river and coming up again to the high ground as it approached the Buckland tobacco farms.

First Railroad

Shortly before 1833 this group of Manchester men, John Mather, Royal S. White, Samuel Kellogg, Solomon Porter and Henry Hudson, incorporated the Manchester Railway Company. Their charter gave the right to construct, equip and operate a railroad between Hartford and Bolton Notch.

H. P. and F.

Money was scarce in those days, and it was years before enough capital could be interested in the railroad. The incorporators revived the charter from time to time until it was taken over by the Hartford, Providence and Fishkill Railroad in 1849. This company began at once the construction of the road.

Decide On Station

After a survey of the section the railroad officials decided to locate the depot at Parker Village, a busy little village, near to the Green where a thriving village was in progress of development. Those who had been instrumental in interesting the railroad to put a line through Manchester saw their dream of a station at the head of Main street passed unless some unusual pressure was brought to bear on the railroad officials.

Gave the Land

They got together and organized the Manchester Improvement Association and bought the land where the present station is located, and deeded it to the railroad. The land surrounding the station, now Depot Square, is a part of that land originally given the railroad as an inducement to locate the depot in Manchester.

Developed

This proved to be the cheapest investment ever made in town from an industrial standpoint, for, from the date of the erection of the depot at the head of Main street, Manchester, as an industrial community, continued to develop and soon outdistanced all the other villages in this respect.

Business Thrives

The new depot, which in 1850 made Manchester the business center of the town, caused the steady growth of commercial interests along North Main street. Stores were built and many large stables and grain stores were located adjacent to the railroad yards. The cheapening of transportation charges was marked acceleration to industry, especially, in Manchester, due to the proximity to the freight yards. During the years immediately following the coming of the railroad and the erection of the depot at the North End the Pacific Manufacturing Company erected two mills, one at the Green and another at the North End later occupied by the Lydall and Foulds Company. A new cotton mill was put into operation by the Union Manufacturing Company in 1854. Mills were built by the Rogers Paper Company in 1849, 1852 and 1860, within ten years of the coming of the railroad.

Brought Success

The present industrial and commercial growth of Manchester must therefore be credited to those men with vision who saw what the coming of the railroad and the erection of the depot at Manchester would accomplish for the betterment of all and who backed up their dream with real American dollars in bringing success to themselves and many others.

BANK CLOSES

Benton, Ill., Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The First National Bank of Benton, unable to meet the demands of depositors, closed its doors today. It was the second to close in three months and left the city without a bank. The Illinois Bank and Trust Company failed to open September 26 because of frozen assets.

COMMUNITY CENTER PLANS DEVELOPING

Hopes of North End Residents For Fine Group of Buildings Soon To Be Realized.

For many years the land formerly owned by William Hamlin Childs on which the "White House" otherwise known as the Manchester Community Club stands has been undeveloped. The land in question fronting on North Main street from the East end of the business section of Manchester, extending to Oakland street has a considerable depth. Many enterprising Manchester residents have hoped the time would come when a group of community buildings would be erected on this land near by the business center of town.

Y. M. C. A. Building

With the announcement of the organization of a Manchester Y. M. C. A. and the receipt of plans for a building to be devoted to the improvement of the conditions of the youth of Manchester, those who have long worked for a recreational center for the North End will soon see their hopes realized. Through the bequests of the Morton and Whiton wills, not only will the Y. M. C. A. building which will be begun next spring, cater to the interests of the youth, but to the Manchester citizens as a whole when a new library building will be erected in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A.

ROSE BOWL GAME

Los Angeles, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The University of Alabama today was extended an invitation to represent the East in the annual New Year's football game at the Pasadena Rose Bowl. Earl Foster, graduate manager of Washington State College, the representative of the West, extended the invitation to the Crimson eleven.

EXPELS ITALIAN AVIATOR

Berne, Switzerland, Nov. 28.—(AP.)—The federal council today decided to expel from Switzerland Giovanni Bassanesi, Italian anti-Fascist aviator, at the expiration of his four months' prison sentence. Bassanesi was convicted of violating Swiss flying regulations in taking off from Swiss soil on a flight over Milan, Italy, where he dropped anti-Fascist pamphlets. The council ruled he had "abused Swiss hospitality."
