SUE PREFERENCE SIGNALS RE-ENTRY By Alford Blackwell The chief use of the suit preference signal is to tell your partner how you feel about a suit. It is a ruffing trick. When the partner is in the lead, you can use the signal to indicate where your partner is likely to lead. East puts up the king to unblock and South holds up the ace. East continues the hearts, and South takes the ace.

Now South tries the diamond. Anese, losing to the king, How does East get the lead back to his partner for the hearts?

If East guesses wrong, declarer will take four diamonds, five clubs and a heart. Very embarrassing for the defense.

How to Use the Signal

Partner opens with one heart, and the next playing passes. You hold: Spades—J 9; Hearts—A Q 8 7 6 5; Diamonds—10 9 8 7 6 5; Clubs—A Q 10 9 8 7 6 5. Answer: bid two clubs. Do not jump to 2 NT with an unbid suit unopened.

But, if you put aside the money you earn in that time, in just one month (assuming you make $100.00 a week), you'd have enough to buy a $25.00 Savings Bond. Keep it up for 40 months, and you'll have Bonds worth $1,000 at maturity. Save 30 minutes pay a day, and in 40 months you'll have a stack of Bonds worth $2,000 at maturity. What makes it even easier for you is the Payroll Savings Plan. Your Bond balance grows every month—and you hardly know you're saving.

The new Popular Market, one of a Springfield, Mass., chain, will feature double World Green Stamps Wednesday through Saturday during its opening week. In 1959, another Popular Market which had been located at 974 Main St. for 11 years was sold to Top Notch Foods of East Hartford, because it was too small to meet space requirements. Sewer Aides Set to Borrow $15,000 More

A special meeting of the board of directors will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the municipal building to discuss taking action on the sale of $15,000 worth of short term notes for the sewer department. The notes would be in addition to $25,000 worth of notes already issued this year to run the department from day to day. The money is needed, according to General Manager Richard Martin, to make up for income that hasn't been realized on sewer assessments. Some of the assessments which have not been paid, he said, date back several years, including the Essex St. sewer and the Center St. sewer. The assessments from the former have been appealed and have not yet been settled, and the assessments from the latter cannot be collected yet because the sewer line is not yet useable to homeowners who are being assessed. Laterals must be installed on some streets before collections can be pressed. The West Side sewer project assessments have been appealed, and the case is still waiting to be placed on the Hartford County Court of Common Pleas docket for a second time.

Scattered Approach Won Jody Her Role

The cool, calm, collected approach to a situation generally prescribed by the pundits, is not always the answer as in the case of Jody Warner who won her leading role in the new Goodson-Todman television series, "One Happy Family," on NBC-TV Friday nights, 8:00-8:30 p.m. EST, by being anything but organized.

The lovely young blue-eyed redhead who is as pretty as Marilyn Monroe can credit her first real television break to a delightfully sunny quality which has served to charm and confuse all she has come in contact with since she can remember. Sid Dorfman and Al Lewis, who direct and produce "One Happy Family," signed her to play Penny Cooper, the bride in the series, right on the spot after interviewing over 50 other girls for the role.

"She was our dreamed-up girl," Dorfman beamed. "The minute she walked into the office there was no doubt in my mind that we had found Penny Cooper."

Dorfman went on to explain that he and Al Lewis had been looking for a Gracie Allen type. Not specifically but on the general order.

"After the amenities were over," Dorfman continued, "I asked her what she had done." "Oh, lots of things," she said shyly. "I've sold insurance, ran a dress shop, traveled a lot."

Dorfman started to laugh recalling the interview. "It was priceless. I asked her what she had done in show business, and she was immediately startled by the question."

"I've made some commercials and," she looked to her agent for help, "Oh yes, I played in eight of the George Burns Shows."

With that, Dorfman signed her—not because of the Burns Shows but because of her scattered approach and projection.

"I don't know what my problem is," Jody confessed, "I guess I lack confidence—I try hard and I think I'm saying the right thing but I'm never sure I'm getting through to the other person."

Jody says things just happen to her—she never really makes them happen. Like she always knew she would be an actress. The principal contribution she has made in that direction was to come to Hollywood. A friend took her on an interview to General Service Studios. After failing to impress her interviewers, she went to a phone booth on the lot to call her mother to pick her up, misdialed the call and lost her last dime. George Burns who was standing nearby saw her predicament and offered a dime. After completing the call, Jody proceeded to tell George, who she didn't recognize, how confusing Hollywood was. How did one get an agent, and what is a guild? George, in true form didn't try to explain but gave Jody a job in his new show which made her eligible to join the Screen Actor's Guild and recommended an agent. In turn, the agent negotiated seven more roles for Jody in the Burns series.

Jody tries hard to please everyone around her. She hates to feel that she has let anyone down. In a recent interview with a Hollywood correspondent for a New York newspaper, she said she liked to do "free falls" from an airplane. The correspondent perked up—he was a former paratrooper. Upon further interrogation it was determined that Jody had a friend who did free falls, and she had watched him. After the interview her press agent asked her why she came up with such a wild one.

"Oh," she told him, "I didn't think he was getting a very interesting story, and I thought that might help—how did I know he was a paratrooper?"

Chick Chandler, who plays Barney Hogan, Jody's well-to-do father in "One Happy Family," has been around show business for a good many turns, from burlesque to New York musicals; from legitimate theatre to movies, and now tele-

TV Special Will Spotlight 7 Astronauts

America's seven Project Mercury Astronauts, one of whom will be the first American to be catapulted into outer space, will be spotlighted during a science interlude of the special celebration program, "25 Years of Life," on NBC-TV Thursday, March 2 (9:30-11 p.m. EST).

As announced, Bob Hope will be star-host-narrator of the 90-minute show, with guest star Sid Caesar featured in a satire of the average American during the past quarter-century. Hope will introduce the Astronauts after telling of scientific events during the past 25 years leading to the men-in-space tests. With the aid of Life's pictures, Hope will show how man in the past 25 years has learned more about the great outer universe than in all previous history. His narration-illustration will start with events leading to the 1939 atom-splitting and will show the Bevatron, Cyclotron, Synchrotron and other giant atom-smashing machines. The narration will trace the start of the space age in 1957 from Sputnik to Tiros, to dogs and monkeys in capsules, to the present.

The seven Astronauts will tell of their aspirations and reasons for their eagerness to participate in the space venture. They are Lt. Cmdr. Walter Schirra, USN; Lt. Cmdr. Alan Shepard, USN; Capt. Donald Slayton, USAF; Capt. Virgil Grissom, USAF; Lt. Col. John Glenn, USMC; Capt. Gordon Cooper, USAF, and Lt. Scott Carpenter, USN.

Red China Famine Huntley's Topic

The current famine in Red China will be the subject of the first portion of "Chet Huntley Reporting" Sunday, Feb. 26, on the NBC-TV Network 5:30 p.m. EST. Huntley will analyze the food shortage in the Communist country and how it will affect the world political balance. Films of Red China will be shown.

The Peace Corps, a plan to send American college graduates to underdeveloped countries to teach, will be examined in the second part of the program. Dr. Maurice H. Albertson of Colorado State College will preview his report on the plan which he will present to President Kennedy, Feb. 27, the day after the program.

"Chet Huntley Reporting" is a weekly presentation of NBC News.

Remembered

Through this medium what friendship really would like to thank its family, relatives for making my 80th birthday one that will be remembered for many years to come. I'd like to express with heartfelt thanks for cards, flowers and gifts received. Following is a poem for anyone that has or her opinion, parents:

Have reached the age of 80,
I wish that God has you through,
Years that have passed have weighed
Have surpassed them bidding adieu,
I've labored and toiled and well,
For a life beyond, no one can see,
I wish that you remain happy and without
I wish that you all our love and
I wish that you no one, but you, that
I wish that you Thank you again,

13 Million New Jobs Seen Needed by '71, Goldberg Estimates

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 27 (AP)—President Kennedy's top labor advisor says finding jobs for 26 million entrants in the work force during the next decade is the nation's No. 1 domestic problem.

Arthur J. Goldberg, secretary of labor, gave that figure in addressing a banquet given in his honor last night by AFL-CIO union officials whom he formerly served as chief labor counsel.

Aides of Goldberg explained that while jobs must be found for 26 million workers in the next 10 years, vacancies for about half that number will open up due to death and retirement among present workers. Thus, they said, an estimated 13 million additional jobs are needed. Goldberg said that widespread unemployment, a dwindling job opportunities are high on the list of "unfinished business inherited by the present administration."

Dempsey Fails to Avert Strike by Bus Drivers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Union bus drivers struck the Connecticut Railway & Lighting Co. today as Gov. John N. Dempsey failed during all-night talks with union and management to avert the walkout.

The strike cripples bus service for 70,000 daily riders in the southwestern quarter of the state, including Norwalk, Bridgeport, Waterbury and New Britain.

Dempsey ended his separate talks with representatives of management and the Amalgamated Association of Street, Electrical Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America at the capital in Hartford shortly before 6 a.m.

The talks had begun at 6 p.m. the night before.

In a statement Dempsey said he had tried to mediate between the two sides but had failed to get through the night in an effort to avert the strike.

"Unfortunately, our efforts have not been successful," he said. "This is most regrettable because a strike of this nature has a very serious effect upon the public and upon the economy of our state."

Dempsey said he had placed before the two parties in separate meetings during the night a proposal that "I hoped would form the basis for further negotiations while the drivers continued to work."

He said the proposal was "eminently fair to both sides and the public." But added only one of the two sides would agree to consider it.

He did not disclose which side he meant.

A spokesman for the Governor said a key provision of his proposal to both sides was the appointment of a 3-man committee that would seek to reach an agreement.

The committee would consist of representatives from each side and a third impartial member who would be named on the approval of the other.

After reviewing the dispute in detail with his colleagues, the spokesman said, the impartial member would have the power to take any of all several steps, including acting as an arbitrator.

However, the Governor's aide emphasized that the impartial committee members would seek first to encourage a voluntary settlement.

In an effort to reach such an agreement, he would be empowered to:

1. Determine whether mediation should be attempted.

Regrets Mundt's Statement

Eisenhower Disavows Criticism of Kennedy

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower last night disavowed as inaccurate and regrettable a fellow Republican's statement that Eisenhower is critical of the direction President Kennedy's administration is taking.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., talked with Eisenhower for an hour recently at his Palm Springs, Calif., vacation spot. In a news letter he sends to constituents, Mundt yesterday painted this picture of Eisenhower's views:

"He is critical of the tendencies thus far evidenced by the JFK administration—too much left-of-center, too many programs slanted toward programs supported by union bosses."

Minding no words, Eisenhower issued this disavowal through a secretary:

"Sen. Mundt's statement as reported to me Sunday evening does not accurately describe either my views on public affairs or my personal plans, and I very much regret its issuance.

"The Senator evidently intended to repeat in detail our private and purely social conversation, but his recollection of the many subjects mentioned and his interpretations differ markedly from my own.

"Especially I regret the assessment attributed to me of the performance of my successor and his administration, on which subject I have formed no judgment.

"Moreover, I have always directed my public criticism to ideas and programs—never to individuals. While in that conversation and on prior occasions I have expressed opposition to certain of the pledges in the platform adopted in Los Angeles, I have likewise expressed the earnest hope of every loyal American that the future actions of the new administration will promote the overall welfare of the United States."

Mundt could not be reached last night for comment on Eisenhower's statement.

When Eisenhower was first asked for comment on the Mundt news letter, he merely said that anyone purporting to repeat what he has said is doing it on his own responsibility, and that when Eisenhower has anything to report he will do it himself.

Several hours later Eisenhower issued the strongly worded longer statement.

Rayburn Lauds Ike as General

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—House Speaker Carl Albert says he thinks former President Dwight D. Eisenhower "is a good man" and was "a great general," but that 40 years in the army didn't prepare Eisenhower to be president.

Rayburn, however, said President Kennedy was "already a young man of destiny" who will make a good president.

The comments came yesterday on a television-radio interview (CBS-Washington Conversation) as Rayburn appraised President Kennedy as he has known during 48 years in Congress.

"Throughout the interview Rayburn's politics were showing. The Veteran Democratic Congressman generally was charitable to Republicans, such as Eisenhower, but had high praise for the Democratic chief executives."

"I still think Mr. Eisenhower is a great patriot," Rayburn said. "I think he wanted to serve his day and generation well, and I—well—I think history will be just to him."

Kennedy, the House Speaker said, already has demonstrated "that he can make decisions, and make them quick enough, and after proper consideration, and then stand by them; I think he is going to make a solid president."

Of other Democratic presidents, Rayburn said:

Woodrow Wilson—"One of the great intellects that ever sat in the White House. He was a great scholar, he was a great historian,

Jobs Protection Bill

Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—Rep. Frank Kowalski, D-Conn., today renewed his proposal for a law to protect jobs of workers in plants which move to other locations.

The bill, identical to one which died in the last Congress, would make it an unfair labor practice for an employer to refuse to rehire workers who worked at the old plant site.

The measure would permit the worker wishing to move with the company to apply for a job within 30 days after being laid off at the new site. The provision would apply only if work were available, Kowalski said.

Cheshire, Feb. 27 (AP)—Harold F. Senior, director of public relations for the Connecticut State Labor Council, is dead at 87.

Senior died at his home, at Harrison Street, here yesterday of an apparent heart attack.

He was with the State CIO from 1944 until 1957, when the group merged, and then became public relations director for the State Labor Council.

Survivors include his widow, Marie, and a daughter, Mrs. Gordon DeWolf, Wallingford.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday in Cheshire.

Cordiner Quits As Top Advisor To Direct GE

New York, Feb. 27 (AP)—Ralph J. Cordiner, chairman of General Electric Co., resigned today as chairman of the National Business Advisory Council. Simultaneously he announced the retirement of Robert Paxton as GE president.

Cordiner explained, however, that he was remaining as a member of the council, which advises the secretary of commerce. He said he was giving up the chairman's job to take over the GE presidency until a new president is picked.

Paxton is stepping down from a job in which he earned $212,497 in 1959, according to the company's statement at the 1960 annual meeting.

Cordiner's announcement made no mention of the antitrust actions or their results.

After General Electric was fined, the question of whether Cordiner should continue as chairman of the advisory council was raised at a news conference held by Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges.

Hodges replied that he would take no part in any decision and that he felt the council, which had chosen Cordiner as chairman, should decide whether he was to stay.

Cordiner said today that council members had urged him to continue as chairman.

At the same time a GE spokesman said the company has agreed to allow the International Union of Electrical Workers to submit to the firm's 250,000 shareholders a proposal that GE executives convicted of violating antitrust laws be prohibited from continuing in the firm's employ.

The shareholders also would be given an opportunity to vote at the annual meeting April 26 on a union proposal that the company bring damage suits against all officials whose actions resulted in the company's conviction of price-fixing.

Cordiner said Paxton's retirement was announced today.

De Gaulle, Bourguiba Start Talk

Paris, Feb. 27 (AP)—Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba and French President Charles de Gaulle today began critical talks aimed at setting the scene for peaceful settlement of the Algerian rebellion.

The two went into a closed door conference immediately after Bourguiba arrived at De Gaulle's secluded chateau in Rambouillet outside Paris.

Bourguiba drove from Orly Airport in 45 minutes flanked by a motorcycle escort as police helicopters whirled overhead.

Tough security precautions at a barbed-wire perimeter of government officials and accredited newsmen from the area around the chateau. The Tunisian president who calls the rebels his brothers and the French his friends met in Zurich for the climatic talks.

Thousands of police and special gendarmes guarded Orly Field and the 30 mile route to Rambouillet. The road was closed to all traffic an hour before Bourguiba's scheduled passage.

De Gaulle was evidently taking no chances that extremists opposed to any peace negotiations might mar the Bourguiba visit.

Full military honors were rendered Bourguiba as he stepped from his plane on his first visit to France since he negotiated independence in 1955.

Hundreds of red and white Tunisian flags fluttered alongside the French tricolor at the airport and the greeting party was headed by French Premier Michel Debre.

Bourguiba—after two weeks of contacts with the French and the Algerian rebels—was to set to work with De Gaulle to bring about direct peace negotiations between the French and the Nationalists.

Bourguiba and De Gaulle are scheduled for day-long private meetings. Later Debre, Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, Tunisian Secretary of State Fernand Azzou, Dr. Selouk Mokaddem and others will be called in for a formal round-table discussion.

Whether any communique will be issued is questionable. The news organizations are viewed as too delicate for either man to wish much publicity.

Before bringing the French and the rebels face-to-face at a peace table under the aegis of such questions must be cleared up.

Although the rebels have accepted in principle De Gaulle's proposal of self-determination for Algeria, they demand negotiations on how this will be applied. De Gaulle has previously refused to

Police Search For Slayer of Kiecorius Girl

New York, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Search for pretty little Edith (Gogie) Kiecorius is over.

Another has taken its place—a nationwide hunt for the murderer of the 4-year-old girl. Edith's half-clad, bruised body was found yesterday in a shabby rooming house only hours after her widowed mother had prayerfully insisted, "No one can hurt such a beautiful child."

A medical examiner said Edith apparently had been beaten to death but an autopsy was ordered to determine the exact cause. The girl was sexually assaulted, the examiner, approximating the time of death as last Wednesday—the day the child disappeared from in front of her uncle's home just two blocks away.

Accompanying the nationwide alarm was a description of the toothless, middle-aged man who rented the room Feb. 17 and was last seen an hour before the child vanished. Police said the man registered at city-owned Mount Asenbyman James Mills, New York State Supreme Court Justice dismissed $5 million suit brought by Beverly Adkins against estate of actor Errol Flynn.

New King of Moroccans Faces Threat from Leftist Opposition

Rabat, Morocco, Feb. 27 (AP)—Morocco's new king posted heavy security forces around strategic points today to keep a firm hand on the potentially explosive political situation created by the unexpected death of his father, King Mohammed V.

The popular 51-year-old monarch's heart failed after a minor operation yesterday on his nose, a team of 10 doctors announced. He had been subject to a number of ailments but his condition was not believed serious.

The crown prince, Moulay Hassan II, was proclaimed King Hassan II. An energetic, forceful young man educated in France, he was named in advance by his father as his successor in 1957 but so far lacks his father's prestige.

Together they ran the government of this North African nation of 10 million since last May, trying to head off leftist challenges by outdoing their opponents in friendly overtures to Moscow and increasing estrangement from the United States.

As preparations went ahead for the funeral in the royal palace Tuesday, police and troops were posted around nerve centers in Rabat and other major cities.

About 50 policemen, brandishing submachine guns, stood guard around and on the roof of the radio station. Each government ministry had 10 steel helmeted troops and police on watch. Post offices, railway stations and power plants were guarded.

Thousands of mourners paced slowly through the streets chanting verses of the Koran. Women massed around the Moorish style palace, tearing their robes into shreds, scratching their faces and wailing for their dead king.

10,000 Homeless in 4 States

More Rain Forecast For Flooded Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Swollen rivers continued an ominous rise in central and south Alabama today, and the Weather Bureau predicted a new downpour of rain.

But unless thundershowers forecast for tonight and Tuesday are extremely heavy, they will have little effect on the already-flooded streams.

Meanwhile, the worst flood in many years left 10,000 or more persons homeless in four southern states—Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana and Mississippi—and damage is expected to run into millions of dollars.

Flood waters began receding slowly today at Montgomery where more than 3,000 persons have been evacuated.

The rampaging Alabama River created during the night at 58.1 feet—23.1 feet above flood stage—and by 7 a.m. had backed down one-tenth of a foot.

Downstream, the Alabama was out of its banks and still rising. It measured 57 feet at Selma, an other hard-hit city where lowland residents were evacuated by the scores over the weekend.

Previously flooded highways around Montgomery were open for the most part, but U.S. 80 was washed out between Montgomery and Selma and a bridge collapse closed U.S. 31 about 20 miles south of the state capital.

The Red Cross began establishing an emergency field disaster headquarters at Montgomery for flood victims in the stricken area.

At least 12 persons have died in southern flood waters caused by torrential rains which lasted most of last week.

Stricken areas at a glance:

Alabama—Montgomery and central Alabama worst hit. At least 3,240 evacuated, including about 1,500 at Montgomery and 700 at Selma. Alabama River at Montgomery reached record level of more than 23 feet above flood stage. Gov. John Patterson to ask for federal disaster relief.

Mississippi—Hattiesburg worst hit with 3,600 refugees. About 5,000 evacuated in state. Damage estimated up to $10 million. Gov. Ross Barnett appeals to President Kennedy to declare flooded areas major disaster area. Leaf River receding slowly at Hattiesburg.

Georgia—Columbus and West Point on Chattahoochee River at Alabama line suffer most damage.

Kasavubu, Tshombe, UN Angry

Elisabethville, Katanga, Feb. 27 (AP)—President Moise Tshombe threatened today to take military action outside Katanga's borders if necessary to meet any threat by Stanleyville troops advancing through Kasai Province—this secessionist province's next door neighbor.

He told newsmen "if any Gizenga move should be directed against Katanga, my army would be obliged to take up positions to insure the security of the state, even if they should be outside."

Antoine Gizenga is head of the Stanleyville regime.

Leopoldville, The Congo, Feb. 27 (AP)—The rape of a woman U.N. employe and attacks on other personnel by unruly Congolese soldiers today brought a threat of force from the U.N. Congo command.

President Joseph Kasavubu met the U.N. threat with a broadcast order to every Congolese military commander "to open fire if necessary against anyone who opposes the mission to which he is ordered."

The latest angry exchange between the Congolese government and the U.N. Command came as this capital suffered jitters from the advances of leftist rebel troops toward Leopoldville.

The outbreak of violence against off-duty personnel last night and early today provoked the U.N. Command to warn it will use force unless terrorism ends. The Security Council recently authorized the U.N. in The Congo to use force if necessary to preserve order.

A statement issued by the U.N. Command said such attacks cannot be tolerated and will be resisted "with full force."

The attacked woman was a member of the U.N. civilian staff, the spokesman said.

The spokesman declined to give the name or any details about the woman.

State's Statutes Attacked

Court Delays Hearing On Birth Control Laws

By PAUL M. YOST
Washington, Feb. 27 (AP)—The Supreme Court today postponed until Wednesday the hearing of arguments on the validity of Connecticut's birth control laws.

The court had scheduled the arguments for today, but announced this morning that they would be postponed until late Wednesday.

No reason was given for the postponement.

Adopted in 1879, the laws make it a crime to use contraceptive devices and drugs and prohibit physicians from advising their use.

Two married women and their physician attacked the validity of the statutes in two appeals. The women said they had undergone difficult or dangerous pregnancies.

The physician, Dr. C. Lee Buxton, is chairman of the Yale Medical School's Obstetrics Department. He protested that Connecticut's laws barred him from prescribing aids to married women for whom pregnancy could mean death or abnormal children.

The appeal by the two women called the laws "unreasonable." The appeals said the statute jeopardize the life and health of one woman. They said she probably will die if she became pregnant again. The second woman said she would "suffer great emotional travail with the birth of another Mongoloid (mentally retarded) child."

The doctor and the women contended the statutes violate the federal Constitution's guarantee of due process of law by denying them freedoms essential to their lives and well-being.

Fowler V. Harper, New Haven attorney, will argue their case. In a preliminary brief, Harper protested that the Connecticut laws:

1. "Result in children whom their parents do not want. Scientific opinion is that unwanted children are unhappy than planned children and are more likely to become anti-social."
2. Are "utterly unreasonable be-
