"Always do what is honest, fair and sincere and in the best interests of our customers."

During his lifetime, George Huntington Hartford faithfully followed that policy. It was the basis en which he opened and operated, in downtown New York, the modest little store which was the lore-runner of your A&P. Today, serving over six million valued customers daily, your A&P continues to operate on that same policy. And we'll strive to maintain it as long as there's an A&P.
