Chamoun's Troops Battle Four Hours with Rebels

troops in the Bekaa Valley in Central Lebanon. The rebels, who were still quiet at mid-morning after several hours of firing yesterday, Chamoun had predicted Tuesday that leaders of the 48-day-old rebellion against his government would launch a full-scale assault within 48 hours.

In South Lebanon a land mine blew up a U.N. patrol jeep, slightly wounding an Indian observer. Another U.N. observer in the jeep was not hurt. The mine was the third U.N. man wounded since the observer group came to Lebanon two weeks ago. Hammarskjold flew back to New York carrying an urgent request from Ferner Sami Solh for the U.N. to send an emergency force to Lebanon. An official press release said that the Secretary-General's one-week visit to Hammarskjold for an armed international force to observe the present corps of less than 100 observers and seal Lebanon's borders against aid and reinforcements to the rebels from the neighboring Syrian province of the United Arab Republic.

Hammarskjold, due in New York today, was expected to relay the request to the security council, which established the observer group June 11 to check on the Lebanese charges of U.A.R. intervention. The rebels have let the observers even get near most of the borders.

The probability of a Soviet veto in the Security Council of any police force proposal caused western diplomats at U.N. headquarters to predict an emergency session of the General Assembly would be called.

The assembly could act without a veto to send in international troops. But whether it could act in time to do Chamoun's government any good was another matter. Chamoun said yesterday that if the U.N. failed to help him, he may call on the United States and Britain to provide direct aid under the U.N. charter provision for collective defense.

Hisna has waged against either a U.N. Emergency Force for Lebanon or direct U.S.-British intervention.

This direct request from Chamoun to Washington and London would present the two nations with a hard choice between supporting the unknown risk from Riasta, or by refusing to act and take the chance of seeing Jordan and Iraq as well as Lebanon swing to the side of U.A.R. President Nasser.

The spokesman for several potential groups opposing Chamoun's former Premier Sabh Salam, said his forces will rest even an attempt to increase the rebel side's force. The force now numbers less than 100 uparmed men.

The heaviest firing yesterday was on the outskirts of the old Bekaa section of Beirut. Salam's forces firmly entrenched inside this section fired down the long avenue into the city's main square.

Other firing and bomb explosions erupted in Ashrafieh, the Christian quarter in the eastern part of this Mediterranean port city. The shooting died down later, with the rebels claiming tactical tenacity for the next outbreak.

Oldsters Feted By I-A Club

The four oldest members of the Italian-American Club proved last night that they are still young at heart. Bartolomeo Pupila, 85, the oldest member, demonstrated to Michael Valenti, left, John Pirato, and Antonio Moriconi, right, all 82, how he used to play bocce in his younger days. The four were honored at a banquet at the club home attended by 120 people. The president, Paul Correnti, presented bouillabaisse to each of the four oldsters. (Herald Photo by Saterini.)

Andover Back Taxes Plague Town

Tax collector Mrs. Helen Parks has announced that unpaid back taxes for the year 1957-58 amount to $4,500, a larger amount than usual.

Those who are behind in their taxes are urged to make partial payments if the complete amount cannot be settled now. It is difficult to determine whether the large backlog is due to layoffs connected with recession.

Taxes for the first quarter of 1958-59 will be due July 1, and payable without interest until August 1. Mrs. Parks said. Payments will be based on a 56 tax mill rate, a reduction of 8 mills from last year.

Mrs. Parks will be at the Bureau-Skinner Memorial Library each Saturday in July from 2 to 5 p.m. to accept payments. Those who are unable to make their payments by mail or at the library may call at her home on Old State Rd. within reasonable hours.

Rottner Wins 16-12, Primary Ruled Out

Atty. John S. G. Rottner, the absentee candidate, won the Republican nomination for State Senator from the Fourth Senatorial District last night but not until his supporters who had predicted an easy win for him experienced a few last minutes.

Rottner defeated State Rep. Elmer Mortensen of Newington by a vote of 16 to 12 at the District's convention at the Wetherfield Country Club in Wetherfield.

But he did not do it without help from the chairman, Mortensen's home town of Newington. John L. McKendree, And his victory was supported by a vote of 16 to 12 at the District's convention at the Wetherfield Country Club in Wetherfield.

Area Polls Give Dodd 9 or 14 over Bowles

The Fourth District's 48 Democratic State Convention delegates favor Thomas Dodd by from nine to 14 votes over Chester Bowles in the 3-way race for the party's nomination for U.S. Senator.

State Central Committee Chairman James Fitzgerald of East Hartford said yesterday a poll of the District's delegates showed Dodd with the support of 30 delegates and Bowles with 18. William Benton, the Bowles supporter, can count on only two both from Manchester, according to Fitzgerald.

The committee's poll put three votes each from South Windsor and Rocky Hill in Dodd's column. However, a Manchester Herald check of the eight town chairmen this week showed South Windsor undecided and one of Rocky Hill's three votes going to either Benton or Bowles.

The results of the two polls differ by other respects.

The largest concentration of Dodd support in this section of his home Hartford County is in East Hartford, whose 11-member delegation, Fitzgerald says, favors the former Congressman over Bowles by a margin of 10 to 1.

Manchester Split
The 11-member Manchester delegation is split three ways, with five for Dodd, four for Bowles and two for Benton, according to Town Chairman Rocky Hill. Finally, the split was believed to have been put on the state as Bowles supporter has since disclosed had been in favor of Bowles.

Tax Payment Due July 1st

Collector of Revenue Paul Cervelli reported today the first installment on taxes on the 1957 grand list is due July 1.

Bills were sent out June 6, Cervelli said, and over $400,000 has already been collected. He urged residents to send in proper bills with their payment to speed delinquency.

First payment becomes delinquent Aug. 1. The second due Jan. 1, 1959, will become delinquent Feb. 1 of that year.

Interest is assessed from the date at the rate of 1/2 of one per cent per month or fraction of a month.

The rate bill has been prepared on the 1957 list of 31 mills for the town and 2 1/2 mills for the special taxing district created as the result of the consolidation of the South Manchester Fire Department with the town.

Taxes are payable at Cervini's office in the Municipal Building from nine to five o'clock Monday through Friday.

Eyebrows Lift At Statement Mayor Makes

Mayor Harold A. Turkington's surprising speech by City Council, G. R. Rottner, had an added thrill of interest for Manchester delegates and observers at the State Republican Convention in Waterbury.

He came easily in his remarks when he was saying how pleased he was to be at the convention, attending conventions was something the pressure of his business affairs had not permitted him in the 12 years he has been in politics, he said.

Then he said his attendance last night was particularly meaningful now that "I am getting to the end of this political career."

Coming on top of his continued reference concerning his plans for running for reelection to the Board of Directors—he is the only Republican on the Board who hasn't yet declared his intention—the remark immediately set off approval.

Meanwhile, the Manchester Republican Club, which is holding its annual convention at the home of Mrs. W. Burr Shepard, 19 Edgemoor St., is holding its annual convention at the home of Mrs. W. Burr Shepard, 19 Edgemoor St.

Science Books Answer to Diet-Cholesterol Question. One of the most difficult subjects to discuss today is the relationship between a certain kind of blood vessel disease and cholesterol in the diet.

It is known that certain fat related substances, including a chemical known as cholesterol, are deposited in the walls of our arteries and that when these deposits reach a certain stage they may interfere with the circulation of blood.

It is also known that this blood is higher in some people than in others and that this appears to be related, at least to some degree, to the speed of such deposits in the arteries.

The big question is whether the blood cholesterol, and the rate of deposit of this and related substances in walls of the arteries, can be favorably influenced either by what we eat or by other measures.

Weddings

Cotnoir Cox

Miss Barbara Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cox of Vernon, and Donald Cotnoir, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cotnoir of Hampton, Mass., were united in marriage June 7 in St. Bernard's Church. Following the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Richard Fontaine, a reception was held at the Vernon Grange Hall.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle fashioned with a lace Peter Pan collar, an illusion yoke and long tapered lace sleeves. The fitted basque bodice of lace cascaded into a full bodifast skirt with ladyfinger inserts of Chantilly lace on nylon tulle. Her fingertip veil of illusion was draped from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a cascade of white carnations.

The groom wore a tuxedo with a white shirt and a red carnation corsage.

The couple left on a trip to Washington and Virginia. They will make their home at 198 Hilliard St. in Manchester.

Car Wrecked, Driver Served Serious Hurt

A Massachusetts woman escaped serious injury last night when her foreign sports car was demolished in a 2-car accident at Adams and Hilliard Sts.

Miss Arlene M. Newton, 20 of East Hampton, was treated at Manchester Memorial Hospital for a cut forehead and later released. Police said that Miss Newton, driving north on Adams St., disregarded the stop sign and was hit broadside by a car operated by Eugene Bushy, 30 of 21 Canterbury St., driving west on Hilliard St.

Patrolman Emanuel Mojala questioned the woman at the hospital and charged her with a stop sign violation. Released under $25 bonds, she is scheduled to appear in Town Court Monday.

Patrolman Mojala said that Bushy's car was heavily damaged. Both cars were towed from the scene. The street light at the intersection was out, police said.

Lifer Loses Plea

Hartford, June 26 (AP)—James J. Carron, 30, New Britain, will continue to serve his life term in the state prison Superior Court Judge Joseph W. Bogdanek yesterday denied a writ of habeas corpus petition by Carron which claimed his constitutional rights were violated after his arrest. Carron said he was insane when he shot and killed his estranged wife in 1957.

He pleaded guilty to second degree murder and received a life term. Bogdanek ruled there was no merit to Carron's contentions.
