It will be confucted by mail one week after the first examination. A fee of $15 will be charged to each person who takes the examination. This fee, the AAAA points out, is to cover costs, and is considerably lower than that usually charged for aptitude testing alone. All young men and women interested in taking this test should write to the American Association of Advertising Agencies, 1206 Statler Building, Boston, request-ing application blanks. These requests must be post-marked no later than May 8. Since testing facilities are limited, not all applicants can be accepted. Application Blanks will be carefully screened, and the ac cepted candidates will be notifie by mail. The test will not be avail able to those who are already work ing for advertising agencies.
