

Until They Agree Congo Army Detains Feuding Politicians At Alliance Parleys

Congo, April 28 (AP)—The Congolese army cracked down today on the country's feuding politicians, ordering that none should leave Coquilhatville until they have thrashed out agreement on the Congo's problems.

Soldiers mulling around the airport have been told by their officers to prevent any politicians leaving this town. Machine guns have been set up every few yards along the runway.

Even President Joseph Kasavubu, head of the Congo's central government at Leopoldville, apparently was covered by the military order, although he has made no attempt to leave Coquilhatville.

It was not known whether the army order was merely a temporary measure or whether it incorporated Kasavubu himself.

Katanga's President Moinet Tchombe, who tried to walk out of the Coquilhatville conference Wednesday, still is being held at the airport surrounded by armed guards.

Five of his top Belgian advisers have been handed over to the United Nations by Kasavubu and flown off to Leopoldville under escort of U.N. Ethiopian troops for interrogation by U.N. officials.

They were detained under the U.N. Security Council's resolution of Feb. 21 calling on all foreign military, semi-military and political advisers to leave the country unless attached to the U.N. mission.

It was Kasavubu's agreement with the U.N. to clear out all foreign advisers that was the cause of the conference in anger. He relies on Belgian and other whites both in the government of his seceded province and in his army.

The conference at this capital of Equator Province 375 miles up the Congo River from Leopoldville is being attended by 280 of the country's political figures and their advisers from every province except those controlled by the Lefist regime of Antoine Gizenga at Stanleyville.

Reports also were buzzing through Coquilhatville that even Gizenga was about to fly in under pressure from his army.

Six Stanleyville soldiers arrived here Wednesday claiming they were making preparations for Gizenga to attend the talks.

TV Star's Wife Found Dead in Gotham Home

New York, April 28 (AP)—Mrs. Pamela Garroway, wife of television star Dave Garroway, was found dead in their town house at 48 E. 85th St. early today.

Police listed the cause of death as unknown pending an autopsy. They did not indicate that death was due to anything but natural causes.

Mrs. Garroway, 34, was found on a bathroom floor with her head resting on a toilet bowl. She was in night clothes.

A housekeeper Brunhilde Aht, found the body at 2:30 a.m.

A private physician, Dr. Henry Horn, notified police.

Garroway, 48, star of the early morning "Today" show on NBC-TV, was notified by telephone at the family's summer home at Westhampton, Long Island, where he was recuperating from a virus attack. His part of the "Today" show is usually taped in advance. He was reported en route to the town house at the time Mrs. Garroway's body was found. She was two children, Michael, 13, her son by a previous marriage, and a daughter by a previous marriage.

At 2:25 a.m. Mrs. Garroway called Dr. Horn at his home, where he gave maximum sentence for the death.

De Gaulle Sets In Motion Big Algeria Purge

Algiers, April 28 (AP)—A vast purge of the police, administration, press and army in Algeria was launched today on President Charles de Gaulle's order to root out supporters of the unsuccessful general revolt.

Authorities revealed that 70 Algerian gendarmes have been arrested, 12 staff members of Radio Algiers suspended or transferred and hundreds of civilians questioned and many held.

Journal editors have been given to disband the 1st Foreign Legion Parachute Regiment that spearheaded the brief revolt, and all its officers are prisoners.

Armored cars manned by loyal troops guarded army headquarters, Radio Algiers and other installations. Officials admitted that despite the widespread purge, they were still not confident of the situation.

Planned to Kill 11 Million Eichmann Court Gets Nazis' Death Data on European Jews

Supreme Court Justice Moshe Landau, president of the court, then advised Hauser and Servatius to attempt to work out some method together whereby the witnesses might be questioned and cross-examined in Germany.

The court said it does not have the authority to order the government to ensure the safety of the witnesses on entry into the country.

Hauser has already indicated he might assure immunity for Hottel and Huppenkotter. But he said von Thadden would be arrested as a war crimes suspect the moment he entered Israel.

The court said that on a matter of principle appearance of a witness before the court is to be preferred. But when a witness can be questioned by a representative of the attorney general and a representative of the defense in the country where the witness resides, we are ready to permit it.

Hottel in his affidavit quoted Eichmann as saying that he had taken "millions of Jewish lives" in the extermination camps and other two million met death in other ways.

Huppenkotter's affidavit dealt with the organizational position of the "Final Solution" in the German government. He cannot guarantee that immunity.

Mercury Capsule Survives Last Test for Manned Hop

Wallops Island, Va., April 28 (AP)—The Mercury space capsule underwent its final and most severe unmanned test today with this verdict: A man aboard "unquestionably" could have survived.

Next week an American astronaut at Cape Canaveral, Fla., will stake his life on that finding.

Little Joe VII, a cluster of six solid propellant rockets, leaped up from this test station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration at 9:04 a.m. EST with the 3,000-pound space chamber on its nose.

Half an hour later, after a flight that produced stresses even more violent than the extreme conditions that had been planned, the capsule was back on the beach after a parachute-assisted landing in the sea and fast recovery by a helicopter. Meantime the vehicle had been blasted loose from the booster by rocket devices intended to save a space flier in case of trouble in the liftoff.

Asked if a man could have lived through it, project manager William M. Bland replied: "Unquestionably."

The escape was triggered under much more severe circumstances than will occur during the manned Mercury Redstone or Atlas-boosted flight. NASA said the capsule appears to be in good condition.

The chamber's appearance bore out that report. Its olive drab paint was unharmed and there were no dents or torn shingles. Next week's space passenger will ride the Redstone rocket on a ballistic trajectory flight called Red 3, which will reach a height of 280 miles and 280 miles south from Cape Canaveral. The most powerful Atlas is for later Earth-orbiting orbital flights.

The extra stresses came about because the rockets, for reasons not immediately determined, did not push the capsule to the planned height of 35,000 to 40,000 feet. At lower altitudes air resistance is heavier.

The escape mechanism was intentionally triggered at 12,000 feet. NASA said at a time when the vehicle was traveling about 1,100 miles an hour.

It was the escape of Little Joe, the capsule went on up to about 14,000 feet before it started descent and its parachutes went into action. Because the planned height was not reached the flight lasted only about 5 minutes instead of the intended 15. The capsule landed 5 miles offshore.

Only two ballast-filled dummies were aboard in addition to instruments. There were no animals nor biological specimens.

The aim was to determine whether the escape device would work under the most severe conditions an astronaut might encounter.

The entire sequence was visible.

Pair Accused Of Rigging on Stock Market

Washington, April 28 (AP)—Government lawyers today charged that thousands of investors suffered "many millions of dollars of harm" because of alleged market rigging and other illegal acts by two prominent members of the American Stock Exchange.

The two Wall Streeters, Jerry and Gerald B. Bowles, last night directly challenged one of the main pieces of the evidence against them. However, they argued through their attorneys that Gerald B. Bowles was not involved in the rigging. He was dominated by his father, Jerry, and should not receive as a substantial punishment as the elder Bowles.

Attorneys for the Securities and Exchange Commission filed a 90-page brief with the full commission today.

Rebels Ignore Laotian Plea for Cease-Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Laos' pro-Communist rebels ignored the government's appeal for a cease-fire at noon today and Washington was reported near the end of its patience with what some officials called Red stalling.

The British, fearing heavy action by the United States and the United States, urged the rebels' delay on "real practical difficulties" such as poor communications.

But President Kennedy opened consultations with allied governments and congressional leaders. Laos' steps may be taken to prevent more of Laos from falling under Communist control. These steps could include Allied military intervention but informed officials said Kennedy has not decided finally on his next move.

Kennedy warned congressional leaders, it was learned, that the pro-western government's situation is "untenable."

U. S. SPURNS CASTRO BID

Washington, April 28 (AP)—The United States, rejecting a suggestion from the Castro regime that U.S.-Cuban negotiations be declared today that "communism in this hemisphere is not negotiable." A State Department spokesman pointedly reminded newsmen that President Kennedy had said the American people are not complacent about iron curtain tanks and places less than 90 miles from our shores. The Cuban problem, press officer Lincoln White asserted, is a problem among many nations, not between Washington and Havana alone.

TALKS ON SPACE PROJECTIONS

Hartford, April 28 (AP)—Federal officials will soon be asked to finance a telescope traveling between the planets to study X-rays and ultraviolet radiation, an astrophysicist at the South Western branch of Pennsylvania Polytechnic Institute said today. Dr. Arthur I. Berman, who is a consultant to the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory in Cambridge, Mass., said the project on which he is working with the Smithsonian concerns a telescope to study these same forms of radiation, but to orbit the earth.

U. S. STARTS BIAS SUIT

Washington, April 28 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy today brought suit to compel a Louisiana parish (county) to register Negroes for voting on the same basis as white persons. The action, filed in the federal district court of Shreveport, La., was brought against the State of Louisiana and Cecil Manning, registrar of voters in East Carroll parish where the alleged discrimination took place. The civil action charged that an annual "identification procedure" had been effectively used to prevent some 4183 East Carroll Negroes of voting age from getting on the voting rolls.

Israel Claims UAR Fighter Jet Downed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli jet fighters shot down an Egyptian MIG jet today over the Sinai desert, army authorities announced.

Reports said the pilot was seen parachuting from the plane, but no definite information on his fate was immediately available.

Army officials said the plane was shot down over Helwan, in the central Negev, Israel's southern desert, adjoining Egypt's Sinai Peninsula.

Authorities also said that yesterday's Egyptian jet fighters were unable to inflict damage but were downed.

South Windsor School Budget Cut $18,297

The Board of Finance has cut the school budget by $18,297. The reduction brings the net figure to be considered by Tuesday's town meeting to $494,632.

The Board of Education's original budget request was $512,931, which included $148,228 for elementary schools and $364,703 for the high school.

In making revisions to the budget, the Board of Finance deleted the $8,000 requested for an assistant superintendent, cut $300 from the amount requested for the superintendent's office, reducing this item to $550, cut $1,800 from the employe insurance account, and cut $1,500 from the figure for principals' salaries.

High school budget requests were cut by $8,000 on teachers' salaries; $400, principal's salary; and $247, insurance.

Copies of the budget as it will be submitted to the town meeting will be available Monday at the town hall.

pledged, will make available "the fullest possible information outside the very narrow limits of national security."
Rows of motorcycle policemen encircled the President's motorcade as it quickly covered the mile and a half from his hotel to the dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria.

On reaching New York, Kennedy went directly from La Guardia Field to his hotel and stayed there for more than four hours before departing to deliver his speech. He is known to have been in touch with Washington officials on the uncertainty in Laos where continued Communist assaults have forced the United States to consider accelerating aid to Loyalist forces.

Kennedy's preoccupation with the alternatives in Laos and other matters caused him to cancel plans to attend a pre-dinner reception with the publishers.
The dinner was the windup event of the annual Press Week in New York.

Kennedy files by jet to Chicago this afternoon to address a Cook County Democratic dinner tonight before heading back to Washington.

terminated by looking at the sun when it was directly overhead, that when it had arrived, he set his clock accordingly, and everybody followed suit. This meant that the clocks in an adjacent town might be several minutes ahead, or behind. Railroads tended to operate according to the time in the major cities along their routes.

2,000 Broilers Killed

Burlington, April 28 (AP)—More than 2,000 broilers nearly ready for the market sufficed to late yesterday afternoon in a smoldering fire in a brooder house with the Pent poultry farm.

A handful of broilers survived the fire, which broke out in the 2-story building, Mrs. Pent of owner of the farm, estimated her loss at between $2,000 and $3,000.

The broilers were housed on the second floor of the brooder house. Fire damage was limited to the floor under a gas brooder, one of two used to heat the pen.

School Jobs Total

Hartford, April 28 (AP)—Total jobs of teaching and special personnel in the state's public schools declined from 11,018 in March to 8,077 in April, the State Education Department reported yesterday.

However, there was also a decline of 13 in the number of school children reporting.

For the coming school year in September there were 11,000 teaching and 125 other non-teaching vacancies reported.

Dr. Maurice J. Ross, research chief for the department, said actual total openings for the year are greater than those reported since not all districts submit their openings.

Sentenced to Prison

New Haven, April 28 (AP)—Daniel Segal of Fairfield, a contractor, has been sentenced to a rest in prison on tax charges. The sentence was ordered suspended after 90 days.

The penalty was imposed yesterday in U. S. District Court by Judge Robert P. Anderson before whom Segal pleaded guilty March 23 to a charge of filing a false tax statement in 1954.

In another action, Judge Anderson continued the tax case against William M. Pomeroy, 65, Hartford, for 15 days on an affidavit can be obtained for a hearing.

The Hartford lawyer has pleaded innocent to two counts of failure to pay income tax returns for 1954 and 1955 during which the government says he collected $100,000.

Mary Moore, New Haven, who had pleaded guilty to failing to purchase the government gambling stamp after accepting wages, was placed on probation for five years.

Driver Health Tests

Hartford, April 28 (AP)—About 35 per cent of motorists examined this far under Connecticut's newer driver health test program have been found to have some health defect.

Dr. James P. Shortal, the project's medical director, reported yesterday that the most common health shortcoming was weight. He said 44 per cent of the drivers were either overweight or under weight.

The survey is a joint undertaking of the U. S. Public Health Service, the Connecticut Health and Motor Vehicle Departments and the Connecticut State Medical Society. Its purpose is to establish a relationship, if any, between a driver's safety record and his health.

The Shortal discussed some of the

Rockville-Vernon Renewal Unit Sets Meeting To Air Plans

An informal public meeting to bring Rockville residents up to date on the city's urban renewal program will be held sometime in May, according to Harry W. Flamm, chairman of the Rockville Redevelopment Agency.

He emphasized the meeting will not be an official public hearing, but will give residents a chance to comment and ask questions on all phases of redevelopment.

Plans now call for members of the agency, planners, consulting engineers and contractors to be present. Time and place will be announced, although it is expected today that it will be held at the city's auditorium.

Flamm said the city's urban renewal program is a long-term project and that the present contract for work in the area is for about two years.

The re-use appraisal will determine the resale value of the city's property, Flamm said.

Data from the appraisal, plus other information, will be used to determine the city's financial position, he said.

Flamm estimated it will be several weeks before the report will be ready for the city council's approval by city agencies and the public.

The plan will then go to the city council and, finally, back to the federal government for approval.

When all approvals are final, the urban renewal project will enter the "loan and grant" phase, which will begin with the appraisal of appraisals are complete.

Next, a small stabilizing parachute umbrella and pull out the large main parachute that lowers the capsule into the water.

The launching Tuesday was aimed to put a space capsule identical with the one used here to orbit for a single run around the Earth and to recover it upon descent.

The vehicle wandered off course and was intentionally destroyed by a range safety officer after 49 seconds of flight. But the escape device did its job and the space chamber came down under conditions which officials said a man could have survived.

The final test launching here was to have been carried out yesterday but it was postponed when a cloud cover blocked out the sun.

Ernest Whipple, 33, of Sam Green Rd., Coventry, was subsequently picked up on South St. in Hartford at about 4 a. m. after his car had been found abandoned in a ditch.

He was charged with the attempted murder of a woman and was held in lieu of $1,000 for appearance in 14th Circuit Court in Willimantic Tuesday.

Moxy assisted in the investigation.

3 BODIES RECOVERED

Holden, Mass., April 28 (AP)—The mangled bodies of three Pennsylvanians were recovered today from the smashed remains of a plane which fell to a swamp at steep angle last Tuesday.

The accused, Thomas F. Mozer, 25, of 31 Oak St., is charged with driving without a license and in a filling station with the headlight turned off. He followed when the car was on the road.

When the car was on the road, the headlight was on. The car was on the road when the headlight was on.

Little League Notes

Beginners' baseball in the Rockville-Vernon Little League will begin tomorrow at the opening of beginner classes at the following schools.

At Northeast School tomorrow, all 9 and 10-year-olds, both those who are already playing on the farm teams and those who have been dropped from the regular teams will report at 1 p. m.

Boys 11 and 12 years old, all team members and those who have been dropped from the regular teams will report at 1 p. m.

Rain will postpone the sessions at the following schools at similar times.

Boot License Bill

Hartford, April 28 (AP)—The legislature's General Law Committee recommended today a bill that would establish a system for compulsory motorboat registration.

A similar bill was killed by the General Assembly in 1959.

Pension Unit Censure Rejected by Martin

General Manager Richard Martin rejected the "vote of censure" taken by the town pension board two weeks ago, saying it was unconstitutional, and offened the rules of "ordinary courtesy and decency."

Western experts in Laos said the rebels are in such a strong position militarily that they can take any objective they desire unless U. S. forces intervene.

The rebels and the government have accepted in principle a joint Soviet-British appeal for a cease-fire. But they have not gotten together on a time.

A rebel broadcast yesterday proclaimed, "We are the victors." It demanded the government send a delegation to Xiang Khousang, in rebel-held territory.

The government showed no disposition to back down on its desire that negotiations be held this weekend in the royal capital of Vientiane, still controlled by Royal troops.

Britain suggested that negotiators meet "under a flag of truce" in No Man's Land.

In Moscow, the official Soviet newspaper Trud charged the United States is trying to sabotage Laos as a peace and cease-fire was agreed upon.

Indian Prime Minister, Nehru warned in New Delhi that the job of supervising a cease-fire in Laos will be very difficult.

Prince Souvanna Phouma arrived back in Laos today after nine months in self-imposed exile.

Blaming the western powers for the civil war, he flew to Xiang Khousang, in the Plain de Jarres, after a four of European and Asian capitals that culminated in joint declarations of mutual support with Communist China and North Viet Nam.

British quarters in Vientiane have said that Soum Oum and Souvanna Phouma must form a coalition government to represent all Laos at the Geneva conference scheduled to meet May 12 to chart the future of the country.

But the declaration Souvanna Phouma and Premier Phann Vong issued in Hanoi today treated the Laotian as the head of a full-governed state.

Rebels Ignore Water Co. Blames Pollution To Green Manor, Schallers

The Manchester Water Co. today brought a $100,000 damage suit against Green Manor Construction Co., claiming pollution of the water company's Lydell Reservoir.

An attachment, filed in the town clerk's office, is placed on Green Manor property located at Rtes. 6 and 44A in Bolton.

Named as co-defendants in the action are John Schaller, Yvonne Schaller, Phyllis Schaller and Treasurer Co. Inc.

The water company claims that Green Manor has removed trees and vegetation and looted from property lying adjacent to Wilson Brook, which leads into the reservoir.

Lincoln White declined to discuss the company's "outrage point" for U. S. patent in waiting for the rebel forces, which now hold much of northern Laos, to agree to end the fighting.

"We agreed to the 14-nation conference," White said, "in the hope that a neutral peace and cease-fire would be achieved."

Stopping Off for Scouts

Without any question the No. 1 stopping off point for major league baseball scouts in Connecticut is at Storrs where the University of Connecticut plays its home games. And the reason for this is that the storrs campus is the only place in the state where a scout can get a good look at the talent he is looking for.

12 in Four Years

The 1961 spring sports press conference was held at Storrs, Conn. on Friday, April 28. It was the first of a series of such conferences to be held at Storrs in the next four years.

Off the Cuff

Right-hander Chris McNeill says he will be the first to pitch for the play-off team in the Connecticut State League. McNeill, who is currently with the Storrs team, has a record of 12 wins and 4 losses.

Check Forthcoming

Maneuvering for the position of president of the Storrs Athletic Association is under way. The election will be held in the near future.

Hotest Prospect

Perhaps the hottest prospect on the storrs campus is pitcher Joe Connor. Connor, who is currently with the Storrs team, has a record of 12 wins and 4 losses.

But for the sake of two scruffy infield singles, both of which were covered with ground, Kevin Toomey might well have had a no-hit, no-run game in his first mound start at Storrs. The storrs team won its second game in a row.

Retiring the first 13 batters

In connection with the game going for a 1-0 victory, the storrs team retired the first 13 batters.
