King Takes Oath In Crucial Hour

ATHENS (AP)—Greece lamented today the death of King Paul I, but confidence in the nation's future tempered grief as his son, Constantine, 28, ascended the throne of the Hellenes.

He became the world's youngest reigning monarch at six hours national crisis over the dispute between the Greek and Turkish communities on Cyprus.

King Paul, 63, and the 37-year-old Queen Frederica were in the city of Athens when he died Friday of a series of complications arising from surgery for stomach ulcer Feb. 21.

Women wept in the streets as church bells tolled and a cannon atop Lycabettus Hill boomed an hourly salute to the dead ruler.

Expressions of regret poured in from world leaders, including President Johnson and U.N. Secretary-General Thant, who were praying for him and his father.

Constantine's first broadcast to his people was a message from the death chamber of his father. "This morning I conveyed to my father the feeling of the Greek people," he said.

Constantine took the oath of service to the Greek people in the Athens palace Friday night, only 2 1/2 hours after his father's death.

7 Inmates Break Jail In Ruby Trial Building

WINDSOR, Vt. (AP)—Vermont officials today watched heavy ice jams packed against two bridges across the Connecticut River after flooding Friday destroyed two spans over tributaries.

Colder weather slowed the melting of deep snow in the mountains as the water level fell in the Connecticut River which forms the border between Vermont and New Hampshire.

No new damage was reported although water still overflowed onto lands and filled cellars of homes and business establishments on both banks of the river.

The ice jammed against the toll bridge at Windsor, one of the oldest of Vermont's covered bridges, and heaped against the abutments and underpinning of a 400-foot steel bridge, several miles below Windsor.

The ice formed a dam which sent the water from the rain and thaw over hundreds of square miles of lowland on both banks of the Connecticut River, which forms the border between Vermont and New Hampshire.

Estimates of damage to property were upwards of $2.5 million. No injuries were reported.

Water flows several feet deep over low spots in 25 miles of U.S. 4, a Vermont highway that runs north and south along the river.

At several points, ice clogs a foot thick were shoved across highways by the rising water. Highway Department workers used bulldozers to push the ice off the road.

A 400-foot steel bridge, valued at $1 million, was wrecked. The bridge spanned the White River close to its confluence with the Connecticut River at Windsor, Vt.

Police Chief Thomas Taylor said all highways were open to traffic early today as the flood waters receded. Colder weather delayed the flow of water out of the melting snow in the mountains of Vermont and New Hampshire.

Statistics are among the few indicators of how things are going but often they don't add up. Washington officials got a different set of figures from those released to the public by U.S. Information officials.

Newsmen and information officials came to another impasse Friday when a U.S. spokesman reported that 38 Communist guerrillas were killed during the past week.

The figure, he said, included 120 Viet Cong killed in a clash Tuesday near the Cambodian frontier. The exact operation cost government forces 15 killed, including a U.S. Army officer.

Newsmen challenged the figure of 180 enemy dead. He declined to say whether the figure, which came from the Vietnamese, included the bodies of the enemy dead had been accepted by the joint operations center of Vietnamese and American commands.

A Fake Pistol Used, Clerk Held Hostage

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Seven prisoners staged a spectacular break from the Dallas County Jail Friday and terrorized a former dancer who was about to testify in the Jack Ruby murder trial.

"Oh, my God, he's after me," cried Karen Lynn (Little Lynn) Bennett, 19, as she saw an escapee brandishing what looked like a pistol.

Four of the men were recaptured shortly after the break from the jail. The other three still are at large.

The escape caught about 100 people in the hallway outside the courtroom where Ruby was on trial. The session was not interrupted.

Little Lynn was being escorted to the women's room by Mrs. Melvin Bell, wife of the chief defense lawyer, and a police officer. She was seen with a fake pistol stuck in the back of a hostage, Ruth Thornton.

Allen shouted for help and then she and Mrs. Bell took Little Lynn into the protection of a stair well behind a steel door. Lynn regained her composure after the excitement subsided and was calm when she took the stand as a witness for the defense.

Sheriff Bill Decker said the prisoners began the break when several of them pushed their way into an elevator as it stopped near a table where the weekly soap ration was being distributed. They burst into the sixth floor of the building.

Seven prisoners made their way to the stairwell where they were held. They were held until they were taken to the second floor. There they were held until they were taken to the second floor.

Constantine in the last moments of Queen Frederica, 29, the queen mother, and Constantine's sister, Princess Irene, 29, now who crown prince, took the oath for the throne as king of the new royal family.

Constantine is engaged to Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark. They were married in January unless court mourning interferes. Anne-Marie, 37, who has been with the royal family in the last weeks of Paul's suffering, accompanied her fiancé on the 20-mile drive to Athens from Thessalonica to take the oath of office.

Paul's body was prepared for burial at Thessalonica and then was borne into Athens by motorcade today. It will lie in state two days at the Athens palace. On Monday the body will be moved to Metropolis, the Greek Orthodox cathedral, for three more days of mourning.

Constantine and other members of the royal family rode through the streets of Athens in a drawn black carriage. Hundreds of Greeks watched the cortege on the roadside.

The crown of Europe's royalty is expected in Athens. Paul will be buried on the Tatoi royal grounds.

The Greek king and white flag fluttered at half staff as the Olympics — in the 30th Centennial year — were held for three months of official mourning.

All government offices were closed. Schools, theaters and sports events were canceled.

The number of funeral participants on the radio were interrupted only for such broadcasts.

6-Mill Rate Likely for Retail Area

The entire tax on real and personal property within the downtown taxing district is to be increased to six mills for the coming fiscal year.

The figure was suggested by General Manager Richard Martin at a budget hearing last night. The hearing was held at the Municipal Office Building, where the new Parking Authority chairman, Robert H. Herbert, and the new tax rate to finance a $18,300,000 bond.

General Manager Martin and Parking Authority members Joseph George, William R. Scherer, Jr., Louie, Calif., and Andrew P. Poulos, 42, Fremont, Calif., spoke at the hearing.

Constantine, dressed in the dark blue uniform of an army general, stood ramrod straight as he slowly and firmly spoke the vows, promising to carry out the duties of his office, to protect the constitution, the country and the institutions of democracy and freedom.

"Long live the king," the assembly shouted for Constantine. As crown prince, Constantine had been crowned in Greece since Feb. 20, the day before his father's operation and he had been crowned in Greece since Feb. 20, the day before his father's operation and he had been crowned in Greece since Feb. 20, the day before his father's operation.

Stengel Toast As Mets Lose

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel is the toast of the town even though his New York Mets bowed to the Mexico City Reds, 6-4, last night in the opener of a three-game exhibition baseball series.

Thousands of fans were turned away from the box office because of the capacity crowd. Among those refused admission was Miguel Almaraz, former president of Mexico's National League.

Stengel broke the tie with two runs in the bottom of the seventh night. The Reds jumped off to a 4-1 lead before Stengel's two-run homer got the mets even in the seventh.

Stengel's first home run in the exhibition season was a 2-run homer in the bottom of the seventh night. The Reds jumped off to a 4-1 lead before Stengel's two-run homer got the mets even in the seventh.

Pascual Signs Pact, Goal 20 Mound Wins

NEW YORK (AP)—His financial differences with Minnesota settled, Camilo Pascual turned his concentration today toward becoming the first American League pitcher in 10 years to win 20 or more games in three seasons.

The Twins' sparkling right-hander signed his contract yesterday with the Minnesota Twins. Pascual's last season in the majors was in 1952 when he won 20 games.

Pascual won 21 and lost nine last season after finishing 20-11 in 1952. His 2.47 earned run average is the lowest in the league and the best for a right-hander.

HOWIE HOLCOMB

It is one of the other big things the 1964 CIAC Basketball Tournaments are remembered for, it probably will be the number of "rubber" games were played between opponents who played two games during the regular season. Two more such attractions are listed to both involving area teams.

ASSETS UP
The 18th annual report of the board of directors of the East Hartford Federal Credit Union lists increased assets of $30,190,927 as compared with $27,307,539 for the fiscal period ended 1962.

President James W. Cooper, in his report of the 1963 activities, says that "It is encouraging to see this excellent display of thrift (an almost $2,900,000 increase) because one of the prime reasons your Credit Union exists is to encourage its members to develop the habit of putting aside some money each payday for future use."

CONTRACT FOR HAMILTON
Hamilton Standard division of the United Aircraft Corporation at Windsor Locks has been awarded a $27,000 government contract for 1,340 push switch assemblies.

The negotiated, firm fixed-price contract comes from the Defense Supply Agency's electronics supply center at Dayton, Ohio.

The switch is identified by a Hamilton Standard part number and lack of technical data precludes competitive negotiations or competition by formal advertising, it was reported.

The Defense Electronics Supply Center procures, manages and supplies common parts of electrical and electronic equipment used by the Armed Services.

SNET EARNINGS
The Southern New England Telephone Co. has announced business gains and service improvements during 1963.

A gain of some 57,000 telephone calls was reported and the firm handled some 96,680,000 long-distance calls, or eight million more than in 1962.

Earnings to 78,500 stockholders brought $2.73 per share, compared to $2.60 in the previous year.

Total telephones in service now number 1,403,000. New buildings and additions, and the growing use of telephone facilities for data transmission, was reflected during the year with data sets in use doubled during the year. Use of the wide area telephone service (WATS), which provides long distance calling at fixed monthly rates for heavy toll users, brought revenues of $24 million, an increase of one million over 1962.

Total revenues in 1963 were $164.5 million, compared to $154.4 million in 1962. Expenses were $143.1 million and included $60.5 million in wages and $31.8 million in taxes. Net income for the year was $21.4 million as compared to the 1962 figure of $20.2 million.

SNETCO's assets were reported at $742,553,000 up from $453,154,000 at the end of 1962.

HELCO REPORT
The annual report for 1963 of the Hartford Electric Light Co. notes significant events during that fiscal period.

Stock earnings per common share rose sharply to $2.72 compared to the previous year of $2.20; a reflection of improvements in operating efficiency and increased sales of electricity.

Net income for the fiscal period was at $8,046,000 compared to $8,046,000 in 1962.

Highlights during the year note the start of a 220,000 kilowatt unit at the Middletown Generating Station with completion of the Electric Light Co. HELCO joined three other major utilities in New England's largest power pool, known as the Connecticut Valley Electric Exchange; line crews started building New England's first 3,000 volt transmission line for exchange of bulk power between Connecticut and neighboring states.

Also, the Connecticut Yankee Power Co., of which HELCO owns 9 1/2 per cent, obtained its charter and land in Haddam for construction of the world's largest nuclear power plant to start this year; and the firm added a new service facility with its Falls Village Service Center in Canaan.

Among new products this week for fishermen is the "Flash-therm" made by Thomas Edlyn Co., Collingdale, Pa. This gadget is nine inches long and three and one-half inches wide, equipped with a built-in, non-mag rewind mechanism and a galvanometer gauge which is said to give fast, accurate temperature reading. The 1963 fiscal earnings at Stanley Works, New Britain, were up 25 per cent. Sales were noted at a 7 per cent increase to a record high of $126,788,000 with earnings at $4,225,000.

The Barrows and Wallace Co. at Constitution Plaza, Hartford, with offices at the Manchester Shopping Park, reports a total of $1,341,499 in residential sales agreements during the month of January 1964. Budget Talks Come to End

The last of General Manager Richard Martin's two-week series of 1964-65 budget hearings wound up last night, with a review of the appropriation requests from the town water and sewer departments.

The hearings, which began Feb. 24, provide for a public airing of each town department's budget request for the coming fiscal year. They are Martin's innovation, not a charter requirement as are some of the later hearings on the total proposed budget.

The water and sewer department requests presented last night by department superintendent Lawrence Witkowski totaled between them about $410,000, but neither budget was intended to be the final word.

The water department request, for example, shows expected revenue at $383,470 and the requested budget at $375,987. Martin must balance the two figures before submitting the budget to the directors this month.

Of the expected revenue, $300,000 is expected from water sales. A request of about $375,000 compared with the current $430,957—but the capital improvement reserve has been dropped from the budget. Last year the reserve was allocated $69,966.

The sewer department request shows expected revenue at $276,360, and expenditures at $237,838—another balancing job for Martin.

Of the revenue, $200,000 will probably come from service charges. Other sources include assessments for new installations and bonded assessments. Of the budget proposal, $92,910 will go for debt service, and much of the remainder for operating expenses.

The total budget request at $237,838 is under last year's $329,756, but includes no reserve fund, last year budgeted at $43,288.

The two departments share personnel, employing together a total of 35.

Capital improvements asked for this year total $677 for the water department and $208,500 for the sewer department. The largest request is for a new filter plant for the Porter-Howard Reservoir, at $400,000. Others are $150,000 for a new distribution reservoir and $100,000 for a new trunk sewer in the Bidwell St. area.

Jane Fonda and Rod Taylor in recent film

By DICK KLEINER

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA)—If you were a girl and they compared you to Brigitte Bardot, would you get mad?

Jane Fonda is and they did and she is smiling.

"I don't want to be compared to her," Jane says. "I admire her very much, but she's one person and I'm another person. All my mature life, I've been compared. I don't like comparisons. I'm Jane Fonda."

Miss Fonda, who has a leg-bolting point, suffered from those Bardot comparisons while she worked in France. The French fell in love with her. They called her "The Love Goddess" and things like that.

"I don't pay much attention to that kind of thing," Jane says. "It doesn't bother me."

She made two films in Paris. Her current release, "Sunday in New York," was filmed partly in Hollywood and partly in New York.

As much as Paris and the Parisians liked her, she liked it and them.

"The French love my father," she says, "and I suppose that's one of the reasons I like it there. Almost every actor I spoke to told me that Henry Fonda was his favorite."

"My father and Gary Cooper are almost gods there. Among younger actors, they like Steve McQueen very much. 'The Great Escape' was playing next door to 'Cleopatra,' and nobody went to see 'Cleopatra.'"

And among the younger

American actresses, the one they like is Jane Fonda. It appears to be an international trait.

The Breaking Point—Something is changing—it may be television and it may be the audience. Anyway, Paul Richards of ABC's Breaking Point, a television veteran, has noticed it.

"We can do and say things this year," Richards says, "that we could not do and say last year. This year, for instance, we have been able to use the word 'homosexual.' Last year, that was taboo. Who knows what next year may bring?"

For one thing, it probably won't bring Breaking Point back again. Although Richards is still hopeful (he says they are still buying scripts) the network has penciled in something else in Breaking Point's time slot.

Richards will, naturally, be disappointed if his series is dropped, but not desolate and heartbroken. He's had a long career, full of disappointments as well as appointments.

In fact, he had his bags packed, he says, to return to his New York stage career when he got the word last year that Breaking Point finally had been sold to a network.

He may have to pack again.

Concert Jazz Swings on CBS

"Jazz in the Concert Hall," a study of a new movement in American music which combines jazz and symphonic composition and is called "the third stream," will be the season's fourth and final New York Philharmonic Young People's Concert program, with Leonard Bernstein, Wednesday on CBS-TV from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Featured will be Aaron Copland, the composer-conductor-pianist-teacher whom Bernstein calls "America's leading composer," and the young American composer-conductor Gunther Schuller, a foremost

Actor in 35th Year As a Cop

By CYNTHIA LOWRY AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP)—Regis Toomey is celebrating this month his 35th anniversary as a cop.

Over those years he has served as patrolman, detective, uniformed man, plainclothesman, captain and commissioner. He often has taken leave of the force to be a private eye, a chief investigator, an insurance investigator and a newspaper reporter.

After all this experience, Toomey today is a mere detective sergeant, running errands for that rich, glamorous, girl-chasing, intrepid captain of homicide, Amos Burke, who weekly solves a case on ABC's "Burke's Law."

Toomey, an open-faced man, with white hair and twinkling blue eyes is a performer who never has objected seriously to Hollywood's type-casting. It has worked out fine for him. When Hollywood producers need a cop, they automatically ask for Regis Toomey.

"I've worked almost steadily since 1929," the actor said. "Once in a while I've been cast as a villain, but mostly I've been a policeman, although sometimes a bad one."

He played his first policeman in "Alibi," with Chester Morris in 1929, the first all-talking gangster movie. Since then he has done 226 movies.

"Burke's Law" is his fifth television series, and he's been an officer in them all. He has also done guest shots in more than 195 shows.

"It's been a good, busy life," he said complacently. "But once in a while it would have been nice if I could have gotten the girl at the end."

"Burke's Law" has proved one of the season's more popular series this season and will return for another year of happy homicide.

In Perspective—Adam Clayton Powell

Representative Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.) will be the subject of an "NBC White Paper" telecast Thursday from 7:30-8:30 p.m.

The controversial Powell, often called the chief political representative of the Negro, will be seen in Washington in his duties in Congress, where he is chairman of the House Labor and Education Committee; in Europe; at his home in Puerto Rico; in Harlem, where he is pastor of the largest Negro church in the world, the Abyssinian Baptist Church; and as a New York City political leader.

Chet Huntley will be the reporter for the broadcast.

Executive producer Irving Gittlin said: "We consider Adam Clayton Powell one of the most powerful and influential Negroes in the United States today, and our examination of him will attempt to place in perspective the many aspects of his highly controversial career."

Producer Al Wasserman commented, "This program will look at Mr. Powell not only as an individual, but also in relation to the larger question of what he stands for and what he means to the Negro government in both the North and the South. In the North, where the Negro has had basic rights for many years, the emphasis is more on what is done with those rights, rather than securing them.

"Consequently, focus on the political arena is of major significance, and through a political leader like Powell, our program will try to give insight into the attitudes, direction and values of the Negro today... particularly the urban Negro."

As producer Wasserman's cameras follow Powell in the many different environments and settings, the program will look at some of the reasons why he has been in power for so long, and some of the attractions which Powell has for his constituency.

As part of the report, Powell will reminisce about his 19 years in Congress, and the many changes in race relations which he has witnessed during this time.

TV at the Primary

NEW YORK (AP)—Television's big event of the next few days is the New Hampshire primary election. The three major networks are covering it with the kind of intensity and rivalry they usually reserve for the November presidential election returns.

They will all have their top reportorial teams in New England. NBC will devote a half-hour news special to the subject on Sunday (7-7:30 p.m.) ABC will have a 15-minute special on election eve, Monday (11:15-11:30).

On the big day, Tuesday, the voting will be reported in several news specials during the evening. NBC will bump "You Don't Say" to bring in preliminary returns. CBS will preempt Jack Benny for the same purpose. ABC will tackle it after 11 p.m.

Meanwhile, veteran political observers are convinced that the results of the voting will not be known at least until early Wednesday morning.

Other special events during the next seven days include a "Young People's Concert" on CBS Wednesday (7:30-8:30 p.m.) with Leonard Bernstein discussing jazz.

A Weary Prop Man Faces Nightmare of Color TV

NEW YORK — The problem is not renting 12 pot-bellied stoves. The problem is returning them after they've been painted a bright pink.

With this, Ted Reisig, unit prop man at NBC, pinpointed a new dimension color television has brought to the TV prop man.

"The designer on a color show is usually never satisfied with the color of a prop," he said. "We rent 10 violins, he paints them white so they'll look better. So then we end up buying 10 violins."

Reisig discussed this recently at NBC's 18th Street studio, an ornate brick building filled with two floors of TV props (such as a stuffed raccoon, a wooden trout once thrown into the audience at a Milton Berle show, a duffel bag lettered "STOLEN MONEY" once used on the "Tonight Show").

Among the items are examples of props unique to color TV: A group of orange school desks, and a pile of red, white, blue and yellow cans fishing poles.

"When I rent a prop, and leave it on the set, I've got to watch as the designer doesn't paint it green," said Reisig.

However, Reisig and his prop colleagues are not taking this color wave unprepared. He explained, "We've got a rubberized, spray-on solution that we coat props with; props we've rented that must be painted some bright color. After we spray the object, we paint it whatever color the designer needs. When we're through with it, we just peel off the rubber compound and the prop is the same color as when we rented it."

Reisig has been a prop man 10 years. He has worked on shows starring Berle, Perry Como, Jonathan Winters, Jack Paar and Johnny Carson.

"We had a tough time a few years ago getting a bird for Como," he recalled. "They wanted a white bird to sit on his shoulder as he sang. I bet we auditioned more than a dozen birds before we found one Perry was comfortable with and one that took to Perry. He was called Snowflake and he earned $100 a week."

For a recent Jonathan Winters special, Reisig procured a rocking chair. Winters was to flop into the chair during a skit.

All went well until the taping of the show when Winters flopped and the rocker splintered to pieces.

Reisig and his prop colleagues have never been stumped in obtaining a prop. "Sometimes, because some producer makes a last minute request, we don't come up with exactly what he wants, but we've never failed to produce an odd prop."

"See this cannon?" Reisig said, pointing to a life-size, spoke-wheeled weapon. "We made this in our carpentry shop."

The cannon was a respectable dark brown color. "They'll probably paint it purple some day," he noted.

Malcolm to Form Own Muslim Unit

NEW YORK (AP) — Malcolm X, outspoken Black Muslim advocate of racial separation, has defected from the parent organization to form his own mosque to promote "active self-defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country."

Malcolm told The Associated Press: "I am still a Muslim. I intend to work on my own among America's 22 million non-Muslim Negroes to convert them from non-violence to active self-defense against white supremacists in all parts of the country."

"I want it clearly understood that my advice to all Muslims is that they stay in the nation of Islam under the spiritual guidance of the honorable Elijah Muhammad."

"It is not my desire to encourage them to follow me."

Malcolm once was considered heir apparent to Muhammad, who makes his headquarters in Chicago. He was head of the sect's New York City mosque and the group's leading spokesman.

Noted for his bitter verbal attacks on white people, Malcolm was suspended by Muhammad last November after he said in a speech that President John F. Kennedy's death was a case of "the chickens coming home to roost."

Commenting on his suspension, Malcolm said, "I have reached the conclusion that I can best spread Mr. Muhammad's message by staying out of the nation of Islam and continuing to work on my own."

He said he will call a news conference this week to announce his plans.

Malcolm said that in forming his new Muslim group he will accept invitations to speak to civil rights groups.

"I shall tell them what a real revolution means — the French Revolution, the American Revolution, Algeria, to name a few. There can be no revolution without bloodshed, and it is non-negotiable."

Libel Verdict Rejected by High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court unanimously threw out today a $500,000 libel judgment awarded a Montgomery, Ala., city official in a suit against The New York Times and four Negro ministers.

And, in so doing, the court laid down a constitutional standard that a public official may not recover damages for a defamatory falsehood relating to his official conduct without a showing of actual malice, of knowledge the statement was false or reckless disregard of whether or not it was false.

Justice William J. Brennan wrote the opinion on the court's decision. While the decision was unanimous, three justices said it did not go far enough.

Justices Hugo L. Black and Arthur J. Goldberg, in separate concurring opinions, expressed regret that the court did not lay down a doctrine of unconditional freedom of the public and press to criticize official conduct.

Justice William O. Douglas said he agreed with both concurring opinions.

The suit was based on publication of an advertisement in the Times of March 28, 1960. The advertisement had statements critical of the handling of racial demonstrations in Montgomery.

L. E. Sullivan, police commissioner of Montgomery, won the award in the Circuit Court of Montgomery County with a contention that several paragraphs in the advertisement would be taken as reflecting on him.

An organization called "The Committee to Defend Martin Luther King and the Struggle for Freedom in the South" placed the advertisement. It solicited funds for the defense of King, Negro minister and civil rights leader who was then under charges of falsifying his identity.

Dempsey Ready To Call Session If Views Jibe

HARTFORD (AP) — If Republicans and Democrats agree on a plan, Gov. John N. Dempsey says he would not hesitate to call the General Assembly into special session to act on congressional redistricting.

The weekend development found favor with at least one Republican legislative leader, Rep. Louis Padula of Norwalk, House majority leader, said an assembly session on congressional redistricting might prove fruitful.

Padula said he would be willing to talk with Democratic leaders as soon as possible to see if there are grounds for agreement. He added there appeared to be a meeting of the minds among Republicans and Democrats on the question of Congressional redistricting.

The Governor made the suggestion in a letter Saturday to Republican State Chairman A. Searle Pinney.

He told Pinney that if Republicans and Democrats could get together on a plan to correct congressional districting inequities "I would act swiftly to call a special session of the General Assembly to consider this matter alone."

But Dempsey slammed the door on a Pinney proposal that a special session consider state senate redistricting in addition to congressional redistricting while avoiding the question of House reapportionment.

Pinney said Republicans will appeal a federal court decision that the House's system of apportionment on a unit, or town, basis is unconstitutional.

As a result, Republicans have refused to consider a special session that would take up the state of the House.

Dempsey said the GOP plan to consider state Senate and Congressional districting was "piecemeal."

Seeks Laws In Message To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called on the nation today to mobilize and upgrade its manpower skills in a major effort to wipe out grimly persistent unemployment.

"Overcoming that unemployment is the greatest immediate manpower challenge before us," Johnson said in asking Congress for a broad range of legislation to create jobs and train workers.

The federal government cannot do the job alone, Johnson said in his annual manpower report to Congress.

Calling on business, labor and state and local governments to cooperate in creating an "active manpower policy," the President said: "These programs will take hold and succeed only when we become determined that nothing is to take priority over people."

Johnson's report was accompanied by Labor Department statistics emphasizing the plight of the poorly educated worker in an increasingly technical economy, and the alarmingly high rate of youths who can't find work.

"What is at stake is whether a free democratic economy can attain well-being for the less fortunate as well as the more fortunate of its people," Johnson said, "and whether it can make population growth and technological advance fruitful for all rather than fatal for some."

Johnson's message was underscored by latest government figures showing that 800,000 new jobs in February did nothing to dent the nation's 4.5 million jobless total.

The reason is the steadily growing flow of new workers into the labor market, particularly youths. Automated machinery that shrinks job opportunities also plays a part.

Johnson announced "two new major administrative actions" to study the impact of automation, and "to start a continuing top-level assessment of the relation of the government's programs and our country's manpower assets and needs."

He asked Congress to enact pending legislation dealing with

Write-Ins Seen Key To Primary Outcome

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — A cloud of indecision which could have a telling effect on the choice of the Republican presidential nominee hung heavily today over the outcome of Tuesday's New Hampshire Primary.

There was widespread evidence that a significant number of Republicans who will go to the polls to mark one of the more complex ballots in presidential preference primary history still are debating their choice.

This highlighted an invitation for upsets in a contest which Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., once was supposed to win handily in a battle with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Though Rockefeller and Goldwater seemed likely to pace the field of five official and two write-in entries, parliament thought that Henry Cabot Lodge, the U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, might come up to challenge them.

Lodge and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 presidential nominee, were represented in write-in campaigns. If these were successful in gaining a substantial share of the nearly 100,000 Republican votes expected, it could project them forcefully into the presidential nomination contest.

Nixon predicted Sunday night that the total write-in vote will be unprecedented for both parties. He declined to predict the result for either party or how many votes he will receive.

For Goldwater, the conservative, and Rockefeller, the moderate, there was the psychological need to win this contest, their first outing. Both vowed to continue their quest for nomination in victory or defeat.

Both looked to the June 2 California primary as the payoff derby after running this preliminary heat.

Drop Sought In Draft Age To Aid Needy

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will ask Congress to lower the draft age from 18 to 17 to give his war on poverty a chance to aid needy youngsters a year earlier, an official source reported today.

These subjects for the war on poverty, the source said, will be the $200 million each year that the Army's general classification test. They will be given a chance to enter special work schools where they will take special education and vocational courses.

This is a key provision in the message on poverty, expected to go to Congress today or Tuesday.

Searching for a practical approach to the problem of school dropouts, the task force assisting Sargent Shriver, head of the war on poverty, decided the draft was the ideal screening device to pinpoint young men who need extra help.

All youngsters must take a general psychological and intelligence test when they register for the draft at 18.

"There are some 500,000 youngsters each year who fail this test," the high official source said. "You know if they fail this test, they're probably going to fail any test, and they are probably not going to be able to hold down any decent job."

"If Selective Service hadn't existed, we probably would have had to create it. It's perfect for our purpose. This gives us names and addresses of persons who need help."

Originally, the source said, Shriver wanted to lower the draft age to 16, but technical problems made this impossible. He added, "that lowering it to 17 gives us a year's head start"

Shea Tries to Bar Darwin Confession

By A. J. CHEMAISI

Defense attorney for Roy F. Darwin, accused of strangling a Bolton teen-age girl Sept. 18, today started a long expected fight to keep two alleged confessions from being admitted into the first degree murder trial at Tolland County Superior Court.

Defense Atty. John F. Shea promptly objected when the state tried to introduce the alleged confessions into the trial now heading into its third week. He said there was no proof that the alleged confessions were made voluntarily, and said they were obtained in violation of the state's constitution.

Defense action came just a half hour after the trial began following a three day recess.

Before the special hearing to determine if the alleged confessions would be admitted, Dr. Abraham Stolman, a toxicologist, testified that he found blood on the front seat of Darwin's car.

He also said that dog hairs found on the victim's dress had the same characteristics as dog hairs found on the front seat of Darwin's car.

Darwin is accused of forcing 17-year-old Hope Rothwell into his car on Reservoir Rd., Vernon, on Sept. 18, and bringing her to a lover's lane off Dockeal Rd. in Tolland.

There, police say, he strangled her after she resisted an attack. Both Darwin and Miss Rothwell had attended a 4-H committee meeting that night in Rockville.

The jury of seven men and five women heard arguments on the admissibility of the alleged confessions. Judge Alva P. Loiselle told the jurors that they might have to return to the jury room the rest of the court day.

Tolland County Coroner Bernard J. Ackerman, called to the witness stand by special assistant State's Atty. Etalo G. Gnutt, said Darwin arrived with three attorneys on Dec. 5 after he had been subpoenaed to an inquest on the murder.

Home Struck By Airliner, Family Safe

CHICAGO (AP) — A chartered DC3 airplane with 28 passengers trying to make a landing at O'Hare International Airport in misty weather, crashed into a house late Sunday night, killing the copilot.

The pilot, who with the copilot was trapped in the cockpit about two hours, was reported in critical condition in a hospital. The passengers, returning from a day of skiing in Michigan, escaped without serious injuries.

The two-engine plane crashed through utility lines and into a house in suburban Hoffman Estates. Six persons in the home asleep on the second floor, miraculously escaped injury. They were rescued by firemen.

The passengers, 23 men and 5 women, walked from the plane minutes after it plowed through the rear of the home of Victor Golubski. There was no fire.

The pilot, Virgil Provoost, 40, of Robinson, Ill., was rescued by firemen nearly two hours after the plane crashed. A few minutes later, firemen recovered the body of the copilot, Daniel Jordan of Gary, Ind.

Fire Chief Carl Selka said that Provoost told him as he was near O'Hare Airport the plane entered a patch of air turbulence. A tower man at O'Hare said he had directed the plane to land when it was eight miles northwest of the airport.

A short time later the pilot radioed the tower that he had lost altitude, from 2,500 to 1,500 feet. The tower then directed the pilot to regain altitude.

In a few minutes, the pilot of

Cypriots Ignore Truce Units, Use Mortars, Armor

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Warring Greek and Turkish Cypriots fought with mortars, automatic weapons and armored bulldozers today at Ktima in western Cyprus. They ignored U.N. and British truce force attempts to halt the fighting.

Fires started by shelling raged unchecked in the area. Greek Cypriot authorities said one member of their security forces was killed. There was no report on Turkish casualties, but the British army said five Turkish Cypriot hostages were killed in a nearby town.

British sources said both sides appeared well-armed and well-disciplined. The conflict broke out at dawn, ending a brief truce that followed skirmishes and near riots at Ktima over the weekend.

Greek Cypriot forces claimed they had driven the Turks back from front line positions at the edge of the Turkish quarter, a warren of twisting, narrow streets jammed with small shops and living quarters.

British army officials said firemen couldn't get at the flames because of the heavy shooting.

McNamara Acclaims Viet Leader on Tour

HOA HAO, South Viet Nam (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara made a hedgehopping tour of South Viet Nam's Communist-infested Mekong River delta today telling cheering crowds he had come to pledge America's full support for their new leader, Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh.

The tour was marred by the crash of a U.S. Army helicopter escorting him here. Two American crewmen were killed.

At another stop, at Can Tho, McNamara arrived while smoke still was rising from a burning gasoline depot demolished by Communist Viet Cong mortar fire during the night.

McNamara spent most of the day trying to make friends, and to influence people to get behind Premier Khanh in the war against the Communists.

With Khanh, whose hand McNamara often held up in the boxer's victory signal, he spoke under a blistering sun in town squares, from a balcony, and at a pagoda belonging to the Buddhist sect called Hoa Hao. The sect, which was founded 25 years ago, was named after this village, 100 miles west of Saigon.

To a Holy Woman of the sect, he brought an American hearing aid, and was given a copy of the Hoa Hao Bible in exchange.

At Can Tho, McNamara made a donation in behalf of the U.S. government of 500,000 piastres — $8,000 — for 3,000 victims of a fire that swept a slum quarter last week.

McNamara did not see the crash of the helicopter which was flying security cover for his mission.

It occurred a few minutes after
