Coventry Nursing Association Shop Launches Three-Day Sale

A special "Bag A Bargain" sale at the Public Health Nursing Association Thrift Shop starts tomorrow and continues through Saturday at the shop located at the former building on Main St.

The sale will dispose of all present stock, making room for new merchandise to be offered Sept. 31. The entire proceeds of the Thrift Shop operation are given to the local FEINA health program.

The "Bag A Bargain" sale will start at the door of the shop, with each shopper buying a large-sized grocery bag. Selections will be "sifted" into the bag, regardless of price and everything that can go into the bag will go out the door for the price of the bag. If a shopper desires more than one bag, he is permitted to purchase more than one bag.

The operation of the Thrift Shop is entirely by volunteer women workers from town.

The shop has been operating since June of 1957 and is open daily from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The FEINA office has moved its headquarters into the new town office building on Rt. 31, New Britain, Conn., and the public health visiting nurse, is on vacation for the week. Mrs. Margaret is the part-time public health visiting nurse. One of the other in the new office building through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. At other hours during the day, messages may be taken by the personnel at the Thrift Shop.

Health Week Schedules. The FEINA has designated a week of Sept. 18 through 27 as Public Health Week. The week and means committee will have the annual fund drive during that period. Board members are soliciting several of the town's teen-agers to assist with the canvassing.

Complaints point out that because of the growing demand for services, there is a greater need than ever for support by the townspeople through this drive. The budget for the 1964-65 year has been set at nearly $2,000. A contribution of $2 per month would provide funds to carry on the association's services. It was reported that the town has appropriated $3,300 as its share in supporting the organization.

The two nurses provide some bedside care under the supervision of the family physician, as well as health supervision services. Any family in town may call on the nurses for assistance.

The association will have its annual anniversary ball at 9 p.m. Oct. 24 with the Penthouse Club providing music for dancing at the Shell Chateau in Willimantic.

Other fund raising projects conducted by the ways and means committee include two annual food sales on Election Day, one in the south end and the other in the north end of town.

Building Permits. A total of 20 building permits were issued during August by Building Inspector Bernard A. Egan at estimated construction costs totaling $180,888.

Of this, 13 permits were for new homes, estimated value of $163,700; one for a garage at $2,000; eight for alterations and entry, as well as another award for placing first on a Jersey water call entry.

Grange Meets Tomorrow. Coventry Grange will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday at its hall on Rt. 44-A. The lecturer's program will be entitled "You Name It." On the refreshment committee will be Mrs. G. Irving Leomin and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Africano.

The Ladies Association of First Congregational Church has resumed its weekly work meetings, with the first held today in the vestry. A business meeting was held in the afternoon.

Manchester Evening Herald Coventry correspondent, F. Paulina Little, telephone 648-0311.

Exercise, Not Girls Choice As Men End Confinement

(Continued from Page One) Dr. Meehan plans to check the men periodically over the next 30 days but first indications are that they suffered no ill effects and were able to do mental and physical tasks on the centrifuge as well as they could before the long stay in bed.

What did the boys do to fight boredom. "It was fine for the first two weeks, but after that it was really hard to find something to do," said Ellickson. "We read, played chess and cards and just talked."

Dr. Meehan said that one of the best forms of bed exercise was breathing air under pressure through a mask.

This exercised both the abdomen and the chest muscles and just talked."

Some normal high and low temperatures during this period were Hartford, 78 and 81; New Haven, 78 and 87; and Bridgeport, 77 and 80.

Precipitation may total one to five tenths of an inch, occurring as scattered showers late Sunday or Monday.

Annual Society Meeting. The Fragment Society of the Second Congregational Church will have its annual meeting Sept. 3, starting with a potluck dinner at noon at the home of Mrs. C. Irving Loomis on Rt. 44A.

The regular meeting with the election of officers will follow the dinner.

Local persons are invited to join the society. Meetings are held the second and fourth Wednesday of the month at the Church Community House on Rt. 44A.

Another Male Stronghold Falls Boston Women's Symphony Slated for Sept. 11 Debut

BOSTON (AP)—Traditionally and internationally for a man's world, but Mrs. Marion S. Rutcliffe wants to change all that.

She's forming a women's symphony orchestra in Boston, and she's spent two and one-half years on the project.

"There are more women musicians than men musicians in the world," she said, "yet we're in a scarce number in the professional field."

"My main purpose is to help students follow music and to give women a chance for a serious career in the music field."

"Less than 20 per cent of the best forms of music employed by the major symphony orchestras throughout the United States and Canada are women. Yet more than 60 per cent of the students enrolled in music schools are female," she said.

The Boston Women's Symphony is scheduled to perform its first concert in Symphony Hall Sept. 11. The single concert will be to raise funds.

"The rest of the money to carry the heavy financial load of a full-scale symphony orchestra," Mrs. Rutcliffe said, "will have to come from the public."

Such Boston personalities as Richard Cavendish, conductor of the Boston Conservatory of Music's orchestra and chorus, has been chosen as its permanent conductor.

But we're planning to have women guest conductors, too," Mrs. Rutcliffe said. "They're just as capable. It's that they haven't been given a chance."

The musicians chosen range in age from 19 to 36. Many are the wives and children of members of the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Mrs. Rutcliffe, a former music teacher, envisioned the Boston Women's Symphony as a supplement to Boston's music establishment.

First plans call for the symphony to hold a tour to six week series of concerts on the Charles River. Schedules are being prepared to fill the gap between the closing of the Boston Pop season and the opening of the symphony season.

Local, national and international tours are planned for the winter.

This Boston Women's Symphony has had three predecessors. The Boston Fidelities, organized in the 1880s, played nationally and internationally for more than 25 years until its disintegration. Caroline Nichols, retired.

In 1927 a Boston Women's Symphony was founded by Ethel Leginska but lasted only a few years, as did the last group, the Women's Symphony Society, founded just before World War II.

"There are only two or three women's orchestras in the United States today," Mrs. Rutcliffe said, "and they're non-professional."

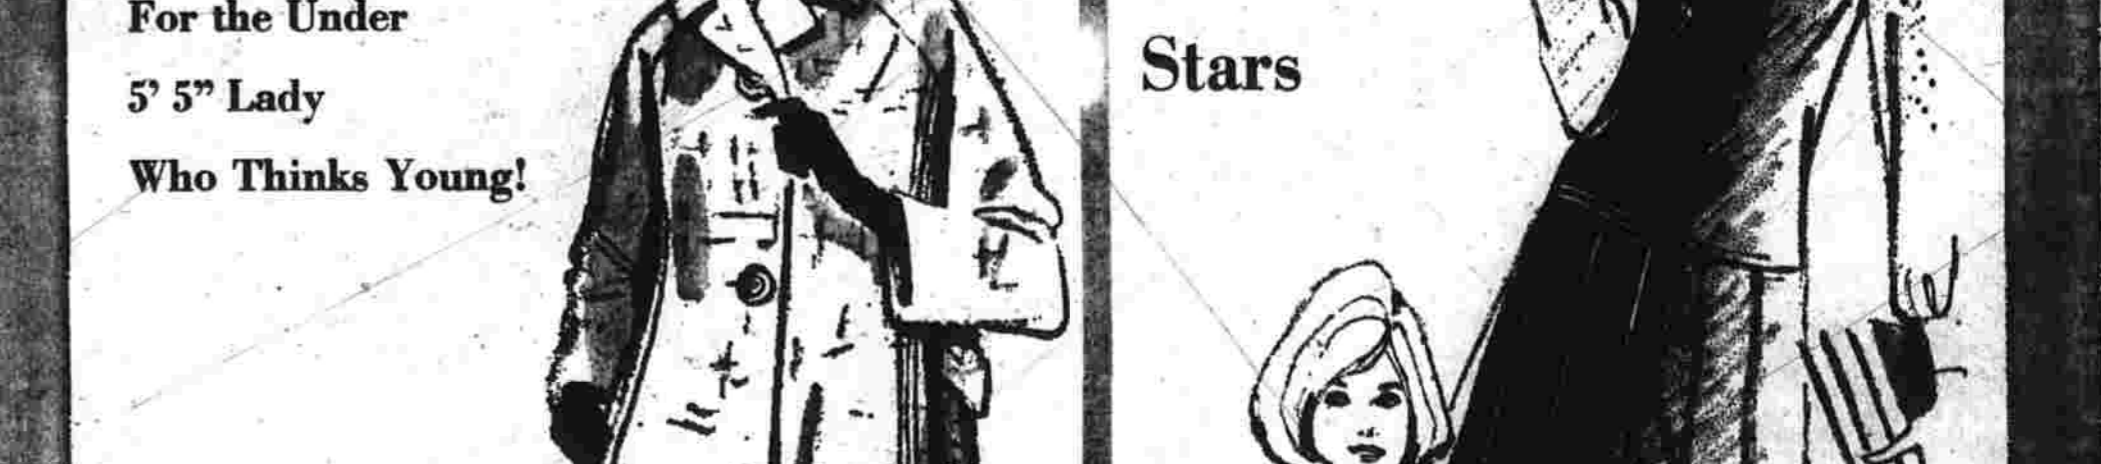

"If Boston adopts the new women's orchestra in the United States today," Mrs. Rutcliffe said, "and they're non-professional."

Board Says Cut Work Week For Firemen to 48 Hours

The board of directors last night instructed General Means, chief of the fire department, to work out a schedule for a 48-hour week for town firemen. The board, on May 4, had decided to have the firemen work 56 hours per week, and set the fire district budget to include that provision.

Mr. Means, however, said that he would draw the specifications and advertise the jobs this month, and said that he had been waiting until the vacation season had ended.

He said that a full complement of the present firemen is necessary to the proper functioning of the new personnel.

The board was also addressed by James Fogarty, another fireman, who said, "Speaking as a family man, I must make sure that you and the public know that Manchester firemen work 21 weeks a year, 40 hours a week for the past three years and

Work to Start On SNET Plant

D. Lloyd Hobson, manager of the Southern New England Telephone Co. office, today said that excavation will start soon for a new two-story brick telephone building near the present plant at 53 E. Center St.

The building will have a 162-foot front and run 122 feet deep.

A one-story wing will connect both old and new buildings, Hobson said.

Earlier reports of the building noted that it will be an extensively operated electronic facility, foremost of its kind in Connecticut.

Louis J. Drakos of Farmington is the architect for the new plant, Hobson said. Foundation work by Conyers Construction Co. will probably take about two months to complete, he added.

Town Votes Sum To Turn Soldier

The 87-year-old Civil War Soldier in Center Park will soon be a sharp 125 degree left turn, and face northeast, instead of due south, his patient position since 1877.

The board of directors last night unanimously voted $1,000 for the project, and approved the request of the Permanent Memorial Day Committee that the statue be turned so that it could be seen by residents and visitors.

Although the board had approved the move last spring, it had never appropriated any funds, because estimates had been too high.

However, the Manchester Memorial Co. has since come up with an acceptable offer to move the statue and base, with insurance costs included.

Mrs. Laura Loomis, secretary of the Permanent Memorial Day Committee, revealed last night that the statue had originally been placed to face Chestnut St., which then extended to Main St. at the point where the drinking fountain now stands.

When Center Park was walled to the town, the street was removed, and the Old Soldier faced only south.

Rights Group Strive To Spur Negro Vote

EDITOR'S NOTE—Civil rights groups across the country are waging a massive series of voter registration drives, keyed to local issues and the national election. Here is a run-down on how successful they have been in getting Negroes ready to cast ballots in November.

BY AUSTIN ROOT
NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's 20 million Negroes will have more say at the polls this November than ever before, a nationwide survey showed today.

The reason—a history-making emphasis on voter registration in the civil rights movement. Some registration drives started in 1962.

Despite a lack of official figures, leaders of campaigns from New York to Los Angeles generally claim excellent response. Many aim their campaigns at the defeat of Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater.

But there are indications that in some areas, particularly in the South, that whites also are flocking to the registrar's office in ever-increasing numbers.

Negro registration gains in 11 Southern states, placed at more than half a million by a sponsoring federal agency, have been accompanied by larger gains in white registration in some areas.

In the North, where voter registration efforts centered mainly in the larger cities, there was no estimate of the total number of Negroes registered. Most cities reported increased registration from predominantly Negro areas.

James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said there are nearly five million registered Negroes out of a potential 12 million, with three million of them in the North.

The country's Negro population is just about evenly split, North and South, he said.

The Southern Regional Council, founded in 1944 to work for racial harmony and now waging a two-year voter education program, says there are more than two million Negroes on voting lists in the South.

An Associated Press survey showed no official breakdown of Negro and white voters is recorded in seven of the 11 Dixie states. In the four where breakdowns were available—Florida, Arkansas, Louisiana and Virginia—Negro registration showed an increase.

The council report said increases since 1960 in Negro registration in some Southern states are greater than the margin by which one or the other

Events in Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. M. Dirksen says he plans to move possibly Friday — to limit a renewal of debate on his proposal to delay court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures.

The proposal was introduced by Dirksen and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield as a rider to the $2.5-billion foreign aid authorization bill.

The Senate has put it aside temporarily to debate a Social Security bill, Dirksen says. He expects action to take it to the floor by Friday. He will then file a motion to invoke the closure rule to limit debate if he can arrange for a vote on it next Wednesday.

"We can't just go on and on with this talk," Dirksen said. "I report I have 1.8 million Negro voters in 11 states, or 84 per cent of the Negroes of voting age."

The council reported white registration in the same 11 states at 13.5 million, while whites make that same figure at many times as many as Negroes in an area where they outnumber Negroes slightly more than 2-1.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Congress has given final passage to a bill that authorizes $17.5 million to study whether a second canal would be feasible across Central America.

The action came Tuesday on a house roll call vote of 230 to 23.

If President Johnson signs the measure, a commission appointed by him would study if and where a canal should be built. Celler set no date for another committee meeting. Last March 24 he named a special subcommittee to look into the case but never called a meeting.

WASHINGTON (AP)— By voice vote Tuesday, the Senate gave final approval to a compromise measure authorizing establishment of a $2-billion, 30-year land and water conservation fund.

The measure was the 21st of President Johnson's list of 30 "must bills" to be passed by Congress.

The bill, worked out in a conference committee of senators and representatives, would provide federal money to develop outdoor recreational areas.

It would also look into cases involving former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker and attorney Roy Cohn.

Senators said the vote was 18 to 14.

Celler said no vote had been taken on the resolution calling for an investigation when the meeting abruptly ended as he called the start of a House session.

Rep. Roland W. Libonati, D-

Ill., one of those pushing the investigation, contended that the vote was on the resolution. The New York Democrat said Celler's vote was "utterly mistaken."

Celler set no date for another committee meeting. Last March 24 he named a special subcommittee to look into the case but never called a meeting.

WASHINGTON (AP)— Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee is continuing his delaying action against a proposed investigation of the Justice Department's handling of the case of Tammany Union President James R. Hoffa.

All at a meeting Tuesday, the committee voted to cut off debate and bring the matter to a vote. The investigation would look into department actions in connection with Hoffa's recent convictions on charges of jury tampering and misuse of union funds.

"We can't just go on and on with this talk," Dirksen said. "I report I have 1.8 million Negro voters in 11 states, or 84 per cent of the Negroes of voting age."

along more nearly equal population lines. The other would reapportion the House on the basis of the new Senate districts.

Under the bill, eight representatives would be elected at large in each Senate district with the minority party in any district guaranteed at least two seats.

Should the bills be approved in the Democratic-controlled Senate, they would still have to pass the Republican-controlled House. This is not now considered likely.

Rep. J. Tyler Patterson, House speaker, welcomed the Judiciary committee's approval of the Democratic bills.

"That puts a proposal on the table," the Old Lyme Republican said. "Whether they're realistic or not, I find out when we talk to them."

Patterson, however, took a dim

SHIFT CAMPAIGN
HARTFORD (AP)—The GOP campaign effort today shifted its center of gravity from downtown Hartford to a building off the eastbound lane of the Berlin Turnpike, Newington.

The new Connecticut Republican campaign nerve center some six miles from Hartford, marks the first time the campaign activity has been placed outside the city and under one roof.

"This is obviously a more efficient way to run the show," said State Chairman A. Seaside Finney. "This is an excellent layout."

The one-floor structure houses offices for publicity, speakers bureau, the campaign director, the controller (fund raiser) and research department.

Albert Gordon, 16, placed second with his Guernsey Junior calf, and Miss Rosemary Pella, 18, won the reserve champion showmanship class, placed second in the Holstein senior yearling class.

City Girding For Possible Racial Riots

Philadelphia Mayor James H. Tate ... made the statement as the Negro section of the city, torn by rioting and pillaging last week.

Police last Tuesday night described the riot area as "abnormally quiet."

In a progress report of the investigation of the cause and background of the sudden outbreak, which began last Friday night, Tate said:

"At this time, we have been able to piece together a comprehensive picture of the sequence of events which took place immediately after the outbreak of rioting last Friday. Police investigators have narrowed down the identity of the principal instigators of this outbreak."

"The police department has unquestionable information about the methods used by these persons to incite the initial disturbance, gradually leading it throughout the area."

The mayor declined to be more specific, saying he was unable to identify the instigators of this outbreak.

Earlier, he did say the FBI convinced that the background to the rioting in the area, which is inhabited by one-third of the city's 600,000 Negroes.

Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary said arrest warrants totaling $21, including 48 in the riot area, were issued for the rioting.

Five in Family Get Tonsils Out

Two and a half sets of tonsils, all offspring of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lavigne of Tompkins Ave., Ellington, were in Rockville City Hospital for the same reason today.

The five children, Donald, Norman, Norman, Sandra and Deborah, are 6, 5, 4, 3 and 2 years old.

The Lavignes have three other children (including the match for the third set), who did not join in the tonsil-pulling spree.

Part of the roadblock is hesitancy by the banks themselves and part is a battle over rules governing trading in stocks of nationally chartered banks.

The reason the stock exchange thinks banks, as well as many other large corporations, are not seeking listing is the signing into law last week of the Securities Acts Amendments of 1964.

These require large firms to publish more complete financial information than most of these unlisted ones now do, and thus would bring them close to meeting rules laid down by the exchange itself.

Large unlisted industrial corporations from now on will have to file the newly required information with the Securities and Exchange Commission, along with the federal regulatory agencies and insurance companies.

But Comptroller of Currency James J. Saxton, before approving listing of national banks, wants the New York Stock Exchange to make exceptions in some of its trading rules to favor bank stocks.

One demand is for more disclosure of the activities of specialists making a market for bank stocks than is required of specialists in industrial stocks.

He also wants banks stocks to be traded both on the exchange and over the counter. And he doesn't want trading in bank stocks halted temporarily to match orders, as in the case of industrial stocks in a trading slump.

Mr. Saxton said he would like to see a change in the listing rules to allow bank stocks to be traded both on the exchange and over the counter.

Large Banks Reluctant to List Stocks

At present four bank holding companies and some savings and loan associations are listed on the exchange, but no commercial bank has been listed since 1934.

In that year the only one, Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, was listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Other items delayed include approval of the terms of a new exchange between the New York and the Eighth District, and the allocation of $15,000 for a water relief main in Spruce St.

New business which will not be taken up until Sept. 9 includes acceptance of seven checks and waiver of the town's bidding requirement for the purchase of well-heads, hydrants, chlorination equipment, and a piece of equipment for the sewage treatment plant.

Reports are still scheduled on a proposed Bigelow Brook culvert, and on the highway department studies.

Tag Alerts Medics CHICAGO — More than 100,000 Americans are wearing tags designed to warn — when they get — of a hidden medical condition from which they suffer.

According to the coroner's finding, medical opinion is sharply divided as to whether or not Tober's heart attack was the result of his being shocked.

It would seem logical for one not trained in medical science to assume that a shock of eighty-two years of age who was in apparent good health and despite his age, able to actively engage in his employment, who had had the heart attack had not been subjected to that stress and strain, the coroner noted.

"It is enough for my purpose to say that there is some competent medical opinion to the effect that the death of Meyer Tober probably resulted from the unwarranted act of Carmelo A. Reyes. The ultimate competency of Reyes is to be determined as the law takes its course," Atty. Hammaby reported.

5 Tongues Related HELSINKI — The Finnish, Lepo, Hungarian, Estonian, and Turkish languages all belong to the Ural-Altaic family. These tongues were first spoken in the Asiatic lands near the Ural and Altai mountains.

A hearing to determine Reyes' mental ability to understand the nature of the proceedings against him and his ability to stand trial was conducted several weeks ago at Toland County Superior Court. Three psychiatrists testified at that time that Reyes was legally sane.

"I therefore presume, as I must, that he (Reyes) was sane and competent on June 16, 1964. Although it is not clear as to when he formed the intent to kill Miss Rose and Mr. Tober, the time that it took for him to walk toward Miss Rose and Mr. Tober and to draw the revolver and commence firing will be a sufficient length of time to have such action be willful, deliberate and premeditated," the coroner said.

In his reconstruction of the incident, the coroner said Reyes was in the back of the two women employes and said as he was coming toward them they were unable to understand his words.

Thereafter, he walked around the table at which Miss Rose and Mr. Tober were seated, and without any warning, he took a revolver from his pocket and began firing first at Miss Rose and then at the deceased.

"When Miss Rose saw the revolver she began screaming and fled under the table at which she was working. Reyes fired through the table and Miss Rose was struck, but only superficially wounded. He then began firing at Mr. Tober and struck him twice, one bullet striking him in the upper left chest, which would not be penetrative, and the other entering the upper-left abdomen and penetrating the abdomen.

"After the shooting, Reyes went out of the Sewing Room and was soon subdued by other employees of the company who disarmed him and held him pending arrival of the Rockville Police.

The coroner said Reyes had talked to Tober the day before the shooting and told the elderly president of the Tober-Baumel Manufacturing Co. that he was going to commit suicide because of domestic problems. Tober tried to talk him out of it and advised him to see a doctor, the coroner said.

The town board of directors will name nine members of the newly created Human Relations Commission at a special meeting at 8 p.m. next Wednesday.

"When Miss Rose saw the revolver she began screaming and fled under the table at which she was working. Reyes fired through the table and Miss Rose was struck, but only superficially wounded. He then began firing at Mr. Tober and struck him twice, one bullet striking him in the upper left chest, which would not be penetrative, and the other entering the upper-left abdomen and penetrating the abdomen.

"After the shooting, Reyes went out of the Sewing Room and was soon subdued by other employees of the company who disarmed him and held him pending arrival of the Rockville Police.

The coroner said Reyes had talked to Tober the day before the shooting and told the elderly president of the Tober-Baumel Manufacturing Co. that he was going to commit suicide because of domestic problems. Tober tried to talk him out of it and advised him to see a doctor, the coroner said.

Five in Family Get Tonsils Out

Two and a half sets of tonsils, all offspring of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Lavigne of Tompkins Ave., Ellington, were in Rockville City Hospital for the same reason today.

The five children, Donald, Norman, Norman, Sandra and Deborah, are 6, 5, 4, 3 and 2 years old.

The Lavignes have three other children (including the match for the third set), who did not join in the tonsil-pulling spree.

Part of the roadblock is hesitancy by the banks themselves and part is a battle over rules governing trading in stocks of nationally chartered banks.

The reason the stock exchange thinks banks, as well as many other large corporations, are not seeking listing is the signing into law last week of the Securities Acts Amendments of 1964.

These require large firms to publish more complete financial information than most of these unlisted ones now do, and thus would bring them close to meeting rules laid down by the exchange itself.

Large unlisted industrial corporations from now on will have to file the newly required information with the Securities and Exchange Commission, along with the federal regulatory agencies and insurance companies.

But Comptroller of Currency James J. Saxton, before approving listing of national banks, wants the New York Stock Exchange to make exceptions in some of its trading rules to favor bank stocks.

One demand is for more disclosure of the activities of specialists making a market for bank stocks than is required of specialists in industrial stocks.

He also wants banks stocks to be traded both on the exchange and over the counter. And he doesn't want trading in bank stocks halted temporarily to match orders, as in the case of industrial stocks in a trading slump.

Mr. Saxton said he would like to see a change in the listing rules to allow bank stocks to be traded both on the exchange and over the counter.

Candidates' Children Ready To Help Out with Campaigns

brother and sister—William E. R. and Stephen—two young men to woo the lollipop... Linda Johnson plans to continue her college studies but has announced no definite plans. She will be a senior at the Cathedral School for Girls here. The Johnson girls have been the apolomb of veteran campaigners and made little speeches in their solo service in politics. Oldtimers say they can't remember when national politics was such a family operation as it is today.

Ruth Millett
That Pennsylvania man who recently had his wife-to-be sign a prenuptial contract giving him final authority in all matters may be a senior at the Cathedral School for Girls here. The Johnson girls have been the apolomb of veteran campaigners and made little speeches in their solo service in politics. Oldtimers say they can't remember when national politics was such a family operation as it is today.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Republican, vice-presidential candidate William E. Miller's oldest daughters were to get a boy's eye view of Arizona today. Elizabeth Anne, 20, and Mary Karen, 17, were to be taken on an aerial tour of the state by GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater's two sons. Barry Jr., 28, a licensed pilot, was to take the flying and Mary, 21, was to act as guide on the 80-mile trip.

The tour included the Grand Canyon, Oak Creek Canyon, Glen Canyon Dam and Utah's Monument Valley. Stops were scheduled at Monument Valley, Glen Canyon Dam and the historic mountain mining town of Jerome. "We're really excited about our Arizona visit," said Elizabeth Tuesday as she and her sister alighted at Phoenix Sky Harbor Airport after a flight from Buffalo, N.Y.

Elizabeth, a senior at Newton, Mass., college, said she plans to help the Republican campaign in any way she can. "I'm not much of a public speaker," she said, "but I do plan some campaign talks." Mary, a senior at Stone Ridge, a private high school in Washington, said, "I'll just tag along behind." Elizabeth, a tour guide this summer at the All Rights World's Fair, said her talks with fairgoers indicated strong Republican sentiment. "I'm very optimistic about the election outcome," she said. "Tonight the four will dine at a desert restaurant north of Phoenix and Thursday they'll travel to Prescott, Ariz., where Sen. Goldwater officially launches his campaign."

Polly's Pointers
By POLLY CHAMBER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR POLLY—Did you know that a "plumber's friend," the rubber plunger used to unstop drains, is also a friend of the birds? This past spring we used one with straw and tied it to one of our apple trees, upside down like a cup. A pair of robins made it their nest and hatched the eggs. Now they fly back and forth and rest on the edge of the rubber cup and feed their little ones.—MRS. J. B. ANN

DEAR POLLY—After I had made a cake for my grandson, 6, who wanted to have a little birthday party for a few friends, I found I had no birthday candles. He suggested that we use kitchen matches instead of candles. We did and it worked just fine.—VIRGINIA
It seems even the youngsters know how to meet any emergency.—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—I have made an ingenious midget paint roller that can reach every one of those impossible-to-reach places such as behind the stove, refrigerator and so on. I used the wire from an ordinary coat hanger, looped one end through a foam rubber hair curler and taped the other end to a piece of broom handle.—ELIZABETH ABBETT

DEAR POLLY—My husband has converted an old wash boiler into a small steamer for clambakes. He put in a vent and small faucets at the lower end and a wooden rack, inside, about two inches up from the bottom. I also use an old scuttle as a planter. Filled with good soil, it is planted with potatoes.—ARLENE
GIRLS—Thanks to all of you for sharing your ideas for fixing a second lease on life to outmoded equipment. I am sure many articles will be searched to see what treasurers they hold.—POLLY
DEAR POLLY—My son likes to use his knife to whittle points on sticks for plant markers in the garden. I've always worried he would cut his fingers until I thought of using a cardboard about four inches square with a hole in the center. He puts the stick through the hole, then whittles away with his hand back of the cardboard. No more worried about cut fingers. This would be a good idea for Boy Scouts.—MRS. J. V. HEAD NOT INDIAN'S
WASHINGTON—That's not the portrait of a real Indian on an Indian-head penny. A government official's daughter pointed for the designer. In fact, she forgot to take off her pearl necklace, which is visible on a penny in good condition.

Plastic Cornea May Bring Sight

Yasuda, chemist, and Miguel F. Resto, doctor of science, described the plastic cornea to an American Chemical Society symposium on medical uses of plastics. They have been working at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary in Boston. The team is moving to the Ocular-Slit Medical Center in Los Angeles, where Dr. Stone plans the first implants into human eyes. The plastic cornea is only one-third of an inch wide. It is shaped, with a hollow nozzle of projection sticking up in the center. It is inserted, from the side, between two layers of the natural cornea. A hole is punched through the clouded central part of the cornea to the mibbin pupil through it. Then the pane is screwed into the hole. The hole is sealed with a glue. The pane, then onto the retina. If the back, thin layer of the natural cornea clouds again, or other trouble develops, the pane can be removed for surgical repair with aid of a microscope. The plastic cornea, if it is not completely removed, can be extended completely through the cornea if necessary. The plastic cornea, tailor-made to the individual eye, has holes through which connective tissue of the real cornea can grow, anchoring the implant more securely. Essential side can pass through the holes.

Camp Committee Meeting Tonight

Manchester's Camp Kennedy Advisory Committee will meet at 8 tonight in the hearing room of the Municipal Building to hear a report on this year's six-week operation, and to make plans for next year's sessions. The camp operated in three periods of two weeks each, from June 28 to Aug. 7, on site at Globe Hollow. It was financed by a $3,000 matching grant from the Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation, plus donations of cash and services from local residents and organizations. Since there is no assurance that the foundation will make another grant for next year's operation, the advisory committee will have to evolve a program for raising necessary funds through other sources. Gail Coybill has played in every national Football League (54) game and caught a pass in each game since he joined the Detroit Lions in 1960.

Punch 'n Judy Show in American League

NEW YORK (AP)—It was a Punch and Judy show in the American League. Harmon Killebrew played Punch. The Chicago White Sox played Judy.

Killebrew gave American League leading Baltimore the old one—two Monday night home runs in a 3-1 victory over the Orioles.

The White Sox, meanwhile, swung like girls against Mickey Vernon, who played ring-around-the-roses with the punch-line Chicagoans, pitching six hitless innings before winding up with a three-hit, 2-0 victory.

And when the show was over, Killebrew, who hadn't hit a home run in 14 games, tied the score 1-1 in the fourth when he smashed a drive 415 feet over the left field fence. Then, in the sixth, Killebrew applied the knockout blow, a 400-foot shot over the same fence. Both came off Steve Barber.

At the same time, Lolich had the White Sox dangling. Bringing his record to 14-7 with his fifth straight victory, the 25-year-old left-hander did not allow a hit until Al Weis grounded a single to left leading off the seventh.

The only other hits off Lolich were singles by Carmelo Carmona in the eighth and Pete Rose in the ninth.

The losses by the leaders ended the three-place New York

Callison Snaps Long Slump As Phils Win on Home Runs

NEW YORK (AP)—Richie Allen doesn't care about being the National League's top rookie and Johnny Callison wonders whether he's worthy of being the most valuable player. But together, they may make Gene Mauch manager of the year.

Mauch's reluctant dragons lifted the Phillies to a 4-3 victory over the Houston Colt .45s Tuesday night, keeping Philadelphia 4½ games in front of Cincinnati, which slipped Chicago 2-1 behind Jim Maloney's 12 strikeouts.

Hal (Stinky) Brown and Jim Brunson were broken in a scoreless tie through six innings with Brown working on a two-hitter. Callison led off the seventh with his 24th homer. Before the inning was over, Wes Covington and Frank Thomas also had homered and, with Bunning breezing, the 3-0 lead looked safe.

Third Olympic Berth Sighted by Roy Saari

NEW YORK (AP)—Roy Saari, the tireless, 19-year-old water skiver, will be El Segundo, Calif., guns for his third berth on the U.S. Olympic swimming team today and he doesn't have to worry about cutting out other hopefuls from the trip to Tokyo.

So far there have been three double berth winners—three men and three girls—in the record number of berths in the Olympic team's swim effort.

But Saari's swim effort, the greatest team ever for Tokyo, is the only one to be in the team of 38 men and 21 women to the limit allowed.

"We are going to name other leading contenders to make sure we have our best possible team," said Dr. Harold W. Henning, chairman of the U.S. Olympic Committee.

The game shapes up as a real battle with Coach Fred Wallner of the Charter Oaks, who is coming up with some replacement personnel, particularly in the quarterback department to

74 Unsolved Chicago Incidents Worried Restaurant Owners Seek More Aid to End Arson

CHICAGO (AP)—Frightened restaurant owners have called for federal action to halt the 74-year assault on Chicago businesses by arsonists and bombers who have caused $2.75-billion damage.

WILKON, 60, said he telephoned Rep. Harold Collier, R-Ill., in Washington to ask the FBI to investigate.

"When the FBI gets into something they get to the bottom of it," he said. "I think that if they would investigate, this could be the answer."

In Washington Collier agreed the situation "has reached a point where the FBI should be involved."

Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., concurred. He said that unless the FBI investigated he saw little likelihood that the bombings would be solved.

Joseph Wilkon, whose restaurant was bombed Tuesday night, also called for federal assistance.

The bombing of Wilkon's restaurant was the 74th unsolved bombing or arson fire in the Chicago area in the last 74 months. For Wilkon it was the third in three months that has cut into his chain of restaurants.

Local officials planned to print a list of 74 unsolved incidents at the establishment. It was the 74th incident in the area in 74 months. (AP Photofax.)
