'Face to Face' to Sub For Jack Benny Show

In television, as in horse racing, a man's success is often based on the number of winners he brings in. With this comparison as a guide, one has to put wideo's Ralph Edwards in the same post position as Eddie Arcaro and Johnny Longden.

No one has been quite as successful as the slight, smiling native of Colorado who brought the Midas touch to radio and television — and never lost it. Edwards has been called the most successful man in television.

There seems little argument for this description on a dollar and cents basis since Edwards has been the mastermind behind such mass popular shows as "This Is Your Life," "Truth or Consequences," "It Could Be You," "About Faces," "Place the Face," "End of the Rainbow," "Funnyboners" and "The Ralph Edwards Daytime TV Show."

With most of the Edwards' productions in re-runs or on the syndicated trail, it might appear that the former UCLA student was taking a breather from the medium. Appearances are too often deceiving — Edwards is back in television just as big and energetic as ever.

His latest TV venture—"Face To Face"—will debut over CBS on Sunday, June 24, 9:30-10 p.m. EDT, as a summer replacement for "The Jack Benny Program."

Although he has usually appeared as MC on the majority of his programs, Edwards will be strictly in the background on this presentation. The man the public will see will be veteran MC Warren Hull. Edwards will handle the role of executive producer and confine himself to the decision-making aspects of the show.

Edwards outlined the format of "Face To Face" and came up with several "very personal" reasons why he thought it would be a success.

"In the first place," he said, "we are dealing with people—and I've never known a show that concerned real, live, walking about people to be a failure if handled properly."

"I have been in radio and television since I was 15, believe it or not, and I discovered early in my career that people are genuinely interested—first in themselves and then in others. A human being has dedicated curiosity about other humans. Now some might call this being 'nosy,' but I call it by a nicer sounding name 'brotherly love.' And I believe it too."

The Auburn-haired 5 feet 10 TV wizard smiled, winking his brown eyes, and continued: "Face To Face" is going to bring the human side of news events to those at home before their TV sets. It's going to show that in all events—major and minor—there is always a warm, interesting aspect of it that does not always get told by other television outlets as well as the press and magazines.

According to Edwards, "Face To Face" will contain three or four segments each week in which some person or persons—recently in the news—will be interviewed, possibly by experts in the particular field in which he or she excelled, but more often by the studio audience.

"For instance," said Edwards, "we had a story in the paper recently about two identical twin girls who were supposed to have Extra Sensory Perception—the gift of knowing the unknown."

"We will bring the twins to our show and we will have one or two noted psychologists who will ask the girls certain questions to determine whether or not they really do have this remarkable gift or whether or not it is just a coincidence. After the doctors get through with the girls the audience will be allowed to ask them pertinent questions."

Edwards smiled and allowed that this was the secret of the success of most of his productions—audience participation. "People like to go and see a television show, sure," he said. "But they love to become a part of that show, to actually become happily involved."

"Face To Face" will be produced by Axel Gruenberg and directed by Richard Gottlieb. Robert E. G. Harris, professor of journalism at UCLA, will serve as editor-in-chief with a staff of two assistants—who will provide the newsworthy guests for the program.

Explained Prof. Harris: "Every week my assistant and I will read every important magazine and major newspaper in the world, not just in the United States. We will look for people who have suddenly become interesting to their fellow man for some reason or another and we will gather, say, 10 of these stories. We will then have a meeting with Messrs. Edwards, Gruenberg and Gottlieb, and we will select the stories and people we believe are the most interesting. Then we will contact the people themselves."

Edwards stressed that in no way was his program competing with other communication media like television news commentary or regular journalists on papers and magazines.

Warren Hull will be the host on "Face to Face"

"On the contrary — we think we are working with them," he explained. "You see, a newspaper or magazine has only so much limited space to cover a story. The majority of them do extremely well in this confine. But we sift through all that the writers have put on paper and come up with one salient feature we think should be developed. As I said, we are looking for something that we can tell the people and maybe make them feel a little bit better than they did before they watched our show."

A cunning burglar, using the modus operandi of several well-known criminals, leads police on a merry chase in "Modus Man" on NBC-TV's full-hour "87th Precinct" Monday, June 18 (9 p.m. EDT a repeat of Oct. 16, 1961).

Robert Vaughn and Dianne Foster star in "Death of a Dream," suspense drama about a woman who waits for her runaway husband only to learn, on his return, that he had become a thief, on NBC-TV's "Kraft Mystery Theatre," Wednesday, June 20 (9-10 p.m. EDT).

Hopper Happy As Paul Drake

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "If they thought they were getting Paul Drake, they were mistaken. Because what they got was me, nobody else."

William Hopper was talking about the producers of "Perry Mason" and his own role in it. He was talking like Bill Hopper — or Paul Drake, take your choice — frankly and businesslike.

That's Hopper, a strikingly handsome man with luxuriant blond-white hair, rugged physique and a serious attitude. Only rarely does his face break into a smile.

"Paul Drake in the Eric Stanley Gardner books was an entirely different character," he remarked. "I play him my way. Now I'm amused to read Gardner's new books. Paul Drake now comes out like me!"

Many an actor would chafe at playing second banana in a television series. Not Hopper.

"I couldn't be more pleased," he said. "I tested for the Perry Mason role. I lost it, and it was the best thing that ever happened to me."

"Why? Because I've seen what it has done to Ray Burr. The poor guy has had to dedicate his life to Perry Mason. I remember in the first two years, he used to stay up until midnight every night to work out changes that would improve the script."

"Even now he must live at the studio while we're working. He has no outside life whatsoever. Luckily, he is the kind of guy who is dedicated to activity. If he has nothing to do for three weeks, he ends up in the hospital."

Bill comes by his acting naturally. His father was the noted actor DeWolf Hopper. His mother, Hedda Hopper, also acted and now writes an entertainment column. Bill tried his hand at acting before the war and afterward chucked it to be a car salesman. "I made good money, and I hated it," he admitted. "This was after the war when you could sell anything on wheels."

He combined car selling and acting for a while. When the blossoming of live television made pickings good for actors, he gave up the car lot forever.

"Perry Mason" has lasted five years, much to Hopper's surprise. "I'm in kind of a dilemma," Hopper said. "I'm making more money than I ever have and we have a ball doing the series."

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—"Never Enough to Go Around," Richard Carlson labeled his words. They express the sharpest look anyone has taken at the dream of pay television.

The current edition of the Screen Actor, published by the Screen Actors Guild, devotes two pages to actor Carlson's thoughts about the prospects of a box office in every home and a producer getting $5 million back on a movie in one night.

Now listen to Carlson: "I'm all for rich actors and producers. But some questions occur to me. Not objections, mind you, just questions."

"People foresee the day in the near future when pay television will be demanding eight hundred to a thousand feature movies every year. You don't quite laugh because you think of Leonardo and Henry Fonda and Sam Goldwyn and all those other fellows they laughed at. But it sure makes you want to ask some questions."

"Questions about some pretty fearsome statistics when we contemplate a thousand features a year. For instance, every day of every year, including Saturday and Sunday, someone would have to be finishing three pictures and someone else would have to be starting three more."

A thousand features a year, Carlson figures, would have the public dropping two billion dollars a year in home coin boxes for the producers just to break even.

But the artistic problem, he goes on, is even more frightening.

"In its heyday I think Hollywood was able to turn out between three and four hundred pictures a year. Then, as now, I think it would be fair to say about 15 of them were pretty good. But a thousand movies a year!"

It is a question that stops Carlson, who still thinks pay television will come, but:

"I doubt if it's greatest impact will be felt in the feature motion picture field. For reasons mentioned above it seems to me that movies will stay pretty much as they are. Nor does there seem much likelihood that the Wagon Trains will all fold their tents and creep silently away."

"The American people have shown pretty definitely that they like most of their television pretty much as it is, in spite of grumblings from Big Brother in Washington. We know its impact on spectator sports will be almost unimaginable. The O'Malleys, the Floyd Pattersons, the George Halases have already felt and been invigorated by the hot and heady breath of television."

"But I'd like a bet that in our business, paradoxically, its greatest influence will be in the development of the SMALL, special audience."

"Today in television when your audience drops under 15 million people or so, it's a time for a tranquilizer and trying to get situated in summer stock."

"But tomorrow, perhaps even a paltry hundred thousand," each kicking in his buck, would make it worth a producer's while to bring us Mozart, or Ionesco, or bird watching, or strip teasing. Let giantism have sway on free television with its 50 million ratings. Pay television will be the millennium for us peculiar ones with the esoteric tastes."

"And who's to say? Perhaps even the less-convenient forms of amusements at home may come back into their own."

A film report by NBC News Ottawa correspondent Leif Eld on the Canadian election campaign and how it differs from American campaigns will be presented on "This is NBC News" Sunday, June 17 (NBC-TV, 6:30 p.m. EDT) on the eve of the Canadian balloting.

'Ill-Considered Game' Highest N-Shot Due After Dark

Honolulu (AP)—The U.S. nuclear testing force made ready to fire its highest and biggest blast over the Pacific after dark tonight—about dawn Tuesday in the eastern United States.

The mammoth explosion was expected to light the sky with a flash brighter than sunshine and to be visible in Hawaii, 780 miles northeast of the Johnston Island launch site.

It was scheduled for firing between 11 p.m. tonight and 4 a.m. Tuesday EST and 4:30 a.m. Tuesday 7:30 a.m. EST.

Scientists say communications throughout the Pacific will be disrupted for almost two days after the shot, 50 to 600 times as powerful as the atom bomb dropped on Hiroshima. It will be exploded some 200 miles above the Pacific.

In New York, the Congress of Scientists on Survival appealed to President Kennedy Sunday to veto the high test because of "possibilities of hazard for mankind and his environment."

The group told the president in a telegram that such tests "will disturb the Van Allen belt," bands of high energy particles several hundred miles above the earth.

The wire said qualified scientists in this and other countries had not had adequate opportunity to try to predict long-term effects of such a shot.

"They may be harmless. They may be destructive. To move ahead is to stake the future of mankind in an ill-considered game of chance," the scientists said.

The 20th announced detonation in the current series in the Pacific was exploded Sunday in the area of Christmas Island, some 200 miles south of Honolulu.

It was an intermediate-range device of a force equal to that of 20,000 to one million tons of TNT.

Accidents Kill Four in State Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least four persons died untimely deaths in Connecticut over the weekend, two in highway accidents, one by drowning, and one by a blast from his own shotgun.

A head-on collision on the New London Turnpike in Glastonbury Saturday took the life of Edward J. O'Connell, 35, Wapping, the driver of the other car, Wendell Williams, 21, New London, was charged with negligent homicide.

On Sunday, Carl A. Anderson, 48, a New Milford farmer, was fatally injured while mowing his lawn when his shotgun, which he carried on his tractor, accidentally discharged.

John Meyers, 18, Waterbury, apparently drowned in Bellevue Lake Sunday while swimming. Firemen, police and skindivers searched late into the night for his body.

William F. Murphy, 25, Milford, was killed last night when his car suddenly swerved across the center esplanade of the Wilbur Cross Parkway in Milford into the path of an oncoming vehicle.

State Police were unable to explain why Murphy's car went out of control.

Fraud Charged In Selection of Sheriff by GOP

WATERBURY (AP)—John F. Bruce of North Haven today charged fraud in the selection of a third ballot after Alby Frederick L. Murolo of Wolcott, convention chairman, broke a tie vote.

Bruce claimed Murolo voted in place of an alternate from Bethany of the first ballot, which had ended in a tie.

He said Murolo could not vote as a member of the Bethany delegation because he is from Wolcott. In addition, he said, the

Souvanna Halts Laos Coalition

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Plans to install today a new coalition regime in Laos were derailed by last-minute objections from neutralist Prince Souvanna Phouma, destined to be the premier. A postponement of the installation until late this week seemed likely.

Souvanna flew in seven hours late from his headquarters in pro-Communist territory. He declined all comment before hurrying off to see King Savang Vatthana.

Informed sources said he would refuse to go ahead with the installation ceremony unless a royal decree eliminated all reference to the national assembly, which is pro-Western.

The decree notes that the assembly ratified the coalition agreement signed last week by the rival princes of Laos. Neither Souvanna nor his half-brother, Prince Souphanouvong of the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels, recognizes the national assembly.

Fire Guts Six Buildings 1,100 Convicts Riot At Montreal Prison

MONTREAL (AP)—Steel-helmeted troops stood guard today amid the smoking ruins of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, set ablaze by 1,100 convicts in a bloody riot that left 30 persons wounded.

None of the convicts managed to escape, but some were gunned down while trying to scale the walls.

"We had to shoot when they tried to escape or occupy other buildings," said Warden Michael LeCorre, "but we did not shoot to kill."

The six-hour battle was finally ended after more than 200 troops in full battle dress joined guards and police, herding the convicts at bayonet point into a group inside the compound.

Six of the 18 prison buildings were gutted. Others were damaged to varying degrees. Officials figured the damage to the old maximum security prison just northeast of Montreal would come to between $2 million and $3 million.

Firemen hampered by lack of water fought early today to quell flames in the main building housing cell blocks and administrative offices.

Twenty-seven prisoners were injured by flames or bullets as guards fired on convicts armed with stones, knives, zip guns and Molotov cocktails—gasoline-filled jars set afire by a rag wick. Three guards were hurt.

After the riot leaders were weeded out, about two thirds of the prisoners were put under some kind of shelter for the night. The rest were herded against a prison wall and had to spend the night outdoors in 50-degree weather because no buildings were available.

Prison officials said they had been unable to determine the cause of the riot, which flared in mid-afternoon during the exercise period.

New Parleys Aim to Avert Airline Strike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg opened a new peace talks today aimed at averting a threatened flight engineers strike Tuesday afternoon on Trans World Airlines.

At Goldberg's request the Air Line Pilots Association, rival to the flight engineers in a dispute over jet plane cockpit jobs, sent along a team of negotiators.

H. S. Dietrich, chairman of the TWA chapter, failed to show up for the start of the talks. Goldberg's office said he sent word he would be late. The engineers were represented by an attorney, Asher Schwartz, New York.

Working with Goldberg for a TWA settlement were Undersecretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz and Nathan P. Feinsinger, Wisconsin University law professor and a special government mediator.

Sunday the engineers withdrew strike threats on Pan American World Airways and Eastern Air Lines and decided to concentrate for the moment on TWA. The TWA strike was set for 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Oran Force May Ignore Agreement

By ANDREW BOROWICZ

ALGIERS (AP)—A pact between the Secret Army Organization and Moslem Nationalists brought a halt today to the secret army's scorched earth campaign in Algiers and Oran, the two major cities.

Neither arson nor bomb attacks had been reported in the greater Algiers area by noon. The morning, however, passed quietly in Oran, the extremist European stronghold in the west.

A pirate broadcast from Oran, however, raised the prospect that the secret army group based there might not abide by orders from Algiers to end the campaign of destruction and death.

There was unaccustomed peace within Algiers.

Groups of Moslems emerged from their barricaded quarters and mixed with Europeans in some parts of the city. Half-tracks loaded with troops stood by for any emergency while helicopters hovered over the city.

"The news from Algiers must be heard with caution," the secret army in Oran said in the announced agreement with the Moslem National Liberation Front (FLN). "For the moment we do not have enough information to make any comment. We are keeping our hands off the streets."

Most of the deserter colonials forming the secret army's military command are hiding in the Oran area. In recent weeks they obviously have been acting independently of the Algiers group which carried on the negotiations with the Moslems.

The Algiers order called for a halt to arson and murder as of midnight. This secret army broadcast followed separate announcements by the FLN and the Algiers group Sunday that they were ending their bloody feud to join forces in building a new Algeria.

Will Accept Some Changes Ribicoff Concedes Medicare Bill 'III'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff concedes the administration's medical care for the aged plan is in shaky health, and says he's ready for legislative surgery on it.

The president of the American Medical Association, meanwhile, has charged passage of the measure would undermine the nation's health care standards. Dr. Leonard W. Larson said that has been the outcome in every country that tried "politically controlled medicine."

Larson said Sunday the administration's program would swiftly mushroom into socialized medicine. He spoke in an interview on the Manion Radio Forum, broadcast from South Bend, Ind.

Ribicoff said Sunday night in a television interview—NBC—Meet the Press—that moving medical care bill is in difficulty in the Ways and Means Committee.

"I really think we have an opportunity to come out with a favorable report," Ribicoff said the administration is prepared to accept changes in the bill, but will not compromise on its central feature—financing under the Social Security System.

He said that "most of the heart of the program. Without the Social Security approach you don't have a program."

"There are a number of alternatives to my opinion. It could be very beneficial to the bill," Ribicoff said. Among them, he said, are:

Provision for coverage for some 8 million elderly persons who would not come under the current version because they are not covered by Social Security.

Participation by Blue Cross, the private hospitalization insurance firm, in some aspects of the administration of the medical care program.

An option system, under which an elderly person could choose government coverage, or take cash equal to the Social Security protection to purchase private health insurance.

The administration plan, sponsored in Congress by Rep. J. P. King, D-Calif., and Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., would raise Social Security taxes one-fourth of 1 percent to finance hospitalization and nursing home care for people 65 and over. It would not cover doctors' bills.

Larson attacked the administration plan in these terms: "The bill would start out as socialized medicine for a small segment of our population would soon become socialized medicine for every man, woman and child in the country."

He said socialized medicine has undermined medical care in England, where many physicians are leaving the country because they do not like the system under which they must work.

"There is no reason why we should impose that type of system upon the people in this country,"

One Escapee Caught

HARTFORD (AP)—One of the two prisoners who escaped Saturday night from the Hartford State Jail was captured today. The other was still at large.

Holyoke, Mass., police notified state police headquarters this morning they were holding Claude LaPlante, 31, Hartford, as a fugitive. Troopers were to go to Holyoke later in the day.

Still sought was Manuel Vazquez, 23, New Britain, who is of medium build, five feet eight inches in height, 160 in weight, with brown hair and eyes and tattoos on both arms.

LaPlante, serving 60 days for forgery and check fraud, and Vazquez, serving 30 days for driving while his license was under suspension, climbed over a jail wall during a recreation period Saturday.

Supreme Court To Review Unit Voting Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed today to review the litigation over Georgia's county unit vote system, used in Democratic primaries and declared unconstitutional by a lower court.

But the court left the prospect for the Sept. 12 primary clouded by declining to give the case any emergency status. It will not hear it until its fall term, beginning Oct. 1.

A three-judge federal court in Atlanta, Ga., which declared the system unconstitutional, issued an injunction against its use in the Sept. 12 primary. This still stands.

However, today's Supreme Court order noted that Justice Harlan felt Georgia Democratic officials should be given leave to apply to the high court for a stay of the injunction pending final action on the appeal.

The other justices said nothing about the case, but the court commonly does not do so when the questions immediately presented to it. Harlan's note could be in effect an invitation for a move of that kind.

Under the county unit system, candidates must win a majority of county unit votes. Critics contend the plan is loaded against metropolitan area voters to such an extent that a candidate could win a majority of popular vote and lose the primary election on the unit system.

In other actions today, the court:

Minor Parties Hold Balance Close Contest Forecast In Canadian Vote Today

TORONTO (AP)—Both Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's Conservatives and the opposition Liberals predict victory as Canadians vote today in their first national election in five years.

The Gallup poll and other surveys indicate an extremely close contest. A number of unknown factors—such as the strength of the minor parties—could have an important bearing on the results.

One possibility was the failure of either major party to get a clear majority of the 265 seats in the House of Commons.

That would mean that the winner—Diefenbaker or Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson—could form a government only with the cooperation of the smaller parties.

Such a situation probably would result in a new election within a year, as happened after the Conservatives in 1957 ended 22 years of Liberal rule.

Both the 67-year-old prime minister and Pearson, 66-year-old Nobel Peace prize-winner, claimed their parties would get more than the 125 seats needed for a majority in the House.

T. C. (Tommy) Douglas, leader of the New Democratic party, maintained that the Conservative government would be ousted. It appeared certain that his party and the Social Credit party, headed by Robert Thompson, would register substantial gains over the eight seats now held by the two groups.

The key to the outcome seemed to be the size of the gains the Liberals will make in populous Quebec and Ontario provinces, which together hold 160 seats in the House. It is generally agreed that the Liberals will win back many of the seats they lost in the Conservative sweep in 1958.

One of the things making the forecast more cautious was the indication in the latest Gallup poll that the popular support of the Liberals had slipped in recent weeks. The latest figure showed the Liberals only two percentage points ahead of the Conservatives. They had been 10 per cent ahead early this month.

The Conservatives had 203 seats in the last House. The Liberals had only 51.

In Canada—as in Britain—the voter does not ballot directly for a prime minister but only for a member of the House of Commons

PLANE CREW BLAMED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Most of blame for the fatal air disaster—the collision of two airliners over New York City which took 134 lives 18 months ago—was placed today on the crew of one of the planes.

An accident report issued by the Federal Aviation Administration said the probable cause of the fiery collision was that the United Airlines DC8 flew beyond the area for which it had been cleared, a holding pattern over the city.

N. J. Contributing factors, the CAB said, was the plane's high rate of speed and a new routing issued just before the accident by the New York air route traffic control center.

The appointment was requested by Dobrynin, K. J. Contributing factors, the CAB said, was the plane's high rate of speed and a new routing issued just before the accident by the New York air route traffic control center.

'Sophisticated Rome Fell' Crusade Just Begun, Graham Tells 116,000

CHICAGO (AP)—Billy Graham capped his Chicago "Crusade for Christ" Sunday by telling the largest American audience of his evangelistic career. "The crusade has just begun."

Some 116,000 persons—jammed elbow-to-elbow in Soldier Field in 90-degree heat—heard Graham give his final sermon of the 19-day crusade.

Graham has addressed large crowds only twice in 15 years of evangelistic crusading, both times in Australia in 1959. He spoke to 140,000 in Melbourne and 125,000 in Sydney. More than 100,000 persons heard the evangelist preach in New York City's Yankee Stadium in 1957.

He urged members of his Chicago audience to dedicate their lives to God, to put religion into their social, economic and civic lives, and to fight what he termed "internal decadence of the culture."

"This crusade doesn't end today. It is only the beginning. Now you have heard the Gospel and you must go out and live as Christians. You are held responsible by God."

Graham listed several reasons why he thought America is backsliding morally in a manner similar to ancient Rome.

"America has gone on a sex binge that has no parallel in history. Divorce is shattering families—the heart of our nation. And we spend. This average American has no conception of the impending disaster caused by deficit spending.

"And our armaments. Rome was not defeated by military attack. It was defeated by its moral and religious decay. Here in America we also have a decaying religion.

"Oh, we go to church," he continued, "but we serve God only with our lips. You believe in God with your intellects. You believe in Him with your hearts and with your consciences, but you haven't accepted Him.

"You're almost in the kingdom of heaven! But almost isn't good enough.

"You can't come to God any time you feel like it. You can only come when God is with you spiritually. There may never be another chance.

"Vaunted, shrewd, clever, sophisticated, Rome fell. America can fall also. It's up to you."

At the sermon's conclusion 1,729 persons made their way through the crowded aisles to the speaker's podium to make what Graham calls decisions for Christ.

A total of 16,451 decisions were reported by the Graham organization during the crusade which started Memorial Day. The estimated total attendance was 705,000.

Graham said he will go to his home in Montreat, N.C., for a rest before conducting a special one-day rally, July 8 at the World's Fair in Seattle, Wash.

Lodge Wins Right To Fight Kennedy For Seat in Senate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The latest Lodge-Kennedy battle in a political feud which started more than 40 years ago was on today, and again the goal is a seat in the U.S. Senate.

George Cabot Lodge won endorsement by the Republican state convention in Worcester Saturday to run for the Senate.

Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy got the Democratic endorsement for the senate at his party convention—June in Springfield.

Lodge is the 34-year-old son of Henry Cabot Lodge, former U.S. ambassador to the United Nations.

Kennedy is 30 and the youngest brother of President John F. Kennedy, who once held the seat coming up in the November election.

The President first won the seat in 1962 when he defeated Henry Cabot Lodge. Eight years later Lodge again was on the losing side as the Republican vice presidential nominee in the 1960 national election.

The first bout between the families was years ago when the grandfathers of the President and Henry Cabot Lodge competed for the seat in the U.S. Senate.
