What makes a diamond so Precious?

Forgetting songs about diamonds and setting aside their unmatched beauty and fascinating history, the rarity of diamonds and the fact that tons of earth must be excavated in the far corners of the world and from great depths of special soil and because their manufacture took millions of years ago under conditions not likely to be duplicated, diamonds can well be expected to hard to come by. Not only are they precious now but they have been prized since the dawn of civilization. And they will surely be prized as long as women love beauty and men are glad of it.

Religion In the News

By HENRI JONKER

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) — When heresy charges were brought against a Calvinist Dutch Reformed Church leader six months ago, some South African newspapers jokingly contoured a picture of a burning stake.

Now, shortly after a verdict of guilty, the case still draws wide attention though nobody is humorous about it any more.

Professor Albertus Geyser, 44, a New Testament expert of the Nederduitsch Hervormde Kerk, was found guilty on one of three charges of teaching heresy. He was dethroned.

On two counts of heresy and the key one of insubordination he was acquitted.

The N. H. Kerk, like the other Dutch Reformed Churches in South Africa, supports the official segregation policy.

Geyser disagreed and made his objections public by contributing to an anti-segregation book.

Before he could reply, three of his students at Pretoria University brought the heresy charges against him. The insubordination charge concerned a rule made at the last General Assembly, aimed at rebelling like Geyser, that the church's ruling on matters such as segregation could not be criticized in public.

In its verdict, the 18-man Synod committee dismissed the charge of insubordination as not adequately proved.

Geyser was actually condemned for interpreting a certain verse in the second book of Psalms as meaning that Christ was lower in status than God and after His incarnation and prior to His resurrection. This was objected to as detracting from Christ's true and everlasting Godhead.

Geyser immediately pleaded that as a learned interpreter of the Bible he had the privilege of freedom. The commission's rejection of this point was mentioned last week by another theologian, N. H. Kerk theologian, Prof. A. Van Rensburg of Pretoria, who resigned his position in protest against the heresy verdict. This resignation of a man respected here and in the Netherlands was the first serious representation of the Geyser verdict.

Van Rensburg predicted that relations between the N. H. Kerk in

Picnic Planned For Drama Wing

In case of rain the picnic will be held within the lodge.

All children who participated in the Children's Drama program during the past season are invited to attend this outing, which will be the final activity for the group until fall. Those who wish to attend must send their reservations by May 20 to Mrs. Ruth Rowley, 2 Gerard St.

Heads Keeney PTA

This country and the mother church in the Netherlands, would be severed.

Meanwhile South Africa's heresy has become a crowd-puller. At his first public appearance, before a crammed hall of students in Johannesburg, Geyser accused the ruling whites of South Africa of losing sight of human dignity in their race attitudes.

One Victim Of Jet Crash Still Sought

UNIONVILLE, Mo. (AP) — One body was still missing today in the fatal crash of a Continental Airlines jet plane. The other 44 bodies were in an improvised morgue here.

Search for the missing, unidentified victim and for the cause of the accident that tore the big plane apart in the air over southern Iowa continued with teams of federal investigators on hand.

The 20 1/2 million Boeing 707 plane left a trail of wreckage for 60 miles Tuesday night before its main fuselage plummeted into a Missouri farm.

The plane had been advised of thunderstorm turbulence as it neared Kansas City on its flight from Chicago.

Officials hoped that the taped flight record, salvaged from what was left of the main fuselage and sent to Kansas City, would afford some clue.

Federal Aviation Administrator Najeb Halaby said there was not a shred of evidence that the airliner had collided with a small plane or had been ripped apart by a bomb. He also said there was nothing to show that it may have been a terrorist attack.

The only person who might have been able to tell what had happened died in a hospital soon after he was removed alive. He was one of the 27 passengers.

Japanese-born engineer. All eight crew members, including four hostesses, died in the crash.

Seven of the victims have not yet been identified, including one of the hostesses and the one whose body has not been found.

Dr. C. L. Judd, Putnam County, Mo. coroner said six bodies were found almost in a straight line for 8 1/2 miles to the northeast of the crash scene on the Terry Bonnell farm north of this town between here and Centerville, Iowa.

The 44 bodies which had been recovered were in an improvised mortuary in an old garage a few miles south of Salgoon, the government reported today.

The Making River delta operation, one of the bloodiest in recent weeks, began Wednesday and was reported continuing today.

Air strikes by South Vietnamese fighter-bombers inflicted the heaviest casualties among the Viet Cong guerrillas. The government also claimed its troops seized about a ton of arms and ammunition.

Government losses were given as seven killed and 10 wounded. Communist fire also wounded four American Army officers in one of the 14 helicopters ferrying Vietnamese troops into the fighting.

The helicopter pilot, Capt. Robert P. Correll, 26, was shot in the head and a U.S. spokesman said he will be unable to walk for some time. His next of kin is listed as his wife, Shirley Chairborne Correll.

The three others were cut by firing metal and projectiles but returned to duty after treatment.

Many Hints Are Available To These Busy Business

Q—My husband and I have just started a mail order business and are anxious to obtain the best source of information in this connection. Where can we get it?

A—Dear C. D. B.: When going into business for yourself, first check with your state and city departments of commerce.

Ask to see their directories of trade associations to see whether there is one serving your business.

Q—Dear C. D. B.: I am going into business for myself. I read a check with your state and city departments of commerce.

Ask to see their directories of trade associations to see whether there is one serving your business.

Q—How does one know that a savings and loan association is insured? And what does it mean that people are trading in savings and loan company stocks?—L.H.S.

A—Dear L. H. S.: You can be certain that a savings and loan company is insured up to the $10,000 limit if they display the FSLIC (Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corp.) emblem.

When you hear of trading in savings and loan company shares, this means that the public is buying or selling the shares of savings and loan holding companies or companies that control savings and loan associations.

You can buy and sell these securities just as you would those of a manufacturing company, a utility or a railroad.

Q—My husband is worried. If something should happen to him he suggests I sell the house, valued at around $20,000, and invest out an annuity that will pay me so much every month for as long as I live. Do you agree or have you a better suggestion?—H. B.

A—Dear H. B.: You can be sure your husband writes, a will or the house may not be yours to sell.

Second, do you have any other assets—life and health insurance, Social Security, pension fund money?

If you do, you will not be wholly dependent upon the income of the $20,000. Usually, an annuity expect 4 per cent return from an annuity. This would mean you would get $800 a month but your capital would not be growing if it were invested this way.

If you bought shares of a closed investment company paying around a 5 per cent return including a capital gain, you could up your monthly income to around $85 and your capital might grow some, too. You would get professional management of your money plus diversification.

They say had $20,000 you could invest this in good quality common stocks and the chances are your capital might grow faster. With this amount you could buy around 120 shares of General Motors, around 80 shares of AD&T, around 140 shares of Standard Oil of New Jersey, get a monthly income of $62.

No one can say that even the best common stocks and investment trusts won't decline in value, but no one is promising that the buying power of your dollar won't shrink, either. If you have other assets, it might pay you to invest conservatively.

Zip Through Housework And Enjoy the Leisure

"Many office workers are so bored working at half speed that they welcome work standing up as a time-and-motion expert.

That is probably one reason why so many housewives are bored with their job, too—because they work long hours at half speed.

Of course, no expert is going to come in and make a time and motion study for a housewife and then set up work standards for her, telling her exactly how long it should take to make a bed, wash dishes, scrub a floor, iron a shirt, and so on.

But any housewife who is bored with her job could set up her own work standards and make her job a lot less boring.

It is bound to be more boring for a housewife to dawdle along taking eight hours to do work that could be done in five or six, than to set a faster pace for herself, get the work done, and then be rewarded with some free time to do as she pleases.

The great majority of housewives probably don't work as efficiently as they could. For the housewife there is always the temptation to switch from one job to another haphazardly, instead of following a time and motion work plan, to putter instead of setting a brisk work pace, to follow outmoded methods of doing a particular task, instead of trying new shortcuts and easier methods to figure "I have all day to get this work done" instead of "This work could be done in five hours and that is all the time I am going to allot to doing it."

Working at half speed doesn't make the housewife's job easier on her. It just makes her work hours longer and more boring and her job less challenging.

Rockville-Vernon Nail Headache Resists Cure

A man with 6,000,000 headaches may be able to rid of some of them soon.

Jack C. Robb, claims agent for the Gilbertville Trucking Co. of Rockville, will send approximately a quarter of the headaches back to the source. He has been offered a number of cures for the remainder.

He hopes two of the cures will be successful.

The problem is nails. Small nails, smaller nails and tiny nails.

Ranging in length from seven sixteenths of an inch to three quarters, they are in 63 cartons in the Ellington trucking terminal of L. Nelson and Son, a Gilbertville, Pa., firm.

The trouble is many of the nails are mixed together. The batch represents a portion of a shipment of nails for carpet tacking machines. Of the shipment of 183 cartons, 63 were returned because the boxes got soggy in transit during a driving rain.

Lengthy mathematical analysis indicates there are 6,000,000 nails.

Robb wants to find a way to separate the different sizes, clean them and sell them.

The manufacturer, Baker Nail Co. of Framingham, Mass., says it can't be done. The consignee, Continental Tackless Corp. of Philadelphia, doesn't want them. The stranded freight weighs 3,150 pounds and is valued at $21,000.

Publication of Robb's plight a week ago brought some hopeful response.

A carpenter suggested putting them in a basket and shaking the basket. The small nails will go to the bottom. Robb was told that a machine of a screw manufacturing firm in Hartford told him of a machine that separates screws of different sizes. Perhaps a similar machine could be used.

The Vocational Guidance Center in Hartford called and said a check will be made to see if the separation job can be taken on there.

A school youngster called and offered to do the job afternoons in complete solitude.

Someone else suggested air blasting. There were eight or nine calls in all, said Robb.

They came on top of earlier suggestions of a machine, controlled magnetism and launches into orbit.

Robb said the proposals involving the screw separator and the vocational center are "the most solid." He is awaiting further information.

Meanwhile, Robb will ship back to the manufacturer 20 cartons, which appear undamaged. If they are accepted, the problem will be reduced.

The manufacturer holds out one hope, said Robb: If the nails can be separated, the company will polish the rusty ones.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D. Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Although we keep assuring one another that "good things come in small packages," we often seem to place great value on tallness except in the case of our daughters. Mothers take delight in noting the increasing height of their girls, while the boy friend to be tall as well as dark and handsome. Most movie stars are actors. And with a few notable exceptions candidates for high political office are "big men."

How science gives promise of one day making short men tall!

We know for years that growth is controlled by our old friend the pituitary master gland. And scientists have even gone so far as to identify an anterior pituitary principle called human growth hormone or HGH. But the pituitary gland is a tiny organ, not much bigger than a medium-sized grape. And the job of extracting HGH has been very difficult.

For reasons not completely understood, the only growth hormones that could be used for the long periods of time required to note effects are those obtained from higher apes and from man himself. Hormones obtained from the usual animal sources—cattle, horses and sheep—have proved unsatisfactory for prolonged treatment.

Over the course of the past few years, encouraging reports have been forthcoming from the Tufts University School of Medicine when higher apes and from man himself. Hormones obtained from the usual animal sources—cattle, horses and sheep—have proved unsatisfactory for prolonged treatment.

Briefly stated, Dr. Raben has been able to speed the growth of certain dwarfs and of a small series of five very short children from higher apes and from man himself. Encouraged by the favorable results to date, more extensive trials are promised. But, until it is possible to obtain HGH from sources other than human pituitary glands, progress will be slow and very few of the thousands who desire treatment can be accommodated.

Nevertheless the breakthrough has been made. And, from past experience, once a principle has been identified, it should not be long before chemists identify and then reconstruct the formula of the secret. It is hoped that the identification of the secret will probably be a dime a dozen and then the rage will be for "good things in small packages."

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

By DORIS REEDING

"Wonderful idea," are the enthusiastic replies to the "From Your Neighbor's Kitchen" feature in the file of Mrs. Joseph A. Conitt, 241 Summit St.

1. 29-ounce can (3 1/2 cups) austracraft drained

2. 1 cup canned tomatoes

3. 1 teaspoon caraway seeds

4. 2 cups soft bread crumbs

5. 1/2 cup milk

6. 1 teaspoon grated onion

7. 1/2 teaspoon ground thyme

8. 1/2 teaspoon salt

9. 1 (one pound) frankfurters

10. 1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper

Mix: half the butter in a saucepan and add onion and green pepper. Cook over low heat until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in tomatoes and caraway seeds. Pour into an 11 1/2 by 7 1/2 inch baking dish. Combine crumbs, remaining butter, grated onion, thyme, salt and milk. Toss lightly. Slice frankfurters lengthwise, break through and add to stuffing. Wrap each with slice of bacon; secure with a toothpick.

As the mother for Ch. Scout and Mrs. Leonard Johnson, president of the seven night-year-old boys. This she says, she enjoys very much.

Mrs. Conitt is homemaker for her husband and son, Rocky. She is a member of the U.S. Army Reserve, and a member of the engineering department of the Town of Manchester Association for the Help of Retarded Children and the U.S. Junior Museum. Shampoo Clears Lice

NEW YORK—A single wash with a new modified shampoo successfully cleared lice and nits from the hair and scalp of a 10-year-old girl entering the State Hospital, a team of two doctors and a registered nurse reported in an article in Archives of Pediatrics. During the year's study, 14 per cent of the girls admitted had head lice, which, the authors say, can cause a serious problem in a hospital.

Japanese Like Golf

TOKYO—Golf is enjoying a popularity boom in Japan. An estimated 1,000,000 or more Japanese are golfers and there are now 250 golf courses in Japan and 50 more are planned or under construction. Greens fees are rather steep; they range from $6 to $10 per day for nonmembers of clubs and nonmembers account for about 80 per cent of the golfing population.

Jaycee Wives Hold Banquet

New officers of Jaycee Wives of Manchester were installed last night at an annual banquet at the U.S. Junior Museum. The new officers are: Mrs. William Bryce, vice president; Mrs. John Hartington, secretary; and Mrs. Wilbur Stone, treasurer. Mrs. Rudolph Florida, past president, was installing officer.

Mrs. James Plesinger, retiring president, reported the organization with a membership of 38 women, contributed $100 to the Manchester Association for the Help of Retarded Children and the U.S. Junior Museum. ### Democrats Still Split On Country Club Sale

Three Democratic Town Committee members spoke against the proposed sale of town land to the Manchester Country Club, and two members spoke in favor of it last night in what may be a preliminary of another bitter disagreement like the one that disrupted the committee last week.

Speaking against the proposed sale of the country club was Philip Harrison, a member of the Town Planning Commission who has opposed the idea at other times, and Mrs. Alice Lamanna, a former town director, and Joseph Conti.

Speaking in favor of it were Steve Cavagnaro, the former chairman of the town committee, and Walter Simon, a member of the club.

The only hint town chairman Ted Cummings gave of his views on the proposed sale of town land to the country club was the praise he gave to Harrison for speaking out against the sale at a meeting of the commission meetings when other members of the commission spoke in favor of it.

Harrison told the town committee last night that the issue was being brought to a head "without regard to a negative position."

He said the "rebels were pretty well grouped" by the country club members who worked out an offer which would "be palatable to all."

The issue was not whether the price was sufficient or whether the country club should be public or private, he said, but of whether the town should sell its land.

Cummings praised Harrison at the conclusion of the talk.

Calls Officer Low.

Mrs. Lamanna then said she wasn't against a private club, "but not at the expense of the citizens. The land, which is part of the 999-year lease tract, is valued at $1.25 million, "belongs to the next generation," she said.

The price of $200,000 for 145 acres "is peanuts," she said. "It's worth easily $400,000." However, she said, the directors should decide to sell the land, the voters should be given a chance to say whether they approve in a referendum, she said.

Chairman Cummings said he thought the idea of the directors turning over the matter to a referendum was an attempt to dodge their responsibility as elected officers.

Third Ex-Con Gives Self Up, Denies Guilt

NEW YORK (AP)—Police have their hands on all three ex-convicts accused of the kidnapping-murder of two city detectives in Brooklyn.

The one who hid out the longest, James Rosenberg, 37, was taken Wednesday night to the New York Daily News in Manhattan headquarters.

Police booked Rosenberg on a homicide charge shortly before dawn, after he had been questioned through the night and early morning and viewed by witnesses of last Friday's holiday. Detectives said he claimed he is innocent.

Rosenberg's surrender—described by a copyrighted story from the News, came five days and a few hours after the murders, and he was held in a city jail.

Police revealed last Monday they knew the identities of the three bandits and that a nationwide search was under way.

Later that day the alleged triggerman accused of slaying the $4,000 holdup of a tobacco store in a motel in a Chicago suburb, had been used in a robbery and driving a car which was later used in a robbery and slaying in New York, Conn.

The Daily News said Rosenberg, "desperate on the fifth day after the murders," contacted his father, Louis, 56.

When the father turned to the News for advice, he was told: "Have him turn himself in. It's about 5,000 succeeded in getting across the frontier into this British-occupied territory. It's a matter of time before the United States will be invaded by British police and army patrols. They were rushed to the island to Hong Kong.

A former office spokesman said today, a note was being sent to the Chinese embassy demanding immediate release of the detainees. Deportation of the 70 was ordered after they were convicted of various crimes. Katsch's government refused to accept them.

Hong Kong. He noted that Communist China is a nation of 600 million and that its food supplies are inadequate.

British troops and border police guided by helicopters reached the brush-covered hills and swampy plains along the border in pursuit of the few hundred that eluded capture during the night.

There were reports of growing troubles between the refugees and British patrol squadrons up-country.

The Hong Kong government expressed appreciation for the interest and concern shown by the United States for Hong Kong's problem.

A government spokesman rejected the suggestion after reports that President Kennedy had cleared the way for between 6,000 and 8,000 refugees to be admitted to the United States.

A source close to Hong Kong's Immigration Department said privately, however, that the President's action does not seem to be directly concerned with the problem of the thousands of illegal immigrants who daily are crossing into Hong Kong.

This source said Kennedy's move apparently only speeded up the entry of Chinese who have been used in a robbery and slaying in New York, Conn.

"Probably most of them at one time or another actually were refugees but they bear little relation to the present influx of illegal immigrants," the source said.

HONG KONG (AP)—Blaring Communist loudspeakers today appealed to Chinese fleeing Red China to stay home and help guard needed food. But Red border guards reportedly made no attempt to stop the flow of refugees.

About 5,000 succeeded in getting across the frontier into this British-occupied territory. It's a matter of time before the United States will be invaded by British police and army patrols. They were rushed to the island to Hong Kong.

Downtown Needs Help, TPC Member Insists

The central business district in downtown Manchester is in trouble unless serious attention is given to it soon, according to a member of the Town Planning Commission and a special group of downtown merchants organized to promote the re-vitalization of the area.

Volting the area before a meeting Monday night of the commission called to review a master plan summary report was Philip Harrison.

Harrison's remarks assumed special significance when taken against the backdrop of the current state of business in downtown Manchester where several stores are vacant or used for storage purposes.

He also noted that parking in the central business district was also a serious problem, and that the existing authority should be given more authority to "re-zone" or have control of land.

Harrison said the downtown area has several aspects working in its favor, such as a wide Main St. and a number of good buildings which are fairly sound.

He noted that the re-making of the downtown area requires a coordination of effort, and that the downtown merchants and property owners have indicated they are willing to go along in this direction.

Much could be done by carrying out relatively minor improvements affecting traffic patterns and parking or street locations. Even these efforts would tend to eliminate private interests, Harrison said.

In respect to the downtown area, the master plan proposal has this to say:

"Manchester's central business district is the economic and civic focus of the town. Although it contains only about two per cent of the town's total assessed valuation and the site of half of the community's non-manufacturing employment, it provides many of the services and commercial facilities which contribute to the desirability of Manchester as a place in which to live."

Manchester's CBD has also been subject to adverse influences in recent years which have weakened its position as a market center. These are traffic congestion, inadequate parking for shoppers and workers and the increased competition from shopping centers in the general vicinity.

Other points:

1. That completion of the relocation of Rt. 6 will have prime importance to the central business district.

2. That commission members favored spending money to extend water and sewer to selected areas for industry "if the town wants it."

3. That the establishment of a corporate industrial development authority may have some merit.

Correction

In a story in yesterday's Herald about Manchester's tax dollar, and the cost to the average taxpayer for various town services, the Herald misquoted from a letter prepared by Controller Jay Elliott when it said that the average taxpayer will pay $204 more for governmental costs other than education in the coming fiscal year. The average taxpayer will actually pay $204 less for governmental expenses, while paying $124 more for education.

ATTITUDES are unfortunate, but true, that the personal traits and general outlook of an investor can becloud an issue to the point of overlooking the facts involved. A novice speculator is apt to ignore warning signals. A timid soul may pass up a justified risk. A conformist is likely to buy what the crowd is buying. Democrats Oppose Odd-Year Elections

The Democratic Town Committee last night voted against a proposed charter revision, which would change town elections from even-numbered years to odd-numbered years.

At the recommendation of a subcommittee headed by Atty. David Barry, the committee decided there are no advantages for either the Democrats or Republicans in the change, and even some drawbacks. Barry said these are two possible plus factors mentioned by proponents of the change, but neither of them offsets the cost of the change. One plus factor is that Manchester would be holding its local election at the same time as the majority of other towns in the state hold their local elections, he said. Another factor is that the off-year elections might pinpoint local issues, he said. The extra costs would include $1,000 to canvas voters each year; instead of $1,500 every other year; and $1,700 to print the voters list every year instead of every other year. There would also be payment to registrars for holding additional local elections. Politically, he said, there is no advantage to the Democrats in off-year elections. Make Study Harry Horvody, a member of the subcommittee, did a study of the effect of state and national elections on local elections in Manchester and surrounding towns since 1940, said Barry, and found nothing to indicate a change would help either political party. There may be a costal vote on town representatives to the state legislature, but not on local government officials, he said. Last year, three 100 school officers were presented to local college students. Fast Pitch League Wavers A program and schedule for the Rockville Fast Pitch Softball League will be discussed at a meeting tonight at 8 in the Little Fish Memorial building. A spokesman for the city recreation commission said the meeting will decide whether or not to continue the league.

Hebron Clinic Slated Tuesday for Sabin Serum

Mrs. Harry H. Kirkham, elementary school and neighborhood nurse, announces an oral polio clinic will be held on Tuesday, May 24, at the elementary school auditorium for pre-school and elementary school children supervised by Dr. Mervyn Little, school physician.

Hours for pre-school children higher grades of the school will be given their vaccine from 1 p. m. to 3 p. m.

There will be two similar clinics in the coming fall.

An urgent request is made that all children of six weeks old and upward be brought in for this clinic even if they have already taken the Salk vaccine. A nominal fee of 25 cents per child is asked.

Parents of pre-school children are asked to call Nurse Kirkham, Mrs. John Maloney or Mrs. James Derry if they plan to bring their children to the clinic, in order that an estimate may be made of the amount of vaccine to be ordered.

The claim is made that the oral or Sabin vaccine gives greater immunity for the child.

Dr. Howard C. Champe, former pastor of the Hebron and Congregational Churches and of the Lebanon Congregational Church has been invited to give the address at the dedication of the new parsonage in Lebanon on the last Sunday in June. His present parsonage in Lake Helen, Fla., has voted to allow him a three-month vacation, which will give him ample time to cover the long distance and have a long rest in addition. The flocking north of most of the Florida parsonages during the summer makes this possible.

In a letter from Mrs. Champe the amazing news is related to a woman who is a friend of Mrs. Champe's parishioners. Living in the Lebanon County jail from Lake Helen, who reached the age of 114 on April 19 of this year. This remarkable person is Mrs. Leonora Shirley Haire.

Still spry and active, she got up early on the morning of her birthday and prepared a breakfast of ham and green beans for guests who were coming to help celebrate. She rises at 5 o'clock, gets her own breakfast, does her washing and ironing and works out doors. She says "Laziness is what kills you. You've got to keep busy and not worry."

She was born in Richmond, Va., in 1848. She remembers the Civil War and tells how she kept a Yankee officer from entering her house by threatening to shoot him. She is still an ardent Southerner.

Her husband, a Confederate soldier, died here to locate in Florida, in 1918, and she is still there.

She says "All I do is look after my house and garden. I do not live to live to be 125 and I will have lived a full life. There may be an exception or not, but speaking generally, it may be entirely possible that within the next few decades 125 years may constitute the average population age."

GOP Supports Foote

Robert E. Foote of Gilead is unanimously supported by the Hebron Republican Town Committee as a candidate for re-election as a member of the Regional Board for the three-year term beginning July 1. He is completing a three year term on the board. The Republican Town Committee has also elected H. Clay Osborn as finance board chairman.

A message from the Treasury of a free people

You, too, can help put down a threat to freedom

Uncle Sam has had some pretty conscientious help in the "freedom department" over the years.

Some of the best-known contributors were an expert horseman named Revere . . . a group of amateur stevedores who made iced tea in Boston Harbor . . . and a party of revolutionaries who created an unsplitable nation under the shadow of a cracked bell.

Today the freedom which those patriots won for us is being challenged. And freedom will always need brave men to defend and preserve it. Men and women, like you.

You can do your share toward defending freedom by buying United States Savings Bonds today. The dollars you invest this way go right to work for your country now, as well as for your future.

How about buying a $50 Savings Bond (the most popular size) next payday? The cost is only $37.50.

Best known for his midnight ride to Lexington, famous patriot Paul Revere also designed the first Continental currency, the first official seal of the Colonies, and the state seal of Massachusetts, still in use today.

Compare Pepitone to Joe DiMaggio

NEW YORK (AP)—It's a long way from New York's Hall of Fame center fielder to the 25-year-old rookie struggling to make the Yankees' roster, but the old Yankee Clipper put his stamp of approval on young Joe this spring.

Pepitone has many of DiMaggio's moves in the outfield. The quiet, self-contained Pepitone accomplished it yesterday in New York's nine-run eighth inning that beat Kansas City 12-7.

Donovan's Luck Changes in One Year

NEW YORK (AP)—Remember the hard-luck Dick Donovan of just a year ago, with that disheartening string of five successive one-run losses? His luck is a little better this season and so's his record—8-0.

The right-hander became the first eight-game winner in the major leagues when he pitched the Cleveland Indians out of the box for the third time in a week with nine innings.

By hitting the squaker, Cleveland retained a half game behind the top Yankee pitcher, Tom Seaver, who pitched a 12-inning eighth inning triggered and capped by rookie Joe Pepitone's home run blank.

Donovan's record is 8-0 with a 1.50 ERA, the lowest in the American League. He has pitched 100 innings, the most in the league.

Flip-Flop Phillies Extend Giant Losing Skain

NEW YORK (AP)—Philadelphia's flip-flop Phillies, rejoining the National League's most respected members for the 1962 campaign, have continued San Francisco's skid and cut another length off the Giants' bulge in that tightest pennant race.

Playing ball after shaking off the effects of last year's disastrous 23-game losing streak and a last-place finish six games back, the Phillies dumped the league-leading Giants 10-7 Wednesday night.

It was the third consecutive win for the Phillies, who up until a week ago were pulverizing the opposition with 21 victories in 20 games and had built a 4½-game lead.

Now the Phils, striving to climb into the first division of the expanded 162-game circuit, have cut the Giants' lead to 1½ games while moving into a virtual tie for sixth place.

Beef Checks 'Streak', Red Sox Defeat Twins

BOSTON (AP)—The Red Sox may not have much beef but they have a lot of beef when pitchers Earl Wilson and Dick Radatz team up.

That's exactly what happened last night and—with the help of a little early inning slugging—the combination produced a 6-1 victory over the visiting Minnesota Twins.

Concurrently it ended Boston's losing streak at eight games as Sophomore Don Schwall opened Joe Bonkowski today as the Sox attempt to continue the hot streak.

The 20-year-old Wilson and the 23-year-old Radatz checked the Twins on seven hits, Gary Carter was summoned for the 10th time this year. Radatz struck out dangerous Vic Power to end the threat and held Minnesota, scoreless for the 10th time in four games, knocked the Twins in the seventh after the first in the Twins' threatened in both the eighth and ninth.

Prince Downs Cheney With Late Rally, 7-6

Three unearned runs in the sixth inning gave Prince Tech of Hartford a 7-6 triumph over Cheney Tech yesterday afternoon at Mt. Nebo, in an error-riddled baseball game.

Snowie Brunella was the victim of Cheney's sloppy defense. He allowed six hits, until relieved by Phil Hines, but couldn't overcome the nine errors committed by his teammates.

Cheney took an early lead, scoring five times after two batters had been retired in the opening inning. They also profited by Hines' inefficiency.

At present, the batting leader for Prince with a pair of singles and two RBIs, Normy Rows had two singles and Bill March a triple for Cheney.

The loss was Cheney's fourth, the last was Cheney's fourth, the last was Cheney's fourth, the last was Cheney's fourth.

Yanks Have Man Set When Needed

NEW YORK (AP)—An off-the-field injury to Mickey Mantle and relief ace Luis Arroyo, left-hander Whitey Ford.

Mantle is on crutches, recovering from a torn muscle suffered last Friday night in a game against the Boston Red Sox. He is expected to be ready to go in a few days.

Arroyo was placed on the disabled list Thursday with a sore arm, but he is expected to return to the rotation in a few days.

The Yankees have a strong bullpen with Ford, Arroyo, and other relievers ready to step in when needed.

Umpires' Clinic Slated Monday

Chicago for baseball umpires, conducted by Earl Voss for the American League, will be held Monday night from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the West Side Ball Field.

The clinic will be held for the benefit of the umpires' fund. It will feature a dinner and a presentation of awards to the best umpires of the year.
