Teachers Federation Raps CEA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Connecticut Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, has censured another teaching organization, the Connecticut Education Assn.

The censure came yesterday as both groups held meetings in various places throughout the state. The CFT, meeting in Waterbury, accused the CEA of "actively and vehemently" opposing measures which the CFT backed in this year's legislative session.

The AFL-CIO group also passed several other resolutions, one of which said educational television teachers should be paid "to the same extent as television personalities of equivalent programs."

The Connecticut Education Assn. meantime, broke up into 28 discussion groups throughout the state. Talks and panel discussions were held on the subjects of music, English, mathematics, nursing, language, library science, art and other topics.

The discussions were held in Fairfield County and in the Hartford area. Earlier 1,500 of the CEA's members gathered at Hartford for a mass meeting to start the day.

Public school children were excused from classes while the teachers held their conventions.

While the Connecticut Education Assn. discussed a variety of topics, the Connecticut Federation of Teachers passed resolutions and elected officers.

The group denounced merit pay increases for teachers as impractical and unworkable, urged written policies for handling differences between teachers groups and boards of education; suggested that psychological services be increased to help in school discipline problems; and urged that teachers receive more and clearer information about retirement.

In its censure resolution, the CFT charged that the CEA opposed these proposals in the last legislature by the CFT:

Acts advocating a 30-minute, duty-free, and uninterrupted lunch period for all teachers, a $4,000 minimum, $12,000 maximum

Police Reopen Probe of Death By 'Vigilantes'

Montpelier, Vt., Oct. 31 (AP)—State police have opened a new investigation of the death of a busy dairy farmer, Orville Gibson, 47, who authorities say was slain Dec. 31, 1957 by "vigilante" action of fellow townsmen.

The police kept mum about their activities, but the widow, Mrs. Evelyn Gibson, said her brother-in-law, Freeman R. Placey, was subjected to a de-lector test in a 3-hour trip to headquarters here.

Mrs. Gibson said three troopers also called on her, but when she told them she had visitors they said they would return another time.

She disclosed both she and Placey were among the 50 or more Newbury residents given the de-lector tests in the initial investigation in the spring of 1958 after Gibson's trussed body was found March 26 in the Connecticut River.

Two Newbury men, Robert O. Welch, 46, and Francis W. Carpenter, 44, later were indicted for the Gibson murder. The state charged Gibson was the victim of a community "vigilante" action as a punishment for allegedly being his elderly hired man on the preceding Christmas Day for spilling two cans of milk.

Welch won a directed verdict of acquittal after a 10-day trial. The state then dismissed the murder indictment against Carpenter.

The renewed investigation got underway after a group of nine residents of Bradford, seven miles from Newbury, filed a complaint.

Merchant Paid $10,000 To Put Man on TV Quiz

Allentown, Pa., Oct. 31 (AP)—Max Hess, the owner of a large department store, said last night that he paid $10,000 to help get a former employe on the television quiz show, "64,000 Questions."

He explained this to a reporter (for the Allentown Morning Call) in revealing that he had been subpoenaed to appear Monday before a House subcommittee investigating the rigging of quiz shows.

"It was worth every cent of the money," said Hess, who is president of Hess Brothers Department Store, "because it proved to be a highly talked about program which focused the public eye on Hess Brothers and the city of Allentown."

Hess said he was subpoenaed to appear before the legislative oversight subcommittee to explain the role he played in getting Kenneth Hoffer on the quiz show.

Hoffer, of Reading, appeared

He hasn't a ghost of a chance. Haunted by the prospect of technological unemployment, this specter sits dejected in Center Park, awaiting without enthusiasm the dusk of another unprosperous Halloween. Contemporary living has robbed the sprite of status. (Herald Photo by O'Hara)

Starch Gone from Shroud Pity the Poor Ghost; Can't Find Good Job

NOTE—Chalk up a victory for the inexorable march of civilization. The poor ghost, with all the refinements of modern living arrayed against him, he can't get in a good night's haunting any more. Here is a rundown of the main grips of wraiths.

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—This Halloween if you meet a ghost in willed winding sheet, barely able to mutter a boo, be charitable. Shattered windowpanes, clattering shutters, staircases with squeaking steps, rat-infested attic, moldy cellar, sprawling grounds overgrown with weeds and bushes, Grand, brooding trees beating branches against the roof.

What does a haunt want? A huge, gloomy rambling house, shattered windowpanes, clattering shutters, staircases with squeaking steps, rat-infested attic, moldy cellar, sprawling grounds overgrown with weeds and bushes, Grand, brooding trees beating branches against the roof.

What does a haunt get? Carpet with rans-type house attached, tiny, trim yard dominated by the smallest imp comfortably toasted. If there's a basement, it's filled with table tennis equipment and automatic washers, enough to dampen any blithe spirit.

That's why life, as it were, is so ghostly for the ghostly.

For one thing, you can't expect a specter to do without stairs. Consider the humiliation of an apparition doomed to haul a single level house after a successful career of terrorizing households with his slodging up and down, up and down flights of stairs all night long.

And what about the playful phantom who likes to peel-a-boo out of closets. Assuming he lo-ates one, no mean feat in some cottages—likely as not he can't find hovering room in the jam-packed cubbyhole, no matter how thinly he spreads his ectoplasm.

The status-seeking shade who penetrates a penthouse heur p. dispirited soon enough. He can't even find pots and pans to rattle. In ultra-modern kitchens, builtins and sliding panels carefully conceal evidence of cookery, completely mystifying even the ghost brought up on secret passageways and hidden doors of medieval castles.

And if all this weren't enough to move a wraith to wrath, modern technology is foiling the tried and true tricks of the trade.

Spookaroo in First Spokane, Wash., Oct. 31 (AP)—The 33 odds, Mack, don't give you the tip off, I'm trying to treat you right — no tricks. The spirits tell me, Mack, you'll be out-of-this-world at the Halloween Day meet at Playfair Race Track here.

"Spookaroo in the first race, Mack, spookaroo."

Headless Man Due Tonight in Hudson Valley

By TOM TURLEY Kinderhook, N. Y., Oct. 31 (AP)—Tis Halloween, and while ghosts and goblins terrorize the rest of the country tonight, children in the Hudson Valley will listen for the Headless Horseman.

For the lofty hills along the drowsy Hudson River, conceal the locale of Washington Irving's famous Legend of Sleepy Hollow.

Despite the fact that Irving named Tarrytown as the scene of his celebrated tale, residents of Kinderhook stoutly maintain the author drew his characters from this neighborhood.

As a young man, they say, Irving visited this area and later used local personalities to people his frightening but comical story of Ichabod Crane, the scarecrow school teacher who wooed and lost Katrina Van Tassel to Brom Bones.

Haunted houses, haunted bridges and haunted fields pervade the area's superstitions. But the commander in chief of all the night-time prowlers is the Headless Horseman, whose encounter with Ichabod has become a part of American folklore.

Of the horseman, Irving wrote: "It is said by some to be the

High Court Will Hear USW Plea

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Supreme Court has agreed to hear the Steelworker Union's appeal of a Taft-Hartley law injunction that would send the striking steelworkers back to work for 80 days.

This means the 100-day-old strike will continue at least until next week, when the court makes a decision on whether to let the injunction stand. The Court set Tuesday for oral arguments.

The High Court's action yesterday was a triumph for the union, which is attacking the basic constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley strike-ending procedures. The process has never had a review by the Supreme Court in its 12 years of existence.

The government contends the strike is affecting national health and safety. It fought the union's request for a review, saying the constitutional arguments are "clearly without merit" and "there is no need for further review by this court."

If the Supreme Court had declined to hear the case, it would have left standing the ruling of a Philadelphia Appeals Court that the injunction is legal and valid. The Appeals Court had upheld the original decision of a Pittsburgh federal judge who issued the injunction.

But the Appeals Court, while ruling against the union, allowed the strike to continue until the union could take the issue to the highest court. The nine justices now have extended this period of grace until they hand down their ruling.

The union wants the strike to continue because it feels it is at least beginning to hurt the big steel companies badly. Union president David J. McDonald ar-

Officials Fear 1,500 Dead in Mexico Storm

Mexico City, Oct. 31 (AP)—Twin threats of hunger and disaster hung over thousands of survivors in the hurricane and flood-stricken states of Colima and Jalisco today.

Officials feared the final death count from Tuesday's giant storm and the floods that followed may be at least 1,500 bodies already have been recovered.

Large sections of the disaster area are still isolated. High waters blocked roads to many villages and residents had to depend on air drops by light planes and helicopters for food and medical supplies.

Tent villages were hastily thrown up to take care of the injured and homeless in the two hardest hit communities—the Pacific port of Manzanillo and the mining town of Minatitlan.

At least three people were killed in the village of La Parota near Minatitlan reportedly was wiped out by flood waters, and 50 of the 51 inhabitants killed.

Officials said nearly 300 bodies had been counted in Manzanillo where an estimated 80 per cent of the homes were crushed by the storm. The port city has a population of 15,000.

Medical teams inoculated long lines of Manzanillo residents for tetanus and typhoid. They gave

Physical Checkup Report Ike Has Bronchitis, Fog, Drizzle Excellent Otherwise

Washington, Oct. 31 (AP)—President Eisenhower's doctors today confirmed he has mild chronic bronchitis but said that otherwise he "continues to maintain an excellent state of health."

The physicians issued a medical bulletin shortly after a medical checkup of Walter Reed Army hospital where he underwent his annual physical checkup.

The 69-year-old President told reporters in Augusta, Ga., last week that he had developed chronic bronchitis during the last three years.

Today's medical bulletin said regarding Eisenhower's head-to-toe examination at Walter Reed:

"The results of these all inclusive studies shows that the President continues to maintain an excellent state of health, with the exception of a persistent mild tracheo-bronchitis."

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters in response to questions that the medical phrase could be translated into chronic bronchitis.

Hagerty added that Eisenhower's physicians had told him that "whenever possible it would be helpful for him to get into warmer climates, preferably dry."

Responding to another question, Hagerty said Eisenhower had no present plans to go to such a climate at this time.

The President went to Palm Springs, Calif., late last month in an effort to shake a nagging cold which he caught in early September. His health was reported improved after that visit, but he still had remnants of the cold.

Last week, he spent five days in Augusta, Ga., in another search for sunshine, but the weather was miserable during most of that stay.

The President, himself was enthusiastic about the outcome of this latest physical examination, despite the doctors' confirmation that he has chronic bronchitis.

On leaving the hospital, this morning, he smiled broadly and said regarding the result:

"It's so good I'd like to go back often."

And Lt. Gen. Leonard D. Heatn, the Army's surgeon general, called results of the checkup "the best we ever had."

The official bulletin issued later was signed by Heaton and Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, the White House physician. The bulletin said:

West for Talks Now, Khrushchev Reports

By STANLEY JOHNSON Moscow, Oct. 31 (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev said today that President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan agreed with him that there should be a summit conference "the sooner the better."

In a major foreign policy speech before the rubberstamp Soviet parliament, Khrushchev made no direct reference to French President Charles de Gaulle's suggestion the conference be held off until spring.

But the Soviet leader predicted that his forthcoming visit to France would be useful for France, for Russia and for world peace.

Wearing a gray suit with his usual medals, Khrushchev was wildly cheered in his hour and 41 minute speech covering the whole international range.

Among the major points he made were:

1. Disarmament is the most important problem of the present day and its settlement depends whether there will be war or peace. Russia wants complete disarmament but it is willing to consider other proposals.

2. The Soviet Union supports Red China's determination to take Formosa "until the question is solved."

3. "We regret the incidents on the Indian-Chinese frontier, especially where they involved casualties and we hope they will not be repeated. We hope the difficulties will be solved by negotiations."

4. His visit to the United States convinced him the majority of Americans do not want war and he feels they now understand better the Soviet desire for peace.

5. He called for withdrawal of foreign troops from South Korea to speed unification of the peninsula.

6. He declared the Soviet Union desired that not even the "minute hotbed of war" should remain in Laos and said foreign countries ought not to interfere because of possible "undesirable results."

7. Khrushchev's wife, Nina, sat in the Great Kremlin Hall with his eldest daughter, Julia, to hear the premier speak. Both wore plain black dresses.

The diplomatic gallery was packed.

Western diplomats were impressed by the mild tone of the speech and pointed out to newsmen that there was no attack on anybody, even West Germany, a favorite whipping boy for the Russians.

Khrushchev in his wide ranging speech, dwelt on the easing of tension which he attributed largely to countries of the Communist camp.

8. He said there are still tensions around the world, within minutes, the cargo caught fire. The intense heat forced rescuers to withdraw, leaving Mangan partly by out of the cab.

Trucker Fatally Burned

New Hartford, Oct. 31 (AP)—A 31-year-old Newington man was burned fatally when his truck crashed into a tree on Rte. 44 and burst into flames early today.

Burton L. Mangan, father of four children, was en route in Syracuse, N.Y., with a ton of general freight when the crash occurred. The truck crashed against one tree and crashed head-on into another on the opposite side of the highway. Residents heard the crash and rushed to the scene. They tried to free Mangan from the demolished cab. However, within minutes, the cargo caught fire. The intense heat forced rescuers to withdraw, leaving Mangan partly by out of the cab.

Milk Strike Hour Nears

New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Milk negotiations resume today in efforts to beat a new deadline for a strike in the metropolitan area.

Negotiators for the Teamsters Union and 31 dairy firms agreed yesterday to extend their present contract to 4 p.m. today. The 31-hour strike threatened to strike last Saturday when the contract expired. The pact then was extended to 4 p.m. yesterday, then to 6 p.m., and finally to today. Negotiators adjourned at midnight last night, with neither side commenting after the session.

Boy Shot in Danger

North Haven, Oct. 31 (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Robert Jordan remained on the danger list at Grace-New Haven Community Hospital today with an abdominal wound police said he received by accident. The boy was shot with a .38 caliber bullet last night in the home of a friend, William Seitzman Jr., 15, where the Jordan boy was visiting. Deputy Police Chief Roy Lundgren said the weapon a pistol, was in Seitzman's hands when it discharged.

Texan Renounces U.S.

Moscow, Oct. 31 (AP)—A 20-year-old Texan strove into the American Embassy today, slipped down his passport on the consul's desk and said "I have made up my mind. I'm through." He was Lee Harvey Oswald, a former Marine of Fort Worth, who said he had applied for Soviet citizenship. The embassy urged him not to sign papers renouncing his American citizenship until he was sure the Soviet Union would accept him.

TRUCKER FATALLY BURNED New Hartford, Oct. 31 (AP)—A 31-year-old Newington man was burned fatally when his truck crashed into a tree on Rte. 44 and burst into flames early today.

Burton L. Mangan, father of four children, was en route in Syracuse, N.Y., with a ton of general freight when the crash occurred. The truck crashed against one tree and crashed head-on into another on the opposite side of the highway. Residents heard the crash and rushed to the scene. They tried to free Mangan from the demolished cab. However, within minutes, the cargo caught fire. The intense heat forced rescuers to withdraw, leaving Mangan partly by out of the cab.

MILK STRIKE HOUR NEARS New York, Oct. 31 (AP)—Milk negotiations resume today in efforts to beat a new deadline for a strike in the metropolitan area.

Negotiators for the Teamsters Union and 31 dairy firms agreed yesterday to extend their present contract to 4 p.m. today. The 31-hour strike threatened to strike last Saturday when the contract expired. The pact then was extended to 4 p.m. yesterday, then to 6 p.m., and finally to today. Negotiators adjourned at midnight last night, with neither side commenting after the session.

Connecticut Yankee

By A. H. O.

The gobins of our youth are the gobins of our age, which means that if you want to create a really durable social institution, the thing to do is to pattern after Halloren.

On Valentine's Day, the children of today take great care to sign their names, and send their letters, but we hardly know how it is that they do it.

But the most amazing performance of his campaign was delivered as he staged his "answer" to a republican charge that by failure to pay city taxes in Philadelphia he failed to maintain the legal residence necessary to be a candidate for mayor.

When this charge was first made against him, Stassen denied it completely, and repeatedly stated that he had his tax receipts in Philadelphia. When the charge was repeated, he himself staged a show-down to be held at City Hall. At this show-down, when the tax official involved asked him if he had paid the taxes in question, Stassen said: "I'll answer categorically yes."

According to descriptions of the scene, he managed to look, too, as if this was his great moment of triumph and vindication.

But when he produced the receipts which were to prove the truth, they were for other years, but not for the years in question. And then it developed that he himself had not paid the taxes in question, but that the receipts were for other years.

This suggestion happens to be the same as the suggestion of some American sideline thinkers, like Dean Acheson, who at least pretend to think that we have a satisfactory state of affairs in Berlin and Germany today, and that our main policy should be to keep things just as they are.

Such thought may well be music to Chancellor Adenauer's ears, and may indeed have encouraged him to make his own suggestion, that of taking away from the proposed conference the key questions which have actually dogged the diplomacy to a summit conference. For it seems to be the German position that he prefers the present status of the German problem over anything which would have about promising him Chancellor of Berlin and East Germany as well as West Germany.

High Ego Quotient Too

Vice Admiral Hyman Rickover has taken to putting copyright notices in the public speeches he delivers. Although, for the moment, the nation's newspapers seem to be willing to take the risk it should bear by trying to disseminate information that they may come to concede his right to make a public speech which nobody can quote. This would seem to mean that if he wants to pay his long-misunderstanding respect to Vice Admiral Rickover, it would be better to be about it while there is a speech here, to hang our tongues and to let the world map stay as it is. Here is the one problem which with all due respect to Mr. Acheson, they cannot let stay as it is. Here is the one problem which is such a hot problem that neither side on border and the idea of using position of honor, and ultimate force itself, either to gain its own victory in the German problem, or to prevent the victory of the other.

We doubt, therefore, that the statement of either side will have the dispassionate wisdom to be able to consider either problem, or the problem of Germany, entirely outside the context of the other. To the contrary, it seems very likely that, if there is to be progress on either question, it will have to be achieved in relationship to progress on the other.

It doesn't make much real difference whether you say it is the easier to reunite Germany, or the big powers disarm, or easier to disarm if Germany is reunited, or fully, the interplay seems inevitable. But if there is any inertia, it is the opposite of what Chancellor Adenauer recommends. We may succeed in escaping the necessity of disarmament, or giving up our initial accumulation of dynamite. The German problem is the hot fuse, always burning, always capable of flaring up at any unexpected moment.

Turkington Given Farewell Party

A family farewell dinner party was given for Edward Turkington, 50 Winter St., last night.

Mr. Turkington, who has spent his education and start serving a 3-year enlistment in the U.S. Army, returned from his tour of duty in the U.S. Army at Ft. Dix, N. J. A 1958 University of Maryland graduate, he has been continuing study at the University of Maryland, where he has a master's degree in history.

The party was held at the home of the pastor, Rev. Harold Turkington, 301 Park St.

St. Family members present included the bride with a nurse.

Silence Deadly Enemy Of Astronauts' Sanity

By DR. I. M. LEVITT
 Author of a new book, "Target for Tomorrow."

It may sound incredible to a layman, but scientists know that the space ship will begin his journey in a perfect bed of silence. But when the rocket motor is started, a deadly natural silence would be normal. If this silence were permitted, the astronaut would hear only the thumping of his heart and various whirring noises and creaks from his body. Experiments in soundproof rooms (they're called anechoic chambers) show that psychological shock results and the end result could be complete insanity.

Luckily, the instruments within the space vehicle will be molder than the astronaut's heart. The combination radio will buzz and click all together, they will make a familiar and happy noise environment.

But pity the poor traveler. Undoubtedly the scientist at some point on the journey will want to turn off all these noises for a short while and then report on his reactions.

A Thought for Today

Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

In Daniel 3, verse 17 we find these words: "Our God whom we serve is able." Let me share these lines with you. All we have is what we are given. And every flower that grows is the result of the seed that is sown. The money that is collected will be used for the benefit of the community.

Says Who? Manchester merchants and others who deal with government and other directives from time to time should get a chuckle from his tongue-in-cheek "outlook" which appeared recently in an issue of "Industrial Development."

Turning to unemployment, we find a definite decrease in the rate of increase which clearly shows a letting up of the slowdown. Of course, if the slowdown should speed up, the decrease in the rate of increase of unemployment would turn into an increase in the rate of decrease of employment.

So We Make Room Rotary District Governor Lynn Thomas of West Springfield tells this story of how two religious leaders were admitted to a Rotary Club in a town near his home.

be admitted under a certain classification, such as only one bearing the title "Highway Construction," or "News Reporting."

Casting a Line? Spectators got a rare glimpse of the sportsman side of General Manager Richard Martin at a recent meeting of the Board of Directors.

Those close to the manager know that fishing consumes some of his vacations in Vermont. But to most people who attend Board meetings, Martin is just that factious man, seated across from the Director who speaks only when spoken to—and sparingly, most of the time.

given a tour of the site and dined in the battery mess while the eyes of veteran missilemen popped in the manner of champagne corks.

Other remarks noted the spiciness and sparseness of the site and the fact that the foliage was very pretty. The girls left betimes.

Children have a wonderful way of summing up their feelings in a very few words. An adult may feel very much the same way—they just take lots longer to say it.

Still Looking If you had a choice, what meetings would you choose to cover in Manchester?

How Nearsighted Is Nearsighted?

Nearsightedness need not be a serious problem for TV stars, who generally in the course of their performances rely upon "cue cards," written in big letters, for their speaking lines.

But Polly Bergen is no nearsighted that, no matter how big the letters, she can't read them. On "To Tell the Truth" each week, this poses no problem because it is an ad-lib show, and because Polly is able to wear her eyeglasses on a program of this type. But when Polly performs as an actress or singer and has speaking lines to deliver while not wearing eyeglasses, she must commit the entire script to memory. She has tried to wear tiny contact lenses but can't.

"Fortunately," she says, "I am able to memorize, otherwise I would be in real trouble as a performer. I'm so near-sighted that without my glasses I literally would not recognize my mother from three feet away."

Ed Wynn to Play Santa in 'Miracle'

"Miracle on 34th Street," the second in a group of seven extravaganzas to be presented under the title, "Special Tonight," will be produced as a special pre-Yuletide attraction starring Ed Wynn and Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy on the NBC television network, Friday, Nov. 27th.

Comedian Orson Bean, 10-year-old Susan Gordon, Loring Smith, Larry Weber and Hiram Sherman will also appear in this Talent Associates production.

"Miracle on 34th Street" is a delightful tale about a man named Kris Kringle (played by Wynn) who is hired as Macy's Santa Claus for the Christmas season.

Actors and crew members of the CBS Television Network's "Ann Sothern Show" recently spent a hectic 60 minutes searching for performer Don Porter's pet boxer, Rigoletto, after the dog disappeared from the set. The search ended when Rigoletto was found on a neighboring set — visiting Lassie.
