Mr. Bramley spoke on the re ationship of social and religious prejudices to international relations and ways we can work towards international peace. He said in effect, we should learn to facing the governments represent-ed, and in that way we would soon realize that their decisions are the most acceptable. We were remind-ed that we, as a white race are a "minority race" and as ruthlessly as we judge, so are we judged, and that international unity can only be achieved when we accept one another as humans, disregarding race and religion, but rather recognizing human and equal rights for all peoples. Displayed were miniature flags of each member nation, also the United Nations flag, of which he said, "This is my flag, I hope it is yours." Crush garlie with salt in a bowl (a fork does a good mashing job), then mix with the bread crumbs thoroughly. Spread crumbs on a large tray and heat in a 200F or allow oven until dry and slightly erise. Meanwhile, chop enions, green pepper and celery fine (use the leaves, too). Heat hutter or margarine in a skillet and coak the chopped vegetables about 5 minutes. Stir frequently. Remove from heat, add sliced ellives and chopped paraley and mix all the vegetables with the bread crumbs. Add herbs, aslt and pepper and mix thoroughly.

Some say beer is best...others prefer ale. Here's how to get the best of each!

ALE is produced with a different type of yeast from beer and is hopped for the ale flavor. Since 1774 Schmidt's Tiger Head Ale has been famous for its flavor.

BEER is more mellow due to its particular type of yeast and less hopping. For over 90 years Schmidt's Beer has been preferred by millions because it's beer as beer should be.

BEER OR ALE?...It's a matter of preference! May we suggest that you try both and choose the one that appeals to your taste. From then on, drink your choice of Schmidt's brews, and you will always be contented.

Men Are All Made of Same Material But Different

Maybe or not Uncle Nat who writes in the Monthly Matrix publication of New York has something the women will listen to. We don't know. Here is how the humorist describes those things that women marry. They have two hands, two feet and sometimes two wives, but never more than one idea or collar at a time.

Like cigarettes, men are all made from the same material—only difference being that some are rough puffs, and others are king size. Men are divided into three classes, Husband, Bachelor and Widower.

A bachelor is a mass of obstinacy surrounded by suspicion. A husband is a mass of mispicion surrounded by obstinacy. A widower is a man who may think he has buried his mistake. Men come general in three categories, prizes, surprises and consolation prizes.

A man is peculiar. Women! If you flatter him, it frightens him to death. If you don't he's bored to death. If you let him make love to you he tries in the end. If you don't he tries in the beginning. If you believe everything he tells you don't he thinks you cynical. If you wear gay clothes, lipstick and an unique hat, he heatitates to take you out, and if you wear a simple hat, no rouge and plain clothes, he takes you out and stares at the women with gay clothes, lipstick and unique hats.

If you join him in his parties and approve of his smoking and drinking he swears you are driving him to the devil, and if you don't approve he swears you are driving him to the devil, and if you don't approve he swears you are driving him crasw If you line to him he was a line to the counter)—
