As You Like It

By JUDITH ABEARN

The University of Connecticut theater department has chosen Richard Sheridan's "The Rivals" as the opening production of the 1961-62 season Tuesday, Nov. 7, at 8 p.m. The second production will be Tennessee Williams' "A Streetcar Named Desire" to be presented in the Fine Arts Center, Theater rather than the Harriet Jorgensen Theater, Dec. 5 to 8.

Stephen Vincent Benet's "John Brown's Body" is the third production to be presented in the Fine Arts Center. Theater rather than the Harriet Jorgensen Theater, Dec. 12 to 15.

"Look Homeward, Angel" from Thomas Wolfe's novel, will be produced March 5 through 10, and "Oklahoma" will be the final production March 20 to April 7.

In addition to the live drama, a series of movies will be sponsored by the theater department.

"Pal Joey" will be shown Dec. 10, "The Prince of Players" Jan. 9, "Henry V" Feb. 18, and "Camille" April 20.

Opening Up in Manchester

The U.S. Marine Band will perform at Bailey Auditorium of Manchester High School Wednesday, Oct. 11, under the direction of Lt. Col. Albert Schoopier. The band will be making its second appearance under the sponsorship of the Manchester Rotary Club and tickets may still be purchased from members of the club.

Win Acting Awards

Henry Murphy of Rockville, a member of the Manchester Little Theater, won an award as a best supporting actor last week, and Mary Bonham, 85 Arnold Rd., also a member, won a special award for making the most of a small part.

The awards were made by the Farmington Valley Herald. Murphy received his award for his performance in "Pygmalion"

Cul de sac Suggested For Bryan Subdivision

A suggestion to make a temporary cul de sac, or dead end of the street which will connect the Manchester and South Windsor portions of the proposed Bryan Farm housing subdivision was made last night to the board of directors.

The directors didn't get around to making a decision on the proposal until they met at 8 o'clock in the afternoon Monday at 8 p.m. in the hearing room of the Municipal Building.

Atty. William FitzGerald, 27 Concord Rd., speaking for himself and his neighbors on Baldwin Rd., suggested that if the directors approve the housing subdivision, that they hold in abeyance a decision on the connecting street.

Atty. FitzGerald said the directors will give the town time to find out what the State Highway Department's final plans are for widening the Wilbur Cross Highway in that area, said Atty. FitzGerald.

Residents have protested the proposed subdivision on the grounds that it will bring traffic to the area, and to trace his reluctance if one of the streets, particularly the one connecting Baldwin Rd. is closed when the Wilbur Cross Highway is widened.

Atty. FitzGerald asked the directors to keep the connecting road closed until they find out what the State Highway Department's final plans are for widening the Wilbur Cross Highway in that area, said Atty. FitzGerald.

Later in the meeting, Atty. Vincent Diana, representing the I. R. Stuch Construction Co., developers of the farm, said the cul de sac would be "land planning" and would be an affront to the town of South Windsor.

The major portion of the housing development will be in South Windsor, and 54 houses will be built in Manchester.

Speak on Issue

Townpeople who spoke on the issue last night were the following:

Morris Bennett, 86 Baldwin Rd., who supported Atty. FitzGerald's idea.

Albert Heavides, 37 Baldwin Rd., who advocated better planning for utilities in future subdivisions.

Buell Hasbrouck, 101 Concord Rd., who criticized the directors for not paying attention to what the residents were saying at the meeting (Mayor Harold A. Turkington disagreed).

Vincent Ganssaul, 30 Baldwin Rd., who concurred with Atty. FitzGerald.

Edward Sweeney, 80 Baldwin Rd., who said the cul de sac would be a temporary measure.

Sherrwood Bowers, 15 Denning St., who said the Bryan Farm subdivision was "landlocked," that is, it did not have frontage on any major road, like Green Manor and Rolling Park subdivisions did.

Miss Casselli Given Several Showers

Miss Jeanette Cassell, 37 Clinton St., has been honored recently with several pre-wedding showers.

Her first shower, given by her sister, Mrs. Ruth Cassell, 7 Clinton St., and John Cassell, North St., will become the bride of Richard Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley, 23 Walla St., on Oct. 14.

Last night former classmates of Miss Cassell attended a personal shower given by her sisters, Mrs. Shirley and Miss Linda Cassell.

Miss Cassell's daughter, Mrs. Ruth Cassell, 7 Clinton St., and John Cassell, North St., will become the bride of Richard Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelley, 23 Walla St., on Oct. 14.

Baptists Planning Lunch Program

The Woman's Baptist Mission Society will sponsor a "Luncheon in Service" program in Fellowship Hall at the Community Baptist Church on Wednesday, Oct. 18, at noon.

Before the luncheon, there will be a sale of Christmas gift items and doll clothes at 10 a.m.

The "Luncheon in Service" program will be directed by Mrs. Margaret Johnson. There will be a baby-sitting service. For reservations, members may call Mrs. William Hargrove, 27 Lila St., by Friday, Oct. 13.

Small-Arms Tally Big

Washington — In World War II the United States Army Ordnance Corps handled 37 billion rounds of small-arms ammunition and 12,000 rifles and carbines. This amount went to the United States and 43 other nations.

Device Guards Patient

Rochester, Minn. — Engineers working with Mayo Clinic authorities have developed a body-function recorder. It measures and records a patient's temperature, pulse rate, breathing, and blood pressure. And it automatically sounds an alarm when any reading signifies danger.

Sheinwold on Bridge

DON'T BE HASTY IN DRAWING TRUMPS

When hand looks difficult don't be in a hurry to draw trumps. Think before you jack clubs, West opened the jack of clubs, and South won with the ace. His first step was to draw three rounds of trumps.

Declarer then cashed dummy's top diamonds, got to his hand with the ace of spades, discarded dummy's remaining spades on the ace of diamonds, and led a club toward dummy's hand.

South huffed and puffed, but he had three losing clubs and South had only one trump to hold the fort. If you want to consider South's losers, besides the losing club he had two low spades and a diamond. Dummy had only two trumps and could take care of only two of these three cards.

In short, South had to lose one club and one trump (with the ace) and then lead his low club, which would be a diamond to West's best return is a second, knocking out the ace.

The third trump must wait for a minor suit.

Revelation Funds Voted

The voters added $10,000 to the preliminary budget submitted by the selectmen for the next fiscal year at the town meeting last night. The appropriation will finance renovation of real property in the town, which will be completed this year.

First Selectman Clair L. Robinson reported he has contacted several firms to do the job, seeking the one best suited to the town's needs. The exact cost will not be known until the firm is chosen.

The budget was also increased by $3,000 to defray costs which may be incurred in the fight to end the nuisance of odor and pollution from the Connecticut River products Co. at Hop River.

Also added was $500 to post the road name signs. This is to be done with metal posts and name plates, clearly displayed.

Reports of town officials were accepted. E. Malcolm Stannard questioned the need for the superintendent of schools report being printed but this was not acted upon.

The Rev. George K. Evans asked that the special committee studying the need for a public health nurse in town be given an extension until the March town meeting to give a full report.

Patroling the lake, say for constable or constables, and furnishing a boat for this use, took a great deal of time. Accordingly, it was voted that a committee of three be appointed by the chairman to study the need for constables.

Bolton Selectmen Set Appointments

The selectmen, including the new Democratic member, Dr. Bernard J. Sheridan, made several appointments at their meeting last night.

Also Peace was appointed to a one-year term as custodian of the town-owned property on Brandy St. Selectman Charles Robbins explained that Peace has the use of the former Swanson farm in return for keeping the brush down on the land and generally taking care of it.

Mrs. Shirley Riley was reappointed clerk of the board of selectmen.

The board plans to set appointments for the post of custodian of the Community Hall since Donald Massey has indicated that he will be relieved of the duties due to other business.

Selectman Robbins reported the Democratic Town Committee has not received a letter asking for a recommendation for appointment to the five-year term on the zoning commission to be vacated by Oscar Kreyzig this month.

Robbins said he would favor Kreyzig's reappointment, since Kreyzig had served on the board since his organization, Dr. Sheridan recommended that action be taken to see if the Democratic party wished to make a recommendation for the post. It was decided to hold the appointment at the next meeting on Oct. 16.

Other Appointments

Hoseman Robbins was a gain named treasurer for a one-year term. Mrs. Donald Telford was reappointed welfare worker for a year. Park and Recreation Commissioner Fred Gial received another one-year appointment.

Appointment of a member to the Insurance Advisory Committee was tabled pending receipt of a recommendation by members of the advisory group.

Designated as official depositories for town funds were the Hartford, Manchester and Rockville branches of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., the People's Bank of Rockville and the Savings Bank of Rockville and Manchester.

Selectman Robbins reported that the $5,000 estimated cost of installing permanent paving on North Rd. had proved to be too low. An additional $1,200 was transferred from the maintenance account to the road fund, making the total cost of finishing the paving on North Rd. $6,200.

Selectman Michael Peace recommended that the idea of North Rd. be finished up to the level of the newly installed permanent paving, the work to be done by the town crew.

Jobs Total Dips 457,000

Washington, Oct. 4 (AP) — Joblessness dropped by 457,000 in September and should decline below four million this month, the first time in a year, the Labor Department reported yesterday.

At 4,085,000, the September unemployment total was 0.8 per cent of the civil labor force, a disappointingly small change from the August rate of 0.9 per cent, equivalent to the high point of the recession.

However, the department's manpower expert, Dr. Seymour Wolfsthal, said these were elements in the September picture which indicate there should be "some improvement" in October.

Joblessness among adults, as a dropped more than seasonally, as did long-term unemployment.

There also was a drop in the number of workers working short hours for economic reasons.

Total employment dropped by 1.5 million in September to a total of 67,088,000.

This was about twice the decline normally associated with the return of young workers to school and was attributed to the severe curtailment of farm work due to hurricane Carla during the week in which the bureau of labor statistics made its job survey.

Wolfsthal acknowledged he was surprised that the increase in joblessness were so greater than they were. "Basically, there has not been any fundamental shift in the rate of employment for 10 consecutive months," he told reporters.

But several aspects of the employment picture were encouraging, he said, and led to the assumption that joblessness should decline in October to a point even below the 0.8 million level which can be expected if only the normal seasonal movements occur.

"We are very hopeful that by the end of the year, we will see some genuine reduction in the unemployment total," Wolfsthal said.

Unemployment among adult men, the key group of workers which is most carefully watched by BLS, was reduced substantially. The rate dropped from 8.1 per cent in August to 5.7 per cent last month. The number of men and women who have been idle 15 weeks or more declined by nearly 300,000 to 1.5 million.

Non-farm employment declined just about seasonally to 61.4 million, but this total was the highest for any September on record since Secretary of Labor Arthur J.

Men's Club Guest

Dr. Arthur O. Rindin, executive secretary of the Greater Hartford Council of Churches, will be guest speaker at the first fall meeting of the Men's Club of North Methodist Church on Monday, Oct. 9, at 8 p.m. at the church.

"Stewardship" will be his topic. Dr. Rindin served in the stewardship and benevolence department of the National Council of the Churches of Christ for six years. He was a missionary in China for 18 years under appointment of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions of the Congregational Christian Churches. He also spent a year in Tokyo as associate secretary of the National Christian Council of Japan.

Dr. Rindin is an ordained minister of the Congregational Christian Churches, a church administrator and audio-visual specialist. The meeting is open to all interested.

Westminster Once A Saxon Abbey

London—The most historic spot in Britain is Westminster Abbey, in which have been crowned all the English kings and queens—with the exception of Edward V and Edward VII—since William the Conqueror in 1066.

And many of them are buried within the abbey. Originally a Saxon abbey on the site of the Convent in the 11th Century and, except for additions, it exists in that form today.

State News Roundup

5 Jurors Named
Waterbury, Oct. 4 (AP)—Seven jurors remained to be picked today for the trial of four Cheshire reformatory inmates accused of taking part in the July 25 fracas at the institution.

The trial got under way yesterday with the selection of five of the jurors.

The four on trial are Anthony Sals, 31, Bridgeport; John F. Moore, 38, and Michael Weiser, 30, both of New Haven; and Patrick Seno, 31, Stratford. All have pleaded innocent to any role in the disturbance.

Nine other inmates have pleaded guilty to taking part in the July 25 incident, and are due to be sentenced next Tuesday.

Lefko Indicted

New London, Oct. 4 (AP)—George J. Lefko, 36-year-old, was indicted today on a second-degree murder charge in the death of Mrs. Gladys Chouinard.

Minutes after the indictment was returned yesterday, Lefko pleaded innocent before Superior Court Judge Frank Corvino.

The judge set Oct. 10 as the date for Lefko to decide whether he wants a trial by jury or by judge.

The panel spent the entire day in weighing evidence in the case, and notified Judge Corvino that it was unable to return a true bill charging Lefko with first-degree murder.

Mrs. Chouinard, 31-year-old mother of seven, was slain Sept. 16 in her home, 27 Flint St., Plainville, Bridgeport, a coroner's inquest said she died of multiple stab wounds and strangulation.

Lefko, born in New York City and raised in a New Haven suburb, N. Y., founding home, had known Mrs. Chouinard for about a month. Police said she and the woman had been drinking together the night before her husband was found.

Judge Corvino asked Lefko yesterday whether he preferred a trial by jury or by judge. Lefko's counsel, Public Defender George Gilman, asked for time for further study and investigation.

A second-degree murder conviction carries a mandatory sentence of life imprisonment unless the trial jury or judge recommends mercy.

309,067 Patients

New Haven, Oct. 4 (AP)—The Connecticut Hospital Association reported today that a record number of Connecticut citizens, 309,067—were patients at the state's 39 general hospitals last year.

This was 20,000 more than for the previous 12-month period, the association said in its annual services report.

The state trend, it said, parallels the national admission rate, which was 23,071.125 in 1960 compared to 22,600.185 in 1959.

The state increase, the report said, was caused by the rise in population, "the growing tendency of admitting patients in the early stages of their illness, the inability of hospitals to give an increasing degree of specialized care."

Patients remained in hospitals an average of 7.8 days, the same average as for the previous year.

Payments accounted for $61,228,000 of the $95,225,000 paid for patient care during 1960, the report said.

'Free Day'

Pawtucket, R.I.—Cannett's energetic new management, intent upon providing an early opportunity for thoroughbred racing patrons to get acquainted with the new and colorful Narragansett Park, announced this morning that Thursday has been designated as "Free Day" with all adult fans admitted without charge. To make Thursday an attractive day and add more interest to the proceedings, the Cannett management will give away three two RCA color television sets, one going to a lady and the other to a man in attendance in separate drawings to be made immediately after the ninth race.

Concordia Dedicates New Church Sunday

"Peace be to this House, and to all who enter here, in the Name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost."

These words will mark the dedication of the new house of worship and Church School of Concordia Lutheran Church on Pitkin St. The service of dedication will take place Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

Participants in the service will be the Rev. Dr. Alfred Beck, president of the New York and New England Synod of the Lutheran Church, who will also deliver the dedicatory sermon; the Rev. Stanley Knoll, of New Britain, dean of the New England conference of the Lutheran Church; the Rev. C. Henry Anderson, pastor of Emmanuel Lutheran Church; the Rev. Edrich O. Brandt, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church in New Britain; and former pastor of Concordia Lutheran Church and the Rev. Paul C. Kasper, pastor of Concordia.

From Beck will be organist and cantor choir director, and Mrs. Edward Walker, junior choir director. The dedicatory service will begin with a procession into the new church, led by the crucifer, clergy members of the church council and choir preceding the congregation. The dedicatory hymn will be "The Church's One Foundation."

Members of the Church Council shall bear the Holy Bible service book and sacramental vessels.

Restoration of Psalm 24 will follow: "Lift up your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift up, ye ever-lasting doors; and the King of glory shall come in."

Presenters Key

The keys to the building will be presented by the architect, Arnold Lawrence, to the officiant, Dr. Beck. The Synod president will then mark the threshold with the sign of the Cross and shall read the lines with the processional cross before delivering the prayer of dedication.

The choir will chant Psalm 122: "I was glad when they said unto me: Let us go into the house of the Lord."

Entering the chancel, the clergy, in white vestments with red stoles, will receive the Bible, service book and sacramental vessels and will set them in their proper places.

Dr. Beck will proceed to the altar, saying, "I will go into the altar of God, unto God my exceeding joy, O send out Thy light and Thy truth, let them lead me: let them bring me until Thy Holy hill and to Thy tabernacles that I may go unto the altar of God, unto God my exceeding joy and praise Thee, O God, my God."

The congregation will join in the following:

Hal Boyle It's Easy for Wives To Fool Husbands

New York (AP)—Everyone knows it is all but impossible today for a husband to fool his wife.

But how about wives fooling husbands?

On the evidence, it's getting easier for them all the time.

"No woman can pull the wool over my eyes," brags many a husband. Such men are pitiful examples of self-delusion.

Usually a woman pulled the wool over their eyes so long ago they have become used to it. They have forgotten what a clear view it is like.

Civilization has the husbands in knots. It merely gives wives more threads to knit to their own purpose.

A man is kept so busy trying to fool his boss he doesn't have the time to fool his wife, and attempts it only in what he regards as emergencies. As a result, he usually fails.

But fooling a husband is both a game and a duty to a wife. She regards it as a marital necessity, for she feels it she doesn't keep him fooled she can't keep him happy.

As a kitten endlessly practices hunting while playing, so a wife daily practices fooling her husband in small ways to develop her essential feminine art.

The classic ways by which women use to fool their husbands—the creative answer. American Indians traditionally stalked being asked direct questions. Wives don't mind this at all. They feel confident they can parry any husband's query.

Example: Husband: "Till bet that new hat cost all of $15." Wife: "Nilly, it's a real bargain. I bet you probably couldn't touch it for twice that."

The husband tries it a half-pleased. What he hasn't found out, however, is what his wife really paid for the hat—$35.

Manchester, Too Network of Airstrips Suggested for State

(Mr. Murphy has long been a leader in the state aviation picture. He has been credited with spearheading the state's plan for a network of airstrips in the Windsor Locks, the state's leading airport. Here is a summary of his proposals for a Connecticut network of single-aisle airports for private and business aircraft.)

By FRANCIS S. MURPHY
Chairman, State Aeronautics Commission

It seems to me that there will be an ever increasing demand for airports and airstrips, especially for the accommodation of private aircraft and for the executive aircraft.

It would surprise many people to learn of the large number of executive airplanes already in operation. The number is increasing fast. Apparently the growth is limited to the extent that landing facilities are available. The maintenance of facilities, generally, is preventing many organizations from buying and operating their own aircraft.

The cost of building an airport is an exacting one. It probably will not cost many more full-size airports for some time.

Cities Value

It seems entirely feasible to me that every town and city in the state of Connecticut should have its own landing strip. It is a matter of local convenience and safety for easy access.

Modern conditions would seem to clearly indicate that the authorities of our towns and cities should give serious consideration to this suggestion.

Landing strips would be valuable for several reasons. They would greatly stimulate the buying and flying of small airplanes. Single landing strips would be most useful to the business and private executive aircraft. The existence of single airstrips could well lead to new factory installations.

A national survey recently made shows that 6.8 million flying hours by business aircraft is more than twice the flying hours of all the airlines of the country. This should compel a hard look at the suggestion of single airstrips.

An airstrip should be 3,000 feet in length and 75 feet wide with clear areas on the sides. The airstrip should have a paved surface and it should be strikingly marked with easy identification from the air.

Each town and city would build its own after the State Aeronautics Commission and the Department of Aeronautics have designated proper location.

Foot Own Bill

It is unrealistic to expect that the state or the federal government would foot the bill except in cases of special need.

State aid has been made available on a sliding basis to certain established airports.

Cost by town has made great progress since the last war and it is not likely to be proved without question.

Maybe it will be possible to bring its advantages directly to all our cities and to many of our towns.

The cost of the suggested airstrips should be moderate. If they would be used only in daylight, the lighting costs would be nominal.

It is surprising to learn how many executive aircraft fly at night. That case would be need for adequate lighting.

There would be income from landing fees, and some entering person might wish to operate a business near such an airstrip.

It is easy to believe that passenger-carrying helicopters would be available in the near future which could be operated economically. Passengers picked up from various landing strips could be flown to airports in the state where airline service is available.

Should Act Now

A town which desires to have a landing strip would do well to act without too much delay. What could be a good location might not be available six months from now.

I believe that if a substantial number of single airstrips were gotten in and way, Connecticut would be the first state in the nation to provide ultimately a transportation service superior to anything available in the days gone by.

I make bold to suggest that the following cities and towns could use airstrips to fine advantage. There are probably more.

The list would include Bloomfield, Farmington, Unionville, New Hartford, Windsor, Torrington, Litchfield, New Britain, Wallingford, Milford, New Milford, Newtown, New Canaan, Westport, Stamford, Derby and Shelton, Oudford, Clinton, Glastonbury, East Hartford, East Granby, Manchester, Rockville, Stafford Springs, Colchester, Shrewsbury (University of Connecticut), Putnam, Norwich, Old Saybrook, Old Lyme, East Lyme (Niantic), Stonington, Terryville and Warehouse Point.

The airfields in the state which provide airline service are Bradley Field at Windsor Locks, and New Haven, Bridgeport and Trumbull Field at Groton.

Public Airports

There are publicly owned airfields at Danbury, Meriden, Willimantic and Hartford (Eliot Field). One is being built at Dan-Elson.

State aid for an airport at Middletown was voted by the Connecticut Legislature in 1961.

Leaders in Waterbury are hopeful that before too long they will have an airfield with several runways.

It could be that the cause of our recession would be well served by the installation of airstrips.

This suggestion may sound like a dream, but I am convinced that we shall see it just in the same time ahead, for I believe the suggestion is entirely sound in the light of the big possibilities in the aviation which has come about in recent years.

Should a substantial number of airports be built, the safety factor would be greatly enhanced. They could play an important part in the tragic time came for enforcement of evacuation.

Having them fly Room, Board Teaches Values

Determined to cut down on its juvenile delinquency, which has doubled since the war, Sweden recently enacted a law based on the idea that teen-agers often get into trouble because they have too much money in their pockets.

The law says that any young person under 21 who has a job but doesn't behave himself will be required to pay room and board at home, if his parents request it.

Maybe there's an idea there for American parents, who feed, clothe, and house their working teen-agers, allowing the kids to spend all they earn on automobiles and having fun.

Expecting a teen-ager with a job to tick-in with a weekly sum to toward room and board might be a good idea.

It would not only cut down considerably on the money junior had to squander and so cut down on his running around but it would give him a more realistic idea of the value of money.

Official count of the visitors to the Statue of Liberty was not started until 1933.

Area Scouts Plan Training Session

Blackledge District, Boy Scouts of America, will sponsor a camp training session for all scouts Tuesday, Oct. 10, at 7 p.m. in the Heron Ave. School, Glastonbury.

After opening ceremonies and introduction of scout commissioners, a series of workshops will take place. These will be for cubmasters and pack chairmen, Cub committee leaders, den mothers, scoutmasters and assistants and explore advisors, troop and explore committee leaders, and institutional representatives.

An appreciation of scouting will be presented by Charter Oak Council at 9:30 p.m.

Alot $319,000 Board Takes Action On Capital Projects

The board of directors put $127,630 into the capital improvement reserve fund last night, and immediately drew out $319,000 for five major projects. The two actions weren't financial legions; the rest of the money was already in the reserve fund, or nearly so.

The five projects approved unanimously by the board, but not until the completion of lengthy by-play between Democrats and Republicans on pay-as-you-go versus bonding, were the following:

1. Storm drain in W. Middle Street, the so-called Army St. Project, $150,000.
2. Storm drain in Congress St., $100,000.
3. Storm drains in Leonard and Elco Sts., $24,000.
4. Public works garage site, $5,000.
5. Garage construction, $100,000.

Public hearings on both the transfer of money to the reserve fund, and the withdrawal from it, were held at the start of the meeting.

Draws Objections

The list of where the $127,630 was to be drawn elicited a number of objections from the townspeople who crowded the hearing room.

General Manager Richard Marston said that the city had a surplus of $39,389 from last year's surplus; $2,942 from the school bond surplus account; and $20,000 estimated increase in collection of taxes this year.

John Hutchinson, 113 Helaine Rd., a former Democratic town director, asked the directors to examine their consciences as to whether the appropriation of the money was "just" to the taxpayers.

The Democrats (during their second year in office) levied only a nine-tenths of a mill increase, yet provided for the pay-as-you-go necessary services," said Hutchinson.

See Opportunity

This is a "golden opportunity" for the GOP to take credit for the success of its pay-as-you-go policy for capital improvements, he said, using money provided by the Democrats.

Republicans should ask themselves whether a 9 mill tax rate increase levied this year was necessary, or were they only "fattening the calf for the pay-as-you-go kill,"

Perhaps they should give taxpayers a rebate, he said.

Mrs. Ruth Howes, 136 Denning St., protested that the whole action of approving the capital projects appropriation was illegal, because the projects weren't listed in detail in the agenda of the meeting.

Bowers Objects

Sherwood Bowers, Deming St., said he thought a long range program of storm drains proposed by Chester Langtry, deputy director of public works, a week ago was "absurd."

"We shouldn't try to catch every drop of water and put it underground within 10 feet of where it fell," he said.

He termed the Phelps Rd. storm drain a "foolish installation," and said the directors should "whittle down" the projects proposed by Langtry.

Those who spoke in favor of the Congress St. storm drain were the following:

Raymond Damato, 24 Home-stead St., who said "We approved it 100 per cent." He had earlier offered the town the use of a power shovel, and a man to operate it from his contracting company, to install the storm drain.

He owns property on Homestead St. and wanted to develop.

Edward Kelley, 21 Irving St., asked the directors to alleviate the flooded condition in his back yard by providing storm drains.

Charles Morrison, 423 E. Center St., asked the directors whether they were going to take up Damato's offer. Mayor Turkington said the plan to sewer the area could not be done piecemeal, but that Damato still wished to enter his bid in the new program.

William Freeman, principal of Robertson School, urged the directors to include the construction of a sidewalk in Robertson Park in the capital improvements program for $2,000.

Democratic Director Ted Powell proposed an amendment to the resolution adopting the five projects. His amendment would have added the sidewalks in Robertson Park, recreation facilities for the housing project for the elderly, a road paving program, and a swimming pool for Globe Hollow.

He withdrew his proposal after noting that the directors could not approve the projects without previous advertising and a public hearing.

However, he submitted a second amendment, requesting the general manager (Richard Martin) to submit a program of storm drains and highway resurfacing on a priority basis, and with recommendations on how many projects could and should be financed each year on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The Republican majority of the board at first favored the idea of the long range program, but balked at the proposal that the general manager suggest the way to finance it.

Mayor Turkington dismissed the amendment as "pretty much of a political motion."

In his remarks preceding the approval of the capital improvements appropriation Mayor Turkington remarked that, from the list of the projects, it might seem that the only project in our minds was the storm drain.

He said that for many years the only projects that could be done were schools.

"Many things... were set aside until such time as we got over the hump of our very expensive school budget."

"I'm sure there are roads to be paved," he said, and equipment to be bought for the public works de-

Police Chiefs Pick Pastore for Office

State Police Capt. Adolph Pastore of 32 Park St. was elected sergeant-at-arms of the International Association of Chiefs of Police in Montreal Tuesday.

Pastore is field captain of the Western Division. He previously served as field captain of the Eastern Division.

Pastore joined the State Police in 1959 and has served with Troop H in Hartford with the Special Services Division, and as deputy fire marshal.

He had studied legal medicine, sabotage, firearms training and arson at various seminars.

Sidewalks in Westhill

There's room at the top, and at street level, for elderly persons at Westhill Gardens on W. Center St. Sidewalks on both sides of the street are installed, and the road will soon be put in, according to Atty. Herman Tule, council for the Manchester Housing Authority. The sidewalks arrived yesterday, and all the exterior brickwork will be finished in one more day, if the weather clears, he said.

Sidewalk work is being installed, with some soundproofing between apartments. Saturday, the housing authority interviewed 22 prospective tenants. There are now about 20 applicants out of 370 who have not yet been interviewed. Special appointments will be made for them.

Meanwhile, the authority has stepped up its meeting one a week on Tuesdays—to process the applications and choose the 100 residents. (Herald photo by Pinto).

Nkrumah Jails 43 Rivals As Death Plotters

The men arrested had been "deliberately engaged in activities calculated to subvert and endanger the security of the state."

It accused them of acts of violence, secret meetings, taking of secret oaths to assassinate the president and certain members of the government, strikes, sabotage and "obedience."

The security arrests raised new doubts about a scheduled 10 day visit next month by British Elizabeth II to this former British colony.

Duncan Sandys, British secretary of Commonwealth relations, was in Accra when the arrests were announced. He came here this week for talks with Nkrumah in an attempt to repair recent relations, which have been strained since the British government's decision to grant independence to the two countries.

British quarters have pointed to signs of growing anti-British sentiment in Ghana and questioned whether the Queen should come here at such a time.

Meanwhile, railway and harbor workers in the Selong and Takoradi area went on strike against yesterday, according to reports reaching here.

The report said the men, who staged an 18-day strike in September against government budget cuts, took this latest action in protest against the detention of some of their comrades.

Alot $319,000 Board Takes Action On Capital Projects

The board of directors put $127,630 into the capital improvement reserve fund last night, and immediately drew out $319,000 for five major projects. The two actions weren't financial legions; the rest of the money was already in the reserve fund, or nearly so.

The five projects approved unanimously by the board, but not until the completion of lengthy by-play between Democrats and Republicans on pay-as-you-go versus bonding, were the following:

1. Storm drain in W. Middle Street, the so-called Army St. Project, $150,000.
2. Storm drain in Congress St., $100,000.
3. Storm drains in Leonard and Elco Sts., $24,000.
4. Public works garage site, $5,000.
5. Garage construction, $100,000.

Public hearings on both the transfer of money to the reserve fund, and the withdrawal from it, were held at the start of the meeting.

Draws Objections

The list of where the $127,630 was to be drawn elicited a number of objections from the townspeople who crowded the hearing room.

General Manager Richard Marston said that the city had a surplus of $39,389 from last year's surplus; $2,942 from the school bond surplus account; and $20,000 estimated increase in collection of taxes this year.

John Hutchinson, 113 Helaine Rd., a former Democratic town director, asked the directors to examine their consciences as to whether the appropriation of the money was "just" to the taxpayers.

The Democrats (during their second year in office) levied only a nine-tenths of a mill increase, yet provided for the pay-as-you-go necessary services," said Hutchinson.

See Opportunity

This is a "golden opportunity" for the GOP to take credit for the success of its pay-as-you-go policy for capital improvements, he said, using money provided by the Democrats.

Republicans should ask themselves whether a 9 mill tax rate increase levied this year was necessary, or were they only "fattening the calf for the pay-as-you-go kill,"

Perhaps they should give taxpayers a rebate, he said.

Mrs. Ruth Howes, 136 Denning St., protested that the whole action of approving the capital projects appropriation was illegal, because the projects weren't listed in detail in the agenda of the meeting.

Bowers Objects

Sherwood Bowers, Deming St., said he thought a long range program of storm drains proposed by Chester Langtry, deputy director of public works, a week ago was "absurd."

"We shouldn't try to catch every drop of water and put it underground within 10 feet of where it fell," he said.

He termed the Phelps Rd. storm drain a "foolish installation," and said the directors should "whittle down" the projects proposed by Langtry.

Those who spoke in favor of the Congress St. storm drain were the following:

Raymond Damato, 24 Home-stead St., who said "We approved it 100 per cent." He had earlier offered the town the use of a power shovel, and a man to operate it from his contracting company, to install the storm drain.

He owns property on Homestead St. and wanted to develop.

Kennedy Attacks Bias On Maryland Highway

By GEORGE A. BOWEN
Baltimore, Oct. 3 (AP)—President Kennedy is making a new attack on discrimination in the United States along a 30-mile Maryland highway corridor.
He has sent his general chairman, John F. Kennedy, to lead a delegation to the highway corridor. Their aim is to knock out discrimination by restaurants against Negro travelers.
These women in the White House are waging against the forces of bigotry throughout the world as they are waging against the forces of bigotry in the United States. They want the highway corridor to be a model of freedom and democracy.

Difference Vast Between 100,000 And One Billion

New York—Few realize the immense difference between 100,000 and 1,000,000,000. Counting one number every 3 seconds for 24 hours a day, five days a week, you'd pass 100,000 in less than two weeks. But to count a billion would take you well over 200 years.
If George Washington had started counting at that rate in 1783, when he was 26, he wouldn't even be three-fourths of the way to a billion if he were still alive and counting today.

An Eventful History to Go with Firehouses

The white frame building at the Center used to house two horse carts, and the hay to feed the horses. The canopies were put on around 1923. There isn't much room between the two bunks in the Center firehouse, especially not for two men in a hurry.

By JUDITH AREARON
Three old fire engines may have new homes, and a bicycle built for two may be forever discarded, if the firehouses at the Center and on Pine St. are modernized.
The engine is a 1918 American LaFrance packed in the shed of the Center firehouse, or Co. 1, on Pine St. and Hartford Rd.
The engine has a crank starter, a self-starter, and the kind of noise that made little boys resolve to be firemen when they grew up.
It may be discarded, according to Chief W. Clifford Mason, not "because it doesn't work, but because it takes so long to get the thing started I don't want to get to the fire." It is used to serve Co. 3 on Spruce St.
Another engine is a 1930 American LaFrance parked on the Hartford Rd. level of the Co. 1 firehouse. It formerly belonged to the Center firehouse. It will probably continue to serve as an emergency pump, as will the other old engine, a 1921 Eberns Fox parked at the back of the firehouse on the Pine St. level.
The bicycle built for two is a relic of a former time. It was used on its side in the Center firehouse where once a horse was stabled to pull a hose reel to fires. The firehouses are to be replaced by a modern firehouse, a few feet from the present Center firehouse, the other by a building on McKee St. At least, the board of directors has approved the appropriation of $200,000 for the preparation of plans and specifications for the two houses.
The demolition of the two antiquated buildings will mark the end of an era when the five firehouses of the City of Manchester first organized their fire protection.
These two firehouses are the last of the frame buildings constructed in the early 1900's for the five volunteer companies.
First Homes
Even these had their predecessors.
Co. 1 first stored its equipment in a small building on Pine St. and Walnut St. back in 1897 when the five companies were organized. In 1899 the company moved into a house at the corner of Prospect St. and Hartford Rd. when a new hook and ladder truck was bought.
Then in 1901 Cheney Bros. built the house at Hartford Rd. and Pine St. the house that will be torn down.
Co. 2 first stored its equipment in a car barn owned by the West Hartford, Manchester and Rockville Tramway Co. at the rear of the Municipal Building. Later the company moved to a barn at the rear of the barn owned by the late Aaron Johnson on Chestnut St. where a horse cart was stored. The cart was pulled to the rear of the Municipal Building. 12th Circuit Court Cases
ROCKVILLE SESSION
An East Hartford father spoke his mind in 12th Circuit Court yesterday about drivers who neck while they're driving.

Leland E. Friss of 31 Collinwood Rd., said in the court's Rockville session he felt the existence of a necking driver on Rt. 30 in Vernon had led to do with his son's being arrested for speeding.

Driving home from a Crystal Lake dance Sept. 16, Donald Friss, 19, was arrested by Vernon Constable Raymond E. Barbo who clocked the youth between 60 and 65 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone for about a mile.

Friss pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding and one of failure to carry a registration.
The father told Judge Searles P. Dearington his son had been driving behind a car in which the driver and a girl were necking.

The slow pace of the front car was aggravating, he said, and his son scooted rapidly to pass it on the straight stretch beginning at Cold Spring Dr.

"I think he had a legal right to pass," he said.
Judge Dearington granted that it was permissible to pass, but the speed was unwarranted, he indicated.

His fined Friss the younger $25 for speeding and $3 for not carrying the registration.

Green Circle Rd., Talcottville, was fined $15 for driving a crowded car. Assistant Prosecutor E. George Gorsky told the court parent was stopped in Ellington Sept. 17 by an officer who reported four youths in the front seat and six in the rear.

A $75 fine was levied against Ivan F. Bunker, 38, of Campbell Ave., Vernon, for evading responsibility. Bunker was arrested Sept. 13 after bystanders gave police the marker number of a car just seen scraping a parked pickup truck on Rockville's W. Main St.

Bunker said his car is "quite old" and it makes quite a bit of noise. Judge Dearington said Bunker should have heard the noise of the scrape. Bunker, however, did not agree wholeheartedly with the judge.

George E. Nielsen, 29, of Wappling Wood Rd., Vernon, was given a 30-day suspended sentence and probation for a year for obtaining Nielsen had been found guilty of the charge in a court trial two weeks ago and Judge Dearington asked for a pre-sentence investigation.

Richard J. Marrow, 22, of 32 Village St., Rockville, was fined $25 for improper use of registration plates.
Charles H. McFarlane, 38, of Rockville, was sent to jail for 30 days on a common drunkard charge.

The court nolleed a breach of peace charge against James Bowen, 21, of Broad Brook. Gorsky recommended the nolle because Bowen had just been committed to jail in Hartford County on a breaking and entering charge. Gorsky said Bowen will be in jail there the rest part of a year.

Fines Total $145

The Rockville youths, accused of tampering with a mailbox, were found guilty yesterday on breach of peace and intoxication charges and were fined a total of $145, in the Rockville session of the 12th Circuit Court yesterday afternoon.

William Shields, 20, of 31 Oak St., was fined $75 for breach of peace and $20 for intoxication. His companion, Henry B. Black, 19, also of 31 Oak St., was fined $50 for breach of peace. He was not charged with intoxication.

Shields and Black posted appeal bonds of $300 and $200, respectively, but they have two weeks in which to decide whether or not to go through with the appeal.

The pair was arrested in Rockville Aug. 10. Police said they were found damaging a mailbox at the corner of Ellington and Talcott Aves. Fray had managed to loam it from the bolt holding in the cement sidewalk, police said.

Raymond L. Meyer, 30, of Church St., Hartford, pleaded innocent to a charge of breach of peace and violated a court trial. The trial date is Oct. 10.

The court declared forfeit a $50 bond posted by John G. Waczak, 22, of High St., Hartford, on a charge of driving without proper license. Gorsky said police feel "Waczak" is not the person's correct name. A warrant has been issued for the man's arrest. His car bore Illinois marker plates.

Frank T. Dziadu, 41, of Windsor Ave., Rockville, charged with sale of liquor to a minor, had his case continued to next week.

Driver Thrown from Overturning Truck

The driver was thrown from the cab of this truck as it rolled over on Clark Rd., Bolton, this morning after "shaking" on wet pavement. The driver, George E. Lathrop Jr., 19, of 42 Franklin St. in the special care unit at Manchester Memorial Hospital with a fractured pelvis. Hospital authorities said he is seriously hurt but not in critical condition. The accident occurred shortly before 8 o'clock. State Policeman Robert Macdonald of the Colchester Troop is investigating. (Herald photo by O'Hara).

Green Circle Rd., Talcottville, was fined $15 for driving a crowded car. Assistant Prosecutor E. George Gorsky told the court parent was stopped in Ellington Sept. 17 by an officer who reported four youths in the front seat and six in the rear.

A $75 fine was levied against Ivan F. Bunker, 38, of Campbell Ave., Vernon, for evading responsibility. Bunker was arrested Sept. 13 after bystanders gave police the marker number of a car just seen scraping a parked pickup truck on Rockville's W. Main St.

Bunker said his car is "quite old" and it makes quite a bit of noise. Judge Dearington said Bunker should have heard the noise of the scrape. Bunker, however, did not agree wholeheartedly with the judge.

George E. Nielsen, 29, of Wappling Wood Rd., Vernon, was given a 30-day suspended sentence and probation for a year for obtaining Nielsen had been found guilty of the charge in a court trial two weeks ago and Judge Dearington asked for a pre-sentence investigation.

Richard J. Marrow, 22, of 32 Village St., Rockville, was fined $25 for improper use of registration plates.
Charles H. McFarlane, 38, of Rockville, was sent to jail for 30 days on a common drunkard charge.

The court nolleed a breach of peace charge against James Bowen, 21, of Broad Brook. Gorsky recommended the nolle because Bowen had just been committed to jail in Hartford County on a breaking and entering charge. Gorsky said Bowen will be in jail there the rest part of a year.

Shields and Black posted appeal bonds of $300 and $200, respectively, but they have two weeks in which to decide whether or not to go through with the appeal.

The pair was arrested in Rockville Aug. 10. Police said they were found damaging a mailbox at the corner of Ellington and Talcott Aves. Fray had managed to loam it from the bolt holding in the cement sidewalk, police said.

The paper noted that both Gagarin and Titov experienced different frequencies of pulse and breathing during flight than had been registered on the centrifuge during the preliminary training.

The Russian scientists added that in the light of similar data during Shepard's flight, "it is difficult to doubt that this was a result of the definite emotional stress."

Trapped Boy Rescued from Georgia Cave

But he showed little emotion. He had told a newsman: "It is a great ordeal for me to see my son again. He never got hurt before but he probably was up again. It is a relief. He is a happy-go-lucky youngster and everybody in his family is glad to see him."

Ronnie's mother waited through the ordeal down the mountain side. Apparently suffering from shock, she was taken to the hospital with flu.

Rescue operations were hampered by loose rocks and some big boulders around the top of the caverns where Ronnie fell. Members of the rescue unit said they were frightened once when a few small rocks started falling. But no big ones tumbled down.

The boy was unconscious much of the time during the rescue operation.

Rescue workers announced him in padding, blankets and jackets and put a helmet on his head for warmth and protection before they bound him to a stretcher for the trip outside.

They reported portions of the cave are so small that much of the time they had to pass the stretcher from one man to another. One of the men crawled out of the cave with the stretcher on his back.

Two associated rescuers helped carry the stretcher through the maze of passages. The rescue workers came to the surface one at a time.

"The rescue workers came to the surface one at a time. I was the last to get out of there," Ronnie's mother said.

"Yes, I've never been so scared in my life," McQuire replied.

All of the 10 persons huddled around two fires burning away the chill of mountain fall. There were no chairs. Just rocks.

Ronnie's 17-year-old brother stayed with him most of the time until finally he had to leave, exhausted, shortly before dawn.

Byron, a strapping 6-footer, said the group has been exploring the cave for almost 24 hours when the accident happened. "We

Rockville-Vernon Gagne Case Ends, Judge Holds Ruling

Judge Charles P. Derington held trial yesterday in the Rockville-Vernon Gagne case. The case stems from a fatal car crash in Somers April 17, 1959, in which a 1957 Buick Wildcat driven by Mrs. Gagne struck a car driven by Mrs. Rini.

The case ended in a verdict for Mrs. Gagne. The jury found that Mrs. Rini was negligent in failing to keep to the right when approaching an intersection and that Mrs. Gagne was not negligent in failing to carry her automobile registration.

Mrs. Rini, who was injured in the crash, is scheduled for appearance in Circuit Court 12, Manchester, on Oct. 23.

In a minor accident this morning, a car driven by Thomas R. Moore Jr., 18, of Vernon St., struck the rear of a vehicle driven by Edwin Derringer, 47, of South Windsor, at E. Middle Tpke. at W. Vernon St.

Minor damage was reported and no arrests were made.
