RIGHT PLAY
GOES WRONG
By Alfred Shelnwold
No matter how clever you may he, some bridge hands are sure to throw you for a loss. In fact, the more you know the worse off you may be. For example, Bobby Mail of Houston, went astray on a hand in the international team trials a few weeks ago — and the chances are he made the right John R. Crawford opened the six of diamonds from the West hand. Nail won with the ten of diamonds, led a club to dummy's ace, and returned a spade.

East played low, and Nail used the king to force out the ace. Back came the eight of diamonds, and Nail had his problem. Which trump should he play from the dummy?

from dummy on the queen of spades. He would cash the king of clubs and ruff a club in dummy, with the queen discarded a club clubs and ruff a club in dummy. Then he would cash the ace of hearts and ruff a heart to return to his own hand so that he would draw the last trump.

The problem was to guard against a bad break in clubs or in hearts. If either opponent had only two clubs and three trumps, Nail had to save dummy's ace of diamonds for the ruffing work. Nobody can over-ruff the ace of trumps.

The matics. Nail won the second trump with the queen, discarded a club from dummy, cashed the king of clubs and ruffed a club. But when he tried to get out of dummy by ruffing a heart, Crawford was bound to make a trump trick with the jack of diamonds.

"I still think I made the right play," Nail said when the hand was scored. Everbody agreed with him, but he was still down one. The "right" play doesn't always

Disagree on Use of Hall

The board of education plans to benevolences and missions and $5, consult with the state fire marshal to try to reconcile differences of opinion about whether the Community Hall can be used for class-rooms.

Fire Marshal Peter Massolini of Bolton told the board at a special meeting last night that the hall cannot be used for classes under fire safety code rules.

Board members who have read state regulations feel that use of the hall would be permissible. It was pointed out that the building is now being used for nursery school classes with the approval of the fire marshal.

Massolini said that buildings to be used for school purposes had to be of non-combustible material.

The board granted permission for a Willimantic State College course, "Modern Reading Pro-

New Britain, Dec. 21 (P)—Bits of candy, a fruit cake and some sweet bread.

That's what a widowed mother and her son will share Christmas day, half a world apart.

The few extra tidbits wrapped in a 11-pound package were all that Mrs. Mary V. Downey of New Britain was able to send to her son, John T. Downey, a prisoner of the Red Chinese in Peiping.

Said Mrs. Downey:

"T'm allowed two packages a month, 11 pounds each. I usually send coffee, sugar and such, but this month I've sent a little extra.

The can just turn his jar of instant coffee upside down, turn the knob once — and we hope he likes his coffee upside down, turn the knob once — and we hope he likes his coffee strong." The prize is ground down to 49 cents.

Believe It Or Not Don't Know The Answers By Rogers

A relatively new comer to our town asked me several (to me) onfusing questions about the water supply at the south end of ne town and because his intelligent queries relate to everyone living at the south end I thought I would publicly ask the water department officials to reply through the columns of The Herald I think it is germane to say here that some years ago when I irected the operation of big automobile battery stations in number of cities we found that to have our batteries give rease ble service we had to distill the water in some cities and incidentally during prohibition we had to register those distilling equipments for factually the use of distilled water did make much better liquor than the bathtub product. Question number one is, does the town rely upon purification disinfection, or both, processes in an attempt to provide safe water for human consumption? Question number two is, does the town, because, and I as this most apologetically, we do not have a filtration plant us nore than the normal amount of chlorine or other disinfectan Question number 3 is, what at times gives our water an ur pleasant odor and what at other times causes it to foam almost Some time ago when I asked the state board of health some questions about our water I had to write in a second letter that unless my questions were answered promptly I would obtain a writ of mandamus and force the state officials in charge to answer from the court witness stand. An answer came forthwith I hope we will not have the same difficulty here for even the town has no license to sell a product dangerous to health and I am mindful that some time ago the town issued a statement allegedly from the state board of health to the effect that our water is "safe to drink," the craziest public release I have ever
