BRUSSELS, Belgium's 12,000 doctors and dentists ended their 18-day strike today, but the dispute over the new socialized medicine law remains unresolved.

The doctors agreed to meet with government officials next Wednesday in an attempt to set the their differences over the controversial legislation.

Belgium's medical profession agreed to call off the strike after 5½ hours of intensive negotitations during which rectors of Belgium's four universities acted as intermediaries.

Afterwards Premier Theo Lefevre asid confidently that "conditionan war eripe to reach a prompt agreement on the law which would leave no bitterness."

Scientists have also recognized other problems associated with this new technology. A booster using fluorine in its engines must be located at a remote area for a by-product of this combustion is hydrogen fluoride which is a highly corrostve and dangerous gas. Unfortunately, our launching areas are not in remote or isolated areas which necessitates measures being taken to remove the combustion by-products. One way of doing this is to vent the exhaust gases into water treated with lime to convert the toxic materials into inert calcium fluoride. However, this is an unlikely and expensive process. Another method is to vent the gases directly into a contained body of water which will absorb them. Still another method is to pass the vented gases through activated characeal to produce inert carbon the contained by a pass the vented gases through activated characeal to produce inert carbon. putting this into the sky will be gases through activated char-coal to produce inert carbon and the costs will be 10:00 Mad lower if a floxed Atlas booster is used. Bit	lishments in the area made hay by opening up their lots and yards and charging prices to their liking, all higher than the official posted prices. When Stangel is forced to go to his bench(?) he has little to offer. For example, in the ninth inning, trailing, 4-3, Ole Case called upon Jack Stephenson and Bob Taylor and both responded by striking out against Bob Friend's delivery. At least the two Mets didn't watch third called strikes. It was a day of firsts and the distinction of being the first player to get the heave-he from an umpire went to Jim Pagliaroni, Pittsburgh catcher. NBC Will Telecast Fair Opening Night

By BUTH E. THOMPSON of Maryland, New Jersey and Opening night at the World's Fair has one thing in common with a ball game. If you really don't want to mias anything, stay home with your TV set this Wednesday and go with NBC 7:30 to 9 p.m.

If you have color, so much the better for this is the biggest color coverage ever attempted. And if you don't have color, never mind, "Have fun," says producer Bob Bendick whose eyes light up every time he turns his handsome, graying head toward his diagram of the Fair and spills a few more details of what's in store the night of the 23nd.

For guides there will be Henry Fonds — who's also hocking—Caroi Channing, Lorne "Bonams" Greene, Fred Machturray, Marian Anderson, and Cantinfias.

Beginning from the panoramis on one over, you'll be cruising around turning on the lights with Henry Fonds slashing through a thousand excitements and ending up around 8, with great splashes of fireworks and to they haven't thrown away are a point effort of NEC, the first plashes of fireworks and they haven't thrown away area.

A proper segment is one that has neutralized algebraically, the distant portion with the reading portion to minimize object displacement, image jump and subject disappearance.

When an improper segment is used it would cause injuries in climbing stairs, curbs and alighting from automobiles.
