Budget Cut

May 19 referendum) be issued so that the first principal payment of about $150,000 falls due during the 1965-66 fiscal year. An expenditure of about $25,000 in interest charges would be the only budgeted item for next year, and would mean a saving of one mill.

Martin also explained his reason for recommending $101,000 for the pension frund, as against a request for $144,000. He said that the $57,000 sum allocated for the current year has proved Despite a cut of $619,000 already made to departmental requests, Martin's recommended budget would require a 1½ mill increase in the tax rate, and only additional cuts totaling about $250,000 would insure a state of the fund have been higher than previously estimated.

The objective of the Fiction Catalog, which is a reference book kept on file in the Reference Room, is to provide a list of adult fiction titles whose sefulness is vouched for by a representative group of exper-ienced librarians and specialists of the highest professional standing, representing the needs and interests of libraries of various types and sizes in all parts of the country. Today we would like to mention two important features of this excellent reference work. One is the listing by subject of the titles chosen for the main catalog and its supplements. This is a quick way to find titles for readers who ask for novels about scientists, Negroes, Mexicans in California, mental iliness, dwarfs, college life, ad-venture, family life, etc.

Is Havana Sober Too?

The imminent Russian pullout in Cuba is not, as just about everybody realizes by this time, automatic good news. In fact, responsible authorities hope the pullout is not complete. That means we would rather have Russians command the weapons and equipment the Russians have brought there than have them under the command of the Cubans.

There could, of course, be a cure for our worry, and perhaps the Russian worry, over what Castro might do with the weapons he now has. We know he ean't conquer anybody with them; we know they could, at best, only help him repel some invasion, and then only if his own people were with him; but he could use them to stage some wild kind of in-

This possibility could have been avoided if Russia had never supplied Castro with arms in the first place. It could be avoided, now, if Russia would just take all its arms away.

But such possibilities are, in the context of the world rivalry we operate with Russia, impossibilities.

Until either one of us succeeds in imposing upon the other, or persuading the other to accept, his own judgment of right and wrong, his own moral superiority, we are both going to continue considering that each of us is privileged to do what the other does.

We think it is wrong for Russia to arm or influence anybody, but we think it is right and necessary for us to do the same thing. Russia, not very surprisingly, believes in its own right to do the same things it resents in us. And arming small countries near the other big rival country's border has been one of the things we have liked to do to one an-

We are doing it to save and defend freedom and civilization. Russia undoubtedly also tells itself it does what it does in defense of its way of life and its idea of what the world's future should be.

The impact of this turn in tactics could be felt all the way to the Republican National Convention in July. It probably means Rockefeller has much less chance to cut down the big lead in California now enjoyed by Goldwater. And if Goldwater does capture California's 86 delegates, he will be hard to stop for the nomination.

The truth is that Rockefeller strategists were counting on Goldwater to beat himself in California just as he did in the New Hampshire primary. New Hampshire was a nightmare for Goldwater. Backbreaking schedules incessant crossey. for Goldwater. Backbreaking schedules, incessant cross-examination by press and public, and fatiguing hand-shaking tours he detests, made Goldwater sullen and unattractive. Goldwater suticipated a slow-down in California. But former sen. Enowland, running the Goldwater campaign with an iron hand from his newspaper publisher's office in Oakland, had other ideas.

'T'm a peace-monger, probably the best one you ever saw," he advised. But Goldwater also happ to be a man who doesn't let a insult go unanswered. Rocke-feller Republicans are firing ar gainst Goldwater in hopes of provoking him into indiscreet remarks. UN Withdrawal ence.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.
(AP)—The approaching with-drawal of the United Nations military force from the Congo is viewed here with both relief and misgivings.

The world organization is getting rid of a costly and often controversial mission which has come close to wrecking the U.N. diplomats express doubts about the ability of the shaky former Belgian territory to maintain order without outside military forces.

These doubts are increasing as preparations are begun toward liquidation of the massive four-year U.N. operation, scheduled for completion by June 30.

No official has suggested publicly that the U.N. military operation be extended. This could be done only by a special session of the General Assembly and there is no talk of that.

The $25 million would be in addition to $10-million blanket bond the exchange maintains to cover fraud, Funston said. The funds are to enable the exchange to act in any insolvency regardless of cause, he said.

Funston said the exchange had already taken steps which should substantially lessen the likelihood of a Haupt-type situation.

The $25 million would be in and "we need more research programs," she said.

On the Cleveland trip, Dr. Trawell, who hasn't been talking much with reporters lately, pulled out some statistics about the elderly.

Armed with Census Bureau reports she called attention to these facts:

RECTANGULAR COLOR TV from MOTOROLA

Come in and hear the ohs and ahs at the color...the crisp, sharp picture.

If you've been waiting for color TV to shape up a bit before you bought one, your wait is over! First off, you'll notice that the tube of this new Motorola color TV is rectangular in shape-just like the one ou're used to watching on your black-and-white set. Because this tube is approximately 5 inches shorter than conventional round tube color sets, the cabinet is slim and trim. But the important thing is the picture on the screen. The colors are . . . well, you just won't believe it until you've seen them yourself. Why not come in for a personal demonstration?
