SWINDLE NEEDED
FOE SLAM CONTRACT
By Airred Sheinwold
If you never get to an unmakable siam you don't have to read this column. But if you sometimes need to escape from a sharptoothed enemy, get him to open his jaws too wide. Here's the sort of thing that could happen to any overhidder.
Put yourself in the South seat at the lovely contract of six heatrs. Don't ask me why you bid two spades at your second turn, but maybe that hid had something to do with your poor contract.
The opening lead of the seven of diamonds tells you several things about the unseen hands. First, East is likely to have length and strength in diamonds, since the seven is probably a top-of nothing lead. Senond, West does not have both the ace and king of spades since he has falled to lead the suit.
This information should steer you to the best chance for a swindle. See if you can think of a persuasive line of play.
When the hand was played, South took dummy's king of diamonds, drew trumps, and ran all of the clubs. He then led his last trump, discarding a spade from dummy.
West hung on grimly to the acequeen of spades and a diamond. East hung on just as grimly, to

The Hebron Board of Education will hold its monthly meeting this evening at 7:30, at the residence of Richard M. Grant. The Hebron PTA will send a committee to the meeting to pledge its support of the board in efforts o bring about a dual bus system.

The present bus system serves both the Regional High and elementary schools. While this system works after a fashion, it means long hours for pupils of the elementary school, especially those from the more northern part of the town.

Parents do not like to have their young children away from home such long hours. Church Notes Church services this Sunday will

Two Acquitted They've Been Teaching the Bible Of Swindling In Sunday School for 102 Years

Two out-of-state men were acquitted in U.S. District Court in Hartford yesterday of charges that they swindled a Manchester whom has taught Sunday School Richard P. Bezzini, a partner of Bezzini Bros. Furniture Co., of 358 E. Center St., had charged Adam Bagdasian, 39, of Silver Springs, Md., and Herman Wilensky, 38, of Miami Beach, Fia., with bliking him of $5,000. They were found innocent after a short trial.

The prosecution charged that Bagdasian and Wilensky disappeared after persuading Bezzini to put $5,000 into a machine shop business they were operating on Long Island.

During the trial Bagdasian said Bezzini had given him some money, but it amounted to $2,000 and was for a horse race bet.

Wilensky told the court he had never met Bezzini. The pair was indicted by a Federal Grand Jury in March 1960 and re-indicted in September on charges of obtaining money by false pretenses in July 1959.

The "fit" or convulsion is more often alarming than serious. In infancy, almost any disturbance is capable of convulsing the sensitively triggered nervous system. Like the sudden rise of temperature that marks the onset of an infectious disease. Or the calcium (lime) deficiency that is usually controlled by administration of the lacking salt. Later in childhood and in adult life, the convulsion is most apt to be the manifestation of an epilepsy that, with rare exceptions, can be held in check by skillful use of a Here are the school menus for Dec. 12 through 16.

Under the leadership of Dr. William G. Lennox, private agencies (such as the United Epilepsy Assn.) and our Veteran's Administration have labored to correct many misunderstandings about the "falling sickness" and to remove many of the handicaps that have unjustifiably blocked the social and economic development and progress of the epileptic.

As examples of these efforts, the VA has issued a versent abouttor.

ress of the epileptic.

As examples of these efforts, the VA has issued a report showing that the epileptic veteran of World War II or the Korean conflict performs the same job just as competently as the nonepileptic. And the association demonstrated that the epileptic has no greater tendency to be involved in compensated accidents than nonepileptic coworkers.
