Non-Strikers Victims UAC Offers $2,500 Reward for Aid in Grabbing Vandals

Hartford, Aug. 5 (AP)—The United Aircraft Corp. in a move to offset vandalism against non-strikers, today announced it would offer $2,500 in cash to "the person or persons who furnish information among the persons holding officials find those responsible for a series of incidents here and downtown Hartford.

Nine specific incidents in north central Connecticut were cited by UAC while five were listed in four places in connection with the strike at Sikorsky Aircraft's two plants. As the 6-plant strike, largest in Connecticut's history, went into its 50th day, other developments were:

One of the top United Aircraft Workers organizers in the state, international representative Bill A. Lindholz, who had been closely connected with the Sikorsky strike, reported he had resigned. Some 1,000 members of Aircraft Workers Local 145 of the Association of Machinists at Hamilton Standard voted at a mass meeting in Windsor Locks this morning to transfer $21,000 out of the union's various savings accounts into its strike fund.

Deeds Segregationists Kefauver Scores Landslide Victory

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 5 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver won a third term with a stunning landslide victory in yesterday's Tennessee Democratic primary, in which civil rights was the overriding issue.

The race, billed as the tightest of the last 100 years, was a career, turned into his greatest triumph as the state's voters made it unmistakably clear they preferred his liberal philosophy to that of Judge Andrew Young, a strong advocate of segregation and states rights.

Kefauver, the Democratic vice presidential candidate in 1956, led from the outset and quickly grabbed a two-to-one margin which he maintained throughout the race. With tabulations from 2,381 of the state's 2,635 precincts, the vote was:

Kefauver.....433,087
Young.....215,851

The outcome has been watched nationally for an indication of the depth of southern reaction to the civil rights proposals adopted by the Democratic national convention. Taylor sharply criticized this platform plank, while Kefauver said only that it went a little far.

Kefauver, termed his victory an emphatic answer to "the detractors of the South, who tried to say that we are a backward people."

"The South will continue to move forward in the main stream of American civilization," he said. "The Senator, who skyrocketed to national fame as a result of his crime-fighting investigations in the early 1960s, said Tennessee is the only state to have a presidential ticket, headed by a California and the Democratic allegiance of Americans every where.

Despite the decisive margin piled up by Kefauver, Taylor won two seats on the state ticket. Kefauver swept across the state the day after the election, and his overwhelming vote even the most ardent of his supporters were surprised.

He carried or led in all but two counties in the six congressional districts east of the Tennessee River. He carried the state seat, his renomination was assured by reports from the three west Tennessee districts. Taylor's stronghold—began coming in.

Even in segregation-minded West Tennessee, Kefauver received a substantial vote. He held a narrow lead in the Memphis district. Taylor carried the seventh and eighth districts, but he was the wide margin he had hoped.

Fayette and Haywood, Negroes lost in the primary for the first time since Reconstruction.

There were no incidents. Negroes outnumber whites in both Taylor and Kefauver's districts. About 50 per cent of some 400 registered Negro voters cast ballots in the primary. In Haywood, elsewhere in Tennessee, Negroes have voted for years.

Kennedy Says Rights To Link U.S., Africa

New York, Aug. 5 (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy, in the first public speaking appearance of his campaign for the presidency, told foreign-language newspapers that the civil rights issue is a key to United States relations with the emerging nations of Africa.

"If we move about on civil rights and provide equal opportunity for all Americans," he will have "a great effect" on relations with Africa, he said to a questioner at the overseas press conference.

"The Democratic standard bearer said the large U.S. Negro population 'can serve as an asset when those immigrants who are Negroes from certain nations, he said, 'treatment.' Otherwise, he said, 'United States Negroes have a debt in dealing with African nations.'

The Senator, said the importance he places on the link with foreign nations provided by the ethnic press is indicated by the fact that "this is really the first speech I have made since the Democratic convention."

Some 100 newspapermen from foreign languages and ethnic papers in Connecticut, Maryland, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania were invited to the press conference. Many more showed up.

Kennedy told them "All Americans are interested. Some have come in more recent years than others, but they are interested in the United States and the world."

In a brief address, he said the foreign language press creates a bridge between the new life and the old. "He added that it is important to have a connection with the past and with the future."

Gov. Calls Chiefs, Mayors To Safety Talk

Hartford, Aug. 5 (AP)—Gov. Abraham Ribicoff has issued an invitation to the police chiefs, mayors and selectmen of every town in Connecticut to convene in Hartford Aug. 12 to discuss an increasing traffic fatality toll in areas under local police jurisdiction.

Ribicoff announced the meeting yesterday and reiterated his call for increased vigilance on the part of local police to curb the mounting number of deaths in Connecticut since the U.S. highway program.

State Police Commissioner Leo J. Mulvihy and James C. Williams, executive director of the State Safety Commission, are preparing an agenda for the conference.

Connecticut highway fatalities last year were 1,000, an increase of 25 per cent over 1958. There have been 93 this year compared with 107 last year.

Ribicoff said "local police responsibility must be stepped up."

He had praise for the state police safety work. "They have never done a better job," he said.

Meanwhile, the State Motor Vehicle Dept. reported that there have been more highway fatalities in Bridgeport than any other community in the state so far this year.

Bridgeport merited that dubious distinction with a total of 10 deaths on the town roads.

Darien and New Haven were close behind with six each. Waterbury followed with seven; Norwich with five; Hartford, Milford and New Britain with four; and Greenwich, Stamford and West Haven with three.

Three highway deaths so far have been attributed to the driver of the 144 highway deaths recorded this year.

Forty-one other communities in the state account for the remainder of the 144 highway deaths recorded this year.

Ribicoff said that the state is recommending that the state highway department establish a technical assistance program to help towns improve their roads.

The Great Issues—5 Presidential Rivals Compared on Labor

Kennedy has been a fighter for organized labor's cause ever since he entered Congress in 1947. Here was the year the Taft-Hartley Law was enacted, never later union opposition. Nixon favored the law.

Shortly before his nomination, Kennedy said: "I do not support a shorter work week—I am not for them. It was from the labor union standpoint."

Both industry and labor feel Nixon is more inclined toward business than toward labor. But they concede he has become far more liberal in recent years. In this, Secretary of Labor James P. Cannon is credited with having been a major influence. Examined under the microscope of the "work" law.

The unions are expected to select Kennedy in the election campaign. But they are suspicious. It is plain that with Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as the Democratic ticket they may be buying a lot more conservative combination than they would like.

Stamps in the News

A likeness of Giuseppe Garibaldi, from a contemporary philatelic stamp, will be featured on the 4-cent and 8-cent "Champion of Liberty" stamps which will be placed on sale first at Washington, D.C., Nov. 7.

Cuban philatelists will deny Fidel Castro disappeared from the scene because his late harbor shaved off the shirubury. Now so the story goes. But his late harbor and waiting for a new crop.

"What's this got to do with philately?"

Nothing.

UN 15th Anniversary

The UN Postal Administration will issue its fourth commemorative stamp of 1960 on UN Day, Oct. 24.

The stamps to be steel engraved in denominations of 4c (this year white) and 8c (black and white) will commemorate the United Nations, the Secretary of the United Nations, Ottawa, Canada. The stamp was designed by E. Purnell (Purnell) of UN Graphic Presentation.

A souvenir sheet, valued 12c, will be issued at the same time as the new stamps. The following printing quantities have been ordered: 4c denomination, 3,000,000; 8c denomination, 1,500,000.

Further details about the stamp and souvenir sheet will be released in the next few weeks before the first day of sale.

The 15th anniversary issue replaces the International Court of Justice stamps which were scheduled for February 1961.

Stamp of Approval

Harv's how to save time, energy, temper and worry in the stamp collecting hobby.

Joseph Nelson had that problem today. It's packed on the street in front of his home, the rear tires flattened, springs broken, and the cement now rock-hard.

Nelson says he ordered the cement yesterday for delivery later in the week. He later changed his mind, called the company and asked to have it delivered today. The workmen came to release the cement truck driver, Robert O. Porter. He and Nelson have a friend, that's where the rib is.

"I was bet from him (Nelson) a while ago," said Porter, "and I guess I walked about 45 minutes for him to show up at home. The longer I sat there in the truck waiting for him, the more I thought he was trying to stick me with $30 worth of cement to get on the job and the madder I got."

Nelson was attending a neighborhood ball game when Porter arrived.

Porter said he finally unloaded the wet cement into the back seat of Nelson's car. He drove the truck to the company garage and went home.

The informant continued: "When the Chinese premier went on television, Khrushchev in extremely sharp words, the Russian delegation openly expressed its dissatisfaction."

Chou was to speak again the following day. Before he mounted the podium, the chief Soviet delegate, a man named Solovchov, stood up and declared angrily, "If Comrade Chou had intended to speak in the same tone as the one he used yesterday, the Soviet delegation is going to leave the hall."

Chou did not speak, and the atmosphere remained very tense throughout the conference, the labor delegates from North Korea, North Viet Nam, Indonesia, Burma and Cambodia. Heretofore, the Chinese party, the Soviet delegates and the other Europeans.

The Chinese Congress secretary-at-large to edit the published text of the speeches made by the Russians. The Soviets were infuriated. They demanded that the Chinese party secretary-at-large be removed from the conference and asked European delegates to help them.

The party ended without any attempt to ease the tensions between the Chinese and the Russian delegates. The Chinese party secretary-at-large requested a plane to take him to his home in Moscow. The Chinese premier, Khrushchev, was to be more than 24 hours now.

The Soviet labor leader finally left his temper and said he would support a letter from the International Court of Justice, "But if so, he will not support a military mission."

A Chinese plane was quickly put up to ease the tensions.

Sheinwold on Bridge

BEST THINGS
BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Don't think an opponent for a few days until you find out how much it will cost.

West opened with a bag of diamonds and South jumped greedily. He put up diamonds; she took them from his hand. "That's the club you'll sever off," South chorused.

The trouble was that South still had two losing spades in his hand. If he drew trumps, he would have to give up a diamond sooner or later, and if South failed to draw trumps he couldn't even take his high spades safely for fear of a ruff by East.

No matter what he did, South was sure to go down.

South would make the bridge contract if he took a second look at the dummy before playing the ace of diamonds. He would see exactly what was going to happen and would therefore look for another plan.

Think about the bidding and consider the nature of the East-West hand. West is sure to have a poorish hand with long spades. From the lead, West also has some diamonds behind his hand. Hence we know that East has the ace of clubs and only one or two spades at most.

Unless we get enough information to find the winning line of play, bluff the first diamond, leaving the ace in dummy. This is the best line. Two top spades and then lead a club.

East can take the ace of clubs but must then lead either a club or a diamond back to dummy. If he leads a club, dummy can take it with the ace of diamonds and then lead a club. If he leads a diamond, dummy can take it with the ace of diamonds and then lead a club.

Drummer Boy of Homeland Day Champion Snare Drummer of '60

By PATRICIA PLATT

The 18-year-old drummer lad marching beside the lead drummer in the 1944 Manchester Homeland Day Parade would have laughed if someone had told him he would one day march before the President of the United States.

But 18 years later, as a member of the popular "Conquest of Space" band, he marched at the reviewing stand of President Eisenhower at the first inaugural parade of the Chief executive.

On Sept. 17, Peter F. Mielzner will be awarded a trophy from a national group, the Military Association of Parades Drummers, at its fourth annual meeting in Manchester. The group has selected him from among drummers throughout the country as the "Champion Snare Drummer of 1960."

Tomorrow, he will march again. This time in the centennial parade of the Moods Drum and Bugle Corps, of which he has been a member since 1949.

Born in Lyme, Conn., April 24, 1942, and having received his first drum in 1950, Mielzner, who can look back on a lifetime of activity in the world of drums, began to play at the eighth grade in a Moods school, and then worked in a building lab and, of course, drumming.

"I don't believe any drummer learned his art any harder than I," Mielzner said.

"I bought my first drum in 1959 for $15. I was paying for it by working on tobacco for 10 hours a day for an hour. I worked for 100 miles each way to take my drumming lessons. I'm proud of the fact that I worked so hard for the lessons, which I took from Dr. E. C. Cook, a former marching leader of the Moods Drum and Bugle Corps."

The Moods Corps in 1944 was not the organized group it had been for many years since its founding in 1860. Most of the members had to march in the parade in 1944, and as a result the corps could not gather together for the Homeland Day Parade.

The late Mrs. M. J. Barry, wife of a member of the Moods Corps, supplied the answer. She viewed a musical poster of the Moods Corps, M. J. Barry's painting, "The Spirit of '76," at Hartford, Conn. She conceived the idea of organizing a group of a few and two drummers to march in the parade in 1944.

"Spirit '76" was the idea. Her husband and she to the idea. The original members were Mielzner, Michael J. Barry, a snare drummer; Peter Mielzner, a flag bearer. They obtained Revolutionary outfits from a costume shop in West Hartford.

On the day of the parade, they marched in the parade in a military style with a horse-drawn float bearing a replica of the Statue of Liberty.

Mielzner is the only survivor of the group. He has been a member since 1944. He has been a member of the Moods Corps since 1944. He has been a member of the Moods Corps since 1944. He has been a member of the Moods Corps since 1944.

Defeats Segregationists

MANCHESTER (AP)—Three months ago, Warden Richard J. Edson, who has been in office since 1957, was elected to the position of warden of the Connecticut State Prison. He is the first Negro to hold the post since 1907.

Edson, who is 40 years old, was born in Mississippi. He served in the U.S. Army during World War II. He was a member of the American Legion and the Elks Club.

Edson's election was a significant victory for the Negro community in the state. He has been in office since 1957, and has been a member of the American Legion and the Elks Club.

Kefauver Scores Landslide Victory

Kefauver seemed certain to carry the state's four metropolitan counties. Hamilton County (Chattanooga), where he lives, gave him a 5,683 vote majority, four-to-one margin and in Davidson County (Nashville) by better than two-to-one.

Democratic nomination to the Senate from election in the southern state. Two Republicans, Little known across the state, sought the GOP nomination.

A Bradley Foster of Camden apparently defeated Hansel Pritchard of Sevierville in the Republican primary.

All nine of the state's congressmen were re-nominated, five without opposition.

Democratic James B. Puckett of Chattanooga, Carlton Lower of Nashville, Ross Bass of Pulaski and the veteran Cliff Davis of Memphis had little trouble turning back their opponents.

Unopposed for re-nomination were Reps. Joe Eaves, Tom Murray and Robert E. Everett. Democrat and B. Carroll Reese and Howard Baker, Republicans.

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 5 (AP)—Miss Priscilla Smith, an 18-year-old 2-foot-2 blond from East Rutherford, N.J., was crowned Miss Coast Guard of 1960 last night at a ballroom ballroom in Memphis. The Coast Guard's first woman was built in Newburyport in 1791.

Sadlak Slated As Guest at GOP Outing

Antoni Sadlak, candidate for congressman-at-large, will be a guest at the Republican outing at the Sperry's Glen Sunday.

The voters' Republican party, who lives in Rockville, will be seeking to recapture his Congressional seat in the November election. He lost the post to Democrat Frank Kowalski of Meriden two years ago.

The outing Sunday will begin at 2 p.m. Tickets are obtainable from members of the Town Committee. State Representative Mrs. Dorothy Miller, James Hassett, Mrs. John McCarrick, Eugene G. Galt, and Mrs. Robert E. Everett are members of the arrangement committee, who may also be called for more information or tickets.

Massola Withdraws

Williamson, Aug. 5 (AP)—Joseph Massola, endorsed by the Democrats for state senator in the 29th District, has withdrawn from a primary scheduled for Aug. 16, making the challenger, State Rep. Arthur J. Lucas Jr. of Chaplin the undisputed candidate in November.

The Williamite police court judge cited a serious knee injury which has been slow in healing when he announced his withdrawal last night.

Massola injured his right knee in June 1959, two days after the district convention.

Mrs. H. G. Muenchinger of Chaplin is the Republican candidate in the district.

Democratic incumbent Joseph A. Conte Jr. of Williamson stated previously he would not seek re-election.

Hard Problem In Back Seat —6 Tons of It

Denver, Aug. 5 (AP)—What does a guy do with a car loaded to the gunnels with six tons of cement? Joseph Nelson had that problem today. It's packed on the street in front of his home, the rear tires flattened, springs broken, and the cement now rock-hard.

Nelson says he ordered the cement yesterday for delivery later in the week. He later changed his mind, called the company and asked to have it delivered today. The workmen came to release the cement truck driver, Robert O. Porter. He and Nelson have a friend, that's where the rib is.

"I was bet from him (Nelson) a while ago," said Porter, "and I guess I walked about 45 minutes for him to show up at home. The longer I sat there in the truck waiting for him, the more I thought he was trying to stick me with $30 worth of cement to get on the job and the madder I got."

Nelson was attending a neighborhood ball game when Porter arrived.

Porter said he finally unloaded the wet cement into the back seat of Nelson's car. He drove the truck to the company garage and went home.

Aspen is the favorite food of heaver.

Primary Teacher Added to Faculty

Another new teacher is under contract at Hebron Elementary School, Miss Annabella Dikmaro, who will be teaching in the new building in the fall.

The new building is the result of a $300,000 bond issue approved by voters in 1958. The building is now under construction and is expected to be completed in the fall.

BEST THINGS
BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Don't think an opponent for a few days until you find out how much it will cost.

West opened with a bag of diamonds and South jumped greedily. He put up diamonds; she took them from his hand. "That's the club you'll sever off," South chorused.

The trouble was that South still had two losing spades in his hand. If he drew trumps, he would have to give up a diamond sooner or later, and if South failed to draw trumps he couldn't even take his high spades safely for fear of a ruff by East.

No matter what he did, South was sure to go down.

South would make the bridge contract if he took a second look at the dummy before playing the ace of diamonds. He would see exactly what was going to happen and would therefore look for another plan.

Think about the bidding and consider the nature of the East-West hand. West is sure to have a poorish hand with long spades. From the lead, West also has some diamonds behind his hand. Hence we know that East has the ace of clubs and only one or two spades at most.

Unless we get enough information to find the winning line of play, bluff the first diamond, leaving the ace in dummy. This is the best line. Two top spades and then lead a club.

East can take the ace of clubs but must then lead either a club or a diamond back to dummy. If he leads a club, dummy can take it with the ace of diamonds and then lead a club. If he leads a diamond, dummy can take it with the ace of diamonds and then lead a club.
