

Gary Cooper Enlarged for Integrity, Art

Hollywood, May 17 (AP)—Enlarged as an unparalleled movie star of quiet integrity and great artistic character, Gary Cooper was laid to rest yesterday.

The simple, dignified rites for the 60-year-old actor, who died Saturday of cancer, was in keeping with the humble yet heroic character he portrayed for more than three decades.

The simple assembly of film stars in modern times—many weeping openly—attended the solemn requiem Mass at the church of the Good Shepherd in Beverly Hills. And hundreds of ordinary citizens stood silently outside the church under leaden skies, respecting the family's wishes for a dignified service in contrast with the mob scenes that marked funerals of other matinee idols.

Neither his widow, Veronica, nor his daughter, Maria, 24, wept during the services.

At the brief graveside rites, Cooper's mother, Mrs. Alice Bracia Cooper, 87, widow of an English-born lawyer who became a Montana supreme court justice, sobbed openly. Tears also streamed from the eyes of comedian Jack Benny, one of his pallbearers.

Timothy Manning, auxiliary bishop of Los Angeles, said: "He was unparalleled in his perfection of his art with all its glorious exaction. He was immune from the corrupting influence of the publicity which he merited above his fellows."

"His family life and home were sacred to him and preserved inviolate. He was the husband of one wife, the faithful friend of his father, and above all and beyond all he was a man who saw the true perspective of his life in relation to the God who made him and to the service of God's holy will which alone makes man free."

Film stars present included: Stewart, Bob Hope, John Wayne, Jimmy Durante, John Ford, Fred Astaire, Marlene Dietrich, Lena Horne, Frank Sinatra, Al Guinness, Peter Lawford, and many others.

Burt Lancaster, Randolph Scott, Rock Hudson, Maureen O'Hara, Robert Montgomery, Ann Blythe, Robert Taylor, Dean Martin, Natalie Wood, Robert Wagner, Joe Ferrer, Rosemary Clooney, and Gene Kelly were among the guests.

At the graveside service, Cooper's widow and daughter, Maria, placed a vermillion poppy on the casket. Cooper's mother, leaning

Once more competition will take place at local, Pomoona and state levels.

The national bake-off will be held at the National Grange Convention (this year in Worcester, Massachusetts), where participants will receive the range on which they bake, plus other gifts, including refrigerator-freezers and combinations.

State Home Economics Chairman Helen Bousquet of Waterbury urges all contestants to read all rules carefully. They may be secured from all home economics chairmen.

Juvenile Millers all over America are cooperating with the Grange Team "Church World Service (World Council of Churches) in nearby England, according to Lucille Frederic, National Grange Juvenile Chairman. During April, May and June, Juvenile Grangers are earning money to help the needy in England.

Young people are being put on an educational program featuring the production of new varieties of seeds, animals and fertilizers plus orchard improvement. The girls and women are learning to make patterns, sew and preserve food.

Teen 'Boy of Year' Wears Apron Proudly

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Wirephoto Writer

A little home training will never hurt a prospective husband, advises a 17-year-old high school senior, Richard Lopez.

He is this year's "Boy of the Year," chosen by the Boys' Clubs of America.

Richard should know. Since his Dad died six years ago, he has been housekeeper, nurse, cook and a "father" to his twin brothers, ages 11. His mother works in a dry cleaning establishment.

Richard isn't a good cook yet but because he wears an apron at times.

The dark-eyed El Paso teenager is a top scholar, an all-around athlete, captain of the baseball and tennis teams, member of the football squad, sports editor, manager and photographer for the school paper, personality of the year and choir president in 1960. He is also vice president of the Future Farmers of America.

The highlight of his life came recently when he attended an opening day ball game with President Kennedy, personally selected for his invitation.

"We had FBI inspected sandwiches and hot dogs," he says beaming, "and the President gave me an autographed ball signed by the Congressman and the Washington Senators ball team."

"It is the most genuinely nice person I've ever met. When I told him I wanted to study law at Harvard, he advised me to get my application in early so that when called in Mr. Bundy (MacGeorge Bundy, former dean at Harvard) and asked him to guide me to accomplish the goal."

Richard hadn't decided to go to college until recently, even though he was a awardee of a four-year scholarship to MacAllister College. He was worried about his 50-year-old Mom who works 12 or 13 hours a day and "works awfully tired."

"But then my sister in Houston told me to take care of my mother and I'll be home in a week."

Richard's rigorous schedule doesn't leave him much time for fun. He doesn't have much money, although he manages to take a girl to a movie once in a while.

"We start chores at 8:30 on Saturday morning," he explains. "We put laundry in the machine while we clean the living room. Boys get the hang-on-the-line deal while I start the bedrooms."

"When you have a 17-year-old chore is lighter," Richard advises.

State Senate Passes Bill Hiking Taxes

Hartford, May 17 (AP)—The Democratic-controlled Senate has passed an omnibus tax increase bill, but its fate appears uncertain in the Republican-controlled House.

Gov. John N. Dempsey has said passage of the bill is essential to help finance the record $580 million general fund budget for the 1961-63 biennium.

Republican leaders have expressed approval of some of the proposed tax increases, but have criticized others.

The bill which cleared the Senate yesterday would provide these tax hikes:

Cigarettes—The present three cents to five cents.

Alcohol—The present 10 percent on life insurance to 12 percent and 2 to 3 percent on casualty insurance.

Corporation net income tax—5 percent to 6 percent.

Unincorporated business income tax—50 percent to 60 percent.

Telephone company—4 percent of the gross earnings to 6 percent, plus elimination of allowance for property taxes.

Telegraph companies—4 percent to 6 percent.

Water, electric and gas companies—14 percent to 16 percent on gross earnings to 4 percent.

Supporters of the bill said that the increase would be the first in several decades in some instances.

The Senate also passed and sent to the House bills that would:

Make Connecticut a member of an interstate corrections compact with other New England states. It would allow the states to provide mutual assistance in confinement, treatment and rehabilitation of inmates of prisons and correctional institutions.

The Senate also passed a bill that would:

Permit any city and surrounding towns with a population of 25,000, instead of the present 50,000, to be recognized as a "metropolitan area," thus enabling such areas to qualify for certain federal aid programs.

Give state employees credit for World War I service for retirement purposes if they served on or before July 2, 1921, thus adding more than a year to the present cutoff date of April 1, 1920.

Bolton School Items Dominate Town Meeting Agenda

Five items are on the agenda for the special town meeting to be held Friday at 8 p.m. at Fiano's Restaurant. They are:

- $2,500 for transportation; $2,945 for alterations at the school to meet requirements of the State Fire Code.
- Acceptance of Wall St. located off North Road, into the town road system.
- The increase in the appropriation for tuition is caused by the fact that although the Board of Education budgeted for 145 pupils at Manchester High School this year, there are now actually 153.
- Board approved for four extra pupils when it drew up its current budget. Those wishing to have the mortar and as a result there is a great deal of shuffling between the brick and the mortar evening.

The meeting was planned so that parents and school officials could be acquainted and to discuss ways of preparing children for entrance to school.

Principal Richard B. Mather, Elementary Supervisor Miss Viola Larkin, School Nurse Mrs. Helen Johnson and two kindergarten teachers, Mrs. Audrey Chappin and Mrs. Gloria Finke will be present to answer questions.

Refreshments will be served by room mothers of the three kindergarten classes.

The Board of Religious Education of Bolton Congregational Church will give an "appreciation dinner" for church school workers Thursday at 6:30 p.m. in the parish room of the church.

40 More Pennies Stolen at Market

Some 40 pennies were reported missing following a second coin-counting night break into the Farmer's Market at E. Middle Pike, on about 1:20 this morning. The theft was discovered when police, while making a routine check, found a damaged fence, which encloses the market, and heard an intruder run from the rear of the market. Some 100 pennies and two cartons of cigarettes were taken from the market early Tuesday morning.

Police are also investigating a 1:30 a.m. break today at King's Department Store on Hartford Street. Three pieces of glass were found broken on the south side of the building and marks on the floor inside the window area indicated that the building was opened but nothing was found to be missing, police reported.

Did He Belong with the GOP? Ike Considered New Party, Adams Relates in Memoirs

New York, May 16 (AP) - The disclosure that the Republican Party considered a new party for Dwight D. Eisenhower at one time that he, instead of the possibility of a new political party, says Sherman Adams.

This is related by Adams, at an excerpt from his memoirs to be published in the May 19 issue of Life Magazine.

Adams writes that "One of Eisenhower's largest regrets in his public life was the failure of the party's leaders to convert the millions of younger and independent voters who supported him so enthusiastically in 1952 and 1956 to a lively and aggressive Republican organization throughout the country."

Adams said Eisenhower had talked about this constantly to Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the Republican National Committee in recent years. He quoted the President as saying: "What happened to all those fine young people with stars in their eyes who called balloons and ran doorbells for us in 1952?"

"I just happened to see into this point up which he considered the principal reason," Adams continued. "The young liberals who made up a great part of the uncommitted electorate shied away from party affiliation with the arch-conservatives who seemed to exert such influence upon Republican leadership."

Adams said Eisenhower finally began to feel that many Democrats were more willing than Republicans to accept his foreign programs.

As a result, Adams continued, the President "began to speculate in private talks with me about whether he really belonged in this kind of a Republican Party."

Adams added that "Eisenhower's thoughts about a new political party - accepting a role of leadership in world affairs, liberal in its policies affecting human welfare but more conservative than the Democrats on domestic controls and spending - were confined to a few sessions in the privacy of his office."

Adams said the President "carried them no further for he was well aware of the dangerous confusion that might come from breaking up the 2-party system."

Adams makes no mention in this excerpt of his memoirs of his resignation as the President's top assistant in 1958 after acknowledging he had accepted favors from millionaire Boston businessman Bernard Goldfine.

The favors, Adams said at the time, included a villa coast an oriental rug and payment of hotel bills. Goldfine pleaded guilty this week in Boston to evading personal and corporate taxes amounting to almost $500,000.

In the excerpt - Life says another dealing with the impact of Eisenhower's illness on the government will be published next week - Adams outlines his early association with the Eisenhower campaign, beginning in 1951.

Hated Farmland Politics

Adams observed that "as a candidate and as President of the United States, Eisenhower had a strong aversion to any sort of partisan politics."

He described Eisenhower as "a right-minded idealist" who "is

There is nothing amateurish about the Latic. Although a great deal of its work is accomplished by volunteers, the museum has the skills of a professional staff. Obviously, a good deal of the credit goes to the museum's director, the officers, and the trustees. But much of the success I think, is due to the spirit in which the museum was founded and is run.

It is an unbridled place. Children can touch and look and poke, and even buy. The scope of the museum seems to be limitless. It is an exciting surprise to every visitor. I'm sure, and best of all, it's fun.

"Because of Freedom" To the Editor, Mounting evidence indicates a trend toward conviction in the American people that totalitarian societies enjoy advantages over free societies.

But South Korea would be the first place in which an army which we have created, trained, armed, supplied and which theoretically speaks, we ourselves still actually command, has actually taken over a government in one of our satellite states.

The South Korean army has been built up as it has as a part of the United Nations command in Korea. We command the United Nations forces in Korea.

Landis, advised the President to place the independent regulatory agencies—which are lawfully responsible to Congress—under close Executive control.

Now we have to wait and see what the army we created and equipped and trained actually does in one of our satellite states.

The new army dictatorship claims its undying friendship for us. It proclaims that its own main concern is the restoration of democracy, order, and honesty to the domestic affairs of South Korea.

It would be a tragic mistake for us to believe that America's mission is achieved in spite of our freedom. We must always remember that whatever the success and freedom of America, it is achieved because of our freedom.

Barbara J. Pond

To the Editor, I'd like to tell of a man in our community, a man as I know him, a man who has the biggest heart I have ever known.

There followed: A call to the doctor; the diagnosis; the wait; the bad news came with a chilling third brain tumor.

He is happiest telling stories to himself as he sits in a wheelchair, and he is a great storyteller, but something of his intense interest in his audience is reflected in the glowing tales of his wintertime days along the coast of Maine.

It was near the end of the game that Davey began to falter. His unusually fine control was off and his feet had lost their grip.

It was near the end of the game that Davey began to falter. His unusually fine control was off and his feet had lost their grip.

British Ride on Air in Hovercraft

By TOM A. CULLEN, Newspaper Enterprise Assn. London (UPI)—Just what is it, a plane? No, it's the British Hovercraft, a vehicle that glides with equal ease over land or sea on a cushion of compressed air.

The Hovercraft can operate over sandbanks, mud flats, savannas and bays, where roads are impossible and rivers un navigable.

More than a dozen types have been designed or completed since the first prototype model scooped across the English Channel from Calais to Dover, more than 20 years ago.

They range from one to 25 tons in weight, 10 to 65 feet in length, developing speeds up to 90 miles per hour. Some carry only a few inches of the ground, others as much as two feet in the air.

Some of Davey's friends are conducting a Little League fund raising effort all over town. They are not professional, just little people, like you and me, who are too ashamed to do something. So give him a hand, send your money to the Pastor of the South Methodist church and your prayers to Davey at the Hartford hospital and you wonderful mothers around Manchester, see if you can't do something for Mrs. Higgins. She needs you and your comforting ways.

Manchester Little League was off and his feet had lost their grip. My interest in him is the same as it would be for any of my 900 boys in Little League. And I might add that all the proceeds from the twenty games to be played by Manchester Little League on Memorial Day will go to the David Higgins Fund.

DINNER FOR ALCOHOL Hartford, May 17 (AP)—The Republican State Central Committee laid plans last night for a testimonial dinner June 10 for former GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn of Suffolk and Republican members of the General Assembly.

The committee also discussed the current training program for party workers and bills before the legislature.

The electric eye automatically fires camera and speedlight.

Rate Boost Approved Hartford, May 17 (AP)—The Greenwich Gas has been permitted by the State Public Utilities Commission to increase its rates. The increase will mean additional revenue of $80,000 annually for the utility. The commission said yesterday the increase is necessary to offset higher natural gas costs.

200-passenger ferry may cross the English Channel. A saucer-shaped craft, he could create an air cushion to support the craft. This is the "annual air curtain" system which the Hovercraft is based.

The Hovercraft was so impressed that it formed a separate company, Hovercraft Development Ltd., to hold basic patents and license the making of Hovercraft vehicles.

Three aircraft manufacturers and a shipbuilder were called in. They are known as "The Hovercraft Collaborators" and they receive it, names and technical know-how from the subsidiary company which, in turn, pays them royalties for their practical results.

The collaborators now work on different applications of the same basic principle and their assignments complement one another in such a way that duplication in research and development is eliminated. But one day they may become highly competitive.

This far, the British government, through the NRDC, has invested about $2.5 million in first stage research models developed by the collaborators.

The projects to date include: A 60-passenger Hovercraft to be ready in spring, 1962; a 5-ton Hovertruck, suitable for military use over land, in operation since November, 1960; and a 200-passenger ferry, capable of carrying 30 cars as well, perhaps for English Channel use.

Deaths Last Night

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Boston — John W. Kenney, 70, former general circulation director of the Hearst Newspaper, died Tuesday after a long illness. Kenney started with the Boston American's circulation department, became circulation head of the Detroit Times in 1939 and several years later went to New York to become director of circulation for all Hearst Newspapers. He was born in Winthrop, Mass.

Louisville, Ky. — Charles Edward Paries Jr., 43, manager of the Philip Morris Tobacco factory at Manilla in the Philippines, died Tuesday. Paries, who had suffered from a heart condition several years, had worked for the tobacco firm in Louisville and Richmond, Va., before going to Manilla seven years ago.

Rockville-Vernon Zone Change Termed 'Blind' for Dump Site

"Kangaroo court," "subterfuge," "deception by contract" and "legal malice" were terms used last night in a wave of opposition to a proposed industrial zone change in the eastern section of Vernon.

An estimated 200 residents in person, and perhaps a similar number by proxy, voiced strong objection to the proposed change in public hearing before the Vernon Fire District Zoning Commission.

Despite the strength of some of the comments, the meeting, held in the cafeteria of the Vernon Elementary School, was orderly.

Atty. Bernard J. Ackerman, representing 133 petitioners from the area proposed for zoning, said he appeared the commission had already made up its mind and questioned whether or not the real reason for the proposal is to establish a town dump.

A large portion of the two-hour hearing was involved in debating the merits of a dump, or disposal area, in the tract.

It was revealed at one point that the Board of Fire District Commissioners had authorized a bond for deed to an approximately 25-acre parcel off Rt. 30, owned by Frank and Bernice Chesney, as a possible future disposal area.

District Council Robert D. King said the commissioners had authorized the option under provisions of an ordinance adopted in a district meeting March 15.

He said the option expires some time in June.

King and other district officials held that the proposed zone change is not primarily to establish a dump site. Their statements were greeted by laughter.

King and other district officials held that the proposed zone change is not primarily to establish a dump site. Their statements were greeted by laughter.

Atty. Bernard J. Ackerman, representing 133 petitioners from the area proposed for zoning, said he appeared the commission had already made up its mind and questioned whether or not the real reason for the proposal is to establish a town dump.

A large portion of the two-hour hearing was involved in debating the merits of a dump, or disposal area, in the tract.

It was revealed at one point that the Board of Fire District Commissioners had authorized a bond for deed to an approximately 25-acre parcel off Rt. 30, owned by Frank and Bernice Chesney, as a possible future disposal area.

Science At Work

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Genetics, mosquitoes, and a star atlas are news items from scientific studies:

Genetics
Gottlieb used a powerful social life, and beat their chests not in threat but just to let out emotional tension. They sleep 15 hours a day, spend five more eating, and hike about half a mile daily in search of food.

SPACEMAN COCOON
Dangerous radiation threatens future space travelers. If a way shielding could protect them, but that kind of weight is a drawback.

Protecting Creativity
Mathematics teaching should be built around concepts, and not just formal manipulation of symbols.

Entomologist are experimenting to learn why mosquitoes bother some people, but not others, and just what attracts mosquitoes to their human dining table.

Answers aren't simple, but if found could lead to more effective repellents, or insecticides. Mosquitoes vary in their preferences. One group, Aedes Aegypti, prefer body areas, while another, Aedes Triseriatus, is lured more to the face than the hands.

One possibility is to devise an electrical cocoon around a space vehicle to deflect radiation much like the Earth's magnetic field deflects cosmic rays and other radiation pouring at the Earth.

These largest primates depend primarily on facial expressions and gestures to communicate among themselves, and use only a few sounds.

They put when and bite their lips when nervous. They have individual personalities, and scholar found himself able to recognize more than 100 of the animals by their looks and mannerisms.

Oceanographers have used corked pop bottles, ballasted with wire to make them sink, to trace currents along the ocean bottom.

Negroes Win Store Rights

Jacksonville, Fla., May 17 (AP)—Negroes apparently have won their campaign to be served with white persons at Jacksonville lunch counters—a campaign that erupted into three days of racial violence last August.

The quiet scene was in contrast to the violence of last August. Then, after several days of Negro sit-ins, a group of white men and boys from out of town appeared one Saturday carrying out over the downtown area and spread into Negro residential sections.

They're expected to be more sensitive to slow currents, and more probably will be found and re-fishermen's dredges, or are washed ashore, and the finders get 50 cents for sending a bottle to the oceanographic institution which released them.

Now the bottles are being replaced by brightly colored plastic drifters, shaped like mushrooms.

Hal Boyle Elephants Eat While Asleep

New York, (AP)—Everybody likes to watch an elephant eat. Everybody, that is, except Rudy Bundy. An owner of the Ringling Circus, he'd like to see some elephants go on a voluntary diet—the ones he buys hay for.

"We have 30 elephants and they eat 30 bales of hay a day—plus all the free peanuts they can mooch," he said. "They eat all the time."

"Elephants even eat at night while they're standing up sound asleep. They never quit eating."

The treasurer of "The Greatest Show on Earth" has a peculiarly strikingly different from the financial officers of most business corporations.

Finding 30 bales of hay a day on the road for the elephants is easy, Bundy said, compared to the task of buying 550 pounds of horse manure daily for the lions and tigers.

"That is getting harder every year," he remarked. "Sometimes we have to feed them beef. But that's more expensive and besides, the big cats don't like it as well. They prefer horse meat."

Bundy said getting out the payroll for 250 circus people was simple compared to meeting the varied demands of the circus animals.

In addition to the elephants, lions and tigers, the circus carries 35 horses, 30 dogs, 2 chimpanzees, 2 gorillas, 3 camels, 3 llamas, 4 bears, 15 cats, 12 white rats, 3 roosters, an octopus, 2 giraffes, 2 zebras, a fox, a hippopotamus and a goat.

"The big problem is that we've never been able to train the animals to stop eating when we're not showing," Bundy said. "But at that the animals are less of a worry than the people. They aren't as temperamental."

On Sundays, the 12 tigers do without meat. Instead they consume 28 quarts of milk and 20 dozen eggs.

The two gorillas, Toot and Garretta II, are the most friendly. They demand a particular type of jelly on their heads, and once a week also are fed a chicken and a steak apple. They also are the most intellectual. They like to have poetry read to them—in Spanish.

The biggest single mouth in the circus belongs to Lily, the hippo. She munches 30 pounds or more of chopped vegetables at mealtimes.

Bundy, a cheerful blue-eyed man of 54, is a close friend of circus president John Ringling North. He worked his way up to his present post after more than 30 years as a clown, a tightrope walker and a vaudeville performer.

"The only financial background I had was a commercial course I took in high school," he said. "The

Plans Fight to Wed Eskimo Girl

Terry Whitfield and Anne Witaluk, the Eskimo girl he wants to marry, hold an Eskimo carving of a kayak in Ottawa. Whitfield, 28, an Australian engineer, plans to carry his fight to the Canadian House of Commons to marry Anne, 25, a former airline hostess. Whitfield said he was fired by his company at Great Whale river in northern Quebec because of a clause in the employment act forbidding fraternization with Eskimos and Indians "except in special circumstances." Macbeth Wins Five Emmies

Hollywood, May 17 (AP)—Macbeth, William Shakespeare's tragic play, won five Emmies last night and stole the 13th annual TV awards show.

But there were other moments of low comedy and high drama: Barbara Stanwyck, who has lost her sponsor, won her first TV award, and—in the excitement—lost her dress. Bob Hope, nominated for the first time, suffered a stunning disappointment—but bore up manfully.

Macbeth won for best direction—George Schaefer; best actor—Maurice Evans; best actress—Julia Anderson; outstanding drama; and program of the year. Miss Stanwyck, nominated for four movie Emmies but never a winner, won on her first try in television.

As her name was called for best actress in a series, her bags dreez caught on her coat. Raymond (Perry Mason) Burr and several others tried to help her.

She finally tossed away her coat and walked up to the podium with a torn dress. There she thanked everybody connected with her show.

Later she confided to a newsman: "I wanted to say I was the first Emmy winner to ever have her show dropped."

If her anthology series had not been renewed for next year.

Burr, the defense attorney who never loses a case on the Perry Mason TV show, was named best actor in a series.

Fred Astaire, who has nearly as many Emmies as the television academy, won two more to make a total of 11 in his collection.

The veteran dancer seemed embarrassed to win again for outstanding performance in a variety show and outstanding variety program.

In other awards, the NBC news team of Chet Huntley and David Brinkley beat out President Kennedy's news conference for best news program.

The President and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, however, did get a special Emmy for "The Great Debates." Neither showed up to accept the award.

Bob Hope suffered what was probably the biggest disappointment of the night.

Hope, nominated for the first time in his 25 years of stardom on talent alone, lost out in the humor category to Jack Benny, who has won before.

Benny, a palisade at Gary Cooper's funeral yesterday, didn't show up to accept his award. It was accepted by Irving Pinn, executive producer of the Benny show.

Hope gipped that he should have won from the San Fernando Valley to Beverly Hills—where all the votes are concentrated.

LB's Daughters They're Growing Up On the New Frontier

By JERRY BENNETT
Newspaper Editor, Amherst, Mass.

Washington (AP)—Two Texas bellies are having some double-barreled fun as the daughters of the Vice President as they make the scene on the New Frontier.

For Lynda Bird Johnson, 17, days in the life of being the girl most likely to be named queen of every major social festivity in the Washington area. She already has been crowned "Queen of the Year" in Norfolk, Va., at one of the fanciest annual windings, sponsored by the local chapter of the League of Women Voters.

For Lucy Barnes Johnson, 14, there is the thrill of going out on her first dates amid the social whirl in the nation's capital.

For both young ladies, there is the feeling of pride when they call the Vice President of the United States "Daddy" and the excitement of seeing the nation's top real life drama unfold as the country's leaders enter their homes as regular guests.

Both girls take the licks, thrills, joys and excitement in their stride, without the slightest trace of conceit or aloofness.

Since they were small, Vice President Johnson, who they call "Daddy," has stressed to them that the children of a man in public office have an obligation to the public. So both girls go out of their way to be courteous and obedient to everyone they meet.

Lynda has even been known to lend her prize possession, a white convertible, to new friends.

The girls are similar in that they both have a sharp sense of humor which they express without inhibition. When Lynda was asked if she expected to be called on for any official duty she replied, "Perhaps I will. I'm older than Caroline."

(Generally Lynda is serious when referring to President Kennedy's youngest daughter, Caroline, who she says, "The Vice President always defers to the President. Lynda treats Caroline the same way.")

Lucy continuously demonstrated her wit during the pre-election campaign. At each train stop, her short speech included the line, "I'm looking for school today so I could come down here and see 'Daddy' all the time. I'm glad to see 'Daddy' because he's a laugh. Close friends of Lynda like to like her father, Lucy like her mother.

Lynda is fascinated by politics and history. She wants to teach history after completing her college education. Lucy likes to cook, particularly brownies and compose music. Her main ambition is to get married.

(Both girls like to collect photographs of popular crooners.)

While the girls seem to be running around in public life, they acknowledge that there are drawbacks. They know that all family members are subject to change because of their father's political life.

(Lynda particularly wanted her mother to see her crowned Alanna Queen. But at the last minute, Alanna was called to prepare for a visit from West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.)

Lynda is confronted by a special problem because she's LB's daughter.

Grade 1 Registration Slated At Two Schools May 18-19

Registrations for children entering Grade 1 in Coventry schools in September will be held tomorrow and Friday.

Registrations will be taken from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. tomorrow at the Robert Johnson School, Rt. 31, Coventry, and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday at the Coventry Grammar School, Rt. 31, Coventry. Children who will be six years old on or before Jan. 1 are eligible for Grade 1 in September. A birth certificate must be presented. Parents are reminded that physical examinations for all children entering Grade 1 are required by the Board of Education. Forms for the family physician's report of such examination may be had from the schools at time of registration. These forms are to be sent to the school, to the attention of the school nurse, and the examination has been made by the physician.

Vaccination against smallpox is also required by the Board of Education. This must be submitted by a valid scar or by a doctor's certificate.

Parents are urged to cooperate with the school administration in registering their children on the assigned date. This is necessary so that adequate provision may be made for bus transportation.

Supervisor of Schools Royal O. Fisher suggests children may be registered as follows: Those who live on Rt. 31 south of Ripley Hill Rd. and on South St. and all other southern areas of the town, the Robert Johnson School.

Children who live north of Ripley Hill Rd. on South St. north and west of the Daley Rd. Junction, on Daley Rd. at Westwater Park, Oak Grove and all other northern areas of the town are to be registered at Coventry Grammar School.

Depending on final registrations, a few changes in school assignment may be necessary to equalize the classroom load in the two elementary schools, Supt. Fisher points out.

Club Set

A Sal-polio sports union clinic will be held from 11 a.m. to noon Saturday at the Public Health Nursing Association headquarters on Main St.

Dr. Robert P. Bowen, health director, will be in charge. Assistants will be Mrs. Thomas O'Brien, visiting nurse.

Dr. Bowen has pointed out that "now is the time to catch up on any of the needed polio shots to complete the series." He has asked that residents check to determine when an immunization against lockjaw was administered last, and to consider the dangers of tetanus, which is a deadly and often fatal disease.

Officials feel tetanus shots should be given, not only to young children, but to adults, as well.

Work Day Slated

The Senior Pilgrimage Council of First Congregational Church will have a Work Day for Christ Saturday from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the shopping center at Rt. 31 and Stonington Rd. The group will wash cars and do odd jobs.

Anyone who wishes odd jobs done by the youth group is asked to contact the Rev. James R. MacArthur or Mr. Arthur E. Egner, advisors of the group.

Coventry Garden Club will hold its annual plant and food sale from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. May 19 at the Booth-Dimock Memorial Library lawn. In case of inclement weather, the sale will be held inside the library.

Mrs. Hubert Standfest, chairman of the club's ways and means committee, is general chairman of the sale. Assisting her are Mrs. Robert H. Wilcox and Mrs. Malcolm E. C. Devine, on plants, and Mrs. William Trisou, on food.

The Board of Selectmen has appointed Warren K. Little and James G. Goucary for five-year terms on the Coventry Recreation Committee. The board also appointed Raymond Victor as a special constable for the town's colony estates development.

Cub Awards

Cub Scout Pack 84 has received its eleven charter, presented recently by Hartsburg District Commissioner Wilbur Fletcher. The charter was accepted by Oscar Miller, representative of the sponsoring organization, Green-Choctaw Post, American Legion.

GOP in House Advance Own Road Program

The Republicans said the second amendment was necessary to provide for state employees who are covered by highway fund appropriations. Those employees work in the motor vehicles, highway and state police departments.

The Democrats questioned the legality of the Republicans plan to commit future legislators to their highway program. A Democratic move to have the bill and the first amendment sent back to the Senate chamber, with a large turnout expected.

A public hearing on Dempsey's program is set for tomorrow in the Senate chamber, but the Governor proposed, but at a saving of about $70 million in interest charges.

In addition, the Republicans claim their program would eliminate diversion of highway funds to the general fund, with the need for raising motor vehicle registration fees by 50 per cent or more, both proposed by the Governor.

To Democratic charges that the Republican program was illegal,

Eligibility Hit Indians in Triumph Junior High Program Slated for Expansion

Down Central And Eastern, Gidman Stars

Despite the absence of 16 members of the squad all of whom were lost via ineligibility earlier in the day, Manchester High's track team still had enough left to score a double victory over their two Bristol rivals, Eastern and Central, in the Bellows yesterday.

The Indians topped Eastern, 25-4, and outscored Central, 41-45. The twin wins upheld the Indian season's record to 7-2 in dual meet competition. Their Central, East and Western League mark is 6-1, second only to the undefeated Wethersfield team.

Gidman was the top performer for the Indians in this tri-rival meet which was scored on dual meet basis. Gidman was the only double winner taking both the broad jump and 220.

In addition, Gidman set a new track record in the broad jump with a leap of 21' 2". The hard working senior also placed second in the 100-yard dash but missed out on the five first place points in the scoring against Central. All told, Gidman gathered a total of five first places in the two meets.

Other top performers against both rivals were reg King and Dick Stewart. King won both the 440 in a time of 54.3 while Stewart took the discus with a heave of 127' 7".

Lance Stewart in the pole vault and the Indians' only quartet of Terry Jaska, Bill Ziegler, Skip Judd and King took top honors against Central. Bob Breen (mile), Tom Boat (high jump) and Dick Stewart (400) were other first place finishers against Eastern.

16 Trackmen Lost For Rest of Year

Manchester High trackmen who were declared ineligible for participating in the annual Hartford County YMCA track and field day held at Memorial Field Saturday were Co-Captains Ken Smith and Fred McQuinn along with Francis Brooks, Bill Clarke, Larry Dubaine, Fran Golden, John Gidman, John Manning, Richard McNelly, George Morlock, Bob Nowicki, George O'Dwyer and Jim Sommers.

Manchester High Principal Ray Rogers said this morning, "We took the initiative in declaring them ineligible as a deterrent. We are making a request to the CIAC and are awaiting their ruling. Meanwhile, the 16 boys will continue to work out with the team to stay in shape if the CIAC allows them to compete in the State Meet next month."

Dartmouth Prospect

Hanover, N.H. (AP) — Third baseman Mike Nyquist of West Hartford, Conn., is one of Dartmouth's highly regarded baseball players. As a freshman last spring he hit .43 in eight games. He's an end during the football season.

Friday afternoon, the Indians' linkmen turned to Bristol to face Eastern and Wethersfield. The White Sox are the only team to have gained a win in the Indians this year.

Junior High Program Slated for Expansion

By FRANK CLINE

Plans for an intercollegiate athletics program on the Junior High school level, which was recommended at Monday's Board of Education meeting, would include football, soccer, basketball and baseball, if approved.

Under the proposal the two groups would consist of Barrington Junior High School, grades seven through nine, and Hilling Junior High School, grades seven and eight, plus the ninth grade pupils housed at Manchester High School. The program for next year would include a maximum of four football games (for ninth graders only), six soccer matches, eight basketball contests and six baseball games.

Supervision of the program would come under the Junior High school jurisdiction. There is still the necessity of checking whether or not Connecticut Intercollegiate Athletic Conference rules will allow freshmen at the high school to play under a program supervised by someone other than their own principal.

"We're checking into this matter now," Ray Rogers, Manchester High Principal, declared yesterday. "If this plan does not meet with CIAC approval, we have an alternate proposal."

If satisfactory arrangements cannot be made to allow the Manchester High School Fresh to play with the Hilling Junior High group, then it will be recommended that the Junior High School intercollegiate athletic program be open to boys at the ninth grade level only at both Barrard and the high school. In this case, the seventh and eighth grade programs at Hilling would be primarily intramural in nature.

New York, May 17 (AP) — President Maurice Podoloff took stock of his National Basketball Association today and — even in the face of opposition from the upstart American Basketball League — blurted what he saw. "For the first time in a long while," Podoloff said, "there was absolutely no talk at our Board of Governors meeting of shifting franchises. Last season every team in the league made at least a little money and all are happy where they are." Yesterday, Baltimore was accepted into the league for the 1962-63 season bringing the total teams to 10.
