ONE GOOD PLAY

SAVES MANY COMPLAINTS

By Alfred Sheinwold

A player who is dealt only one high card tends to complain about hard luck, for all the good it may do him. If he has misused that one high card, his complaints will fall on doubly deaf ears.

West led the king of hearts and declarer won with dummy's ace and returned a low club from dummy. East played low, and South played the seven.

West won with the jack of clubs, cashed the queen of hearts and got out with a trump. Dummy's seven of trumps won, and declarer led another low club from dummy. South next led a spade to the jack and ruffed a club, setting up the rest of dummy's suit. He returned to dummy with the ace of trumps to discard two diamonds on the last two clubs.

Pitkat Calls for Leadership In Campaign Talk to Rotary

Democratic first selectman candidate Francis J. Pitkat this week restated his call for leadership in town government.

He said the GOP piedged in 1989 to "take care of the welfare problems to stand up and face an issue" and who will exercise guidance in all branches of government.

Rebutting GOP claims concerning the leading issues of experience, tax increases, welfare and planning, Pitkat said he felt facts brought out in the campaign as far "have surely proved I was right."

HEALTH THROUGH CHIROPRACTIC

This article has been pre-pared by the Manchester Chiro-practors, Dr. Chester Ososki, Dr. Robert Stoker and Dr. George Calliouette, The materi-al is selected from publications by the N. C. A. CHIROPRACTIC CARE FOR SPINAL DISC INJURIES

WHAT IS A SPINAL DISC? There are 23 spinal discs which separate 24 movable spial vertebrae. These discs make possible the necessary flexibility of the spine with the ability to bend forward and backward. Spinal discs act as shock absorbers due to their cushion-like quality. They also influence the shape of the spine and the maintenance of normal spinal curvatures. Each spinal disc consists of an outer envelope or capsule of cartilage and an inner core of soft pulpy

HOW SLIPPED DISCS Discs being interposed be-tween vertebrae are subject to the influence of vertebral mal-position. The disc cartilage can become compressed and dis-torted. The result is a disc weakened and vulnerable to injury. Such an injury might arise from a blow or a fall, or even from a too sudden move-ment. The result can be a rupture of the cartilage capsule and protrusion of its pulpy contents onto a nerve root. This is the condition known as the herniated disc" or more poplarly the "slipped disc." CHIROPRACTIC CORRECTIVE CARE

Adjustment of the spinal dis Adjustment of the spinal distortion with corrective manipulation and traction to reduce the herniation and the pressure and irritation to the nerves. Statistics show that most cases of so-called "herniated," "ruptured," or "slipped" discs respond favorably and reasonably soon under competent chiropractic corrective care. Some 80% of all injured disc cases handled have been cor-rected through the use of spe-cific adjustment, traction and manipulation. This is the con-servative and economical ap-proach to the problem which obviates the need for surgical intervention except in rare cases.

Pupils Taught to Read Right

A second floor room at Barnard Junior High School holds the key to a keener understanding of the world of words.

The room is a reading center, where pupils will receive "corrective" or "developmental" training, About 500 Barnard pupils are expected to use its facilities this year.

They will be instructed by 33 year-old James Skiffington of East Longmeadow, Mass, who taught social studies at Barnard until he discovered that pupils who can't read, can't learn social studies.

The "corrective" training is given to those pupils who show a "lack of phonetic and structural analysis," says Skiffington. Pupils are assigned to one period a week of reading study to replace a regular English class period.

Pupils already at grade level in their reading ability may received and comprehension and reading skills," he said. They will learn how to organize an outline and study to a textbook.

Skiffington says below-grade lev-ling tests for each grade level.

And, of course, the tone of the Russian oratory was rooted in and governed by what Kennedy had done.

Scribe the worderful appeal of a new technique in painting which has just been introduced to Londov art circles by one Anna Myerson, an Austrian artist. She uses a hammer, a chisel, and a steel drill to do her painting on cookie tins, chicken wire, and copper or iron sheeting. We haven't seen a sample of her work, but we can hear it way over here.

But as for the words which what Kennedy had done.

If there had been weakness, if there had been evasion, if there had been shallow stratagem, if there had been common sense fissures in the Kennedy effort of the day before, the Russians yesterday would have been riding high, confident, and insulting through the weaknesses and openings they had found.

But as for the words which might describe the result, she herself has provided them for us. With this equipment, she says, she has been able to "solve the problem of using the effects of tension, animation, and anxiety to create a coherent image."

That is nothing more or less than what we are all after, in our various ways and by our various techniques.

Instead, they were troubled and uncertain and irresolute, and unable to claim back, for themselves, any initiative.

Some of us resort to the bottle, or to the couch, or even to hard work, and robody is really wise any initiative.

The surest, most unfalling testimony to the power and value of a speech is the subsequent ineffectiveness of those who seek to reply to it. Yesterday Gromyko could not even make the most frequently used word in Russian diplomacy, the one all Russian diplomacy, the one all Russian diplomats have had most practice in, sound convincing. His nyets were anemic. In fact, so many weak nyets almost make a da.

Work, and robody is really wise enough to take anything away from any of these. But, if all should fail, there is now another experiment left—all problems of adjustment may fade harmoniously away once one goes to it happily with hammer, chisel, steel drill, and a few cookie tins. One hears the tensions being chipped away, the anxieties relaxed, the square pegs ounding themselves, the coherence beginning to take over and establish the same kind There will almost never be a over and establish the same kind There will almost never be a of peace we find in the other art loves of our life.

City Leaders Support Urban Renewal Plan

Support from all quarters was policy of supporting progressive given last night to Rockville's urban renewal project, which may enter the land acquisition stage in February.

City officials and heads of varicus agencies and organizations voiced the support in a round of speeches following presentation of the redevelopment proposal.

About 150 people heard Harry W. Fiamm, chairman of the Rockville Redevelopment Agency, outline the plan at a dinner meeting at the Elks Carriage House in Rockville.

"It is entirely probable," Flamm said, "that we will begin acquiring property in February of next car... and conceivable that construction should commence in the early part of 1963."

In a prepared speech, Flamm announced the agency proposal that a portion of the 16-acre renewal tract between Brooklyn and High Sts. be purchased outright by the city, and middle income homes erected there.

Suggested cost of the parcel is

He said he feels "we have the type of people here who will do it. I'm confident we can do a good to be said proceeds will go into the type.

I'm confident we can do a good job."

Former Mayor Herman G. Olson spoke of substandard buildings, poor living conditions and lack of competitive business in the downtown section and said the city has got to be "for it or against it. Let's be for it."

He said city commerce needs more competition. "People coming into the city want plenty of stores to look into," he said, adding that statistics show that 69 to 75 per cent of all commercial business is still done within city areas, not in mushrooming suburban shopping centers.

Who said proceeds will go into the treasuries.

whether I'd ever get it," he said today referring to the historic four-bagger he walloped in the third ining off Jack Fisher, Baltimore righthander, "I was so close and yet...

"Now that I've got it, I'd like to get one more, just one more," He has four games in which to do it. Words weren't coming easily to the New York Yankee slugger who, normally is a shy, almost reticent introvert. He was fully aware that he had equalled Babe Ruth's fantastic 60 in a season and it embarassed him when he was introduced to Mrs. Ruth, the immortal Babe's wife, immediately after the game.

"I'm still bewildered," he said. "I just don't know how to explain my feelings. I know I'm happy, happier than I've ever been before. It's a feeling I've never had before and never will have again.

"I know it's a thrill but it's not as great a thrill as when I hit my 59th. Maybe that's because I still can't quite believe it. I hope I don't wake up tomorrow and find it's not true."

A crowd of 19,401 let out a spontaneous cheer when Royer

Maris admitted the nervousness, the anxiety and the mental strain of battling Ruth's image were still binding him.

"I don't think the pressure has changed," he said. "I think it will continue, This last month has really been no picnic for me. I keep thinking of what I have gone through and now that I've got my 60th, have to go through it again."

Whether he hits 61, Maris is assured of a financial bonanza. Home Run No. 60, according to Frank Scott, Maris' off-the-field agent, will bring $300,000 to Roger in endorsements and royalties over the next three years.

"He'll make $100,000 this winter alone," Scott said.

Maris undoubtedly will be rewarded by the front office, too. It was speculated that he will receive a 1962 salary in the neighborhood of $80,000. His 1961 salary is astimated at between $35,000 and $40,-200.

New York (P)—The unde-feated Dallas Cowboys, run-ning and passing through op-posing teams with ease, today are ranked No. 1 on offense in the National Football Herald Angle The Cowboys, with victories over Pittsburgh and Minnesota, have accumulated a total of 840 yards, 304 from rushing and a league-pacing 536 yards via passes. No other team comes within 150 yards of the Dallas yardage collection, according to the NFL's weekly statistical

My Life Is Baseball—The True Record

Dailas defense is, a different story. The Cowboys are eighth, far inferior to the defensive performance so far of the top-ranked St. Louis Cardinals.

The Cardinals have yielded 402 yards — 194 on the ground and 208 in the air — in whipping New York 21-10 and losing a 20-17 game Sunday to the Cleveland Browns. The Dailas defense has given up 593 yards.

Cleveland, with a loss to champlon Philadelphia and that victory over St. Louis is second in team offense with 677 yards including 214 yards from rushing and 463 yards from passing, all off the arm of Milt Plum. Next comes the "Shoigum" attack of the San Francisco 49ers, who have picked up 632 yards in carving a 1-1 record.

San Francisco is second in defense, having yielded a mere eight yards more than the Cardinals or 410 yards. The Detroit Lions are third with the opposition mustering 480 yards through the charges of Cach George Wilson.

And after what's happened so far, there's a general feeling throughout the league the Lions may have the best defense among the 14 cloubs even though today St. Louis has proven the stingiest yielder of yardage.
