Q-You said in one of your

Why don't they require all high school students to have a blood test? And food handlers, too, so they won't give it to someone they won't give it to someone else. Is there any way to tell if someone has syphilis without a blood test?

A—Because syphilis is transmitted by such contact as kissing or sexual intercourse and not through food or eating utensils, there would be no point in singling out food handlers for blood testing. All public health agencies are interested in case finding but mass blood testing of teem agencies of any other of teen - agers or any other group is not as effective as finding thiose who have had intimate contact with known cases A physician making a phys-ical examination of a person with early syphilis may find lesions that strongly suggest syphilis, but he should confirm his suspicions with a blood test can be stopped to prevent further damage. Some form of penicillin is usually used. The earlier the treatment is applied the better the results.

Q—A doctor told me 28 years ago I had syphilis although I was not tested for it until 15 years later. At that time the tests were negative. Could I be infected now?

A — No responsible doctor would make a diagnosis of syphilis without confirming laboratory tests. You do not say what treatment you took, but it is unlikely that your doctor would have cured you with his methods. Penicillin was not available in those days and, although cure was possible, the treatment was long and tedious. Fortunately most doctors are careful and painstaking and practice the best medicine consistent with the times.

Since your tests show that you don't have syphilis now, there is a better than average chance that you did not have it 28 years ago. The initial lesion, the chancre, is not painful and does not itch.

Q—When I was overseas I had 40 shots of penicillin for syphilis and was pronounced cured but my blood test still comes back positive. What is the reason and what should I do?

You say a thousand unsaid things with golden eloquence when you give an Omega. A gift of exceptional practicality, it will be remembered and treasured for a lifetime. Come see all these Omegas and our many, many more, all destined for honored places under the Christmas tree.

CONSTELLATION A wrist-size equivalent of a marine chronometer, precisionadjusted to give years of unfailing service. Stores up its own winding power while you wear it. $175 in steel; $325 in 14K gold, tax Included, Easy Payments.

Never was time told so beautifully. The crystals of twinkling synthetic sapphire are facet-edged like precious diamonds. White or yellow gold, from $120 including Federal tax. Easy Payments Invited.

OMEGA'S GENIUS...

AUTOMATICALLY

Omega's Calendar Seamaster winds itself and moves the date shead automatically every midnight! Thin and modern, as perfect for dress-wear as for active sports. In steel, $120; gold-filled, $135; 14-karat, $185. Federal tax included. Easy Payments.

The Omega Ladymatic "remembers" to wind itself by the natural motion of your wrist. Our wide selection is priced $105 to $135, including Federal tax. 12 months to pay.

Take the $2,000-per-gallon oil: it's the world's most expensive which lubricates Omegas reducing wear-causing friction to a minimum.

Take the 1400 separate inspections that every Omega undergoes from blueprint to final assembly: pretty thorough checking, that. Take the pressurized air-bubble machine in which water-resistant Omegas are tested to sure absolute imperviousness to the hazards of water, dust and perspiration. Do you wonder Omega holds 3 out of 4 records for highest accuracy?

Among the world's finer watches, the incomparable SEAMASTER DE VILLE, Thin, self-winding, waterproof, it is equally appropriate for dress or the most active sports. $110 in stainless steel; $125 in 14K gold-filled; $175 in 14K gold. Prices include Federal tax, Divided Payments Invited.

Stocks Stay In Accounts

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)-The head lines say: Stocks Hit New High. Trading Volume Soars. Cus tomers Accounts Frozen When Brokerage House Is Suspended. Profit Taking Clips Prices. And yet most of the stocks directly involved may never have been seen or handled by their actual owners.

Most of the 17 million Americans who own stocks may have change ownership over and over one brokerage house's vault to another's. And they make up only a small percentage of the total outstanding, and tucked

A customer opens a broker-age account much as he does a bank account. He must deposit enough money to cover both the cost of the stocks in which he wants to trade and the cost of commissions for buying and seiling—fixed by the exchanges and determined by the price and amount of stocks traded and the charge for credit should the customer want to buy on

Some customers pay for their stocks and sock them away. Many leave them with the broker as part of their account without even seeing them. Brokers say up to 90 per cent of the orders to buy or sell are tomers with accounts. Usually phone orders involve selling tock held in the broker's vaul uying of stocks to be placed cent must be settled in cash, with the broker lending the extra 30 per cent at a specified charge. Individual brokerage houses often require more cash than the legal limit. If the price of the stock should fall enough to jeopardize the margin, the broker may call for more cash or if necessary he will sell the stock to protect the 30 per cent credit involved—and the hapless speculator gets what's left.

Buying or selling on the exchanges is done this way: The brokerage house phones the customer's order to buy, say, to its trader on the floor, who seeks out another broker with an order to sell the same stock. They try to get together on a nally, the stock is delivered mally, the stock is delimered within four trading days.
