Elections Study

A study of state election laws will be continued at a meeting of the Manchester League of Wom-en Voters Thursday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Theodore Rosen, 100 Waranoke Rd. Members will be polled on opinions regarding extension of civilian absentee bal-loting, and for suggestions for mplementing two of the amend-ments to the state constitution voted last November. Present civilian absentee bal-loting is restricted to voters ab-sent from the state on election day, or voters unable to vote be-cause of illness or disability. After study, league members will be asked to take a position as to what degree and under study of state election laws as to what degree and under what circumstances civilian ab-sentee balloting shall be extend-ed. Consensus must also be reached on suggested means for carrying out accepted amend-ments regarding uniform stand-ards for making new voters and ermanent registration of voters. The William Brand Foundation® master. He replaces Eugene Dente has offered the town a gift of 80 who resigned last month. Lambert acres of land for recreational use. Alfred Brand, vice president of the foundation, made the offer to the foundation, made the offer to a group of town officials and civic participant in the award cereaders last night. The offer, which must be sub-

The offer, which must be sub-mitted to a town meeting for ap-proval, has limitations attached, Brand said. The deed the founda-tion intends to give the town will stipulate that the land must be used only for "charitable, recrea-tional, educational, community" and similar purposes and will specifically state the land must never be used for business, resi-dential, mercantile, commercial manufacturing "or any other pur-pose not within the scope as set forth." The acreage, Brand revealed, is the Joseph Tashlik property on Rt. 6A, a mile west of the center, which extends east to Pine St. It has a 220-foot frontage on Rt. 6A.

No signs of healing the rifts are apparent. The schism separating some of the 200 anti-Castro bodies is pro-found. Deep-rooted division pre-valls particularly between former - and present—followers of ex dictator Fulgencio Batista and men who risked their lives to overthrow him only to split later with Prime Minister Fidel Castro Excles say once they are in a free Cuba, elections will settle everything. But how could binding elections be held in exile under existing conditions? And how could unification be achieved without them? Answers have not been found. The Cuban Revolutionary Coun-cli, formed with U.S. cooperation to mount the April 17, 1961, Cuba invasion, is tacitly recognized by the U.S. government and some others, as the ranking exile or ganization. The council has bitter foes as hitter foes as Ray has formed a new organi as staunch supporters among 200,000 extles, more than a d of whom live in Miami. Ival groups ask such things as Council President Jose Miro dona, as Castro's first prime Hival groups ask such things as why Council President Jose Miro Cardona, as Castro's first prime minister, permitted the Cuban executions that brought grief to thousands of families.

Friends reply that whatever de lusions Dr. Miro Cardona had about Castro's revolution, he became such an enemy of it later that he sent even his son on the expedition to invade Castro's isl and. The son, Pépe, was one of the freed prisoners honored at the Dec. 29 Orange Bowl ceremony. Another, Enrique Llaca Jr., son of a leader of the expediations for their freedom, had thoughts of his own. Llace said about 100 of the invasion brigade companies were atmong exiles boycotting the meeting.
Llaca charged that Dr. Miro Cardona, who as council president was on the platform with Keneral balloting, a convention with all organizations represented, and gradual mergers have been sug-gested for unification. Unan-swered is the question of who swered is the question of wi would supervise such proceeding in the improbable case that riv

Removal of Meters Okayed by Directors

"Off with their heads!" said the board of directors last night of the parking meters on Main St. And off they will come, said Police Chief James Reardon today, as soon as he receives formal notice of the directors' action.

It will be a great day for the Central Business District, said the directors, when the parking me-ters are decapitated. While the idea to remove the

This can be the start of something great ... a family adventure that will never be forgotten. And when you come right down to it, providing pleasant childhood memories is just about the most rewarding part of being a parent. A glamourous sky voyage to other lands or just to Grandma's house these days is expensive, but not beyond the reach of any family. Family financial planning can make it come true. We'd be glad to help.

Sargent Shriver Jr., director o the Peace Corps, addressed the conferees Tuesday night and sugconferees Tuesday night and sug-gested that church members could tithe their time and form lunteer religious units to work eliminate racial barriers in the inited States.

Shriver, brother-in-law of Presi-dent Kennedy, raised a question if why clergymen cannot map out specific programs for their con gregations.

"Suppose 5,000 congregations America were to set up volunte groups to combat racial preju dice and eliminate racial tension in 5,000 precincts throughout America," Shriver said. Such religious volunteers, he said, would invite Negro families to social functions and would obtain entry for Negroes into pre viously all-white neighborhoods.
