Storm Cripples East, OAS Authority Planned Jet Down in Snow To Police Zone Border

NEW YORK (AP)—A jet bomber of the Strategic Air Command carrying two unarmed nuclear weapons and a crew of five crashed and burned in the Appalachian Mountains. "There is no danger of nuclear explosion," said Air Force officials, adding that explosive experts were en route to the scene. The eight-engine B52 crashed in a blinding snowstorm at the foot of Big Savage Mountain in western Maryland, about 20 miles west of Cumberland. It was en route from Westover Air Force Base, Mass., to its home station at Turner Air Force Base, Albany, Ga. "In the interest of public safety, national security, and to facilitate the removal operations, visitors are asked to stay from the area," said the Air Force announcement from Westover. "There is no need of evacuation." The Weather Bureau issued a heavy snow warning for Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and New England's southern states. The warning cautioned coastal dwellers to expect flooding from abnormally high tides—up to five feet above normal in some sections— from the Virginia Capes to southern New England. By midmorning, water was in the streets of Ocean City, a New Jersey coastal resort. New York City mobilized men and equipment to sand and clear main streets. State police reduced the speed limit on the New Jersey Turnpike from 60 to 35 m.p.h. for its entire 118-mile length. The storm moved toward the northeastern coast from a wide-spread southern base spanning from Washington, D.C., to Kentucky. West Virginia reported depths of 15 to 20 inches. Western Pennsylvania had from up to 10 inches of snow which began falling Sunday afternoon and was still coming down Monday morning. Pittsburgh was hit by a five-inch snowfall.

Main Issues With Panama Are Unsolved

PANAMA (AP)—The United States and Panama agreed today to set up a joint authority with the Organization of American States to try to keep peace along the riot-bloodied Canal Zone border, diplomatic sources reported. The five-man delegation from the Organization of American States arranged for a final meeting before flying back to Washington today, to settle technical details for the peace authority proposed by Argentina. Informants said the United States and Panama would each have one military man and one civilian on the authority, with a neutral OAS representative as chairman. Alfredo Vazquez Carricosa, Colombian ambassador to the OAS, has been proposed, they said. Diplomatic sources said it had not been decided whether the peace-keeping group would use military or civilian forces to police the border area. It was said earlier that troops from both the United States and Panama might make up the patrol. Edwin M. Martin, U.S. assistant secretary of state, represented the United States in the OAS negotiations and told newsmen at 1:35 a.m. "We have made reasonable progress." Galileo Solis, Panamanian foreign minister, said as he left the meeting: "Slowly we are marching forward." The two chief U.S. representatives, Thomas C. Mann, assistant secretary of state for Inter-American Affairs, and Secretary of the Army Cyrus R. Vance, agreed to a Panamanian government request to remain here for a possible meeting today with Panama officials. There was more violence Sunday at Colon, the Panamanian city on the Caribbean side of the canal. A Panamanian National Guardsman was killed and two others were wounded, bringing to 24 the death toll since a flag-raising incident in the Canal Zone last Thursday set off the fighting. Three of the dead were U.S. soldiers. The U.S. Army said the slain guardsman apparently was caught in a crossfire between snipers and U.S. soldiers. The Army said the guardsman was hit by a high velocity bullet while the U.S. troops were using shotguns. Panama City's streets were deserted Sunday night. Earlier in the day as many as 100,000 turned out in the capital to follow the bodies of 14 countrymen killed in the fighting. Most of the 14 were students. After services in the Metropolitan Cathedral, the coffins were carried eight miles to U.S. Garden of Peace cemetery. President Roberto Chiari led the mourners. While the OAS delegation ap-

Bank Bandit Gets $3,000 in Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—A bandit wearing a knitted ski mask held up a new branch of the Berlin Savings Bank today and escaped with an estimated $3,000. Police said the man, apparently operating alone, took the money at gunpoint and then fled in a car believed to be a white Volkswagen. Detectives in Hamden picked up two men whom they questioned in connection with the holdup. The men, police said, were arrested at a Hamden motel. Authorities gave this account: Miss Mary Notaro, a teller, and branch manager Richard Anderson, both of Berlin, were alone in the bank when the bandit entered about 10:45 a.m. The masked man produced a pistol and told Anderson, who was on the telephone: "Hang up the phone. Don't touch any buttons or I'll kill the girl." He then handed two paper bags to Miss Notaro and ordered her to fill them with money. He ordered her and Anderson to lie down on the floor, and fled. The branch bank has two other women employees. Both were on coffee breaks when the holdup occurred. The branch is the Webster Square branch. It was opened about four months ago. Police described the bandit as about six feet tall, heavy set and wearing a grey overcoat. It was the second bank holdup in the state this year. Last Thursday, a bandit wearing women's clothing held up a branch of the Fairfield County Trust Co. in Stamford. The bandit, carrying a bag walked out of the bank and into the arms of two policemen who had responded to an alarm. On Jan. 8, a bandit held up the Willimantic Savings and Loan Association and escaped with $3,300. Last year, there were 12 holdups of branch banks in the state.

Africa Rebels Oust Sultan In Zanzibar

DAR-ES-SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—African nationalists proclaimed a republic on the East African spice island of Zanzibar Sunday after overthrowing the Arab sultan in an overnight revolt. Several persons were reported killed and many others wounded in heavy fighting that erupted Saturday night and raged into early Sunday around police stations, an armory and the residence of Prime Minister Mohammed Shante Hamadi. A radio station, identifying itself as "The Freedom Fighters of Zanzibar," said at least two policemen were killed in the successful storming of the armory. There were reports another policeman was killed defending the prime minister's home. The rebel broadcast said Hamadi and Sultan Seyyid Jamshid Bin Abdullah had taken refuge on a cruise liner in the harbor. By late Sunday night the rebels were reported to have seized control of all but one strategic building in or around Zanzibar City. They took over the cable office and halted cable services.

Events In State

Snow Ties Roads, Closes Schools

NEW HAVEN (AP)—Connecticut was hit with heavy snows, high winds and high tides today forcing school shutdowns and snarling some highway travel. The weatherman said the combination added up to blizzard conditions. He predicted accumulations of snow ranging from six inches to as much as 12 in southern sections. Schools in many communities were shut for the day. Driving conditions were treacherous. Workers in many businesses were sent home. A basketball game between Fairfield University and Iona scheduled for tonight, was postponed indefinitely. No serious highway accidents were reported. The storm blustered into the state late last night after a day in which temperatures plunged below 10 degrees. The slow moving storm hit Greenwich at 11:15 p.m. Within minutes, driving snow turned some highways and streets hazardous. The Weather Bureau warned motorists of the danger of snow drifts. Winds of 35 to 45 miles an hour, with higher gusts, were forecast for the Connecticut coast. Elsewhere in the state winds were expected to be at 25 to 35 m.p.h. Tides should run three to four feet above normal, the weatherman said, causing some coastal flooding. The Weather Bureau defines

Plant Destroyed In Blast, 6 Dead

ATTLEBORO, Mass. (AP)—A chemical plant blew up Sunday night killing six and injuring scores. The explosion was followed by a fire which raged out of control for hours destroying three of six buildings which covered a 15-acre site in the Hebronville section of Attleboro. Last year, there were 12 holdups of branch banks in the state.

Giant Prints in Mad Colors

Brilliant iris bloom in a large pattern on this 2-piece silk print dress by Roxanne for Samuel Winston. The photo is taken at the World's Fair grounds.

By RHEA STEWART Special Herald Writer NEW YORK — Science fiction is always giving us some form of nature in a giant form, like a giant ant that eats up everybody or a giant cactus, but we thought up anything more gigantic than some of the prints to be seen on spring dresses. This spring's styles, shown in New York last week to the fashion press, show the burgeoning of a new type of print, that which covers the entire figure with one motif, not repeating itself once, or else is used only twice, as for hem and neckline. Some of Sarni's chiffon evening dresses, for instance, are complete flower gardens, blossoming from necklines to ankles in dozens of hues that are not once duplicated. These were designed for him by a young Italian who even made the crepe for the slips to match, and the extreme in giantism is the series of Sarni prints that duplicate a butterfly's wing as seen through a very powerful microscope. This sort of design is very difficult to work out; often the designer starts with an idea for a dress and then commissions his fabric to conform to his needs. Even so skillful a designer as Pauline Trigere said that her invention of a new formal length nine inches from the ground, was due to the narrowness of one of these giant print fabrics; she couldn't make the length any longer and still have one enormous bunch of flowers blooming along the lady's front and back. Naturally most of the giants are found in the upper brackets, still, some of the inexpensive houses have managed to create this effect, if not on an entire dress, at least, on the skirt. Suzy Perette has king-size daisies on a white skirt of bar-bacane in a floor-length gown, and magnified roses on a white skirt edged in black to match the black bodice. A hand-blocked silk print that makes the skirt of a long evening dress by Jousseaume is one enormous single flower motif against gold.

Arabs Seek Unified Step Over Waters

By GEORGE MCARTHUR CAIRO (AP)—The top leaders of the Arab world gathered in Cairo today seeking united action to block Israel's plan to divert waters of the Jordan River for irrigation of the Negev Desert. The Arab summit meeting preceded Sunday night by suspension of the bitter feud between the United Arab Republic and Jordan, which fell out in 1961 when Jordan recognized the Syrian regime that pulled out of the U.A.R. Informed sources said President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the U.A.R. and King Hussein of Jordan agreed to resume diplomatic relations after a two-hour conference. Nasser called the conference ostensibly to counter Israel's threat to put its 15-year-old irrigation project into operation this summer. But some observers saw the conference as an attempt by Nasser to reassert his leadership of the Arab world. In the past Arab leaders have

Public Reaction Key To Laws on Smoking

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American smoker—still lingering over the grim facts of a federal report branding cigarettes a health hazard—is center stage to a big audience this week. Legislators, investors, tobacco growers, cigarette manufacturers, legal and health authorities want to know first and foremost: Will he quit or not? Will he cut down? What will happen to cigarette sales? Just how loud will the public reaction to the federal report be? On those questions hinge a number of important decisions in coming days. 1. The tobacco companies have been invited to meet with the Television Code Review Board in Miami Beach, Jan. 22. Subject: The federal report and what it means to cigarette advertising on television. 2. The American Cancer Society's board of directors meets this month to assess educational campaigns against cigarette smoking, called by the federal report the major cause of lung cancer, the leading fatal malignancy in men. 3. Several bills will be introduced designed to better arm federal agencies to regulate the sale and advertising of cigarettes and to force the cautionary labeling of cigarettes as potentially hazardous. 4. Federal courts may be the scene of another test of the scientific report. Will it encourage further damage suits against tobacco companies by lung cancer victims? Will it improve their chances of collecting? The new report—14 months in
