They are required by their nature, to say something about everything.

As a rule, then, state of the union messages do not make very much history.

The carrot is, once again, a new willingness on the part of Khrushchev to abandon his own deadline for the signing of his separate treaty of peace with East Germany.

But we doubt it. We suspect that, after the most profound analysis, it will still remain an old edition of the carrot and stick performance.

Well, we have always known that, once politics gets into the blood, it's almost impossible to give it up.

He found it discouraging, he said, to have to repair, after only six months of floor which would normally last for many years.

He said that elevator floors, now last one-tenth of the time they used to.

He dwelt upon the futility of the handsome man who goes into the world when the final touch is going to be the creation of peak marks all over the floor.

In short, he wanted fashion to be a hurry, away from a heel that can't be seen on anything less than the roughest of leathers.

His desire, we think, is shared by just about everybody, except for those offices of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Company.

As for us, it is not merely the damage to floors which concerns us. We are continually being distracted from our work by marvel at the unbelievable equilibrium displayed by those who wear the heels.

What marvelous slaters they are all going to be this winter! What strong, firm, muscular, healthily over-sized ankles they are building for themselves!

Restive Farmer

Latest reports from Gettysburg suggest that Dr. Dwight David Eisenhower is, in fact, not out of office, about to devote rather intense effort to a task he often contemplates.

There are all kinds of explanations for what seems to be Eisenhower's revived interest in that same game of politics he was supposedly happy to have laid aside.

Women on the Lookout

Dunsmuir, Calif. (AP)—Now women are taking over the mountain tops. They live in lonely lookout posts protecting the national forests.

The 600 square miles of forest bracketing Mt. Shasta, in northern California from the scourge of fire.

Most of the other lookouts to the east and north of the mountain are now women.

Women have proved better qualified for the lonely duty than men.

They are better able to maintain the alert and careful watch, and to withstand the monotony of 15 solitary hours daily searching for tell-tale traces of smoke.

They're accurate, to the point and don't miss a thing. Walt says the woman who shares Bear Mountain lookout duties with her retired husband.

A lookout, living alone on a mountain top, faces some danger from accidents, snakes, wild animals and the general public but mostly she needs a healthy respect for, but calm attitude toward lightning.

Once lightning ripped the phone right out of the hand of Pearl Bradley, a widow in her late 40s, who spends her month with her husband south of Mt. Shasta.

Lookouts are cautioned to keep their phones unplugged when a thunderstorm hovers. Too closely, and lightning and fires must be quickly cleared and reported.

"During a lightning burst I may report 7 to 10 fires in an hour," Mrs. Owen says.

The lookout has to say it quickly and get off the air to allow other lookouts to report.

The women used to be allowed half an hour after dark to gossip with each other by radio. But that has been curtailed to save batteries.

Even a man and wife on separate mountain lookouts can exchange only brief messages. "We save a lot of talking for winter," says Mrs. Irene Sherman who spends her summers atop Little Round Mountain while her husband, Carl, lives on Hira Mountain.

Among women lookouts in neighboring forest regions are a service wife whose husband's sea duty coincides with her mountain-top duties on Mt. Eddy when smoke jumpers parachuted down on them shortly after a woman lookout spotted their large campfire.

Lightning ripped the phone right out of the hand of Pearl Bradley, a widow in her late 40s, who spends her month with her husband south of Mt. Shasta.

Lookouts are cautioned to keep their phones unplugged when a thunderstorm hovers. Too closely, and lightning and fires must be quickly cleared and reported.

Want to do all in your power to keep from joining America's increasing number of widows?

Then be on the lookout for the time in life when your job as a homemaker becomes easy, yet your husband's job remains as hard as ever.

She can encourage her husband to find some relaxing hobbies, whether she shares his particular outside interests or not.

She can with fewer demands upon her time—devote herself to making a home in which her husband's wishes come first, and his welfare her main concern.

With conscious effort a wife can help ease her husband's load when he becomes much lighter than she.

That leaves the homemaker with an easy job and plenty of leisure time and the chance to do all that she can to make her husband's life easier.

She can do this in any number of ways. She can take over some of the extra jobs he assumed during the years when her work days were longer than his.

She can lighten her husband's financial load by taking over some of the household expenses.

A Day in the Life of Wernher von Braun

By JACK BYLUMMAN, Huntsville, Ala. (AP)—For a scientist, Wernher von Braun has a busy day. He is responsible for the launch of the Saturn rocket.

At 11:30 a.m. each day he tries to complete his schedule. He has to talk to the launch director.

At noon, von Braun goes to lunch, or rather, lunch comes to him. He has soup, fruit and coffee.

This is when he catches up on his reading, mostly technical publications and newspapers.

During the afternoon, various assistants are given their turn. Karl Helmberg, director of the test laboratory, is examined.

At 6:10 p.m., von Braun drives toward his home in a quiet residential neighborhood. He has the heavy briefcase beside him.

He knows his way home. He has to get to his house by 7:15 p.m.

Area Women Help Plan Symposium

Six Manchester area women are assisting in preparations for a symposium meeting sponsored by alumnae of Mount Holyoke College.

Manchester committee members are Mrs. Allen S. Taylor, Mrs. William B. Lander Jr., Mrs. J. H. Blakeslee, and Mrs. Mather H. Vail.

Only Physically Fit Will Suit Space Age

astronauts will prompt more U.S. youngsters to greater physical activity remains to be seen.

If it does, it could help allay recent concern that many Americans, including youngsters, are living too soft a life for their own good health.

That concern prompted two Presidents—Eisenhower and Kennedy—to summon White House conferences on physical fitness and food to encourage it.

It has many doctors warning that flabbiness and over-stuffing with food are contributing to high rate of heart attacks among American men and to degenerative diseases coming along too early.

They urge an early start and lifelong attention at keeping the human machine in good working order. Their advice includes more sports and less riding to school or office, more doing than watching of sports.

There's simply no question that astronauts must be healthy and fit. One major physical strain is the increased gravity exposure of take-off and re-entry of space capsules.

No one yet in good physical condition need apply.

UAW Seeking Chrysler Pact Without Strike

But he said the UAW will insist that Chrysler accept the wage and benefit pattern established in settlements the union now has with GM, Ford and American Motors Corp.

This gives UAW members an annual wage increase of 2 1/2 per cent or six cents an hour, whichever is larger, and a cost-of-living wage increase tied to the government's consumer price index.

The GM, Ford and AMC settlements provide fully company-paid hospital-medical care, insurance, higher pension levels and expanded supplemental unemployment compensation benefits.

Chrysler, harassed by management problems earlier this year, now has a new top-level manager trying to get the firm on a money-making basis.

Chrysler is expected to show a profit in the third quarter.

Sender said, "We don't intend to have Chrysler workers subsidize the corporation by accepting substandard conditions. When Chrysler gets a discount because the company has problems, it's down to us."

Asked about setting a strike deadline for the Chrysler negotiations, Sender said, "We are not going to make this decision now."

In efforts to expedite negotiations, the bargaining committee split up into subcommittees to study non-economic problems before reconvening in full session at 2 p.m. today.

Rockville-Vernon Hospital Approval Fills State Roster

Accreditation of Rockville City Hospital two months ago made Connecticut the only state in the nation, it is believed, to have all of its general hospitals accredited.

The Connecticut Hospital Association made this note today in announcing that all 34 general hospitals in the state are now officially accredited by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

The commission is the national certifying organization. It sets up standards by which a hospital's operations are measured. Evaluation of Rockville City Hospital was reached after inspection on June 29 by a representative of the commission.

The commission includes representatives of the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians, the American Hospital Association, and the American Medical Association.

Ex-Contractor Sues Over Garbage Pickup

A $150,000 suit against the town has been filed by the Connecticut Carting Co. of Newington, the former contractor for garbage collection in the town.

The company is asking $50,000 damages on a claim that the town did not maintain the collection trucks properly.

Household Hints

Count on eight servings to a quart (4-5 quart) bottle of champagne. Champagne may be served in punch cups if these are on hand and champagne glasses are not.

Macaroni salad often has ham as an addition, but if canned shrimp is on the party menu and there's no cooked ham at hand, you may use the seafood instead of the meat.

Sweet Magic If your marriage never seems to come out the way you want it, try using Magic instead of granulated sugar to add sweetness.

Gloves Are Colorful Those shirred nylon gloves are ready for autumn in shades of fuchsia, oak leaf and myrtle green.

1960-Inspired The sheath appears in Paris collections adorned with yards of gold or black fringe. Not really 1950s, but inspired by that era.

Light-Lift A clean, clear house does wonders for morale — and to your appearance. Keep house immaculate and well lit.

Keep in Tune A plan to handmake and cutly pieces of furniture. Proper care of the wood will increase its pleasure of your own making.

Buttons Will Stay To replace buttons so that they "stay" on children's clothes, try the Hartford linen firm for sewing in buttons or ordinary thread.

Begin for Sparkle Evening dresses in the current Paris collections are entwined with rainbow colored beads and sequins.

Valued Fur Hats Fur hats shown in the recent French collection display tiny, fluttering veils that just cover the eyes.

Spicuous touch for company: Marinate cooked frozen artichokes in French dressing and add to a tossed green salad.

Always use scraps of leftover pie dough! Roll them out in rectangular or square shapes and sprinkle with paprika; fold over and cut in strips. Braid with milk or cream and bake in a hot oven.

Mix butter or margarine and minced chives; use as a spread for the bread when you are making sandwiches of hard-cooked eggs, ham, sardines, salmon or tuna fish.

The whole spices in a mullin bag, the cost was lower than the $1.45 bid, because directors learned that a number of the bid items would not be necessary.

Circle of Mink Paris has brought forth a new idea in fur: A necklace or circle of mink or other fur to be worn with the plunging back neckline.

They Come Clean To remove stubborn white mineral deposits from glass cookware, half fill the cookware with very hot water and two tablespoons of vinegar. Boil for a few minutes, then wash in hot suds and rinse.

Essentially Extravagant Use that expensive perfume. Inhale it for about 30 seconds by wife. Details of the accident, which were unknown at press time.

Rockville-Vernon Barlow Dump Site Vote Slated in Two Weeks

A special town meeting will be held on Oct. 30, probably the middle of that week to decide the future of the Barlow dump site.

Selection will determine the date after checking future meeting schedules and allowing for the required time lapse after posting the legal notice.

The selection meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the town hall, 15 Village St., Rockville. The site is a 50-acre portion of the property owned by Malcolm W. Barlow of Tolland, off Rte. 83 near the New Haven Railroad overpass. The site is one of three under option to the town.

First Selection George S. Ristow, town clerk, said a meeting last night the land can be bought for $50,000.

He estimated costs for the first year at $20,000 to $25,000, which covers the full purchase price plus $20,000 for a bulldozer-loader, $5,000 salary for a full-time operator, $5,000 for a fence and road, and $3,000 for fuel and maintenance.

The yearly operating costs after the first year are estimated at $12,000. Expenses would be handled under a separate budget controlled by the selectman.

Finance Board Chairman Douglas R. Hayes said a meeting for the first two years could be sufficient. After that a one-fourth to one-third mill rise would be sufficient.

He said the initial investment on land and equipment would be paid through short term borrowing over a two-year span.

Mayor Severin said: "The Barlow site is 500 feet back from Rte. 83 and abuts property of the Rockville sewer treatment plant and the Hockanum River to the west. The land fill operation would be carried out on the rear slope of the trash out of sight of the highway, Ristow said.

He said the land fill would be at least 200 feet from any abutting property. The land fill operation would be carried out on the rear slope of the trash out of sight of the highway, Ristow said.

The site is the only one of the three outlots having optimum soil conditions for sanitary land fill. Necessary fill can be dug at the site, according to engineer Richard Lombardi, and the depth is great.

France Expels Rebel Rioters

provided the streets throughout the night in search of demonstrators. Algerians who had avoided capture but were unable to get back to their homes.

At the rioting reeked Paris, the international rear of plastic bombs jarred Algerians, shattering windows and stove fronts in several sections of the Algerian capital.

There were reports that several Algerians were injured in one of about 80 explosions set off, apparently by French right-wing extremists. Killings and shootings by Algerian terrorists also accounted for several dead and wounded in Algeria.

Some dark midnight is no time to add more light bulbs to your shopping list. Do it now.

The rioting continued for nearly four hours. Special patrol

District Awards Dzen Drain Job

In a story yesterday, The Herald erroneously said that the award ceremony for the Dzen drain project and paving in the North End were rejected by Eighth District directors Monday night because of a contractor's criticism of bid taking methods.

Actually, the bids for the paving were rejected because they were too high, according to District President Philip Burgess, and a contract for the storm drain project was awarded to the A. Dzen Construction Co.

The contract calls for a cement catch basin, 18 feet of eight-inch pipe and an eight-foot catch basin on a driveway at a cost of $10,500, to be shared by the district, the Capital Equipment Co. and Engineer's Metals Inc.

The cost was lower than the $1,145 bid, because directors learned that a number of the bid items would not be necessary.

Draft Calls Stars Including Hornung

New York (AP)—Football stars Paul Hornung and Ray Nitschke, both of the powerful Green Bay Packers, and baseball player George Thomsen have been added to the growing list of professional athletes recalled to active duty in the defense department build-up.

The overall list, a check revealed today, now totals nearly a score and indications are many more are still to come.

None of the call-ups, however, will be for the front lines, but with the force of the announcement Tuesday that the Packers' Nitschke for the second year in the defense department build-up.

Hornung, 25, a former star quarterback at Notre Dame, has won the NFL scoring championship the last two seasons and is well in front this season with 77 points in five games, including a 35-point spurge against Baltimore Oct. 8.

It was in the form of a reunion for Goodnough and Cochrane, who grew up together in Bridgewater, Mass., went to school together and played on the same high school team, Cochrane as a shortstop, Goodnough at first base.

It was a fine night for all. Hal Turkington, chairman of the speakers' committee, presented Will Clarke, retired Manchester High teacher and coach, with a silver tray in recognition of his many years in the school system. There were autographed baseballs presented to each youngster and the backdrop behind the head table, in the form of a baseball diamond, was the work of Fran Anderson, Frank Cochrane, general chairman, welcomed the club.

Green Bay's Taylor also scored four touchdowns in the Packers' rout of Cleveland and ran for 135 yards to improve his lead over Jimmy Brown of the Browns. Taylor has gained 518 yards in 11 attempts for a 4.4 yard average. Hornung picked up 13 points on a touchdowns and seven conversions to run his point total to 77.

Plum, who took the passing lead from Cleveland, threw for 135 yards and three touchdowns.

Disgusting Big League Show

Perhaps the less said about last Sunday's National Basketball Association exhibition at the Manchester High Arena the better but one feels that comments should be forthcoming. First off, letters and phone calls were appreciated from readers and fans who viewed the below-par show and who agreed with my criticism. I was disappointed and I was disgusted and I was angry.

Most of the crowd came to see the Detroit Pistons and Syracuse Nationals, who played in the exhibition game. The Pistons, who helped put Providence College on the national map, basketball-wise, turned in a creditable showing but most of all conducted themselves like a gentleman throughout. It clean play, hustle and determination were the main factors in making good. Ryan would have a berth clinched. However, the Pistons, the constant complaining to the referees. The refs. one being Tom O'Brien, one of the most respected members of Maurice Podoloff's staff and the other being a former big league basketball player, were not fair in their decisions.

NBA basketball has lost a lot of fans in the past two years. The exhibition here didn't do the league any good.

Feshler, Conklin Pace Booters to 5-2 Triumph

Win Retains Three-way Tie For CCIL Lead

Tallying at least one goal in every period, Manchester High soccer team defeated Platt, 5-2, at Ceppa Field in Meriden yesterday. The victory was the seventh in eight matches overall for the Indians.

In winning the Red and White trophy for first place in the Central Connecticut Intercollegiate League standings with Platt, Feshler and Jerry Conklin, both of whom wound up with two goals apiece, set the Indians into a 2-1 lead over Platt in the second half. Platt's goal came on a through pass from Jerry Conklin.

Feshler's goal came in the second period but Bud Garcia of Platt converted penalty kick.

The two teams exchanged goals in the third quarter and Manchester won the game with a single goal in the last period.

Manchester's Bill McCarthy and Skip King played outstanding ball all afternoon to keep Platt's attack at bay.

Manchester's defense was now glad to see the red and white players in the lead. Feshler and Conklin were the only players to hold a decision over Manchester in the last period.

Manchester's Bill McCarthy and Skip King played outstanding ball all afternoon to keep Platt's attack at bay.

Hunting Season Opens Saturday

Connecticut's general upland hunting season gets under way Saturday at 6 a. m. Daylight time. Species on which the season opens include: Woodcock, quail, grouse, gray squirrel, cottontail rabbit, Wilson's snipe and woodcock.

The season opens on ducks, geese and brant open Nov. 11. The season on pheasants and game's pamphlet on hunting, sport fishing and trapping, and the Migratory Bird Pamphlet, both available at the Game Warden's office, should be consulted for complete details on seasons and bag limits.

Stylish Annihilation Machen Stops London in Five, Wants Cooper Bout Anywhere

London (AP)—America's Eddie Machen shot home today after a victory that could bring his career to a close at Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight boxing championship.

The victim was Britain's Brian London, who was outclassed by Machen in five one-sided rounds last night and retired from the scheduled 10-round bout with a nose bleed like it was broken.

"Now I want a fight with Henry Cooper (British champion), to save their boy coolly chopped down by Machen, who moved like a cat and pounced like a panther. When London retired at the end of the fifth round was gaining from his nose and coming down from a cut over his right eye.

"I'm willing to fight Cooper anytime and anywhere. If some body can arrange the fight, I'll be there."

London Promoter Jack Bolonchos has been negotiating for months to match Cooper against Patterson. Some reports say Patterson may defend his title sometime next year against Cooper, who is in a class by himself among British heavyweights.

Goodnough Steals Spotlight At Masons Sports Program

Speakers Bill Gardner, Hal Goodnough and Mickey Cochrane

By EARL YOST

There may be better speakers in these United States than Hal Goodnough but for this man's money, the Wellesley, Mass., resident is No. 1 on the sports circuit. Last night he won an audience of 300 at the fourth annual Masonic Lodge Sports Night program at the Temple. His rapid-fire delivery of sports yarns held the interest of the gathering well into the night.

Sharing the speaking program with the former Milwaukee Braves' good will ambassador were Billy Gardner, reserve infielder with the World Champion New York Yankees and Mickey Cochrane, one-time all-time great. But it was Goodnough, who rattled off one story after another, a human encyclopedia of sports this man, who stole the show, as expected.

"Greatest battery in the world—father and son," Goodnough said, hitting home as many fathers were on hand with their boys.

Closer to baseball than a hen with her new chicks, Goodnough, chairman of the speakers' committee, presented Will Clarke, retired Manchester High teacher and coach, with a silver tray in recognition of his many years in the school system. There were autographed baseballs presented to each youngster and the backdrop behind the head table, in the form of a baseball diamond, was the work of Fran Anderson, Frank Cochrane, general chairman, welcomed the club.

Rookie Kilmer Not Glamour Boy Leaders Retain Places In Offense Departments

New York (AP)—Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung of Green Bay and Mill Plum of the Cleveland Browns held their places atop the National Football League's principal offense departments last week. But the glamour boy of ground-gaining was rookie Bill Kilmer of the Browns.

Kilmer, national college leader in total offense last season and most valuable player in the All-Star game at Chicago last summer, found himself as a pro runner when he was installed as one of the three rotating quarterbacks in San Francisco's shotgun offense.

Other individual league leaders: Pass receiving, Del Shofner, New York, 25 for 137 yards; Punting, Earl Lary, Detroit, 23 for a 474 yard average; Punt returns, Willie Wood, Green Bay, six for 176 yards; Kickoff returns, Tom Brown, Philadelphia, 11 for 394 yards.

Two seasons of distance records were set last Sunday. Bobby Joe Conrad of St. Louis returned a Philadelphia punt 73 yards and set a new record for a punt return. Ed McClellan of the Browns returned a Philadelphia punt 73 yards and set a new record for a punt return.

Comeback Award To Redlegs' Jay

New York (AP)—Joey Jay, who bounced back from three to six seasons with the Cincinnati Reds to become the national league's comeback player-of-the-year for 1951.

Jay received 89 of the 151 votes cast in the National Writers' Association in the annual Associated Press poll.

Frank Thomas, Detroit's slugging outfielder, was second with 77 votes.

Identity of Ref No Concern To McNeely for Title Fight

New York, Oct. 18 (AP)—Tom McNeely says he doesn't care who the referee is in his fight with heavy-weight champion Floyd Patterson.

"All he'll have to do is count," McNeely said. "That's the only thing I care about. I don't care who the referee is. I just want to get knocked out and I feel it's going to be him."

McNeely, who is in his fourth year as a professional fighter, is scheduled to fight Patterson in Toronto on Oct. 20.

Controlled Scrimmage Ruled by Bay Staters

By FRANK CLINE

Controlled scrimmages are played strictly for the benefit of the two teams involved and their coaches to enable the latter to point out whatever mistakes their charges are making.

But for the record Southbridge, Mass., High's eleven lads tied two touchdowns to one against Manchester High's Indians at Memorial Field yesterday.

Southbridge's Dave Anderson and defensive half-back Jack Simmons tied the score in the second quarter.

Manchester's Bill McCarthy and Skip King played outstanding ball all afternoon to keep Platt's attack at bay.

Yanks Generous in Series Cuts With Smallest Split Since 1952

New York (AP)—The victorious New York Yankees each received 17,289.11 of their World Series victory over the Cincinnati Reds, but they came out about 1,100 poorer than the Pittsburgh Pirates, who won in 1960.

The Pirates came out with $3,417.84 each last year because their home park, Forbes Field, had a bigger capacity than Cincinnati's Crosley Field.

The share for each Yankee was the lowest since 1928, when the team received 18,000 shares each for Ford Frick's announced victory.

The Yankees of 1951 each had $3,417.84 after being paid $3,417.84 for their share of the team.

The Yankees owned 58.15 shares, plus cash advances of $4,500. This included 33 full shares along with seven fractional shares.

Earl Torgerson, Hal Renne, Bud Baker, Billy Gardner and Jack Reed all received full shares although they were not with the club all season. So did trainers Gus Mauch and Joe Socher.

Cincinnati awarded 30 full shares of $3,358.36 and seven fractional shares.

State News Roundup

Ex-Meriden Mayor Can Run Again

Meriden, Oct. 19 (AP)—Former Republican Mayor Howard E. Houston is eligible to run for office again this year.

The board of admissions voted unanimously last night to have Houston's name restored to the voting roll from which it had been stricken by the registrars of voters.

The registrars had claimed that Houston lost his residency qualifications when he moved into a new house on his Preston Avenue property this summer. The house, the registrars said, was across the town line in Middletown.

When Houston moved again last month into a house that was clearly within the Meriden limits, the board said there had been a break in his residency and he would have to wait six months to have his name restored to the lists.

Houston, who defeated incumbent Mayor John E. Ivers, the GOP town committee's candidate, in a primary, appealed the registrars' action to the admissions board.

At the board's hearing last night, he and his attorneys argued that he had always considered Meriden his home and presently had no intention of moving to any other town.

They pointed out that Houston had always voted in Meriden. Even when he was away, they said, he used absentee ballots.

In announcing his decision to overrule the registrars, the board of admissions made no comment on the claims involved.

Houston, who has also served as State Welfare Commissioner, has in recent years held a number of federal government assignments. Earlier this year, he was on a State Department mission to Peru.

His opponents in the Nov. 7 election will be Ivers, who is running as an independent candidate, and John W. Grant, the Democratic nominee.

Jorgensen Says He Will Retire From UConn

Storrs, Oct. 19 (AP)—Dr. Albert N. Jorgensen says he plans to retire as president of the University of Connecticut by Oct. 1, 1968.

Jorgensen, president of the university since 1936, notified the Board of Trustees yesterday of his decision and asked it to name a successor by next Oct. 1.

Later, the 61-year-old administrator told newsmen that he had no plans to seek political office after his retirement. He has been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for governor next year.

He declined to speculate on a successor, saying the appointment would be up to the trustees although he thought the faculty should make "suggestions and recommendations."

In his 25 years as president, the university's enrollment has grown from 12,000 students to 13,000. The value of its physical plant has grown from $13 million to more than $60 million.

Jorgensen's announcement came at a meeting in which the trustees gave firm backing to his administration's tightening of regulations concerning student activities.

However, he said the dispute over the rules had nothing to do with his retirement. He had said previously he would step down before long.

Students have held several meetings on the campus in recent weeks to protest increased control by the administration of expenditures made from the $5 activities fee collected from each student.

There has been a matter largely controlled by Student Senate in the past.

"There has been some misunderstanding by students who had felt that the trustees were limiting their freedom to spend the money," the trustees' statement said.

"The facts are that the monies involved are collected by the University as a compulsory payment required of all students and are legally the complete responsibility of the board of trustees."

"We have both a legal and moral obligation to make sure that the funds are properly handled and wisely spent. We intend to continue to do our plain duty in this regard."

The trustees also said they were in complete accord with the administration's stricter enforcement of campus drinking regulations.

West Ready To Oppose Huge Blast

United Nations, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP)—The Soviet Union told the United Nations today the Russians will not give up their right to test nuclear weapons "until the western powers understand the necessity of embarking on general and complete disarmament."

This blunt statement was made by Soviet nuclear negotiator Semyon Tsarapkin in the General Assembly's Special Political Committee, which is debating need for quick information on the increase in radioactive fallout coming from the current Soviet tests.

Tsarapkin demanded that the 101-nation committee choke off the debate and leave any discussion of ending nuclear tests to future disarmament negotiations.

The main political committee decided yesterday, over Soviet opposition, to push ahead immediately with a debate on ways to halt further nuclear testing.

U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson was scheduled to spearhead a western move in the political committee later today to head off the explosion of a 50-megaton nuclear bomb which Premier Khrushchev announced would take place late this month.

In the special political committee, Tsarapkin defended his country's resumption of bomb testing with a retort that the now familiar Soviet stand that it had to be done to strengthen defense capabilities "because the United States and its allies were intensifying the arms race."

The main debate was expected to take place in the main political committee.

The committee debate was expected to bring repeated calls for Russia to call off the superbomb explosion. The United States and its allies hoped the debate would marshal sufficient anti-Soviet opinion to force the Russians to reconsider.

Paris Police Check New Rebel Rioting

Paris, Oct. 19 (AP)—Reinforced police checked a mob of 4,000 Algerians that tried to riot through the streets of Paris last night for the second night in succession. Three Algerians were reported killed and at least 15 injured, and the police arrested 1,600 demonstrators.

Ordered by the Algerian rebel government in Tunis to keep up their demonstrations against new curfew regulations, Algerian workers began grouping shortly after dusk near a key traffic intersection at the western outskirts of greater Paris. Steel-helmeted riot squads blocked their movement toward a bridge over the Seine and a broad avenue leading to central Paris.

Between 1,000 and 1,500 were surrounded for a time by the heavily armed riot forces without serious incident. As tension mounted in chilly, driving rain, demonstrators opened fire on a police car, a headquarters spokesman said. The police returned the fire and hospital authorities in the suburb of Nanterre said three dead and 15 injured were counted.

One body lay sprawled in the rain among a scattering of shoes dropped by the fleeing mob.

Stout police barricades kept the mass of shouting demonstrators from reaching the heart of the city, but several hundred managed to slip through by subway or on foot. Crying "Algeria for the Algerians," they tried to parade but were quickly rounded up and hustled into police vans, which chugged off to detention centers at a Sports Palace, at a stadium and in a barracks area in suburban Vincennes.

There they joined more than 11,000 of their countrymen arrested Tuesday night, when 20,000 rioted for four hours. The government today began deporting about 1,500 of those arrested Tuesday to Algeria and said many more would follow.

Police headquarters claimed last night's demonstrations were a failure and that the workers had been forced into the streets by club-swinging nationalist agents. However, several newsmen at the scene said they saw no such activity.

The demonstrations were triggered by a government announcement Oct. 7 "strongly suggesting" that Algerian workers stay off the streets at night and closing bars and cafes catering to them at 7 p.m.

Interior minister Roger Frey said the curfew measures were taken in an effort to reduce fighting between rival Algerian groups and a recent series of murderous attacks on the police. Since Aug. 29, Frey said, 52 Algerians and 11 police officers have been killed.

From the rebel government headquarters in Tunis came a statement saying "our compatriots, emigre workers, wanted to

Hit Bonn Military

Berlin, Oct. 19 (AP)—A Connecticut congressman says that West Germany should be required to lengthen its military service and contribute "at least the $600 million it costs the U.S. to maintain its forces in Germany."

Rep. Frank Kowalski, D., Conn., said in a press statement issued during a brief visit in Berlin yesterday that the young men of West Berlin should be drafted into the West German Army.

West Berlin is explicitly omitted from the West German occupation statute. West German military service is 12 months at present.

Debt Limit Climbs

Hartford, Oct. 19 (AP)—The state's legal debt limit today climbed to a new summit of $1.2 billion, a rise of $45.7 million or some four per cent over that of a year ago.

The loftier statutory ceiling was made possible by the record $266.7 million in taxes collected last year. The debt ceiling is set on a formula based on four and one-half times the tax take for the previous year.

Actually, the new ceiling would mean much during the coming year. That's because the state has no plans for big borrowing which would ram against that ceiling.

USSF Renews Stand On Berlin Air Lanes

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today Moscow has sent a note renewing a Soviet stand on Berlin air corridors that is unacceptable to the West.

The text of the Soviet note, delivered to the American, British and French Embassies in Moscow, was not immediately available here.

Informants said the Russian communication replied to Sept. 8 western notes warning the Kremlin of any interference with the air traffic linking Communist-encircled West Berlin with West Germany would be "aggressive action."

Moscow was said to have declared again its view that the air corridors are only supposed to be used for supplying the Western Garrisons in Berlin. The western powers regard the air lanes as a vital lifeline for the city, to be used for general civilian purposes and otherwise without Red interference.

The Soviet note was not regarded as a good omen in the simmering German dispute about which Secretary of State Dean Rusk spoke at a news conference yesterday. Rusk, giving the first public U.S. government assessment of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's speech to the Communist Party Congress in Moscow, said he could only pass preliminary judgment because the full text of the lengthy Khrushchev address is still not available here.

He declined to say whether it makes the prospects for peace better or worse.

Khrushchev's relaxation of his Dec. 31 deadline for his peace treaty with Communist East Germany, Rusk said, "may serve to reduce tension somewhat."

But Khrushchev's "general observations about the German and Berlin problems show little if any change from what has been said before," Rusk added.

Camel Driver Still Smiling

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—The happy camel driver from Pakistan is taking quite naturally to being a VIP.

Jet planes, flashing camera bulbs, sleek limousines and sights beyond his wildest dreams just bring a broader smile to Bashir Ahmad's mustached countenance.

Bashir smiles and smiles. He's amazed at how Americaners are all smiling with him, too.

Unable to read or write his native language, Urdu, when he arrived in the United States as a guest of Vice President Lyndon Johnson, Bashir has quickly learned about autograph seekers. Now, he painstakingly signs his name—a wavy line and a series of special characters—on every item he is asked to sign.

Bashir is so famous his wife back in Karachi says she's worried about whether she should welcome her husband back in their same hut after his visit to America.

She's looking for a two-room house or a flat, reports from Karachi say.

And Bashir's camel must be worried, too. It is refusing to eat.

Ear Researcher Wins Nobel Medical Award

Stockholm, Sweden, Oct. 19 (AP)—A Hungarian-born engineer, who in his youth was fascinated by high-pitched gypsy music, was awarded the Nobel 1961 prize for medicine today for research on the human ear. Part of the research involved experimentation with the ear of a dead man.

The prize, valued this year at 250,000 Swedish crowns ($48,000) in cash, went to Dr. Georg von Békésy, 62, now of Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass.

Von Békésy began his career in Hungary as a telephone engineer. In his book, "Experiments in Hearing," he described how he proceeded from basic telephone techniques to elaborate experiments on the human ear over a period of 34 years. Today's award said his work had enriched the whole field of acoustics.

His early work was carried out at the Royal Hungarian Institute for Research in Telephony in Budapest to which he was linked for 1924-1946. In 1947 he came to Stockholm and continued his experiments at the Royal Institute of Technology and the Royal Caroline Medico-Chirurgical Institute. The latter is the Nobel medicine prize awarding body.

Von Békésy was given the prize for "his discoveries concerning the physical mechanisms of stimulation within the cochlea," said the official citation. The cochlea is a division of the labyrinth of the ear and Von Békésy's work entailed a study of just how the ear hears.

The award—first of this year's series of Nobel prizes—was given after a three-hour session of the board of professors at the Royal Caroline Institute, which makes the choice.

Von Békésy started his career in Hungary as an engineer specializing in communication techniques and went on to physics and acoustics. Research in this field ultimately became his main interest and by the end of the 1920s he had made the discovery for which he now receives the Nobel prize.

At the end of the war he moved to Stockholm and from there to Harvard.

From a technical point of view Von Békésy, 62, set out to prove his theories in a series of remarkable experiments, among others on the ear of a dead body.

The official statement by the Caroline Institute said: "Békésy succeeded in creating a model of the cochlea which produced selectively by a standing wave traveling one way or the other, depending upon the note struck. He next proceeded to try out this idea on the cochlea of a corpse."

"To this end he ground a fine opening in the bone, through which now one-third of the hearing membrane could be visualized, and then introduced a powder consisting of aluminum and coal particles dispersed in saline into the cochlea in order to be able to study the waveform by stroboscopic illumination."

"On to the acoustic oscille, known as stapes, he glued a piece of metal so as to be able to activate the system by electromagnetically induced vibrations."

Errors Cause Big Waste in Military Aid

Washington, Oct. 19 (AP)—The General Accounting Office (GAO) said today miscalculations by both human and electronic brains were partly responsible for what it called a multi-million dollar excess cost of military aid to the Far East.

The GAO, which serves as a watchdog over government spending, said it came to this conclusion after investigation nearly half a billion dollars worth of spare parts accumulating in Asian warehouses and at the Army's big supply and inventory depot in Japan.

In its report to Congress, the GAO said its survey resulted in potential savings of about $235 million in excess or useless spare parts.

Another GAO report yesterday said improper wiring of a calculating machine led the Army in Europe to order $74 million worth of material it didn't need.

In today's report, GAO accountants said the depot in Japan last year "discovered" unrecorded material valued at $55 million in making its "first complete inventory ever taken" of military aid stocks. Meanwhile, the GAO said, additional supplies of the ordnance equipment had been ordered. The alleged error was attributed by the GAO to depot officials.

Their electronic calculating machines were also partly to blame.

Men Win After All Spring Clothes Styled To Follow the Figure

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—Possibly for the first time in the history of womankind, fashion is entering an age of practicality—even though man had to laugh, prod, and finally shove her into it.

The nation's buyers who made the rounds of some of the best known couture houses yesterday were promised the sensible age by springtime.

That's when the women's apparel introduced this week will be in retail stores.

Just putting the waistline back was practical for the garment industry financially; for men who ridiculed the sack, encrusted at the easy-fitting dress and merely tolerated the semifitted suit have had a damaging effect on sales, manufacturers admit.

Thus, Adele Simpson, Luis Esteve, and of course, Jacqueline Kennedy's courturier Gleg Casani have done more than nip the waistline in again, they've widened it all the way up to the bosom line.

To re-emphasize that tiny waist, pint-size Miss Simpson is also putting wedge-shaped shoulders on her customers. Doesn't looking physically fit have its practicality after an era of hunch-shouldered, emaciated fashion models?

For sitting down with grace and poise, or springing after a commuter train Miss Simpson offers over-so-sensible knee free skirts. Deep pleats or gorges make the ample room for getaways.

Other points of practicality are dark little blouses, little coat dresses to step into, and polka dots so gaudy you can't be overlooked.

A back zipper you can reach because it travels down the shoulder blade, not the spine, is Luis Esteve's contribution to practicality. His entire spring fashion collection is frothy, wispy and conducive to romance with silhouettes that are more than form fitting. For the sake of customers who do not have nice forms to fit, Esteve sends them dresses with built-in foundations.

Little tailored dresses are the sensible contributions of the First Lady's personal designer, Casani. Of course these costumes go in and out where they ought to even though the kind he designs for Jacqueline often do not.

Dresses that have a suit look, capes and jackets that radically change the appearance of costumes; chiffon cocktail dresses with dignified long sleeves (a practical thing for air conditioned summers) are more Casani contributions.

But the international flavor for the day was provided by Christian Dior's New York stylist Guy Doyver. His dazzling group of dresses, coats, and suits are high-bosomed and smooth but not too closely fitted.

However, he, too, being a practical man, also felt duty bound to show some of the kind of ultra-feminine, ultra-fitted dresses for which practical American men pay the bills with any degree of willingness.

Cafe Society 'Twisting' to Blasting Bands

New York, Oct. 19 (AP)—The cafe society set and show business celebrities have a new craze—the "twist," a sensuous and grotesque dance right out of the jungle.

The "twist" is danced (or may be "performed") in a better word to a shrieking version of rock 'n' roll.

You and your partner shake your shoulders and you swirl your hips. But you never touch. The musicians play like crazy.

There seems to be a mass hypnotic drawing converts to a new voodoo cult.

The "twist" has appeared in such upper-crust haunts as the Stork Club and the Barbary Room.

But the high temple of the new cult is the Peppermint Lounge—a hot, jammed, smoky nightmare where 200 customers are jammed on the tiny dance floor, squeezed together at speed.

Men in formal attire and their bejeweled partners vie with sailors, drifters in leather jackets and girls in treader pants for space to do their stuff.

Fife musicians on a bandstand blast like fury. They shout and leap like demons on hot coals. On the dance floor, couples gyrate in joyful frenzy. The waitresses, wearing short aprons over tight slacks, have to pick their openings like football players as they rush their trays of drinks. Sometimes one of them abandons her
