NHRR Cars Put Back on Tracks After Side-Swipe

NORWALK (AP) — Work crews got all cars back on the track today and made final repairs where a New Haven Railroad passenger train, breaking hard, hit another that was already stalled with troubles.

Although the moving train was doing about 50 miles an hour, yesterday when the engineer spotted difficulty ahead, the mishap resulted in only one injury requiring hospitalization.

The stalled train was partially blocking the tracks.

With all cars back on the tracks, a New Haven spokesman said cleanup work remained to be done and that a temporary "slow order" was put into effect. The order, he said, would not cause any major delays in rail traffic.

Morning commuter travel on eastbound trains from New York was delayed for about 10 to 15 minutes because of the accident.

Apparently something went wrong mechanically with a car in the first of the two Boston-bound trains, a New Haven spokesman said today.

This believed to have caused the baggage car and railway express cars to go on the track, he said, leaving Train No. 172—"The Senator"—unable to move.

The result, moments later, was another derailment as Train No. 20—"The Puritan" skidded off the tracks and hit the stalled one.

Four persons were taken to Norwalk hospital but only one of the injured required admission.

Six others told officials they were slightly injured and would seek medical attention on their own.

Admitted to the hospital was Perry Robinson, 60, of New London. He reportedly suffered a fracture of the spine.

The Senator, the first train, was running 46 minutes late on its run from Washington to Boston via New York. The Puritan was on time and following close behind.

The New Haven spokesman said the Pennsylvania Railroad had operated the Senator to Pennsylvania Station, New York City, where the New Haven assumed control.

One of its cars, the spokesman continued, was a Penn-

Towns Await Rule On Districting Bid

NEW HAVEN (AP)—A three-judge federal court reserved decision today on a motion by small towns for the Connecticut legislative reapportionment suit.

The court, however, gave the attorney for the small towns permission to enter a brief in the case as a friend of the court by Friday.

The court reached its decision after hearing an hour of arguments by the attorney for the small towns and by other attorneys in the case.

The motion on the part of the small towns was supported by Messrs. Alcorn, attorney for the Republican intervenors in the case.

It was opposed by the plaintiffs, by the Democratic intervenors and by State Atty. Gen. Harold M. Milvey.

John D. Fassett, the attorney for the small towns, suggested to the court that the case be delayed for at least 30 days to allow the towns to decide what action they would wish to take to protect their interest in the case.

Fassett said the small towns had a right to be represented and heard in the case, and that none of the parties now in the suit represented them or purported to represent them.

He contended the towns represent themselves as legal entities and were indispensable parties to the action.

The court, in its questioning from the bench, indicated that such intervention would delay the progress of the case to the U.S. Supreme Court.

NYC Turnout Drops For Second Boycott

NEW YORK (AP)—The second day of a school boycott in New York today failed to draw the deep support Negroes and Puerto Ricans gave its forerunner six weeks ago.

Before attendance figures were compiled, the size of picket lines and the crowds of children entering schools showed the boycott would not equal the Feb. 3 protest during which 464,000 pupils were absent.

At P.S. 140 in the Bronx, for example, only 10 per cent of the 1,200 pupils attended class during the first boycott, but 75 per cent were in class today, the principal said. The student body there is 95 per cent Negro and Puerto Rican.

Similar reports came from other schools.

"There seems to be no parental support and no support by the teachers," said the leader of 20 student pickets outside the High School of Commerce in Manhattan.

In some of Harlem's predominantly Negro schools, and those of Brooklyn's Bedford-Stuyvesant district, the demonstration was more effective.

Parading before a lower East Side high school, a group of youthful Negroes carried crudely lettered signs, such as: "It's now or never. We stand together for better schools." A white woman walked with them with a placard urging "Don't go to the school, stay out."

The withdrawn support of several organized civil rights bodies extended to the rank and file of the Negro community.

The Citywide Committee for Integrated Schools aimed the demonstration at about 200 of the city's 863 public schools—those with predominantly Negro and Puerto Rican enrollments.

State GOP Silent On Peace Treaty

WALLINGFORD (AP) — Top Connecticut Republicans were reported to have spent the weekend working on a secret proposal to end a leadership struggle in their ranks.

One leader said that everyone involved has been pledged to secrecy since a high level conference in Wallingford Saturday, the second in three weeks.

There were reports, however,

U.S., Panama Are Reported Still at Odds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S. spokesman has squelched optimism arising from an Organization of American States announcement that the United States and Panama had agreed to resume diplomatic relations.

The situation was further confused when an aide to Panamanian President Roberto Chiari confirmed in Panama City the agreement announced by the OAS.

Panama broke diplomatic relations with the United States Jan. 10 after rioting in the Panama Canal Zone left 21 persons dead and some 200 wounded. It said it would not resume relations until the United States agreed to renegotiate the 1903 treaty under which it has perpetual rights to operate the canal.

The United States said resumption of diplomatic relations must precede any talks about the canal's future.

Sunday night's announcement was made by Ambassador Juan Piate of Paraguay, chairman of the special OAS committee investigating the crisis and seeking a reconciliation.

"The governments of the Republic of Panama and of the United States of America have agreed to re-establish diplomatic relations as soon as possible to seek the prompt elimination of the causes of conflict relative to the Panama Canal," Piate said.

The agreement calls for both countries to "designate special ambassadors with sufficient powers to carry out discussions and negotiations with the objective of reaching a fair and just agreement."

It added that diplomatic relations would be resumed "as soon as possible" by the U.S. source said.

"The United States government, and the government of Panama, as of 11 p.m. Sunday, have had no meeting of their minds on either the resumption of relations or the procedures to be followed in an attempt to solve the problems surrounding the Panama disturbances."

"The United States government will welcome a resumption of diplomatic relations with Panama. The United States appreciates the contribution of the OAS delegation and hopes that successful negotiations will result from its endeavors."

Death Toll at 124 For U.S. in Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Six more American airmen were killed in South Viet Nam during the weekend as Red guerrillas shot down a U.S. helicopter and a spotter plane.

Four of the airmen were aboard the helicopter. It was hit by ground fire during a Vietnamese government operation Sunday in Ba Xuyen Province, 100 miles south of Saigon.

The other two airmen were aboard an L19 spotter plane that was knocked down Saturday northeast of Saigon.

The six deaths brought to 124 the number of Americans killed in action in the Viet Nam war since the U.S. buildup there began in December 1961.

The defense department said the dead airmen were:

LBJ Supports Vows of JFK On Latin Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson pledged today "the full power of the United States" to help any American country whose freedom is threatened by forces directed from outside the continent.

The President delivered this assurance in his first full-scale address on inter-American affairs and the Alliance for Progress.

What he said in committing the United States to help any Latin American nation whose freedom is endangered by outside pressure was not new in itself. The late President John F. Kennedy had spoken in similar terms.

But, once again on a specific issue, Johnson was picking up the banner of the man he succeeded.

Darwin Tells Court Confession Untrue

By A. J. CHEMANSI
First degree murder defendant Roy Darwin said today in Tolland County Superior Court that he signed alleged confessions because he wanted to get out of State Police hands.

Under cross examination by the state, the 46 year old defendant conceded that nothing went into the statements that he had not agreed to.

Darwin said he placed his signature on the first alleged confession after asking State Police Major Samuel Rome, "If I sign that paper, how do I get out?"

The Andover man said he signed after thinking that his wife and lawyers must have been trying to get hold of him. Major Rome has testified that the alleged confessions were made during the Dec. 6-8 week-long confinement in State Police custody.

Darwin's attorneys have objected to admission of the alleged confessions on the grounds that they were obtained involuntarily, that Darwin did not have counsel, and that he was being illegally held.

Judge Alva P. Lottelle is expected to make a ruling this week on the admissibility of the alleged confessions. The hearing, from which the jury is barred, is now in its sixth day. The trial started Feb. 25.

Darwin was called to the witness stand Friday as the defense began its case in the hearing. Throughout the two hours he fought back tears.

A Job Corps Proposed to Aid 100,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson gave Congress marching orders today for the war on poverty, concentrating his $962.5-million attack on helping needy young Americans.

His program to help youngsters in the 16 to 20 age bracket centers on a Job Corps reminiscent of the Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s.

"The years of high school and college age are the most critical stage of a young person's life," Johnson said, in a special message on poverty. "If they are not helped then, many will be condemned to a life of poverty which they, in turn, will pass on to their children."

The Job Corps would enlist up to 100,000 young men, draft rejects and school dropouts, from "those whose background, health and education makes them least fit for useful work."

"These young men would be removed from their slum backgrounds and placed in camps to work on conservation projects and in special job training centers for a blend of training, basic education and work experience.

"These are not simply camps for the underprivileged," Johnson said. "They are new educational institutions, comparable in innovation to the land grant colleges. Those who enter them will emerge better qualified to play a productive role in American society."

Other phases of the youth program are work-training and work-study projects. Federal grants to provide full or part time jobs to help youngsters stay in high school, take vocational training or work their way through college.

Coordinating the war on poverty will be a new executive agency, the Office of Economic Opportunities, which Johnson said would be headed by Sargent Shriver, "my personal chief of staff for the war against poverty."

In addition to the Job Corps, Shriver also will supervise creation of another new group, the Volunteers for America, a Peace Corps-styled body of 3,000 to 5,000 volunteers who will work in various phases of the war on poverty.

Both the Job Corps and the Volunteers for America are taken from legislation now pending in Congress—the Youth Conservation Corps and the National Service Corps respectively.

PLAYERS REINSTATED
NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Hornung, Green Bay Packers halfback and Alex Karras, defensive tackle of the Detroit Lions, were restored to good standing by the National Football League today, after having been suspended nearly a year ago for betting on football games. NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle announced the two players had been reinstated after separate reviews of their suspension and personal discussions with the two players. They were suspended April 17, 1963, after both had admitted betting on their teams to win certain games and on some games in which they were not involved. Rozelle said there was no evidence that either player ever bet against his own team or failed to do his best in any football game.

Security of Ruby Said 'Maximum'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Jack Ruby remained alone in a jail cell today while his attorneys prepared to appeal the verdict of a Dallas jury which sentenced him to death for murder.

"Maximum security" surrounds Ruby, Sheriff Bill Decker said.

But Ruby's attorney, Melvin Bell, said he is worried about a possible attempt on Ruby's life and has asked for extra protection for him.

"Later on," Decker said, "when he has adjusted to the jail of the verdict, he probably will be put in a large cell with other prisoners. He's had maximum security from the beginning."

Taxpayers Question Rate of Withholding

WASHINGTON (AP)—Because of changes and delay in enacting the tax cut law, the taxes withheld from paychecks will fall about $800 million short of meeting the actual 1964 tax bills of Americans.

Millions of taxpayers will get smaller refunds than usual a year from now, and a good many—especially in middle and upper income brackets—will owe Uncle Sam more money.

The Treasury and the Internal Revenue Service are being bombarded with questions about why this "under-withholding" happened, what it means to individual taxpayers and why steps were not taken to avoid the discrepancy.

Here are some of the questions and the answers given by tax officials and other experts:

Q: Are all taxpayers being "under-withheld"?

A: No, not nearly all. For the great majority of taxpayers, especially at lower-income levels, the withholding will cover tax liability. More people will get refunds than will have to pay extra.

Q: Which ones are likely to feel the pinch?

A: In general, those with incomes upward of $9,000 to $10,000 a year. The higher the sal-

Flood Mop-Up Under Way in Five States

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—After three-week-long battle against the bled Ohio River, residents of five states worked today to clean up a flood that has caused an estimated $100 million damage and has claimed a dozen lives.

Federal planners joined with governments of Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania to help the estimated 150,000 persons affected by the worst Ohio River valley flood in 19 years.

The crest on the Ohio surged downriver and passed Owensboro where some residents have returned home. Others must wait for the flood to dip further before they can return to mud-soaked property which they fled last week. The U.S. Weather Bureau says it will be a week before the river drops to flood stage at most points between Louisville and Cairo, Ill.

The Ohio leaked under a floodwall in Cannelton, Ind., Sunday, but officials said there appeared no danger to waterfront residents. Sandbags blocked the water's path and civil defense workers were standing by in case evacuation was needed.

An Indiana State police helicopter crashed and burned Sunday at Cannelton. Both occupants escaped injury.

The river created 8.5 feet above flood stage at Owensboro. No significant new flooding was reported.

Rockville-Vernon Chase Appeals Denial Of Zone Change Bid

Papers were filed today in TAC building on Rt. 30 and in a zoning suit against the City of Rockville by Ellington developer Norman B. Chase. Chase was recently denied zoning changes for property off Progress and Bellevue Aves. He plans to build a 100-unit apartment project there. His bid for the same changes was rejected by the City Council at a recent meeting. The Council is the city's zoning authority. The Rockville law firm of Fignon, Guntill, Kahan and Shuman will represent Chase in the appeal. The case is expected to be presented in April in Tolland County Court of Common Pleas.

Opposition to the zone change was expressed at a public hearing March 2. Opponents from Progress and Bellevue Aves. cited traffic problems, property devaluation and drainage problems in their objections.

In favor of the zoning change was the City's Planning Commission. Herman Olson, its chairman, said that while the property is presently zoned for industry, it is not felt that industry would be interested in the area because expansion would be limited.

Olson said that at the time zoning was introduced in the city, the property owner of the land in question was promised that if ever the industrial zoning of the land hindered sale of the land, then the zoning would be changed.

Olson said that while a drainage problem exists on the two-acre property, a "holding pond" that Chase has offered to build would alleviate the situation.

Milton Johnson, city engineer, said that only an all-out effort from South St. to the city limits would correct the drainage problem. He said that the problem would have to be corrected eventually regardless of whether Chase built on the land or not.

Meeting after the hearing, the council voted to reject the proposed zoning change on the basis of the drainage problem. Chase said at that time he would fight the decision in court.

Chase's project is expected to cost about $1 million.

but had to obtain government approval for doing so. Then they were not free to make their own commercial terms, either, but had to make terms acceptable to our government.

In summary, our government was in and out of the deal so much, authorizing it, approving its terms, and finally reaching it, that it might almost as well have been, to tell the truth, a pure bit of government management from the start.

Perhaps it is foolish, at this late date, to raise any alarm about government management of the sale of wheat.

The methods by which we, and Argentina, both sell wheat to the totalitarian regimes of our choice are themselves intransigent processes to change.

Conceivably, some day, we will come to believe in the word "free" as one which applies to processes, priorities, and the actual way we behave, as well as a word which serves as a handy label.

That, when it comes, will be a good day for us and for the world, which needs so desperately to be free, for trade, for thought, for politics, for peace, for progress.

WASHINGTON—Chinks in the "cold front" of the Senate's civil rights legislation threaten to widen into a serious breach even though the date is only a few days off.

To split the bi-partisan civil rights bloc is the principal goal of the Southern, headed by the brilliant strategist, Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia.

For the liberal Republicans, this was putting the shoe on the wrong foot. They complained bitterly to Clarence Mitchell of the NAACP and some other Senate members who are now holding the House-passed bill.

When Sen. Jacob K. Javits, the Republican liberal from New York, heard that Humphrey had announced this as the grand strategy of the civil rights bloc, he was upset.

No one has consulted Humphrey in drafting an amendment to the section of the bill dealing with voting rights, as well as Federal elections.

Taxpayers Question Rate of Withholding

Q: How can I figure out whether I should increase my withholding?

A: You could ask your employer to drop one or more of your exemptions; that is, tell him not to count your wife, or one or more of the children.

Q: What wouldn't be enough in many cases?

A: True. The other method is simply to ask your employer to increase the withholding by an arbitrary amount. Most companies will do so, if the amount is in multiples of $5 to simplify the bookkeeping—$5, or $10, or $25, and so on.

Q: If I'm penalized if I fail to keep my tax payments current and wind up the year making a lump payment to IRS?

A: Probably not. The rules demand quarterly payments if the under-withholding exceeds $50. But IRS rarely takes action against a taxpayer who slips up unless he also is violating some other part of the tax law.

Proposition Remains Strong To North End Renewal Plan

For almost three hours yesterday afternoon, North End area residents looked a barrage of questions—frequently loaded—at town officials at a meeting called by directors of the Eighth District to consider the planned North End urban renewal project.

Although ostensibly a question and answer session, the evening of North End area residents and newer section area residents was aimed more at emboldening the North End area residents than getting new information.

John LaBelle, Eighth District councilor, who moderated the session, kept the somewhat emotional meeting in good order.

Raybuck, upon whom, as MRA executive director, the opposition to the renewal plan has been focused, was the first to speak.

Atty. LaBelle stated the reason for the meeting was that "it is not now included and it never was."

Raybuck stated that the general area would not qualify because of slightly irregular zoning, and that the fact that the building was occupied by an industrial plant was a major factor.

Howard Smith, 300 N. Main St., said that the general area was not included in the renewal plan.

Raybuck stated that the plan was not included in the renewal plan because of slightly irregular zoning.

Strikers Okay Pact, Most Return to Job

Striking employees of the Carlyle-Johnson Machine Co. informally approved a contract with the company this morning and ended their 38-day walkout at the plant.

Union officials were unavailable for comment on the terms of the contract—first their spokesman said they had not yet been reached.

Hutchings told The Herald both sides in the dispute have agreed to a settlement.

There has been a news backlog since the middle of February, when talks broke off and the union reportedly walked out.

It is believed that the settlement was reached after several days of negotiations.

Additional workers were reported to have returned to work by late yesterday.

Towns Await Rule On Districting Bid

The small towns, he said, were seeking to intervene in the case with "nothing more to suggest."

Keefe said he had been regularly informed that if the small towns were allowed to state the case, the big cities would also be heard.

Mulvey endorsed Keefe's remarks and said that he did not think intervention by the towns or cities would help the case.

He noted the case has been pending for 15 months and that the court was now in the middle of a plan for a decree.

South Windsor School Gym Title Honors Hugh Greer

South Windsor's high school gymnasium will be named "The Hugh B. Greer Memorial Gymnasium" as suggested by a special committee of the board of education.

It will honor Hugh B. Greer who died of a heart attack on July 14, 1963. Greer, renowned basketball coach at the University of Connecticut, went to that post in 1945 from Ellsworth Memorial High School in South Windsor.

Greer coached on the Ellsworth staff since 1936, the year he was named state coach.

His professional career included a position as executive director of the Connecticut Public Association, with special assistant principal, science teacher and director of athletics.

Spring Hitters Unload 129-Run Barrage

The Herald Angle

By EARL YOST Sports Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the time of year when the pitchers are supposed to be ahead of the hitters. Maybe so, but those weren't the pitchers who were the best of their kind this year. The Baltimore Orioles unloaded a 129-run barrage against the Cleveland Indians in the first two innings of the season. The Indians scored 21 runs, including three by rookie infielder Gene Alley. Look at the Green Book Biggest number of 20-game pitching winners since 1951 was the record set by five National League last season. This hit of information is just one of 1,001 items of interest in the National League Green Book, edited by Dave Grote, and distributed to the press corps. Tomorrow, a thumbnail sketch will be made of the sister book, the American League Green Book.
