Cuba Pastimes Nipped by Law Curbing Insults

Havana, Cuba, Aug. 13 (49) Two of the favorite pastimes in Cuba for generations are now banned by law. One of them was insulting the Cuban government; the other was thinking up new offensive phrases for the heads of other govern-ments, chiefly in the Caribbean and Latin America. But now insults to the head of any friendly foreign state, or its diplomatic agent or representative, or any other foreigner entitled to consideration as a representative, are prohibited. he law applies to those who "in any manner defame, insult or

"The eight public members will be given considerable cooperation by the administration and will receive broad powers by the Prestident's direction." Hagerty said.

He declined to specify what the powers would be but emphasized, in reply to a question, that the new committee will deal only with any job discrimination in connection with government contracts.

Asked also why Eisenhower felt it was necessary to set up the new committee in view of the existing requirement for non-discriminaon clauses in federal contracts,
