Police Crush Bandit Mobs In Colombia

By JOSEPH NOVITSKI
 ARSENIO, Tolima, Colombia (AP)—The government is on the verge of stamping out the last stronghold of barbaric banditry in this nation, which has been plagued by 18 years of savage rural violence.

The recent slaying of "Sangre Negra"—Black Blood—one of the country's most notorious bandit chieftains, wiped out the No. 1 spot on the most-wanted desperado list.

"Sangre Negra"—born Jacinto Cruz Torres 31 years ago—was one of the ruthless, self-proclaimed protectors of the poor who ruled the northern part of the central Colombian department of Tolima for more than a decade.

They governed by the law of the machine and the gun.

Now the last remnants of bandit rule in Colombia are a handful of other renegade chiefs flee for their lives, pursued by the country's national police and an infantry outfit.

The army plans to divert its attention soon to ex-bandits running a Communist-led independent republic in southern Tolima.

But for the moment it wants to mop up the bandit remains in the north and cure the area's ills to prevent a new flare-up.

Only the bandits and the army move at night.

In civilian clothes or masquerading as bandits, specially trained six-man intelligence teams roam the countryside seeking traces of the gang.

At headquarters, soldiers and peasants come and go on the red-tiled corridors.

A warm breeze carries the fragrance of lime trees from nearby orchards where captured bandits and collaborators wait army rations, guarded by sentries.

At nightfall peasant agents slip away from battalion headquarters to keep tabs on their villages.

The army's network of informers operates throughout the towns and settlements of northern Tolima.

Some serve as guides, others slip into battalion headquarters only at night, hoping to claim reward money.

The remaining bandits no longer stand and fight. Roaming in small bands, the harried men quarter themselves in farmhouses, sometimes for days. From large landowners they squeeze protection payments that insure the lives of ranchhands and cattle, and the harvest of coffee and fruit.

From small landowners and tenant farmers they demand food, shelter, medical supplies and messenger services.

If turned down, they kill. They have, in the past, sometimes also exterminated villages.

Last March, "Desquite," at 27 one of the bloodiest bandit leaders, blamed for 100 slayings, fled with three of his henchmen.

Two army-trained police teams, by an ambush, a nearby ravine, cut down Desquite and his men before they could escape.

The helicopter pilot who flew the bodies out of the mountain canyon to battalion headquarters says, "People came from miles around to see Desquite dead—they were so happy it was like a festival day."

The army has a peaceful civic-military action program. Teams of doctors and road builders will help bring the half-deserted area back to productive life.

The army built a graveyard beside a lonely mountain road on the site of a 1963 bandit ambush in which 15 unarmed, bound soldiers died.

One of the army's mountain graves is kept gaping in the mine.

This one is for the bandit-leader called Tarzan.

190 at Clinics Backed by PHNA

A total of 190 patients attended clinics sponsored by the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association last month at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Rachel Barnes, nursing supervisor, reported at an executive board meeting at the hospital. She also said that public health nurses made 646 calls last month.

Clinics and attendance at each were: Four maternity services with 38; four pediatric with 45; five medical and arthritic with 29; five surgical with 13; and four chest with 48.

Mrs. Barnes attended a conference of the National League for Nursing for Public Health Nurses last month in Boston, Mass.

The executive board gave its annual luncheon for the nursing staff at Cayey's Restaurant after the meeting.

Trade Scene Extra Rozy, Sairs Fears

By SAM DAWSON
 AP Business News Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP)—The more everyone is assured that everything's wonderful, the more some people start worrying about what might happen.

Stock prices averages make new highs every little while, so the slightest temporary bubble in the upward line tends to exaggerate fears that a downturn is at hand. Or the very trend of the market itself makes some fear that a speculative boom could be set off, leading to another crash.

Employment increases and it does the total of personal incomes. And that general feeling of well-being guarantees that new wage demands may trigger another wage-price spiral. In a time of little inflation, price rises are heard more and more often warning of the chance that future inflation could do great damage to the economy and hurt more people than it would seem to help.

Profits are well above a year ago. And even profit margins are gaining a little after long drops. And that sets off warnings lest business be inspired to make the most of a good thing and raise prices—and thus chill consumer buying desires at home and trading opportunities abroad.

Business is announcing plans to spend a lot more for new plants and equipment. But along with the jolting at the stimulus this will give to economic growth, it has problems that shortly the nation will be plagued once more with a glut of idle industrial capacity. A variation is worry lest the increased production facilities will make competition so keen that some of the new plants will be forced to close.

Consumers are showing their confidence in the economy's present healthy state by keeping their spending at a high level and by taking on additional installment debt. This bolsters expectations for sales of more industrial goods, homes and commodities.

But those who want to worry point to the rising total of debt and to the fact that nothing should happen to shake confidence.

All seem to be looking down in this.

Few can find much in the present state of the economy to worry about. It's near a record height in most of its components. It has few excesses currently visible that might assure nature's doom. It has problems, like unemployment and poverty and labor-management quarrels over automation. But as a general proposition today's economy is unusually healthy.

And that's where two lines of thought split off. One holds that the economy still isn't healthy enough—because the problems aren't solved—and it must be stimulated further. The other holds that everything's so good, perched on so high a pinnacle, that the history of business cycles points to the possibility that dangers will arise and the economy's very substance will bring on reaction.

AL Women Fete National Head

Mrs. Edward Walters, president, and Mrs. Ruth Hickox, secretary, both of the American Legion Auxiliary, will represent the Manchester unit Wednesday at a reception for Mrs. Luther D. Johnson of Valley, Neb., national president of the Legion Auxiliary. The event, sponsored by the Department of Connecticut, will be held at the Hotel Bond, Hartford, from 6:15 to 8:45 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7.

Mrs. Wilbur Little, Department chairman, Mrs. Henri Ptasinski, Department music chairman, and Miss Barbara Wall, Department membership chairman, all of the Manchester Unit, are members of an executive committee to plan the reception. Mrs. J. F. Waller of Manchester also plans to attend.

Teachers Attend Language Parley

A Manchester High School teacher and a Bolton resident will be among 40 primary and secondary school teachers to participate in a foreign language institute at St. Anselm's College, Manchester, N. H., June 1-3.

Joseph N. Comeau of 60 Burnside St., Hartford, a French teacher at the high school, and James R. Bergen of Cook Dr., Bolton, a French teacher at Penney High School in East Hartford, will attend the language training program made possible by appropriations of the National Defense Education Act.

The two-month session conducted entirely in French will school participants in the use of modern up-to-date methods and equipment of language education.

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Southwesterners boast about the size and strength of jackrabbits like other people talk about big fish. At least one bunny bunny buster.

A jackrabbit attacked a bunny dog guarding Sheppard Air Force Base here a few days ago. The marshallship of the guard accompanying the dog took up the fight.

Air base officials said they feared the bunny was wild and had teeth run. The reply today was "not rabbit."

"That a tough jackrabbit," commented an air base official.

Hall's Condition Said Comfortable

Six-year-old Randall Hall of 80 Benton St., whose left leg was injured when a toy car he was riding was struck by a motor vehicle at 2 p.m. yesterday on Benton St., today was reported as fairly comfortable in the children's ward at Manchester Memorial Hospital. The youngster was admitted after treatment of a knee laceration, and was placed in the special care section of the ward, a hospital spokesman said. Police said the accident, one of three investigated by police yesterday, occurred when Mrs. Irene Talbot, of 84 Benton St., driving along Benton St., stopped on the west side of the street, facing north against traffic, in front of 84 Benton St. to deliver flowers and talk to a neighbor. She then started up and struck the left side of the toy car as the child came into her path. The boy was removed to the hospital by ambulance. Mrs. Talbot was cited for failure to drive in a right hand lane, and a court date was set for May 28. Miss Marie A. Sherwood of Bolton, after a two-car accident at about 4 p.m. at Pine and High Sts., was cited for reckless driving, and her case will be presented in Manchester Circuit Court 12 noon on June 1. Police said that Miss Sherwood did not stop for a stop sign while eastbound on High St. and drove into the intersection and struck, broadside, a northbound Pine St. vehicle driven by Jon D. Mullen, 23, of 4 Hudson St. Mullen and a passenger, David Johnson, 20, of 55 Hudson St., were taken to the hospital for treatment of minor leg and forehead injuries. Both vehicles had to be towed from the accident scene, police said. No injuries nor arrests, but some minor structural damage was reported in a two-car accident which occurred shortly after 8:30 last night at N. Main St. and Depot St.

South Windsor Local Plant Plays Role In Apollo

South Windsor is playing a part in the development of fuel cells for the Apollo lunar mission. The development work is being done by Pratt and Whitney. The fuel cells, which convert chemical energy directly into electrical energy, are being developed and manufactured at a new 60,000 square foot building on Governor's Highway. The building is being leased by United Aircraft. Construction of the building was started last year by private interests. In mid-summer when the final equipment is installed the firm will employ some 600 persons. Town Manager Terry V. Sprinkel commented that the "new plant is a welcome addition to the community." He said, "The town is looking forward to assisting in making the transition as smooth as possible and a successful operation of the plant." The area off Governor's Highway is one of the town's prime industrial areas and has been improved by the town to facilitate location of new industry. This is the proposed location of the plant to be constructed by Raycon, Inc. The plant will be located on part of a 28-acre tract of land east of Rt. 5 at Governor's Highway. Plans for the plant call for the installation of a 100,000 volt electron accelerator used to produce radiation energy without radioactive material. The company will also provide radiation processing and analytical services to companies in basic materials, electronics, packaging, food processing and aerospace industries. Hospital Bed Available The auxiliary of the A. J. Miller American Legion Post, has announced it has a hospital bed and mattress available for use by South Windsor invalids or convalescing patients. Contact Mrs. Janice Stewart, 181 Foster St., auxiliary president, after 8 p.m. or any auxiliary member. Manchester Evening Herald South Windsor, Thursday, May 14, 1964. GS Pin Awarded To Mrs. Carlson

The Connecticut Valley Girl Scout Council last night presented Mrs. Leland V. Carlson of 180 & Main St. with a 25-year service pin, at the annual spring banquet held at Schwan's Restaurant, East Windsor. Mrs. Carlson is senior liaison officer attached to the volunteer personnel committee and secretary of the employed personnel committee. Mrs. Edgar Butler of West Hartford, president of the council, welcomed the town's first scout. In her talk she stressed the part a leader plays in the success of a troop's program. She also pointed out some activities various troops are planning in the near future. Cadette Troop 890 of Manchester entertained with a number of choral selections during dinner. They were accompanied by Mrs. Ralph Macaroni, who helped train the girl choir. The club was instituted by Mrs. Charles Kelly and Mrs. Anton Latavic, co-leaders of the troop. Members of Troop 890 who sang in the chorus include Jennifer Powell, Deborah Faridoni, Betsy Richmond, Susan Watkins, Barbara and Kate Kelly, Marisa Vannari, Bernice and Carolyn Johnson, Barbara Jo Rabb, Donna Byrnie, Macaroni, and Ann Phillip. Sharon Madron, Mary Ann Madron, Kathy Krause, Debra McCarthy, Donna Lawrence, Jacqueline Hartin, Ruth Utterback, Anderson, Patricia Lessard, Lynn Curkin, Su Stackpole and Paula Banohal. Area adult volunteers that served on the planning committee for the banquet include Mrs. Herbert Boehme and Mrs. Norman Larson, both of Manchester, and Mrs. Herman Peterson of Bolton.

Group to View Film on Safety

The Town Safety Committee, consisting of representatives of all town departments, will view the movie, "The Safest Township Anywhere" when they meet on May 27. The film pictures a "typical" American town, whose people are made aware of the fact that the safety and security of their community could not be taken for granted. Town Safety Director George W. Elliott has scheduled the meeting for 10 a.m. at the East Side Rec. Center. He stated that the results of last month's inspection of town vehicles will be revealed and discussed immediately following the showing of the film. INVITING MEMO MOUNT VERNON, Wash. ### Bolton Education Board Decides To Retain Walking Limit

Members of the board of education said last night that they were not in favor of any change in the walking distance to schools. After a motion by John McCarrick at the board meeting that the status quo be maintained, the board voted 10-2 to retain the present policy. The subject was tabled until the next board meeting.

Supp. Philip Liguori was asked to rewrite the policy, apparently to update it, through maintaining the status quo.

Present policy states that elementary children should walk a half-mile to school or bus and secondary students a mile to a bus stop except under specified hazardous conditions. Rte. 44A, 4 and 58 are all considered hazardous and the walking distances are curtailed.

Walter Waddell asked that a map showing a mile radius around the new junior-senior high school be prepared.

Liguori presented to the board a modification of his original recommendation that elementary pupils walk a mile and a half and secondary pupils walk two miles. He said that this was the state board of education standard but that he had received no calls from townships favoring the plan.

The consultant had also sent a letter to the board asking that traffic conditions were not such in town as to allow the children to walk and that they considered such a plan hazardous.

On the basis of public reaction Liguori modified his request to a mile limit for elementary and a mile and a half for secondary students, with certain areas considered hazardous. He said that transportation is a sizeable item in the budget, which he has been working on, and that with his original proposal, 70 per cent of the high school students would have been walking, since the town is three miles wide by five miles long. He presented a map with his modified proposal.

Chairman Harold Porcherson remarked that the reaction of the town was important but that the board must discuss these matters. He said that it was unfortunate that the whole question got out into the community before the board had a chance to discuss it.

Waddell said that he wanted to add that the board had enough problems to attend to without getting involved in public works and that the board was not pushing for sidewalks. Liguori said he suggested that the money saved on transportation be used for school access walks.

Mrs. Claire Warkel added that she was opposed to bringing the students back to the school days from 9:30 to 9:30 and next Wednesday evening as part of the PTA program.

The Bolton homecoming league will have a banquet at the Bolton Lake Hotel Thursday, May 21, at 6:30. Any new members discussed in town and that they needed to be in the air. Mrs. Warkel's motion that the present Grade 9 continue in Manchester was seconded by Waddell and carried unanimously. This was a restatement of the board's intention.

Porcherson said that it would be educationally dangerous to move Grade 10 out of Manchester and that the board had a moral obligation to present it at the next board meeting.

The whole subject started in a talk between First Selectman Richard Mirra and Liguori two weeks ago. At that time Liguori estimated that a savings of $50,000 would be realized, minus the cost of two teachers. Porcherson asked Liguori last night that he would save $50,000. Liguori replied that he had had an informal talk with Mirra and that he had been misinformed.

Liguori presented cost data last night showing that the town would only be a net estimated savings of $2,200 if Grade 10 were returned to Bolton. Waddell corrected this figure to $4,000, because of a mathematical error. Liguori figured that four additional teachers would be needed at an arbitrary figure of $24,000, transportation at $1,000. There are 45 pupils now in Grade 10, at a total tuition cost of $28,300. Transportation cost is estimated at $2,000.

McCarrick, who was opposed to bringing the students back, said he just wanted to make the comment that the whole discussion showed that people are beginning to realize that it will cost less to educate children in Bolton.

The Bolton homecoming league will have a banquet at the Bolton Lake Hotel Thursday, May 21, at 6:30. Any new members education in Manchester. This year, Grade 9, now in Junior High in Manchester, will be the first graduating class of Bolton Junior-Senior High School.

Under a discussion of school personnel, the board voted to adopt new positions recommended by Liguori with the provision that adequate job descriptions together with salary schedules be presented at the next board meeting.

A Class III clerk will be hired for the elementary school, to work six-and-a-half hours a day with all necessary vacation days except for a week before school opens and after school closes, at a salary of $2,000. The present clerk is scheduled to become a Class II secretary at the high school.

The board clerk, Mrs. Sally Rose, will become a Class I secretary working half-time at the high school in addition to taking minutes of board meetings. She will continue to do the accounting.

The respondent's secretary will accompany him to the new school. Liguori said that the Class II high school secretary will be in the town office, followed by a selectmen's meeting.

The art exhibit at the Bolton Art Club today and tomorrow will run through the evening of May 20.

Arranged by Art instructor Donald Macoskey, the exhibit contains a variety of the work of students in kindergarten through eighth grade.

Chamber to Oppose Mandatory Review

The Manchester Chamber of Commerce has gone on record as opposing the proposed charter changes relating to the tenure and removal of the general manager, and concerning a mandatory two-year review of his performance.

The organization lineup to date on these two proposals adds up to 2 against and two for the controversial suggestions slated to be voted upon at next Tuesday's townwide referendum.

Lined up against the proposals are the Chamber of Commerce, the League of Women Voters and the Republican minority on the board of directors.

Aligned in favor of the proposals are John Hanson's Citizens Committee for Better Government and the Democratic majority on the board of directors.

The chamber, in addition to opposing these two questions, is also opposing question 4, which would take from the general manager all rights and powers of appointing members to various boards and commissions, and would place them exclusively in the hands of the board of directors.

The chamber's objection to this change is based on the belief that it would permit politics to enter too freely into the selection of people.

The chamber statement says, "The town manager has had a past performance of appointing qualified people to boards and commissions, and it is our belief that there has not been any need demonstrated for the change in the existing procedure."

In explaining its opposition to a mandatory two-year review, the statement adds, "The review of the town manager is under constant review, and the review of his performance is a serious question which voters would be any communication."

Traffic Changes In Hospital Area

Effective at 7 a. m. tomorrow, Russell St. at Main St. will be blocked off to traffic, the first of several traffic changes in the Manchester Memorial Hospital area for several days during construction and laying of new water pipes along Main and Haynes Sts., Police Chief James M. Reason announced yesterday.

During the days ahead, Memorial St. will become a two-way through street with no parking on either side; the parking ban will be enforced along Main St. between Russell and Haynes Sts. and on Russell St. between Main and Haynes Sts. will be closed, at Main St. except for extreme emergencies, the chief said.

Access to the hospital parking lot off Haynes St. will not be hampered by the changes, and motorists observe the temporary traffic patterns. It was reported.

If flowers have woody stems, spill the stems several inches from the base. The stems will be to get more water and will last longer.

Stager Going to Turkey Under Fulbright Grant

Jay R. Stager, a Manchester high school mathematics teacher, has been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to teach in Turkey for the 1964-65 school year.

Stager was notified yesterday by the U. S. Department of State that he has been selected as one of about 200 American school teachers who will spend the year as instructors in foreign countries.

The selection was made by the state department's Board of Foreign Scholarship, which administrators the U. S. Mutual Educational and Cultural Exchange Program established by the Fulbright-Hays Act.

The state department says that Stager has been chosen for the program contained no details as to where he will be located in Turkey. These will be forwarded to him later from the U. S. Office of Education, which assists in administering the exchange.

Though he has no particular yet, Stager said he understands the exchanges are usually placed in one of six major Turkish cities or surrounding urban areas.

The grant will enable him to take his family abroad with him, Stager said, since he provides partially for the cost of travel expenses, and exchanges are usually paid the equivalent of their teaching salaries here.

He is married to the former

Miss Shirley Sterling, and the couple has two children, Leslie, 6, and Lewis, 7. They live at 21 Riverside Dr.

The Turkish school year runs from Sept. 30 to May 30, so Stager expects to arrive in Turkey in August.

Stager said he will seek a leave of absence from the board of directors of Manchester High School after completion of his year abroad.

Asks from his teaching duties at the high school, he is director of a Congressional Church youth camp at Hartburg Cove.

Mrs. Stager is also a teacher and operates a nursery school for Second Congregational Church.

Both Pennsylvania natives, the Stagers came to Manchester in 1958 upon his graduation from Yale Divinity School with a master's in religious education. He also holds a B.S. from Franklin and Marshall College in Lancaster, Pa.

Stager said he applied to teach in Turkey because of his desire to experience living in a country with a differing culture, religious and racial background.

He is the second Manchester High teacher to spend the year abroad under such an exchange program. During 1957-58, Michael Guadano, language department head, taught French in a Belgian high school, while Louis Paus, a Belgian, took his year here.

Last summer, Miss Holly Hooker, a senior at the high school, spent a year in England with her husband, Mr. W. L. Hooker of 77 Erie St., Manchester. A Fulbright grant paid the equivalent of her teaching salary here.

National Hospital Week Little Ronnie Berard May Soon Go Home

At hospitals all across the country, this week is being celebrated as National Hospital Week. Because it commemorates the anniversary of Florence Nightingale's birth (May 12), the American Hospital Association is making May 10-16 a time to view the history and the accomplishments of medical care, and their prospects for the future.

Ronnie Berard, a 4½-year-old patient at Manchester Memorial Hospital, will soon become an anniversary.

On Sunday, Ronnie will have spent a full year as a patient at the hospital. Happily, he will soon be well enough to go home, doctors say.

Of course, he is too young to comprehend the significance of Hospital Week or the efforts of his youth in the dedication and skill of the hospital staff and the hospital facilities brought to bear in treating him.

Somehow he has realized the meaning of "hospital" with a window far beyond his year, a consulting room, laboratory and recovery room, laboratory and recovery personnel, and the Women's Auxiliary.

Though Ronnie has quite a way to go yet and will need further plastic surgery, doctors feel he may be able to go home in another month or two.

"Everyone at the hospital knows and loves that boy," says Mrs. Stager. "Around here, he has become an institution. The outpouring of concern and help has been simply tremendous."

The personal involved, however, are typically publicity shy and prefer to remain anonymous. "Just getting by," is the way they phrase it. But in a very real way, they and Ronnie symbolize the true meaning behind National Hospital Week.

The other day when Ronnie

Columbia Wing Delay For School Is Scored

Board of education chairman Donald Tuttle and Principal George Farrow, discussed the school issue at the PTA meeting Tuesday night at Yeomans Hall.

Farrow said that unless something is done soon to relieve the situation, a likely alternative would be double sessions for Porter School in the near future.

Tuttle stressed the fact that the proposed addition is not even beyond the planning stage. Both the study group and the building committee have been meeting almost bi-monthly since last fall when the voters turned down plans presented by the board of education at a town meeting.

Both Tuttle and Farrow agreed that it was a "good thing" the original plans were turned down because they feel the school will now be able to update the programming to coordinate the curriculum with that of Windham's so-called "middle grade."

This will allow Porter School to include, over a period of time, industrial arts, languages, homemaking, music and other related subjects in Grades 7 and 8.

During a question and answer period, Tuttle said a rough estimate of cost for the proposed addition would be about $600,000, based on the present Class List of $5 million, this would mean a rise of possibly three mills in the tax rate.

During the business meeting, the following officers were installed: Mrs. Marshall Aiken, vice president; Mrs. Clifford Erickson, secretary; Mrs. Milton Anthony, treasurer; Mrs. Knut Barstrom, a past president, was the installing officer.

Annual reports were heard from officers and committee chairmen.

It was voted to give the school library $100 for improvement.

Mrs. James Fuller, librarian, said this includes cork bulletin boards, ceramic letters and a small fund for holiday decorations, among other items.

The local PTA has received a participation award from the state PTA for a program promoting "Family Life Education."

Mrs. Knight took note of the fact that five teachers will be leaving the school at the end of the term. They are: Donald Macmillan, art supervisor; Mrs. Eleanor Tambornini, Grade 2; Miss Ann McGrath, Grade 3; Miss Sheila Foster, Grade 3 and Mrs. Edith Brennan, Grade 3.

Mrs. Brennan was presented with a bouquet of 20 carnations, one for each of her twenty-two years of teaching.

The drawing for a vacation at Magic Woods Day Camp was won by Mrs. Charles Dutton and Mrs. Arthur Campbell.

Those I call our older young writers are concerned with the prize which is donated annually by Richard Charland, Grade 5 teacher, who is the director of the camp.

Applications are now being accepted for the annual PTA Scholarship of $50 open to qualified candidates entering or in the field of education. The applications may be picked up at the principal's office, and must be in by August 31.

Mrs. Knight has named the following committee chairmen: Mrs. Wallace Lohr, ways and means; Mrs. Charlene Grant and Mrs. Richard Ruszoka, program; Mrs. John Smith and Mrs. Russell Lehman, refreshments; Mrs. Paul Brookman, publicity; Mrs. Emil Malek and Mrs. Peter Moschel, membership and hospitality; Mrs. Eugene Dent, well child clinic; Mrs. John Erickson, attendance award; Mrs. Jack Thompson, sunshine; Mrs. Peter Tambornini, legislative; Mrs. Philip Itham Jr., safety; Mrs. John Tettabach, Girl Scout representative and Arnold Stinson, representative to the board of education.

Representatives to the Boy Scouts, the Cub Scouts and the recreation council have not been named as yet.

Membership this year totaled 185.

As usual, the PTA will sponsor the Grade 8 class party planned this year for June 12 at Yeomans Hall. The PTA appropriate $60 for this purpose. There are 45 students in the combined eight grades. Ten of the mothers are PTA members.

Memorial Day Game The baseball season will open with a bang-up double-header Memorial Day at Fireman's Field at 1 p.m. The opening was advanced from May 23 because of a conflict in dates. The afternoon opening will give the eager Little League fans a chance to rest after their morning stint as marchers in the parade.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

MRS. GLENN CORNISH AND ALISON

By DORIS BELDING
Summer entertaining is effortless when a supply of cookies or bars are easy on hand to serve with frosty drinks. Mrs. Glenn Cornish of 10 Hartley St. has many recipes for cookies and fingerfoods, including Apricot Bars and Lemon Cookies.

Apricot Bars
1/2 cup dried apricots
Rinsed, cover with water and boil 10 minutes. Drain, cool and chop.

1/2 cup soft butter
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup all-purpose flour

Mix until crumbly. Pack into greased 8 x 8 inch pan. Bake in 350-degree oven until light brown, about 30 minutes.

1/2 cup all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

1 firmly packed cup brown sugar
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped walnuts

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Gradually blend brown sugar into eggs and flour mixture and mix well. Add vanilla, nuts and apricot layer. Bake 30 minutes in 350-degree oven. Cool in pan and cut into bars and roll in confectioners sugar.

Lemon Cookies
1 cup soft shortening
1 cup granulated sugar
1 egg yolk
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind

2 cups all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon powdered cloves
1/2 cup ground almonds
1/2 cup shortening, sugar and eggs yolk until creamy. Add lemon rind, flour, cinnamon, powdered cloves and almonds and mix well. Chill one hour. Heat oven to 400 degrees. Roll dough into 1/2 inch balls. Bake on waxed paper to one-eighth of an inch thickness. Cut into two-inch rounds. Spread with jam.

Mrs. Cornish says that raspberry or apricot jam is especially good. Top with ostentatious strips of dough. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. Bake about 12 to 15 minutes. These cookies may be made in advance of serving so they keep very well.

Mrs. Cornish attended schools in Brookline, Mass., and is a graduate of Massachusetts School of Arts, Boston, where she received a B.S. degree in education. She taught elementary art in New Britain in 1903-04, and worked in the display department at Sage Allen's, Hartford.

She and her husband, a heatreater at ABA Tool and Die, Manchester, came to this town eight years ago. They have a son, Michael, 10, and a daughter, Alison, 6.

For the past two years Mrs. Cornish has been director of the YWCA Play School. Previously at that time she was the first teacher at Second Congregational Church Cooperative Nursery School.

She has been active in YWCA work and is a member of its executive committee. She is an active member of Bentley School PTA, and a member of Personal Planning Garden Club. Anything that includes arts or crafts interests and hobbies are included in this direction.

Buck a solid place in international literature. By general consent, her finest work is "The Good Earth," for which she received a Pulitzer Prize in 1932. The book prompted one critic to call Miss Buck one of "the foremost living novelists of the world" and "the chief living interpreter of the Chinese character."

Born in Ellipton, W. Va., too many people know Miss Buck only as a 400-acre farm in this picturesque region many years ago. She founded Wellesley House, an unusual kind of adoption agency, which she is extending nationally.

Over the years Wellesley House has given its attention mainly to children of American-Asian parentage. Hundreds of these have been placed in American homes.

Wellesley House now finds homes for physically handicapped children also, those who are blind, deaf, mute, scarred by burns, or maligned by accident.

Sharing Miss Buck's own beautiful home are her four adopted children, three girls and a boy, ranging in age from 15 to 18. Her husband, Richard J. Walsh, New York publisher, died four years ago.

DEMPSEY TO SPEAK
STORRS (AP)—Gov. John Dempsey will be the commencement speaker at the University of Connecticut June 14.

More than 2,100 graduates and undergraduate degree will be awarded, the largest number ever given by the university.

Mrs. Buck started to write when she was a child, but not seriously until she was 20. Her inspiration was pure and unadorned, however, and true to that she learned from the stories which has given Miss and now. Miss Buck won the Nobel prize for literature in 1938. She is now working on a novel about India.

The daughter of American missionaries, she grew up in China, spent many adult years there, taught there, wrote about the country, became steeped in its culture and traditions. Inevitably, the talk turned to her distinguished literary career. Miss Buck thinks that the relation is so pronounced that the readers are getting ahead of the writers.

"This will have to change," she said in an interview at her Bucks County farm home. "The cause our writers simply cannot go on and on being out of tune with their time, the time we have been expecting for centuries, with its changing relationship of peoples, its birth of nations, its dramatic challenges to leadership everywhere.

Pearl Buck Says Writers In U.S. Apart from Times

By RUSSELL LANGSTROM
PERRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—"This is a wonderful world for writers the most exciting time in his history, yet our American writers are curiously isolated from it," says novelist Pearl Buck.

Approaching her 72nd birthday—only a little more than a month away—she is occupied with plans and projects as ever in her distinguished literary career. Miss Buck thinks that the relation is so pronounced that the readers are getting ahead of the writers.

Hebron Air Filled With Plans For Auction

Even though that annual Red Burn auction, sponsored by the Congregational Men's Fellowship, will not take place until this coming September, the air is already filled with plans for its success, it being the principal money-raising event of the year for the church.

Several items have already been delivered and are being held in temporary storage until the Red Burn is ready for their storage.

Plans for the auction and organizational responsibilities in the next three for the auction planning committee.

The Men's Fellowship hopes to have a very successful auction. Plans and specifications are available from Albert A. Colledge, if anyone wishes to contribute items for the auction.

Appreciated would be a list of people who are willing to contribute items for the auction, so that the planning committee can contact them in the near future. It is hoped that the 1964 auction can over top all previous ones.

Central remarks and reminders are regarded as the best advertisement and many needed items.

Breakfast meeting of Hebron and Hebron Congregational Churches will be held at breakfast meeting this Sunday in the First Congregational Church dining room at 7:30.

Congregational News Officers of Congregational churches were gathered at the church door Sunday by Mrs. Helen Keefe and Mrs. Marjorie Hensel.

The purpose of the 4-8 Club members will model clothes they have made in their 4-8 clothing projects at the Townsend County 4-8 Clothing Show this Saturday, May 16.

The show, which will be held at the school in the basement of the Mansfield State Training School beginning at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

The show, which will be held at the school in the basement of the Mansfield State Training School beginning at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

The movie, which shows sights of the world, will be shown on three 16-foot-wide screens. Although it is hard to imagine, the three pictures fit together so that the viewer does not feel as though he were watching a tennis match.

Last Appeals Sounded for Oregon Vote

In a nationwide television address headed to six Oregon states Wednesday night, Goldwater said the United States should take the lead in applying economic and political pressure to change the Communist plan.

"I think we ought to use every peaceful means available for calling freedom's time," he said.

Goldwater said in Philadelphia earlier he sees "a struggle for freedom in the battle for the GOP nomination. But the Arizona senator said he expects to win it on the second ballot at San Francisco.

Obama's Oregon supporters were buoyed by the 1960 nomination written showing in the Nebraska primary Tuesday.

"We've got a winner," said Don McKay, chairman of the Oregon forces seeking the nomination for the former vice president.

Obama captured 51 per cent of the Republican vote in Nebraska. Goldwater, alone on the ballot, won that primary with 50 per cent of the turnout.

Rockefeller aimed his strongest words at Goldwater. The governor's backers hope a strong Oregon showing will propel him toward victory in California, June 3, where only he and the Arizona senator are on the GOP nomination.

He told a cheering crowd of 200 at the University of Portland Wednesday night he fears the Republican party "is in serious danger of being dominated by a narrow, doctrinaire, radical, extremist outside of the mainstream of American political thought and action."

"I'm completely with a step at his elbow opponents, 'Where do the stunts stand?' he asked. 'Is the primary being conducted by the poll—the public opinion poll?'"

George Lodge told a news conference he has "any advice, instruction or guidance" from the ambassador to Saigon. "Any implication that he is in any way influencing events on the Pacific is absolutely false," he said.

"Any intention that he is part of a plot for or against another candidate is likewise false."

Texas Sen. John G. Tower, campaigning for Goldwater, said he thinks the Arizona conservative has a chance to win in Oregon.

"I've added he does not think any coalition move behind Rockefeller could stop Goldwater in the California primary."

President Johnson is unopposed on the Democratic ballot in Oregon.

Cook apple alone barely before putting them in stuffing of poultry. The pre-cooking assures you that the fruit will be tender by the time the bird is thoroughly cooked.

Christians Workshop A Christian Education Workshop on the new Christian Education curriculum will be held at the Congregational Church Monday at 7 p.m. This will be open to all church school children interested to learn what goes on in the church school.

Workshop leaders will be the Rev. Kenneth Taylor, associate minister of Christian Education of the Congregational Church, and Mrs. John Taylor, who is new to the conference. She will discuss "The Use of the Bible in the Christian Education Program."

Andover Custer Will Head GOP Committee

Officers were elected by the Republican Town Committee at an organizational meeting Tuesday.

Charles Custer was named chairman and Mrs. Whiston Abbe, vice chairman. Officers elected were: Mrs. Eleanor Thompson, secretary; Mrs. Carl Thompson, treasurer; George Munson, finance; and Mrs. Frances White, public relations.

A vote of appreciation was extended to the outgoing chairman, Mrs. Edward Westerman.

A professional presidential poll-taking the meeting showed at seven o'clock for Andover, four for Goldwater, two for Rockefeller, two for Nixon, two for Kennedy, and one undecided.

The new town committee will hold a news conference on May 20 at 7 p.m. in the town hall to discuss possible candidates for state representative. Any interested in the nomination or the news conference should like to recommend should contact Charles Custer, Aspinall.

Christians Workshop A Christian Education Workshop on the new Christian Education curriculum will be held at the Congregational Church Monday at 7 p.m. This will be open to all church school children interested to learn what goes on in the church school.

Workshop leaders will be the Rev. Kenneth Taylor, associate minister of Christian Education of the Congregational Church, and Mrs. John Taylor, who is new to the conference. She will discuss "The Use of the Bible in the Christian Education Program."

Mrs. Mantel, an experienced Christian Education leader, will discuss the various roles of the leader. All interested parties are invited to attend the workshop along with the church school teachers and other interested persons. Refreshments will be served.

The committee planning the event will meet again Wednesday, May 20, at the Hill House. Allen, Betty Bernard, Corneille Blackstone, Grace Carroll Smith, Martha Chase Paquette, Isabelle Church, Jean Craig Weymouth, Stella Deane, Rosemary, Betty Fitzgerald, Zanetti Food, Harold French, John Gallagher, Gertrude Gorman Margant, Jane Graham, Lois Herrington, Beverly Hurler, William Miller, Marjorie Machman, William Peters, Virginia Robinson, Charles Smith and Marion Rodrigues.

Anyone having information about people on this list are asked to contact William O'Neil, general chairman, at 2-1-7.

Six from Town At CEA Parley Six junior high school teachers from Manchester today attended a junior high institute in Hamden conducted by the Connecticut Education Association's Department of Classroom Teachers.

They included from Ding Junior High School, Thomas G. Kelly, physical education; Ralph Macarone, music; and George Caplette, mathematics; and from James Junior High School, Samuel MacLusko, Walter Gray and Melvin Lumbkin, all music.

The institute included morning classroom demonstrations at Sleeping Giant and M. J. Whalen Junior High Schools, followed by discussions on the teaching methods observed.

After a luncheon at the Hamden address, "The Junior High Comes of Age," was given by Dr. Kenneth C. O'Neil, acting superintendent of schools in Greenwich. He is recognized as an authority in the junior high area.

Town Girl Gets Pharmacy Prize Miss Alexandra Ghuraki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Ghuraki of 68 Campbell Rd., is one of 11 exceptional pharmacy students at the University of Connecticut who received academic achievement awards from the university's chapter of Phi Chi, a national pharmaceutical honor society.

Town Beauty Everyone's Duty

You never notice that piece of paper when you drop it in the gutter — instead, you notice the shabby condition of the street the next time you walk by. The Chamber of Commerce this week is sponsoring a drive to remind Manchester residents that "Manchester's beauty is everyone's duty."

That means that the next time you find yourself with an unwanted scrap of paper in your hand, it will be rewarding in the long run to hold onto it until you find a trash receptacle to put it in. It's really not that difficult. (Herald photo by O'Hara.)

Concession Bids Sought by Town

For the first time in many years, contract proposals for operating the concession stands at Globe Hollow and Ballers Pools are being let out for bid. The practice in the past has been for the recreation department to choose its concessionaires, with the funds thus derived going into the department's general fund.

From now on, at the recommendation of the town's auditors, concession franchises will be awarded by bid only, and the funds so derived will go into the town's general fund, for allocation to the department's activities.

Specifications for the contracts state that no price higher than the prevailing retail price may be charged for any food or drink item sold at the concession.

Idle Claims Dip For Sixth Week

Unemployment compensation claims filed in Manchester last week showed a drop of three from the total for the week ending May 2, and although the drop was small, it marked the sixth consecutive week and 10th time in the last 10 weeks that local claims have dropped.

A total of 216 persons drew checks here for the week ending May 8, compared to 221 for the previous week.

Claims filed throughout the state last week declined for the fourth consecutive week to 31,064. During the corresponding period last week, statewide claims totaled 31,284.

Bridgeport ranked first last week in total claims filed with 4,473, closely followed by Hart-

Directors Plan Three Meetings

Besides a meeting Monday night with the town planning commission, the board of directors has scheduled sessions Tuesday and Wednesday of next week as well.

Tuesday's session will be to consider various proposed revisions of an ordinance to govern peddlers and door-to-door salesmen. The ordinance was brought up at the directors May 3 meeting, but was tabled until the board could give it more consideration. Final action on the revised ordinance will be scheduled for a later meeting.

Wednesday, the directors will meet with the board of the Eighth District, at the district fire headquarters at Main and Hilliard Sts., to discuss various sewer problems of joint interest to both governmental units.

Annual Meeting Of LWV Today

Manchester League of Women Voters will hold its annual meeting and dinner tonight at Carey's Restaurant, with Dr. Fred Kort as guest speaker.

Dr. Kort, associate political science professor at the University of Connecticut, will discuss "The Role of the Courts in Apportionment and Redistricting," a subject prominent in national and state news.

Tonight's dinner will start at 7, and will be preceded by a cocktail hour from 6 to 7.

Williams Hurls Win For Windham, 3-1

By HOWIE HOLCOMB
Versatile George Williams of Windham High has pitched CCH rivals in several roles during his scholastic career...

Williams was good on the mound allowing six scattered hits and two walks while fanning a dozen...

With wind down in the ninth, Gallagher's Rudy gave up a walk and second baseman Ron Anderson...

Windham got all three runs off starter Rich Stegal. Jim Wood's double to right field...

$1,000 Entry Fee Set for Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—It cost six trainers $1,000 each today to write the names of Hill Rise, Northern Dancer, The Scoundrel, Roman Royal, Quadrangle and Big Pete...

That is the entry fee for the six trainers who will be matched against Saturday at 4:45 p.m. EDT...

The crowd probably will not number more than 20,000 compared to the estimated 100,000 who attended Churchill Downs for the Kentucky Derby May 2...

History, however, will mean nothing when the stallion Hill Rise from George A. Pope Jr.'s El Paso Ranch of California attempts to square matters with Northern Dancer...

As for himself, Louis admitted he wished he had been around in these days of big television money for fighters...
