

U. S. Sends Apologies To Castro

Havana, Feb. 20 (AP)—A U. S. government apology for a bombing raid on Cuba Thursday by a Florida-based private plane may supply the necessary ointment to soothe strained American-Cuban relations.

Prime Minister Fidel Castro has charged that air attacks on Cuban sugar fields by U. S.-based planes were the major reason for the rift between Cuba and its big neighbor.

Washington previously had rejected Castro's accusations, maintaining there was no evidence the raids were conducted by U. S.-based planes.

But the U. S. State Department yesterday confirmed that the plane involved in Thursday's incident had taken off from an airfield near Miami.

It expressed "sincere regrets" that the plane managed to escape the vigilance of our intensified airfield patrols in Florida.

The State Department note assured Castro that the U. S. government "is most anxious to stop such international flights, which are clearly in violation of our laws, and will take whatever steps it can to prevent them and apprehend those persons involved."

Castro said in a nationwide TV address Thursday night that the plane exploded while attempting to bomb a sugar mill 100 miles east of Havana.

He said the occupants, both killed, were Americans. Cuban authorities said they were Robert Ellis Frost of Portland, Ore., and Robert Kelly of the U. S. Civil Air Patrol, not further identified.

Air Force Set To Push Tests On Discoverer

Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Feb. 20 (AP)—Despite another failure, the Air Force will resume its Discoverer satellite series—aimed at teaching man how to enter and return from space.

A 78-foot Discoverer X missile veered off course yesterday after launching and headed for nearby coastal cities. The Air Force destroyed the lowering Thor-Agena missile at an altitude of 20,000 feet, 56 seconds after launching.

A terrific blast rocked this missile base then a big orange fireball swirled in the sky. A mushroom of black smoke billowed out the fiery sphere as the sky rained missile fragments the size of automobiles.

Officers and newsmen scattered for cover as the huge metal chunks hurtled downward. Most of the fragments fell in the sea. Despite the deadly shower, there were no injuries or property damage. Cause of the malfunction was not immediately determined.

The missile was another failure in the Air Force's attempt to put a satellite into orbit, then recover its space capsule. Six Discoverers have achieved orbit so far but no capsule has been retrieved. Plans called for the capsule to be ejected near Hawaii and recovered either in the air by planes trailing special hooks or from the sea by ships.

Although no dates were announced, the Air Force said it

Snow Isolates Western Part Of New York

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 20 (AP)—Wind-driven snow choked off a vast section of western New York today as winter storms battered the Northeast for the second time this week.

Sixteen deaths were reported in five states.

Sections of Pennsylvania and northern New England also bore the brunt of the storm that began Thursday.

Although the snowfall let up, winds that reached 50 miles an hour churned the snow into drifts up to 10 feet last night.

The blow felled power and telephone lines and crippled small vessels off the New England coast.

Heavy, wet snow collapsed the roof of a bowling alley near Buffalo, trapping Mrs. Robert Hamner, 18, under a fallen beam. She was taken to a hospital for treatment of leg injuries.

In Auburn, about 25 new automobiles were damaged when the roof of a big auto agency gave way under the weight of snow.

Snow-plows were unable to cope with the drifts along sections of the New York thruway and the Pennsylvania turnpike.

The thruway closed a 120-mile section from Syracuse west to Williamsville. A 175-mile stretch from near Pittsburgh east to Carlisle—also became impassable.

Thousands of travelers of the superhighways took refuge in restaurants. They slept on floors and counters.

Their cars, stranded on and off roadbeds, hampered the plows. Nearly all highways in a 6-

Mother, Child 'Very Well' Royal Baby Weighs 7 Pounds, 3 Ounces

London, Feb. 20 (AP)—Buckingham Palace announced today Queen Elizabeth's new baby weighed 7 pounds 3 ounces at birth and that the royal mother and her child were doing "very well."

As to the baby's appearance, Buckingham Palace issued this fragmentary bit of intelligence: "He's got blue eyes, like every other new born baby in the world."

The palace announced that the Queen and the Prince had spent "a restful night."

"Her Majesty and her son are both doing 'very well,'" the announcement said.

The Queen's eldest child, Prince Charles, weighed 7 pounds 6 ounces at birth—3 ounces heavier than his baby brother. His sister, Princess Anne, was exactly 6 pounds.

The medical bulletin was signed by three of the doctors who had assisted at the birth, plus Sir Wilfred Sheldon, a child specialist who has been looking after the health of the other royal children.

Earlier, gynecologist John H. Peel let out a bit of information for Britons hungry for particulars about the infant.

"It's a lovely baby," he said.

A small crowd standing in the rain outside the place sent up a cheer when the morning bulletin was posted on the palace rails.

They had expressed disappointment when an earlier bulletin which said mother and baby were doing "very well" failed to give the new Prince's weight.

The little princess who said she wanted a baby sister, seemed completely won over when Prince Philip took her and Charles to see their new brother last night.

"Oh, he's sweet, isn't he," one British paper quoted Anne as saying.

As Britain rejoiced, speculation grew in court circles that President Eisenhower might be one of the baby's godparents, and that David might be one of the little Prince's names. It is name the President shares with many members of the royal family.

Gates Orders Aides Review All Manuals

Washington, Feb. 20 (AP)—The secretaries of the Army, Air Force and Navy will be held personally responsible for any more "glaring inaccuracies" or lack of common sense and good taste in their training manuals.

That word came yesterday from the boss of the Pentagon, Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. He ordered a sweeping review of all service publications after several turned up that he said were "inappropriate to military training."

The Air Force so far has been the main producer of training manuals that have raised public outcry. The latest was one that charged that some Protestant clergymen were card-carrying Communists, that a large possession of those who revised the King James version of the Bible had Communist affiliations.

That came on top of some other Air Force manuals: One was for enlisted men assigned to attend the personal wants of general officers. It told them how to greet guests at the door of the general's home, how to mix drinks, even how to wash the general's dog and polish his shoes.

Another described how to operate an officers' club, with instructions in five different ways to mix a martini. An Air Force directive at one air base set up a "Big Brother Is Watching You" system of surveillance over the private lives of airmen.

Diary from Ghost Bomber Death in the Desert; 8 Days of Heat, Cold

Wiesbaden, Germany, Feb. 20 (AP)—A tragic story of prayers and despair in the North African desert was told today in the diary of the pilot of a U. S. Air Force "ghost" bomber of World War II.

The diary was found deep in the Libyan wastelands where the remains of five of the nine crew members of the 4-engine "Lady Be Good" were recovered yesterday.

The Air Force's European Headquarters said the diary was kept by 2nd Lt. Robert F. Toner, North Attleboro, Mass., copilot of the Liberator. He bailed out along with the rest of the 9-man crew following a bombing raid on Naples, Italy, April 4, 1945.

Written in pencil, the pocket-sized book describes eight days in the desert with merciless heat alternating with bitter cold, with little water and no hope.

The text of the entries, as released by the Air Force, follows:

"Sunday April 4, Naples—28 planes—things well mixed up—got lost returning, out of gas, jumped, landed in desert at 2 a.m. Morning, no one badly hurt, can't find John, all others rest."

"(The assumption here was that 'rest' meant reassembled.)

"(Air Force officials explained that John was 2nd Lt. John S. Woravick of Cleveland, Ohio, a bombardier on the plane.)

"Monday, Apr. 5, start walking now, still no John. A few rations, 1/2 canteen of water, one cap full per day. Sun fairly warm. Good breeze from NW (northwest). Nite very cold. No sleep. Rested and walked. (One canteen cap holds little more than a thimble of water.)

"Tues Apr 6, rested at 11:30, sun very warm no breeze, spent PM in hell, no planes etc. Rested until 5:00 PM, walked and rested all nite, 15 min on, 3 min off."

"Wed, Apr 7, same routine, everyone's getting weak, can't get very far, prayers all the time, again P.M. Very warm, hell. Everyone can't sleep, everyone sore from gout."

State News Roundup

Hartford, Feb. 20 (AP)—State police are going after noisy vehicles on the state's highways with a gadget that can say for certain just how much racket a truck or car is making.

State law prohibits excessive noise on the road, but it has been difficult to enforce because ears are not too accurate in such matters.

To make the anti-noise campaign more effective, State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulcahy said yesterday, State Police will begin using a decibel meter. This will supply a uniform enforcement standard, he said.

Kennedy Talks Tonight

Hartford, Feb. 20 (AP)—Connecticut backers of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) prepared a warm welcome today for the front-running Democratic presidential aspirant.

The main task facing Kennedy here was the principal speech before 2,000 state Democrats at a Jackson-Jefferson Day dinner tonight.

Before that, a busy round of political functions awaited him.

He was to arrive at Bradley Field by plane, and go straight to a noon news conference at the residence of Gov. Abraham Ribicoff.

Later in the day, he was to attend a luncheon at a country club in nearby Bloomfield and then a private reception at the home of State Democratic Chairman John M. Bailey.

Kennedy was expected to be arriving to solidify the already substantial support he has in Connecticut. Ribicoff and Bailey, avowed supporters of his, and the Democratic State Central Committee, had declared its support.

Ribicoff and Bailey are regarded as key members of the Kennedy team.

An unknown factor in Connecticut Democratic circles is Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, who in the past has declared his support for Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson. Dodd has also in the past opposed the rule under which Connecticut's delegation to the national convention would vote as a unit. Ribicoff has favored the unit rule.

The 2,000 guests at the dinner tonight have paid from $25 to $100 to hear Kennedy at the Statler-Hilton hotel. Dinner officials said the demand for tickets, but 1959 traffic figures show business on the Merritt Parkway is falling off.

The State Highway Department reported yesterday 40,356,271 vehicles used the turnpike in 1959. This was 80.4 per cent above the 1958 volume of 22,375,264.

On the Merritt Parkway, the 1959 total was 23,286,563, down some five million from the 28,259,232 in 1958. The cut amounted to about 16 per cent.

The heavy use of the turnpike is continuing in 1960, a department spokesman said. January figures show a total of 2,847,870 vehicles. In January 1959 there were 2,330,374. A January count for the Merritt Parkway is available, he said.

Translating vehicles into dollars, the department gave the 1959 turnpike revenue as $11,483,695, up from the $6,340,062 of 1958. During the same period, revenue on the Merritt Parkway fell from $4,915,912 to $3,988,478.

The department also reported that the turnpike's lighting cost for 1959 was $281,374. Five utility companies supply the service.

Strike Parley Set

Disregard Red China, Nikita Tells Sukarno

Bandung, Indonesia, Feb. 20 (AP)—Soviet Premier NIKITA S. KHRUSHCHEV has told President Sukarno Indonesia can virtually disregard Communist China's complaint over a trade dispute, an Indonesian official said today.

"Do what you think is right and do not worry," the Russian premier was quoted as saying, regarding here and the resulting dispute has tended to dim Communist prestige, on the decline here for two years.

The report on the Soviet leader's statements, from a source who asked to remain nameless, tended to confirm the view that Khrushchev's 12-day visit here is not designed to win back friends for Peking.

Khrushchev rode over guarded roads today to the heart of Indonesia's Moslem rebel country in West Java.

Several thousand persons—mostly school children—greeted the Soviet premier as he arrived here in a motorcade with Sukarno.

The 80-mile trip from Bogor went off without incident, although the party traveled a mountainous route that has been controlled at times by Moslem rebels.

Stopping off at one of the presidential palaces in the picturesque town of Tjamas, Khrushchev and Sukarno sipped coffee against a background of drums and flutes.

Armored cars and truck loads of troops escorted the party into Bandung as helicopters whirred overhead. After the welcoming ceremony, the Soviet premier and Sukarno went to a rest house outside the city.

The first sign of hostility to Khrushchev's visit appeared in Surabaya on Java's eastern tip. The slogan "We Don't Like Moscovics" was painted in big black letters in several parts of town.

Khrushchev and Indonesian officials have been cautious about

Toulouse Mickey On Loose Again

Caen, France, Feb. 20 (AP)—"Mickey from Toulouse," France's most notorious jailbreaker, is on the loose again.

Mickey and an accomplice broke out of Caen Prison yesterday. It was Mickey's second escape from Caen and boosted his overall record to 13 successful jailbreaks out of 17 tries.

Harrassed French authorities had shifted Mickey to Caen last year in hopes of keeping him under lock and key after he broke out of prison in Chaurbourg. Before that he had slipped out of jails in Bordeaux, Marseille, Avignon and Toulouse.

Mickey, whose real name is Amee Canut, is a 26-year-old thief whose record is one of the lengthiest in French police files.

Chessman's Reprieve Sparks Controversy

State Dept., Brown Hit For Acting

San Francisco, Feb. 20 (AP)—Gov. Edmund G. Brown's 60-day reprieve for Caryl Chessman, popular with opponents of capital punishment, stirred a mounting storm of criticism today.

In Sacramento, legislators protested that the governor proposed to dump the problem in their lap by calling a special session in March—concurrent with the budget session—to reconsider abolishing the death penalty in the state.

In Washington, D. C., critics blasted the State Department for notifying the governor of advance reaction to be expected in Latin America by President Eisenhower if the Chessman execution should take place.

Brown, when he announced he was calling off Chessman's execution scheduled for 10 a.m. yesterday to let the California legislature decide the issue of capital punishment, said he also had given serious consideration to the message from Asst. Secretary of State Roy R. Rubottom Jr. It said hostile demonstrations could be expected in Uruguay and Brazil during President Eisenhower's forthcoming visit to South America if the 38-year-old convict-author should be gassed in San Quentin.

Governmental leaders in Uruguay applauded the reprieve for Chessman. Western Europe generally approved the action—but criticized the motive.

Chessman, convicted in Los Angeles in 1948 of robbery and kidnapping involving forcing two women into unnatural sex acts, has evaded death in a dramatic, 11 1/2 years legal fight with which many opponents of capital punishment identify themselves.

He spent Friday relaxing and conferring with his lawyers.

Asked how he felt about the governor's decision, Chessman replied: "I'm feeling I had expected to be dead."

In a penciled statement, Chessman said: "I have no doubt it was the most difficult decision he has ever made."

SEGNÍ UNDER FIRE

Rome, Feb. 20 (AP)—A serious threat to Premier Antonio Segni's year-old government pushed Italy to the brink of a crisis today. The Liberal party's national committee met in Rome to consider a demand by party leader Giovanni Malagodi that Segni be withdrawn from office. Political circles said Segni would resign if the Liberals backed Malagodi, who has accused the government of threatening to pull out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

FIRE IN WATERBURY

Waterbury, Feb. 20 (AP)—A 2-alarm fire swept through an East Main Street restaurant kitchen early today causing damage estimated by the fire marshals at $30,000. The first alarm was turned in at 3:30 a.m., and the second was sounded shortly afterwards. Five fire engines, three trucks and an emergency truck turned out for the blaze.

DRIFTS TRAP CREWS

Somersett, Pa., Feb. 20 (AP)—Weary highway crews ran into new difficulty today trying to open the snow-battered Pennsylvania Turnpike. A turnpike commission spokesman at Harrisburg said the situation had become worse overnight as 60 mile-an-hour winds piled snow drifts 12 to 15 feet high behind crews trying to open clogged areas on the toll road's western end.

CHIANG CITES FAILURE

Taipei, Formosa, Feb. 20 (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek today asked the National Assembly to punish him for his failure so far to recover the China mainland. But he obviously knew, and so did the daily gates, that the assembly would do no such thing, but merely take steps to ensure his continuation in office as president of the Republic of China. At no point in his address did Chiang mention the question of a third term, which members of his ruling party, the Kuomintang, want to bring about by freezing Article 47 of the constitution which limits the presidency to two terms.

Shoppers Pry Door Open for Sale Bargains

Shoppers literally battered down the door this morning to start off Washington's Birthday White Elephant Sale.

The door, an overhead lift type at Watkins Bros., was snapped open by crowds converging on the rear of the store in the loading area.

"When we saw we couldn't stop them," said Bruce Watkins. "We opened the front door for those who were waiting, hoping to give them a fair chance."

"But," he added, "it was an unhappy beginning."

The group that stormed the door had earlier been asked to wait the official opening in the front. It was close to 9 a.m., the time scheduled for the opening of the fifth annual sale.

Although traffic was far below that noted last year, there seemed to be no lack of shoppers.

Most merchants said they were doing as well or better at about 11 a.m. today than they had done in previous years.

The most enthusiastic reports came from the various clothing stores, both along Main St. and in the Parkade area.

Whether it was the wind or the mid-90s temperature, or a combination of both, merchants didn't

Toulouse Mickey On Loose Again

He reportedly began stealing auto parts in Manchester last year. Mickey once wrote a letter while in hiding to a Charleston newspaper extracting its account of an escape he had made. The latest of Mickey's jailbreaks was his escape from a 20-foot cell in the prison. With a key, he unlocked the door and slipped out. Mickey would stay on his good behavior until he was put in with the trusty prisoners. Then it was too difficult for him. The authorities are now looking for Mickey's specialties. There he found the tools he needed.

USE PROBABILITY TO CHOOSE PLAY
Probably in a poor state, but better than none. For example, probability might tell you not to go on your heavy overhang in August; you are unlikely at the end of the year. It might be an even better idea to look out of the window. If you had no window, you'd depend on probability. That's the principle to follow in some bridge hands.

It puts the question of capital punishment squarely before the people for debate and resolution. If I have played some small part in bringing this about, the nightmare experience I have gone through will be a small price to pay, and I pay it gladly.

In Washington, the State Department's alleged interference as impeding on state rights. "Unwarranted interference with the judicial process of a state," said Sen. Gordon Elliott (R-Colo.) in the Senate. "Very questionable procedure," said Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) in the Senate.

But it was in Sacramento that storm clouds loomed before the case. An avowed foe of capital punishment, had set the stage for the fight with the legislature which has been down efforts to have capital punishment abolished several times in the past 27 years.

Buyer Asks $428,732 In 60-61 Police Budget

The 1960-61 budget request from Town Council Philip Bayer includes a request for $428,732 for police equipment. Bayer estimates will be spent this year. The salary request for 1960 is $1,000,000 as against $750,000 for the current year.

The total request of $50,775 is $7,000 more than this year's estimated spending. Bayer has asked $100 less for claims and refunds. He seeks $33,375 for that purpose.

If a full-time course is named, Bayer proposes the salary figure be reduced to $130,000, but office supplies be increased $300. $1,000 and an additional $1,000 be set aside for office equipment.

Welfare Budget
Welfare director Miss Mary DeLoe has asked a $177,350 welfare budget, a hike of $3,408 over the $173,942 of last year. She spent this year.

The request for salaries and wages will be $186,1 from $178,720 to $192,587. Other expenditures climb from $87,221 to $86,148, an increase of $1,073.

The lower controller has asked a $43,992 budget, a rise of $1,354 from the amount he estimates will be $42,638. He estimates that $1,354 will be needed for the purchase of a first aid kit.

Chick's Budget
The total budget request of the town clerk budget by $25,082 to $25,670, an increase of $588. He has asked for $25,082 from $24,494 to $25,100. He has asked for $25,082 from $24,494 to $25,100.

The Civil Defense request is $7,700, a jump of $1,349 from the $6,351 of last year. The estimated spending this year of $7,700 is $1,349 more than the $6,351 of last year.

Robert Gieny has asked a $1,000 budget, a rise of $1,000 from the amount he estimates will be $0. He estimates that $1,000 will be needed for the purchase of a first aid kit.

Man Injured Seriously in 2-Car Crash

Terrence Cunningham, 63, of 21 Cedar St., is in critical condition at Manchester Memorial Hospital as the result of a 2-car crash at Forest and Elm Sts. last night. Cunningham has a serious head injury. He and his wife, Mary, 58, were driving on Forest St. when the car, driven by Max H. Holmes Jr., 49, of 18 Main St., failed to stop at a stop sign at Elm St. and hit the Cunningham car broadside.

Cunningham was thrown out of the car and landed 20 feet away from the crash. He was taken to the hospital where he was treated for a skull fracture and a broken leg. He is expected to remain in the hospital for several weeks.

Police are investigating the cause of the crash. It is believed that the driver of the car that struck the Cunningham car was driving too fast for the conditions. The driver of the other car was not injured.

The proposed Massachusetts sales tax, to which we made reference when it began to head toward legislative decision, has come crashing down, and Governor Furolo has announced that he has vetoed the measure for a third time in his effort to enact the tax the Democratic party usually and normally opposes.

MOON ENVISIONED AS ROCKET HAVEN
 By Dr. I. M. Levitt
 Author of a New Book, "Target for Tomorrow"

Many scientists, including this writer, do not believe that there are important purely military applications in space. Military men, however, disagree. Right or wrong, their arguments are worth examination.

The general's most overt aim is aimed at the moon. They believe it has two strategic values: reconnaissance and a rocket base.

A large telescope on the moon would be able to observe objects on earth the size of a freight car. But with this ability, it is probable that there are cheaper ways of reconnoitering the earth.

From this, it is clearly seen that the lunar base would be appreciated. From a thoughtful present, why not order personalized napkins, match books or personalized coasters.

In the bookshop the spring publications are coming and they have extended their paperback book department. The new books are: "The Book of the Dead" by E. V. Rieu, "The Book of the Dead" by E. V. Rieu, "The Book of the Dead" by E. V. Rieu.

Chain Mail Officials of the 8th District one night this week discussed an official mail-address so that district correspondence could be handled efficiently.

The discussion began innocently enough, but assured sizeable proportions as the minutes wore on.

It started with a report that a resident on Hilliard St. deplored getting mail meant for the district sewer plant nearby but out of sight of the street.

A suggestion that Sewer Superintendent Calvin Taggart explore the possibility of installing a mail box at the plant drive on Hilliard St. was first advanced.

Taggart puffed on his pipe. Opposition to the idea came after Ray Damato suggested that the time be passed to get a new address into the next directory.

Later suggestions favored renting a box at Station A on Depot Sq. for 75 cents for three months.

"Then," it was added, "an employe could get the mail in the morning and bring it to the fire house and sort it out."

There were objections to this idea, but thought returned to putting up a mail box on Hilliard St. after all.

Said Taggart, "I've never had any trouble getting mail since I've been here. It always got sorted correctly as far as I could make out."

Querried Tax Collector Vic Swanson, "What's the problem in emptying a mail box? Anyhow, I thought the district had an address."

"Seventy-five per cent of the district mail winds up at Joe's house (District Secretary Joseph Voiz), anyway," said someone else.

"That's right," explained another, "and there's nothing wrong with the efficiency."

"Sure," said Voiz, "when the mail comes to the fire department it goes to the barber shop."

Which seemed to settle everything.

Southpaw Ten per cent of the desks in the new North End junior high school will be for left-handed students.

Education business manager Douglas Pierce mentioned this Monday night before the Board of Education's budget meeting. A couple of the board members, Mrs. E. Mae Holden and Frank Sheldon, were sitting at the board table, signing a realm of budget sheets.

Mrs. Holden noticed that Sheldon told her the troubles he had had when he was learning to write.

It seems the second grade penmanship teacher at the Hollister St. School insisted he should write with his right hand, Sheldon refused, saying he couldn't do it. So, the teacher would put him out in the hall.

Mrs. Holden said that she, too, was a leftie, but that her mother and her aunt had made her use her right hand to write.

They had been so successful at it that Mrs. Holden eventually taught penmanship among other subjects in her long teaching career.

"In fact, I taught penmanship at Hollister St. School around then," she said.

"Well, maybe you were the one who threw me out in the hall," kidded Sheldon, but Mrs. Holden denied it.

Sheldon went on then to marvel at the provisions made for left-handed students today.

"Until just a few years ago, you couldn't find any left hand desks in the schools. And now look. Ten per cent of them."

Pierce agreed with him, then smiled and said, "Mr. Illing's son is left handed, you know, so he's especially aware of the problem."

What Pierce didn't mention at the time was that Superintendent Illing's wife is also left handed.

Were You, Gene? He's been attacked now and then, and his sense of humor has become a political issue, but don't think Mayor Eugene T. Kelly is no politician. In his way, he knows what the voters will buy, and what they won't.

The other night, Kelly told General Manager Richard Martin to hold off putting a new storm sewer into an area of the Rockledge Subdivision where Kelly lives. Postpone the plan, suggested Kelly, even though he claimed a downhill stream materializes in front of his house with every rainstorm, threatening to take his car with it.

"I don't want to be impeached," was Kelly's explanation.

But once again, hearsay takes it upon itself, as it does often in reporting the mayor's remarks, to state that he didn't seem entirely serious.

So, go ahead, Mr. Manager. Build the sewer.

Of All the Stupid. There's a wag in the Town Fire Department who wouldn't hesitate to get out his longest needle if this happened to anyone else. This time it happened to him.

He got his pay check yesterday, just like the rest of the men. But he made the mistake of putting the stub in his wallet and ripping the check into microscopic pieces.

When he went home for lunch, he discovered his boo-boo. He raced back to the firehouse, emptied the waste basket on the floor, and succeeded in piecing together his check. Then he used scotch tape to keep it together.

We don't know where he found room to sign it, but we understand the bank honored it. That scotch tape sure is strong.

More on Paper A couple of weeks ago we told you about some of the pieces of paper patients use on which to write excuses for their children when they are absent from school.

The boys in the Ad Alley at The Herald say the schools have nothing on them.

One ad this week was written on the back of a restaurant place mat. Some come in on wallet-size cards, back of envelopes, and the like.

And the boys say, don't let them think they have any exclusive on toilet tissue.

No Squad cars were alerted on recent Sunday afternoon when a Manchester lady called breathlessly to report her husband missing. The manhunt had hardly got underway when she called a second time.

She was confused. She had taken an afternoon nap, waked up and found her husband gone. But now her husband had returned. He had been riding with a neighbor.

"Why the confusion, ma'am?" asked police.

"Oh," came the reply, "I thought it was Monday morning."

Water Budget Bid for Year At $386,708

The town's Water Department has requested a budget of $386,708 for the 1960-61 year, $34,880 more than it expects to spend this year.

The largest increase—$55,900—is in proposed capital improvements. This year, the department expects to spend $74,700 on capital improvements and proposes to spend $130,600 next year.

Among the suggested improvements are $33,000 in new distribution mains, $17,200 in individual services to consumers, and $10,000 for work on the Fern St. well.

The department expects to spend $161,268 in operation and maintenance, an increase of $665 over this year, and $94,840 to retire debt, a decrease of $2,288 from this year.

Water Department expenses are financed by collection of fees from water users.

Edmond O'Brien Stars As 'Johnny Midnight'

By Marie Olpe
When I asked Edmond O'Brien why, after having been satisfied for so long with occasional dramatic roles on television, he finally decided to appear in the new "Johnny Midnight" series, he answered, "I had been offered several chances to star in television series. The idea always interested me. But I had kept saying no, looking for the right part, the right character to play. Then along came the idea for Johnny Midnight. It had a concept and setting totally different from anything in the mystery-adventure field. It was a story about the real drama of life as contrasted with Broadway play life. I made the deal quick, knowing that this series would give me a wide range of performance as an actor."

Since O'Brien will also appear in the dual role of director-star for a number of future episodes of the show, his own wide range of capabilities will be put to use.

Times Square Locale
The hard-hitting story of "Johnny Midnight," former actor and Broadway producer now turned private investigator, finds the locale for most of the episodes in the intriguing backstage world of Times Square.

As a friend of many show business personalities, (his clients include show girls, stars, backstage workers and hangers-on in the theatrical world) he is called upon frequently to aid them when danger poses a threat to their lives and careers. He lives and works from his fashionable penthouse apartment atop the Midnight Theater, located off Broadway's pulsating Great White Way.

In the character of "Johnny Midnight" his experience as an actor particularly complements his new profession of private investigator. His acting ability and his knowledge of make-up and disguise give him a versatility that can not be matched in any other detective series. In this respect O'Brien as "Midnight" employs wide range of theatrical devices in his investigations, such as, amazing facial disguises, thick voices and unique costumes.

Born in New York City and educated in its public schools, Edmond O'Brien should feel right at home on location in his role as "Johnny Midnight."

Staged Magic Shows
As a 10-year-old boy in New York, he staged magic shows under the name "Neirbo (spell it backwards) the Great" in the family basement. When O'Brien started as Neirbo with his cellar leggedomain, it was with the encouragement of the great Houdini, who lived across the street from Eddie in New York and he taught him several tricks which still mystify O'Brien's friends.

During his high school years, O'Brien spent his summers in Westport, Conn., where he frequented a little theater on the straw hat circuit. By doing favors for the players, he managed to wheedle an occasional role in the production.

Edmond O'Brien, who stars in his first weekly television series, "Johnny Midnight," finds three's a crowd when a ventriloquist's dummy interrupts his questioning of Nancy Rennick in this scene from the new half-hour syndicated series. O'Brien, an Academy Award winner, appears in the title role as a former actor and now Broadway producer turned private detective.

Out of high school, O'Brien enrolled at Fordham University, but he quit within a year to join the Columbia Laboratory Players and to act downtown simultaneously at the Neighborhood Playhouse, a progressive theater group which has been responsible for many top-flight performers.

After two years at the Playhouse and a season in summer stock in Yonkers, N.Y., O'Brien made his Broadway debut in "Daughters of Atrous." A succession of roles of growing importance followed—with Ruth Chatterton in "Leave Her to Heaven," as Mercurio in Sir Laurence Olivier's "Romeo and Juliet," as Mark

Anthony in "Julius Caesar," with Katherine Cornell in "Star Wagon," in John Gielgud's "Hamlet."

When "Hamlet" closed, O'Brien went on tour with "Parnell," after which he returned to Broadway once more. At this time he started working on radio and made the acquaintance of Orson Welles, who cast him in several of his radio programs.

In "Winged Victory"
In 1939 he was appearing in "Henry IV" when he was signed for the screen remake of "The Hunchback of Notre Dame." When "The Hunchback" was released, several producers wanted O'Brien for screen work. He completed four more pictures before he joined the Army in World War II. He was sent to radio operator's school, but before he had completed his training, he was ordered to the "Winged Victory" cast in New York. O'Brien was handed the top comedy role in the impressive Air Force production, toured with it for two years, and later appeared in the screen presentation of the show.

Since resuming his motion picture career at war's end, O'Brien has been handed increasingly more important film roles, reaching a lofty climax with his Academy Award achievement for his colorful performance as a Hollywood press agent in "The Barefoot Contessa."

O'Brien's early days on the streets and in the parks of New York have left their mark. He'd rather take part in softball or football, where there can be friendly ribbing between competitors, than play tennis, golf, or some other individual sport.

He's an enthusiastic photog-
