Athens, Greece, June 14 G7 —
Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, in a blue bathing suit, went water-sking today under the protection of the Greek Navy. She had a spill and fell into the water anyway.

Naval police patrolled the shore and sea, warning off bathers, keeping people from stretches of the public beach at nearby Cavouri Bay and finally confiscating film from two news photographers.

Officers said they had orders not to permit any pictures of Mrs. Kennedy "in her bathing clothes."

They would not say who issued the orders.

The harbor master of the area said such precautions for Americans.

following a closed hearing on probable cause.

Ronald R. Banning, 21, of 4 Park St., Rockville, his brother, Donald, of Stafford Springs, and Lillian Jane Ursin, 20, of Baxter St., West Willington, pleaded innocent last week to charges of injury or risk of injury to a minor. Ronald is also charged with delivering liquor to a minor.

Miss Ursin was to have received a probable cause hearing June 20, but because the three are allegedly involved in the same incident, the court presented their cases at the same time.

Bond was set for each accused at $1,000. The two Bannings could not make the bond and were taken to Tolland County Jail. Miss Ursin posted the amount.

A witness called by the state, Stanley J. Olbrias, 19, of 146 W. Center St., Manchester, testified to details of the affair.

Olbrias was later sentenced to 30 days in Tolland State Jail for larceny, stemming from an unrelated incident.

According to the prosecutor, Olbrias took money from a pocket-book in a house he visited one evening.

Indians Back in the Saddle

Newspaper Enterprise Asea.

Washington — (NEA) — The American Indian, after years of relative obscruity in real life, suddenly finds himself as popular with national policy makers as he is among TV producers.

But the politicians want to put the Indian back in the saddle, rather than shoot him out of it. And New Frontiersmen who want a hand in doing it are becoming as numerous as Old Frontier buffalo.

Leading the roster is President Kennedy who declares: "I am pledged to a program for the development of the human and natural resources of Indian reservations. Such a program will be an integral part of the total program of my administration."

Interior Secretary Stewart Udall has formed a special five-man "tack force" to study Indian problems and make recommendations for a reorganization of the Bureau the century. About half of the Indians live on reservations.

Some have become quite prosperious. A large number, however, are powerty stricken, in poor health and lack education. The average Indian life span is only 40 years. Last year, almost 8,000 Indian children between 6 and 18 were not in school.

Favorite whipping boy for these problems has long been the Interior Department's Bureau of Indian Affairs which administers the reservations. The Bureau's harshest critics accuse it of hamstringing reservation improvements by red taping, ignoring tribal needs and even oppressing Indians.

Bureau officials counter these charges by pointing out that they are continually providing reservations with resource development programs, vocational education and employment services.

Public Health Service officials, who operate reservations health programs as at that they are mak.

Hillary is returning from a 9-month scientific expedition in the ares near Mt. Everest, the world's highest peak, which he and Tensing Norgay conquered in 1953.

Hillary suffered a mild cerebral stroke last month while in camp at 19,600 feet on Mt. Makalu. Doctors with the party, which had tried unsuccessfully to climb the 27,780-foot peak without oxygen equipment, sent Hillary to a lower elevation.

Since then the 41-year-old New Zealander has been ordered to remain below 16,000 feet. But he was reported still full of plans for scientific work in the Himalayan.

Tensing is now hiking up to the Everest conquerors are expected to meet on the trail, and Hillary is expected in Katmandu some time next week.

Redeveloping Main St. May Be Key Project

The redevelopment of the Main St. shopping district might be the most important project of redevelopment the town could undertake, town officials were told last night.

Two other prime areas are the North End shopping area and the old Cheney Mills.

But whether any, or all, of the areas are to be redeveloped is up to Manchester.

The federal government awaits Manchester's pleasure, Jason R. Nathan, chief of urban renewal operations for Federal Region 1 told members of the Town Redevelopment Agency and other town officials last night.

Nathan, and Herbert Geller, field representative for the regional housing and home finance agency, toured the town with General Manager Richard Martin and others yesterday afternoon.

The area behind Main St. "may be your crucial area," Nathan said last night:

North End shopping area cation for planning its redevelopment, and supervise the intensive planning.

The federal government would pay fees, said Nathan, until the town approved a plan.

If the town should decide for any reason that the plan was not suited to the town, or that the town couldn't afford to execute the plan, then the cost of planning would be borne by the federal government as an outright grant. Otherwise, the town would pay for a third of the cost.

they did not think they had done anything seriously wrong. Since the arrest, they have returned the trees and have insured them in case they die.

The two men dug up the trees—red and Japanese maples—May 21 and planted them on their own properties. The trees were valued at $1.50 each.

The case of the missing trees came during a lengthy court session in which an Ellington youth was found guilty of violating a boating ordinance and in which the court had to pay a $4 bill.

Assistant Prosecutor E. George Gorsky presented the bill to the court after John Soyka, 19, of Crystal Lake, Ellington, was fined $15 for violating an Ellington motor boat ordinance.

Gorsky said the $4 bill was for obtaining a certified copy of the obtaining a certified copy of the ordinance. He told Judge Benedict M. Holden Jr. that he expected to ry the case and needed the ordin ance copy as evidence. However, Soyka, who pleaded in nocent last week, changed his pleas to guilty yesterday, eliminating need for a trial.

According to Gorsky, the youth had been driving a power boat closer to shore than the 150-foot limit required by the ordinance. Soyka was arrested following complaint from a swimming club at Crystal Lake whose members objected to the nearness of the power boats. Gorsky said a num-ber of the boats are used by members of a nearby water skiing club. There is rivalry between the two groups, Gorsky said, saying it has been "good natured." "Maybe it's not so good natured, now," he finished.

Edgar McMann, 50, of 119 Brookiyn St., Rockville, was fined $15 each on charges of intoxication and theft. The charges were lodged May 22 when McMann was account of taking cirarettes hamcused of taking cigarettes, ham-burger, potatoes and bandages, totaling $6.63 in value, from the Popular Market.

A $120 fine was levied against on a charge of driving under sus-pension of his license. He pleaded guilty.

Cote also pleaded guilty to driving a motor vehicle with defective equipment (a muffler) and was fined $15. tinuance when the court was notified Mrs. Lally was in hospital.

Alice V. Drury, 32, of 51½ Village St., pleaded innocent to a charge of assault. Her husband, assisting her in court, elected a court trial (trial by judge) to be held June 20.

Tadeusz Bruckener, 40, of Warren Ave., Vernon, charged with breach of peace, was placed in custody of the family relations office, which will report on the case July 11. July 11.

Innocent pleas were entered by George S. Minor, 34, of Mountain Rd., Ellington, charged with improper use of the highway; Joseph F. Sokol, 22, of 38 Village St., Rockville, charged with following too closely; and Judith D. Koehler, 20, of 56 Ridgewood Dr., Manchester, charged with evading responsibility.

The latter two elected jury trials, set down for June 27 in East Hartford. Minor elected a court trial June 20.

Francis Sadlack, 35, of 73 High

Kansas Claims

Pair in Killings

Balt Lake City, June 14 (F) —

Eansas officers assumed custody of two teenagers today, heading them back to the hamlet of Sharon Springs to face trial for one of seven robbery-killings.

The youths, George R. York, 18, Jacksonville, Fla., and James D. Latham, 19, Mauriceville, Tex., waived extradition late yesterday on a warrant accusing them of killing Otto Ziegler, a 62-year-old Tailway roadmaster, near Wallace, Kan.

The teenagers, both AWOL from an army disciplinary unit at Fort Hood, Tex., have admitted a series of seven killings in five states. But officials of Utah and other states agreed at a conference yesterday to let Kansas have first try at gaining their custody.

Both, and York especially, had expressed a preference for Florida, wants them for the May 29 slayings of two Valdosta, Ga., women near Jacksonville—Mrs. Althea Ottaking Otto Ziegler, a 62-year-old

They are also wanted in Illinois, enough.

DON'T OVERPAY FOR FABRICS This is the theme of a science fiction thriller written for the bulletin of the American Institute of Biological Sciences by R. A. McConnell of the University of Pitts-turgh.

Supposing since 1946 the Russians each year had chosen 1,000 women of superior scientific aptitude and physical stamina — and these women conceived children by artifical insemination with sperm from men of similar attributes.

Then supposing the offspring were mated with similar offspring. What would such an adventure into expenses from a Georgia Tech publication, Research Engineer.

Reading Material

If you set out to scan the 60 milliterature in produced in the world last year alone, it would take you 465 years.

And think about this: Each 24 hours the world's scientists produce enough technical papers to fill seven sets of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

And if that isn't frightening enough, every 10 years the amount of technical literature in existence doubles, writes Lawrence Ross in a Georgia Tech publication, Research Engineer. TONIGHT Dress Fabrics, reg. 98c . . 65c yd. Drip-Dry Broadcloth only 55c yd. Visit us and win a FREE portable Sewing

"Remove from history 1,000 It is masked and it hunts bed-great names in science, 1,000 in philosophy and religion, 1,000 more in the arts, and the rest of us Marendaz would still be bronze age savages," McConnell says.

And if the Russians did try to breed a human elite, buy 1975 you could reasonably suppose that they would need little more time before they would be able to speed up the evolutionary process so that 50,000 years of development would take place in the span of a lifetime, McConnell writes.

The surprise performances of the Detroit Tigers and Cincinnati Reds, neither regarded as a pennant-contender in the pre-season predictions, can be attributed to a number of rea-off a lively rhubarb in a recent California League game between Reno and Modesto.

The argument broke out in the first inning when Plate Umpire Sam Watts waved Dave Pflepsen of Modesto to first base on a walk. Manager Roy Smalley of Reno protested the call: After conferring with Base Umpire Merlyn Anthony, Watts changed his decision, ruling that the pitch nicked Pflepsen's bat and was a foul-tip third strike.

The reversal aroused the ire of Manager Vern Rapp of Modesto

Cleveland, June 14 (P)—
Psychologically, the Cleveland Indians are in better shape for tonight's game against the
New York Yankees than they Here was the situation facg the Indians in the opener st night of a three-game se was at stake:
The Yankees were riding a five-game winning streak. Roger Maris had been hitting home runs almost at will and Mickey Mantle had 18 homers, two less than Maris. Between them they had batted in 19 runs. And there was plenty of power in the rest of the Bomb er lineup, plus some steady pitching had shown up during Maria Gets One

But the high-riding Indians gave the Yankees a 7-2 lacing, holding the Yanks to a single extra base hit—Maris' 21st land in the first two innings. Both came off Jim Coates and performance. He pitched no-hit ball for six innings, walk-ing three and striking out one. Cleveland got an unearned run off him on a walk, a passed ball and a sacrifice fly.

Little League President This week has been set mation, as National Little League Week. Nationally more than a million boys participate in programs designed on a local level, using National Little League philosophy and rules as guide lines. These programs range from the ridiculous to the sublime in quality. The Manchester Little League program is somewhere between these two extremes. tremes.

Much is being written this spring about Little League; some of it good, some of it bad. But the criticism is not greater regarding Little League than it is about midget basketball, boy scouts, boys clubs, and all the other or-

The problems concerning Little League in Manchester are many and the solutions are difficult for the problems reflect the emotional pulse of the community. In Manchester, there has been too great an effort toward expansion and not enough interest in the physical effort necessary to acquire sufficient coaching, umpiring and facilities.

Interest Ends Quickly
Parental interest for the greater part begins and ends with the son's placement on a team. It flares up when he threatens to spend the summer in the itiving room unless his coach plays him more often; it dies again when they are reassured after threatening the coach. There has never
